

Handwritten symbols and characters, possibly representing a code or cipher, arranged in a grid-like pattern across the page. The symbols include various letters, numbers, and special characters, some of which are repeated or combined in a way that suggests a structured sequence or message.

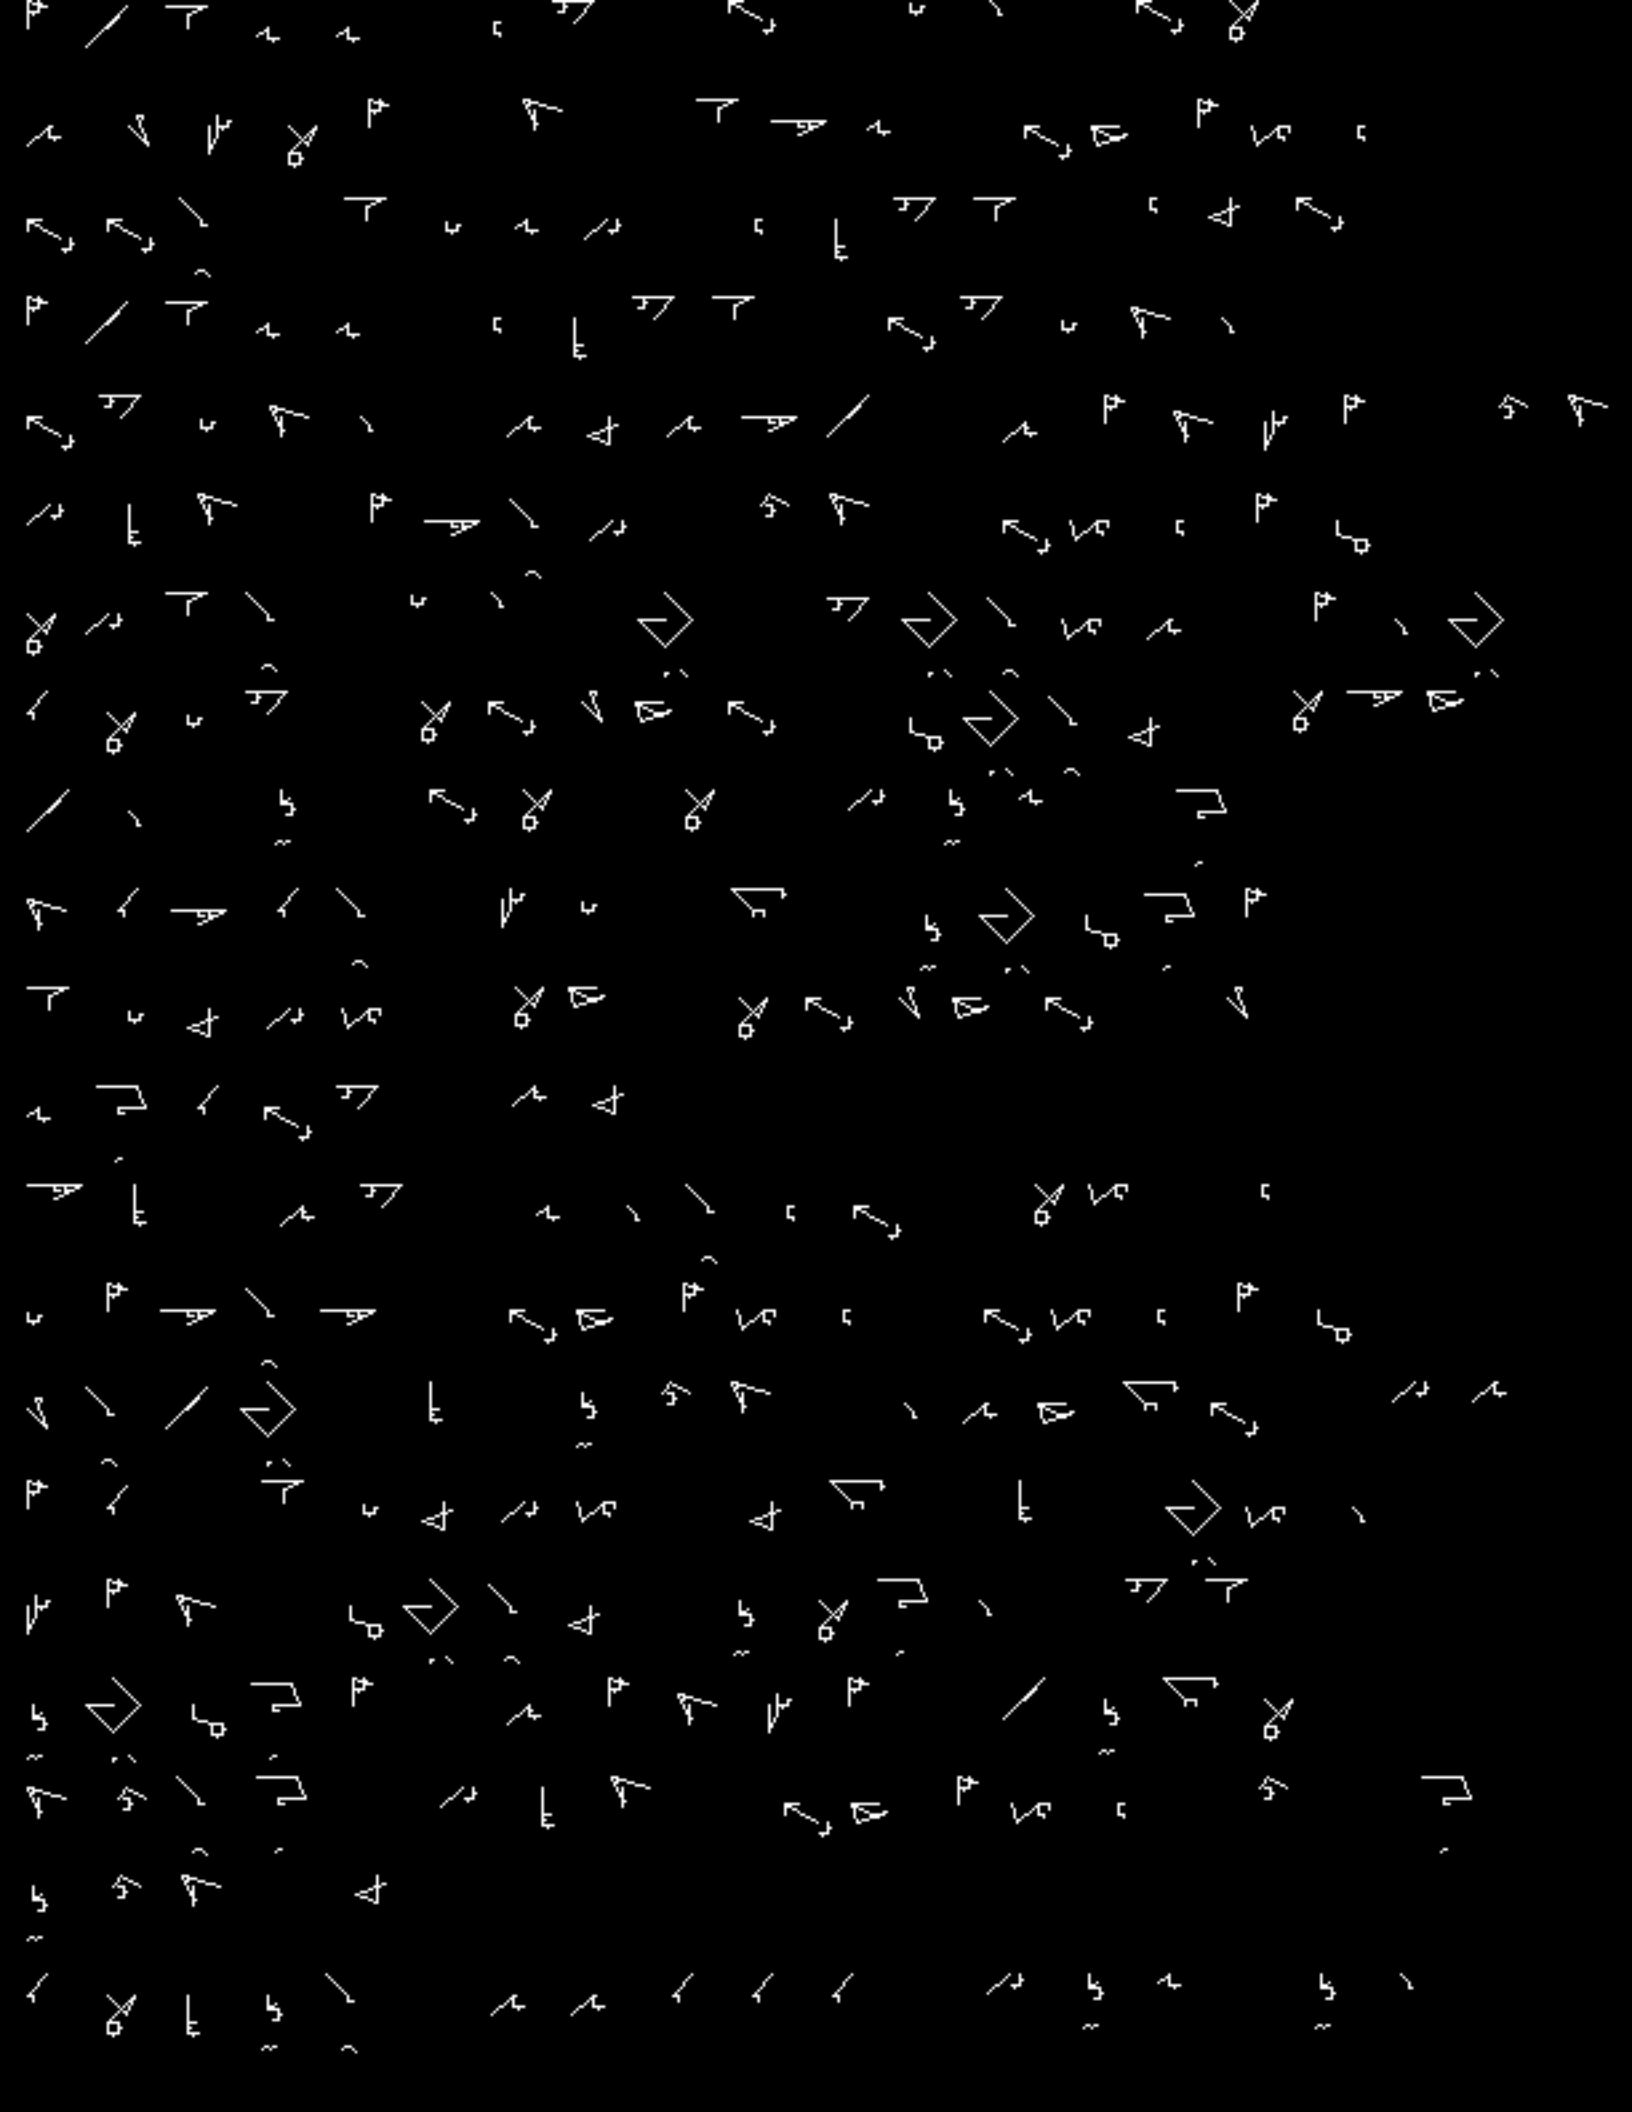

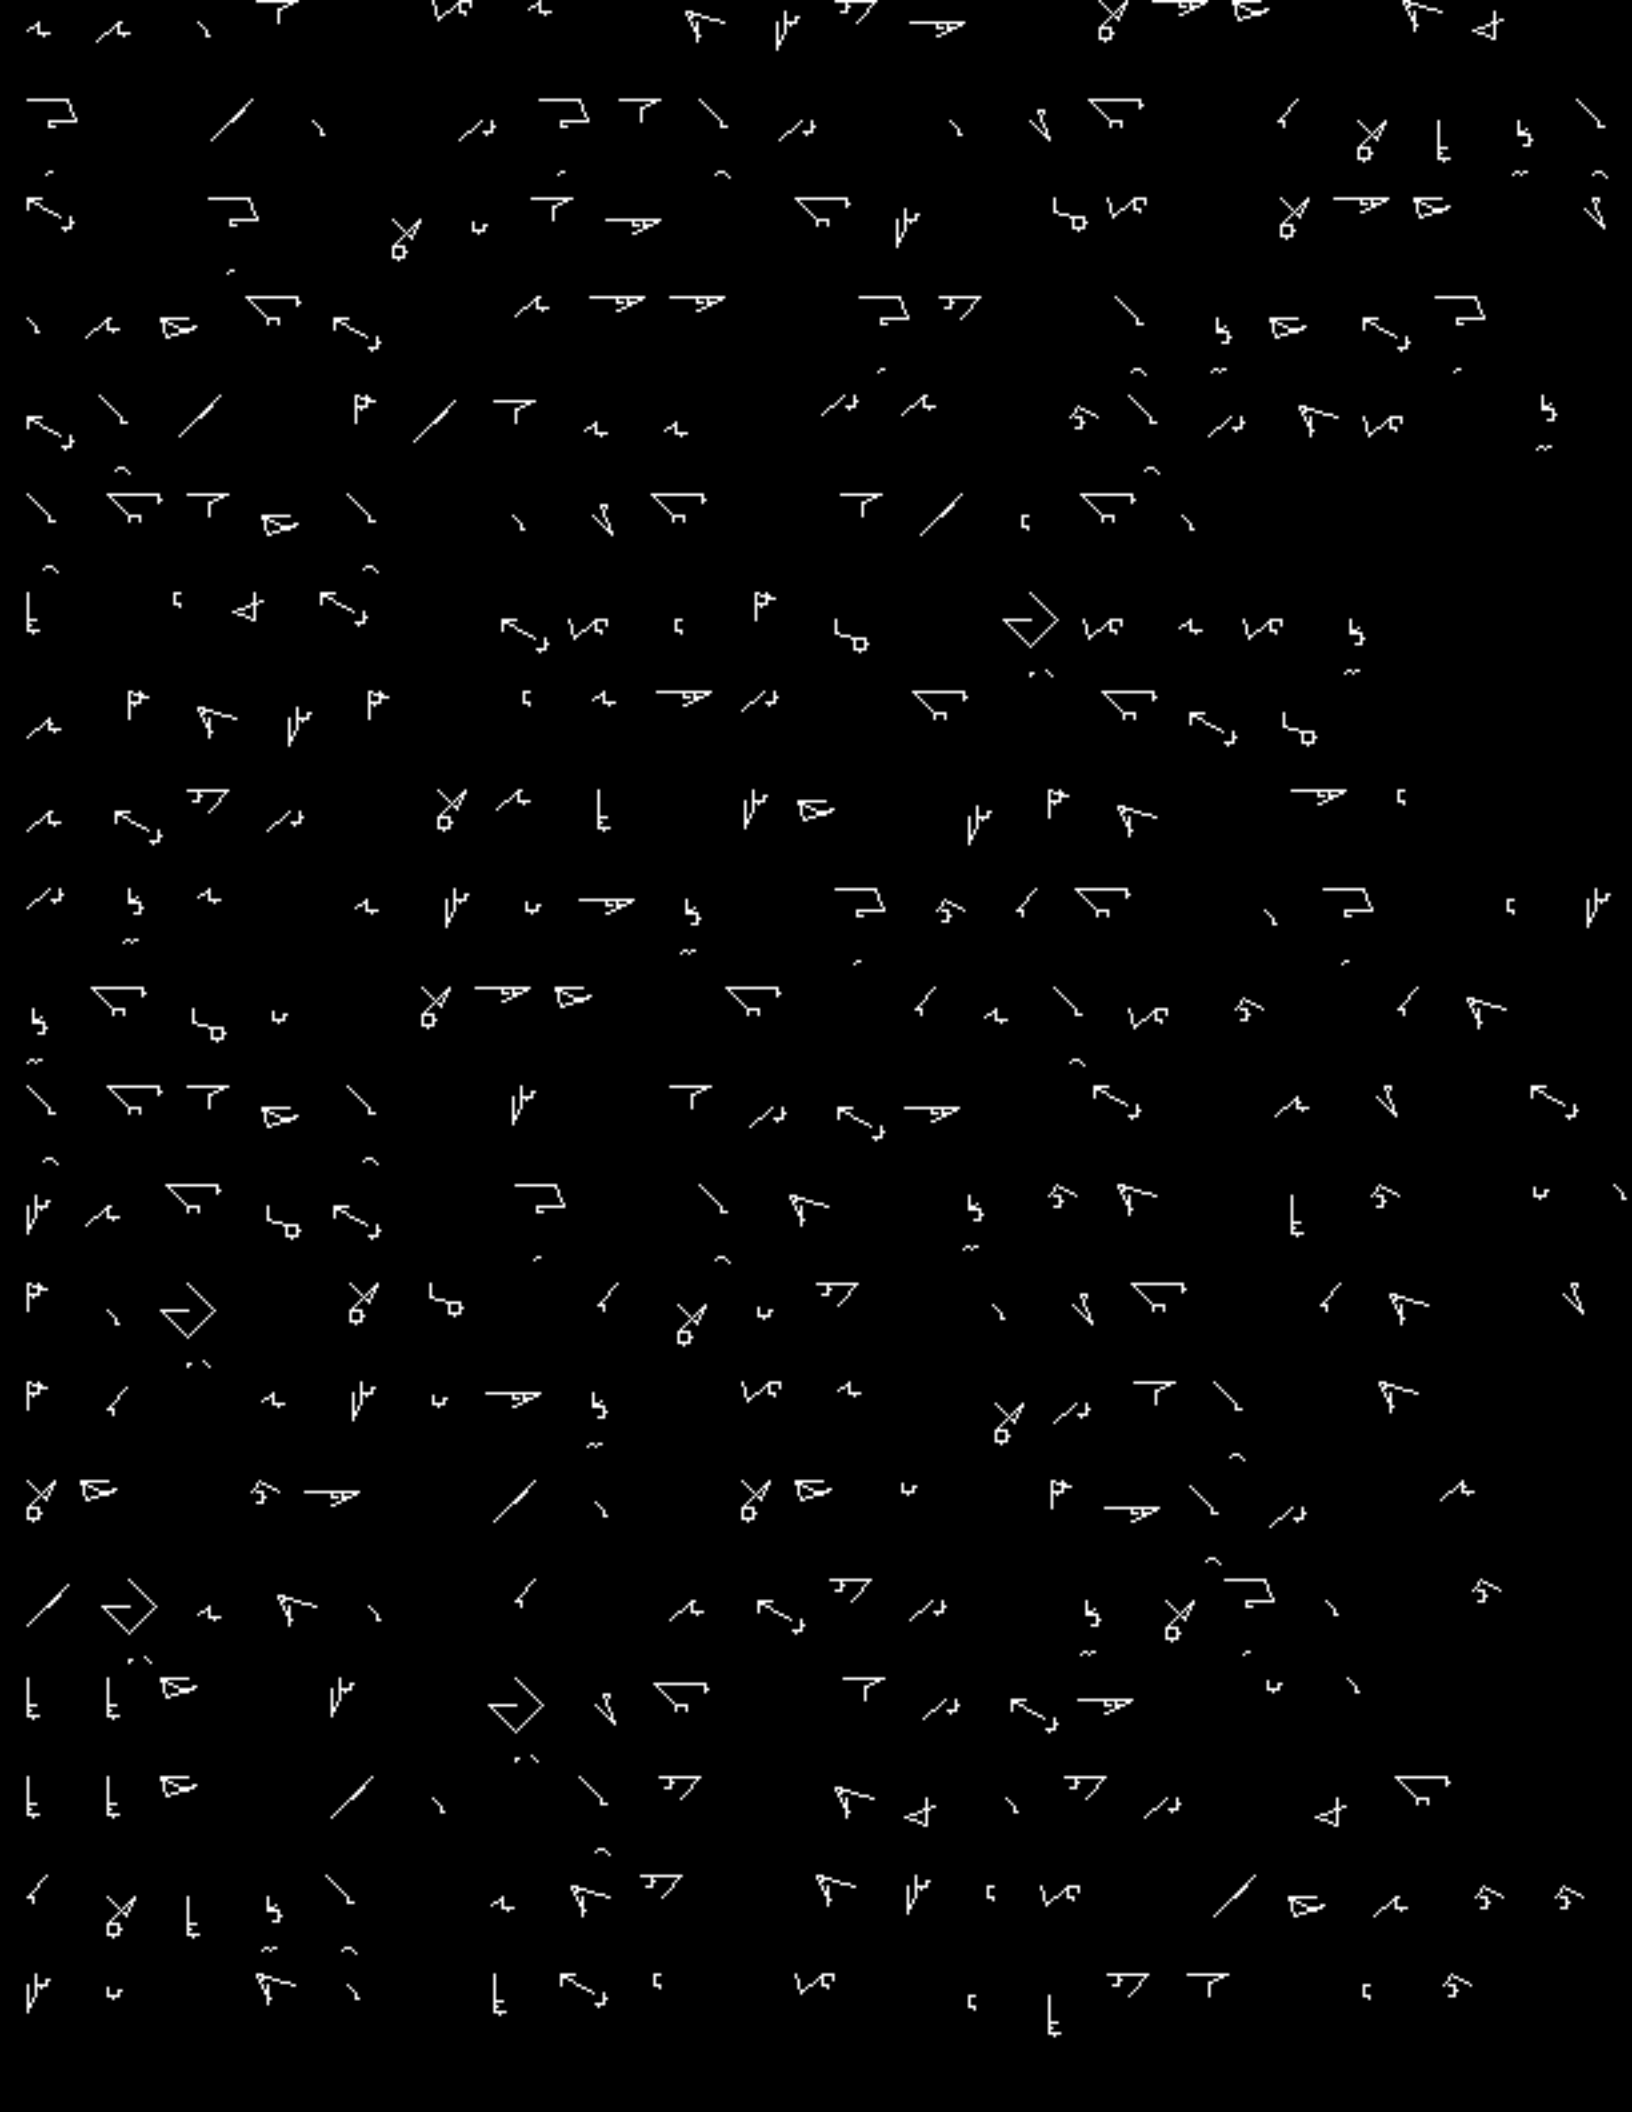

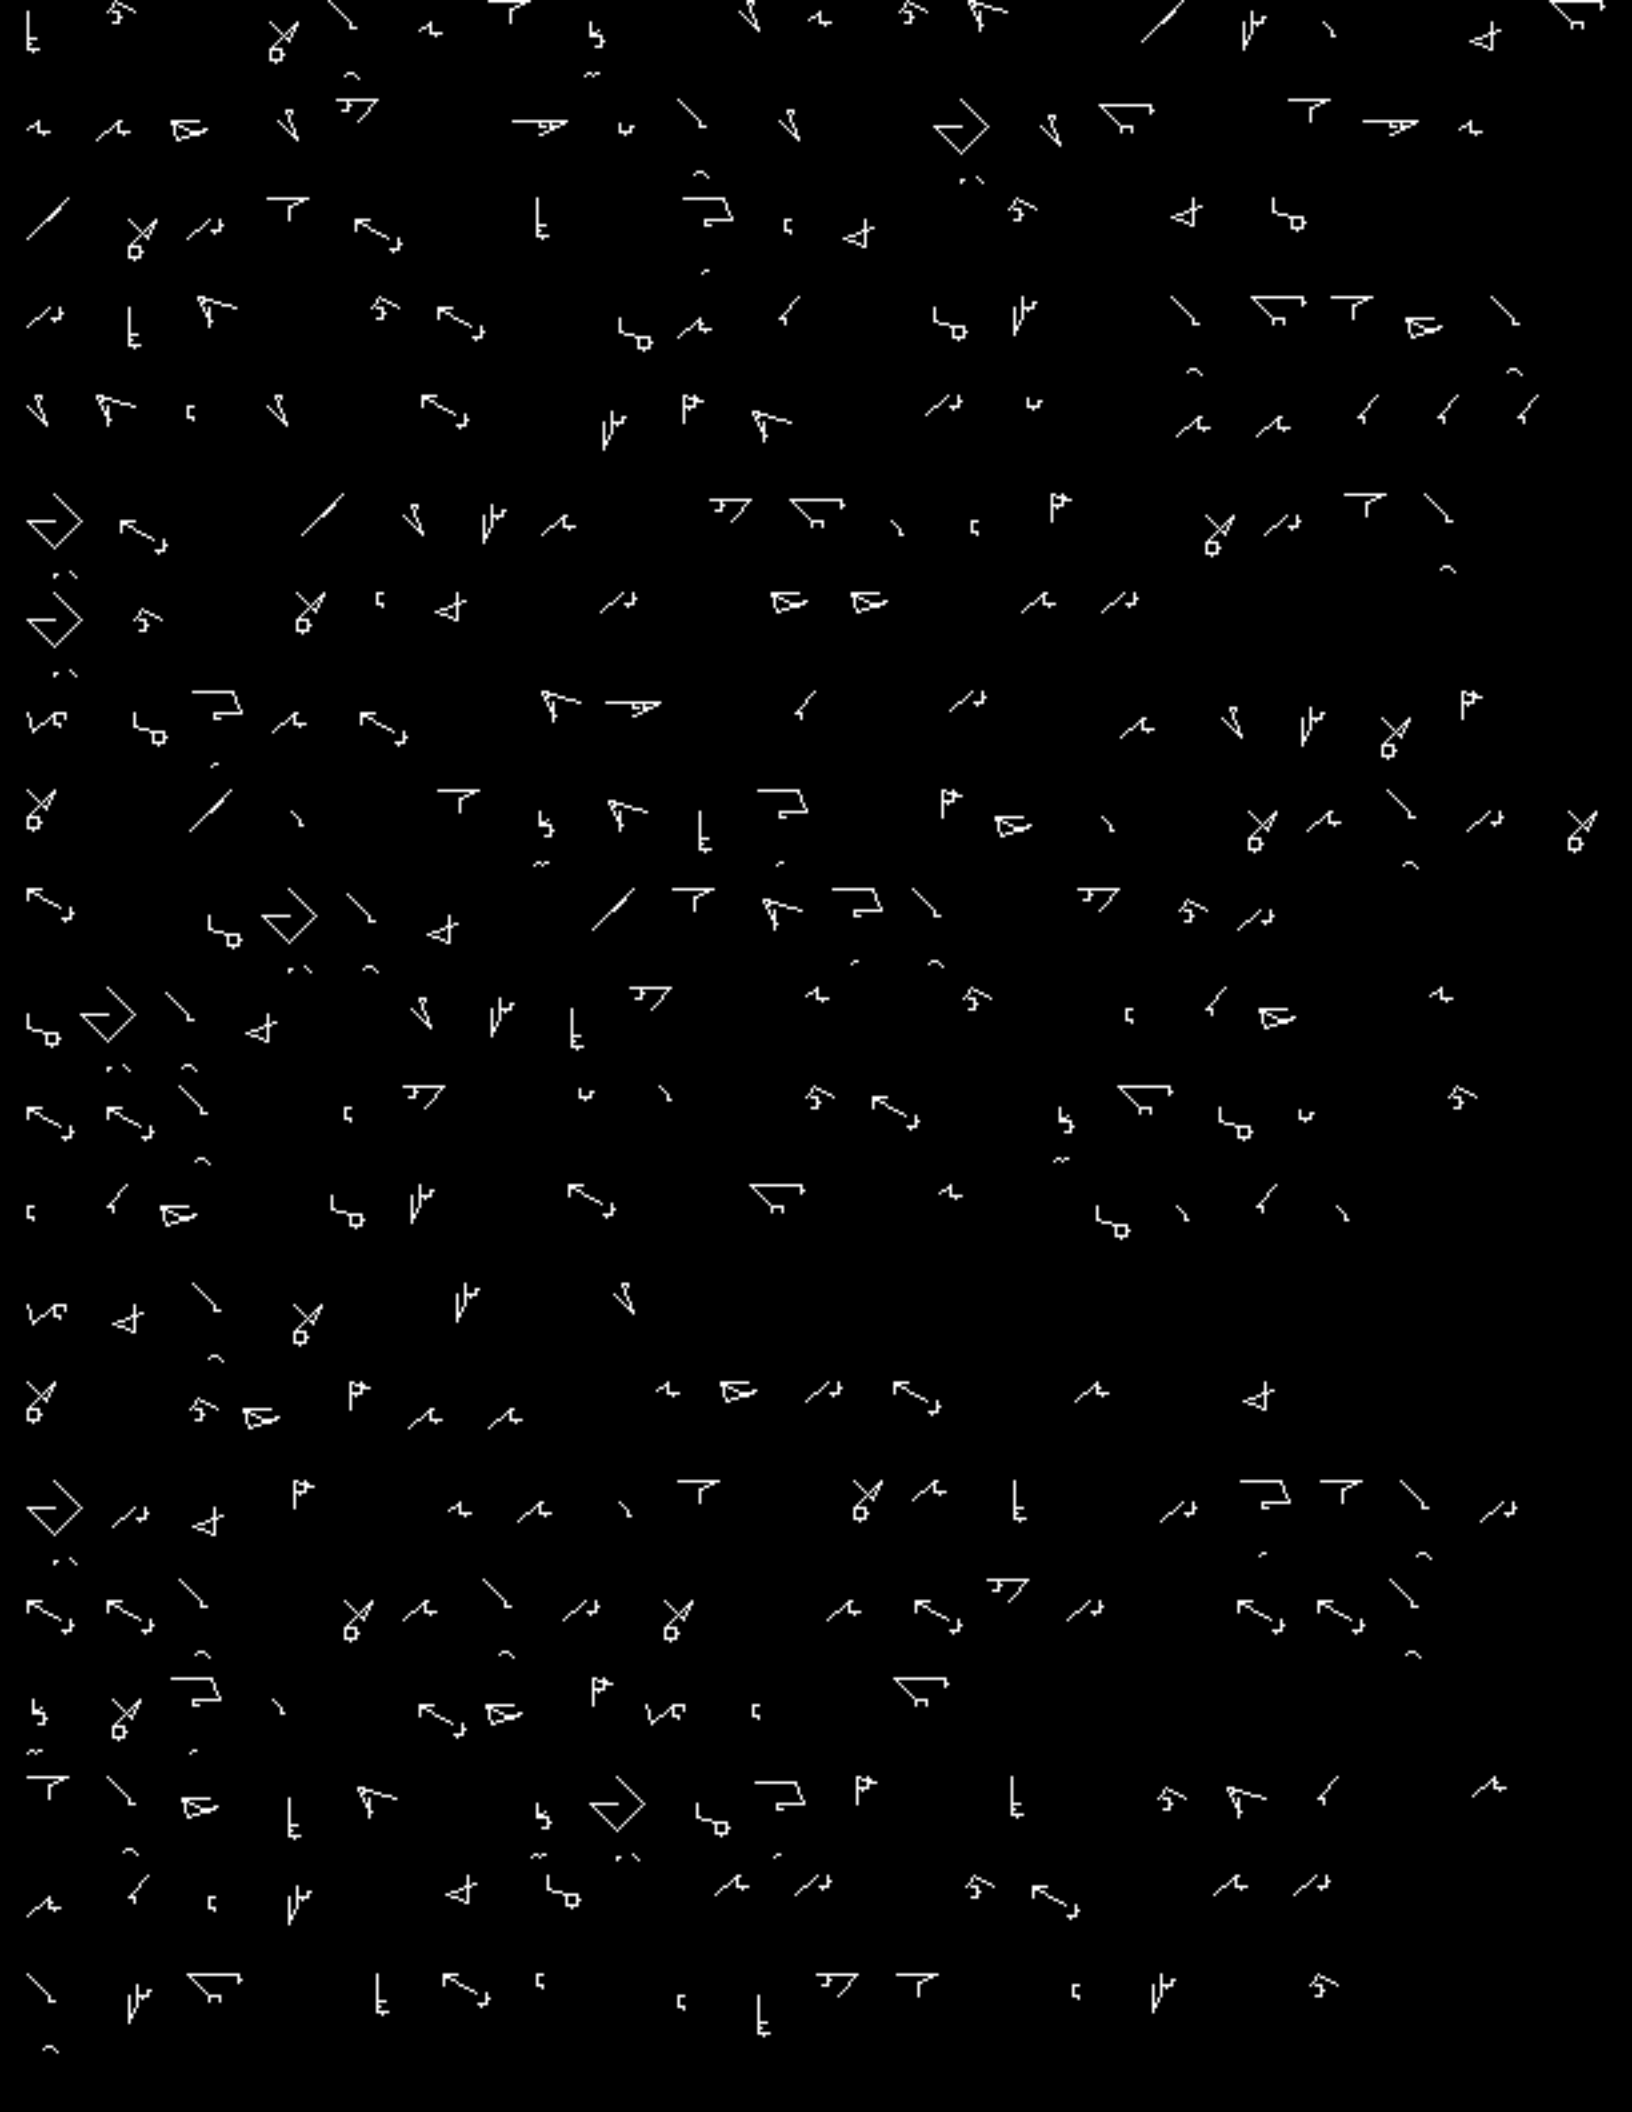

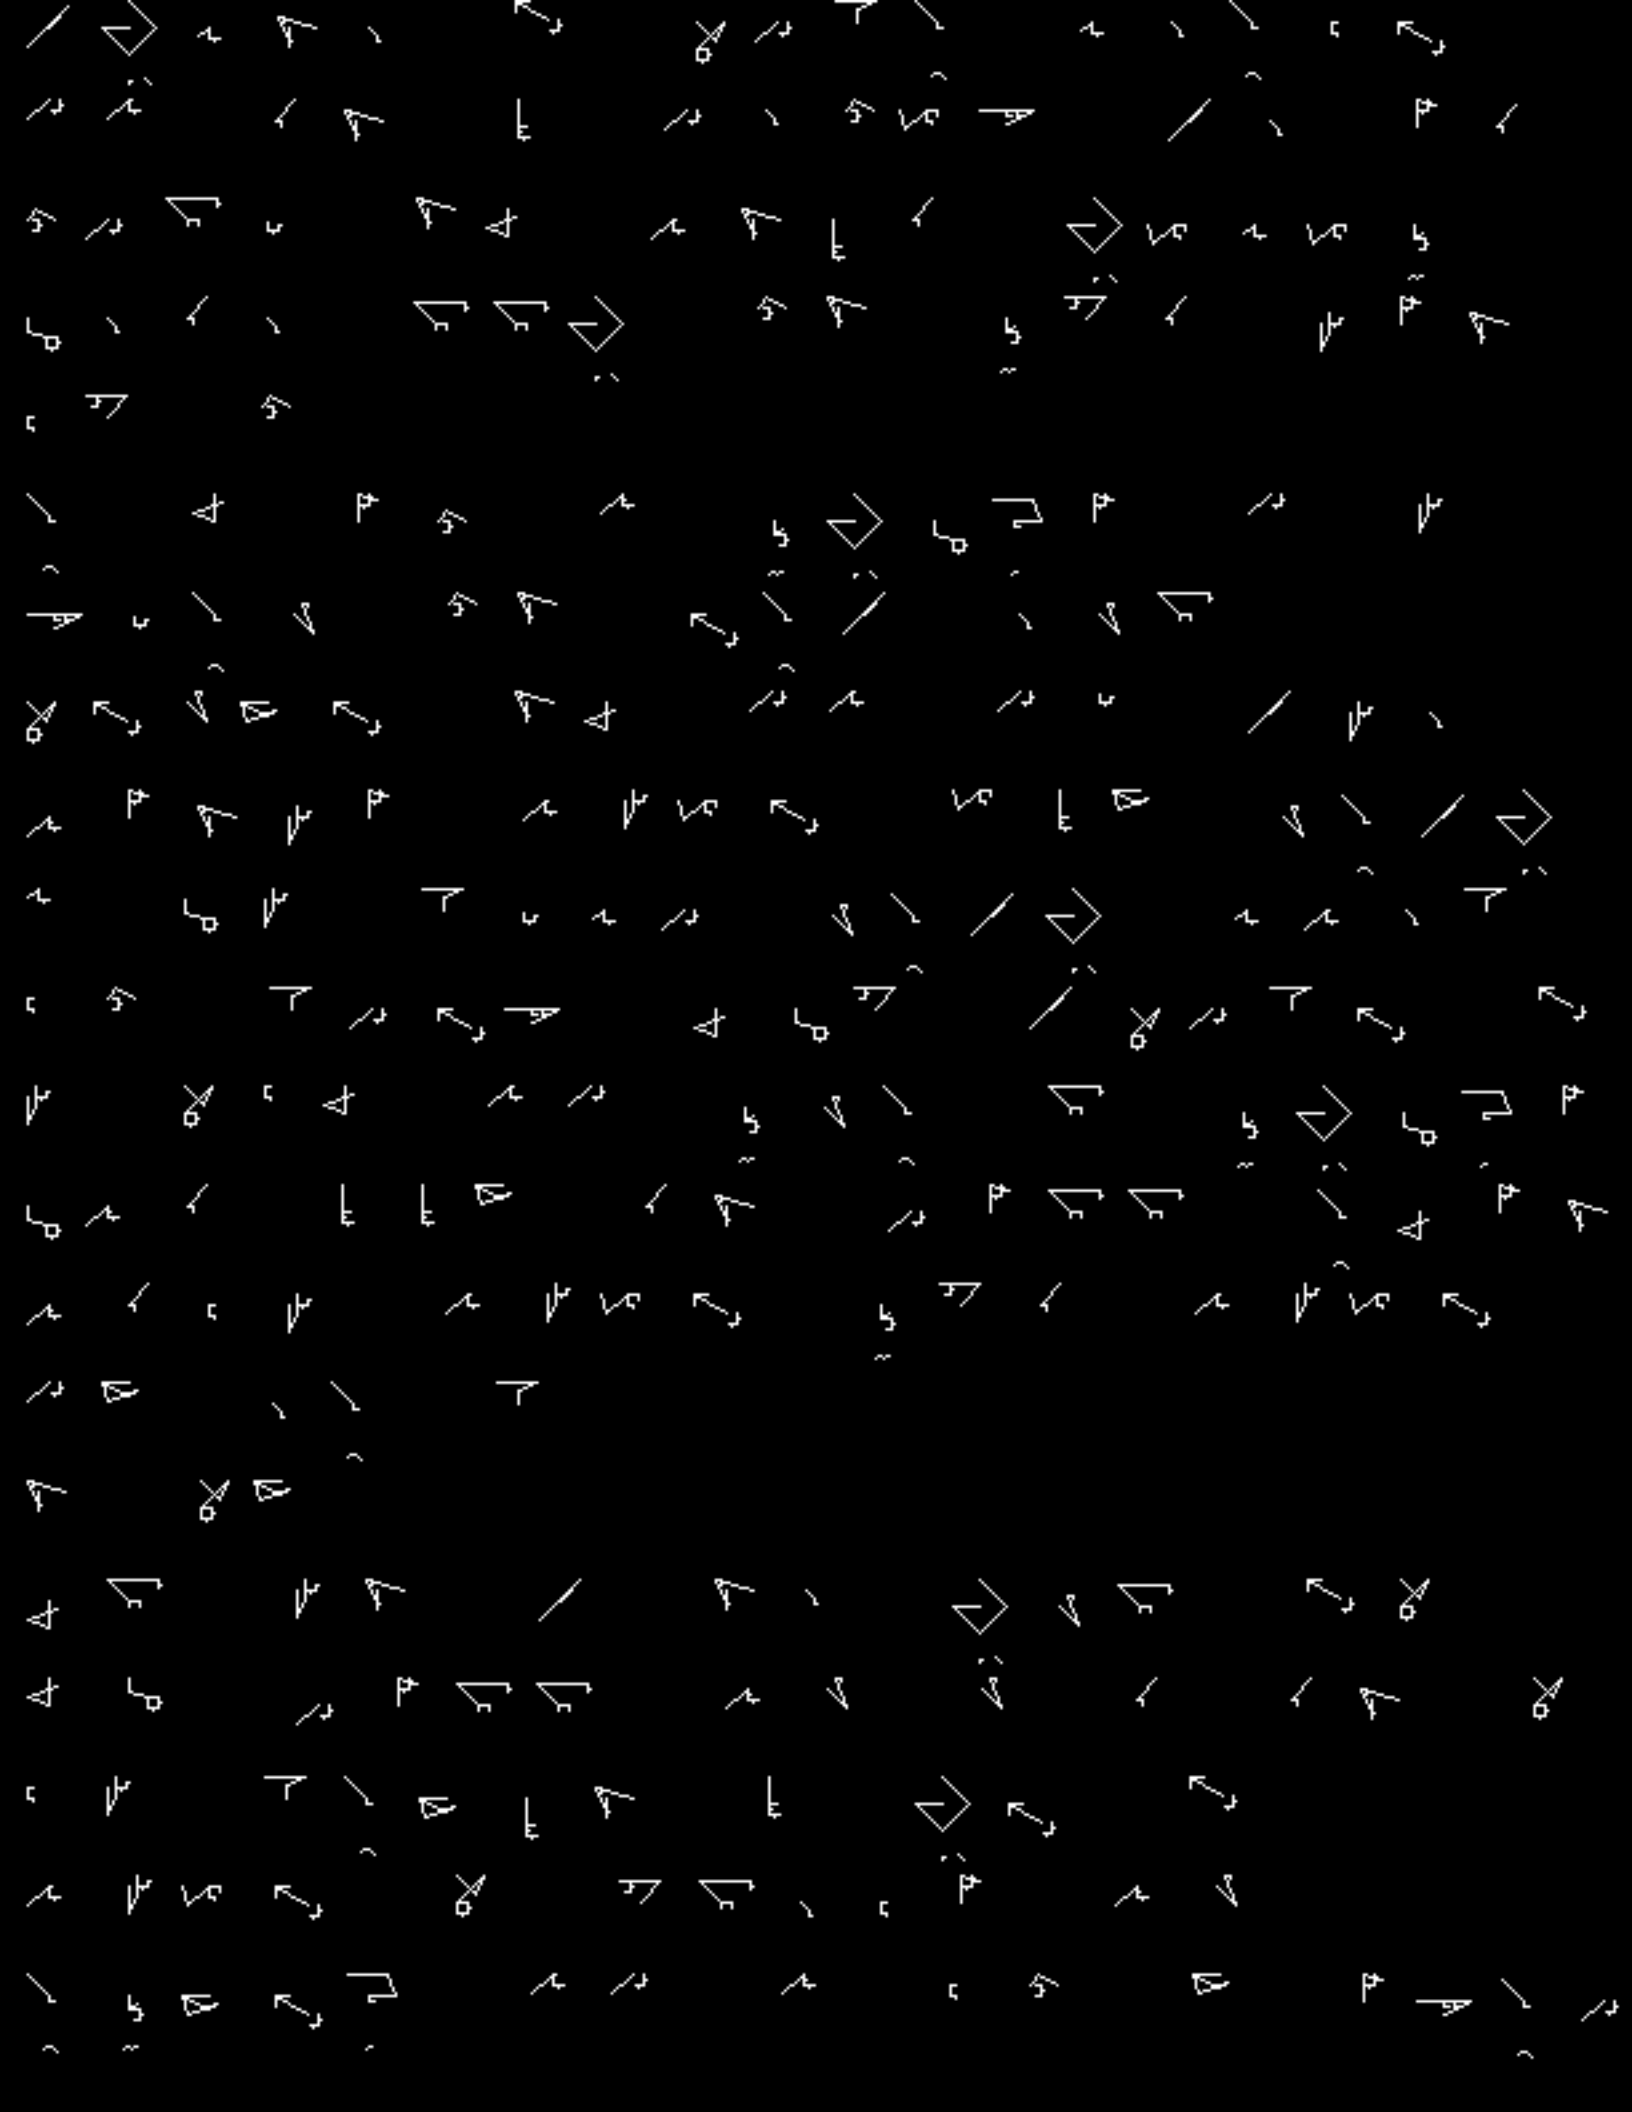

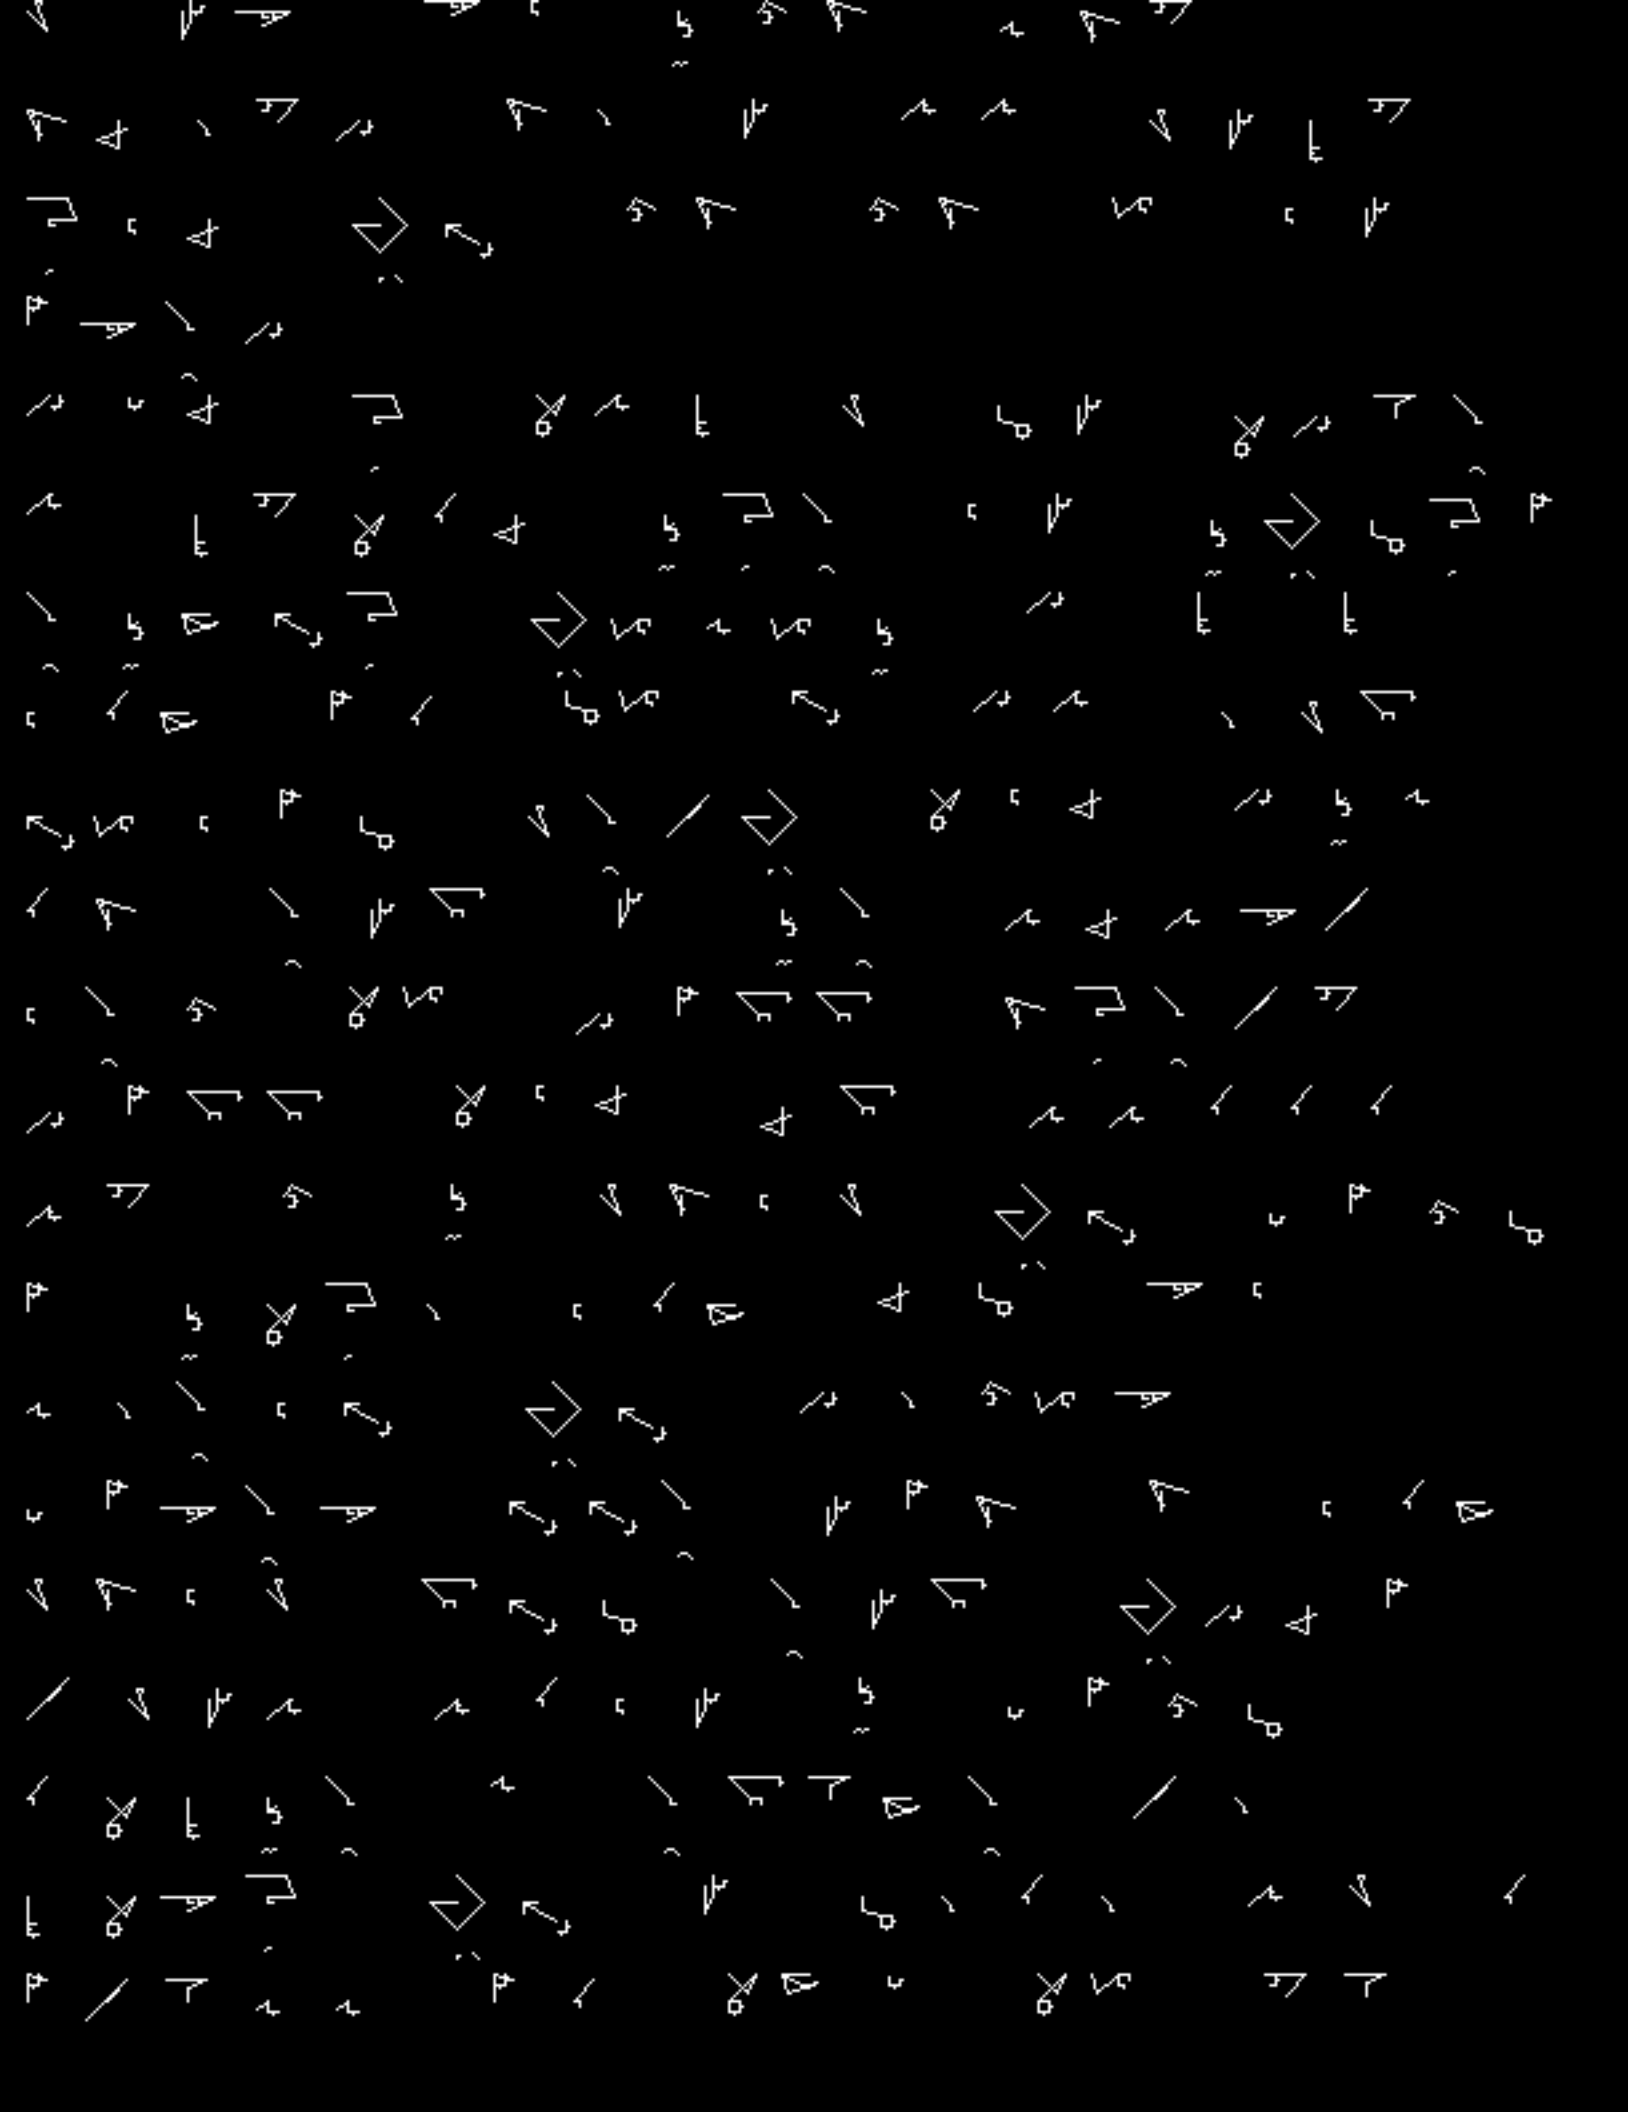

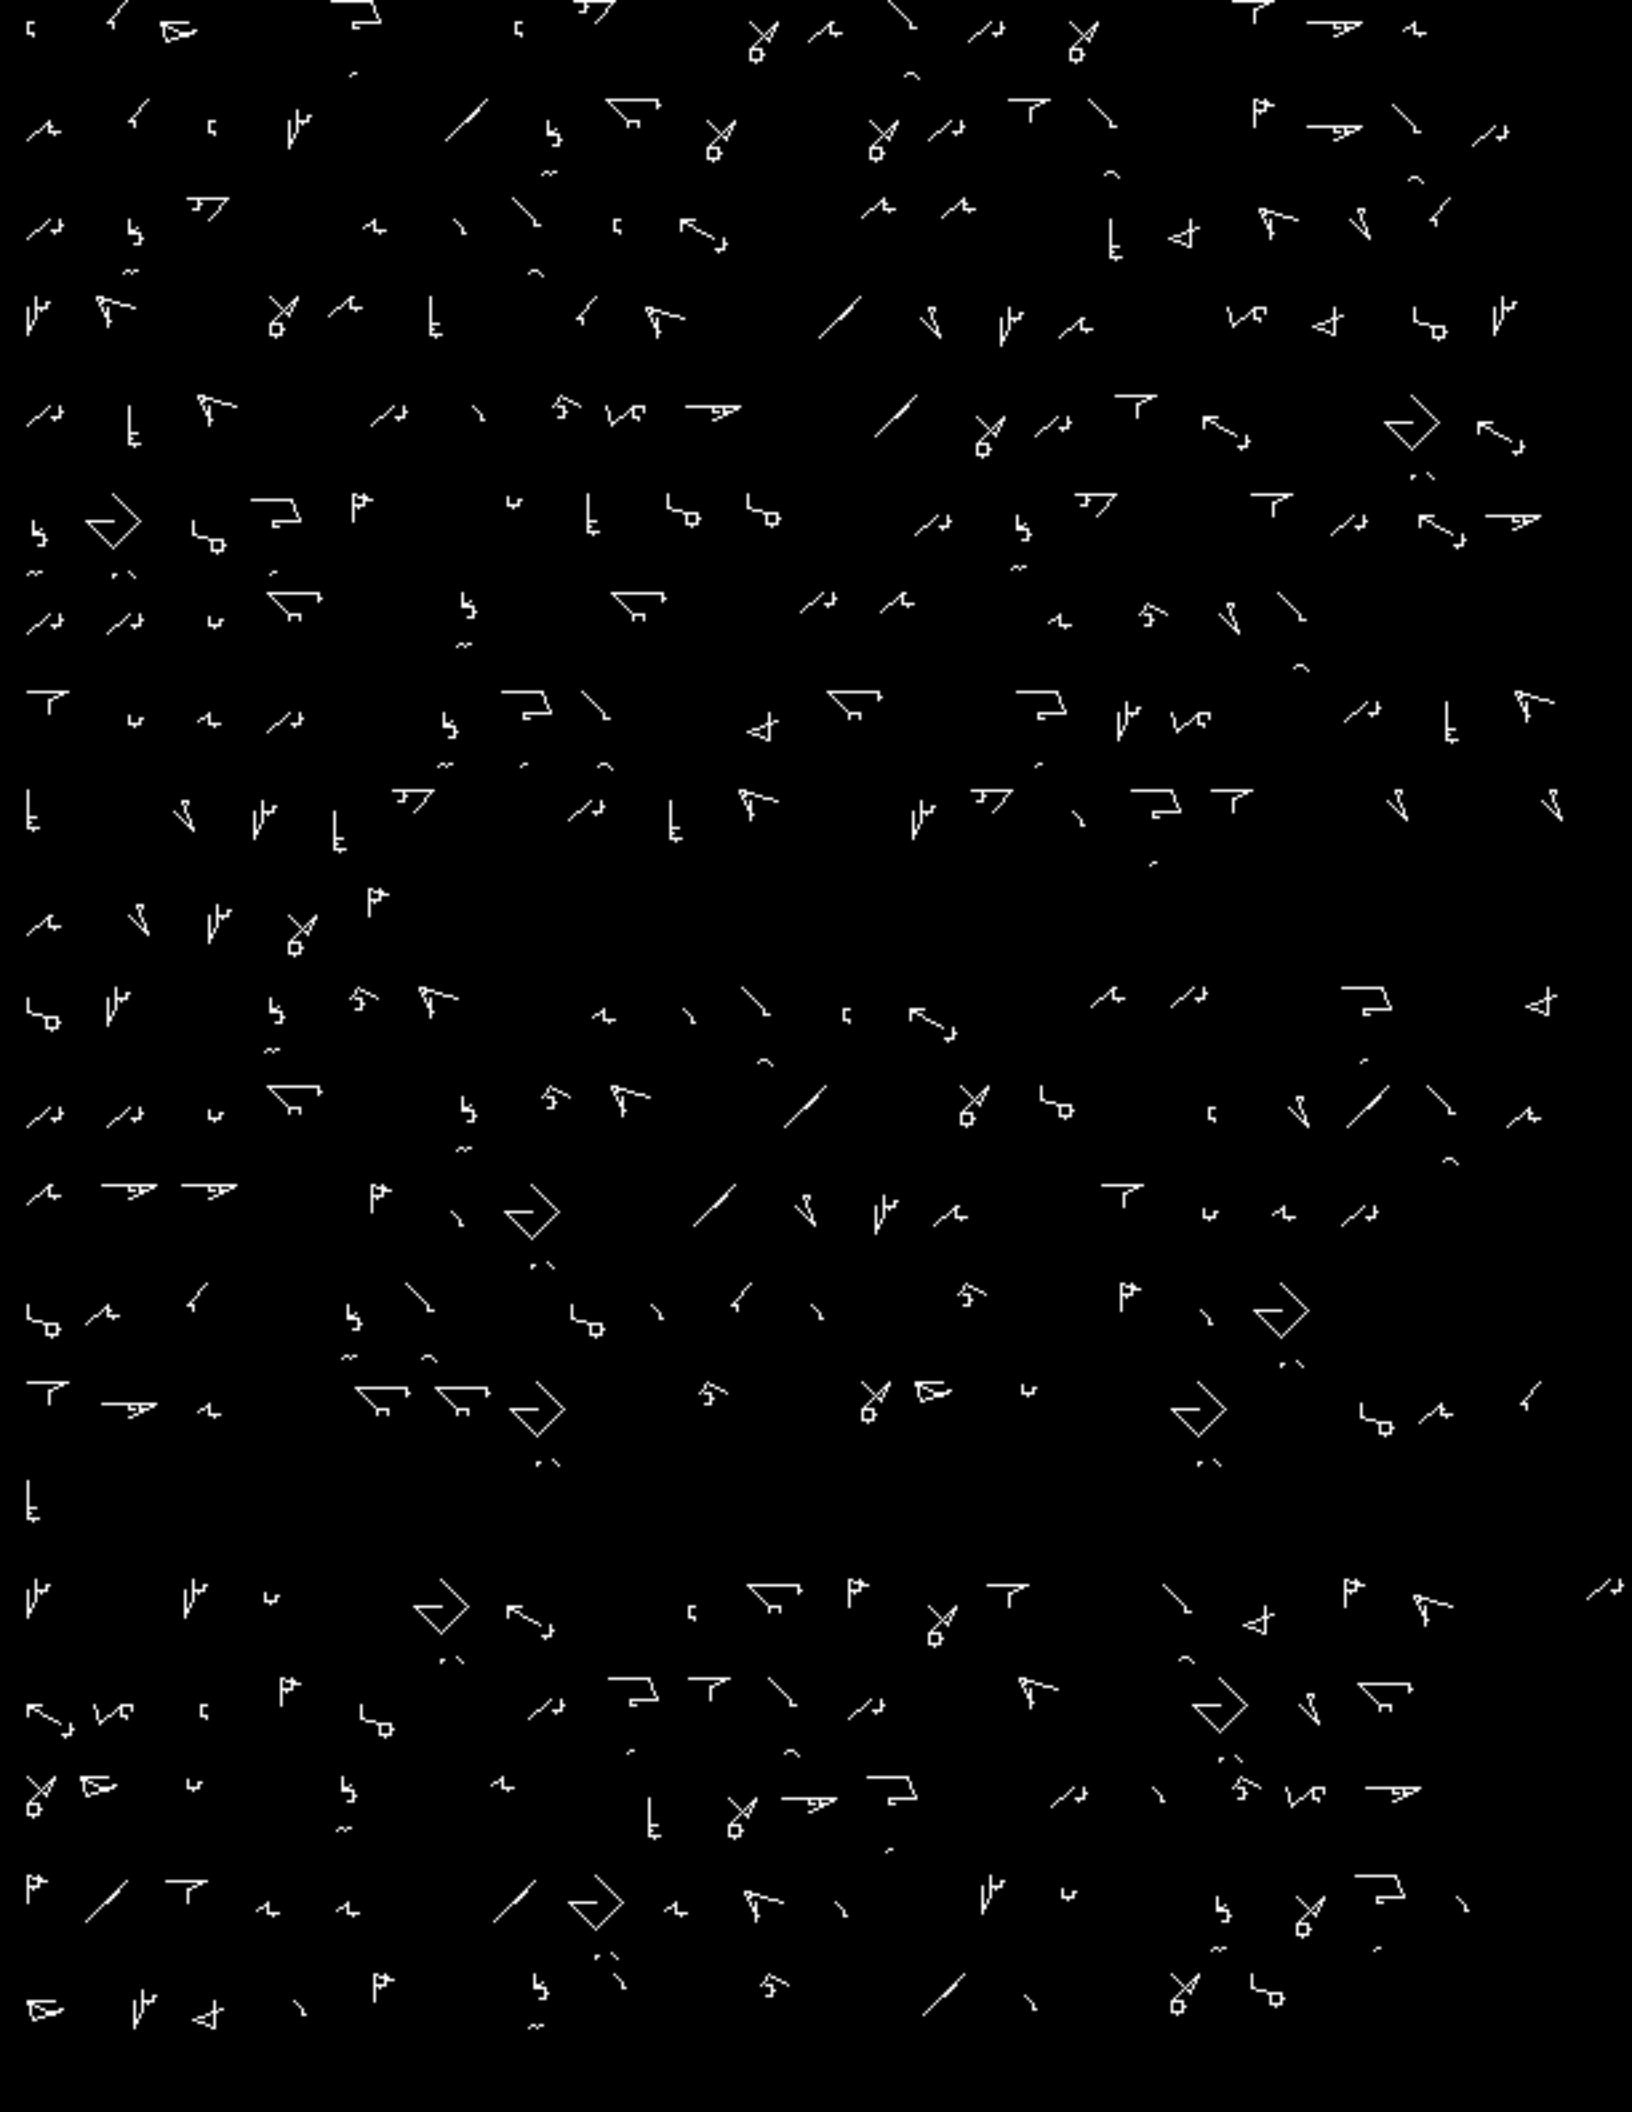

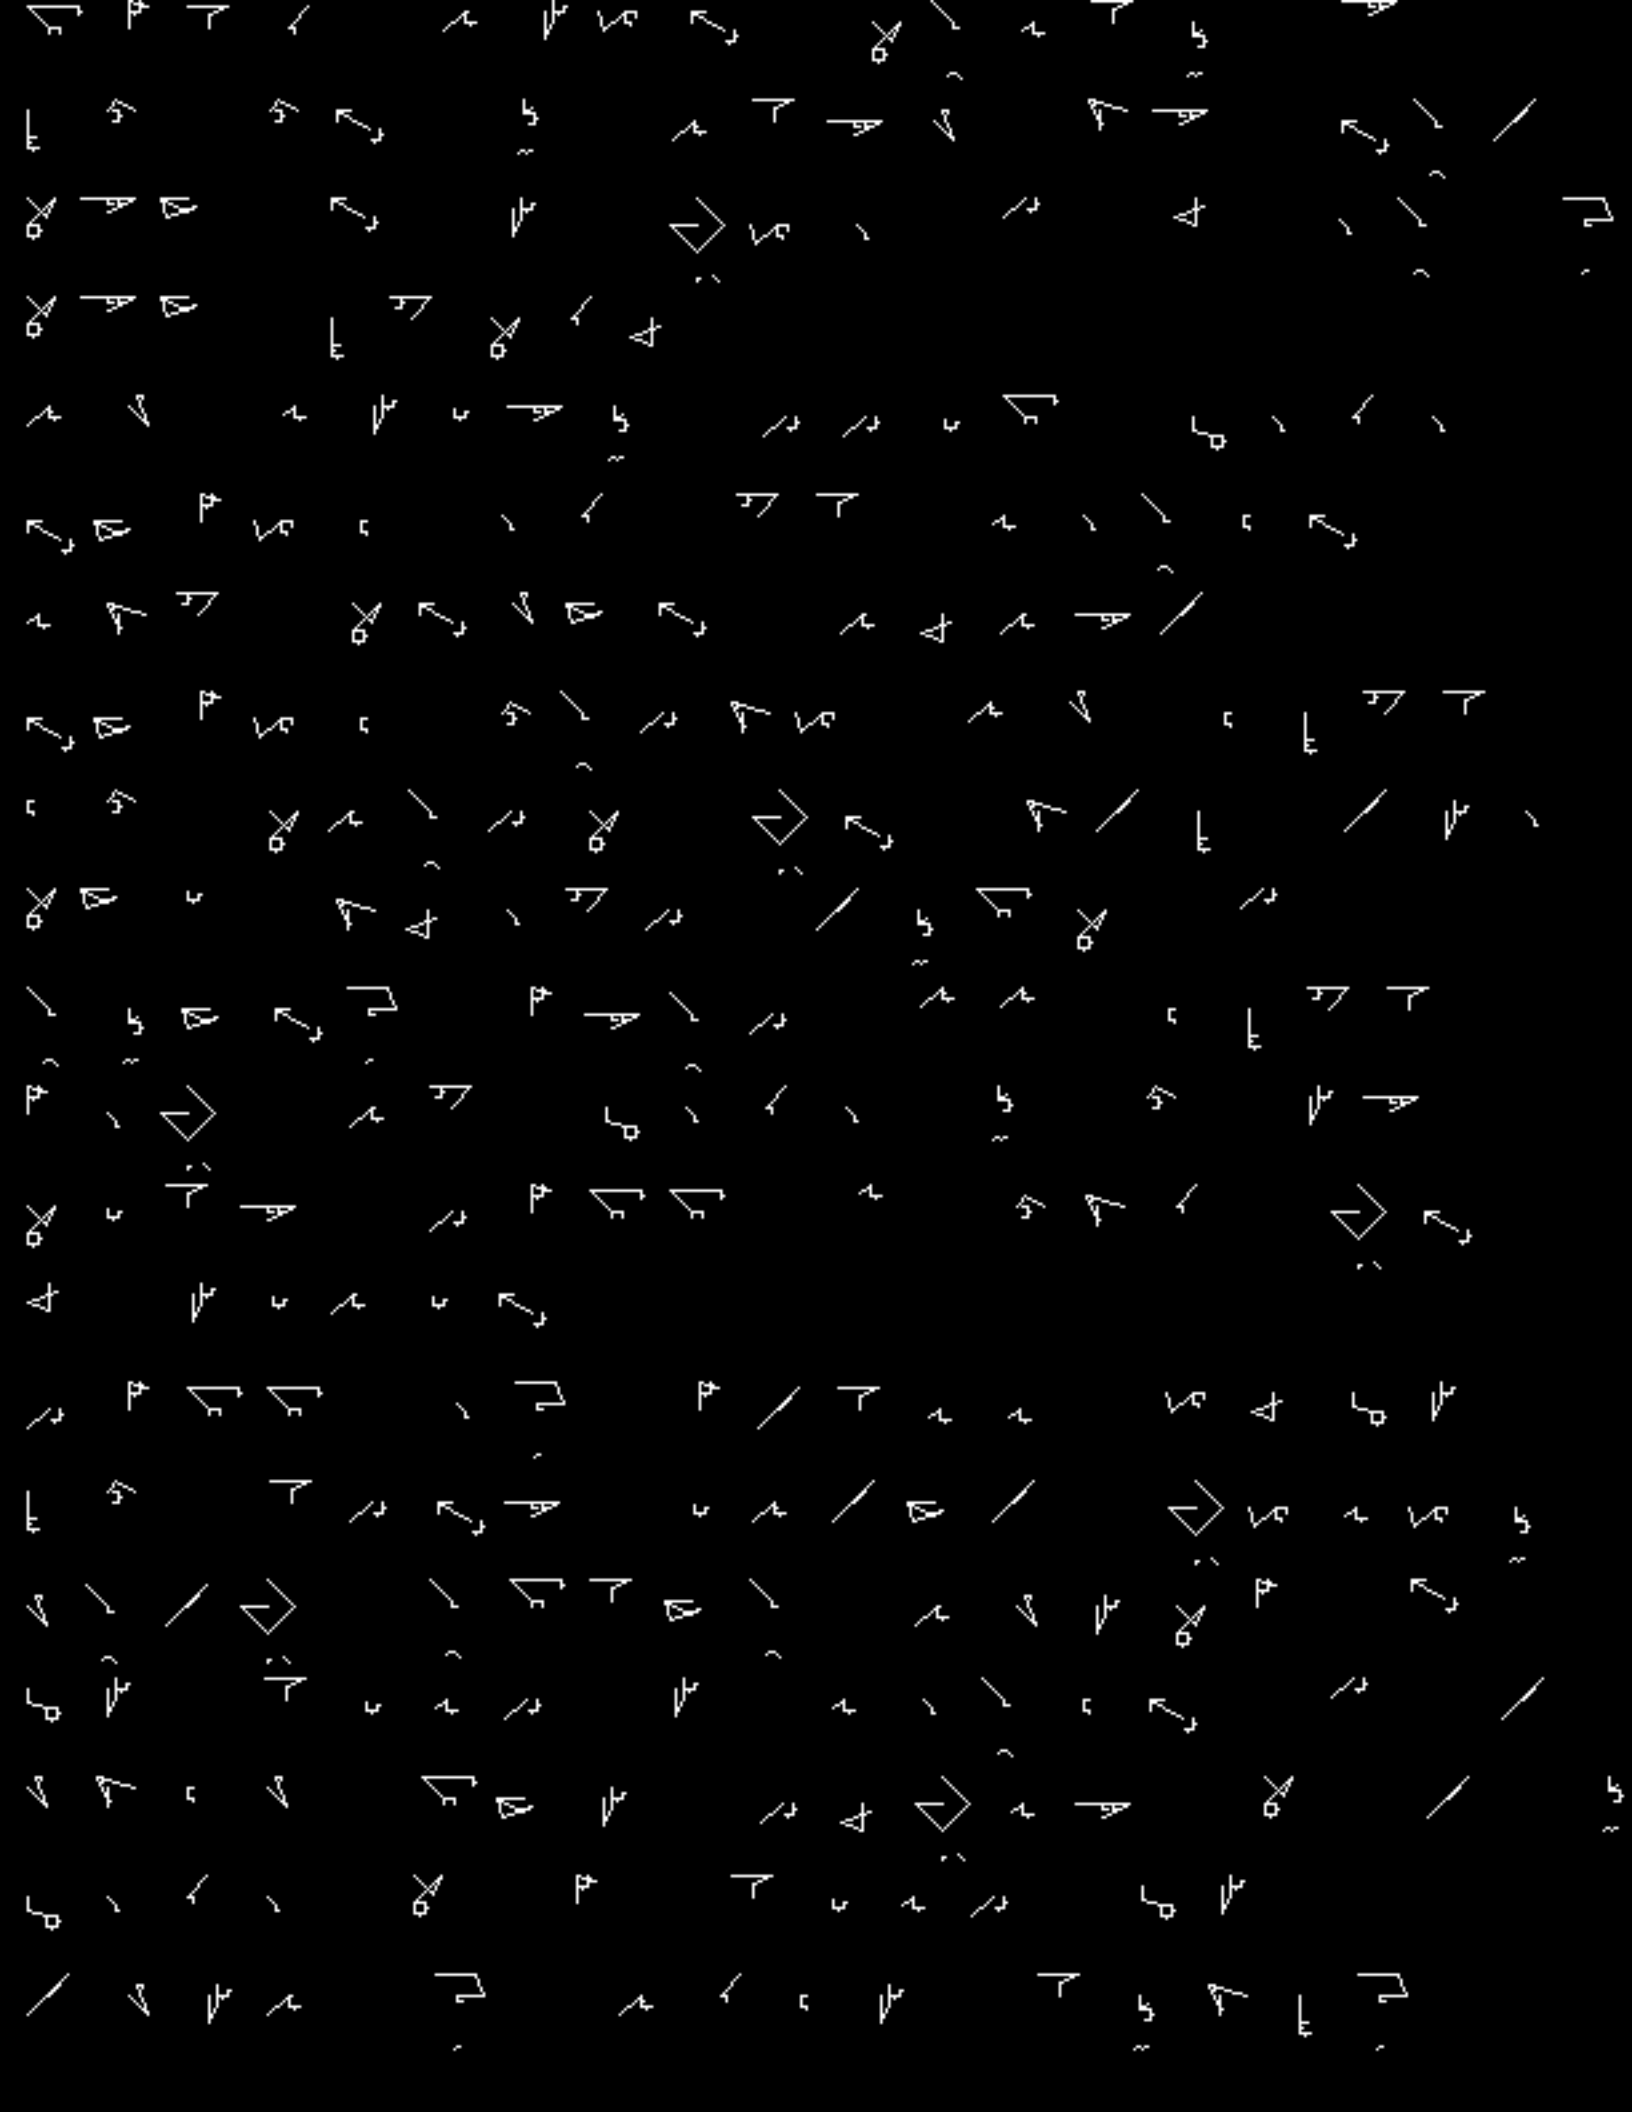

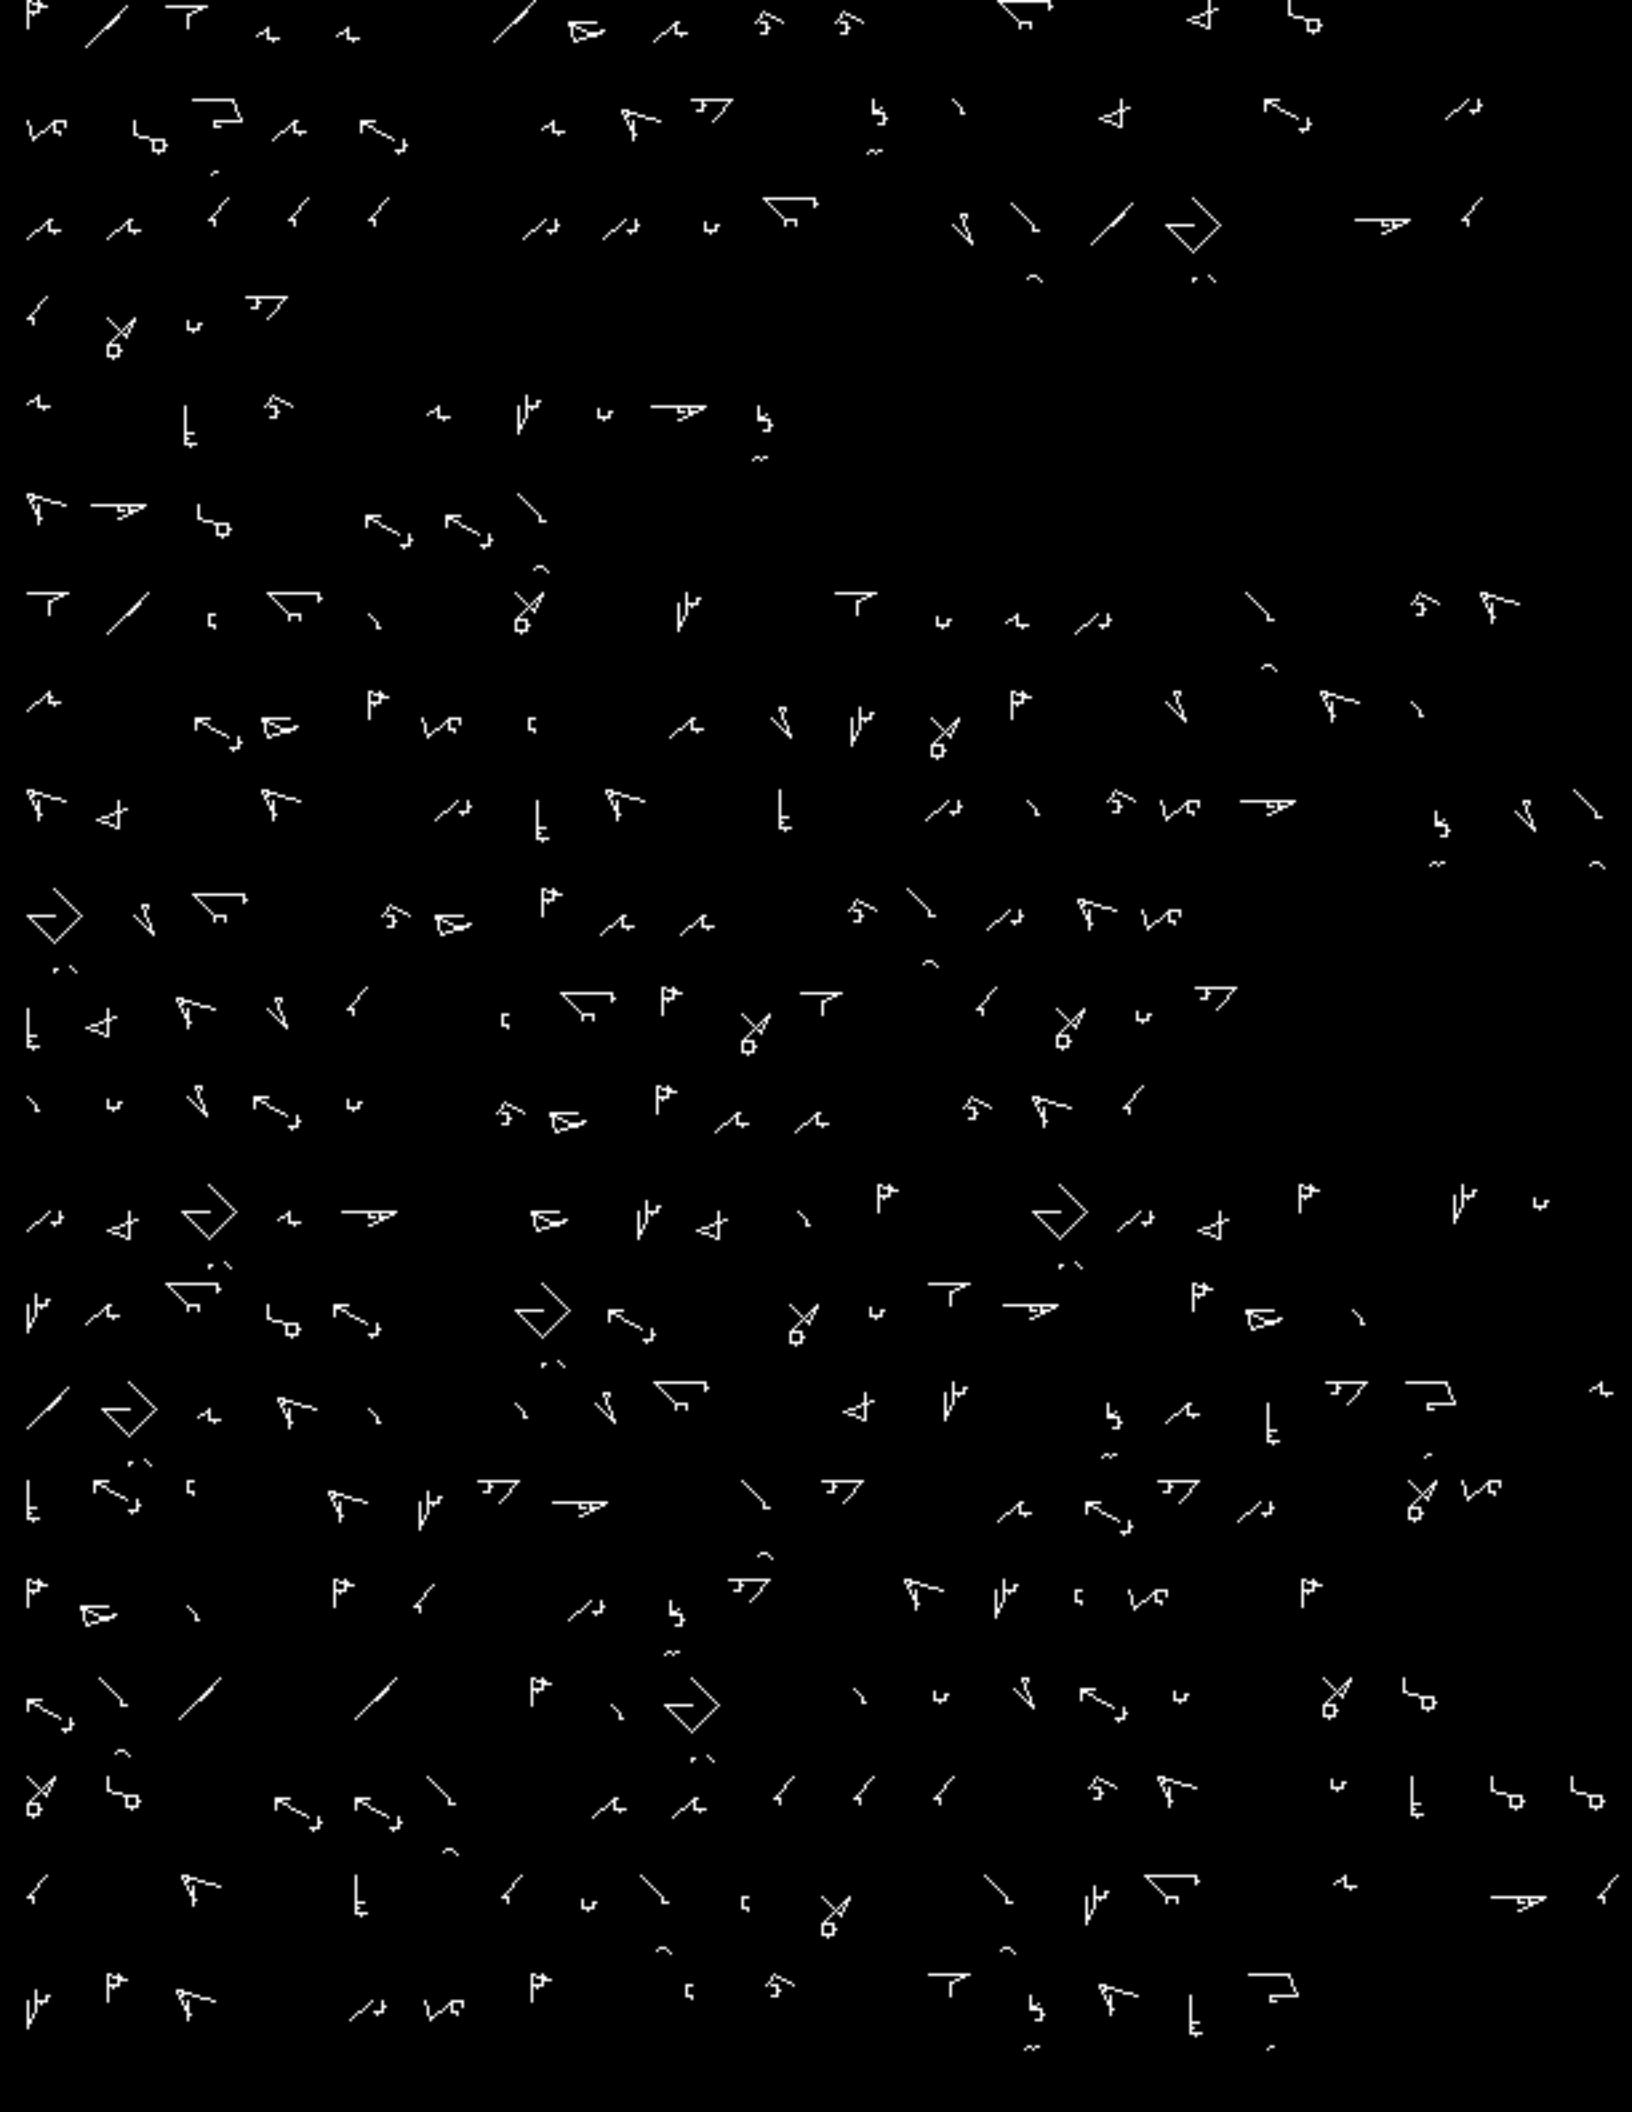

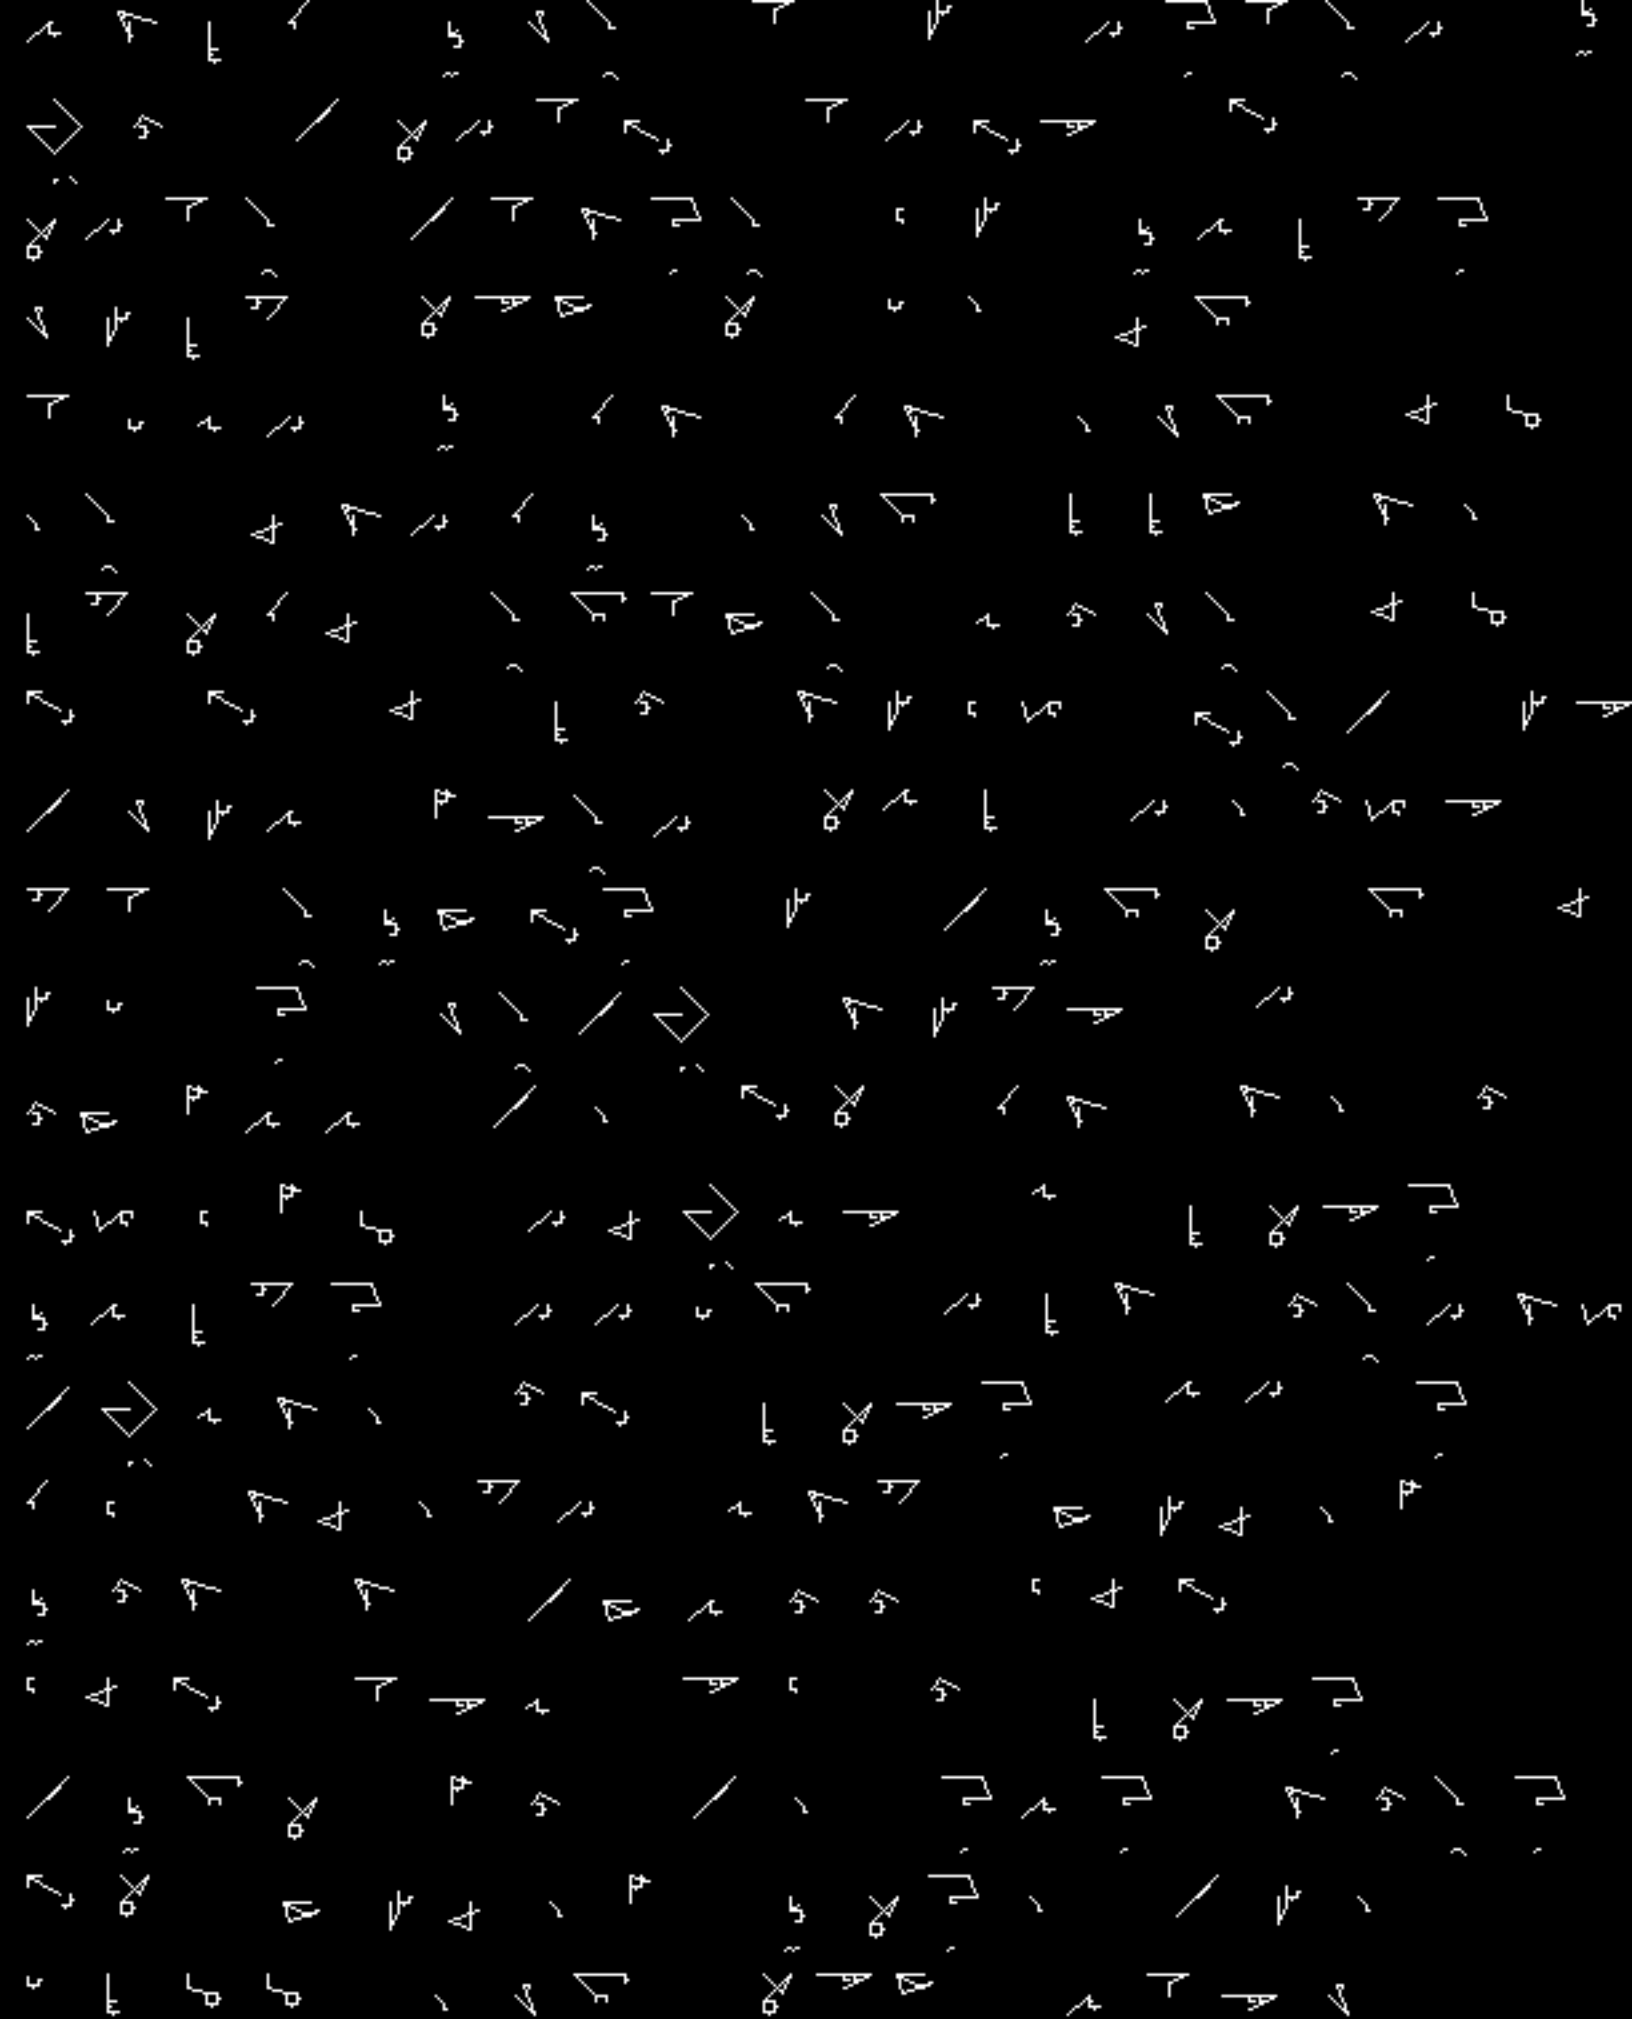

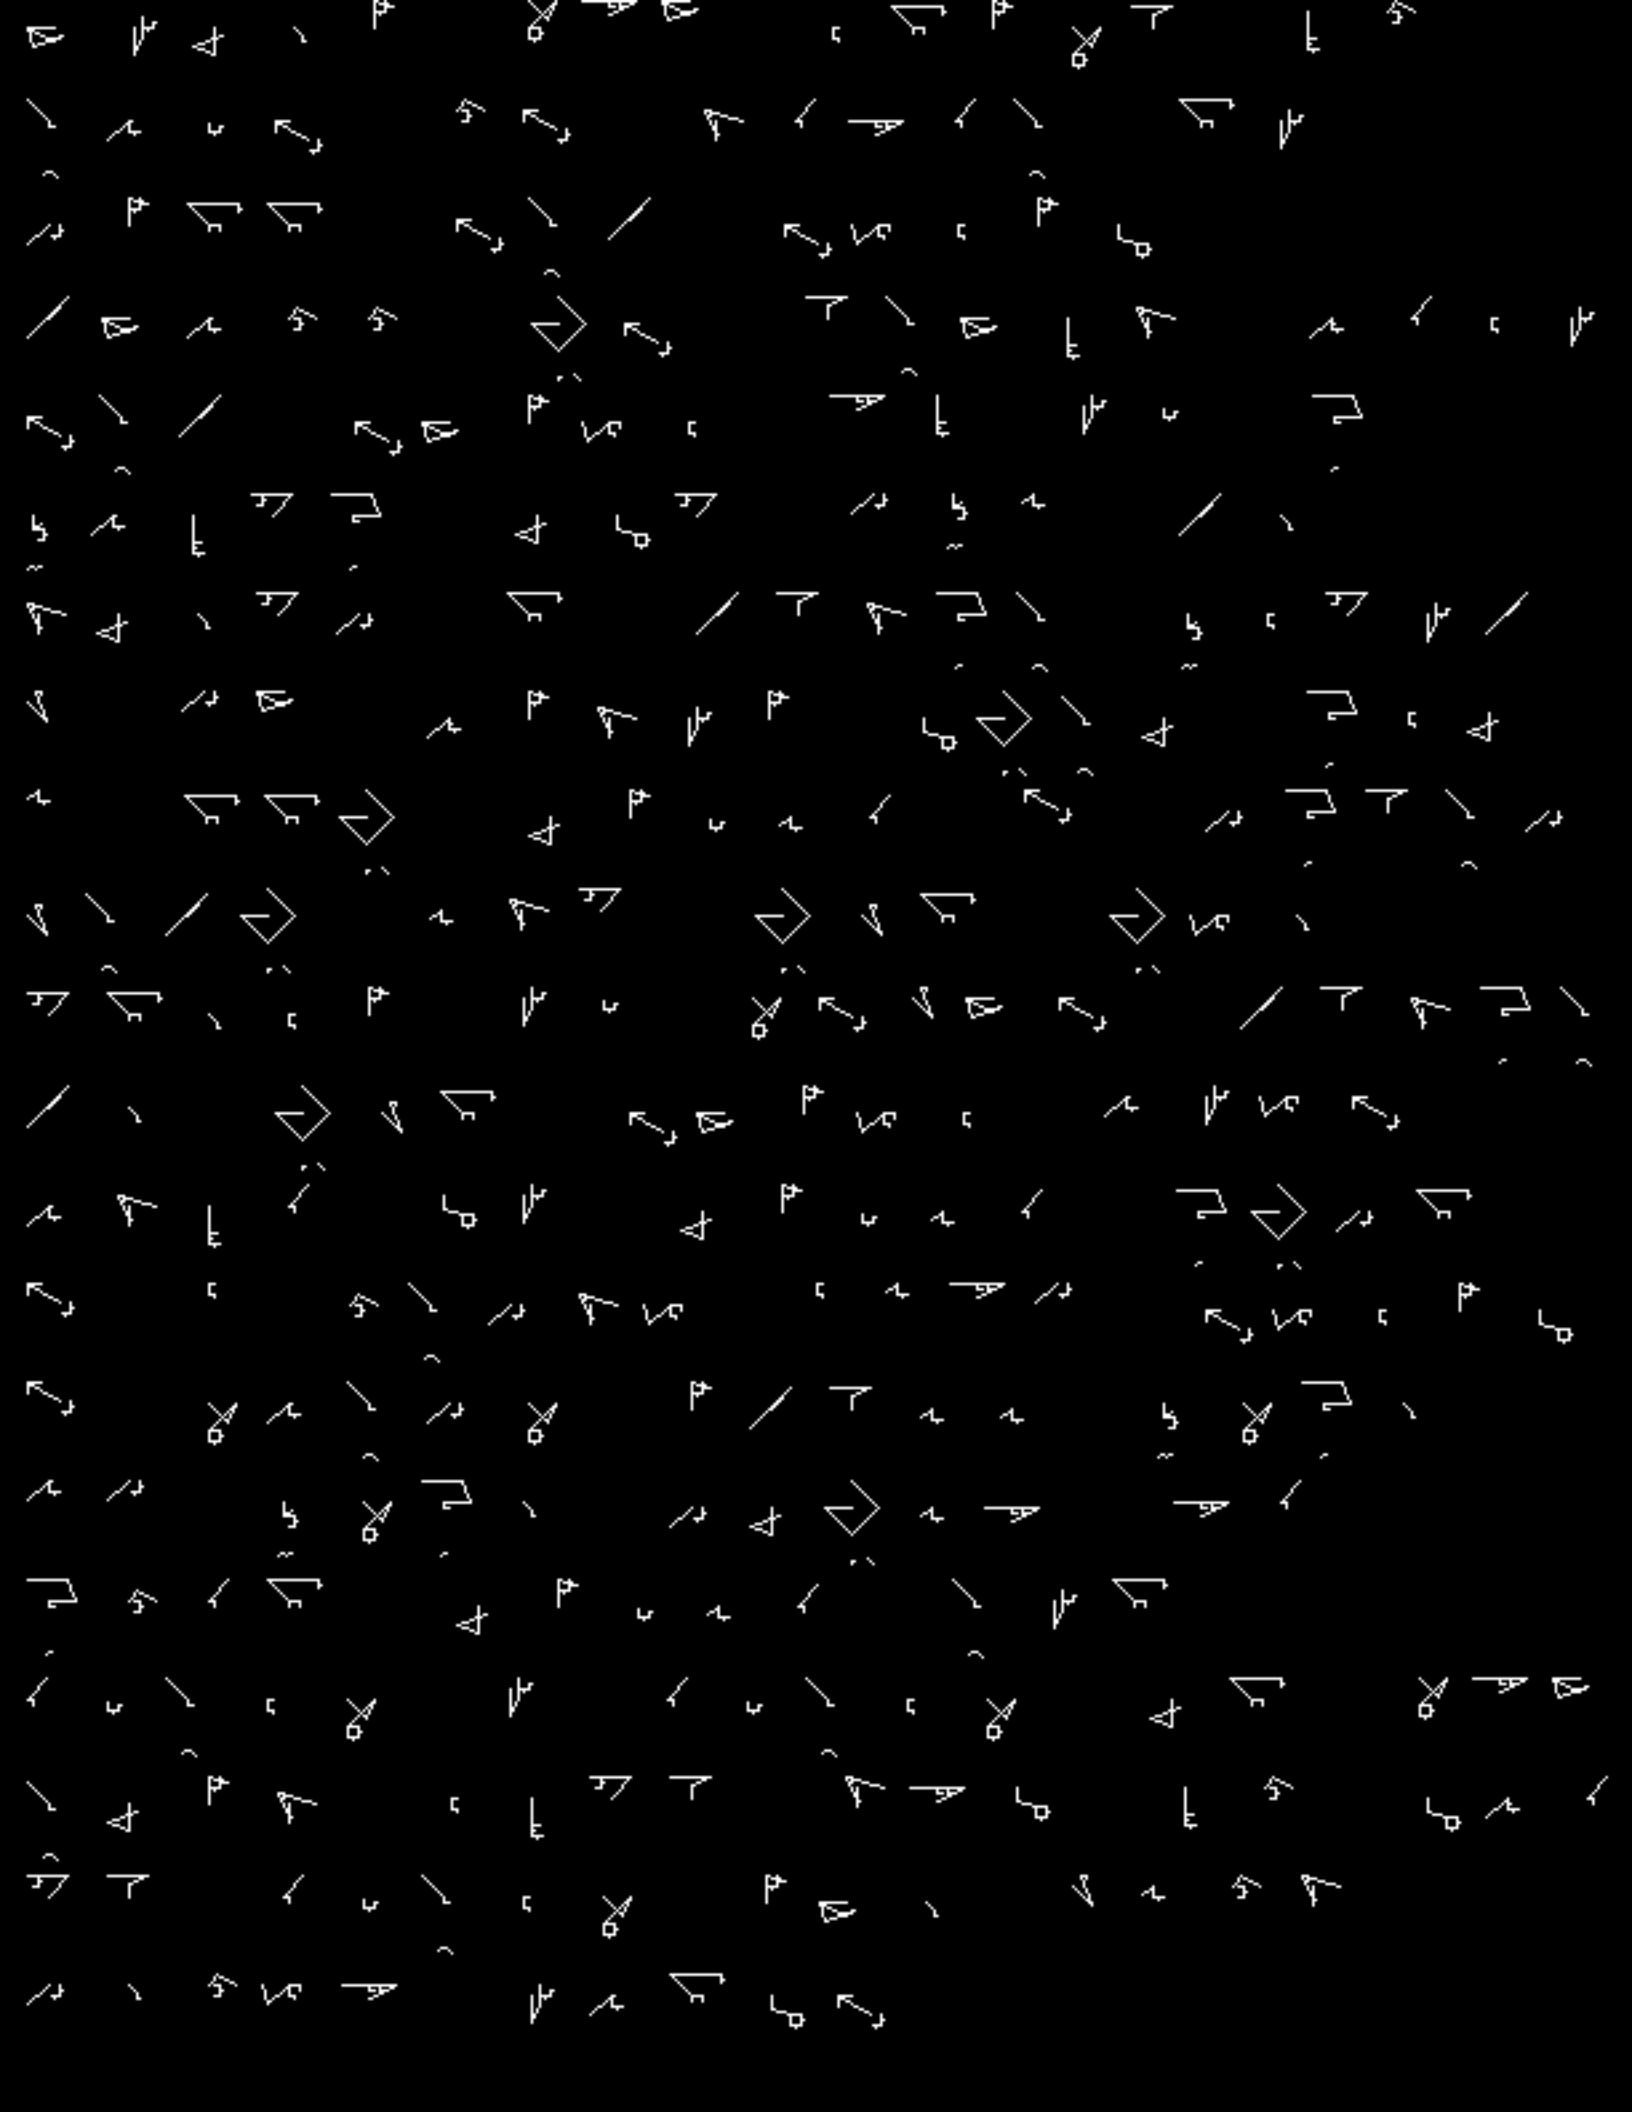

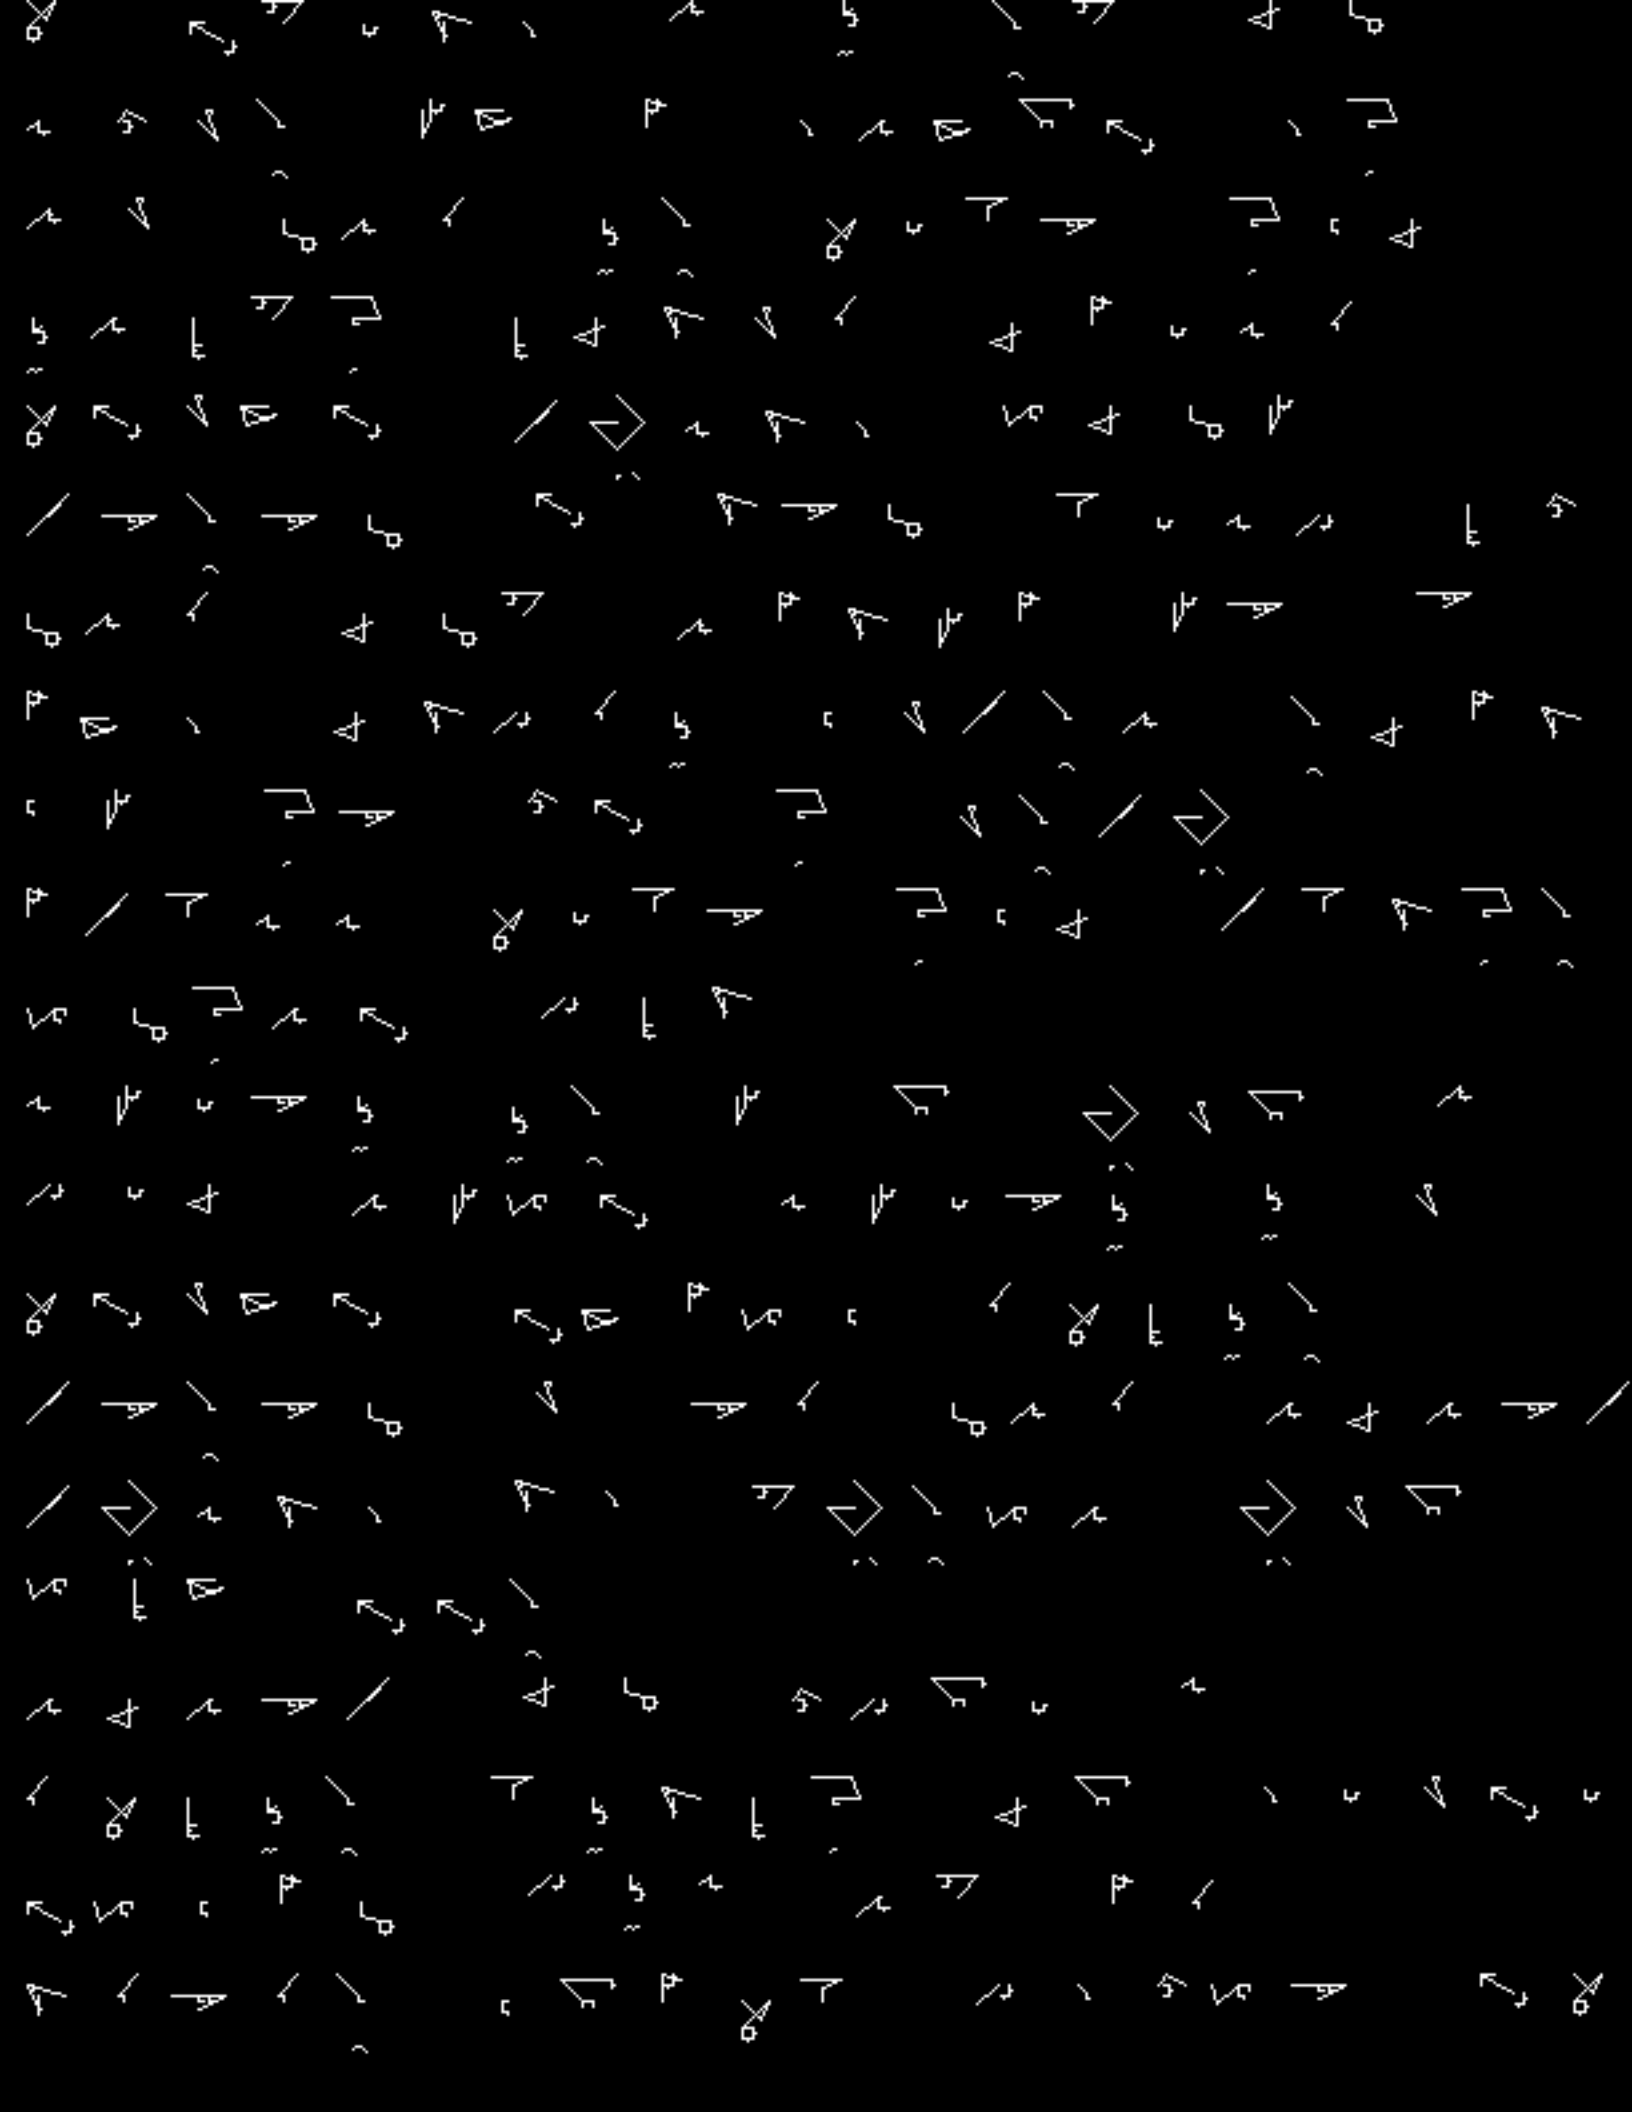

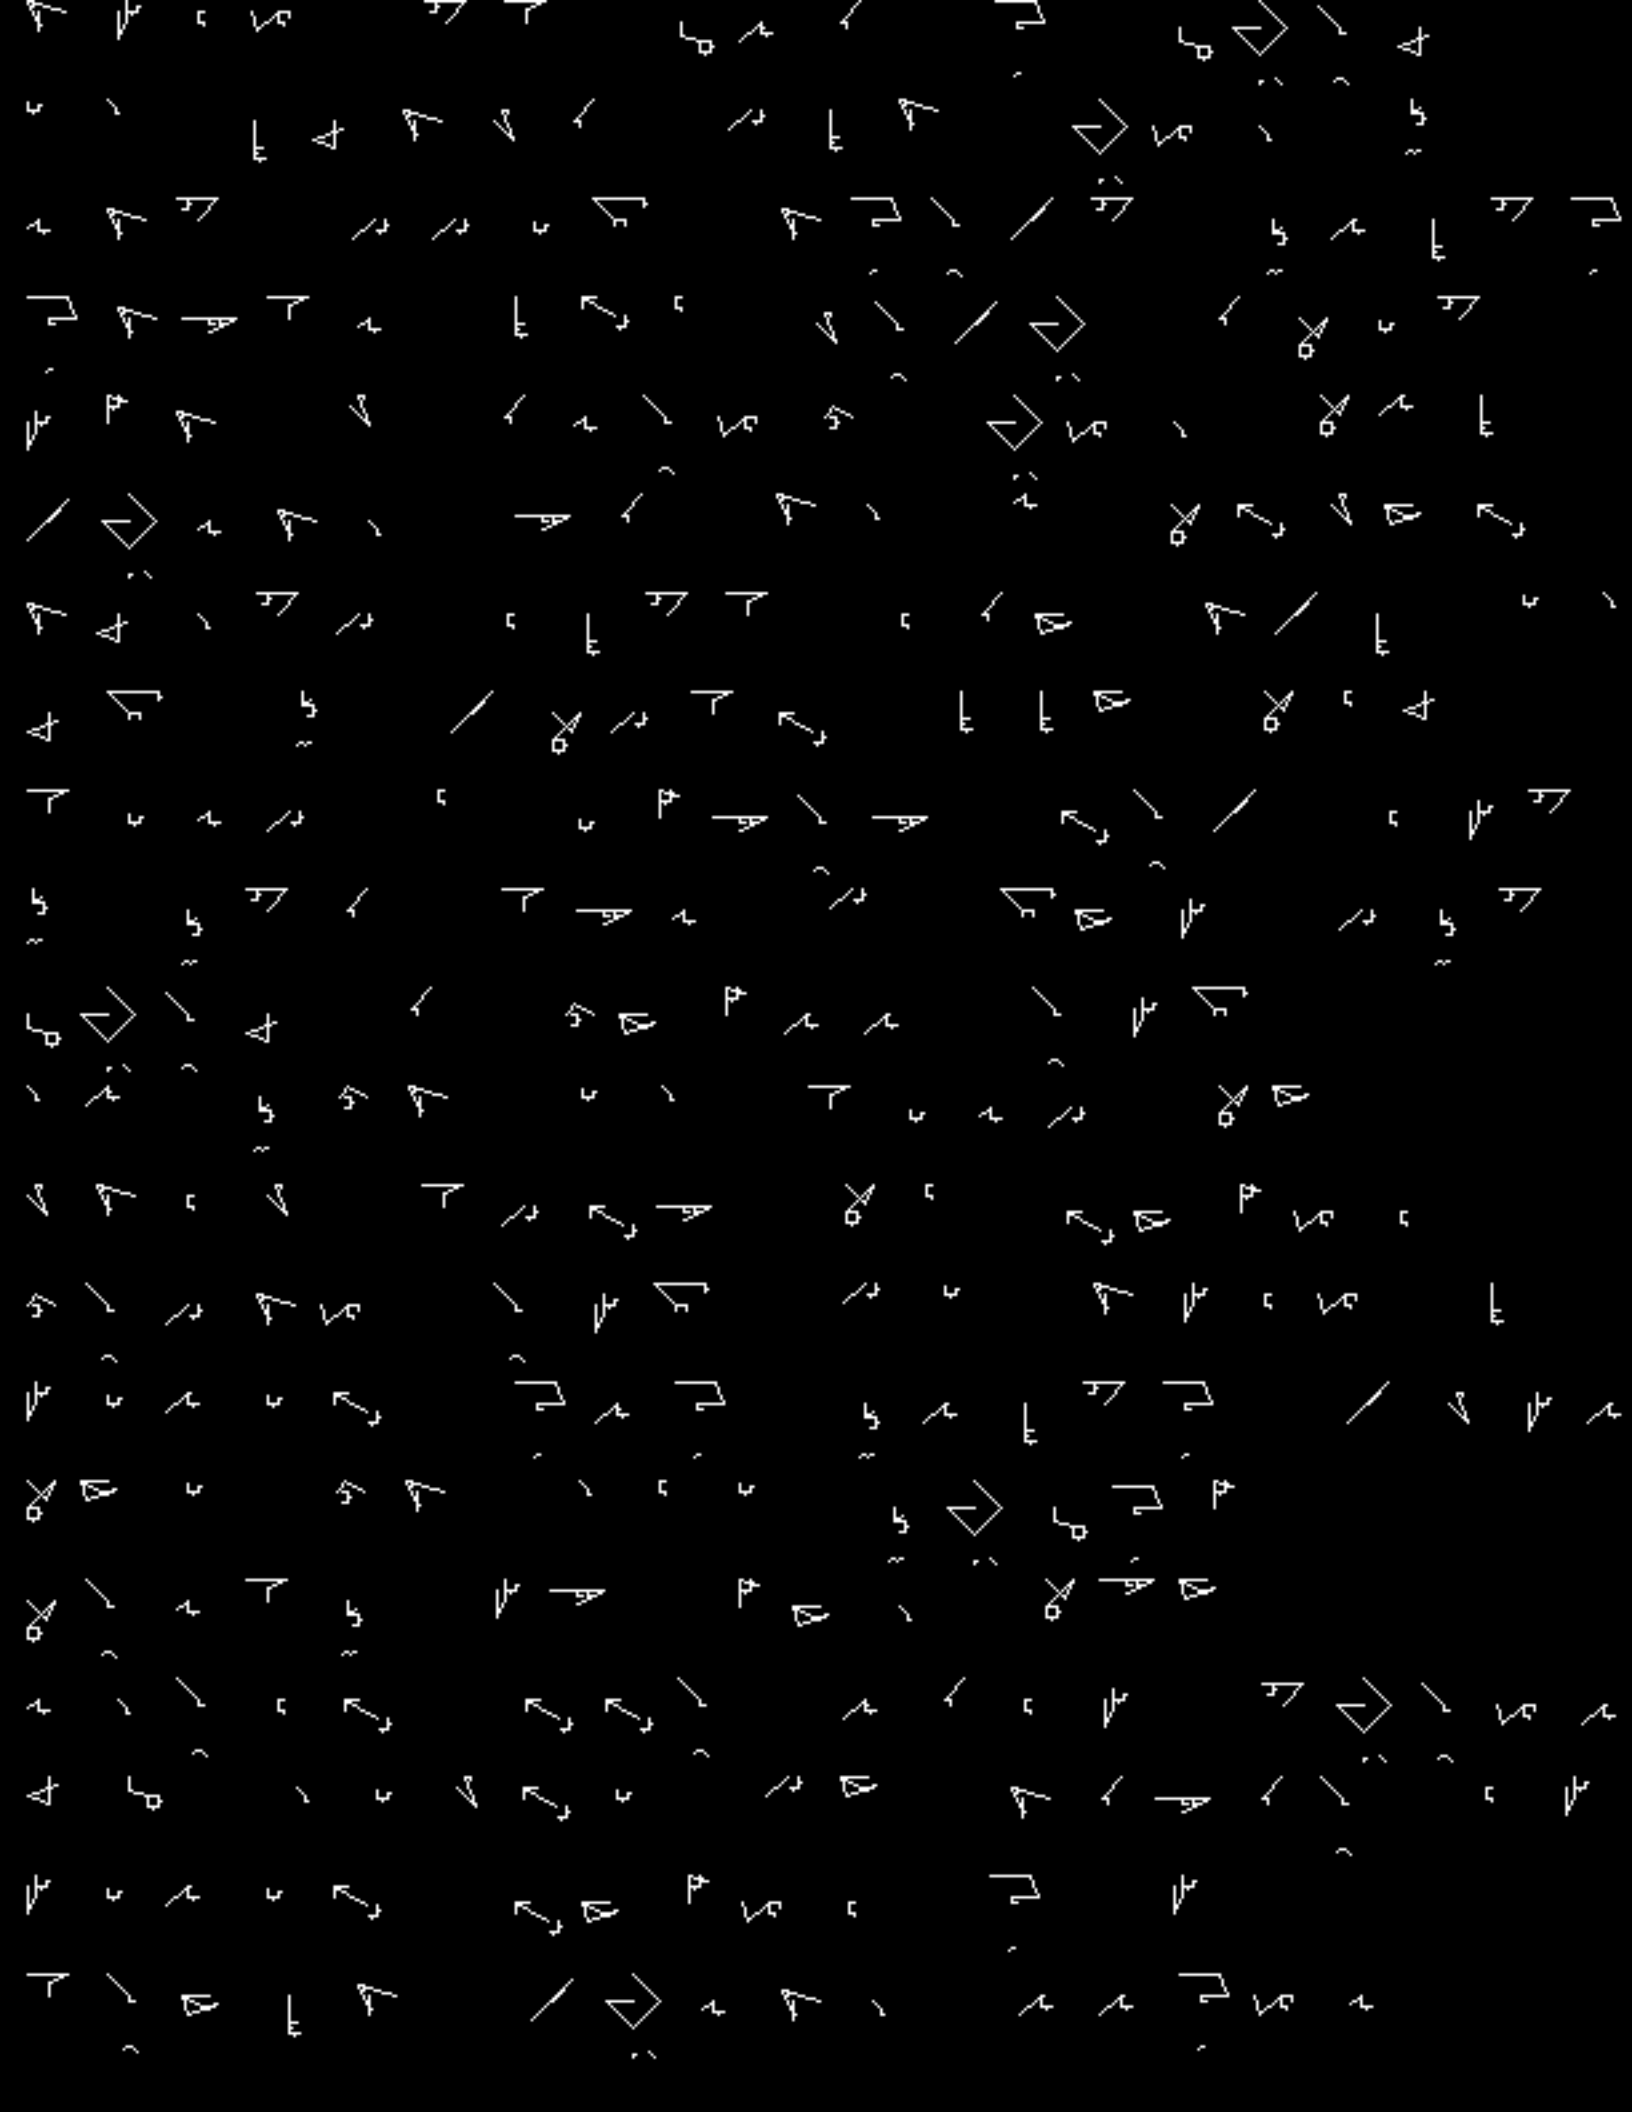

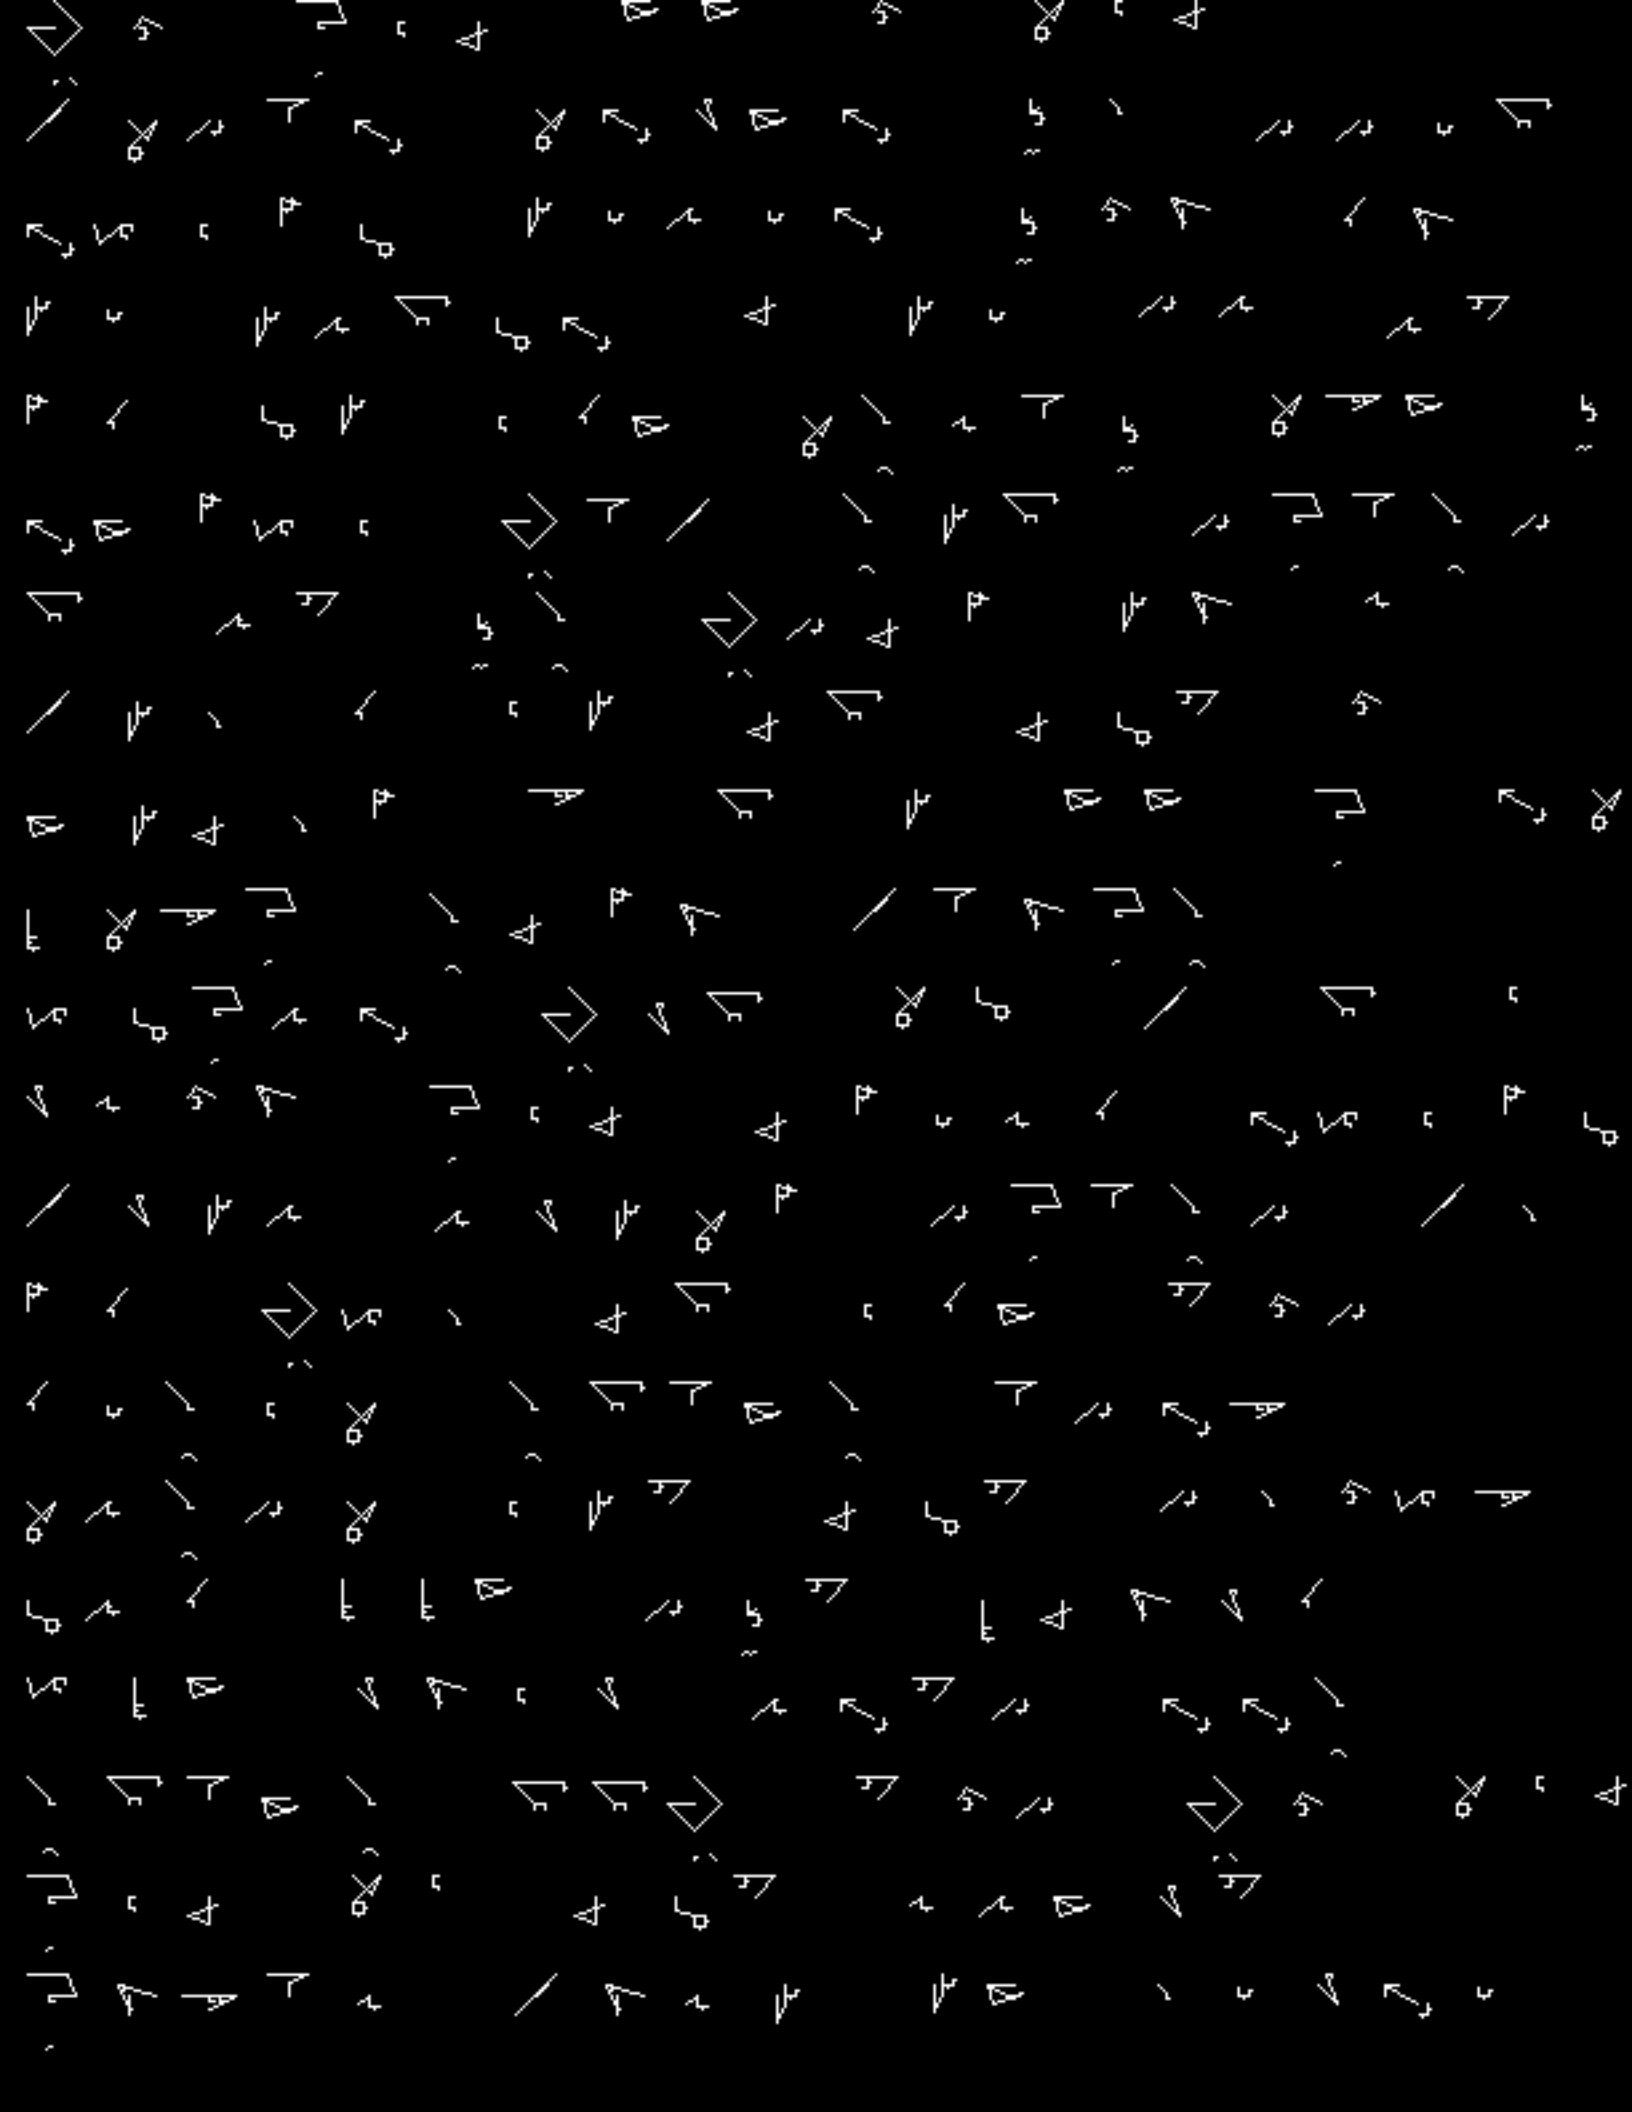

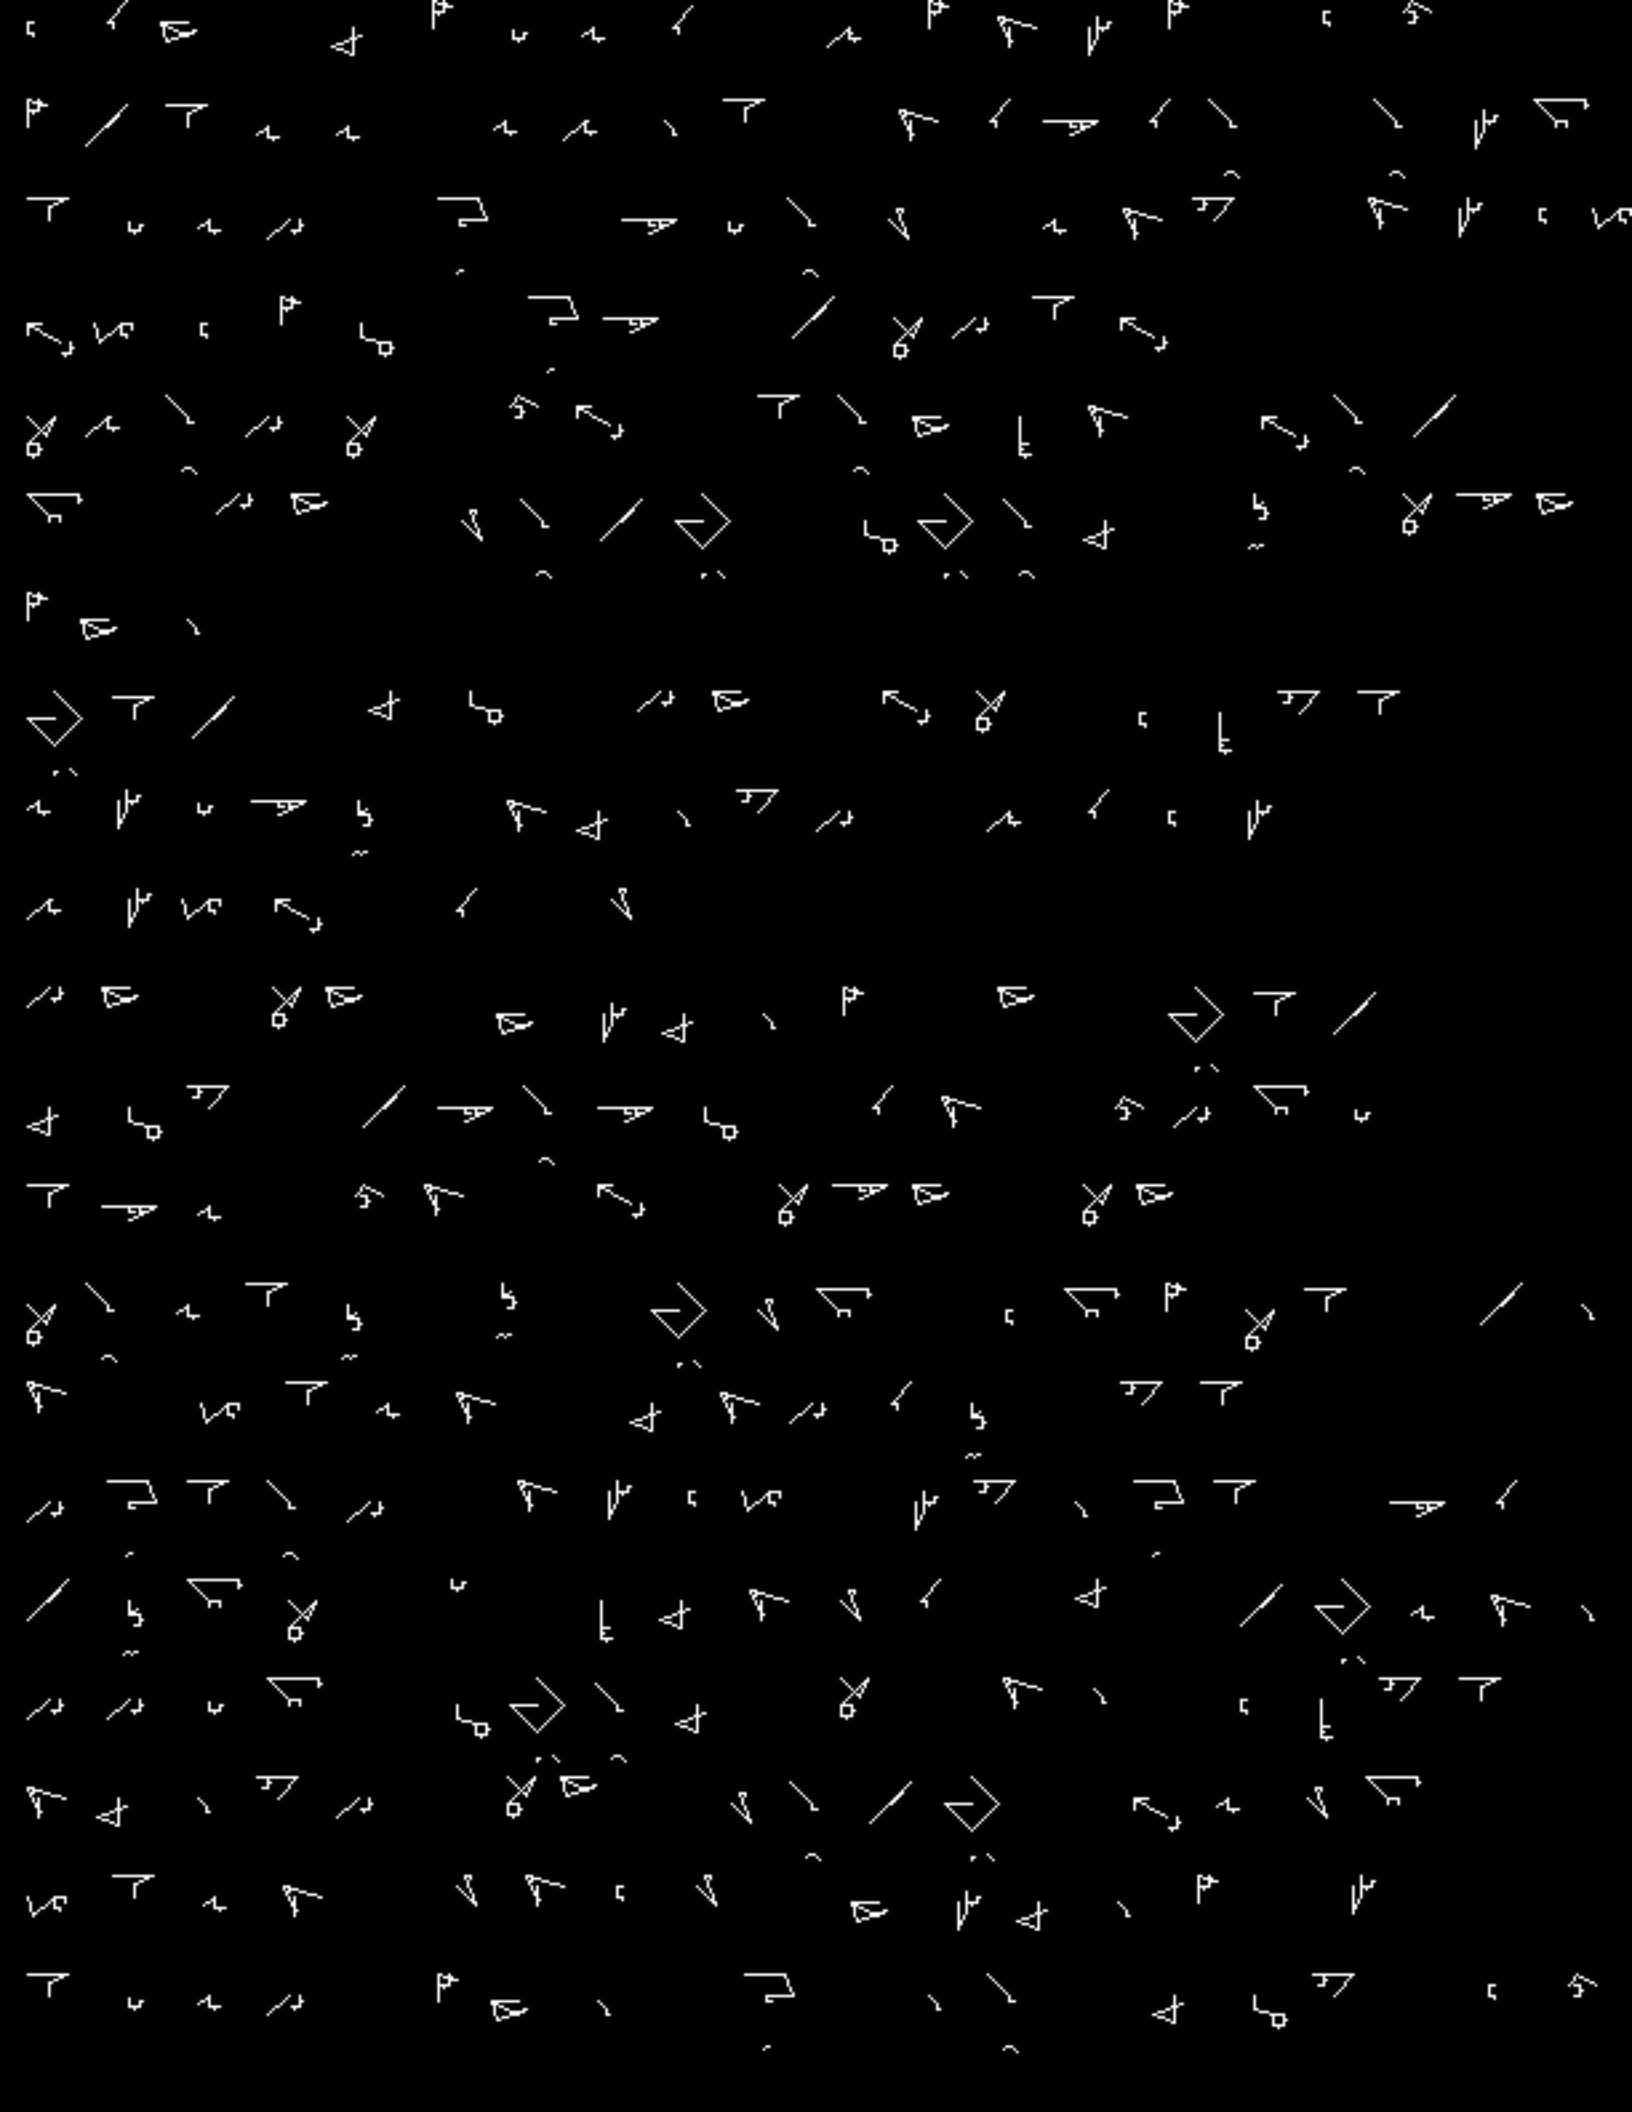

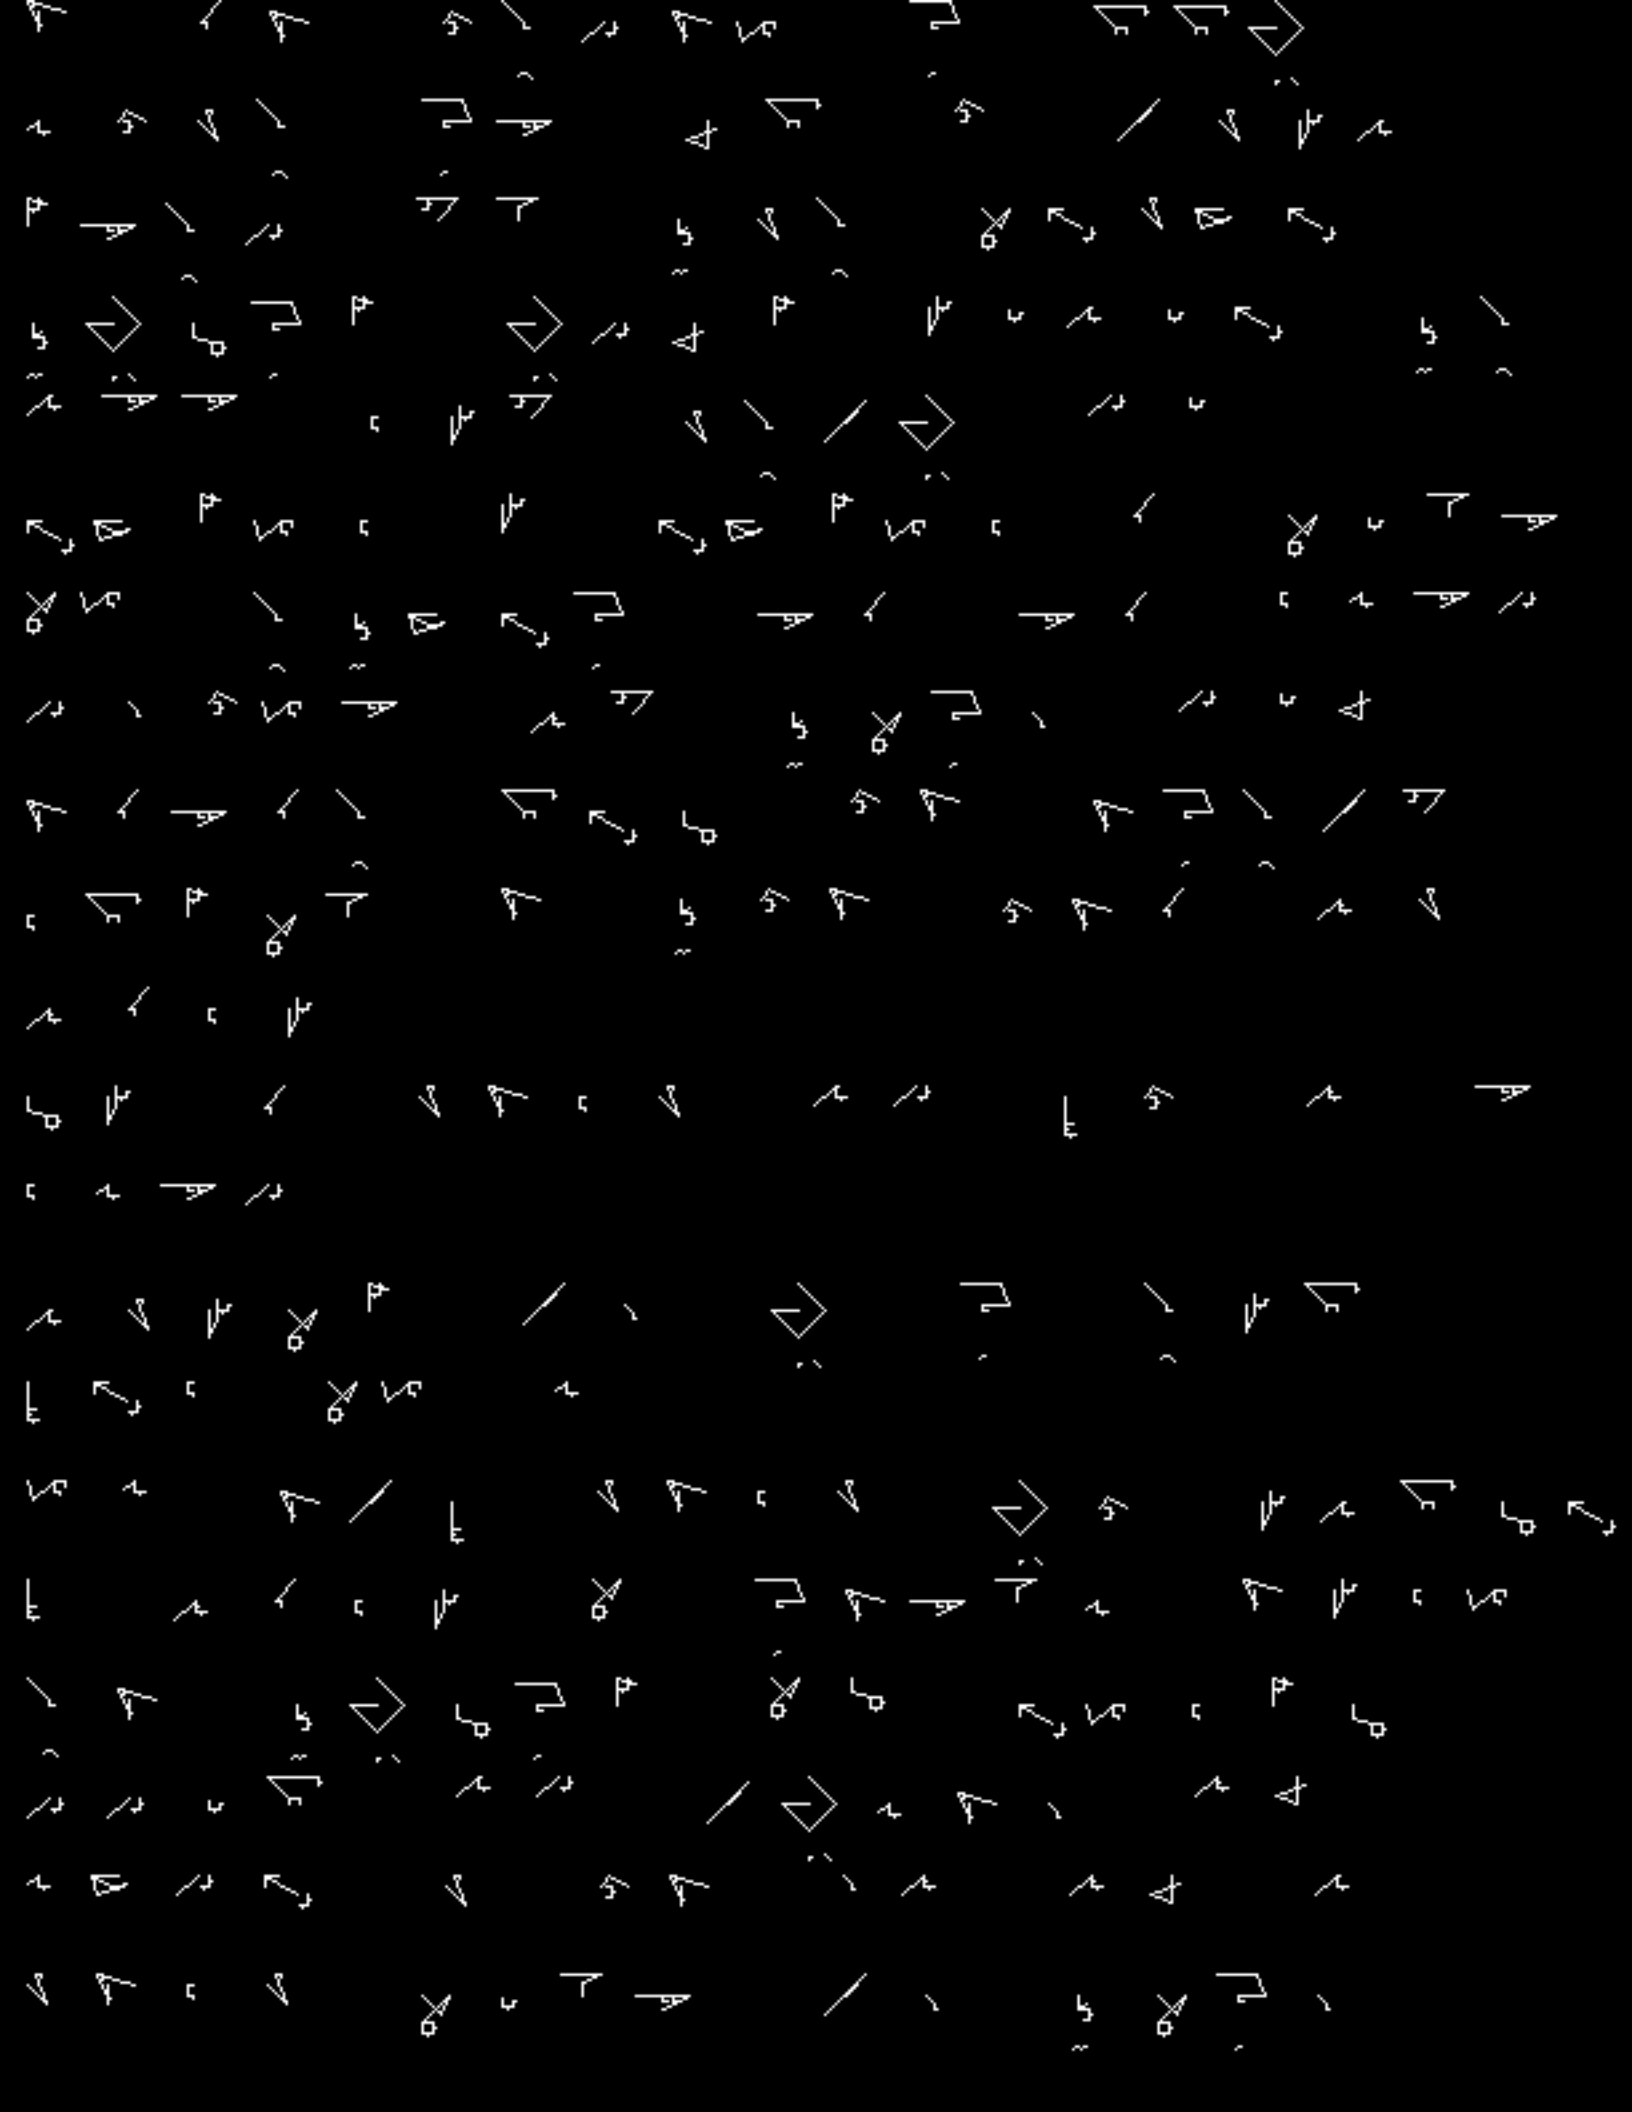

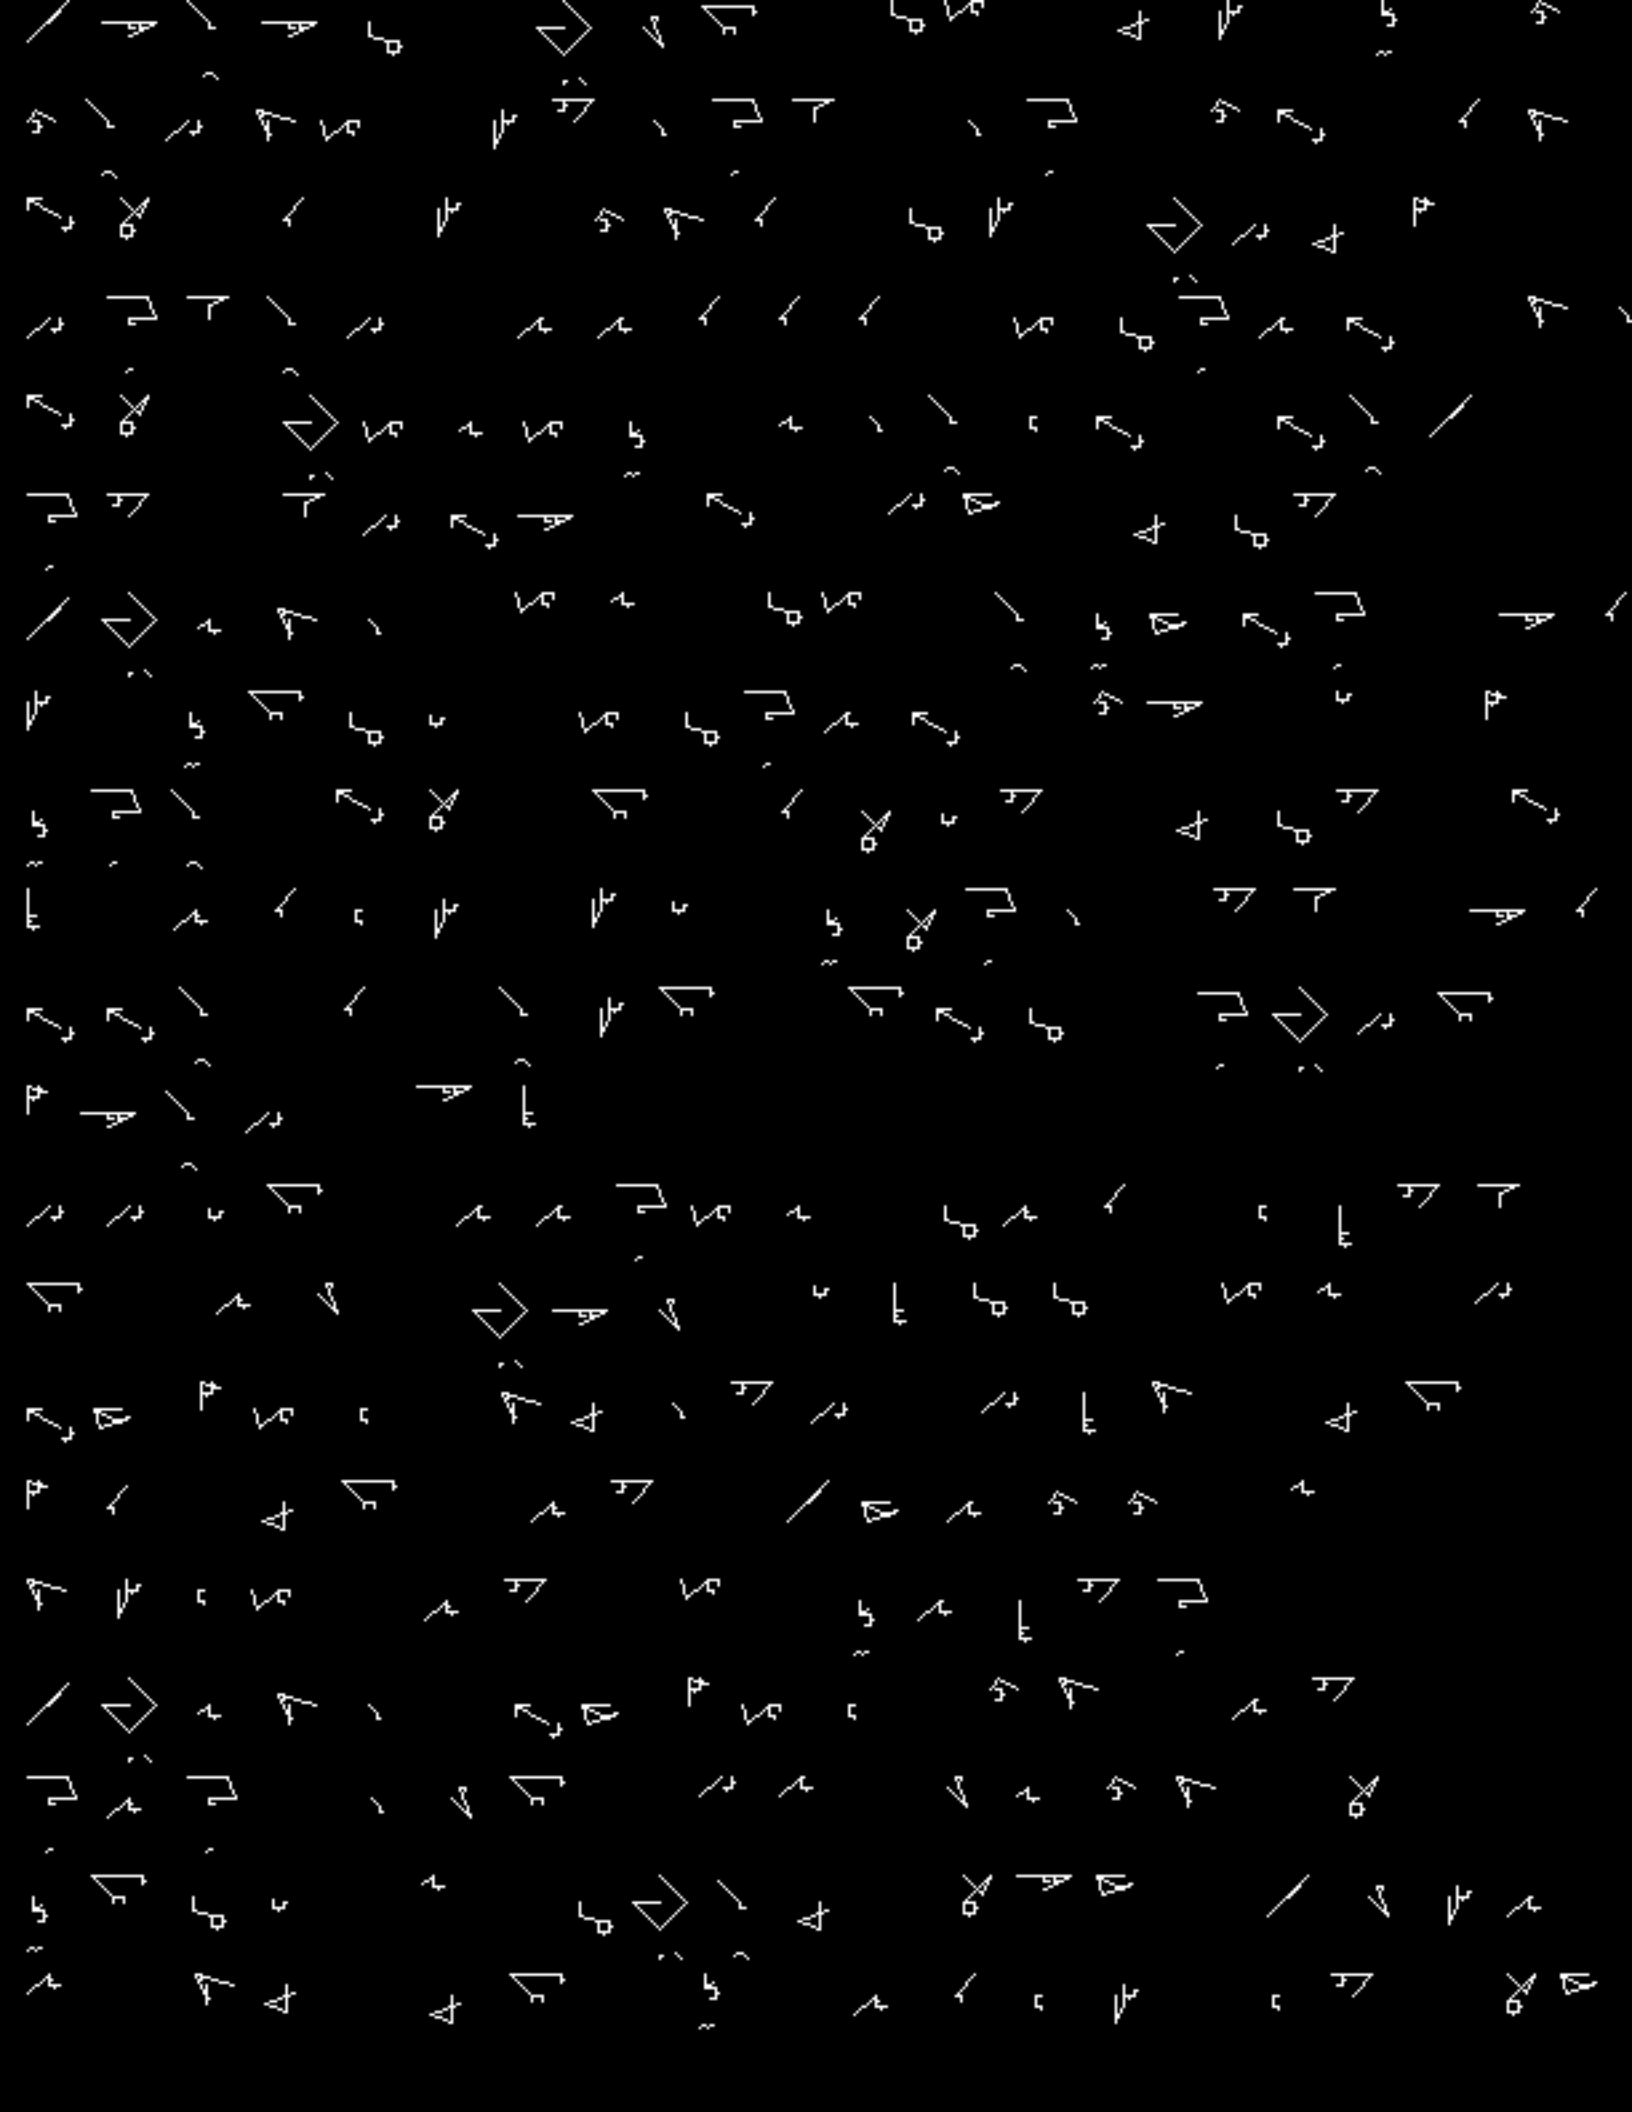

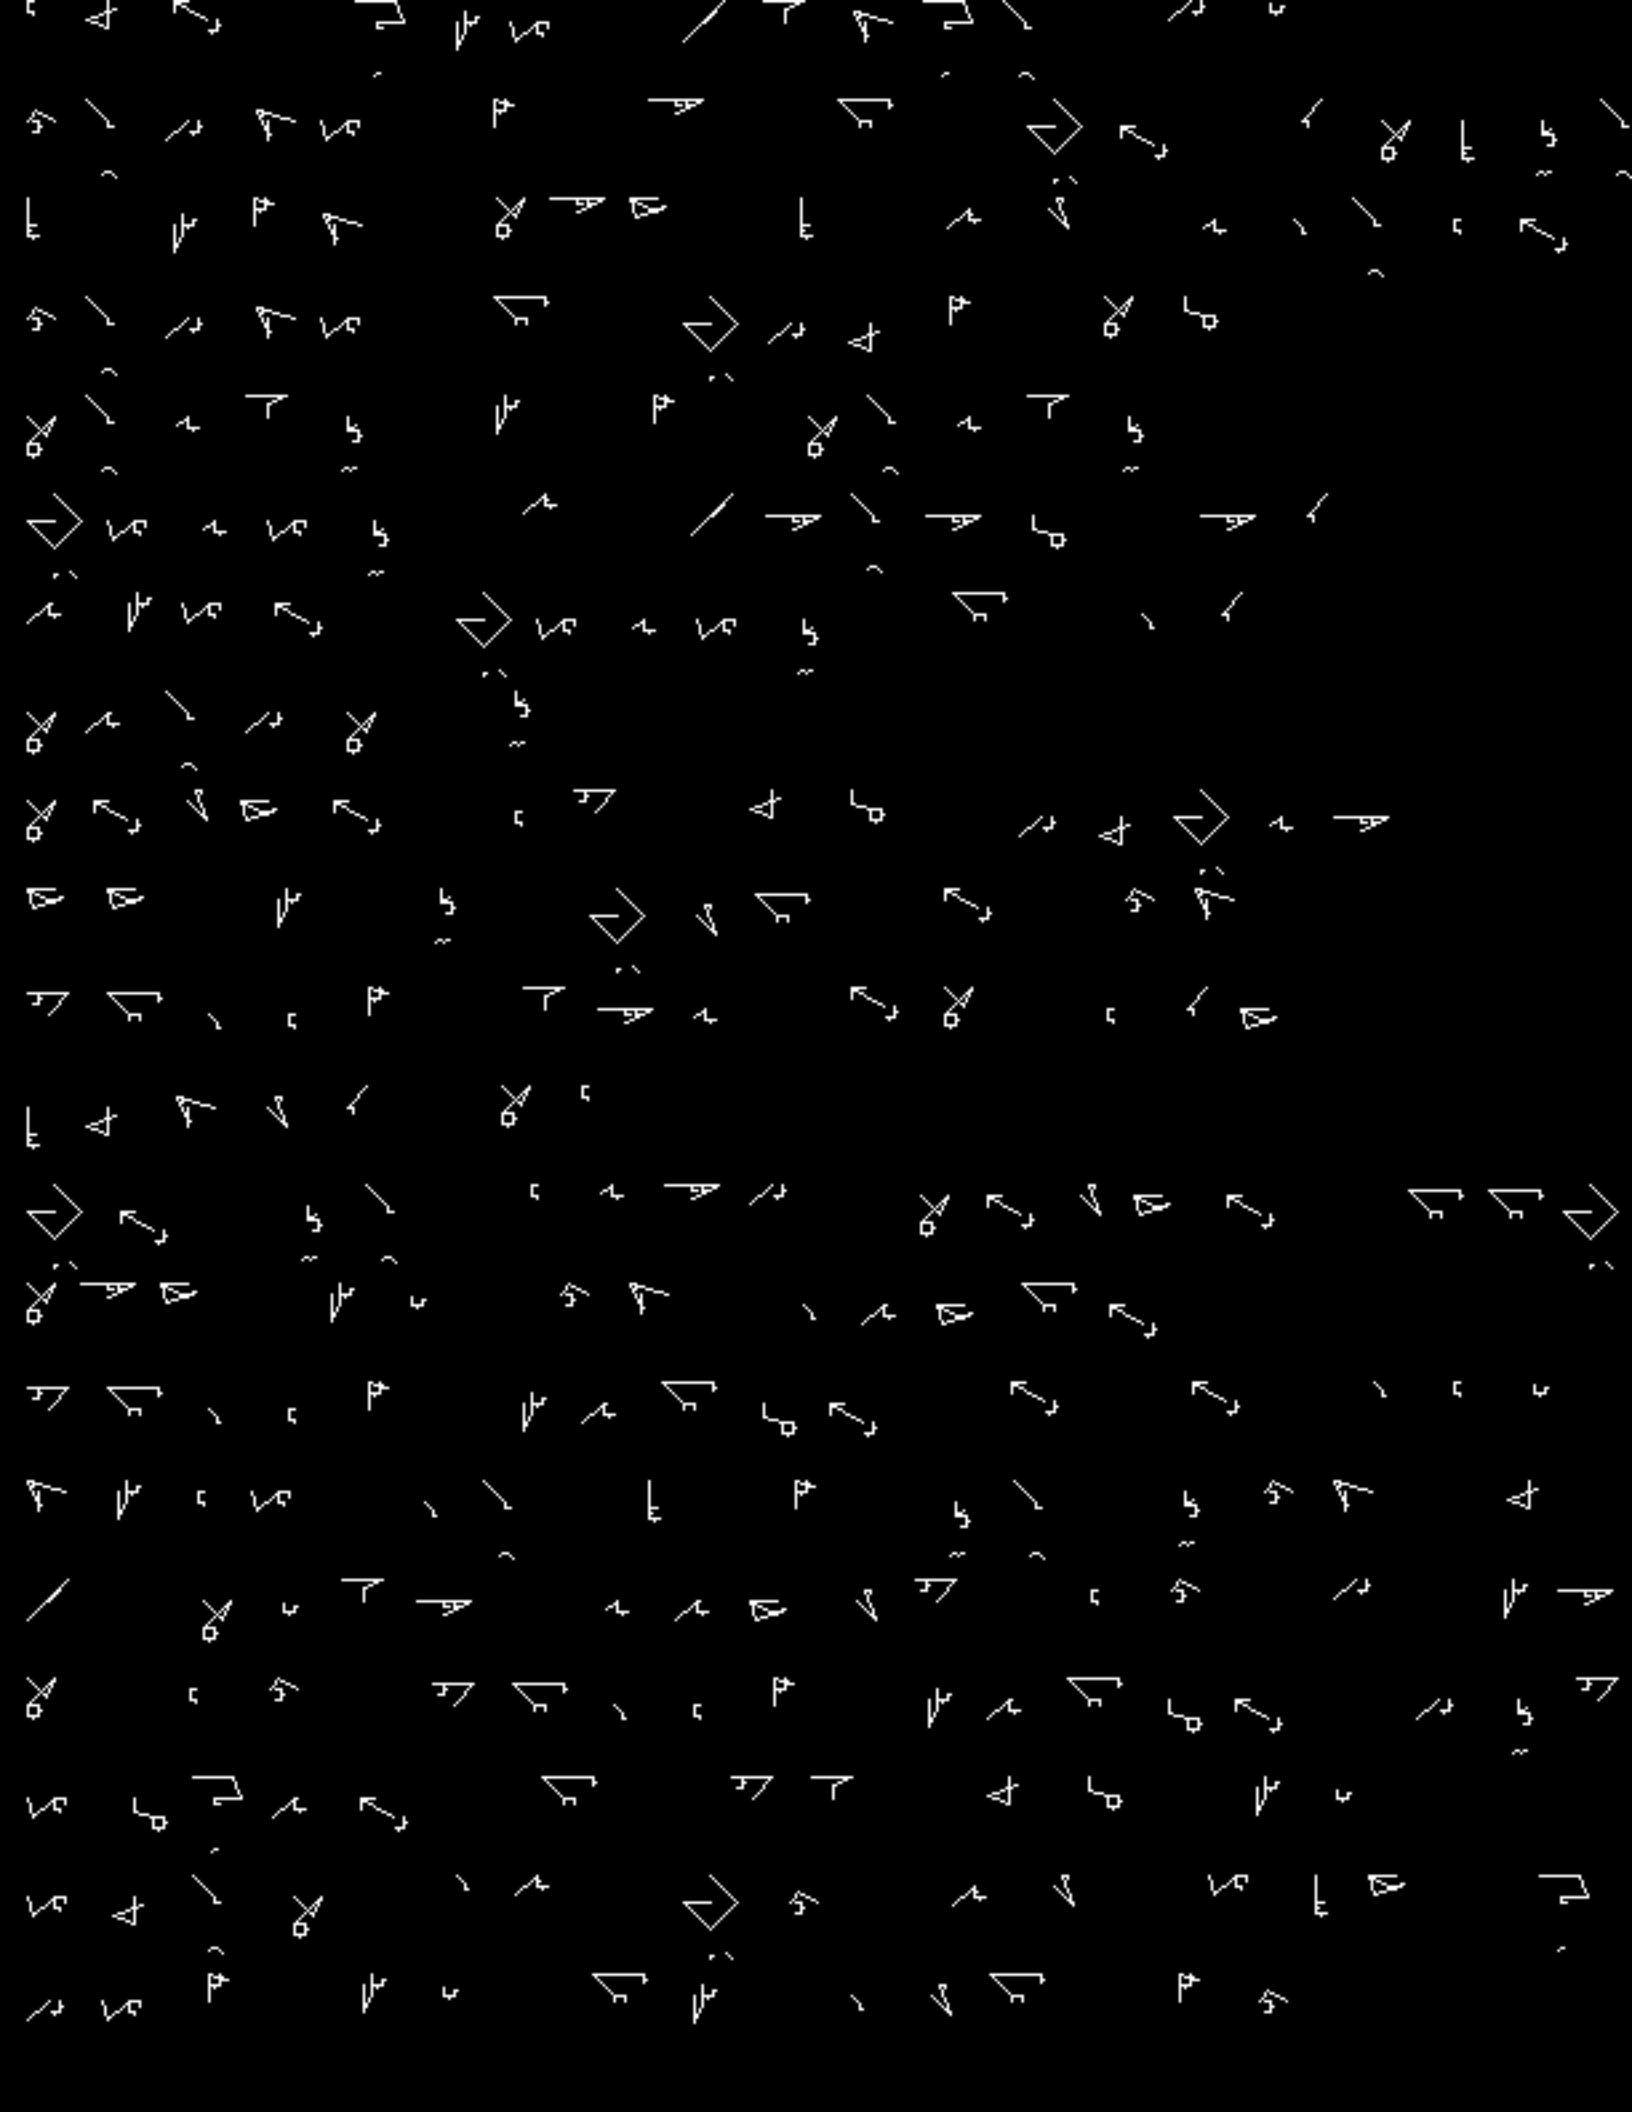

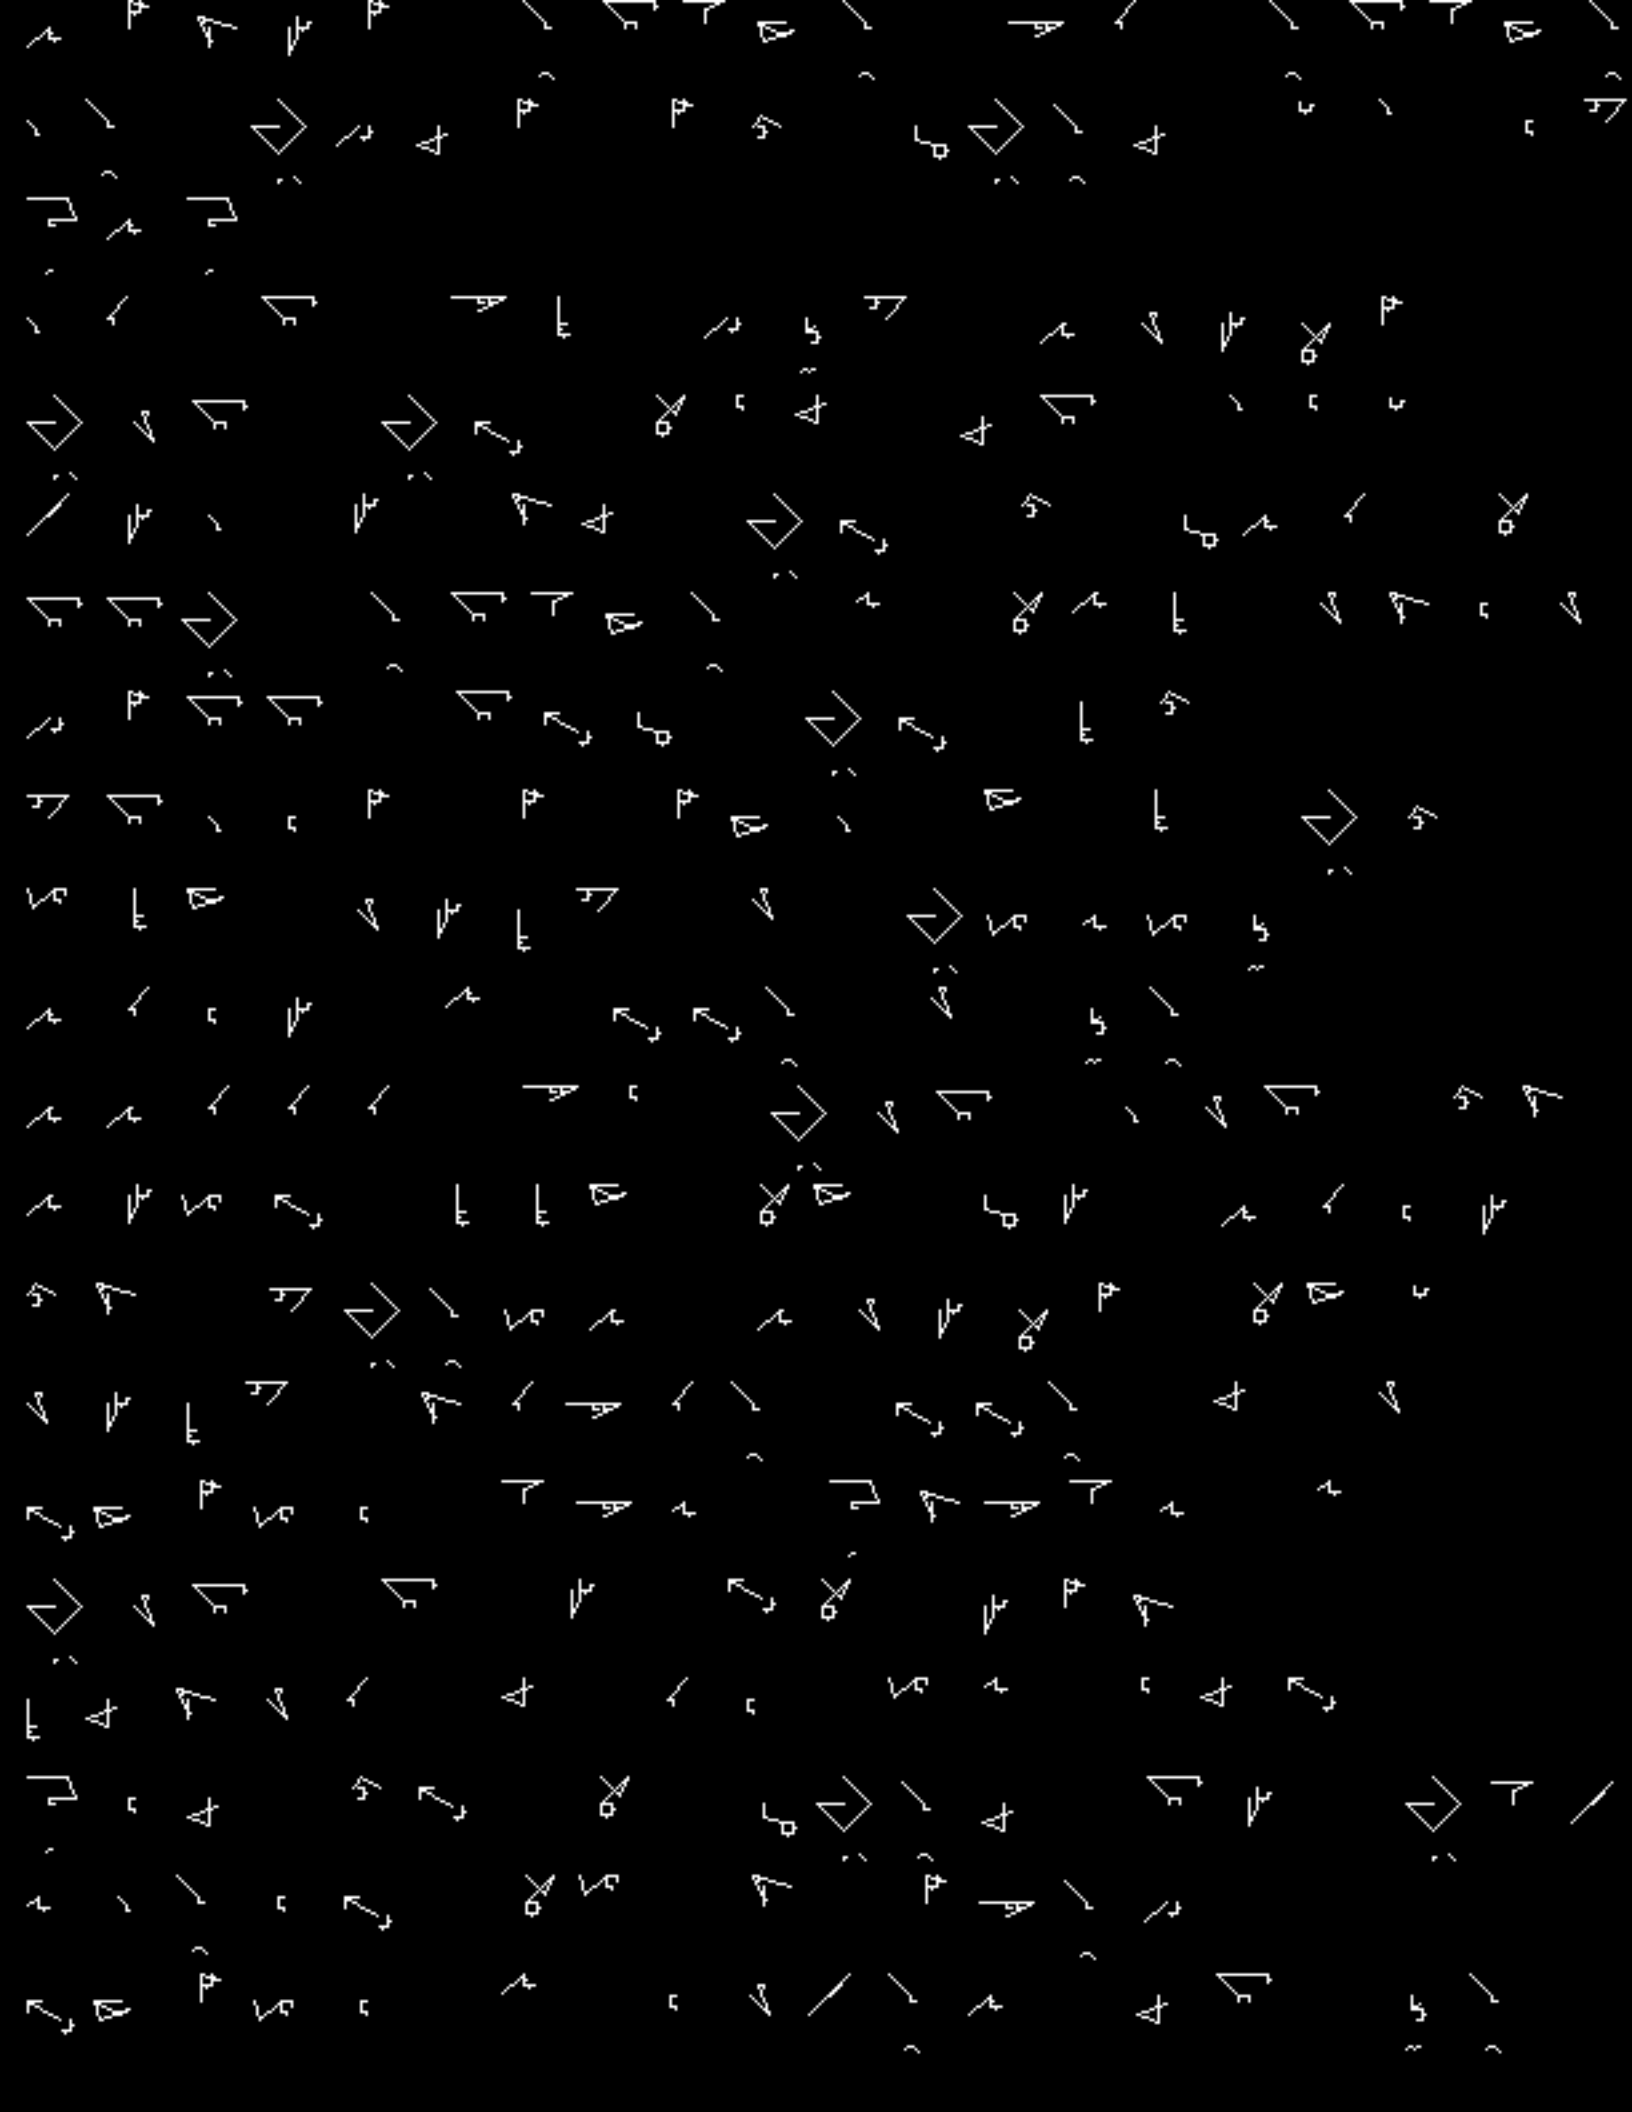

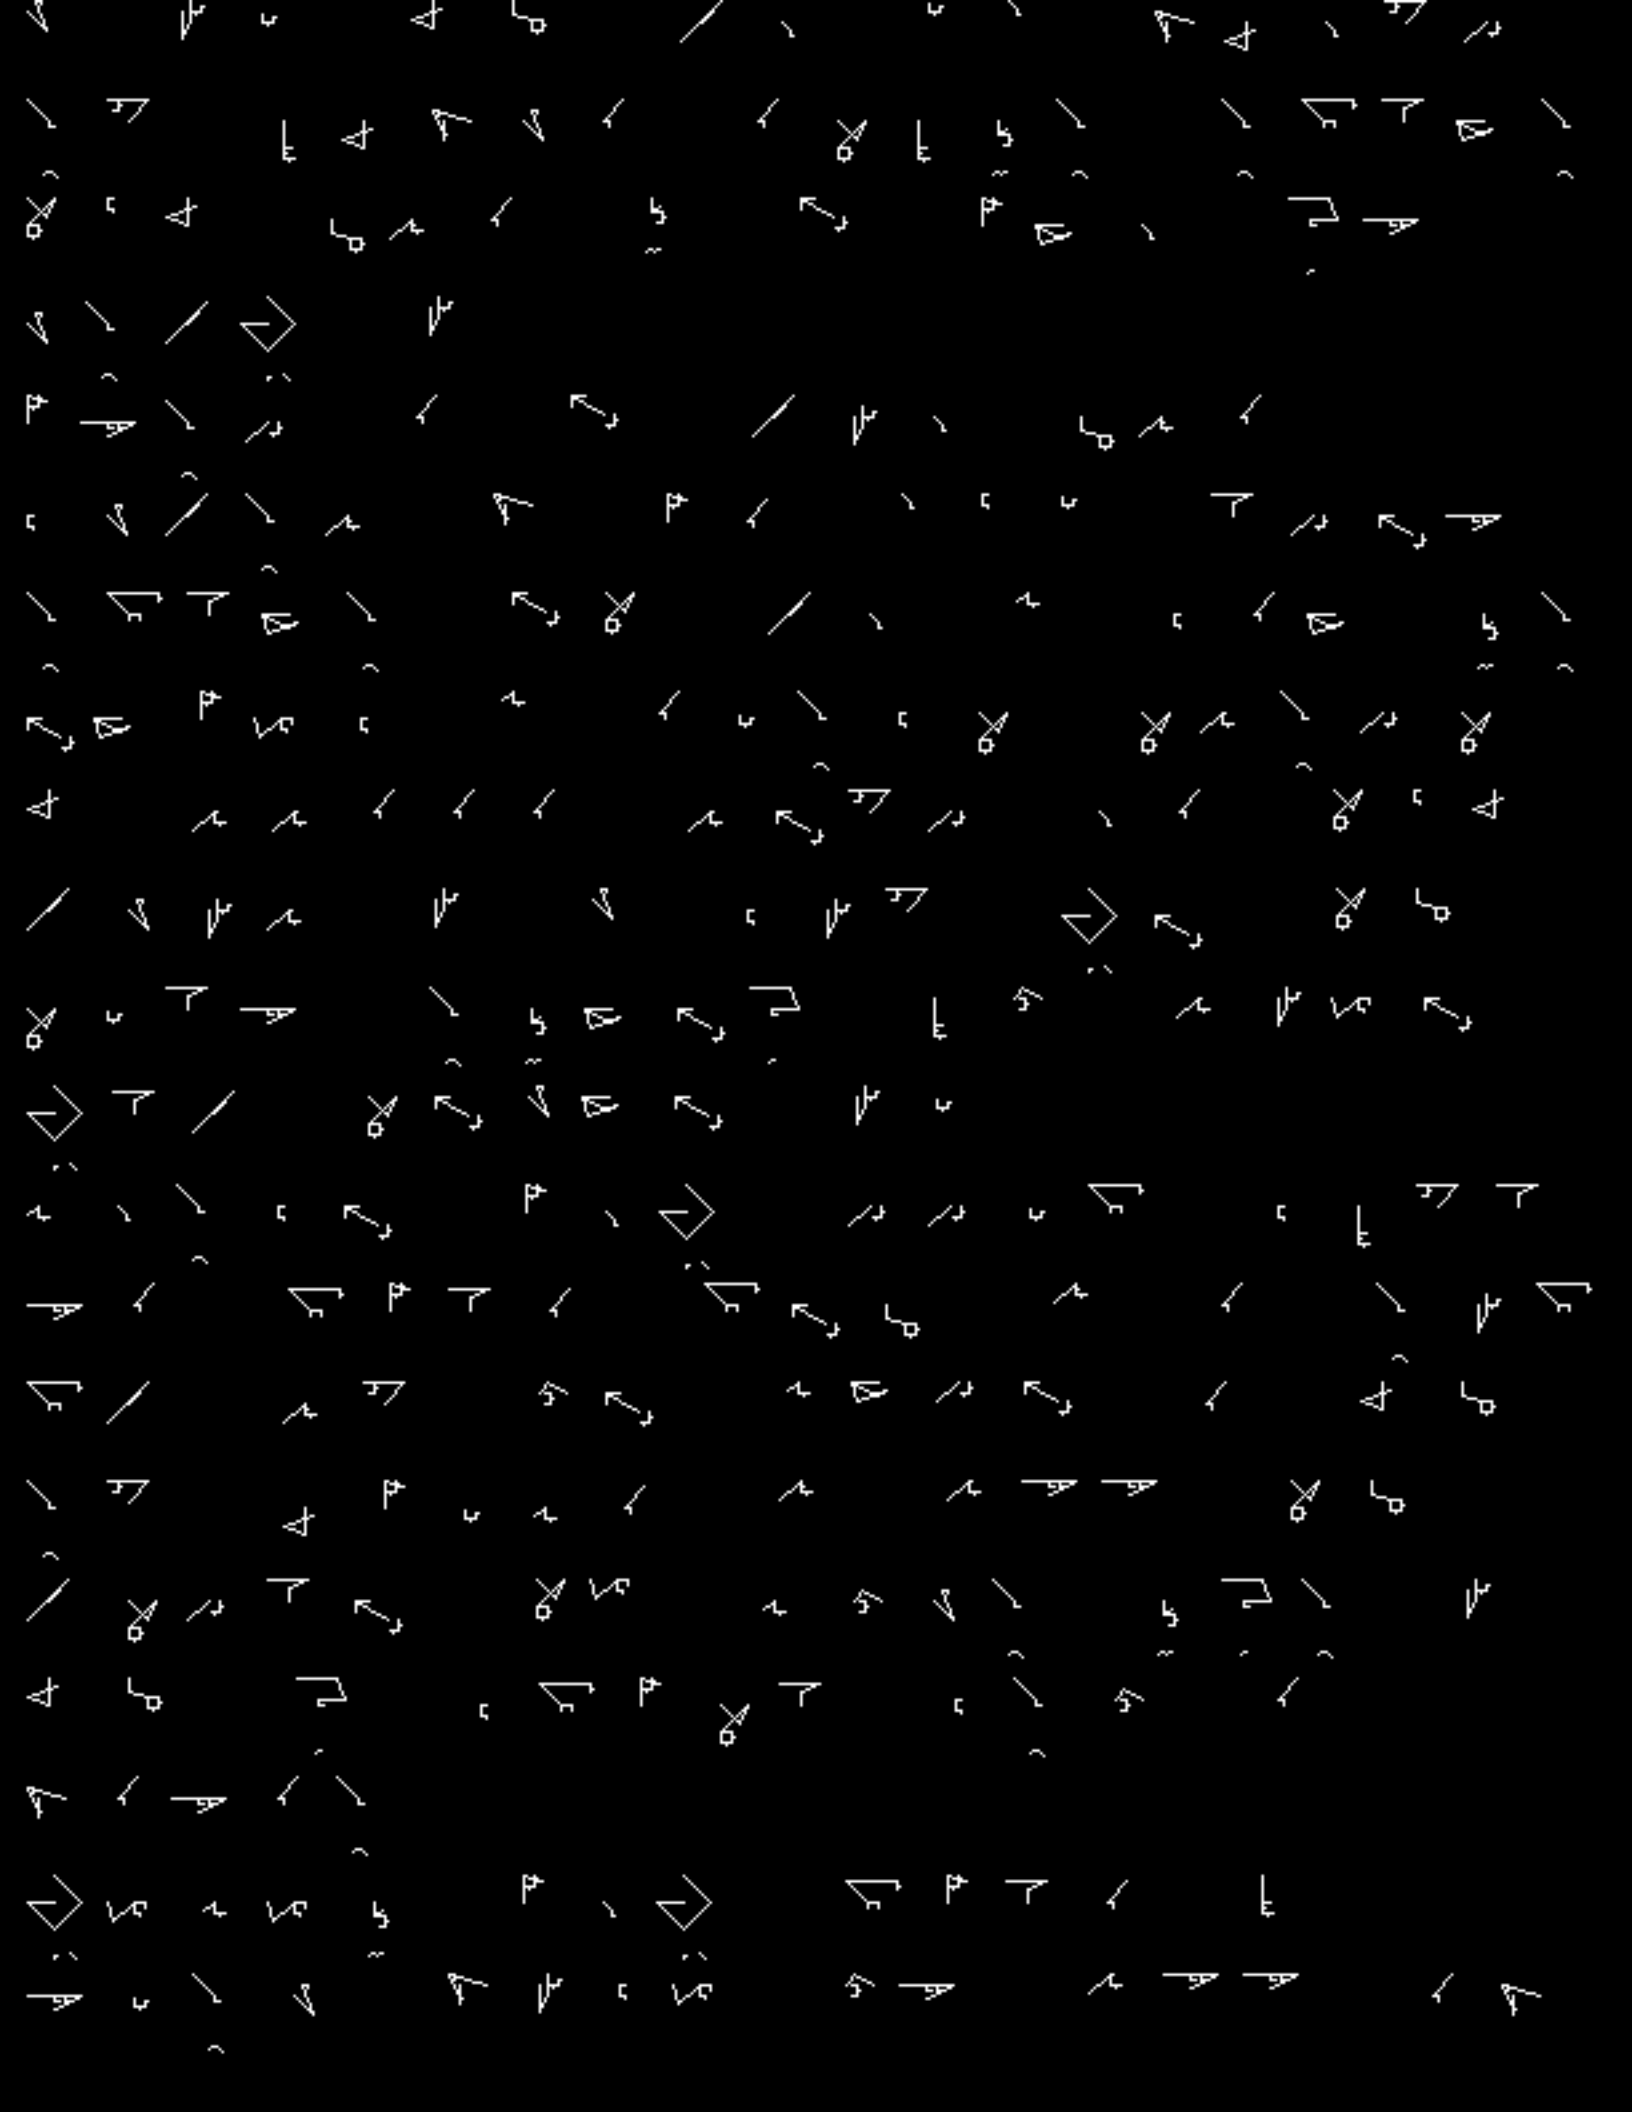

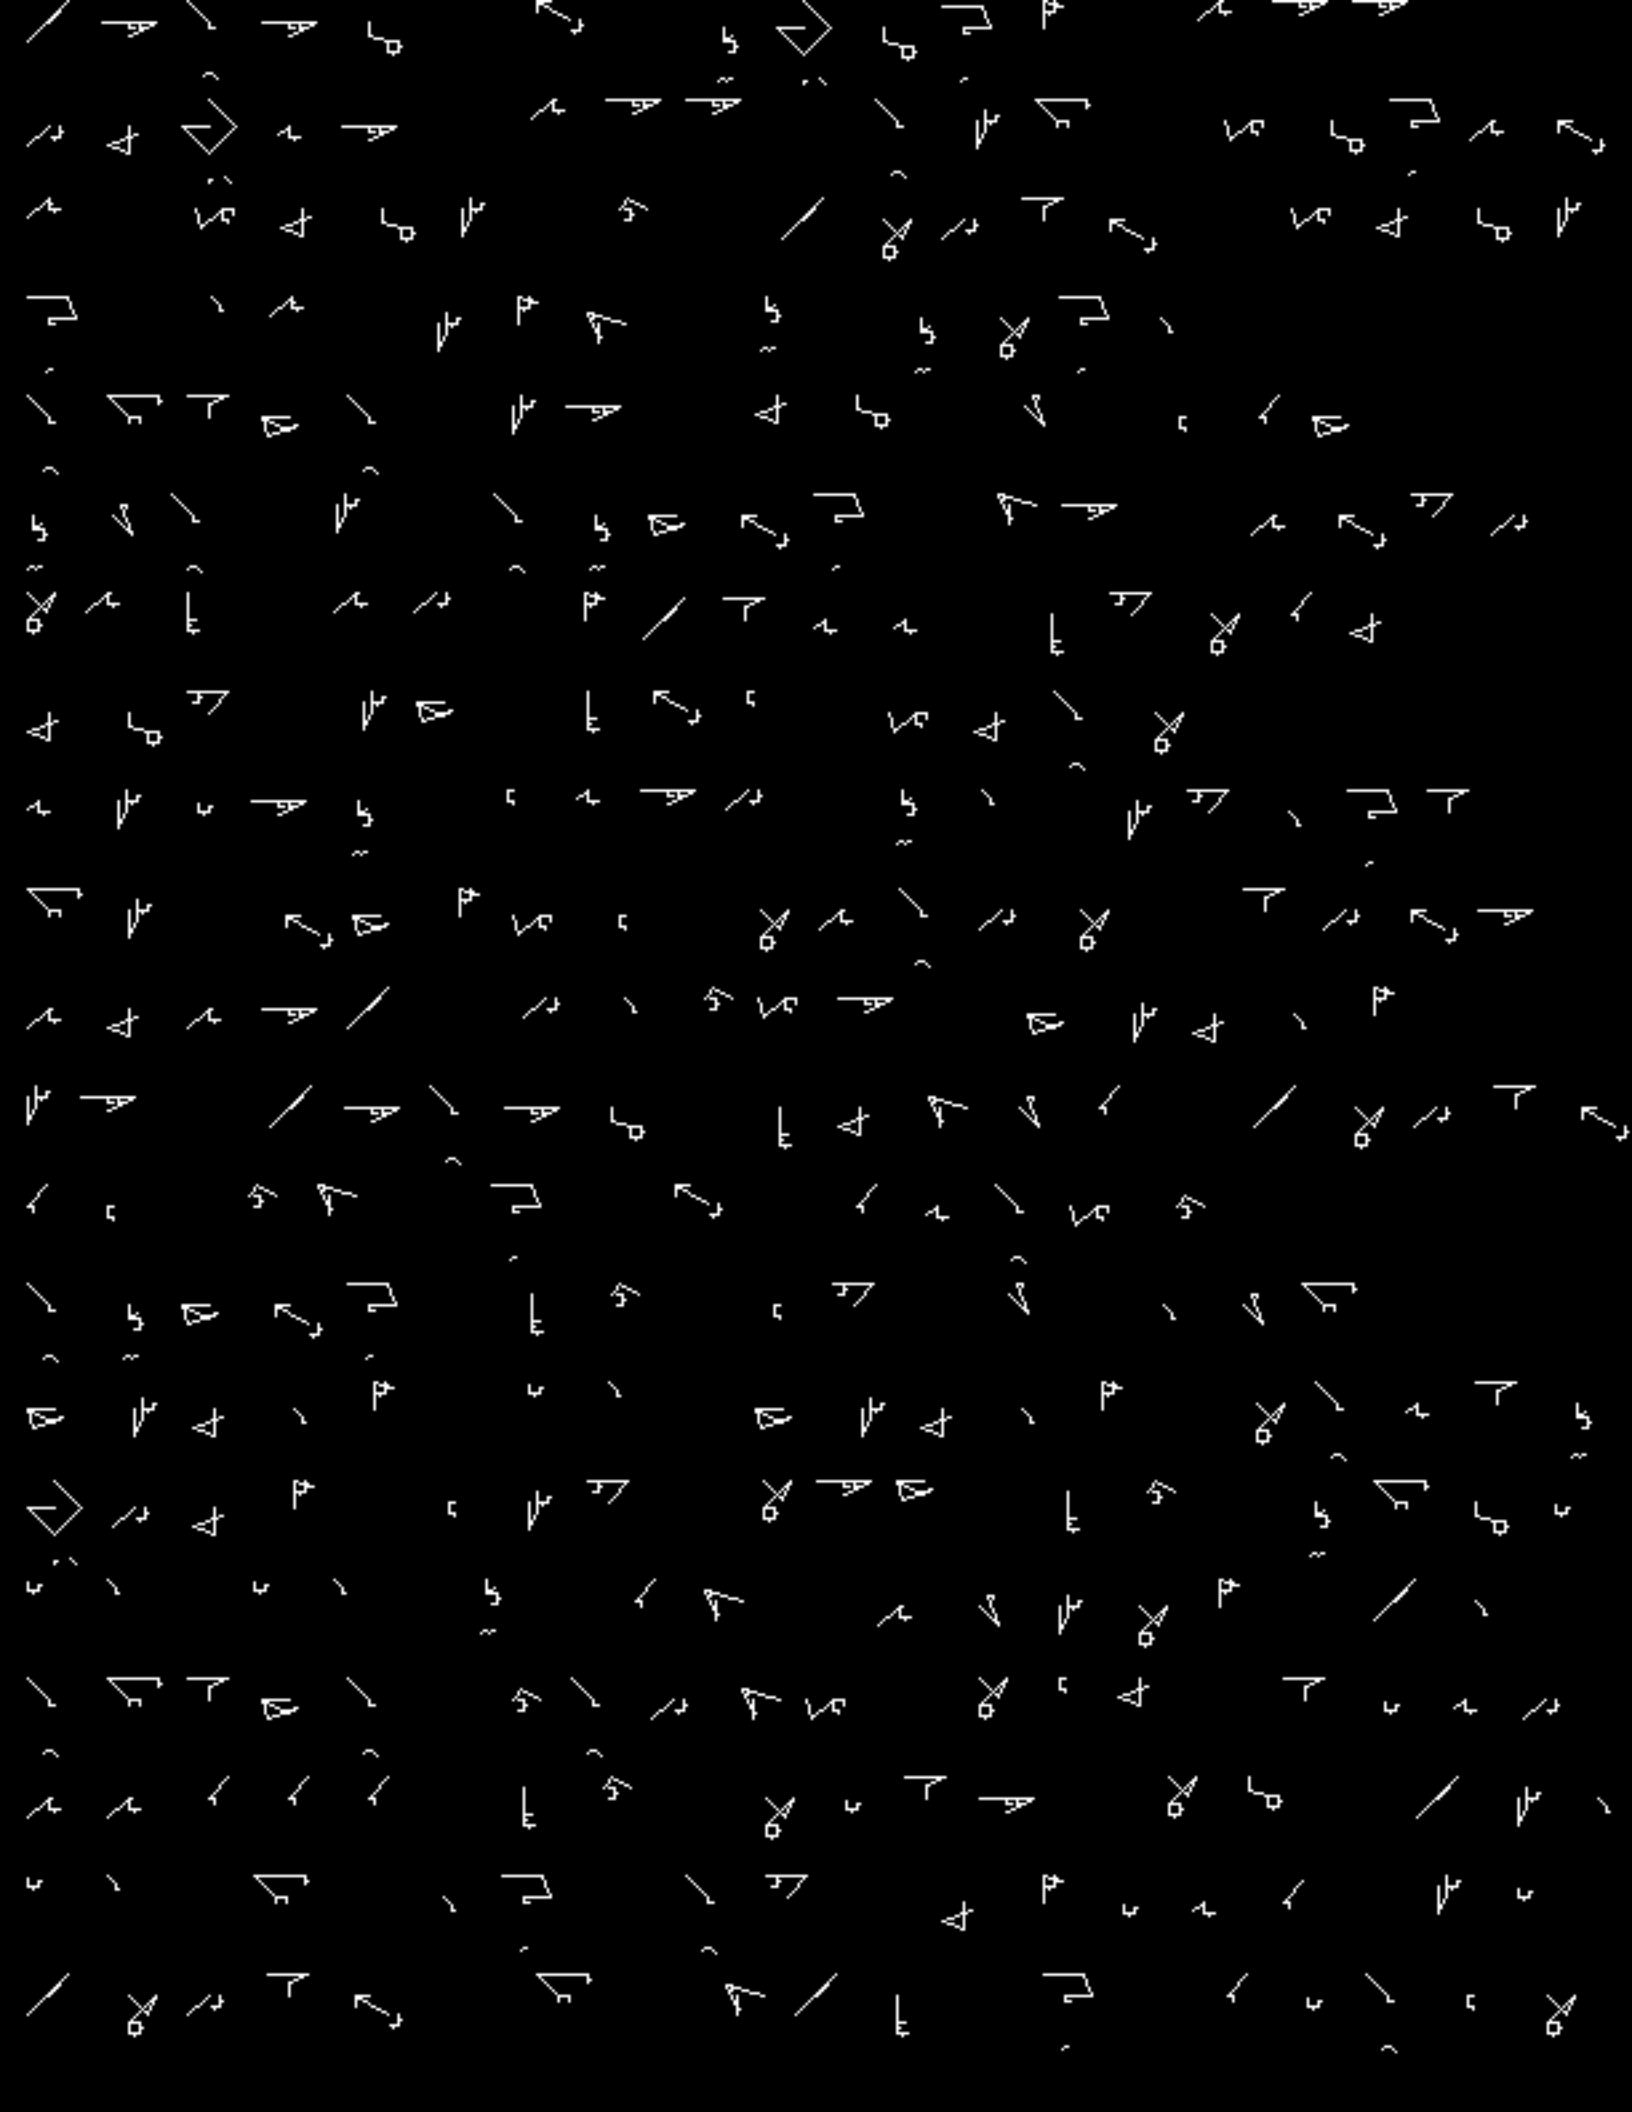

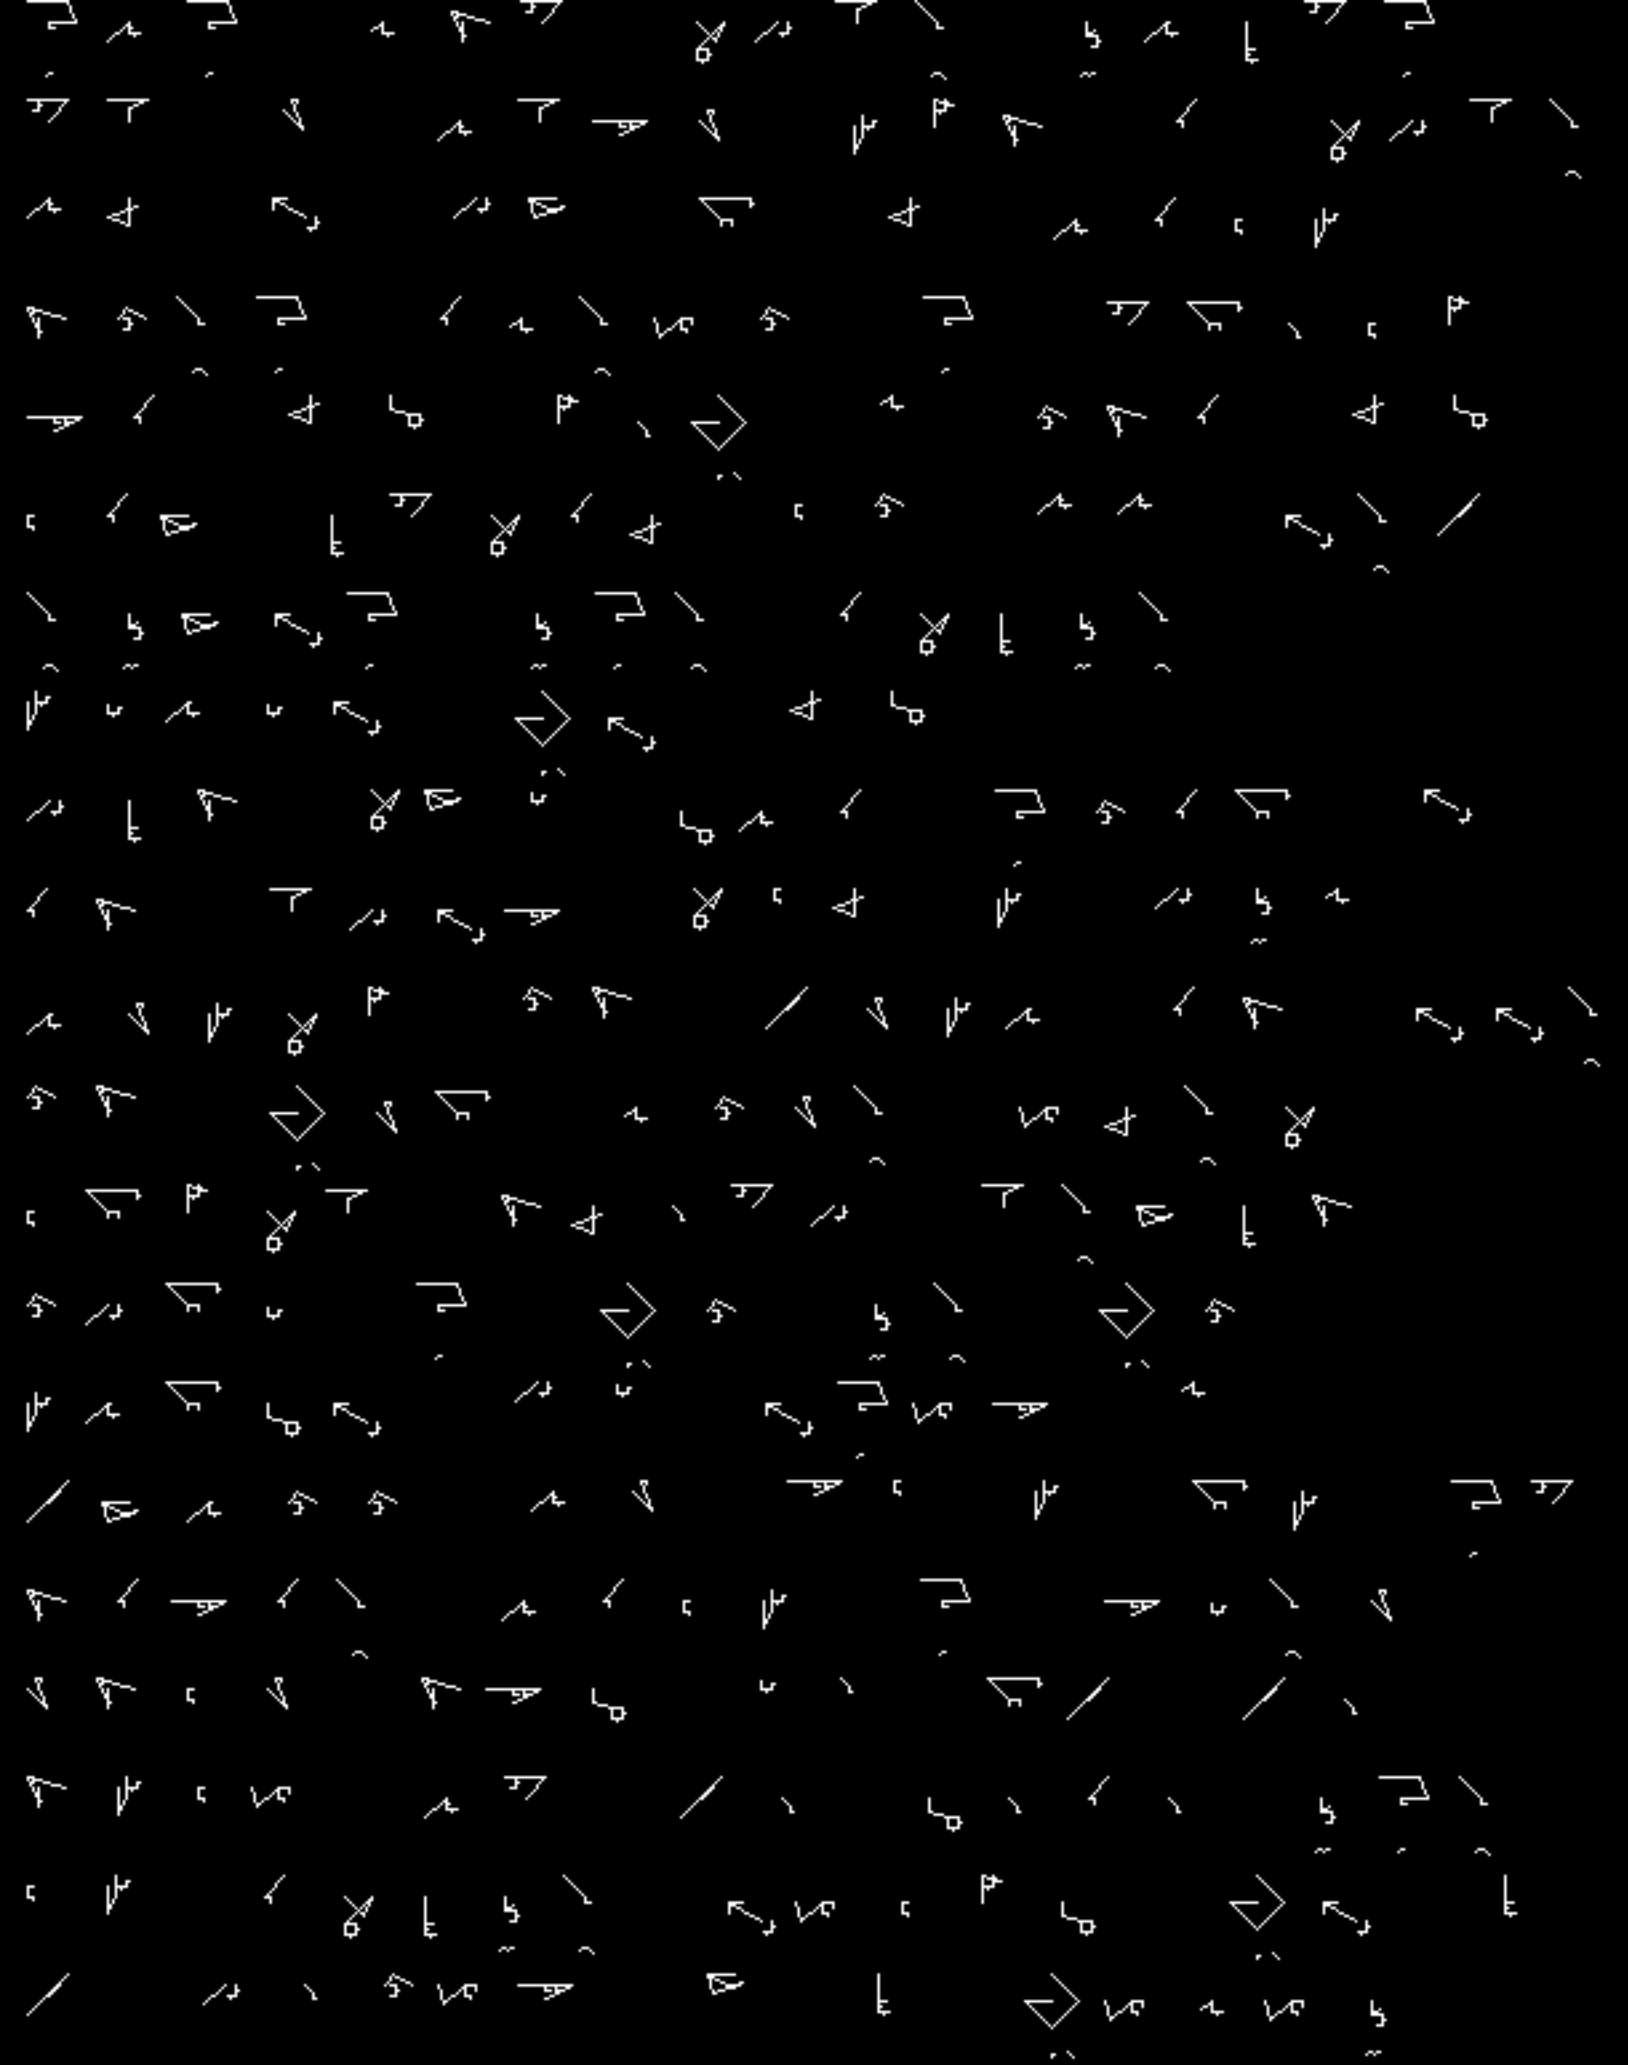

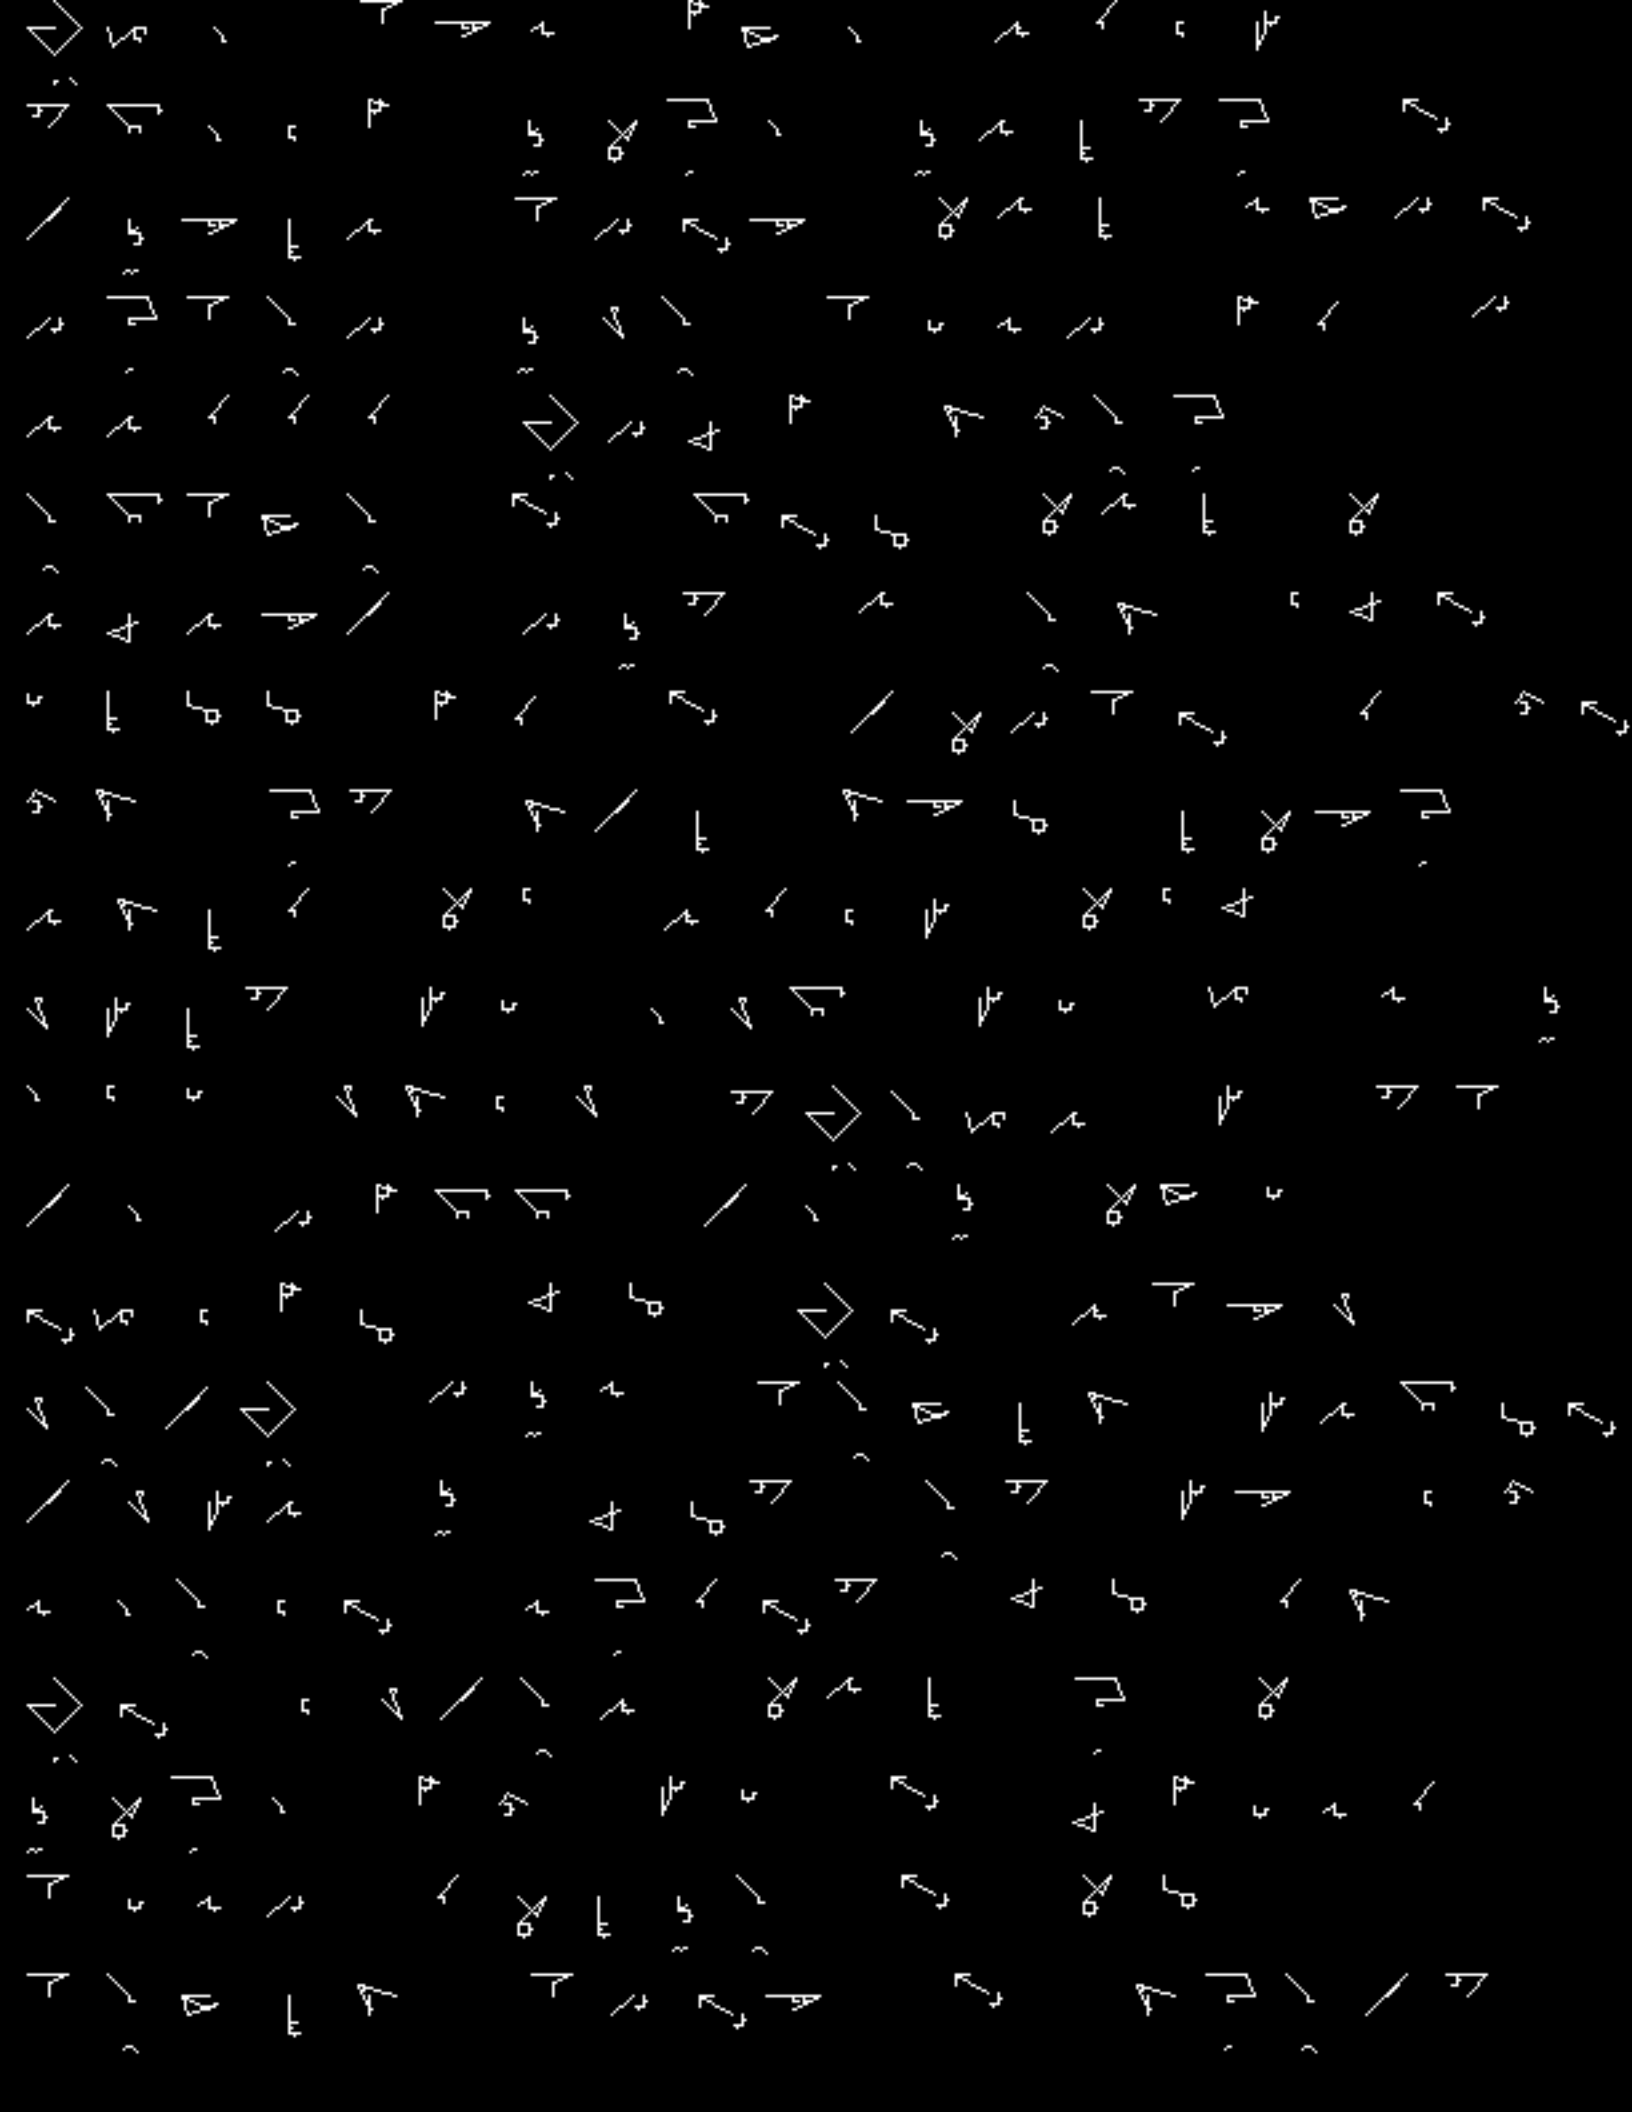

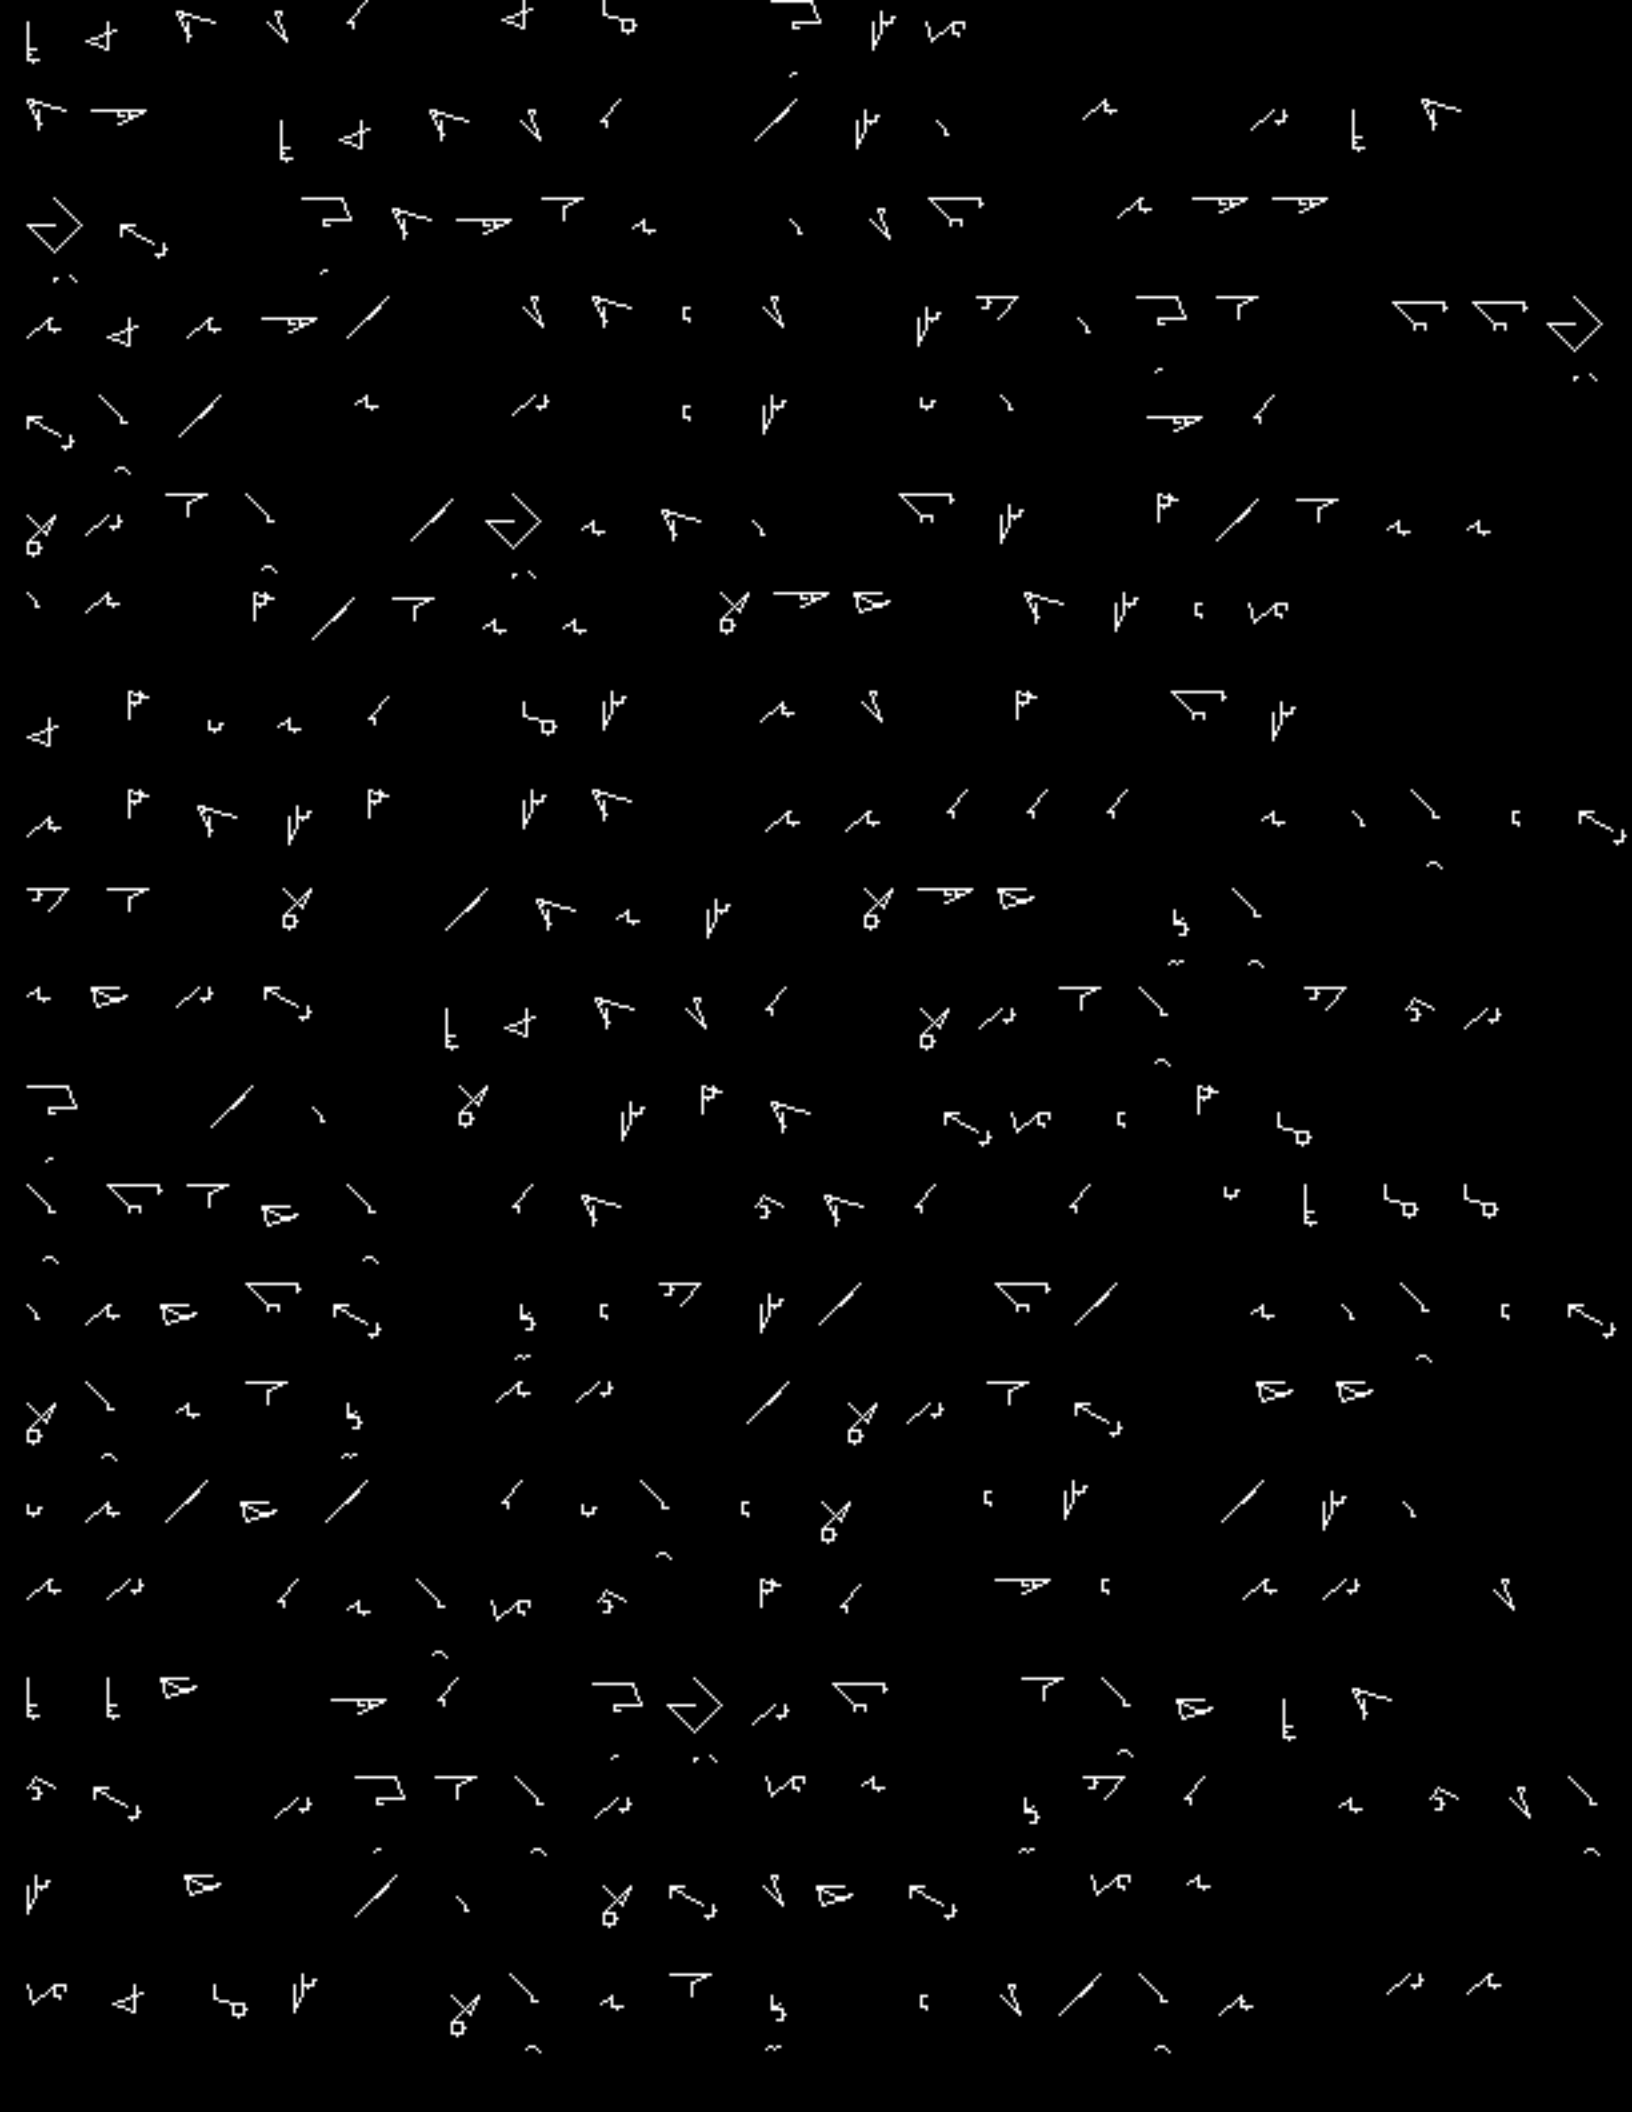

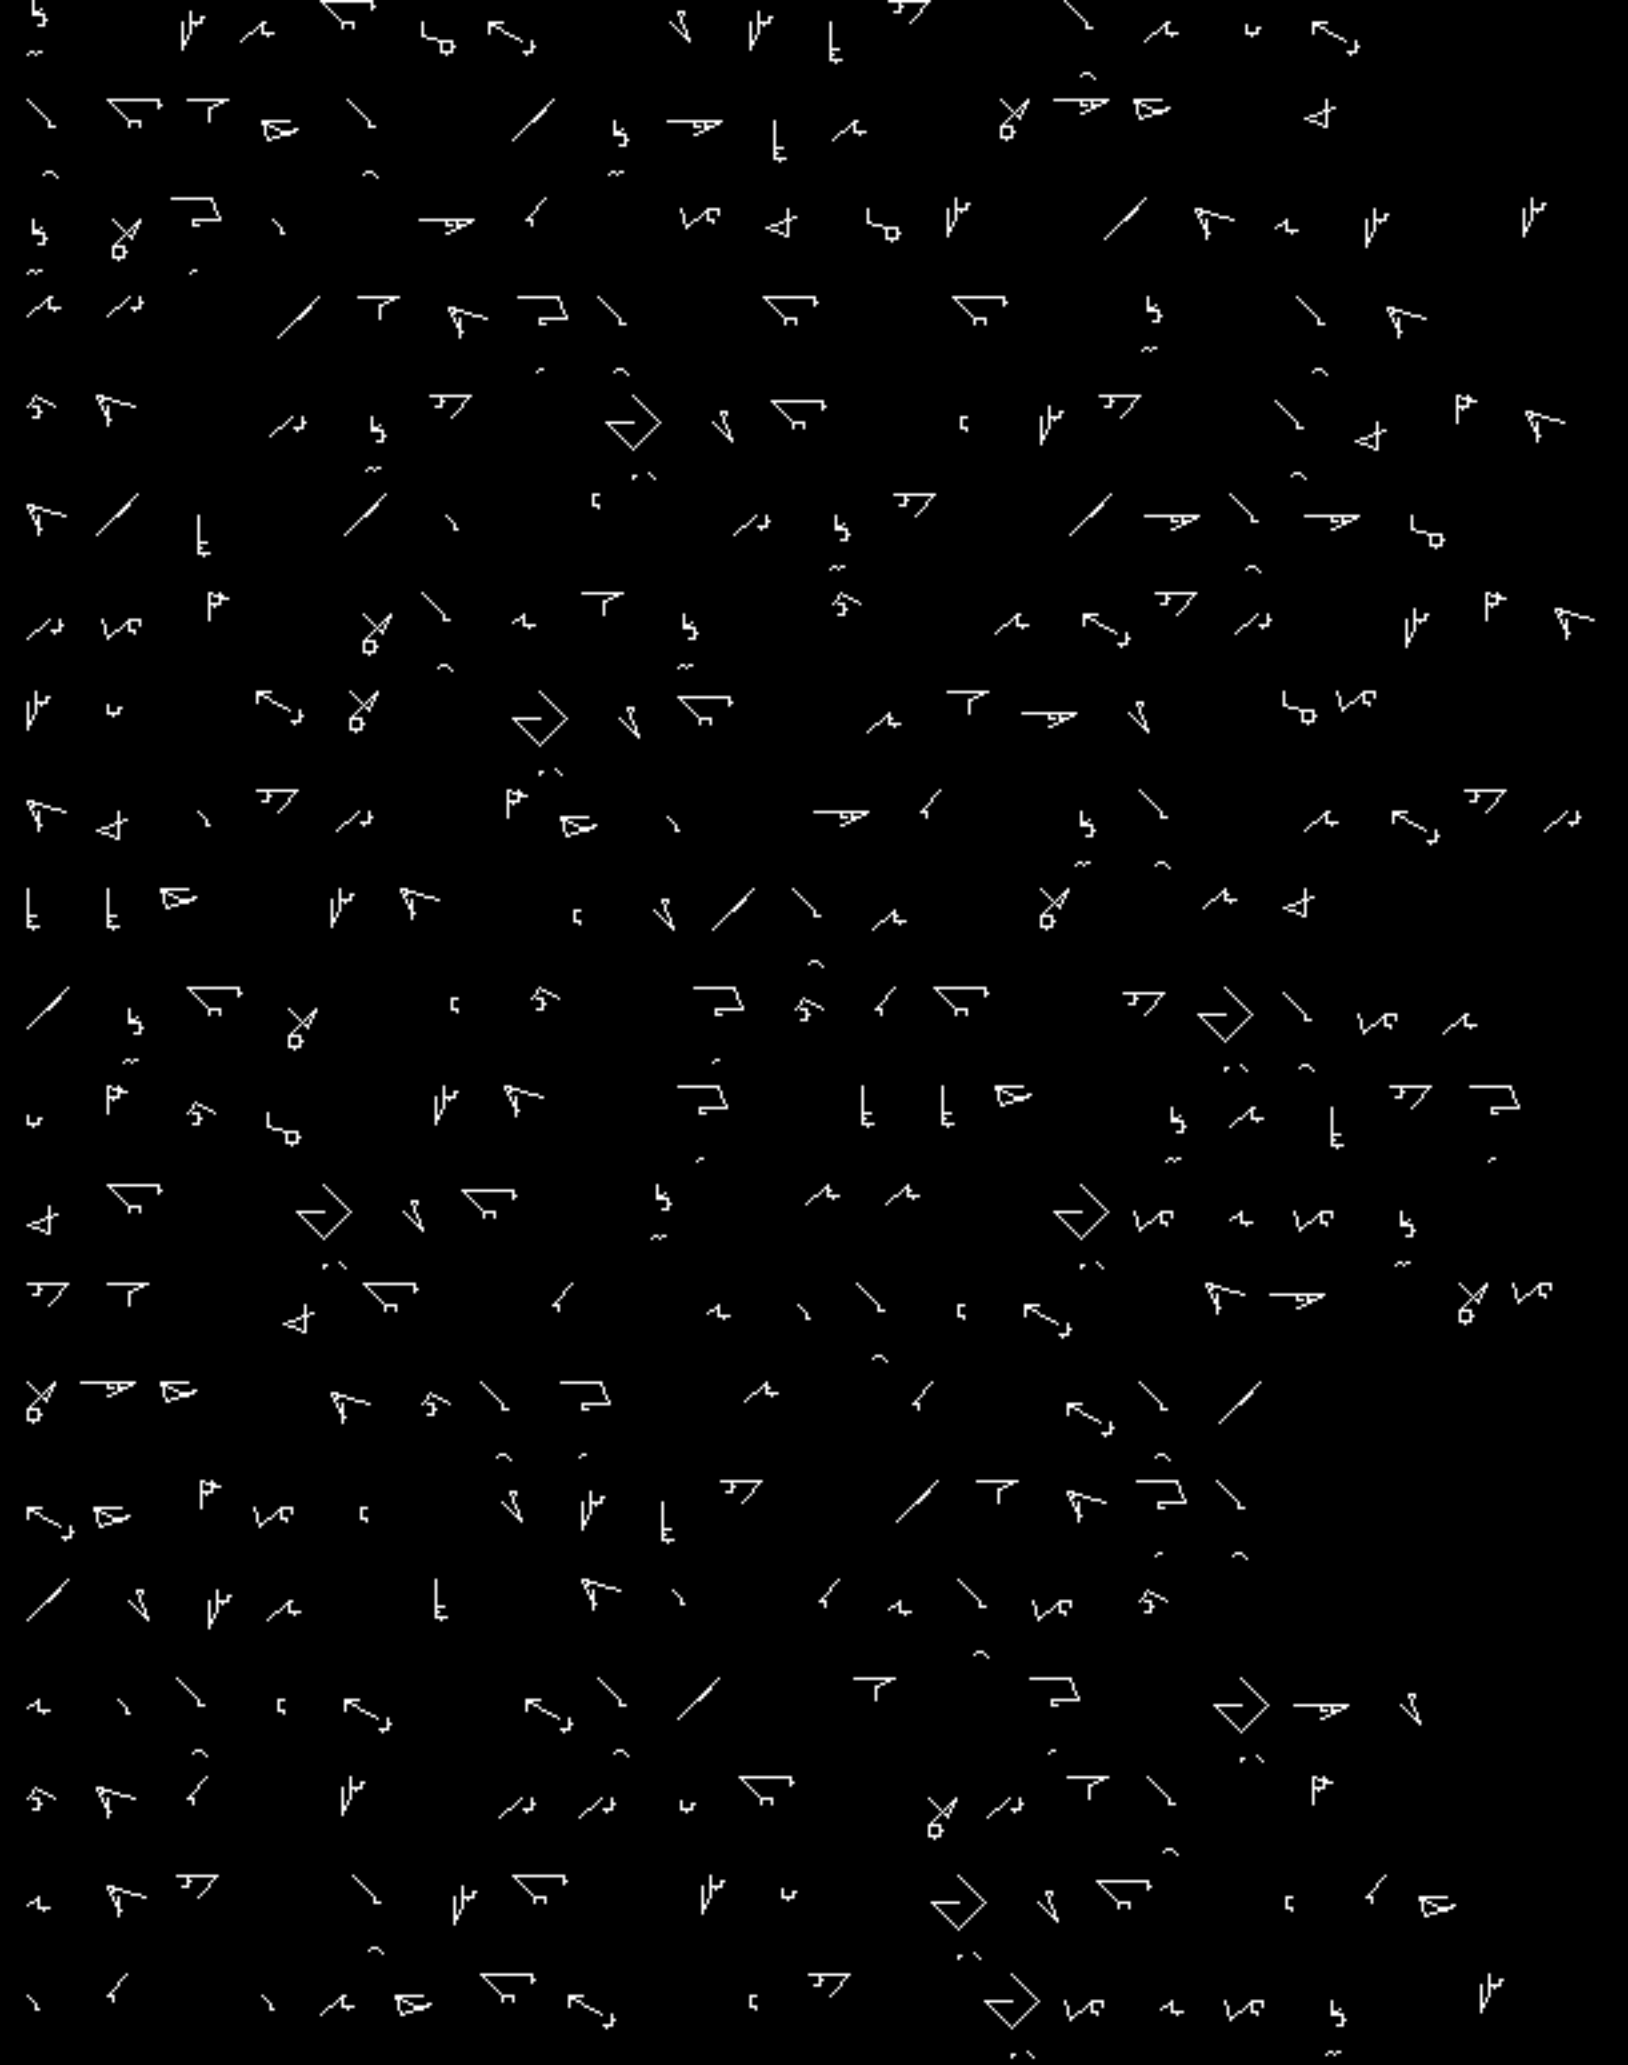

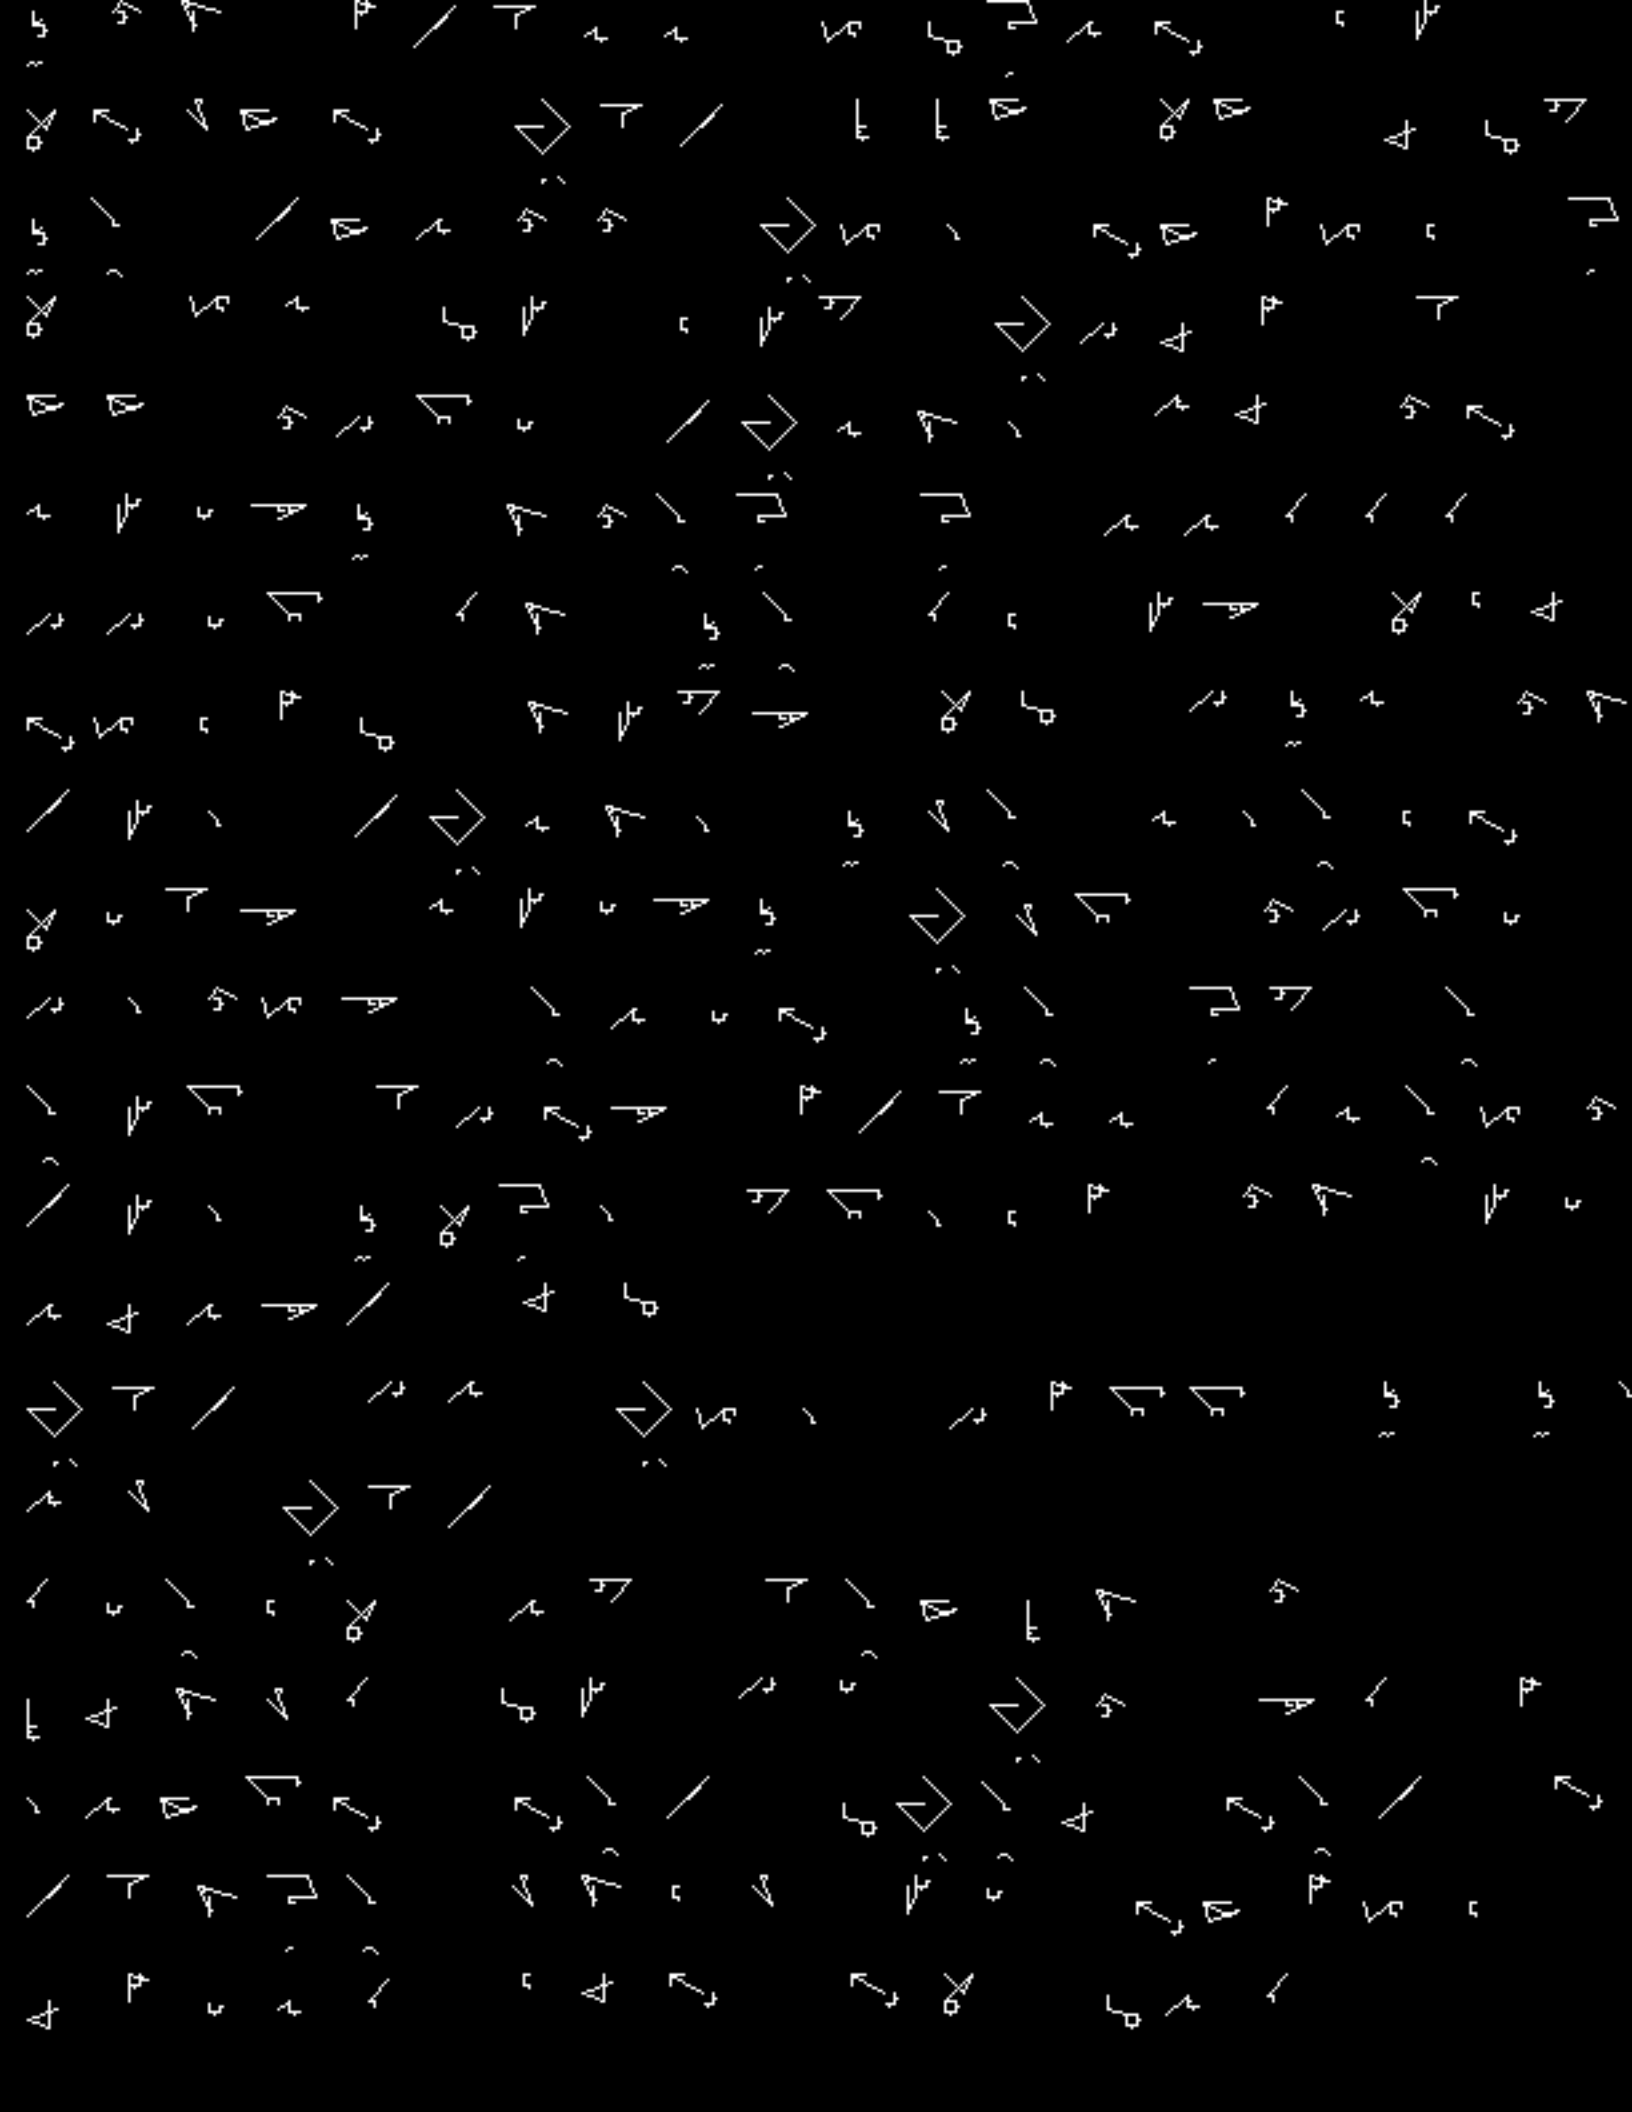

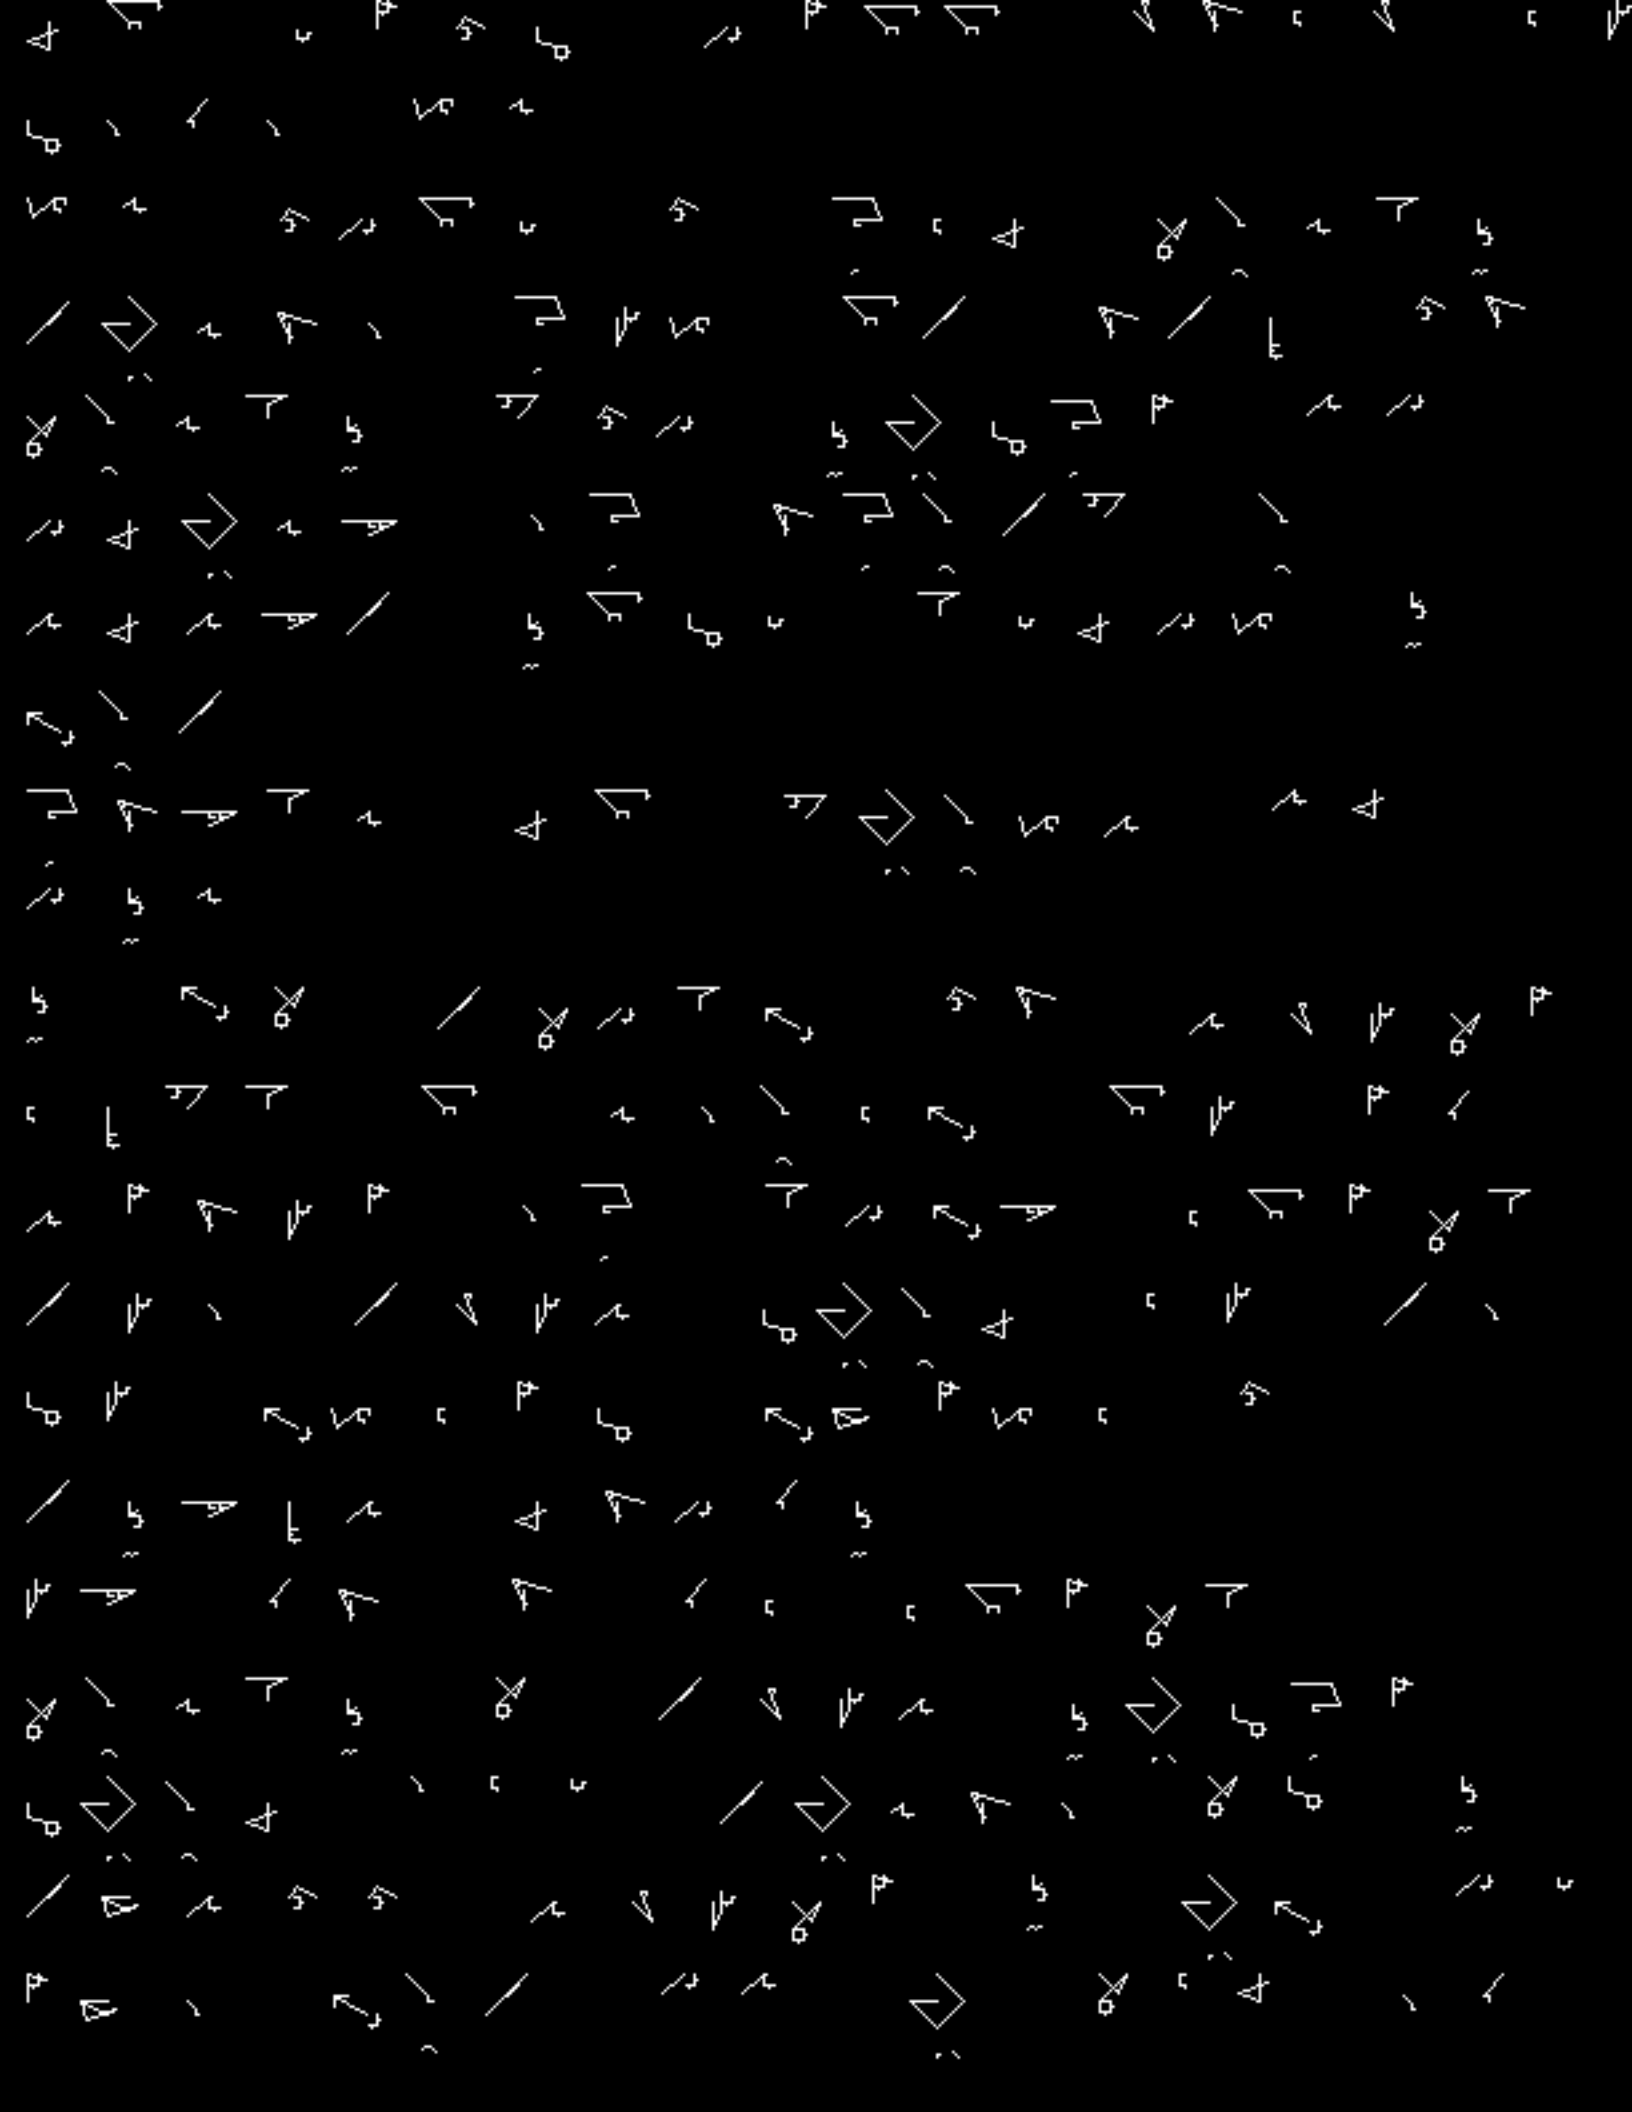

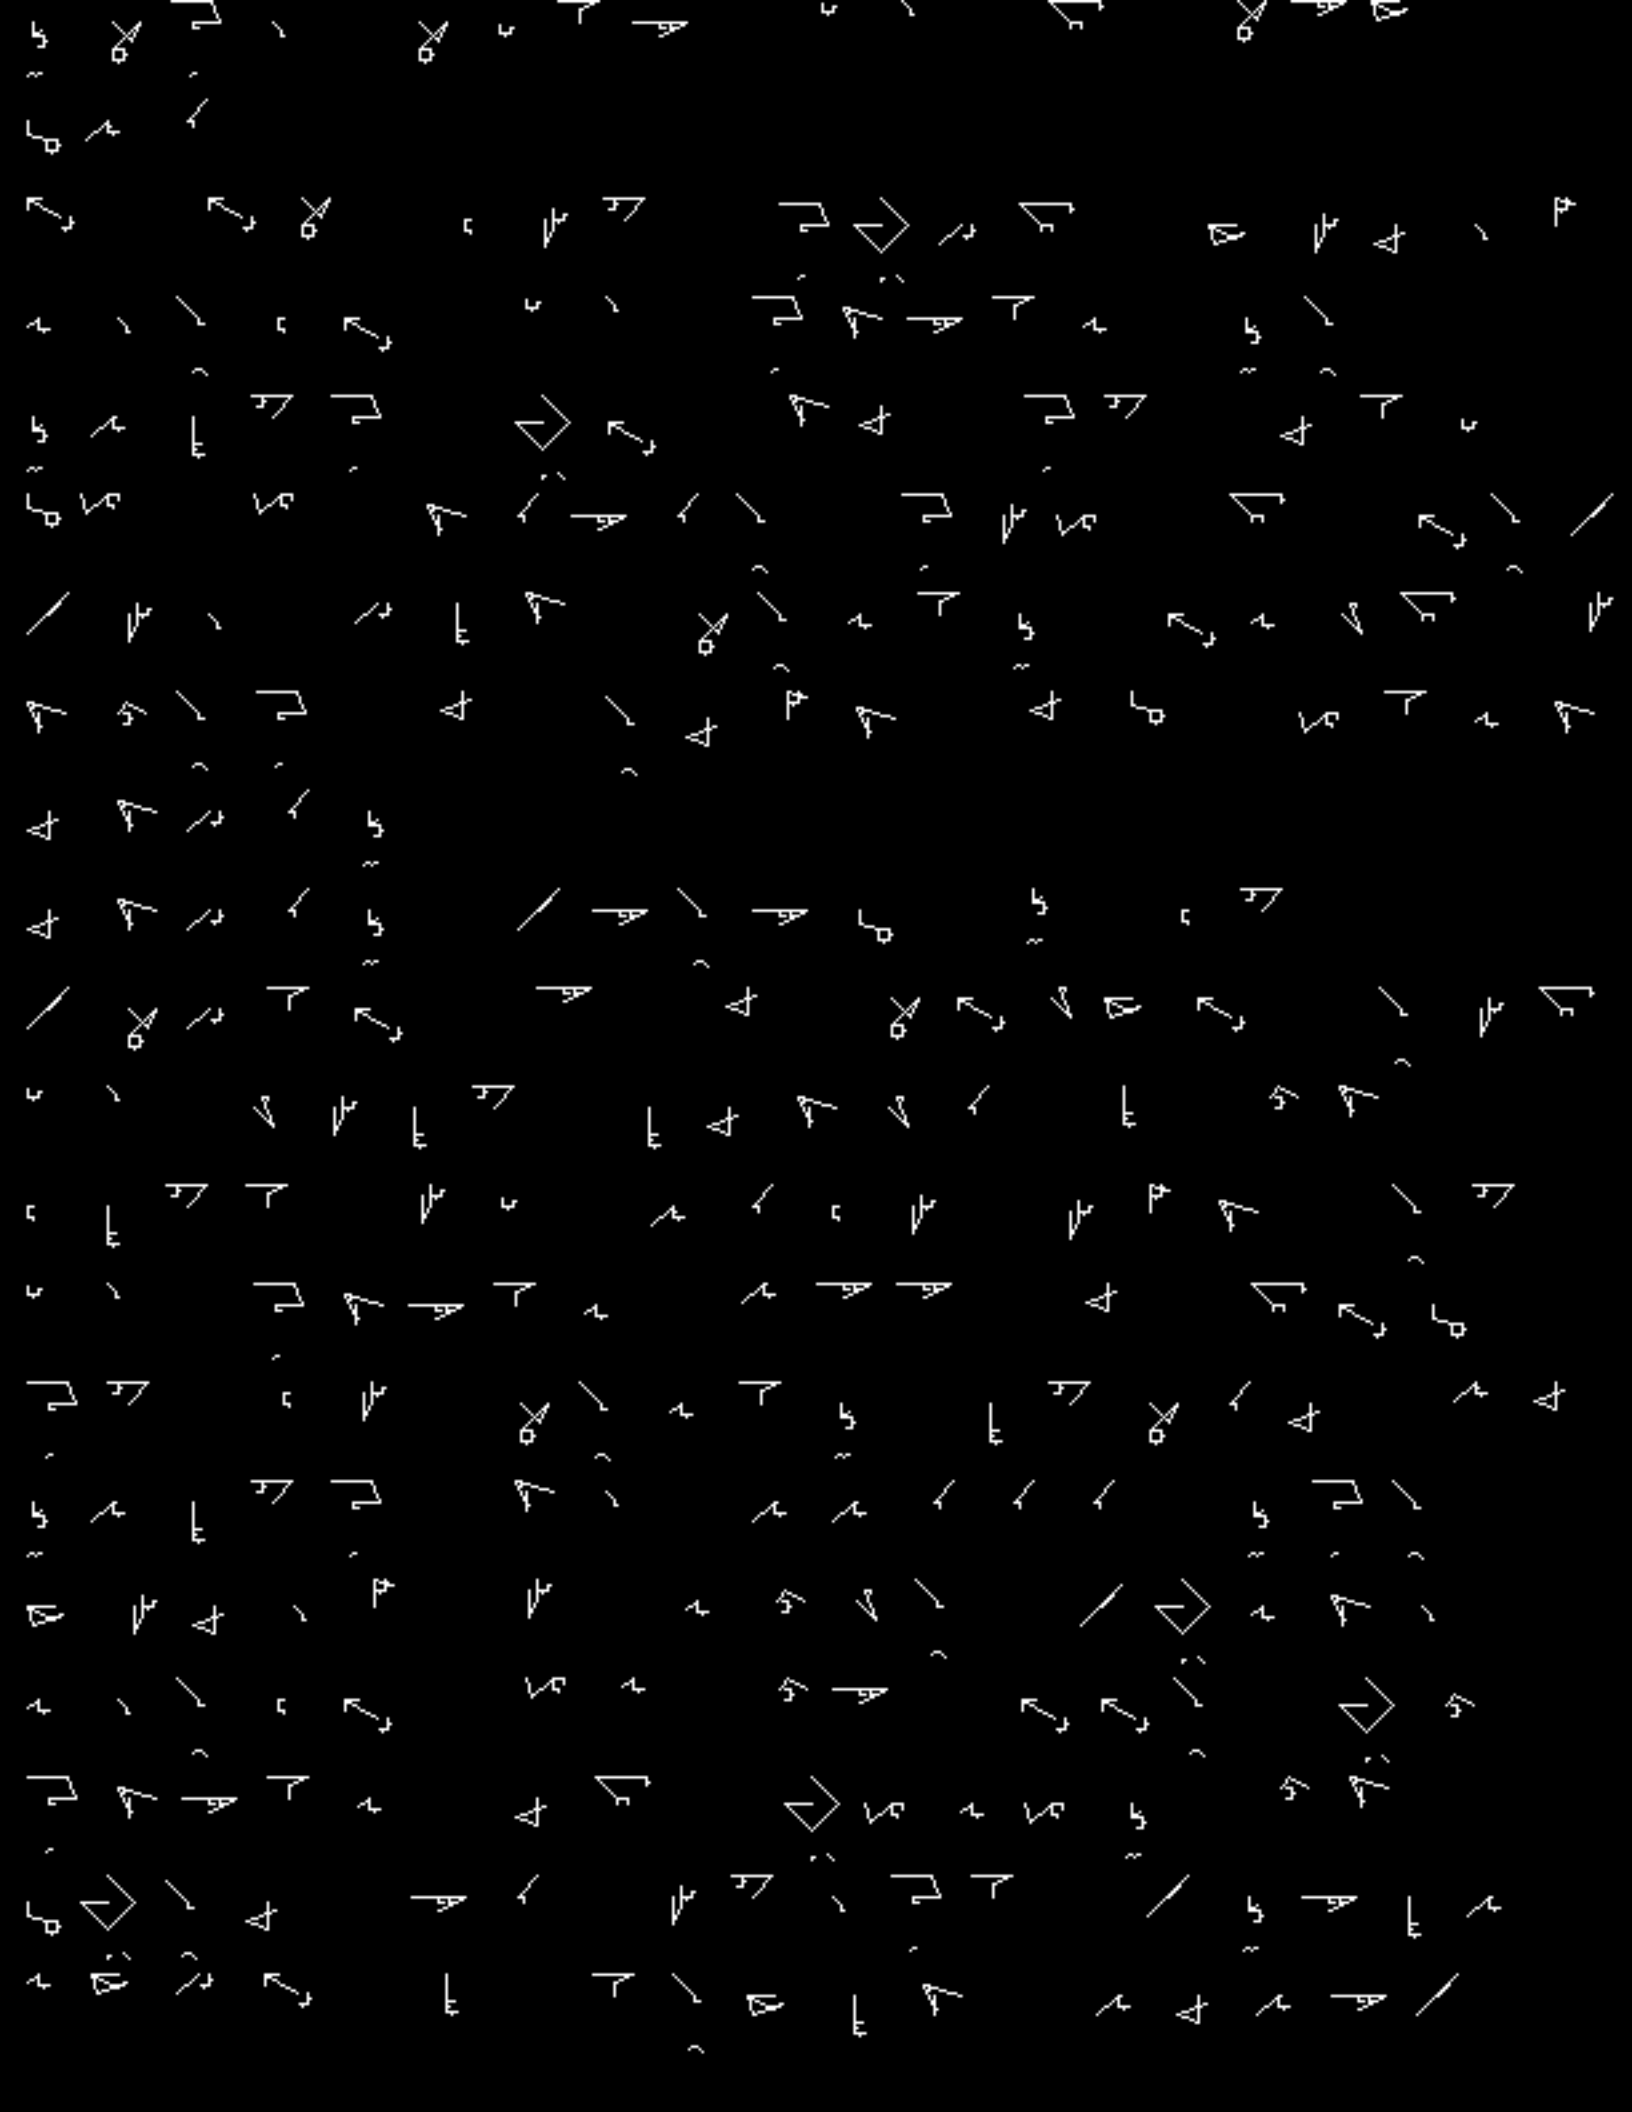

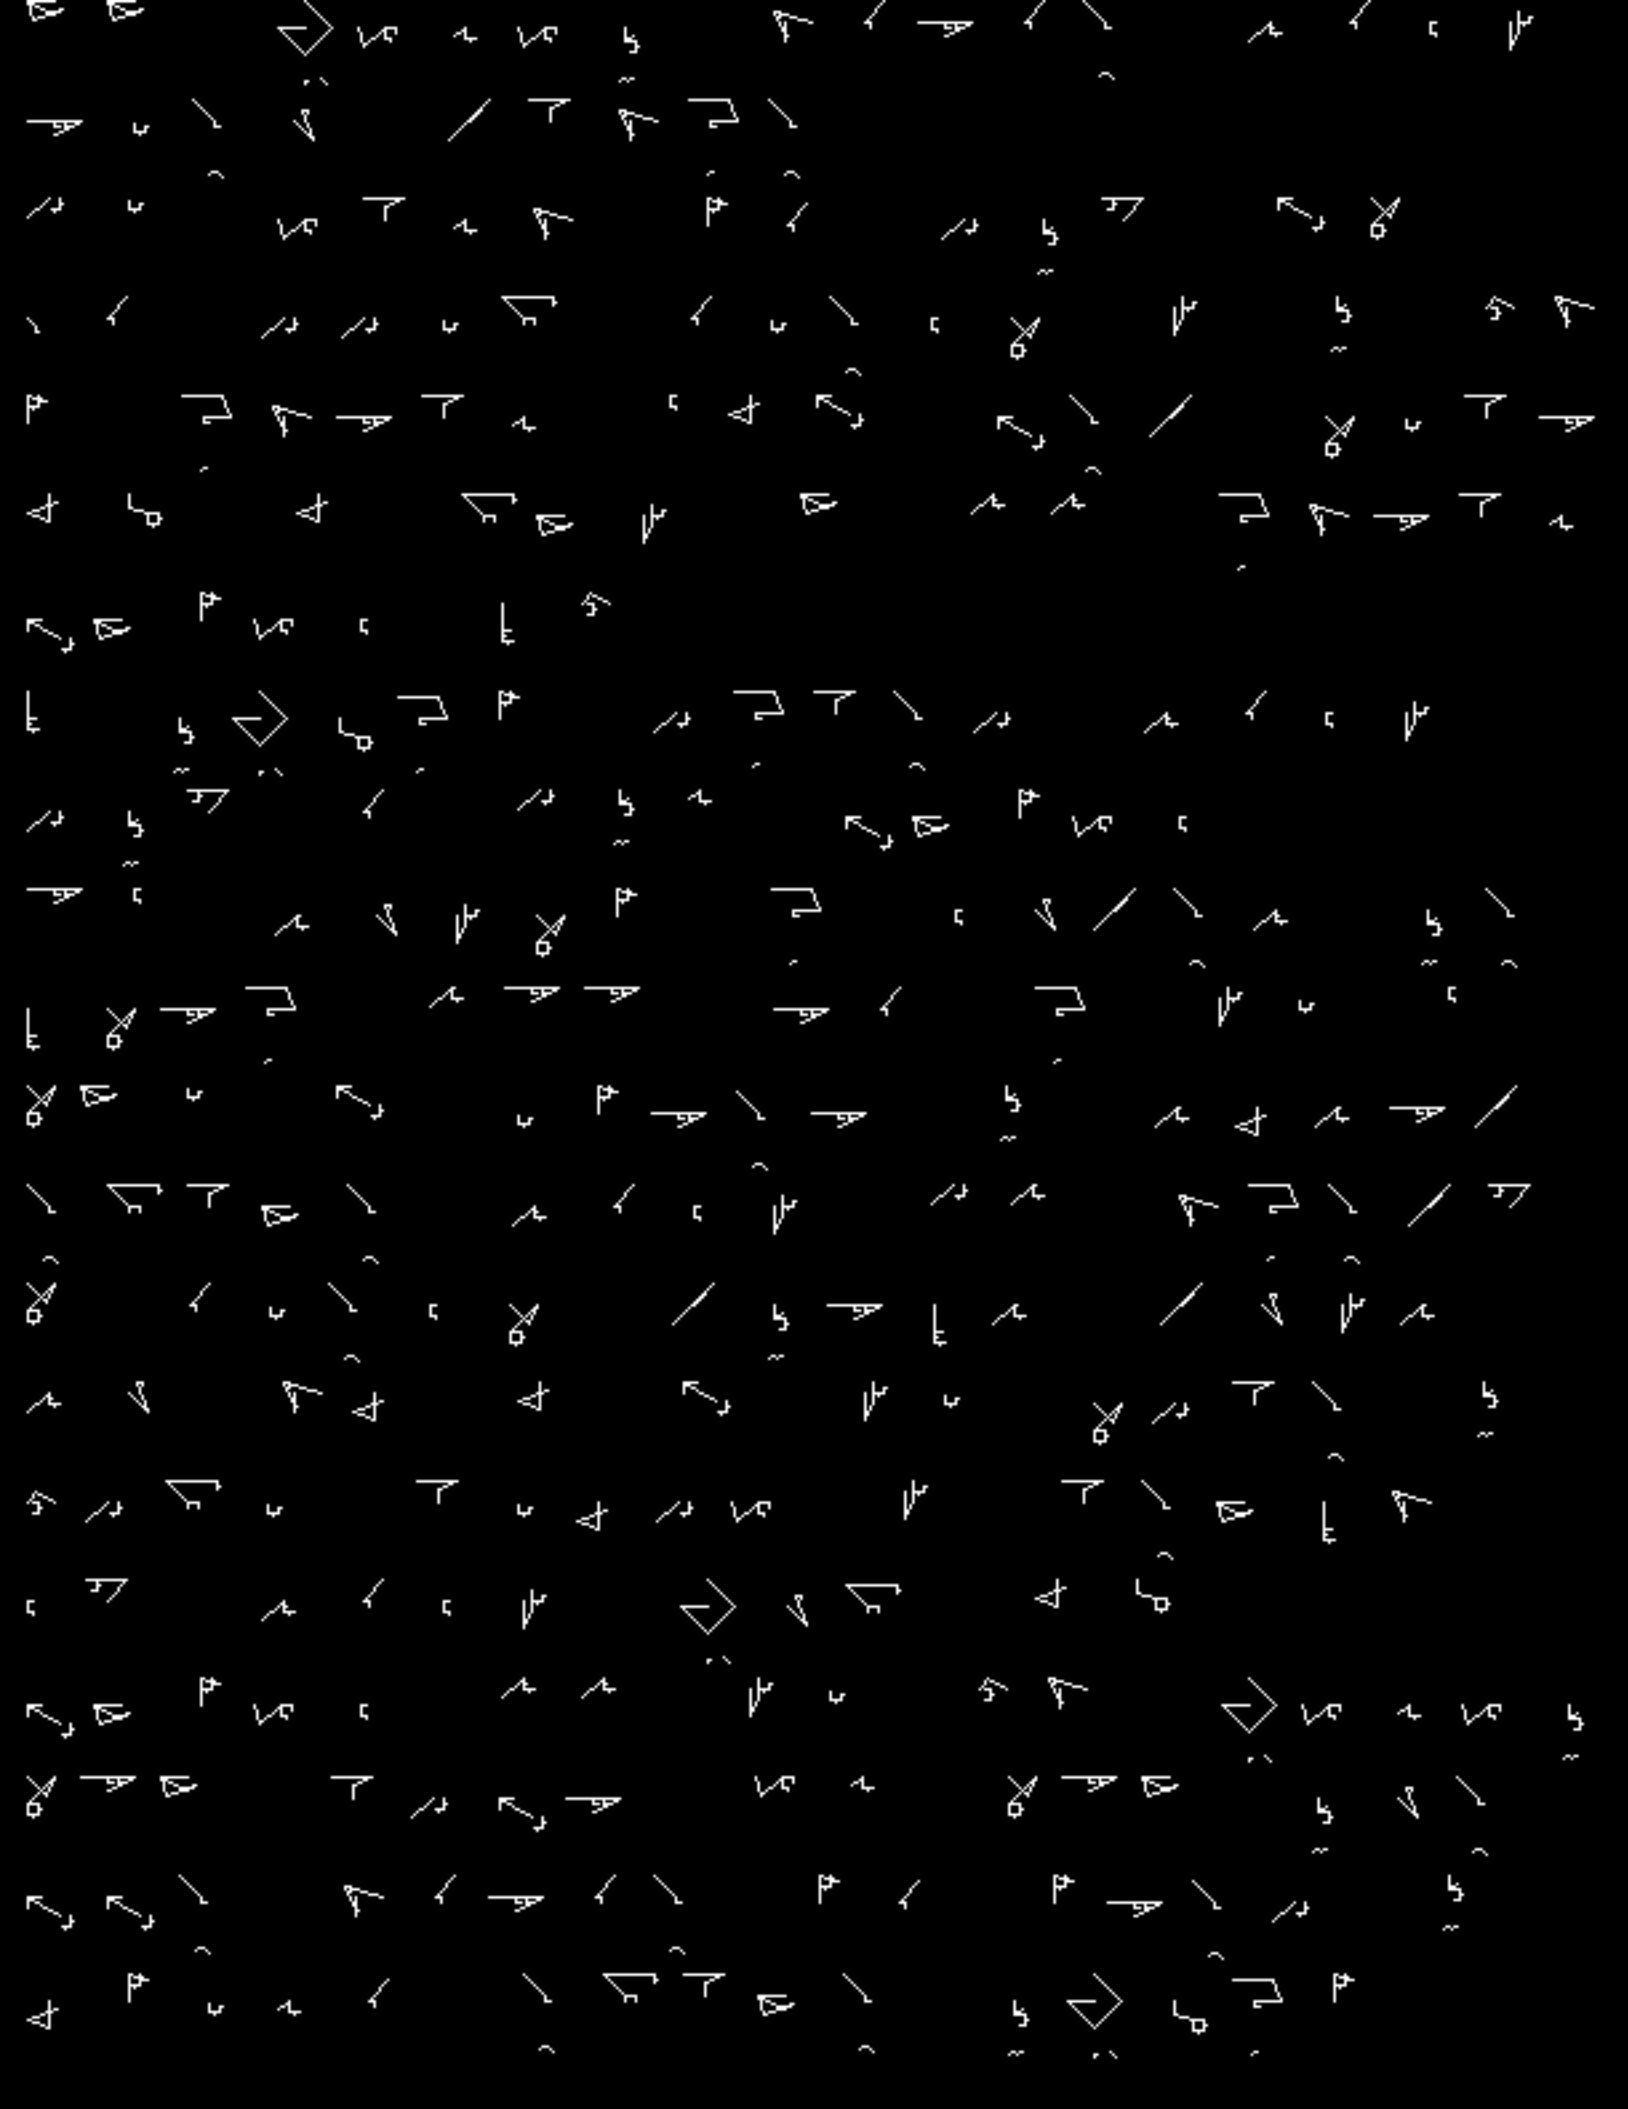

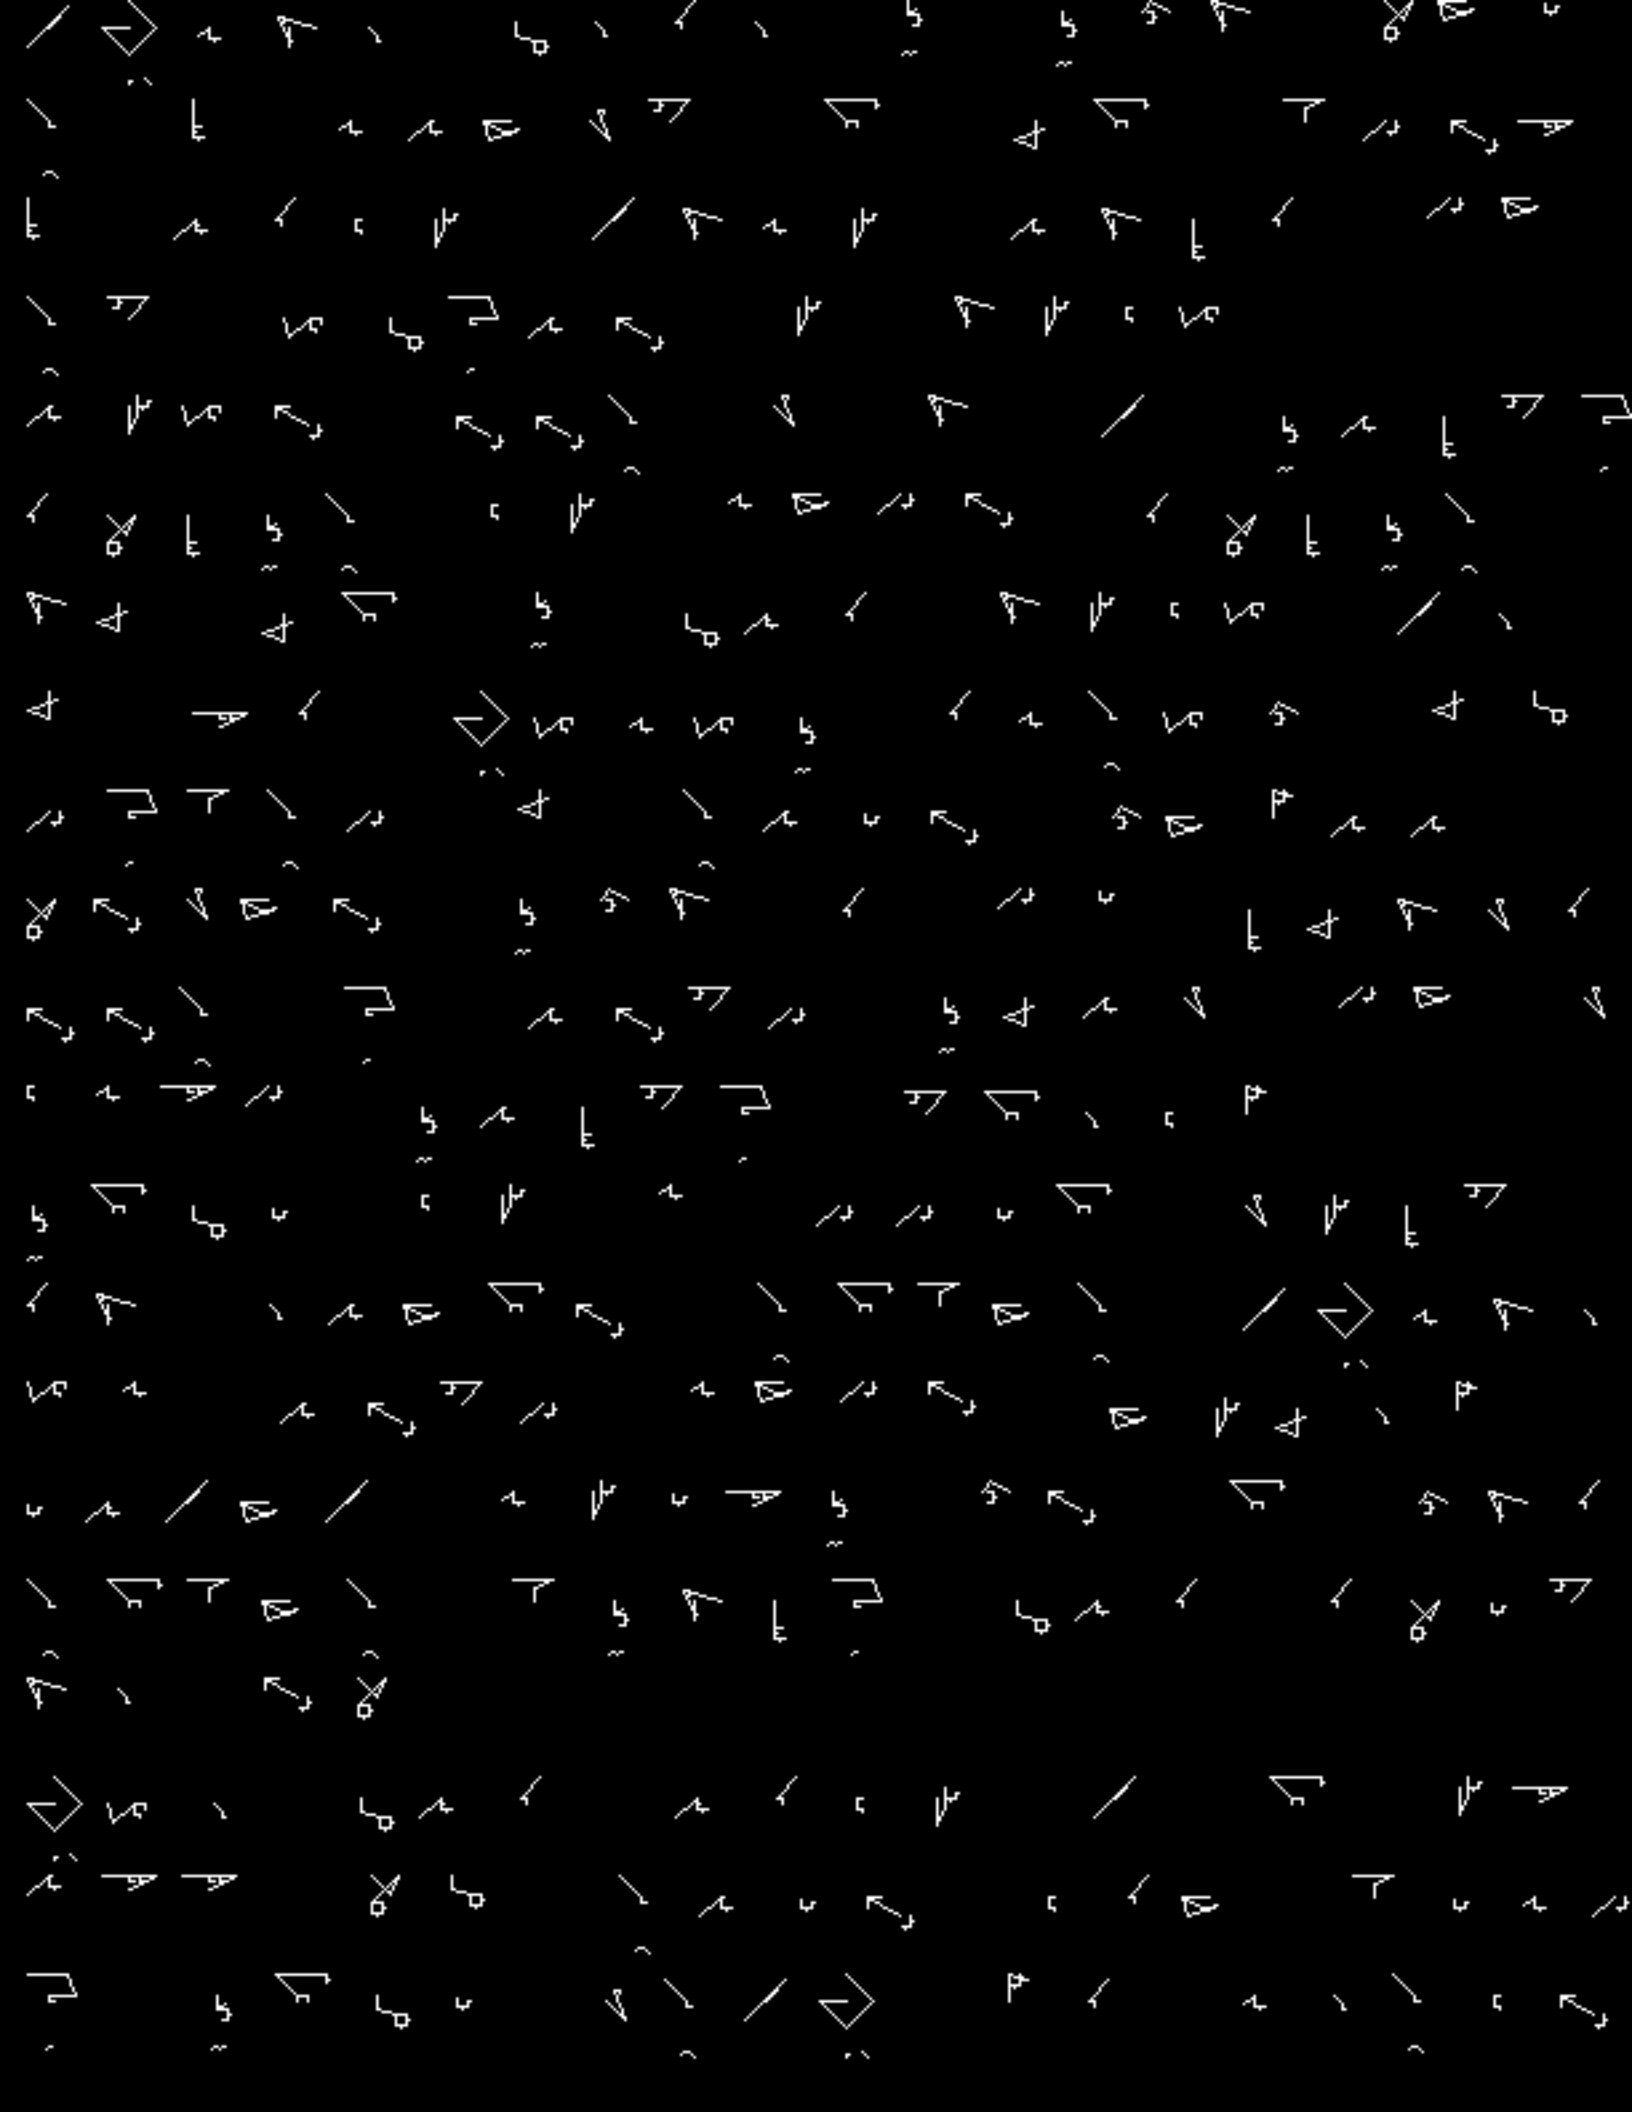

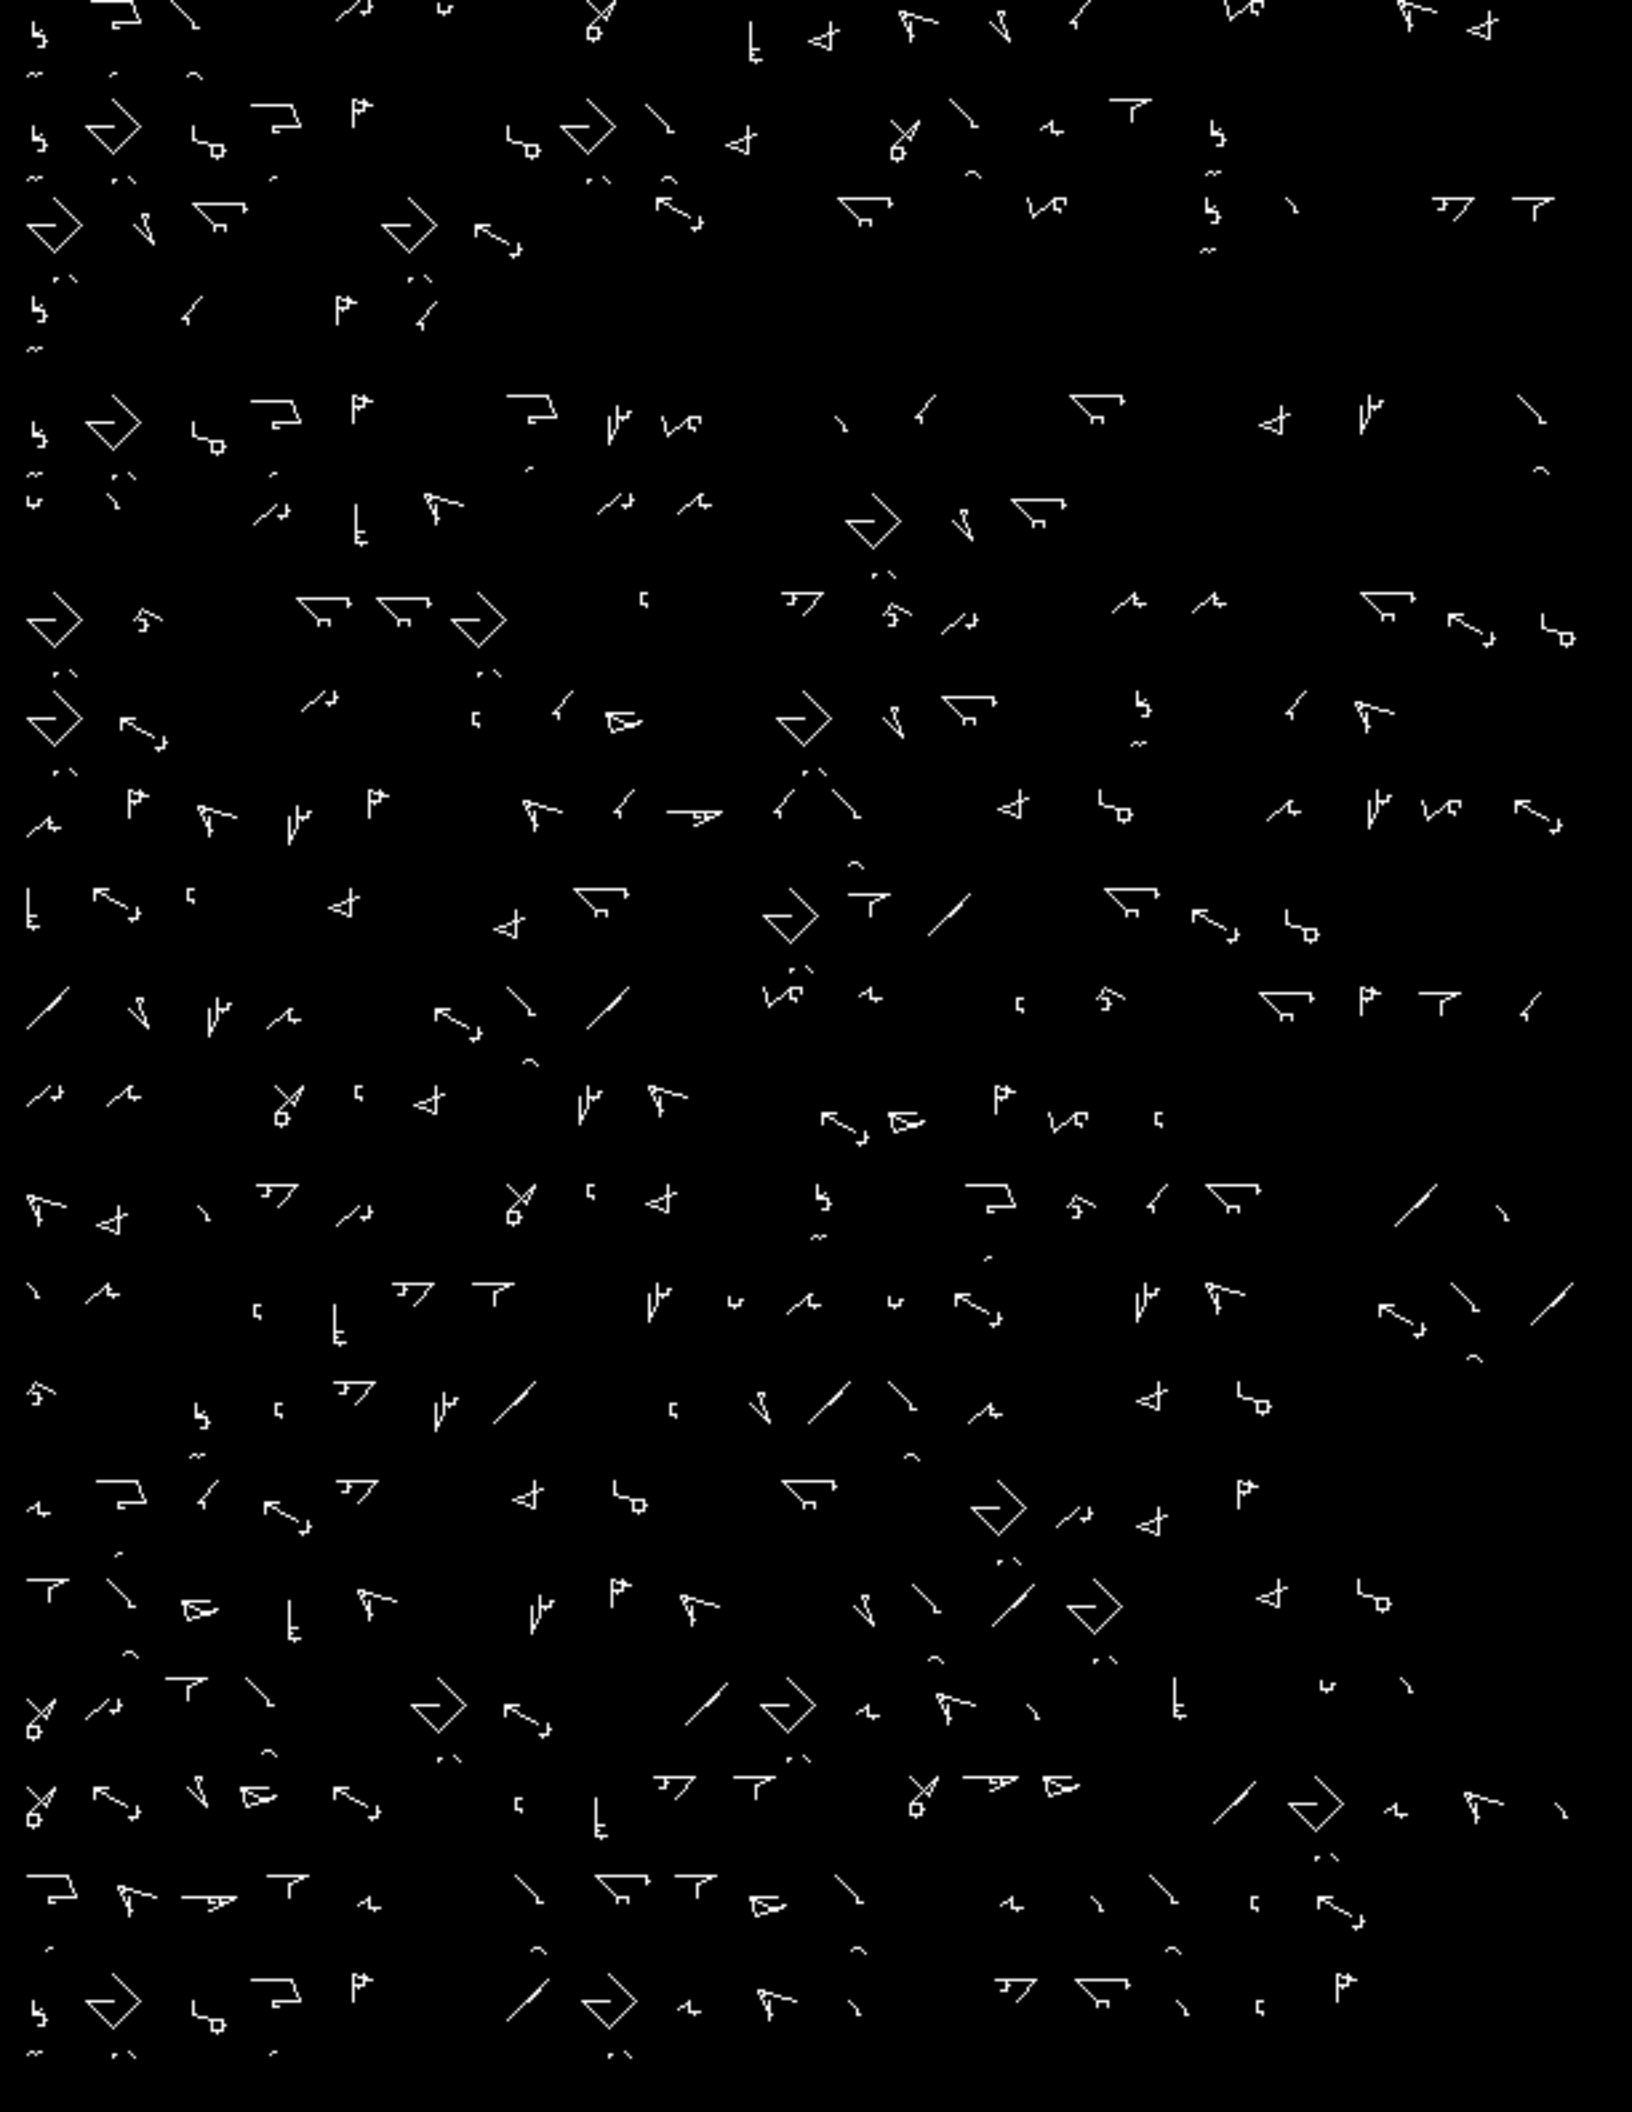

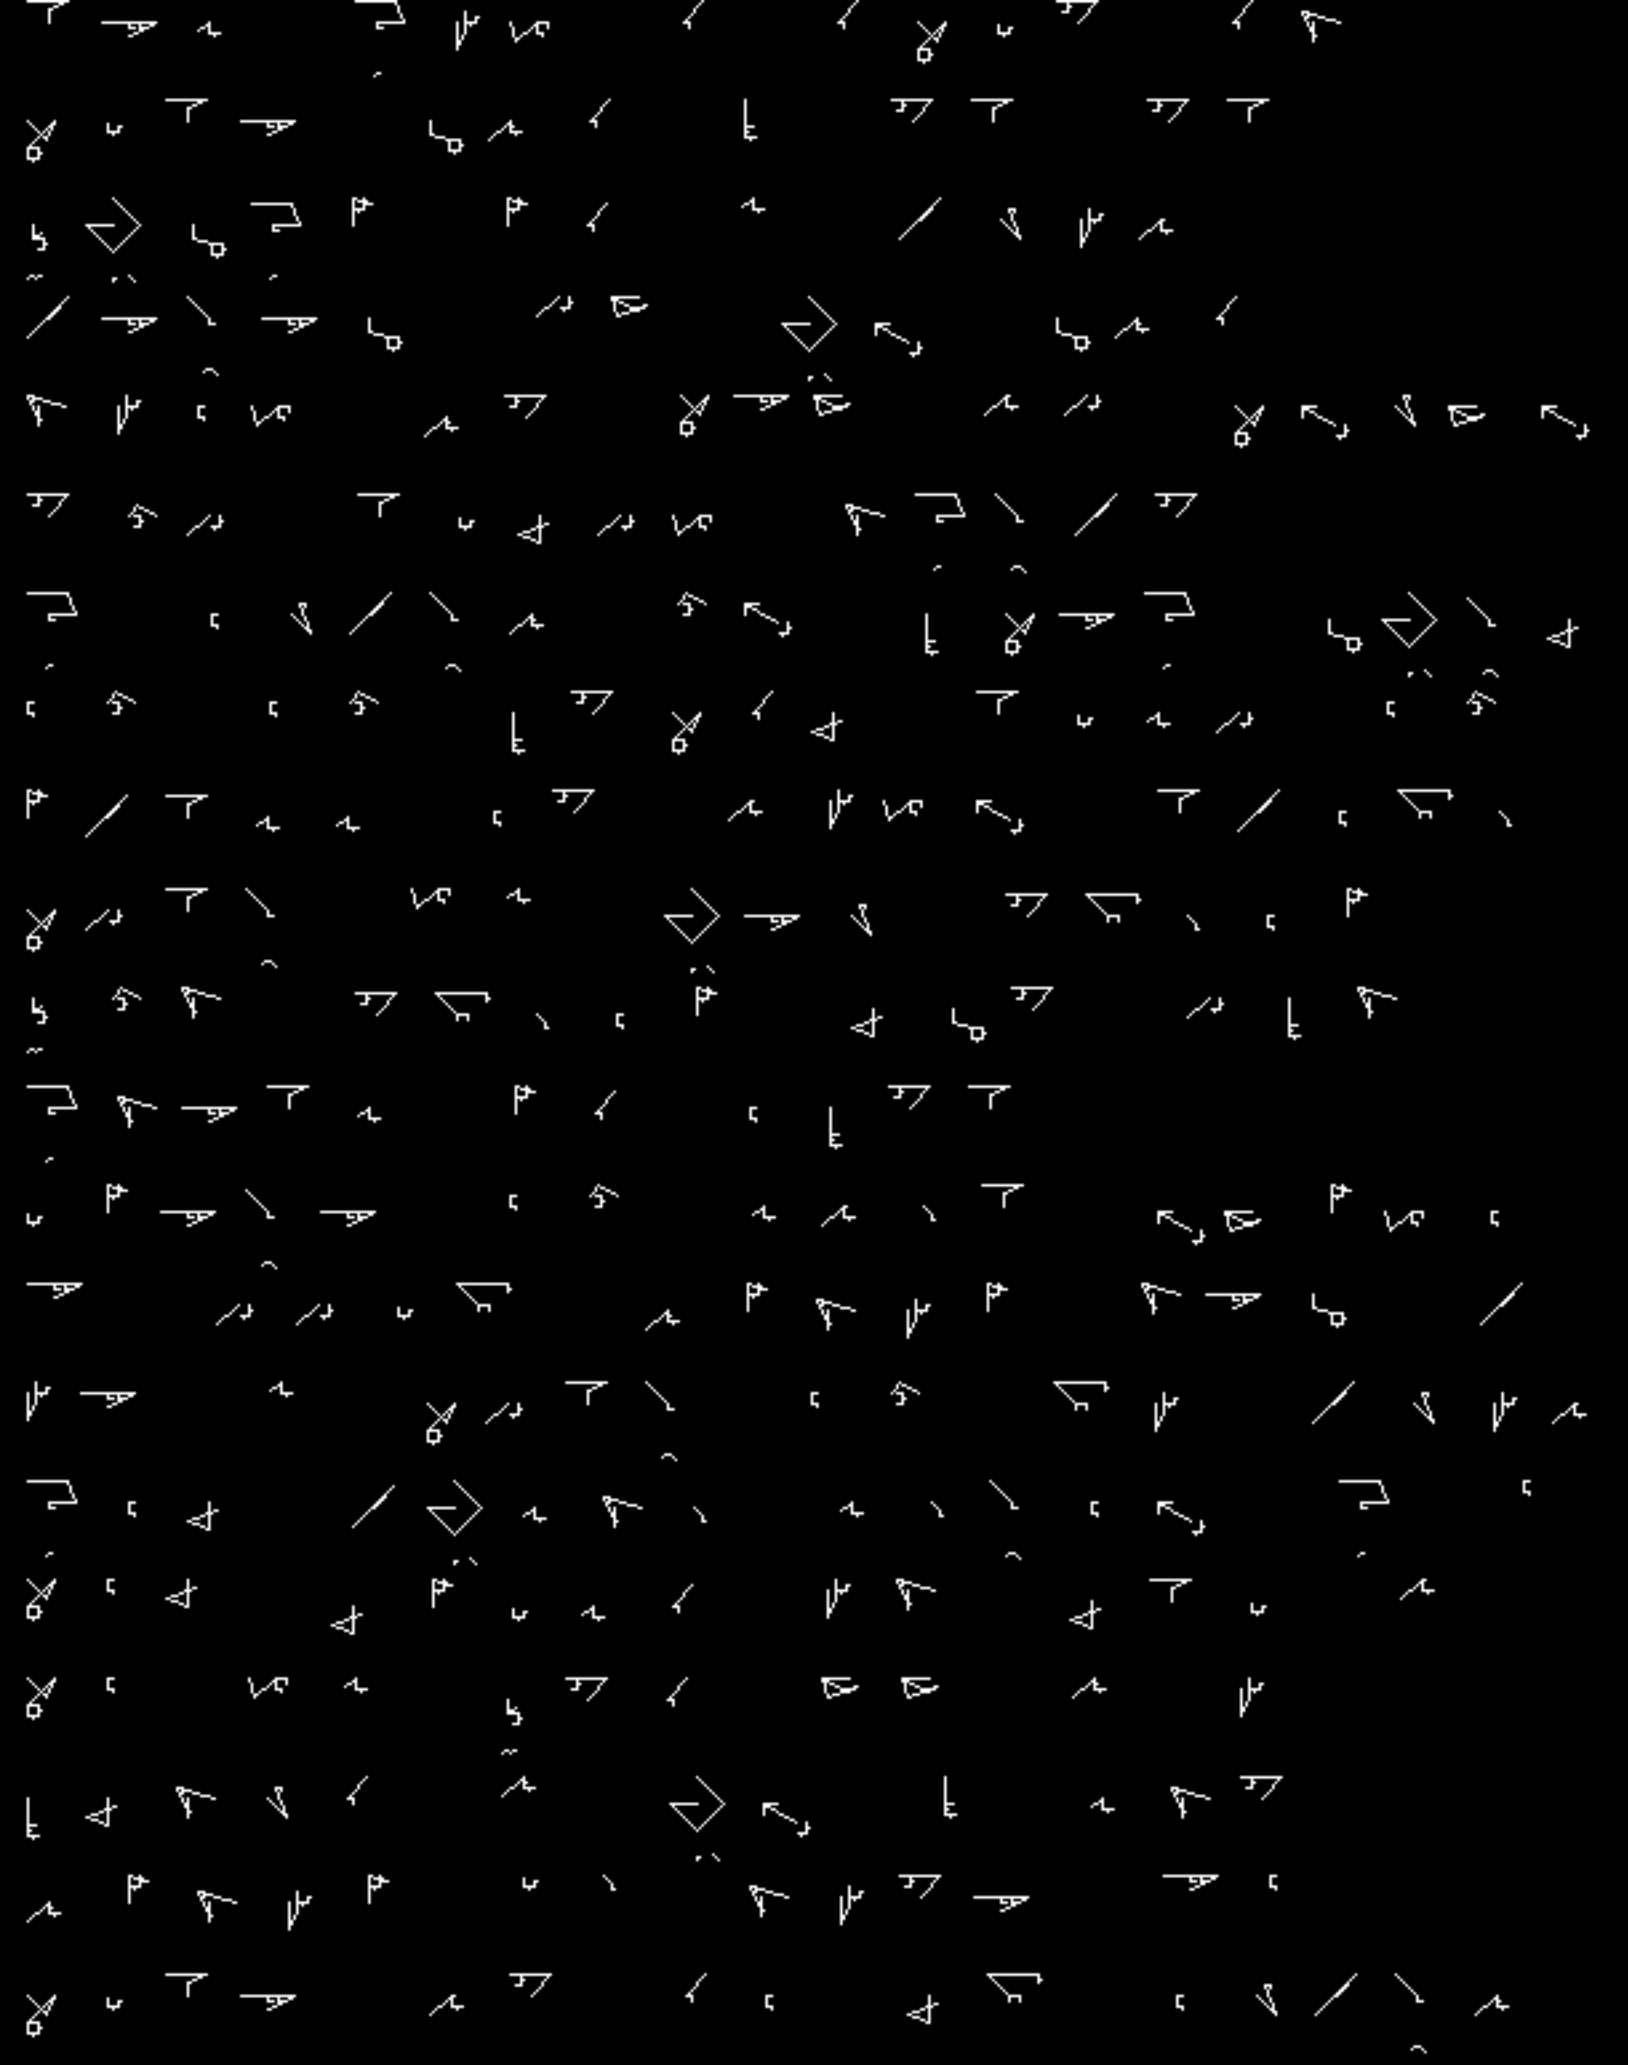

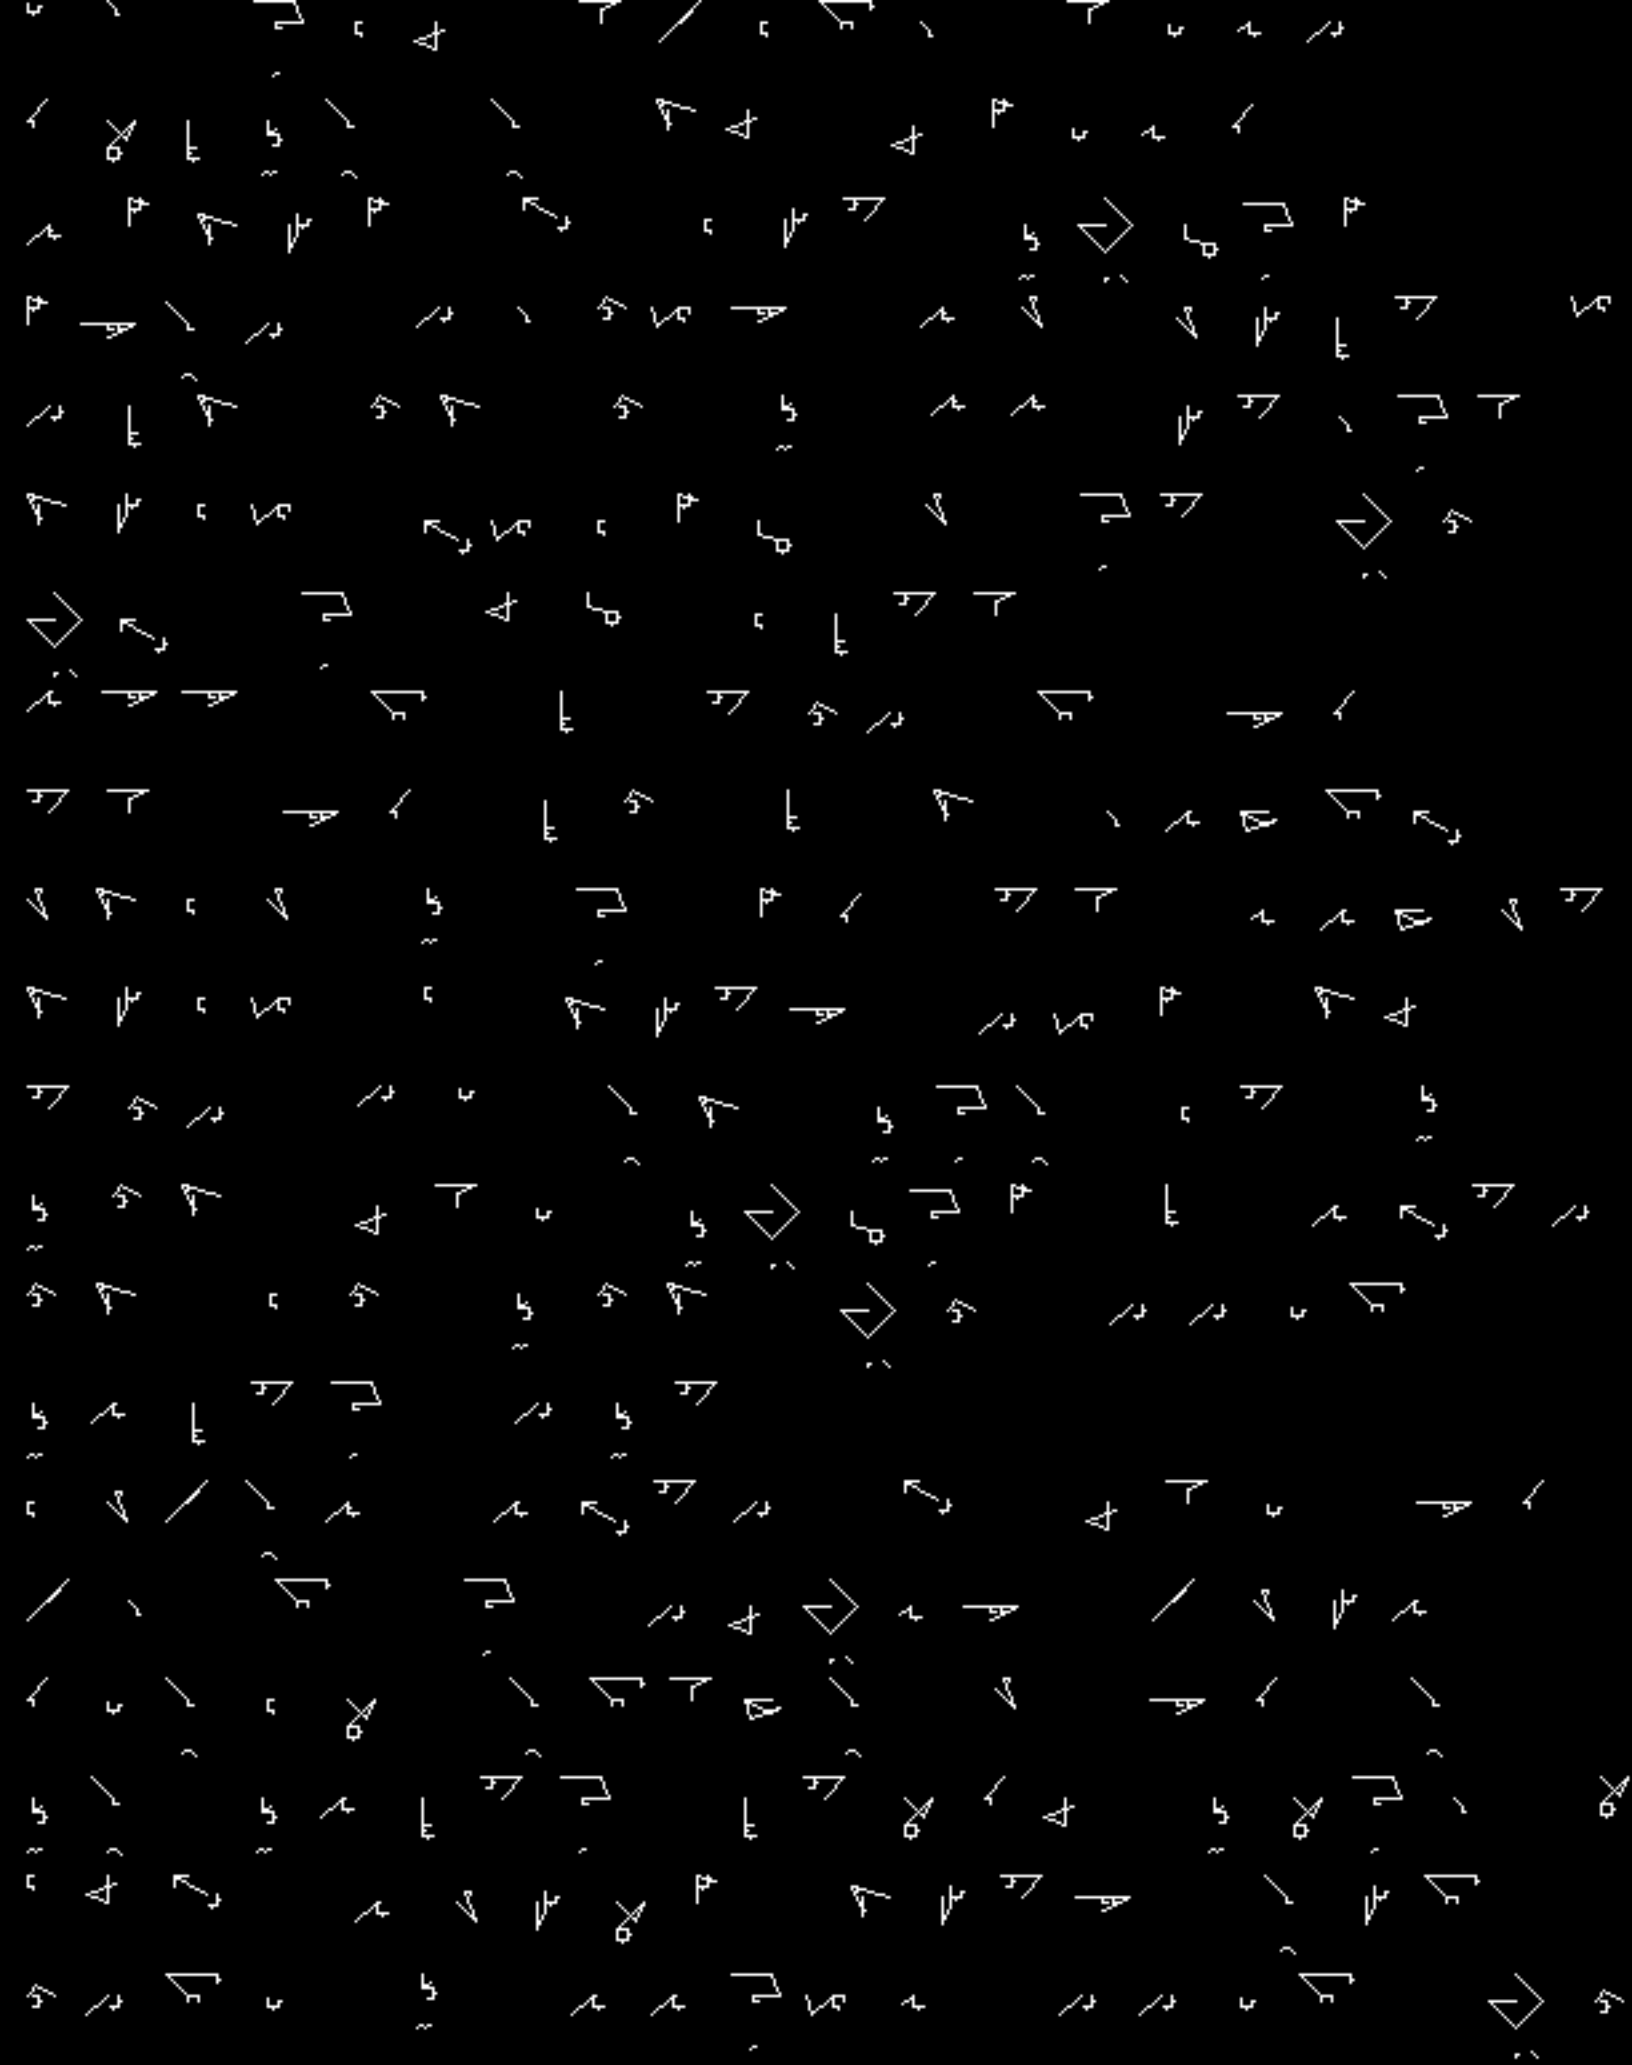

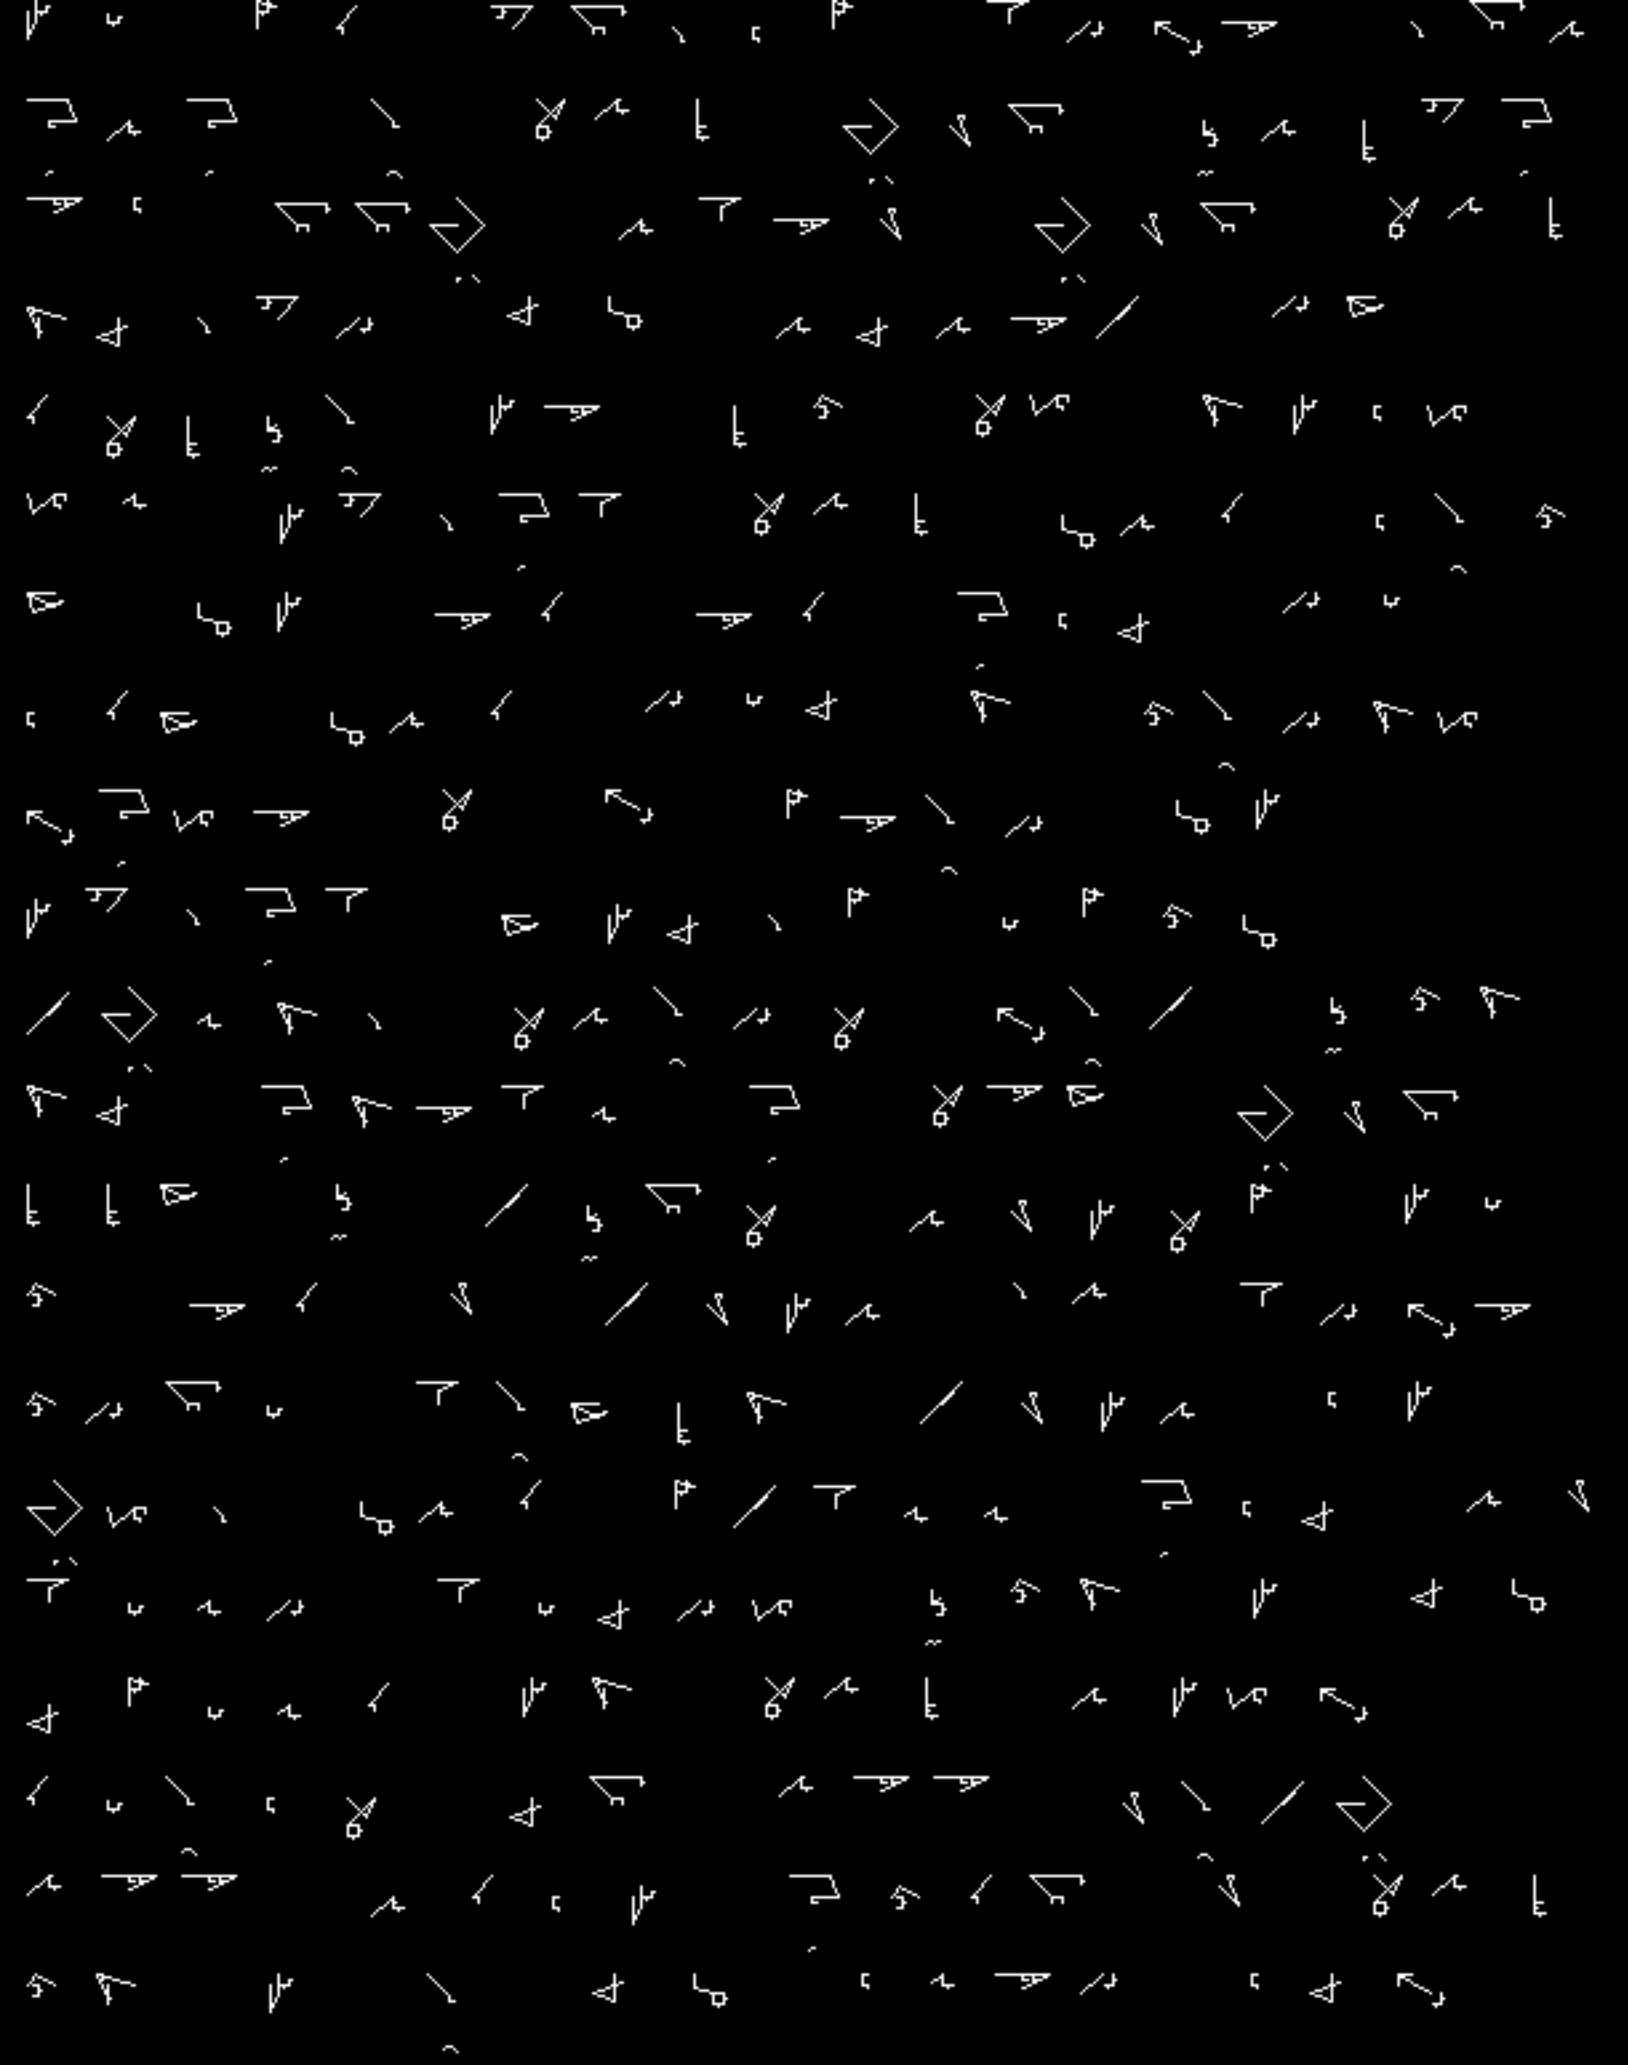

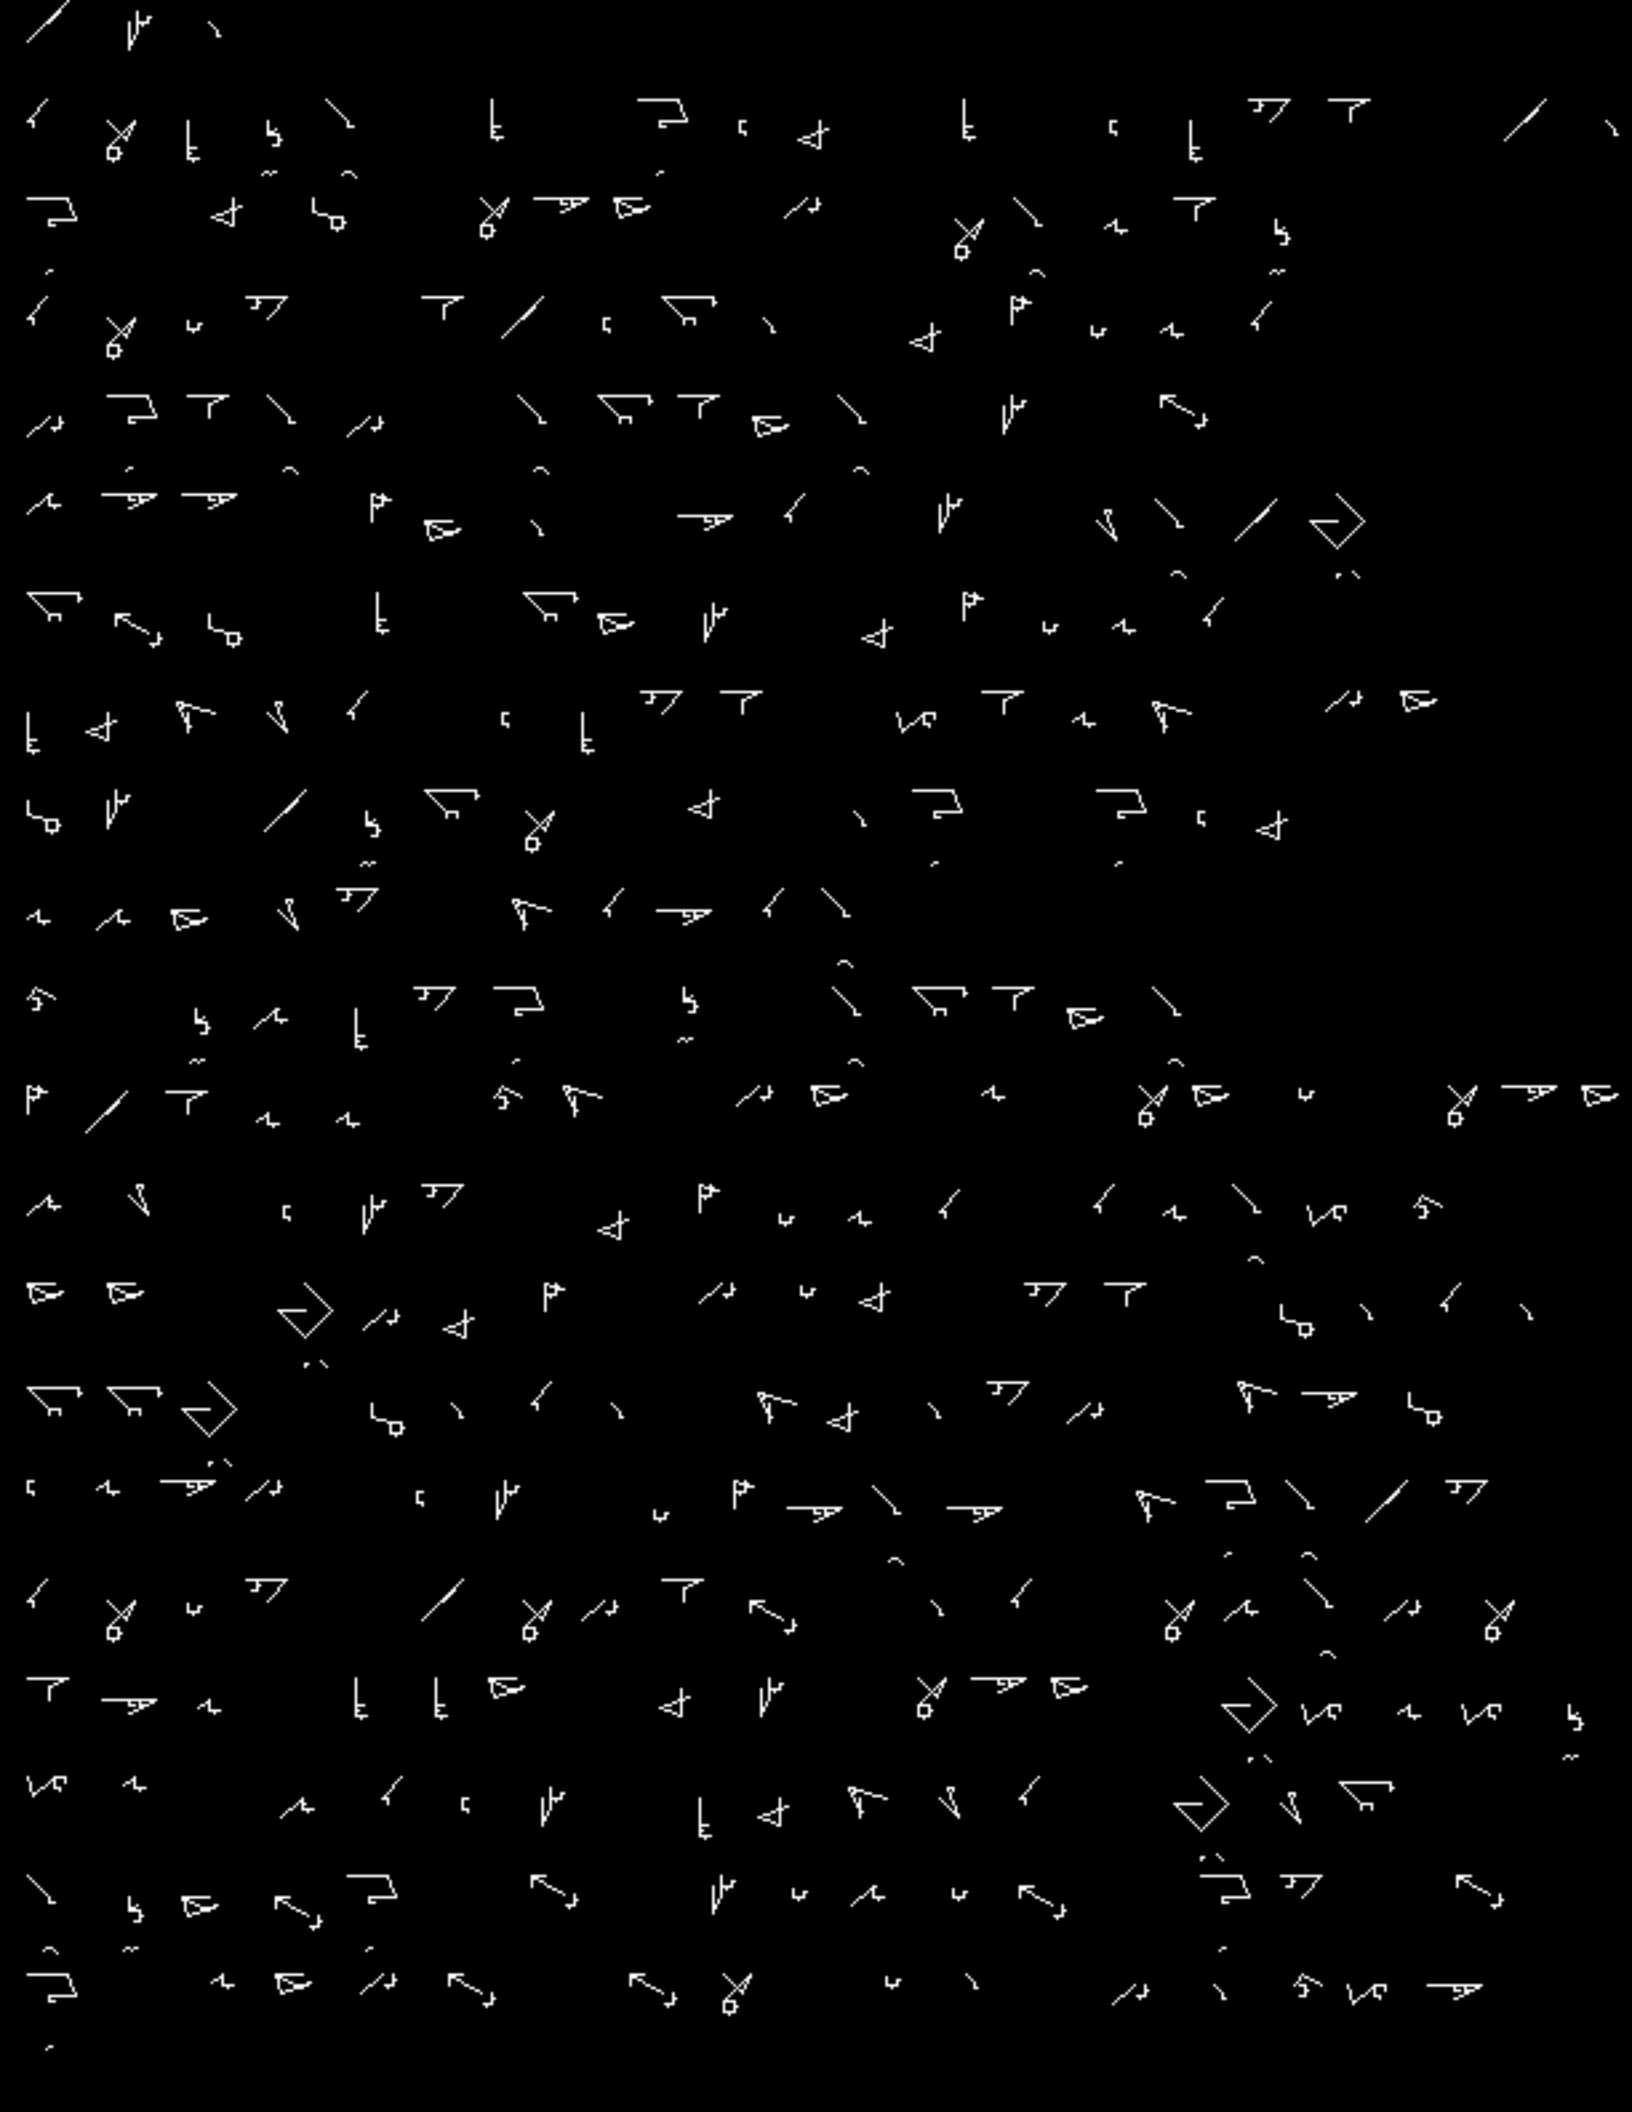

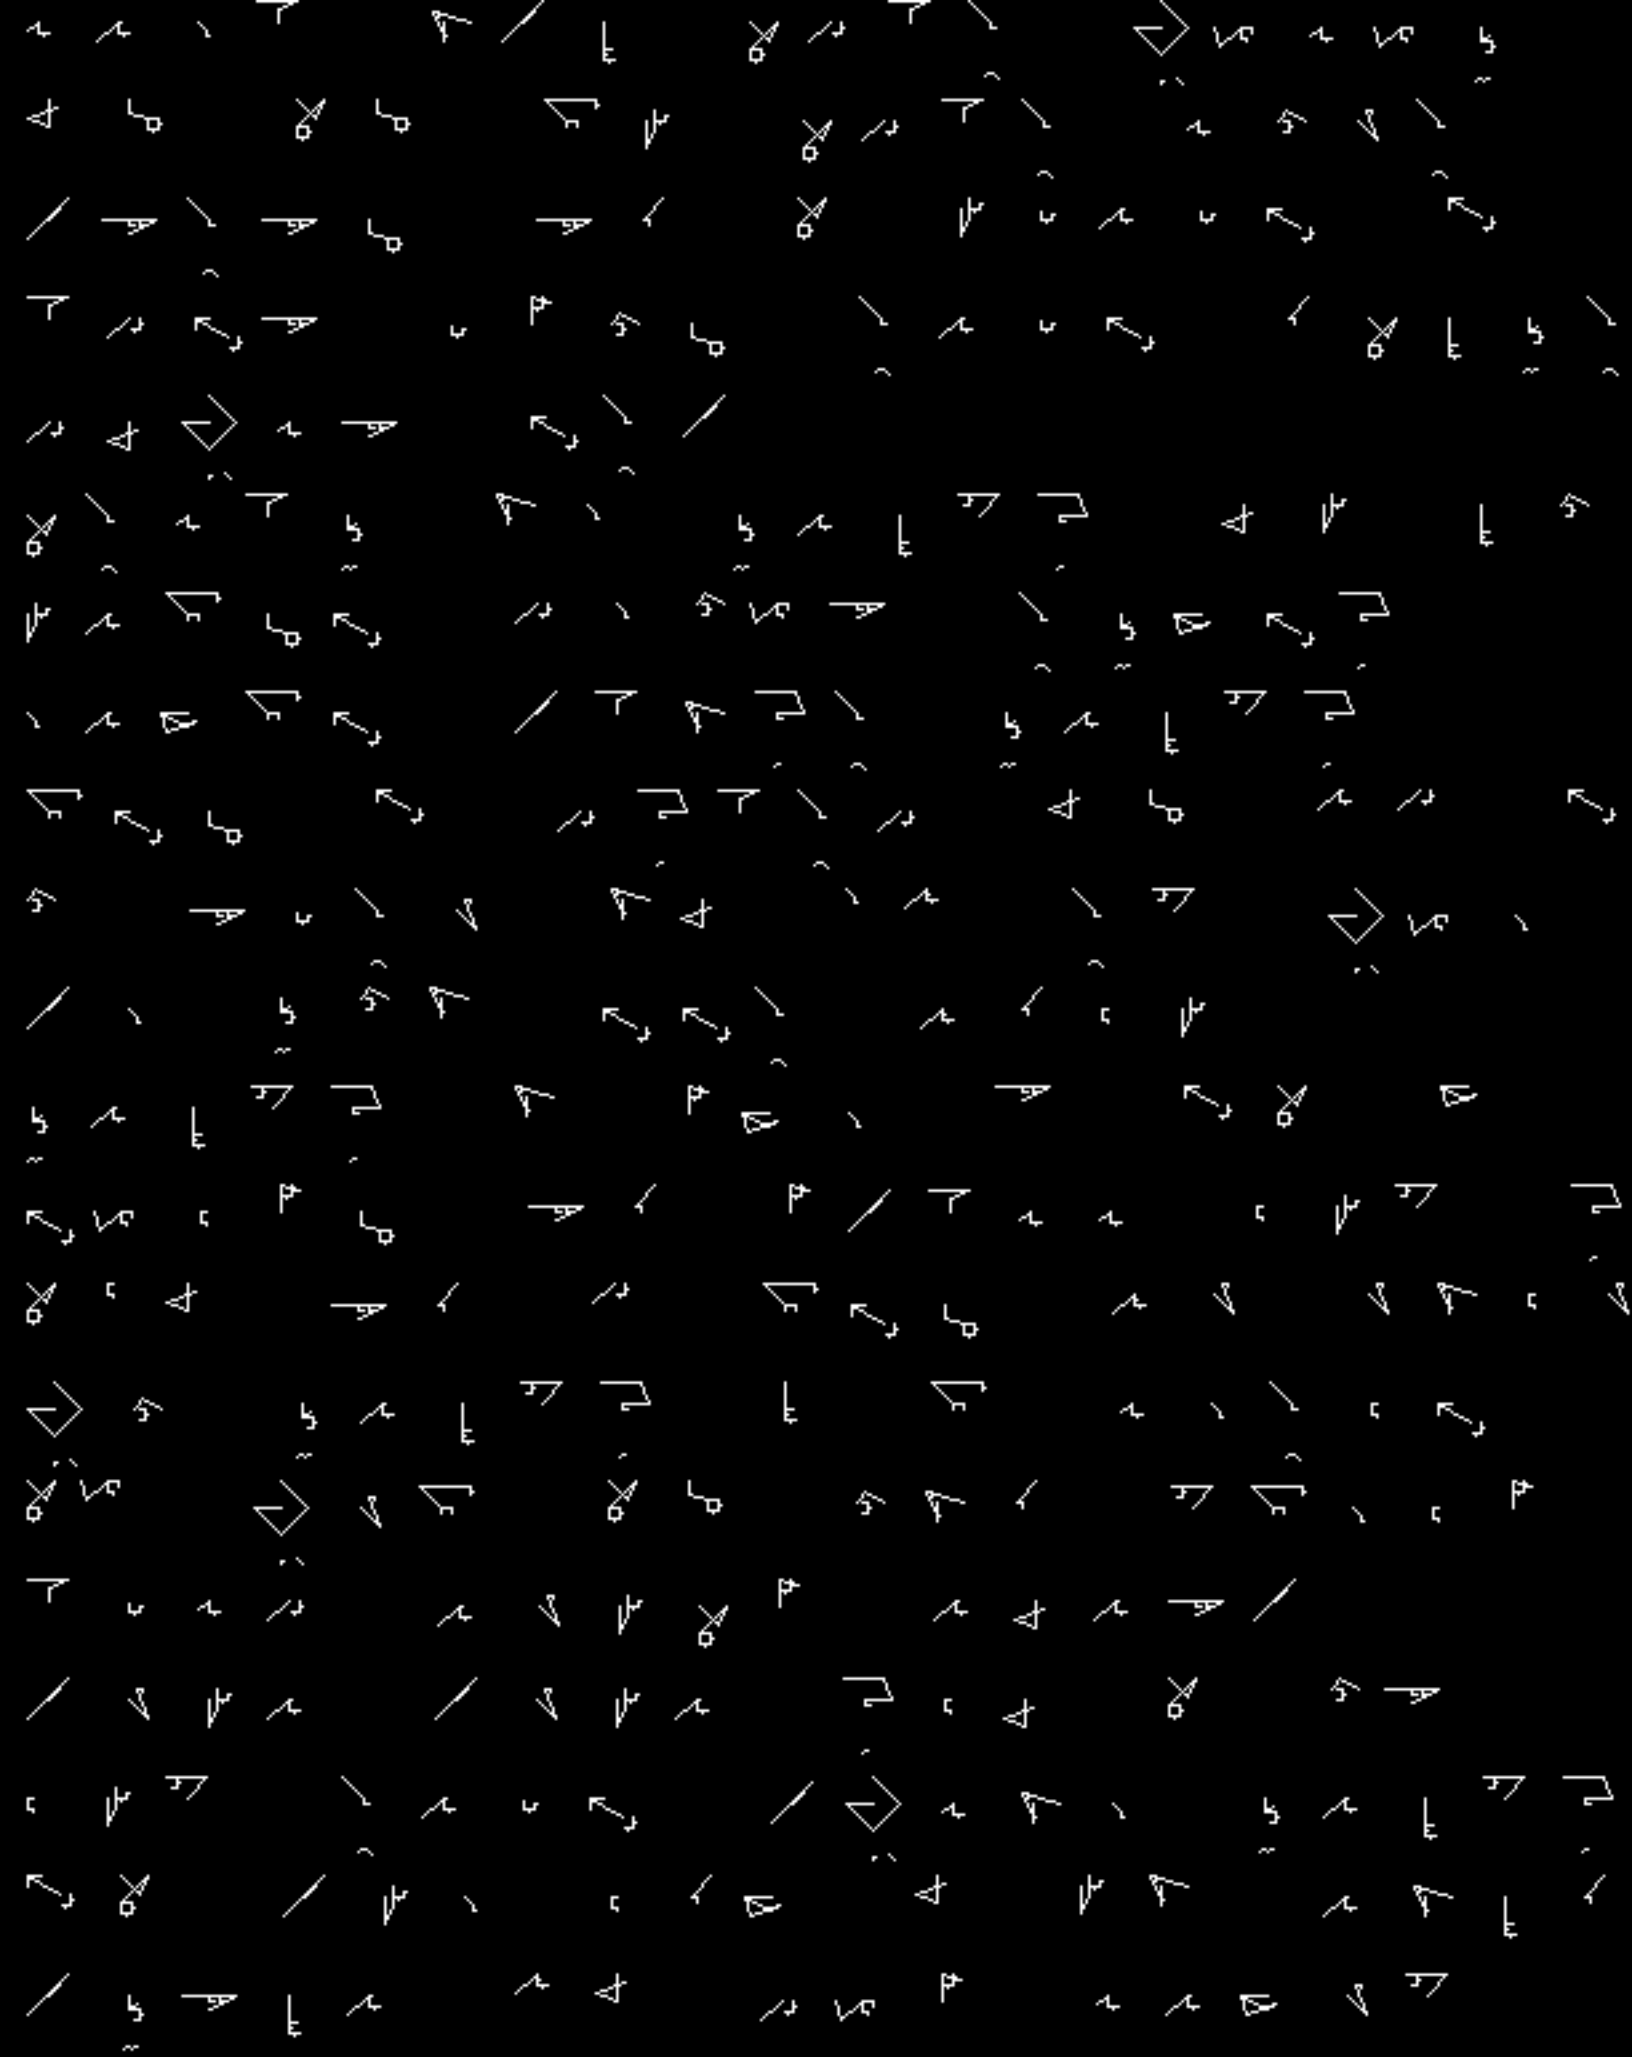

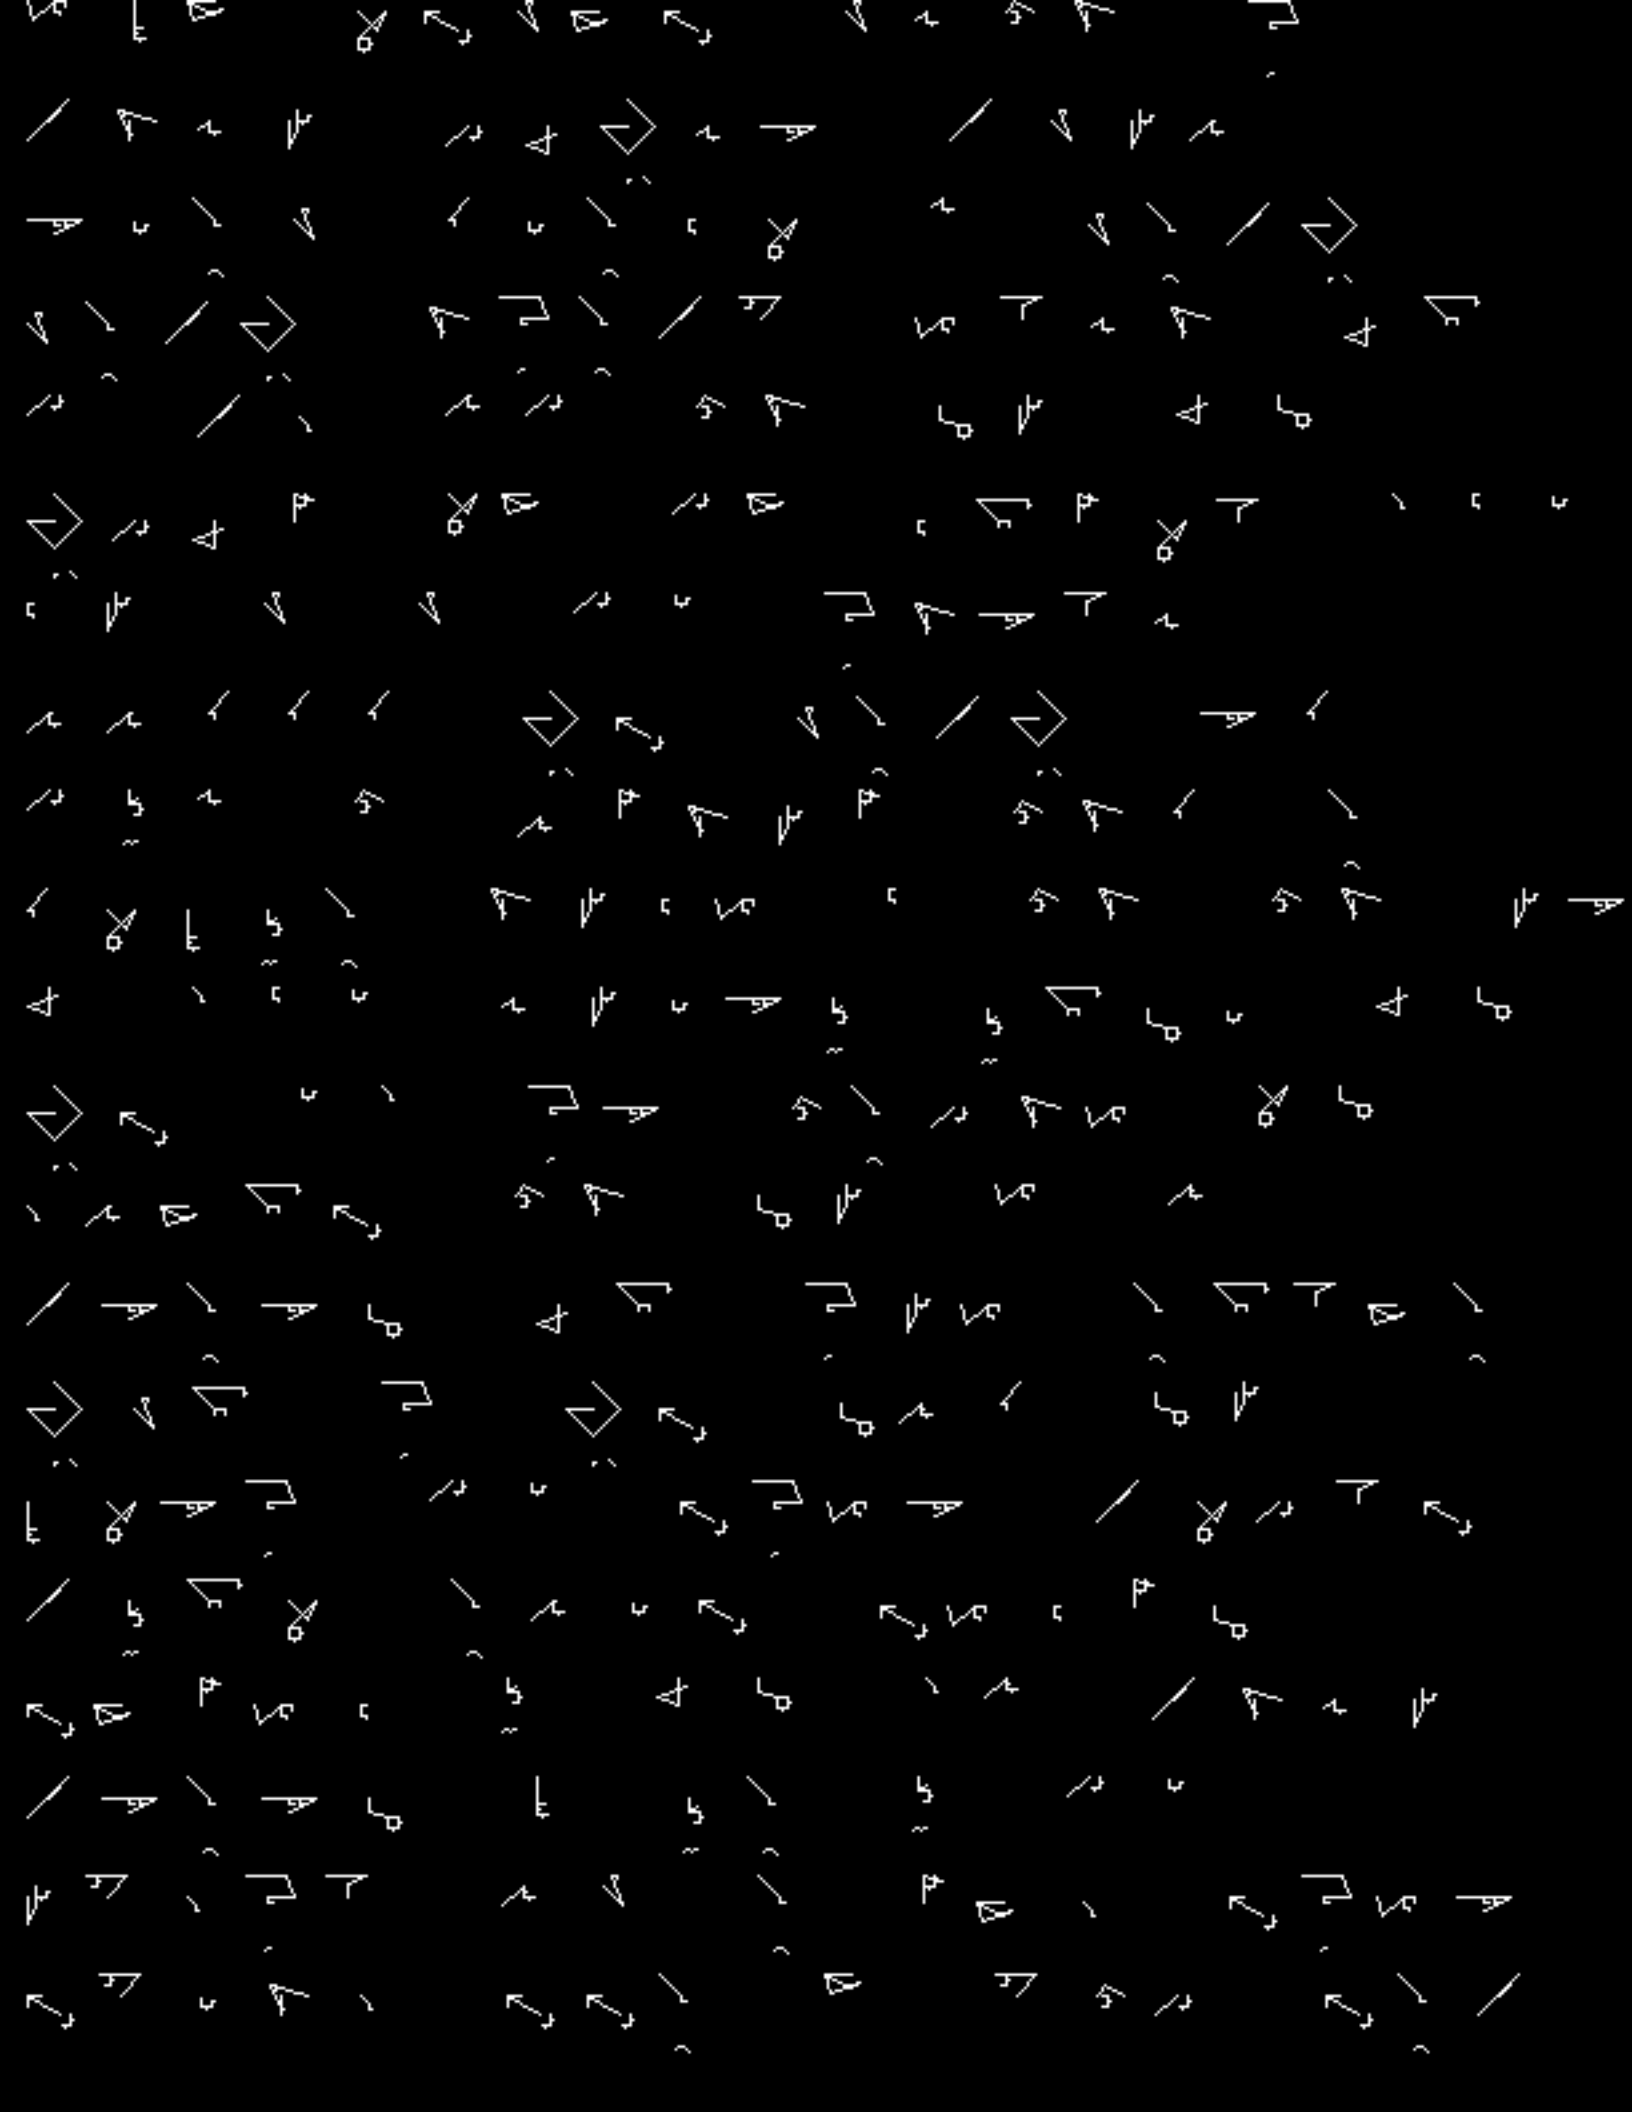

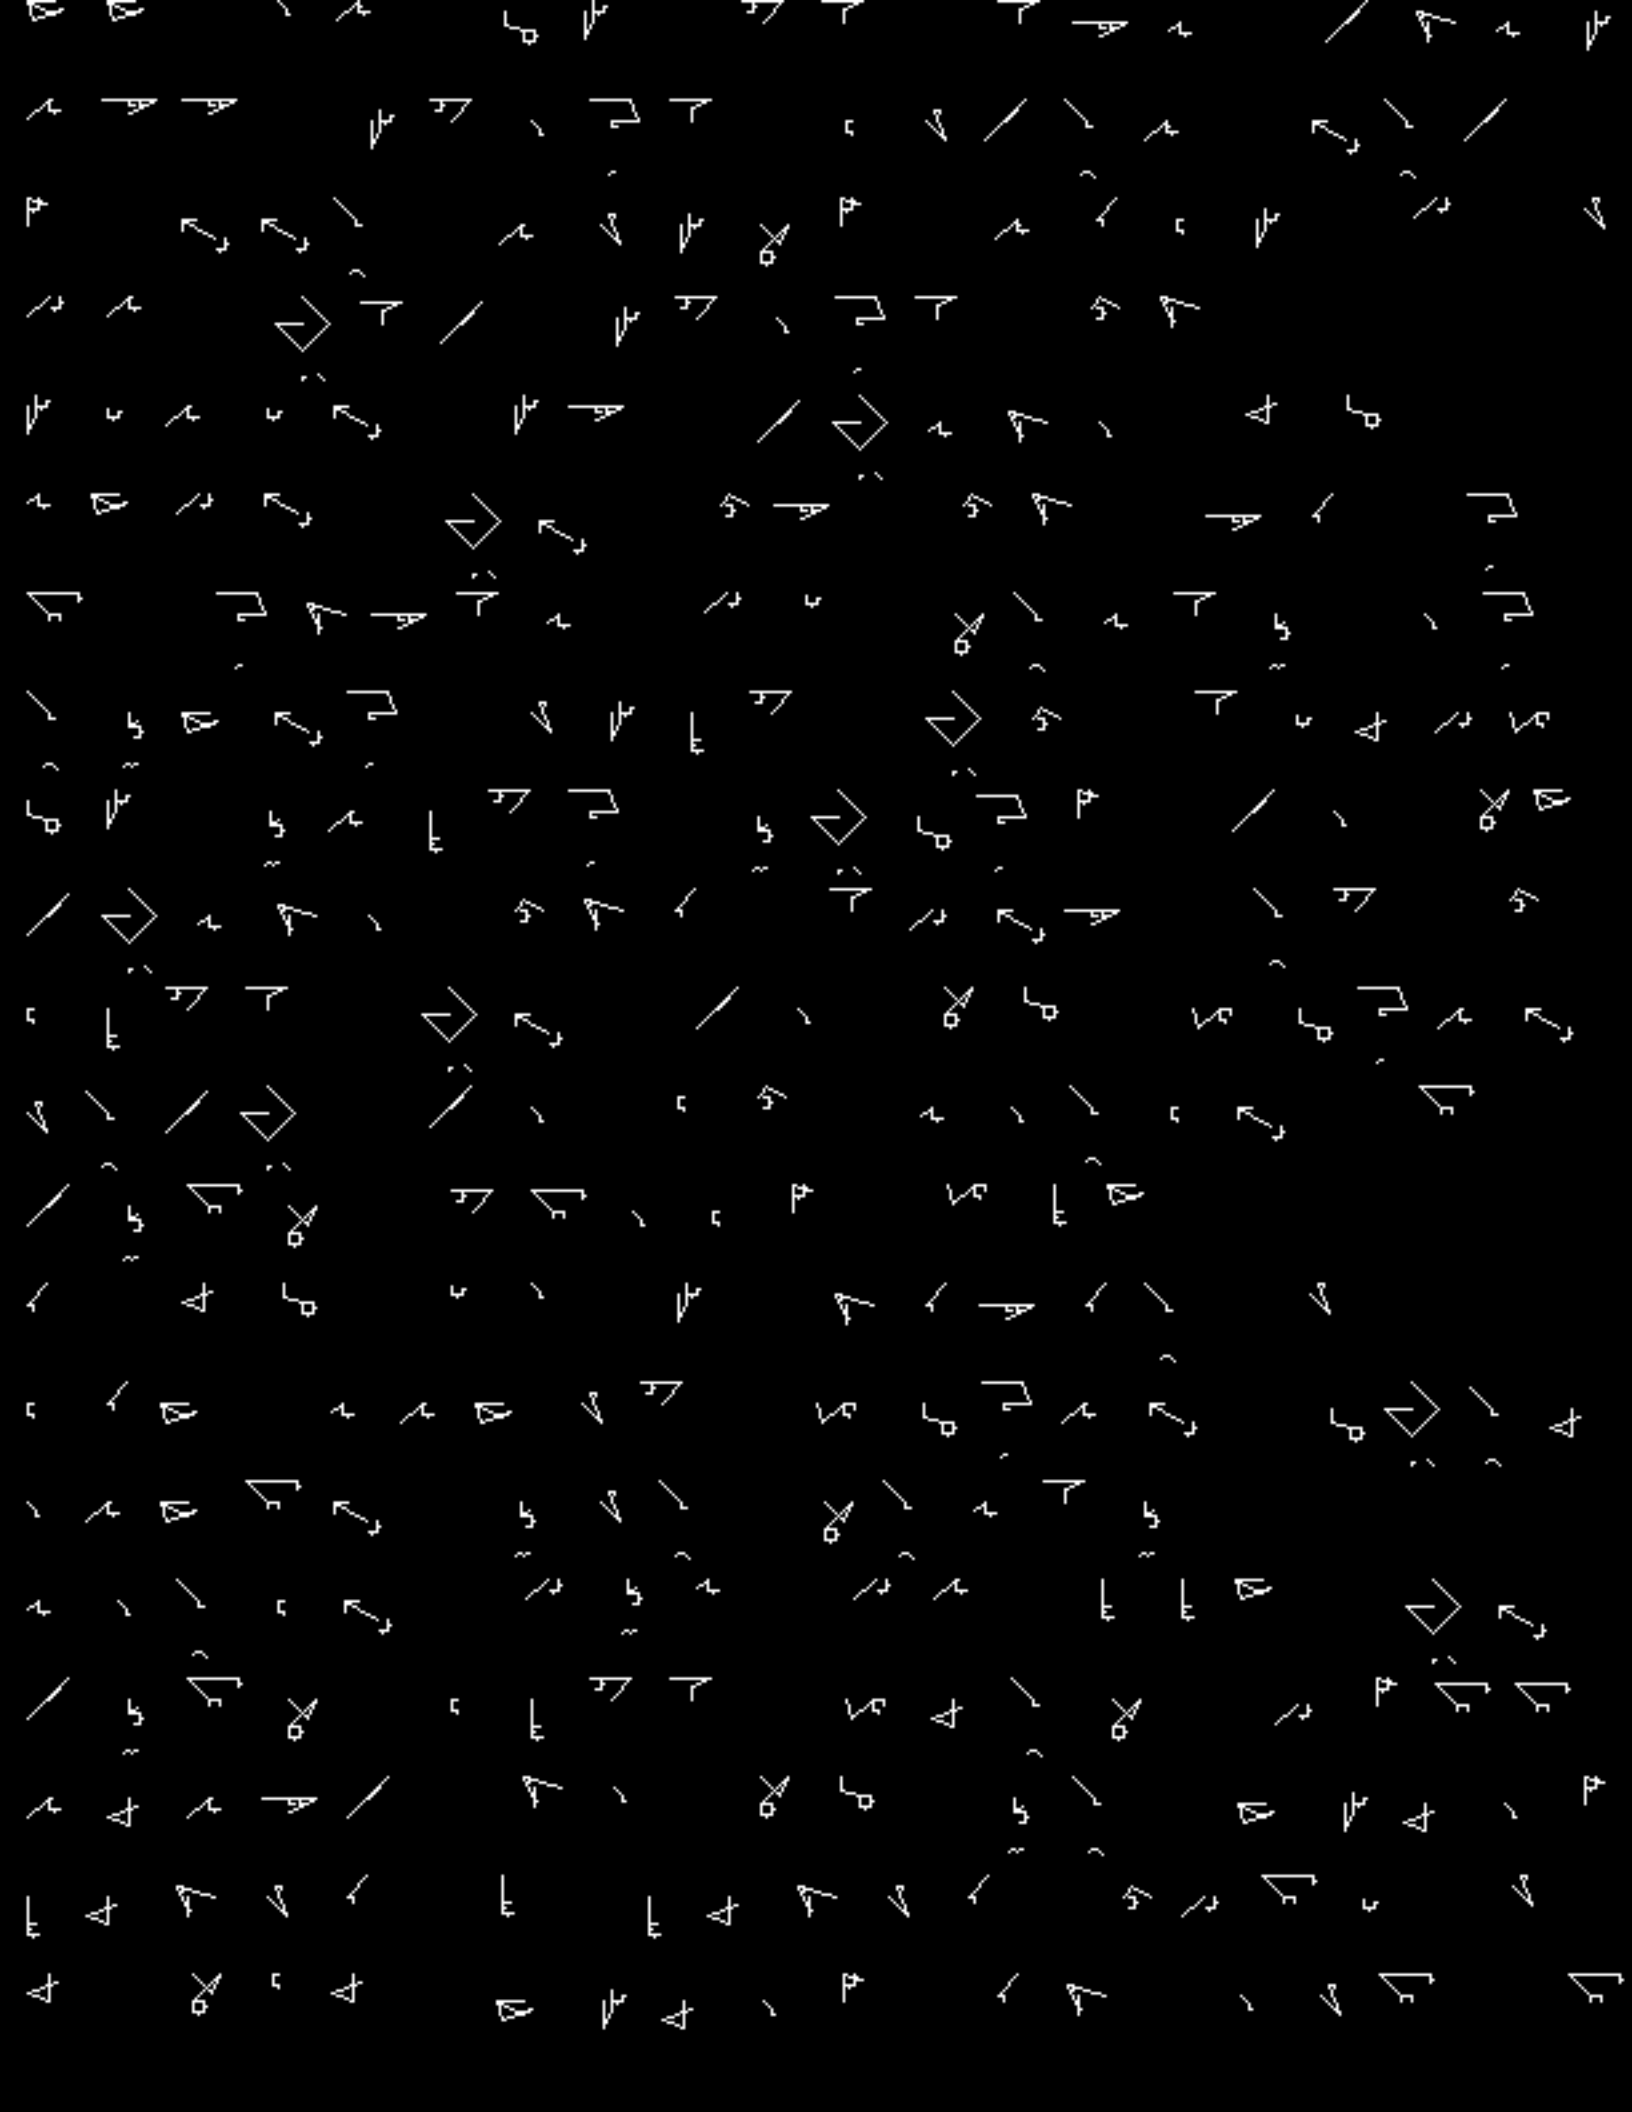

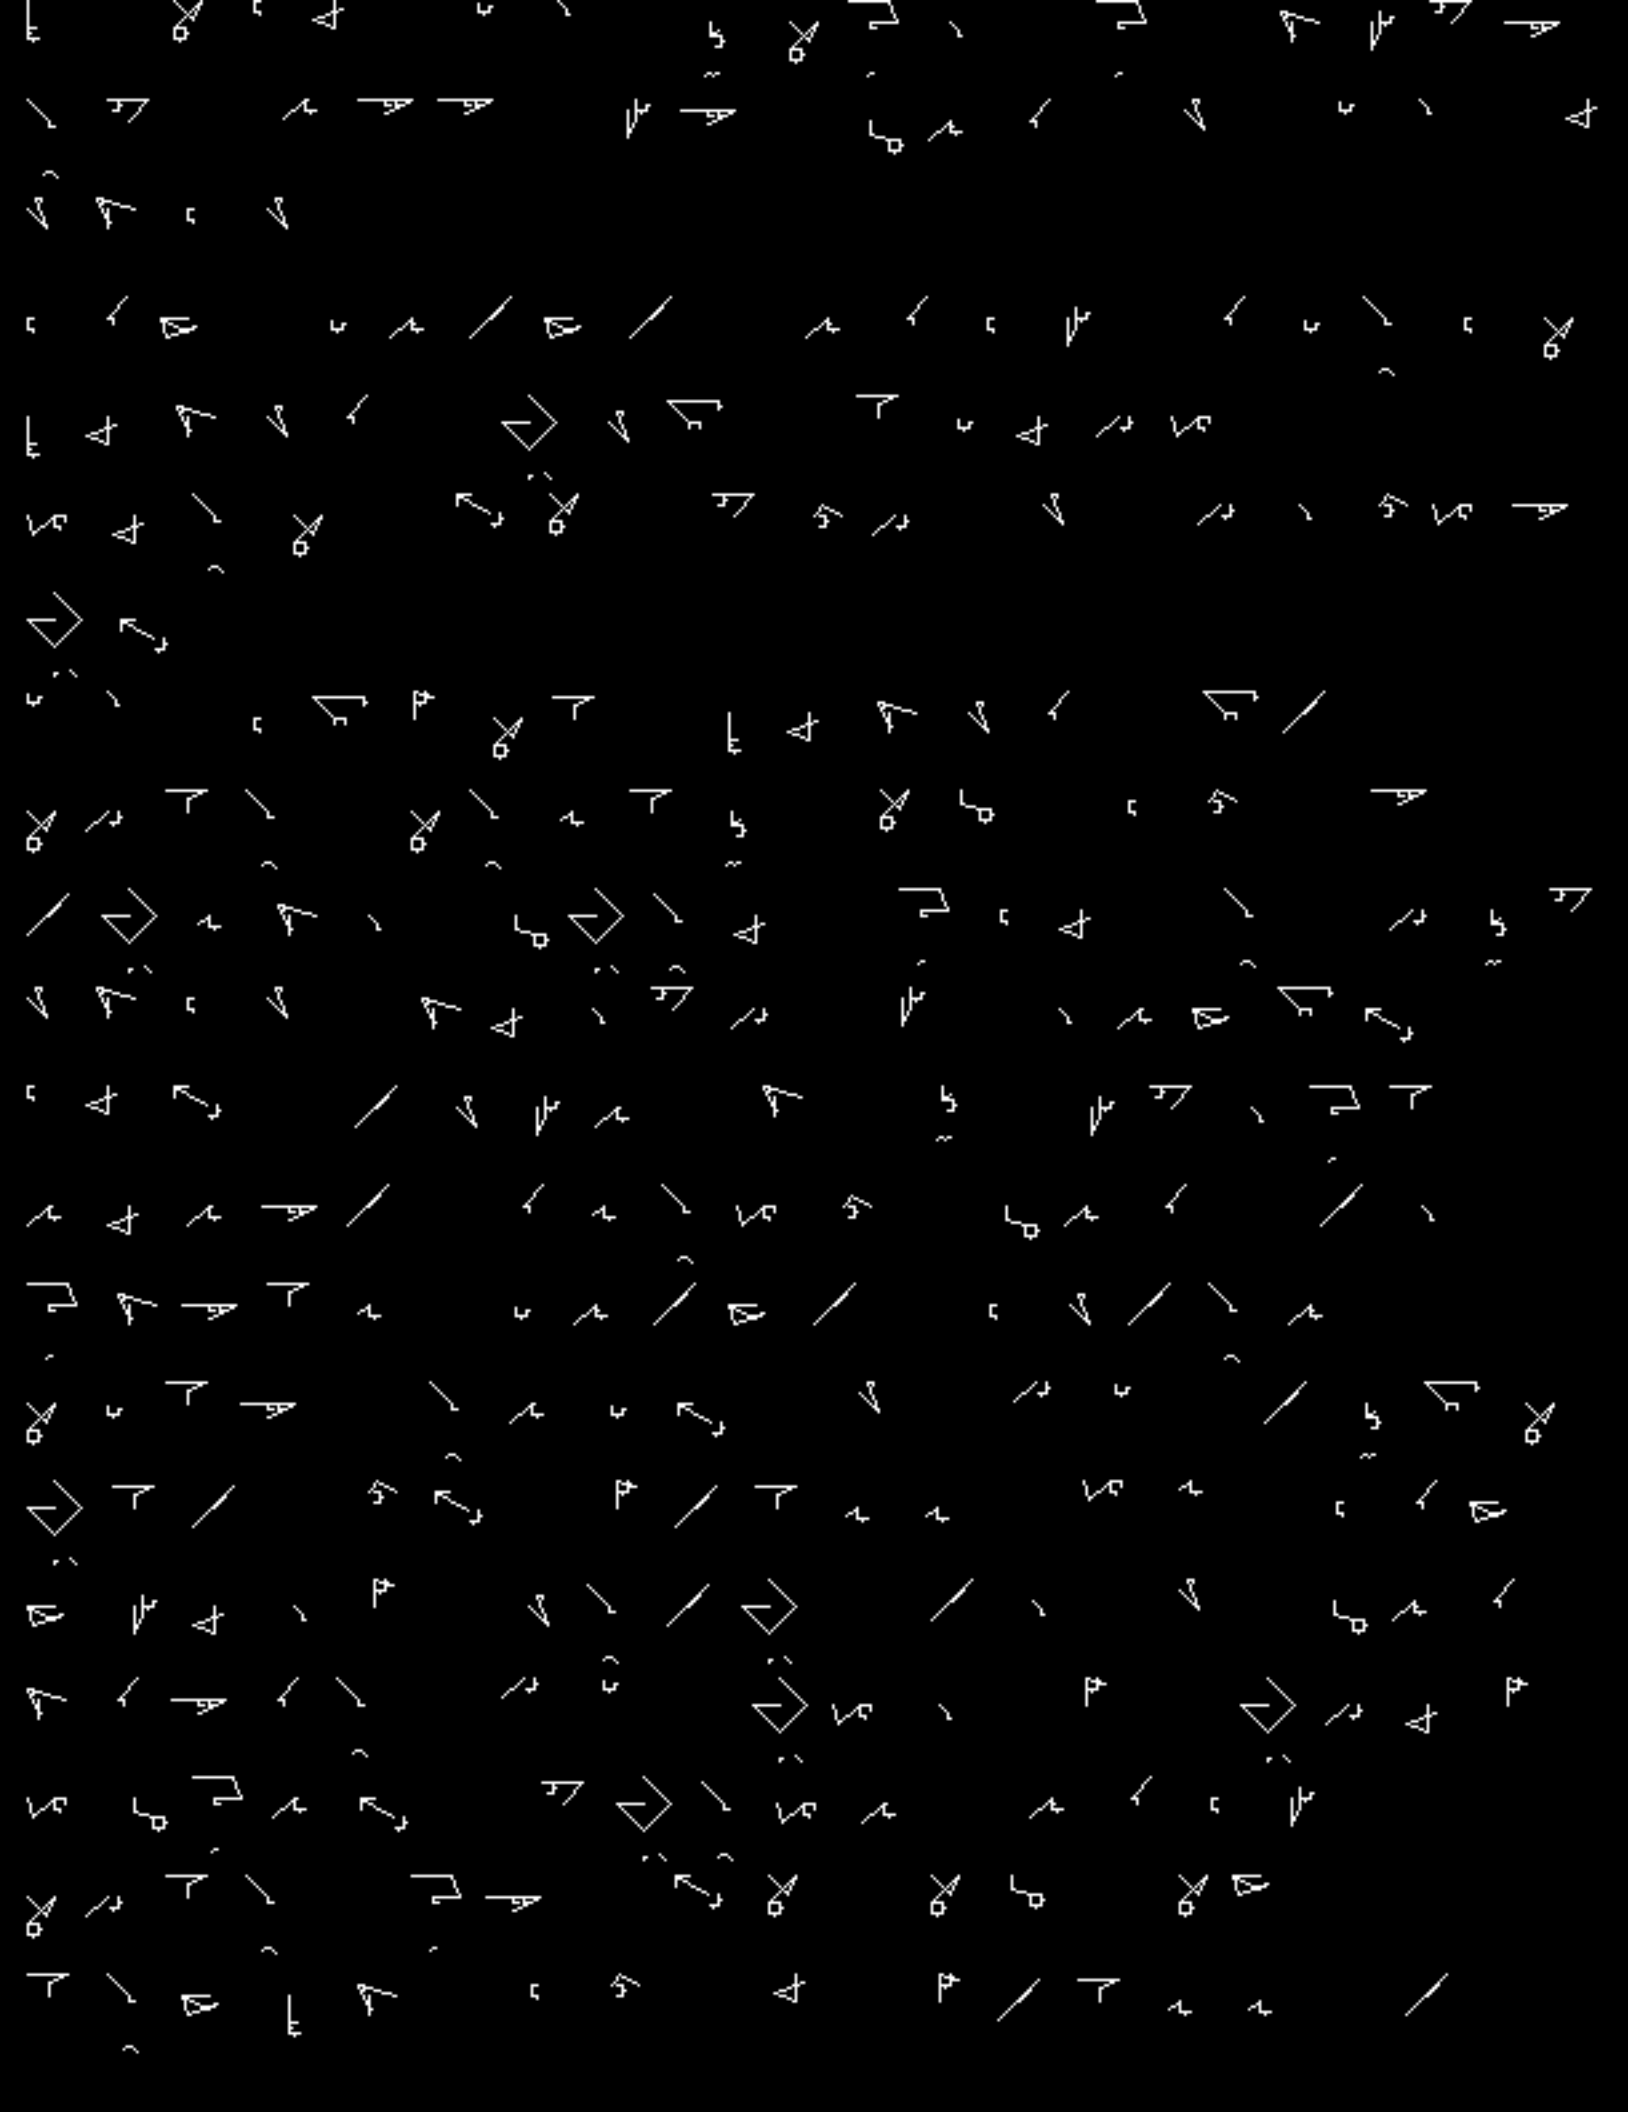

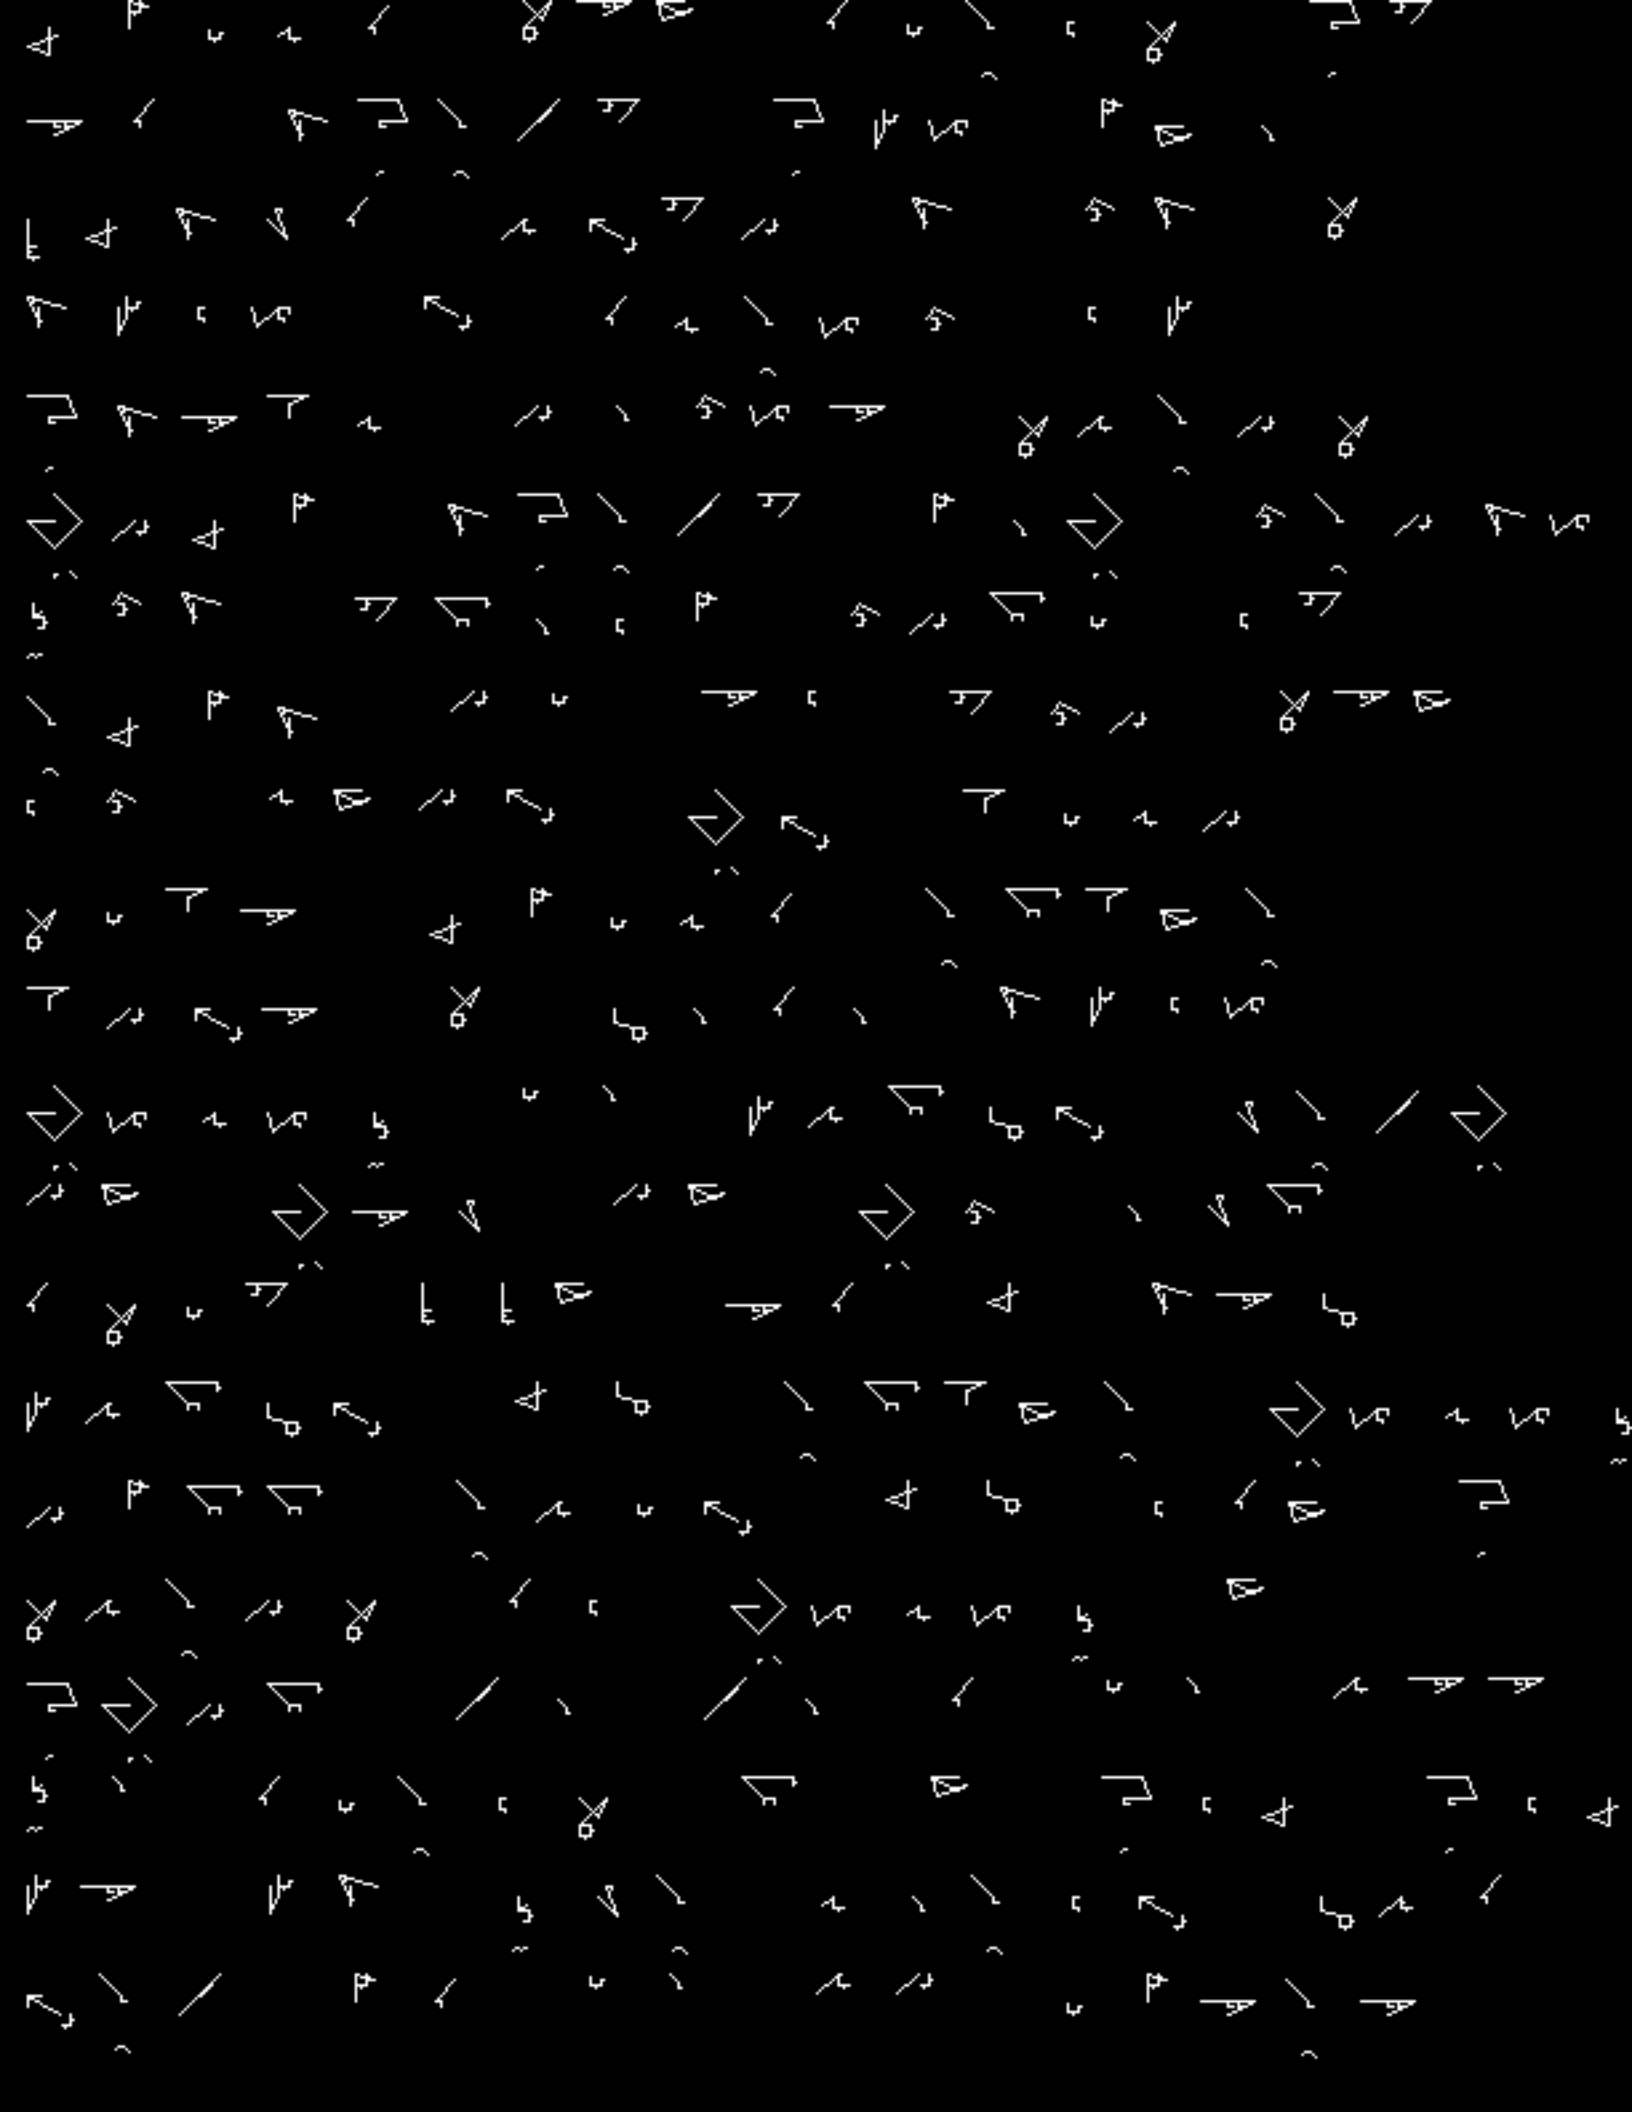

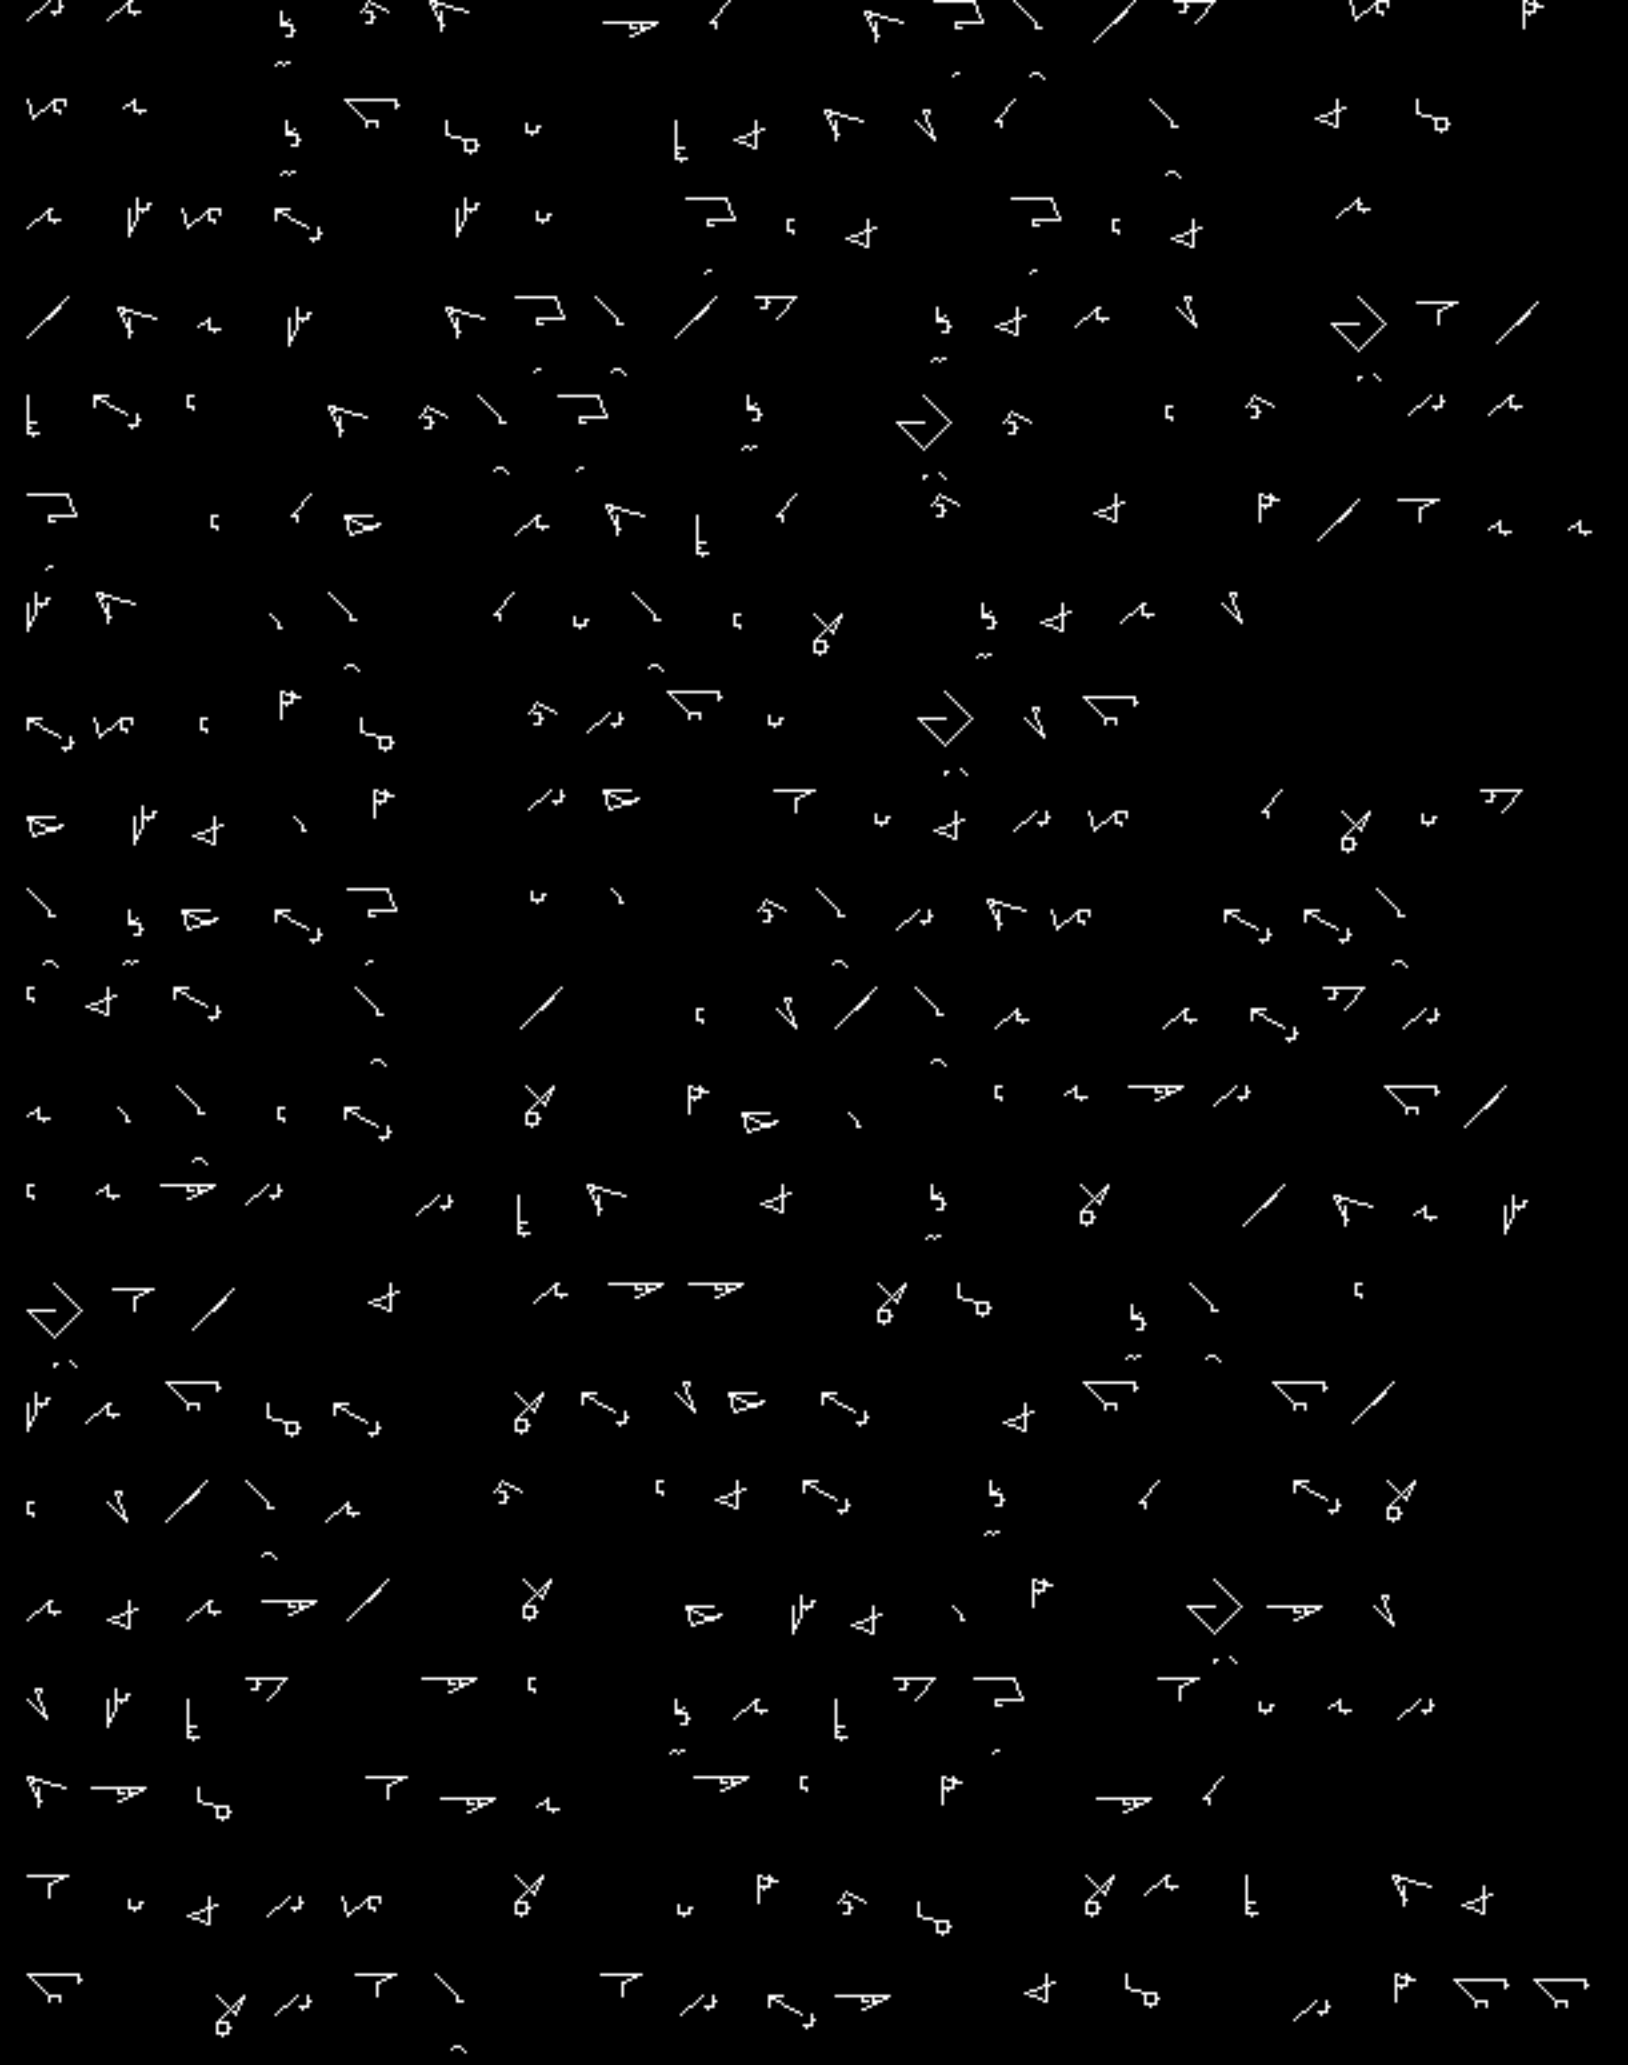

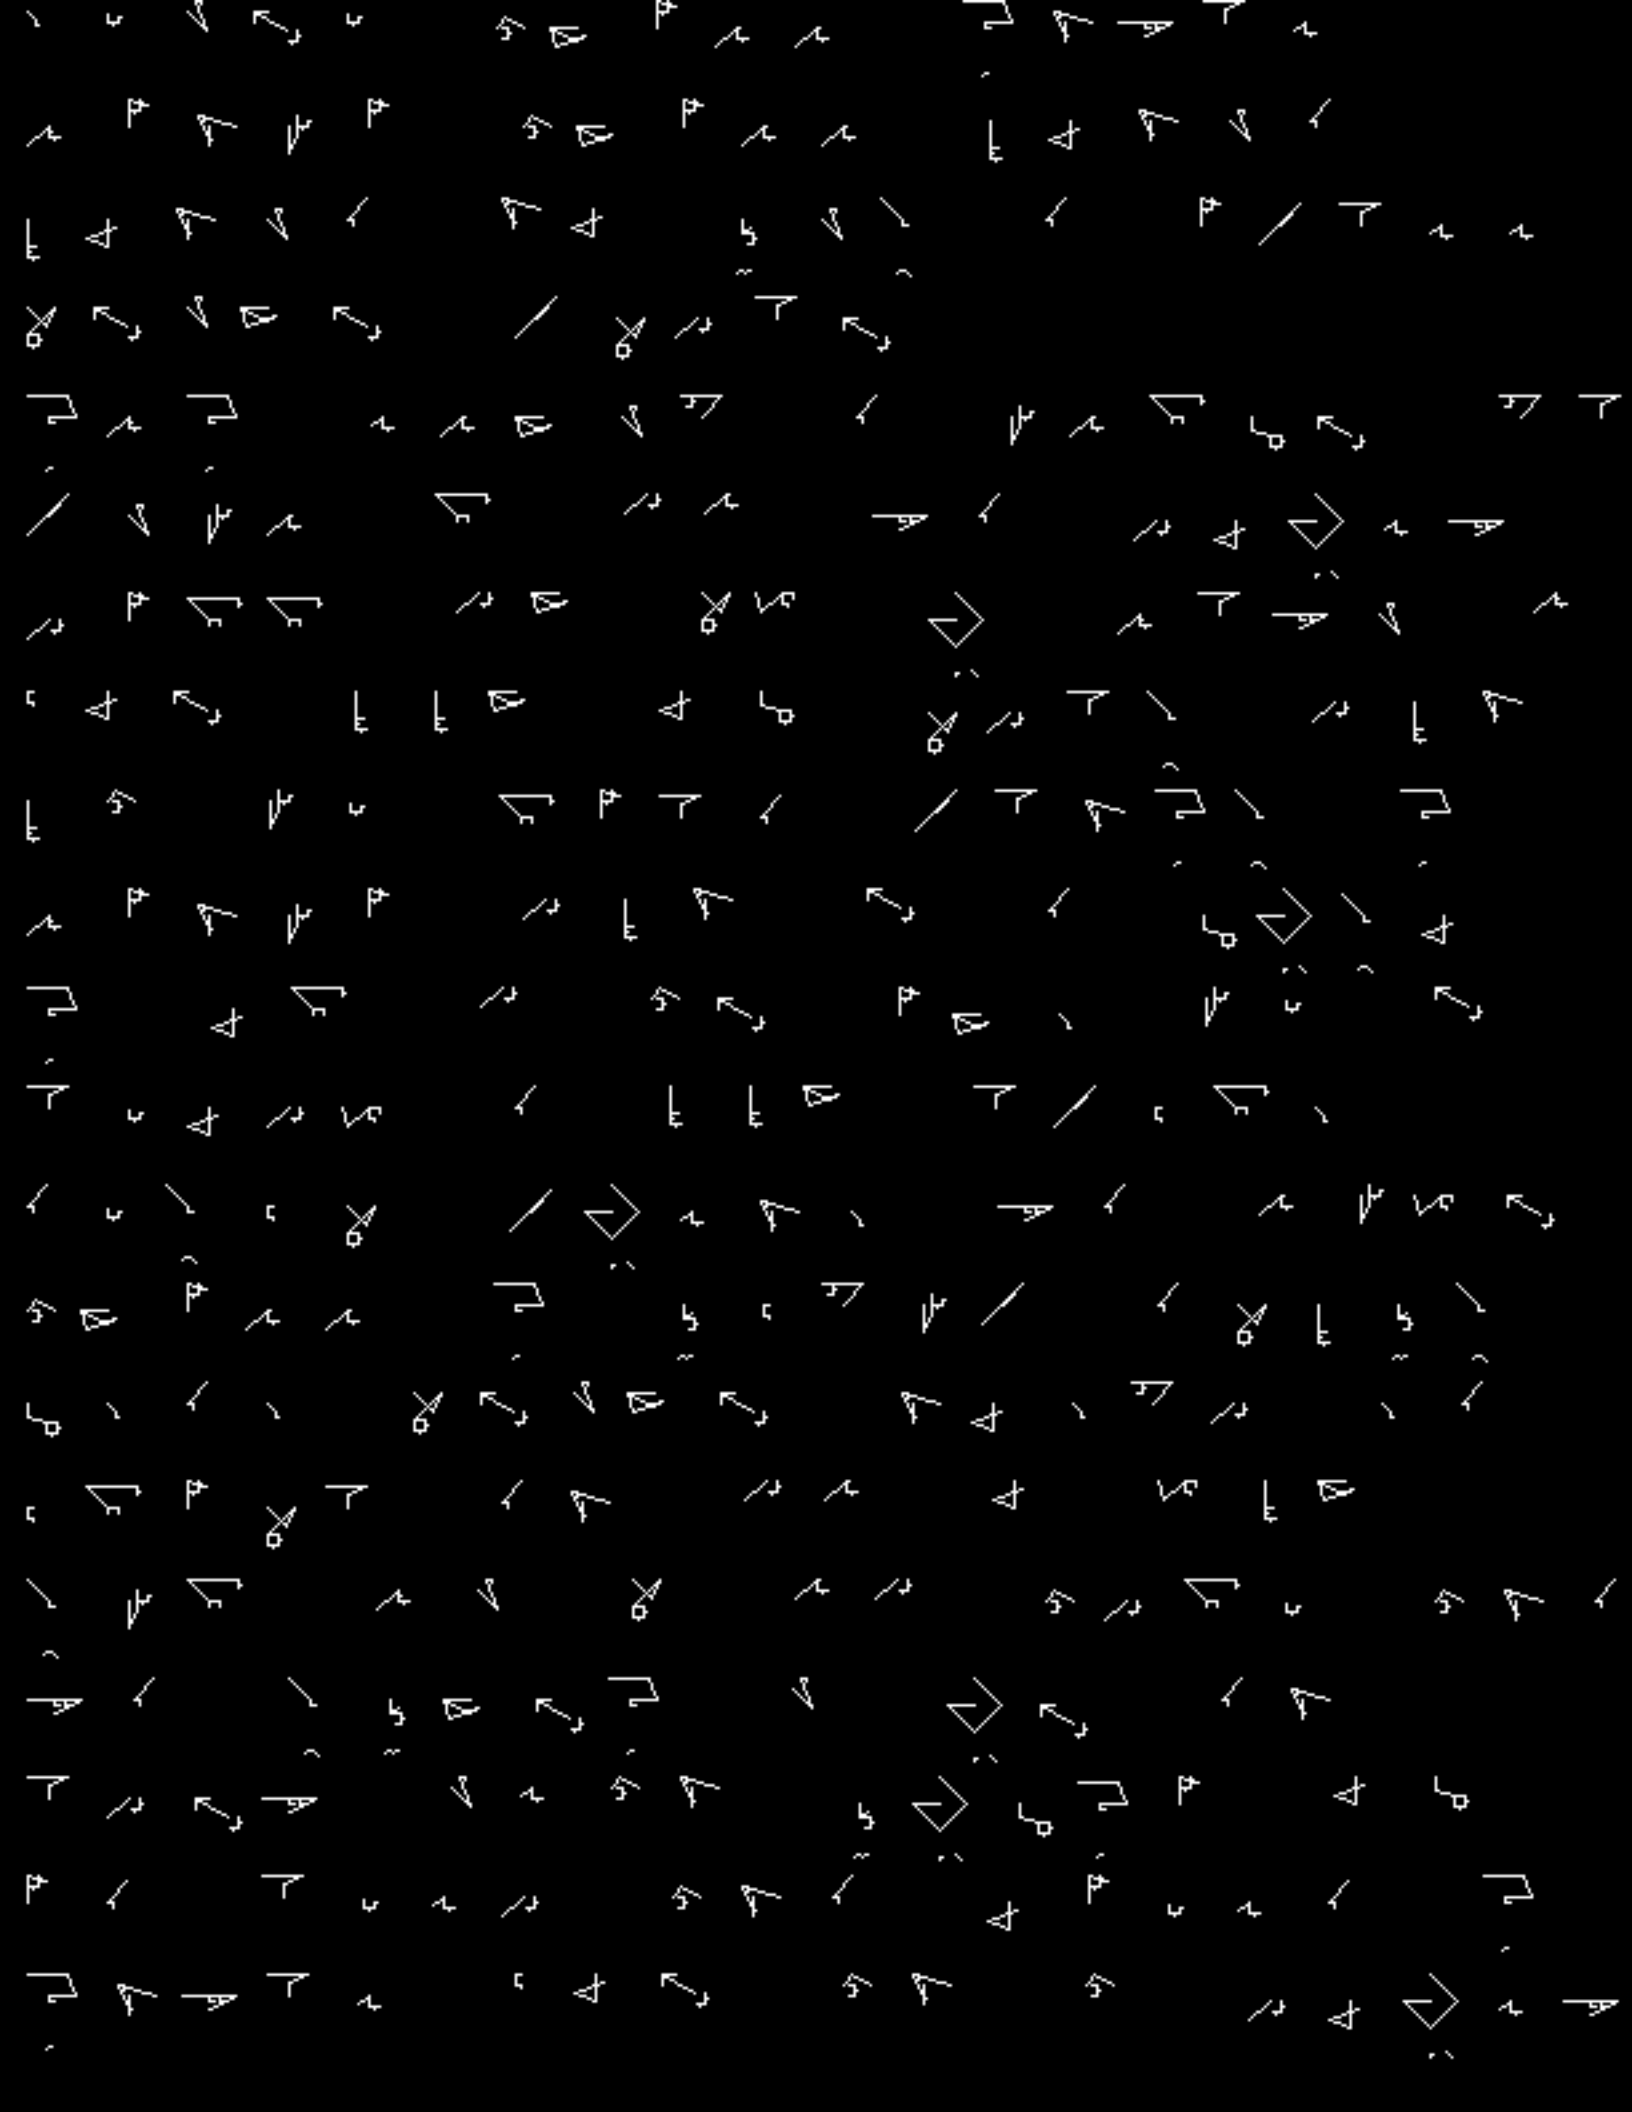

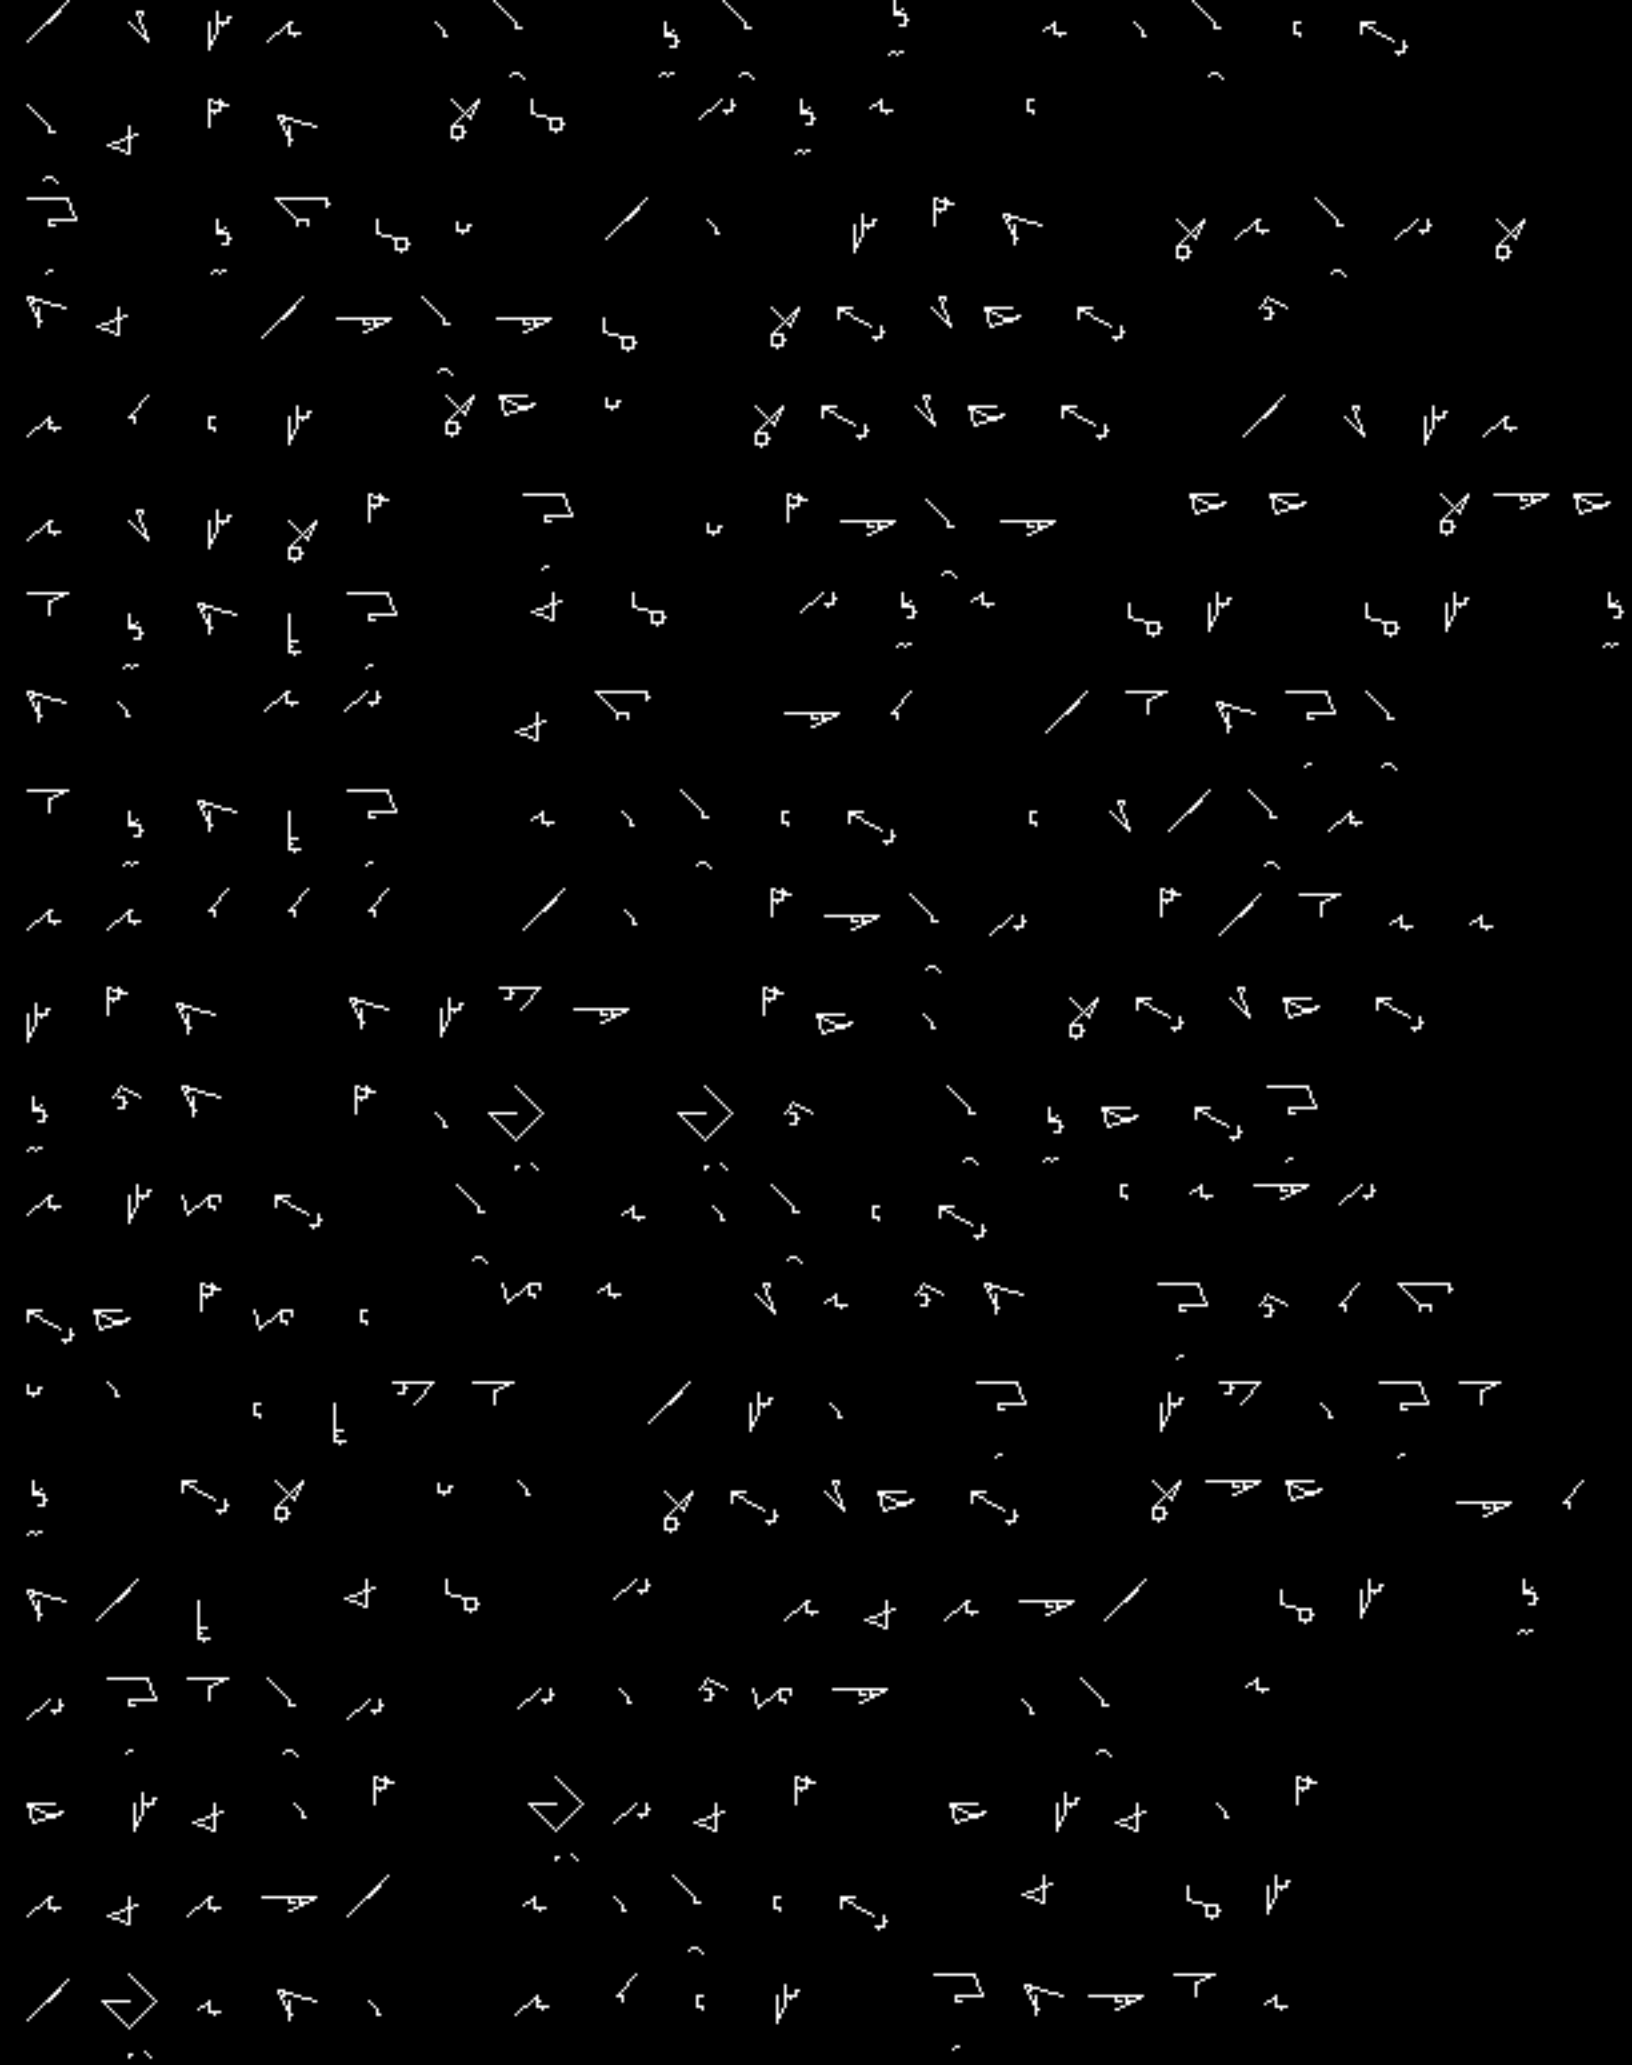

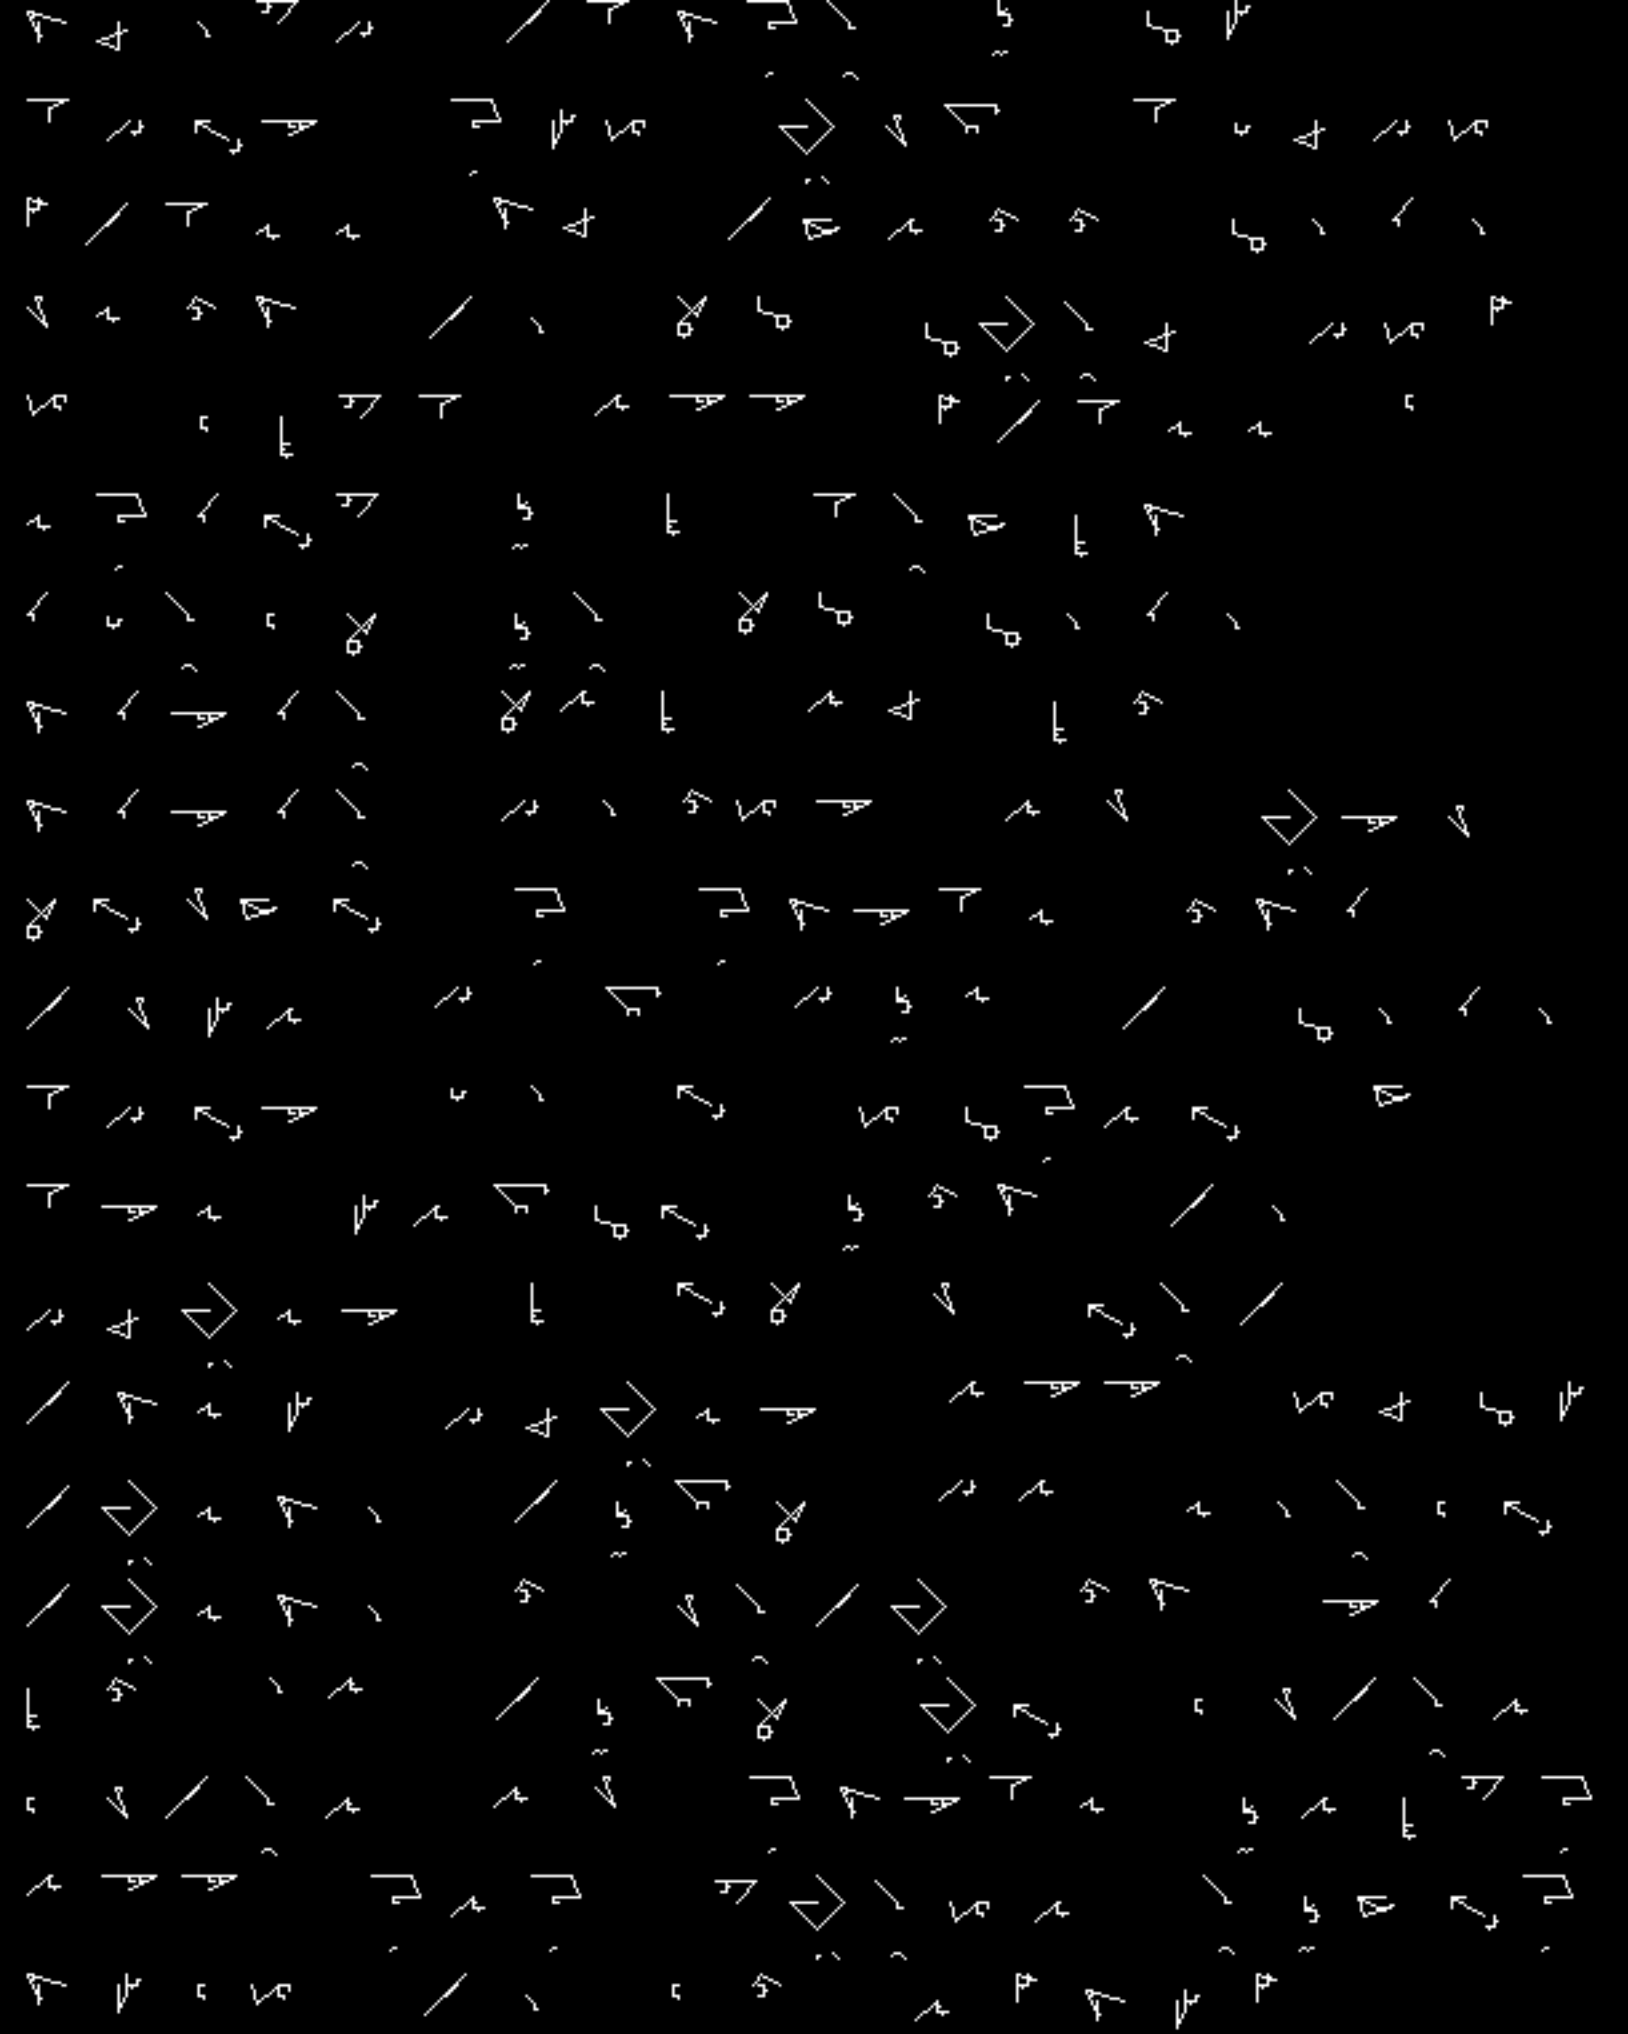

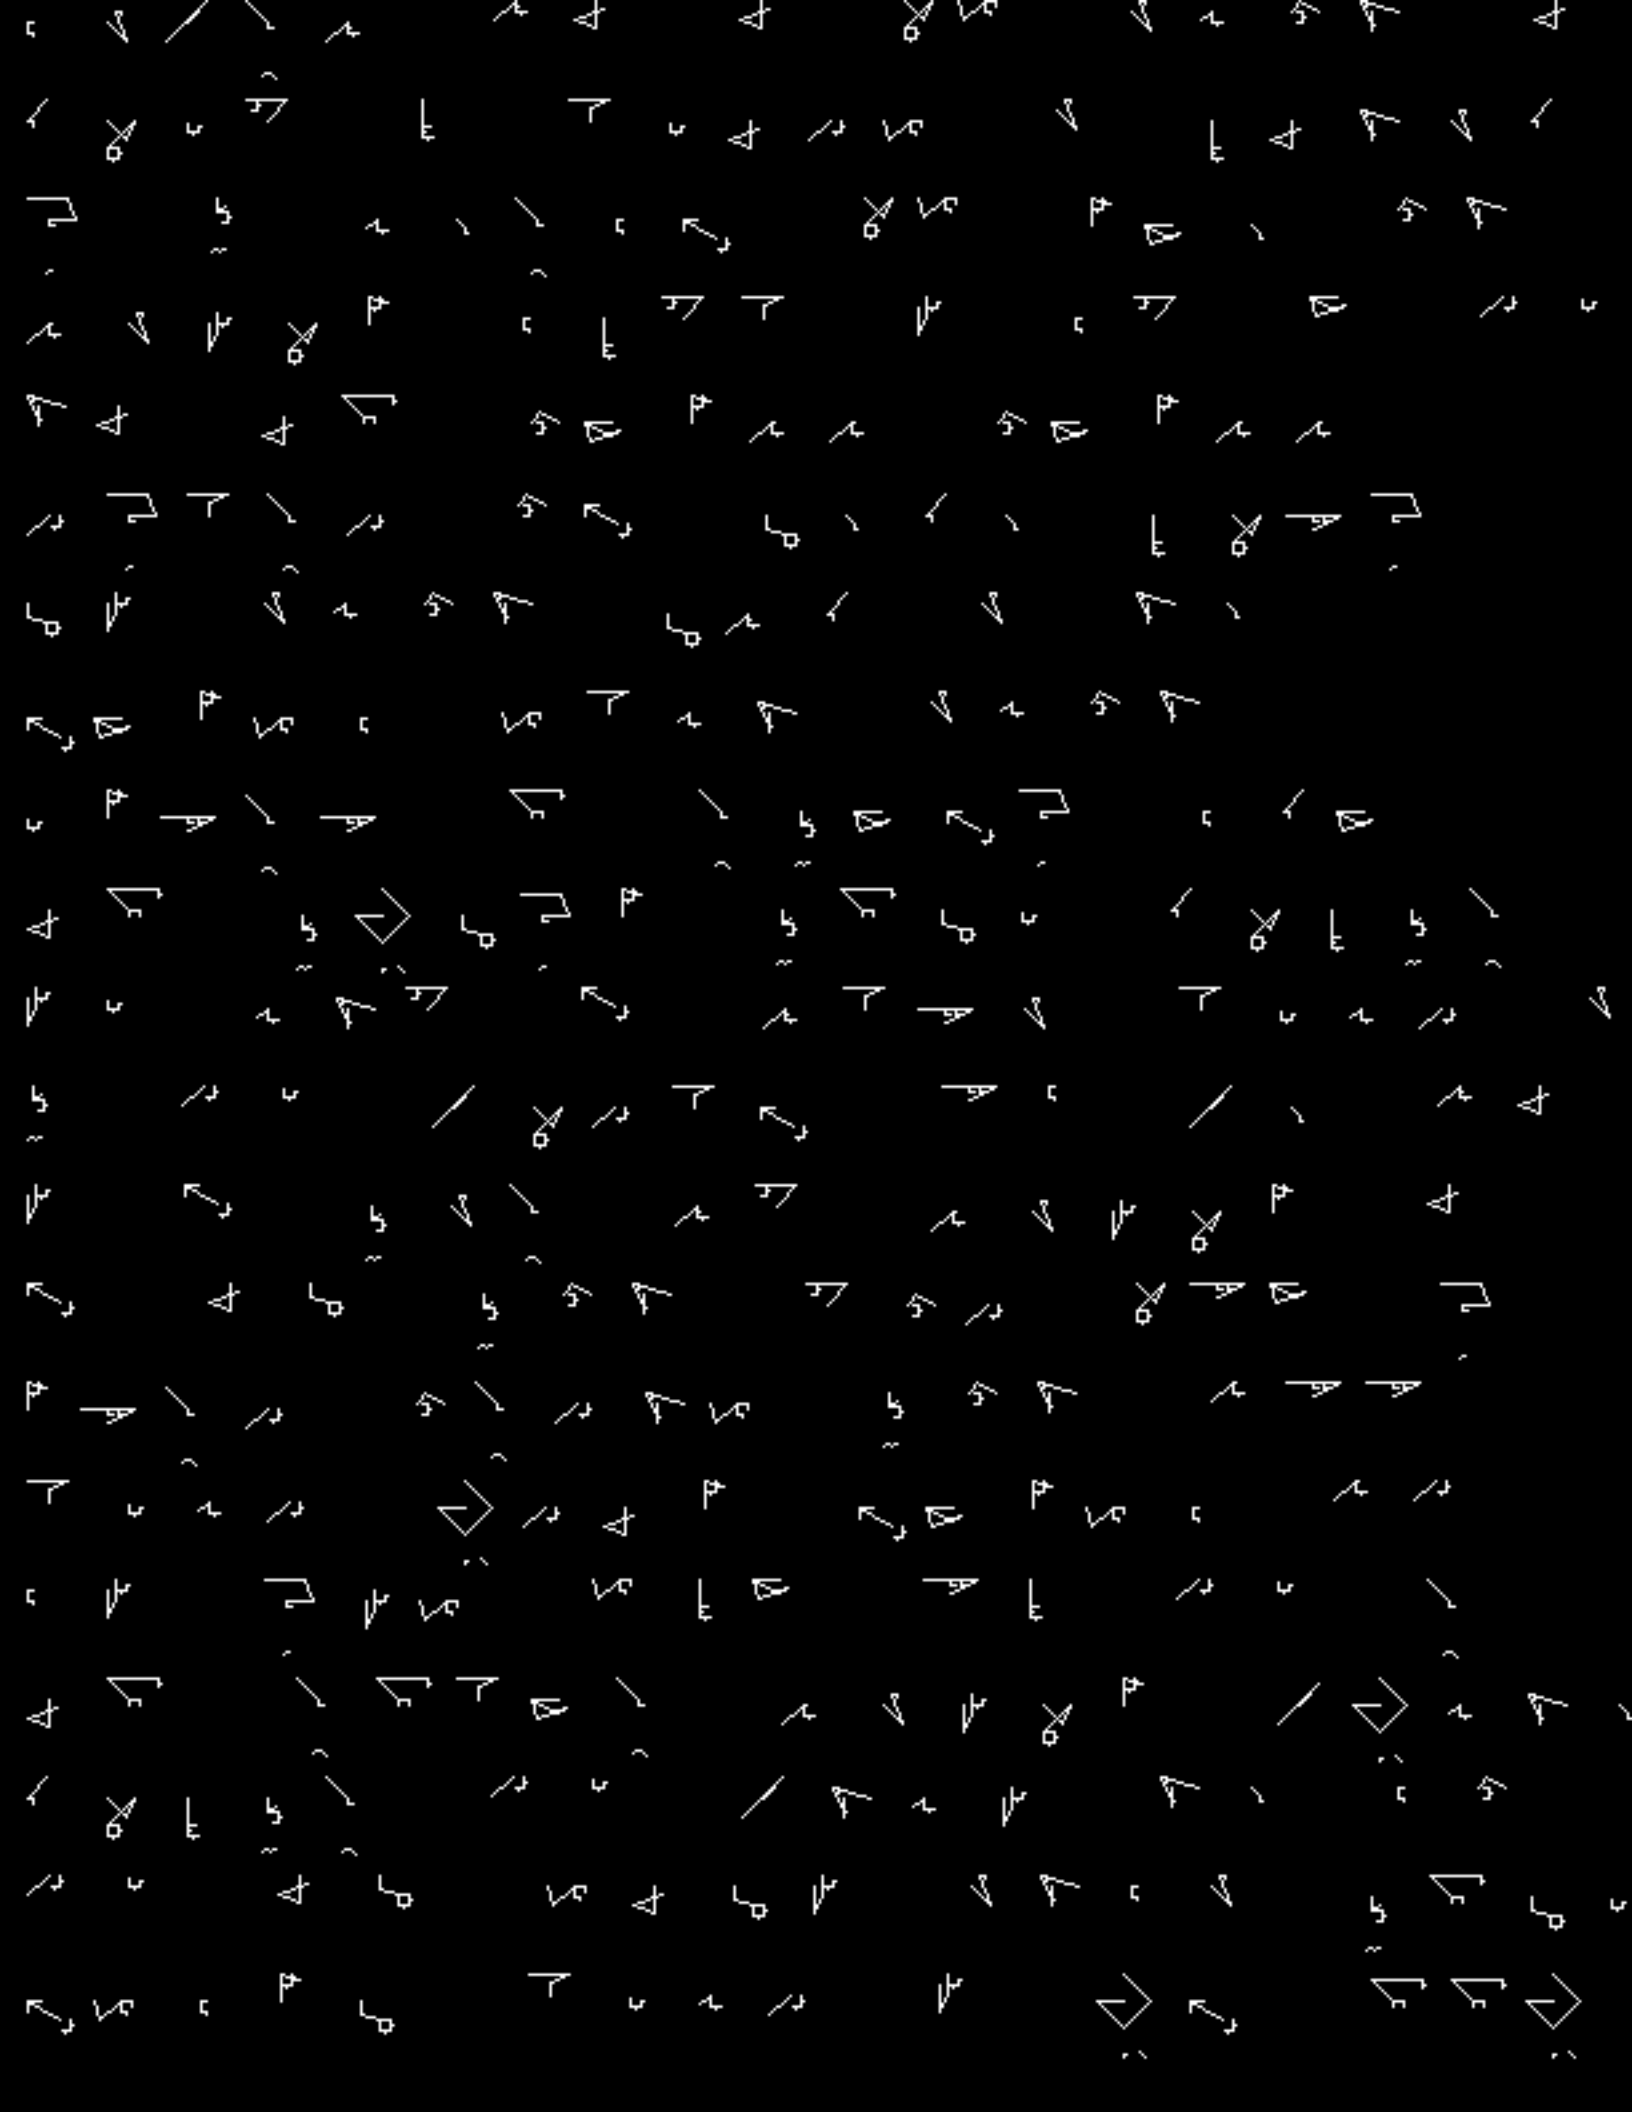

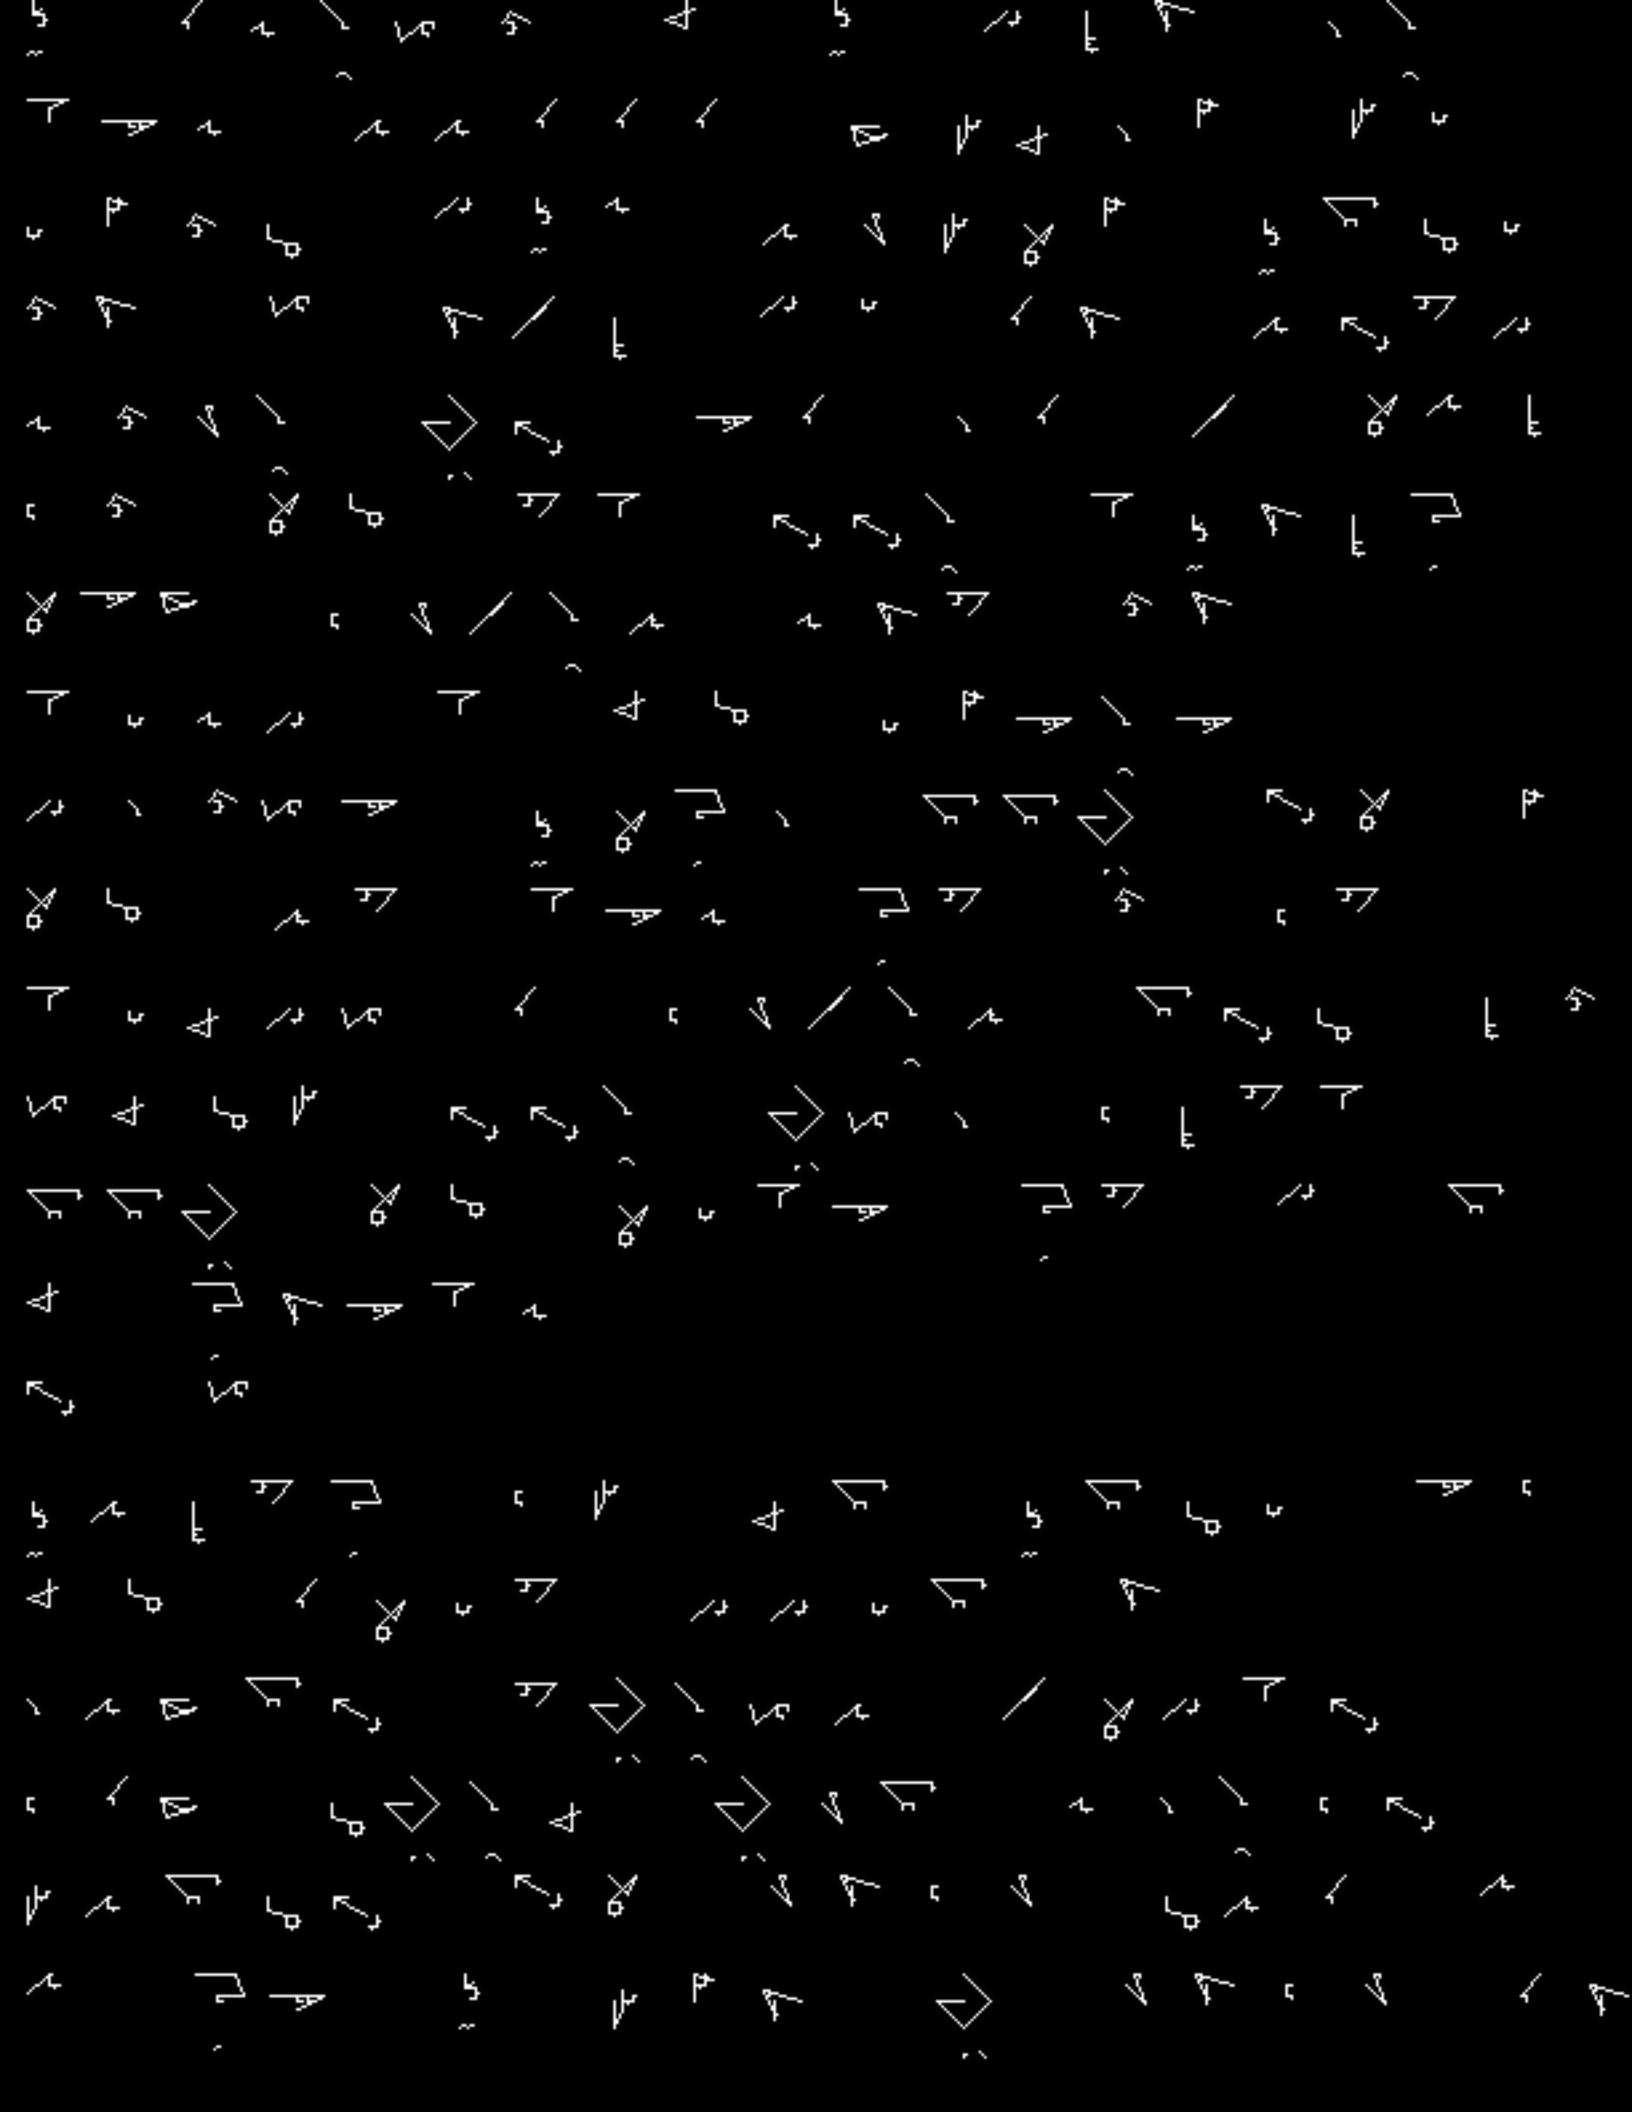

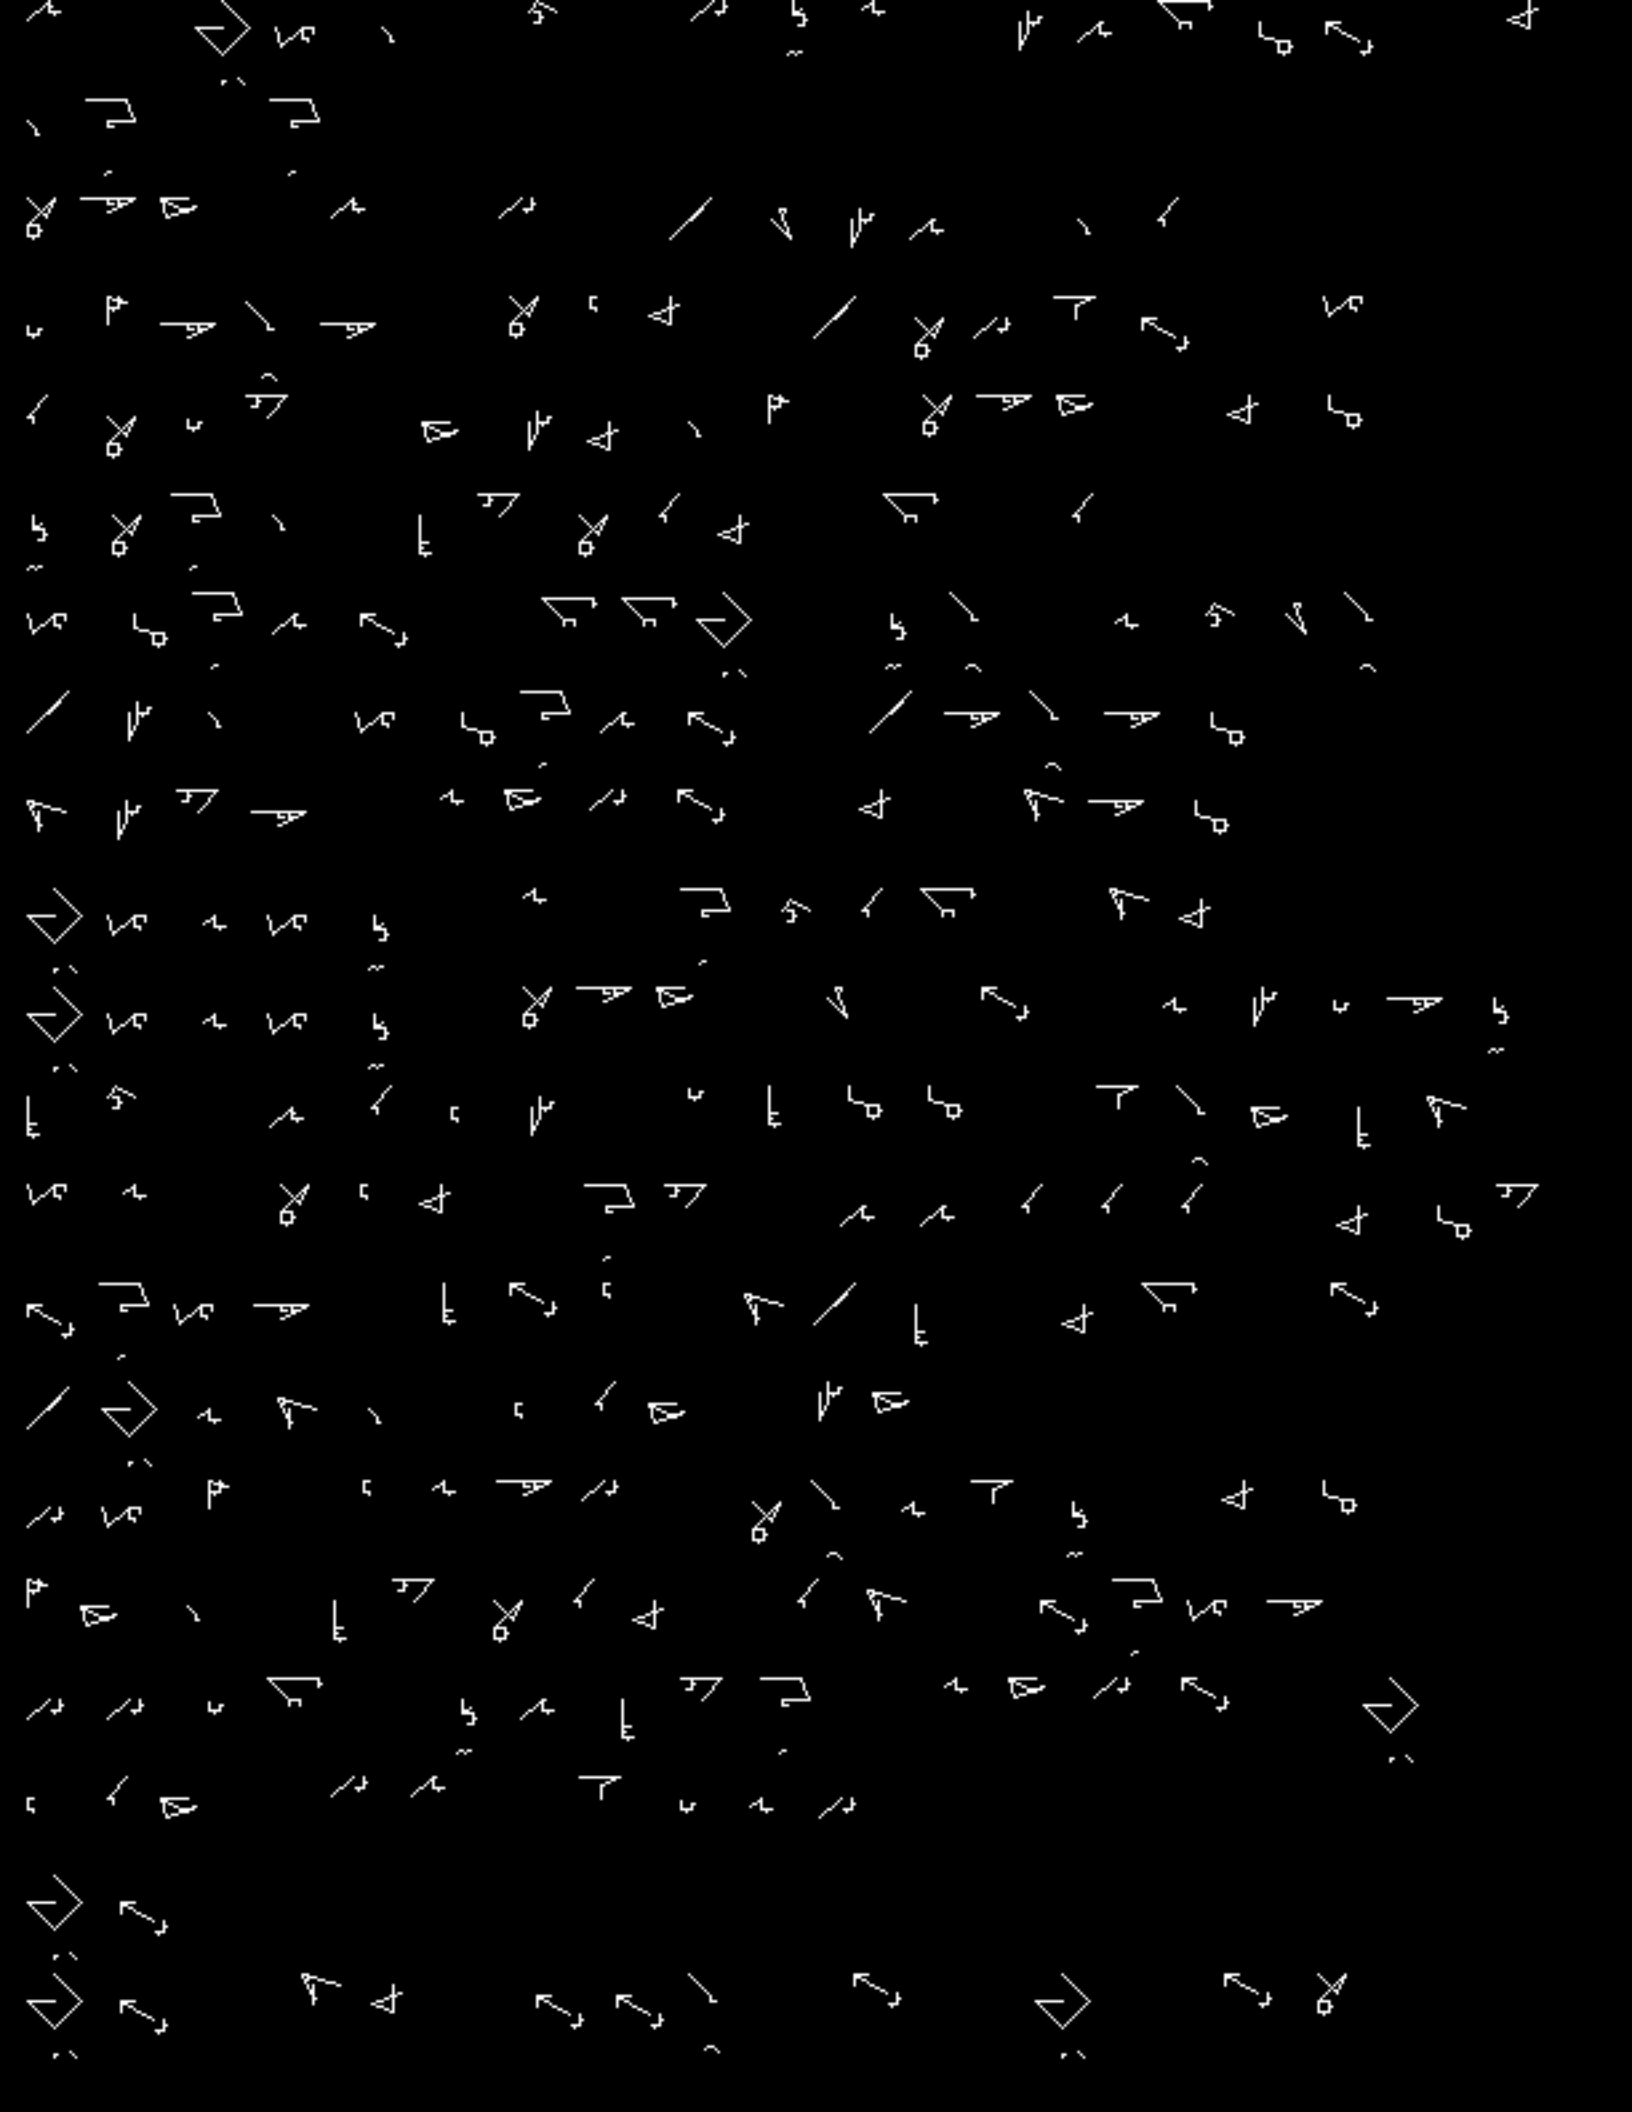

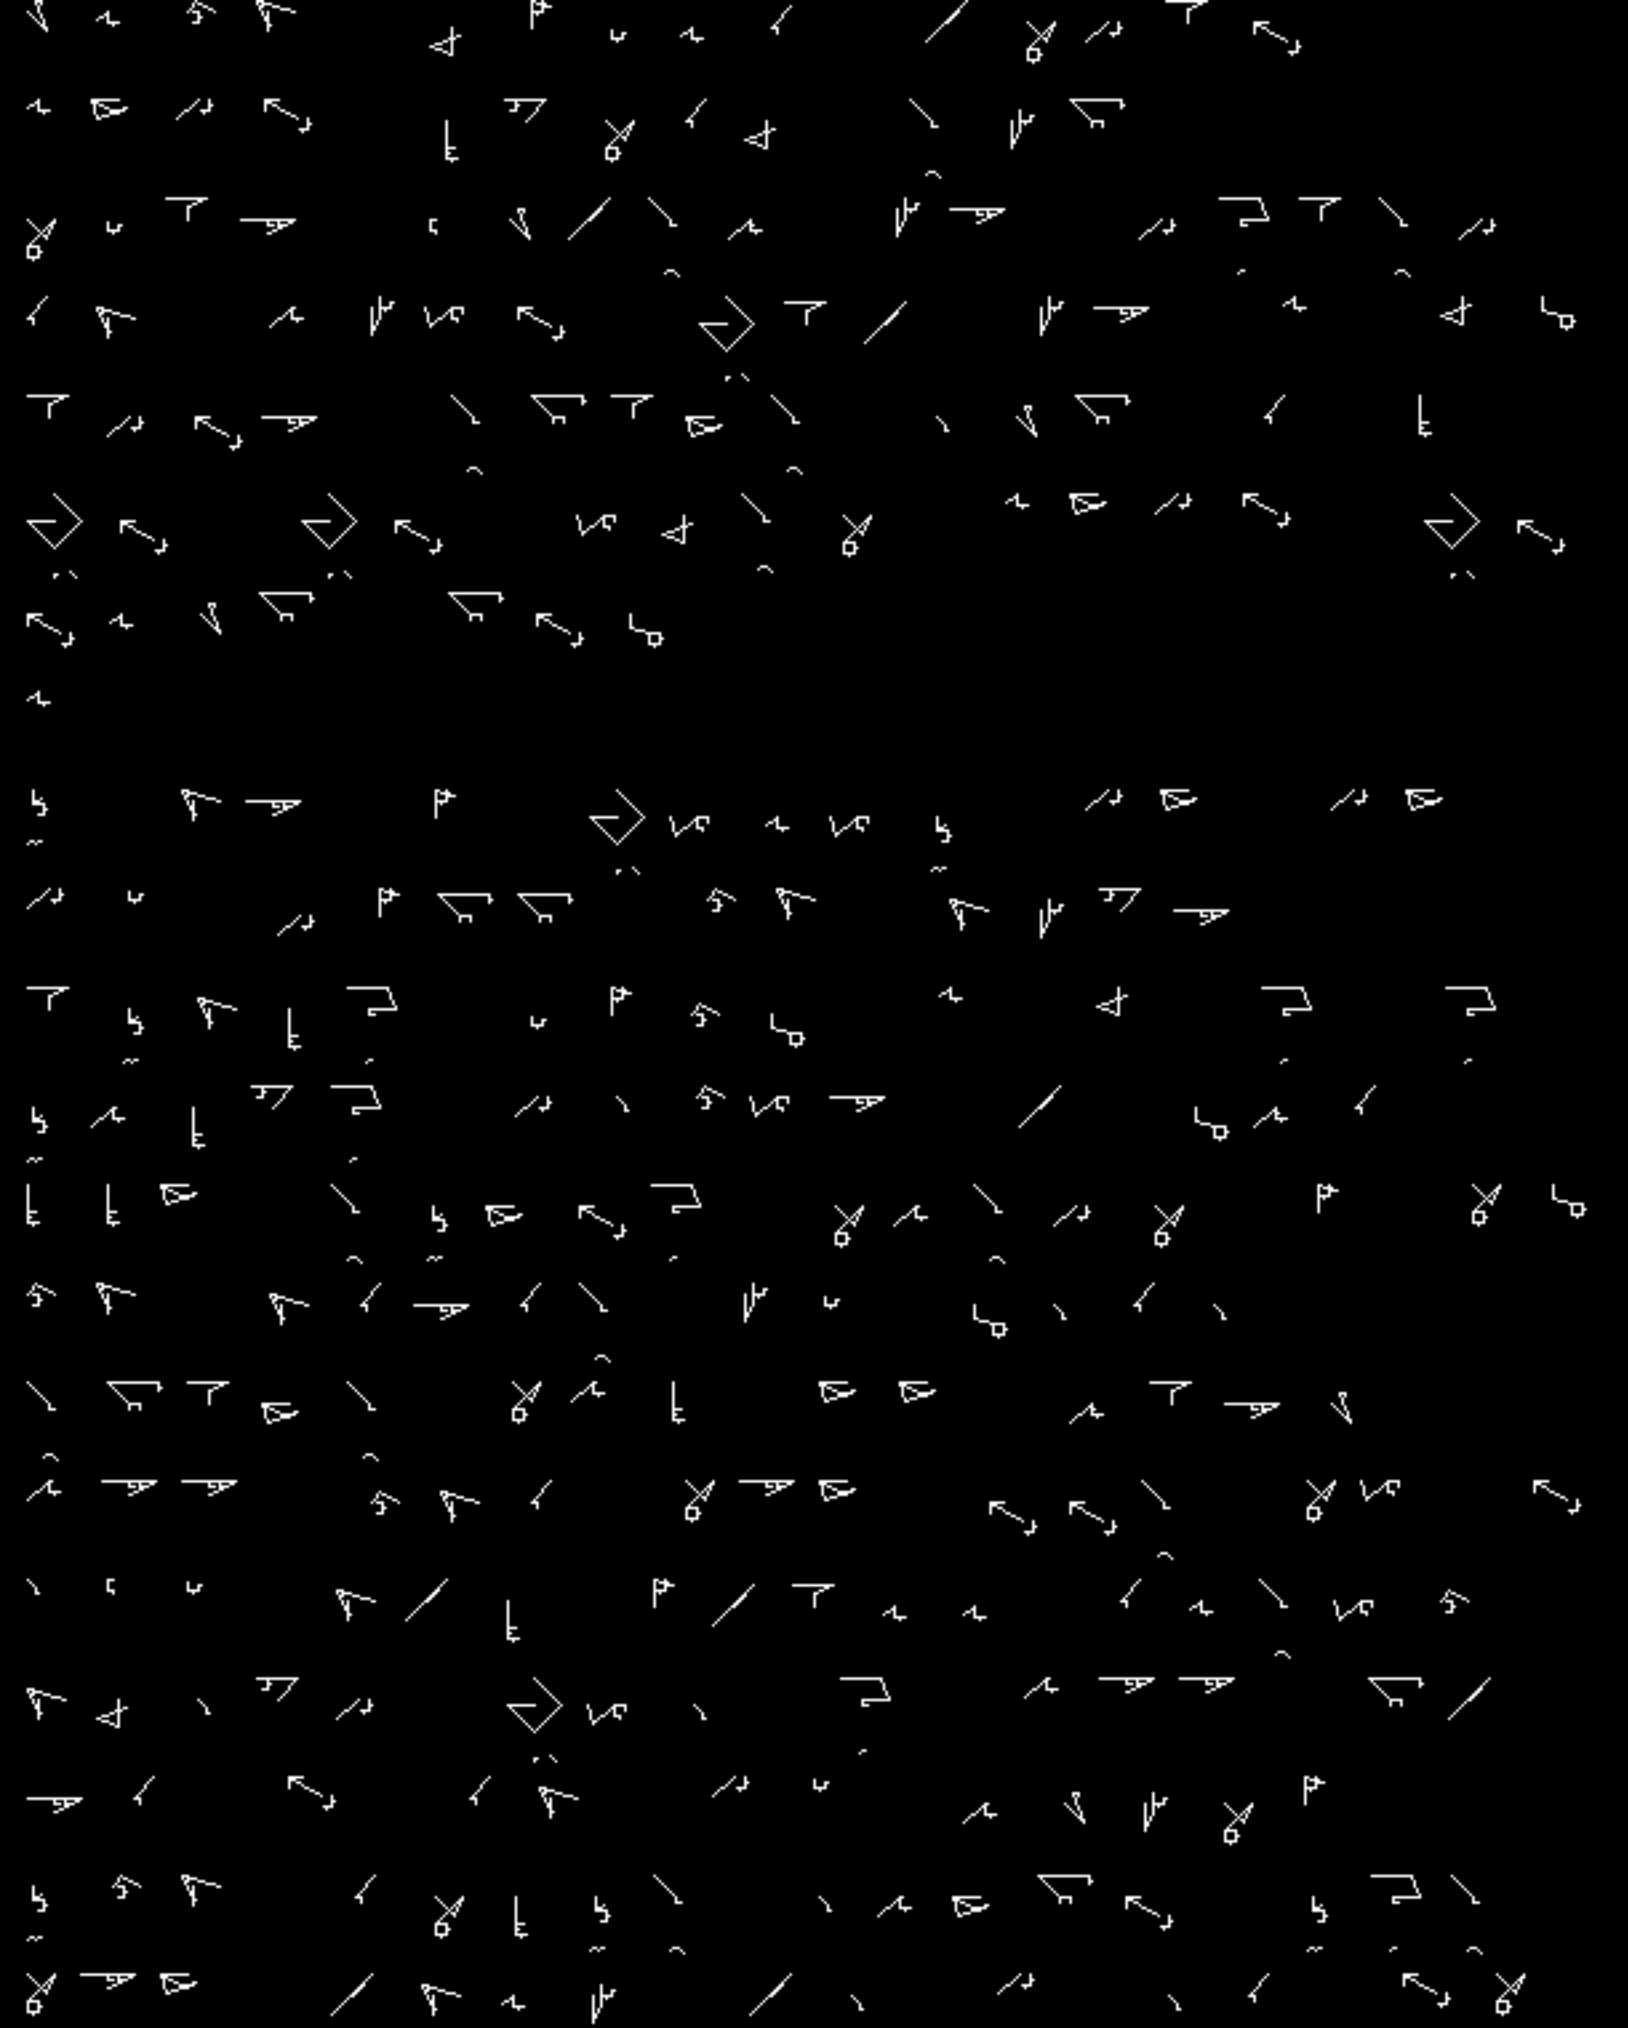

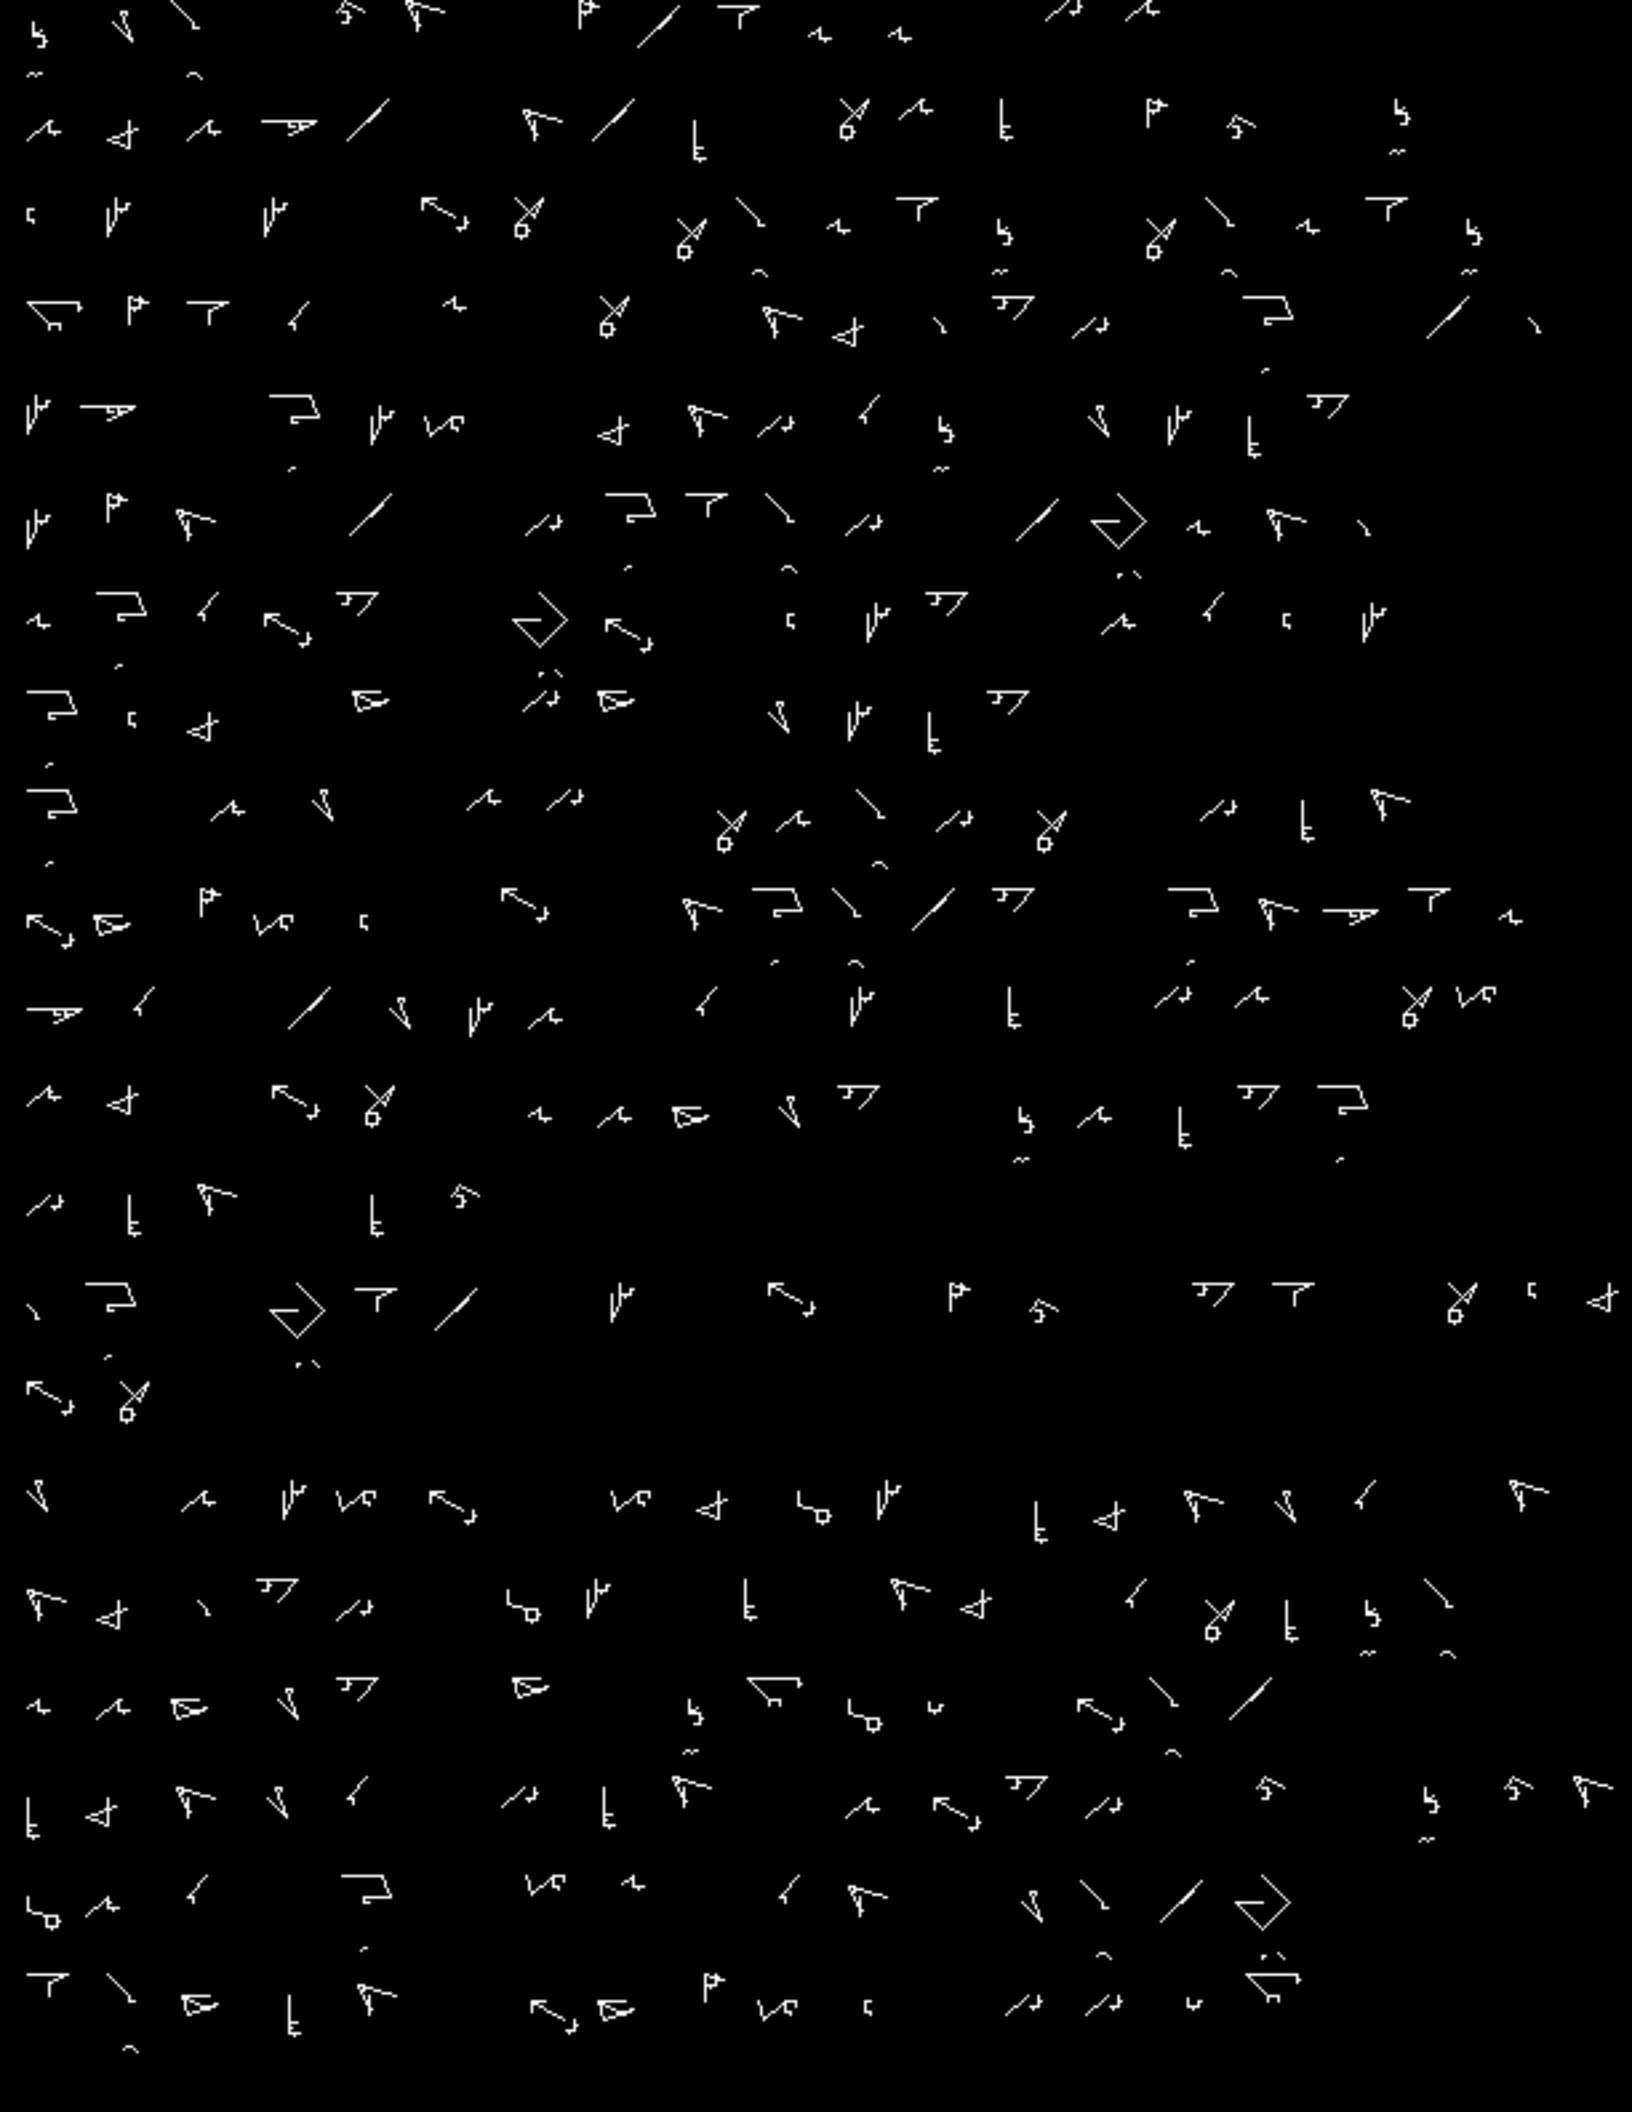

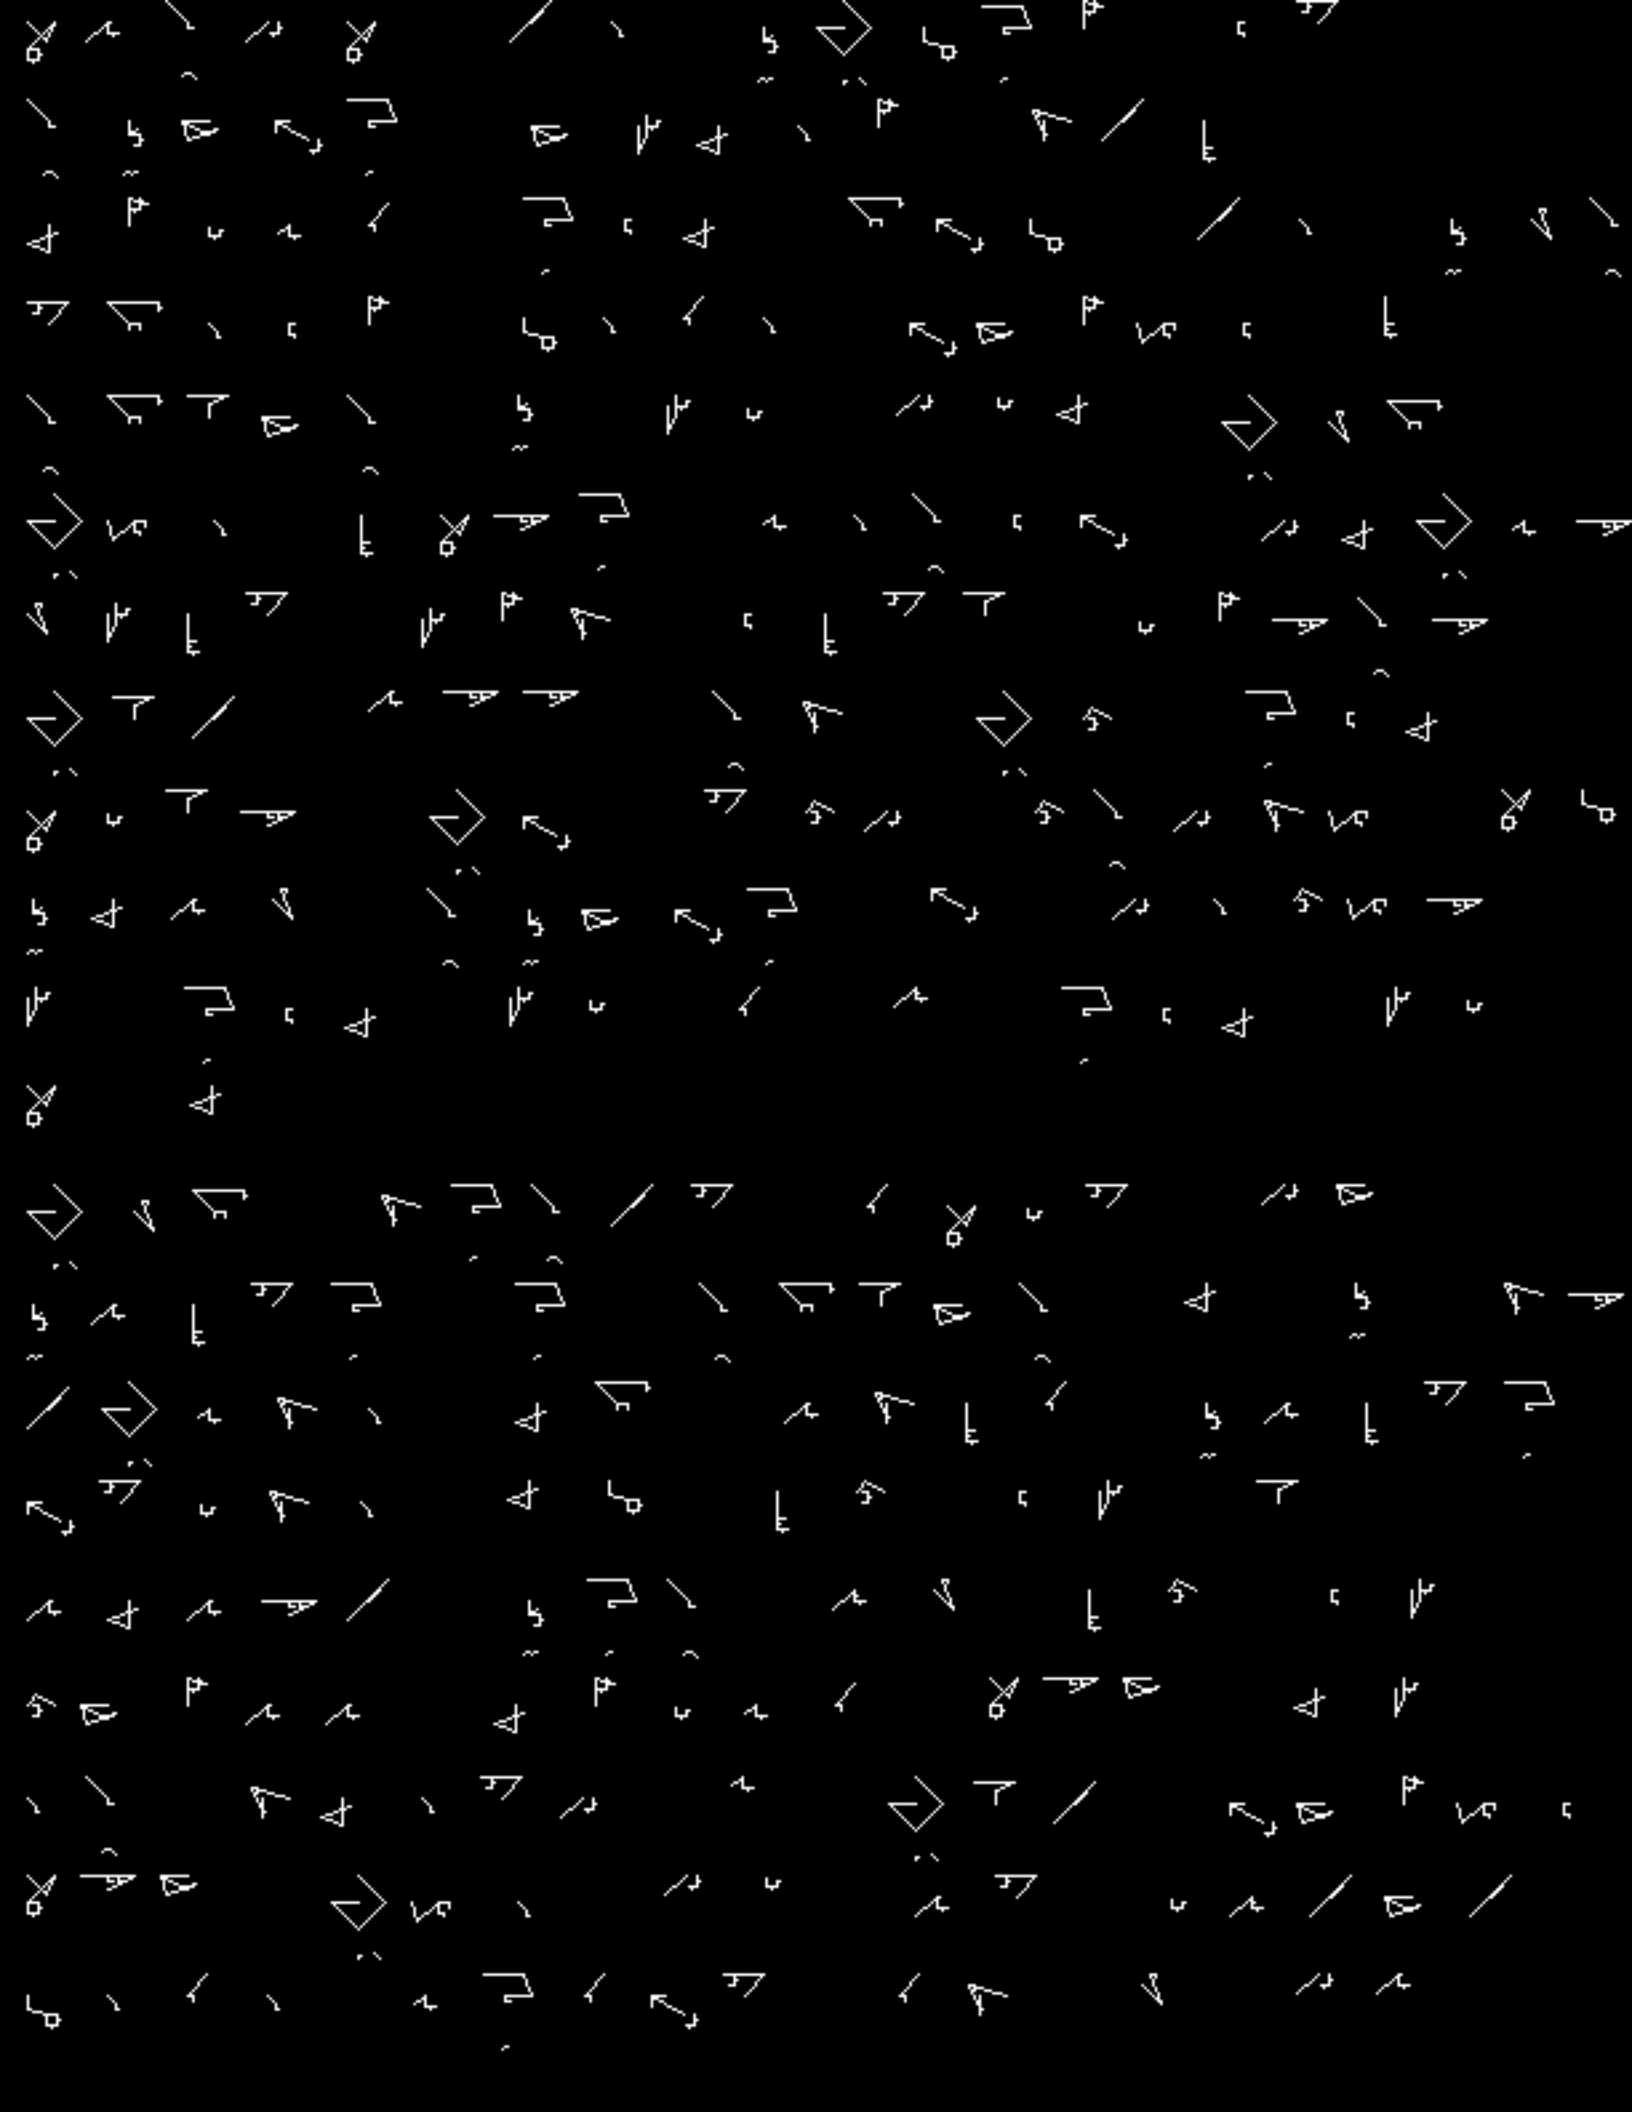

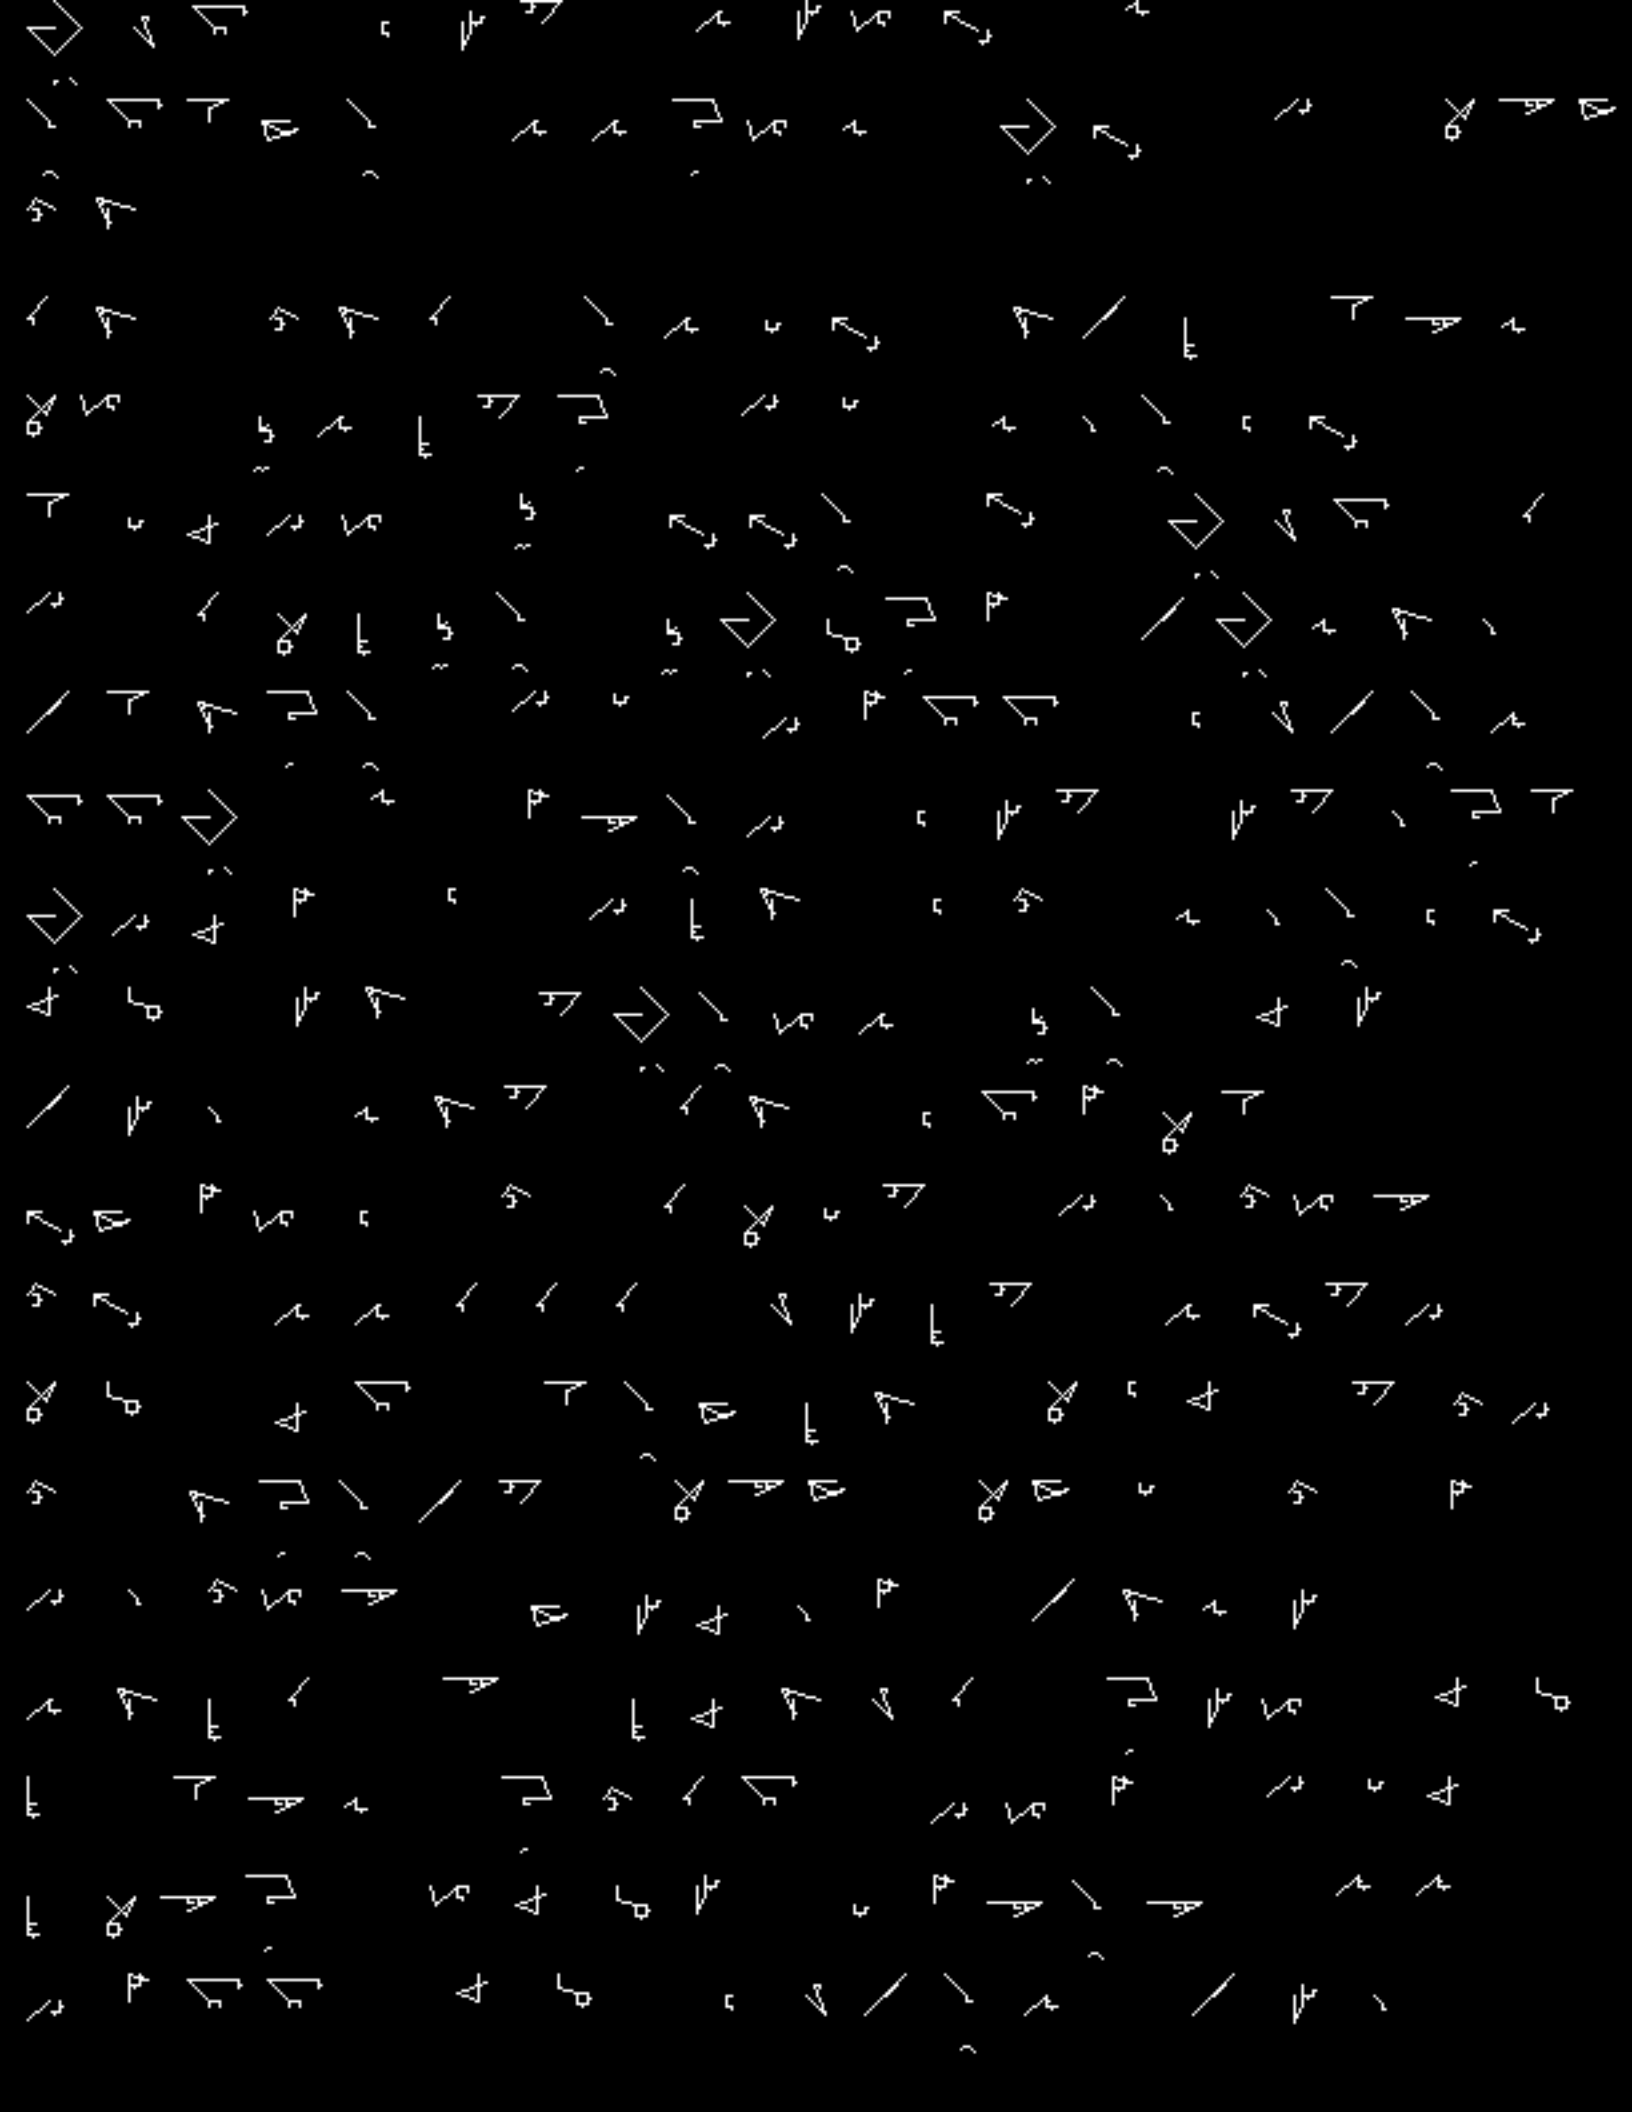

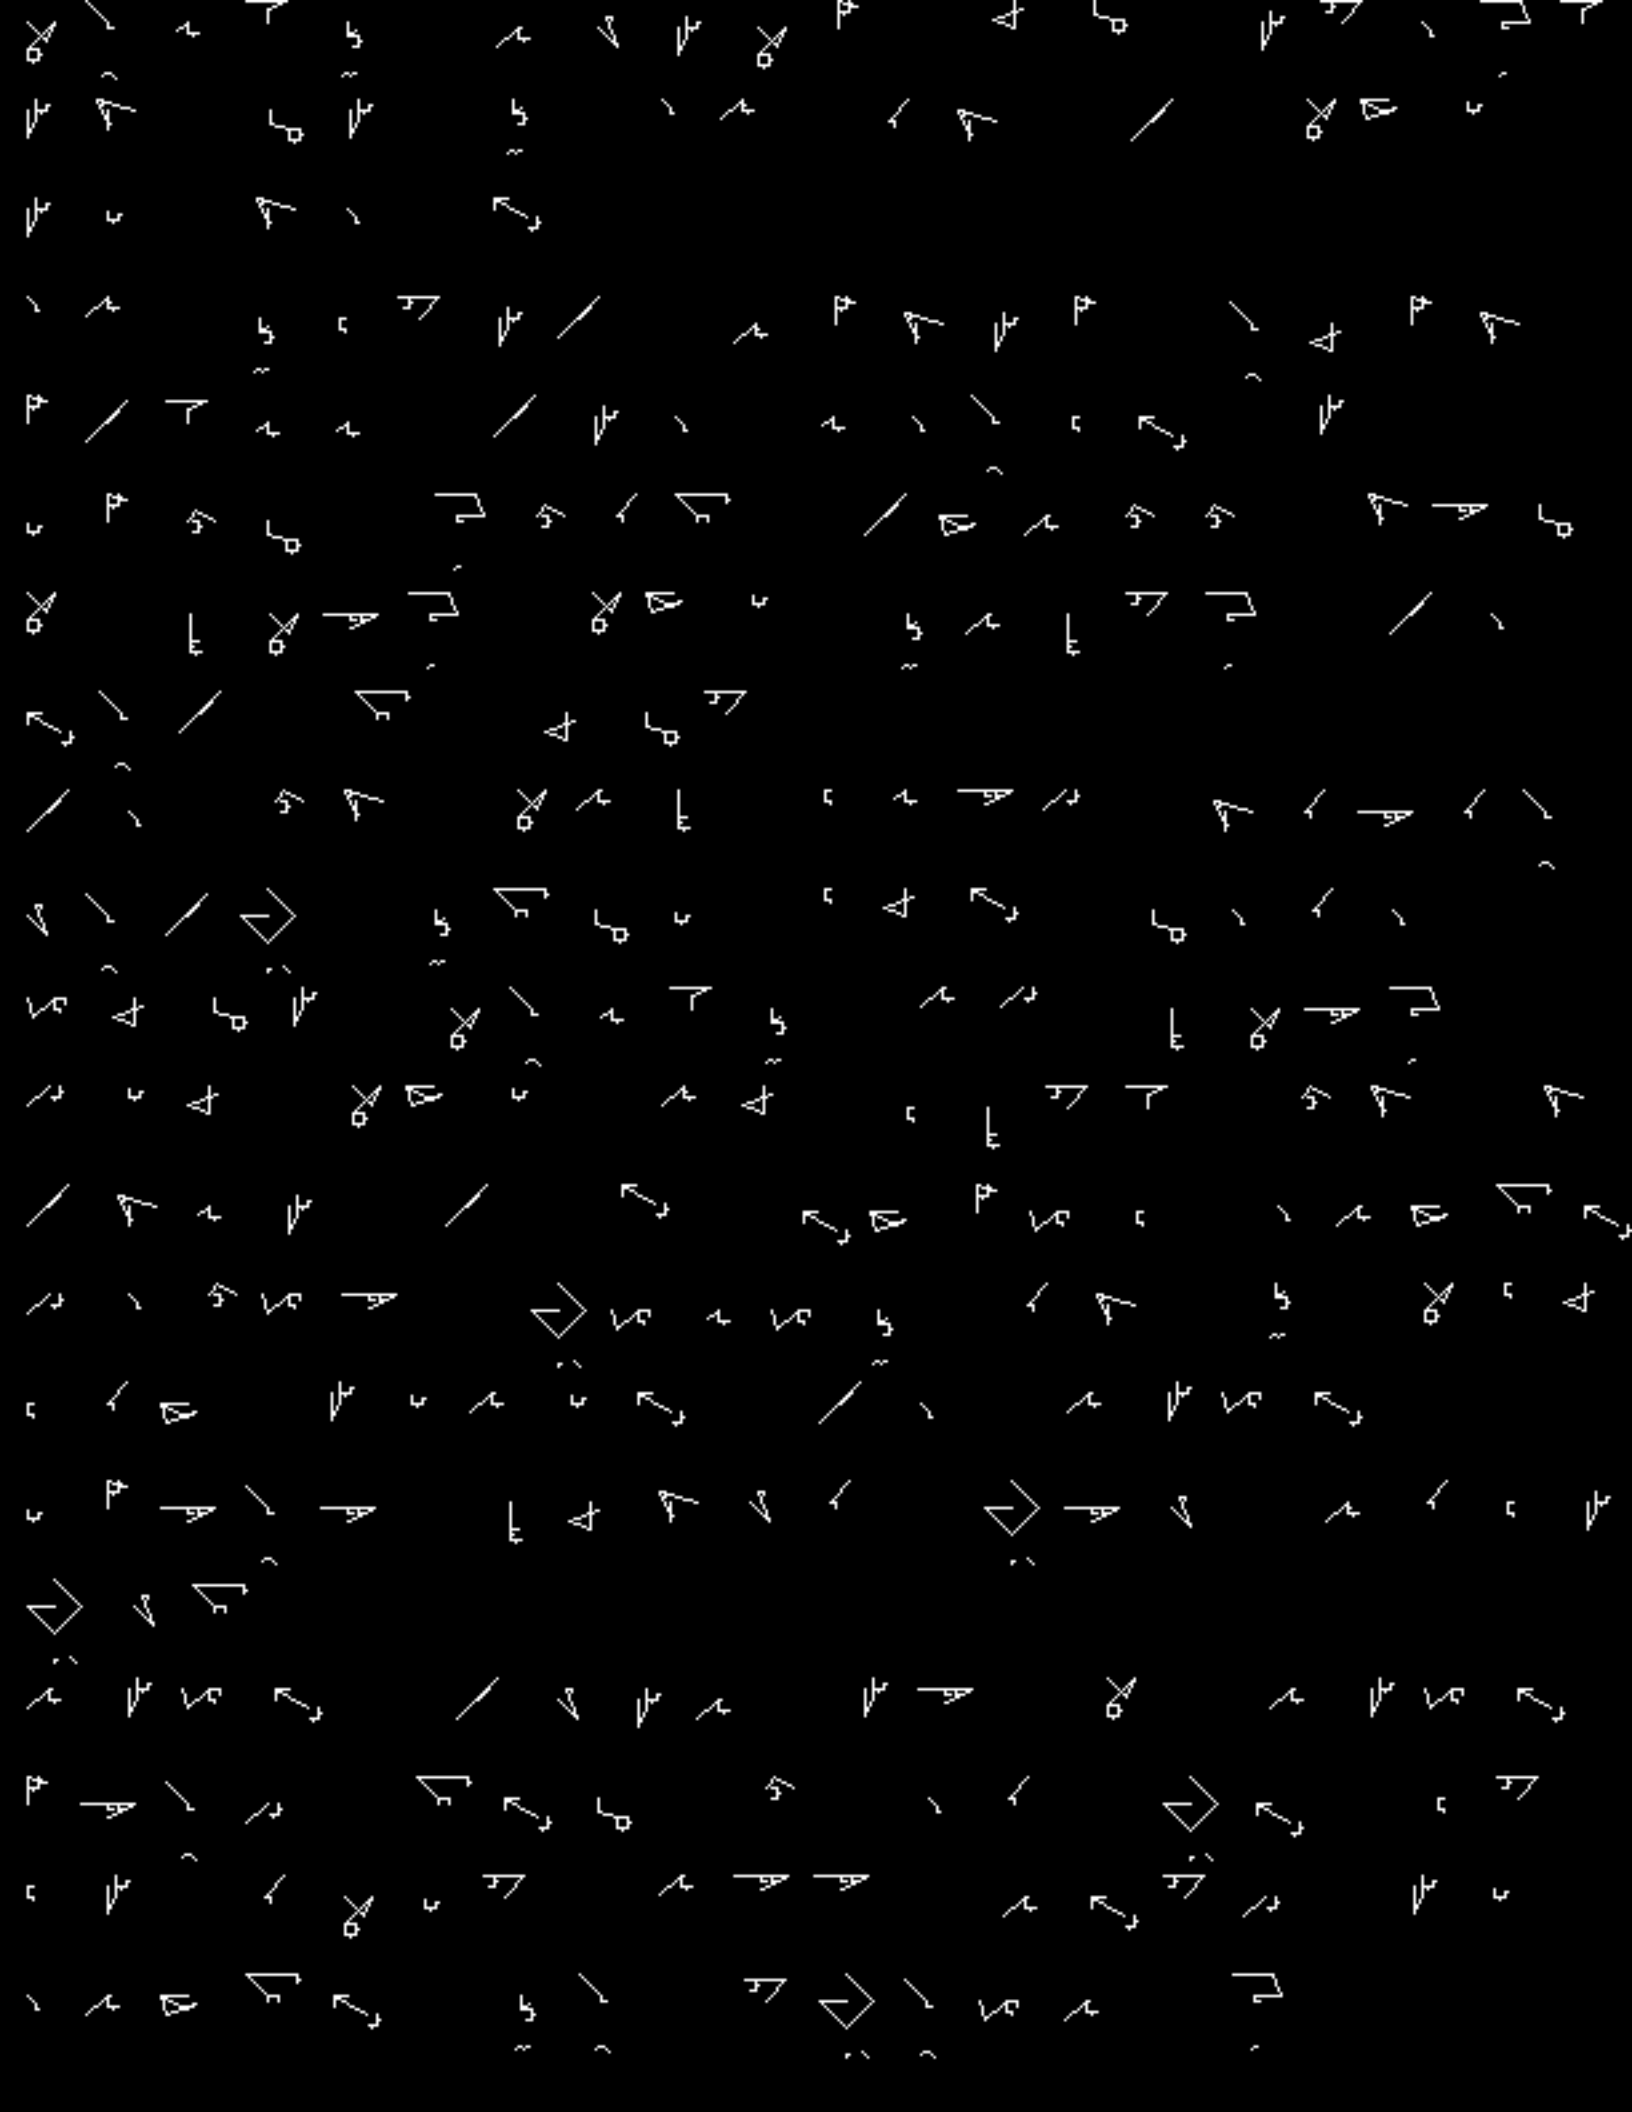

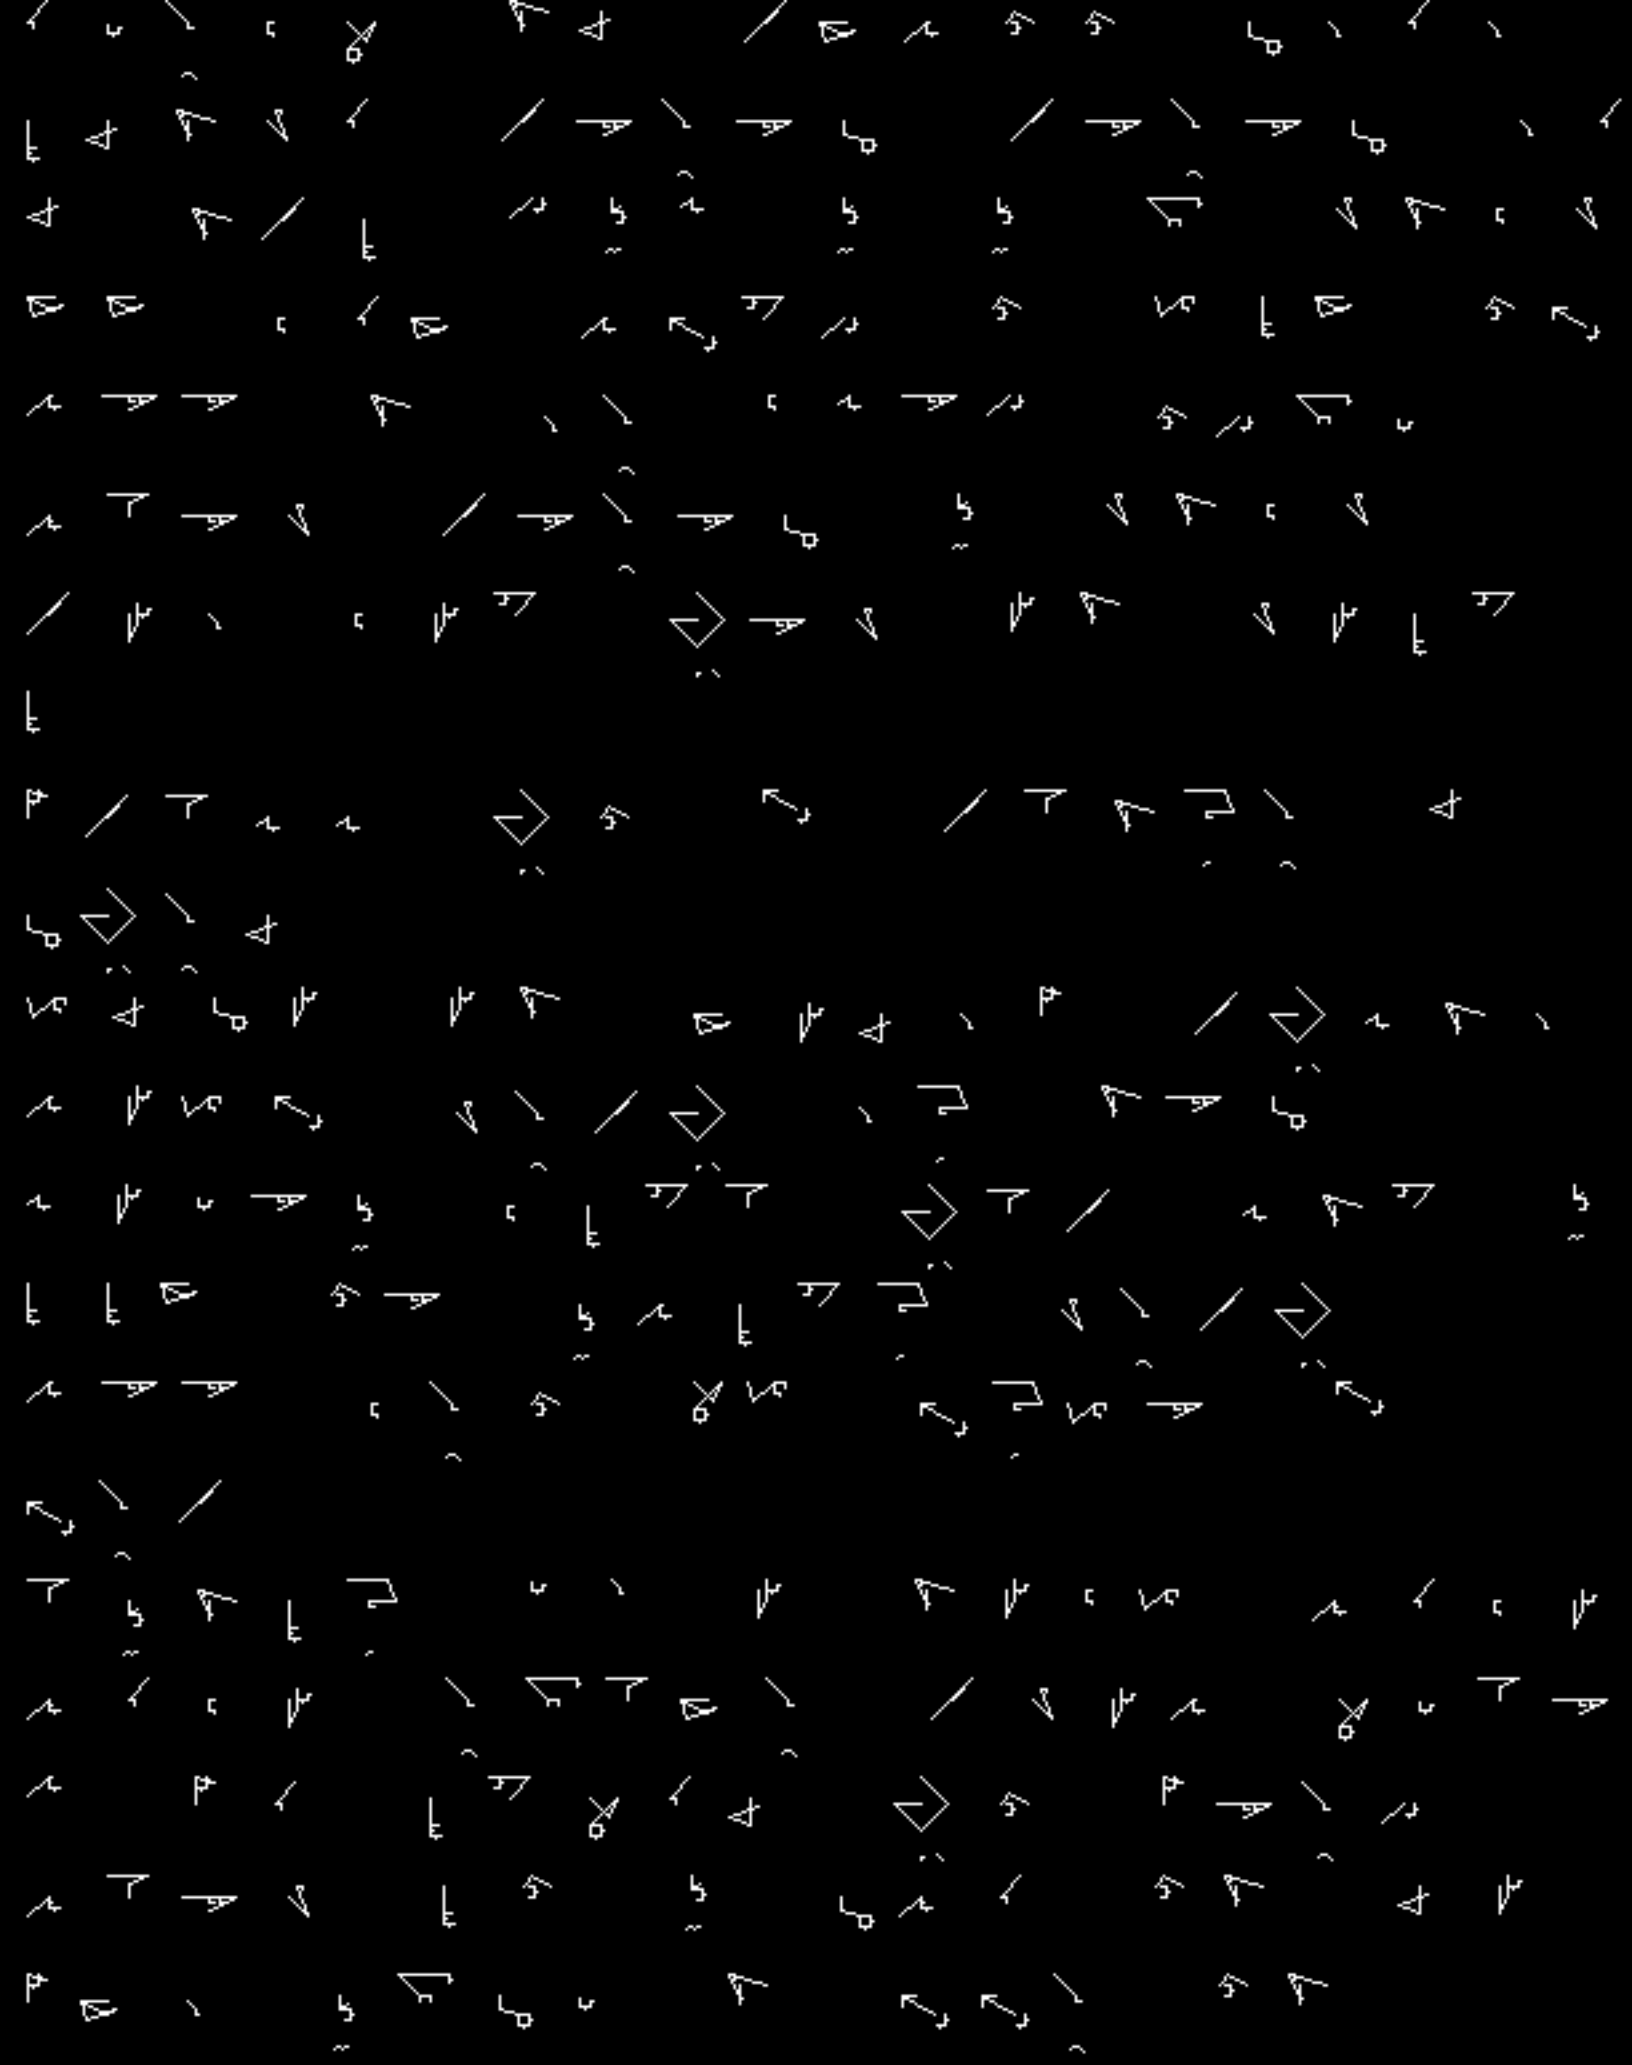

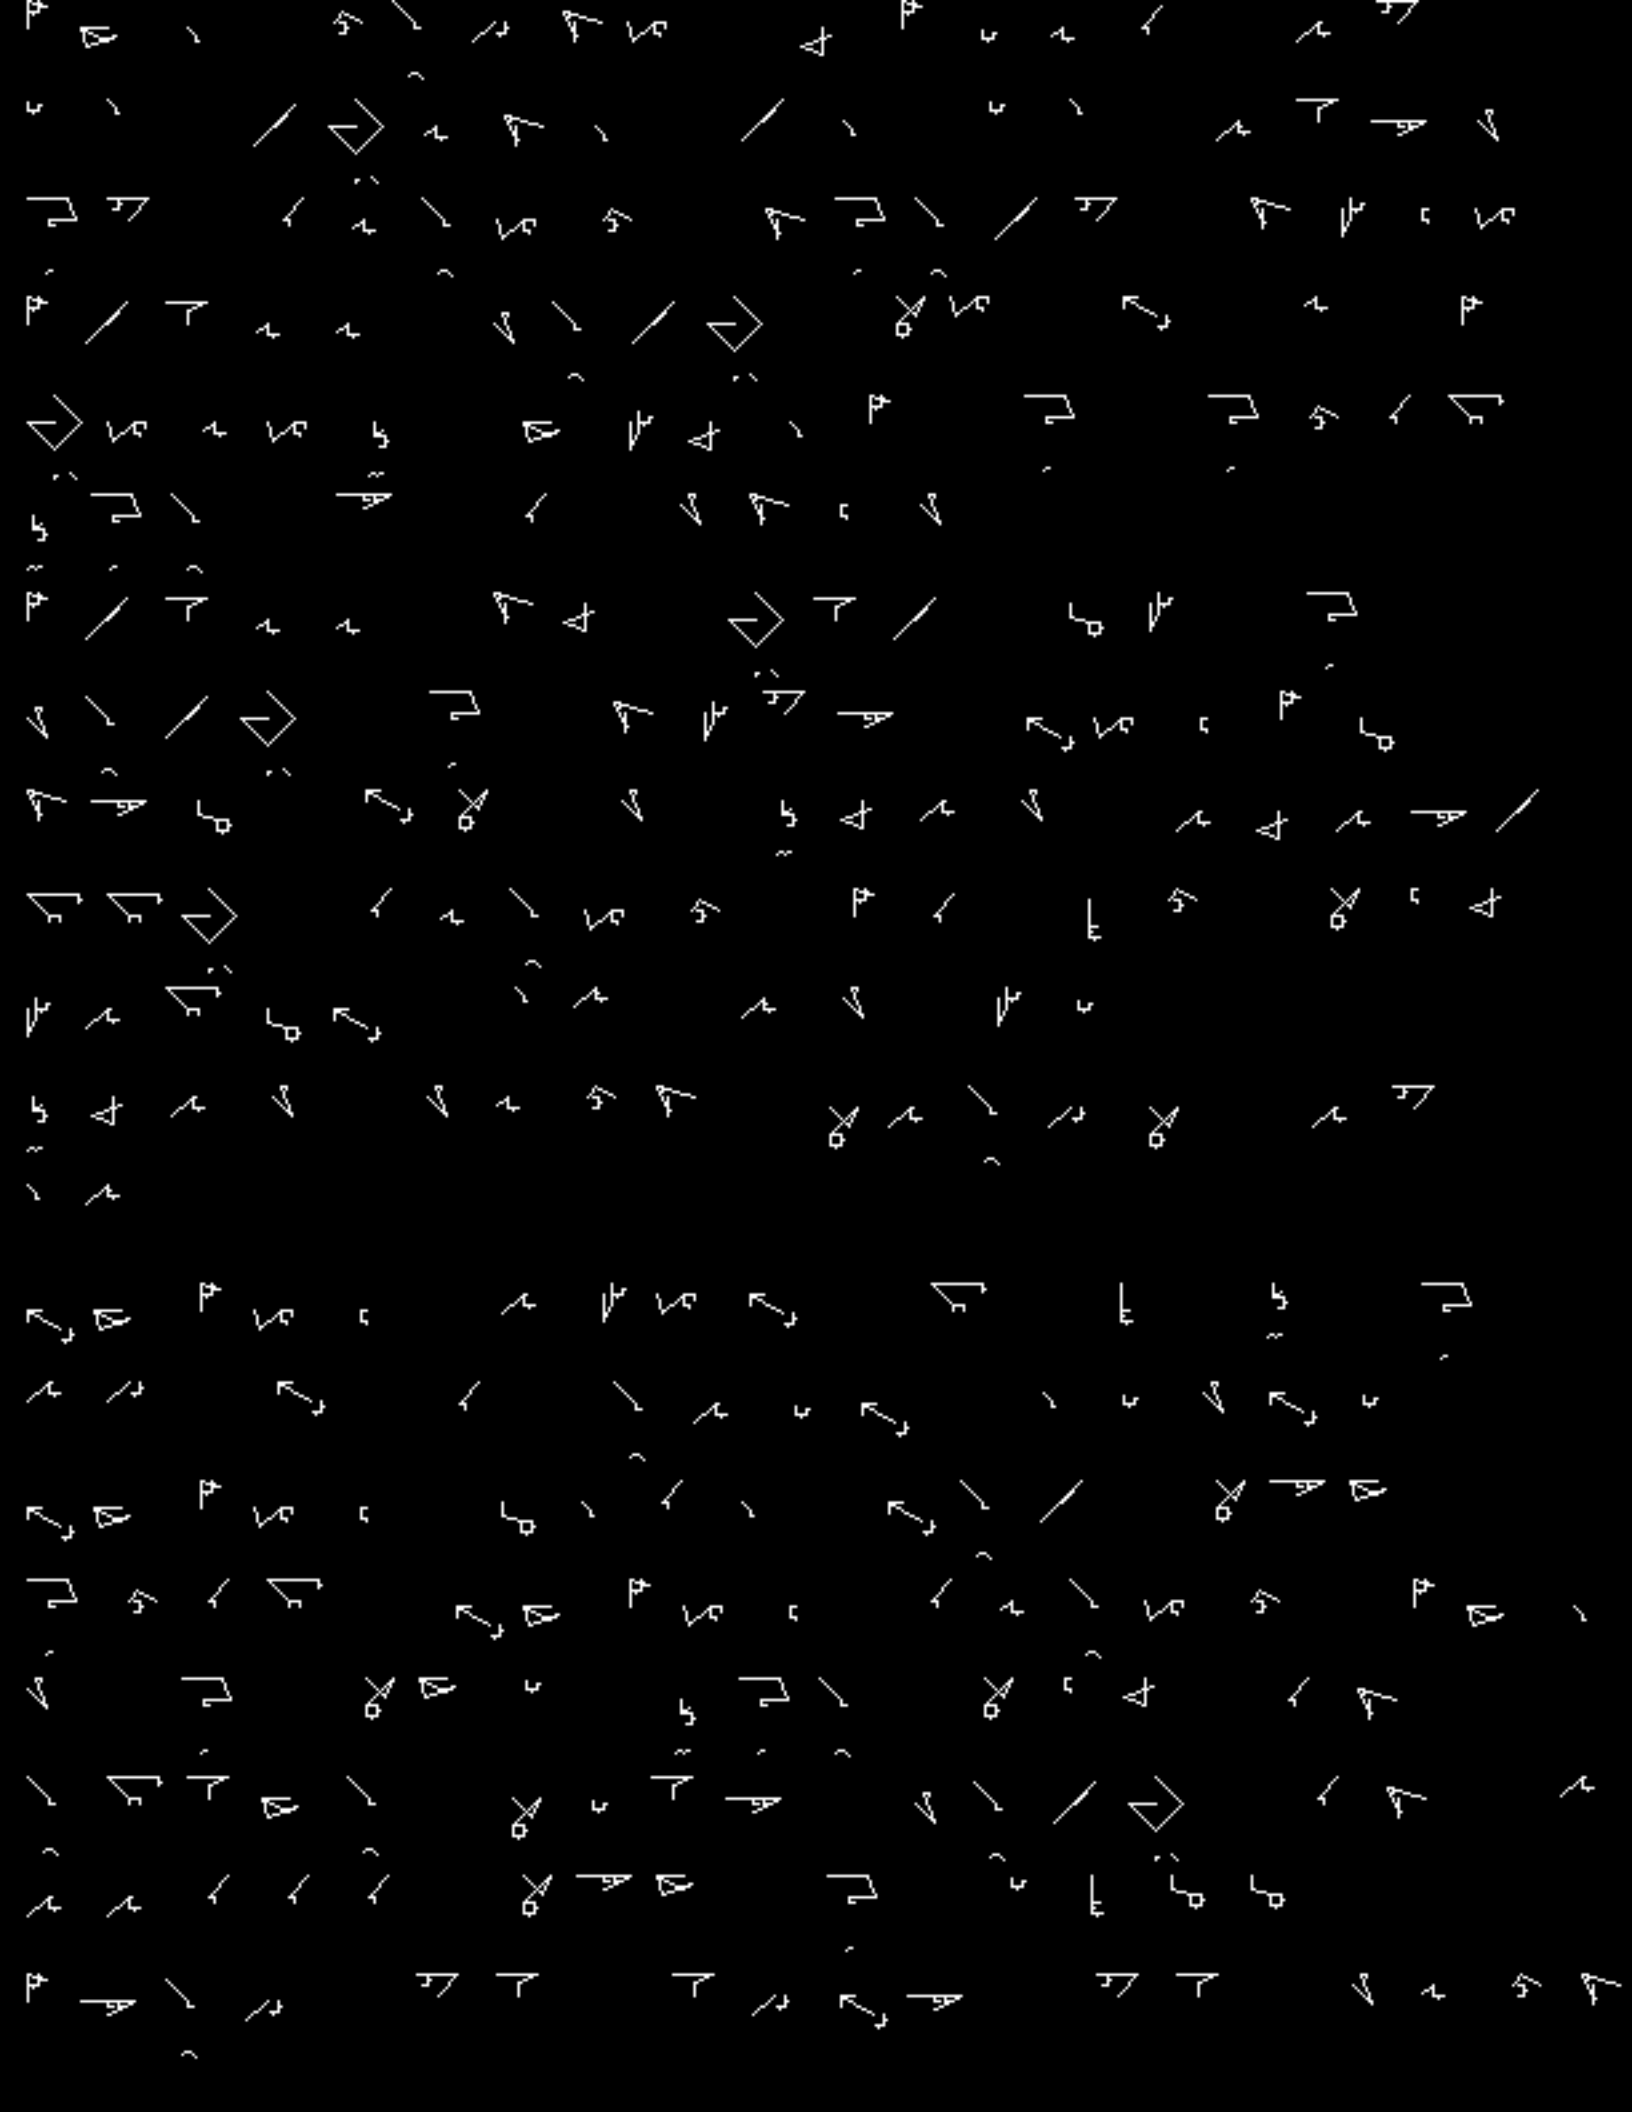

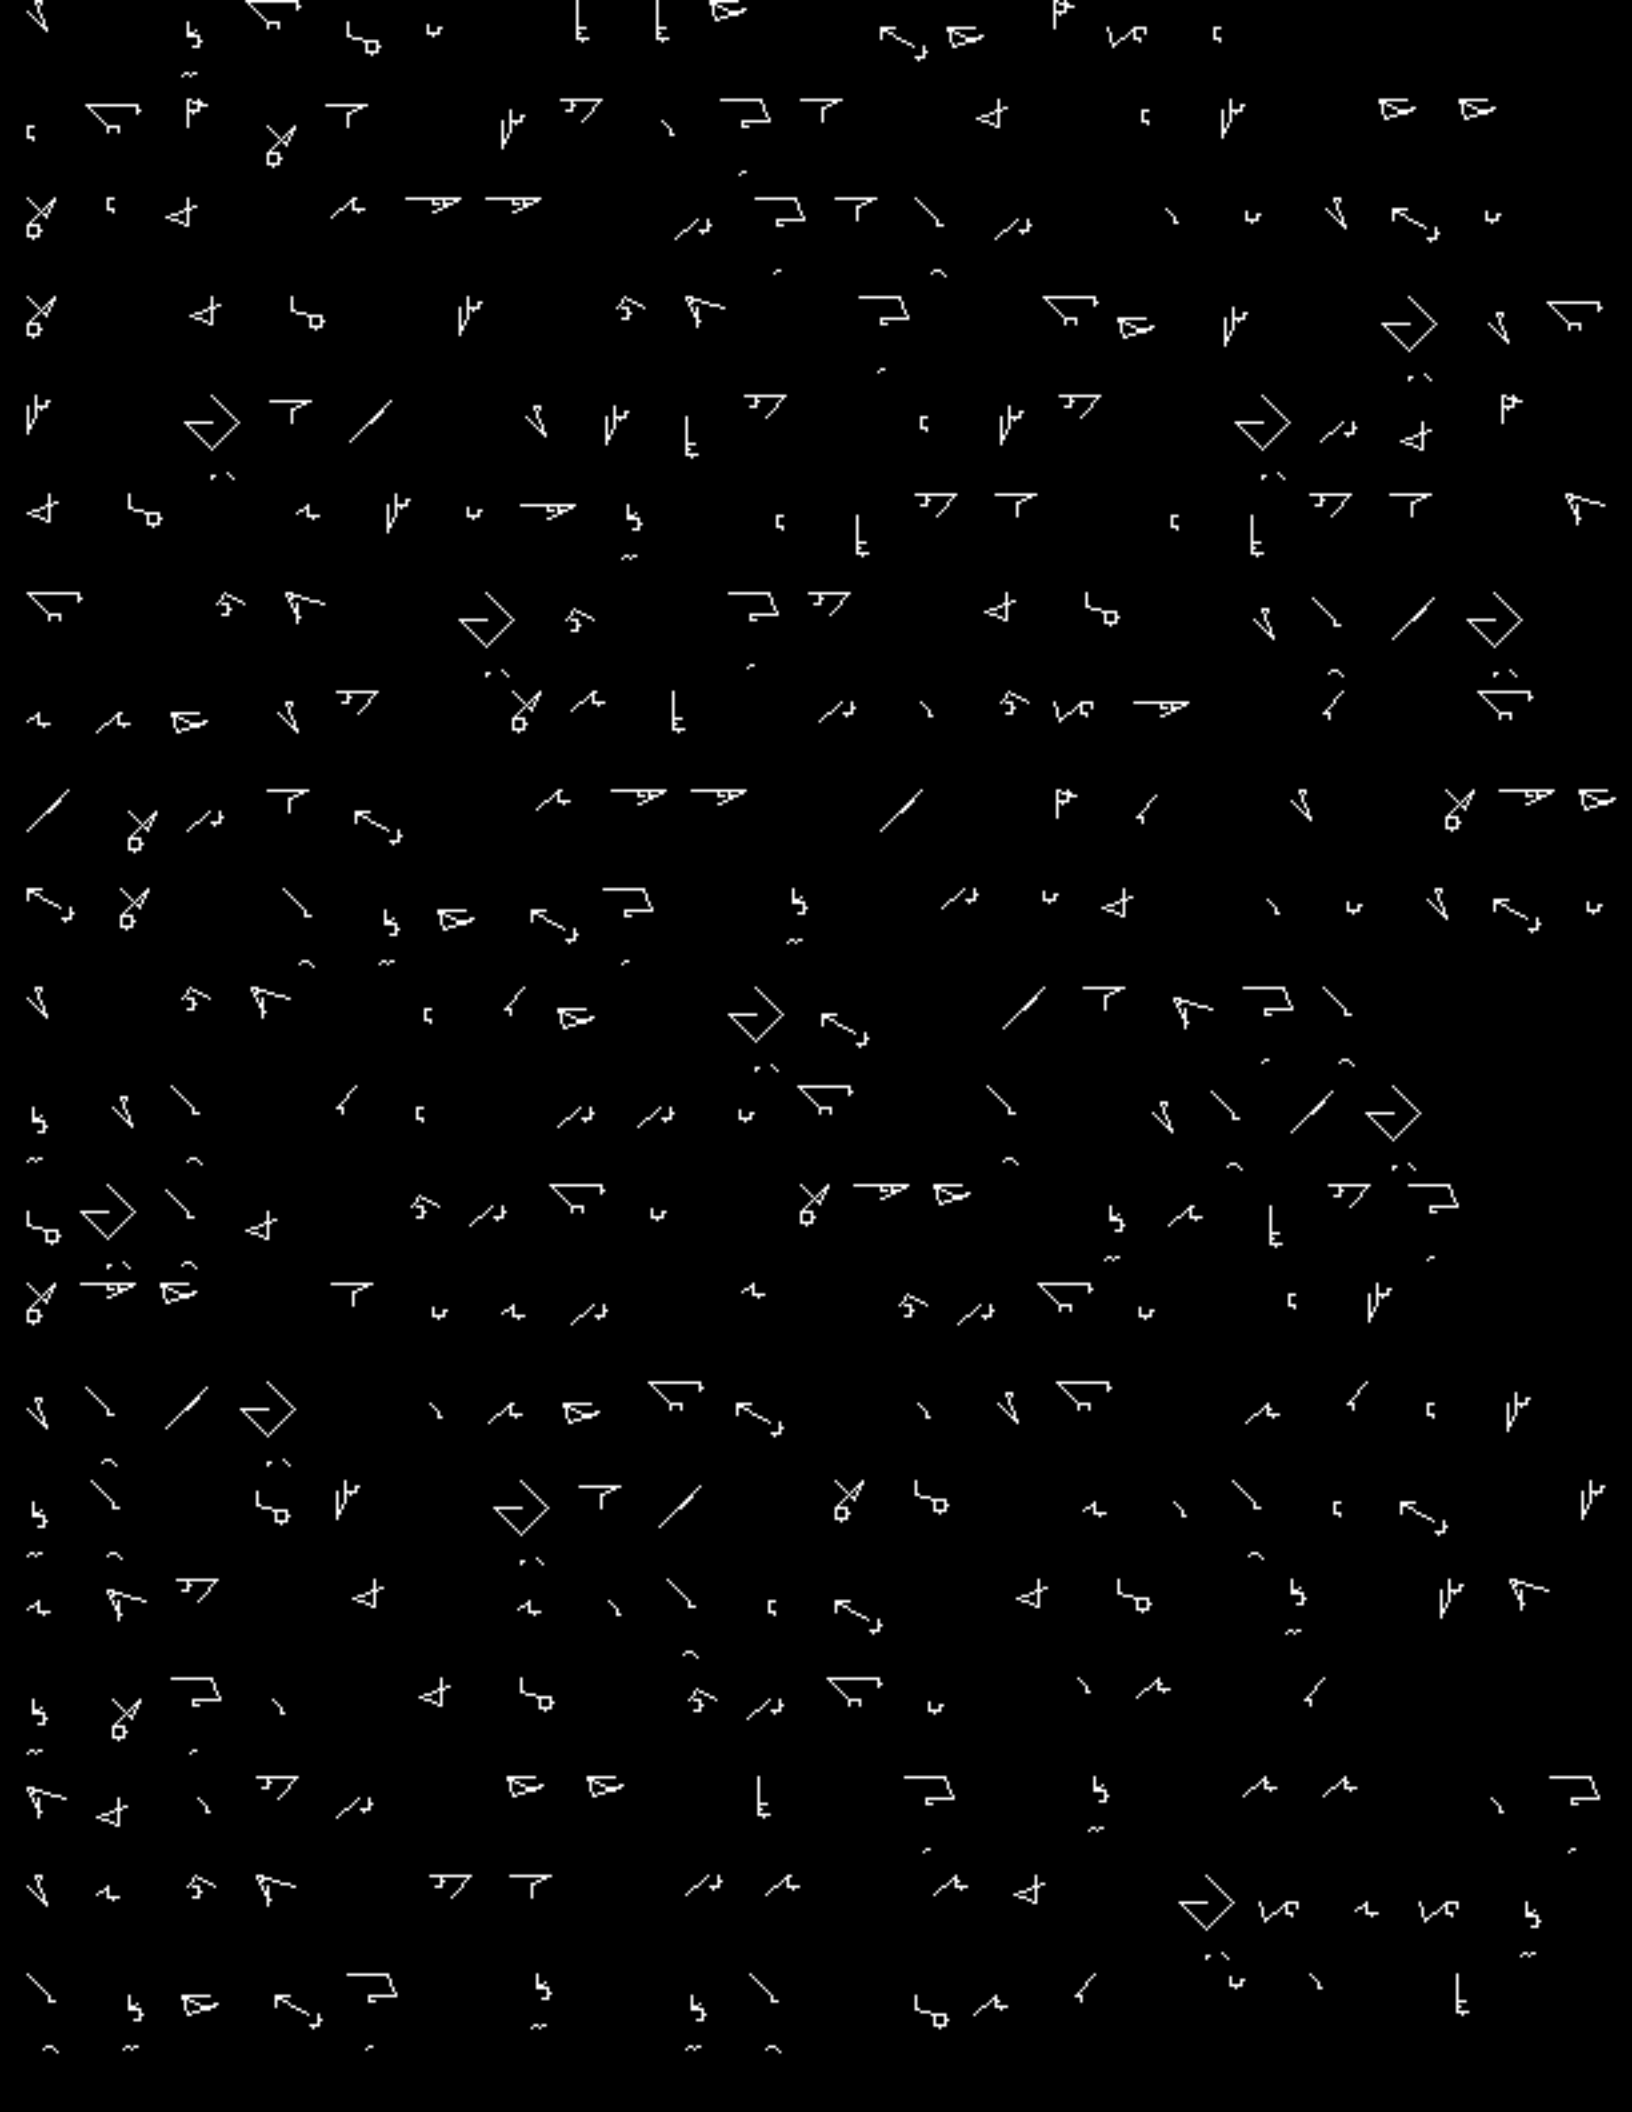

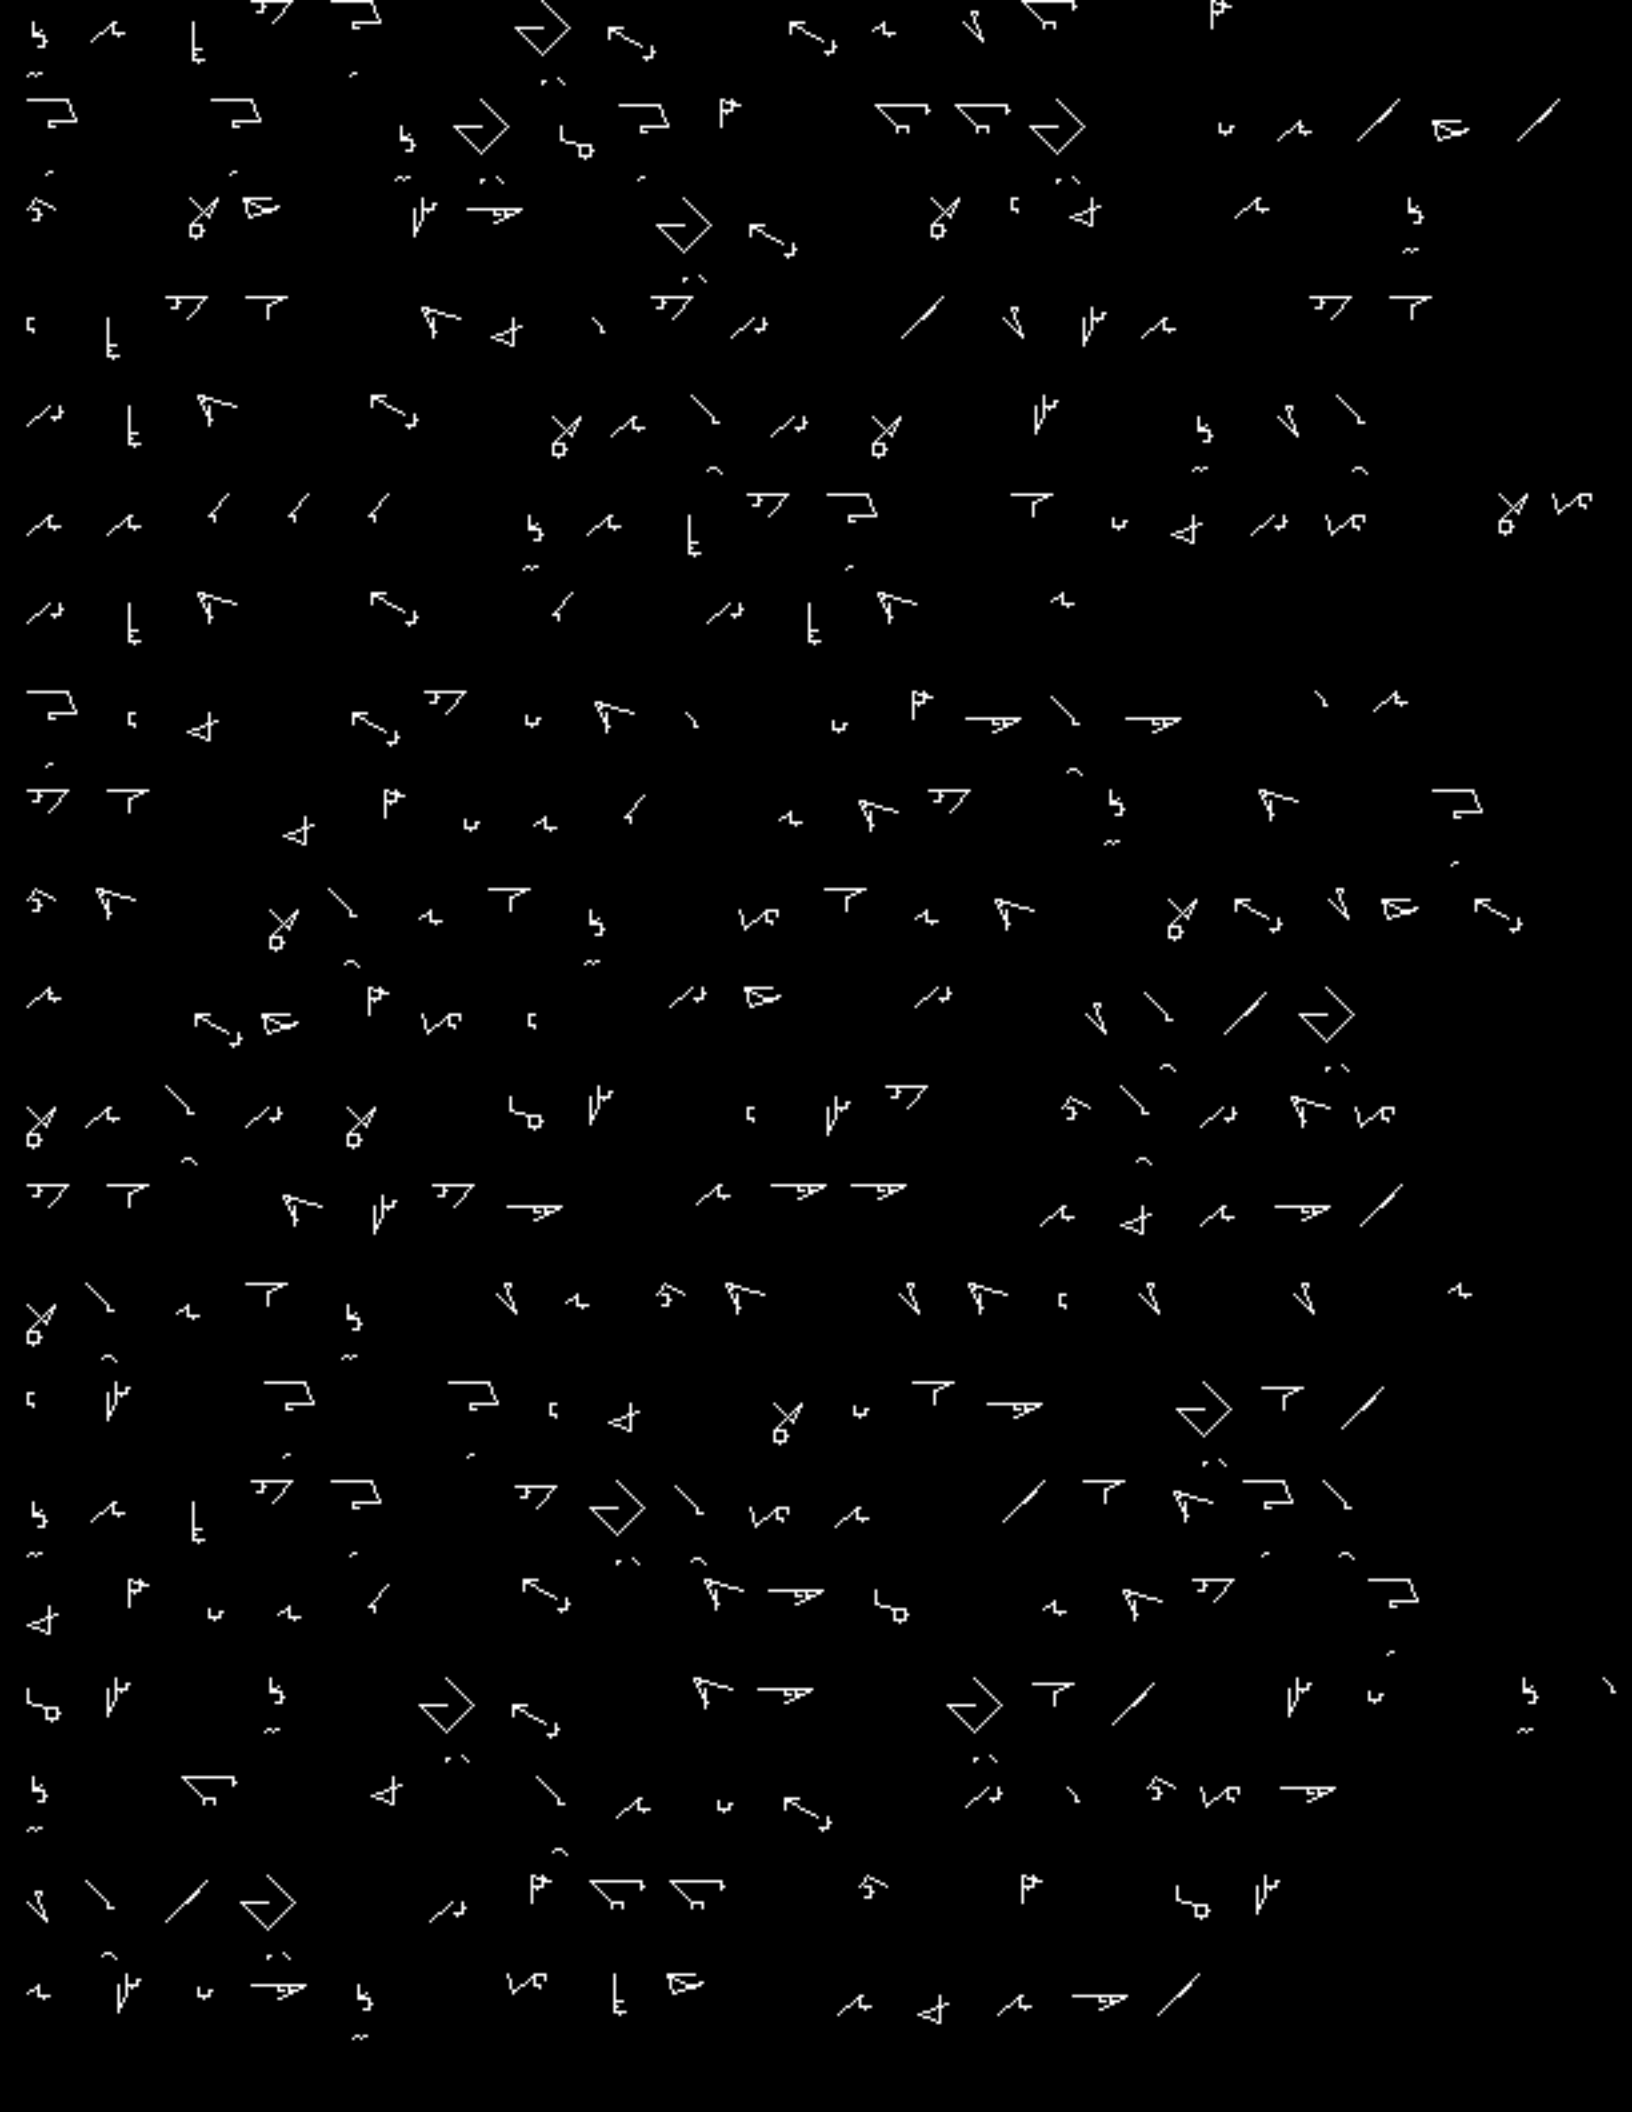

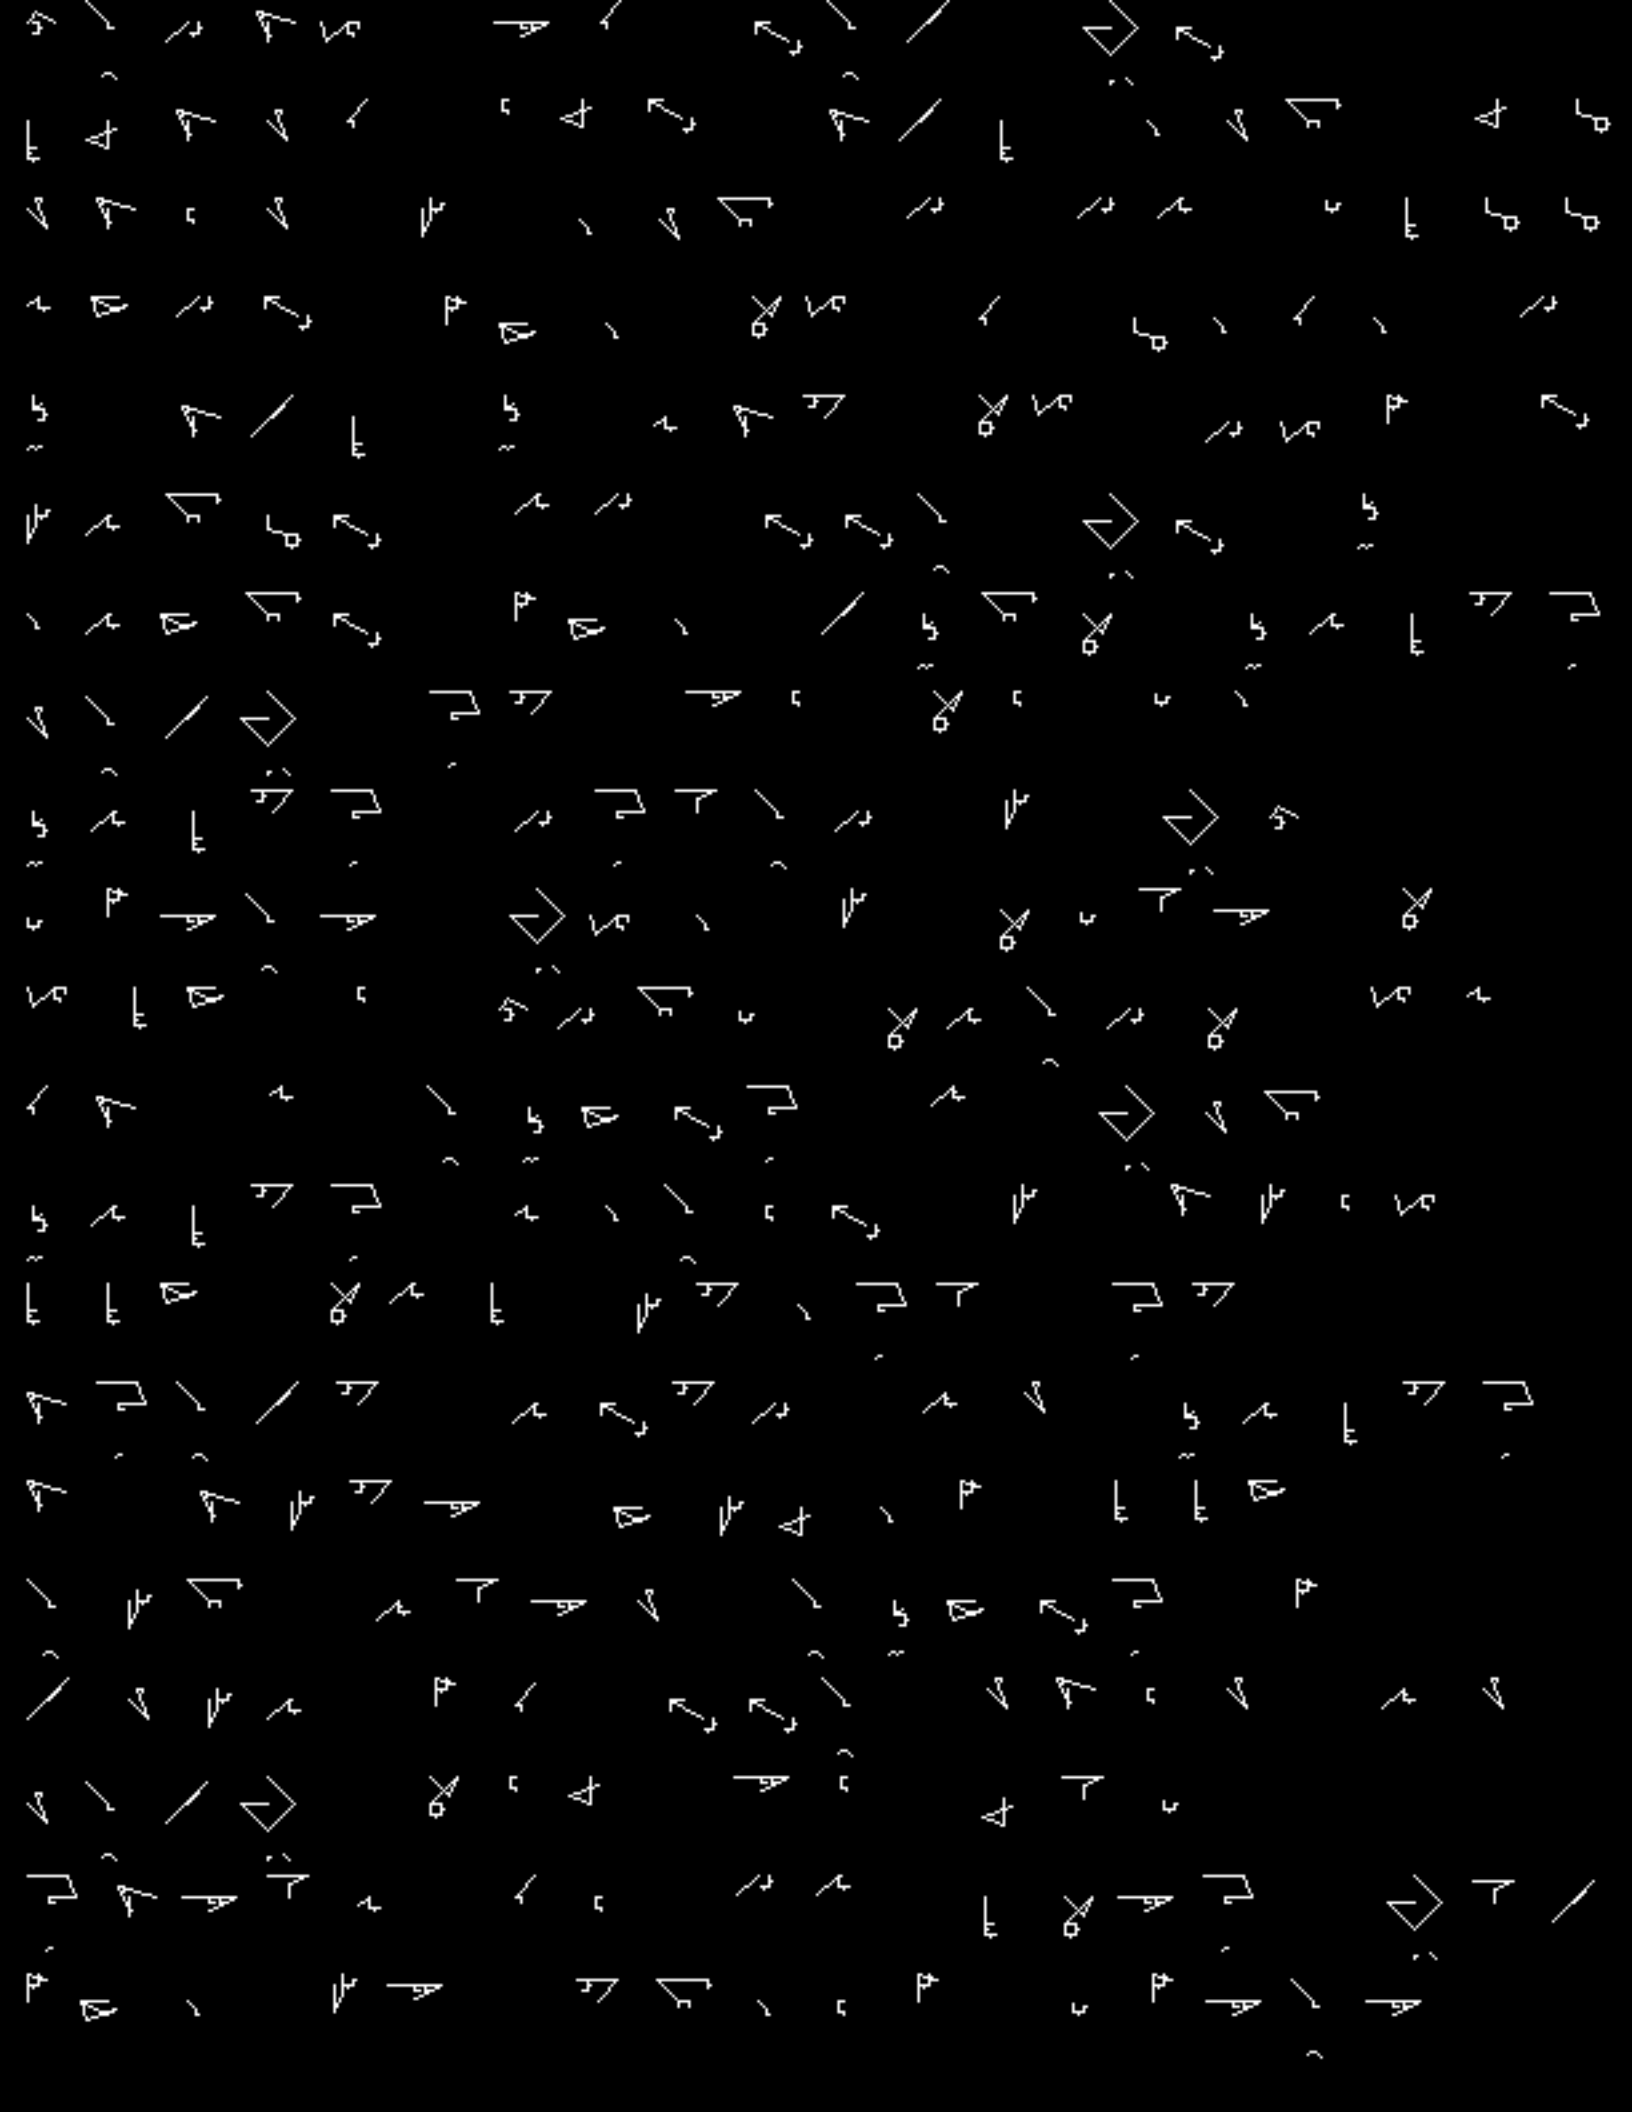

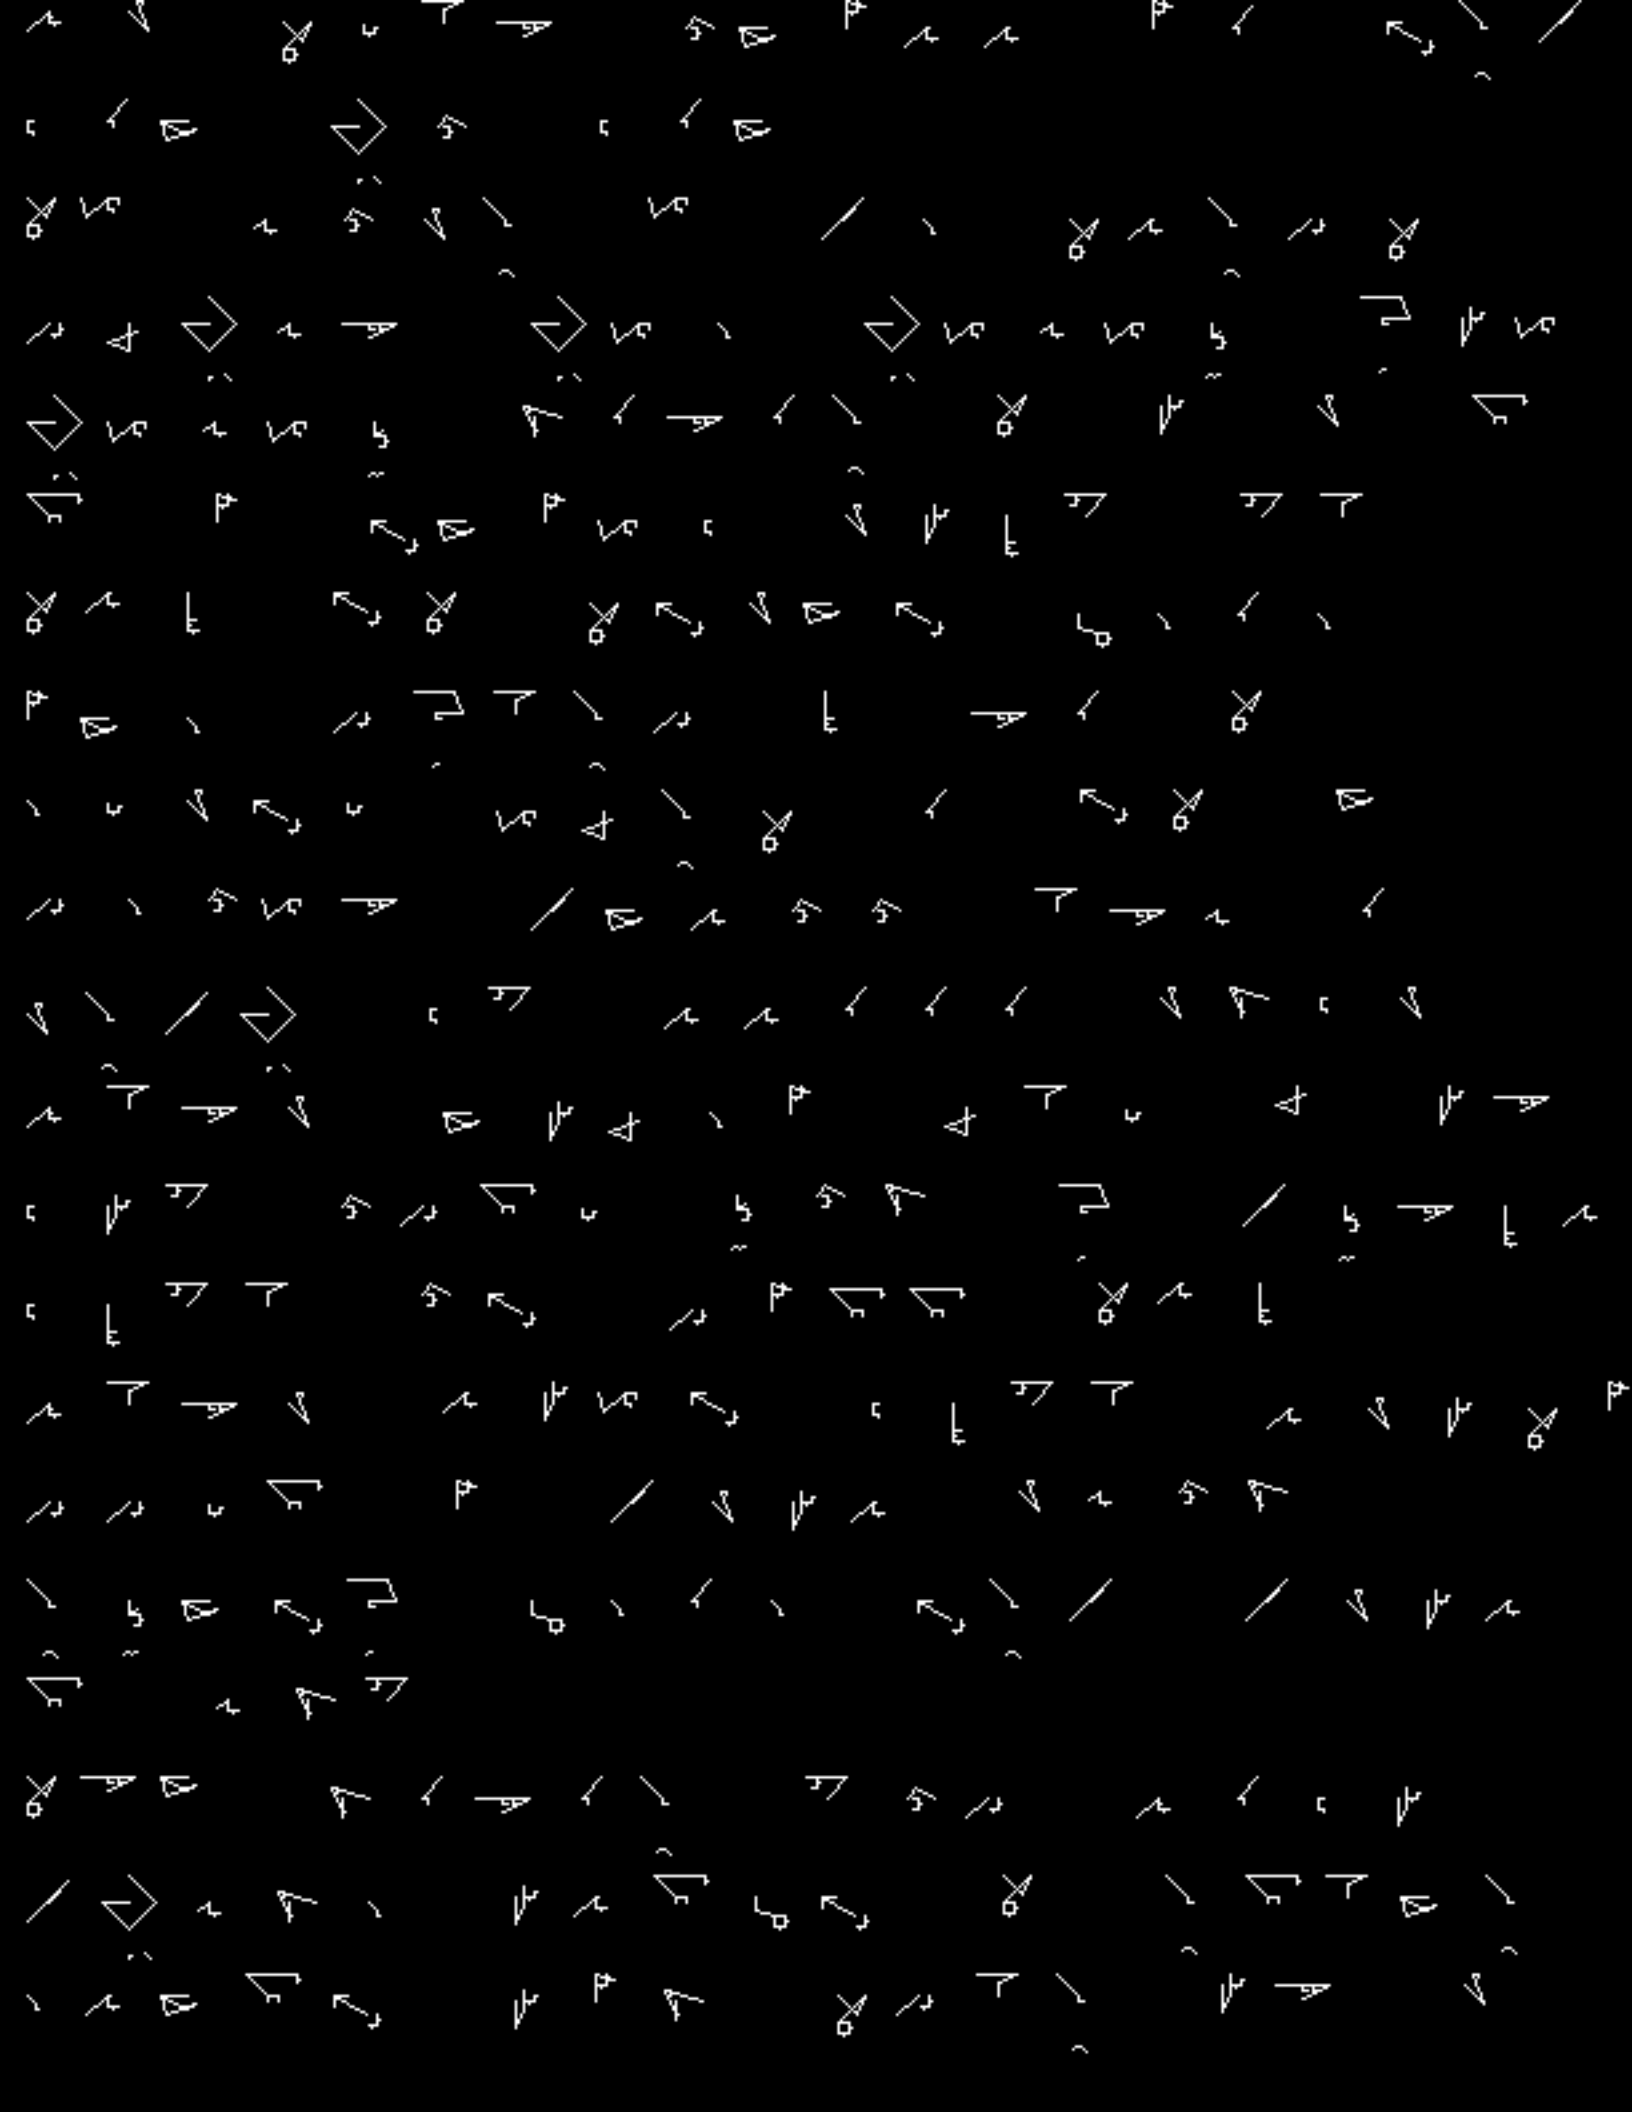

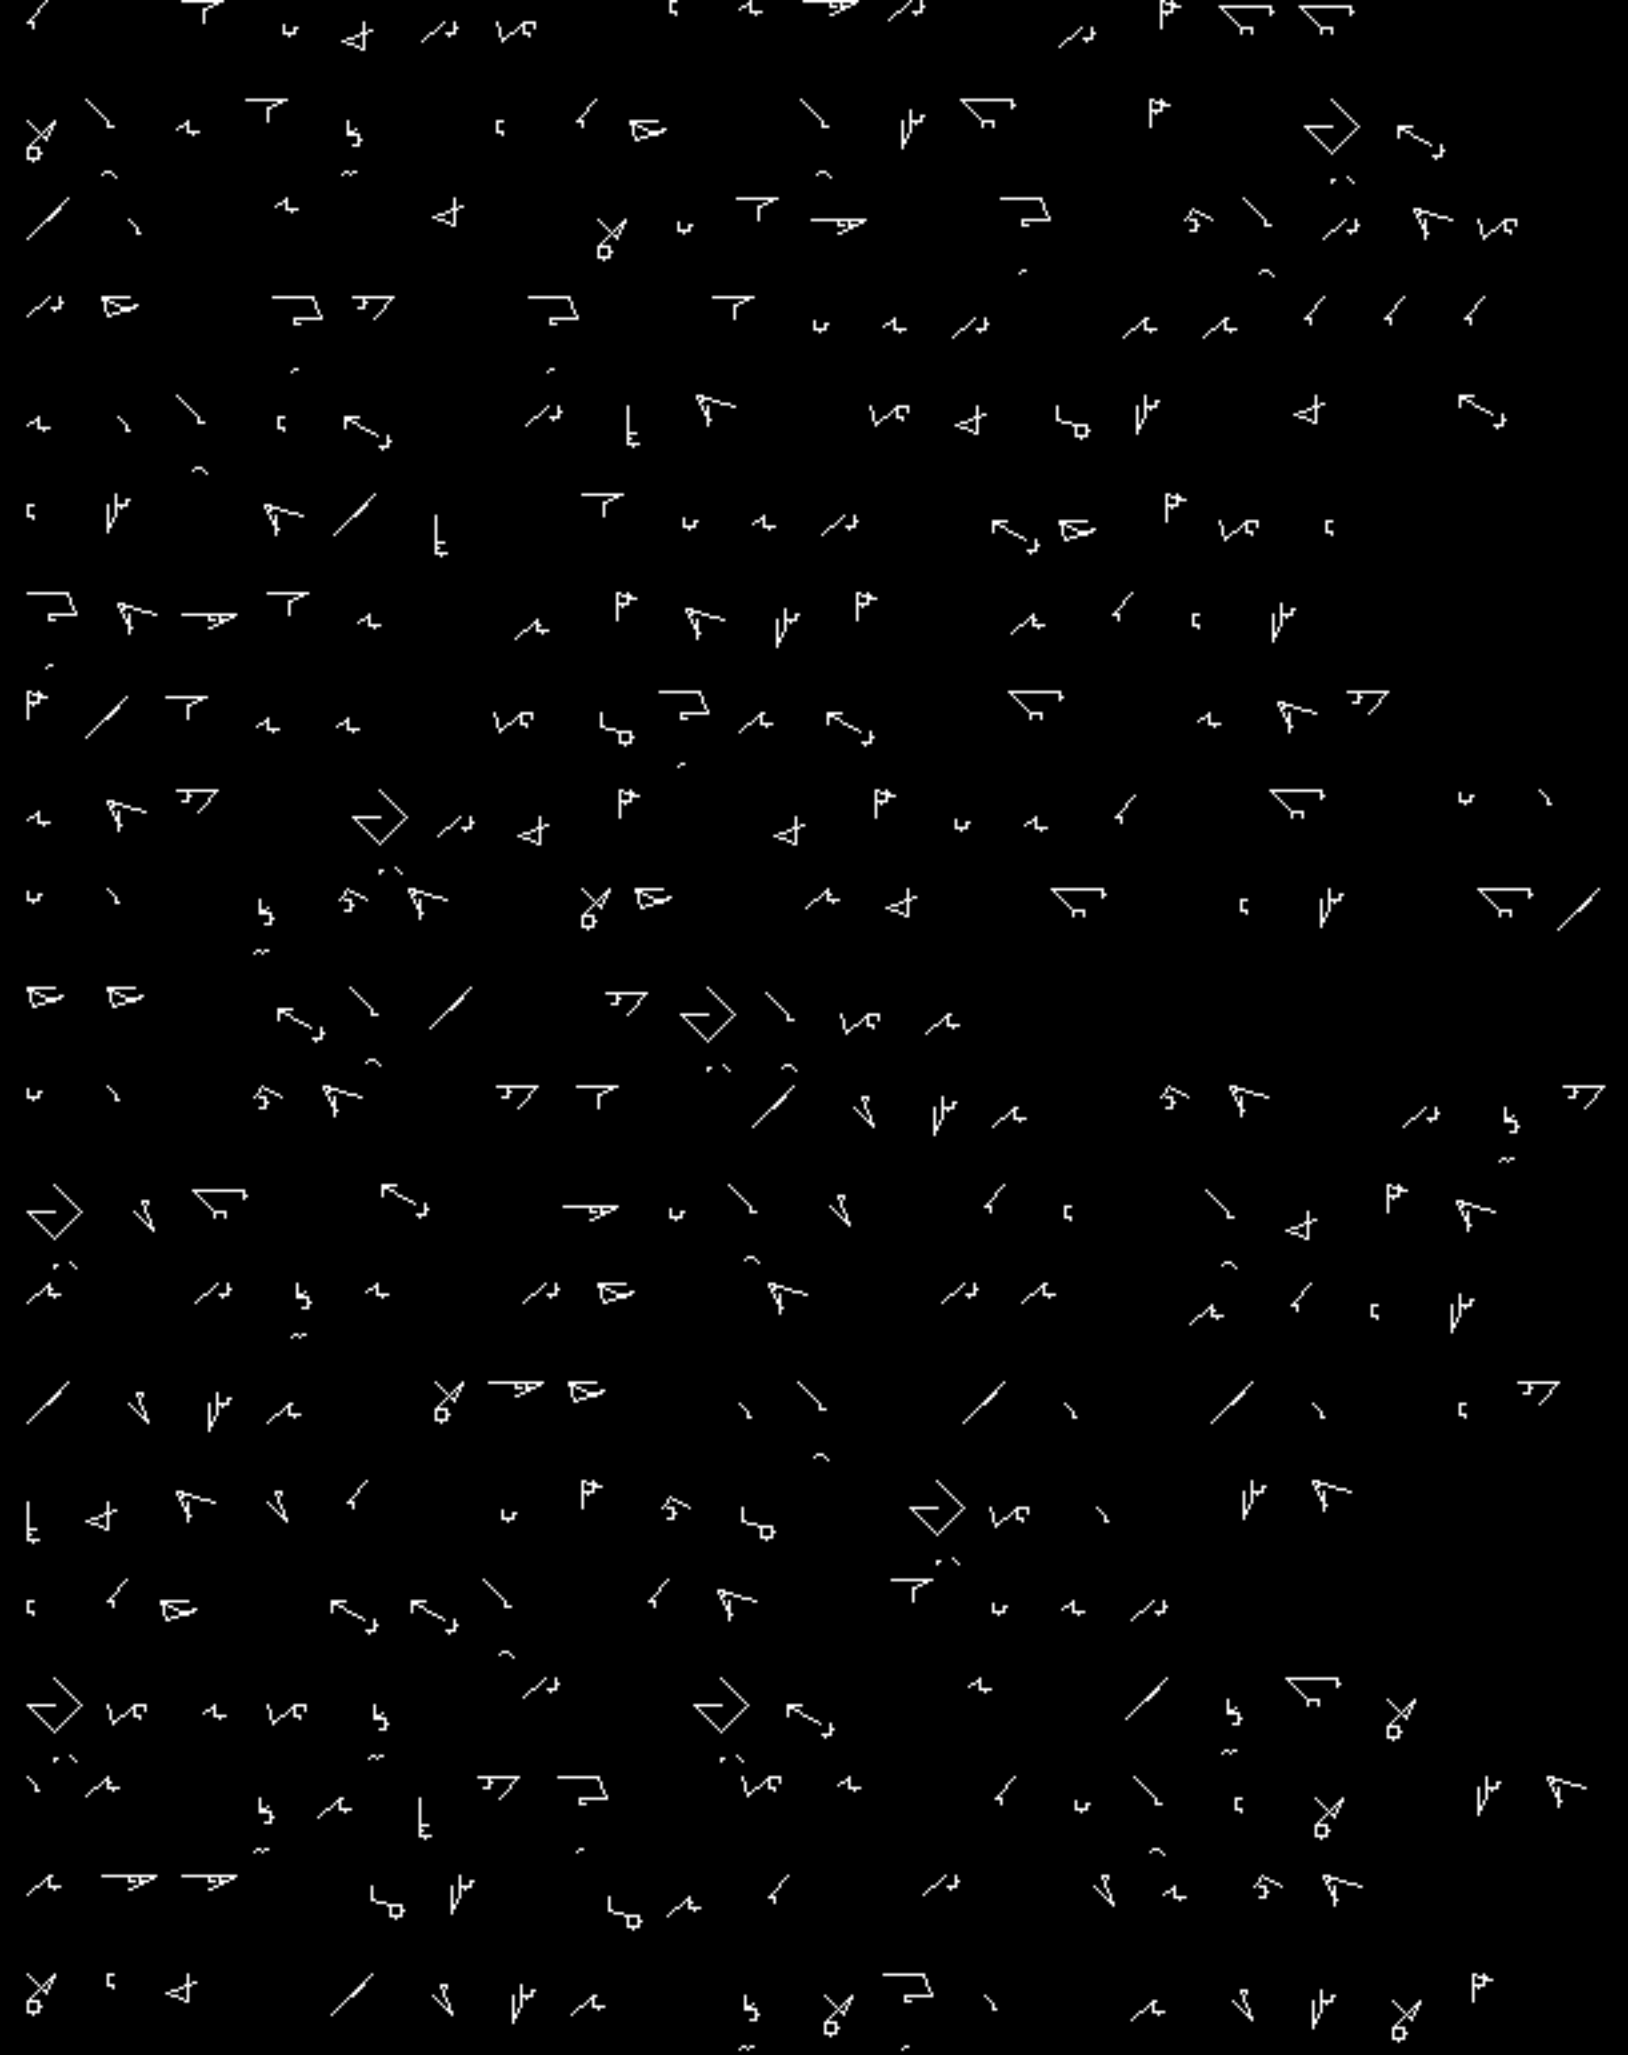

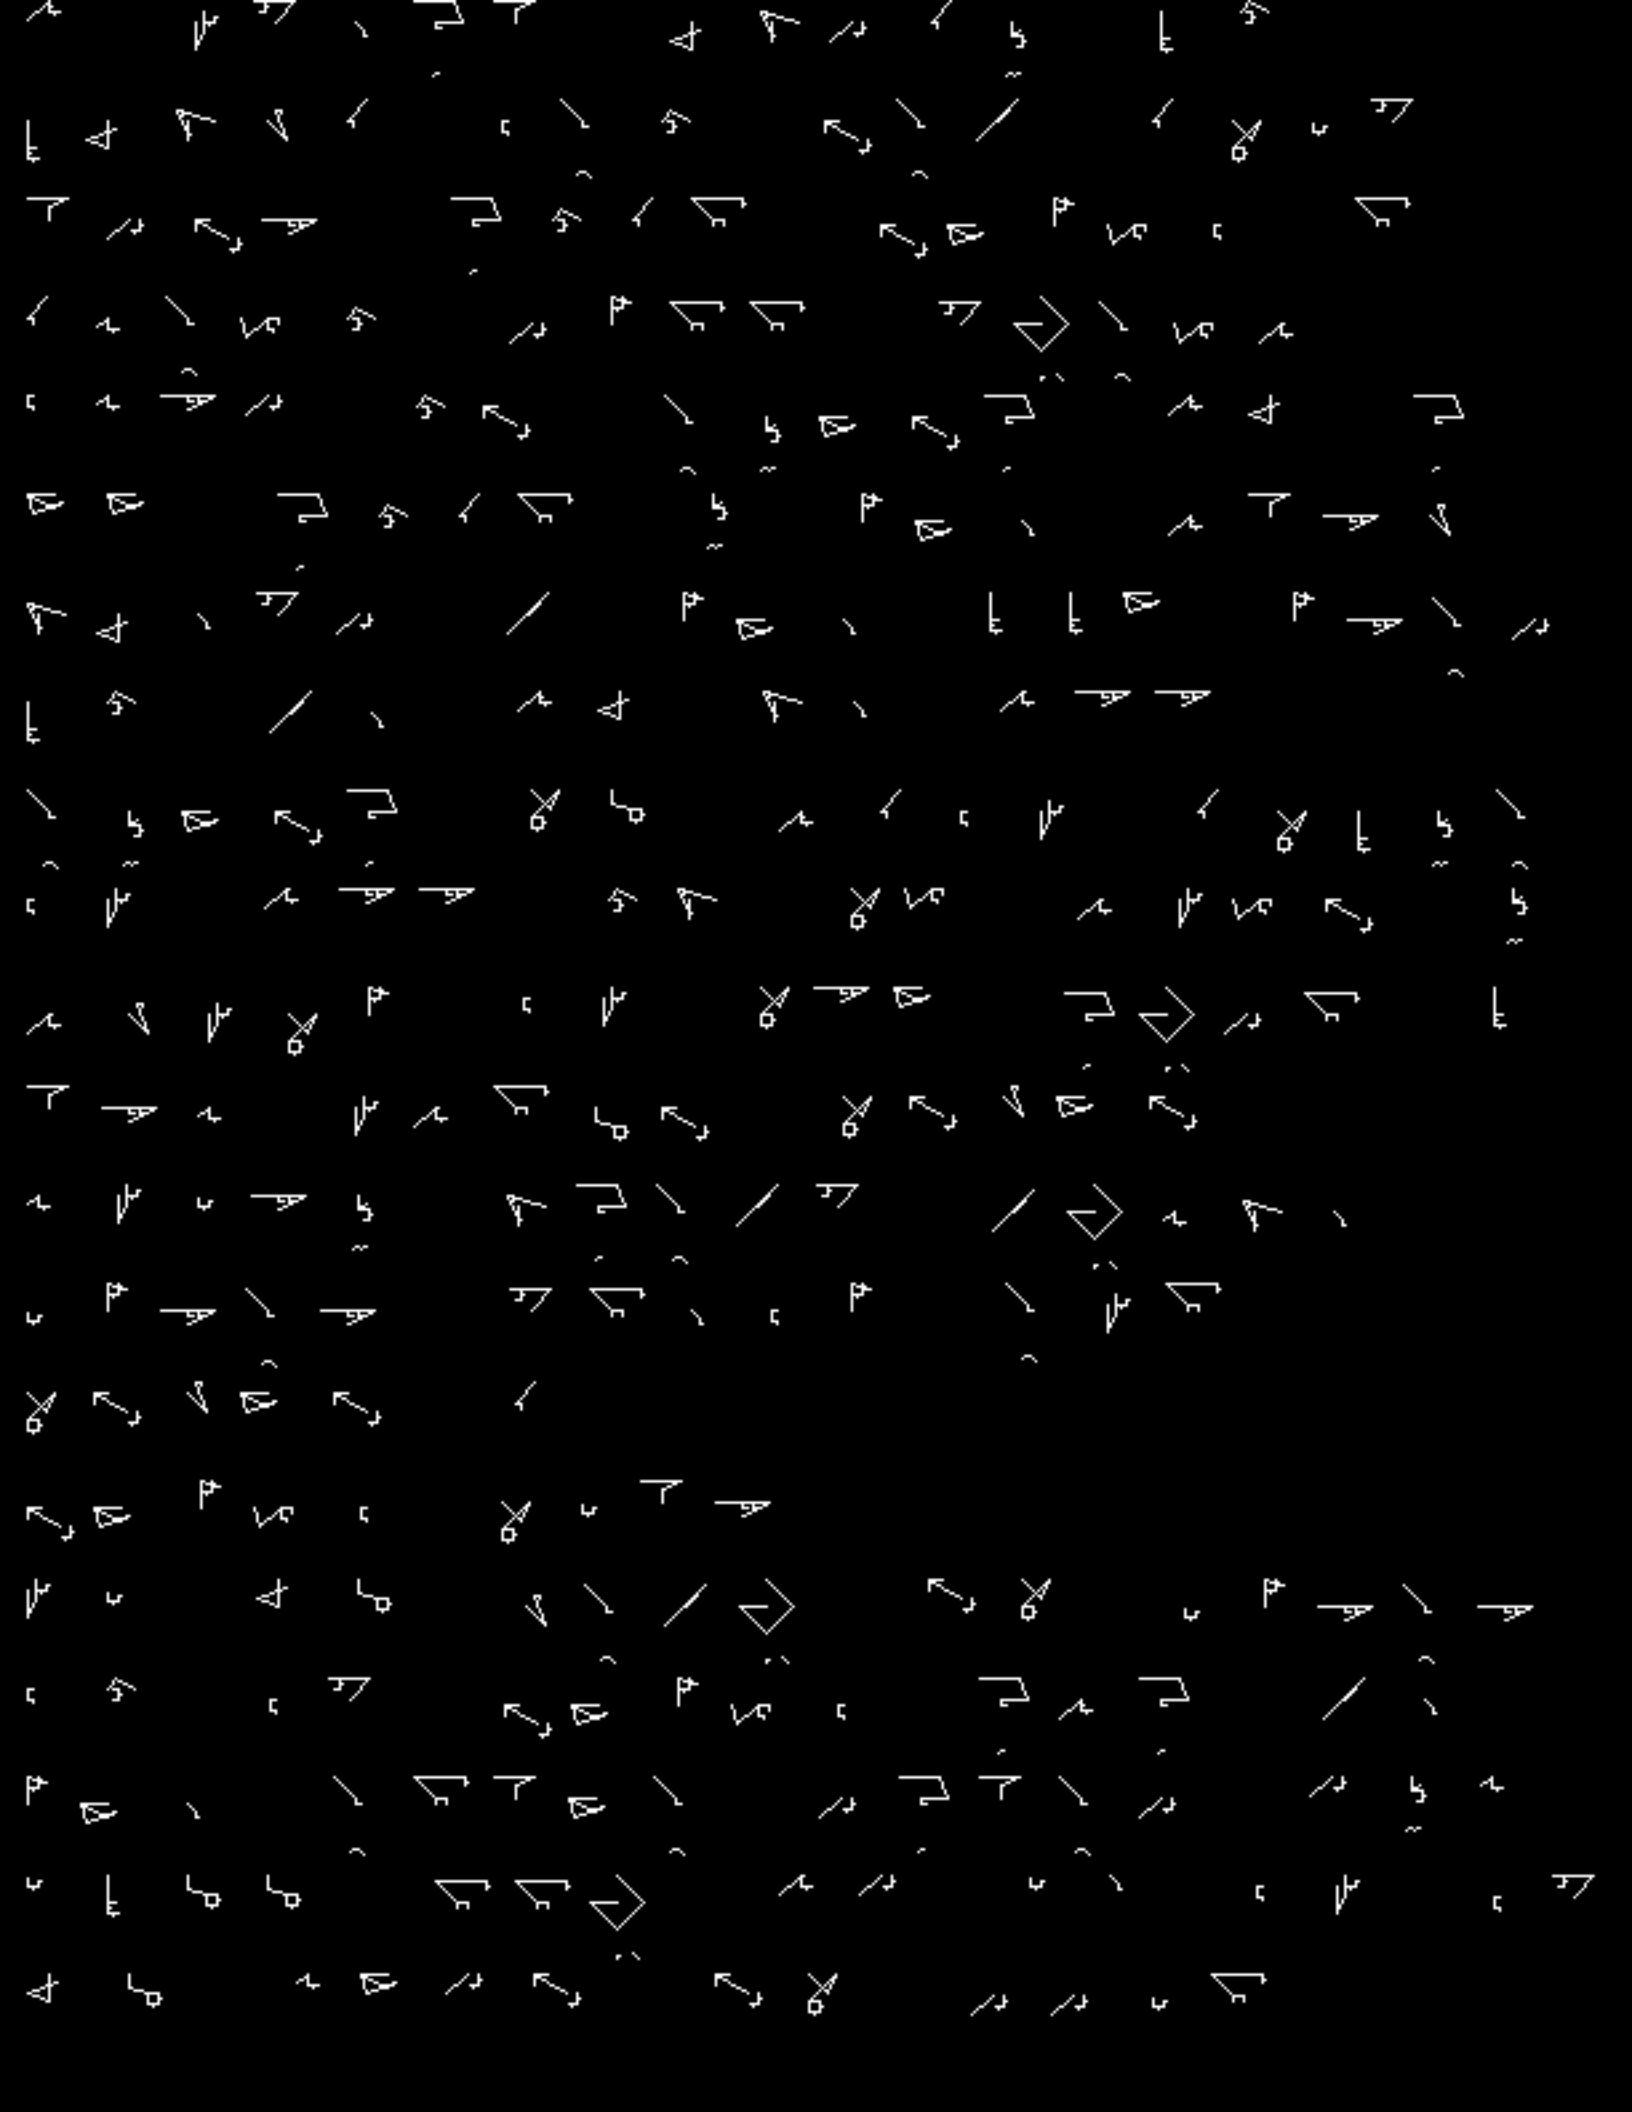

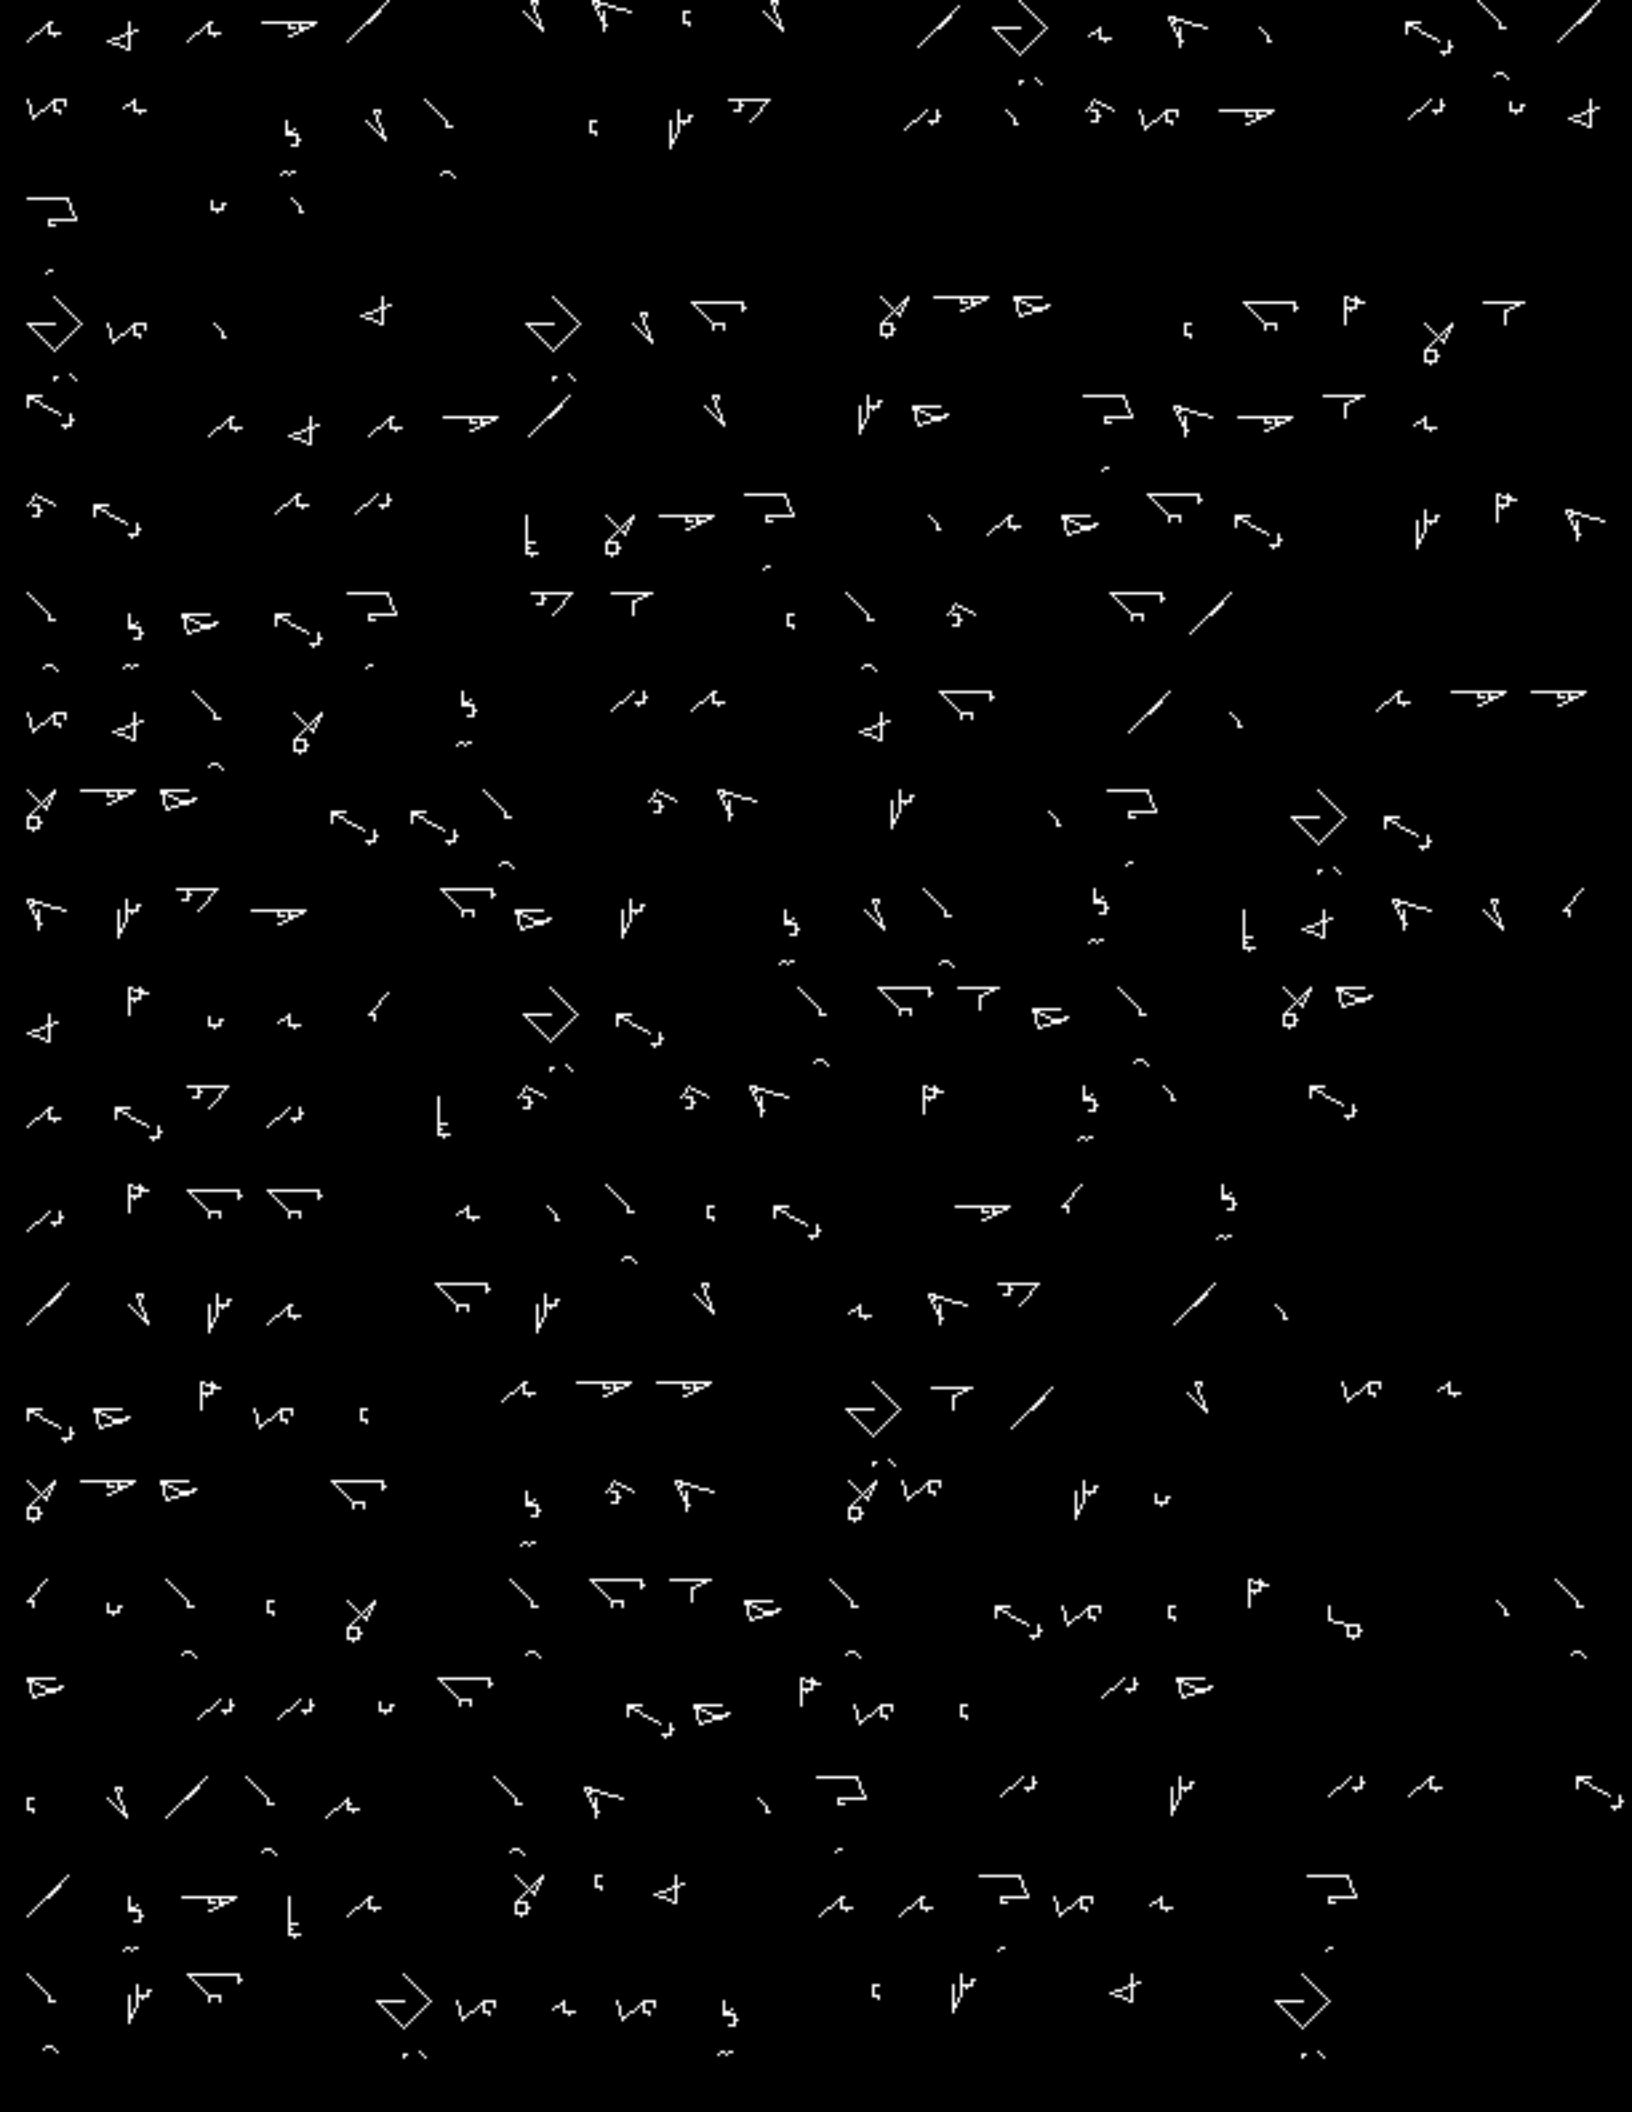

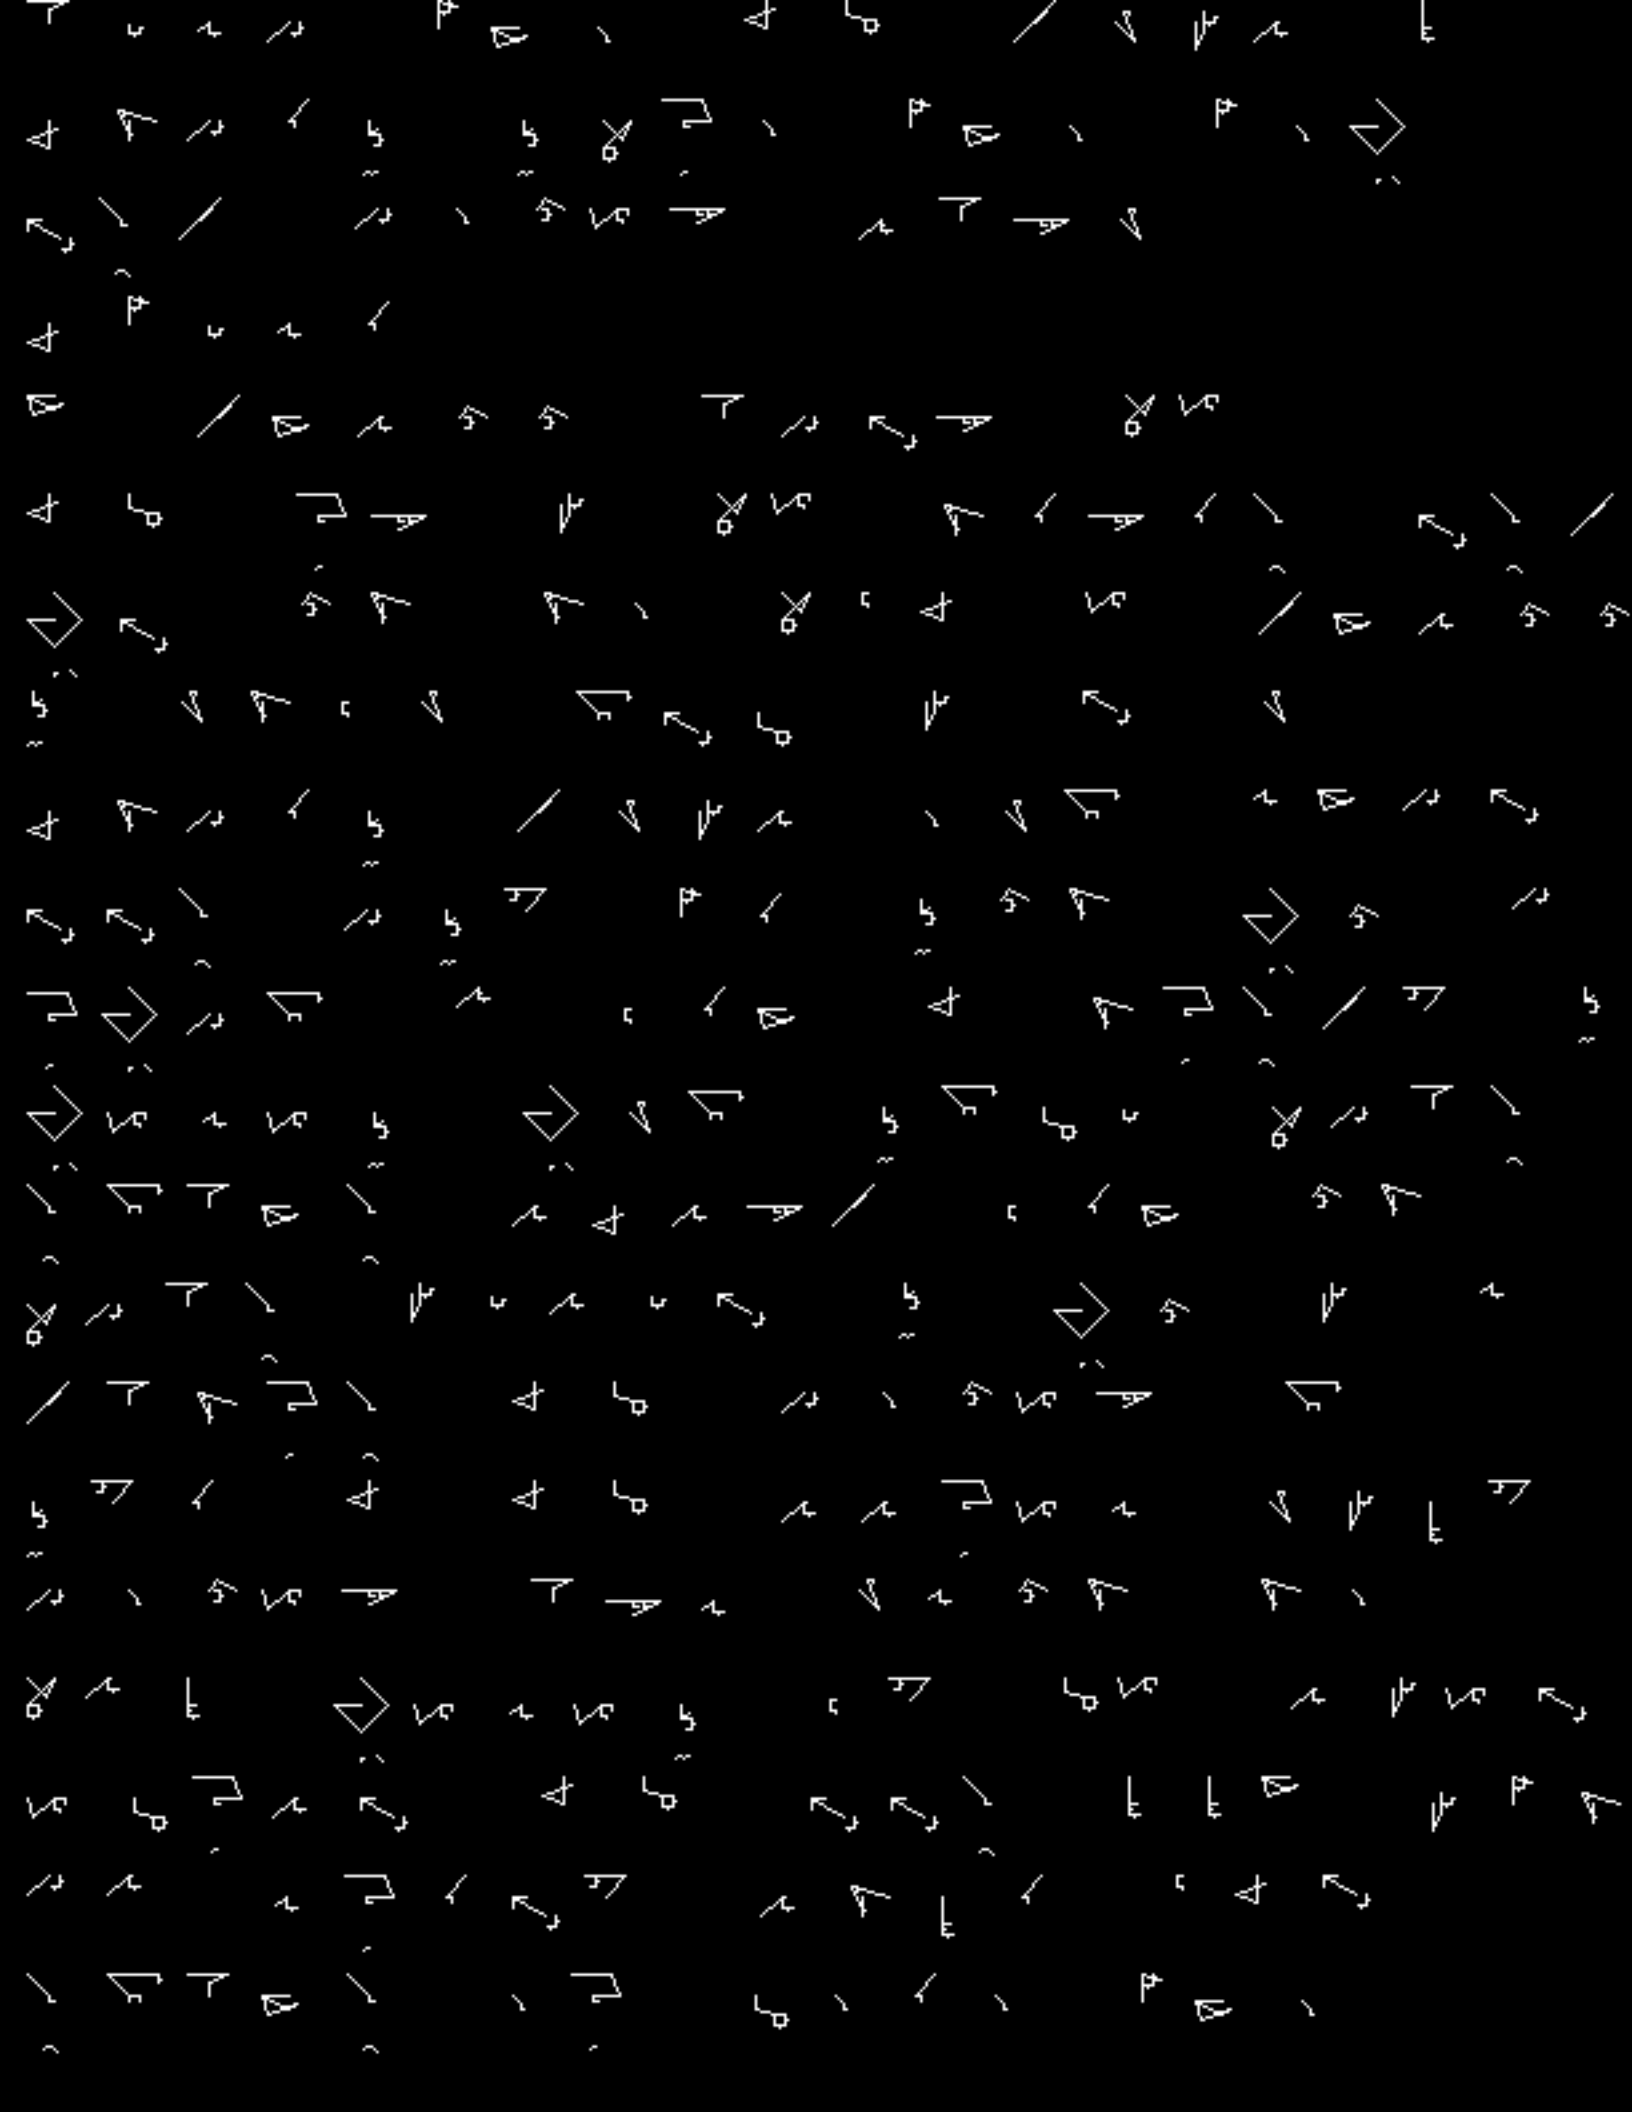

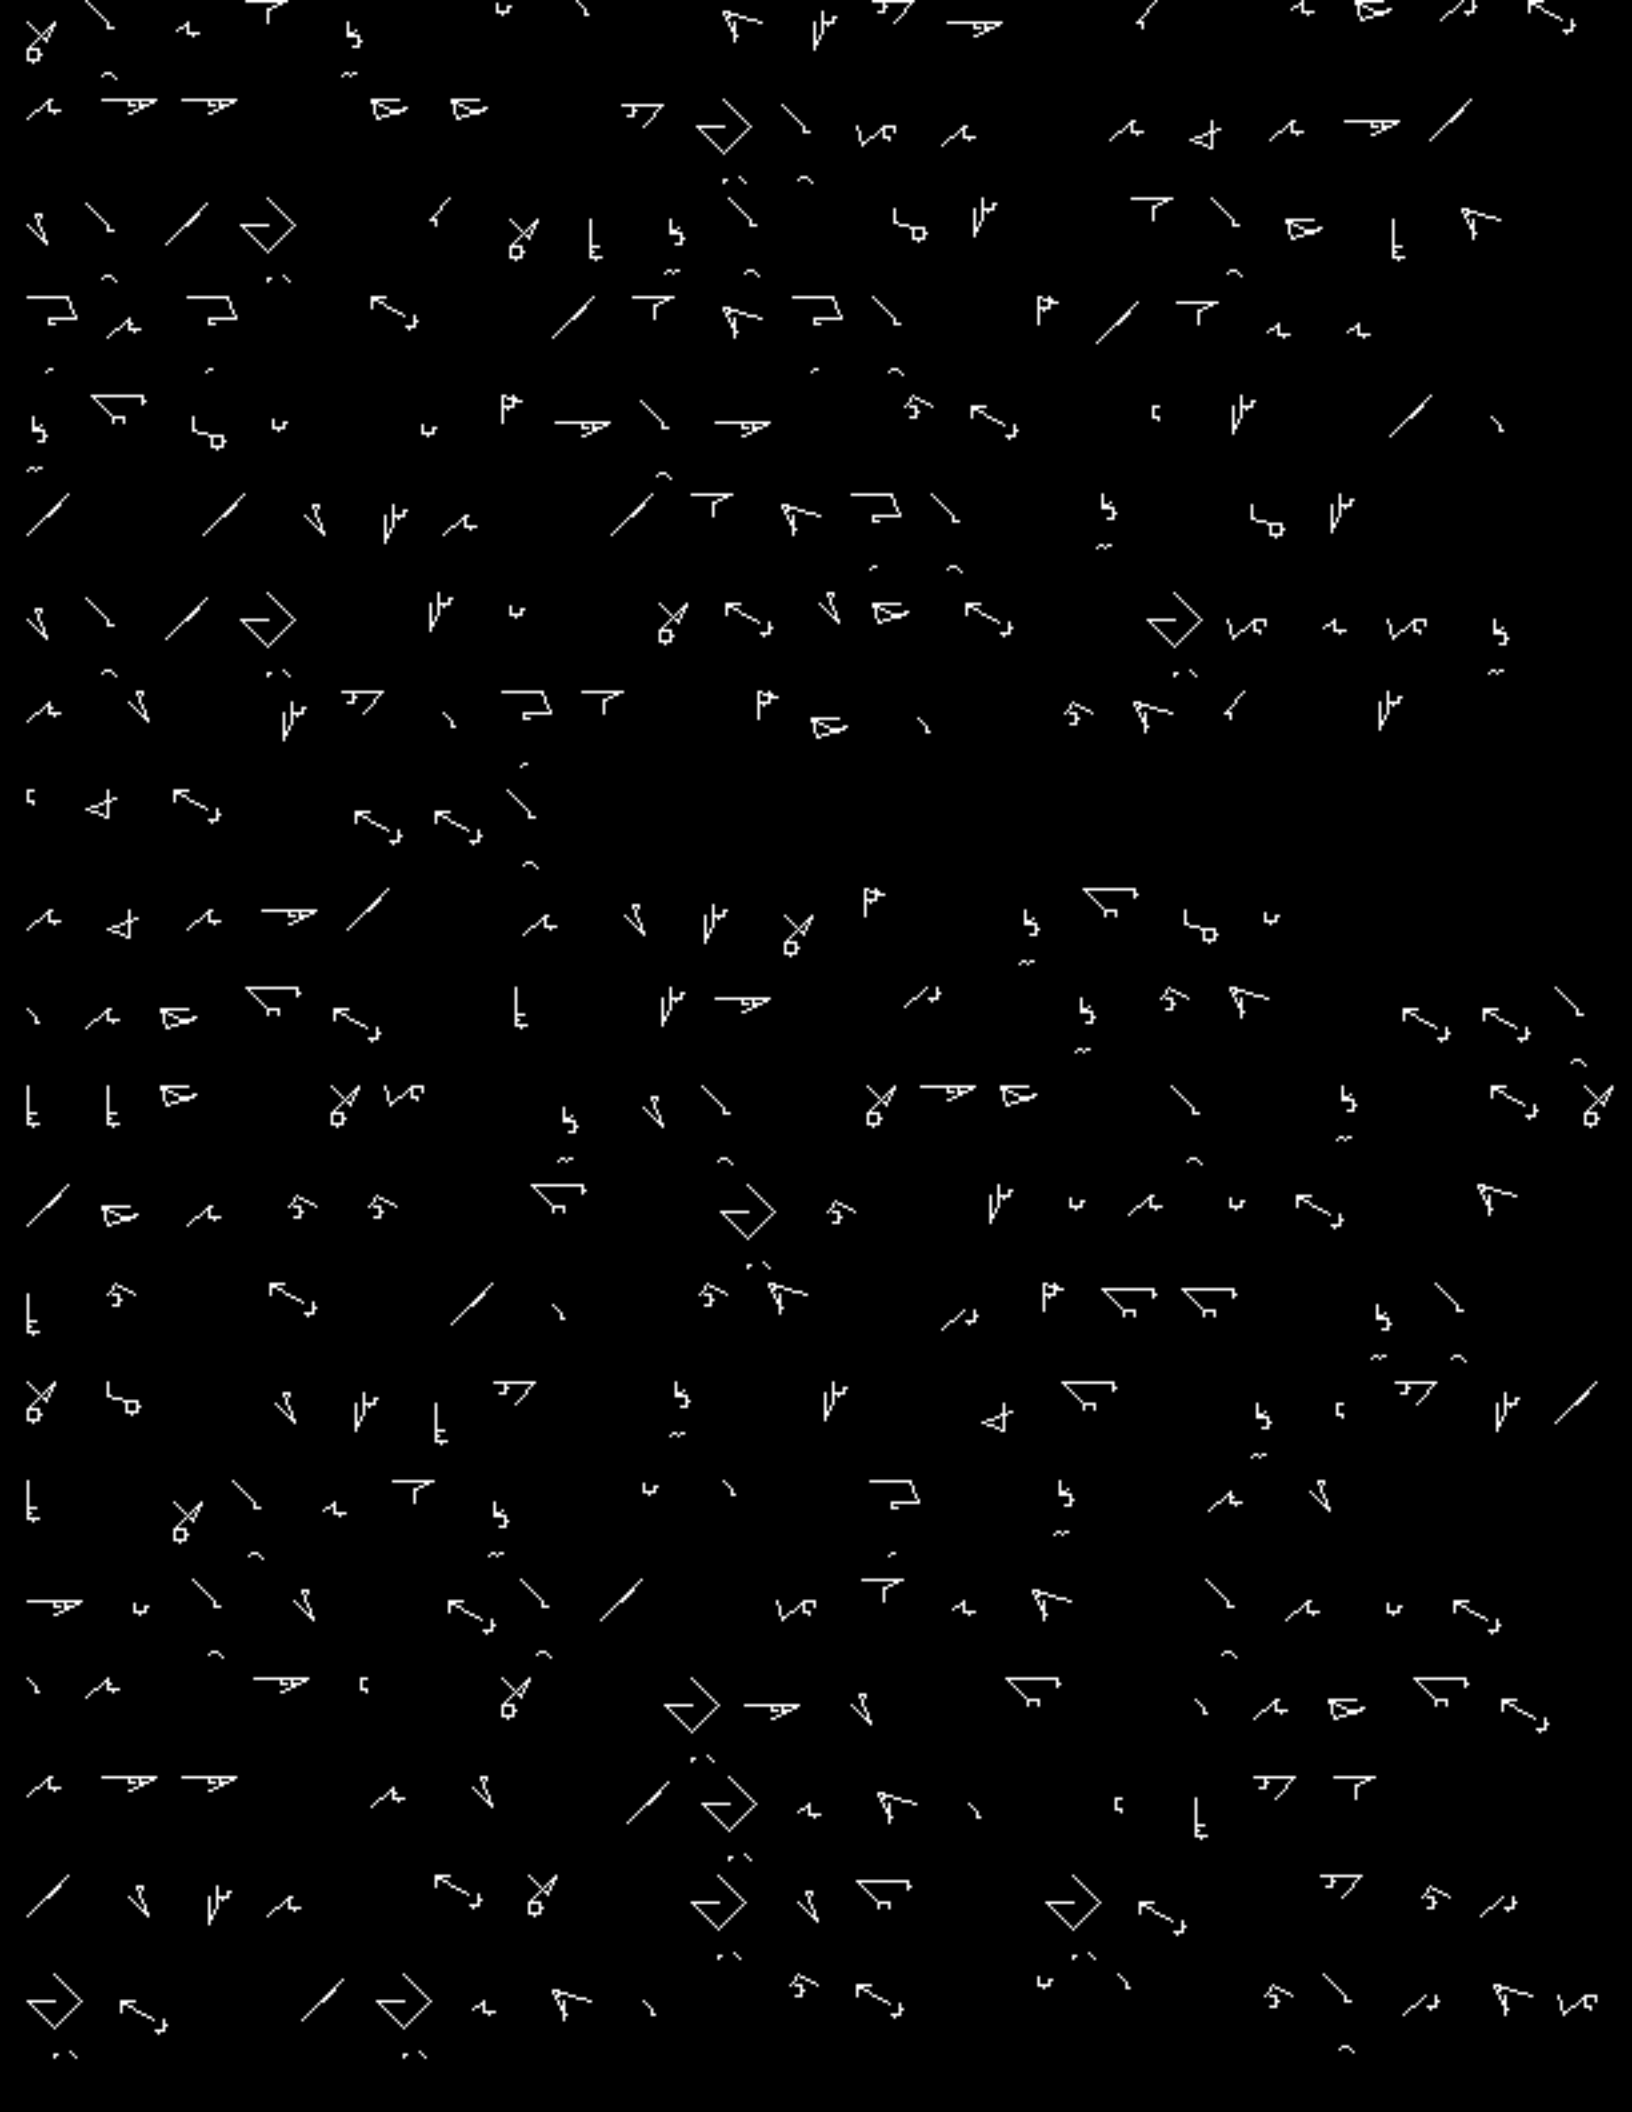

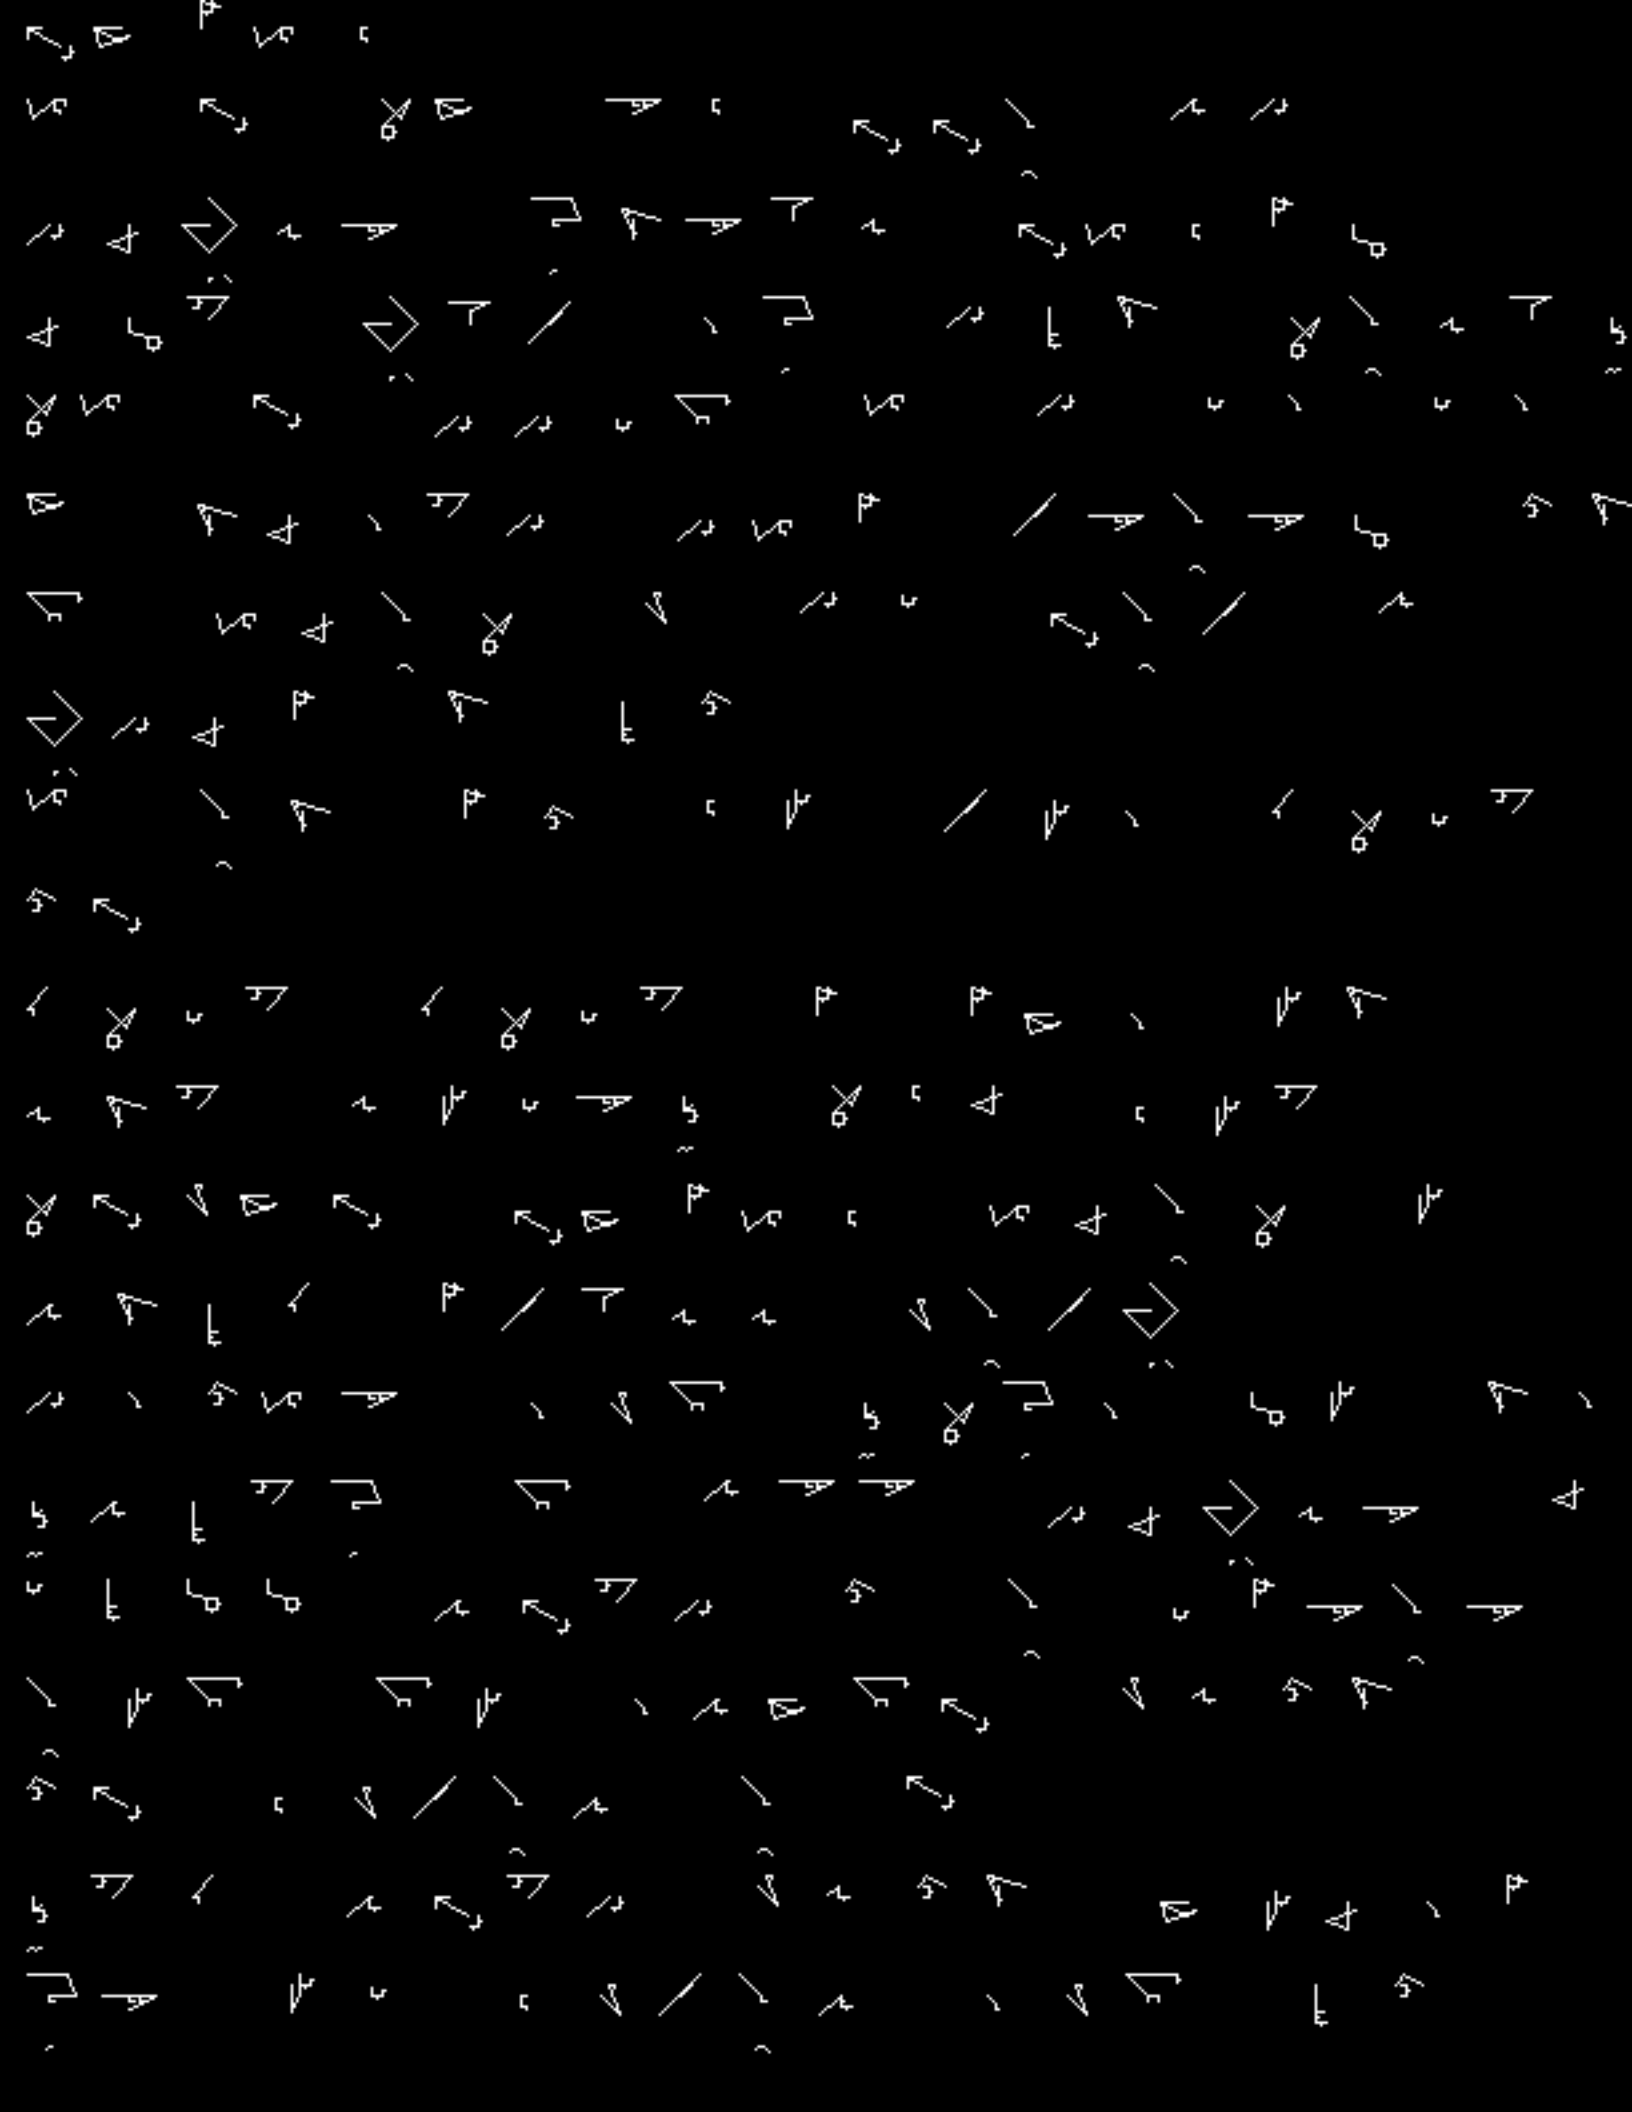

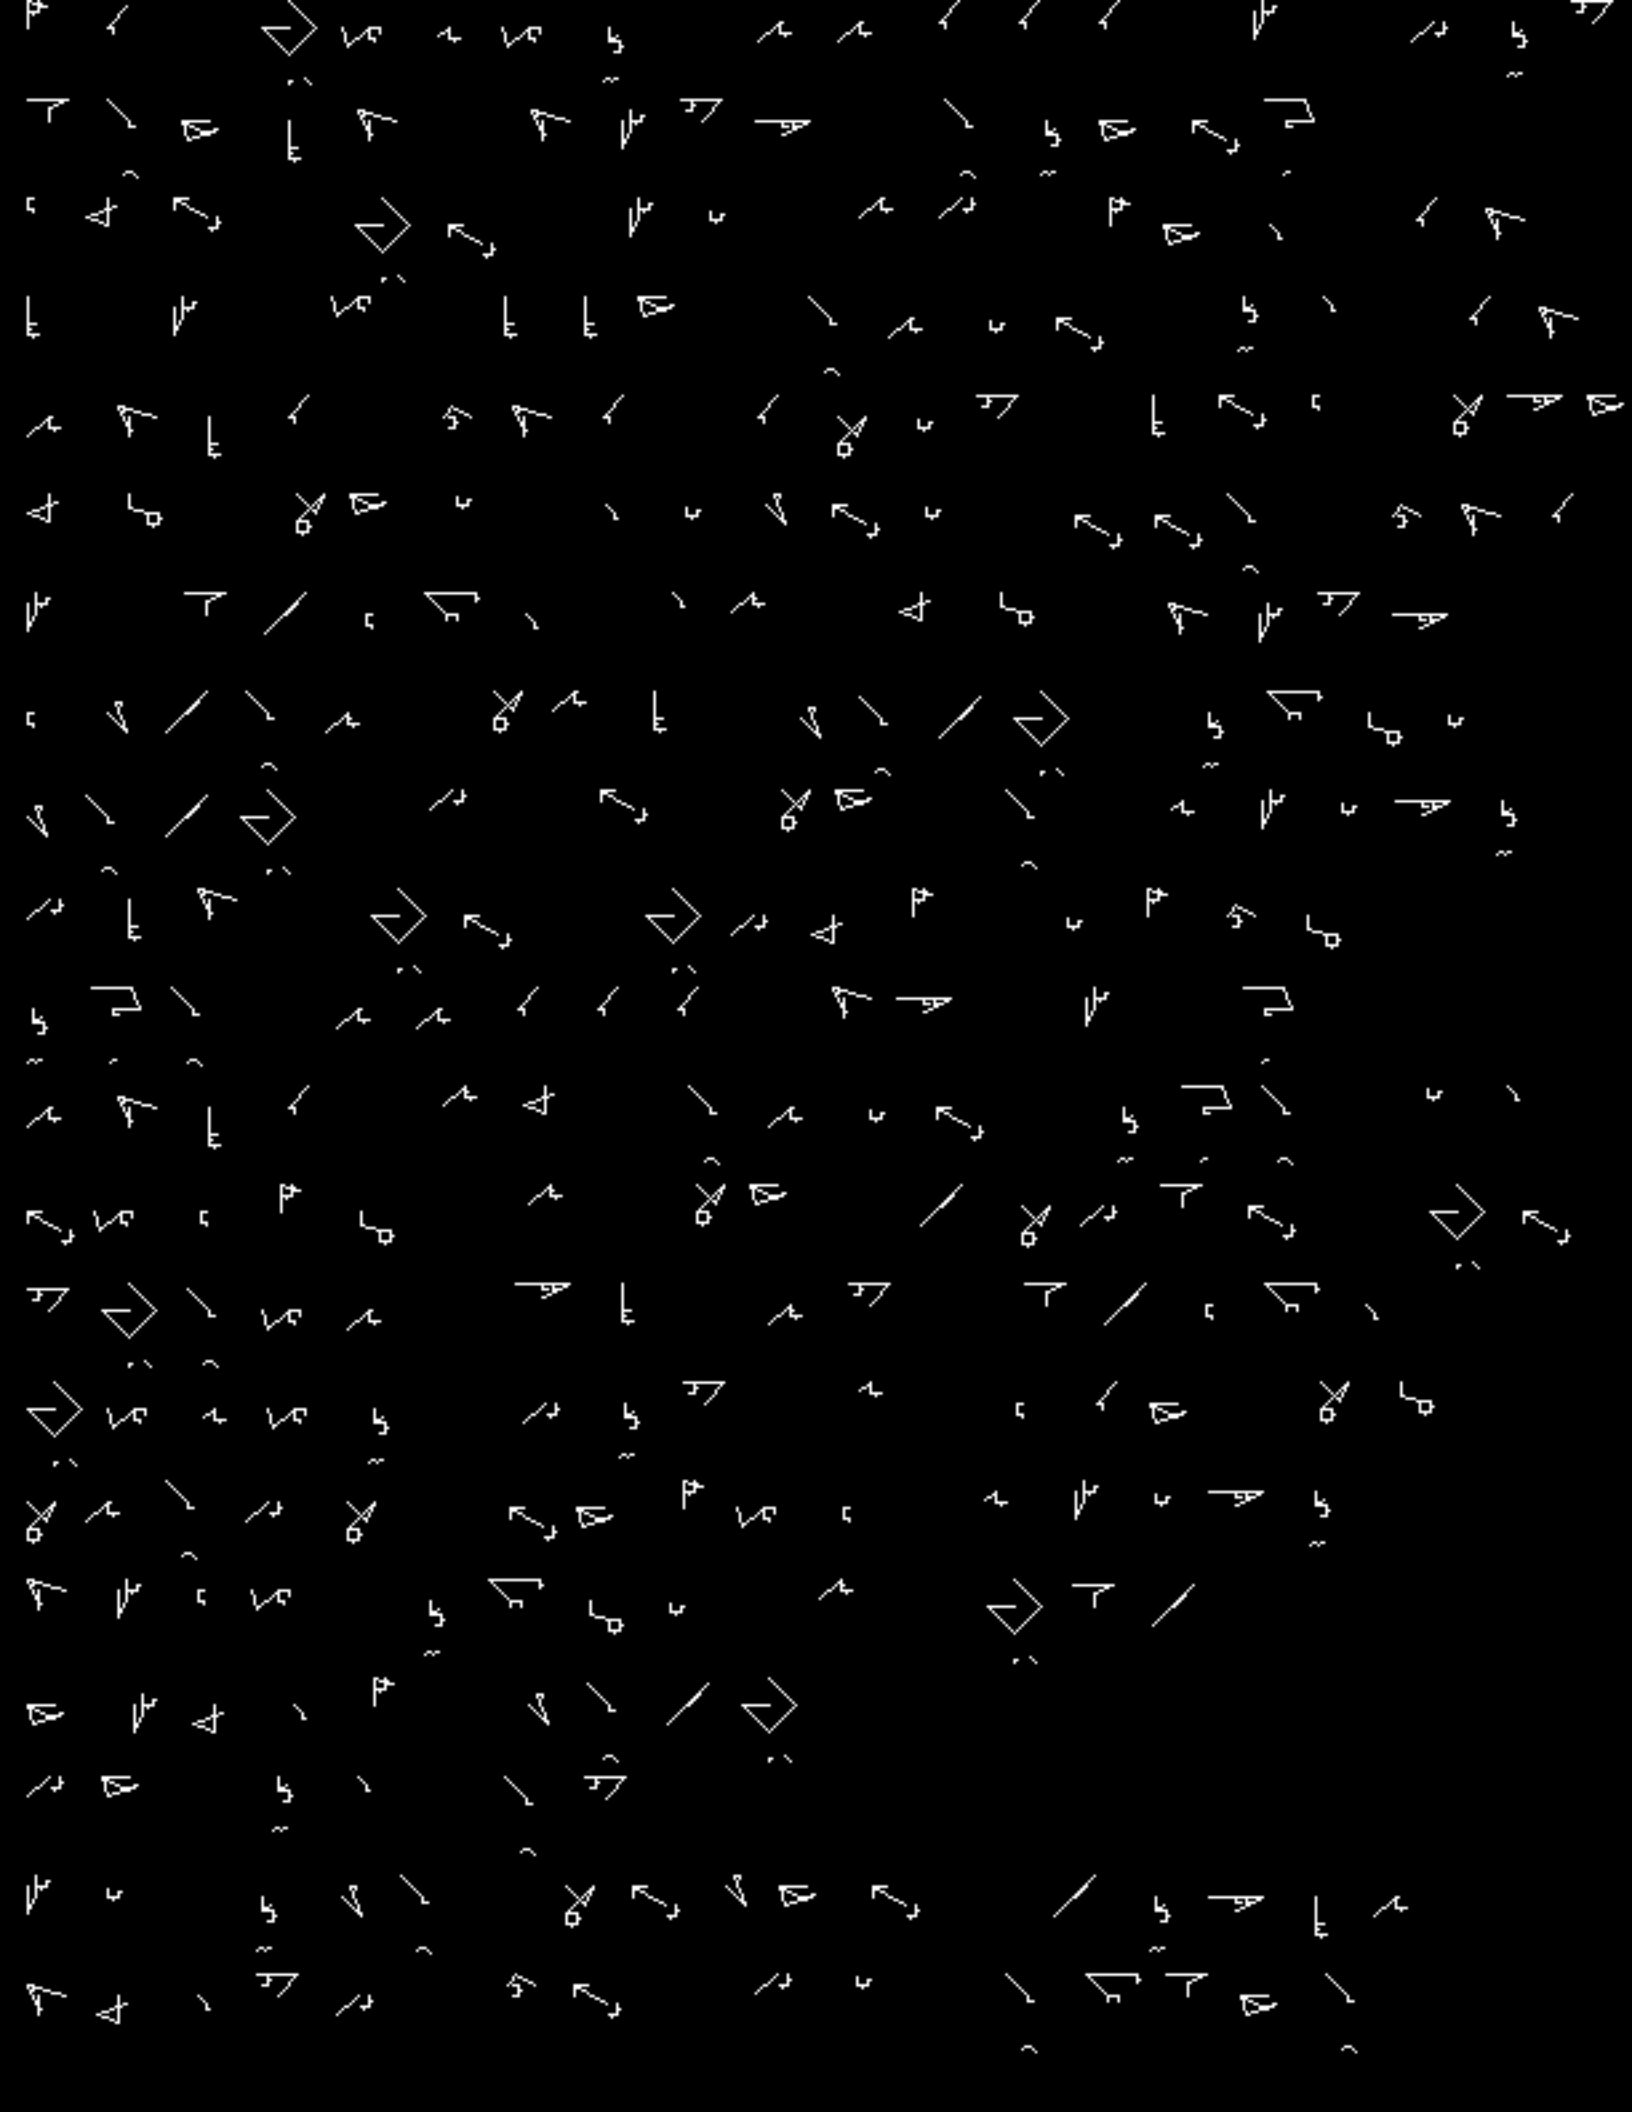

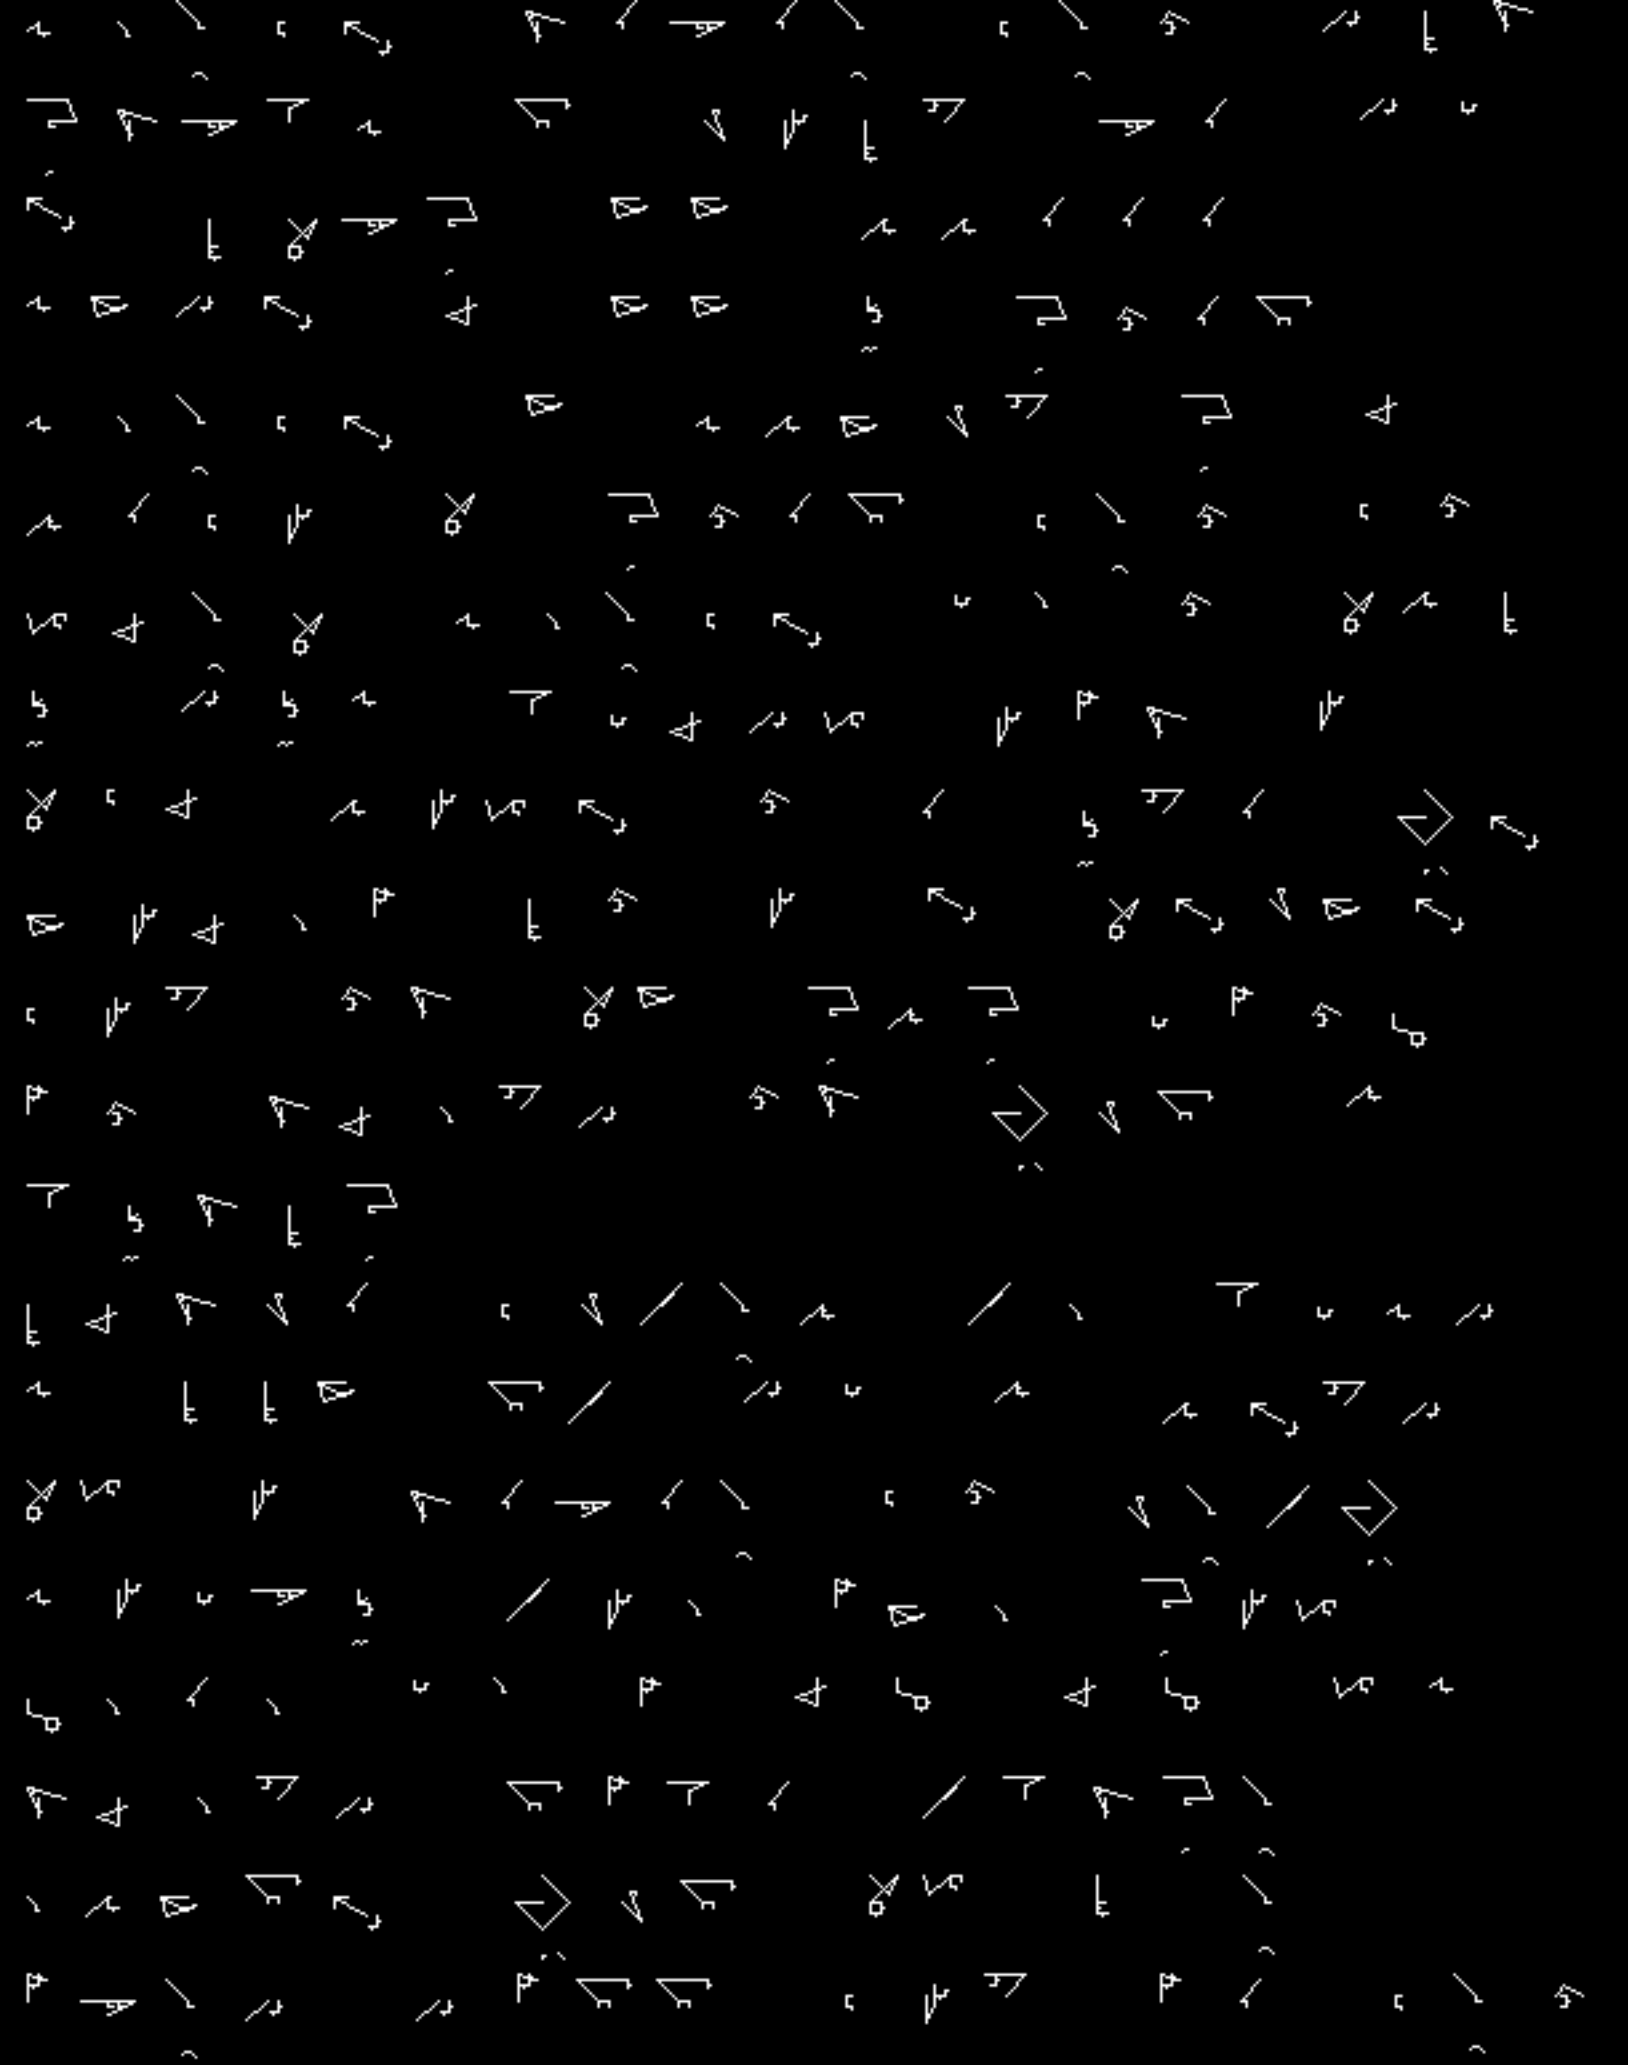

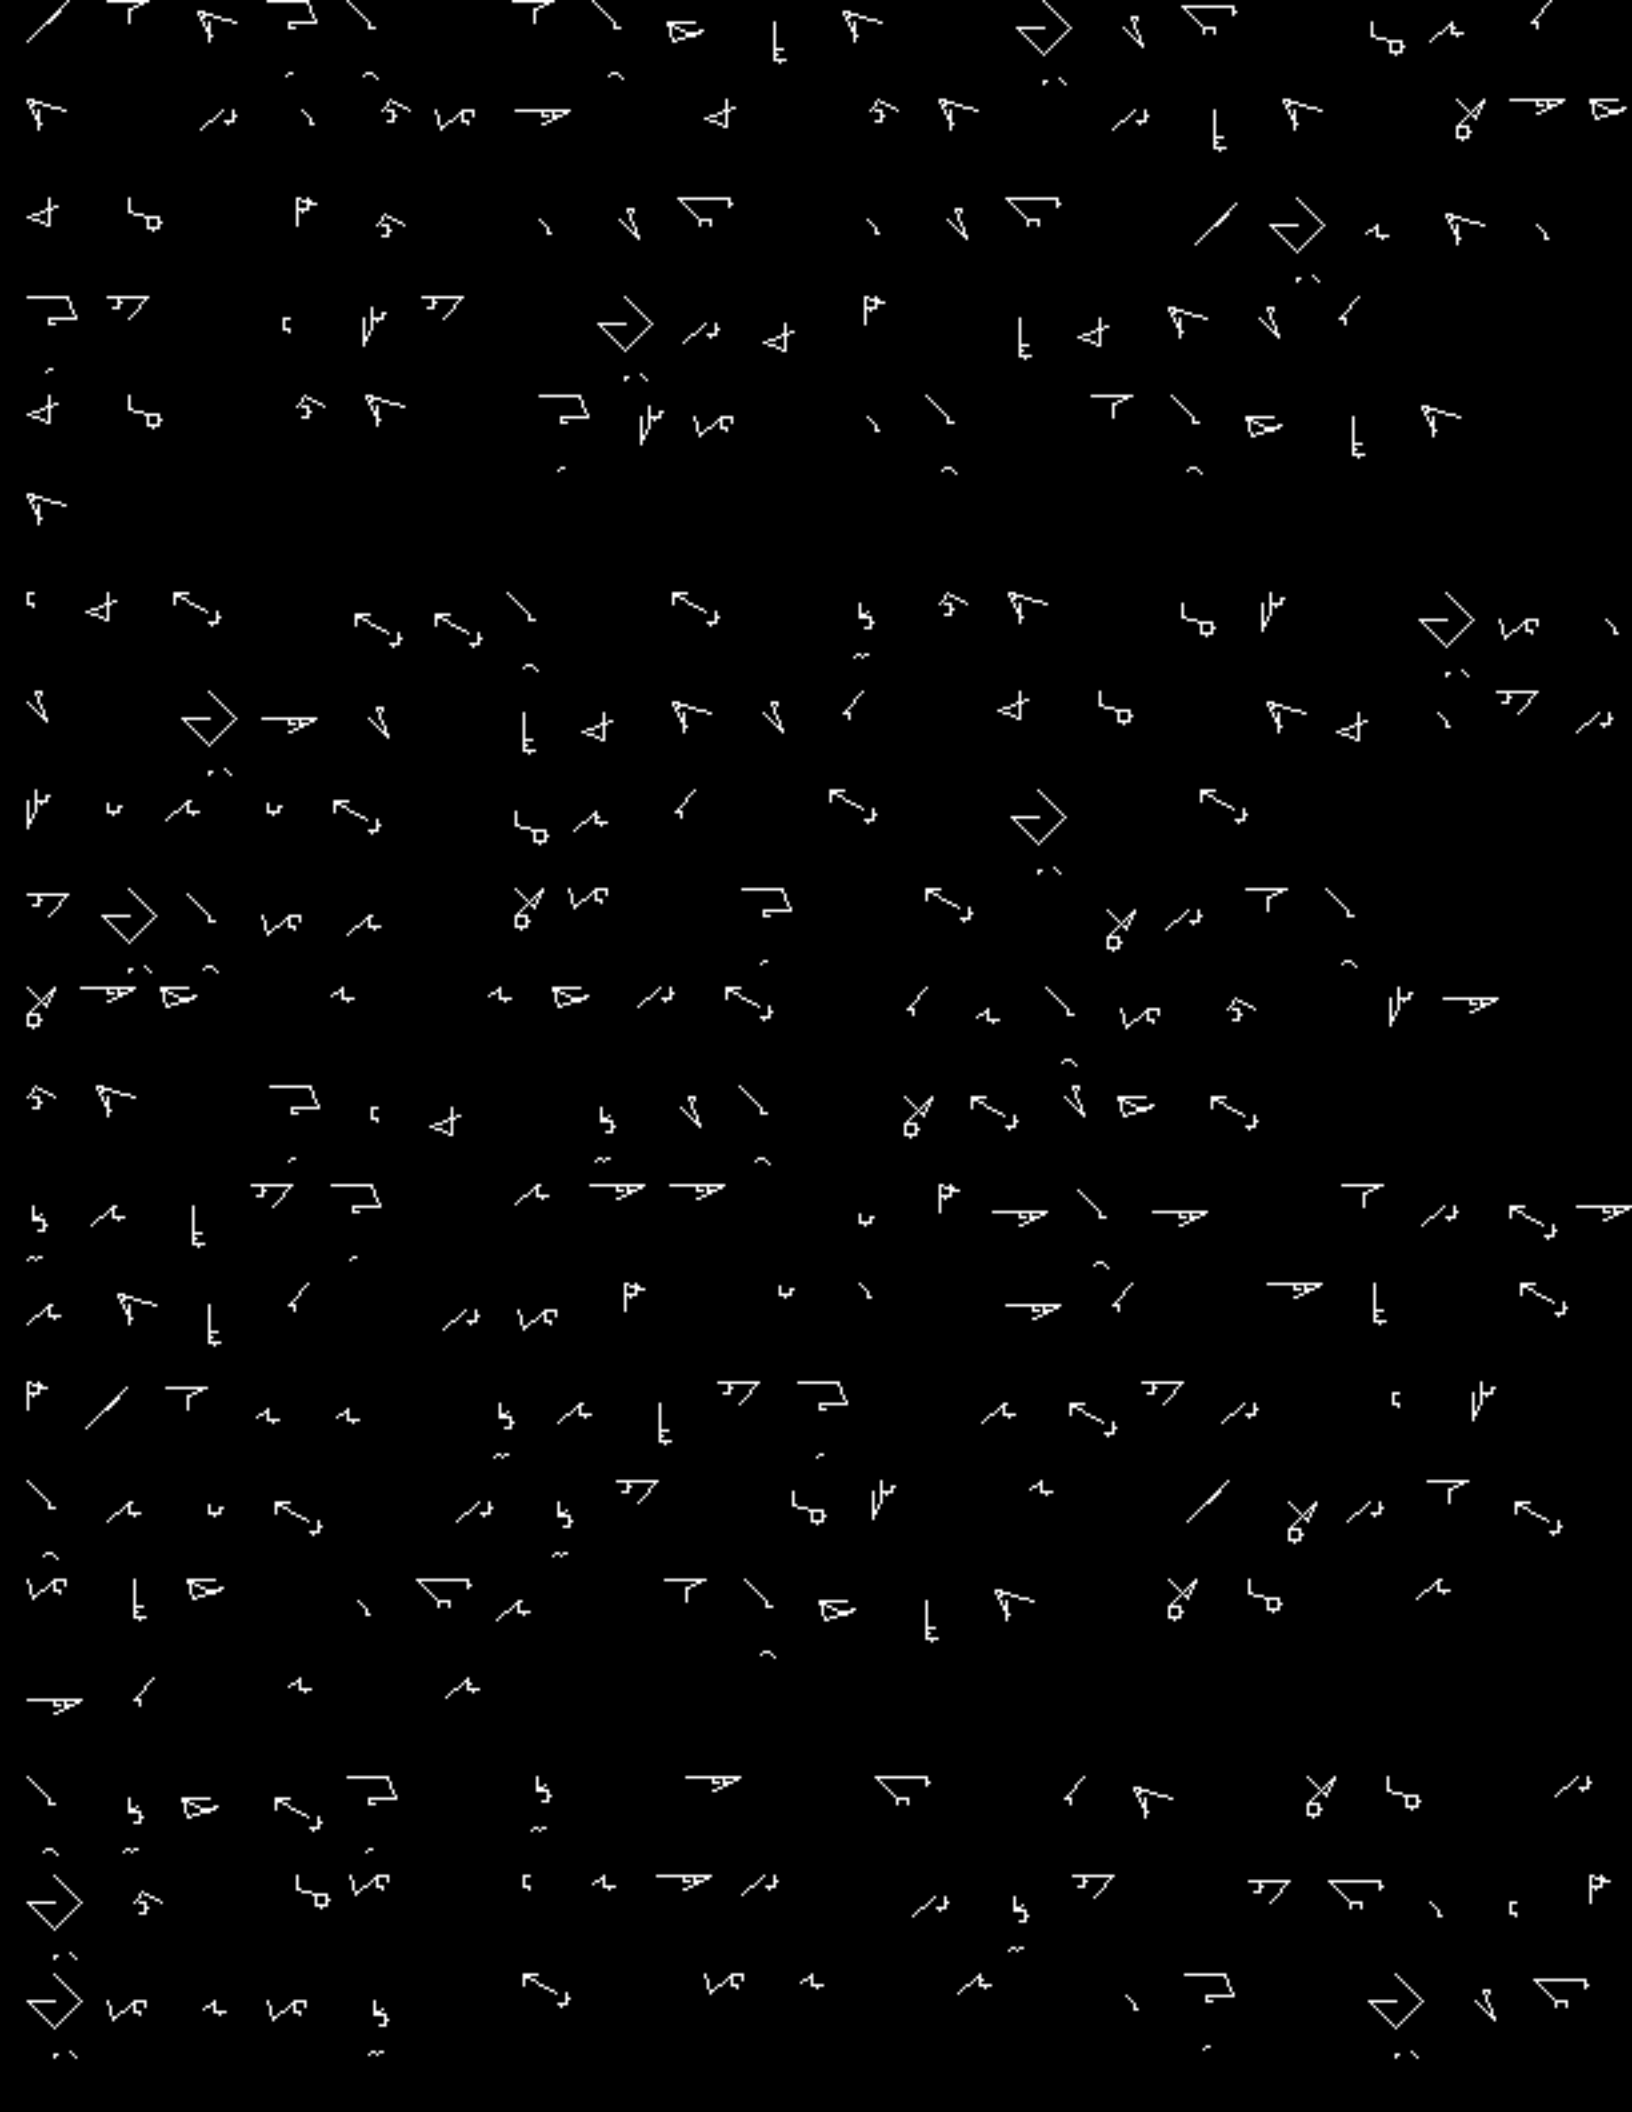

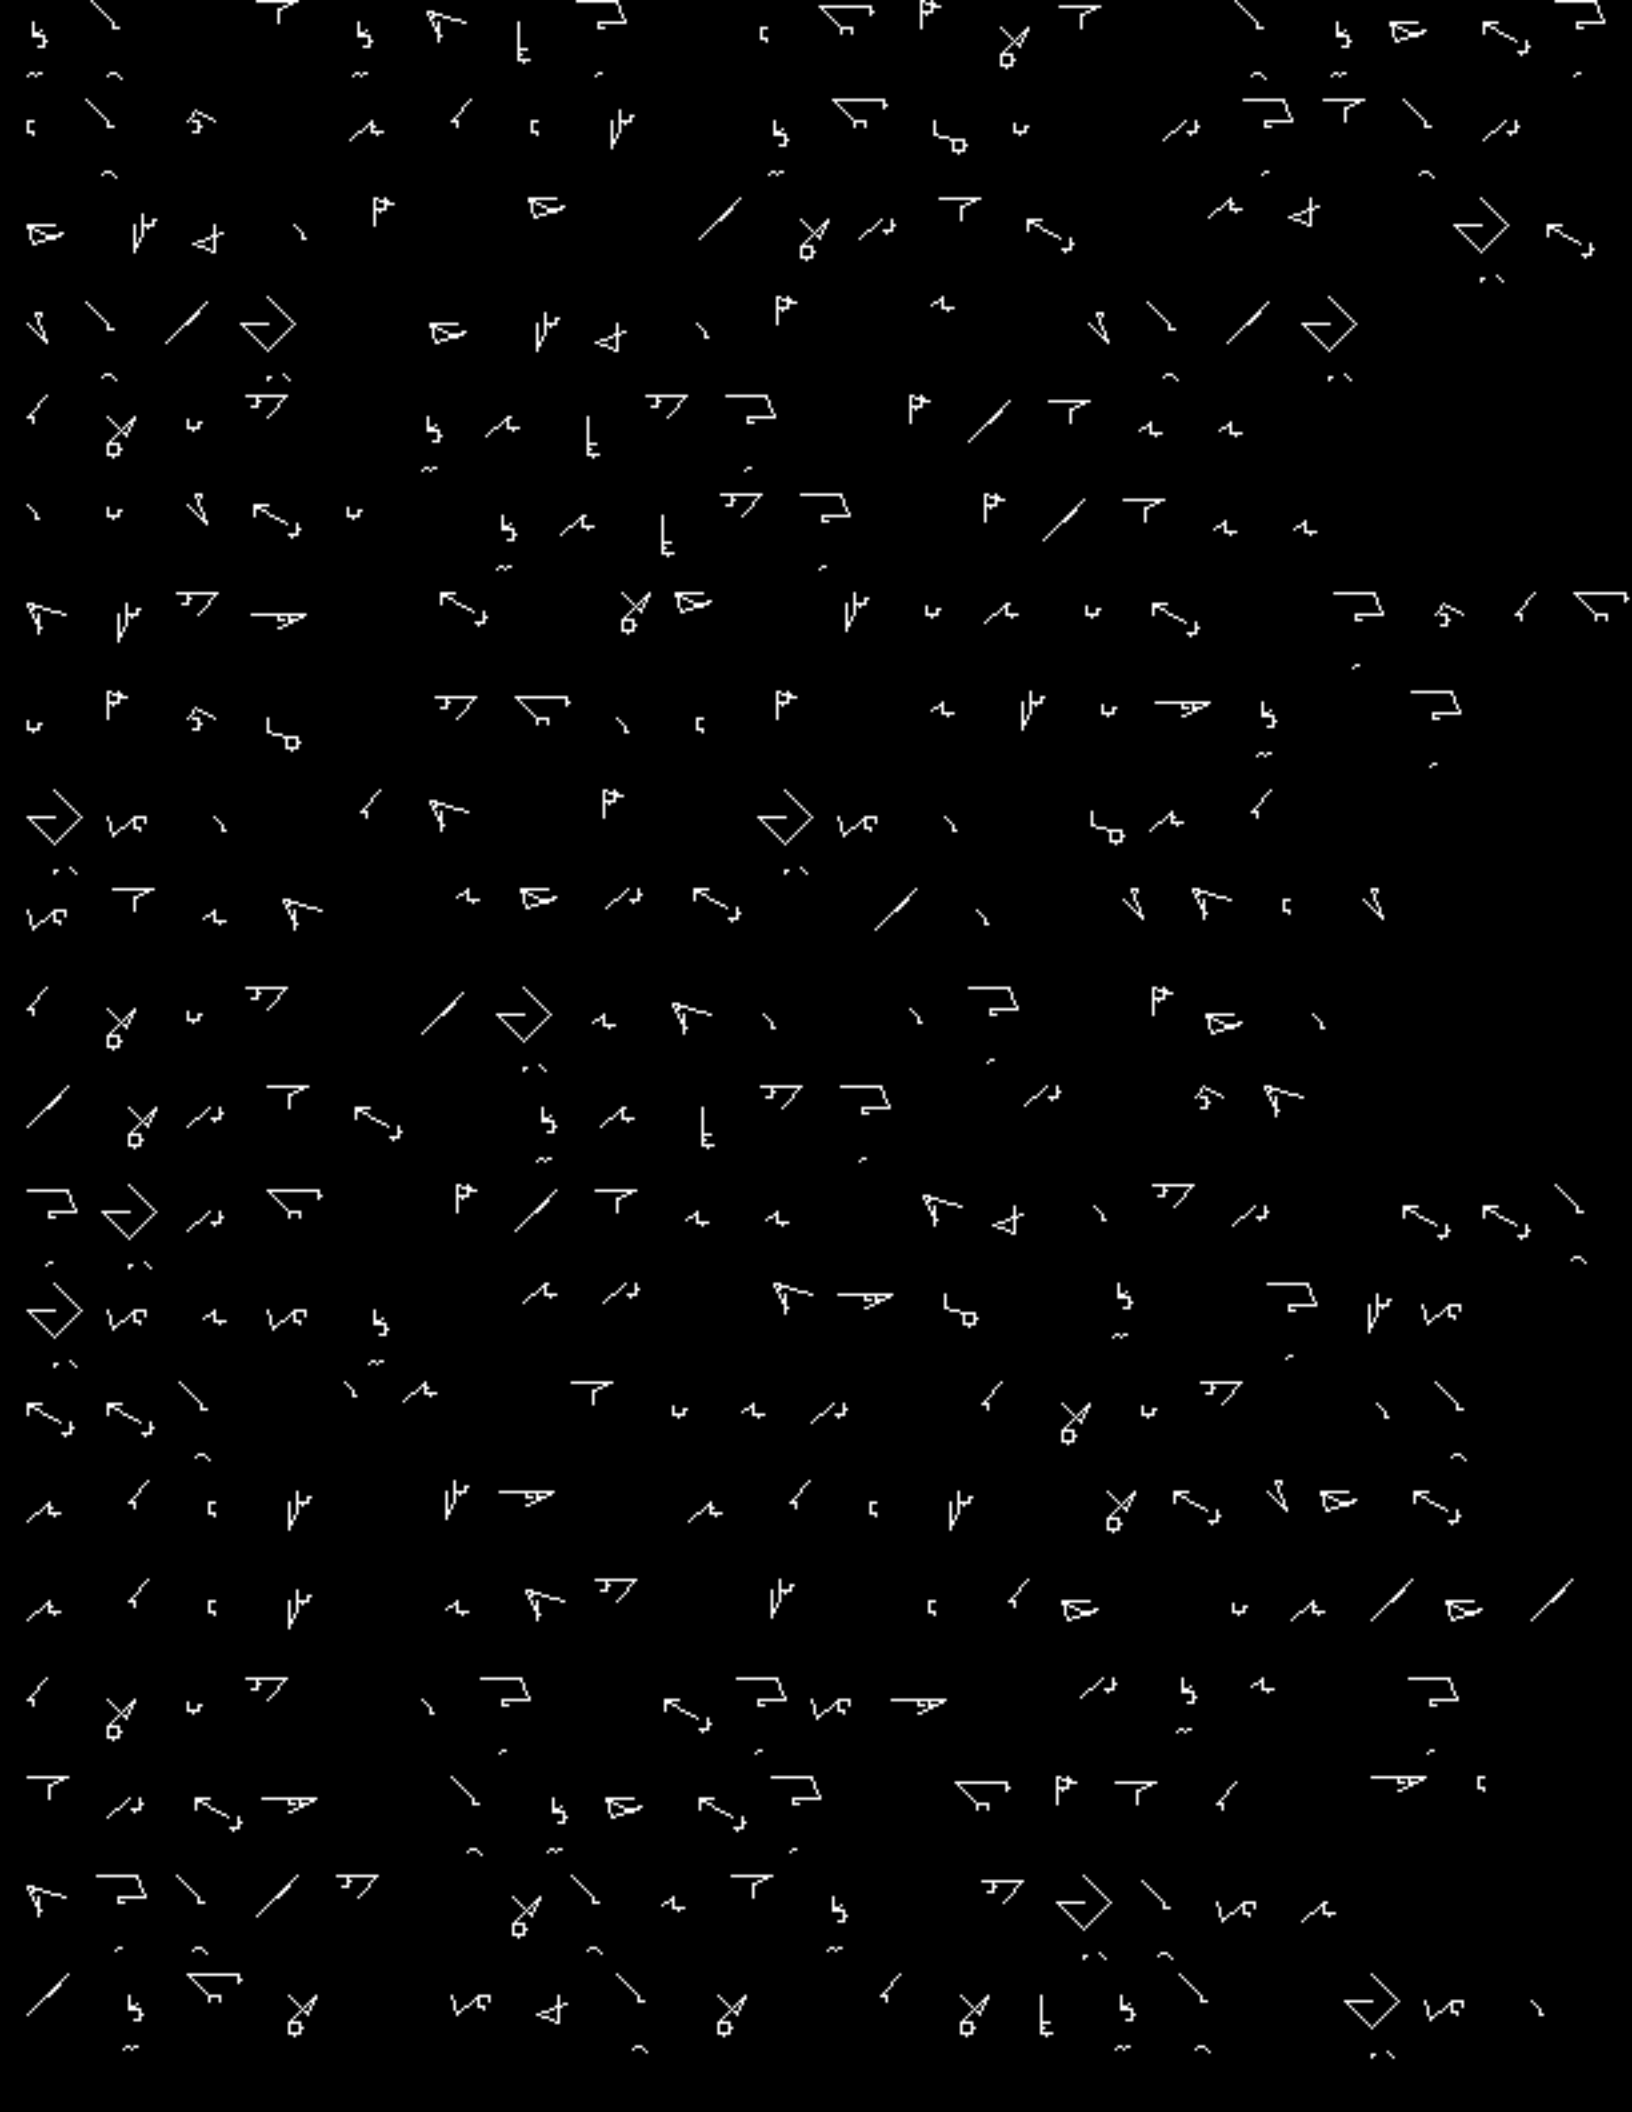

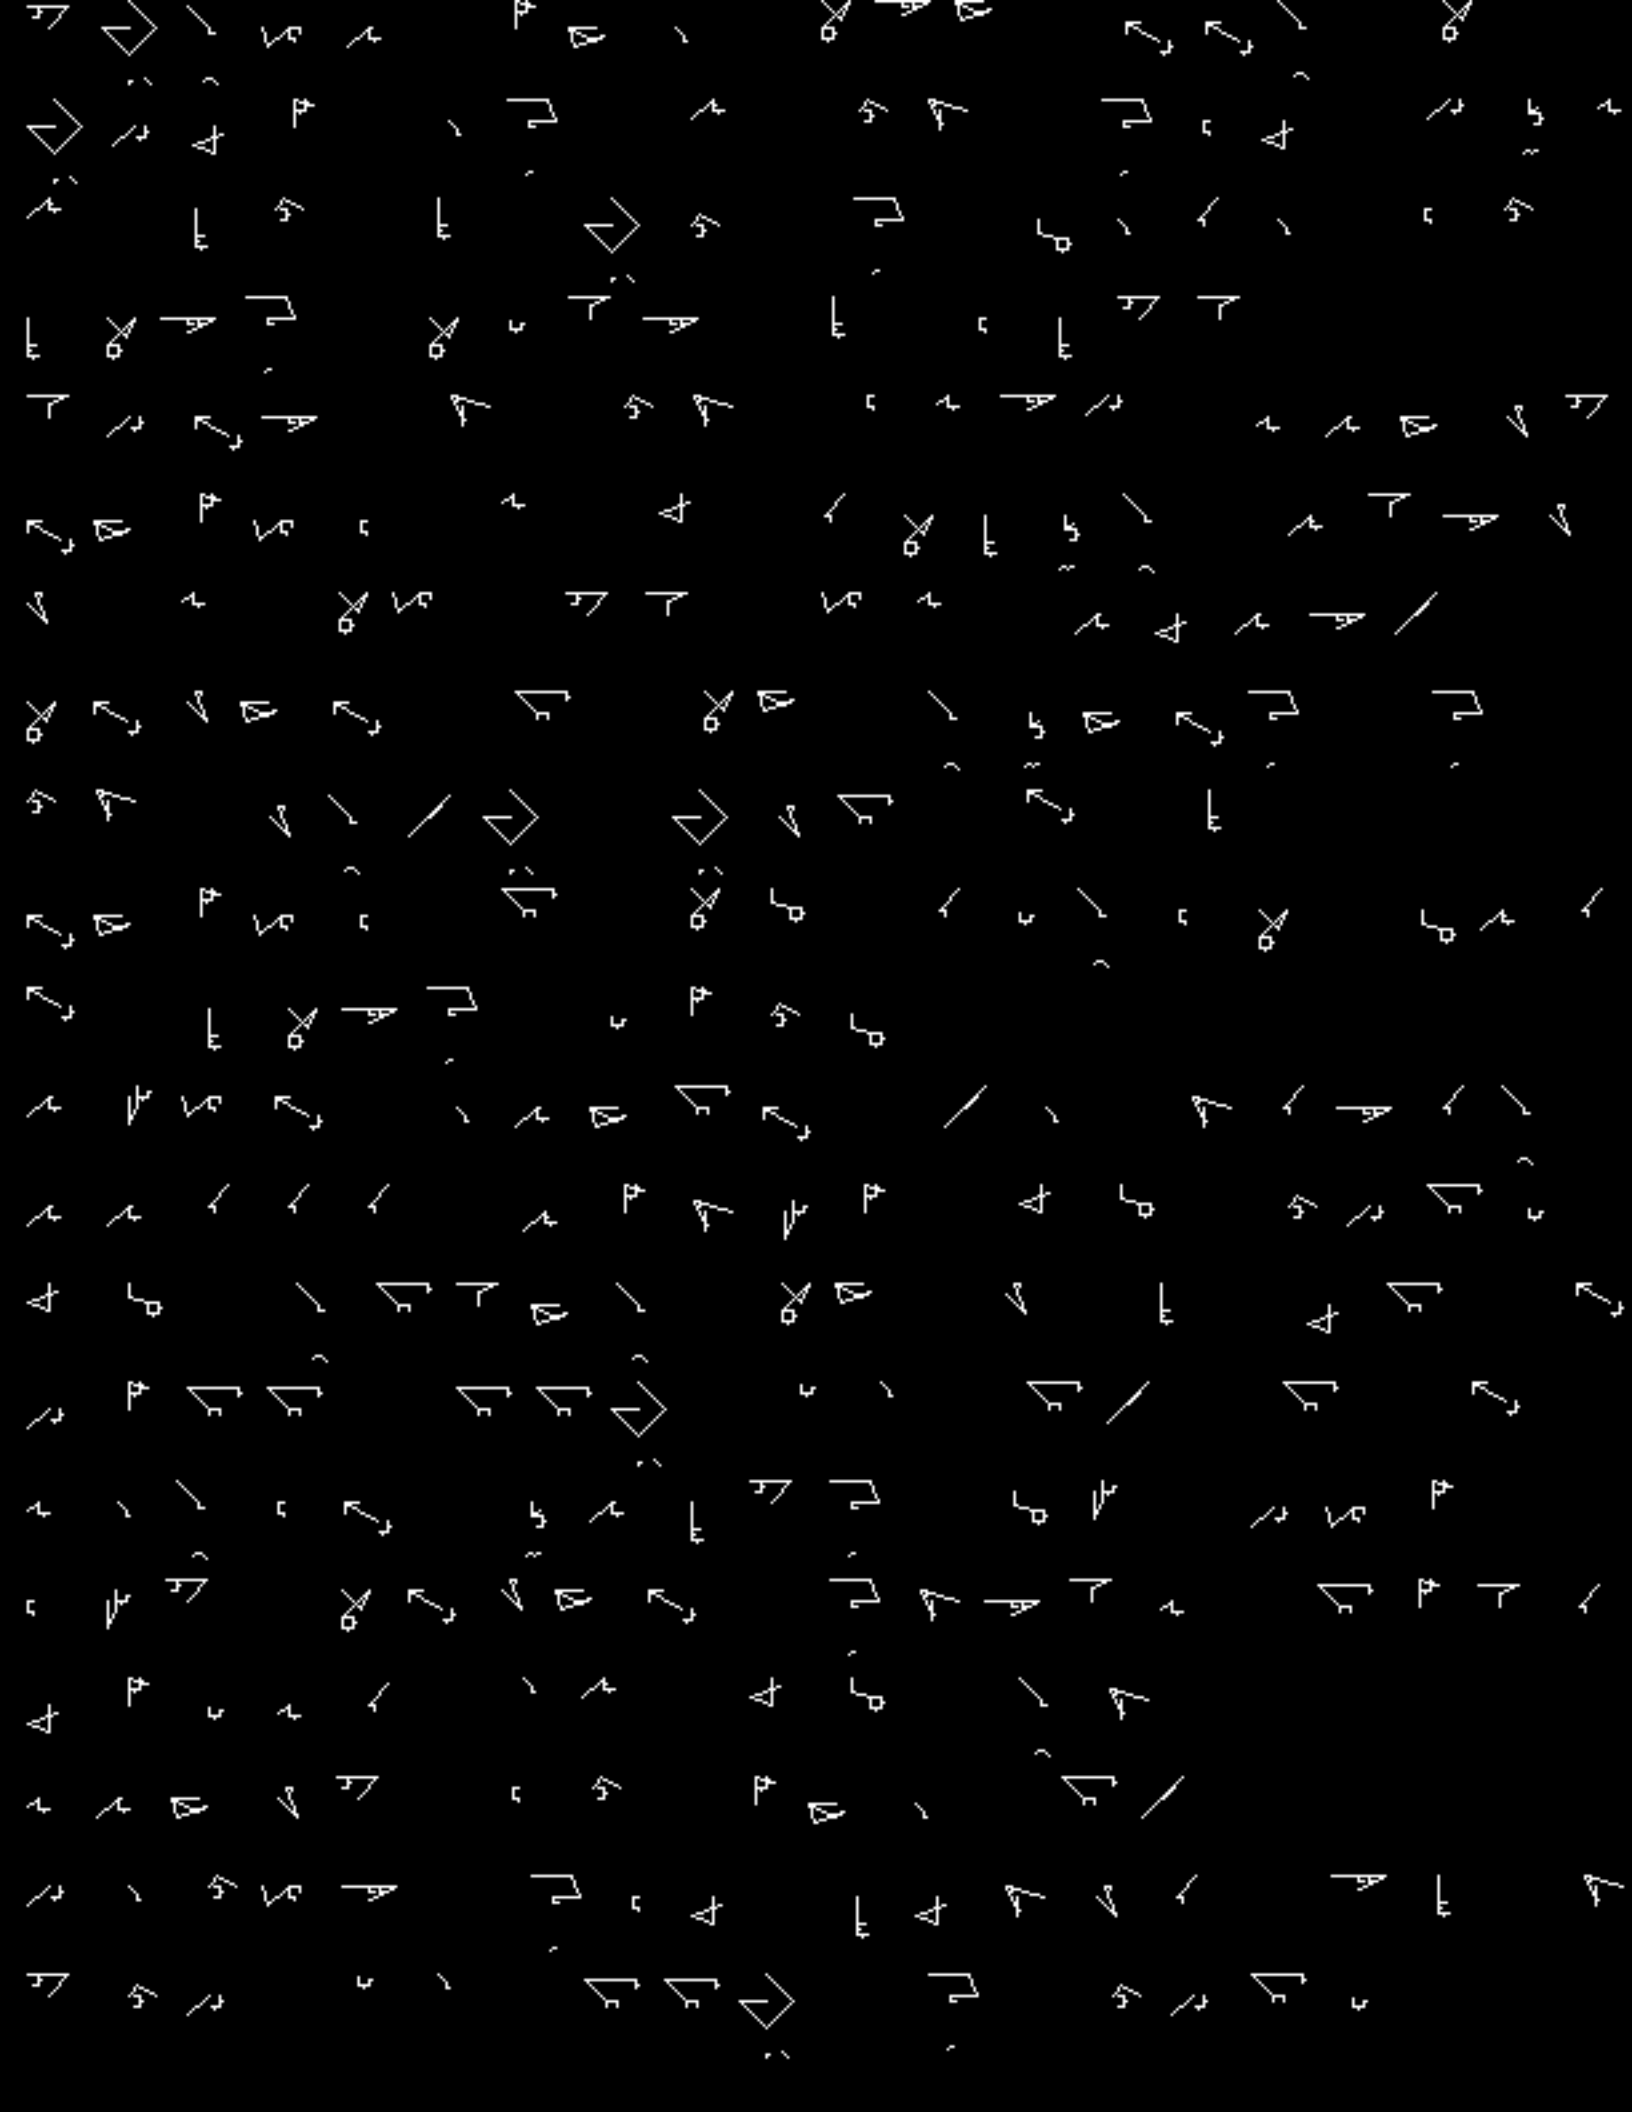

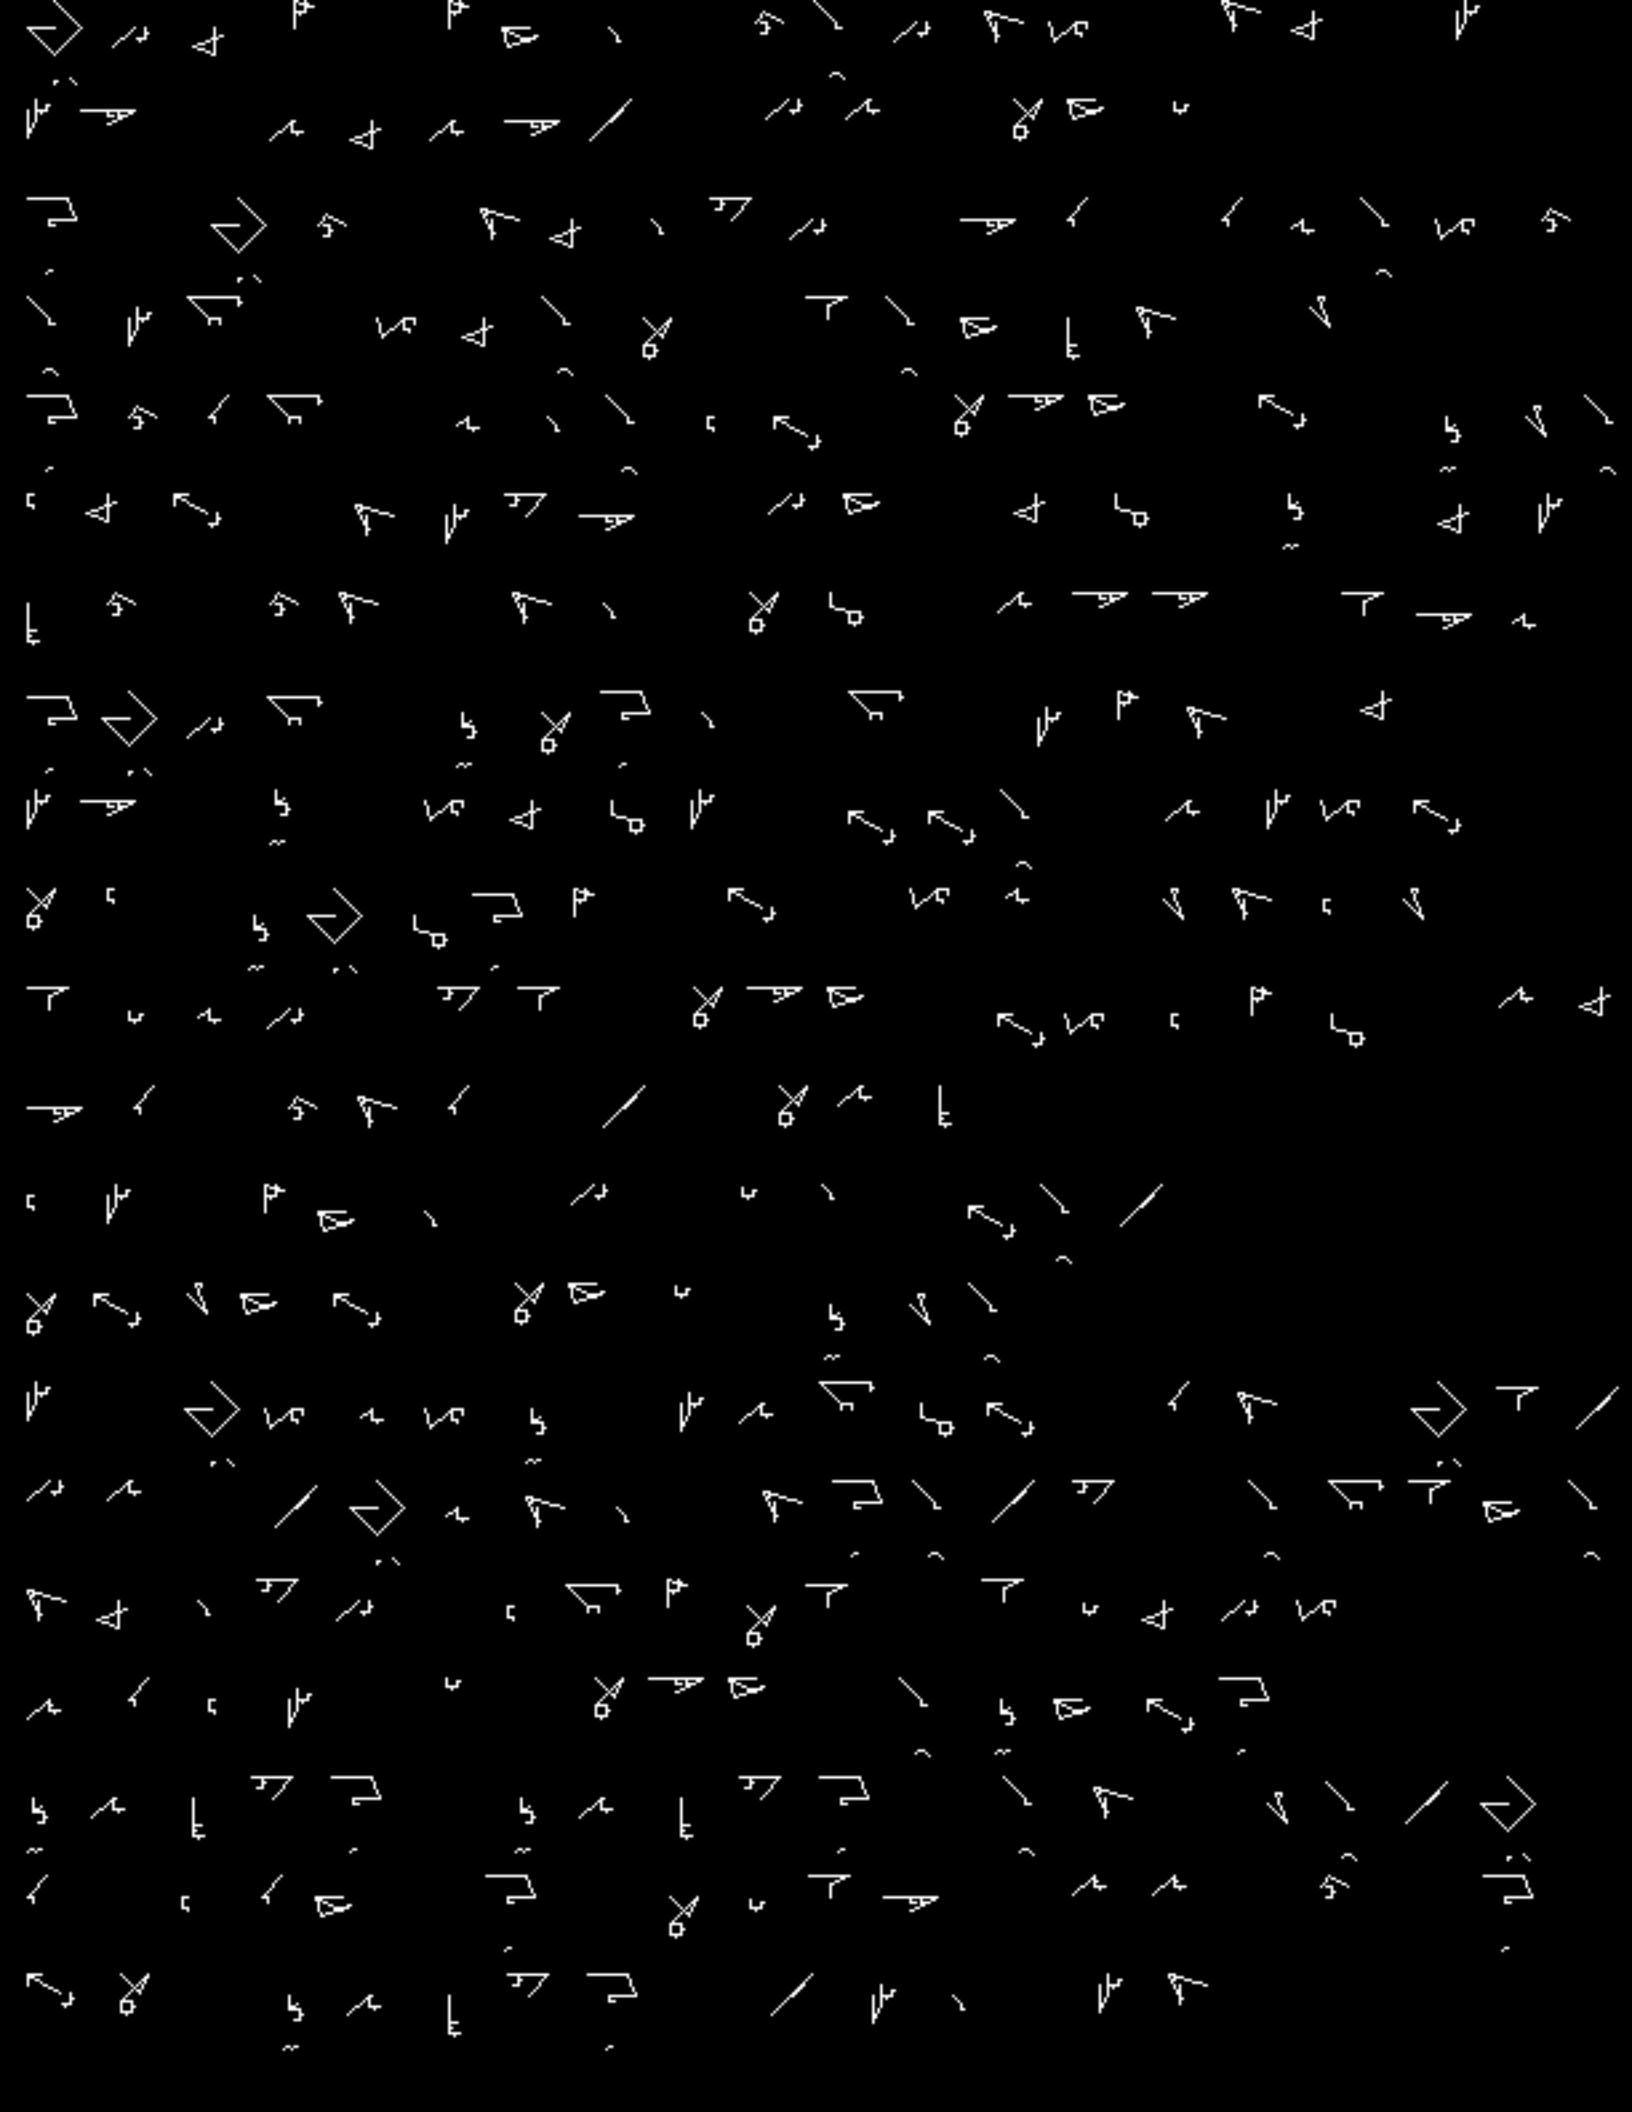

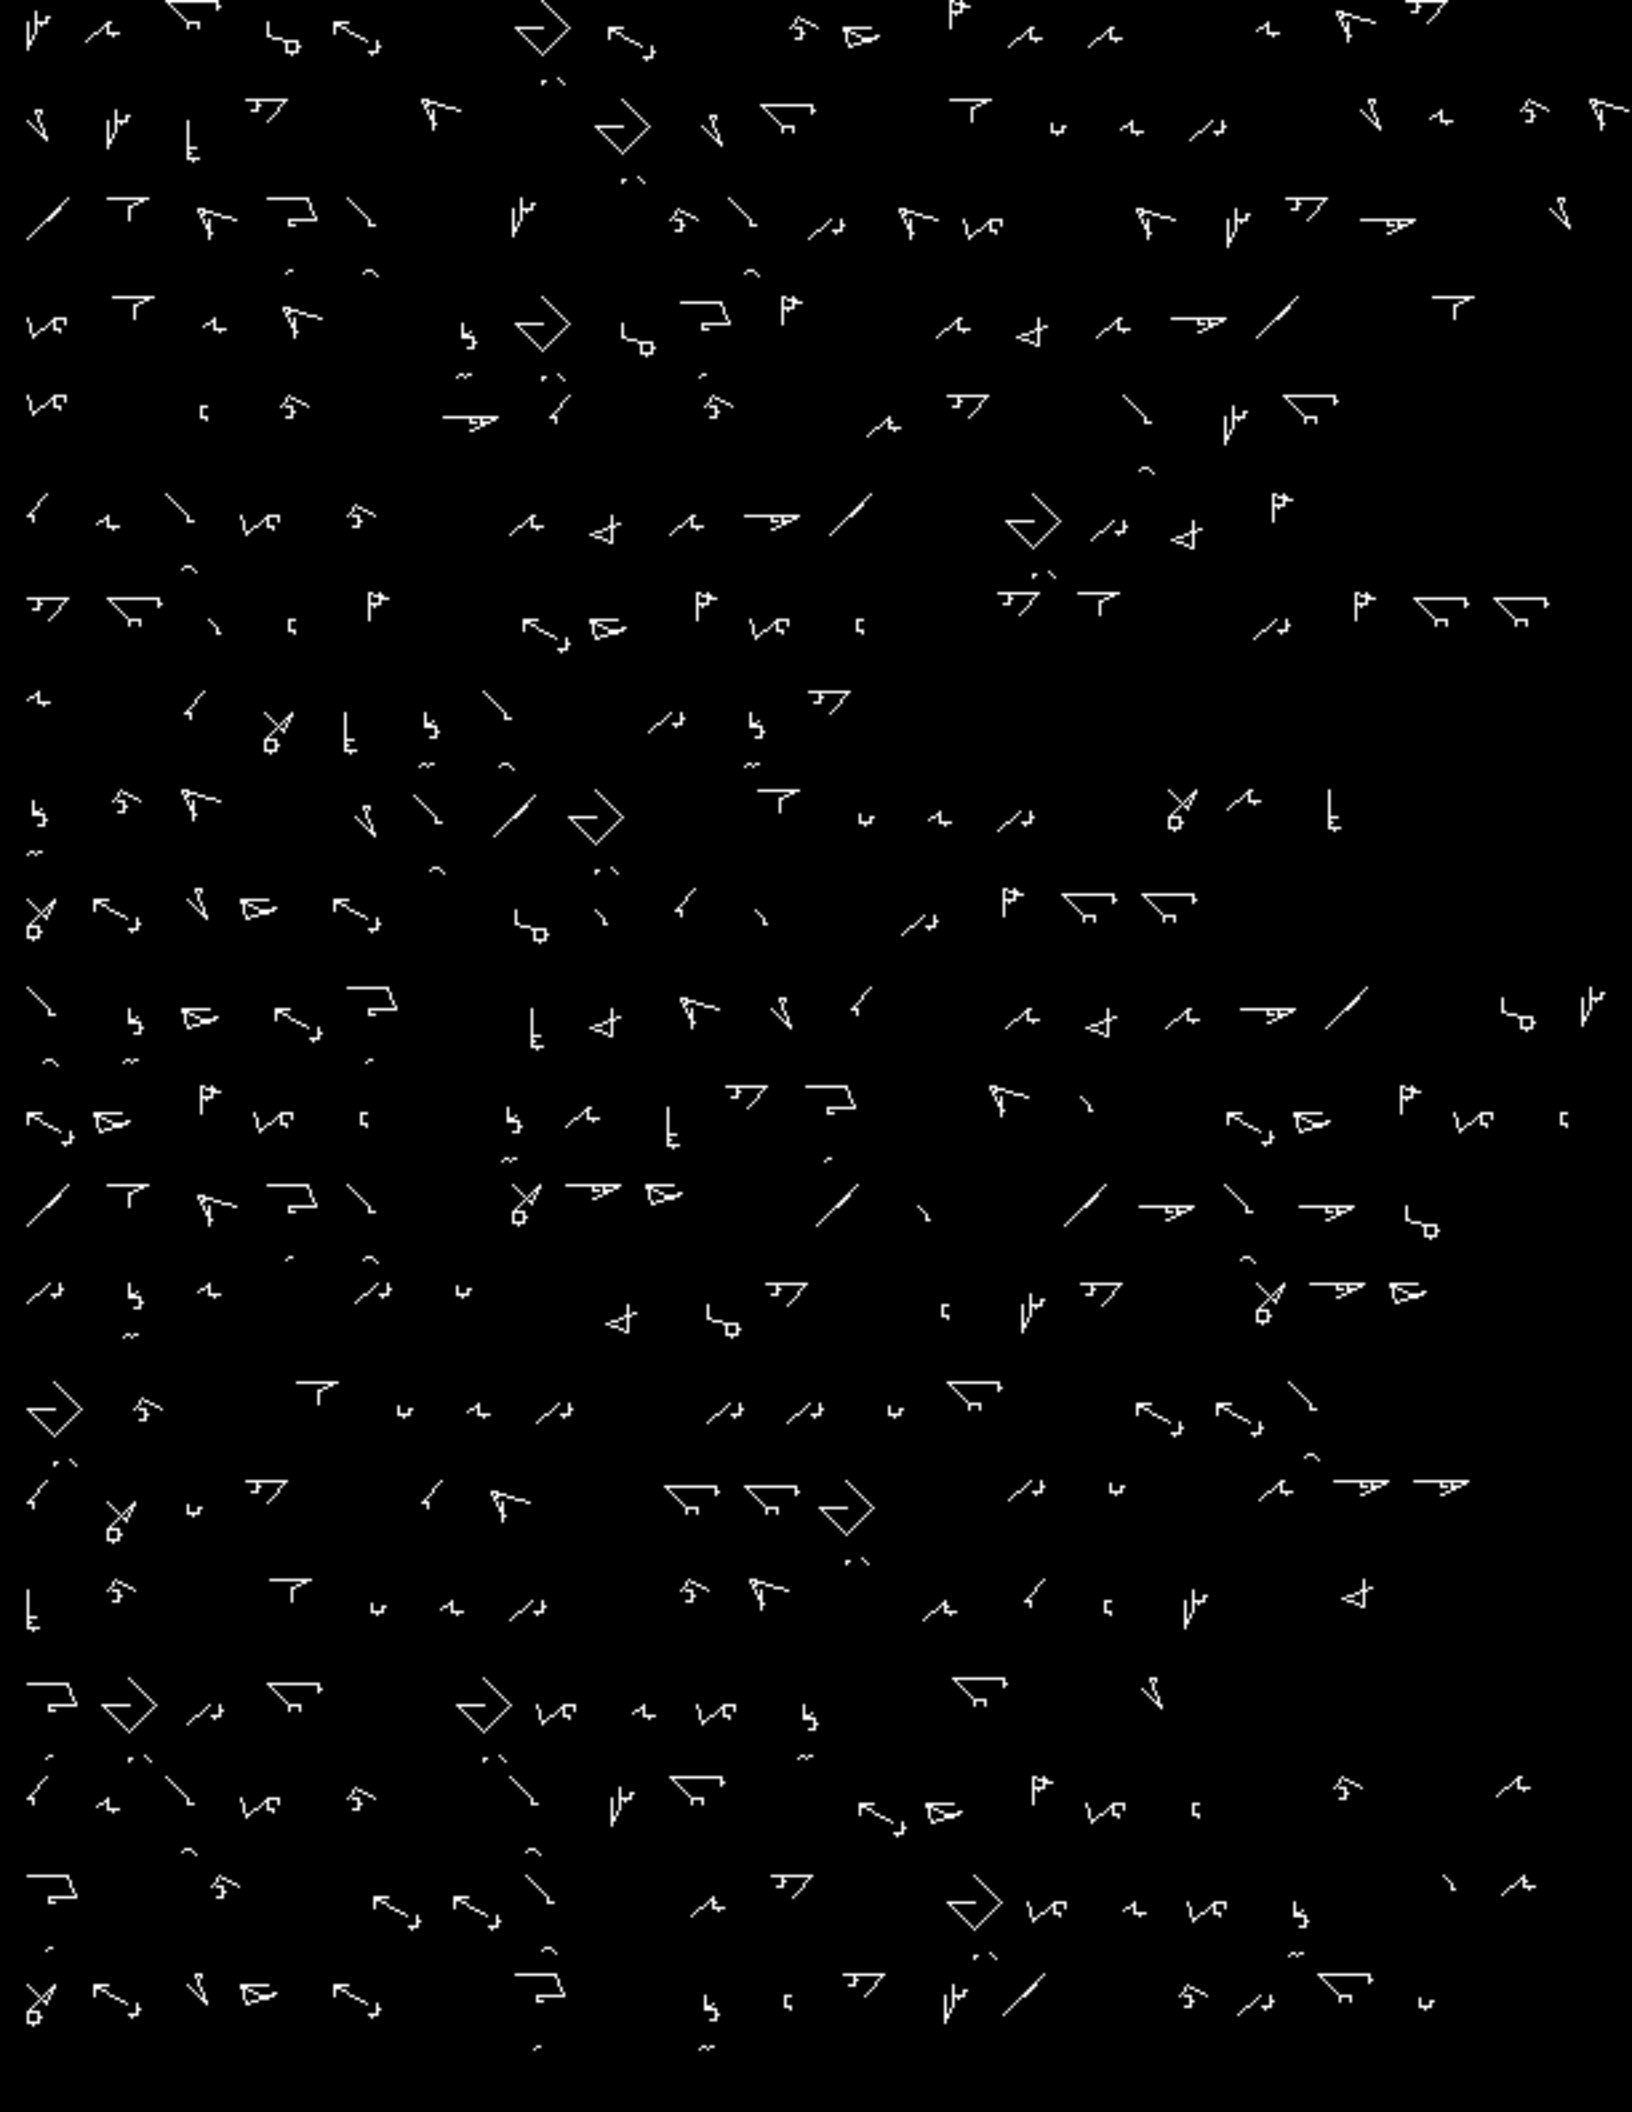

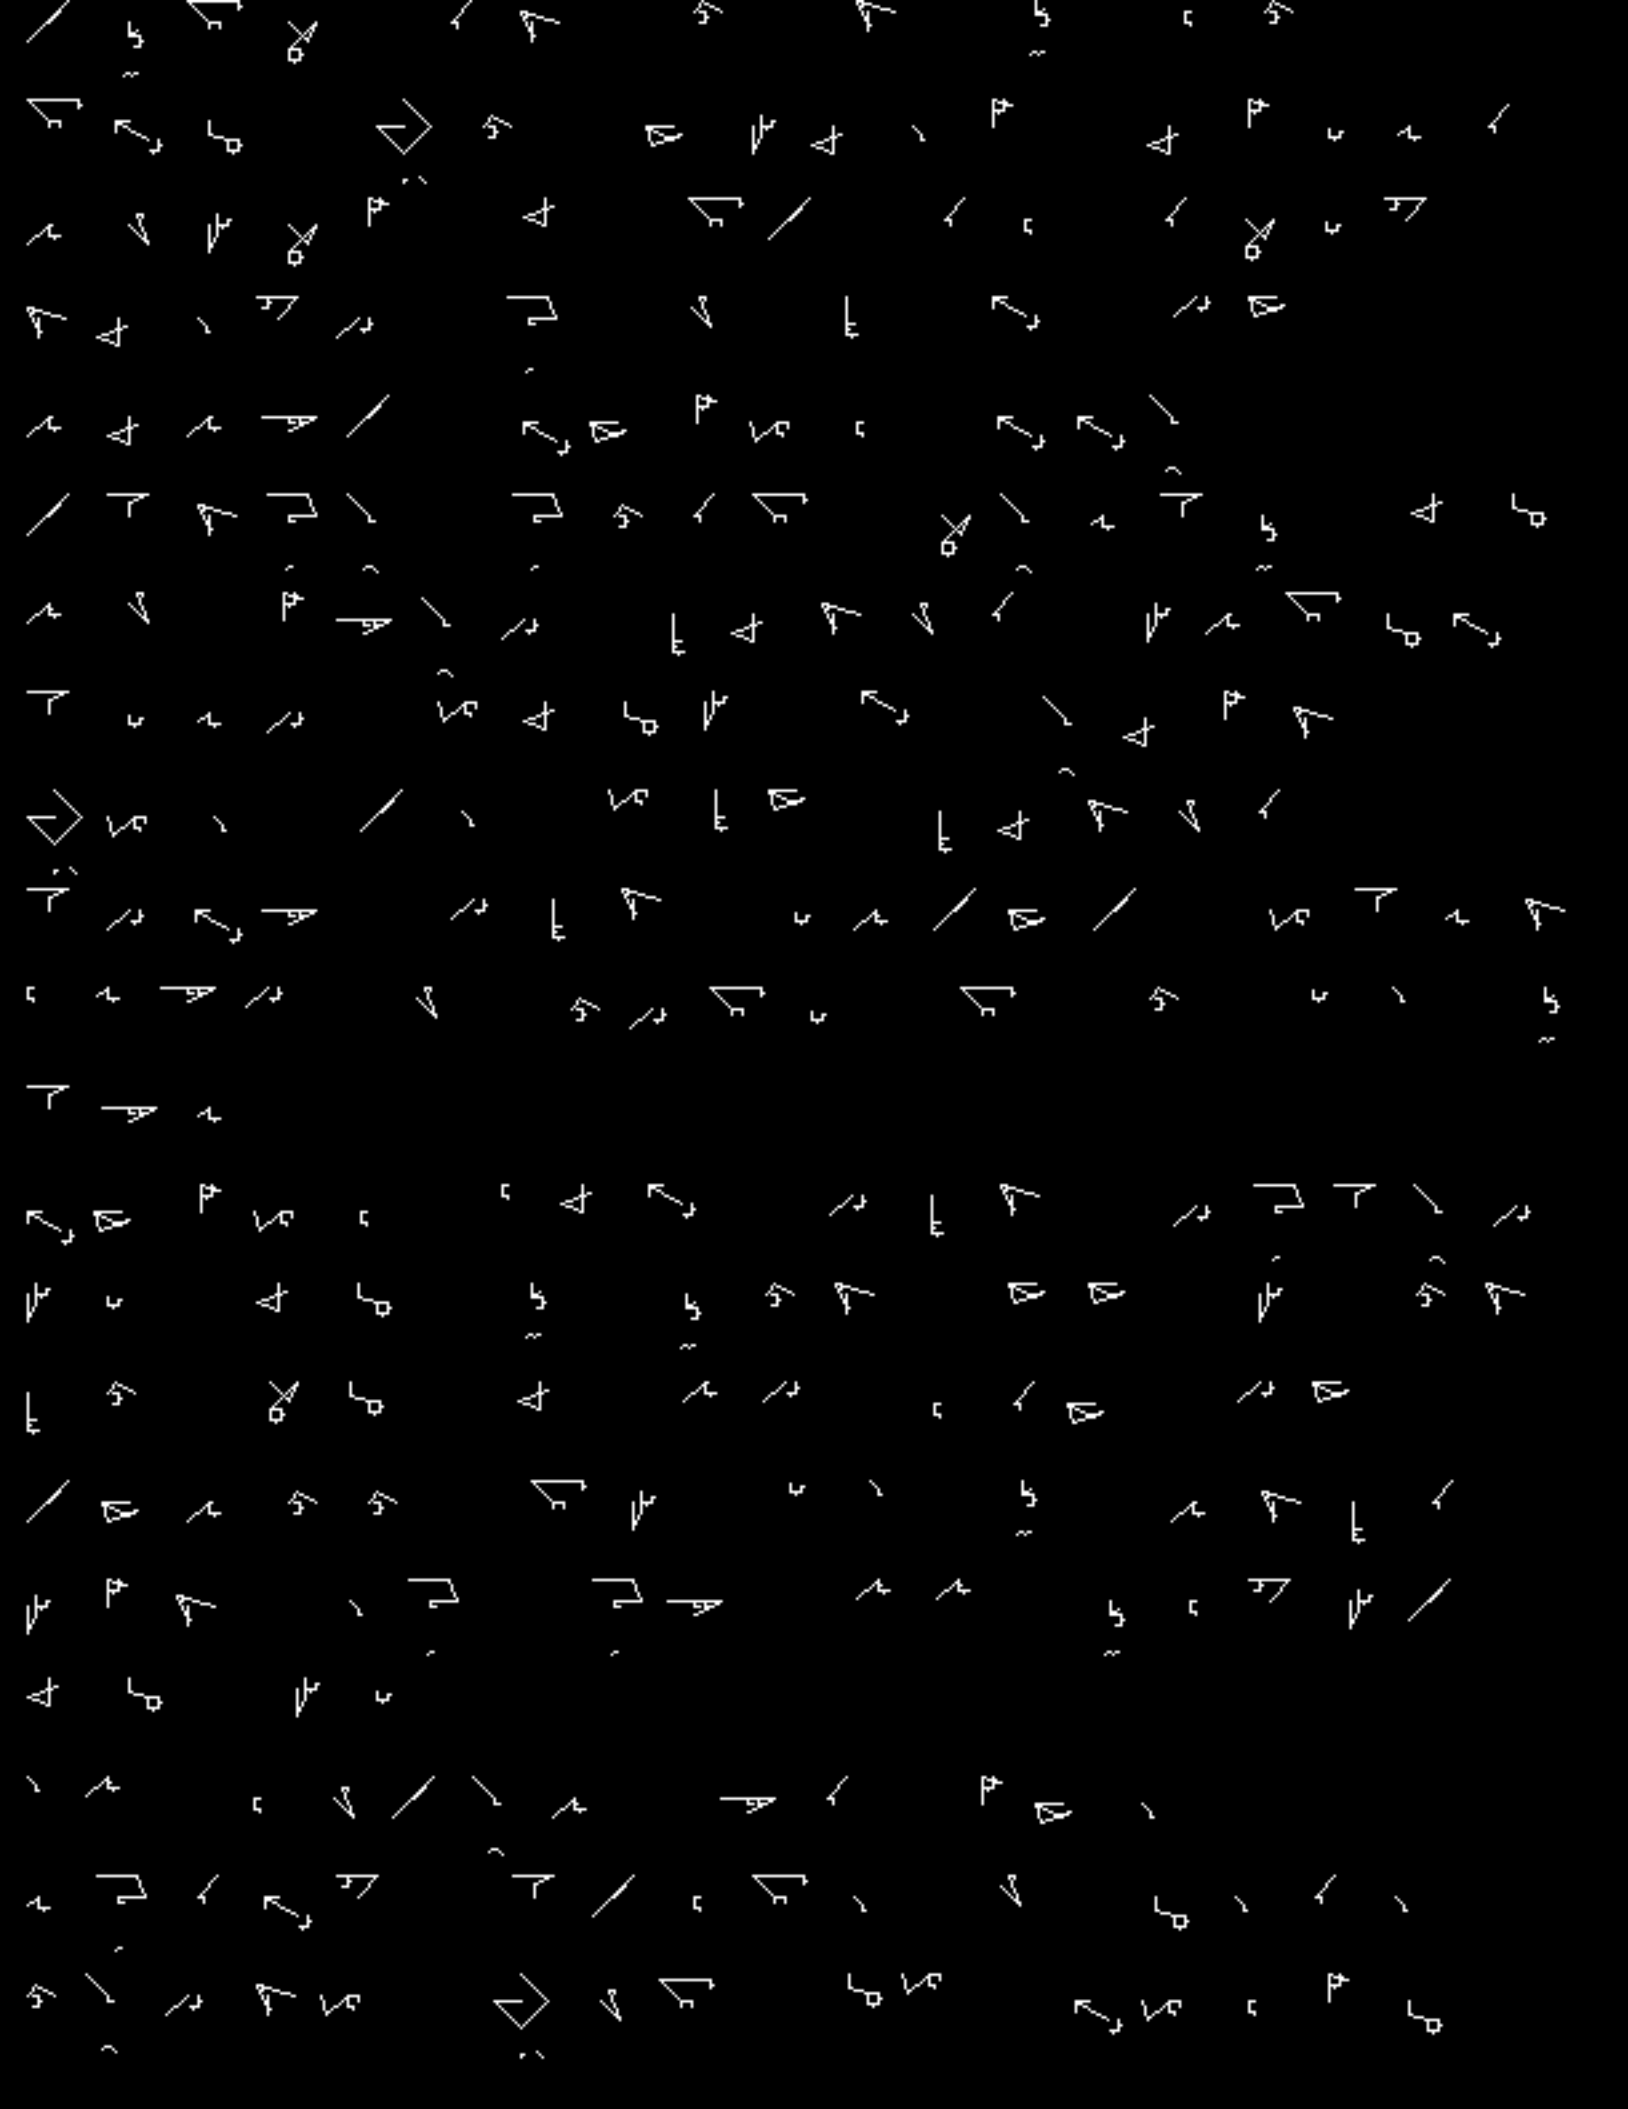

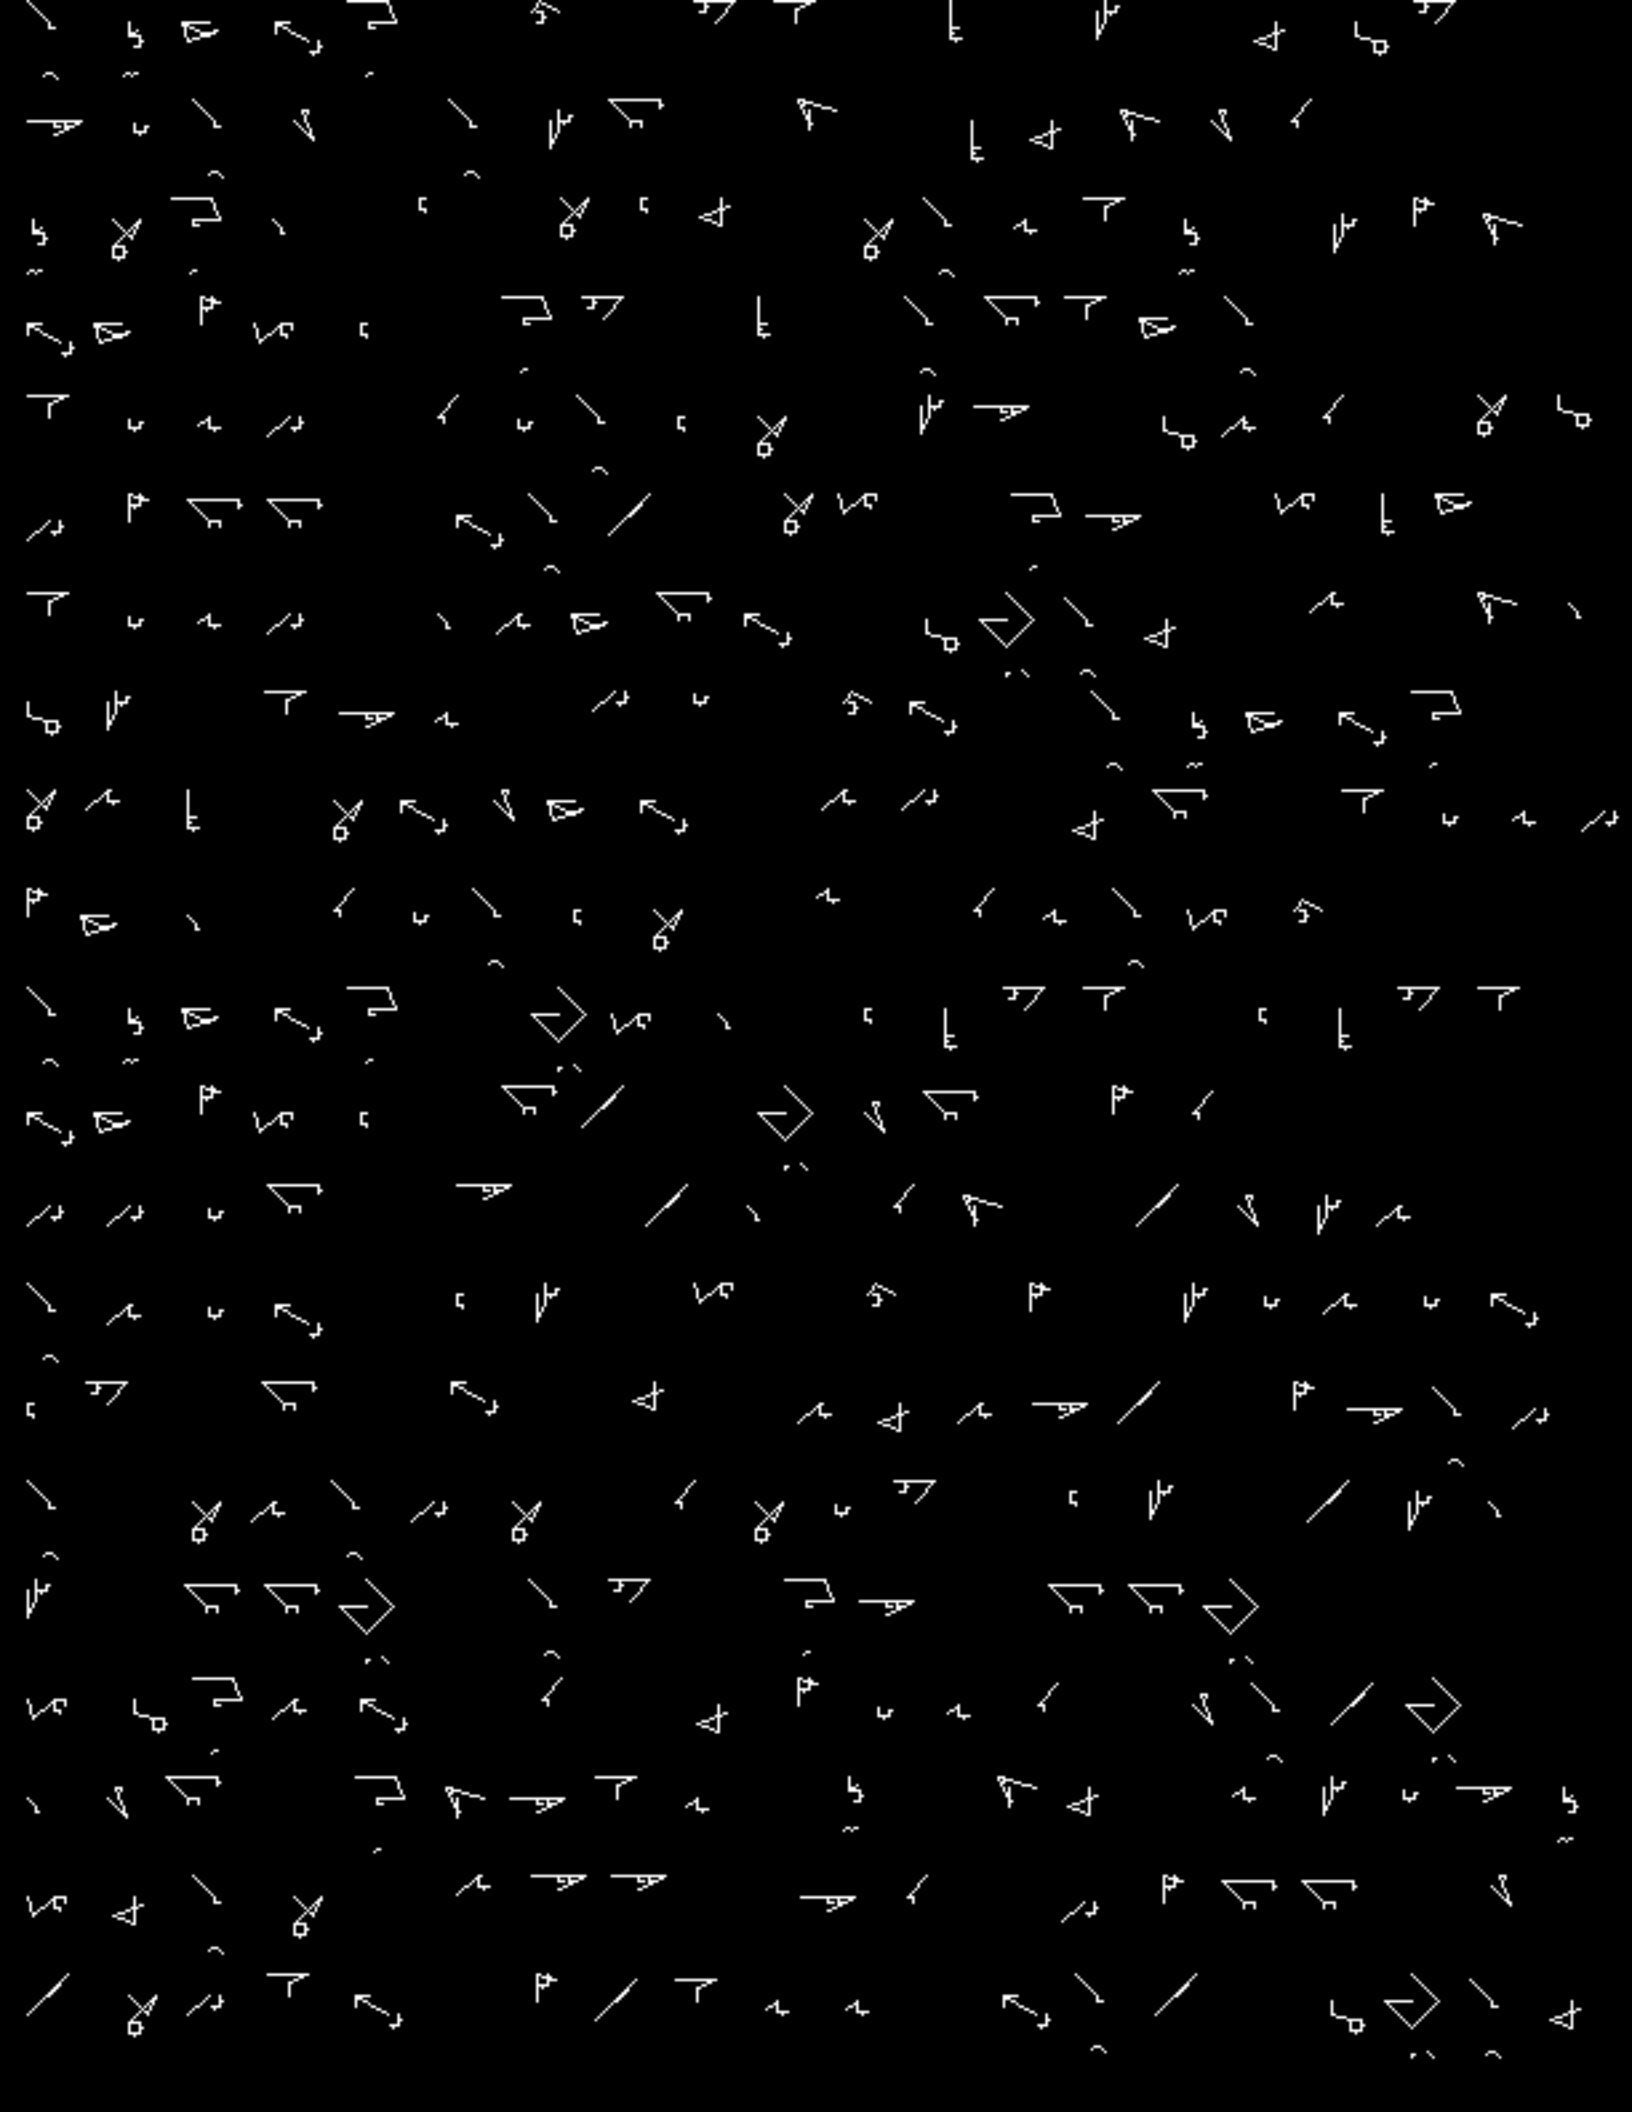

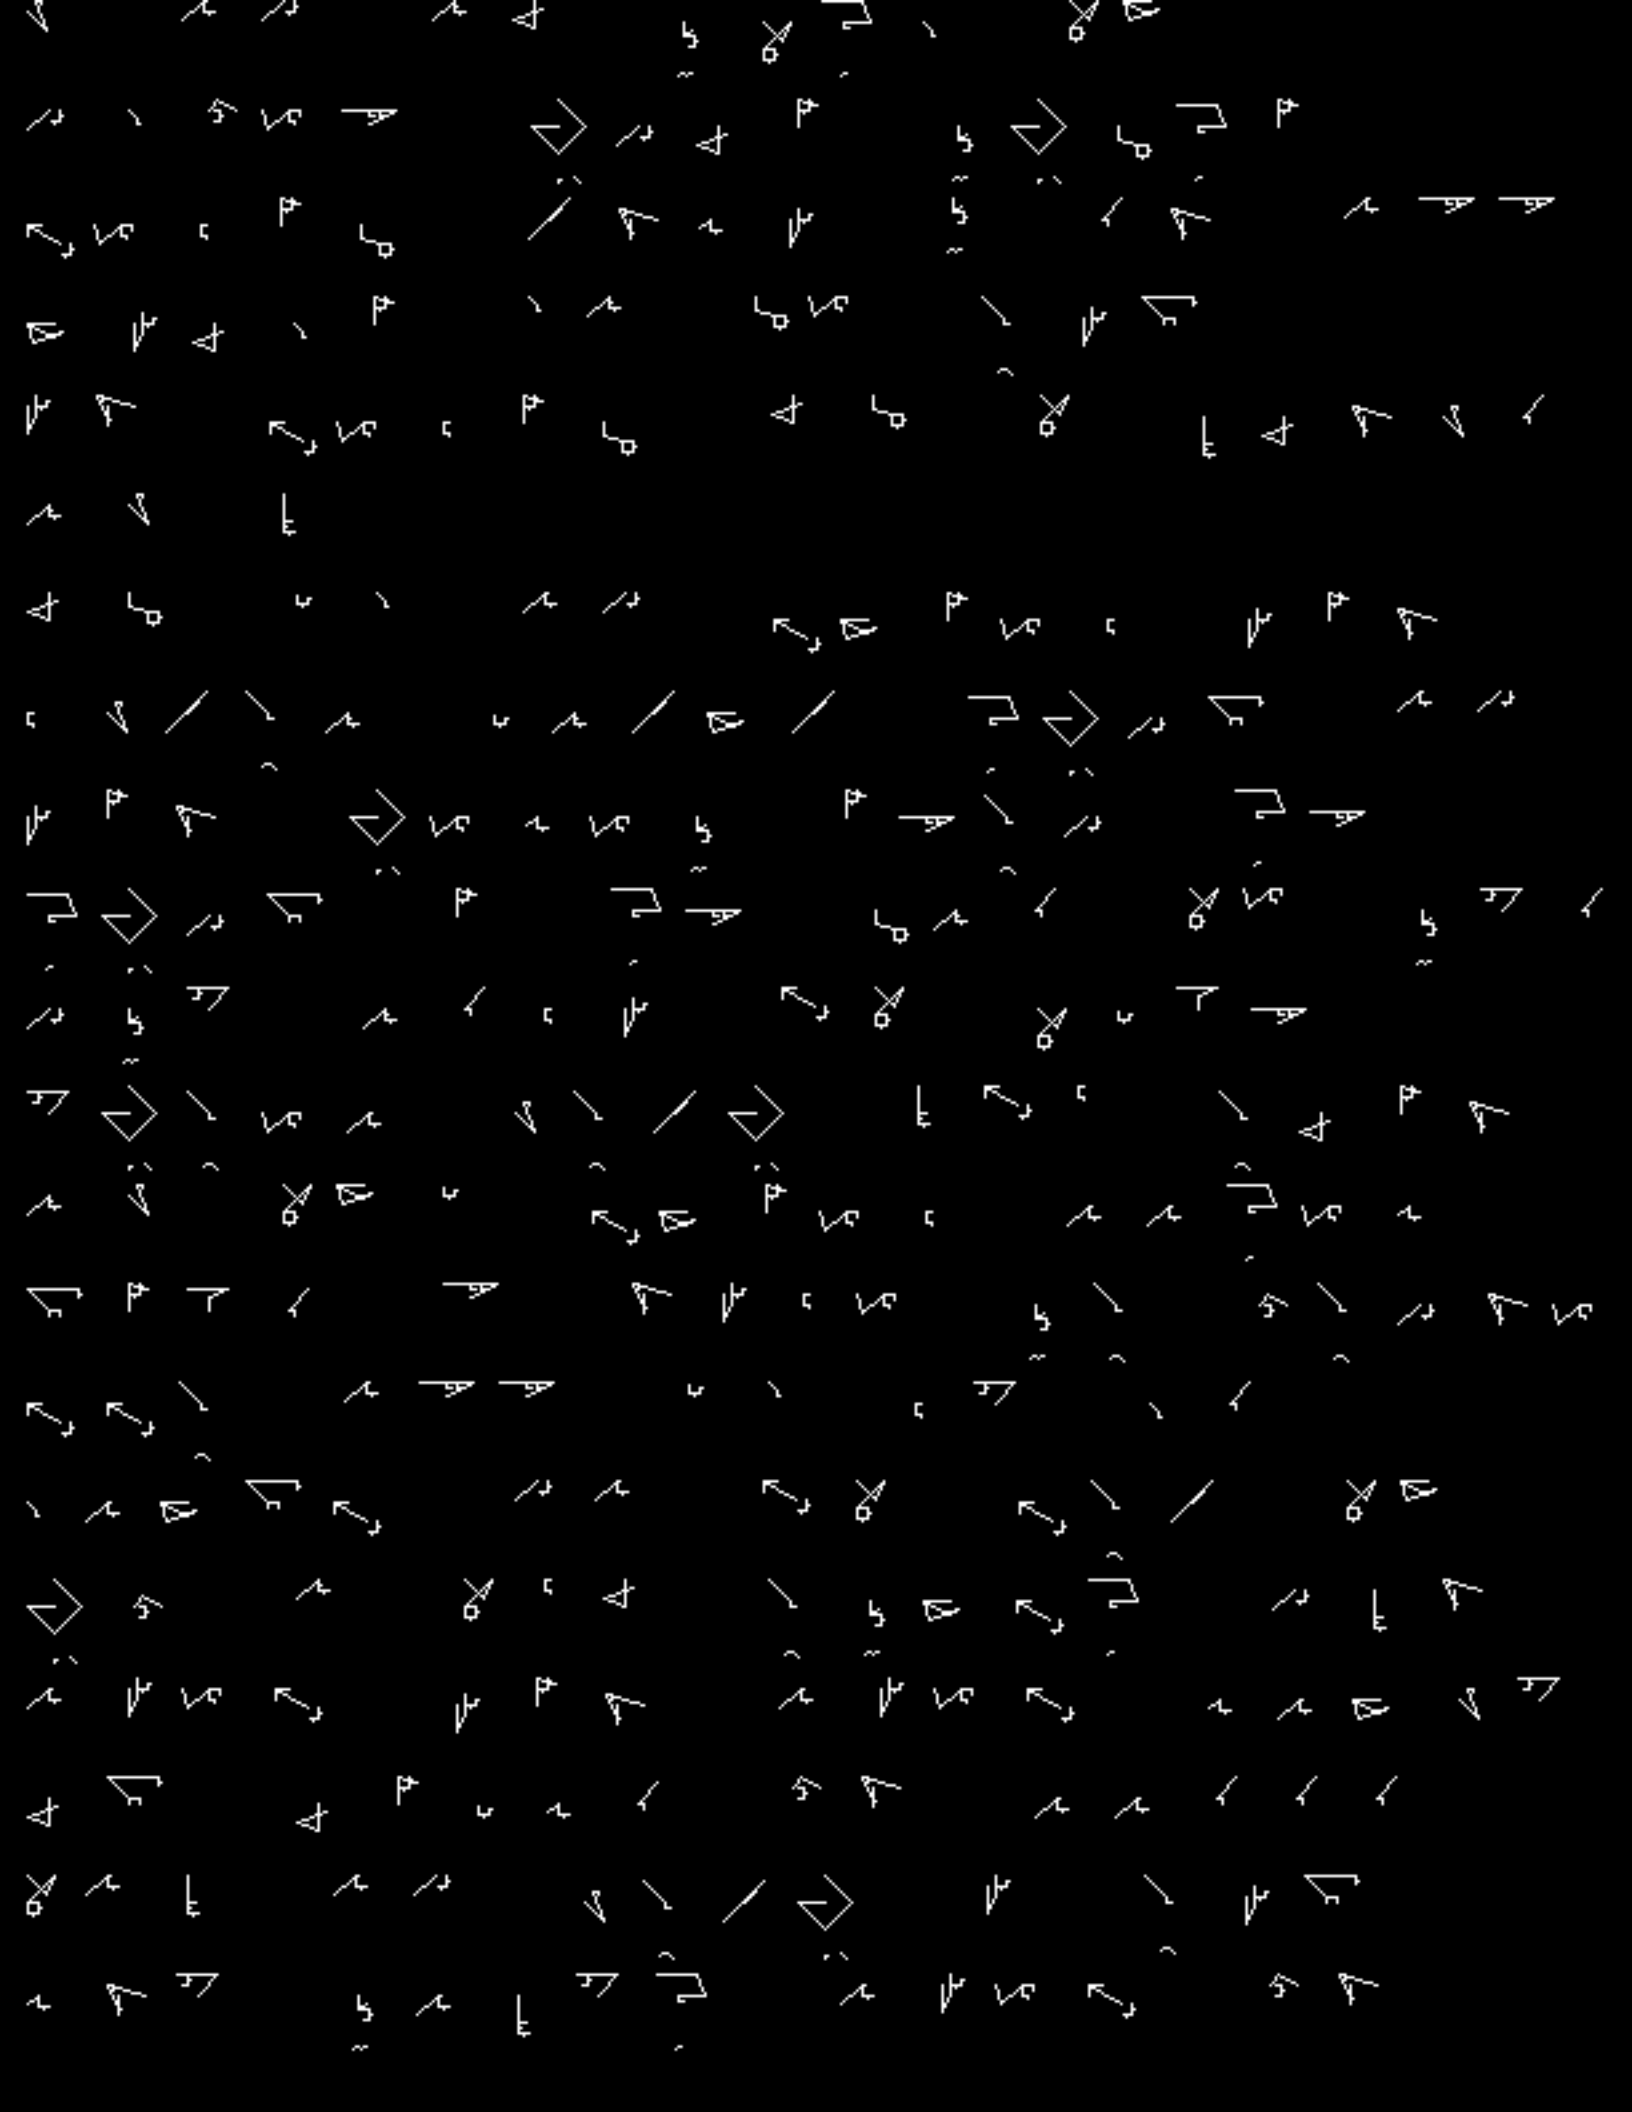

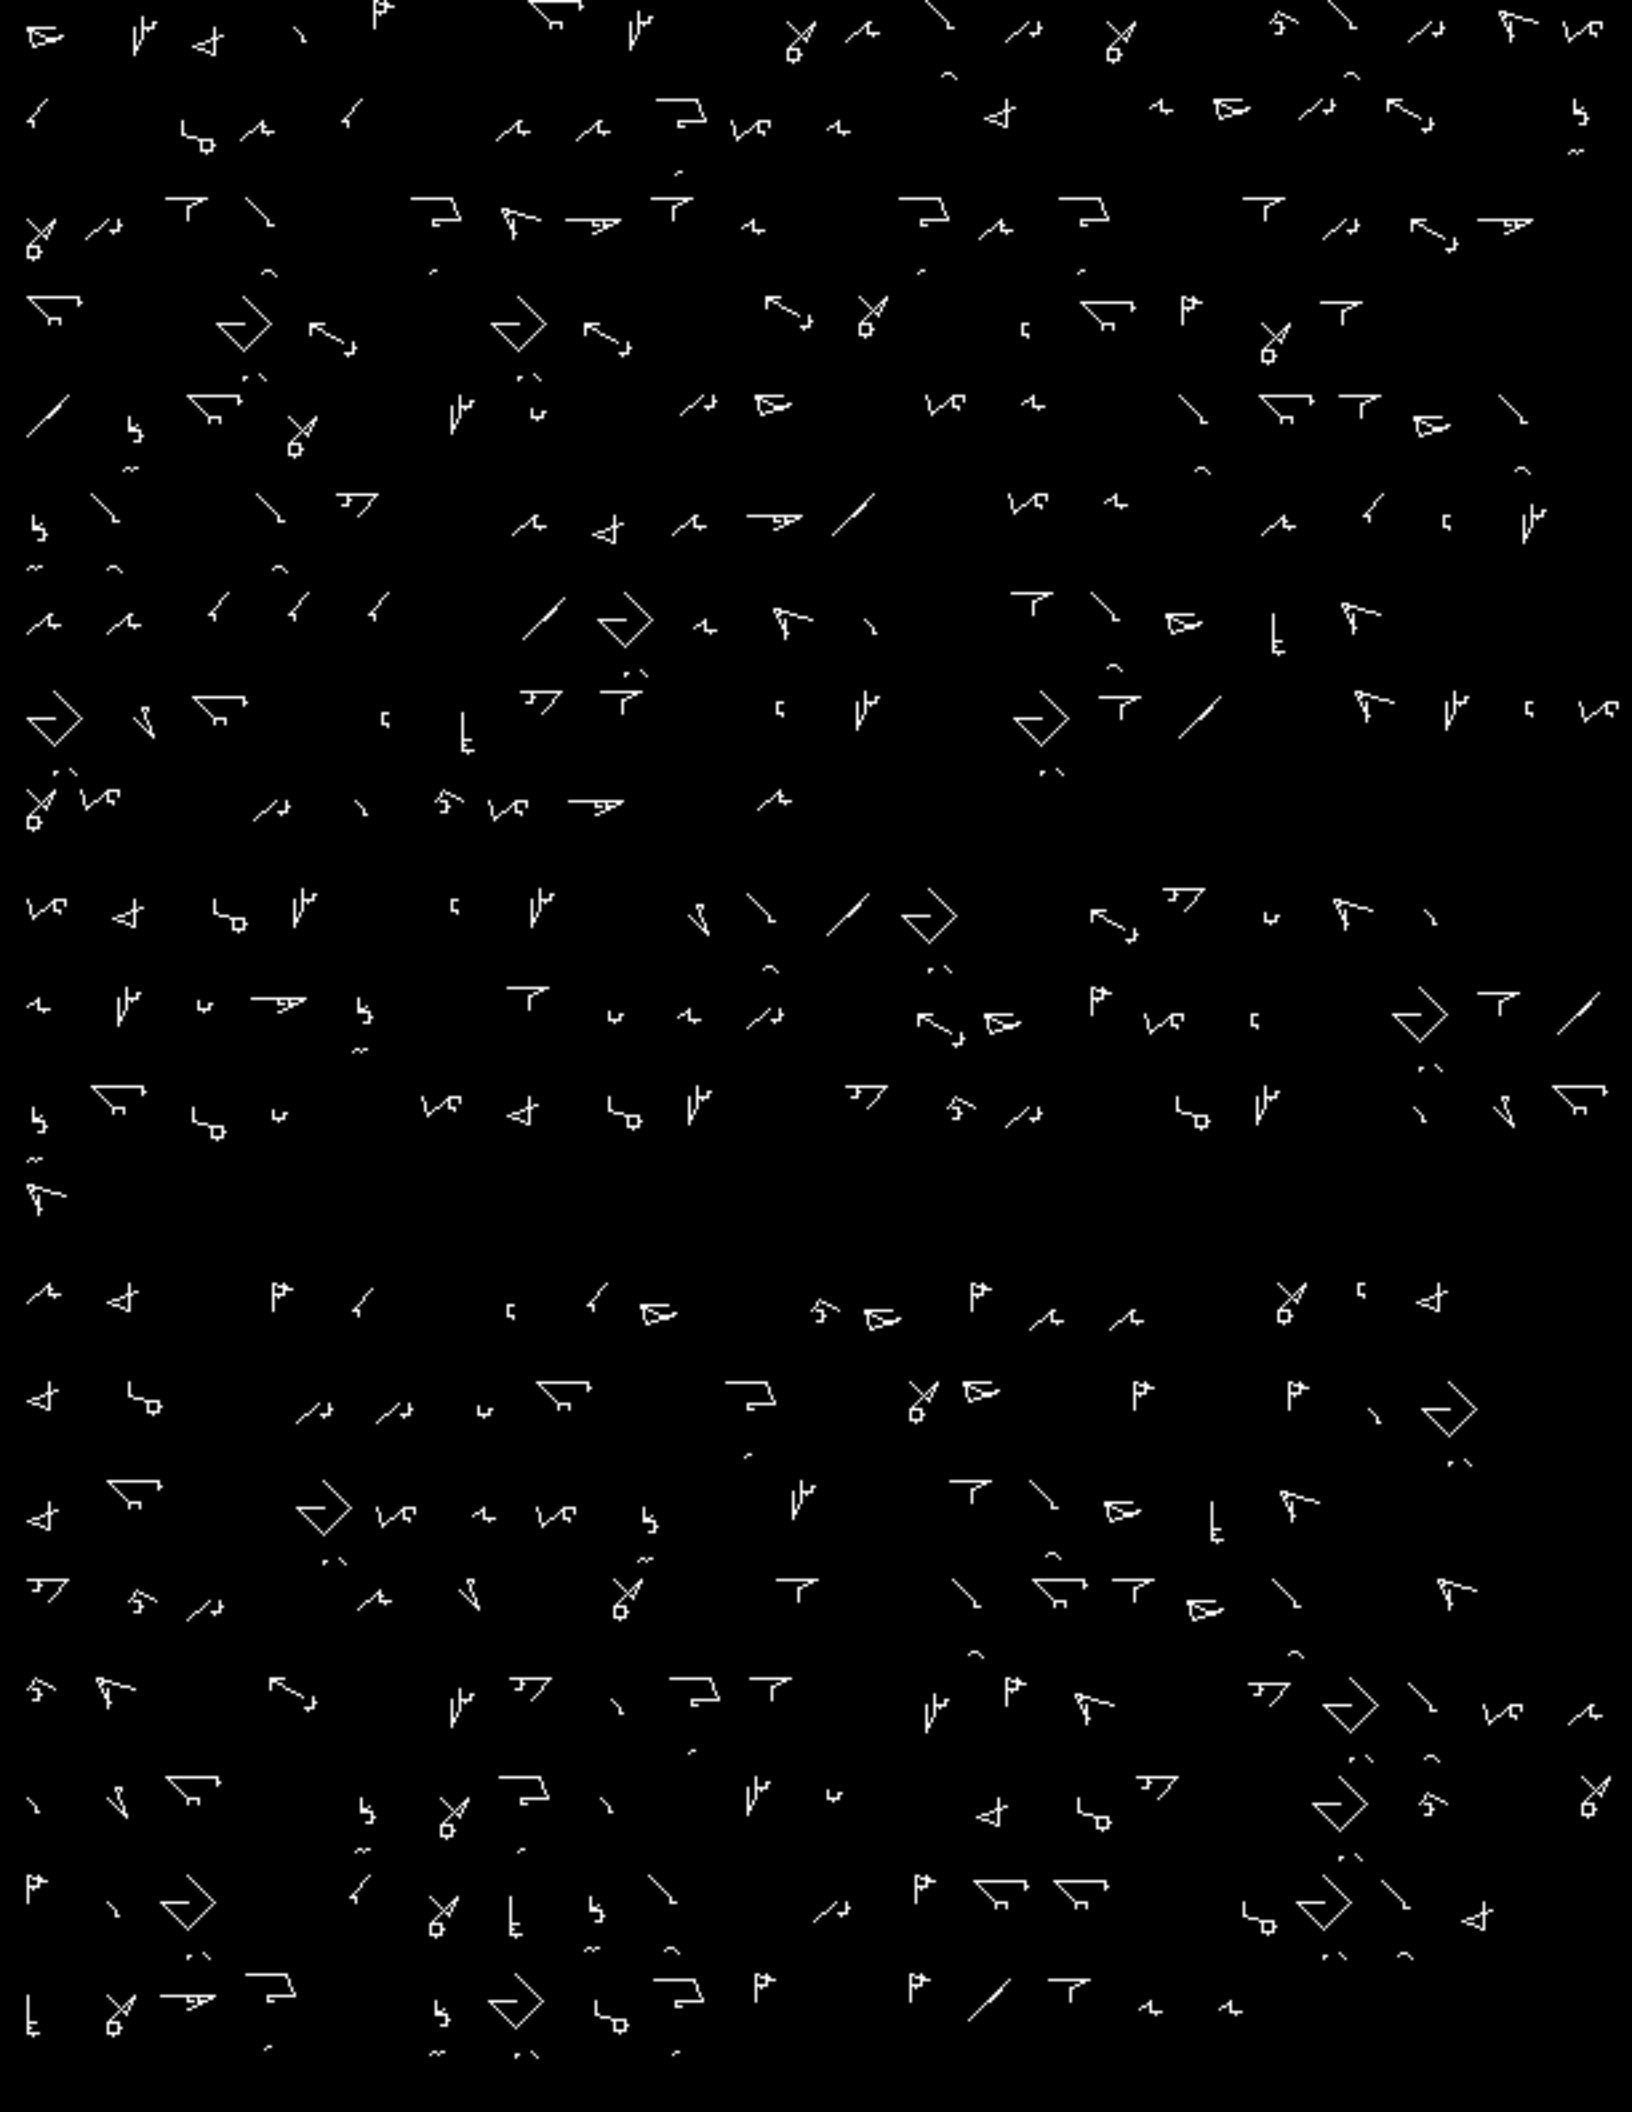

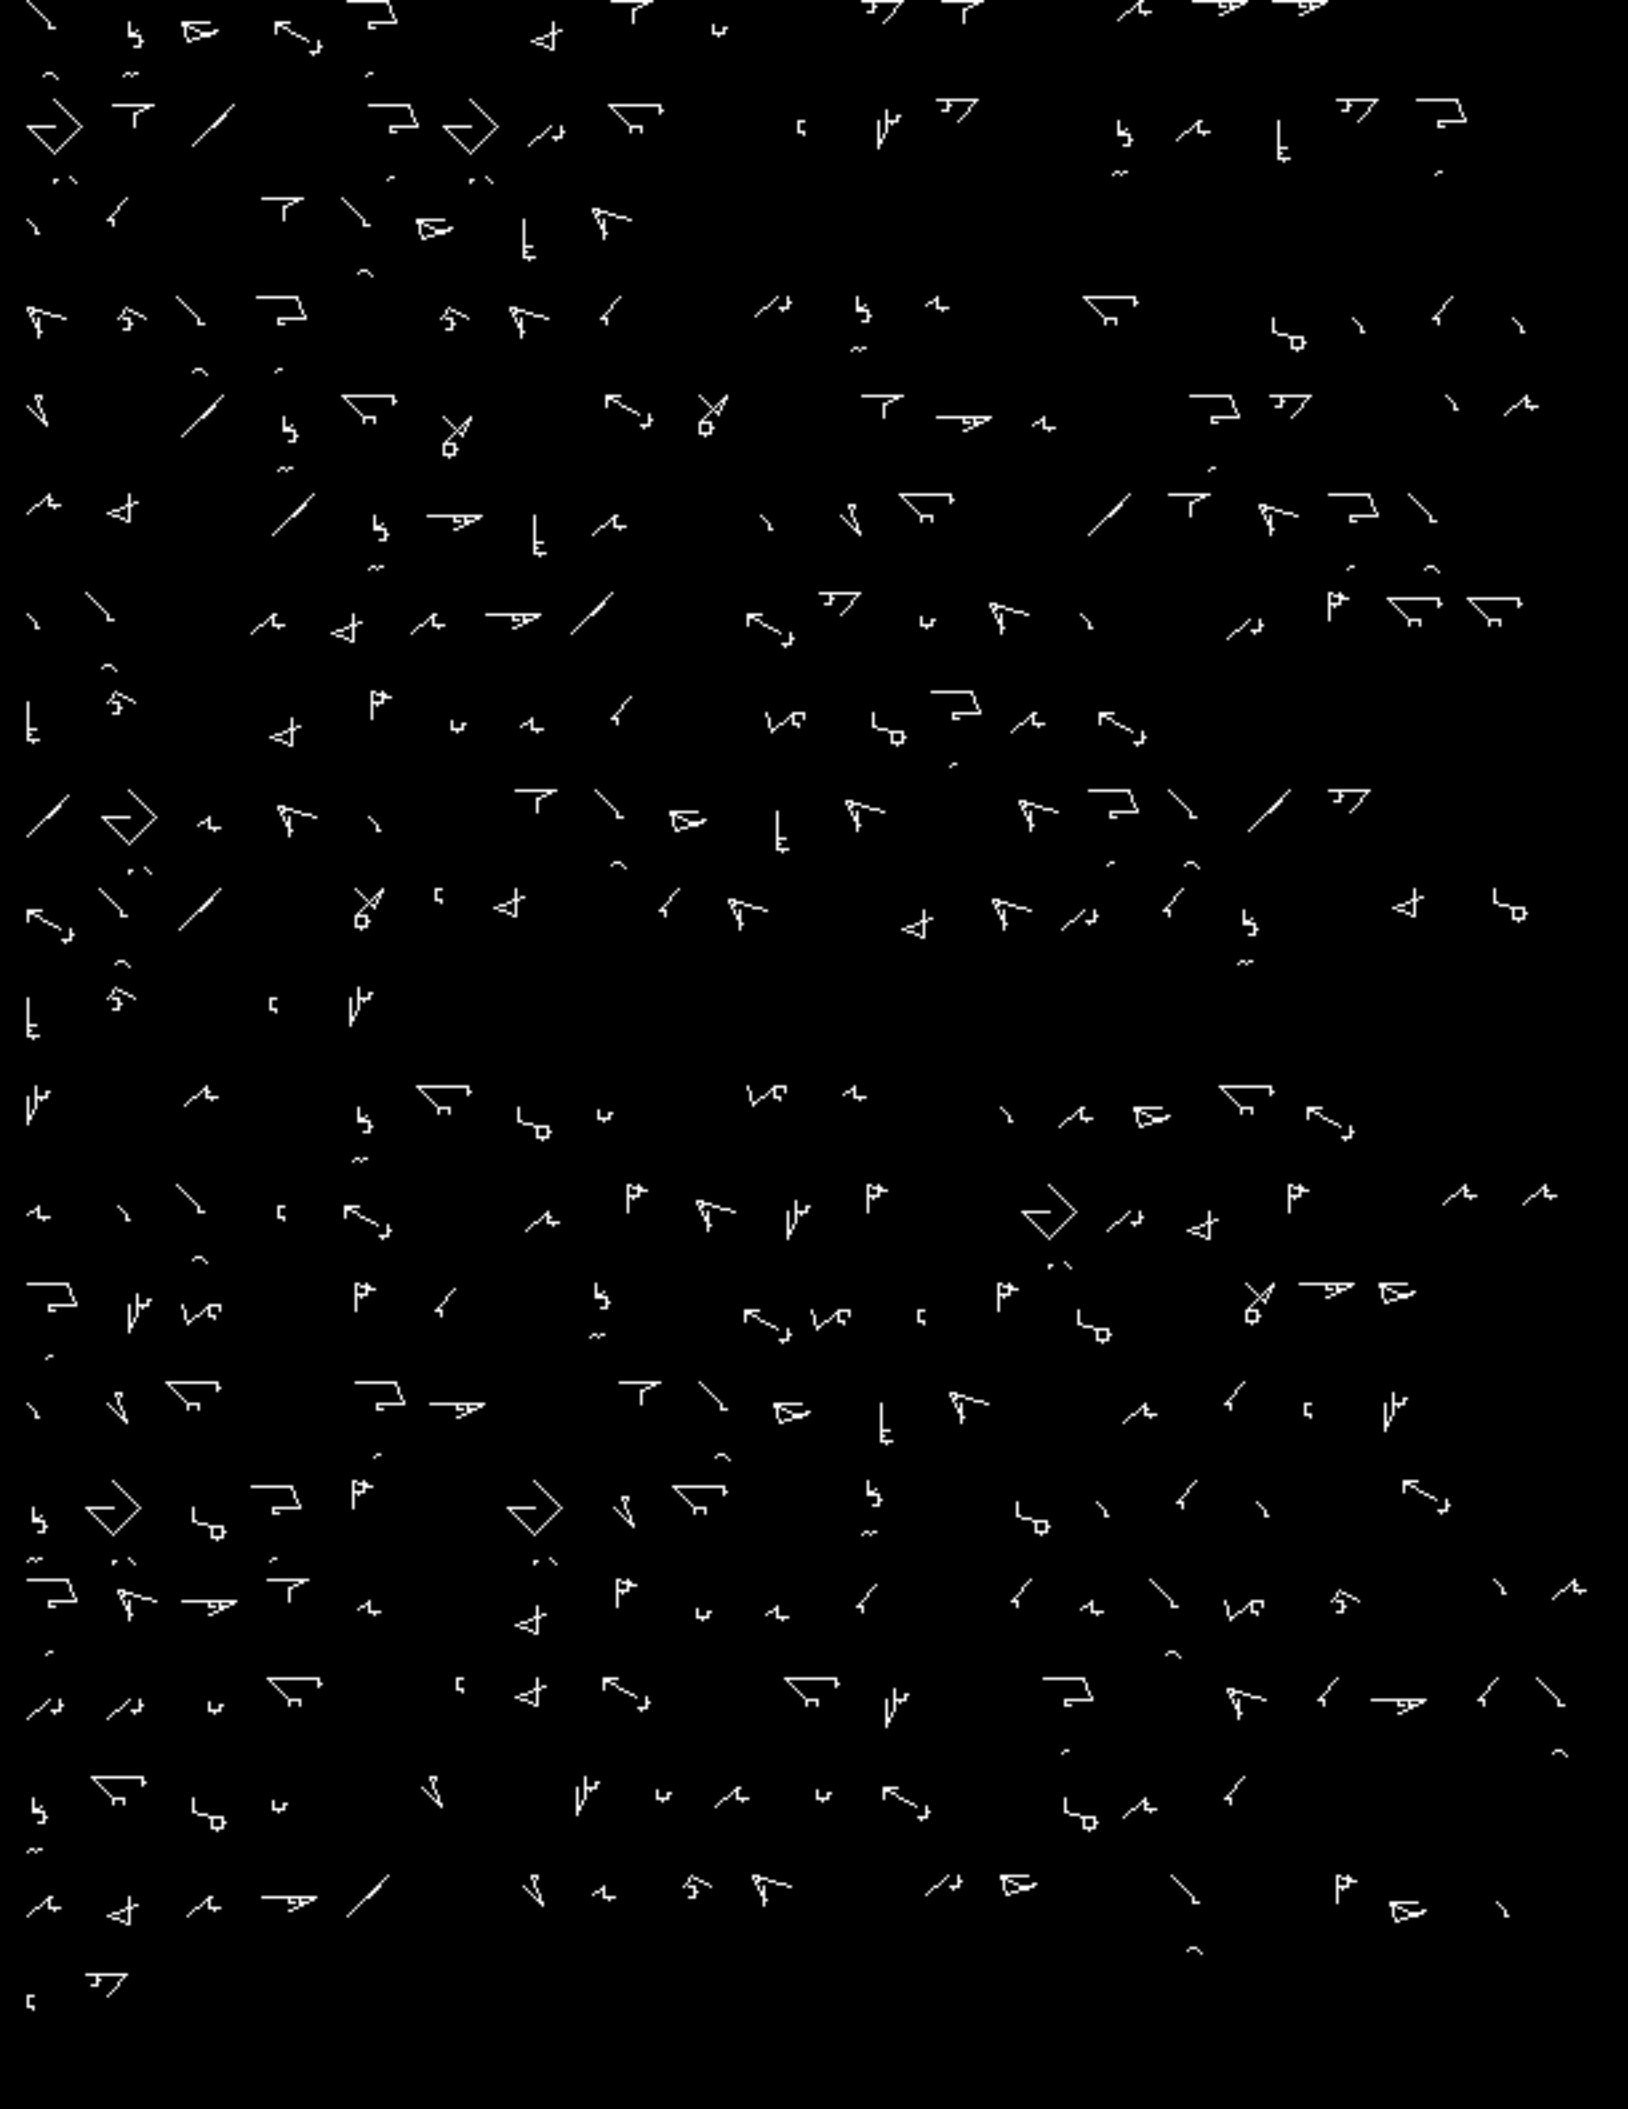

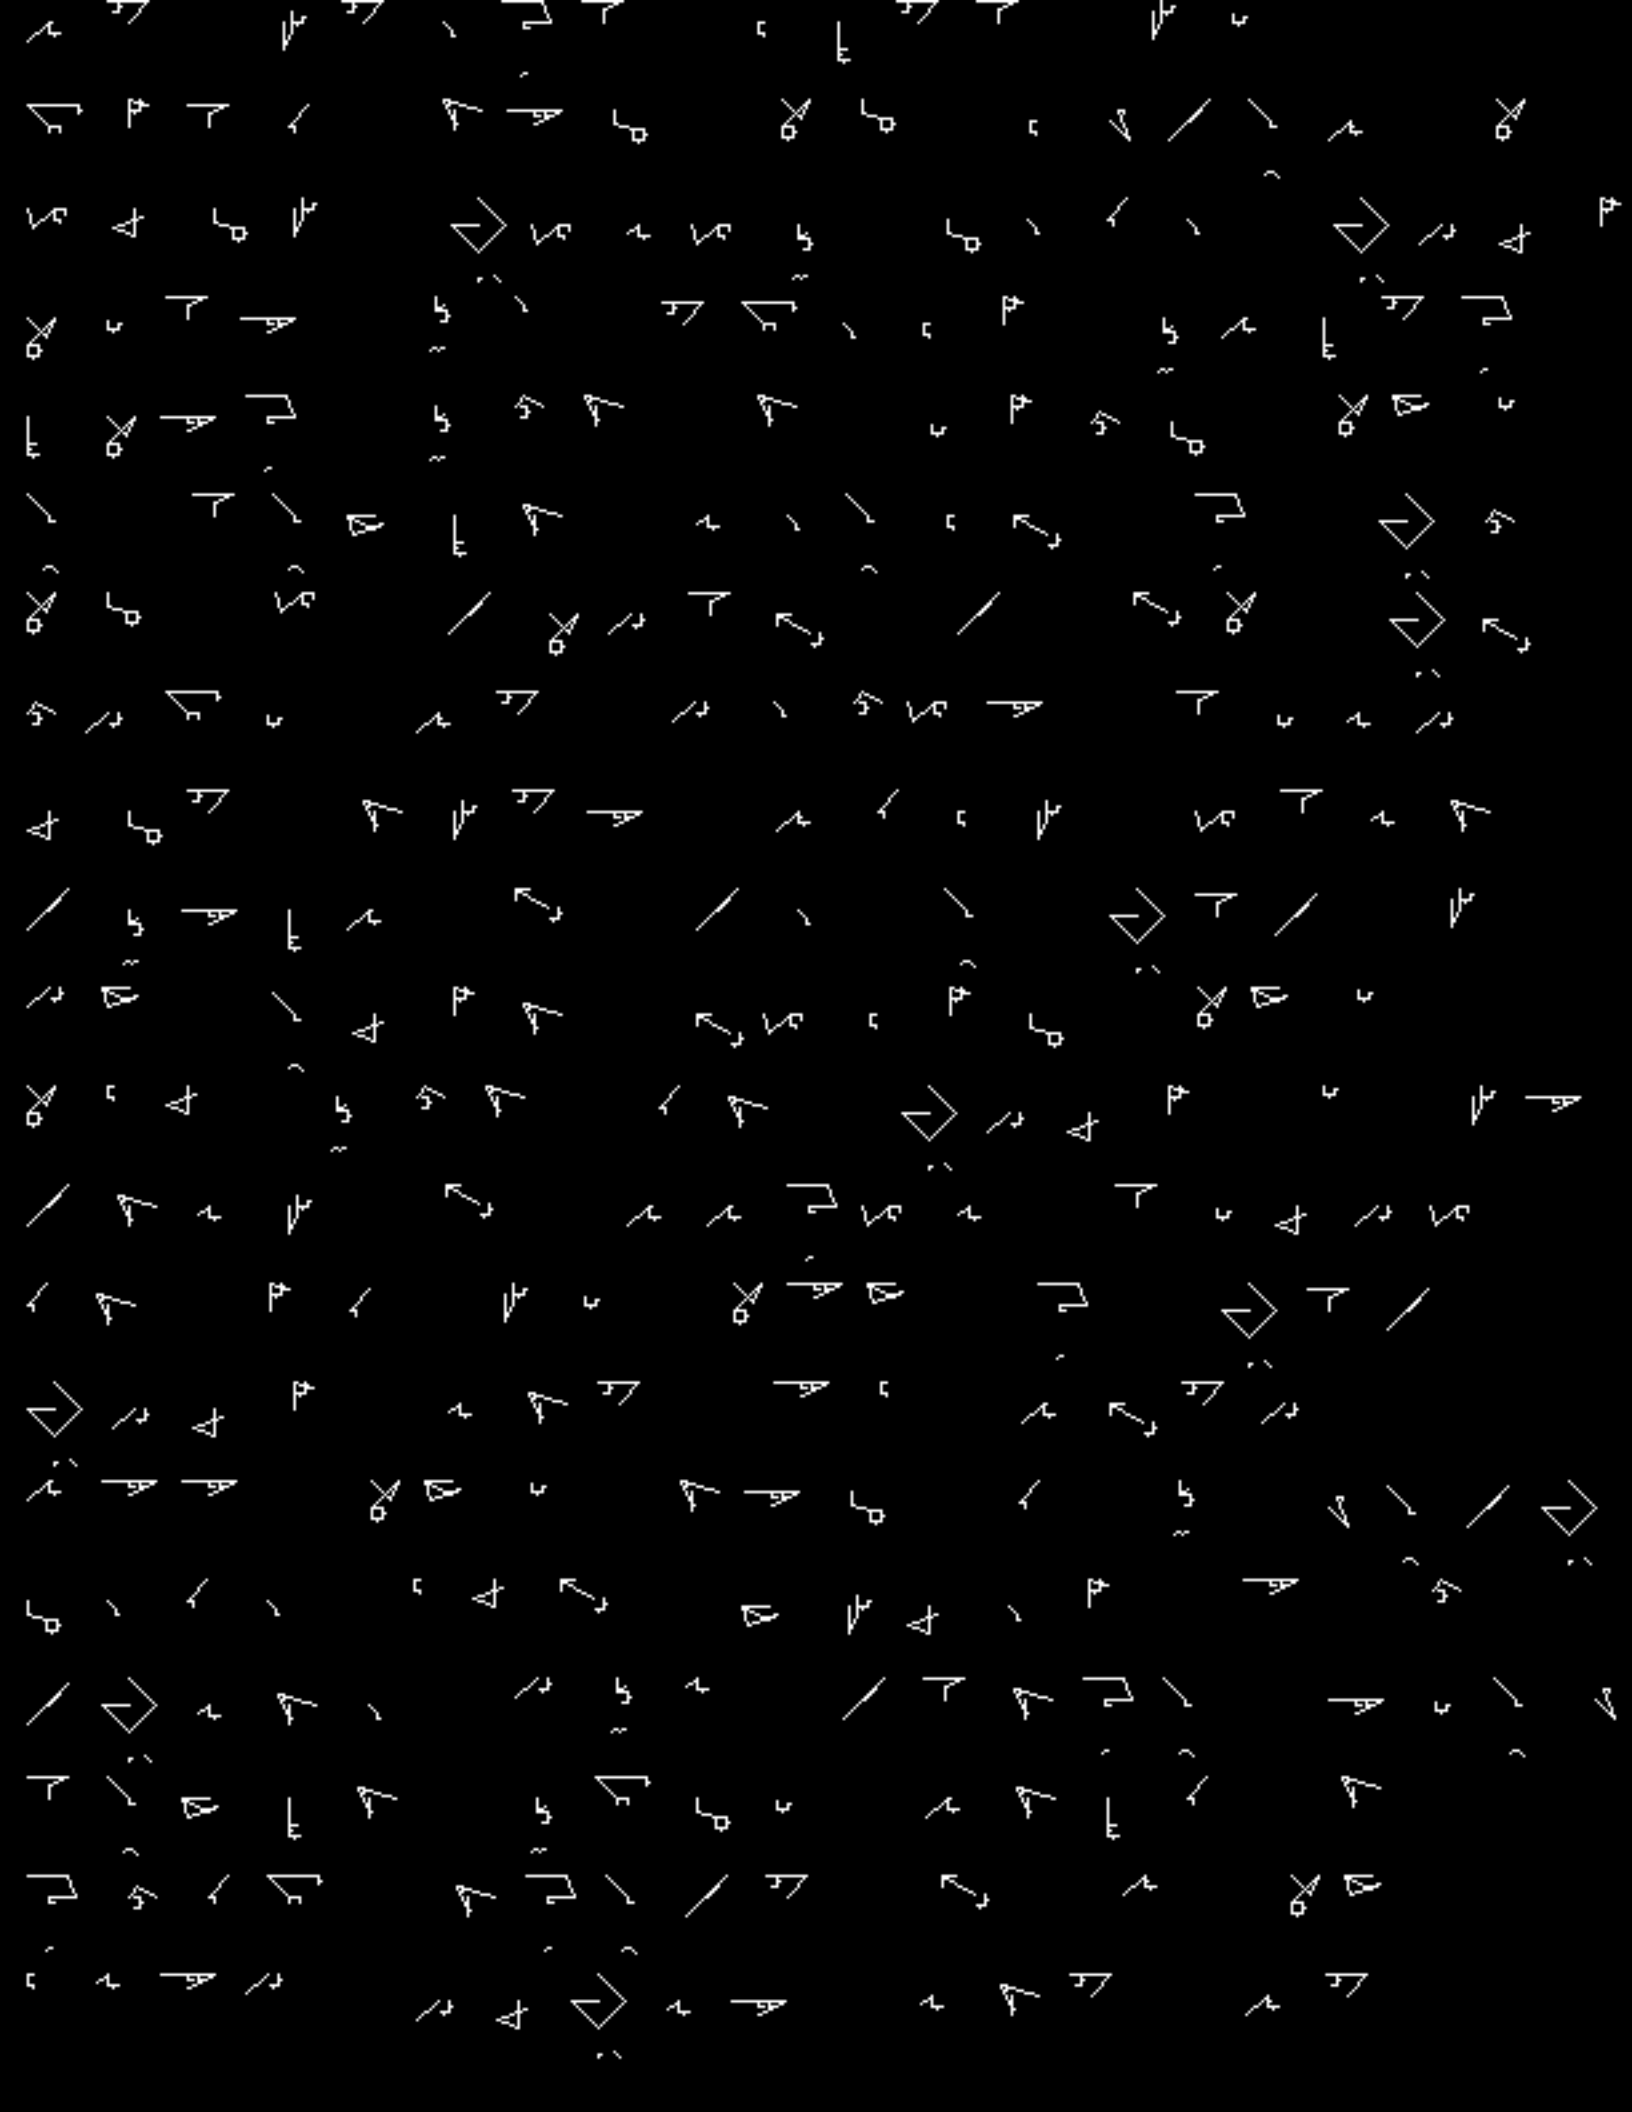

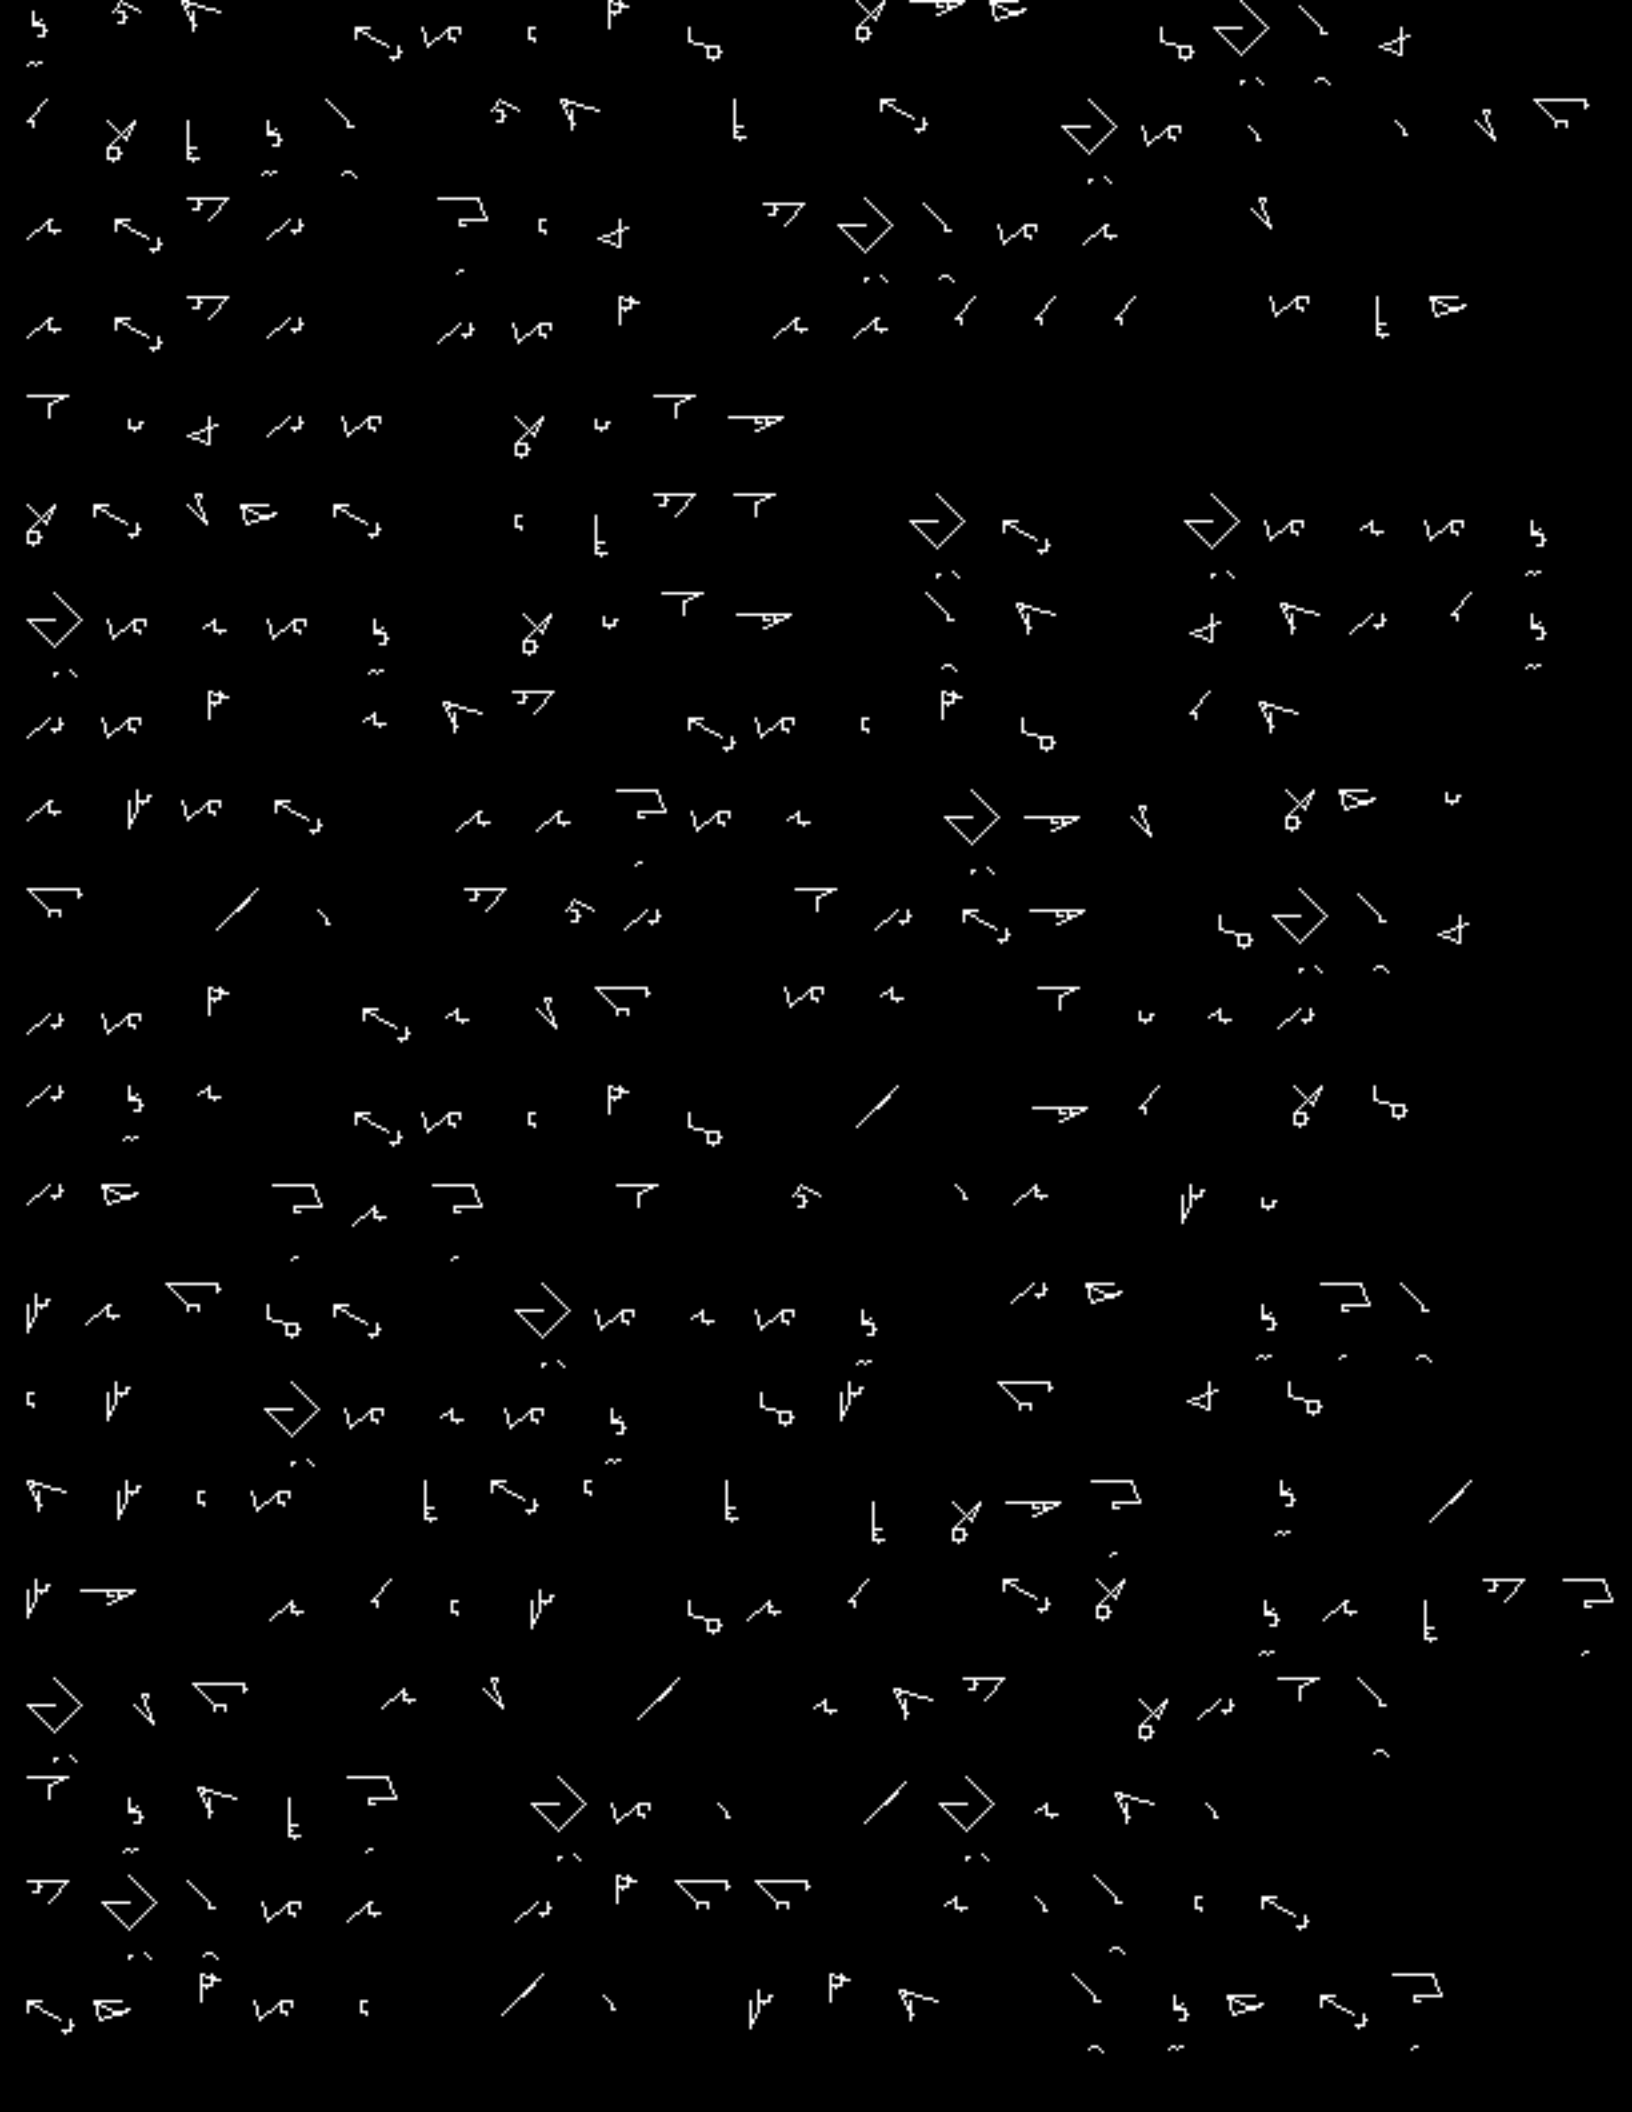

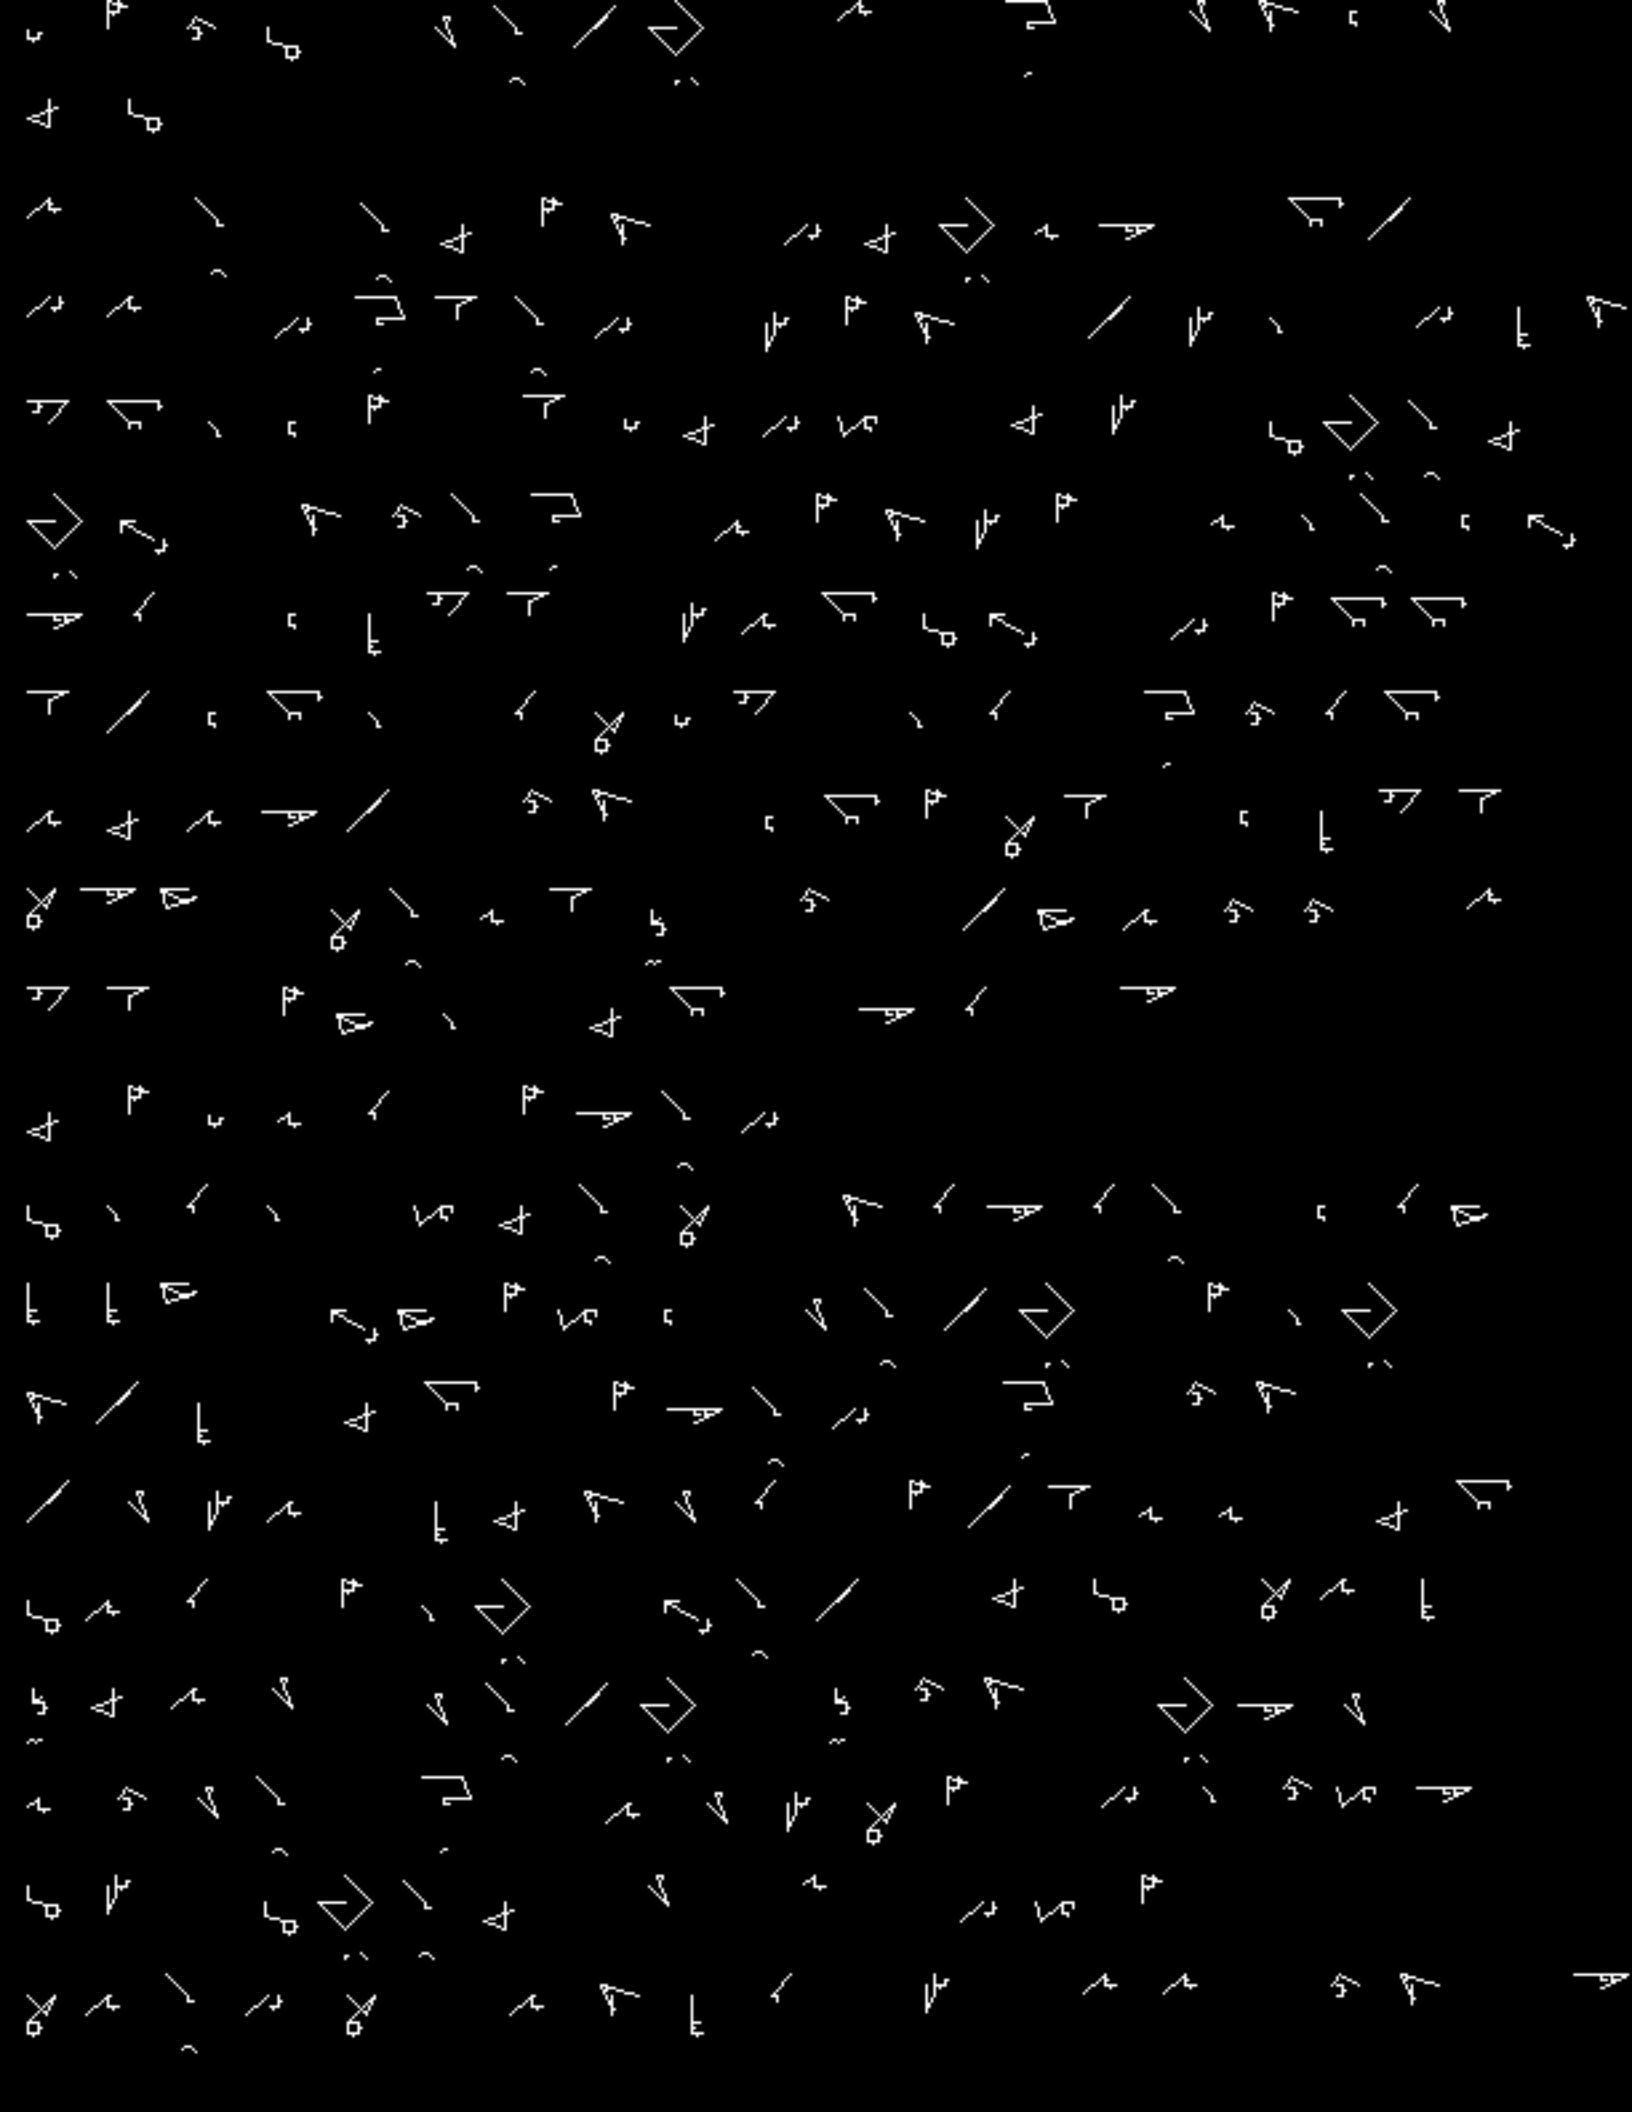

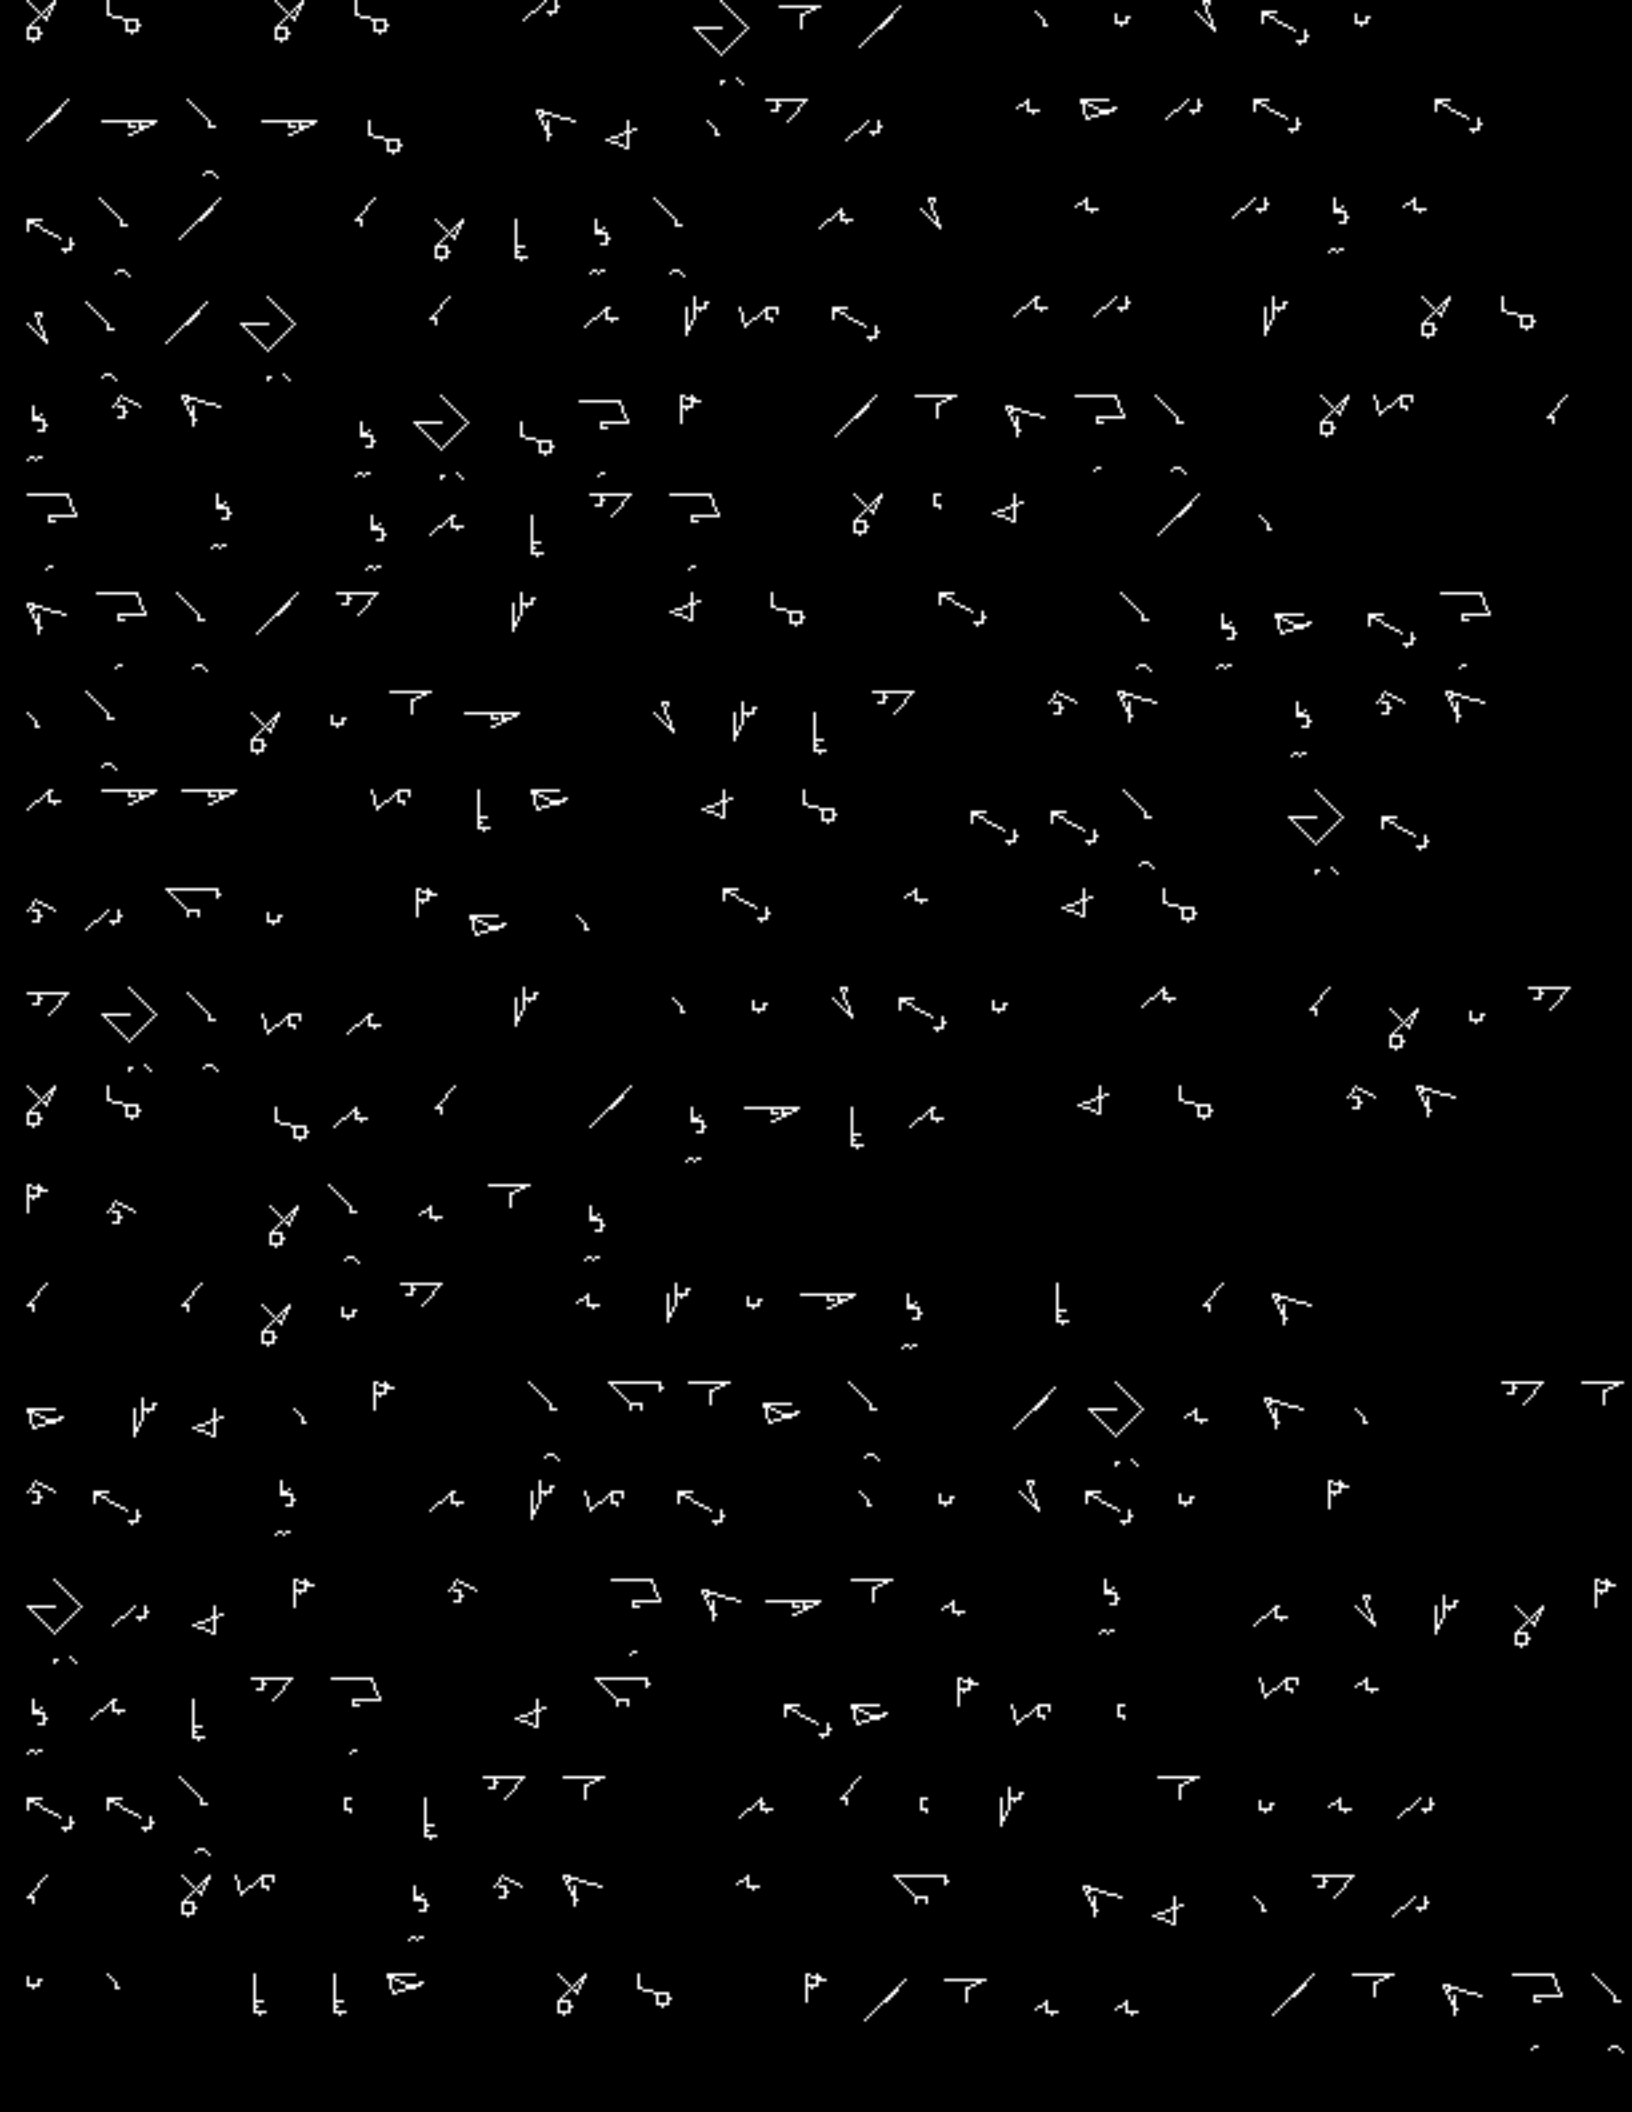

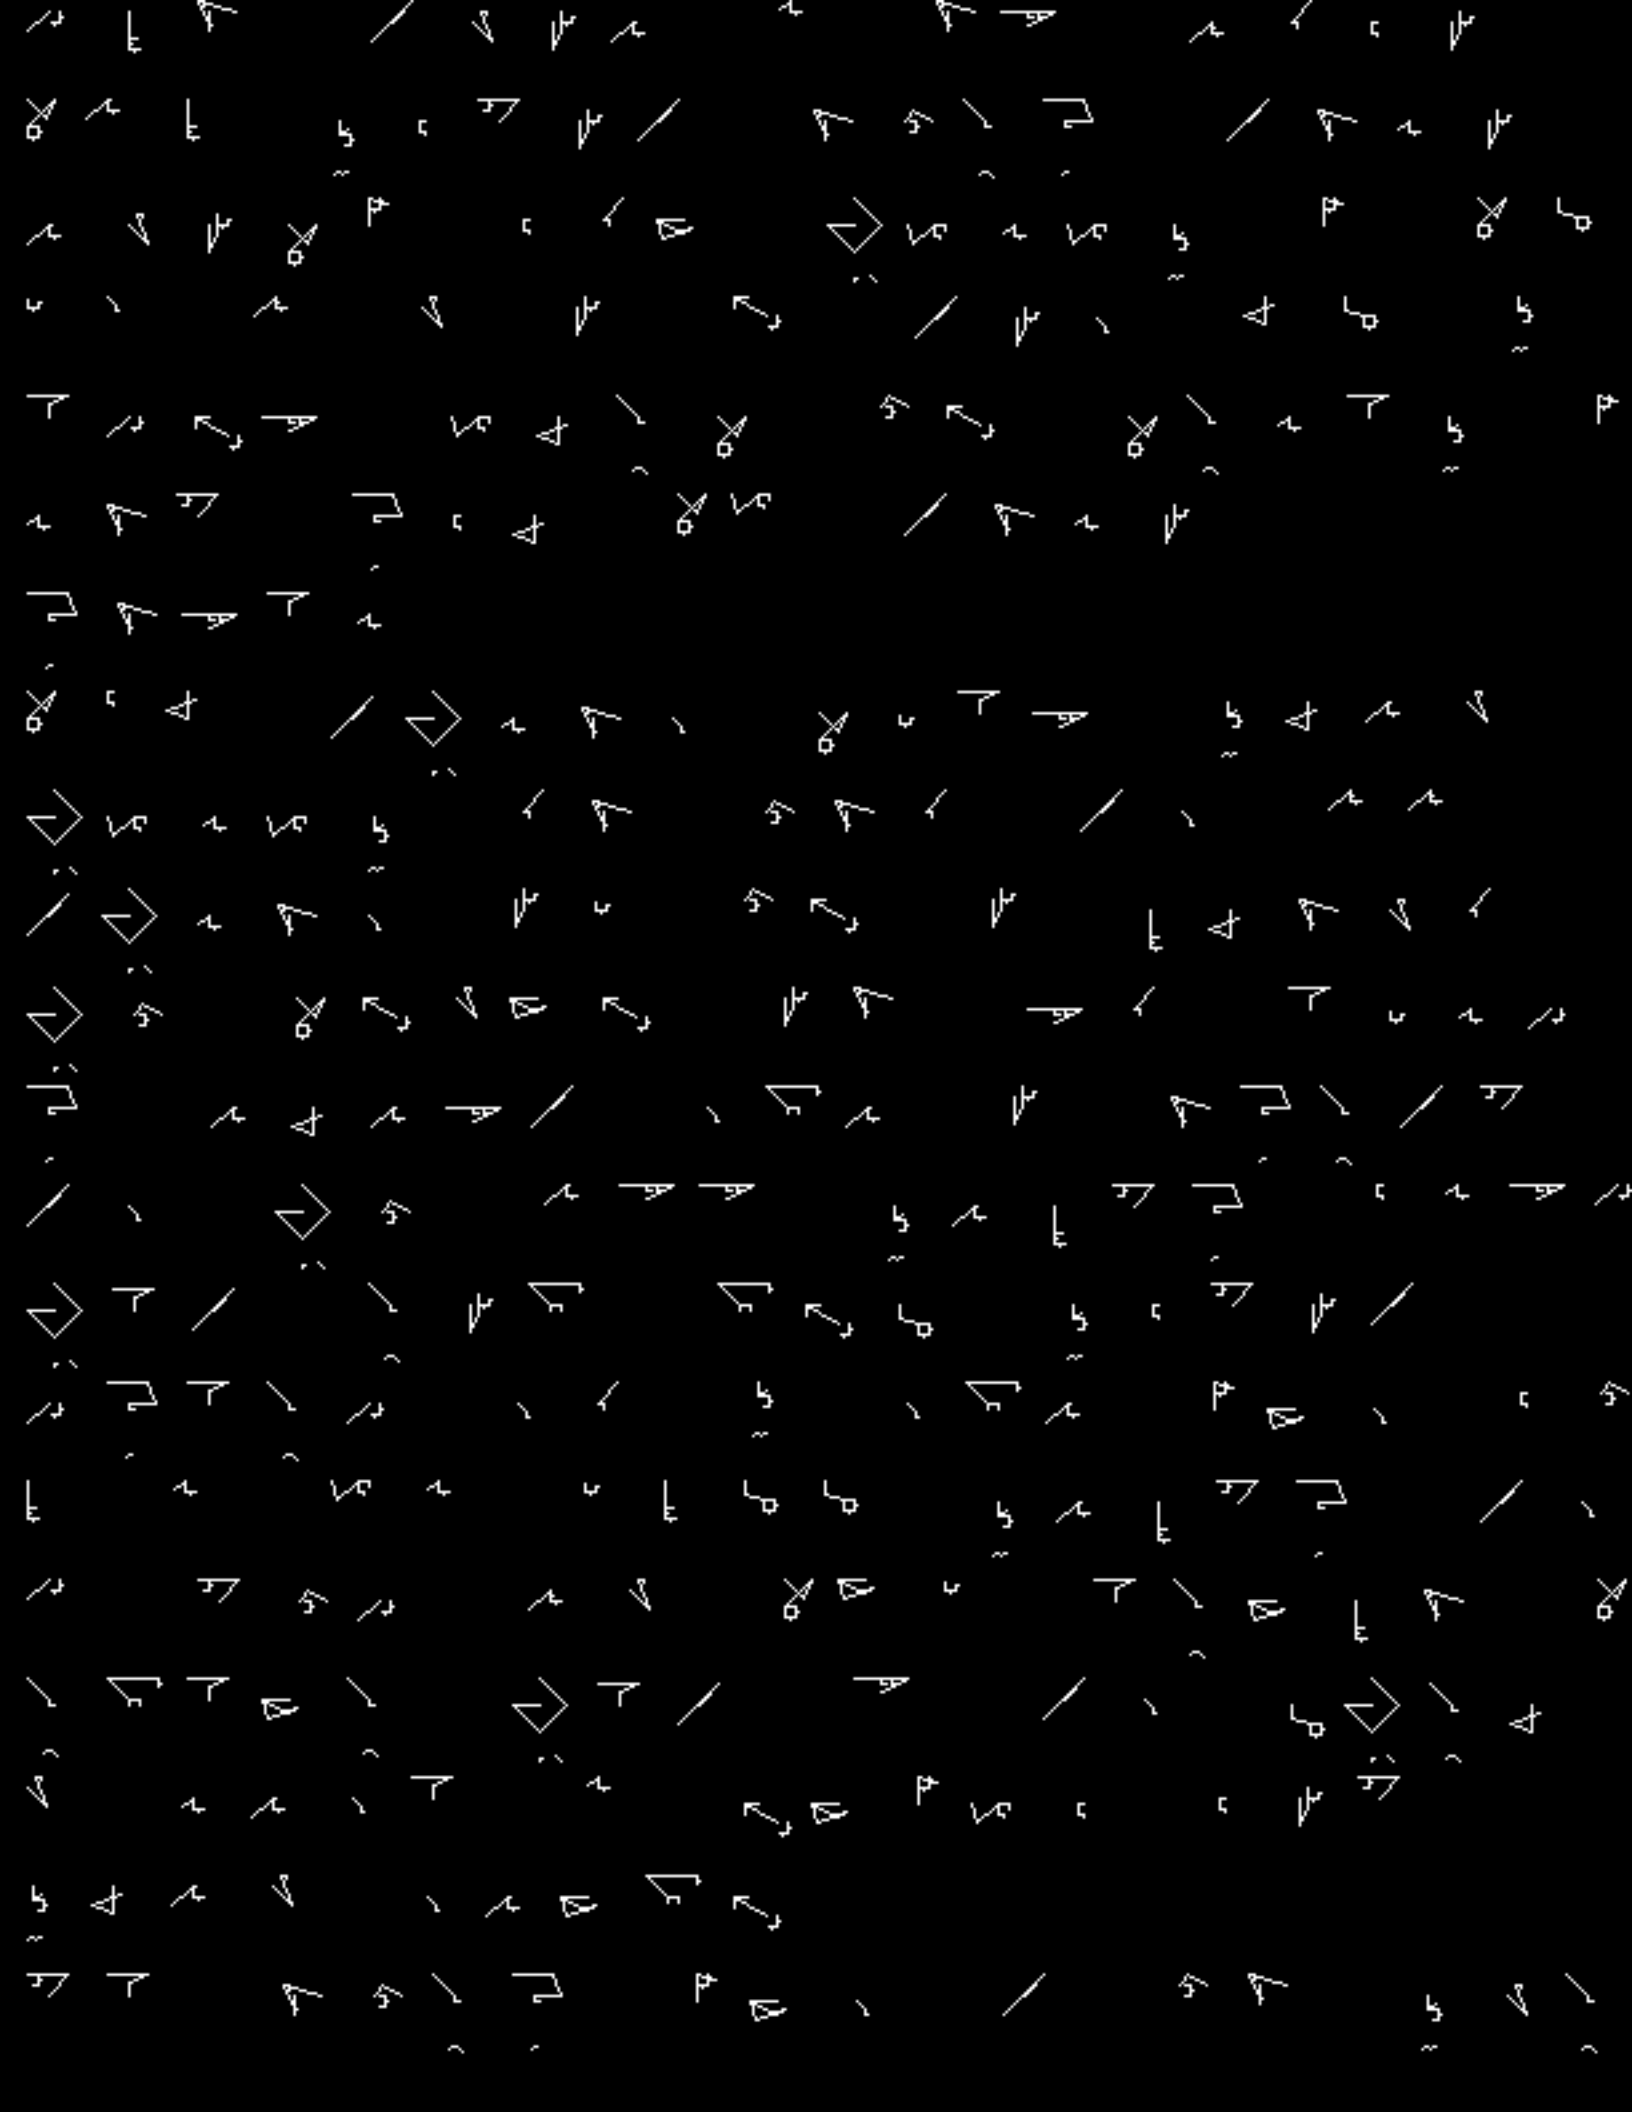

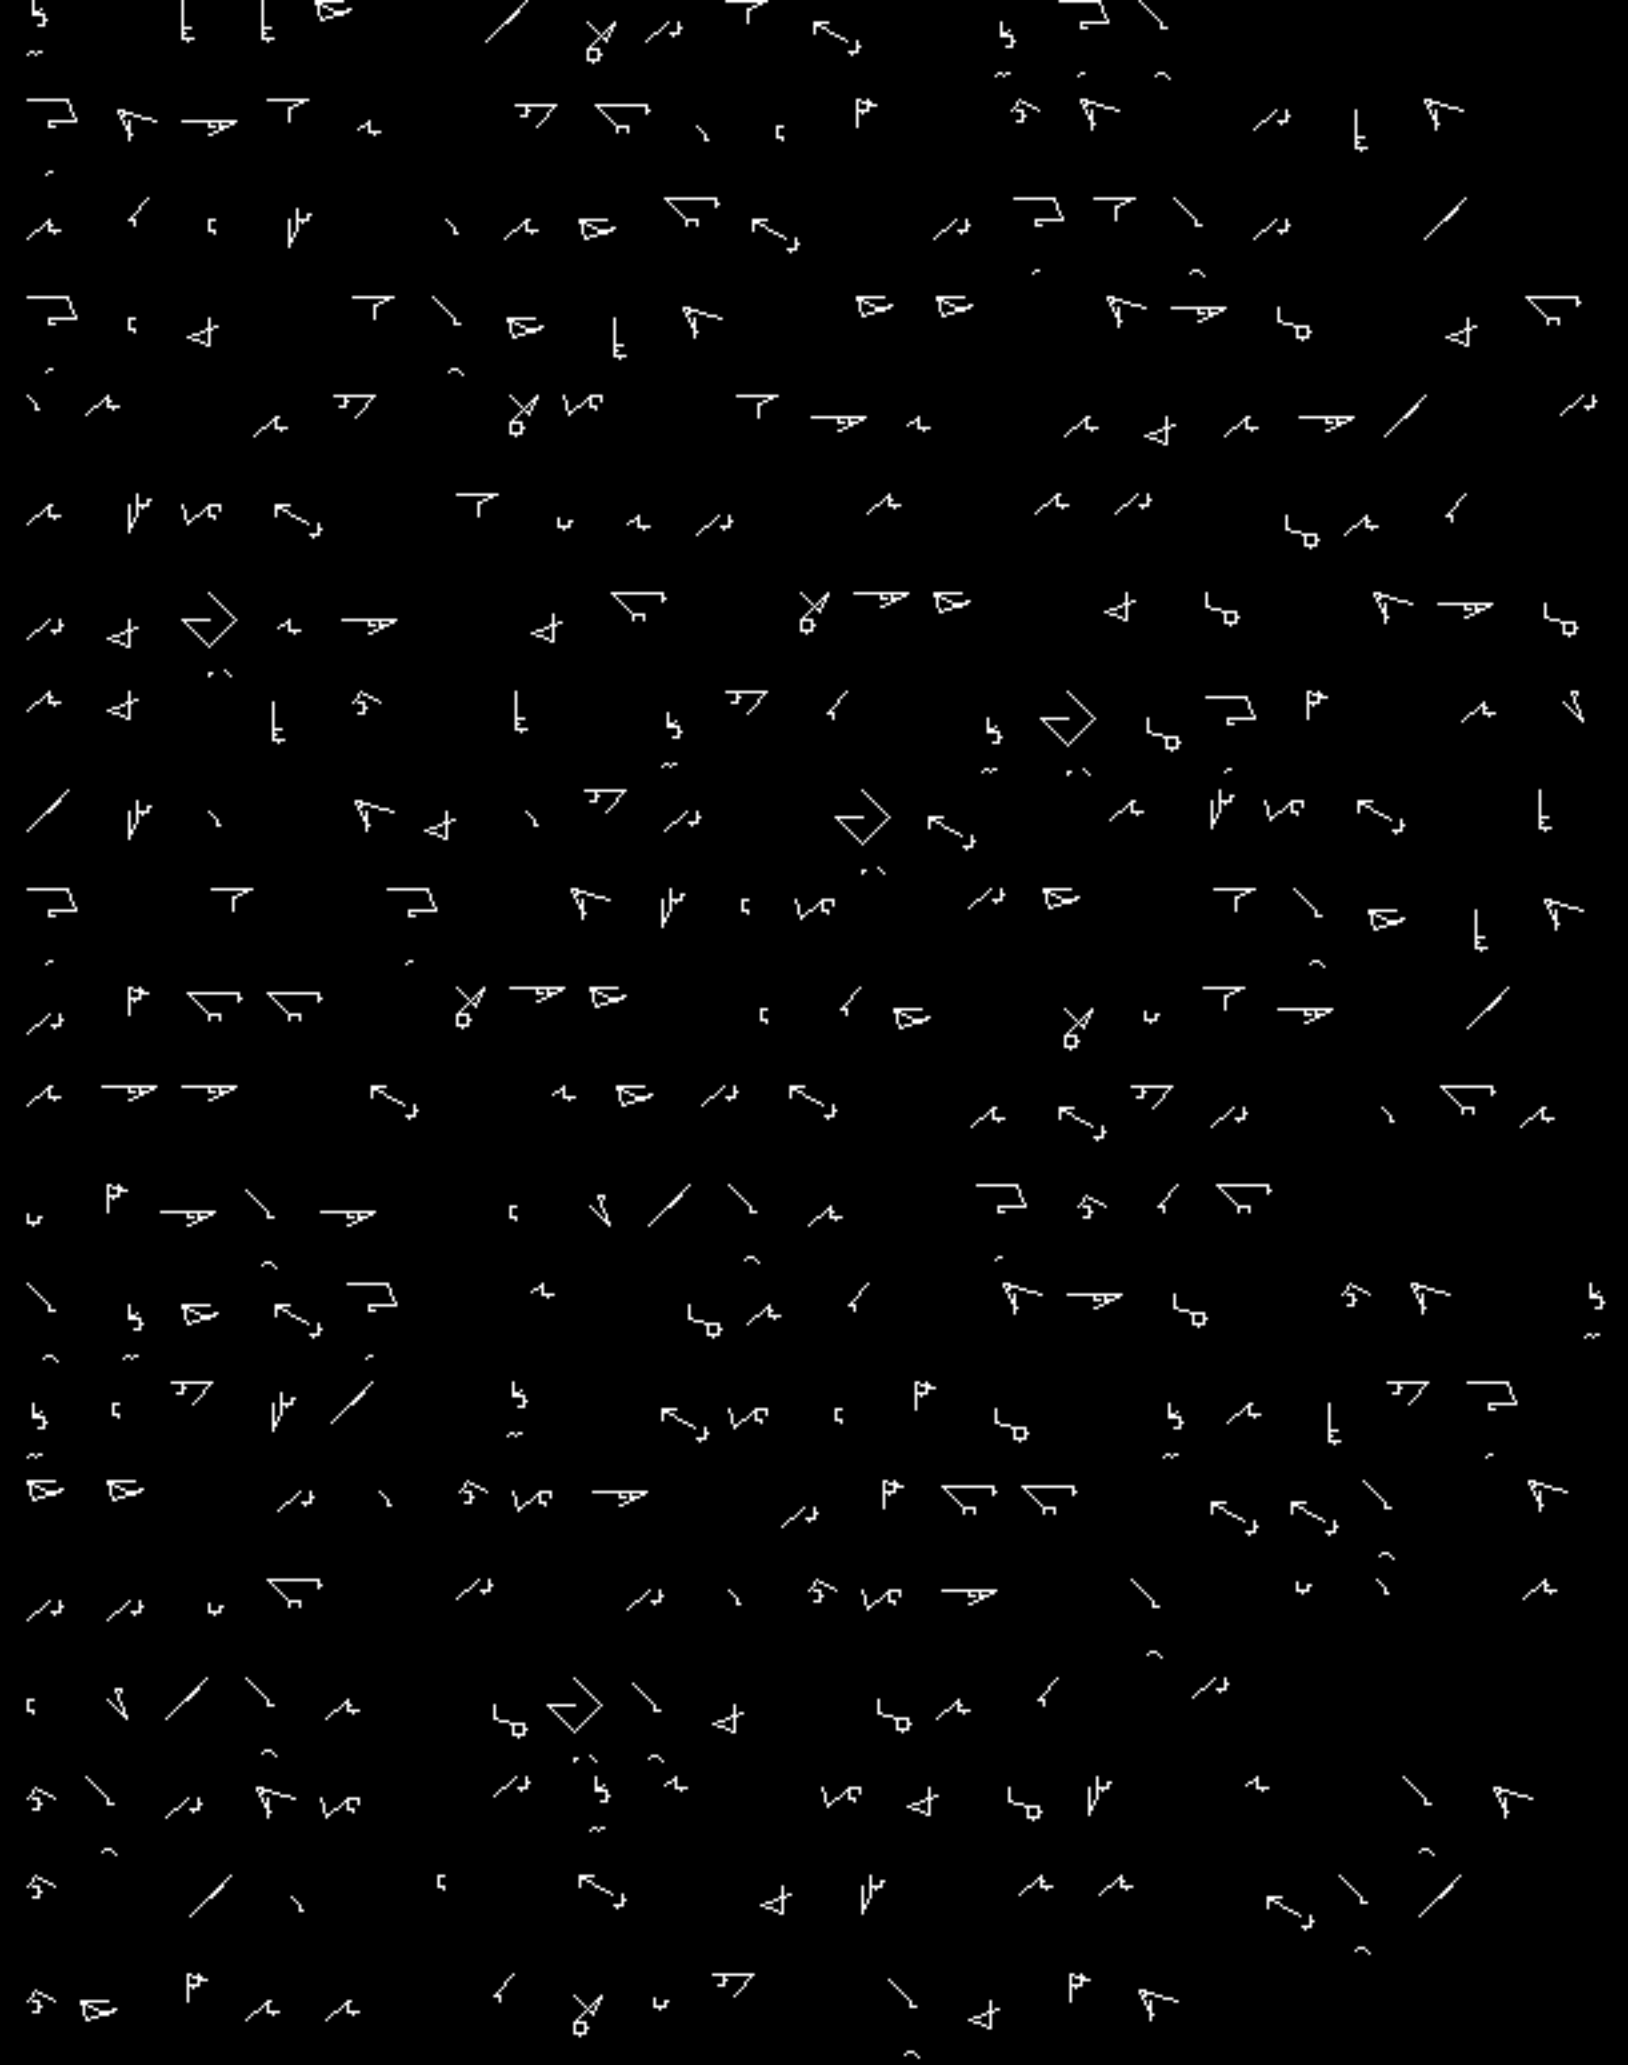

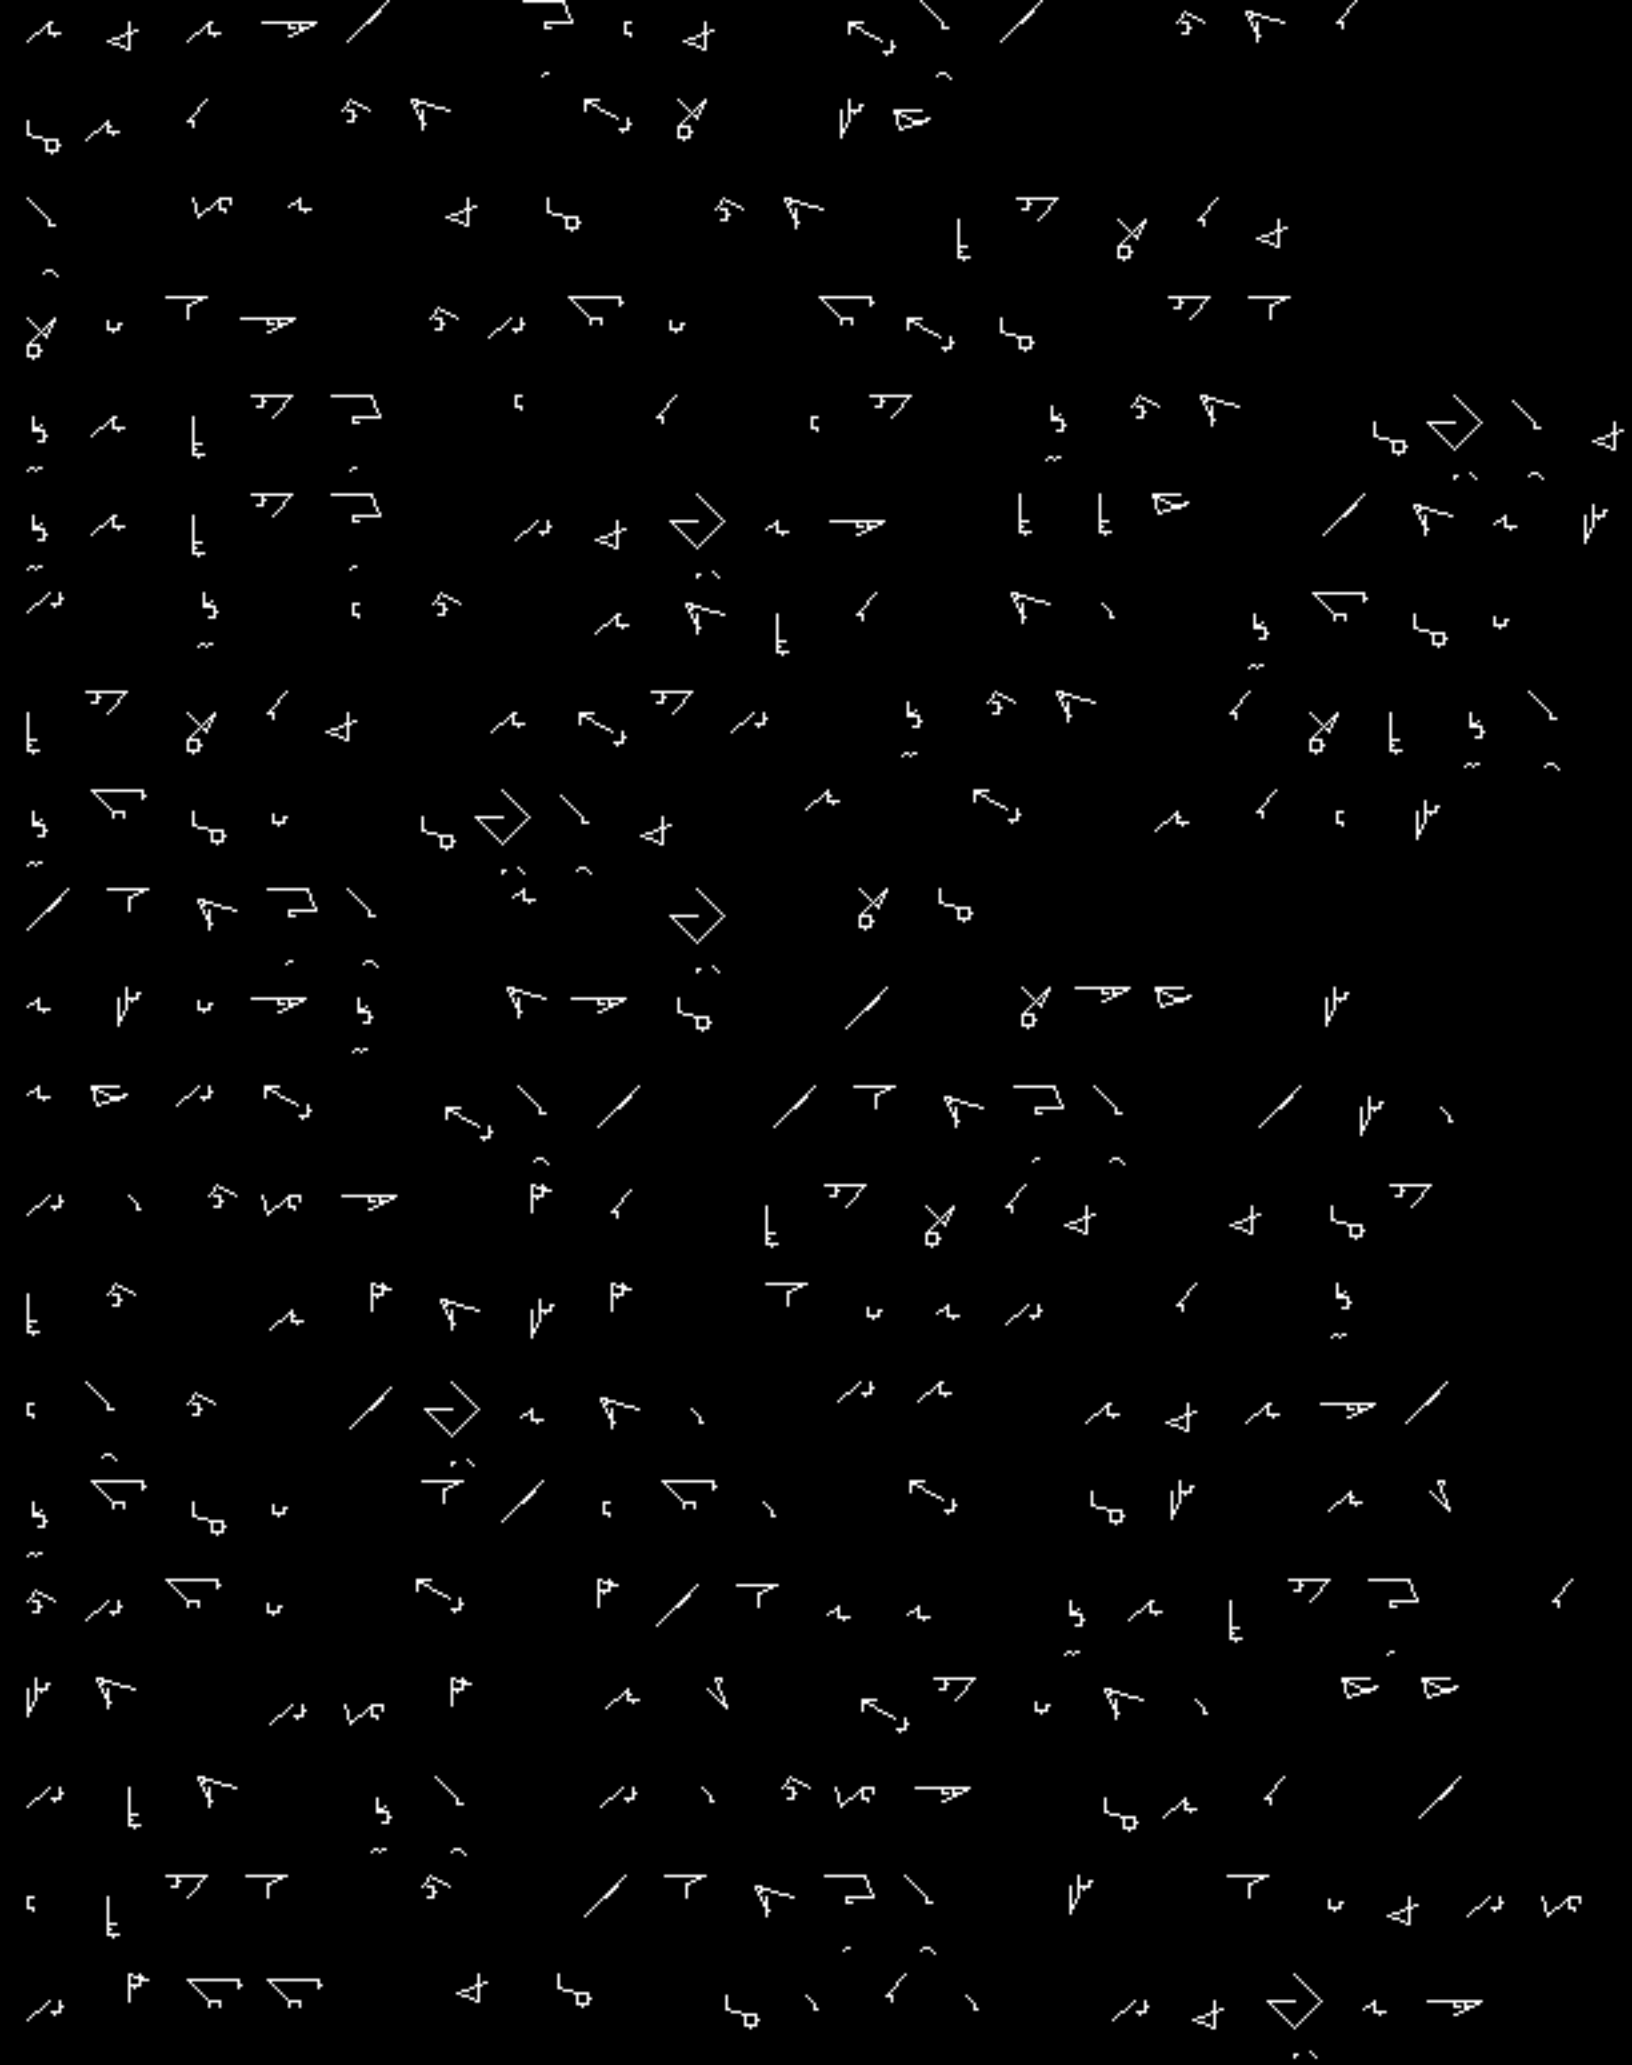

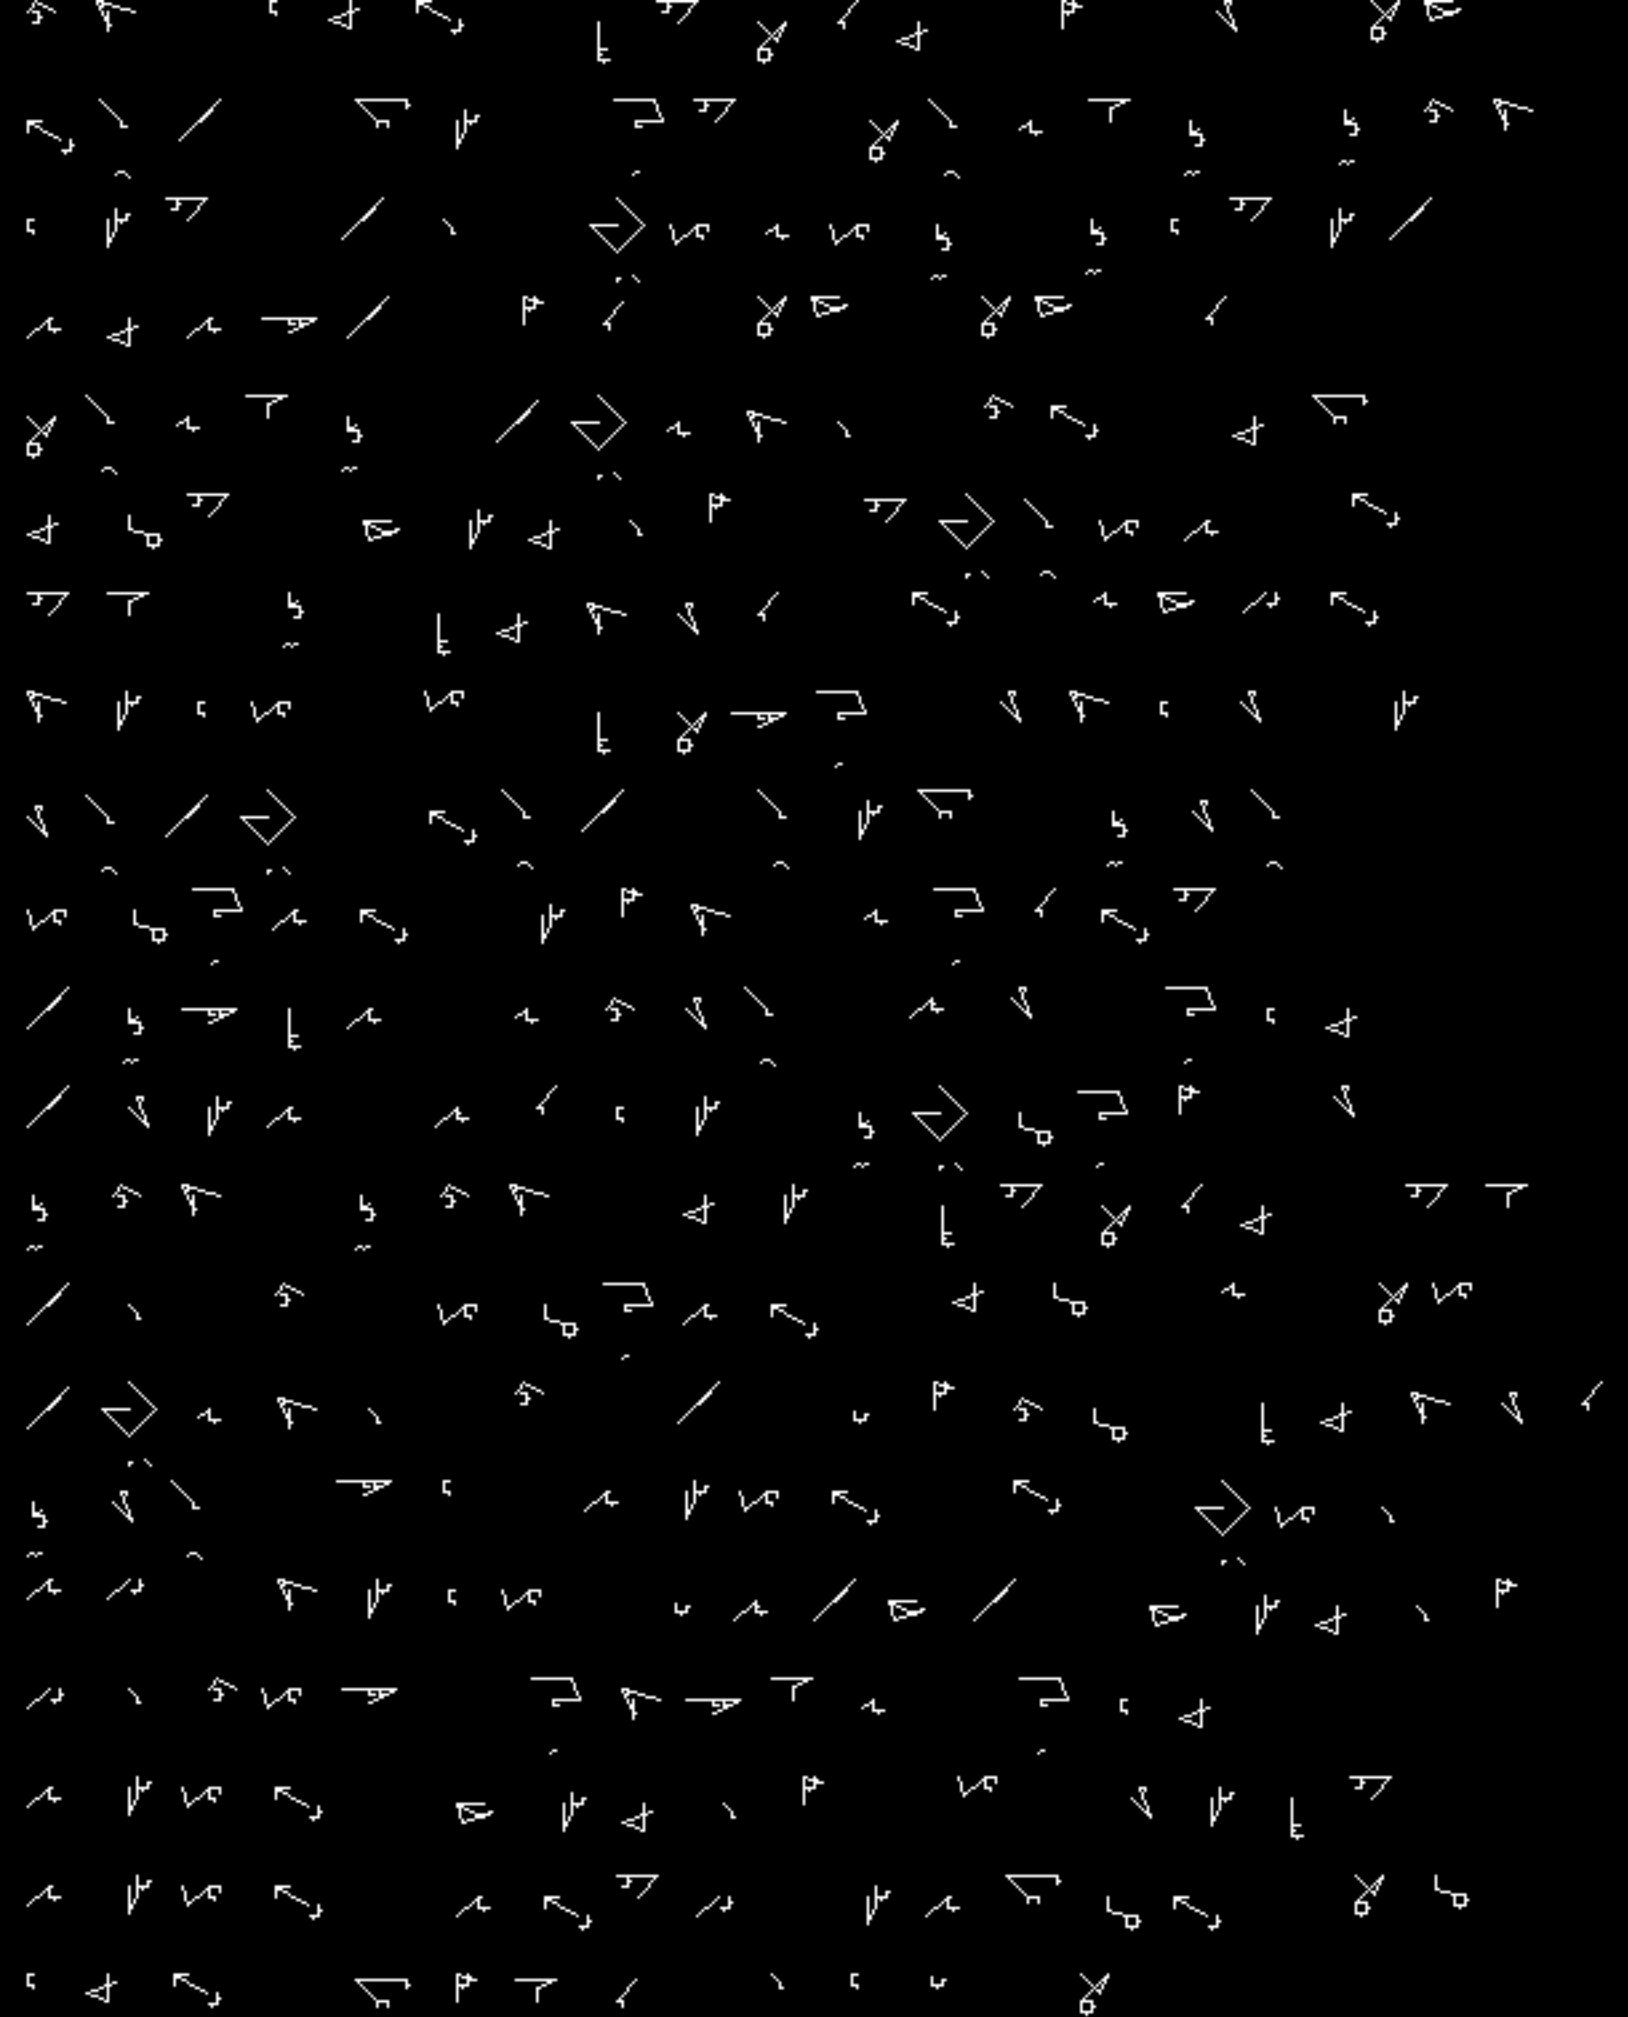

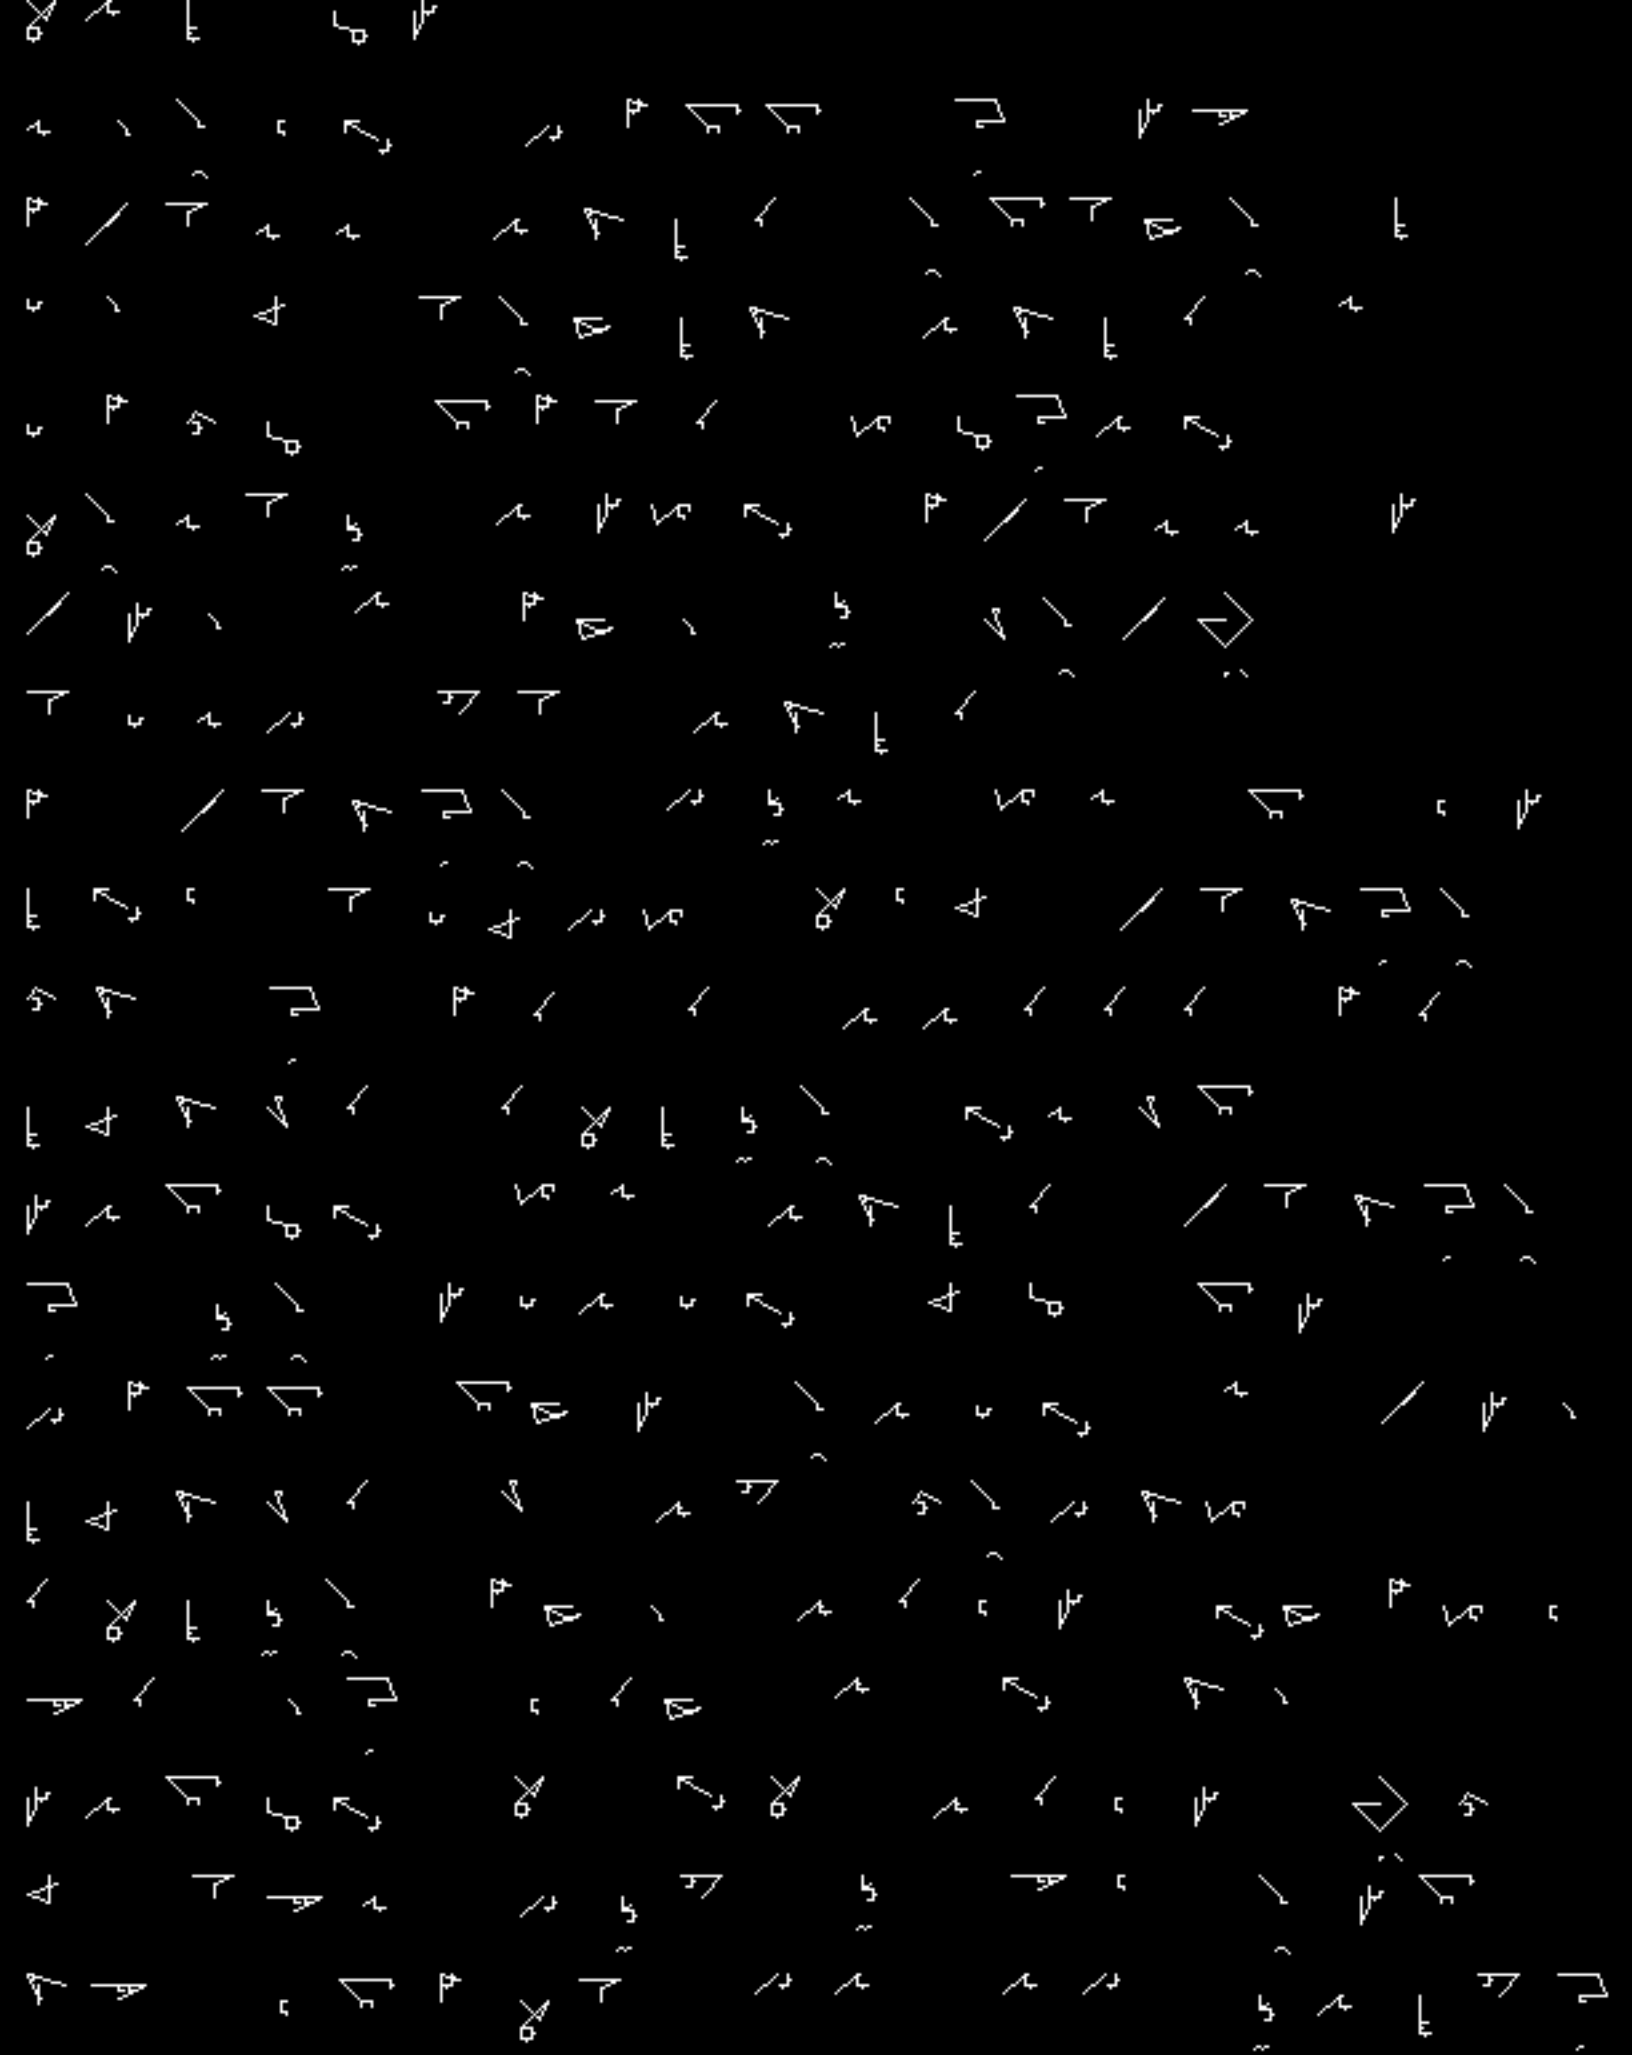

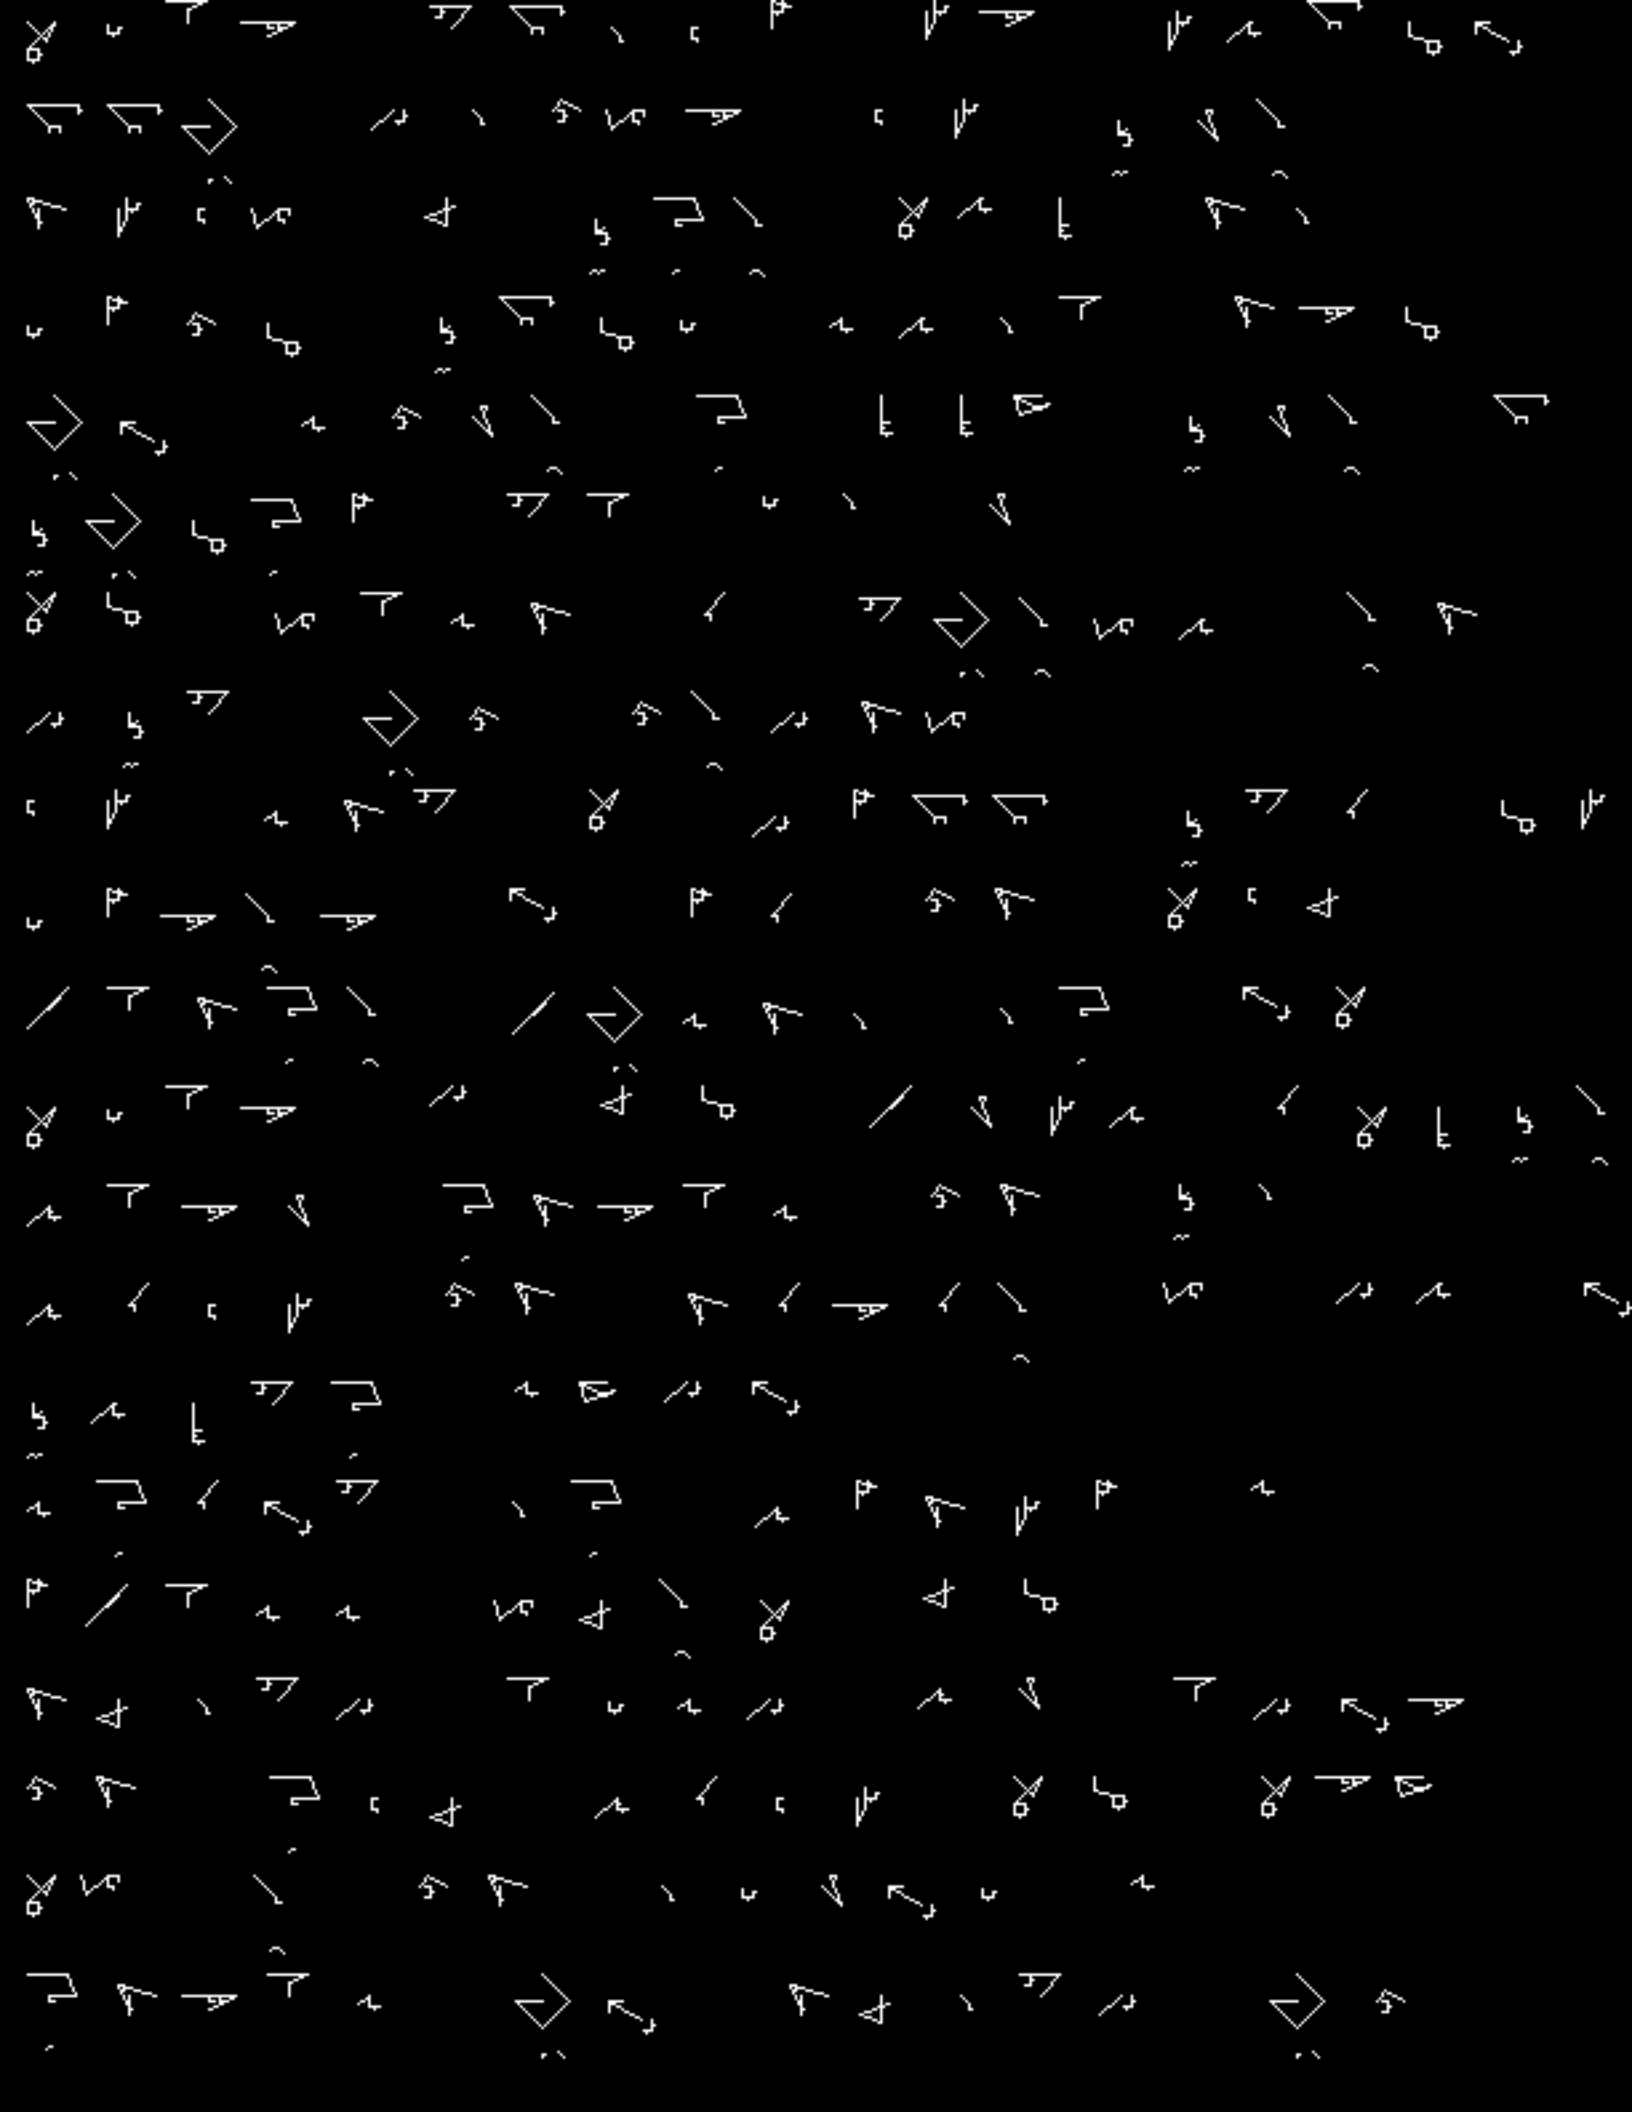

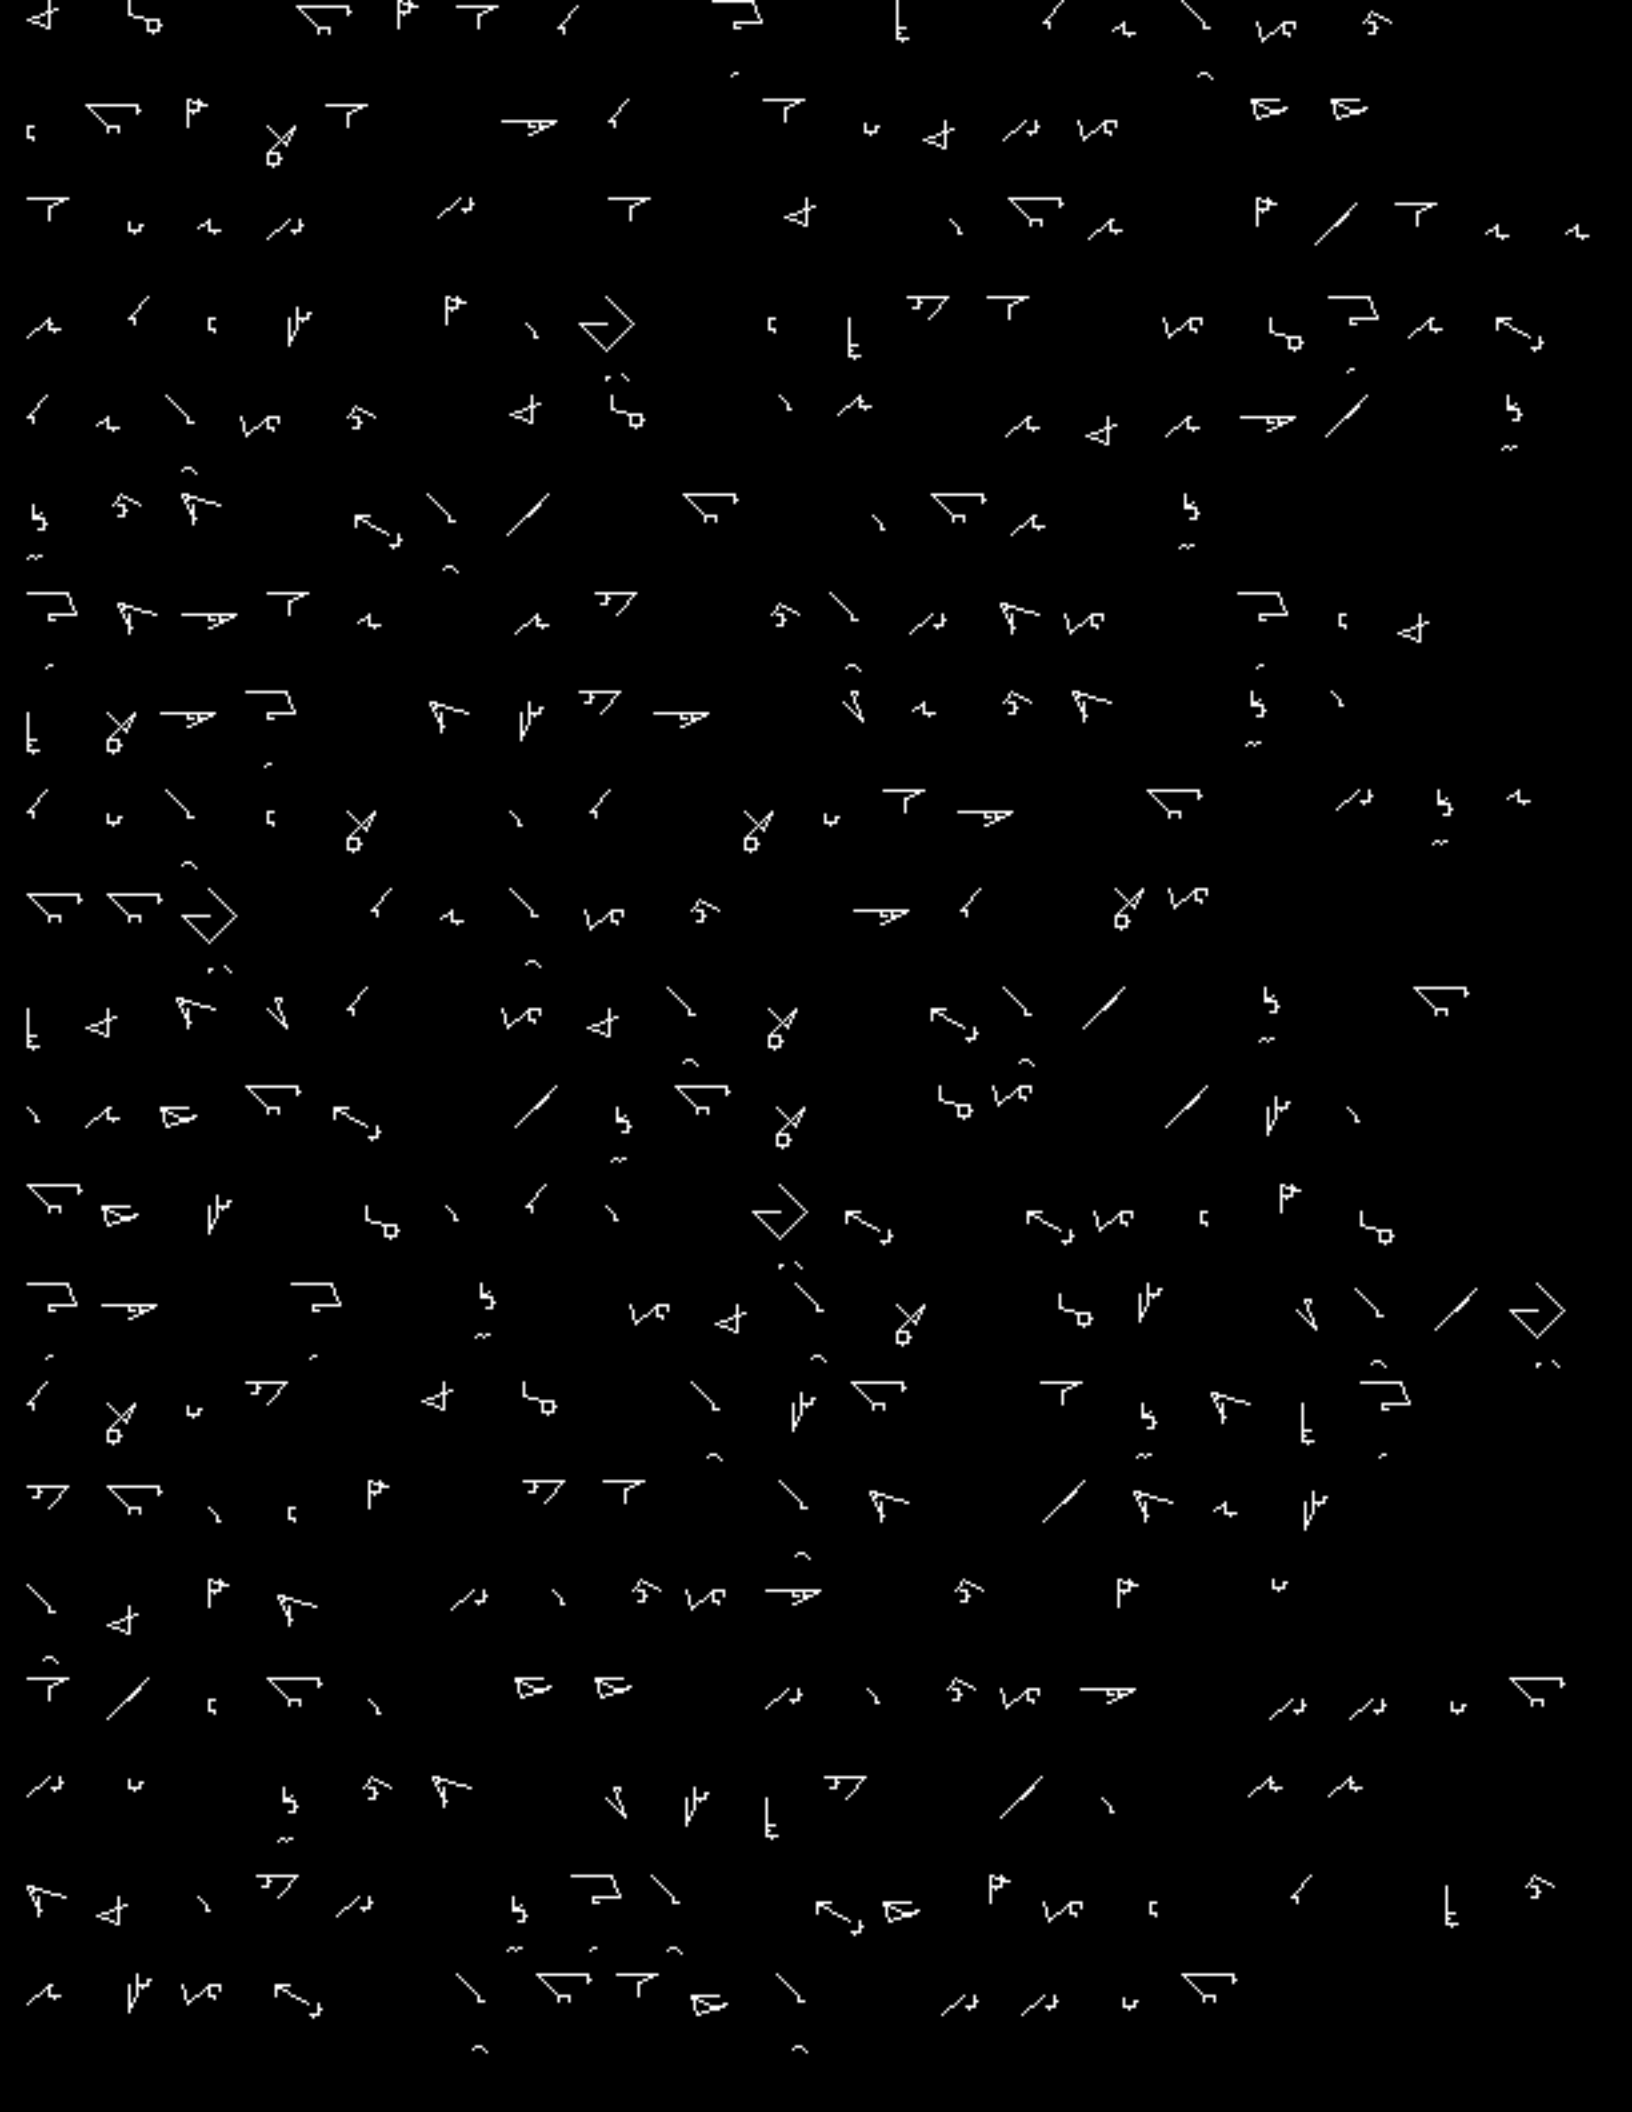

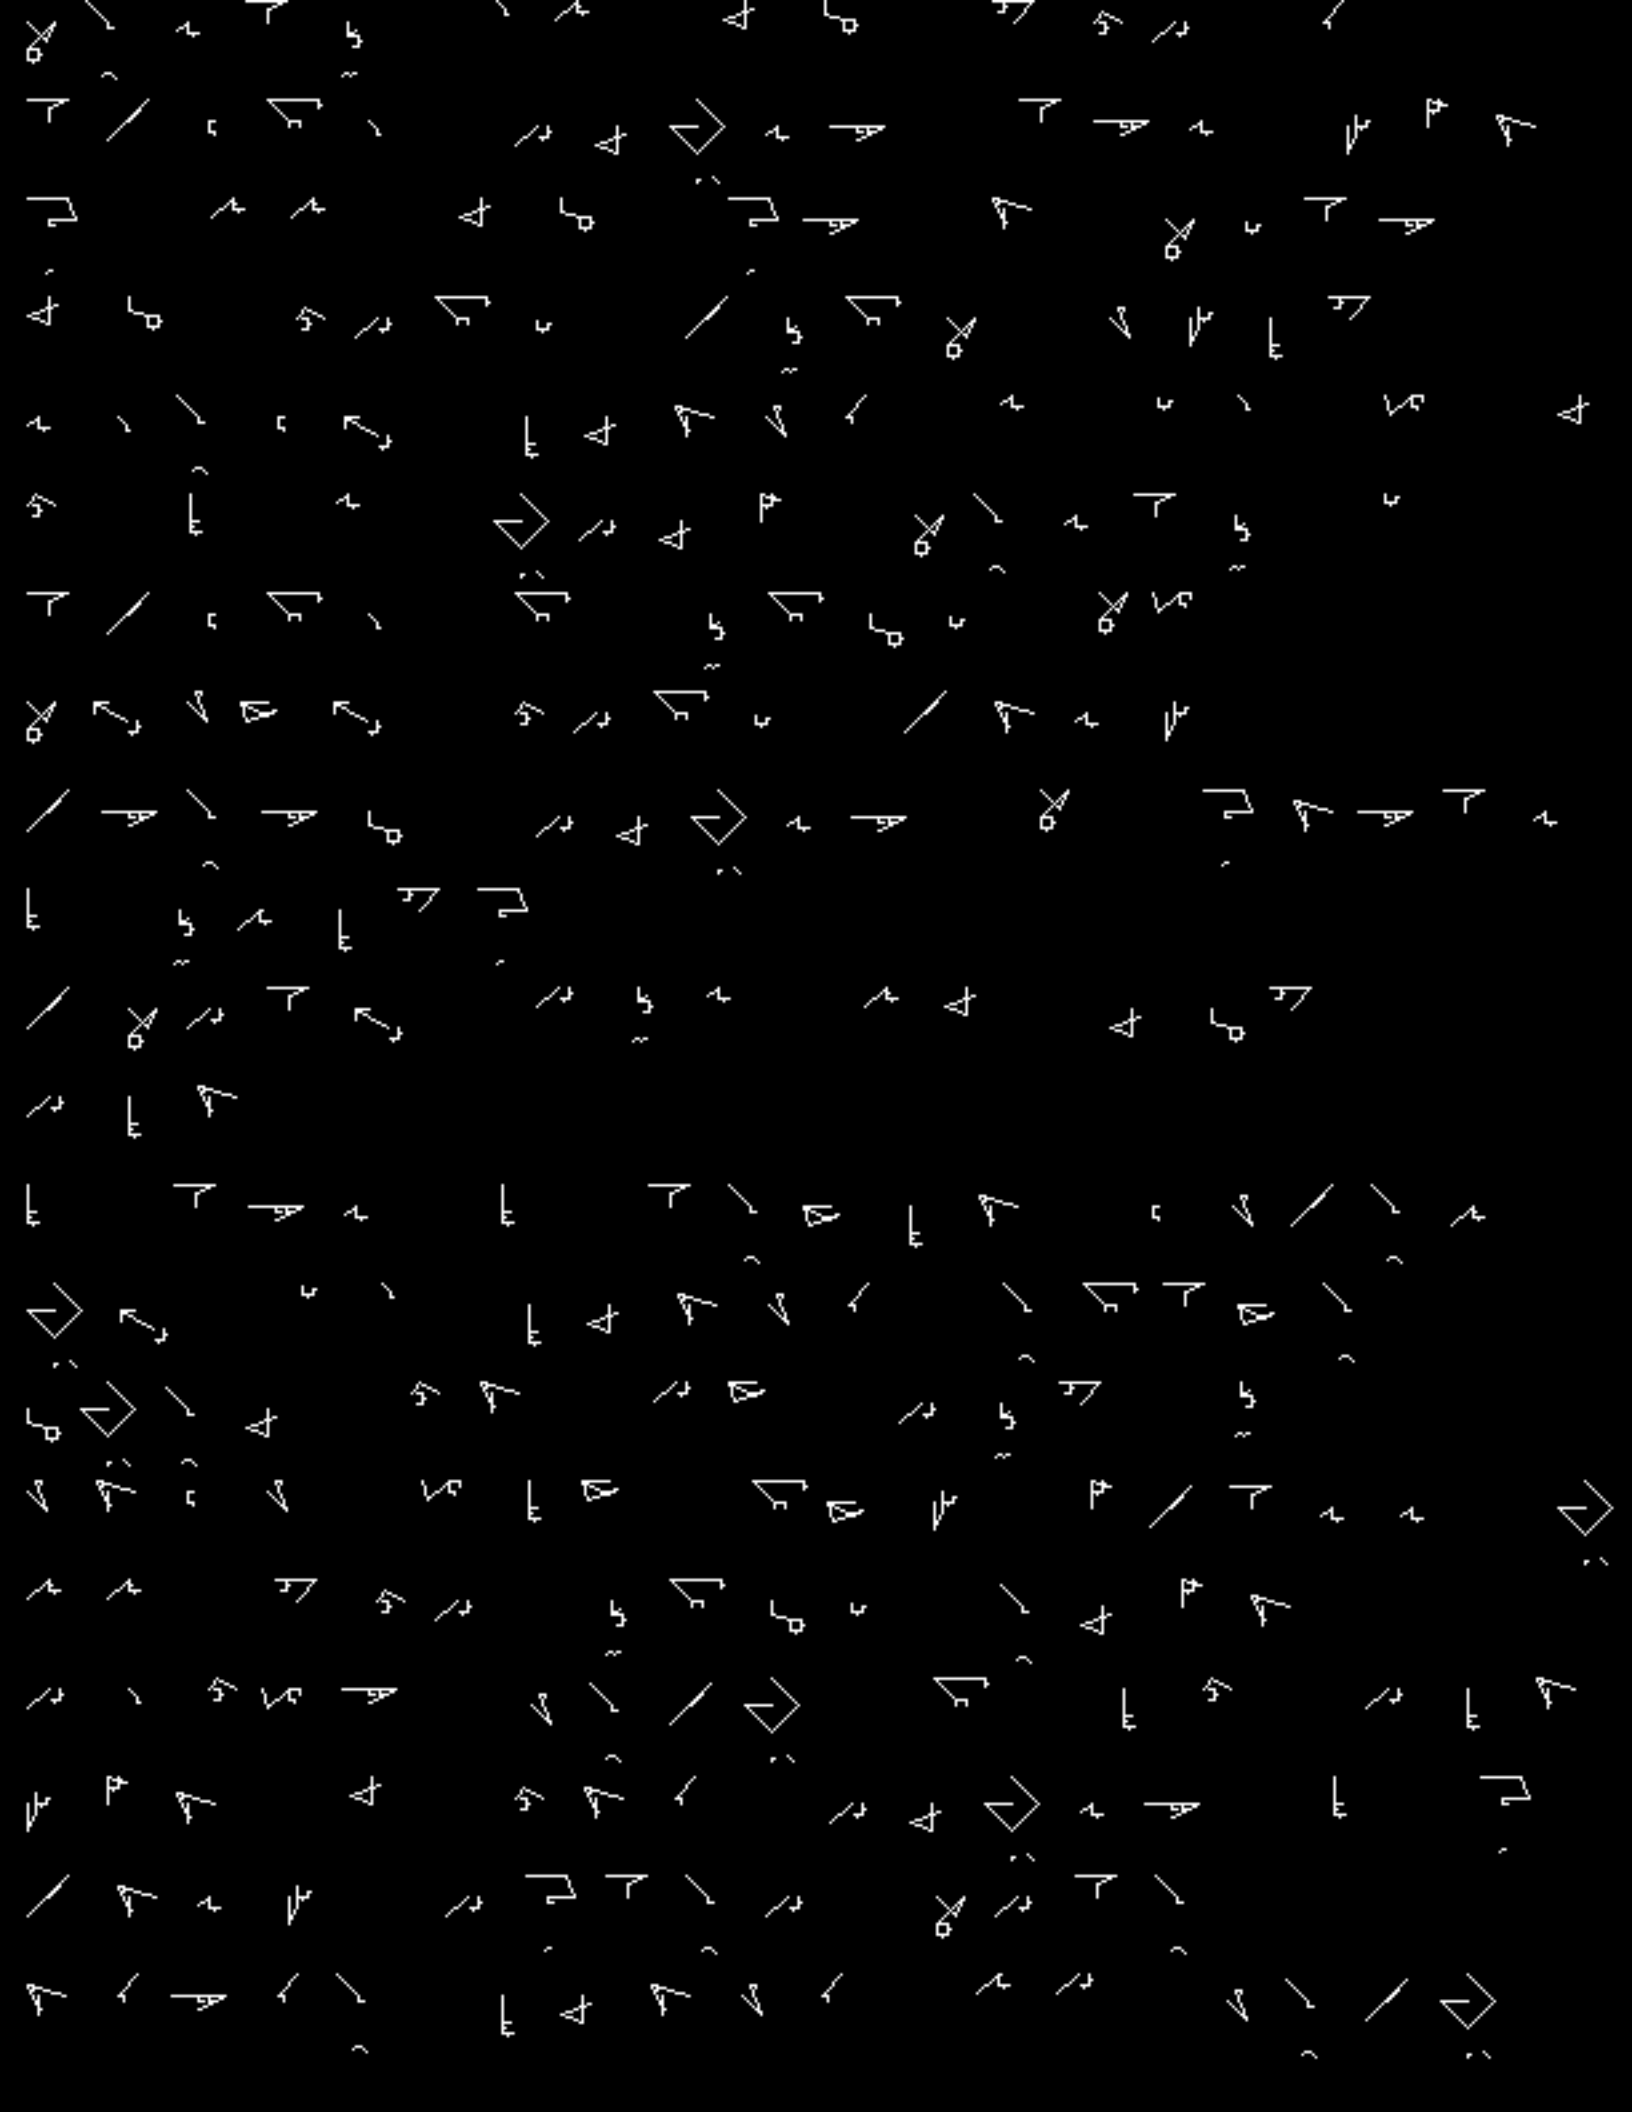

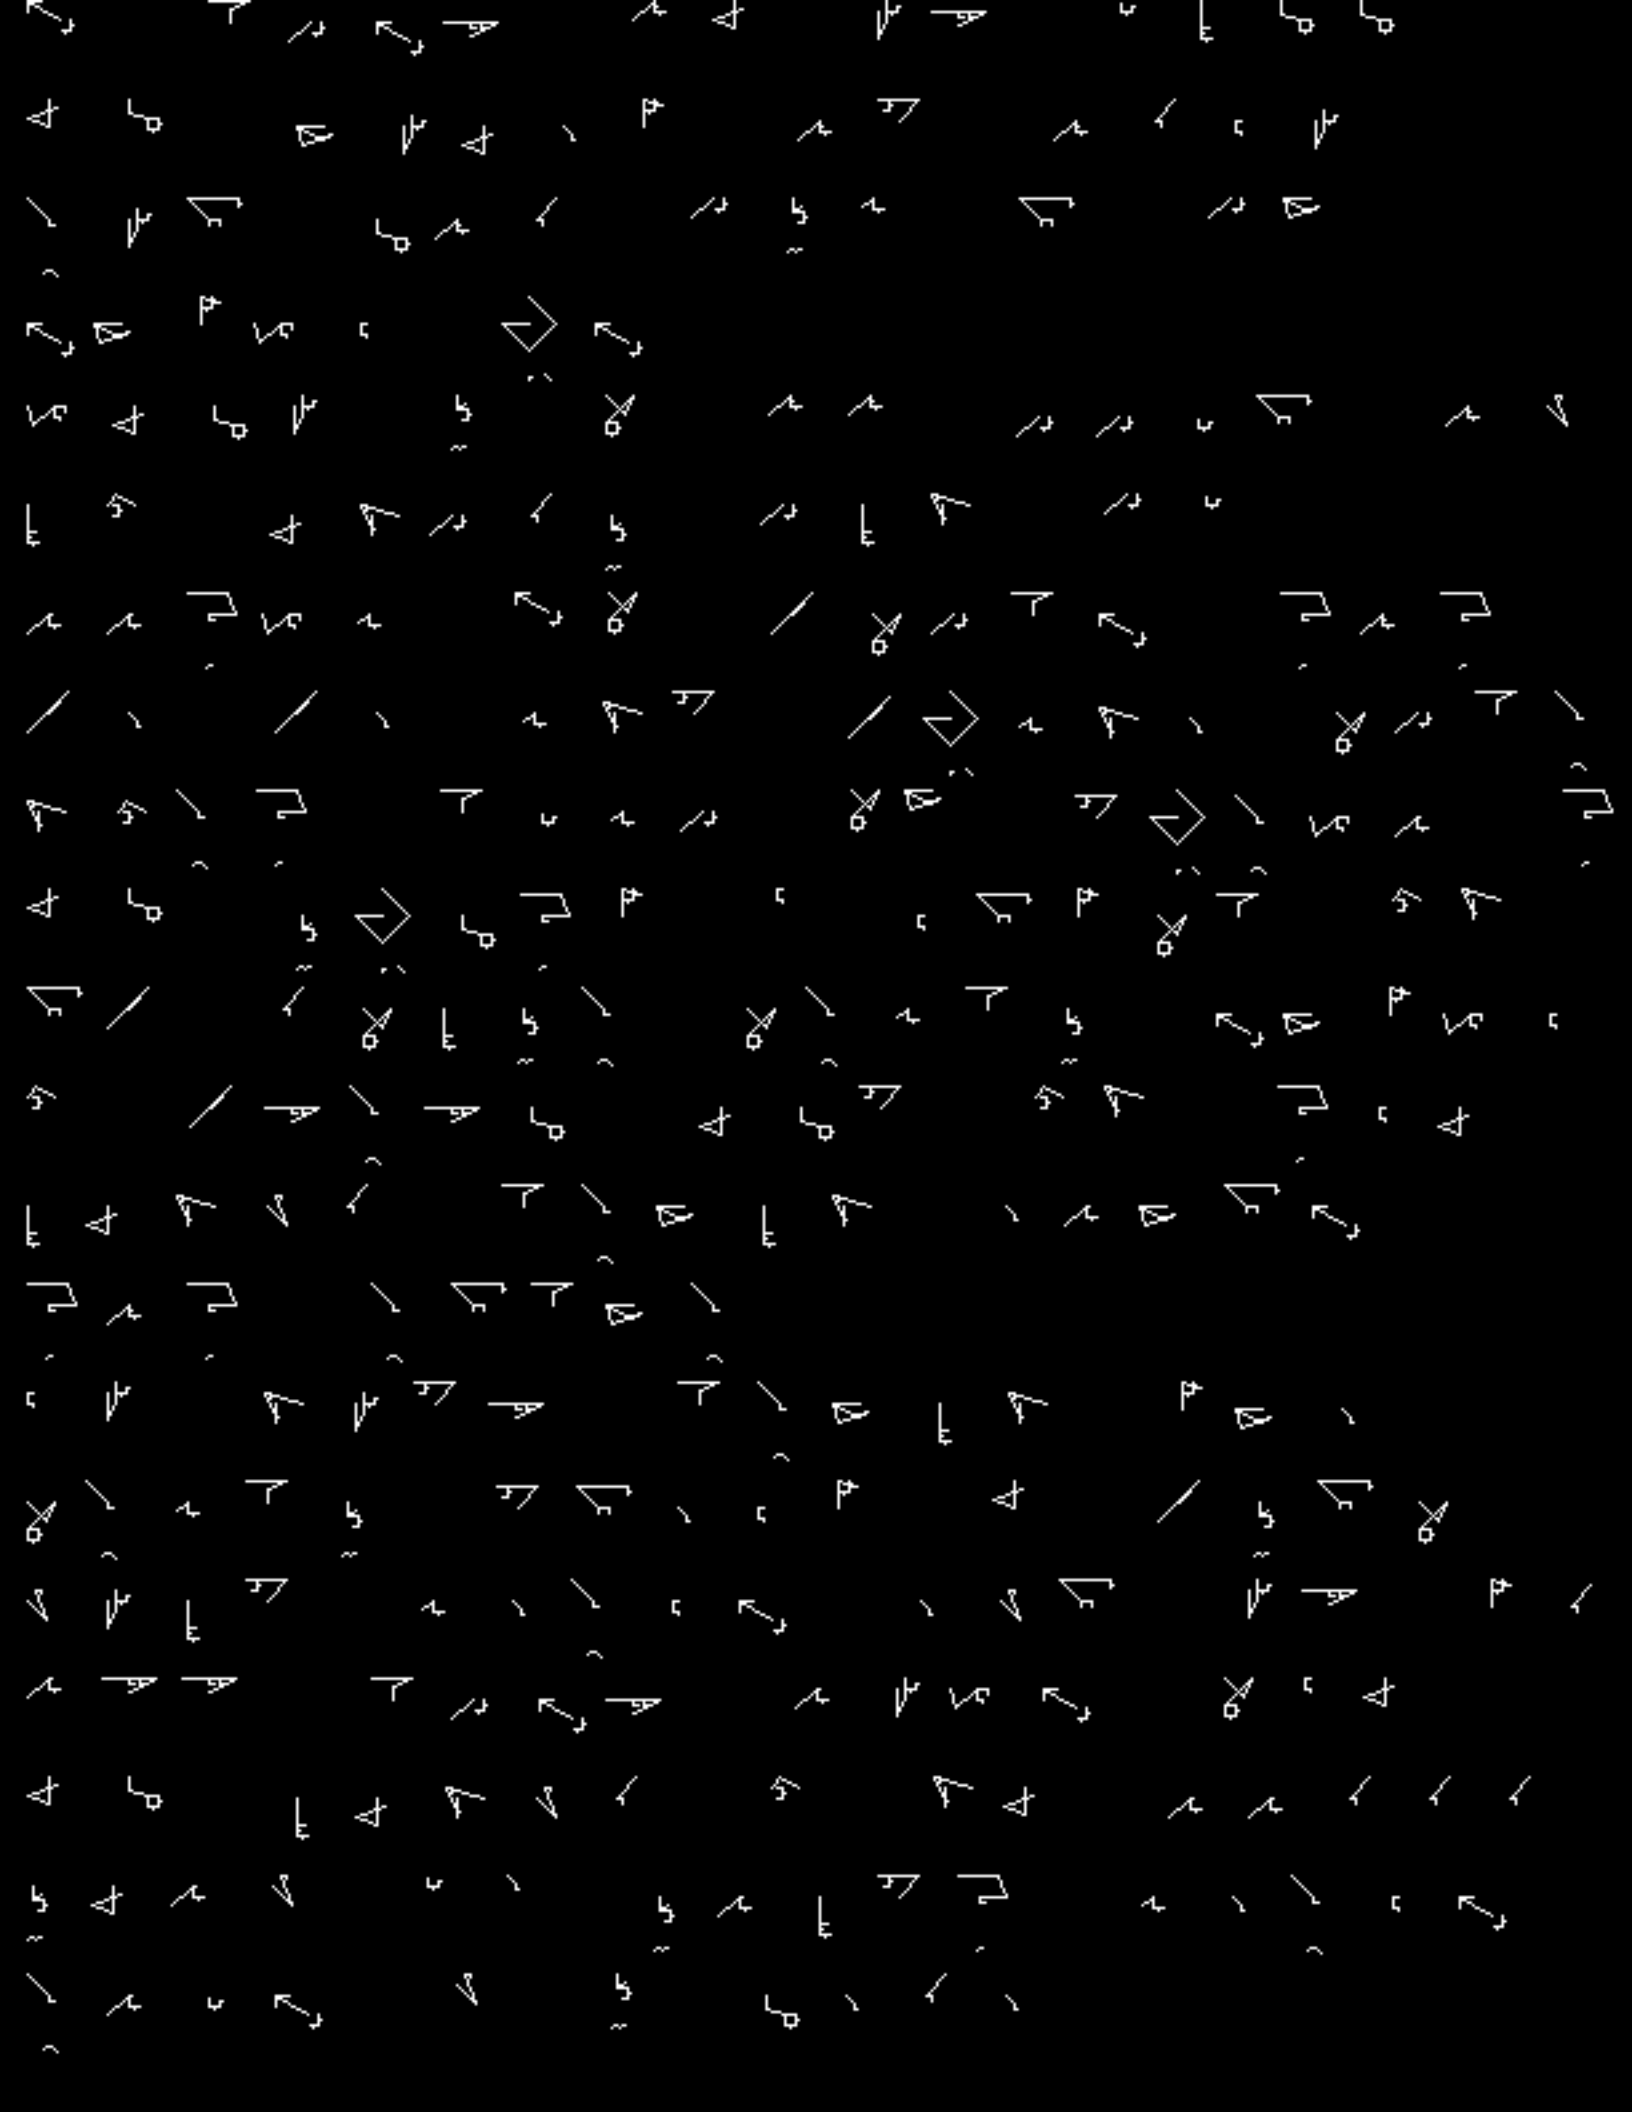

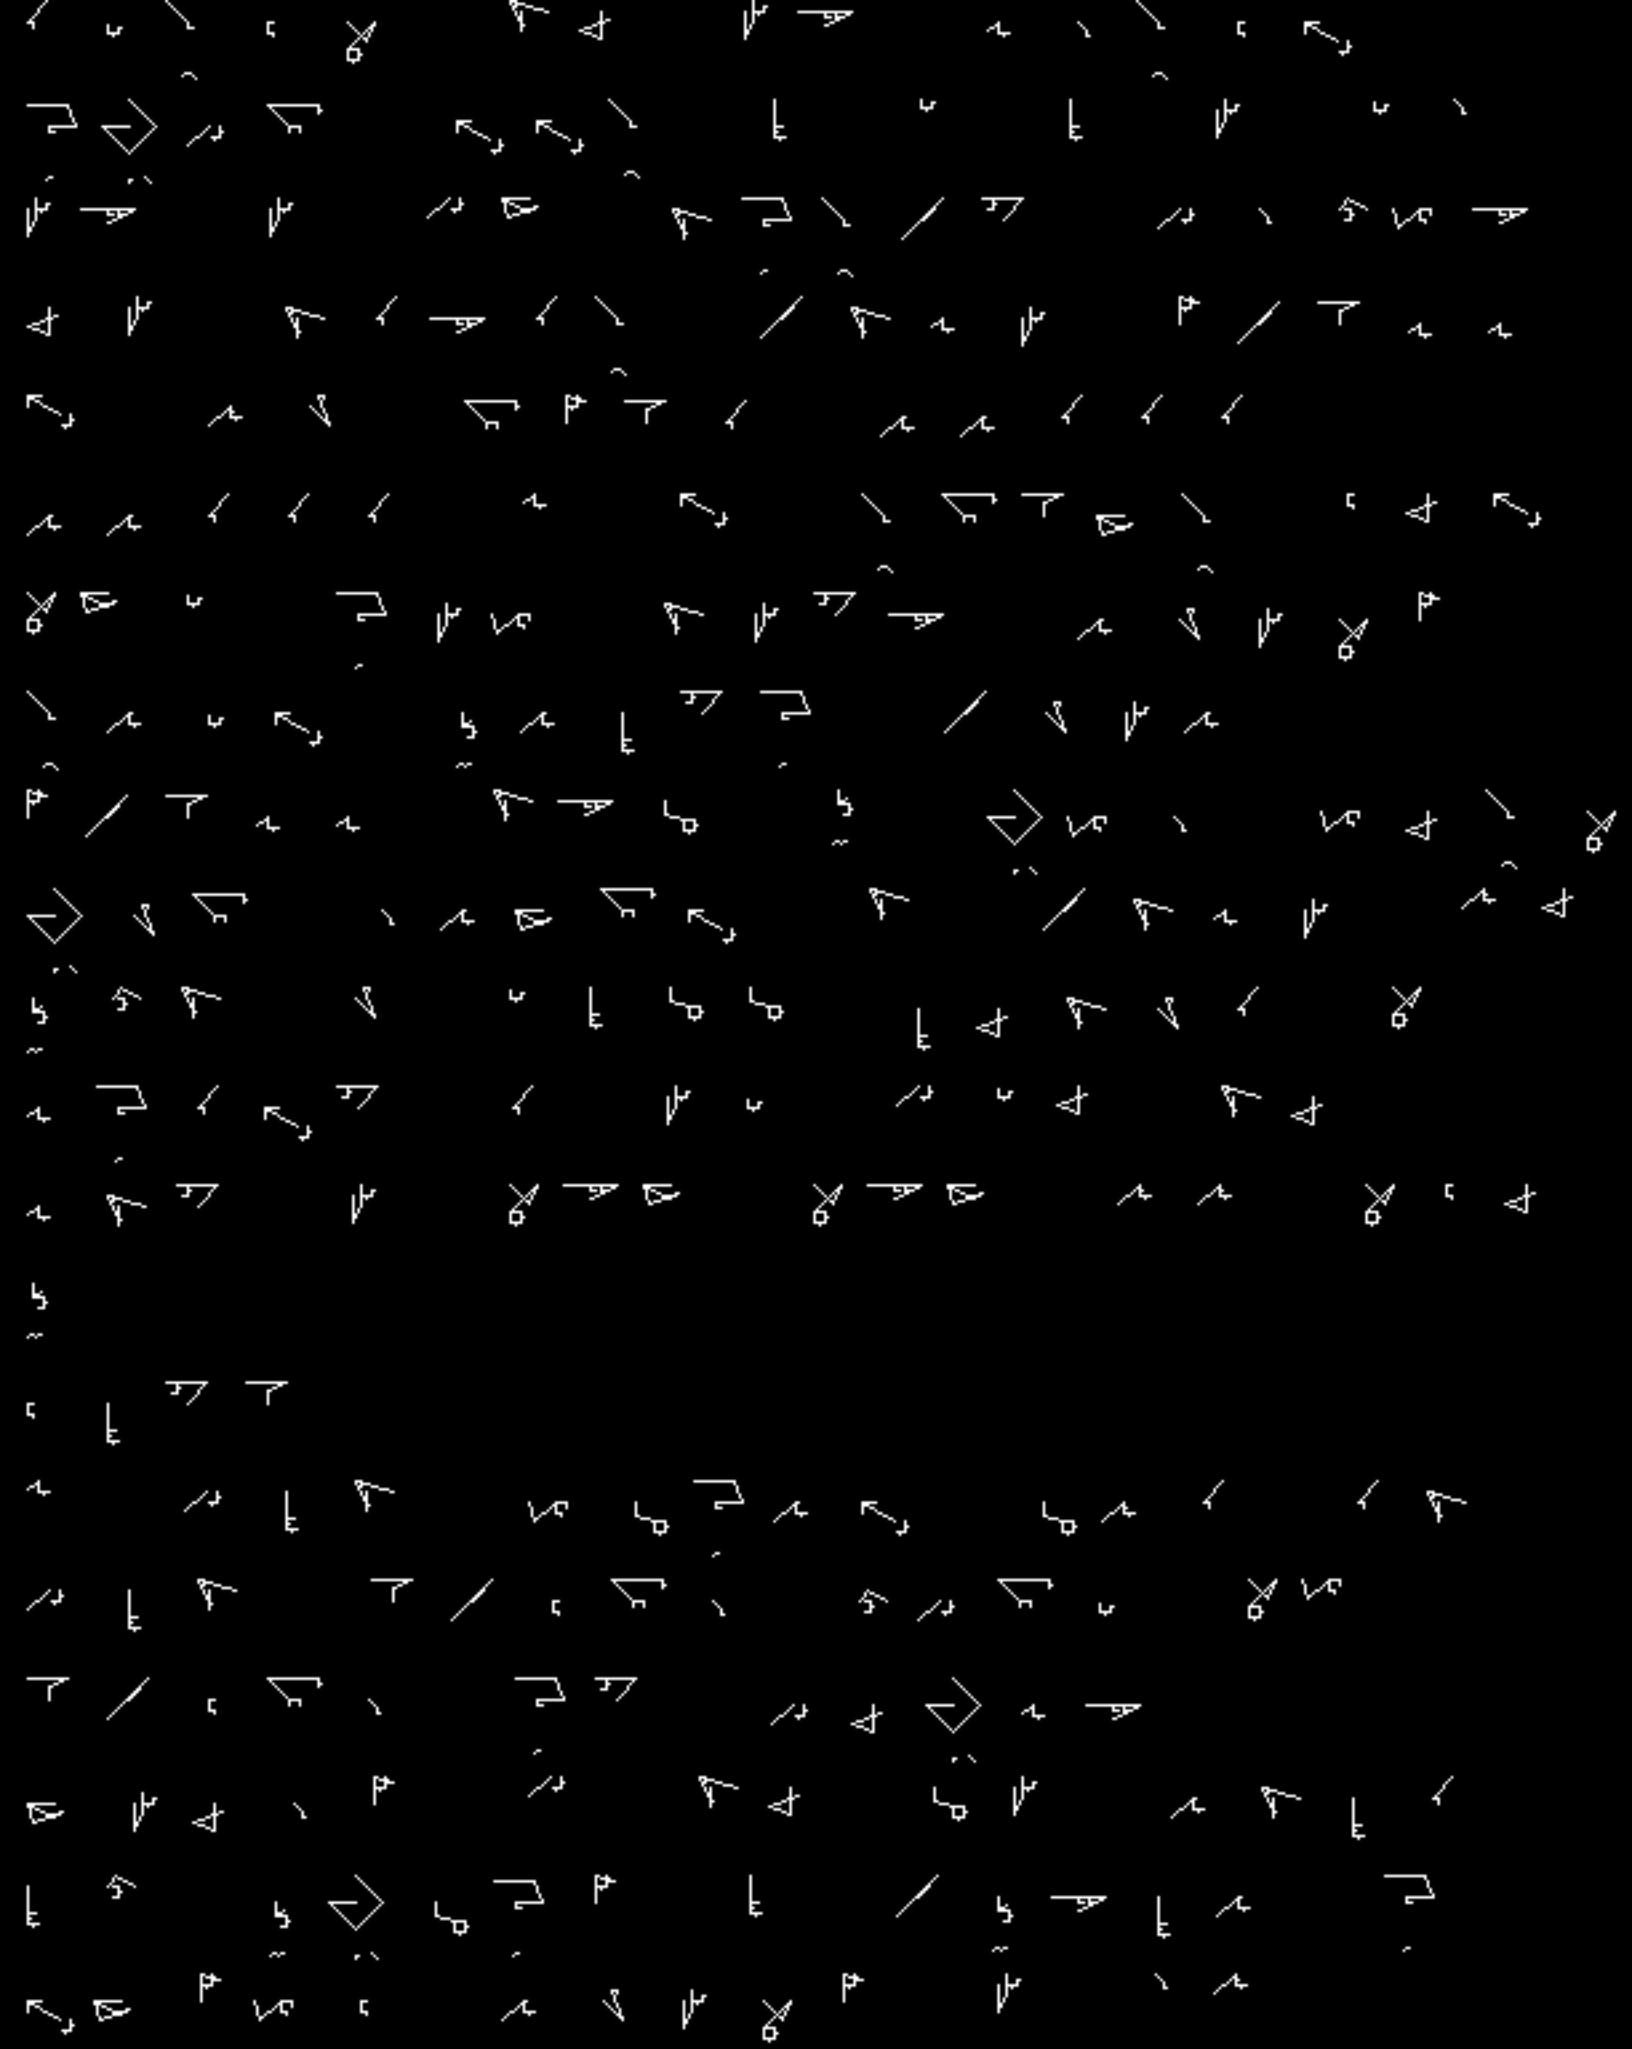

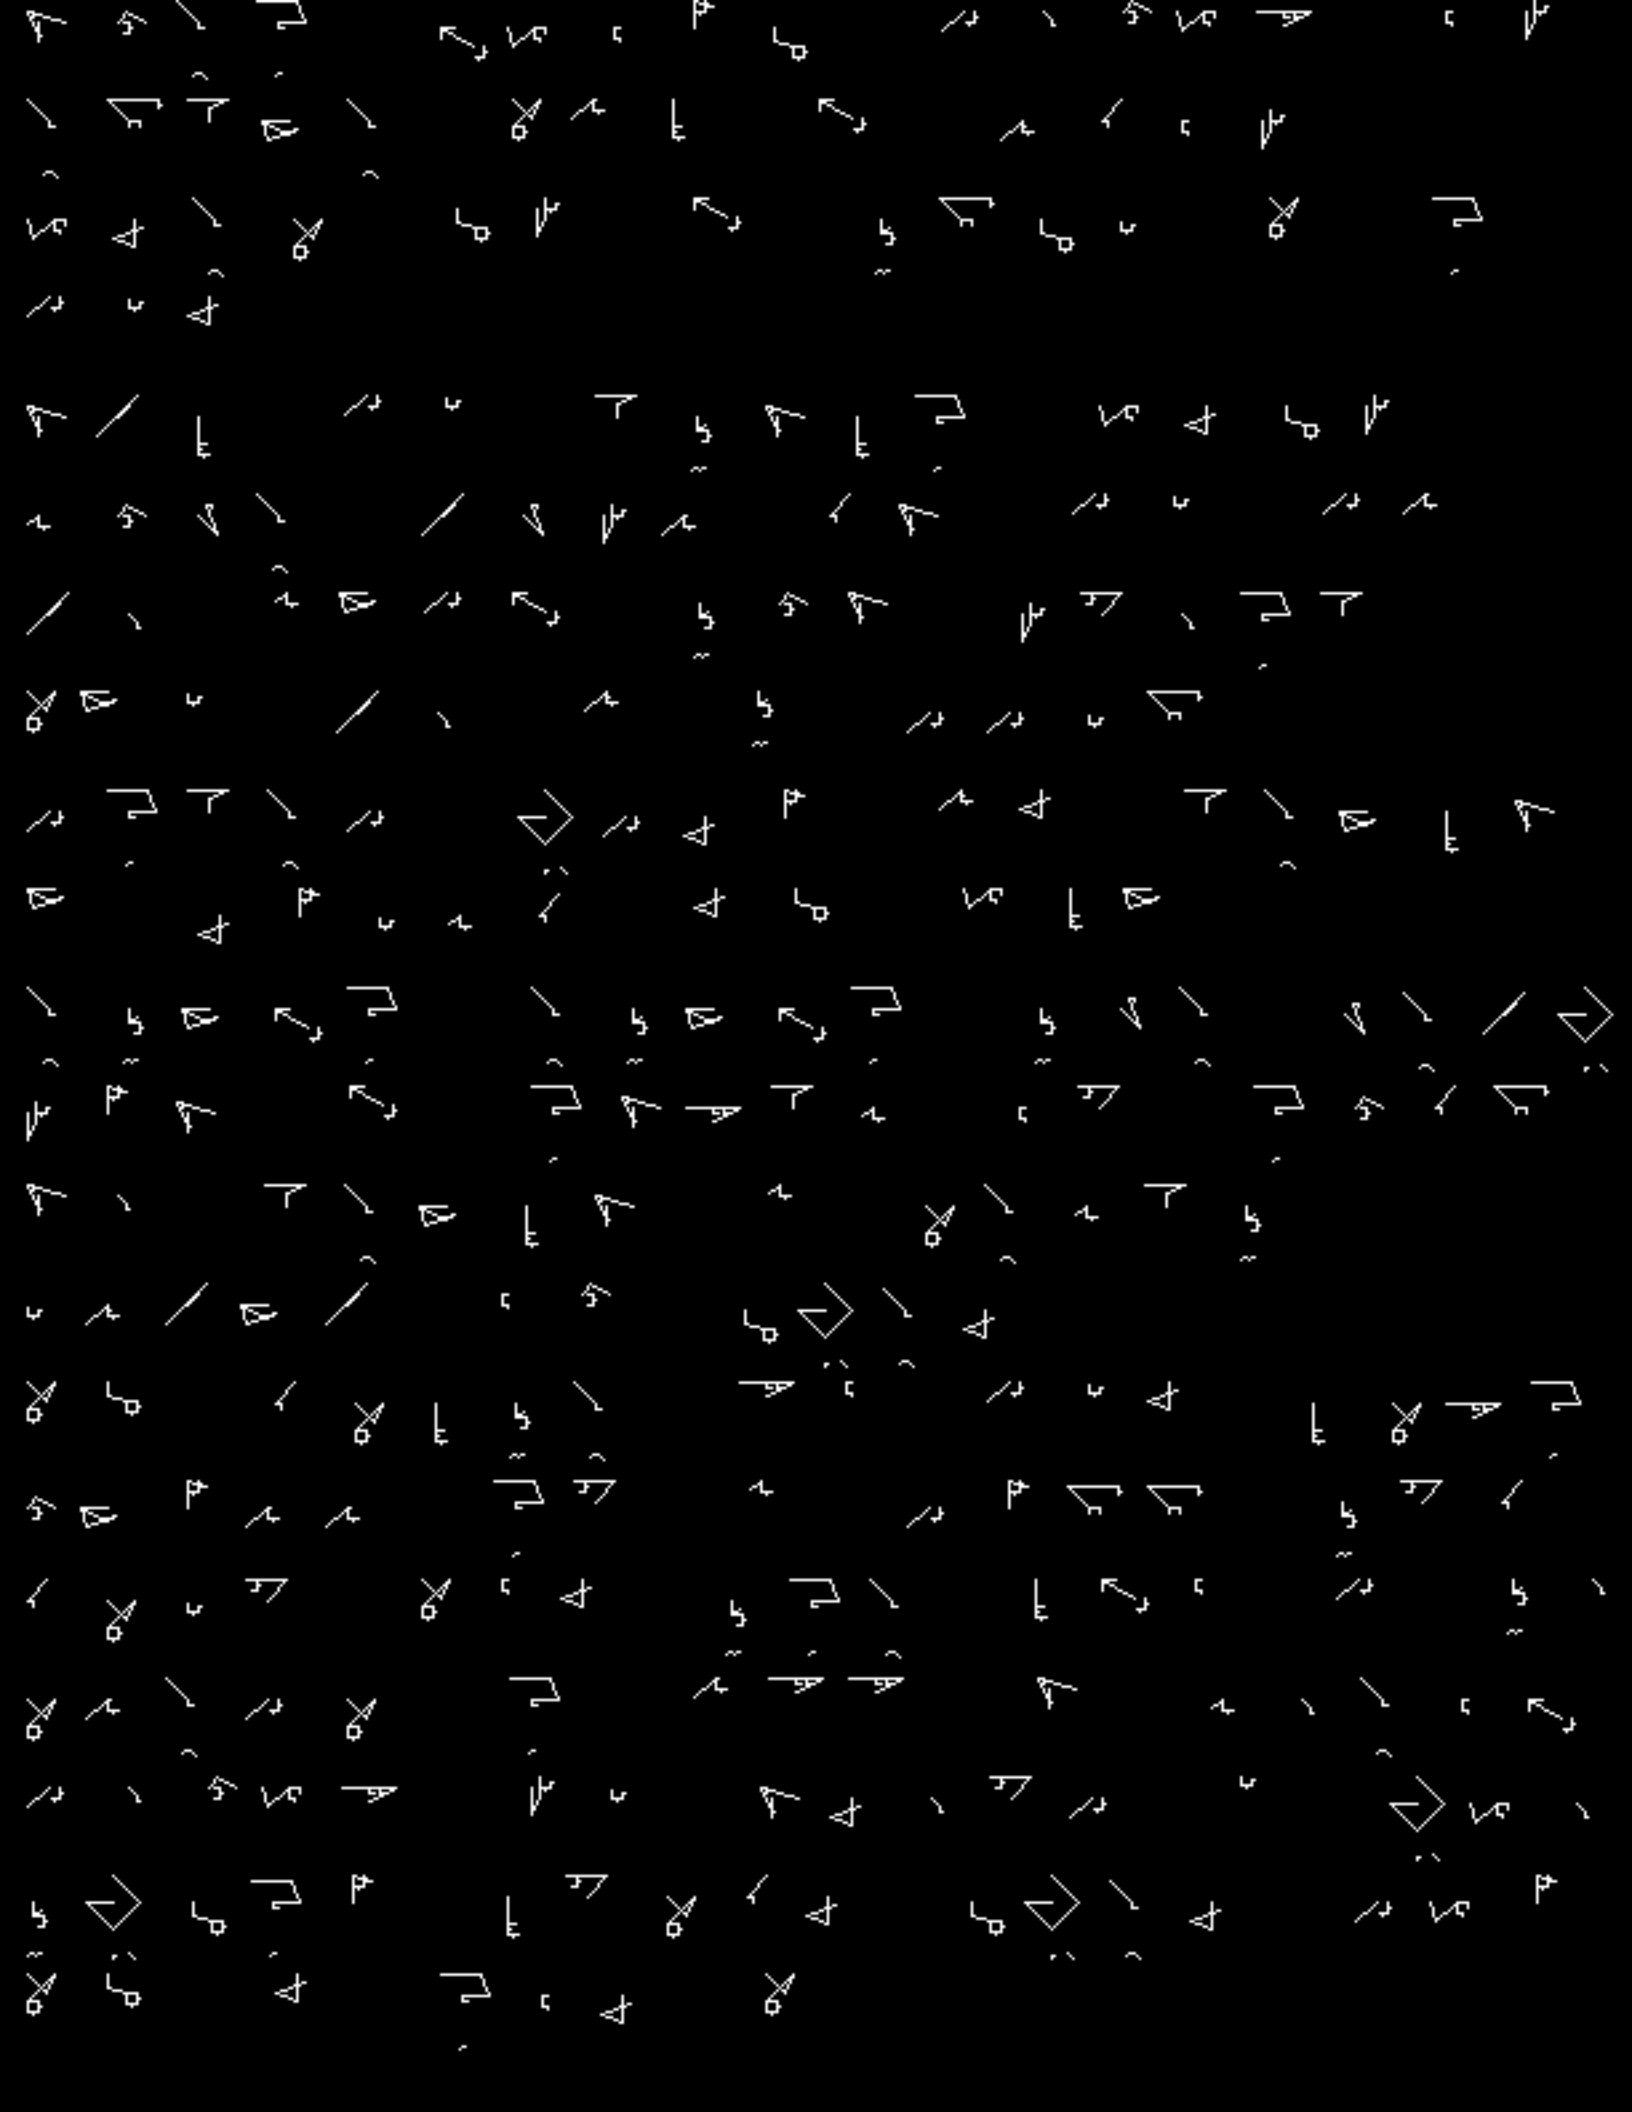

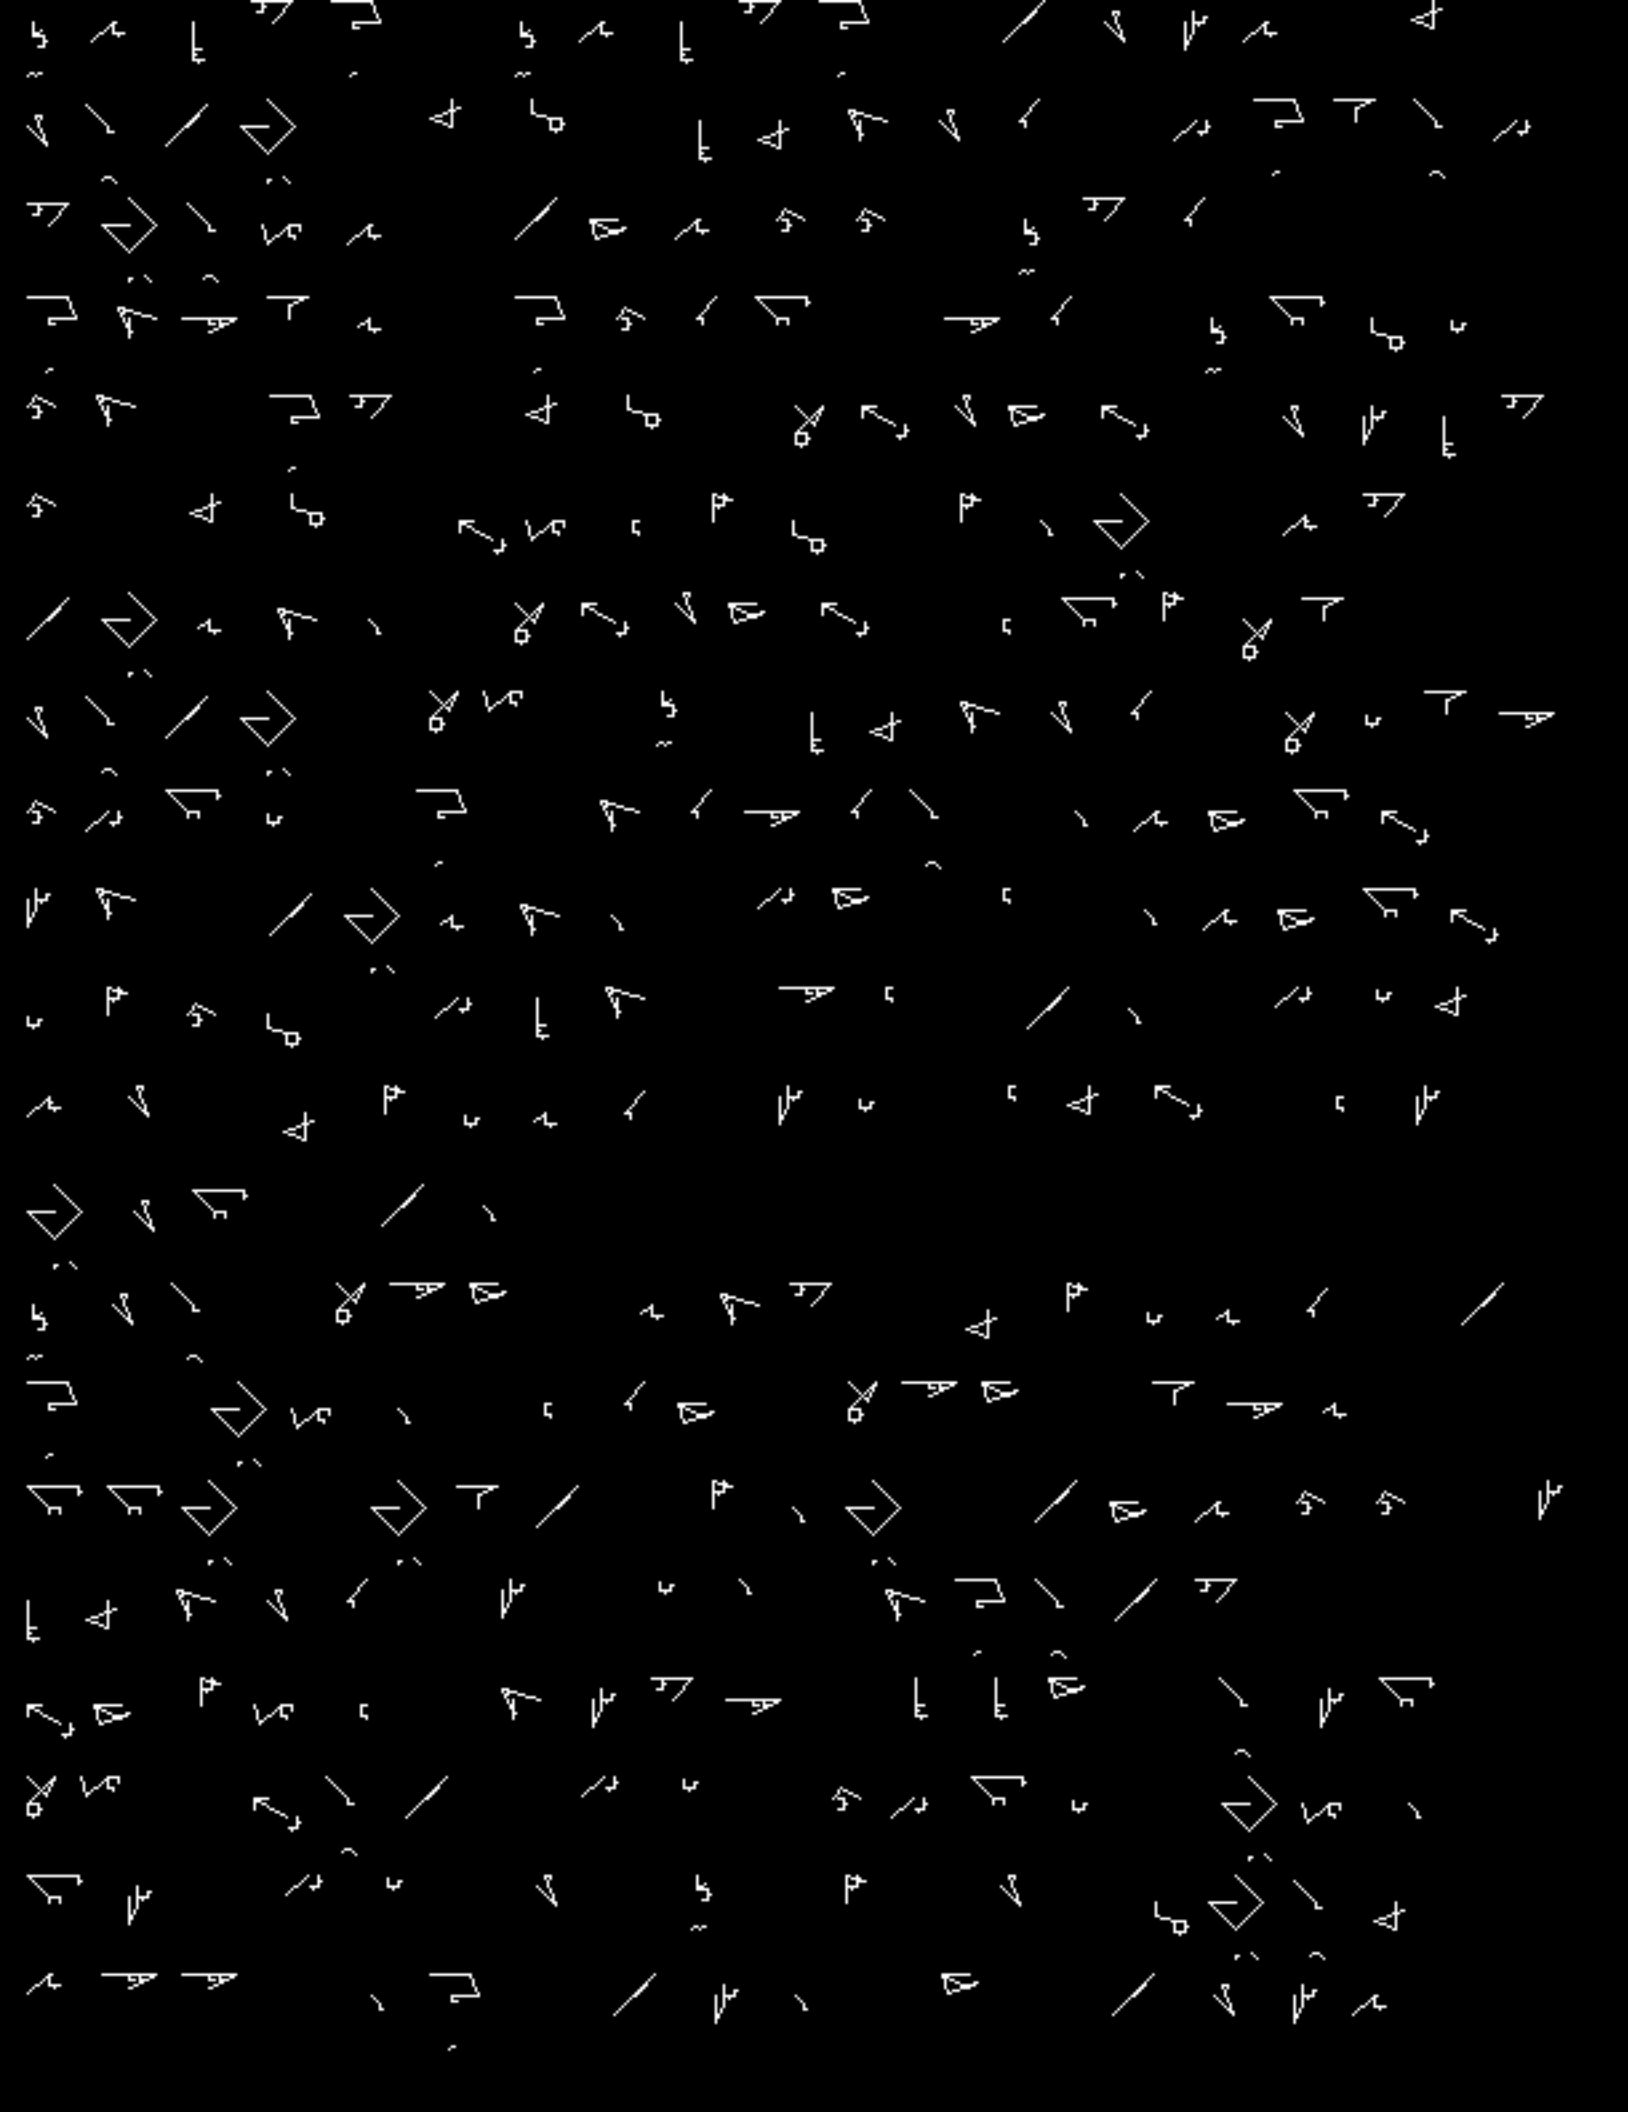

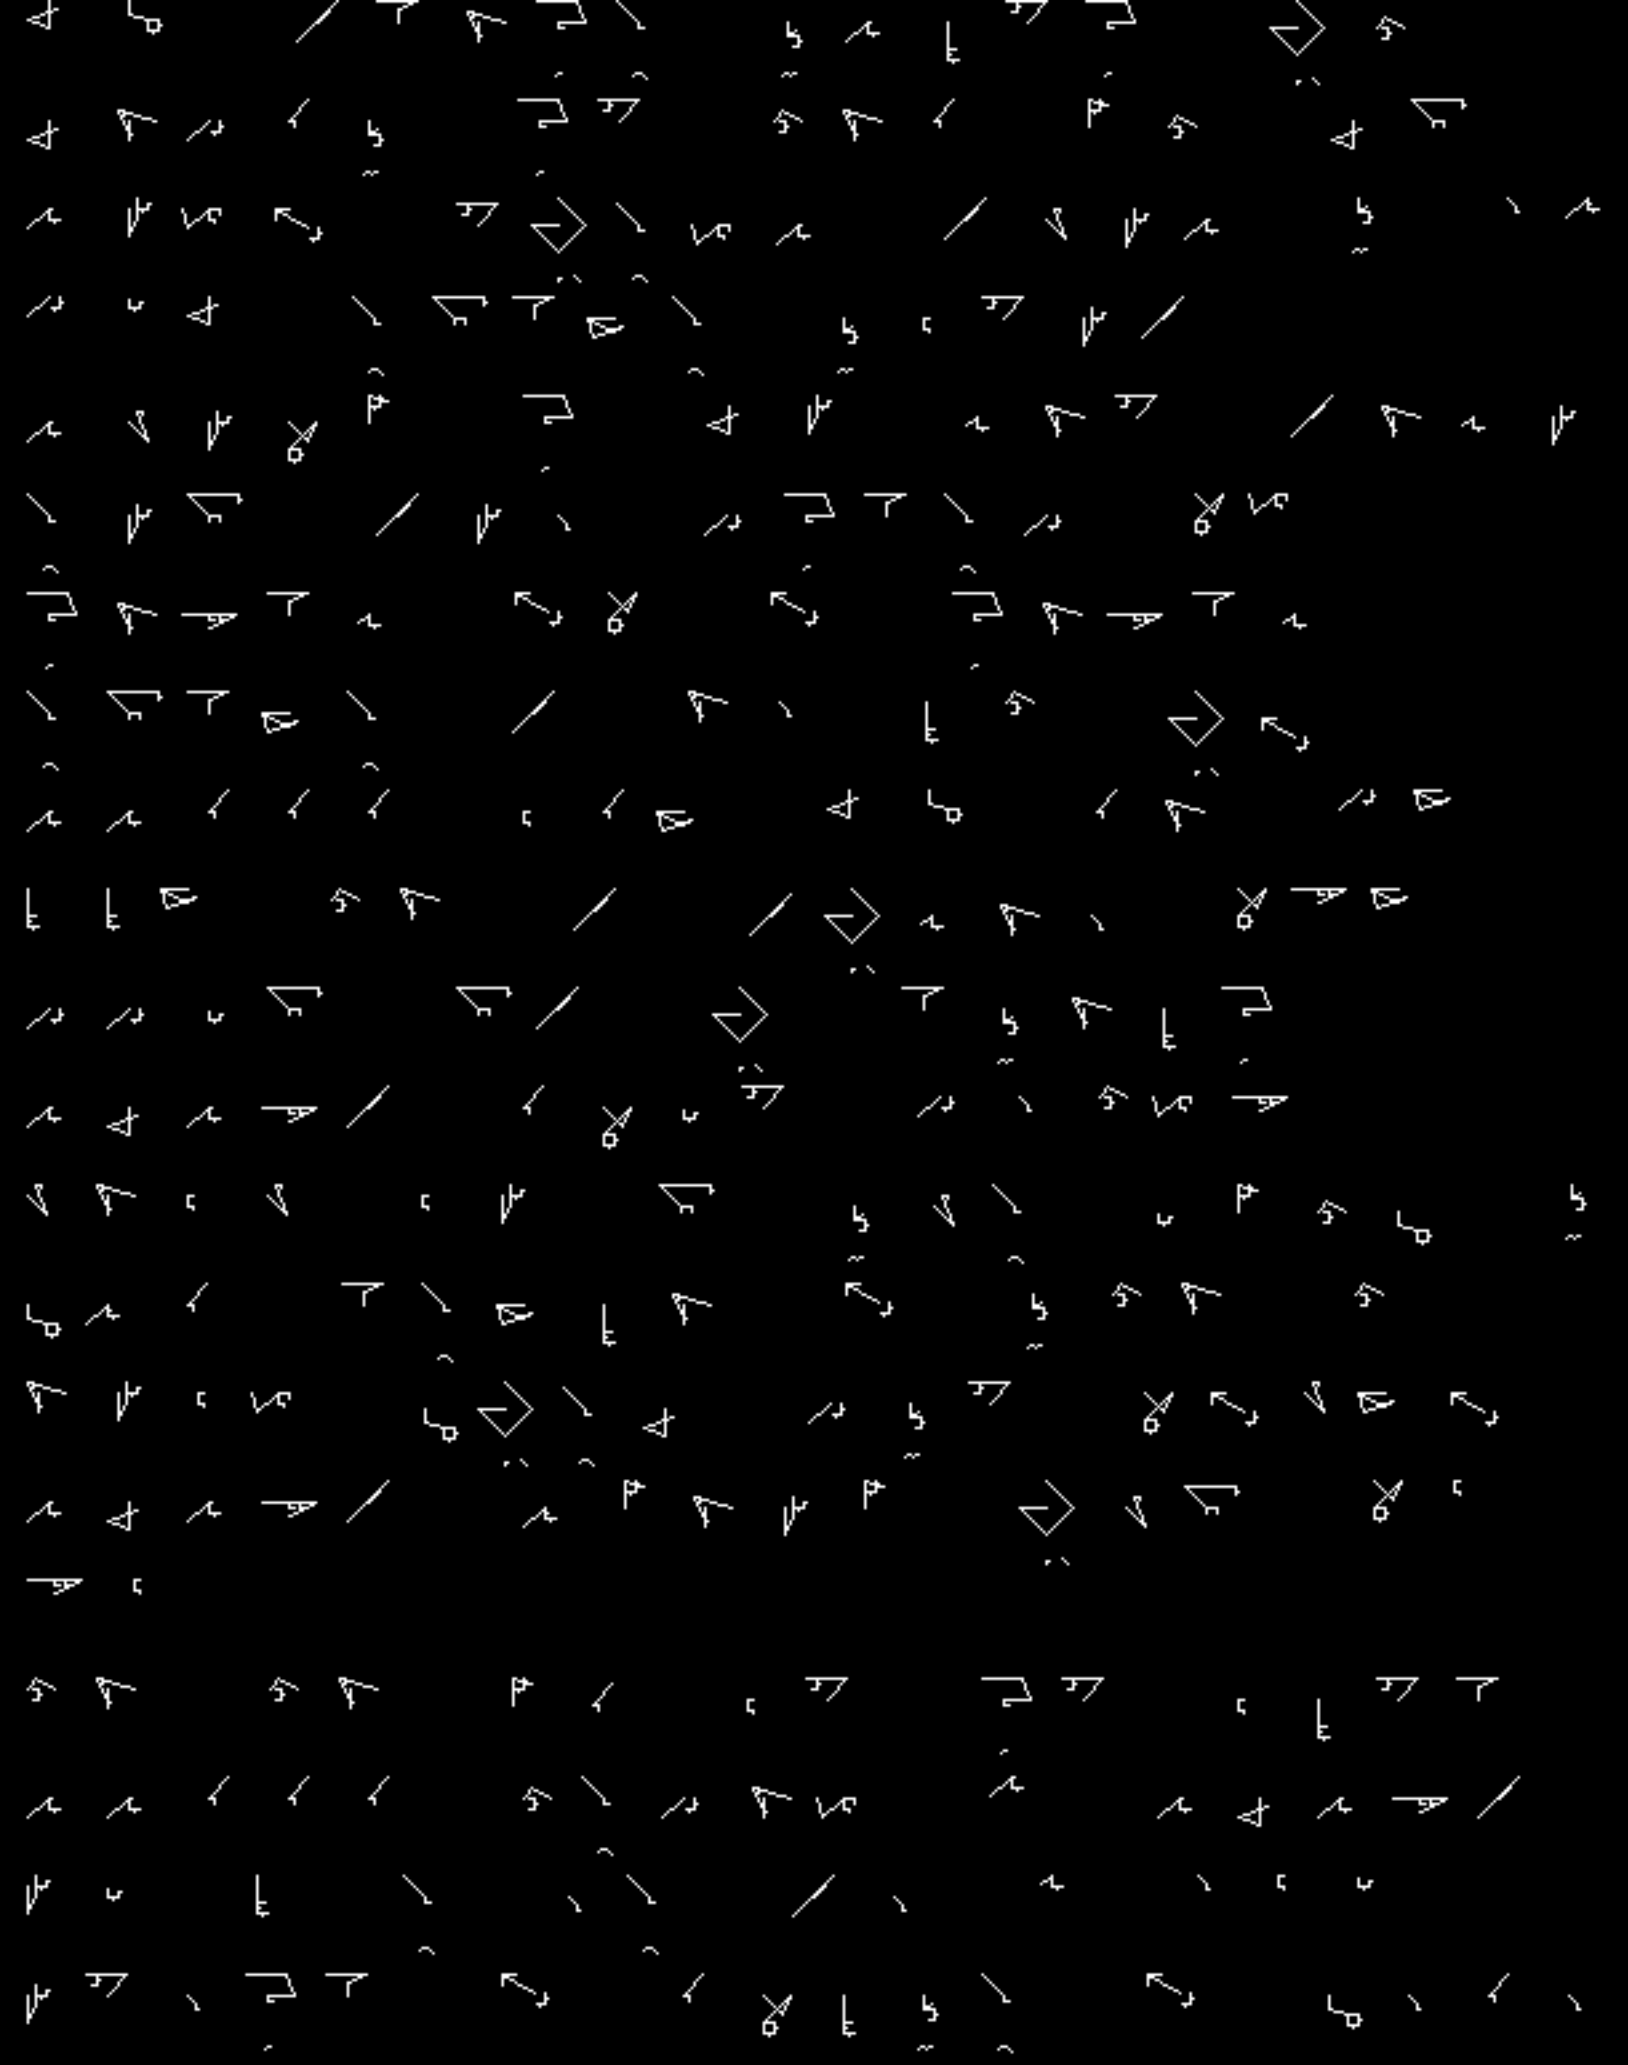

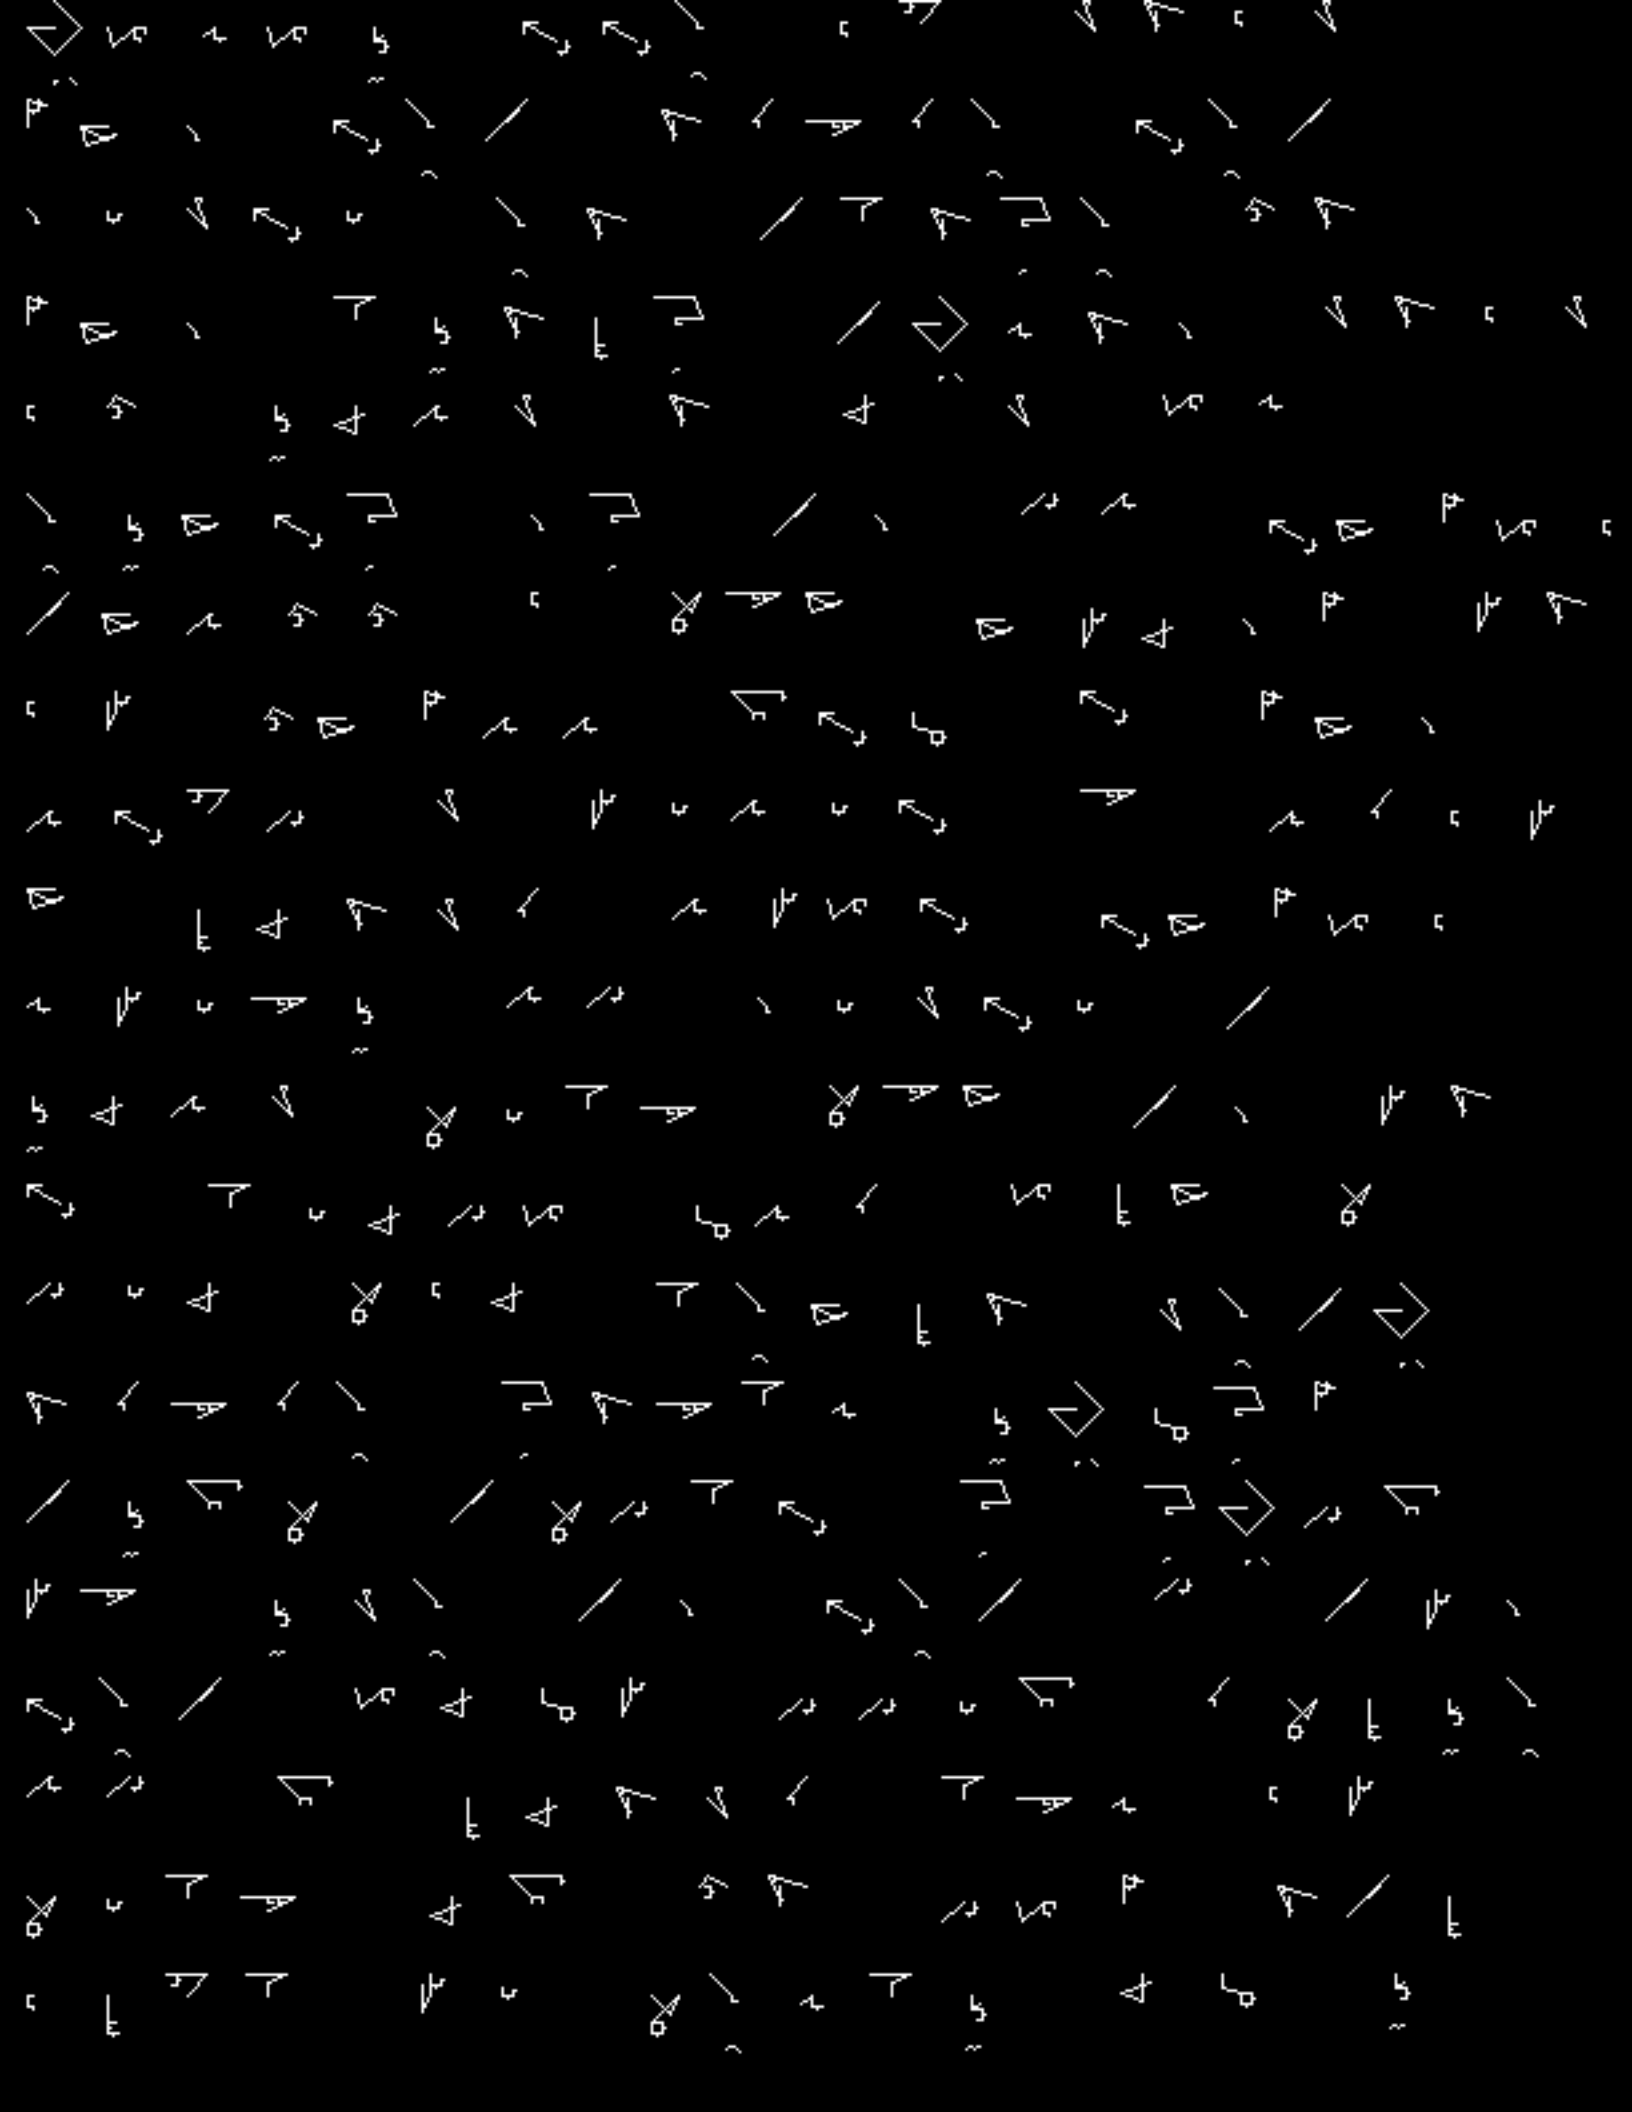

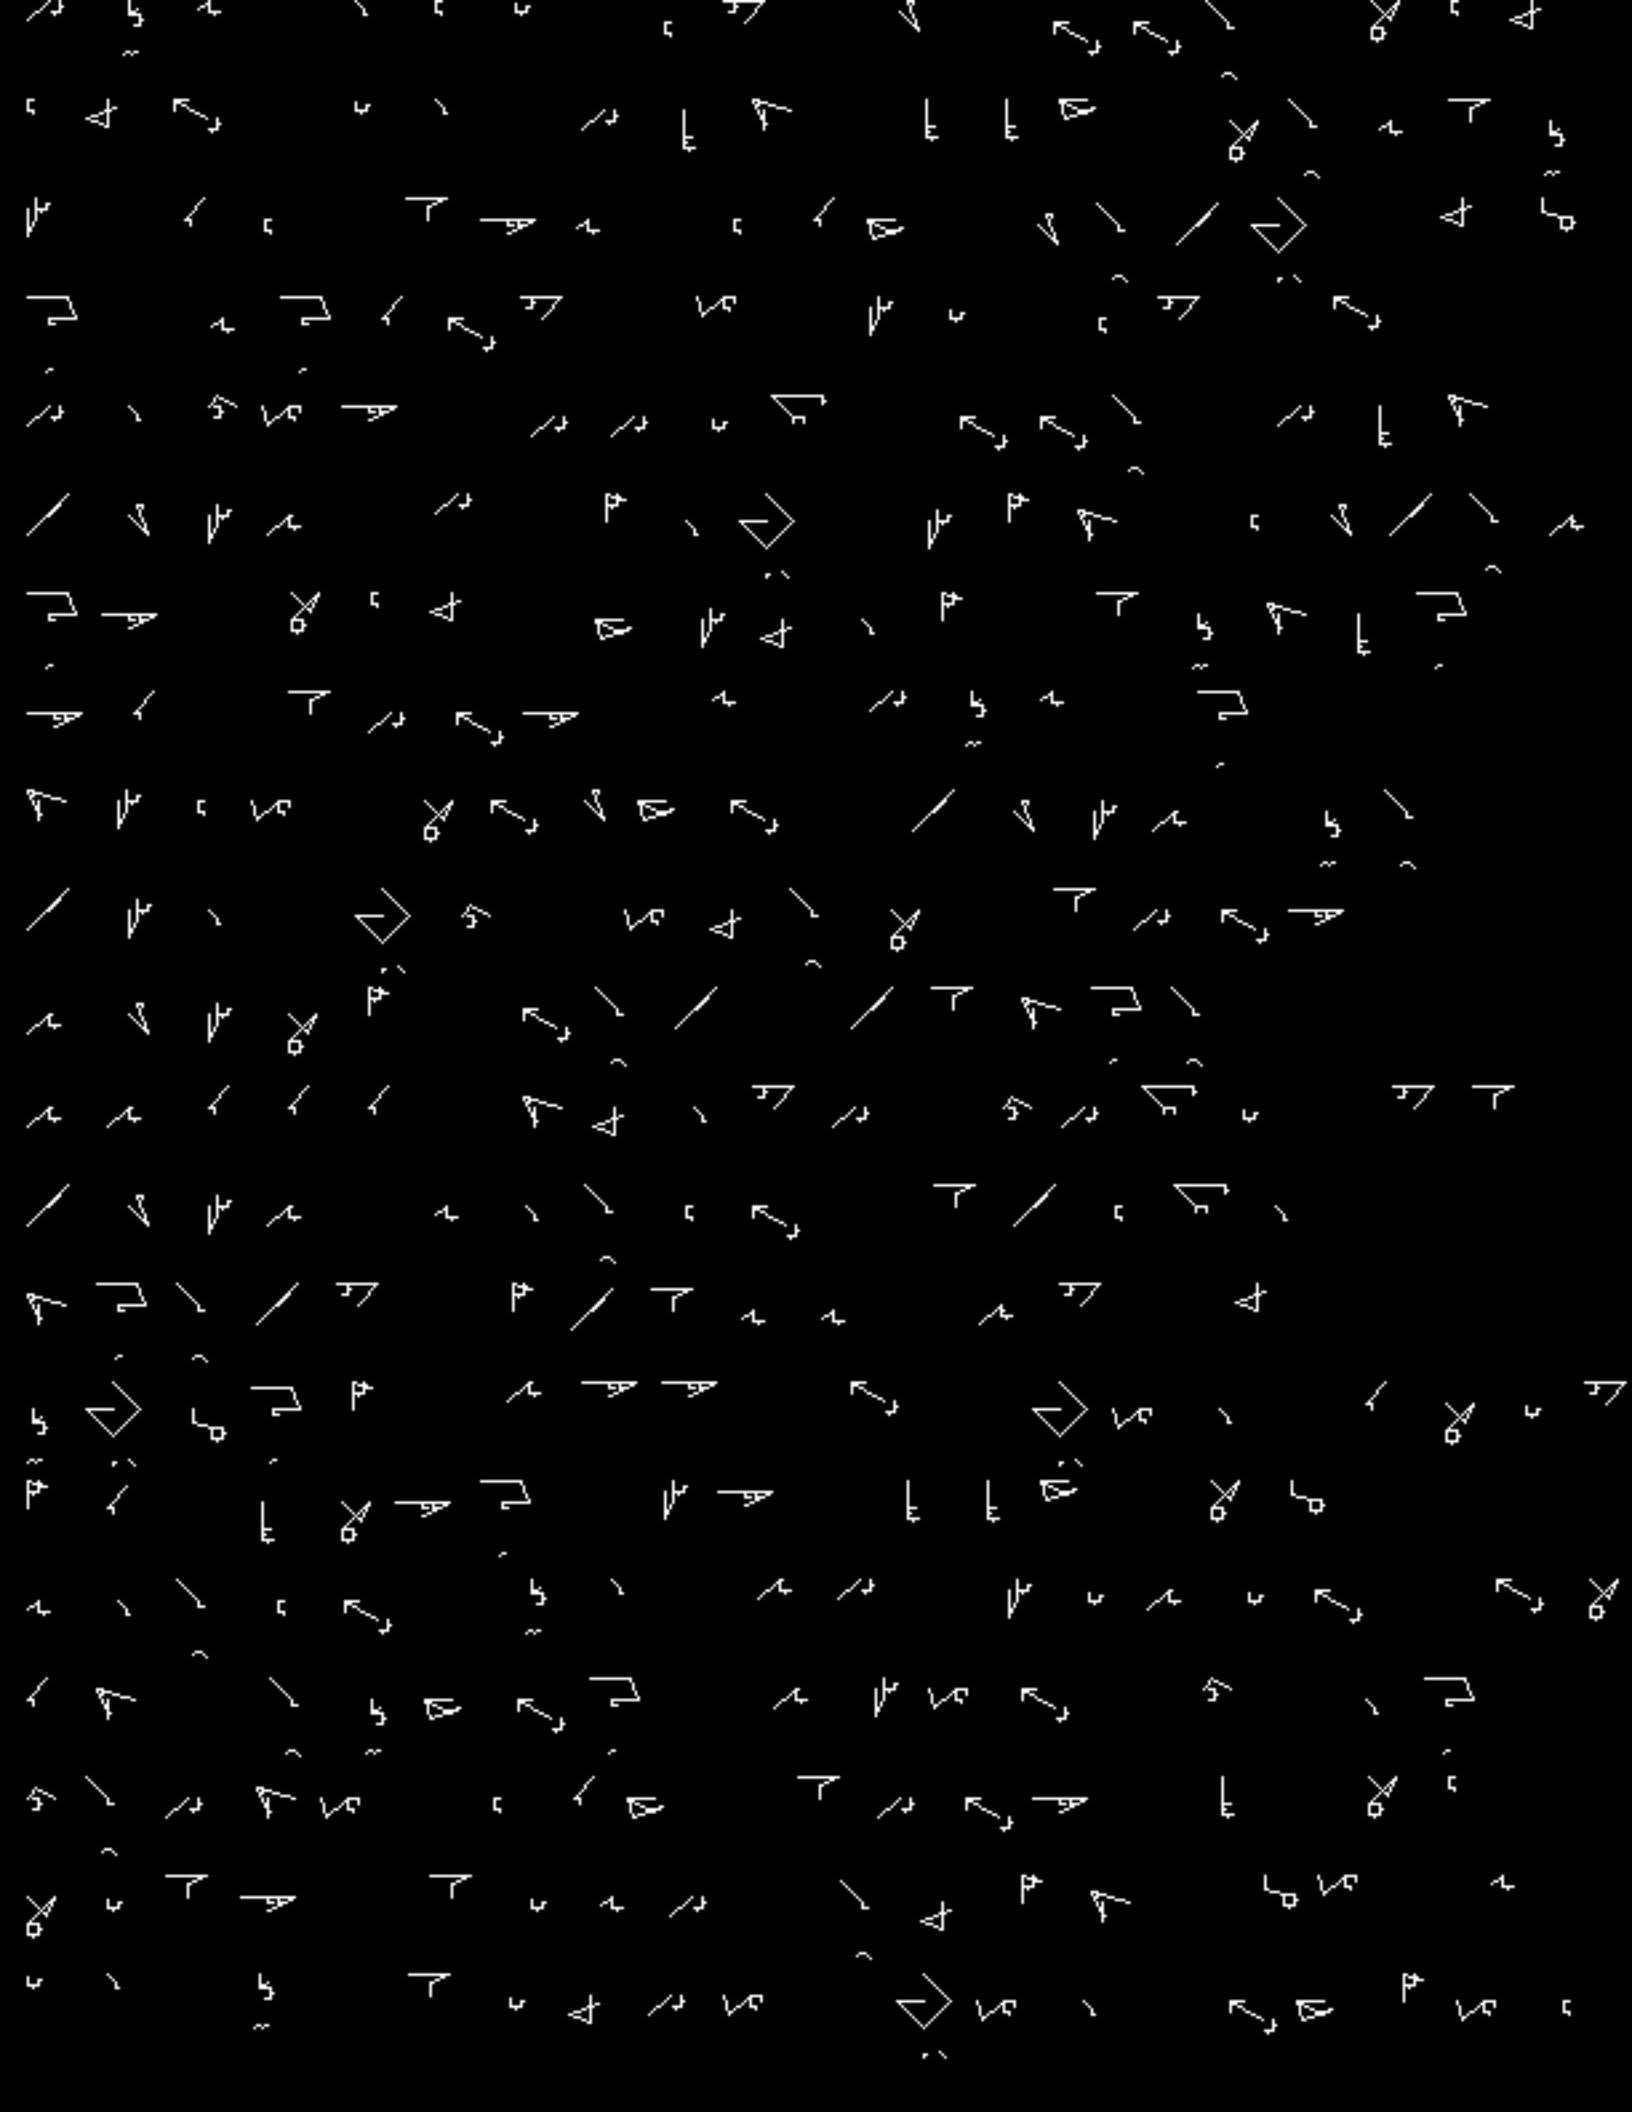

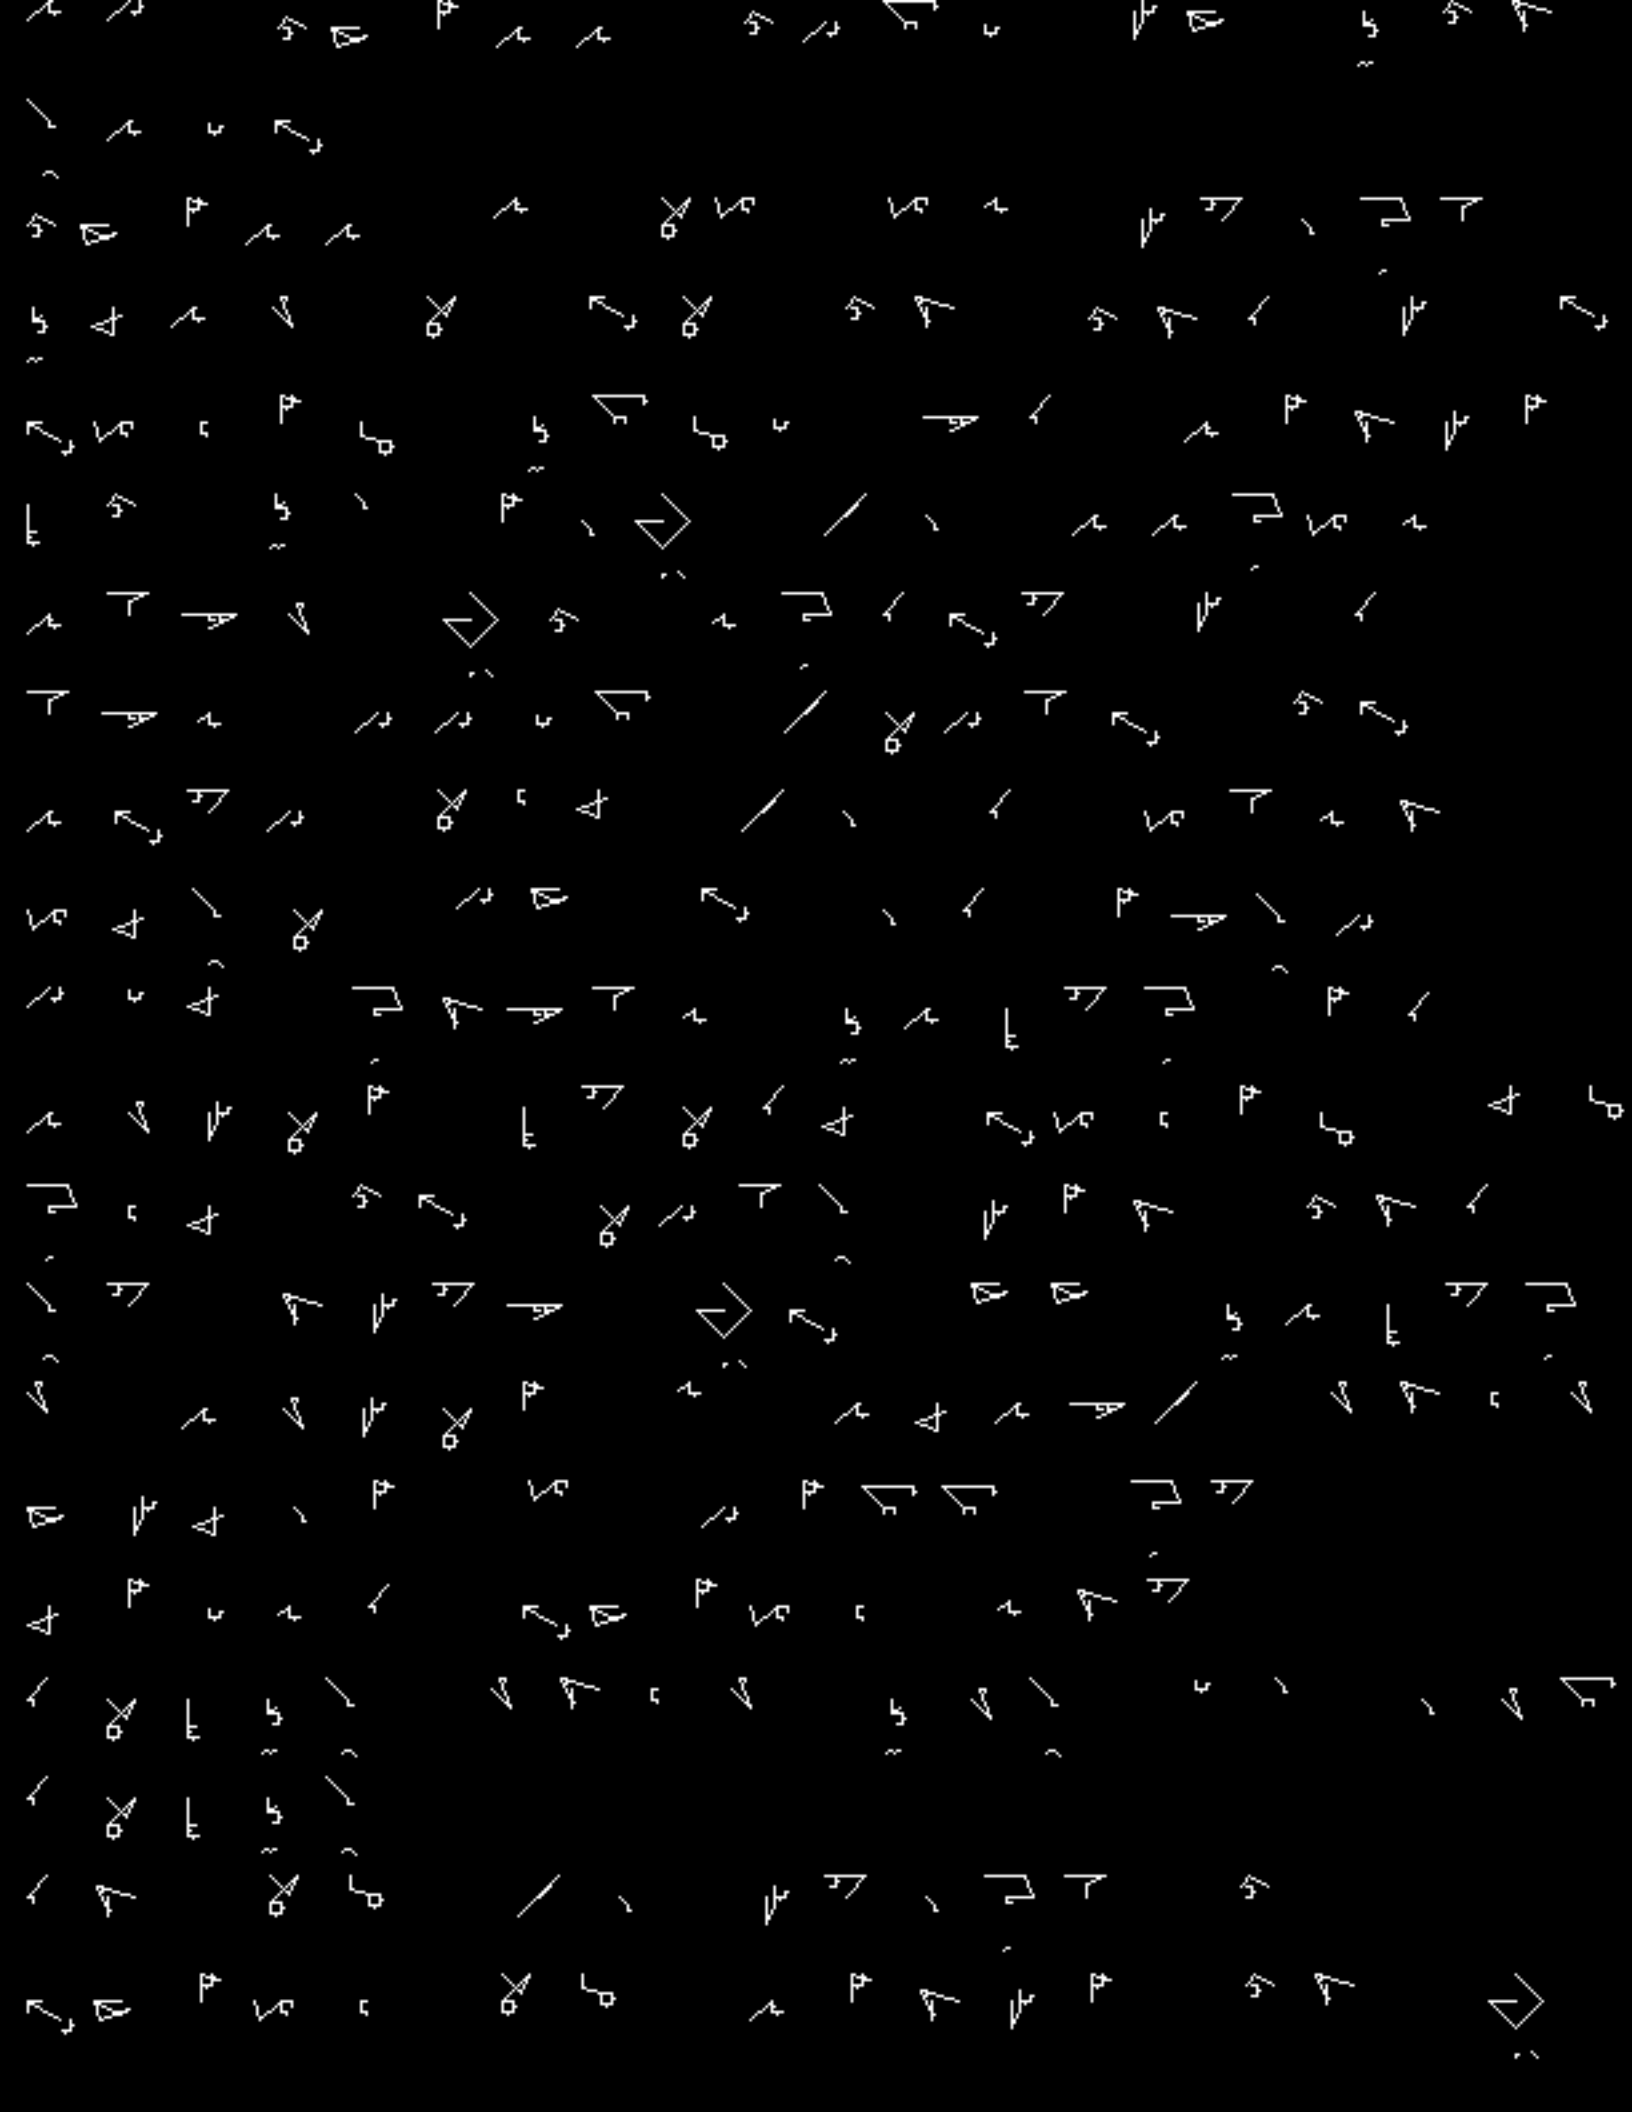

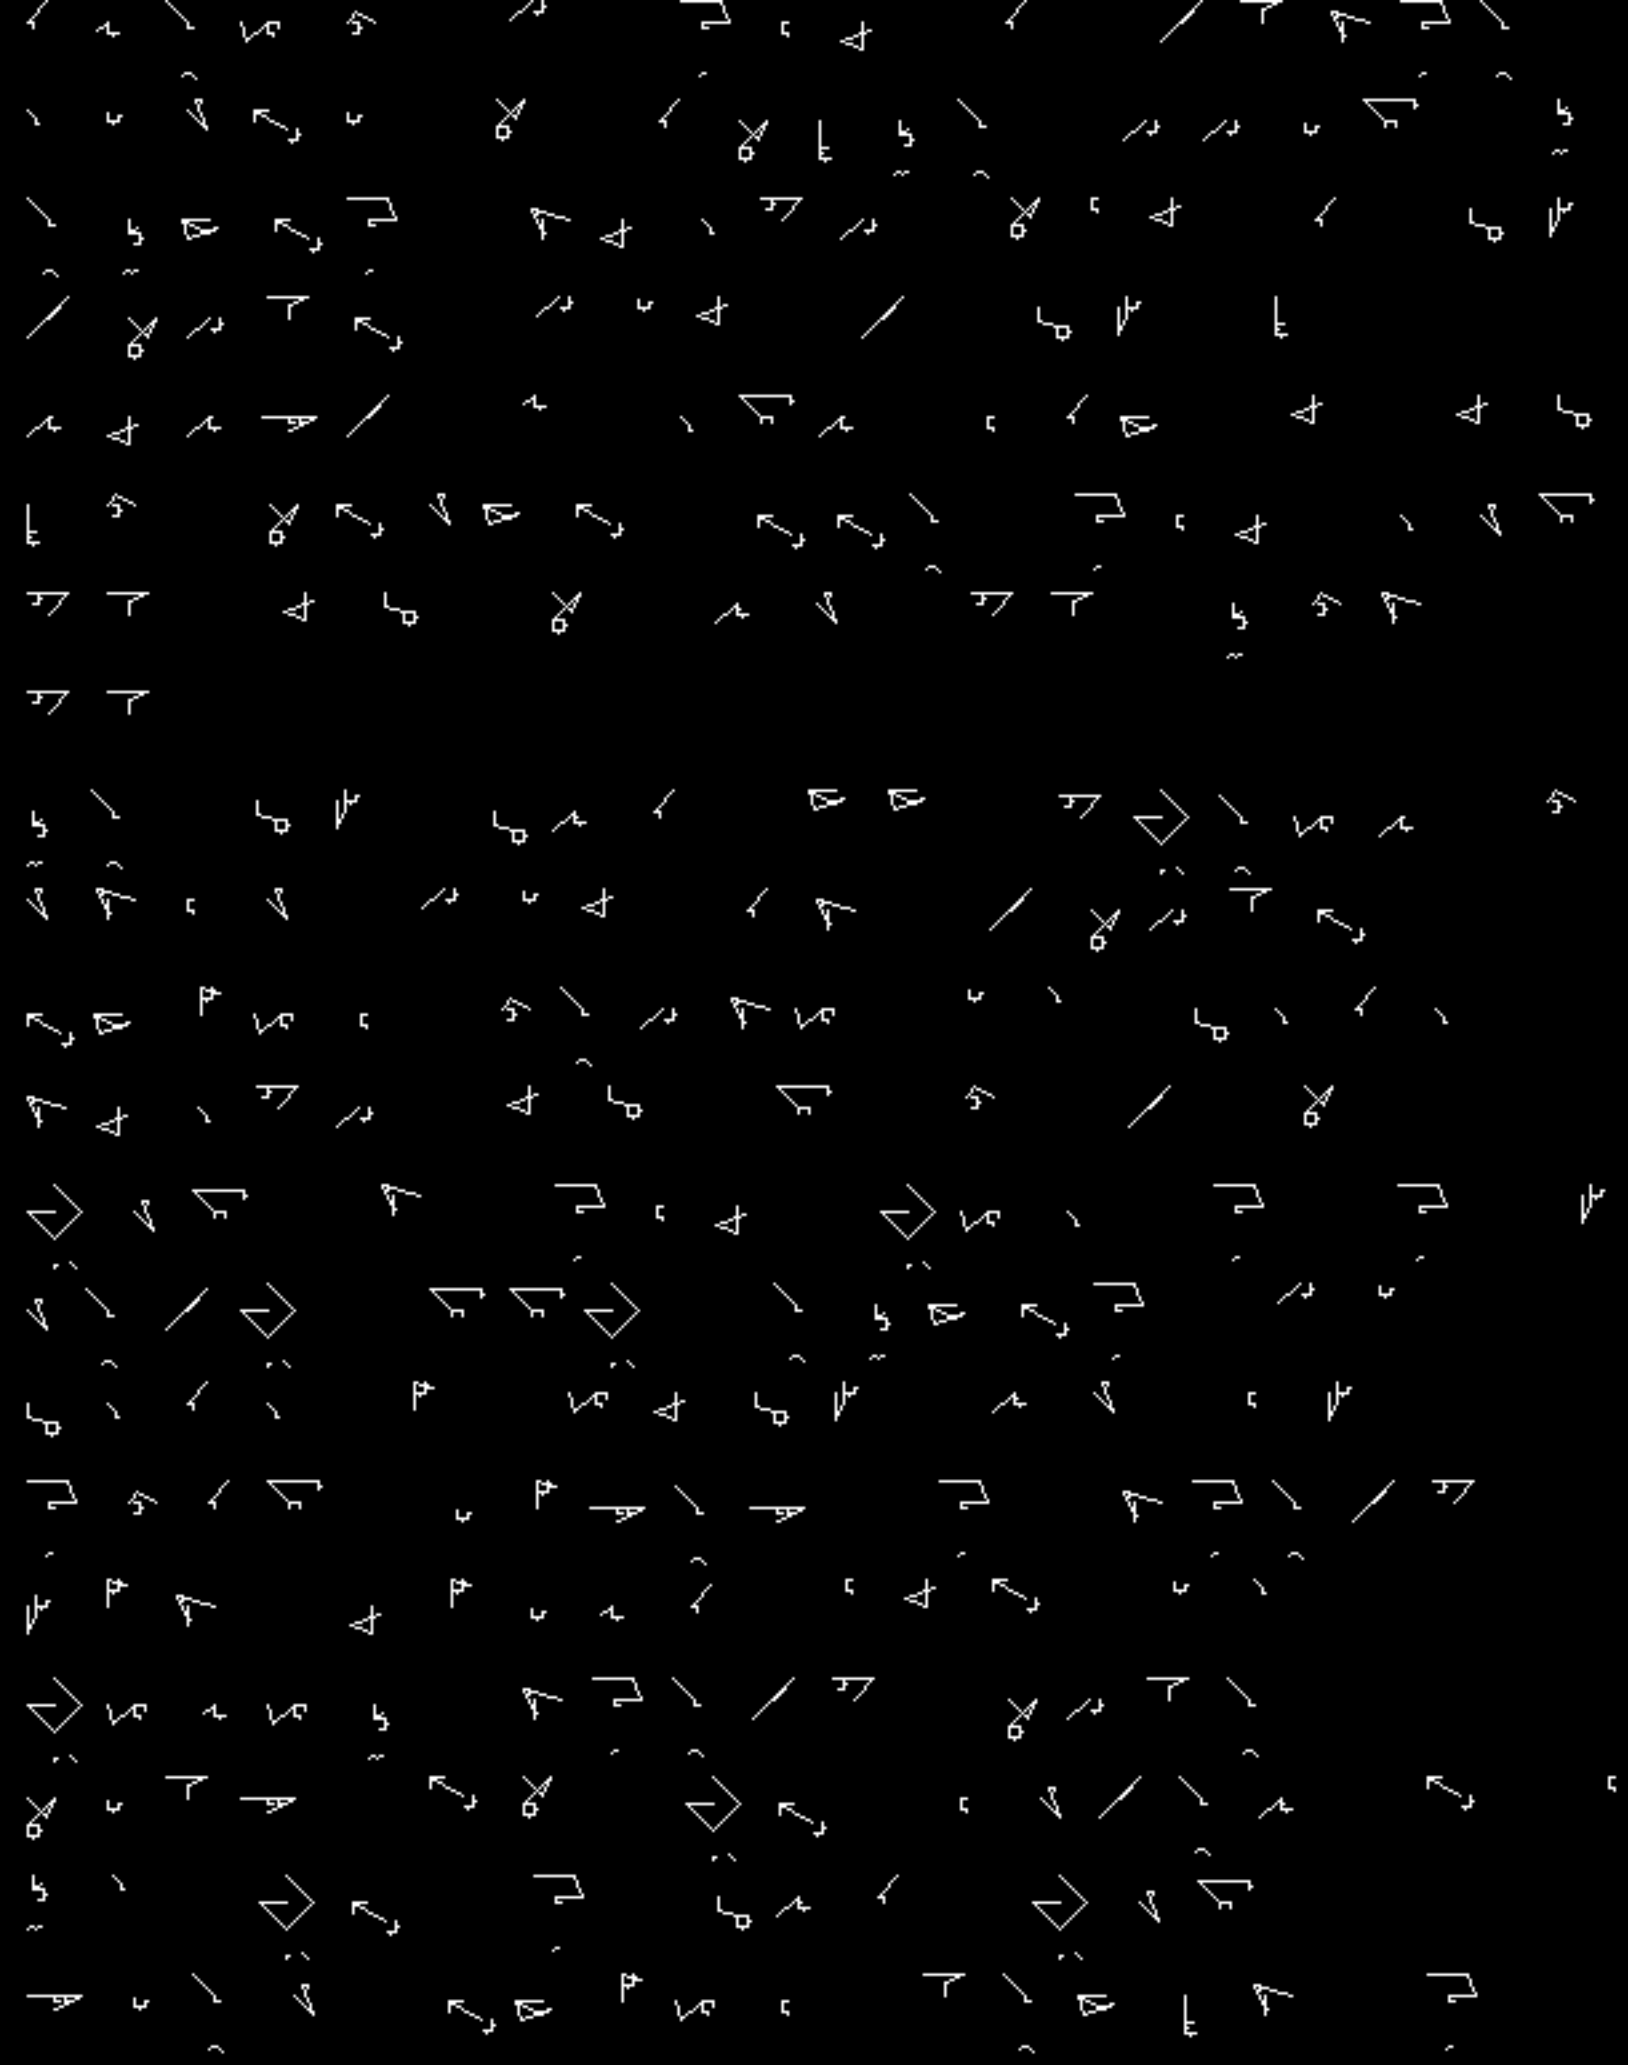

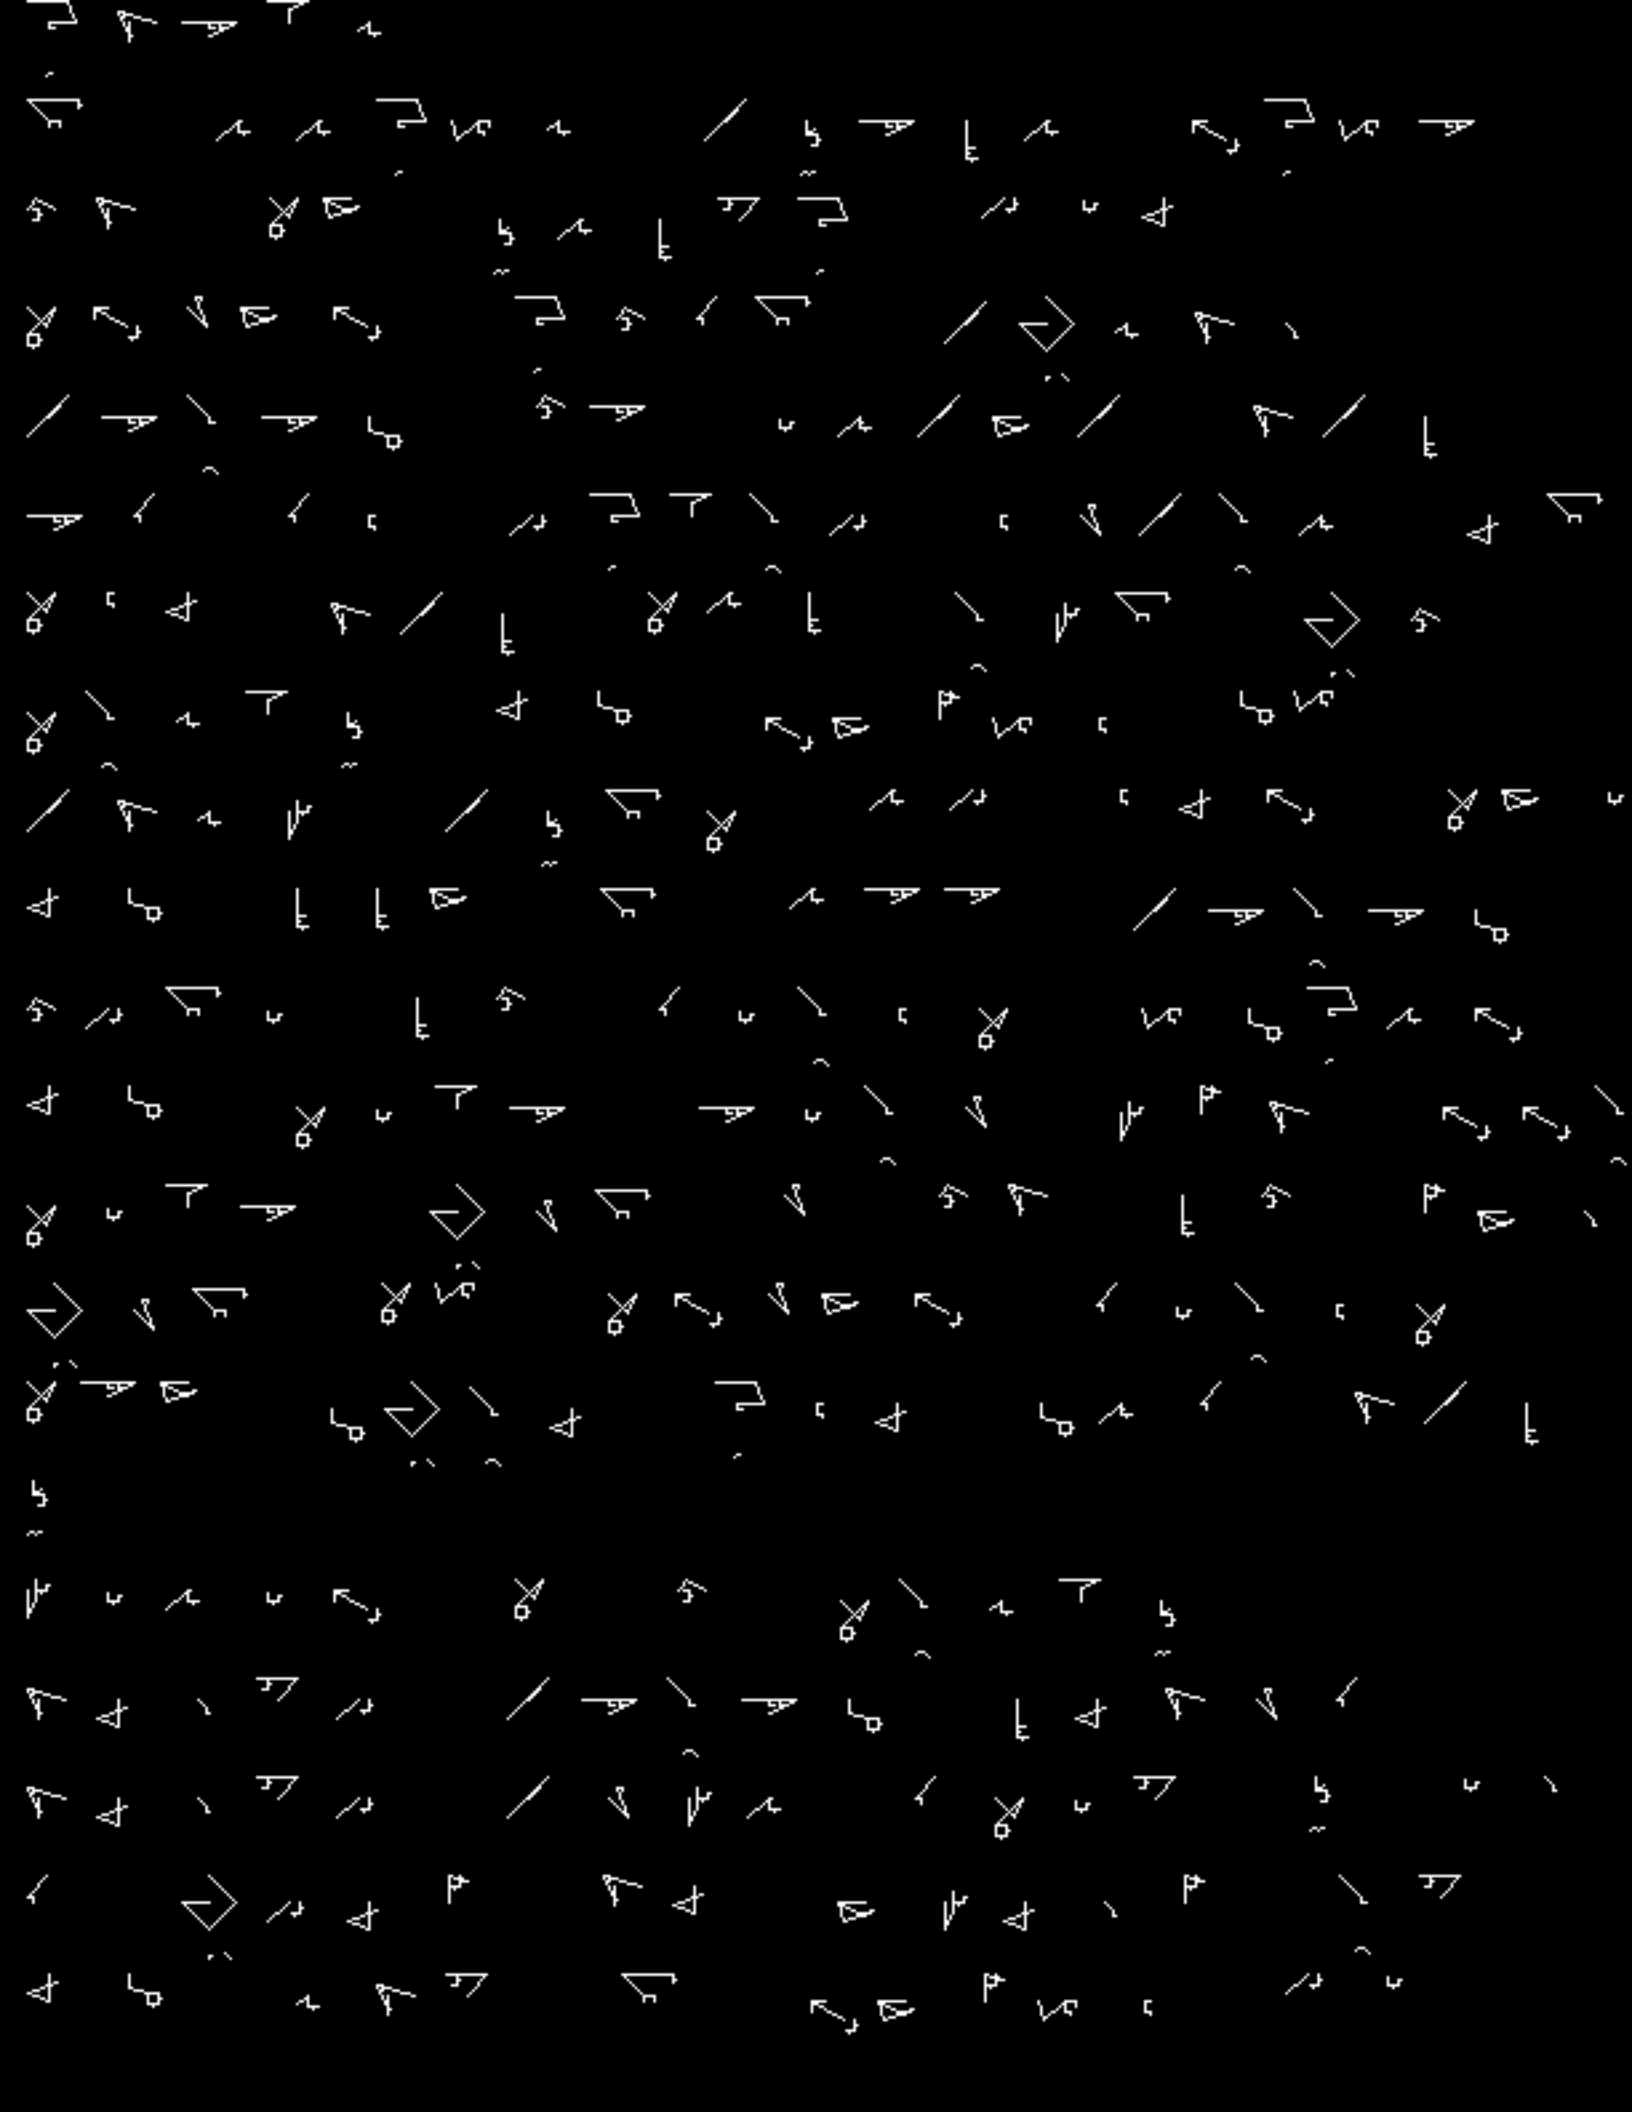

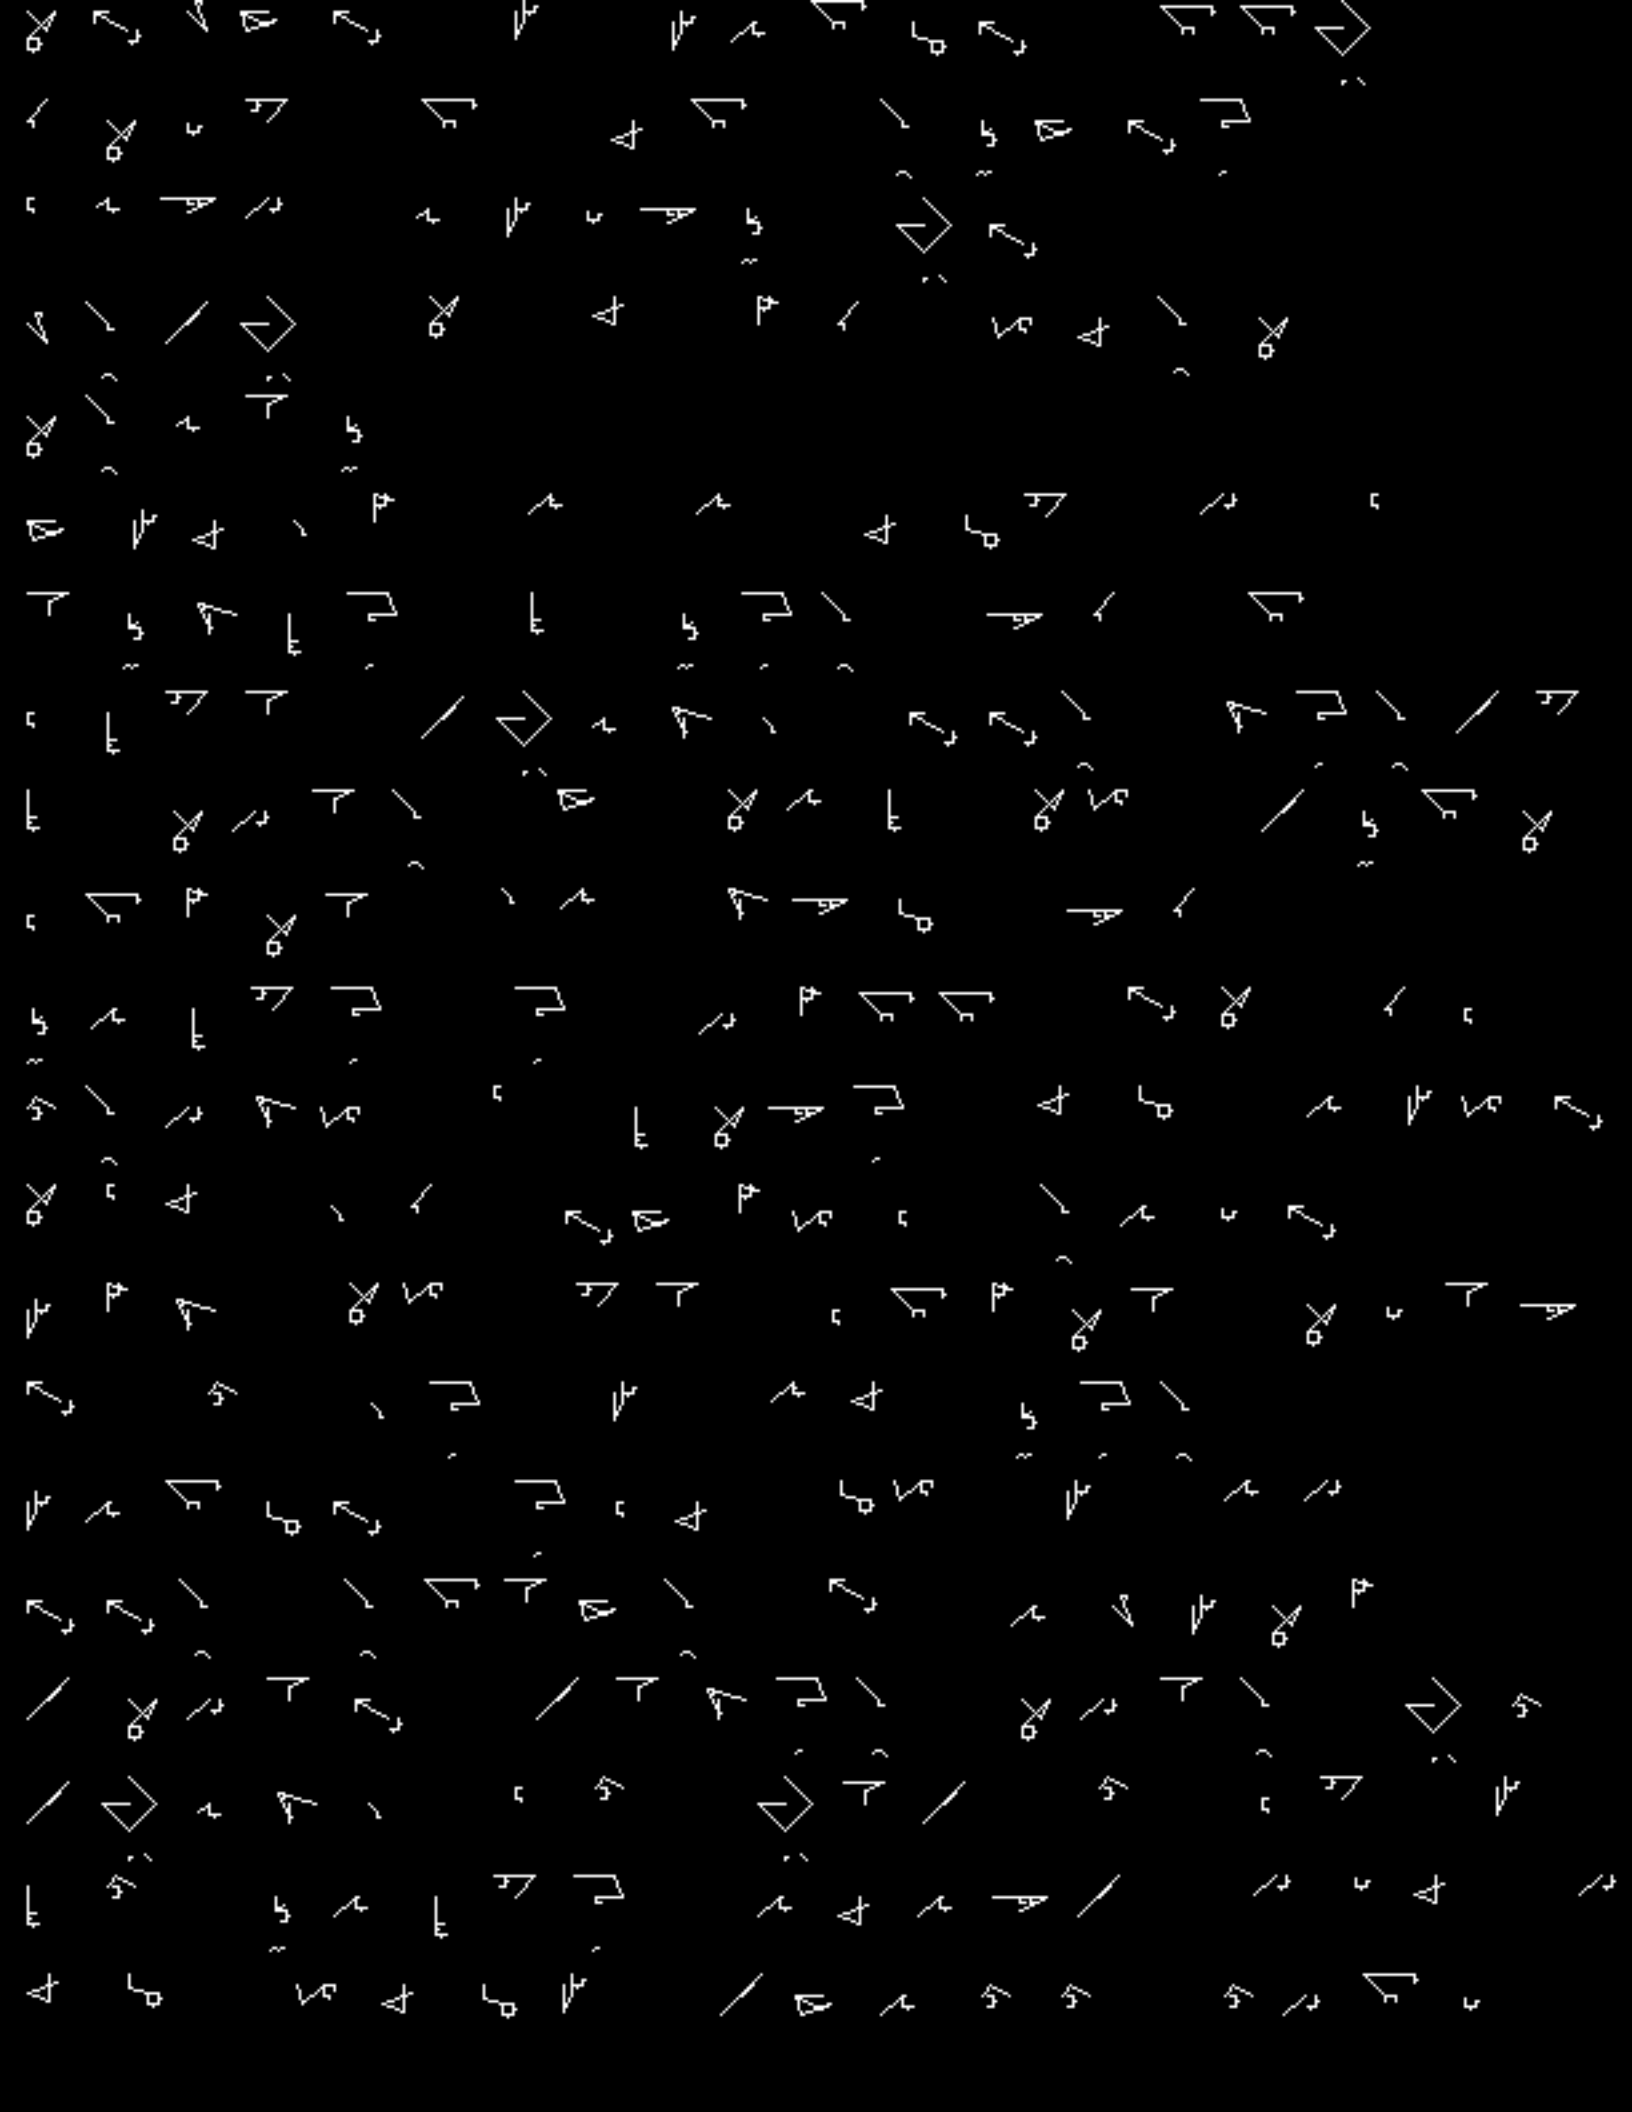

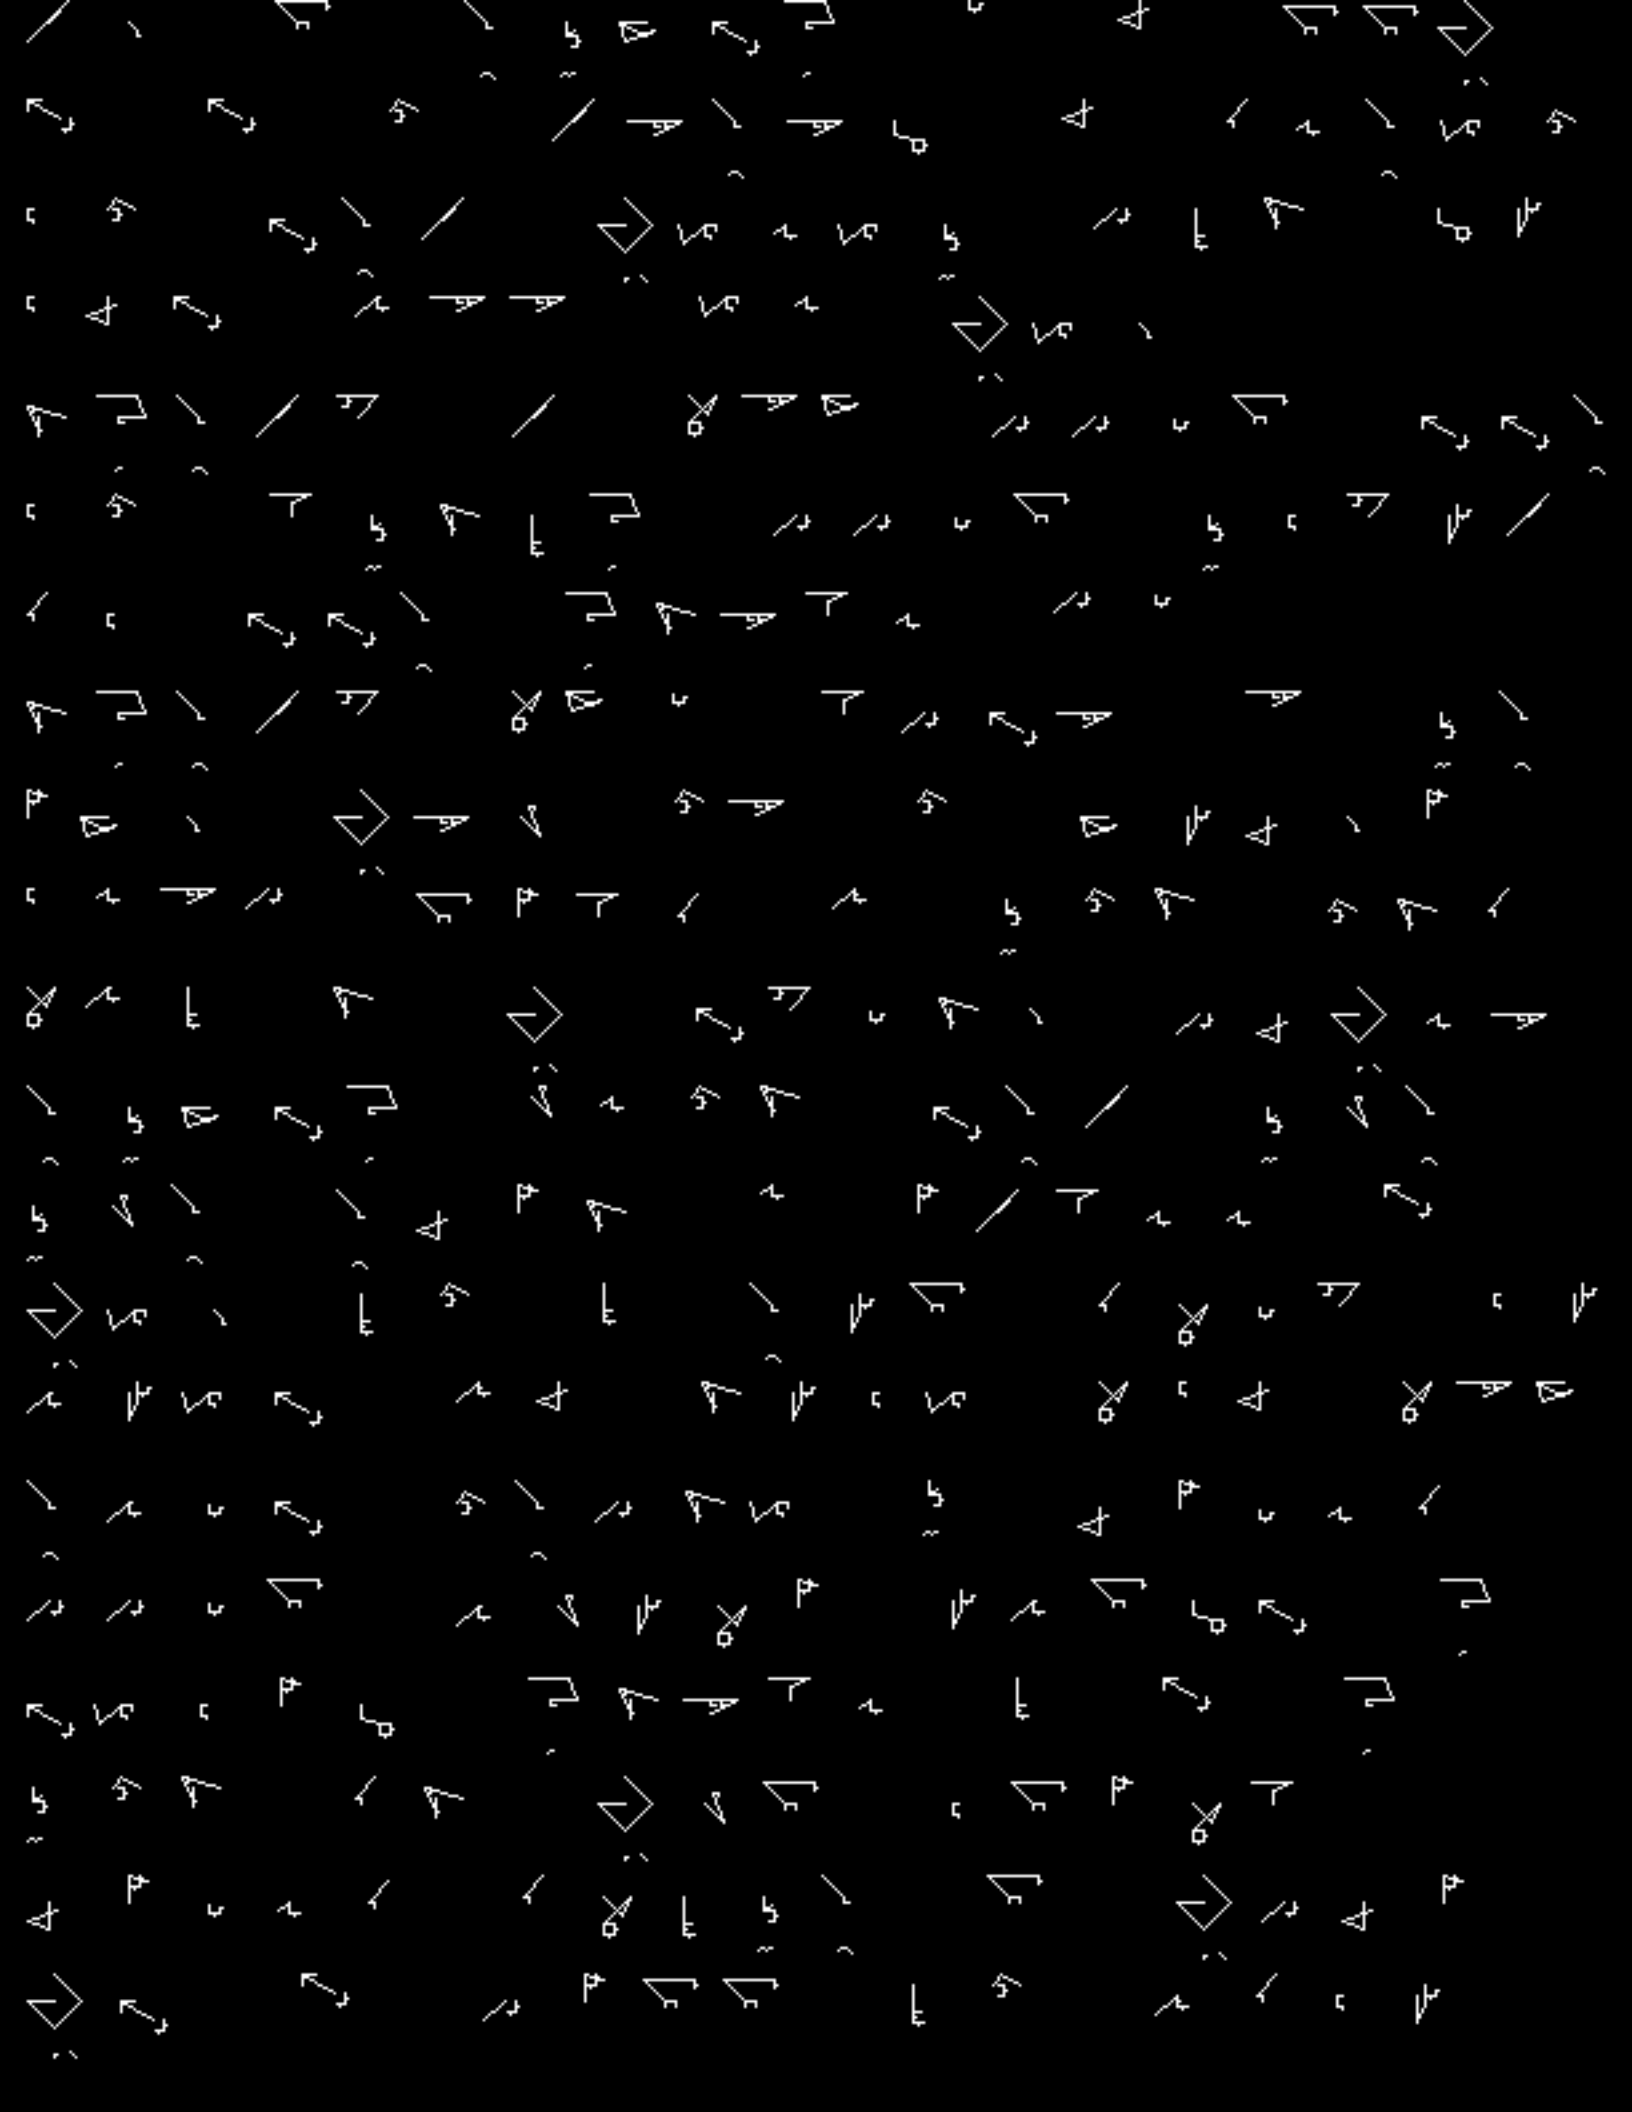

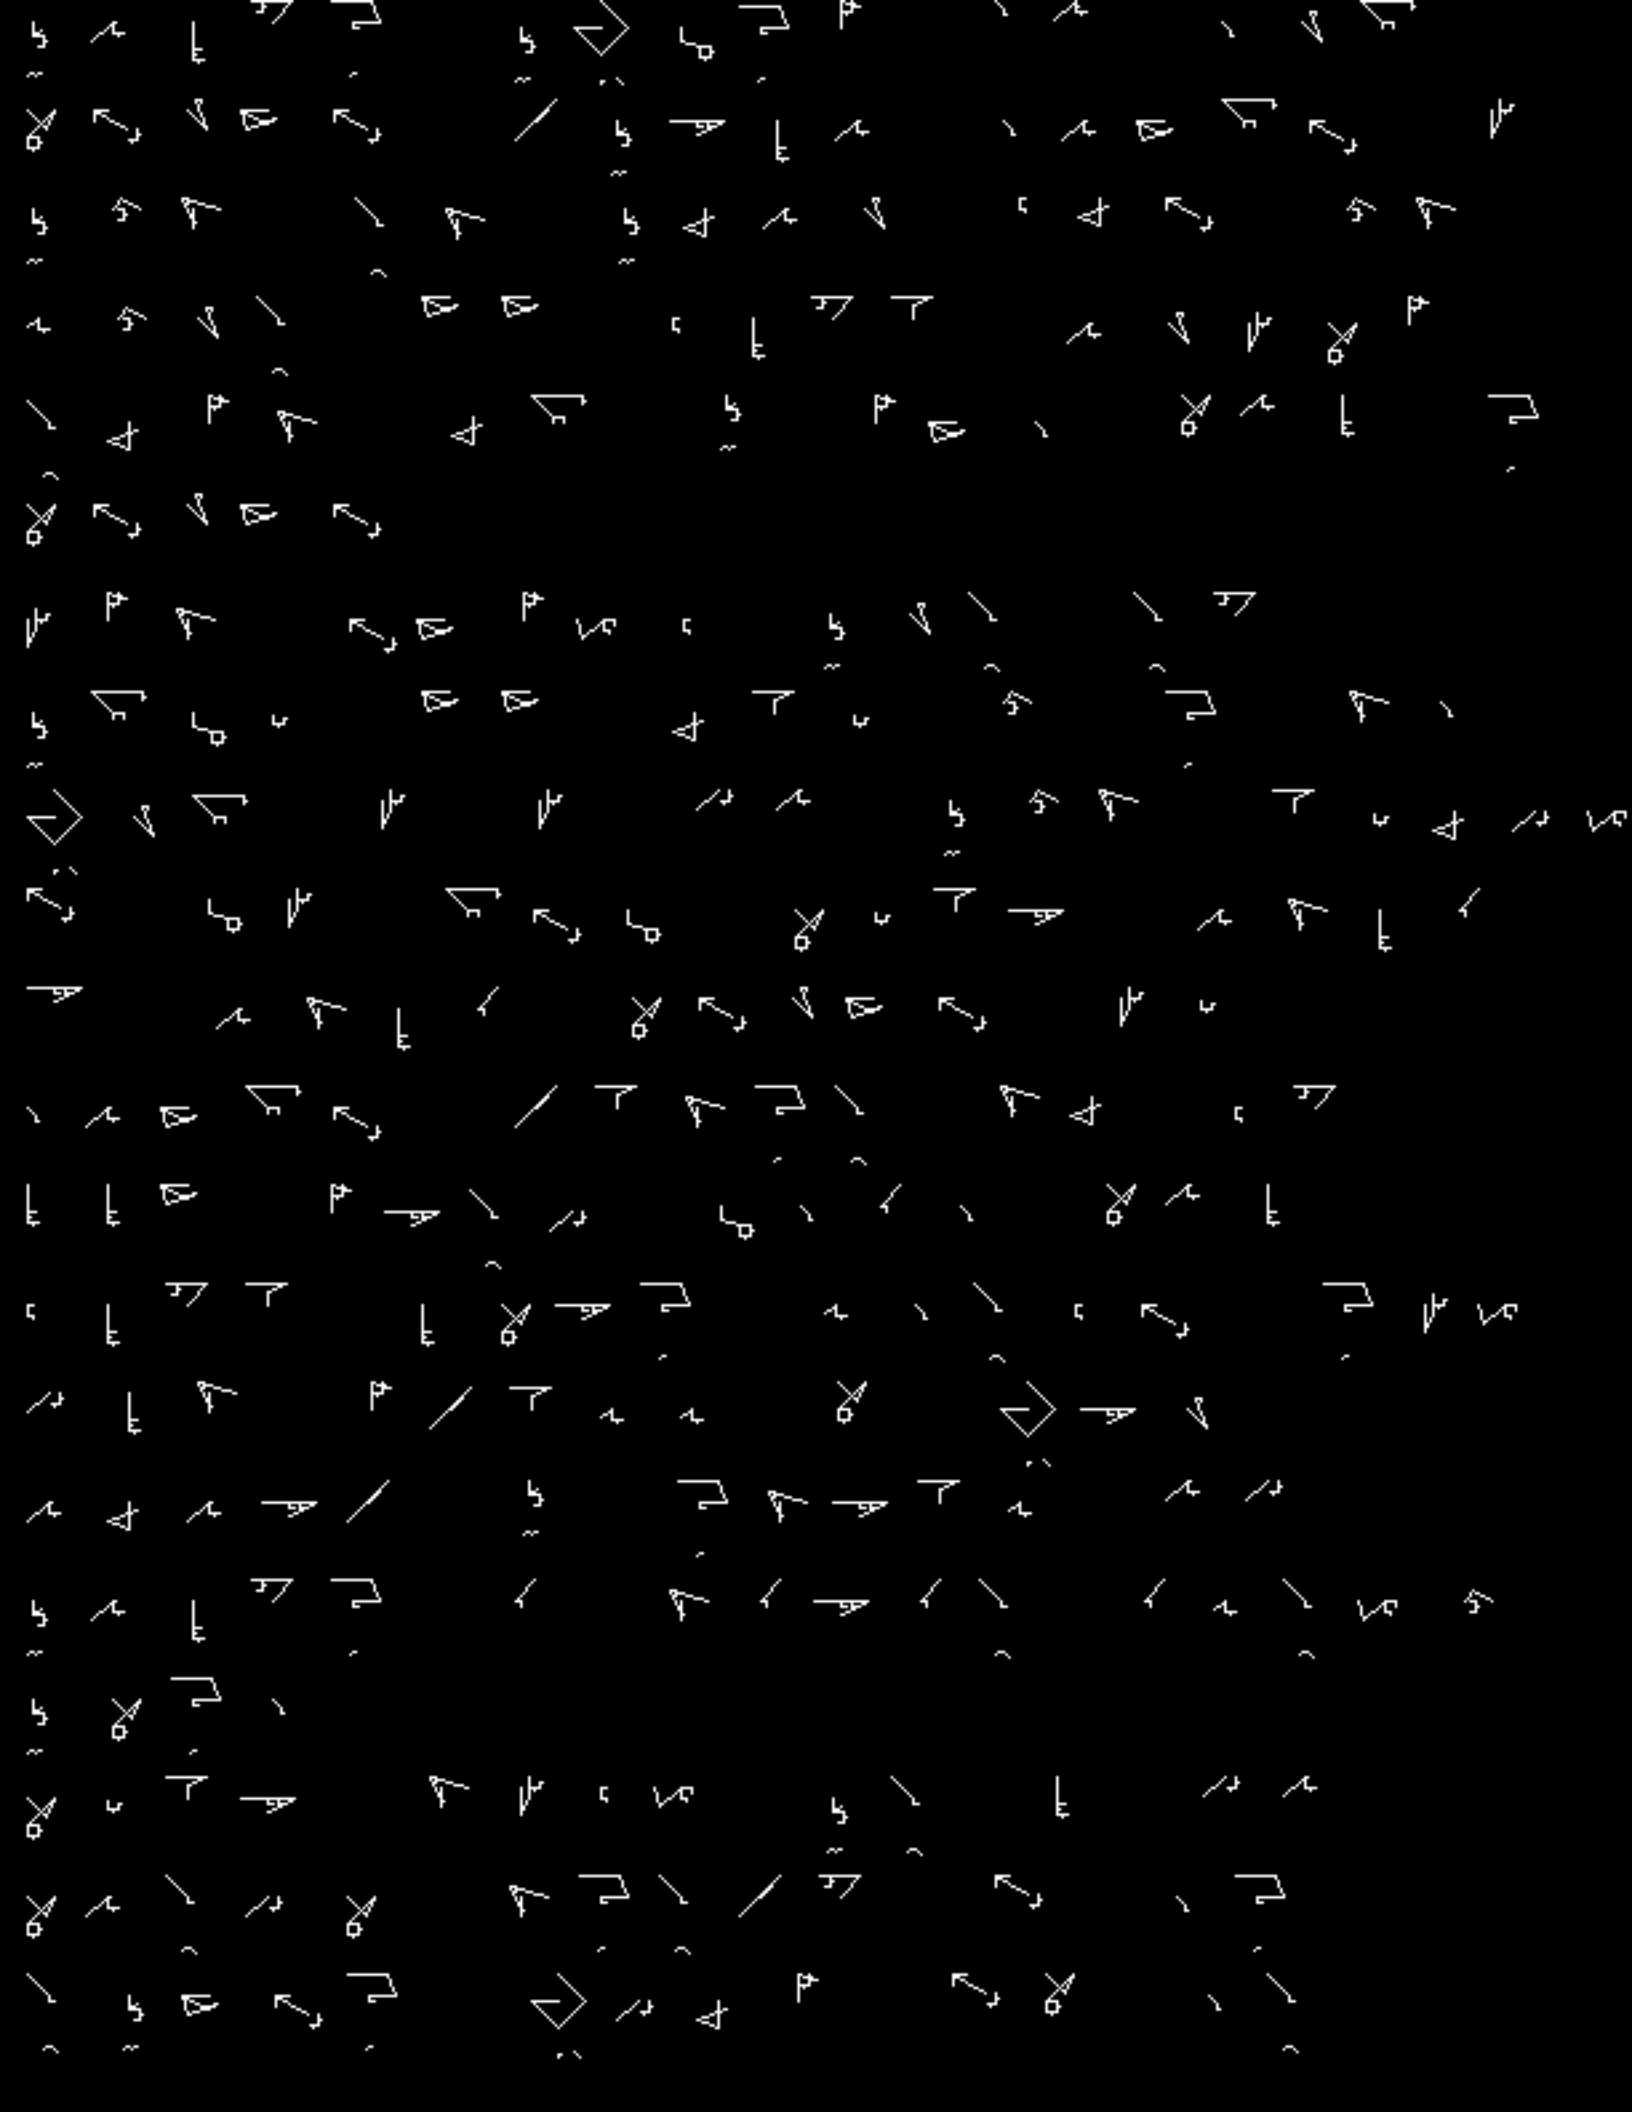

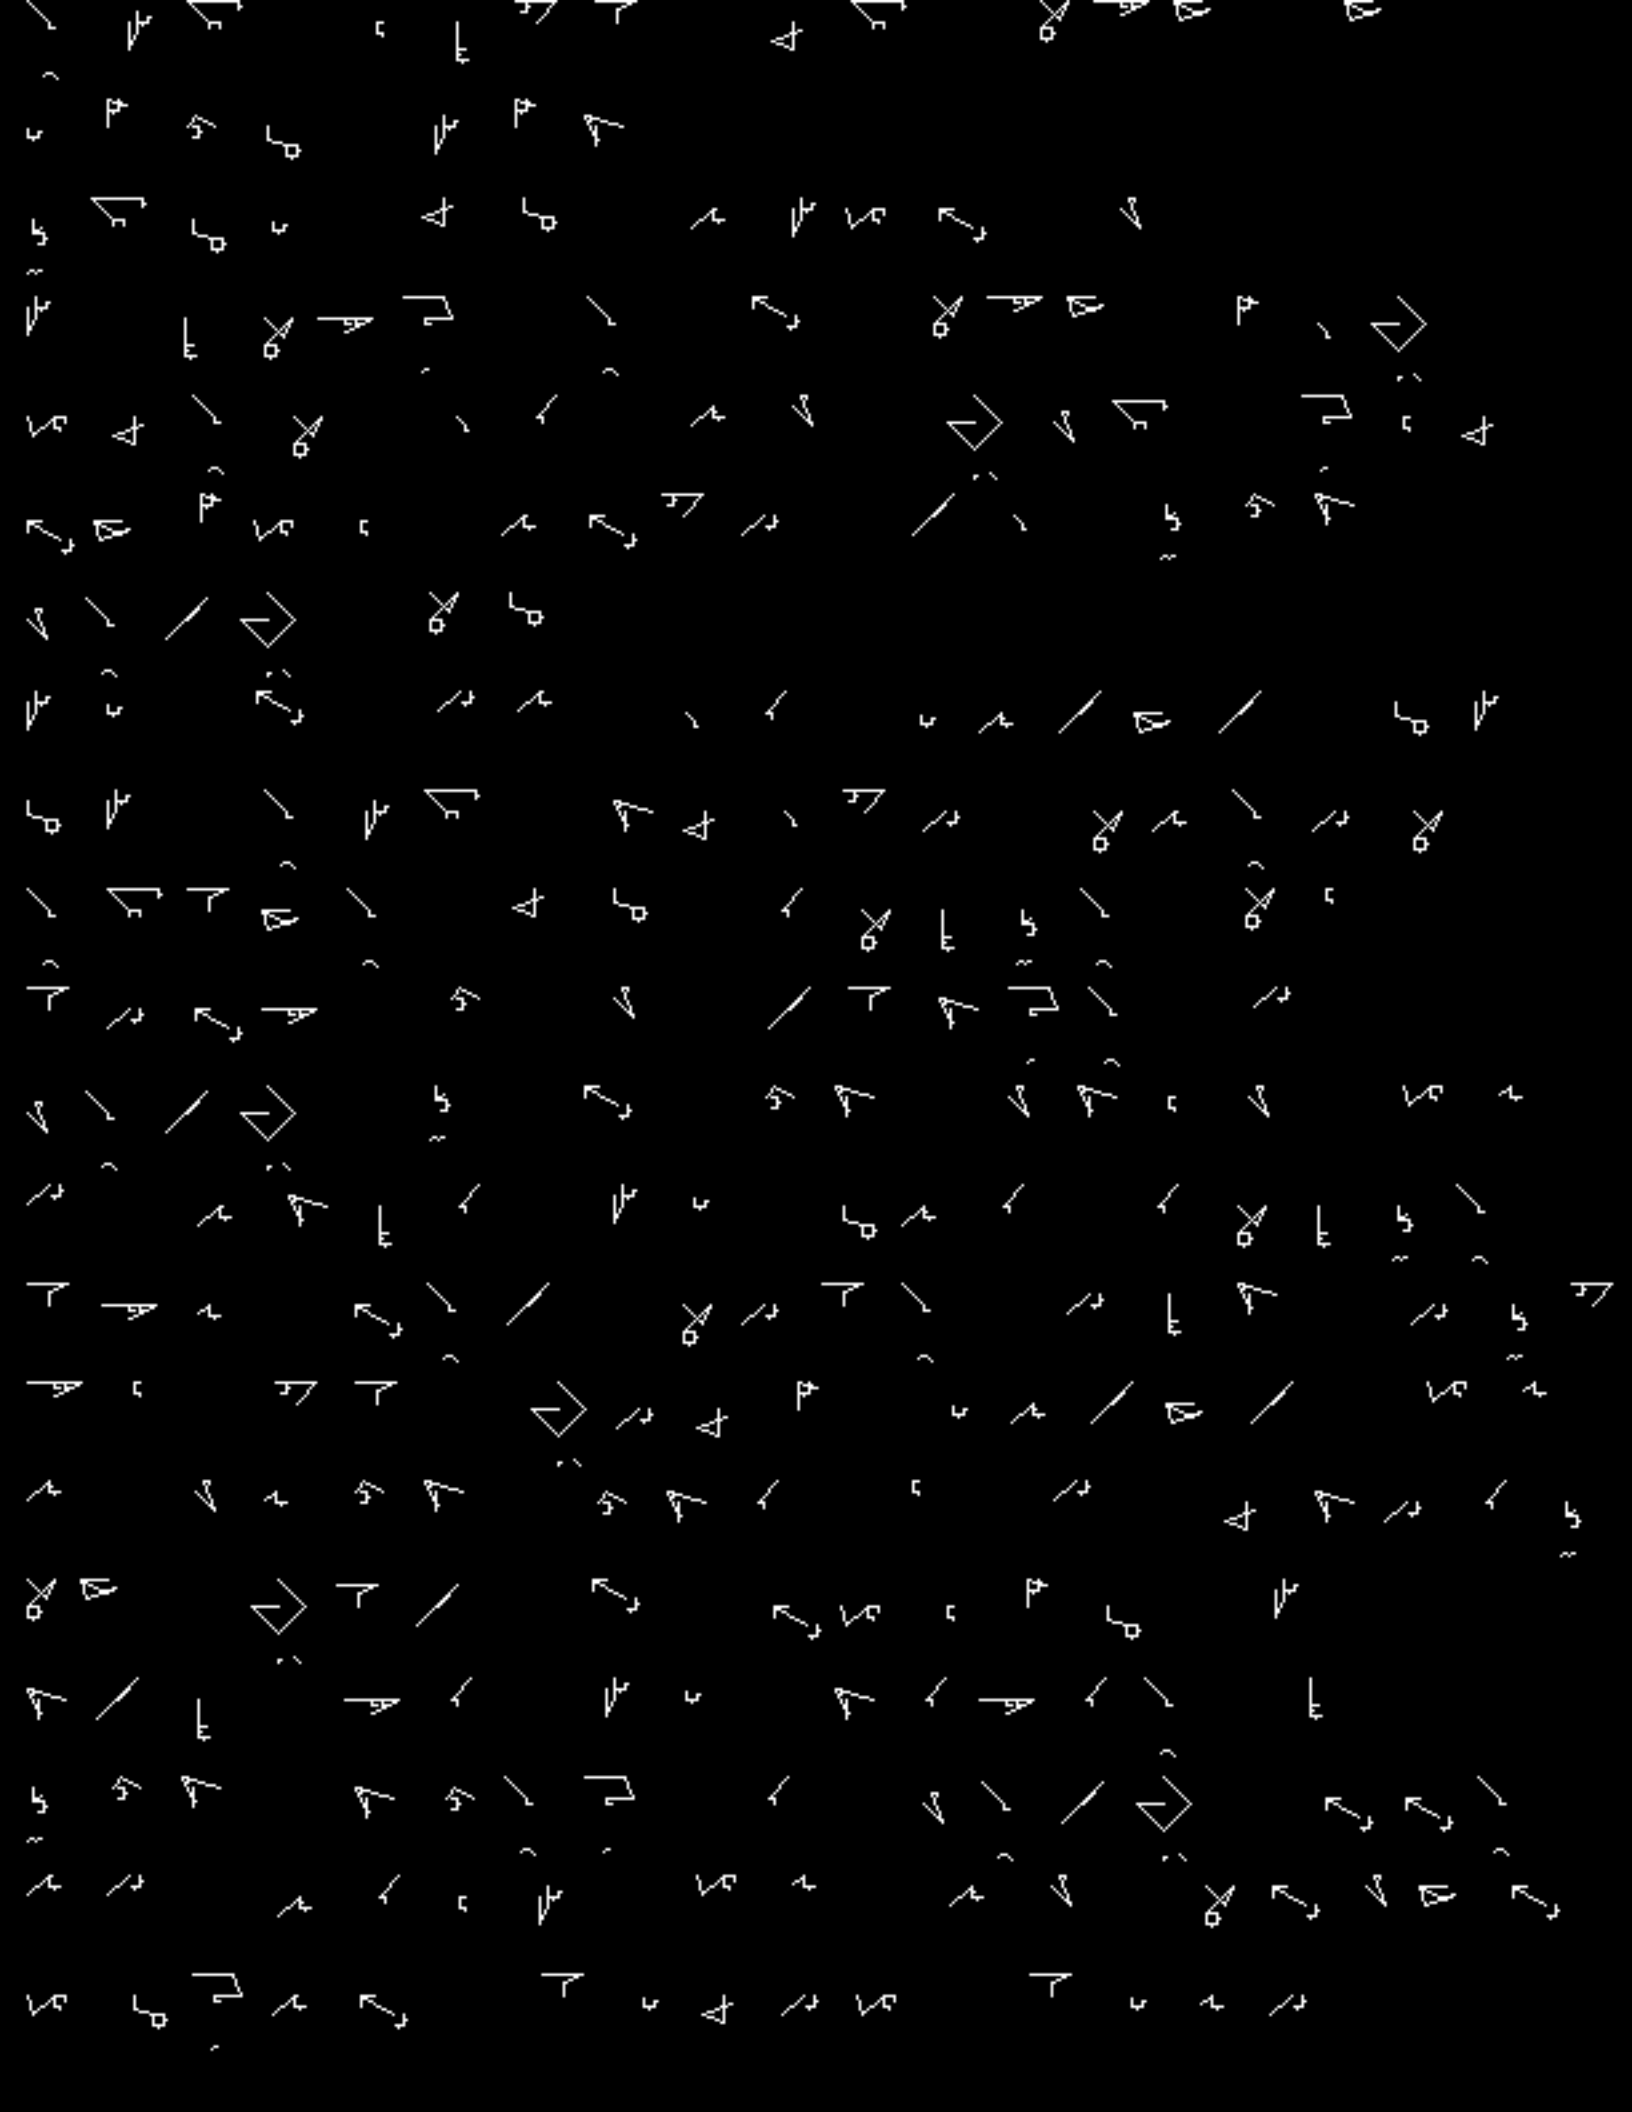

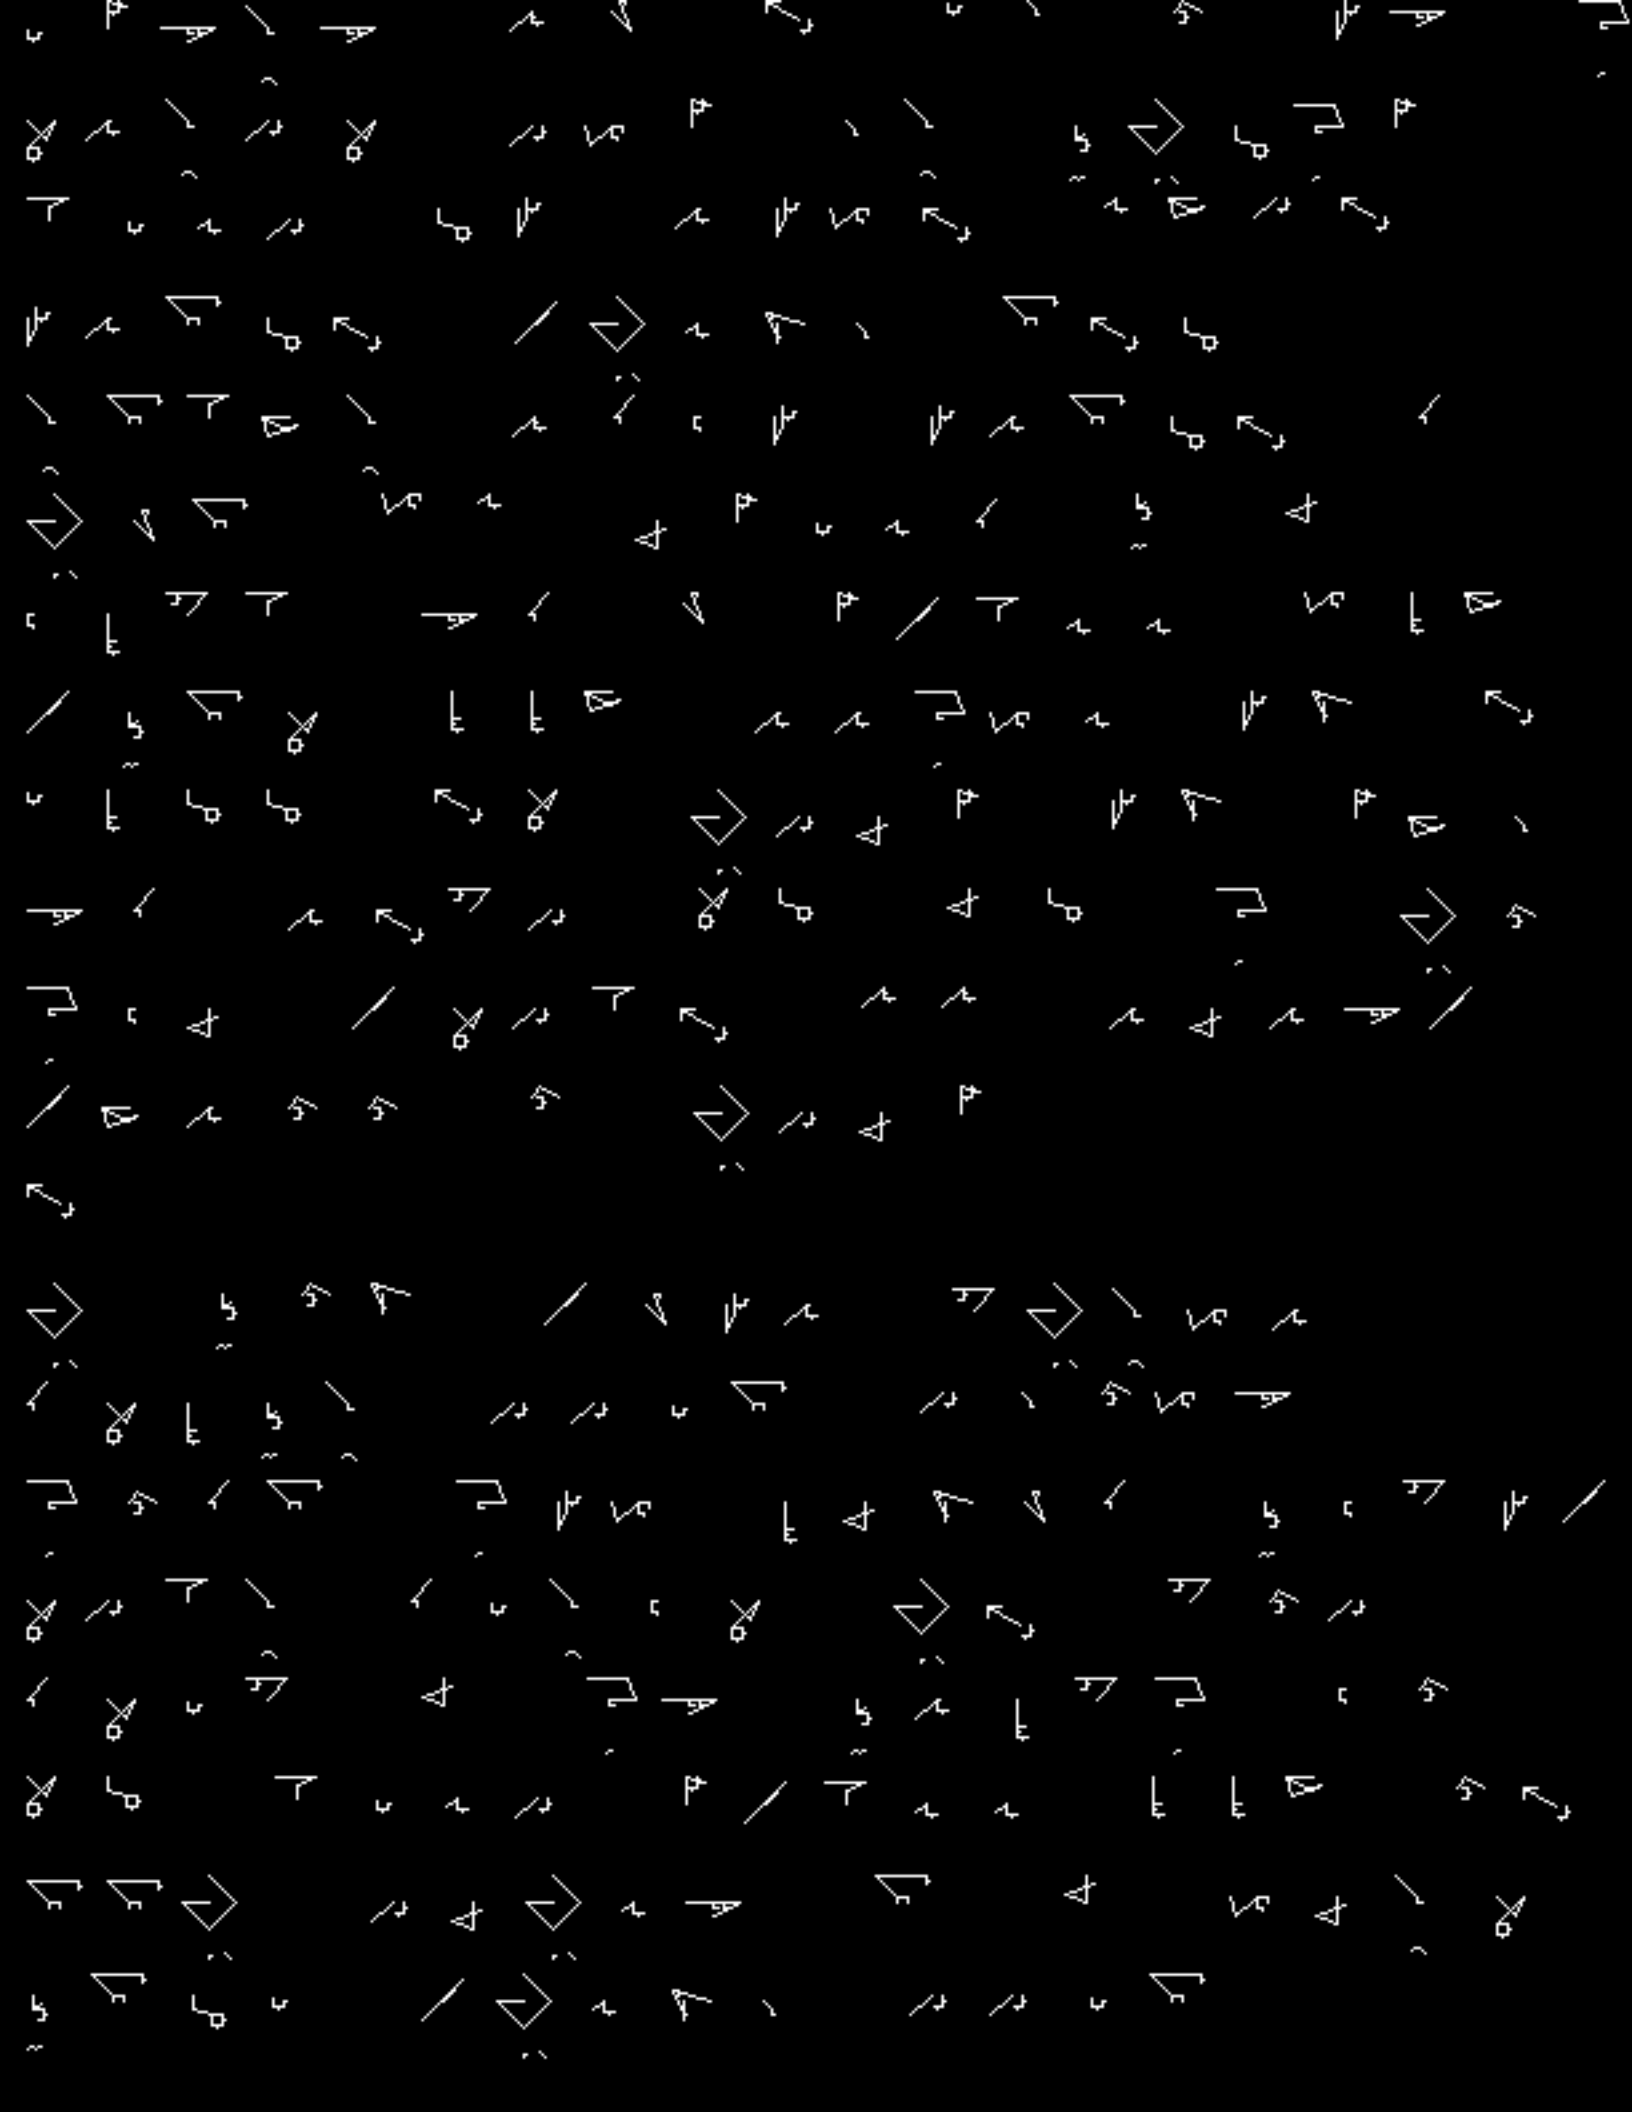

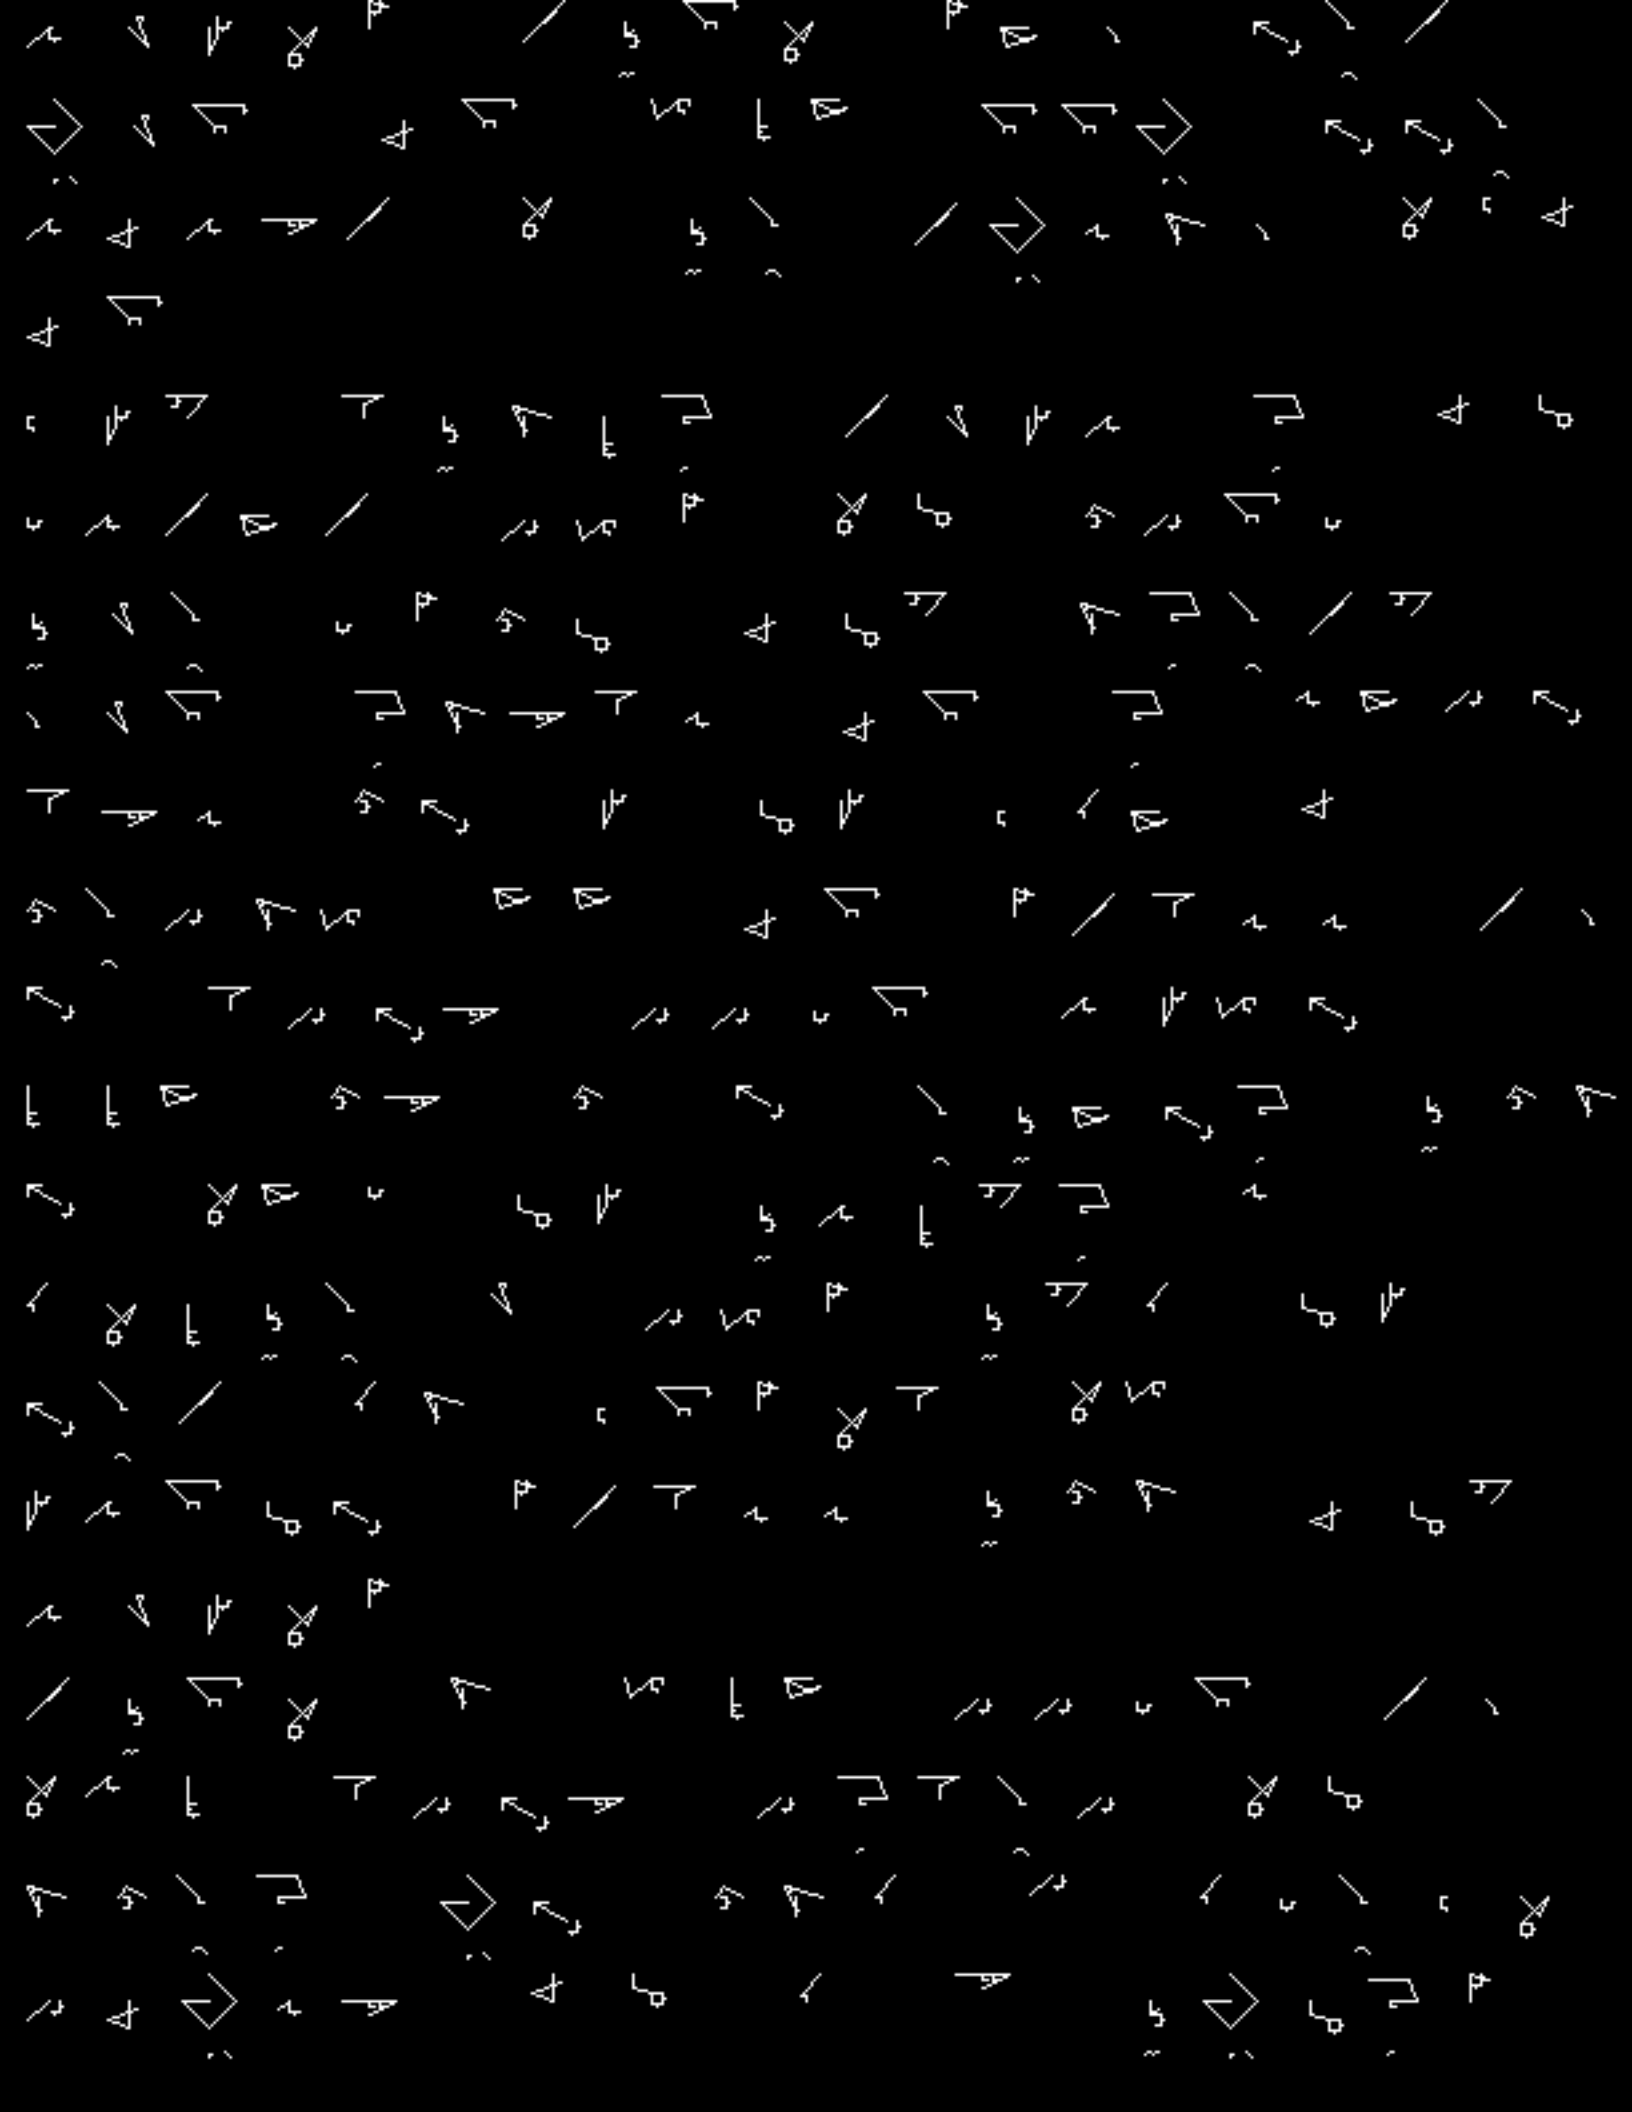

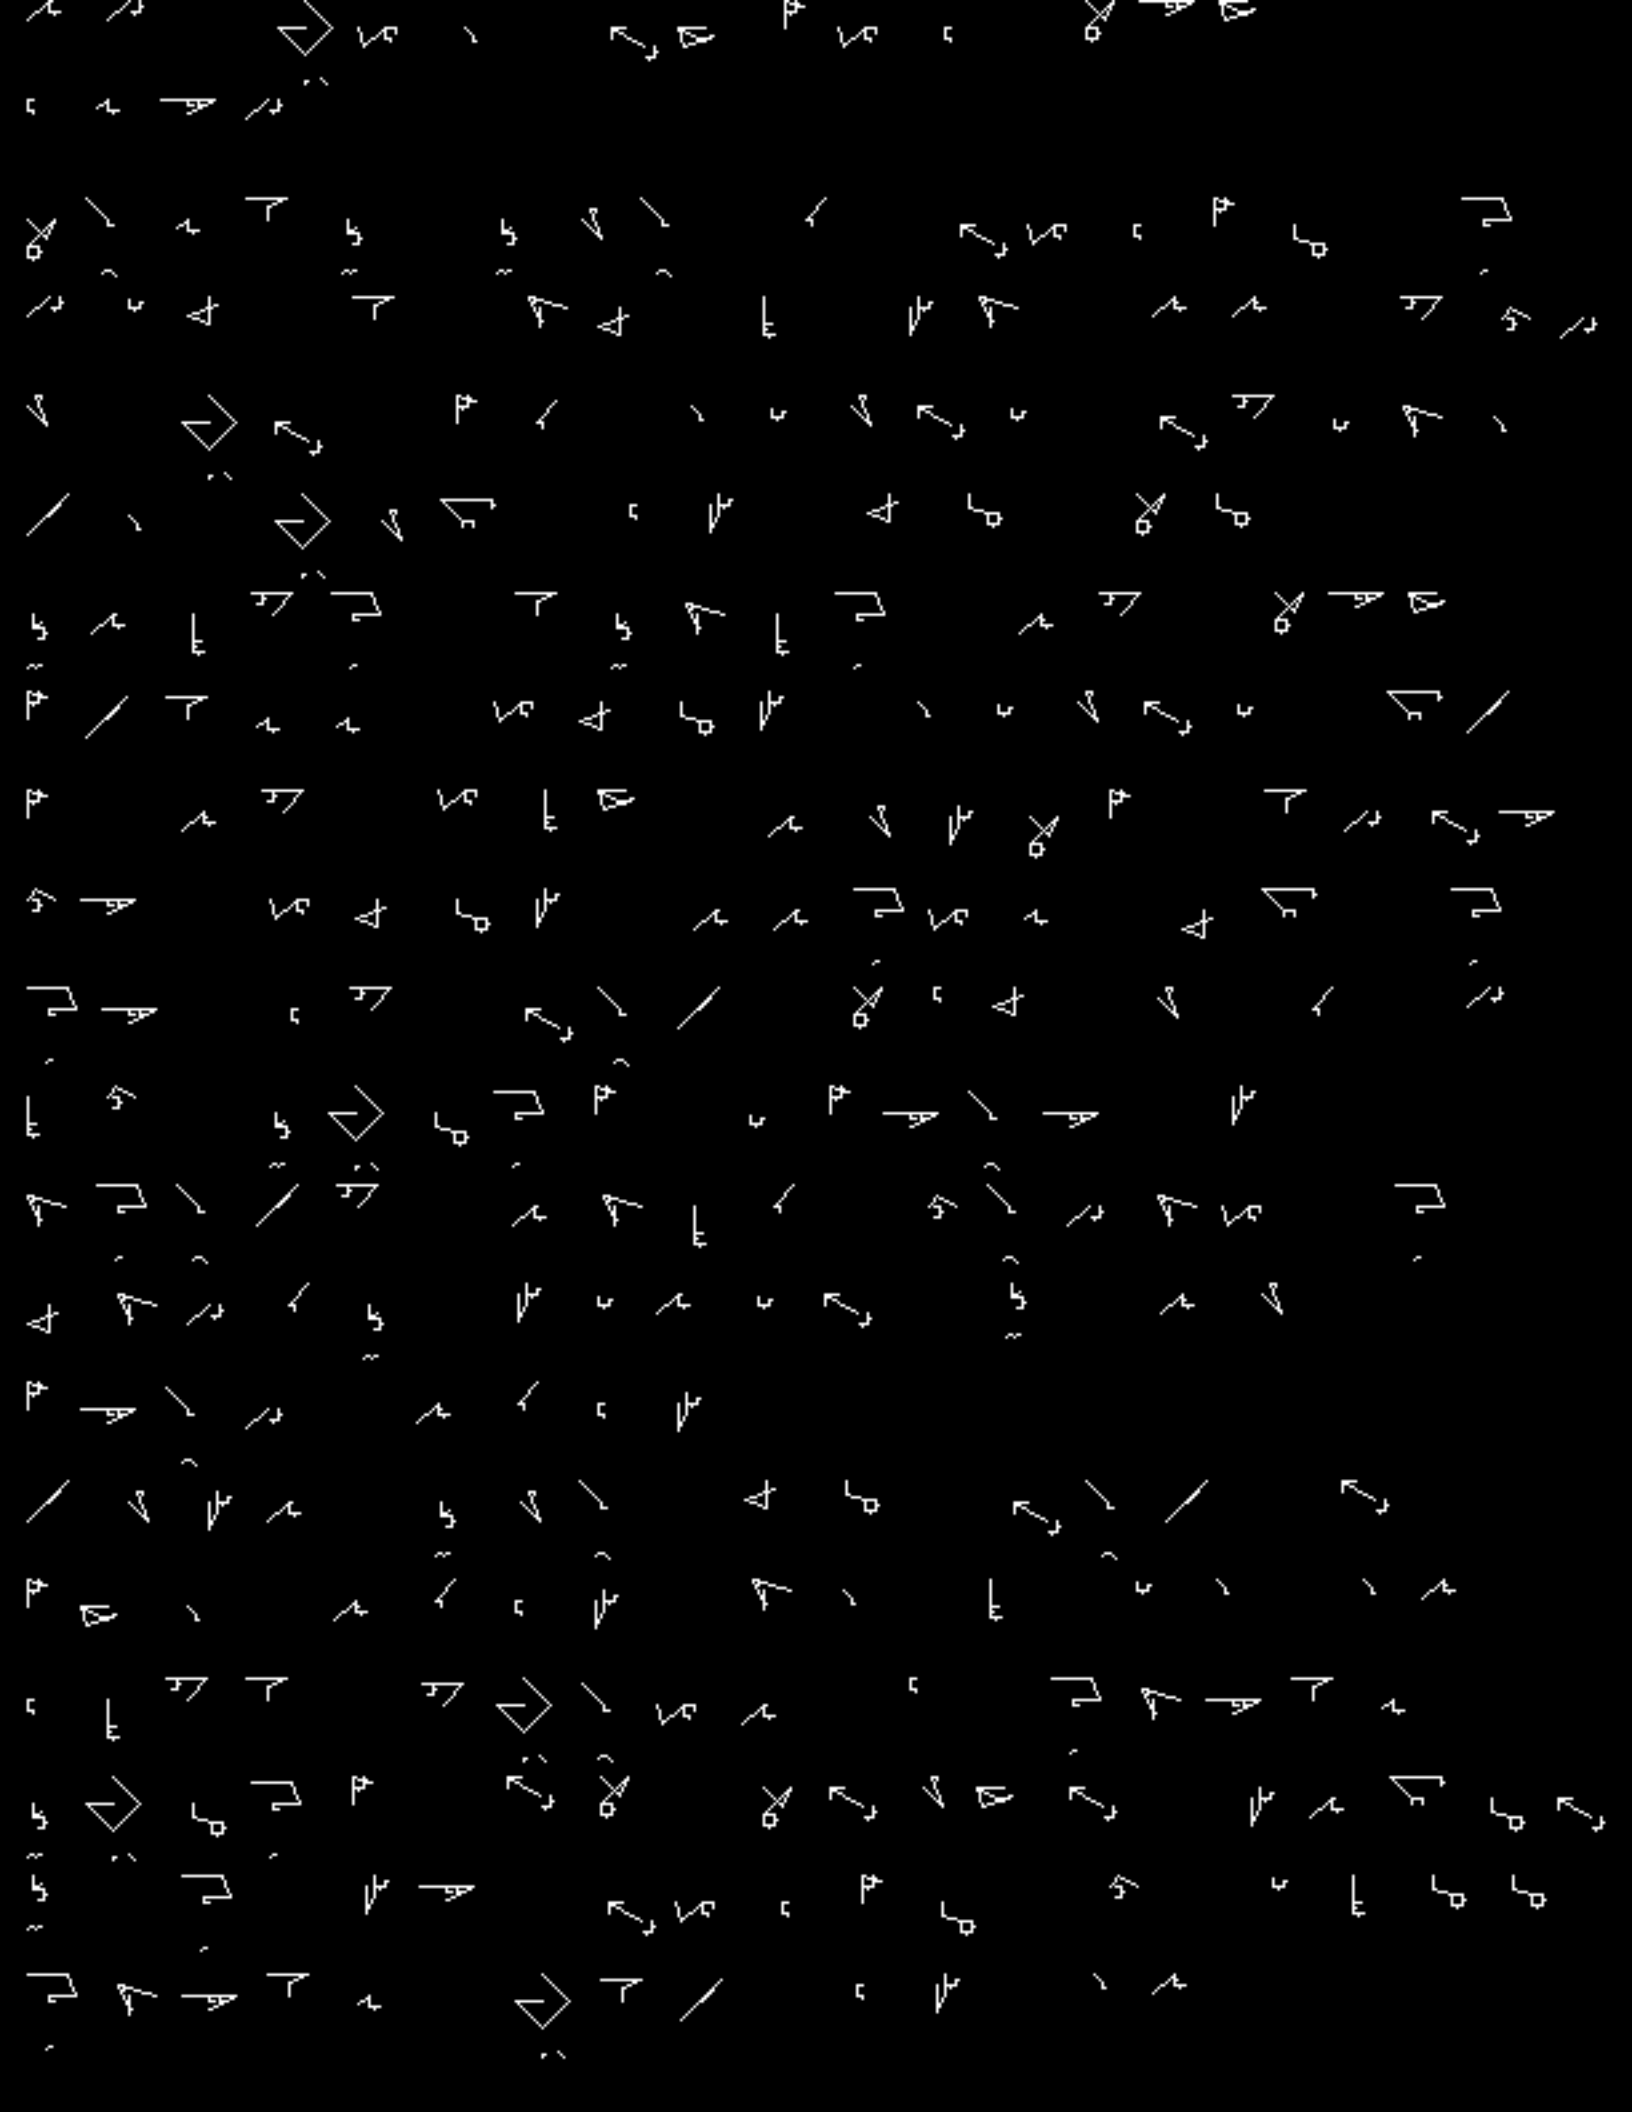

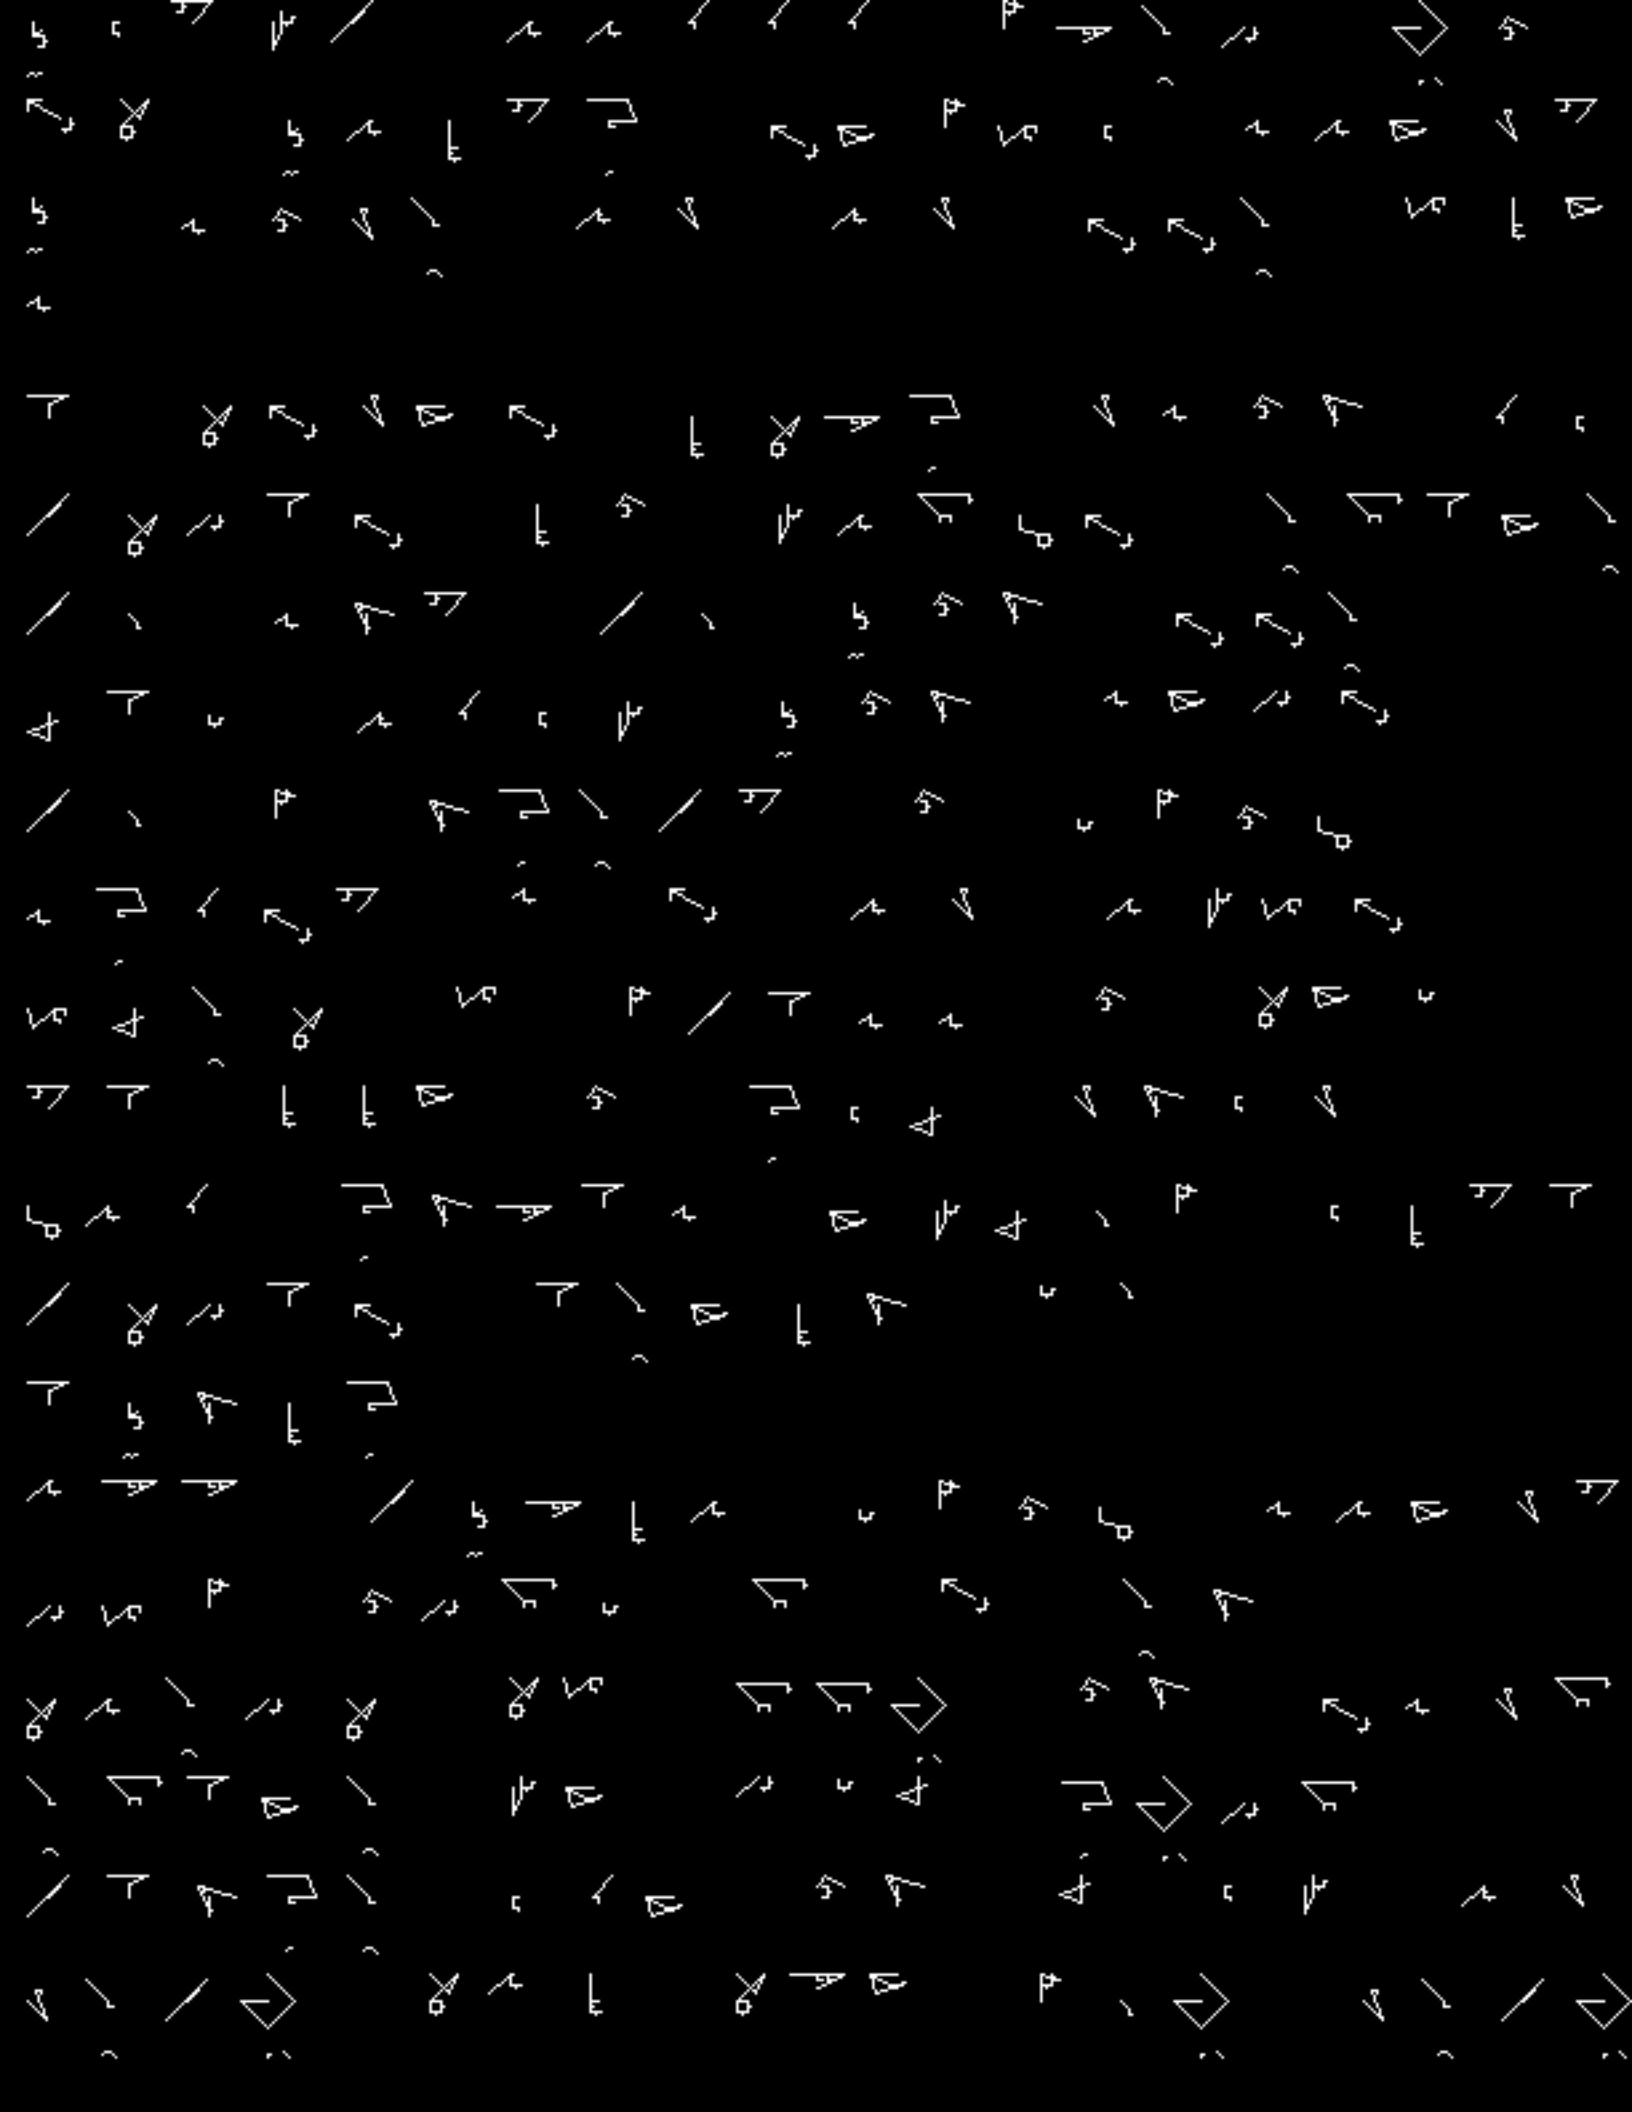

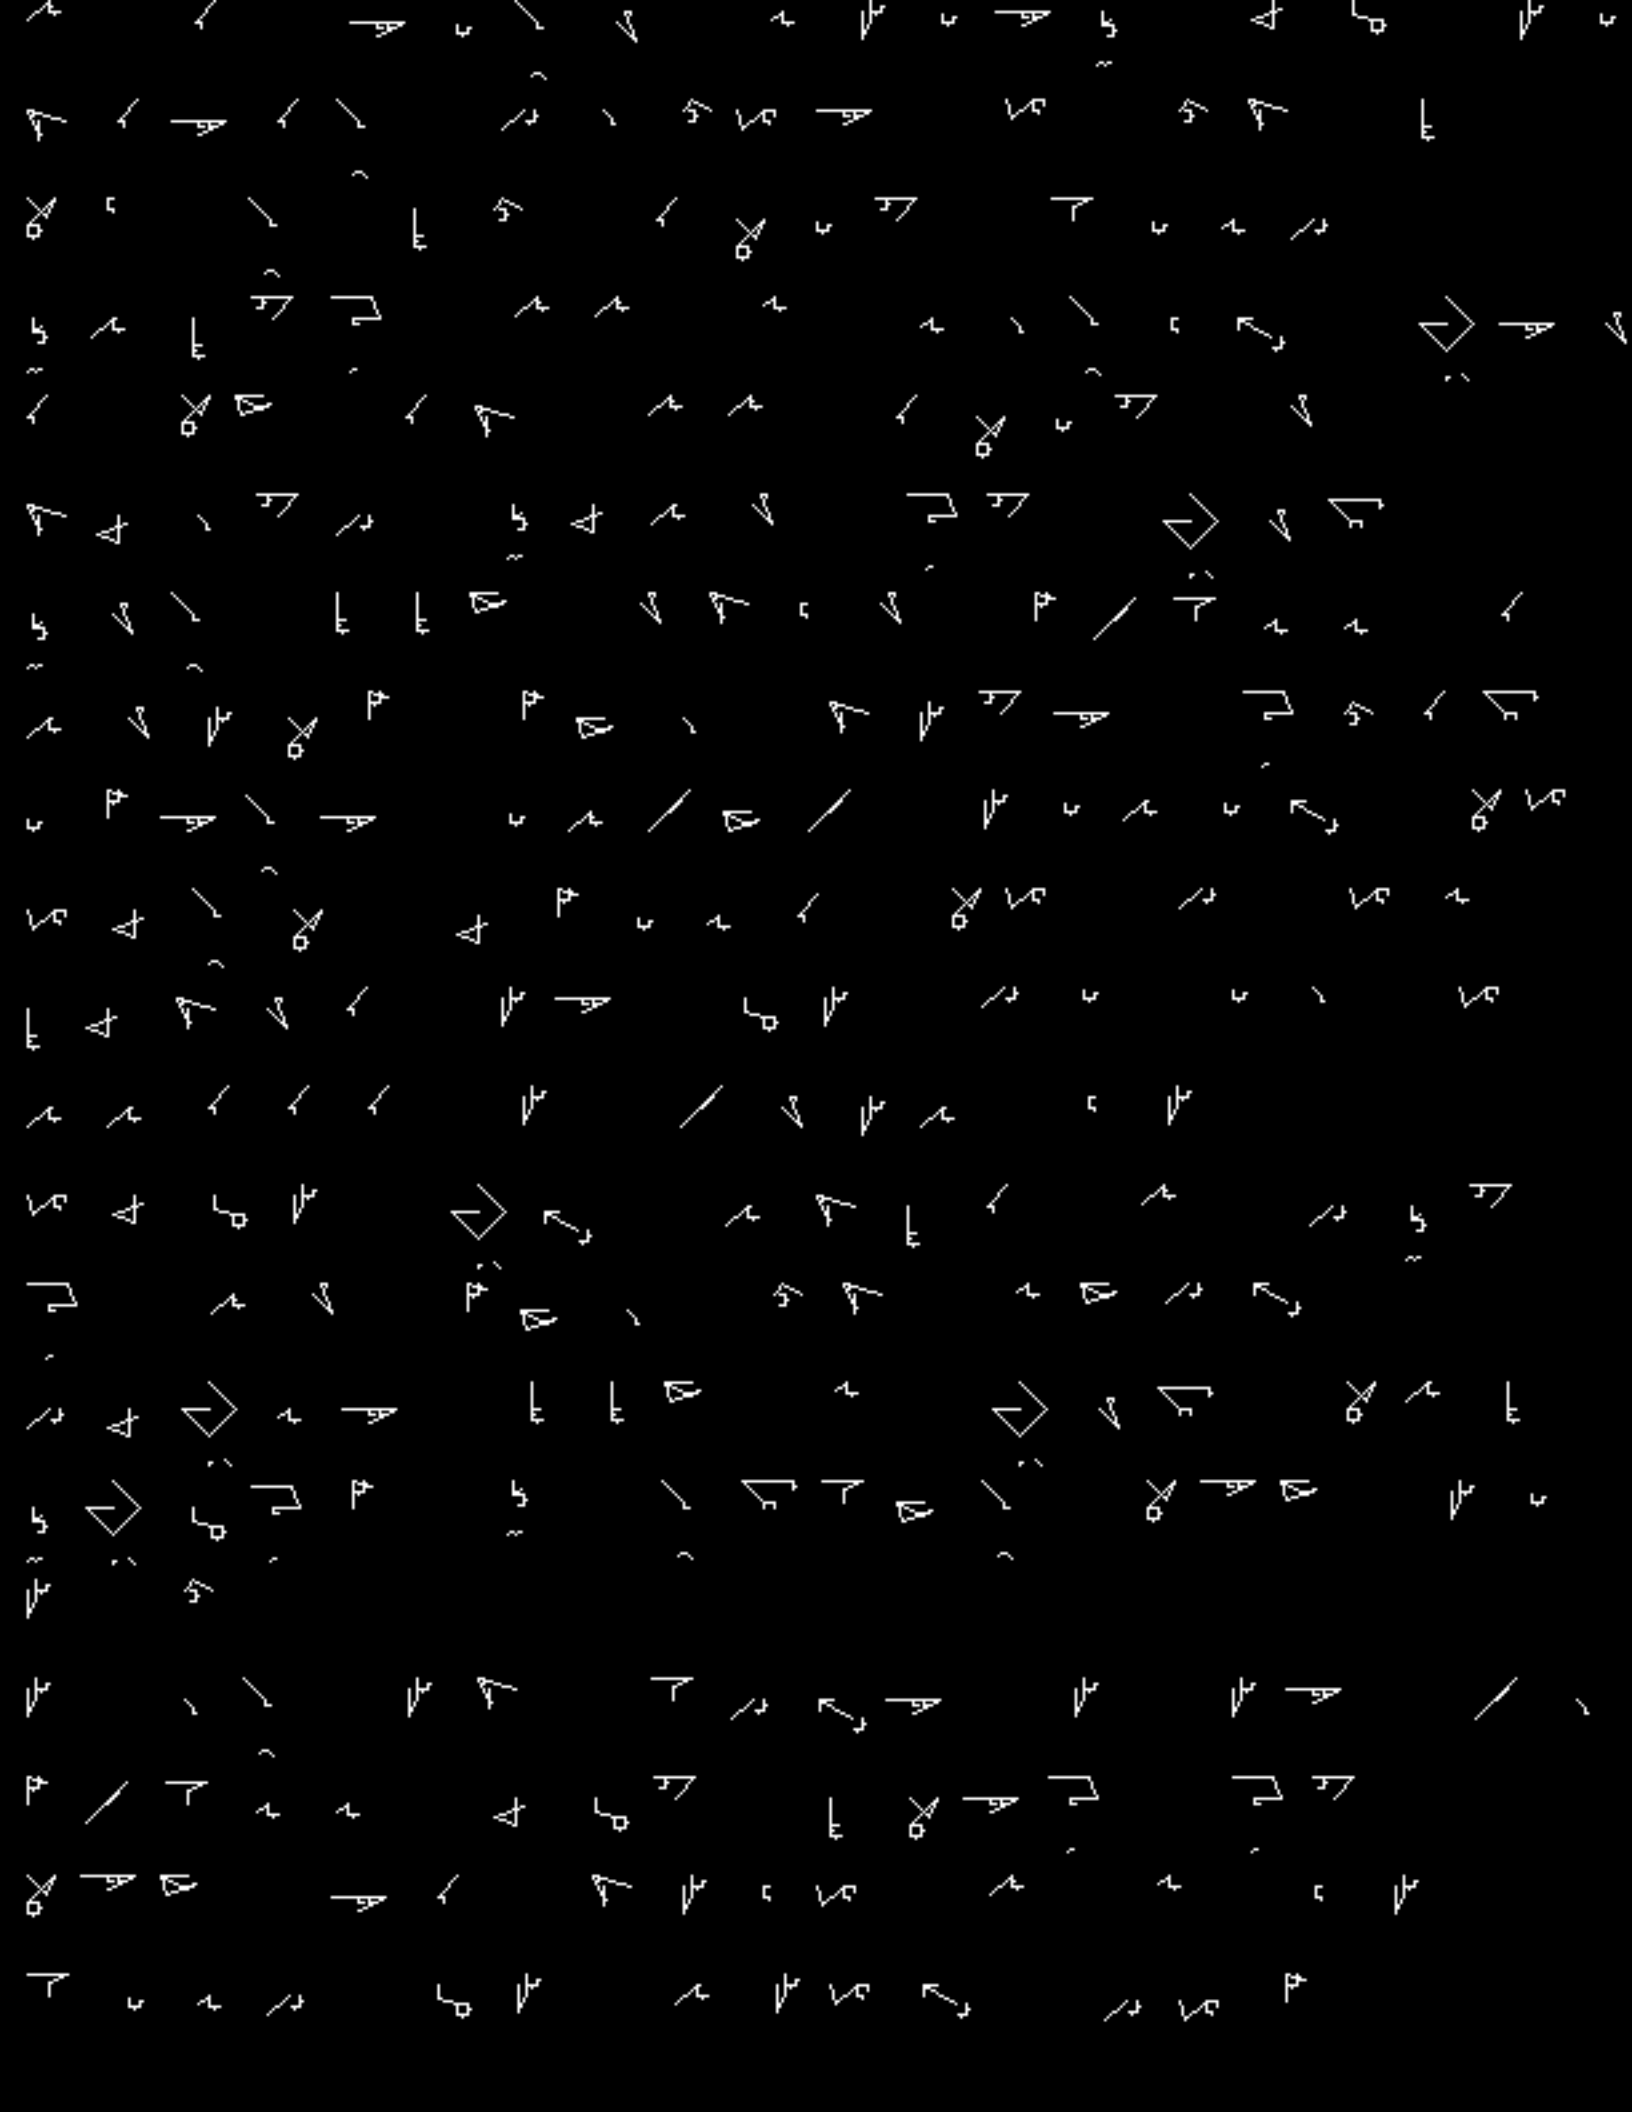

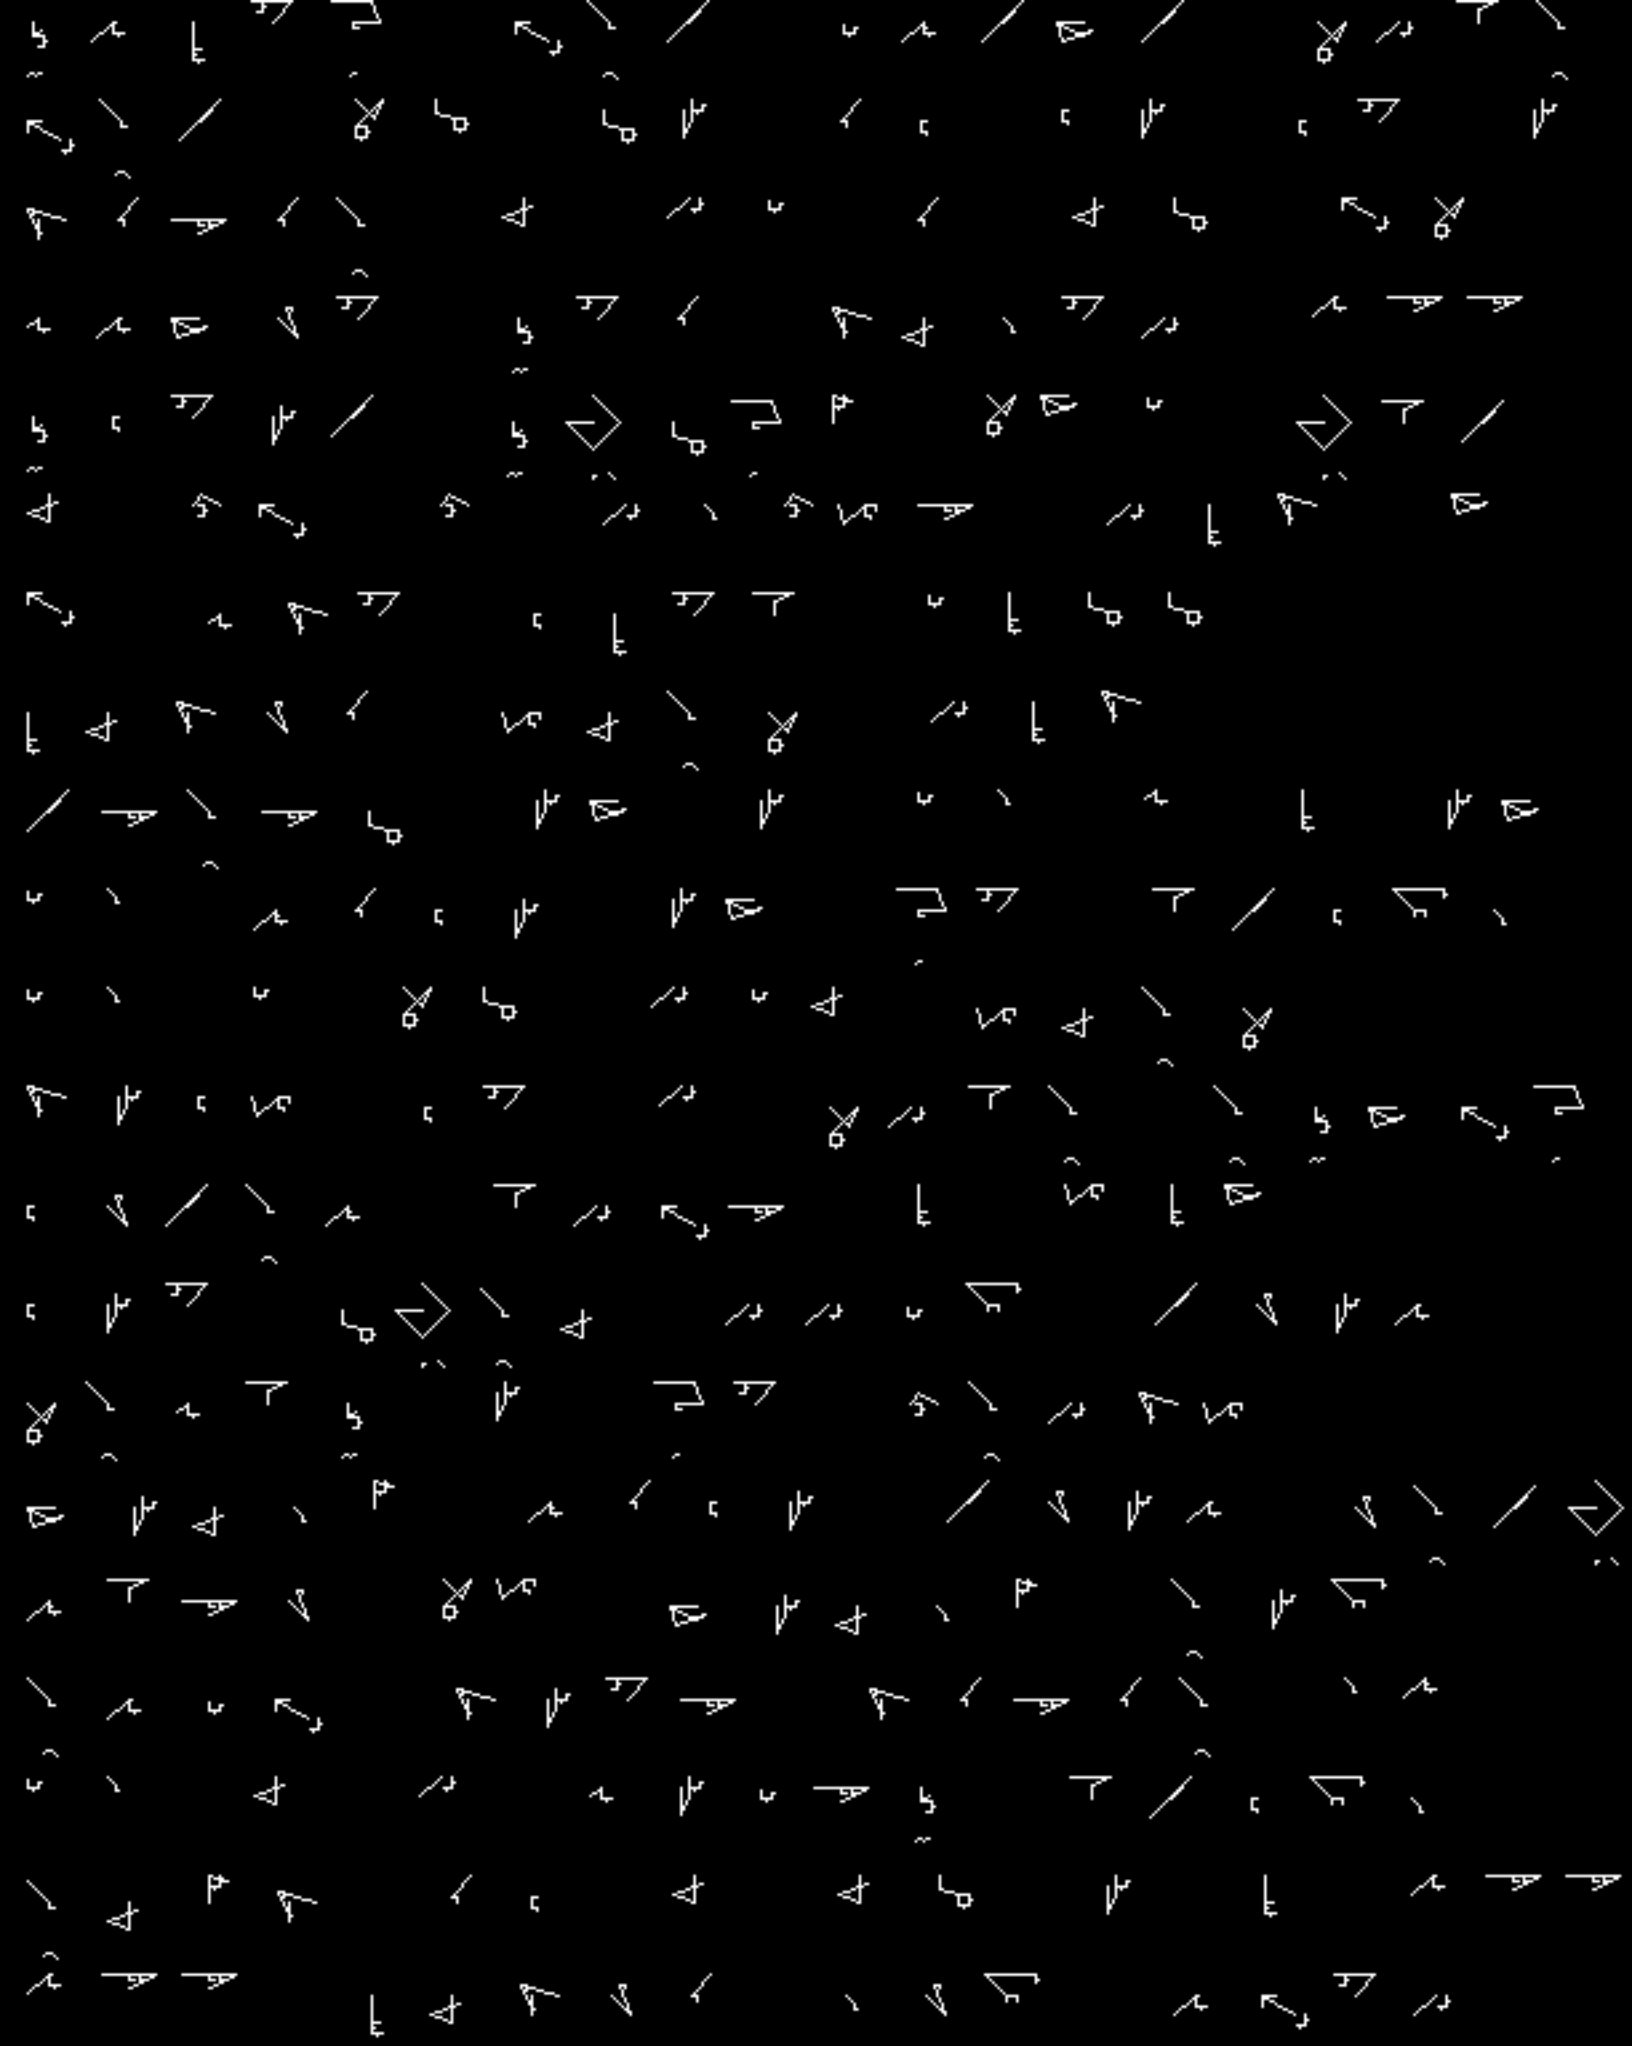

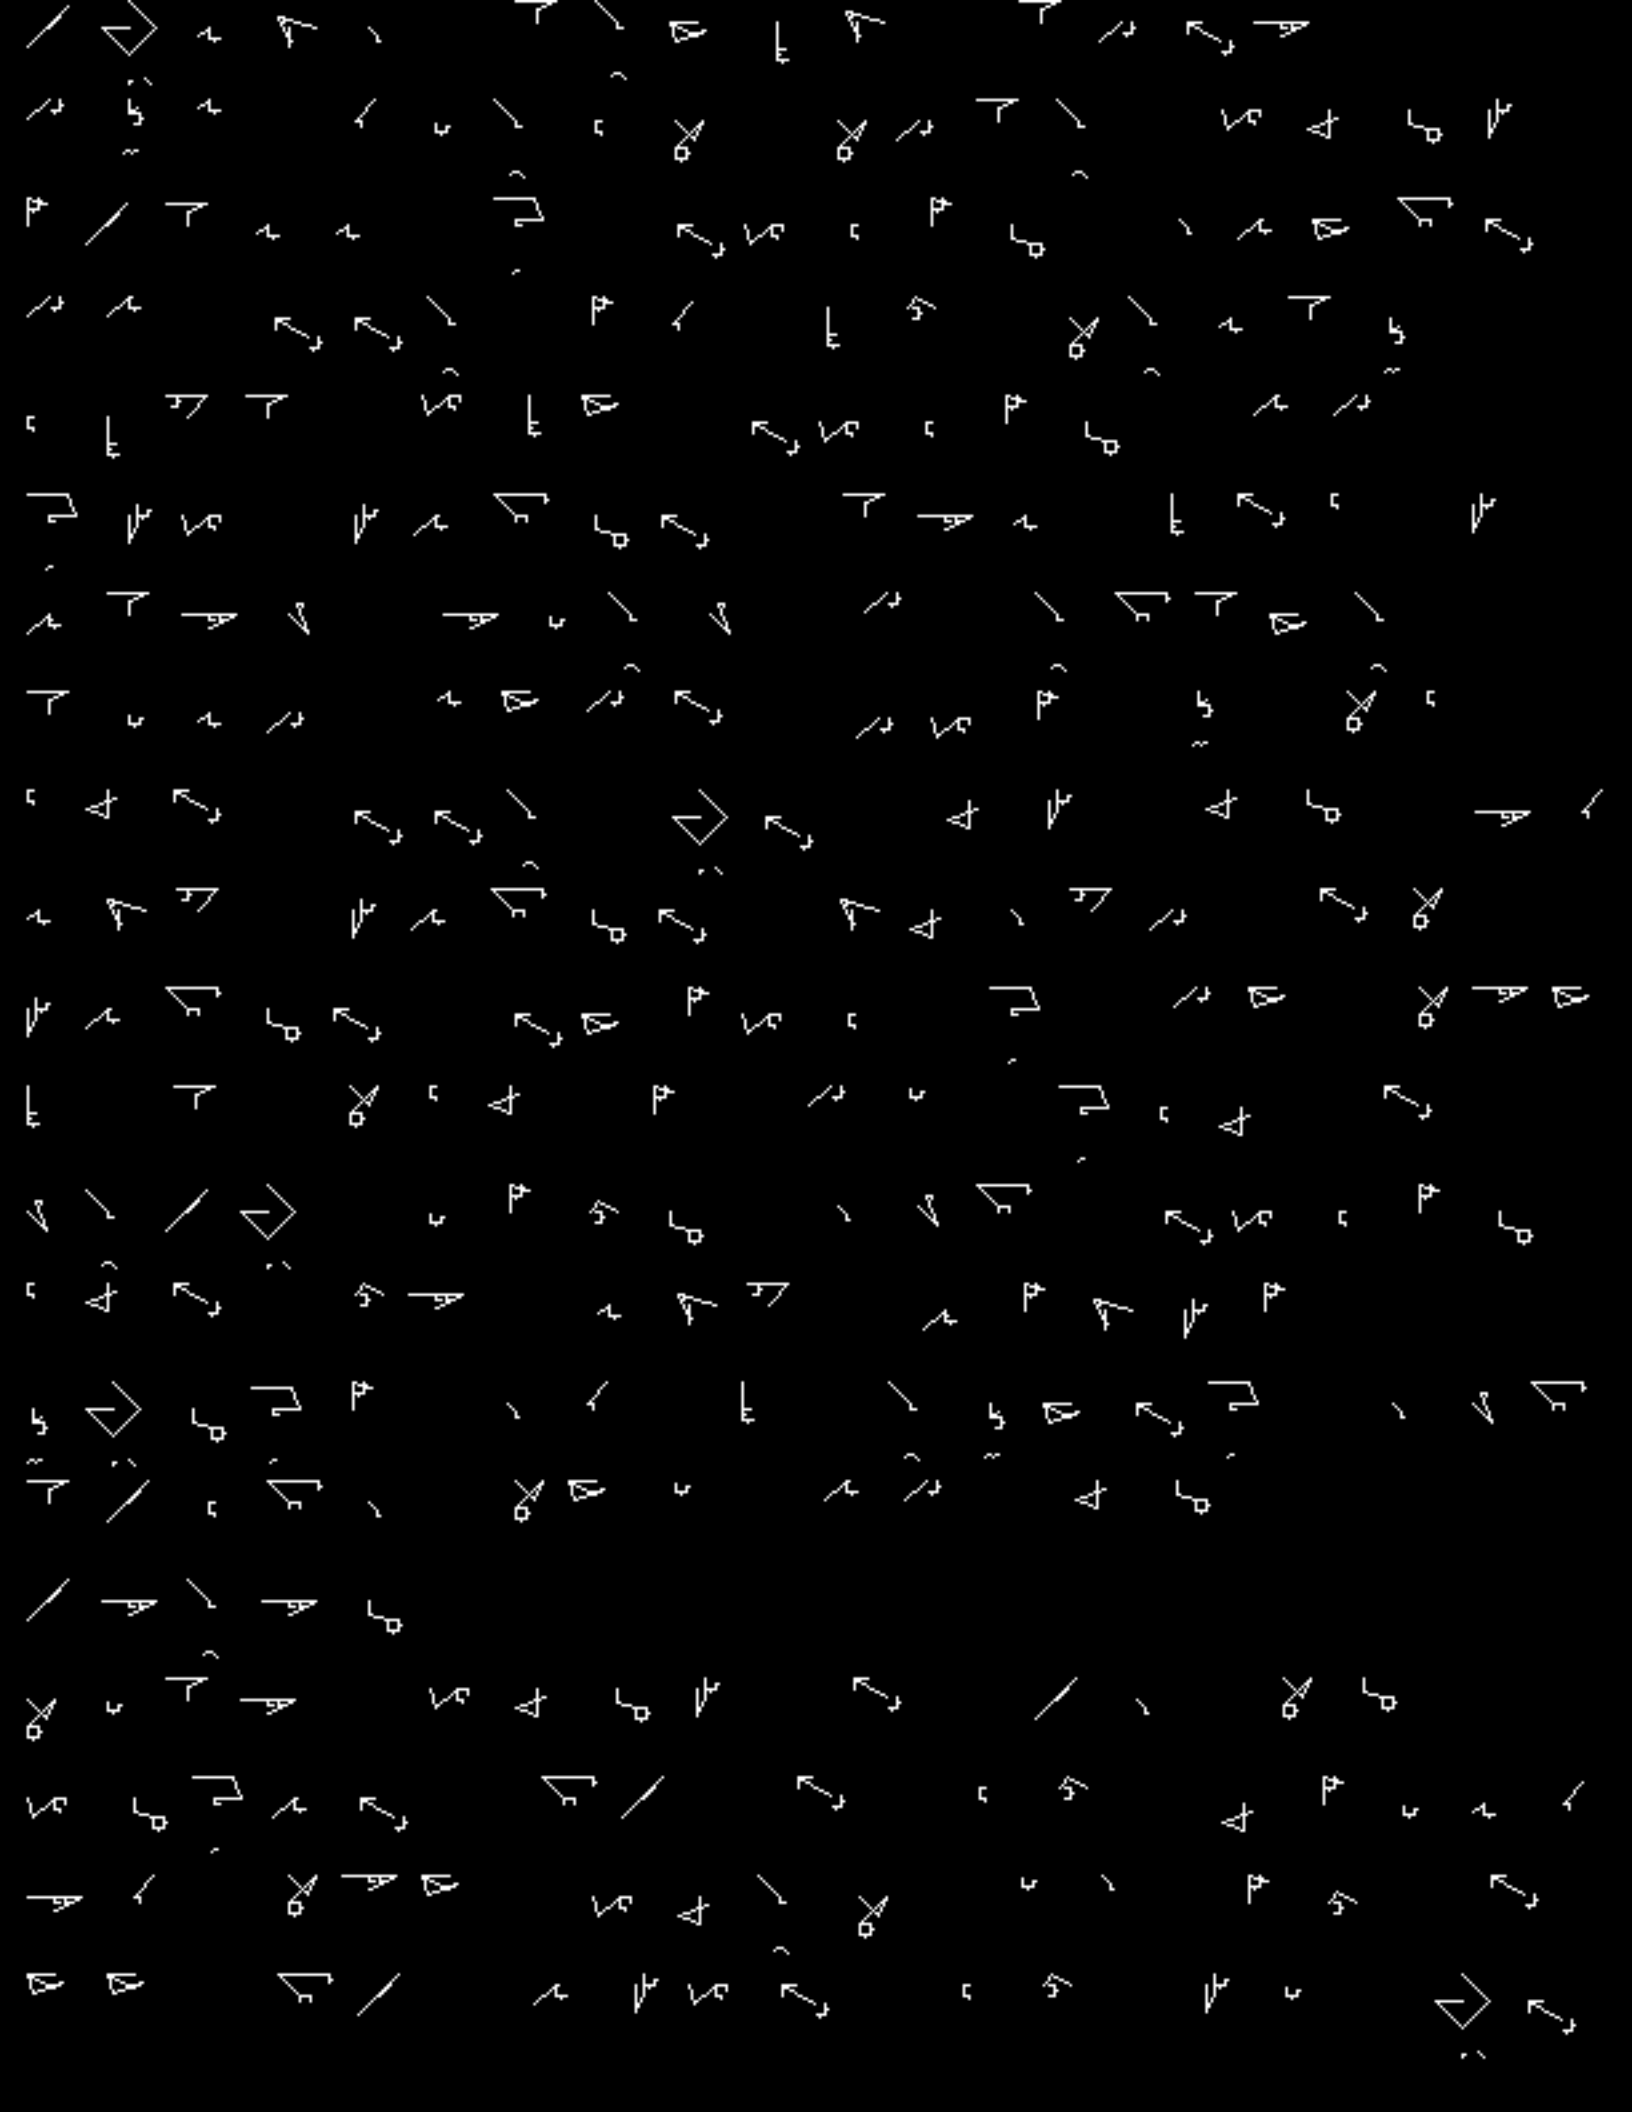

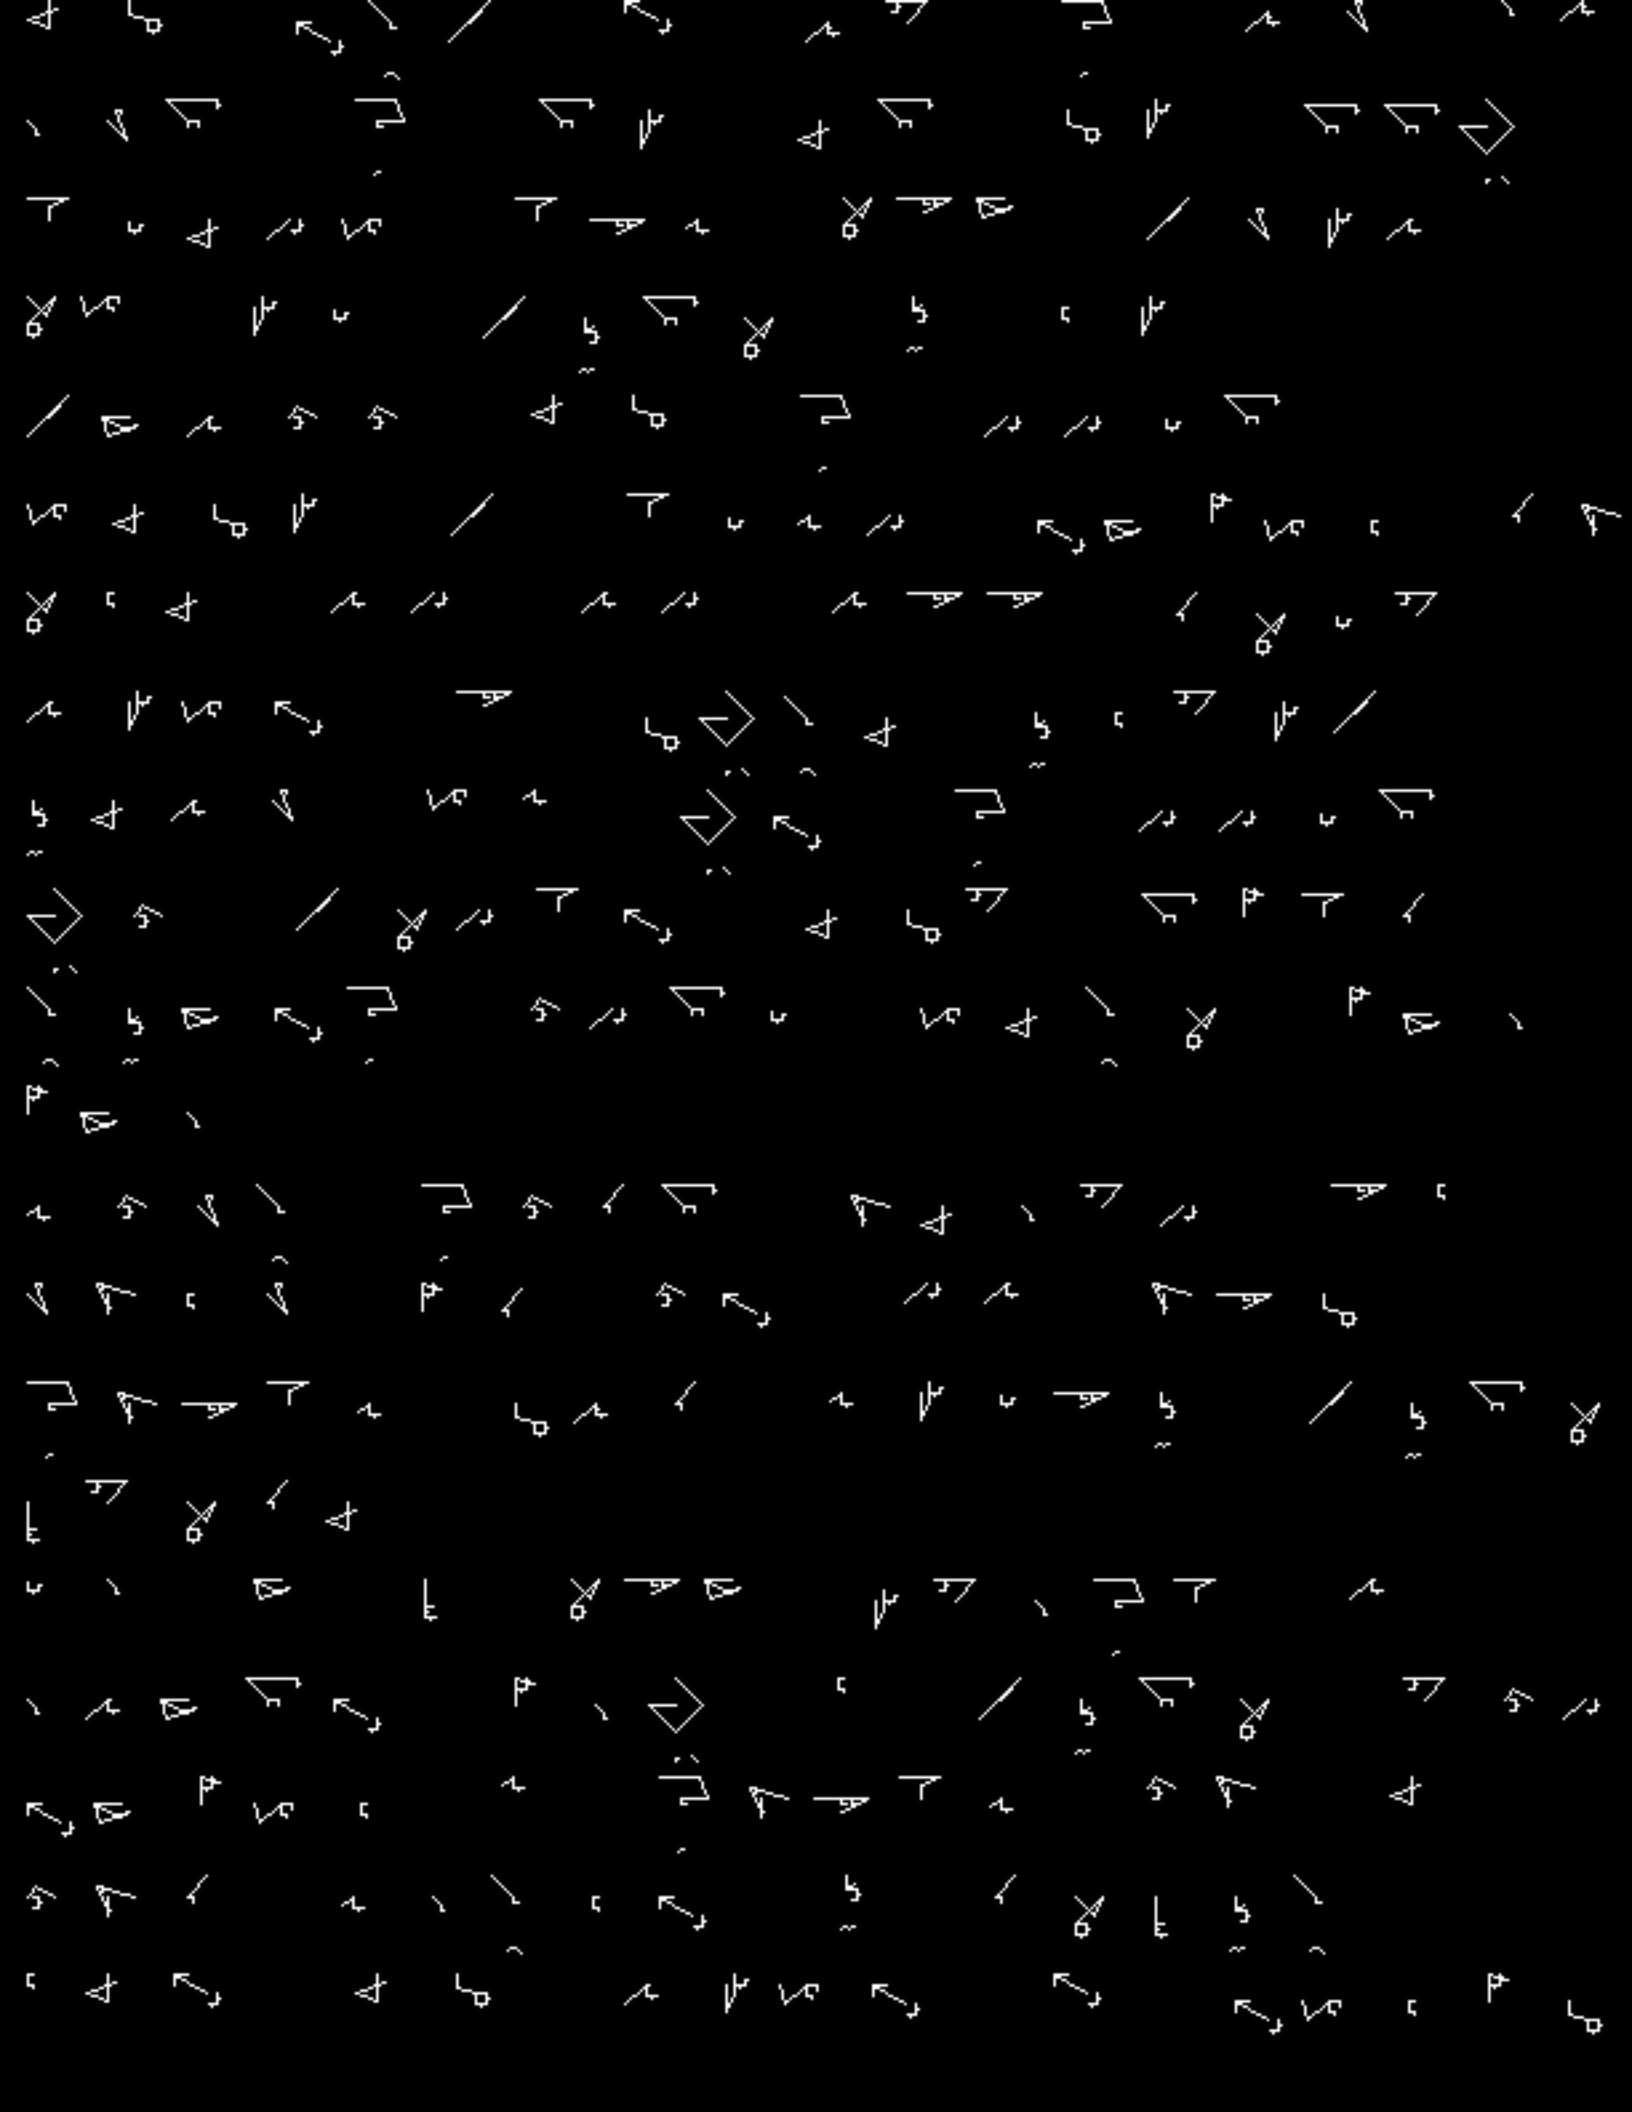

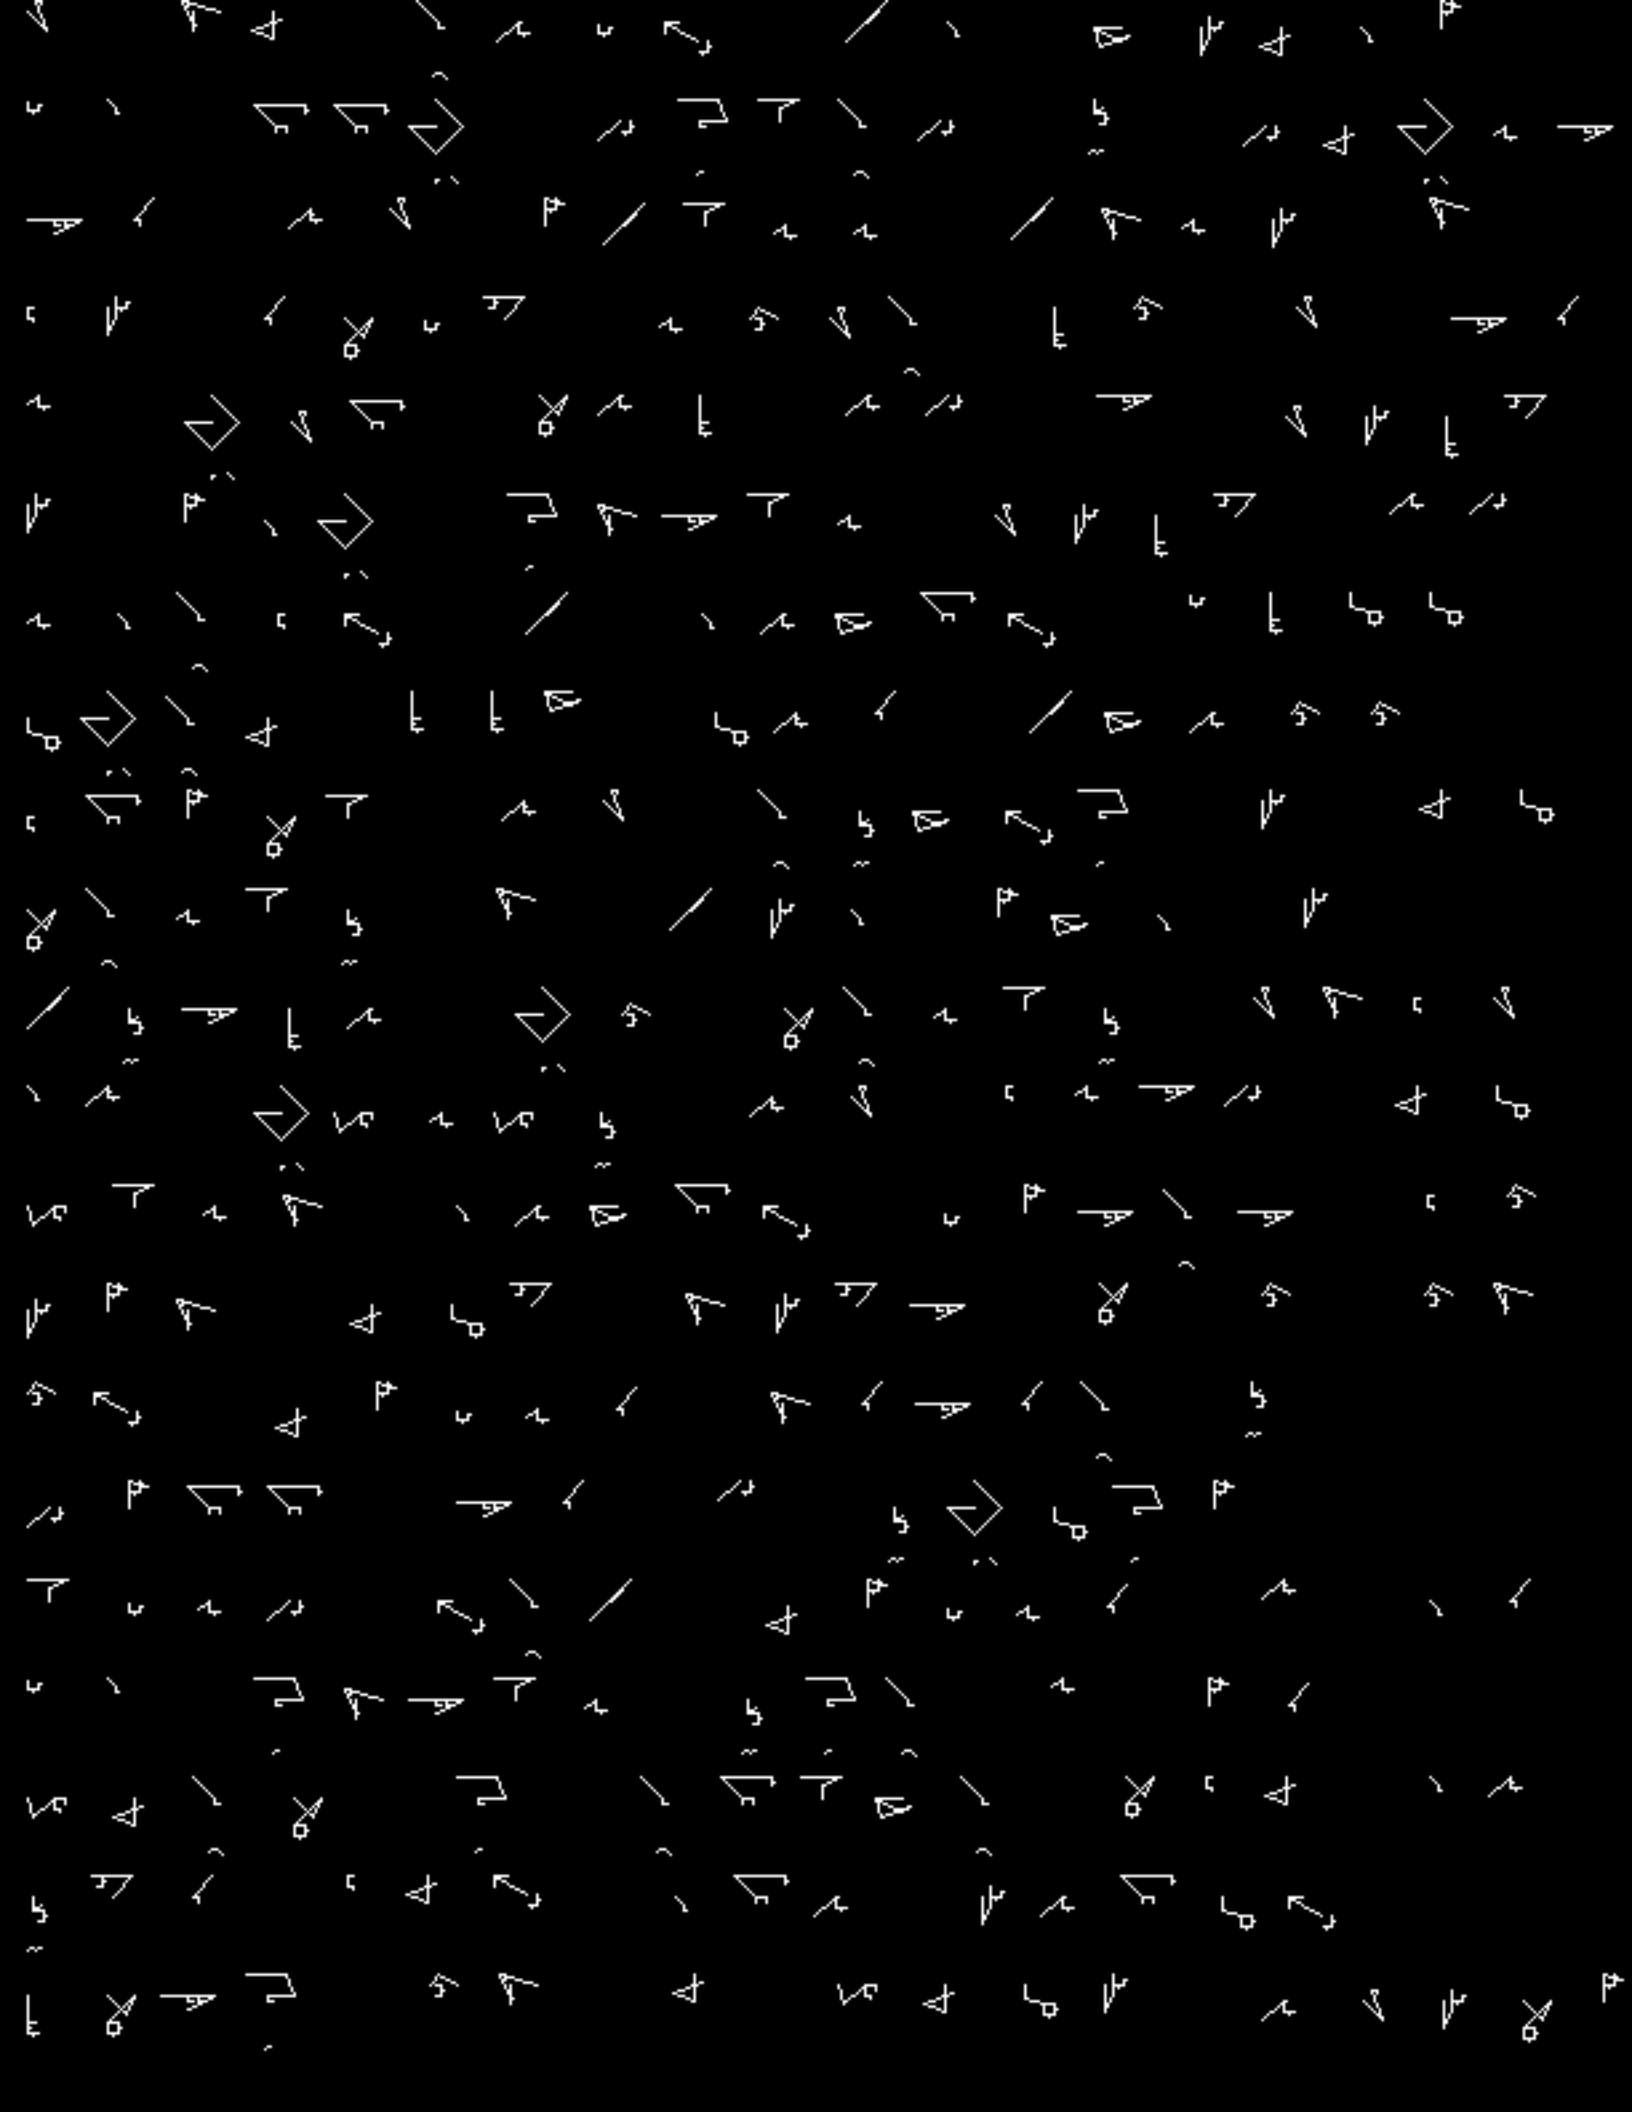

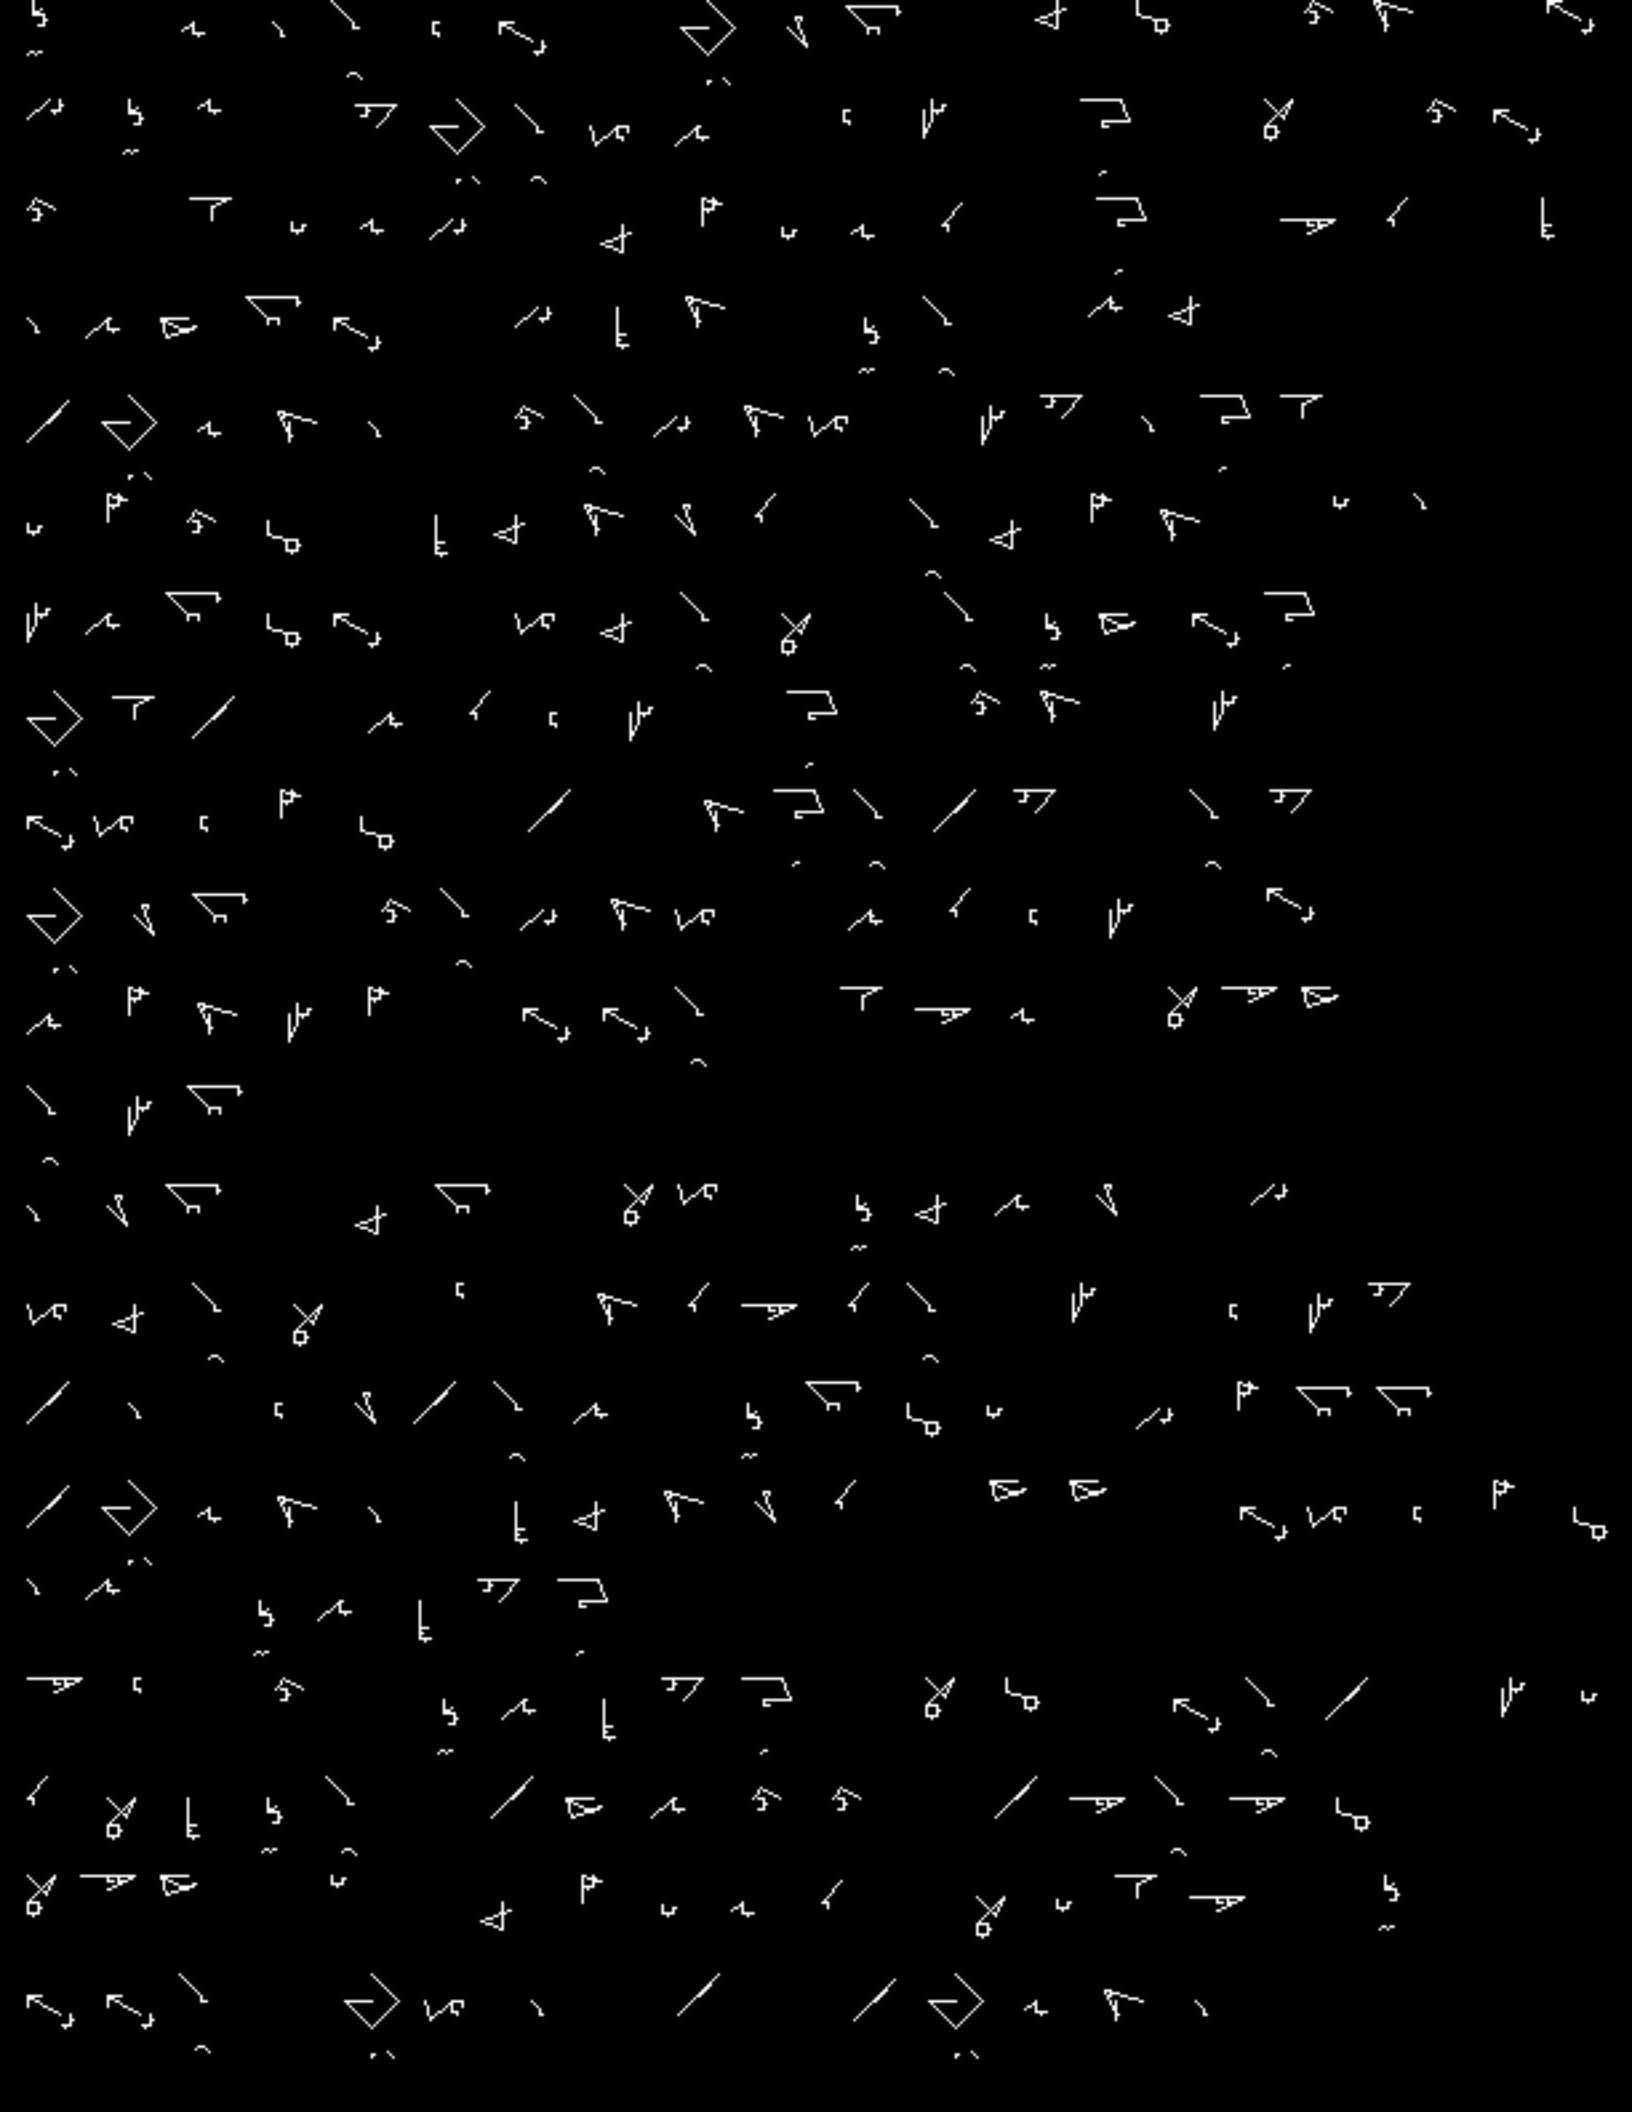

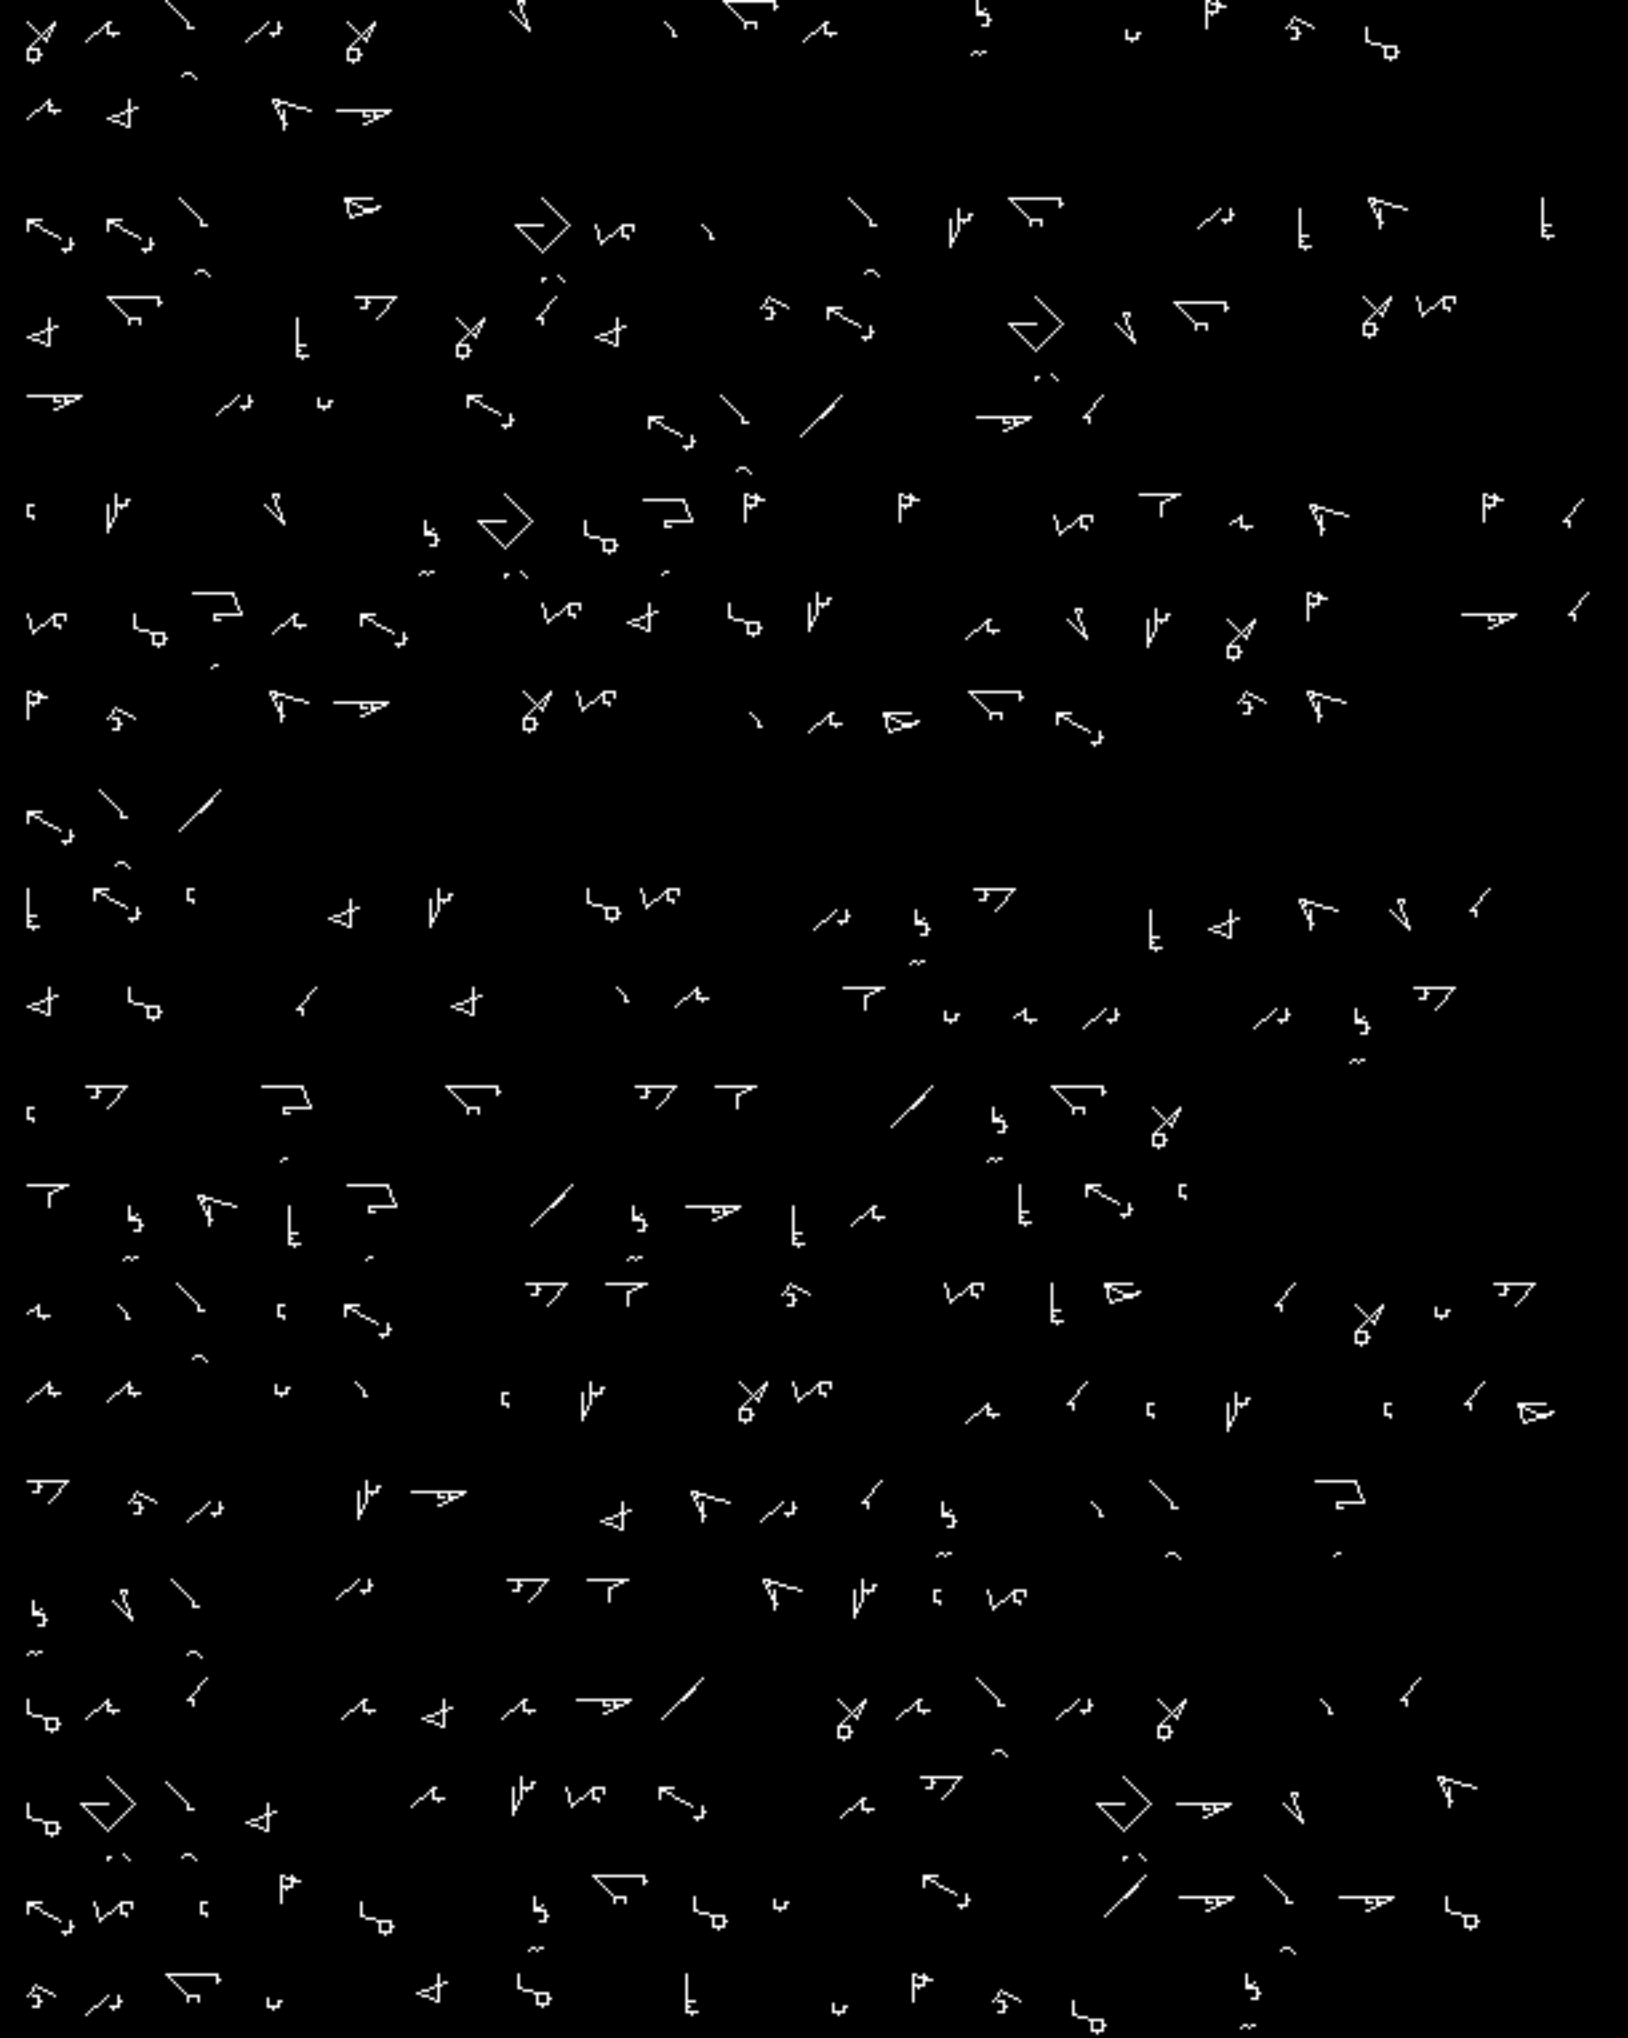

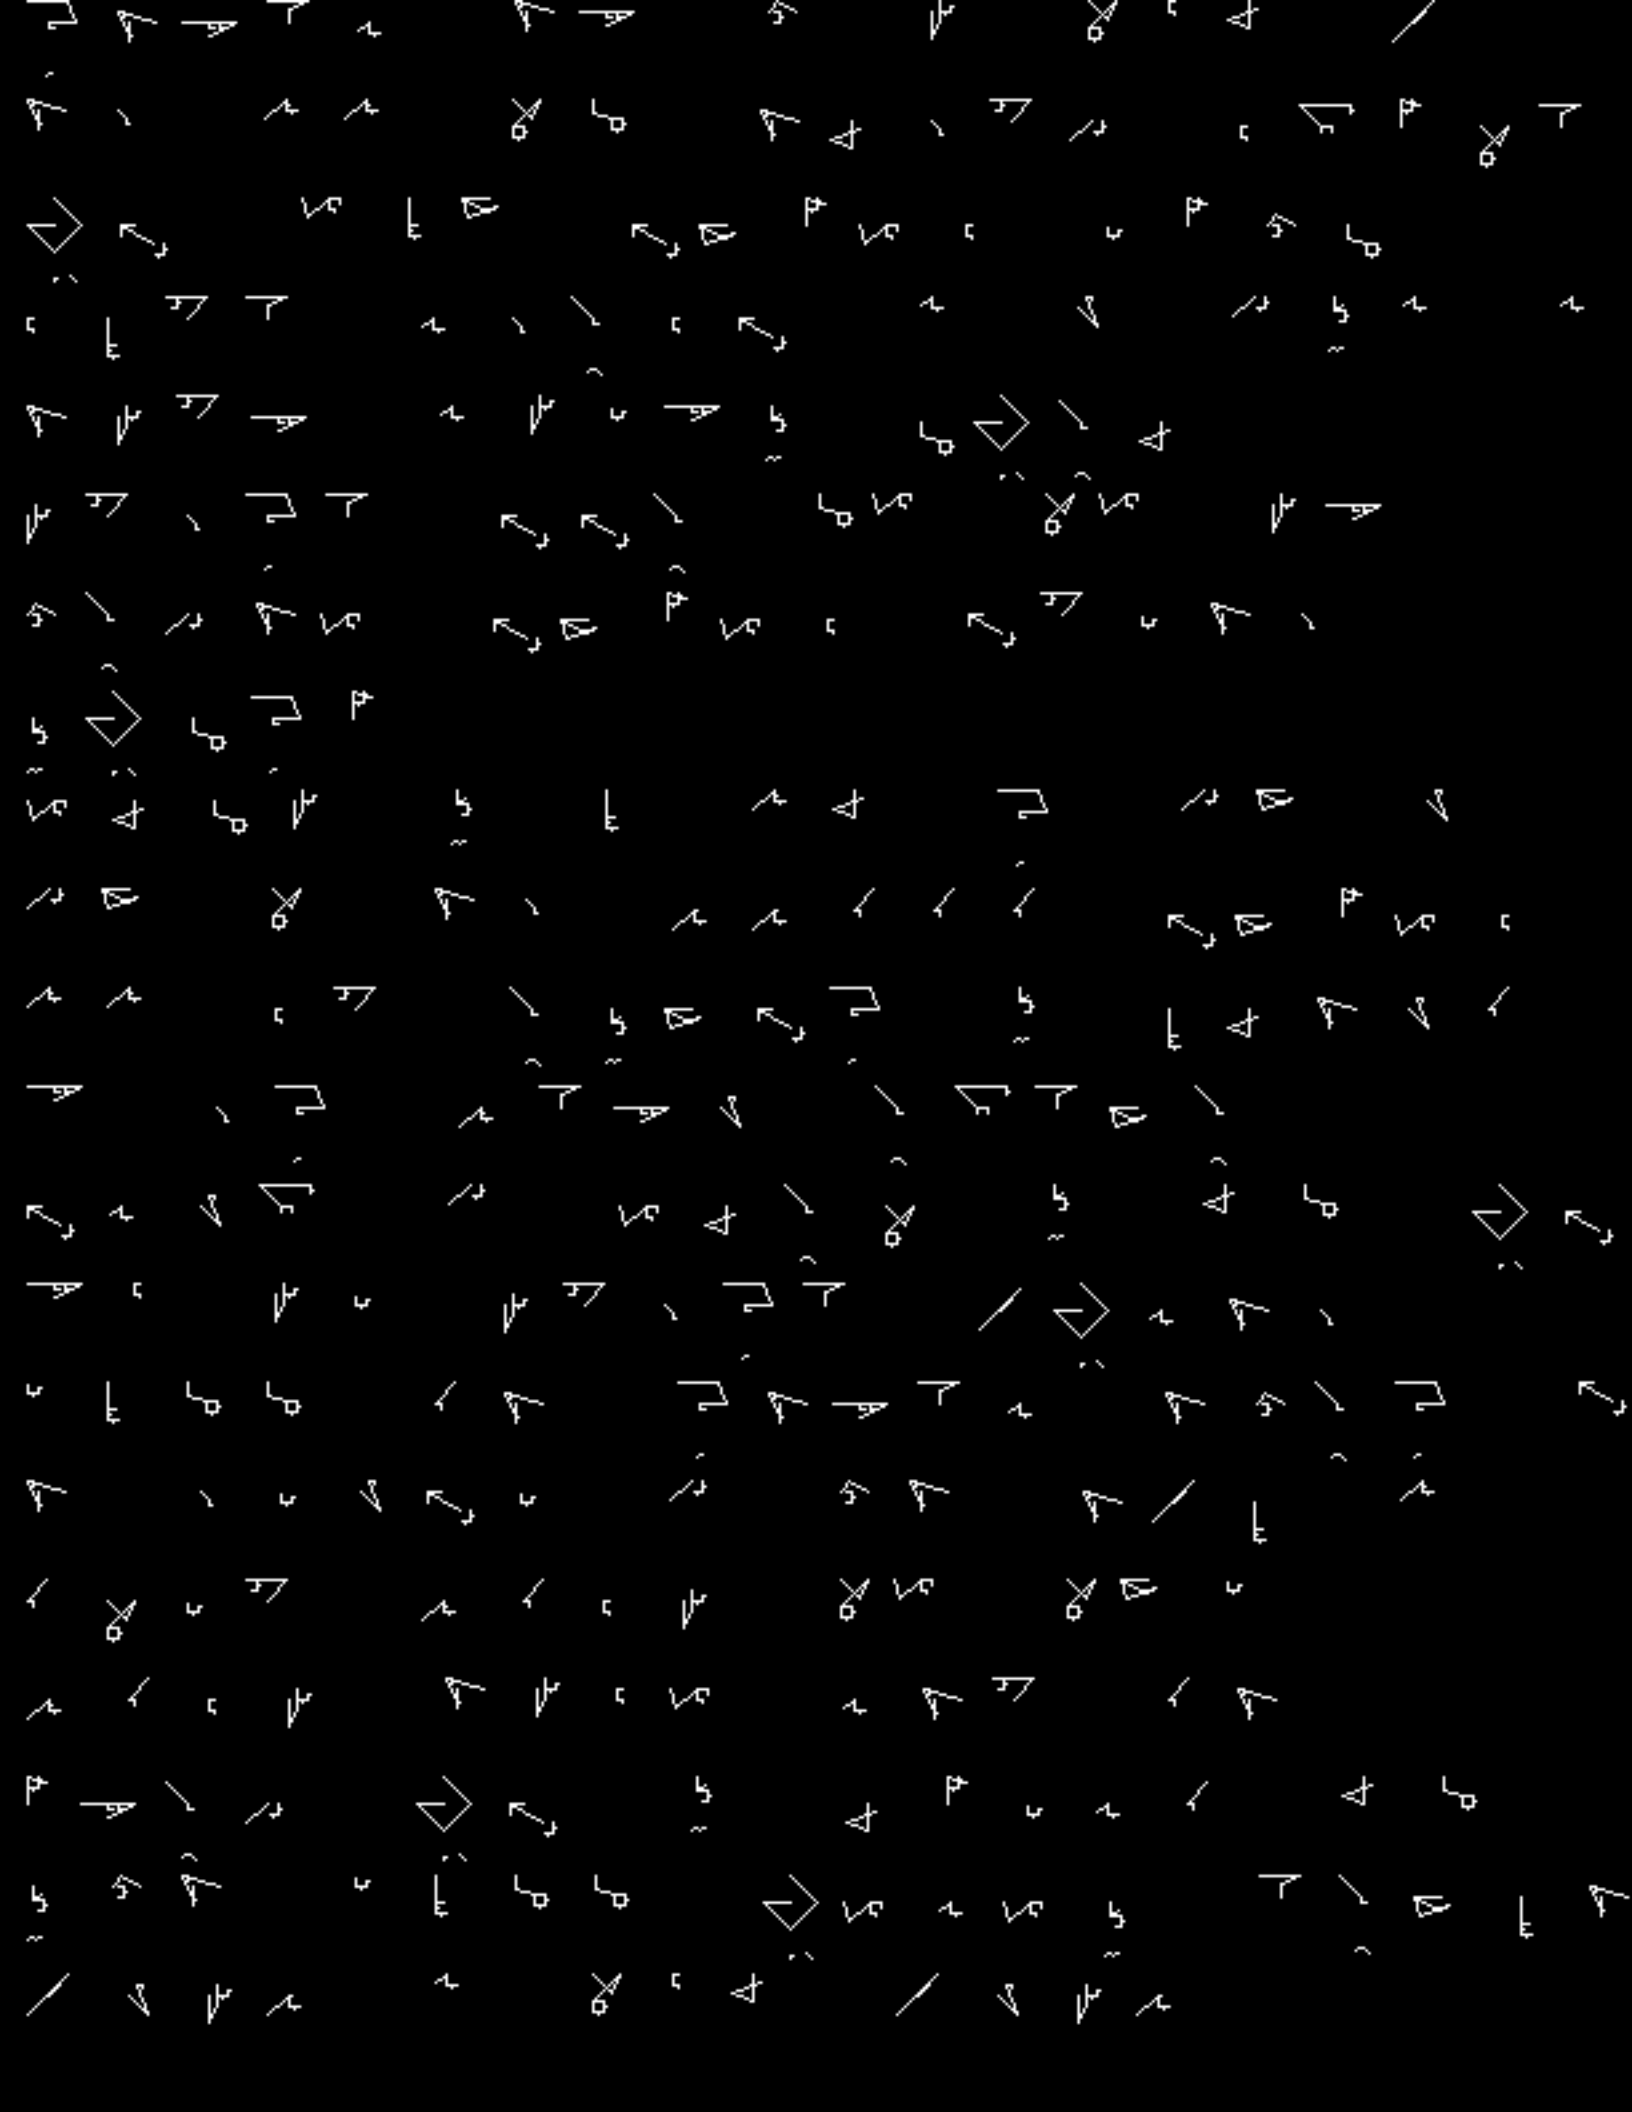

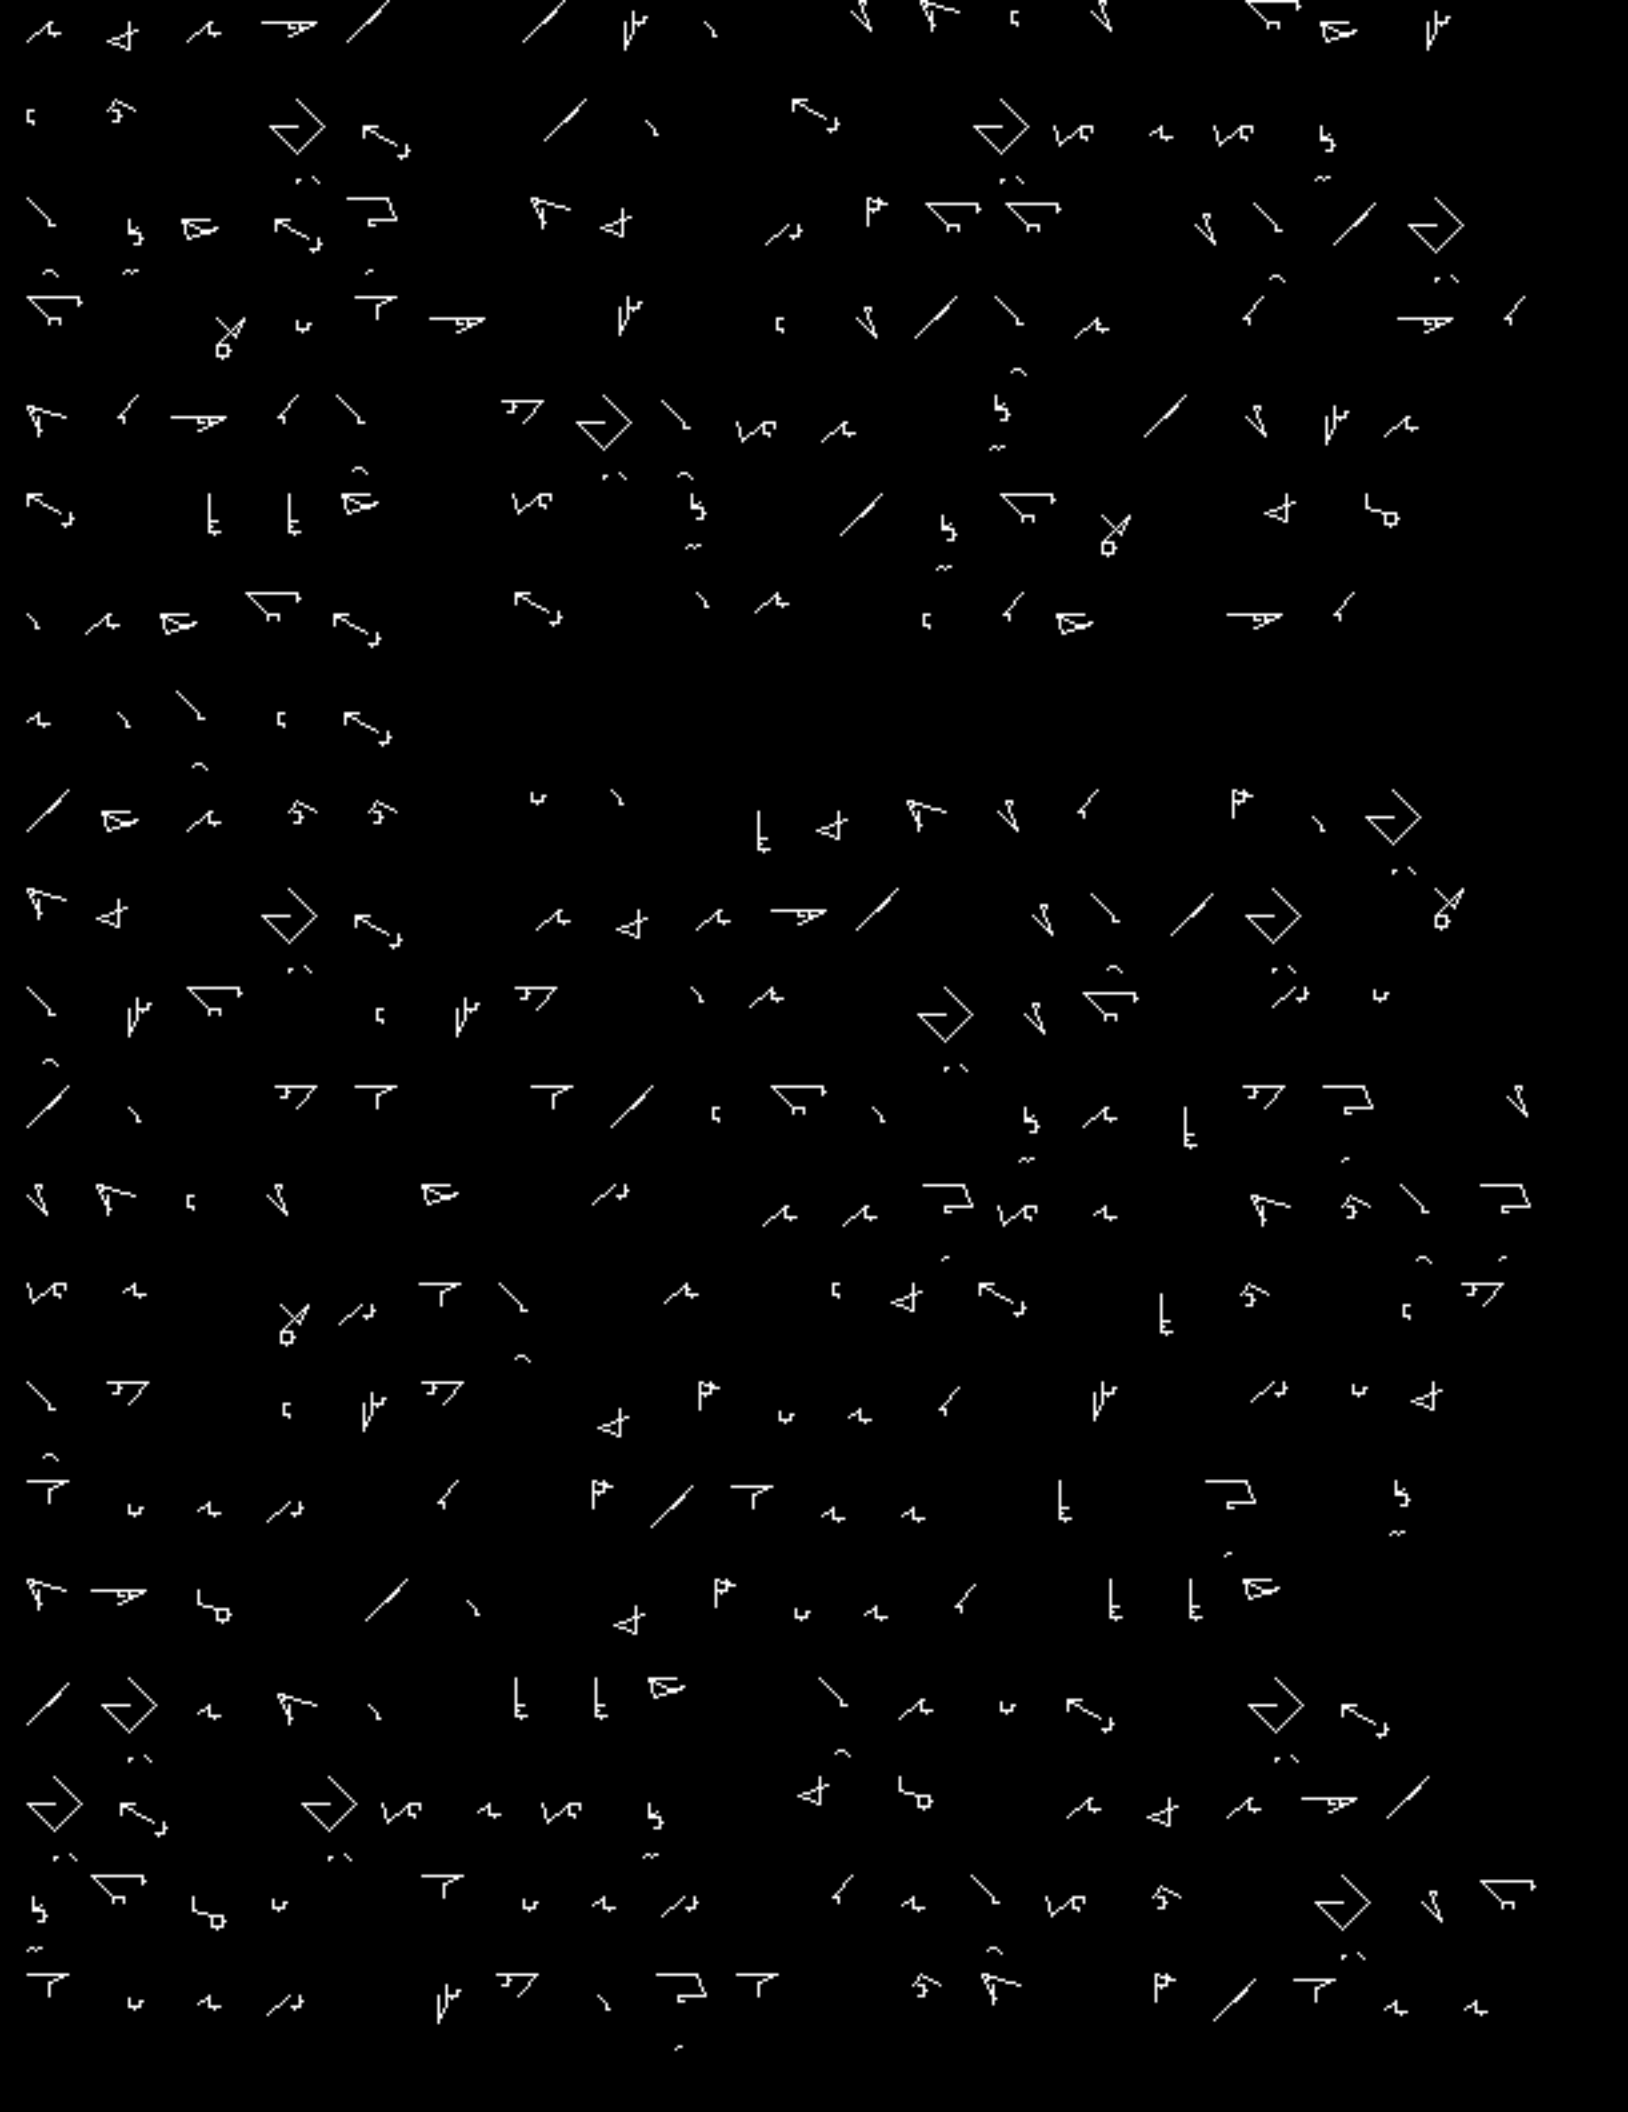

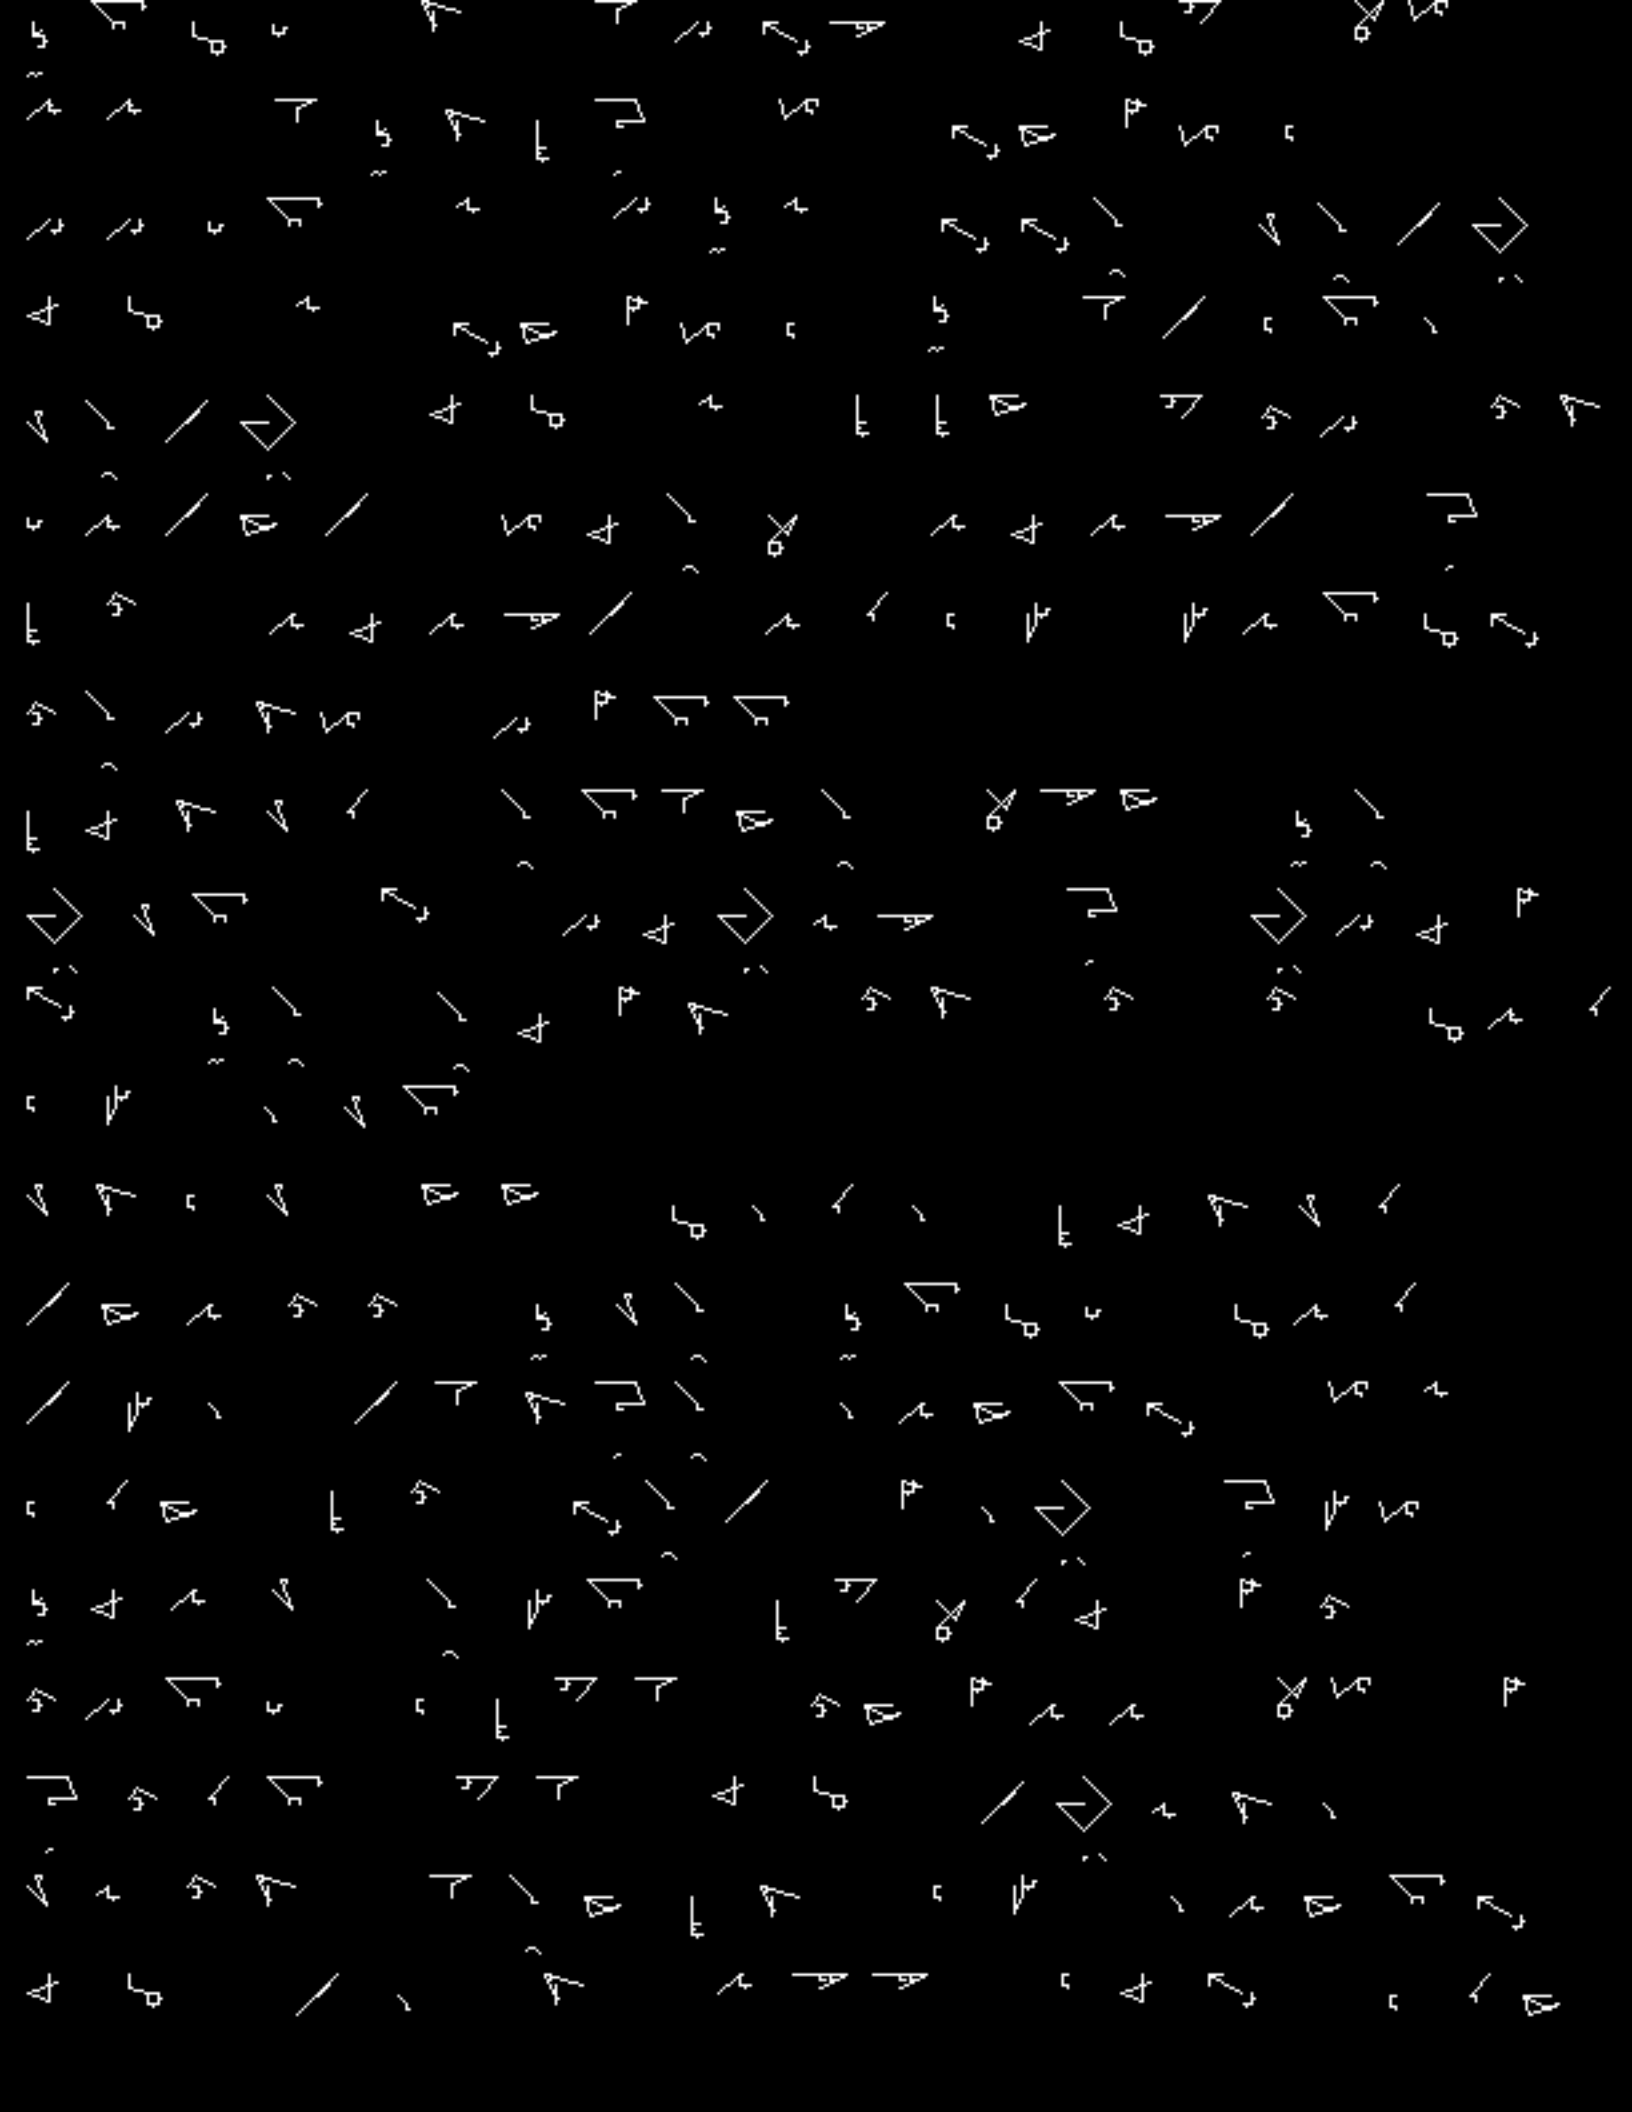

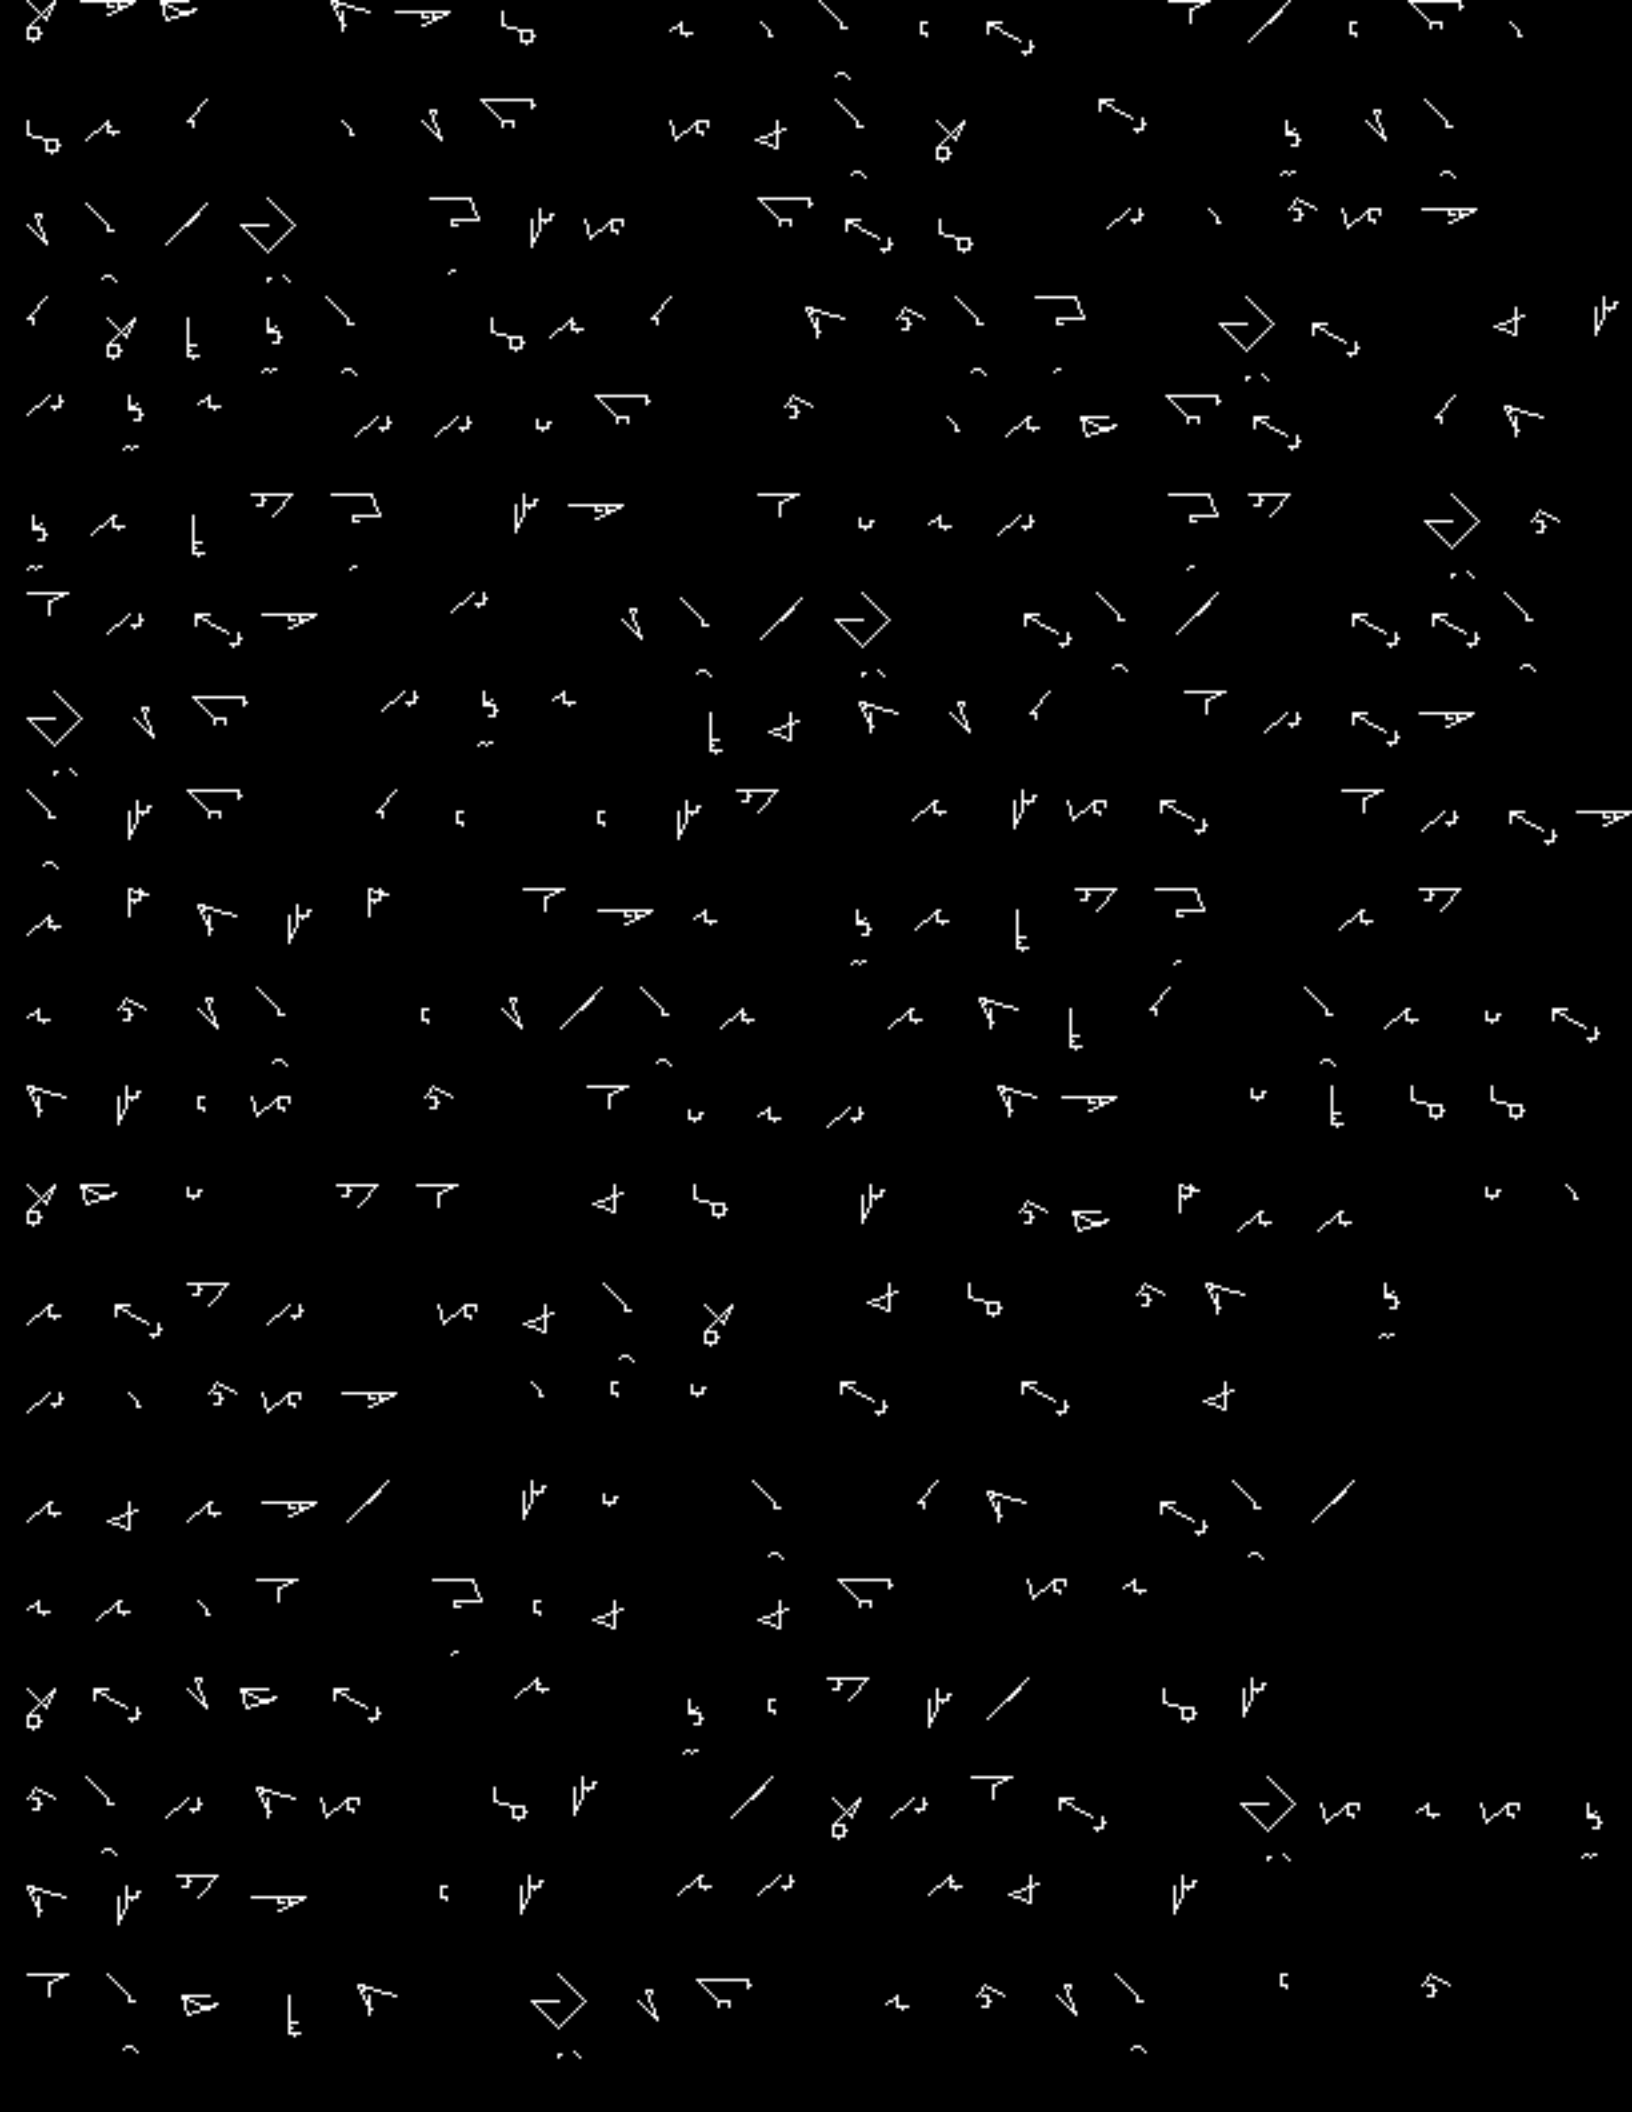

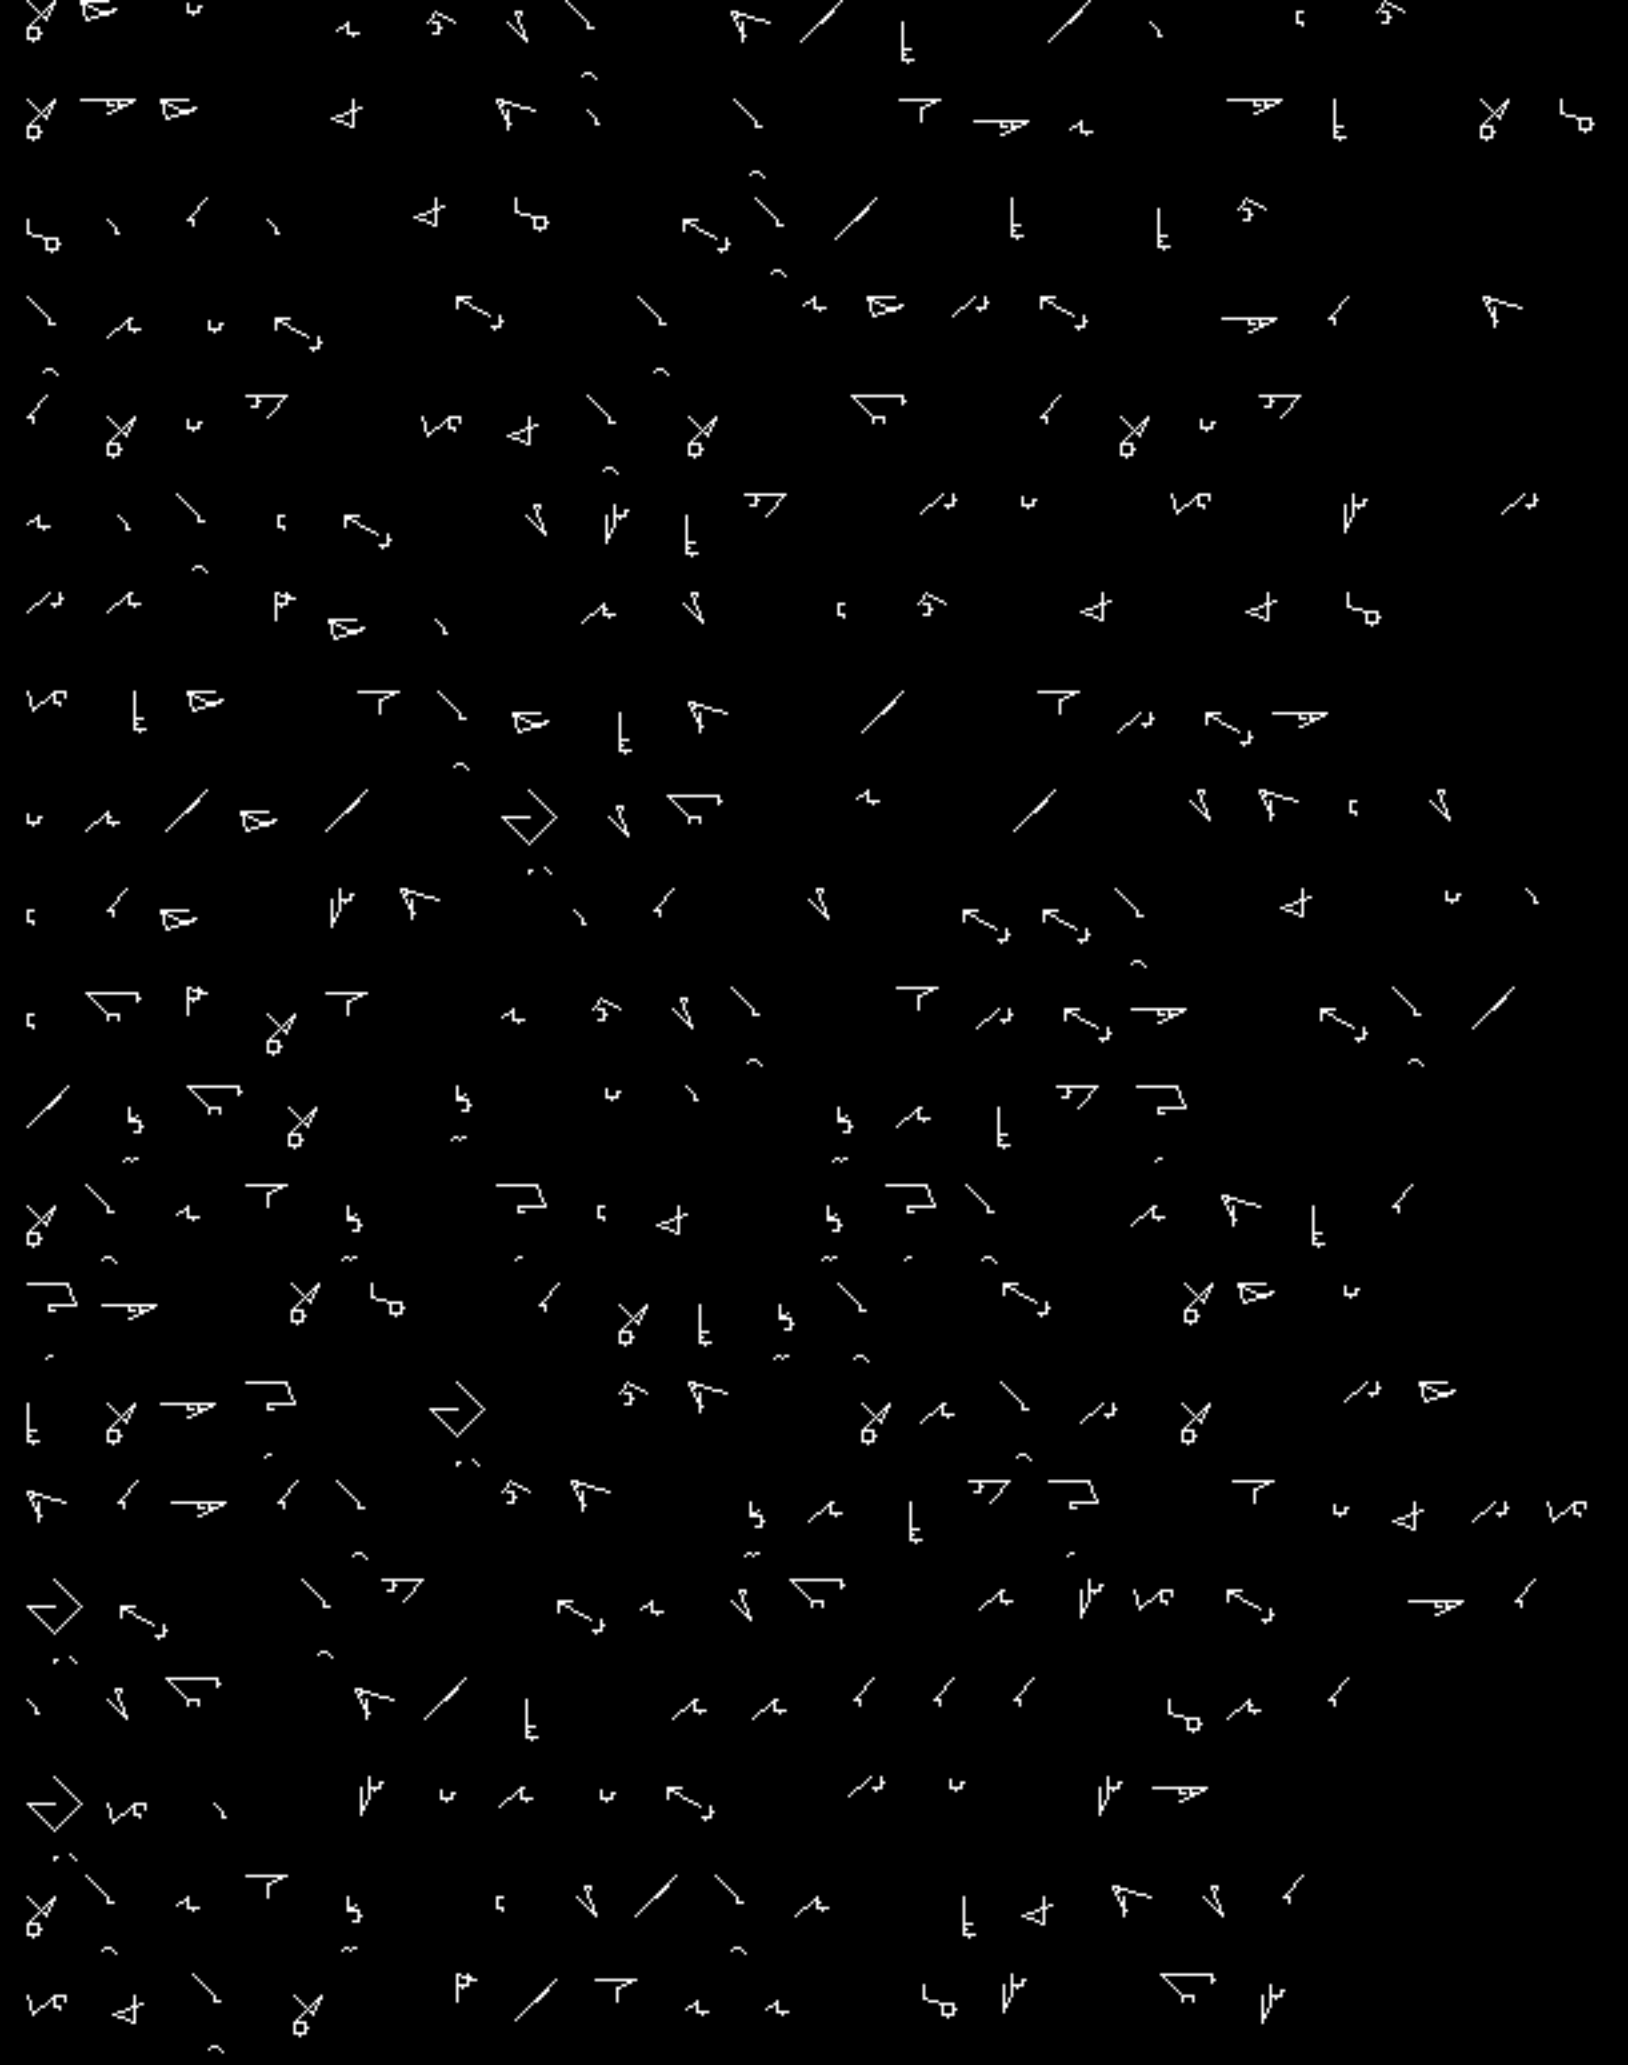

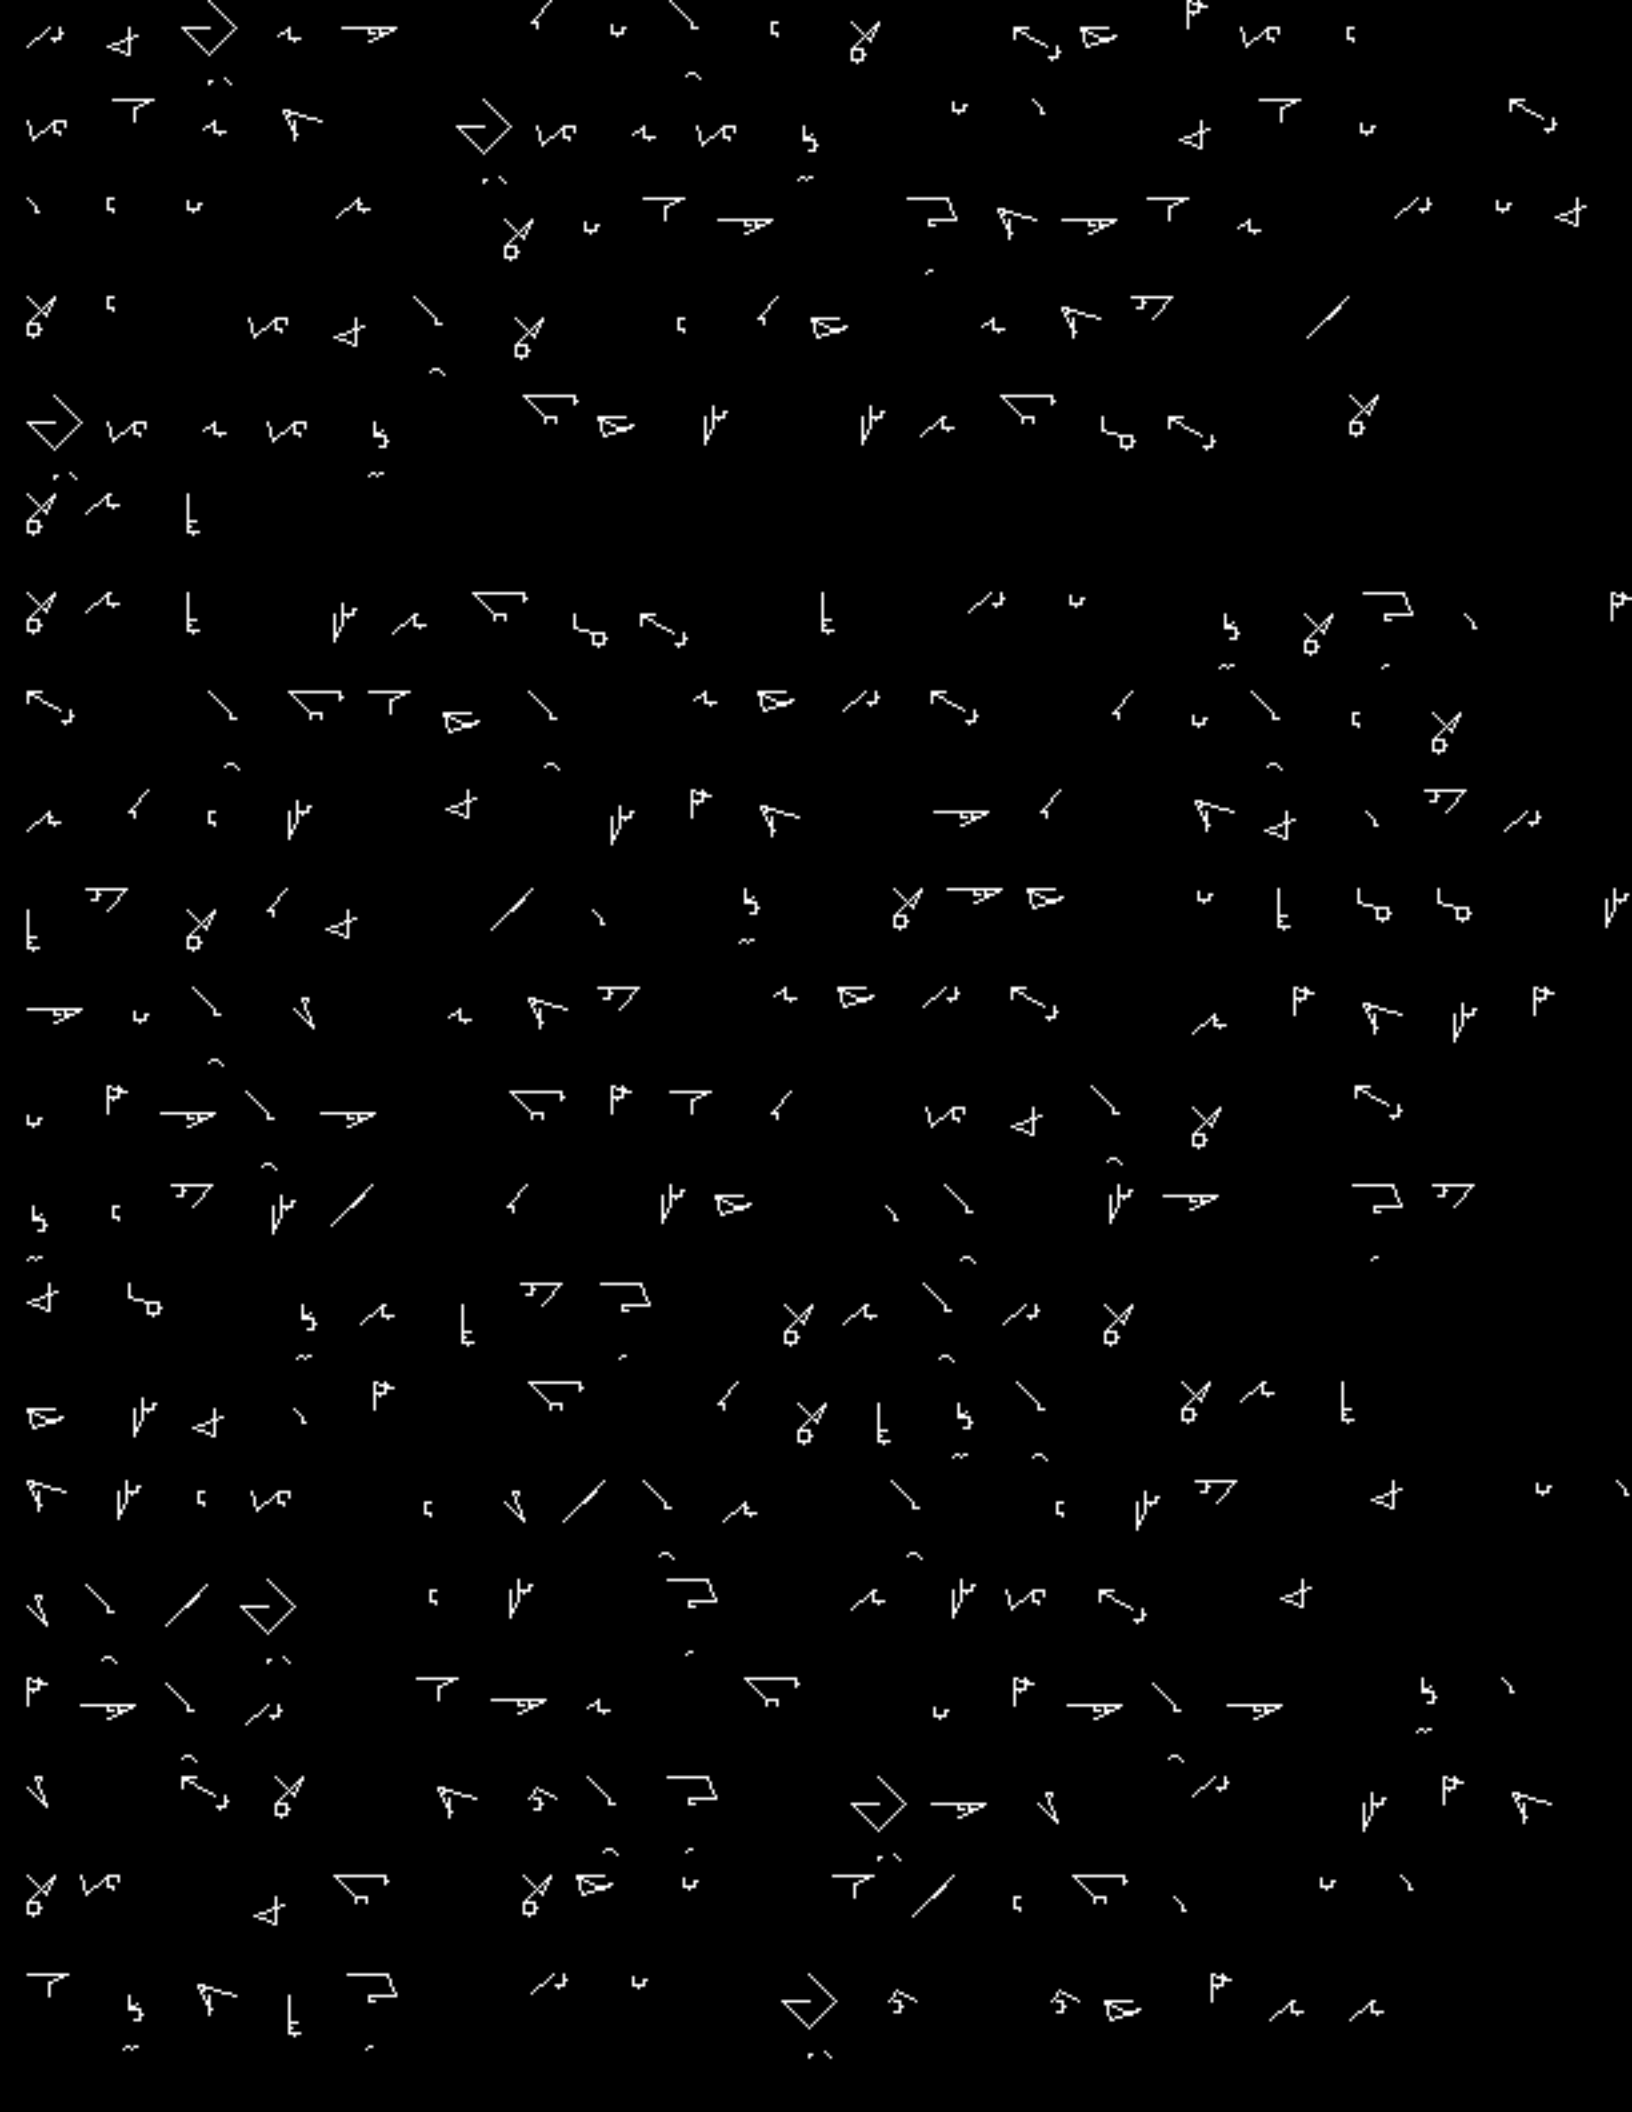

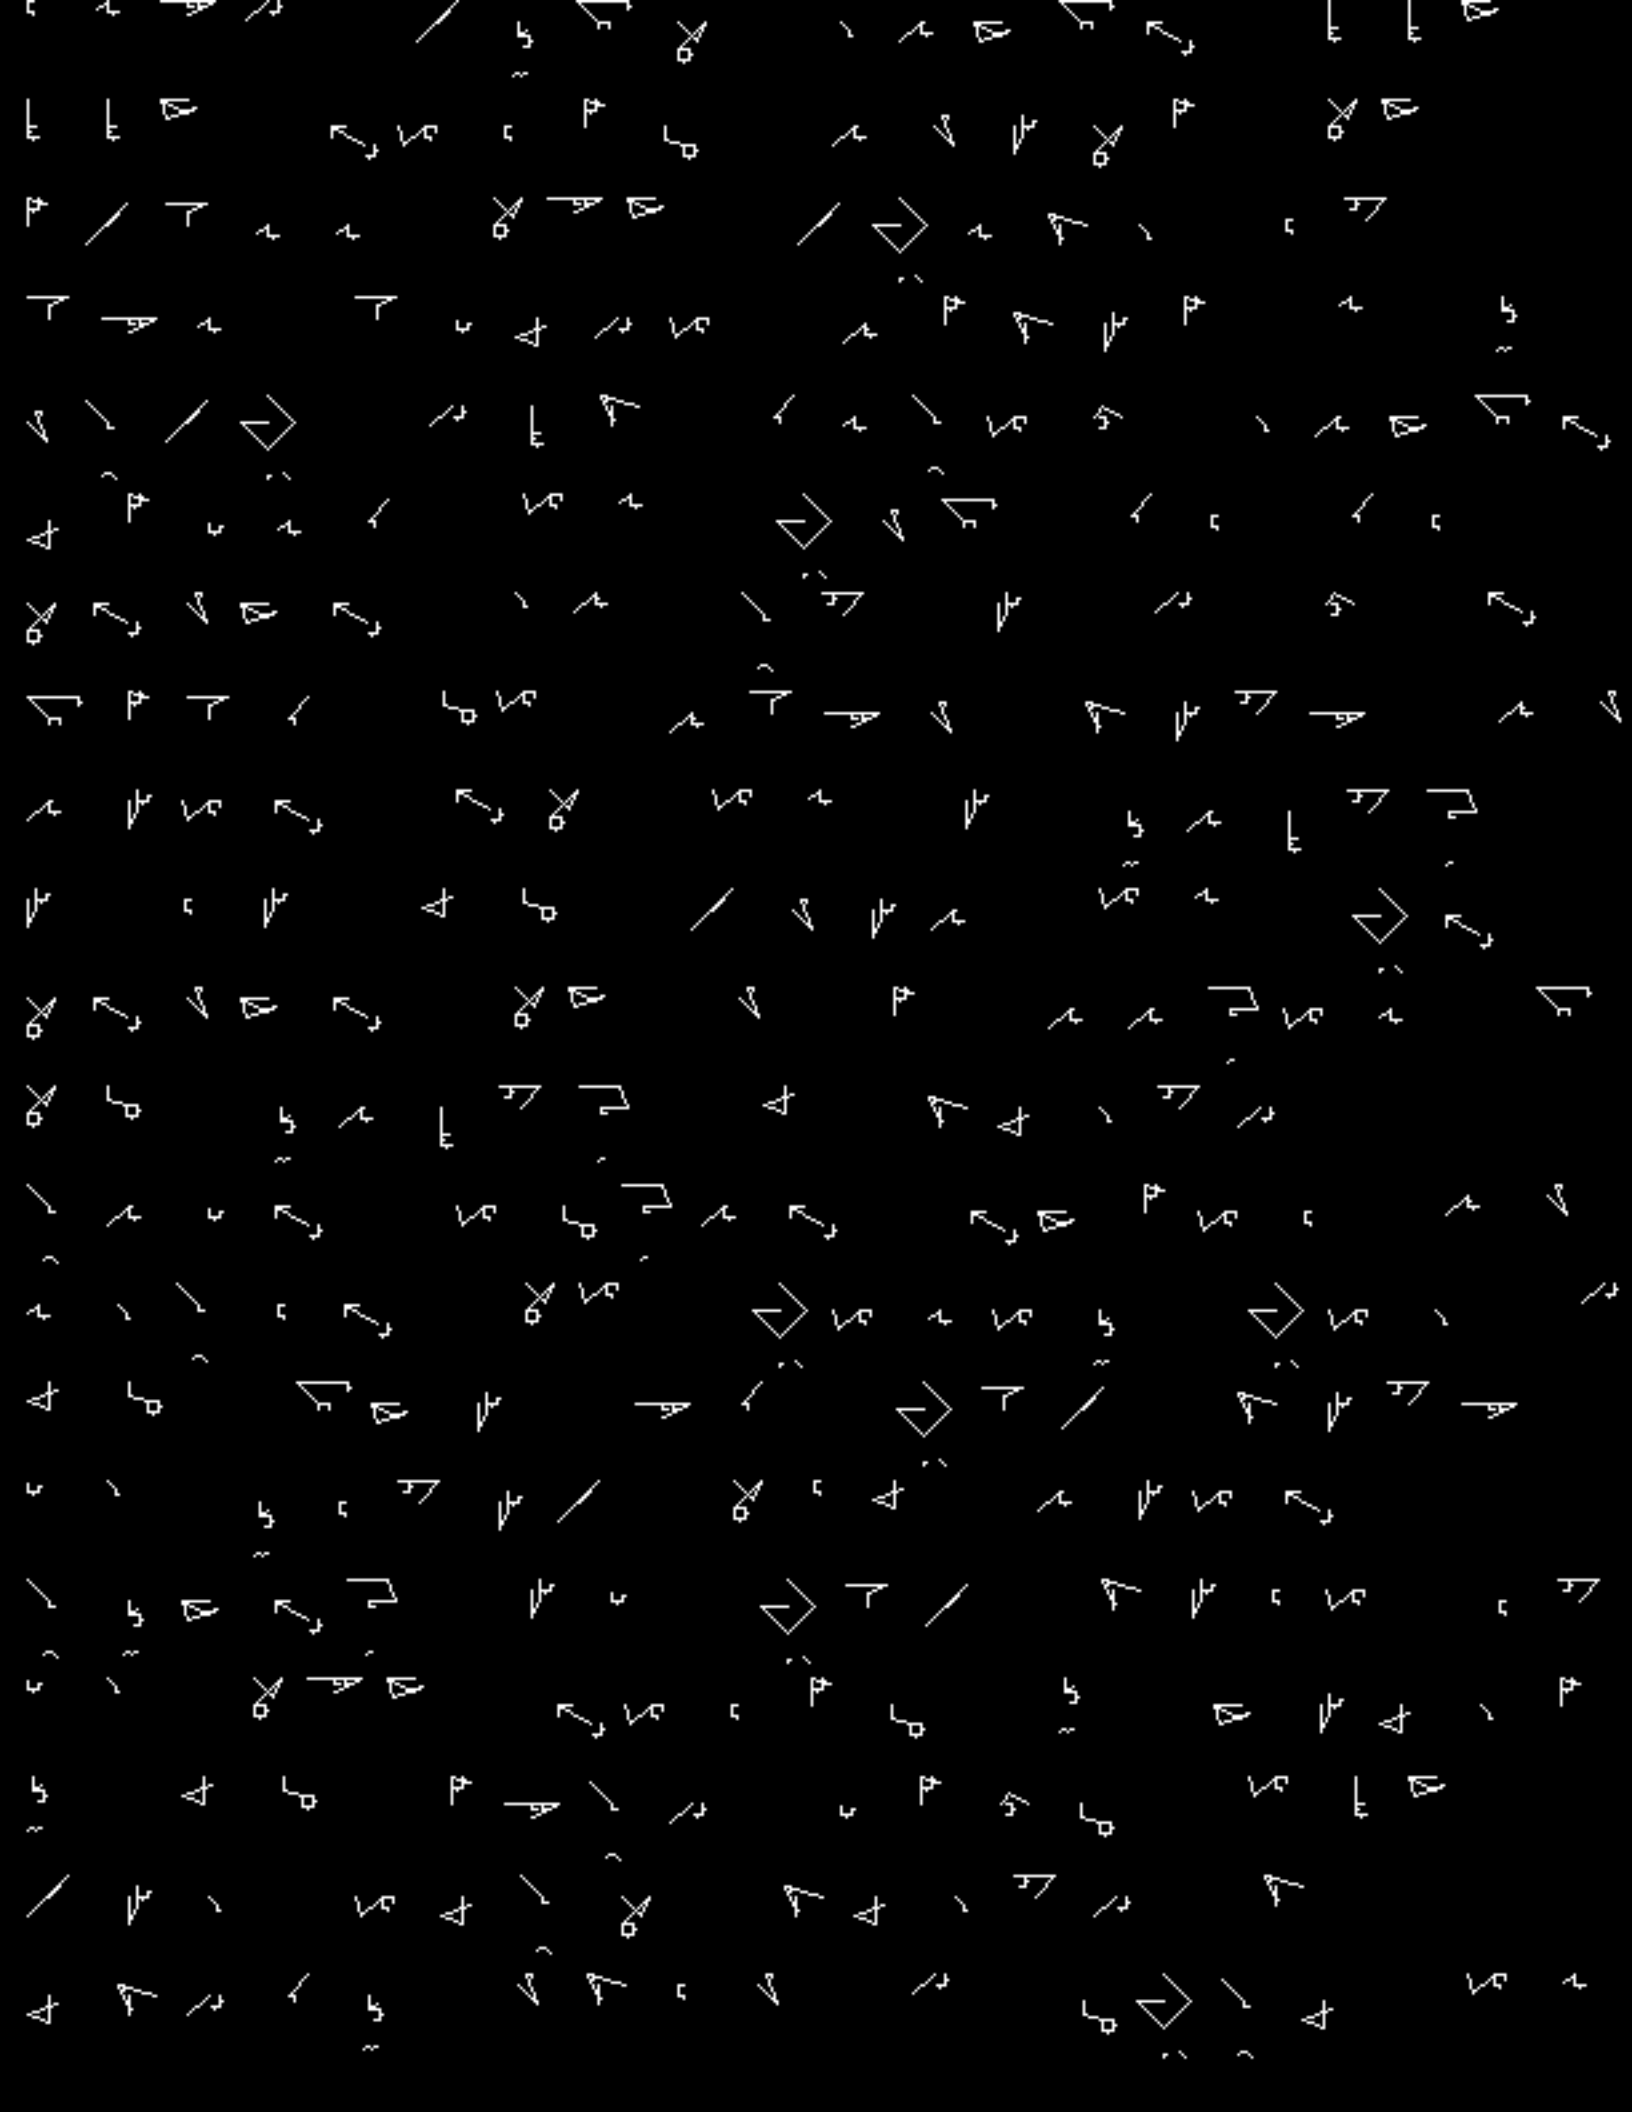

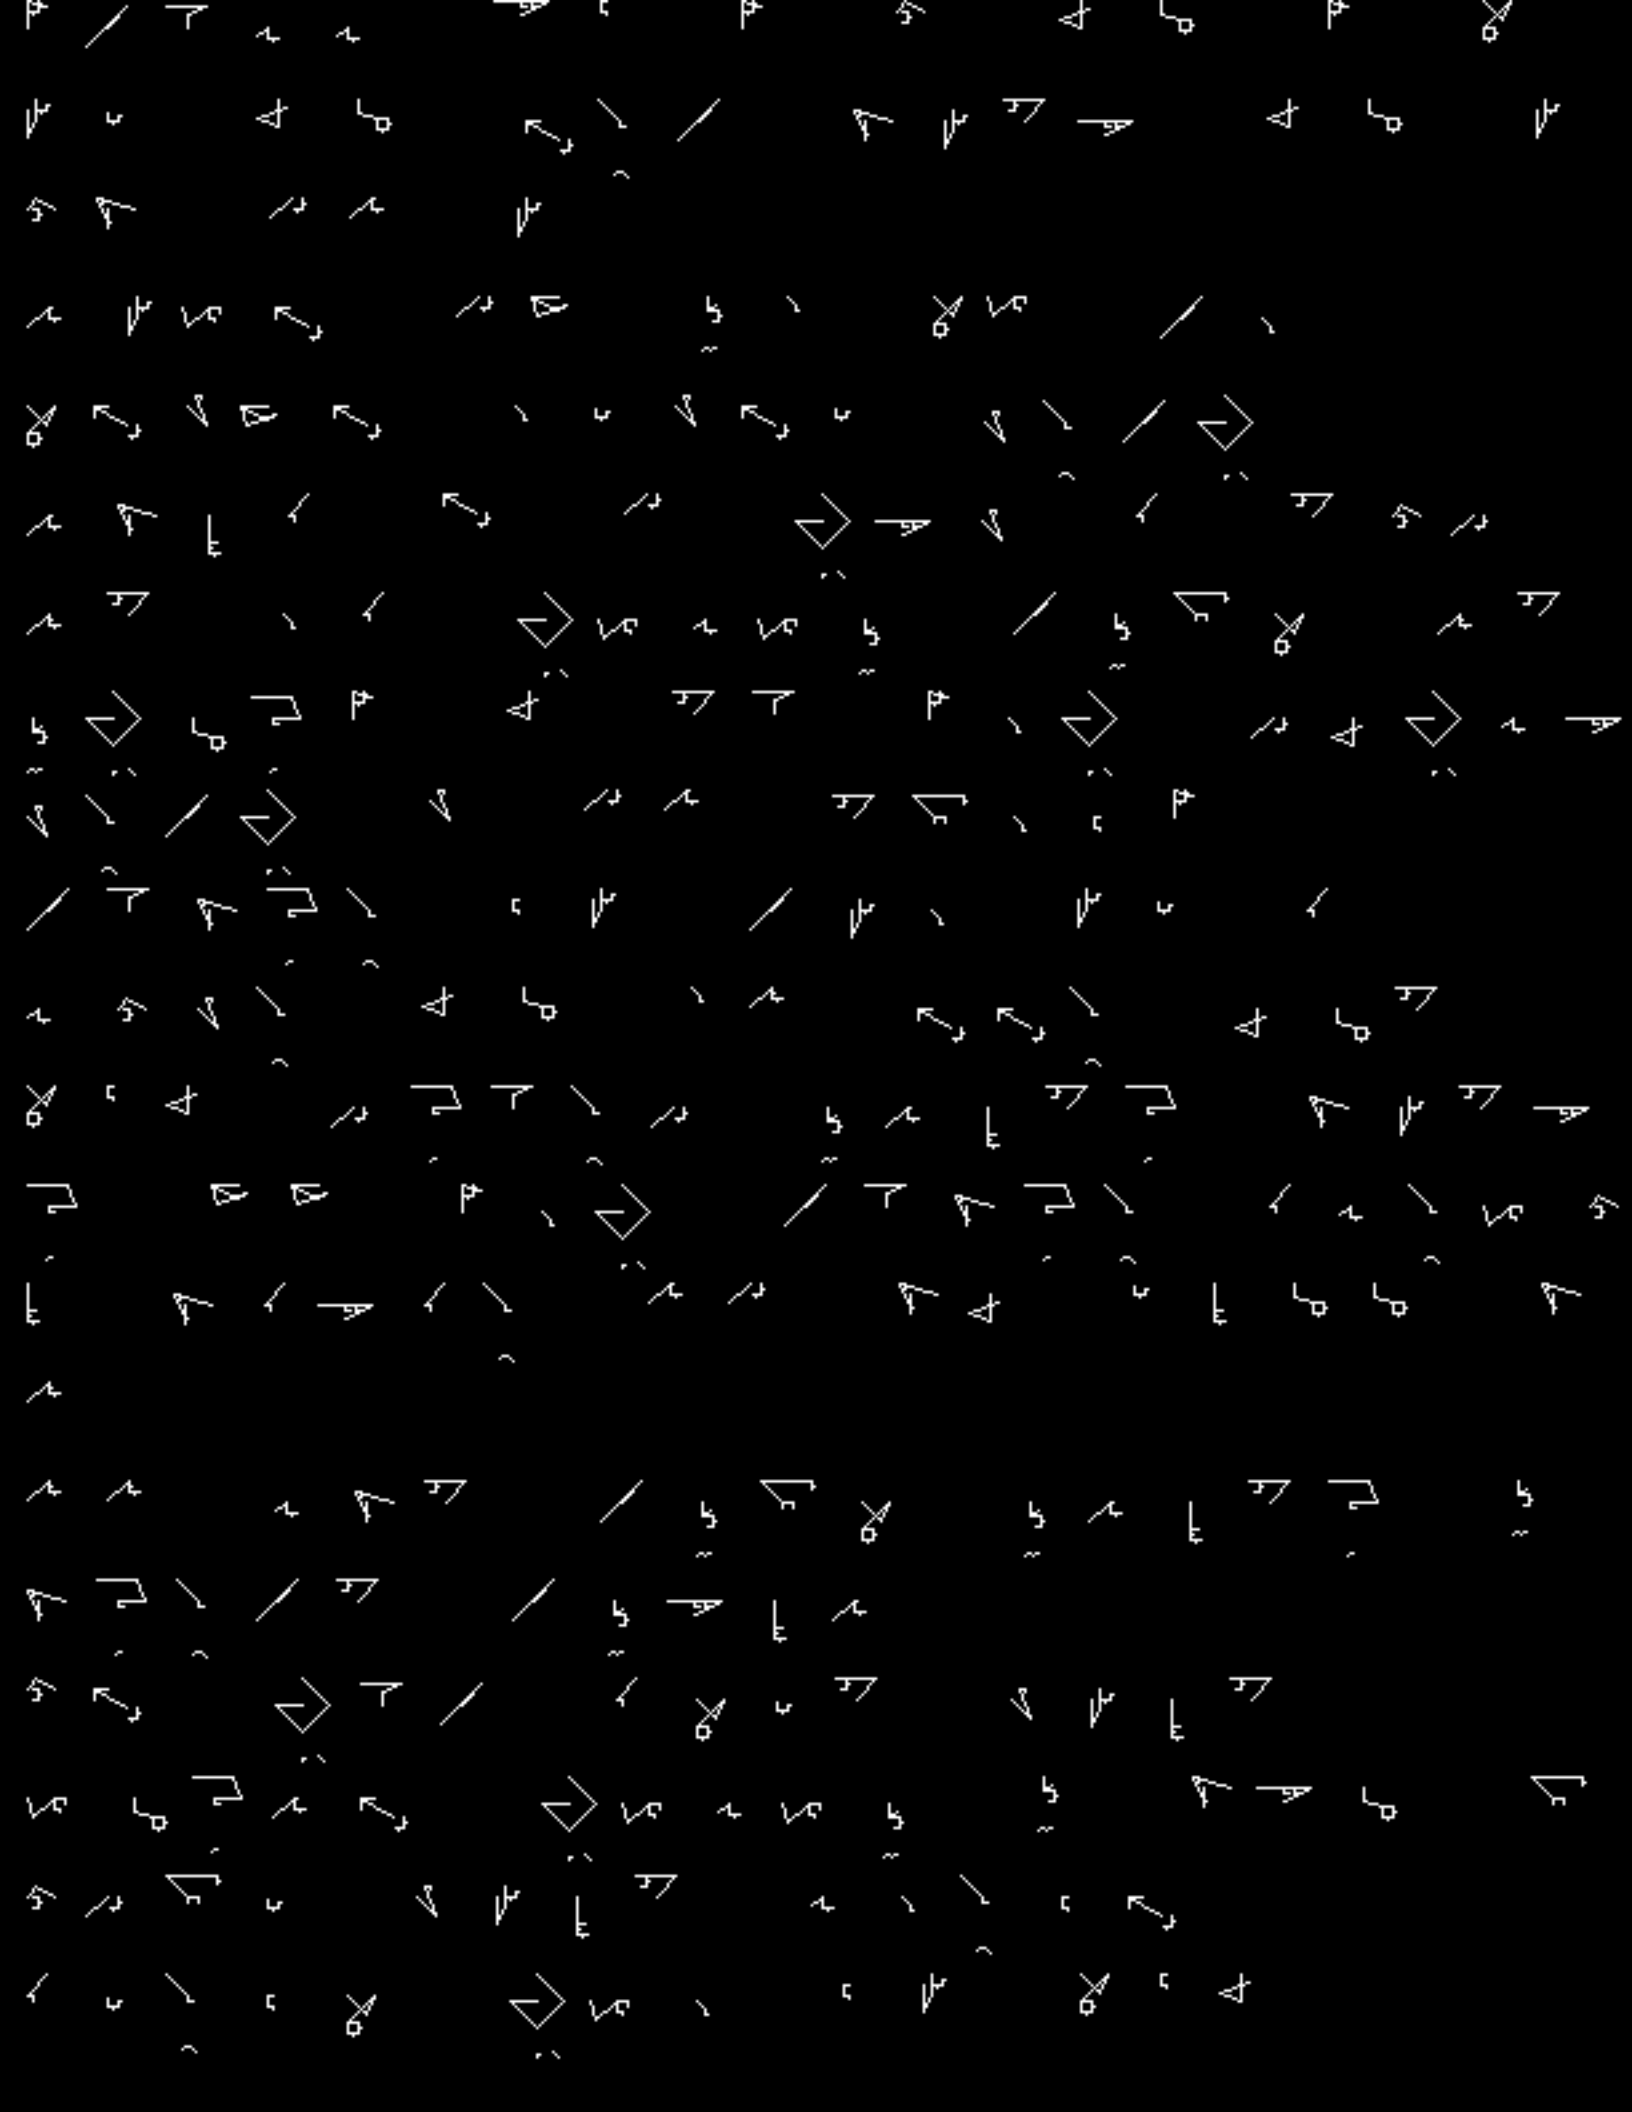

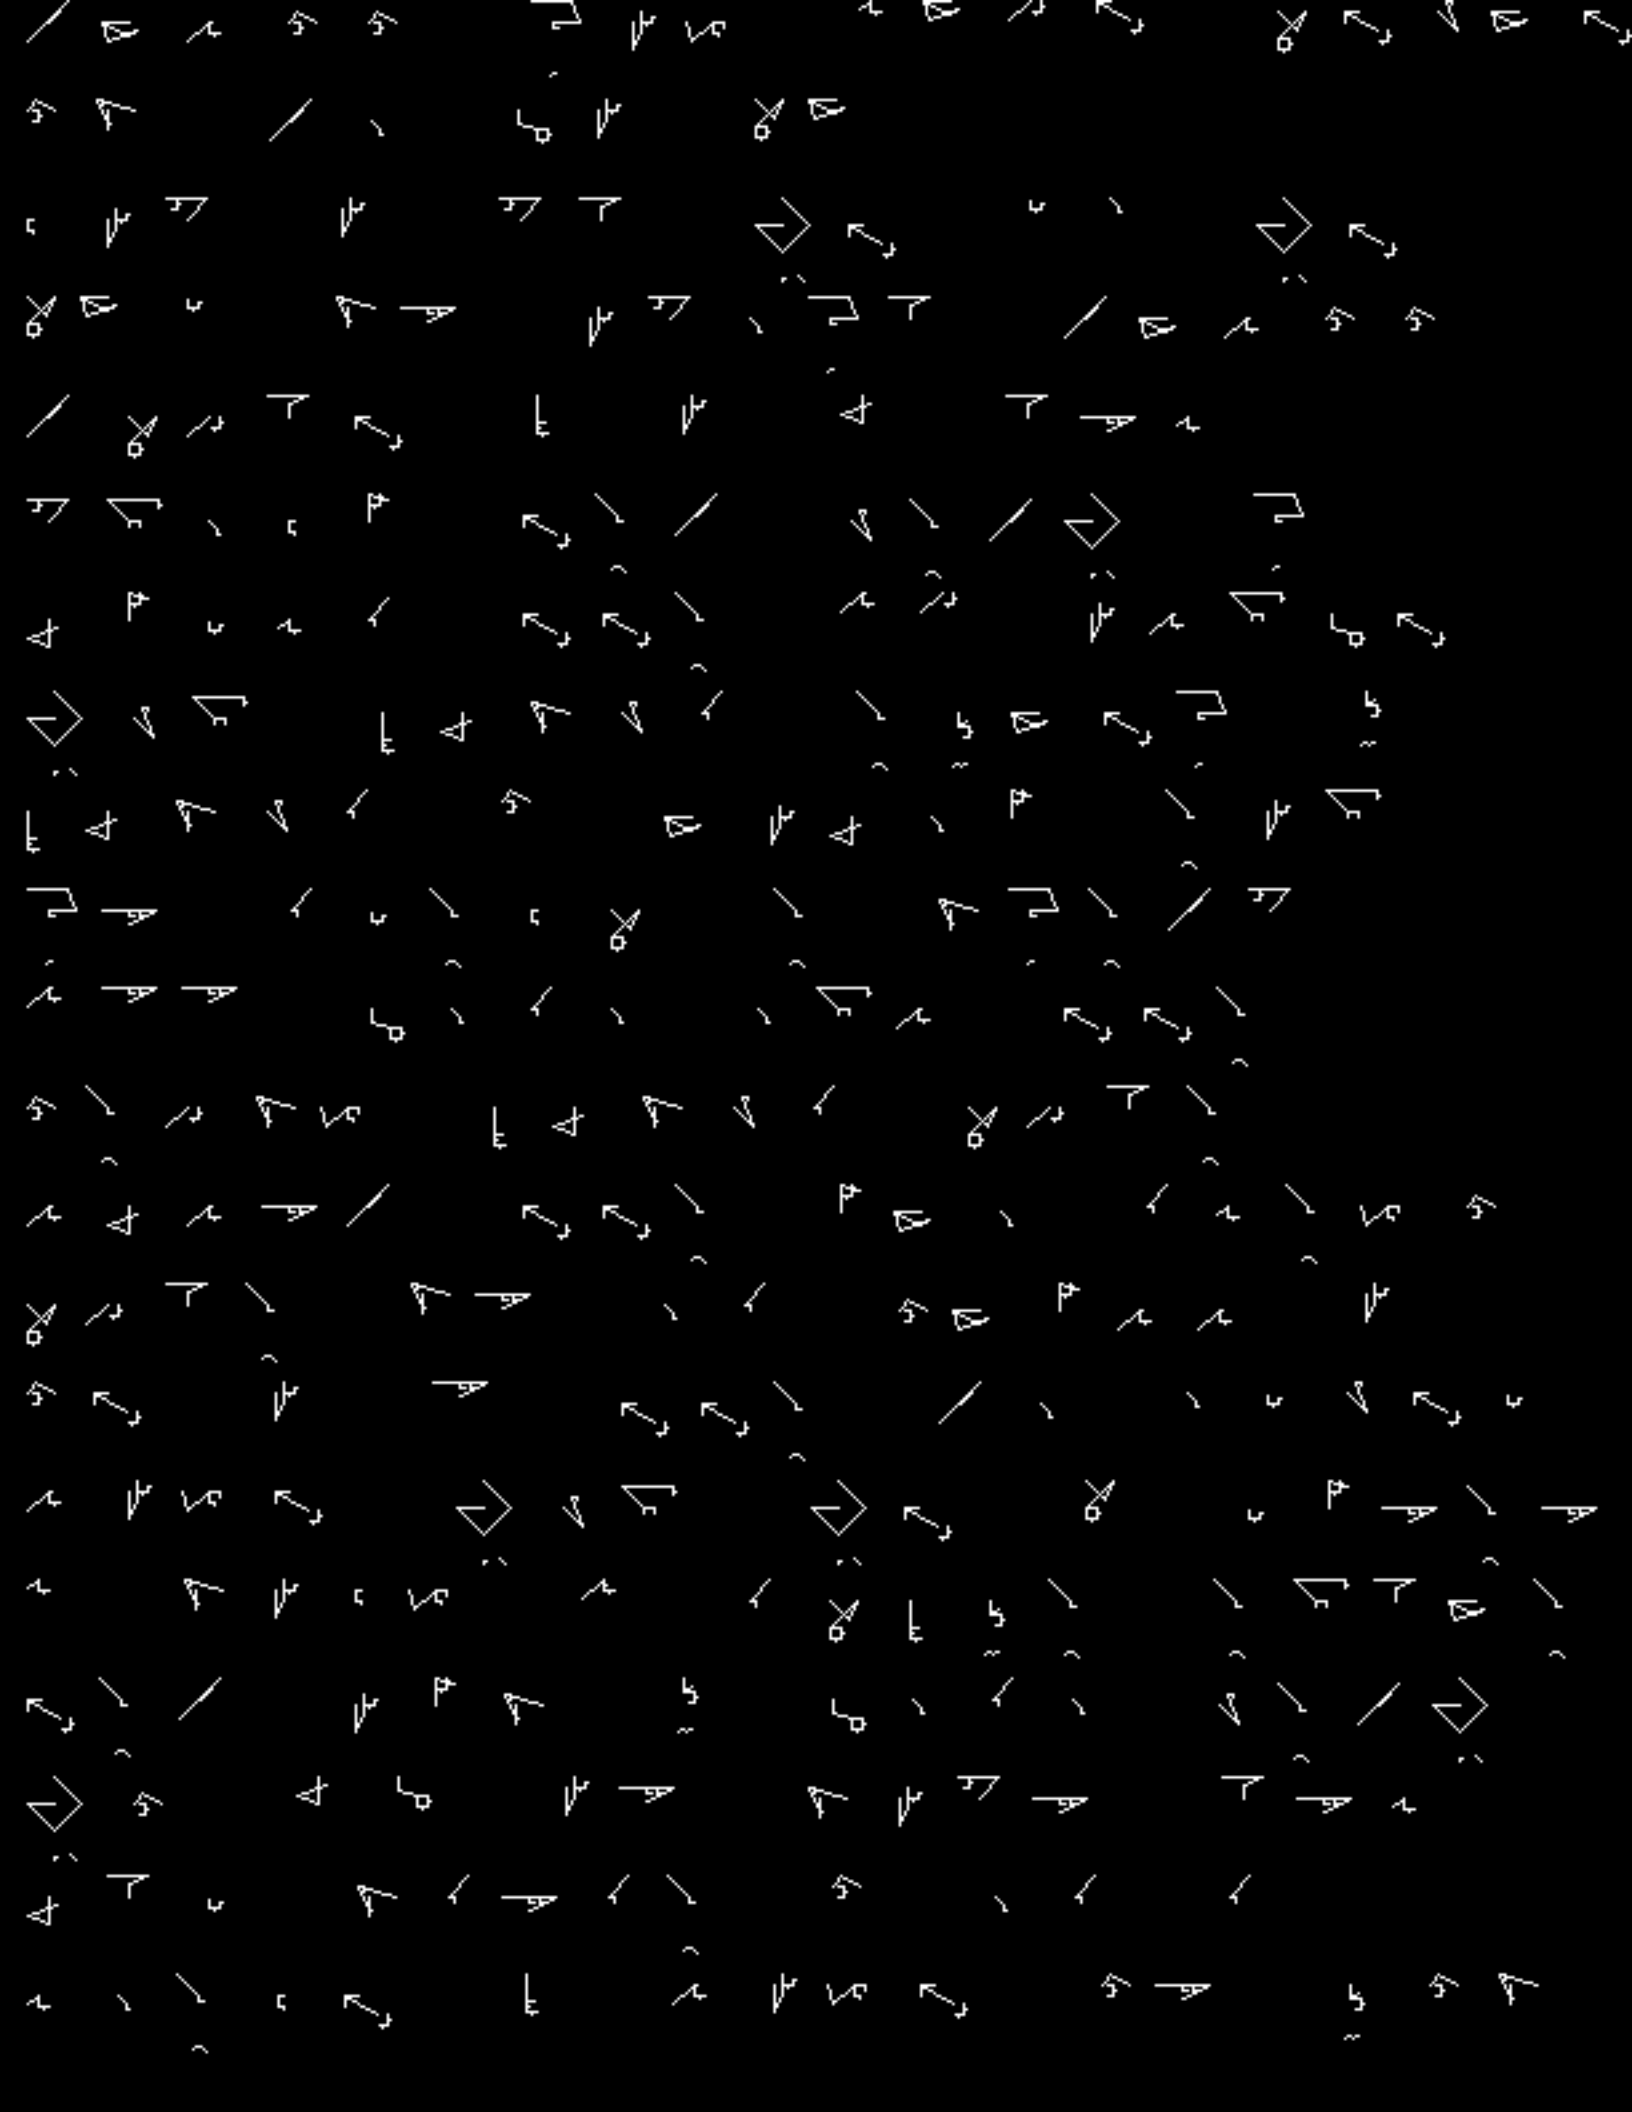

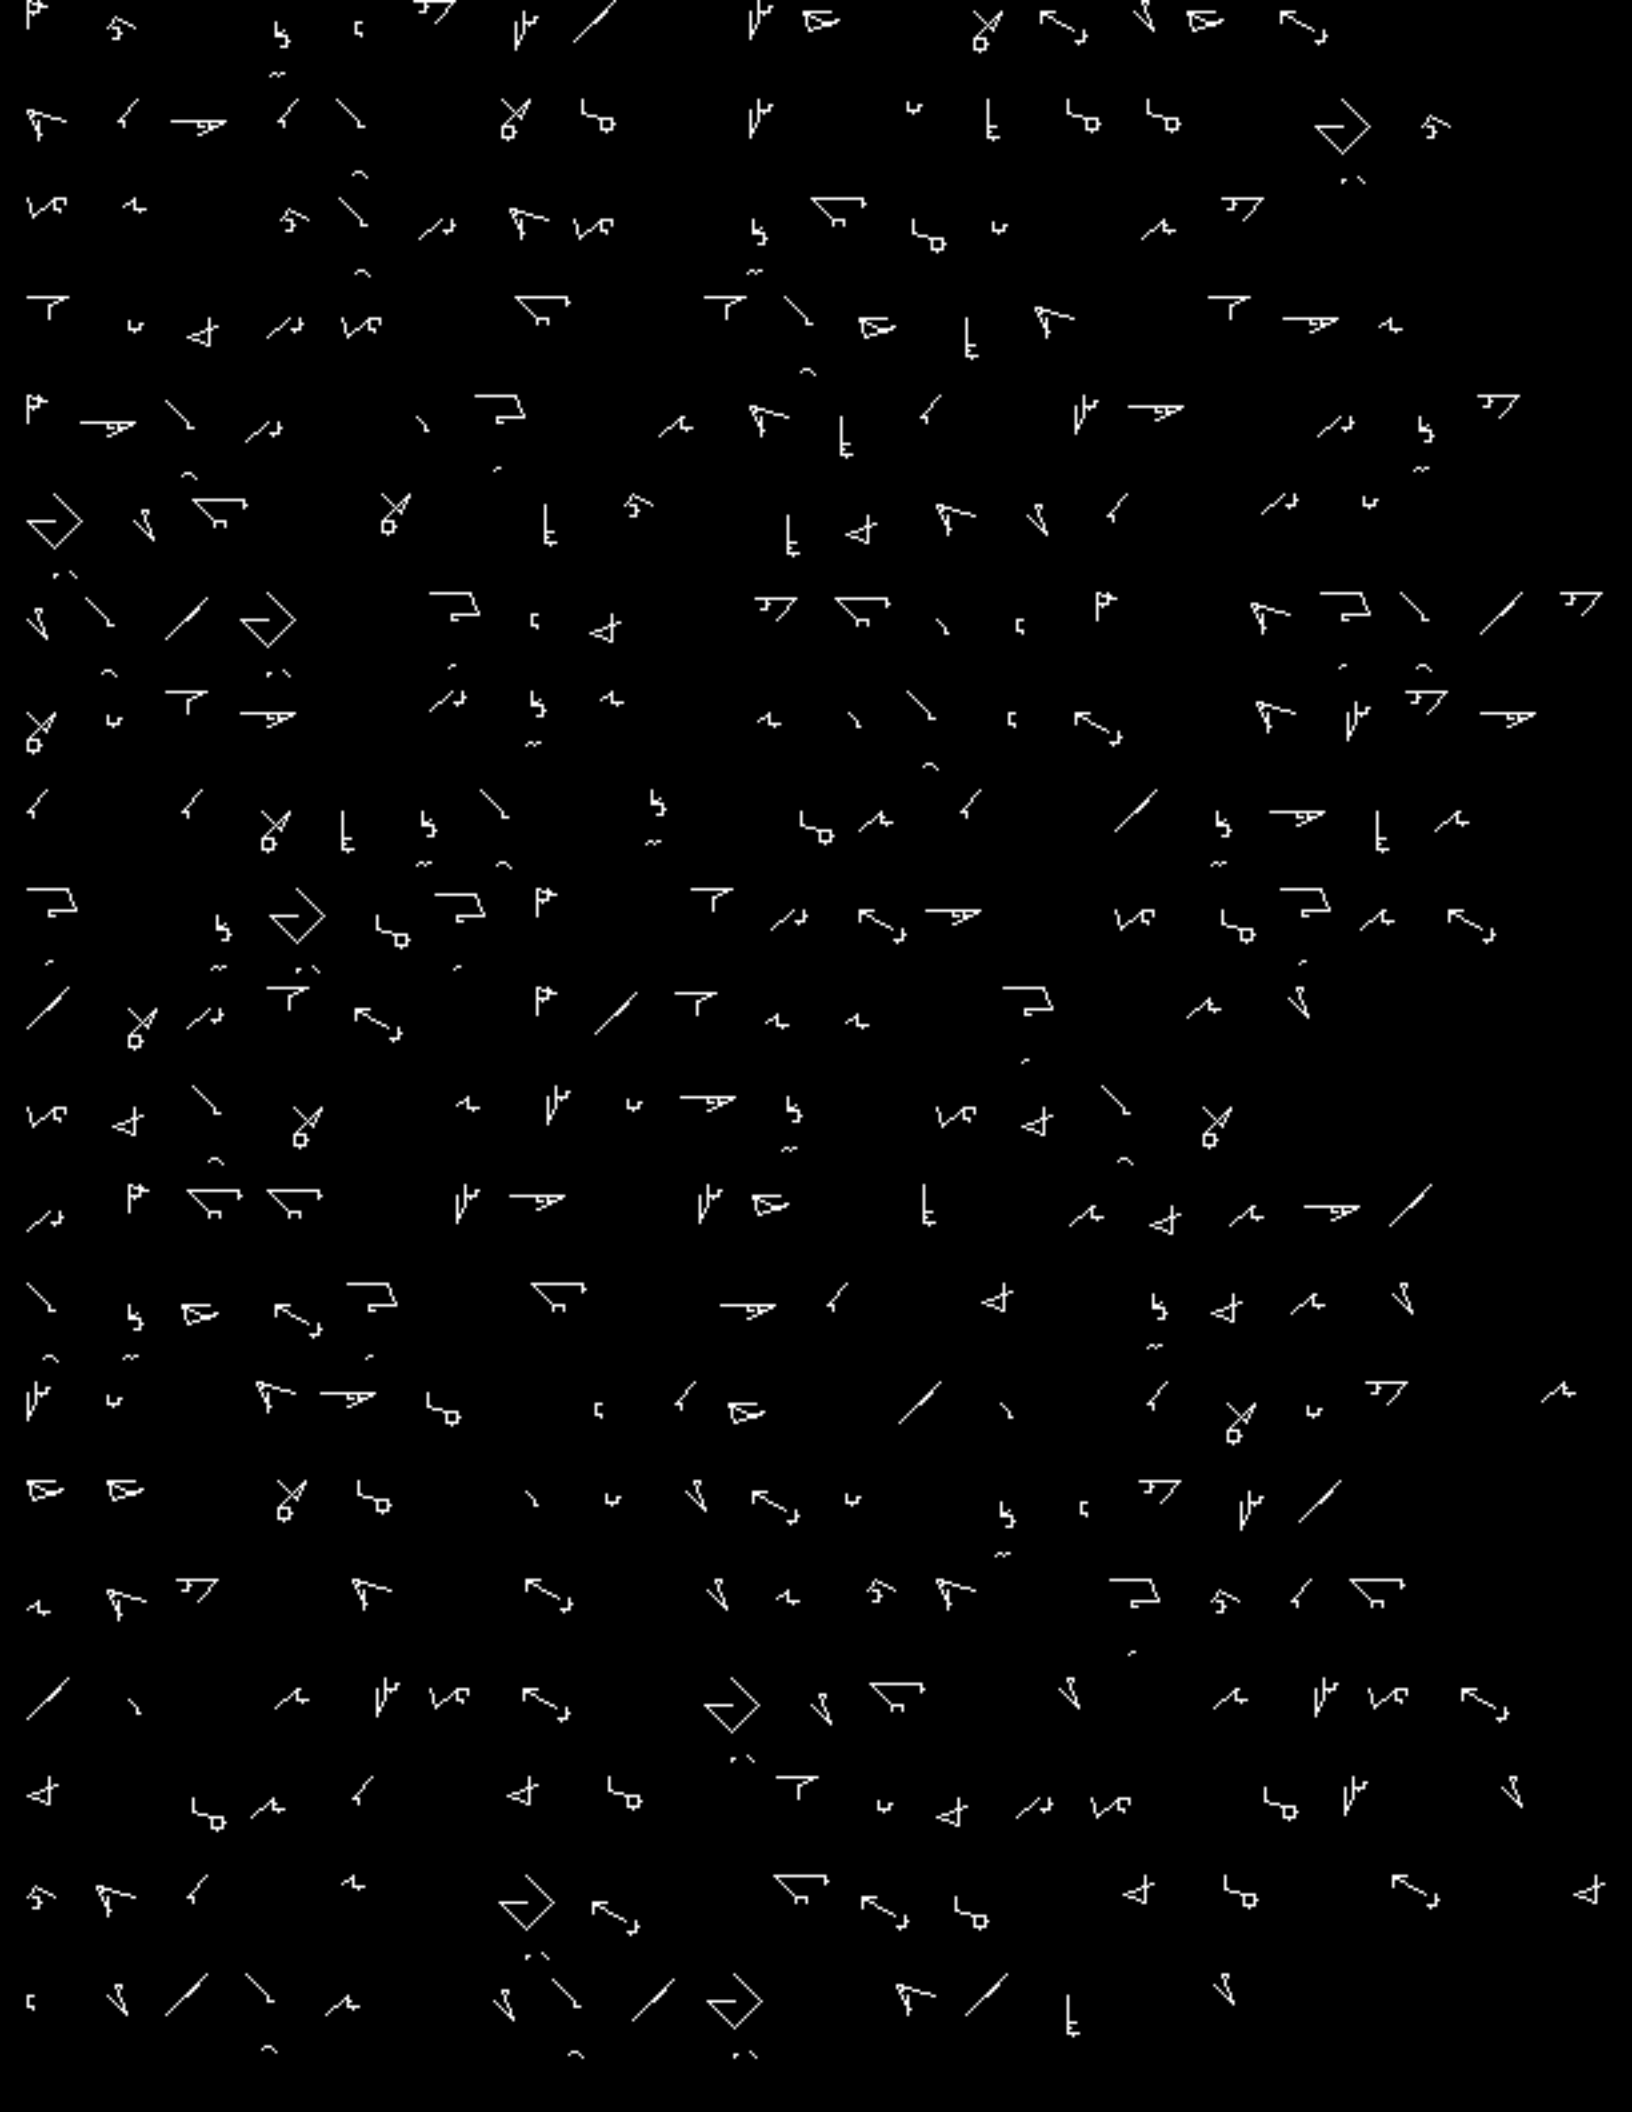

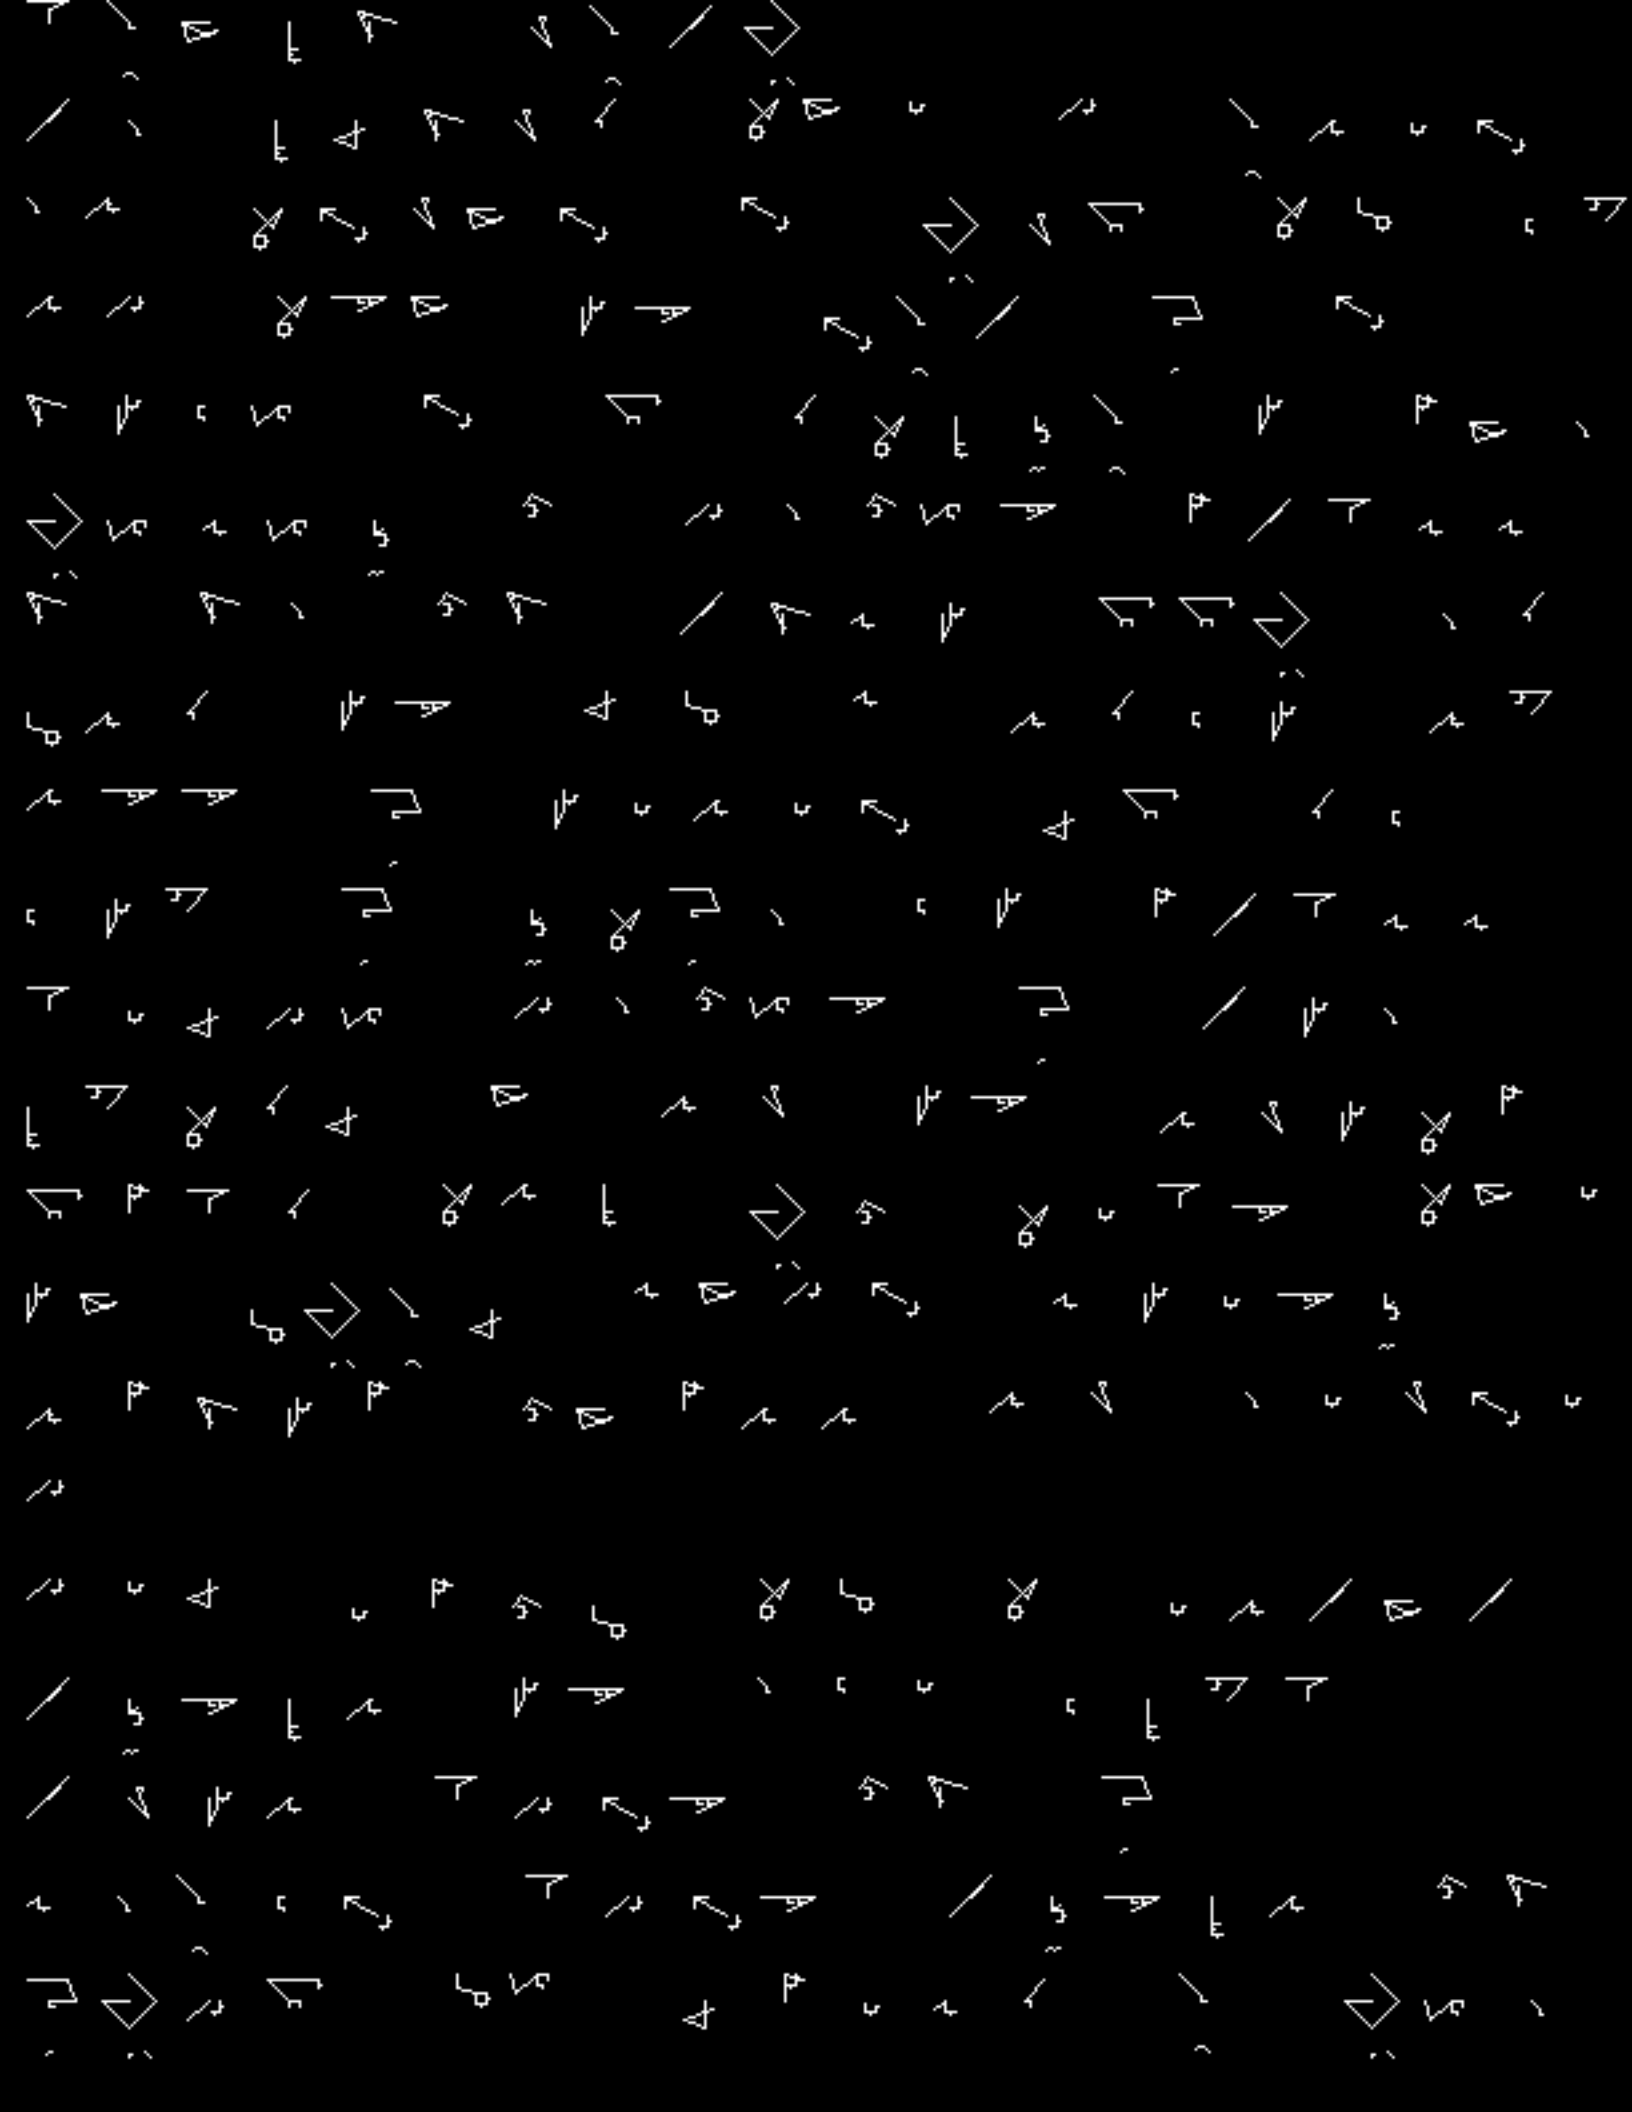

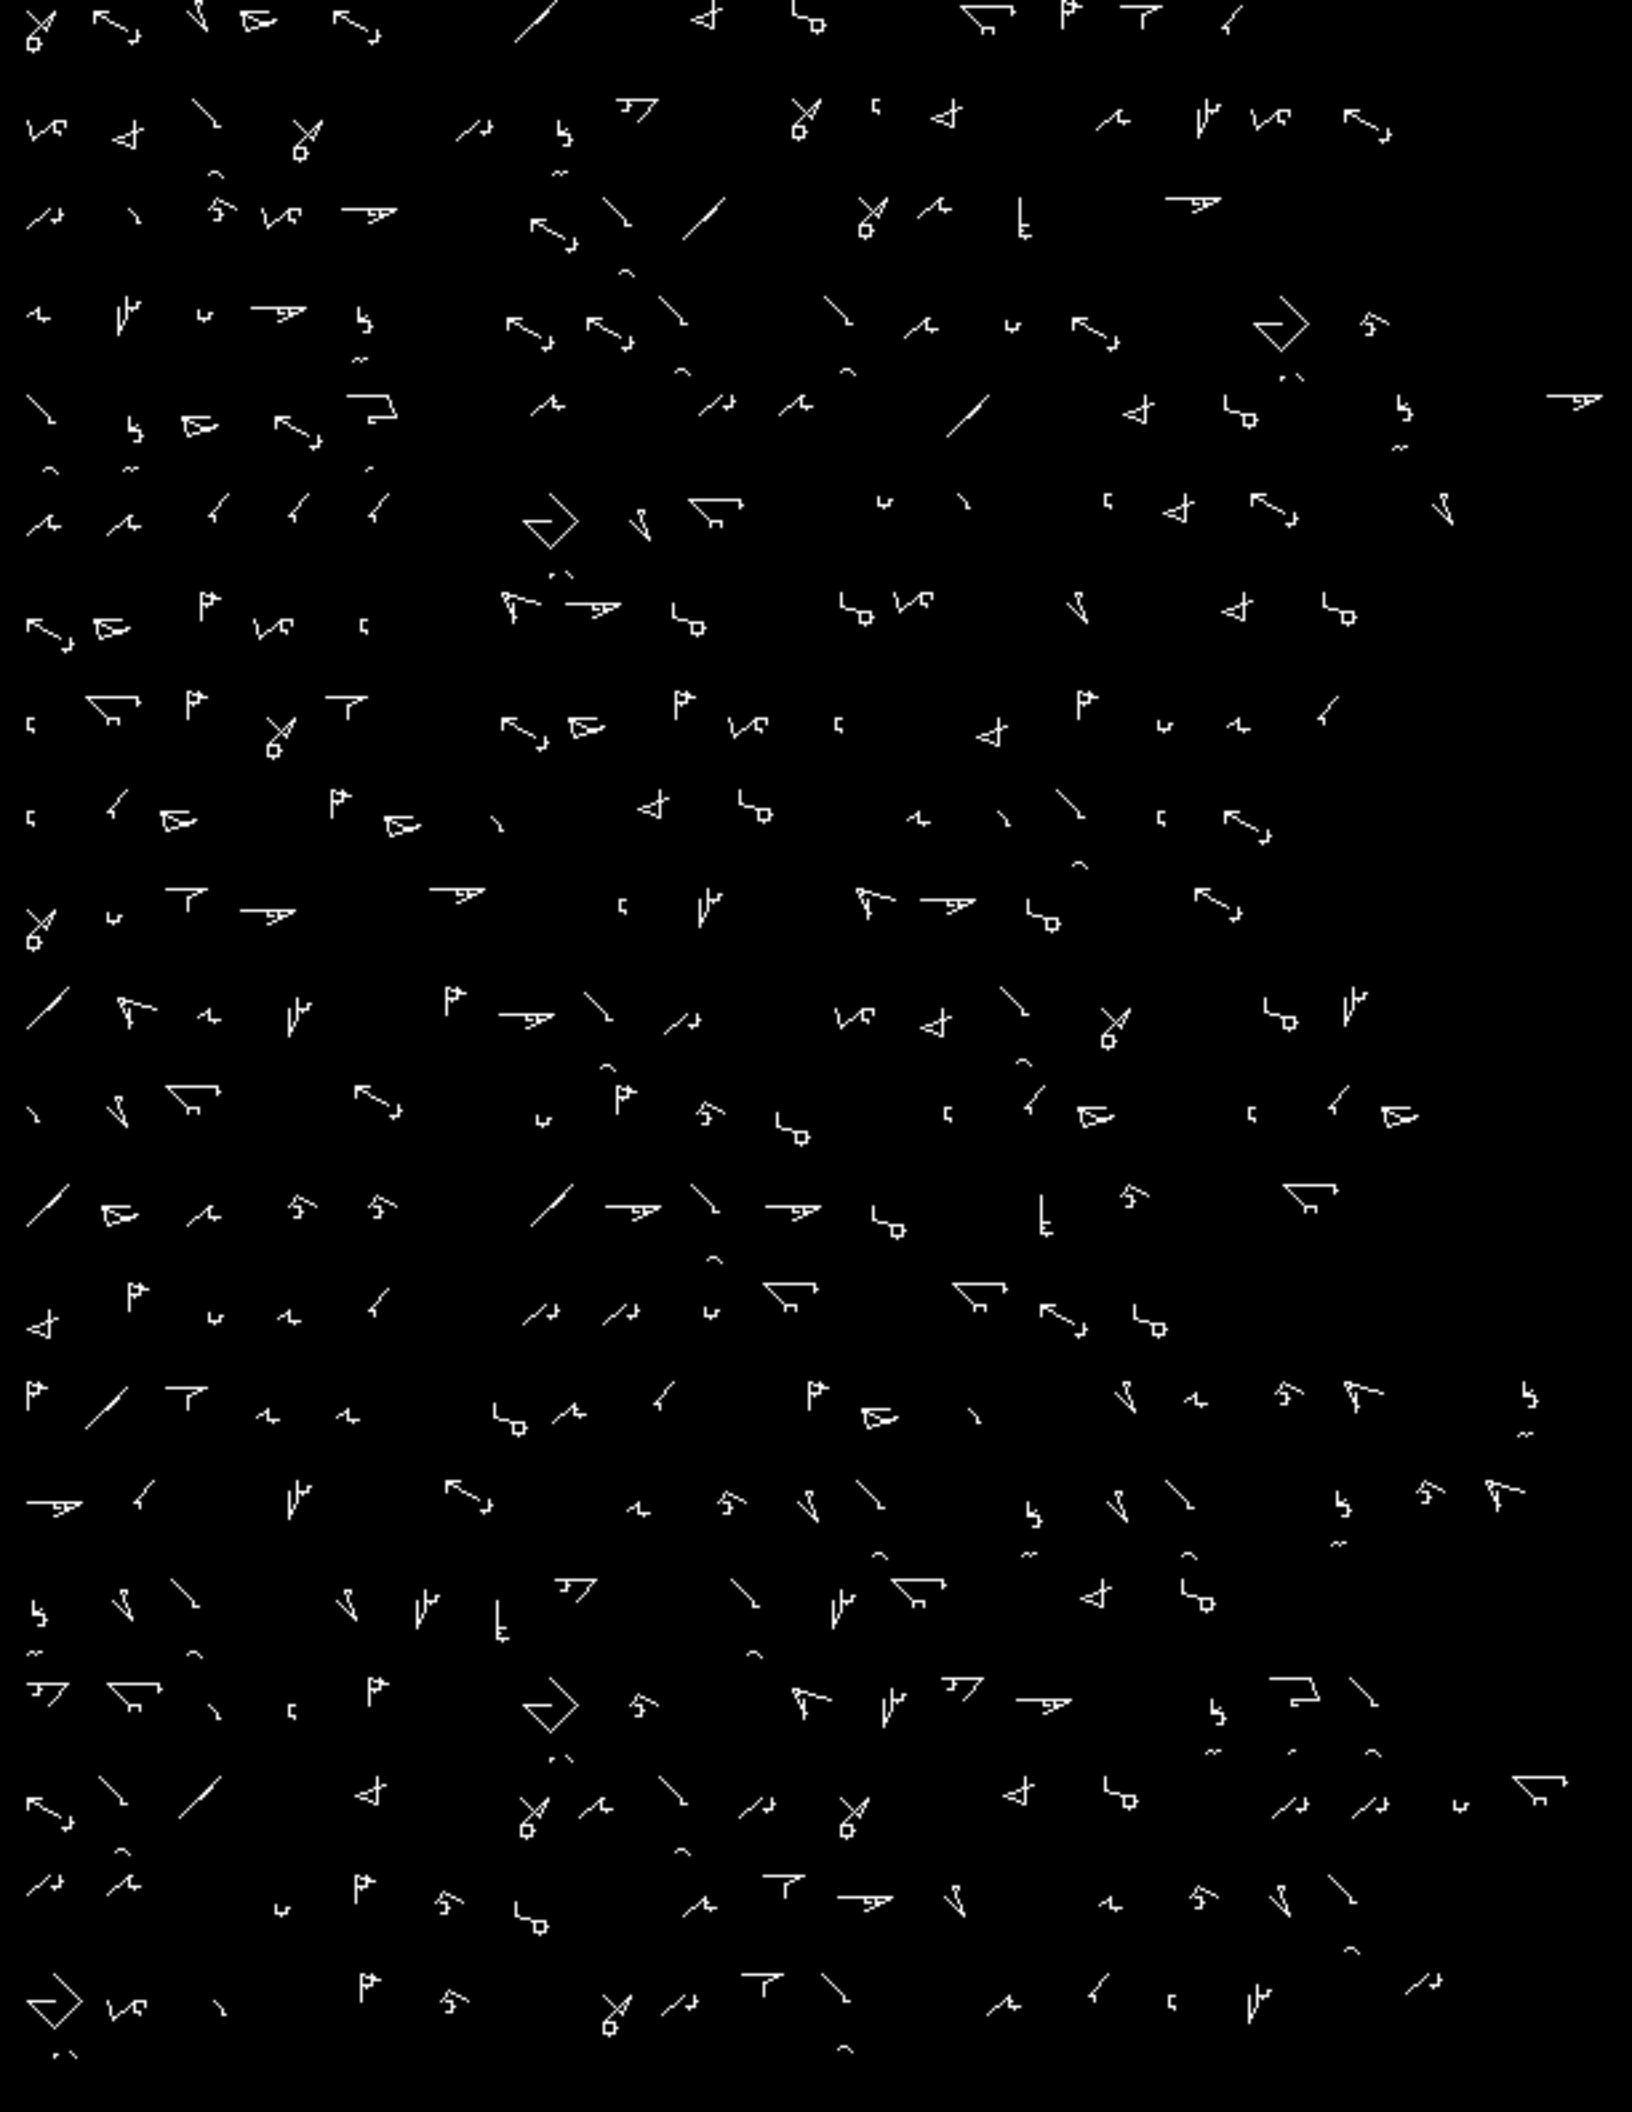

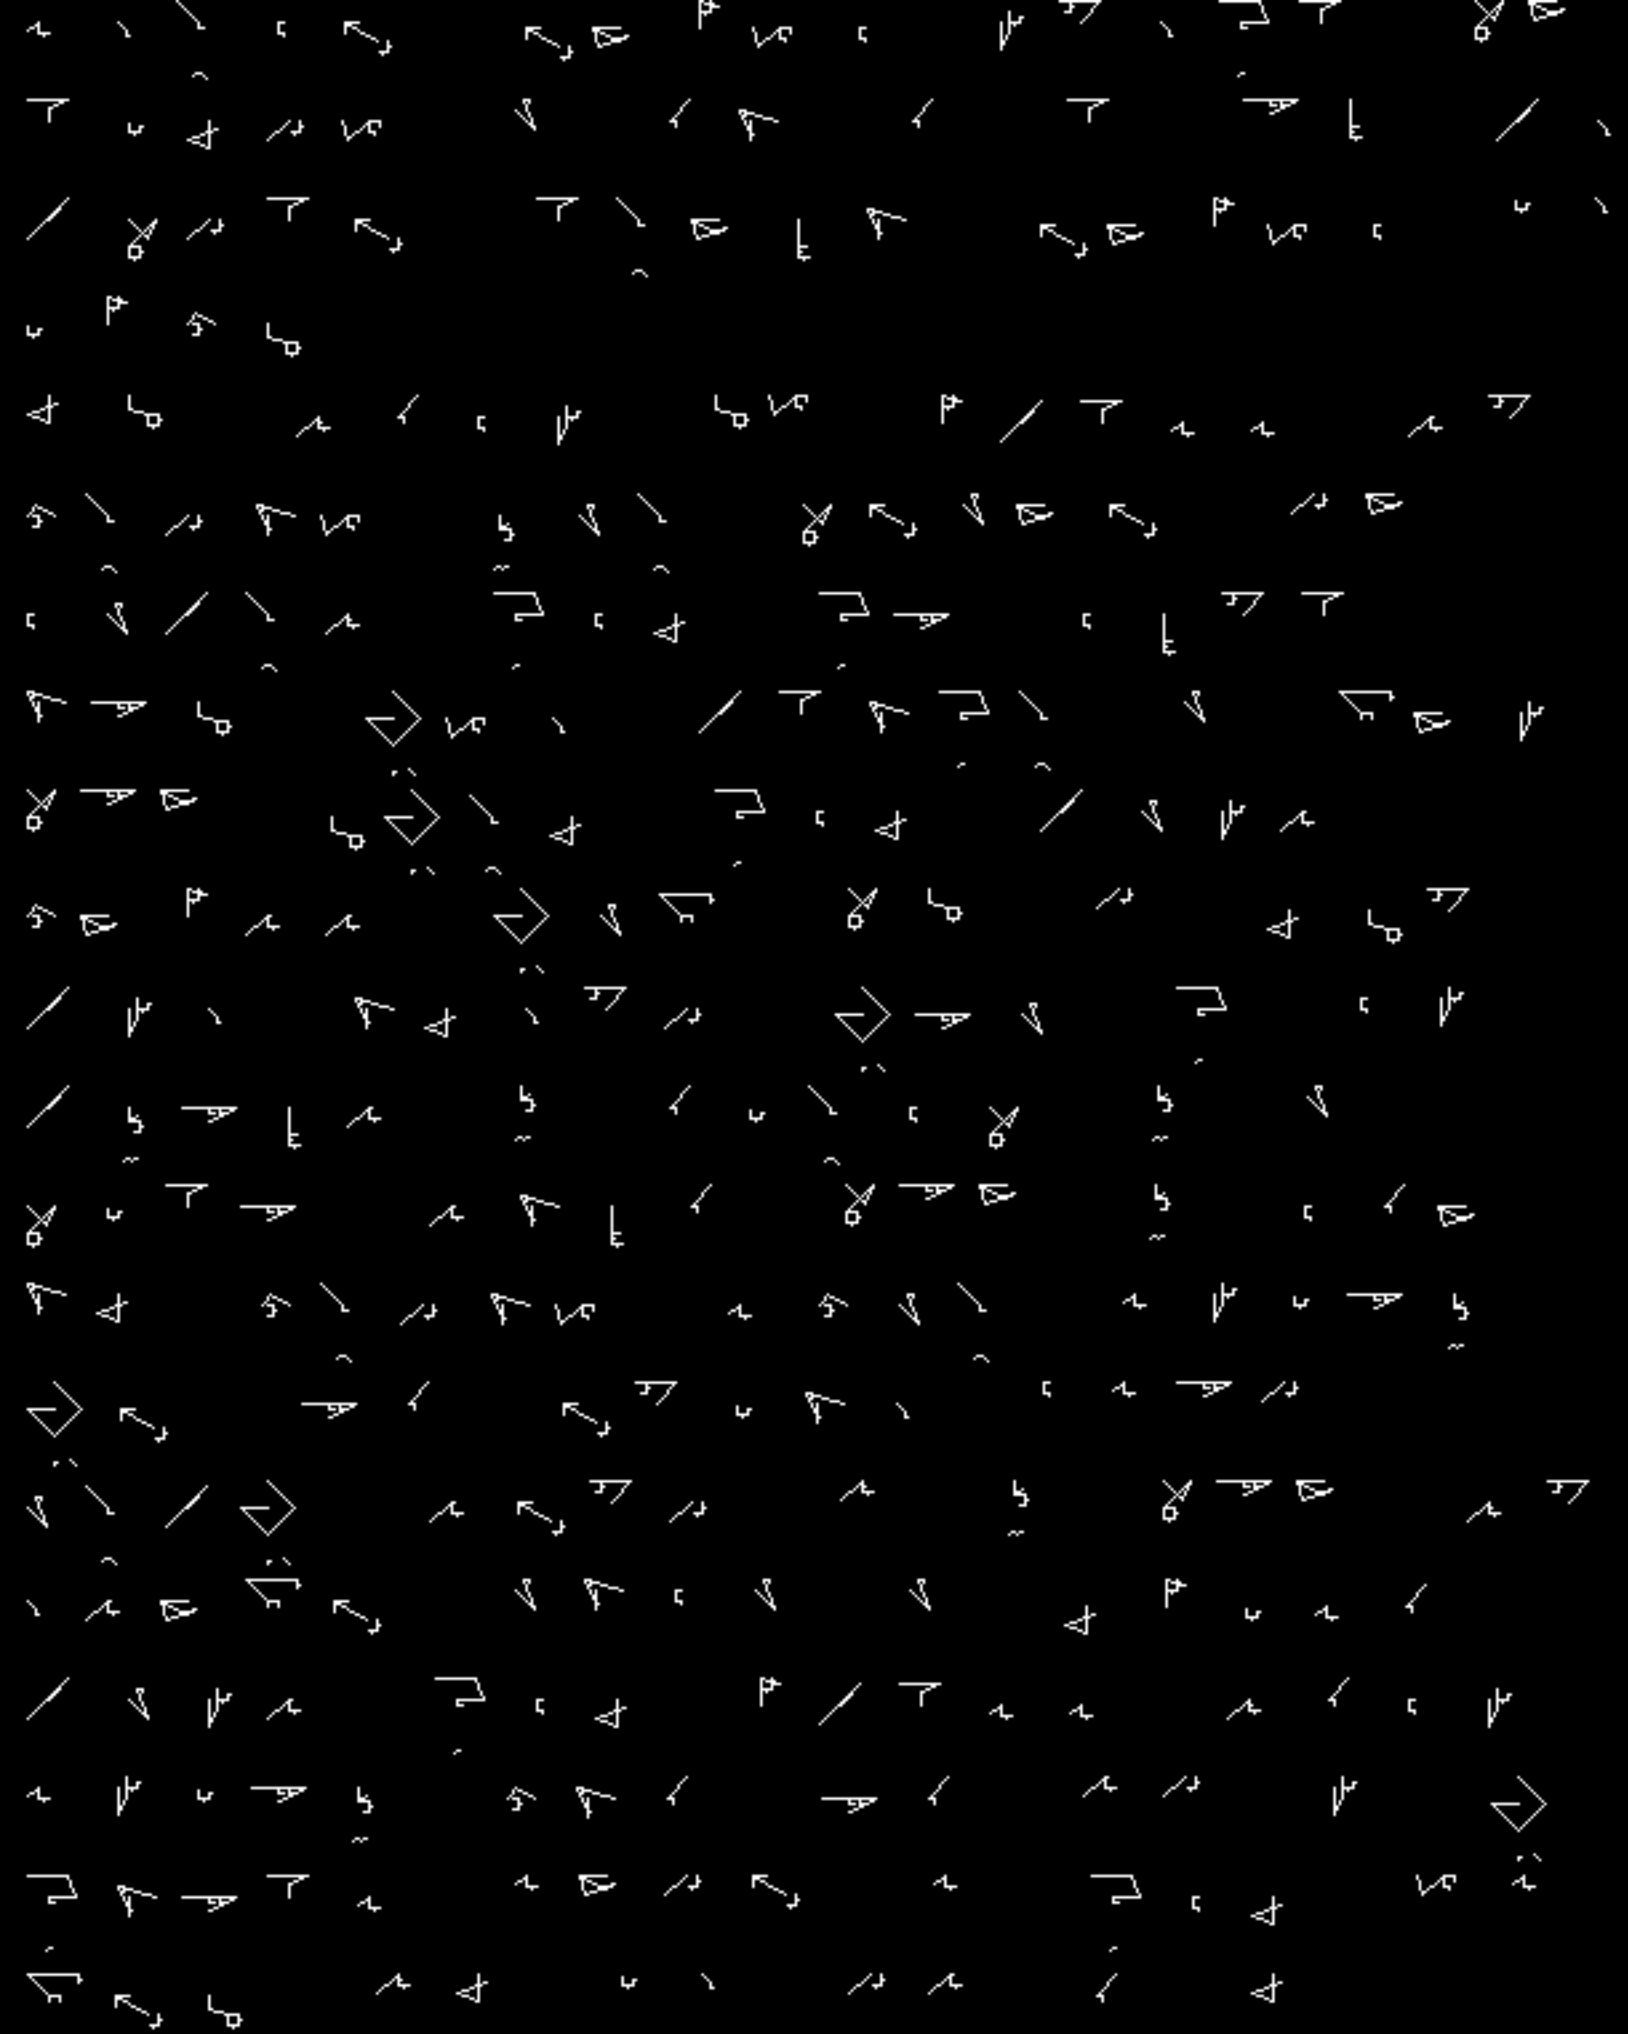

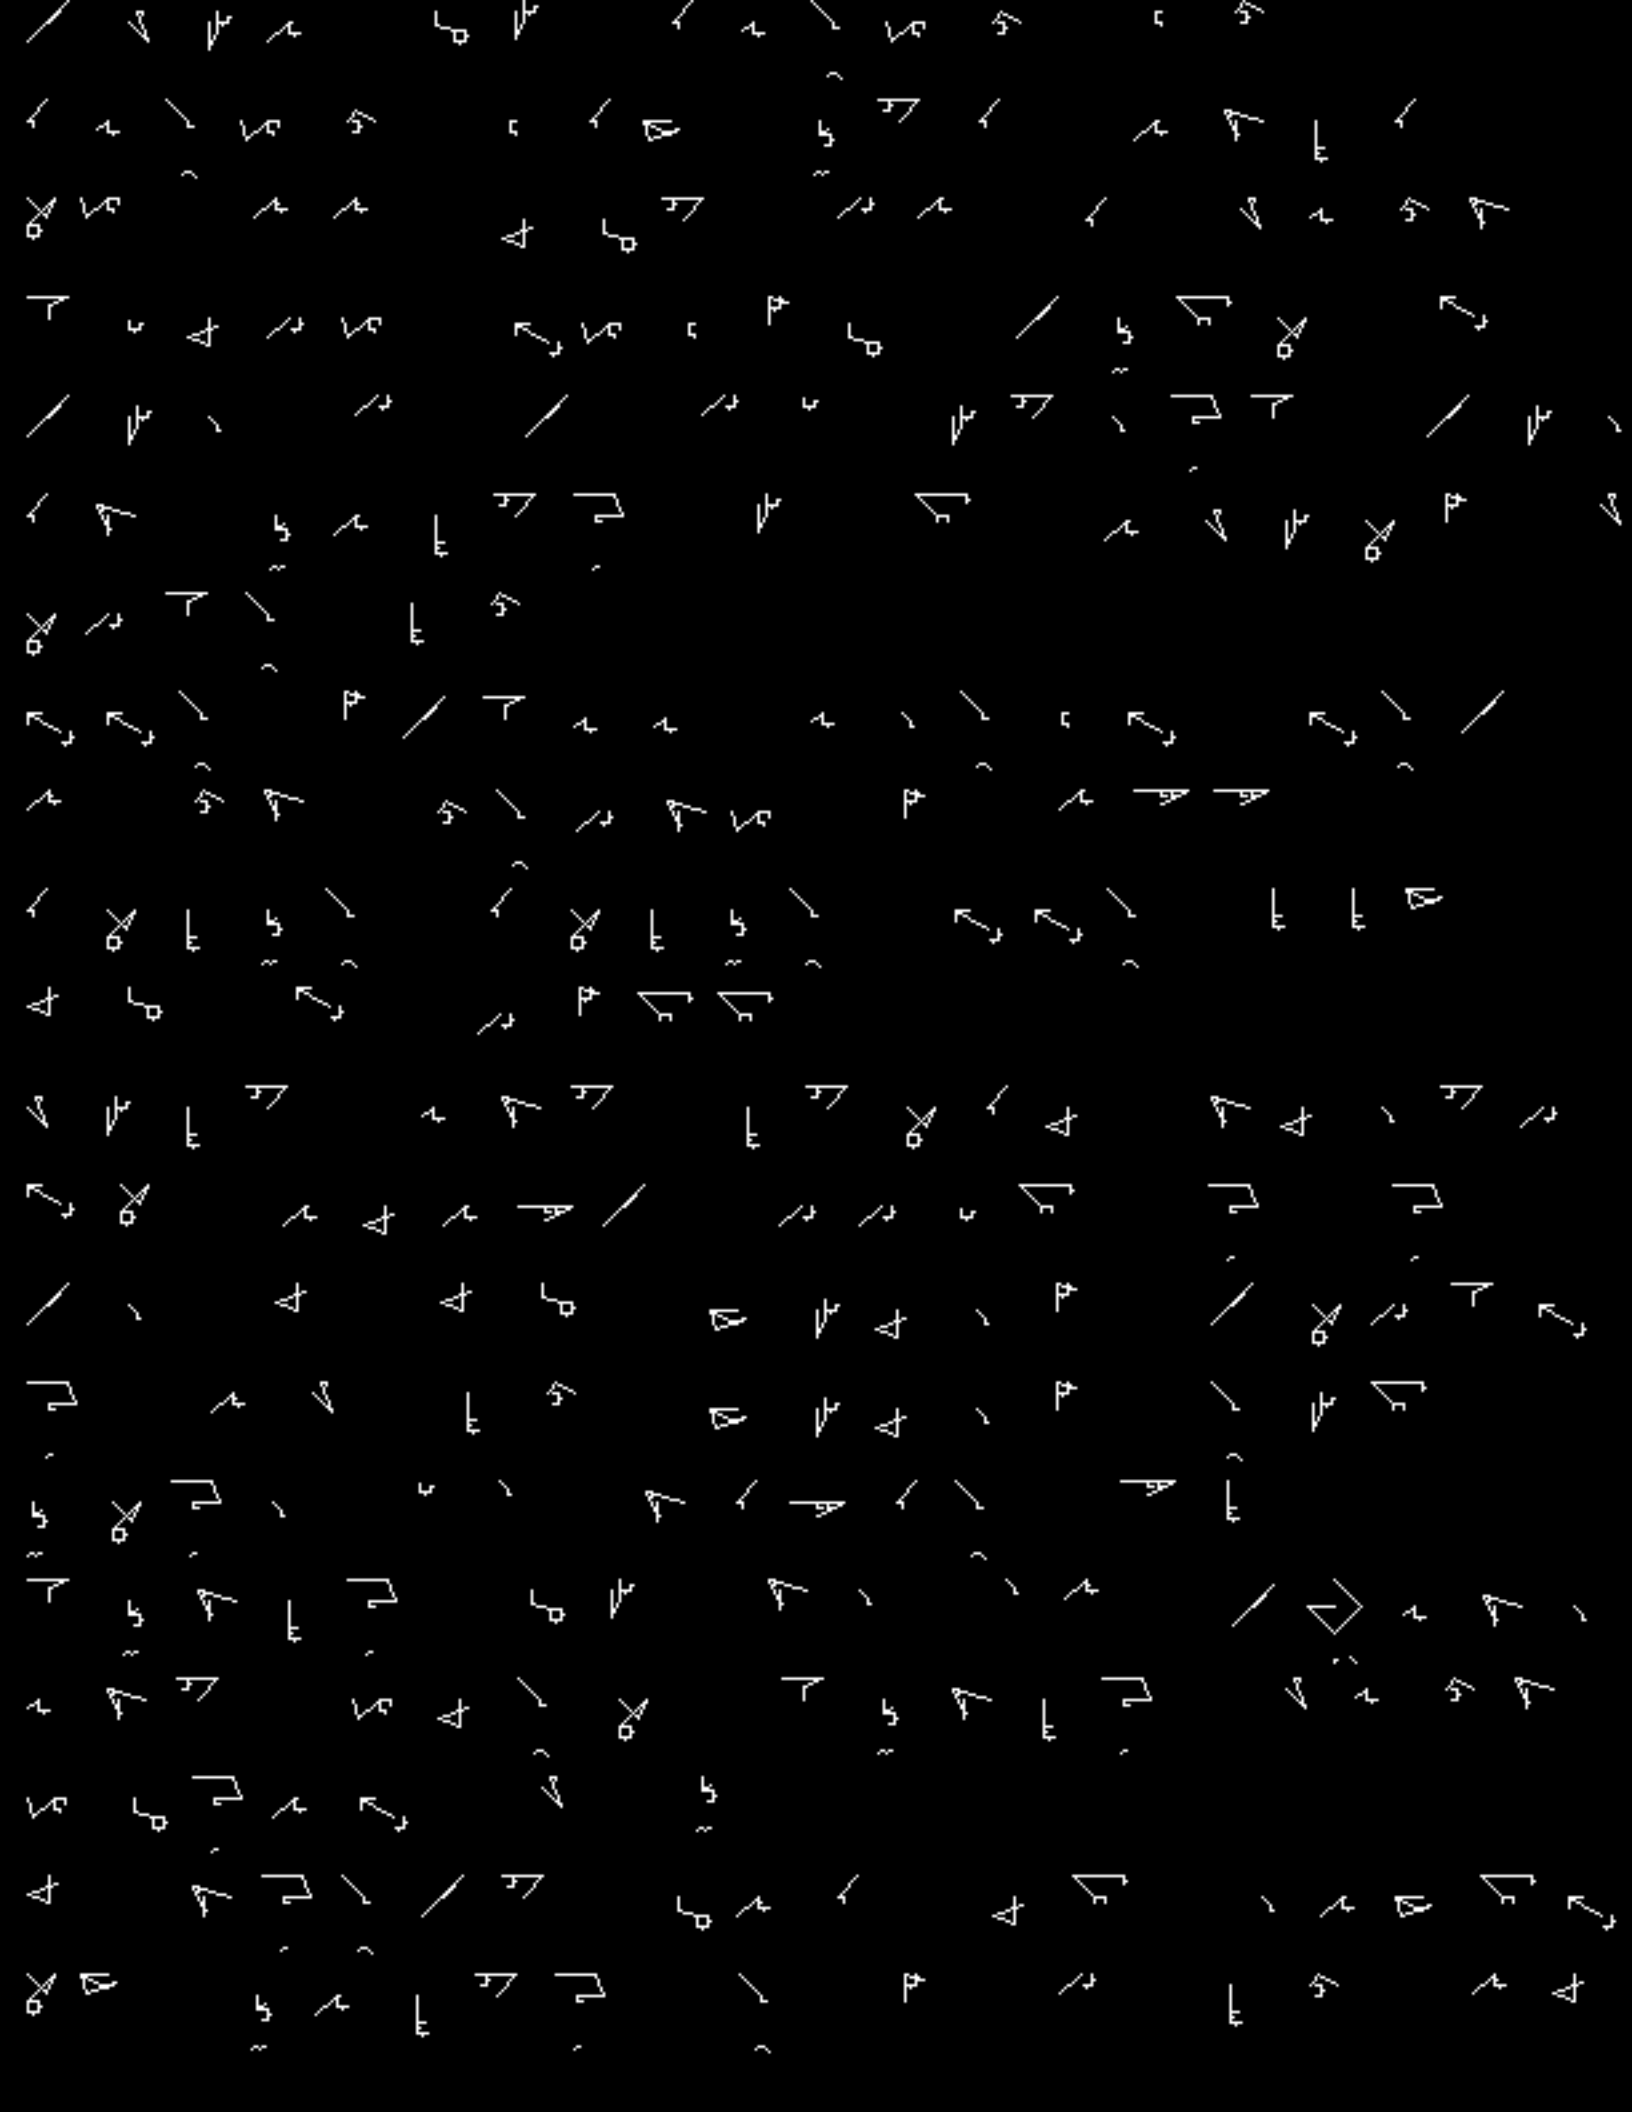

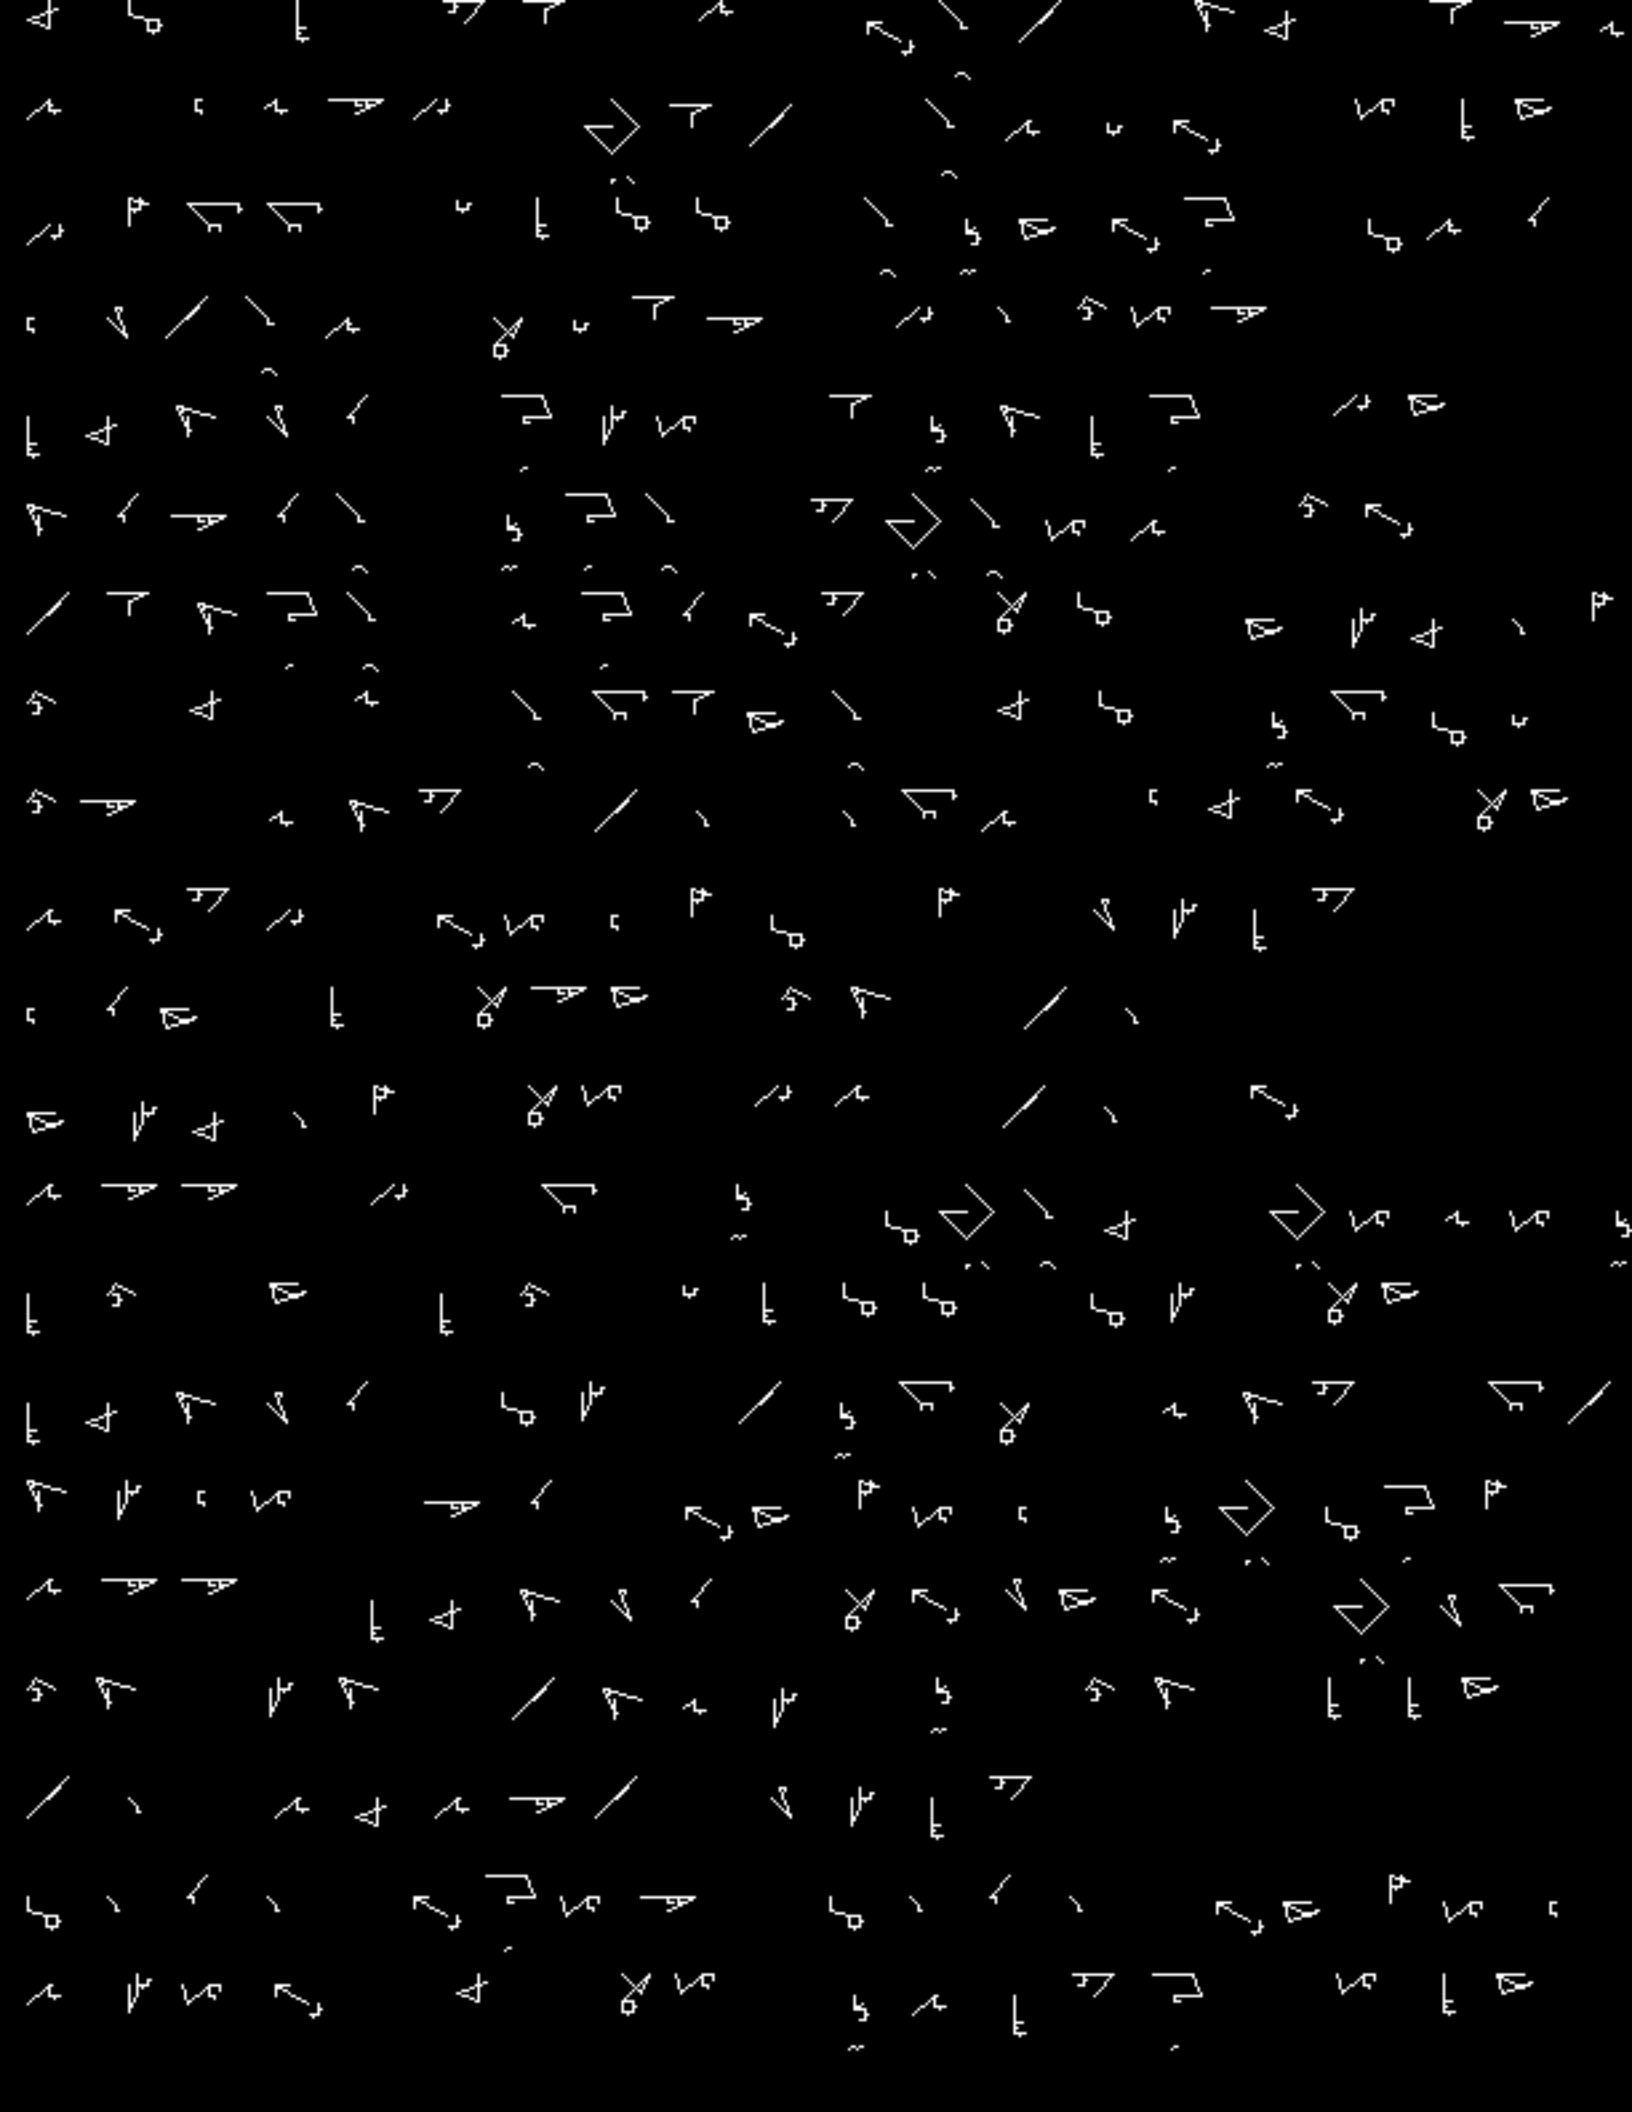

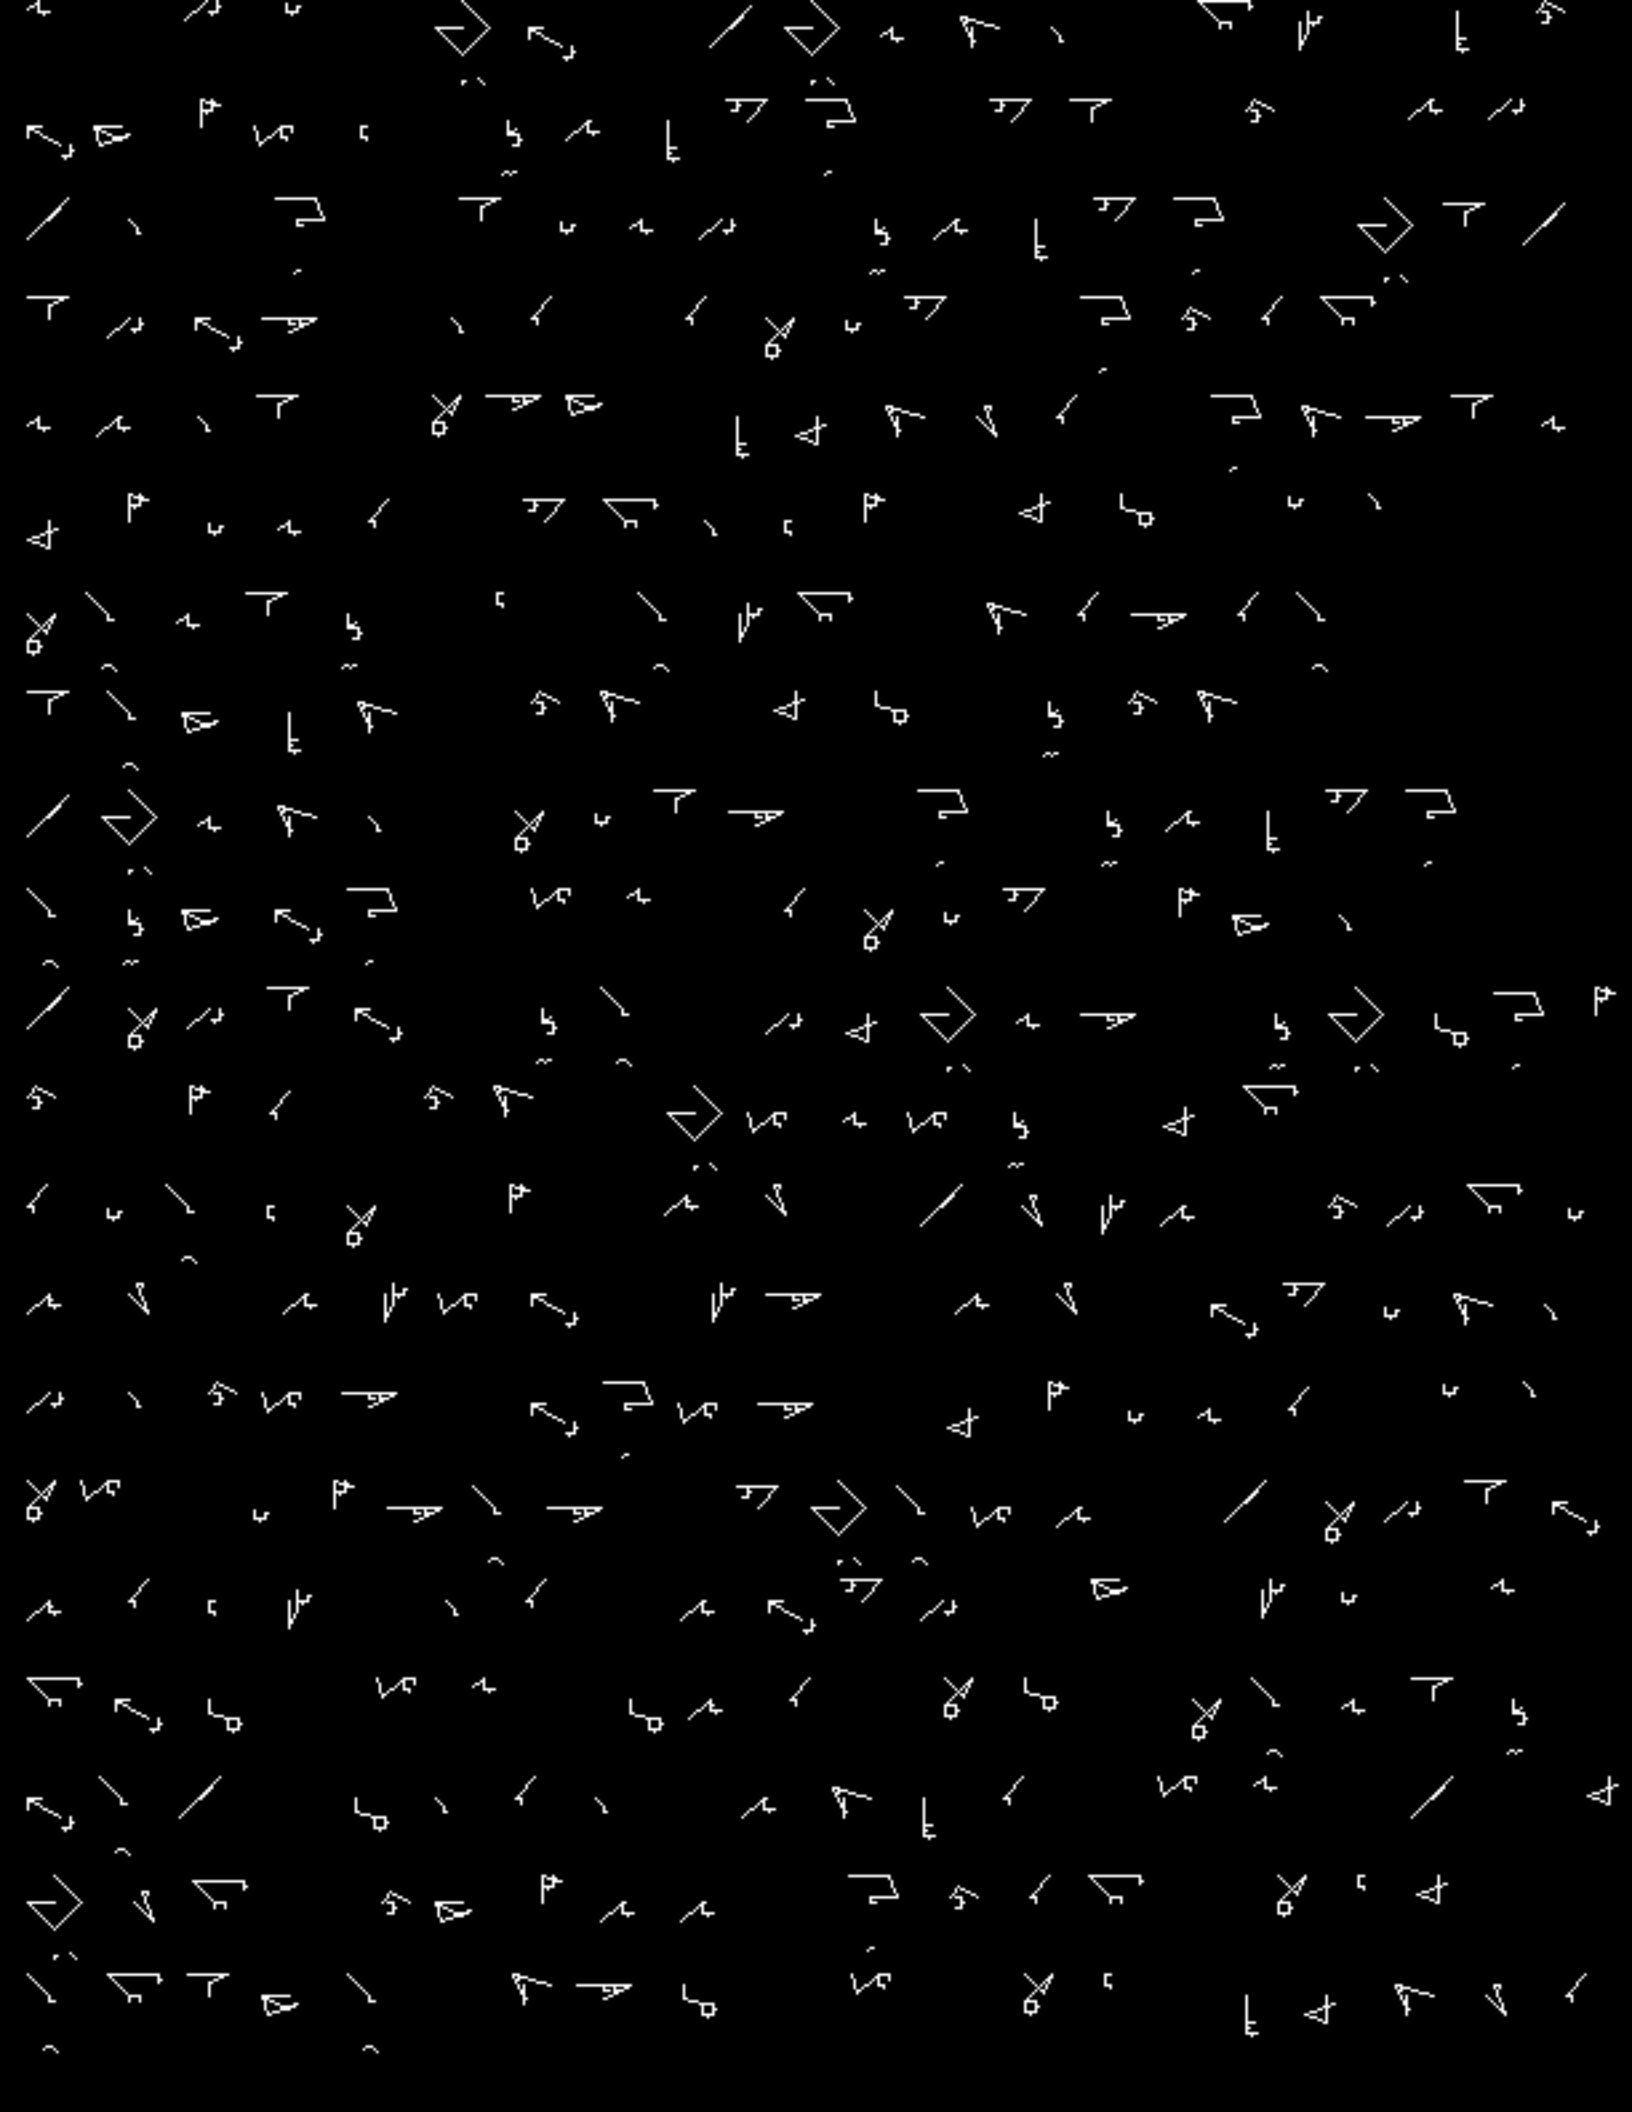

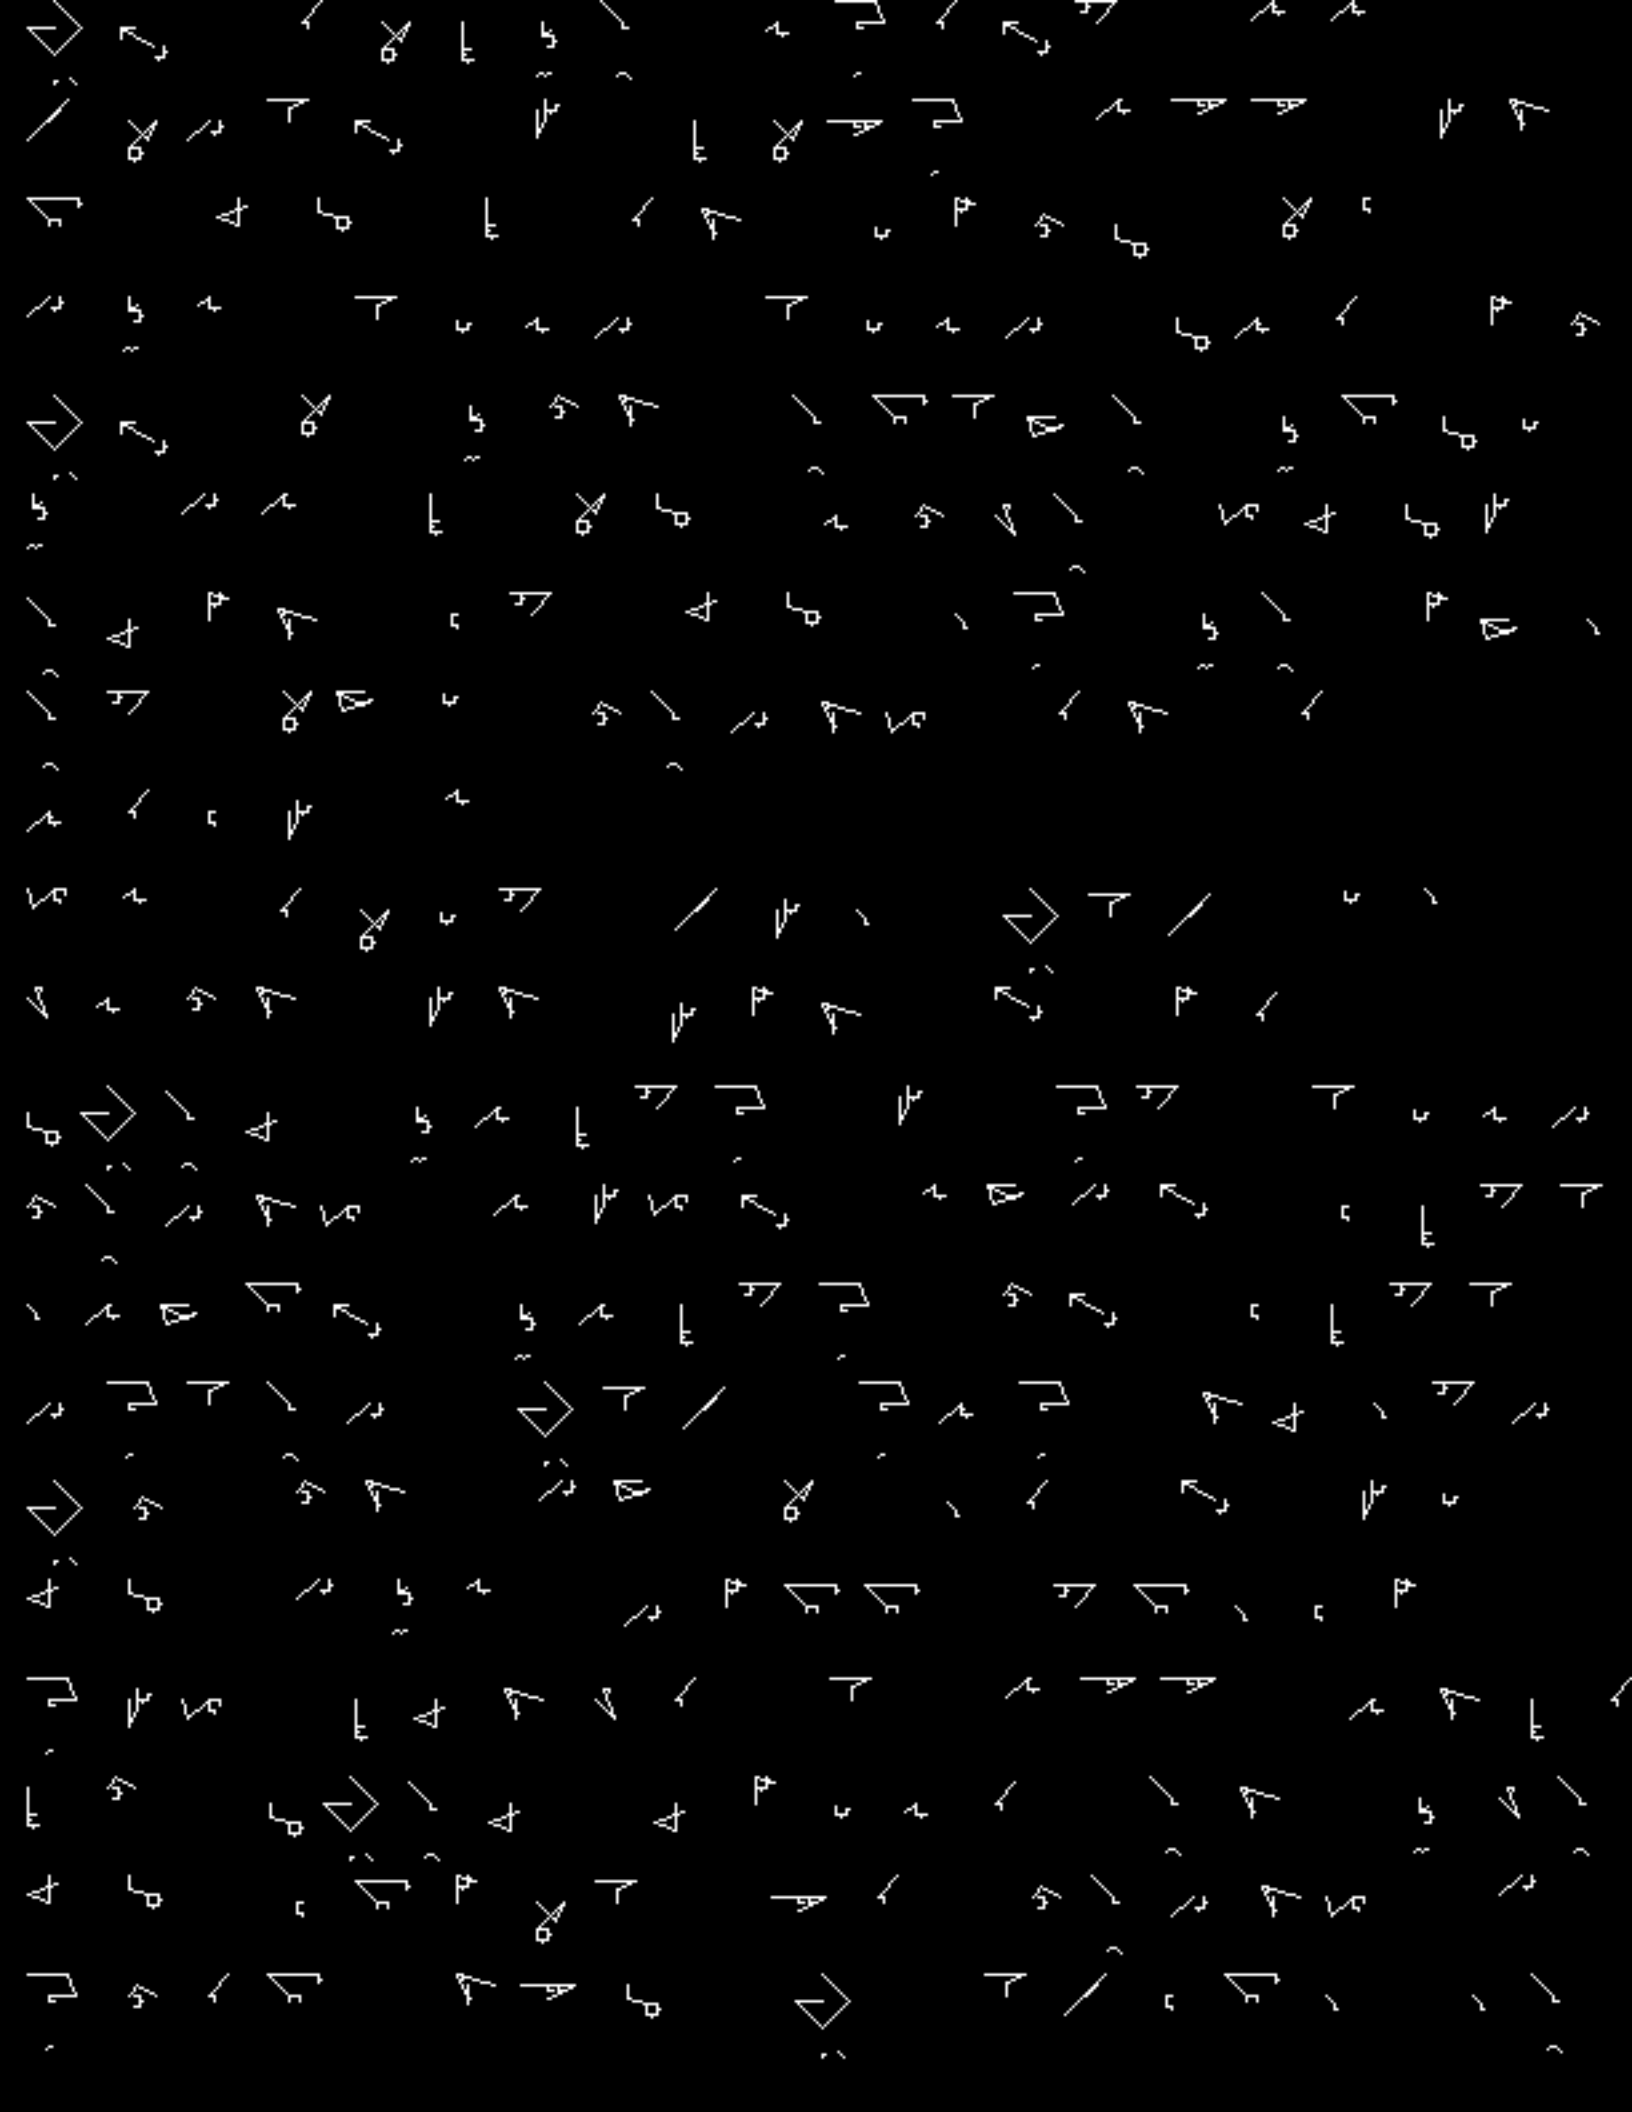

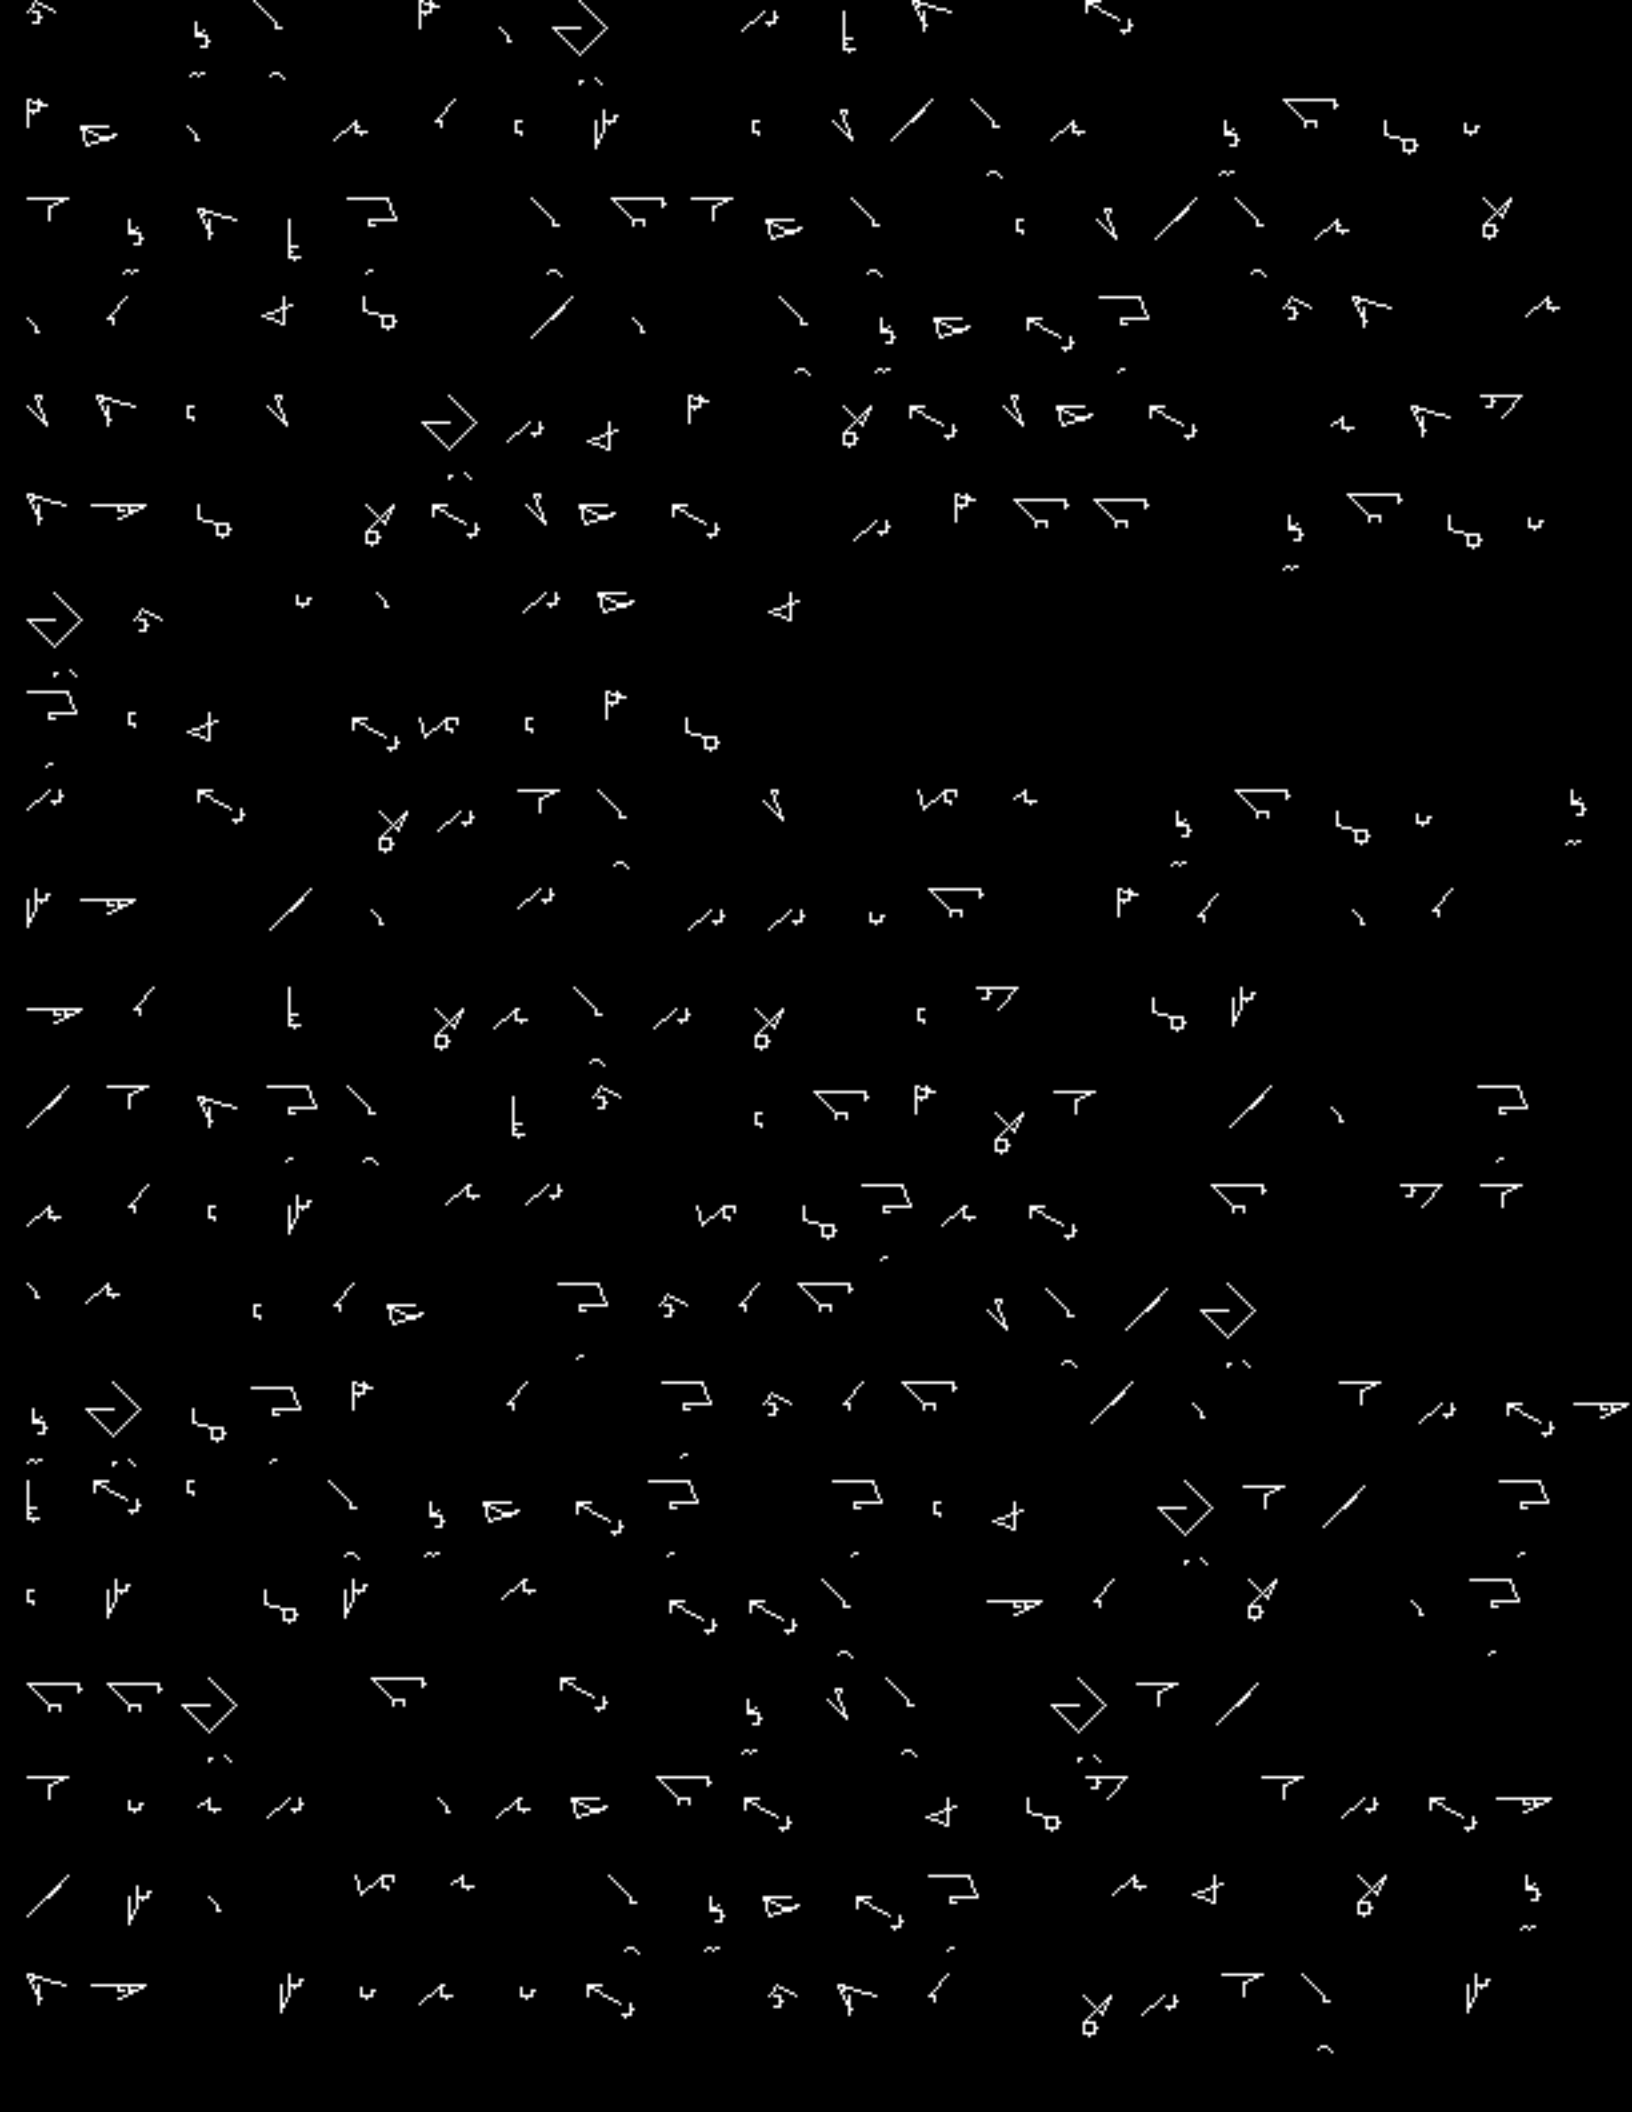

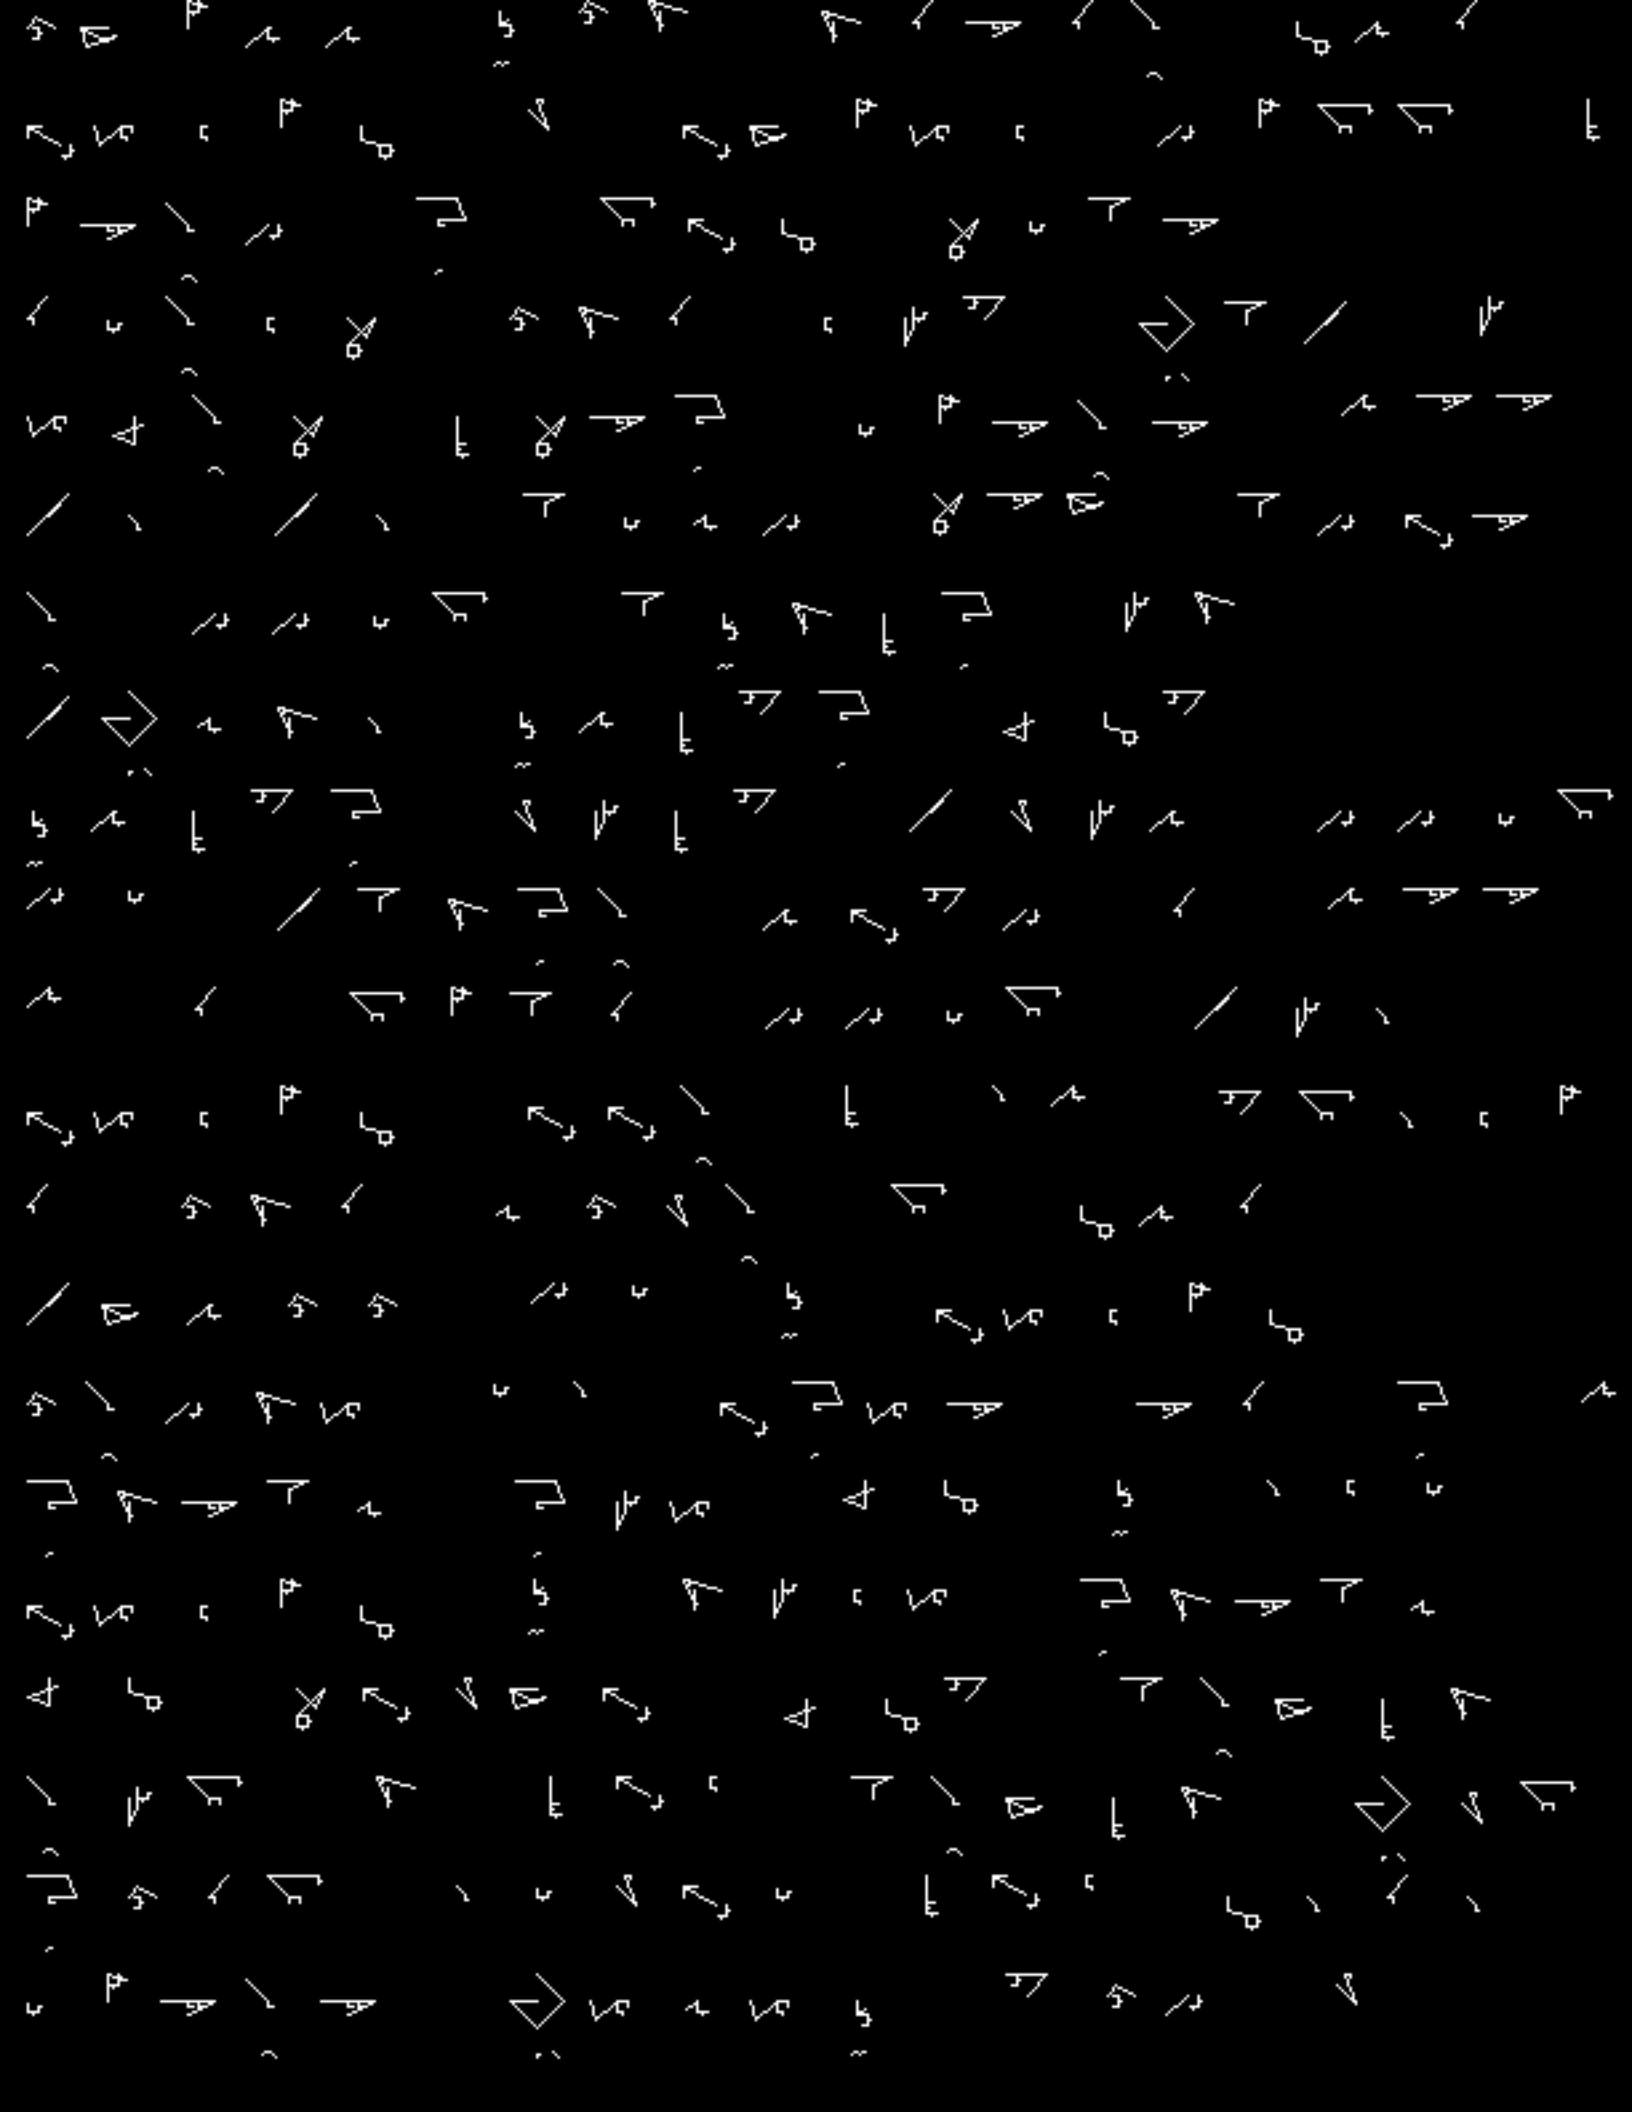

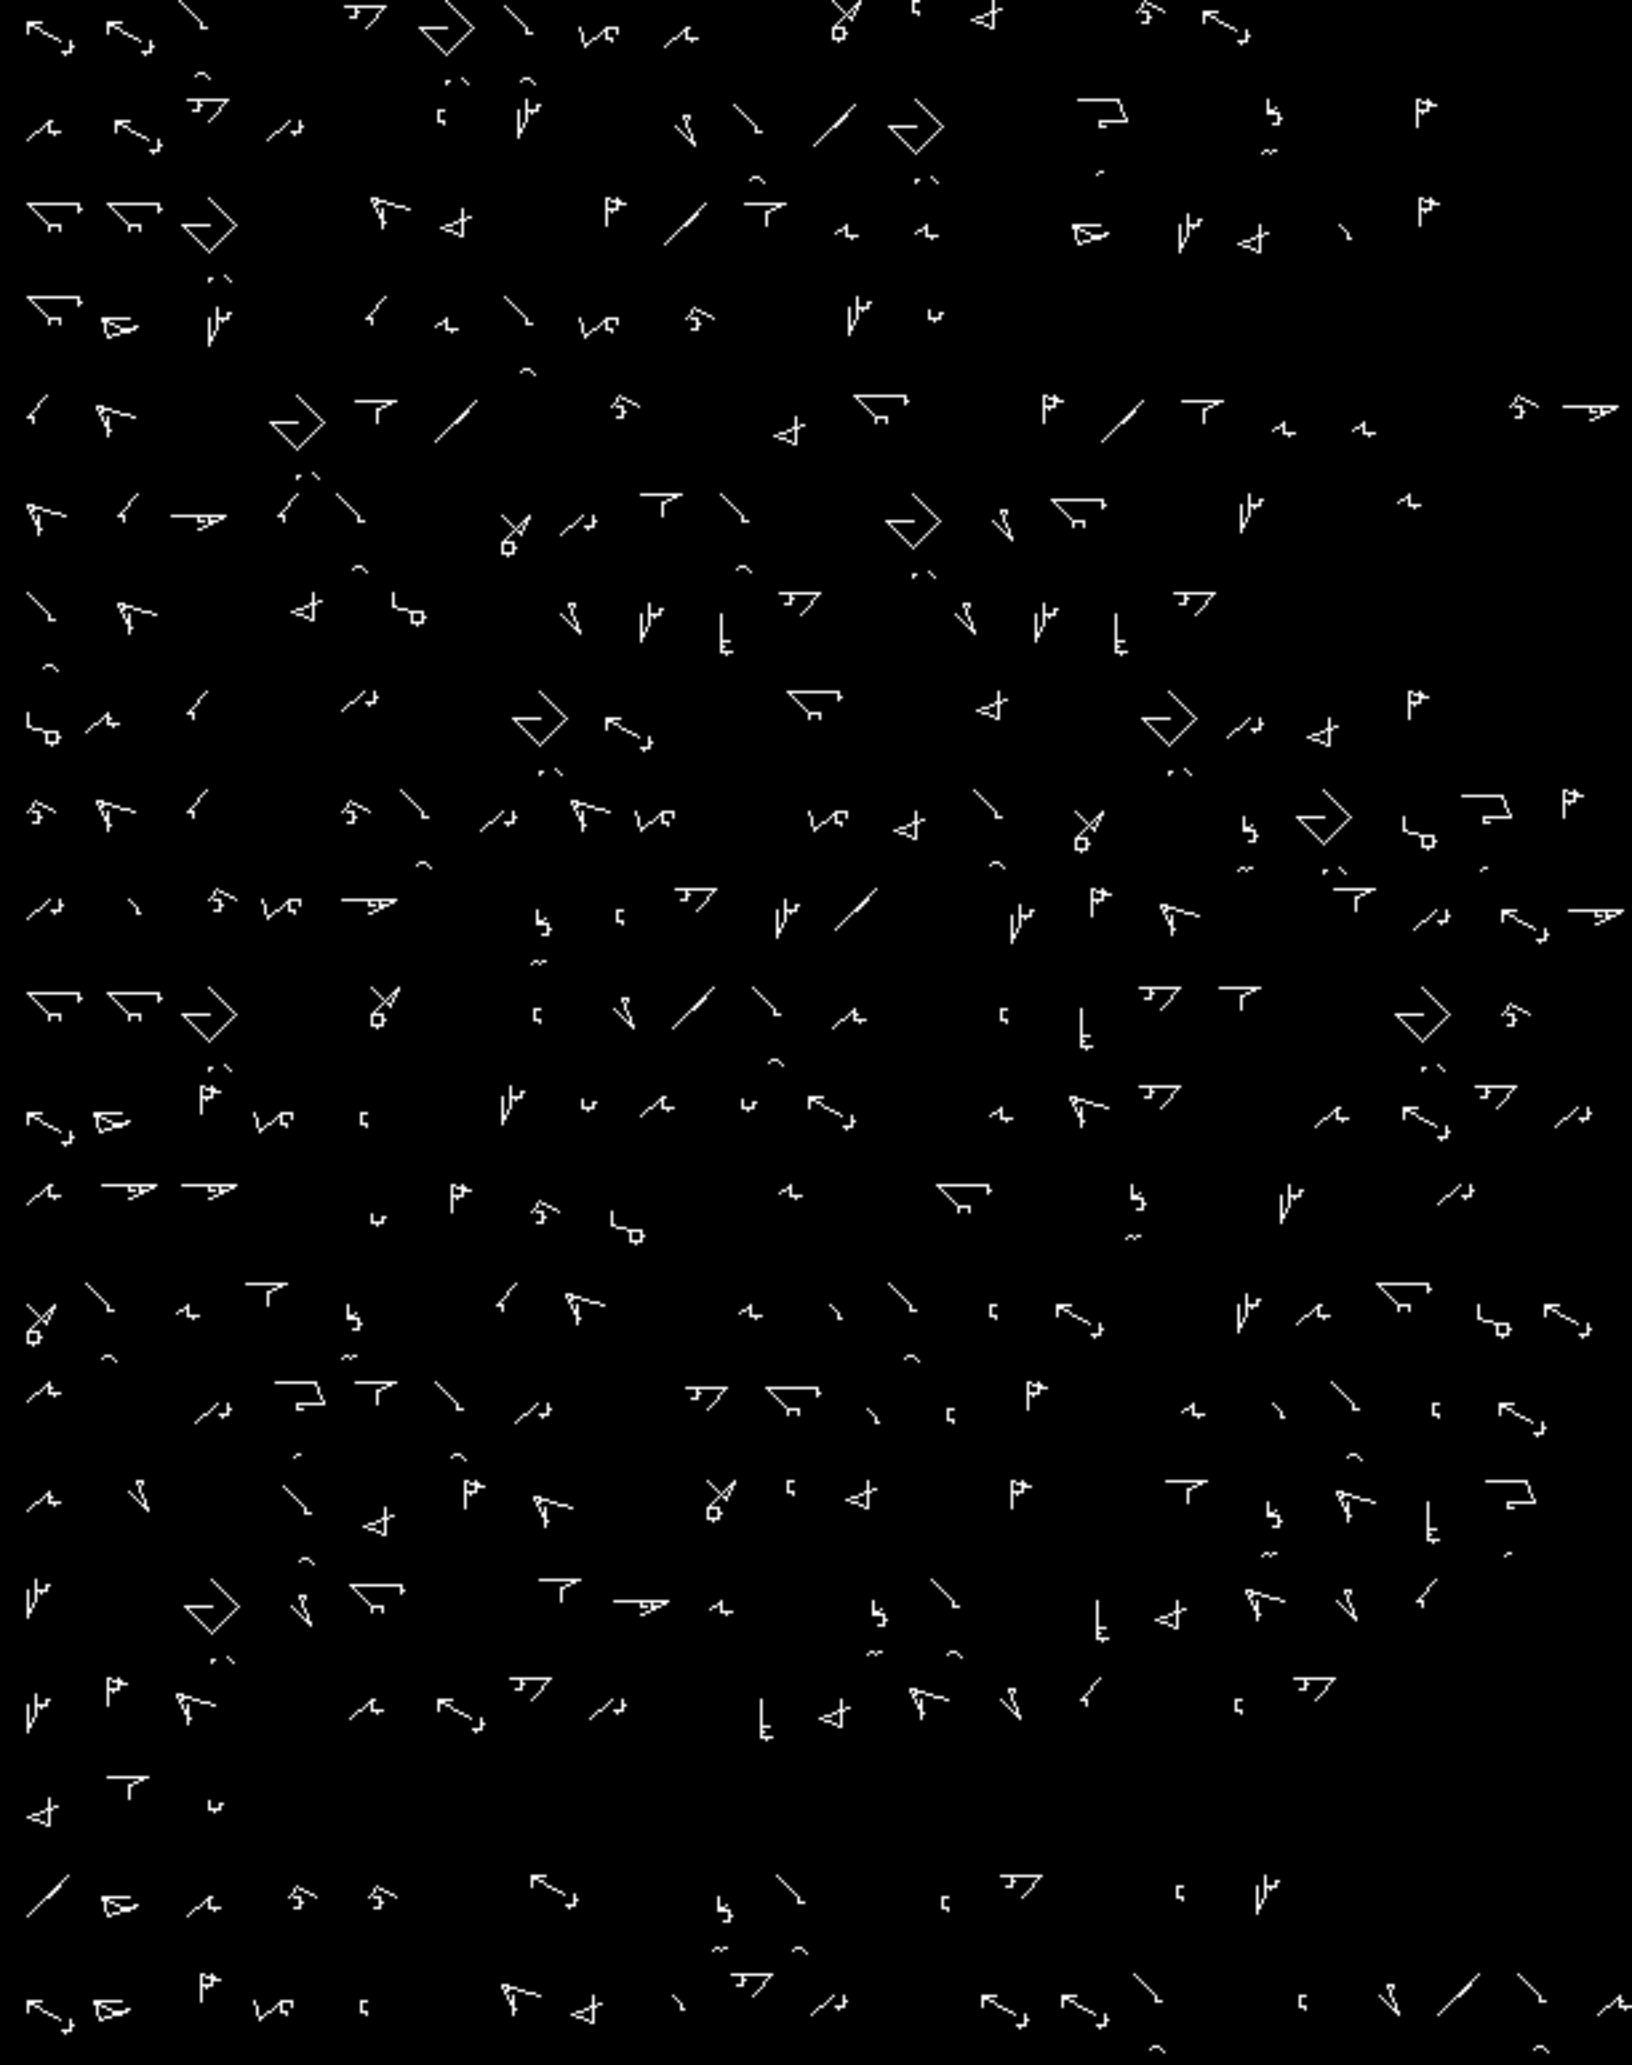

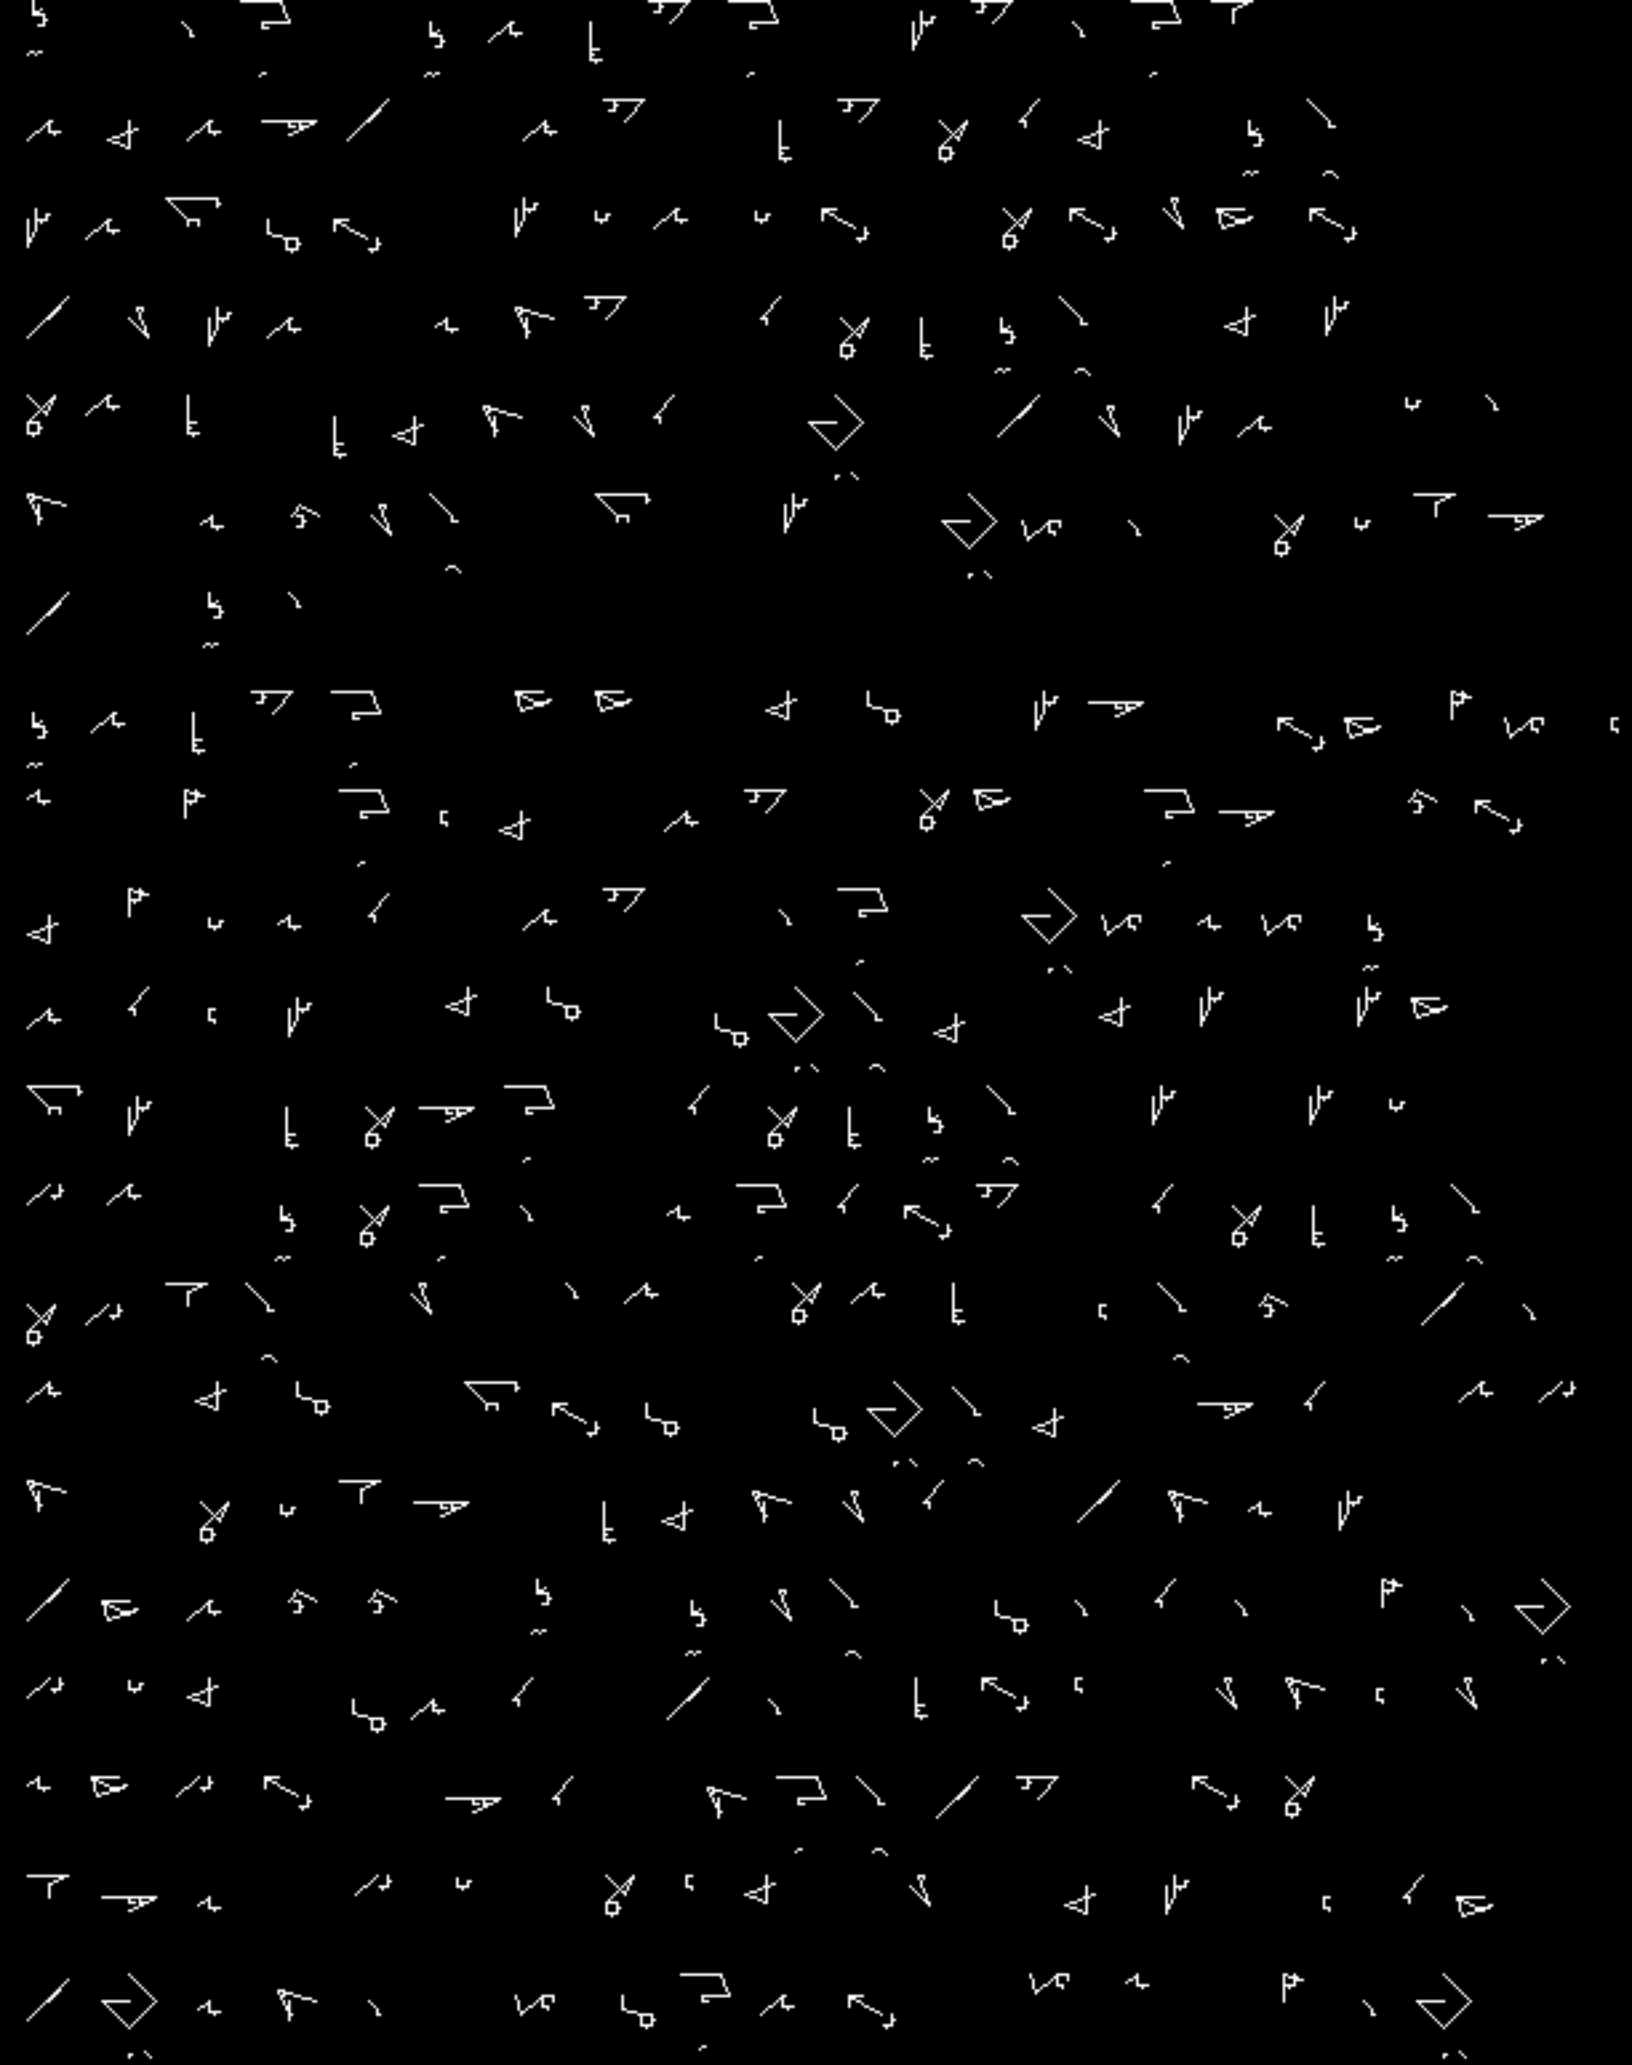

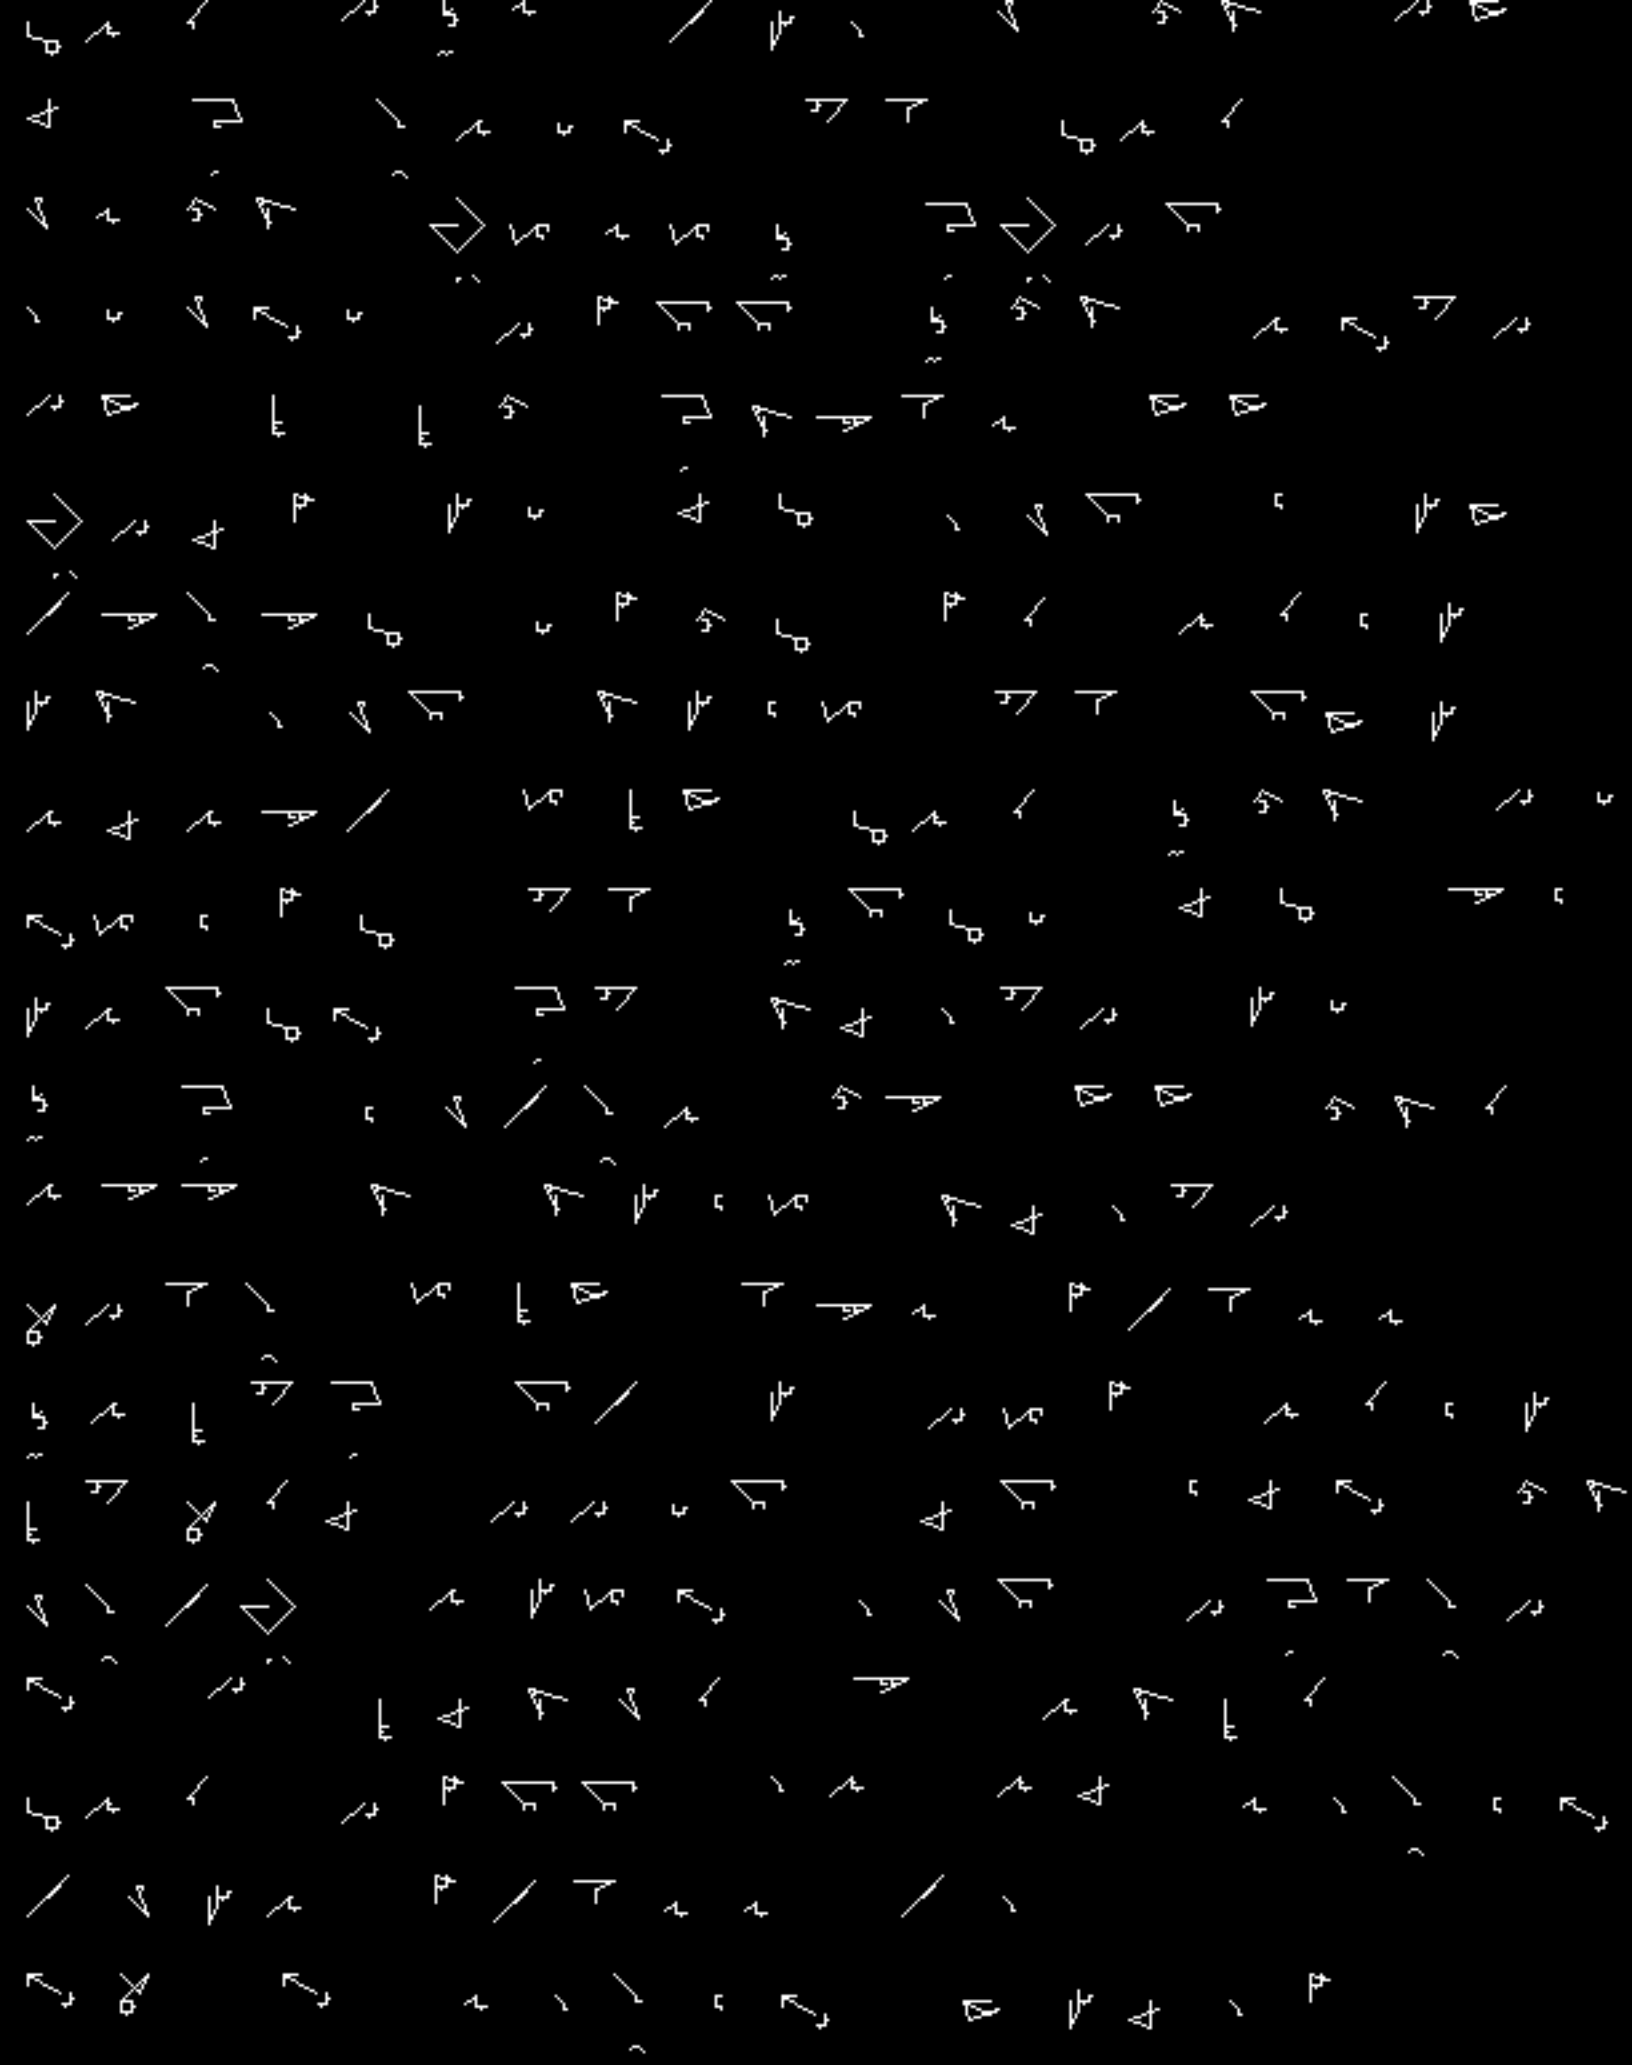

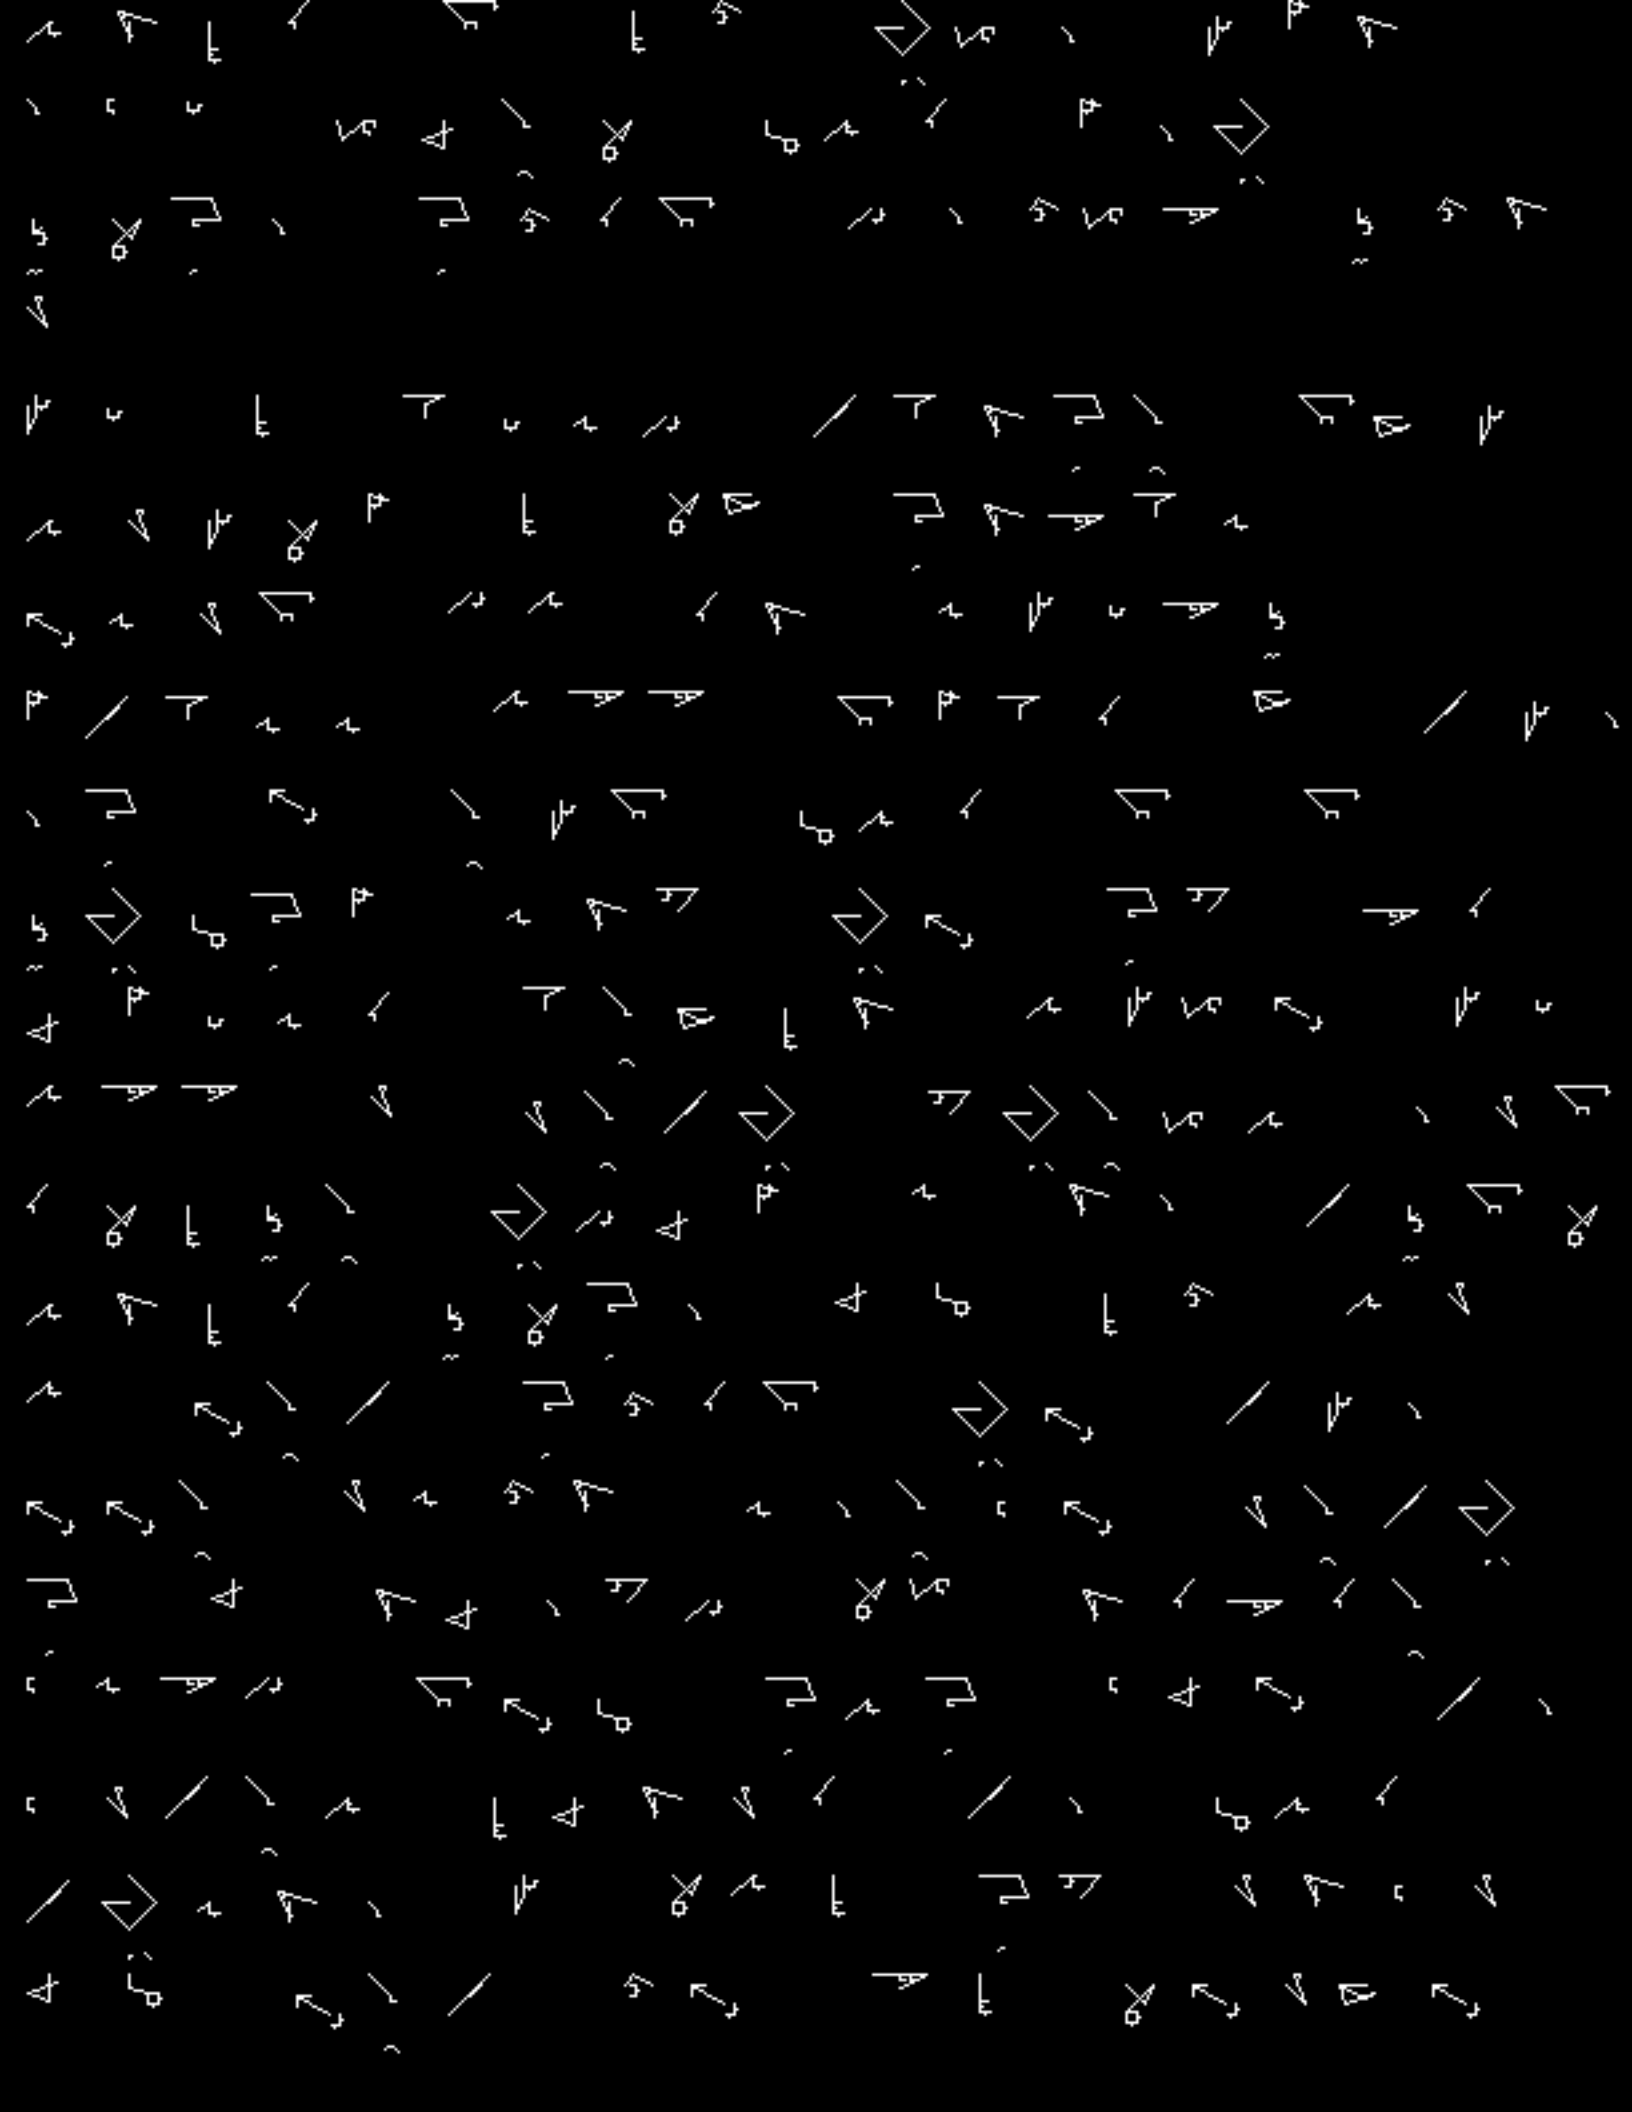

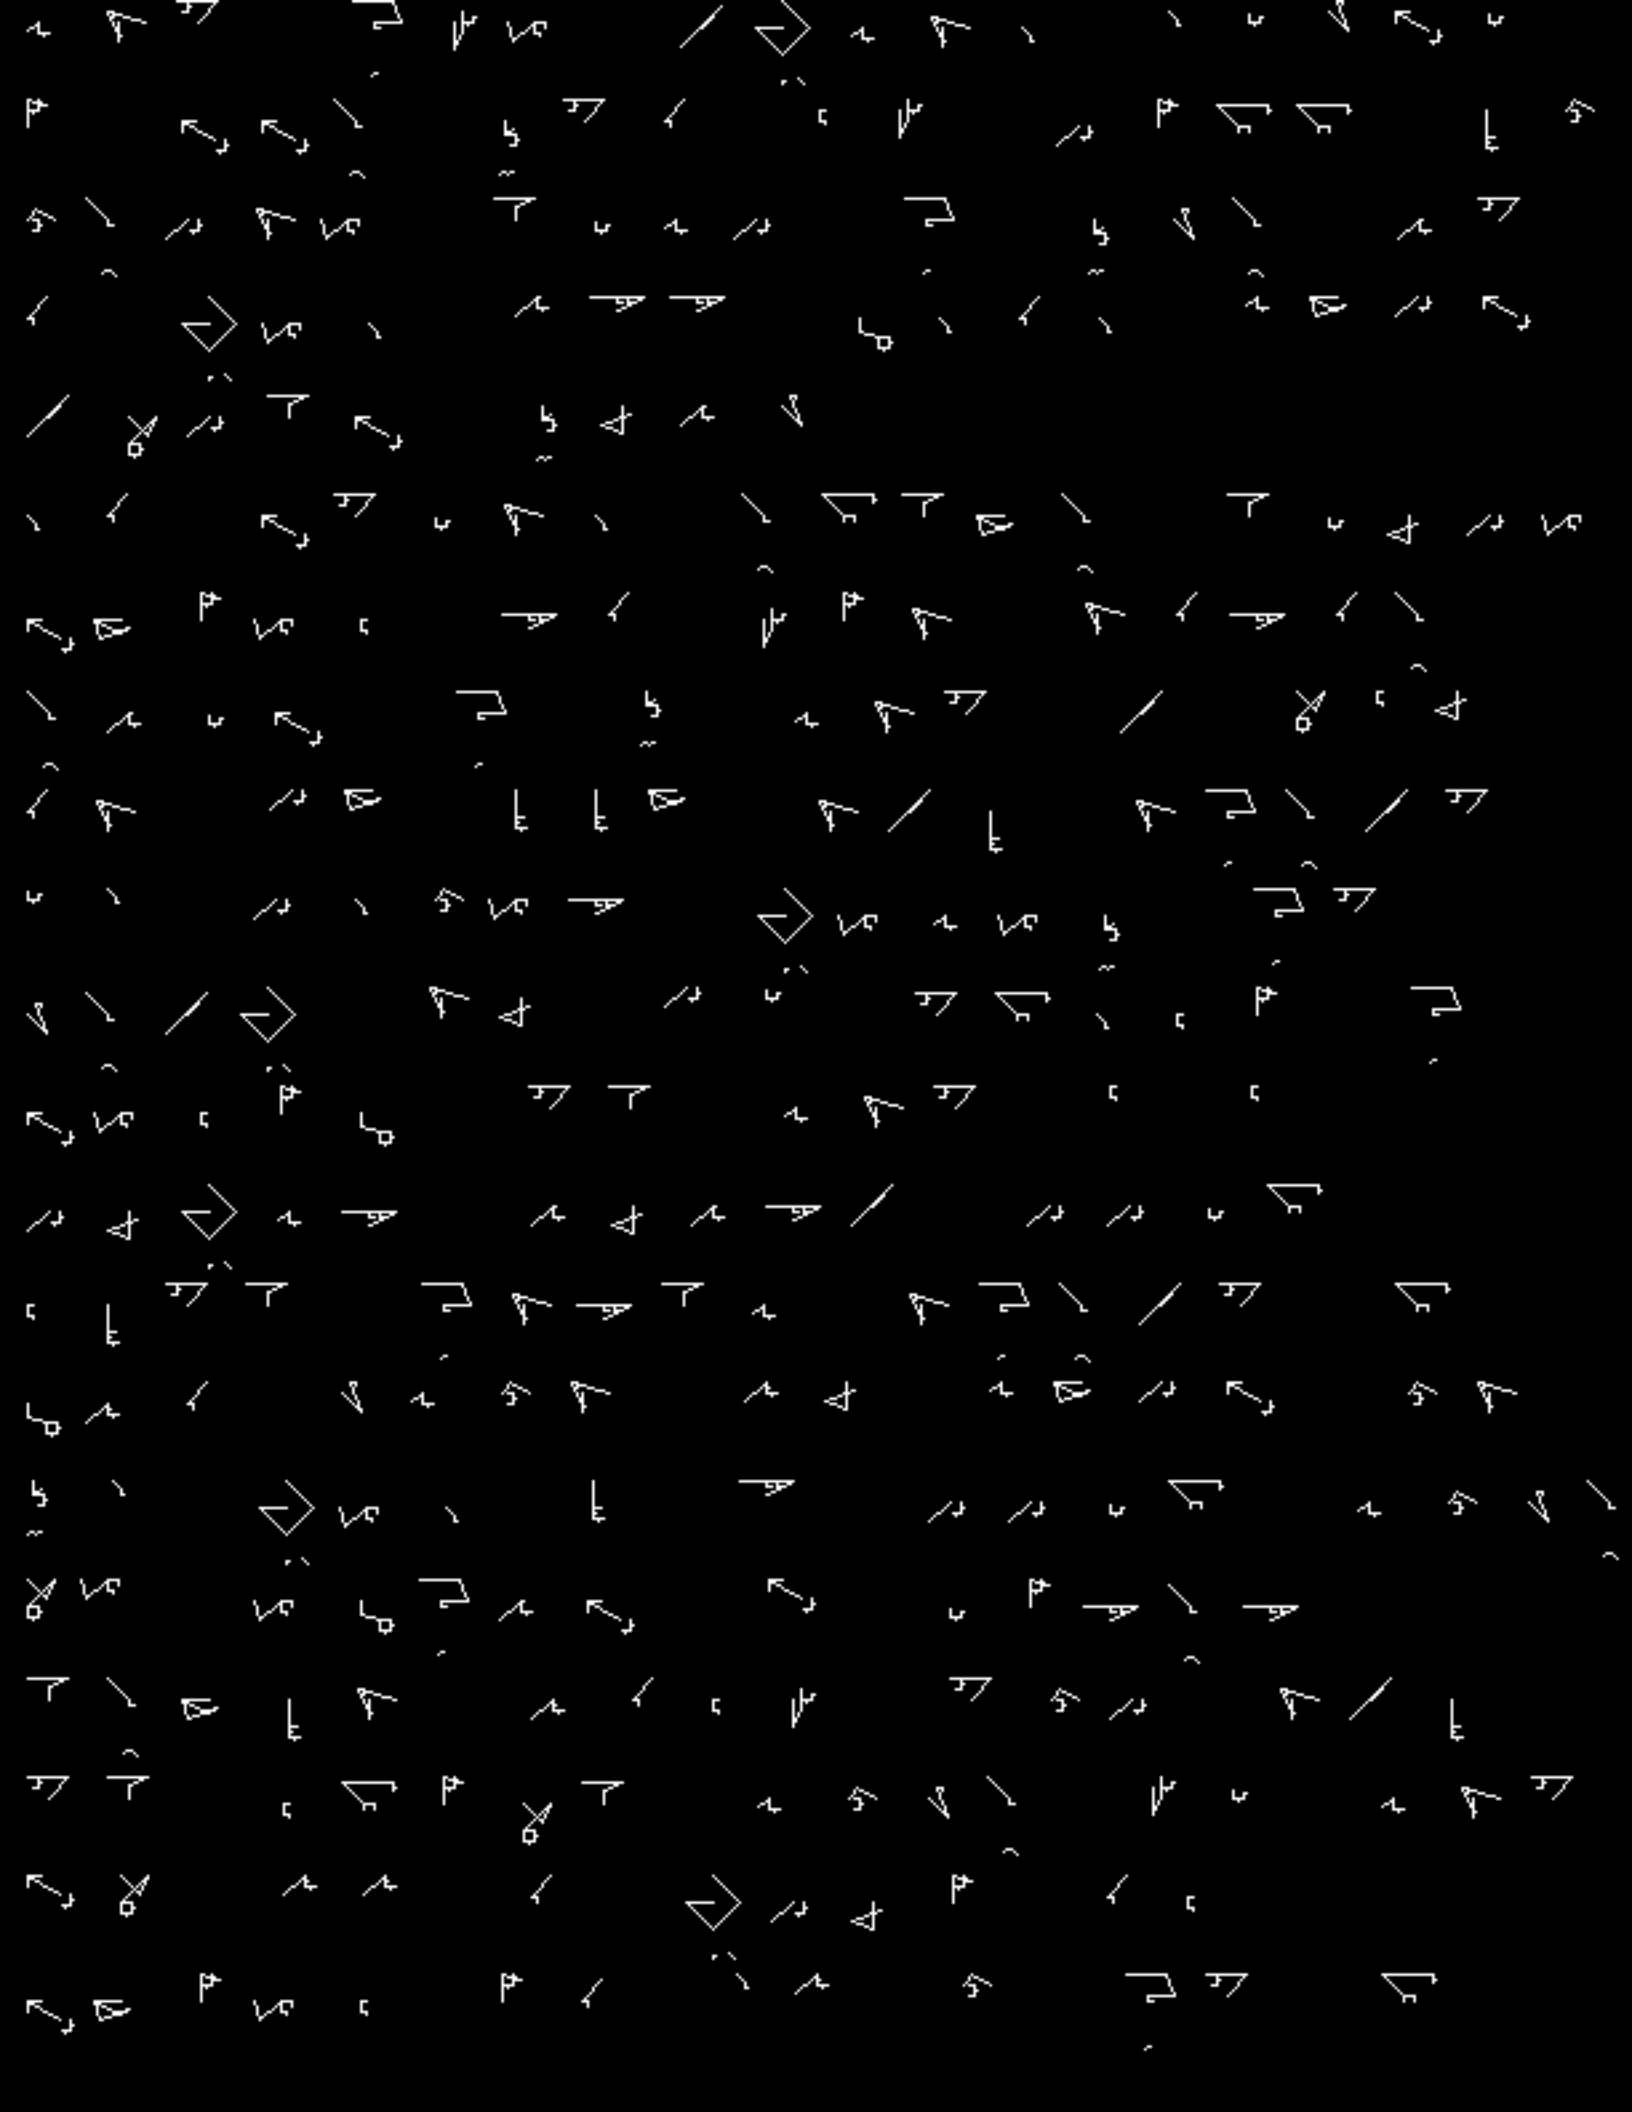

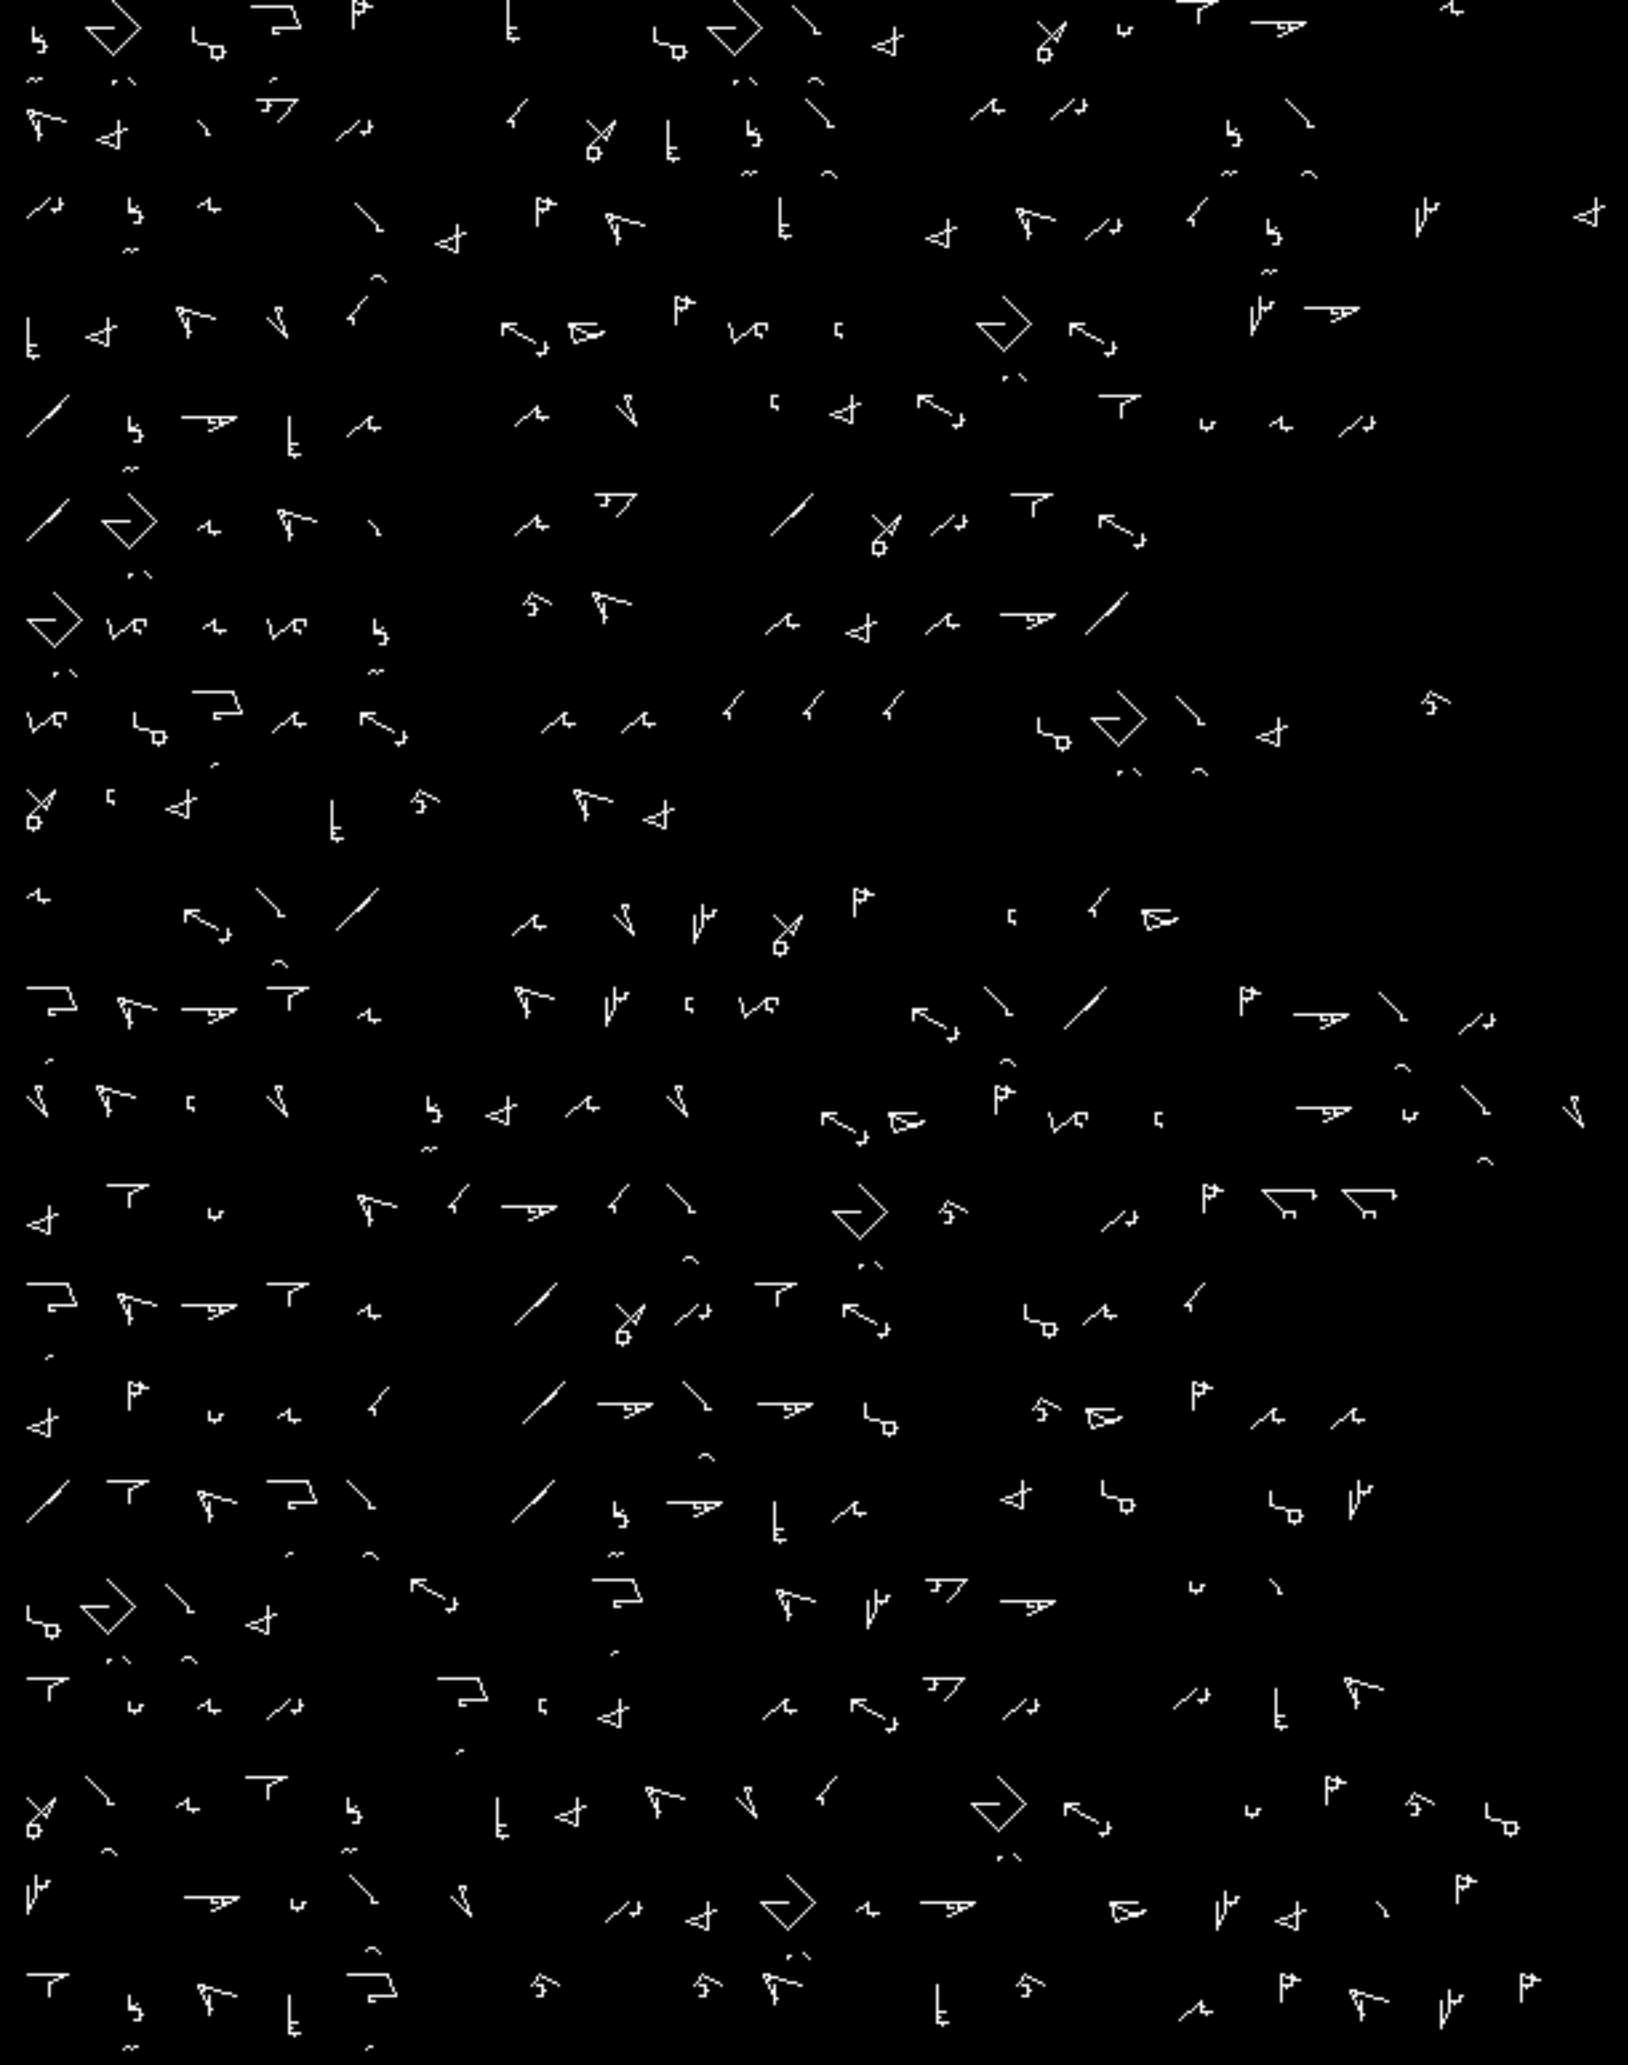

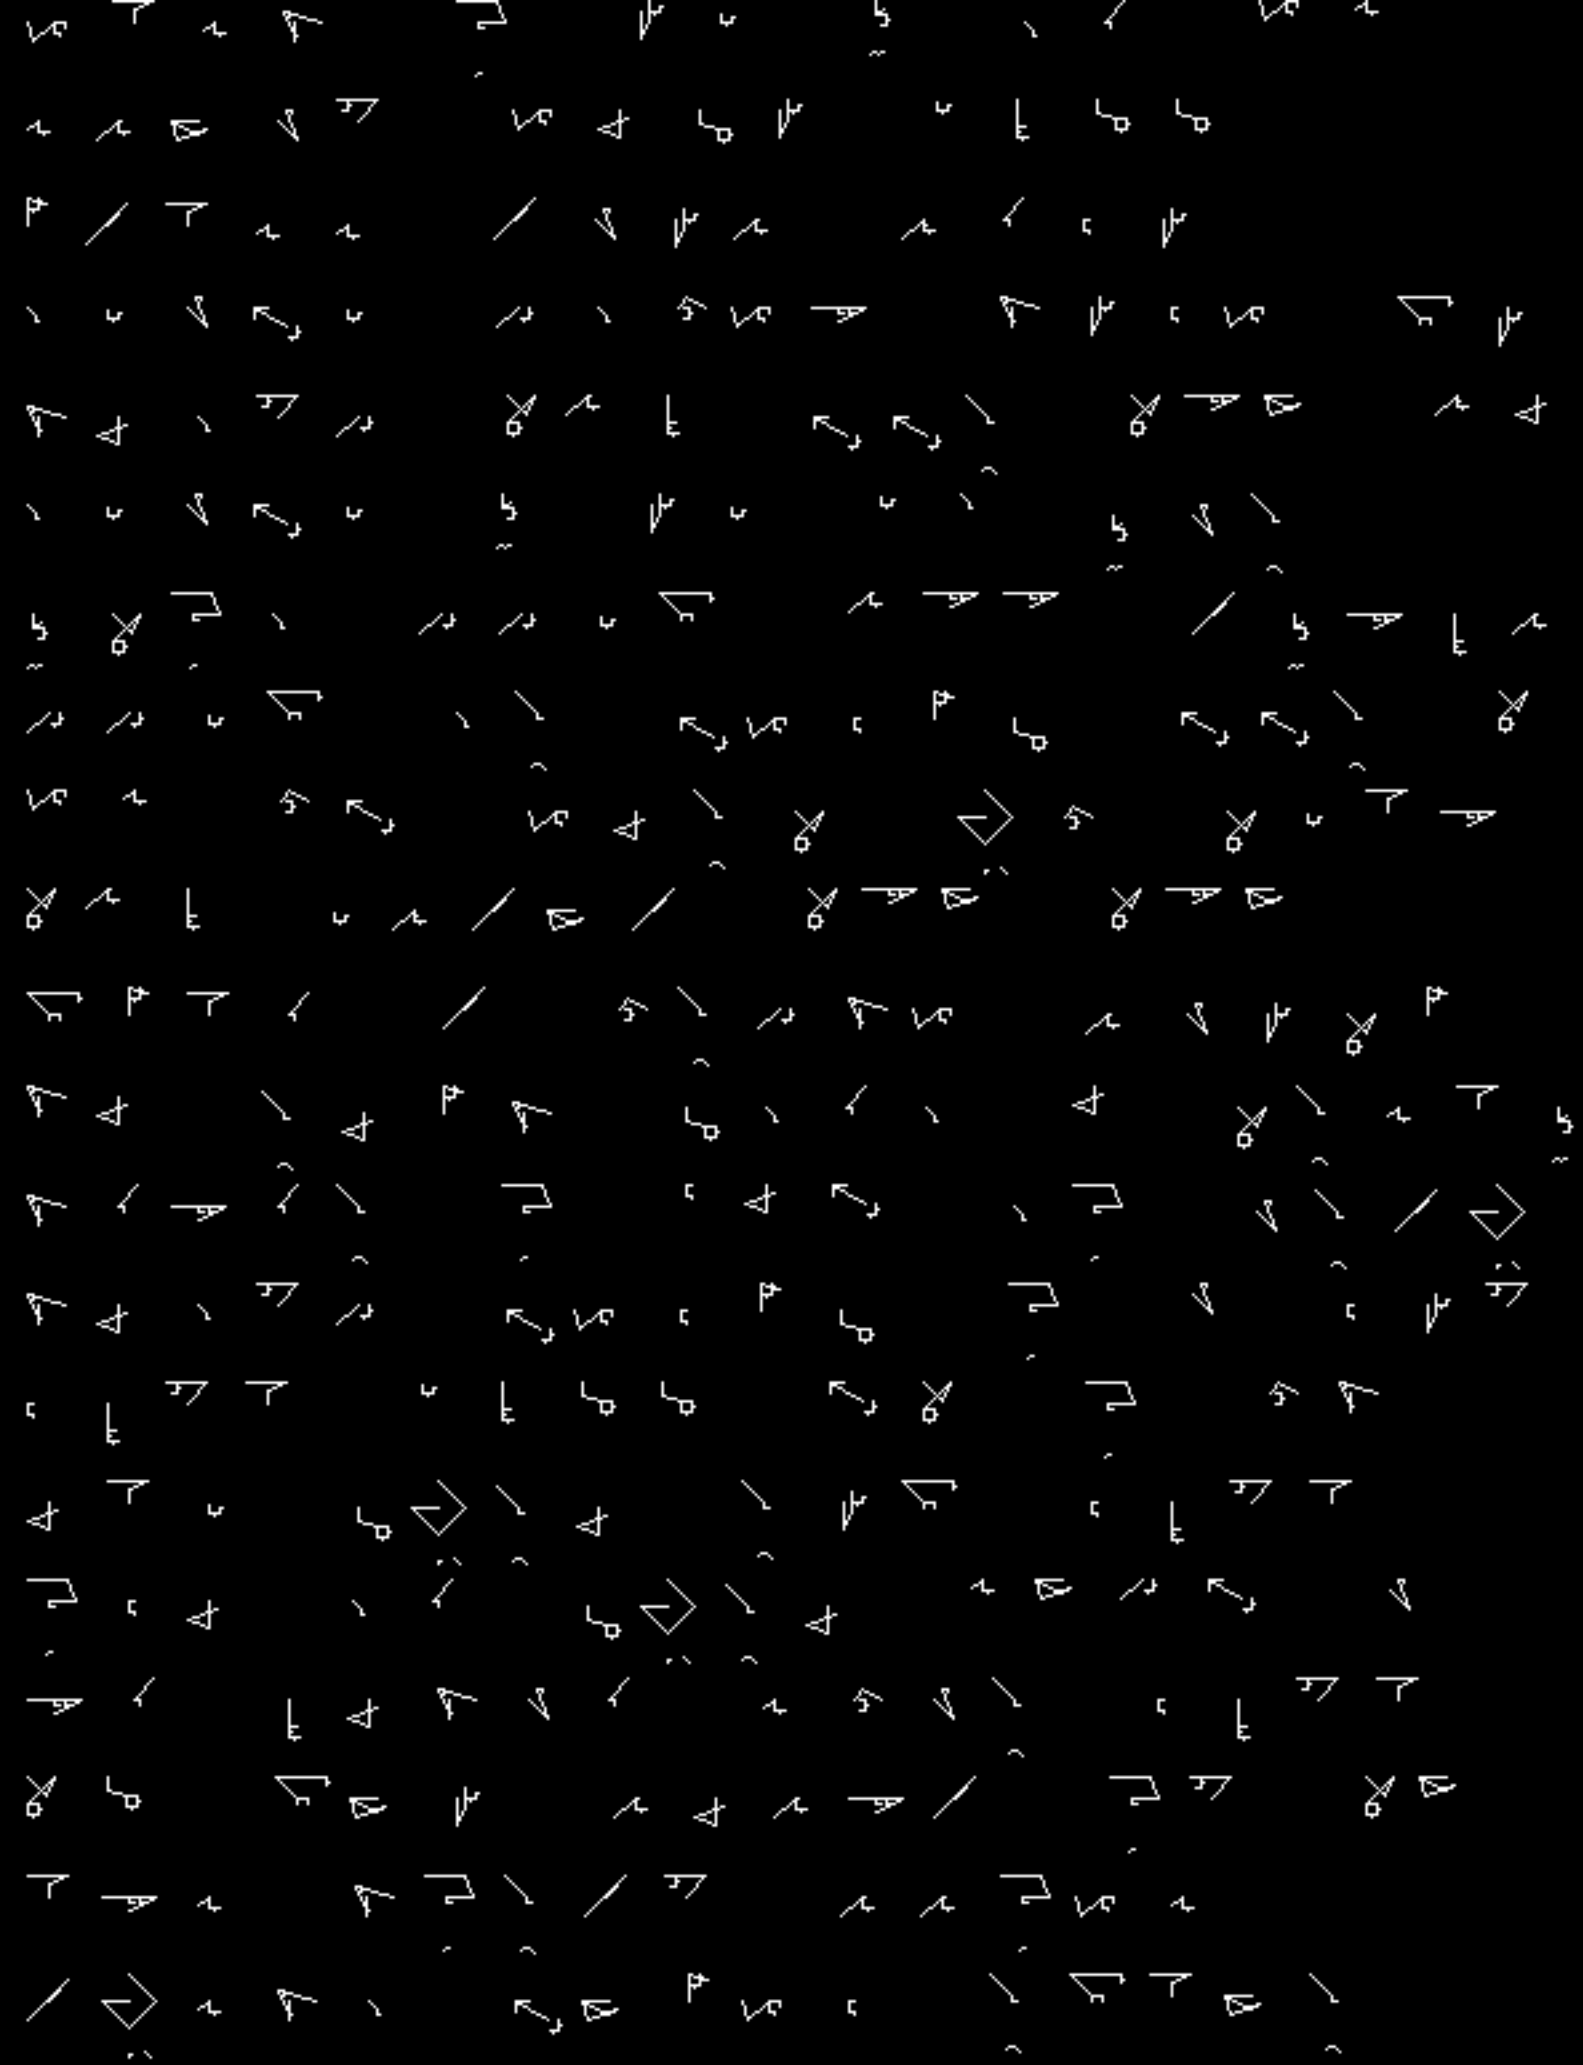

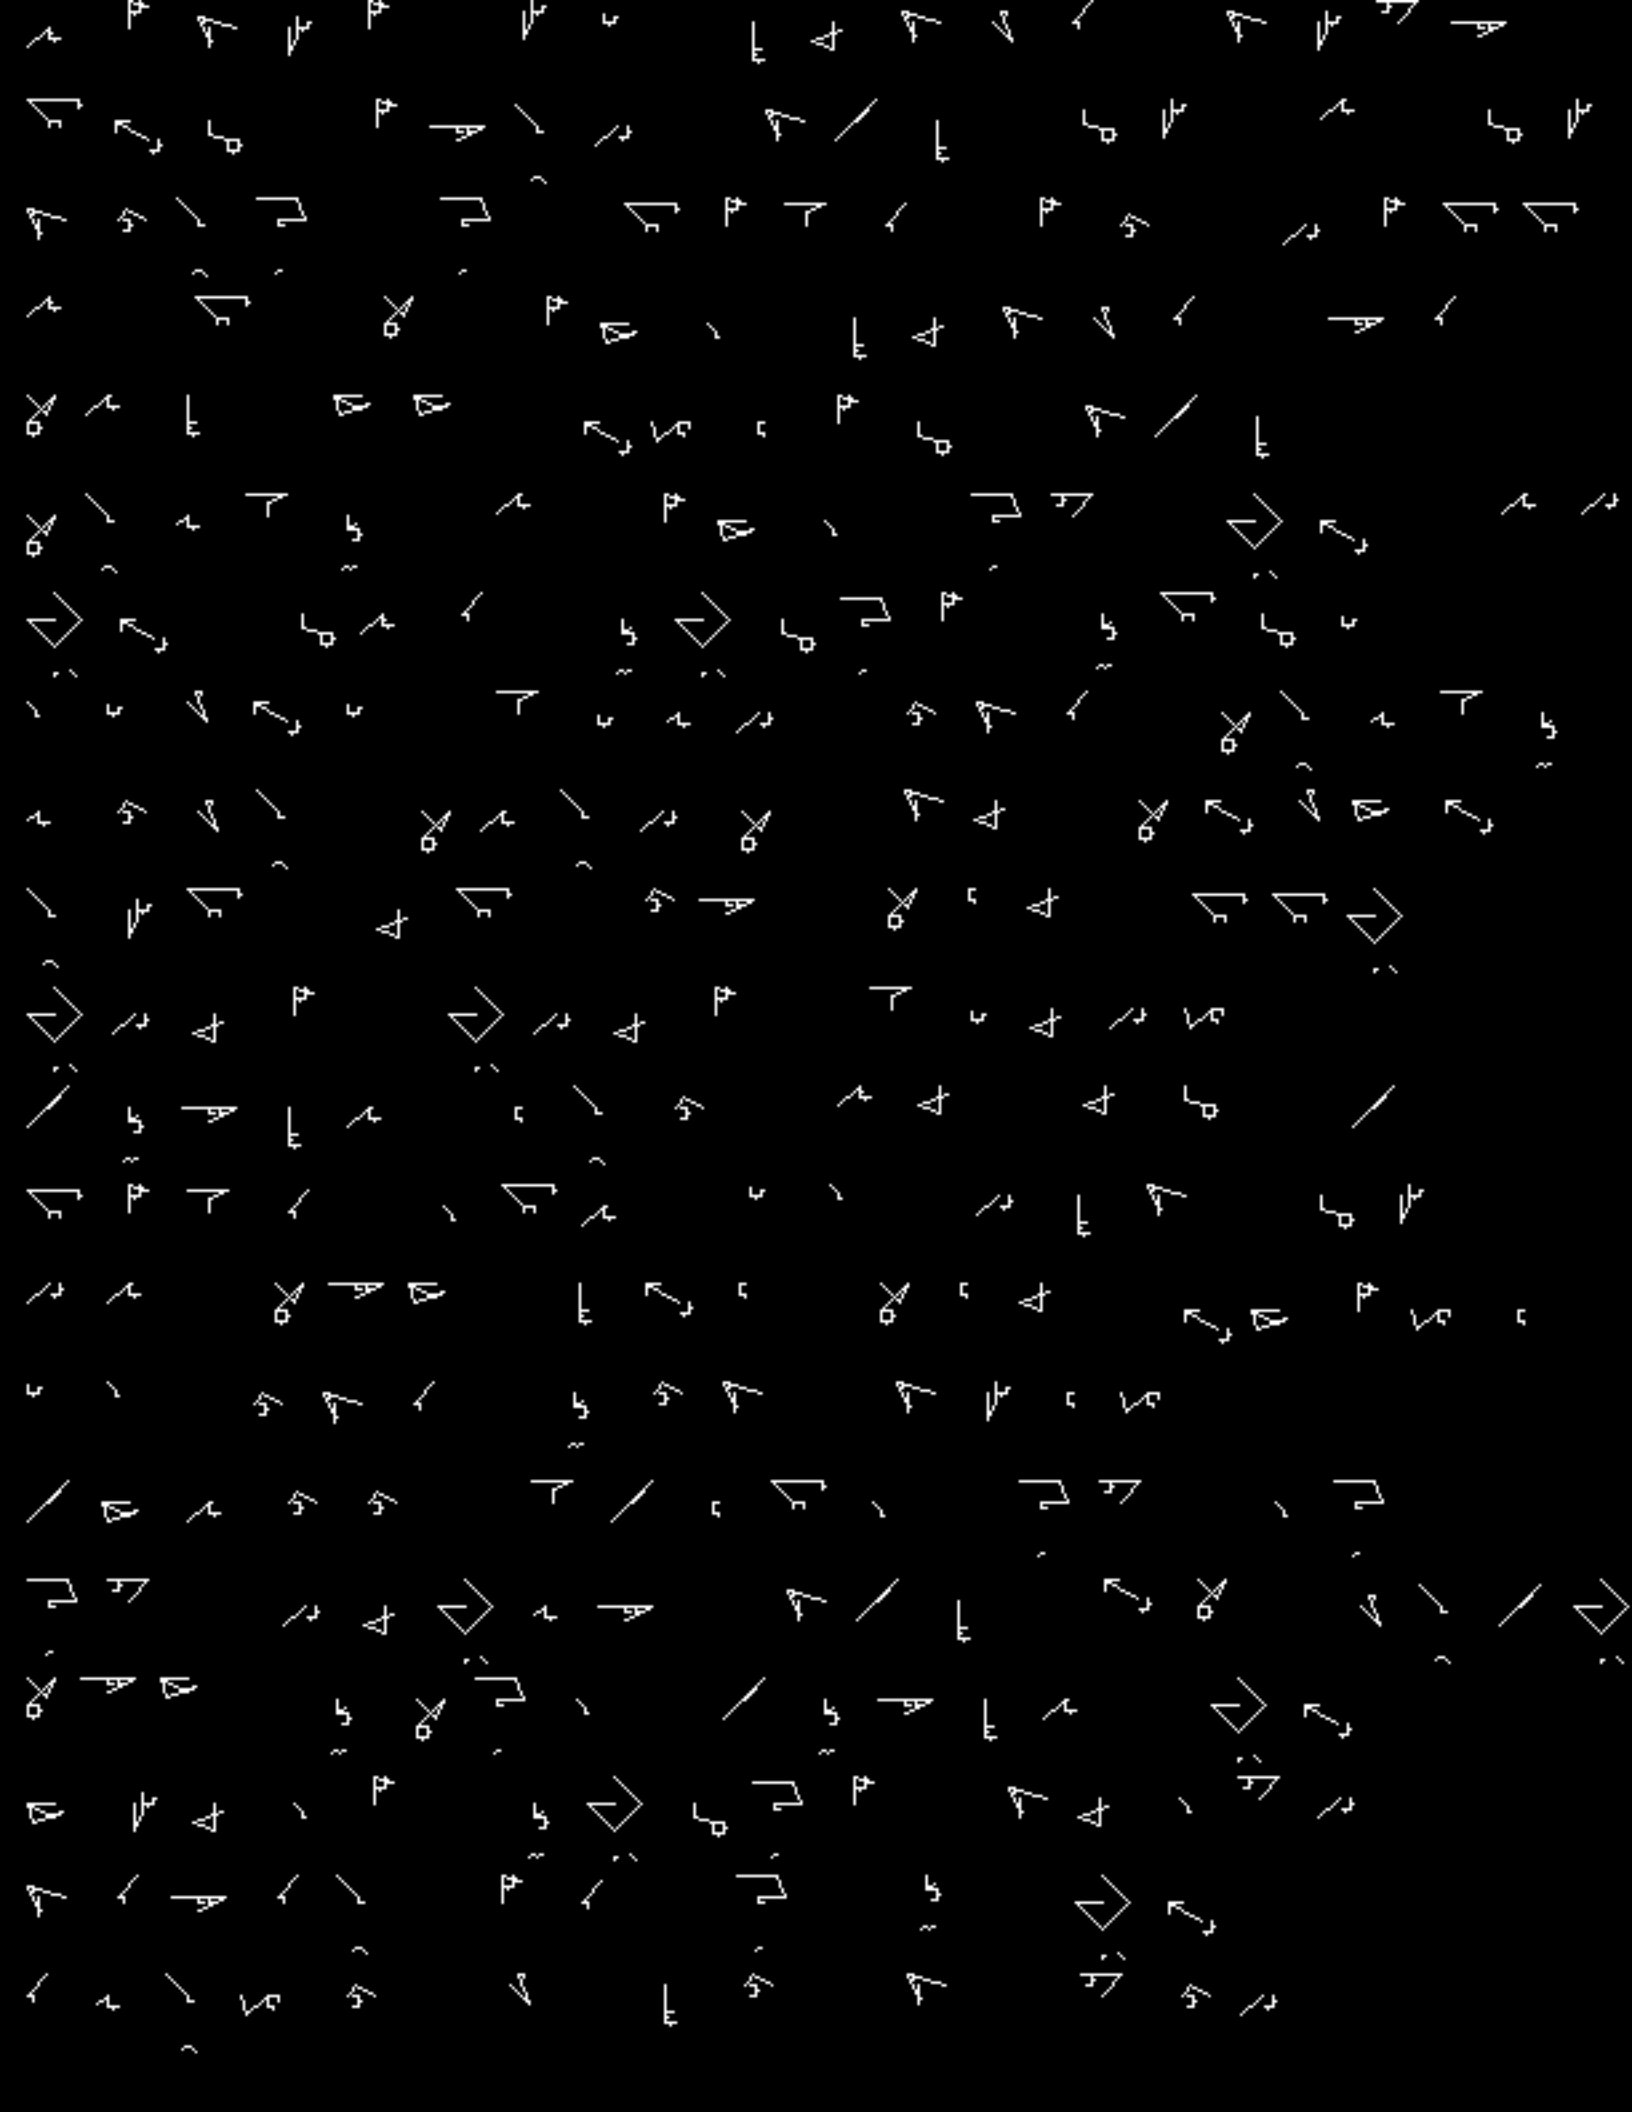

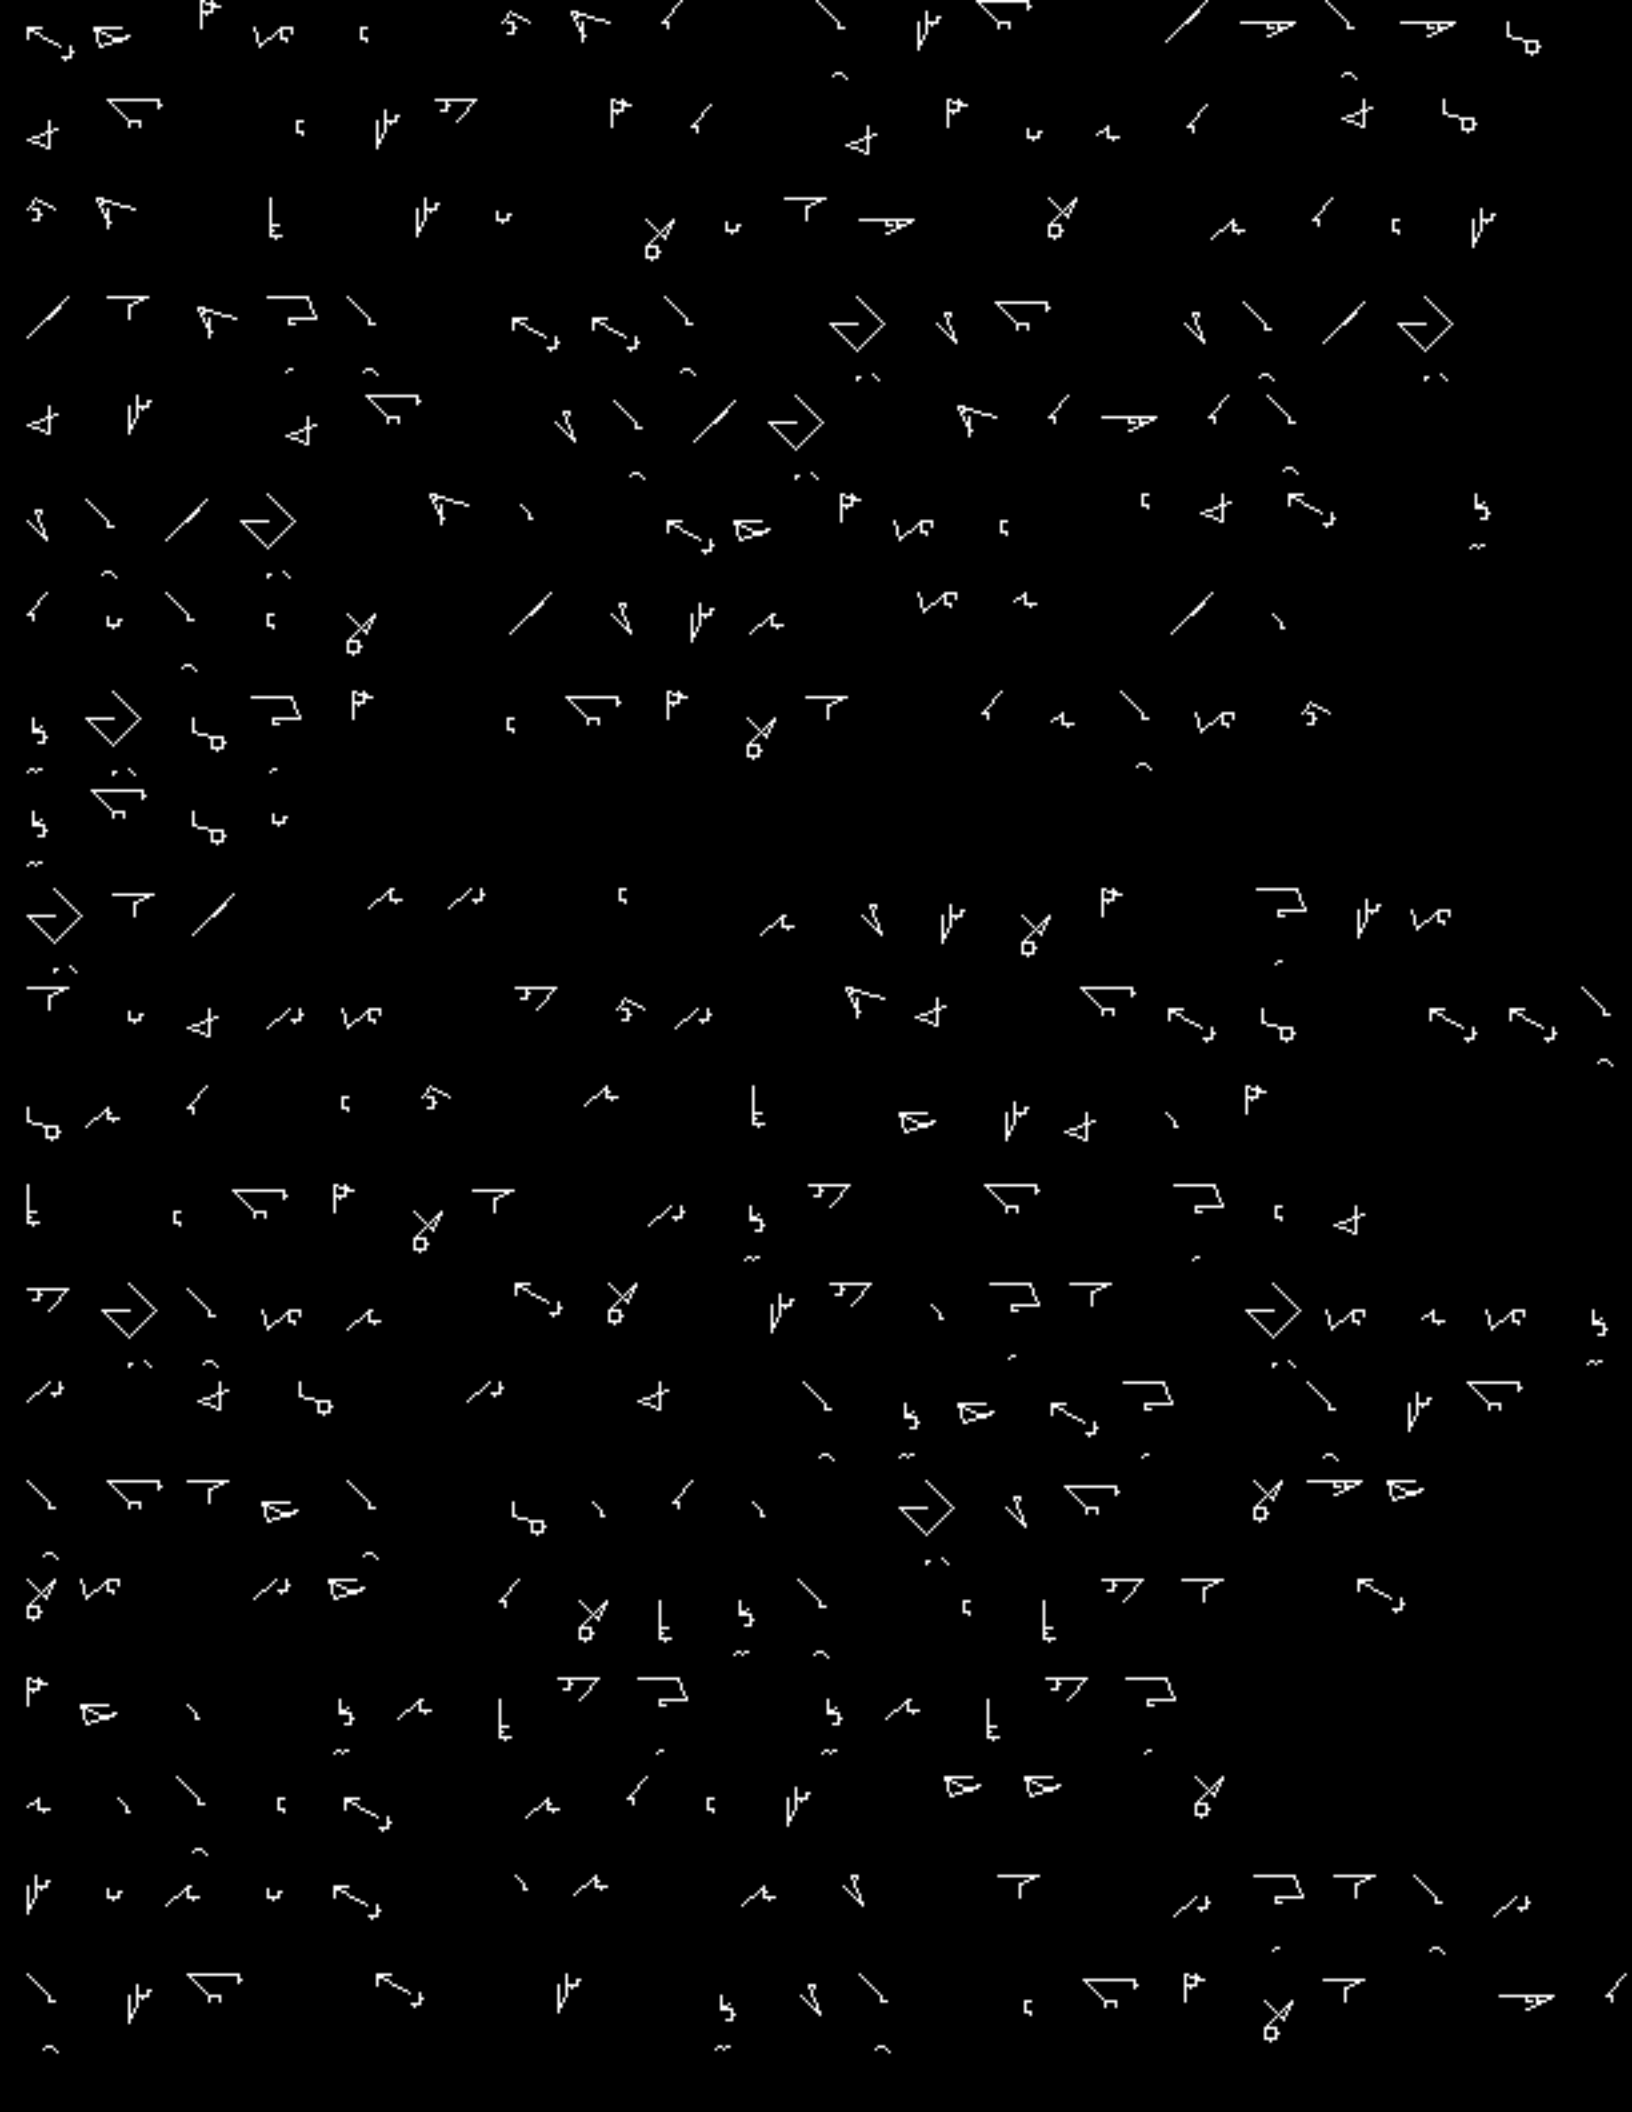

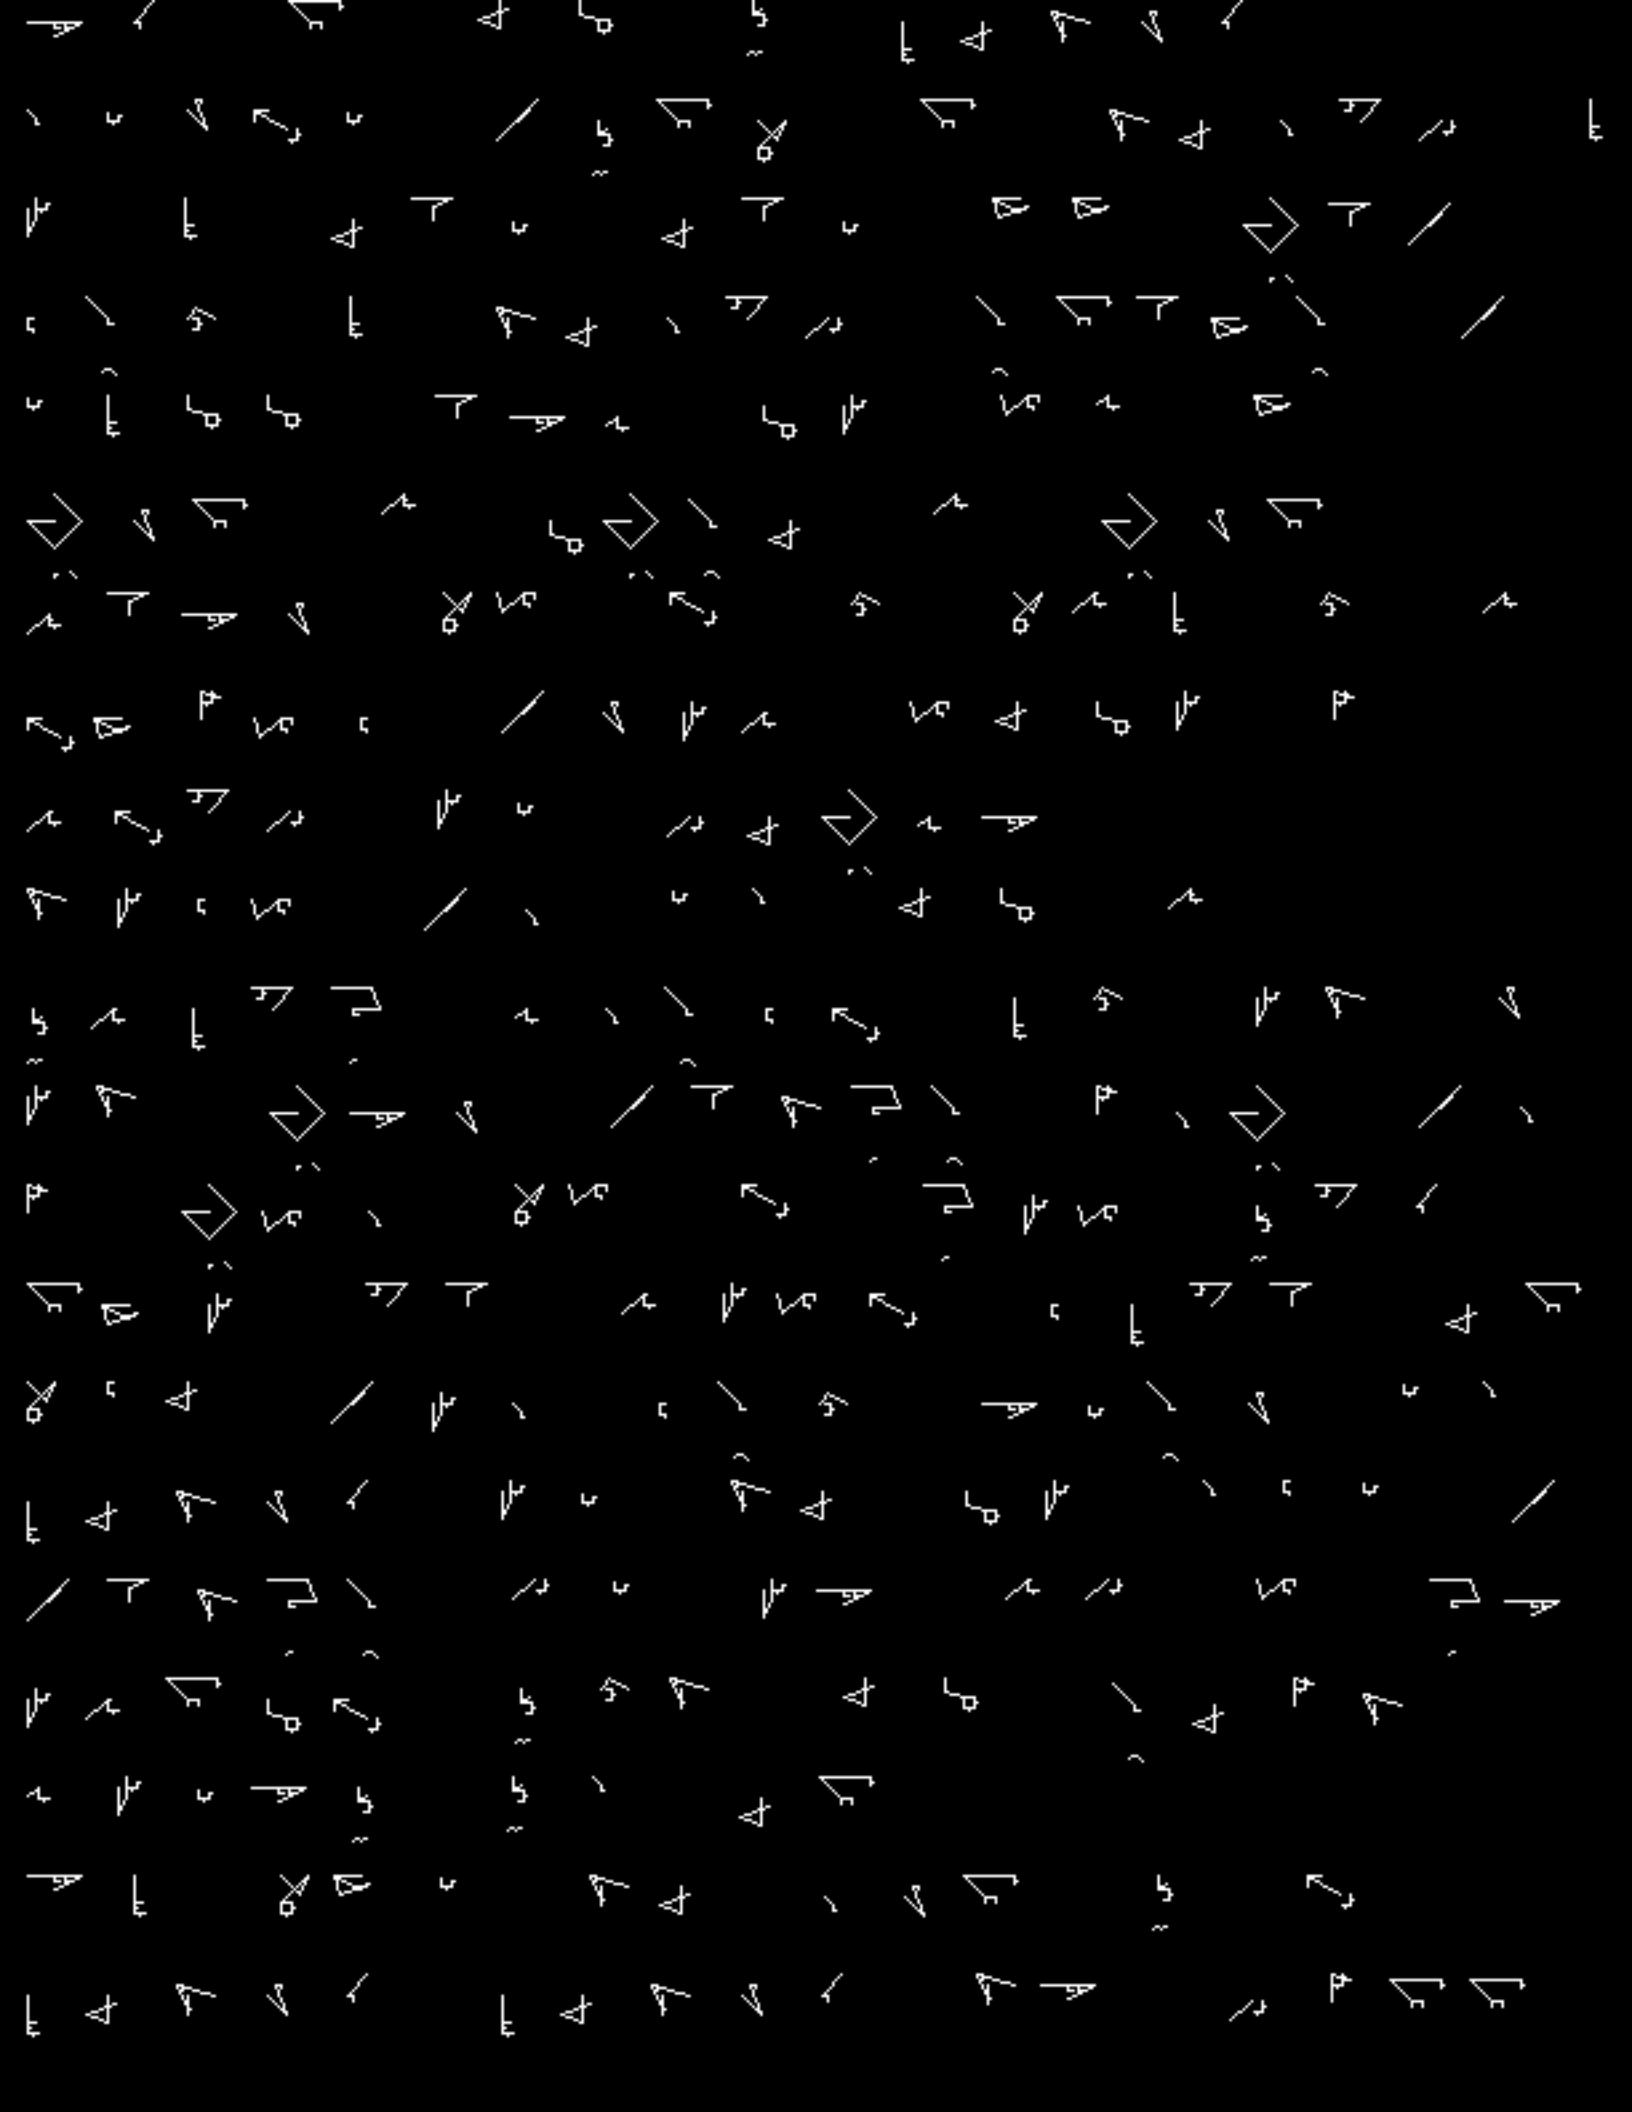

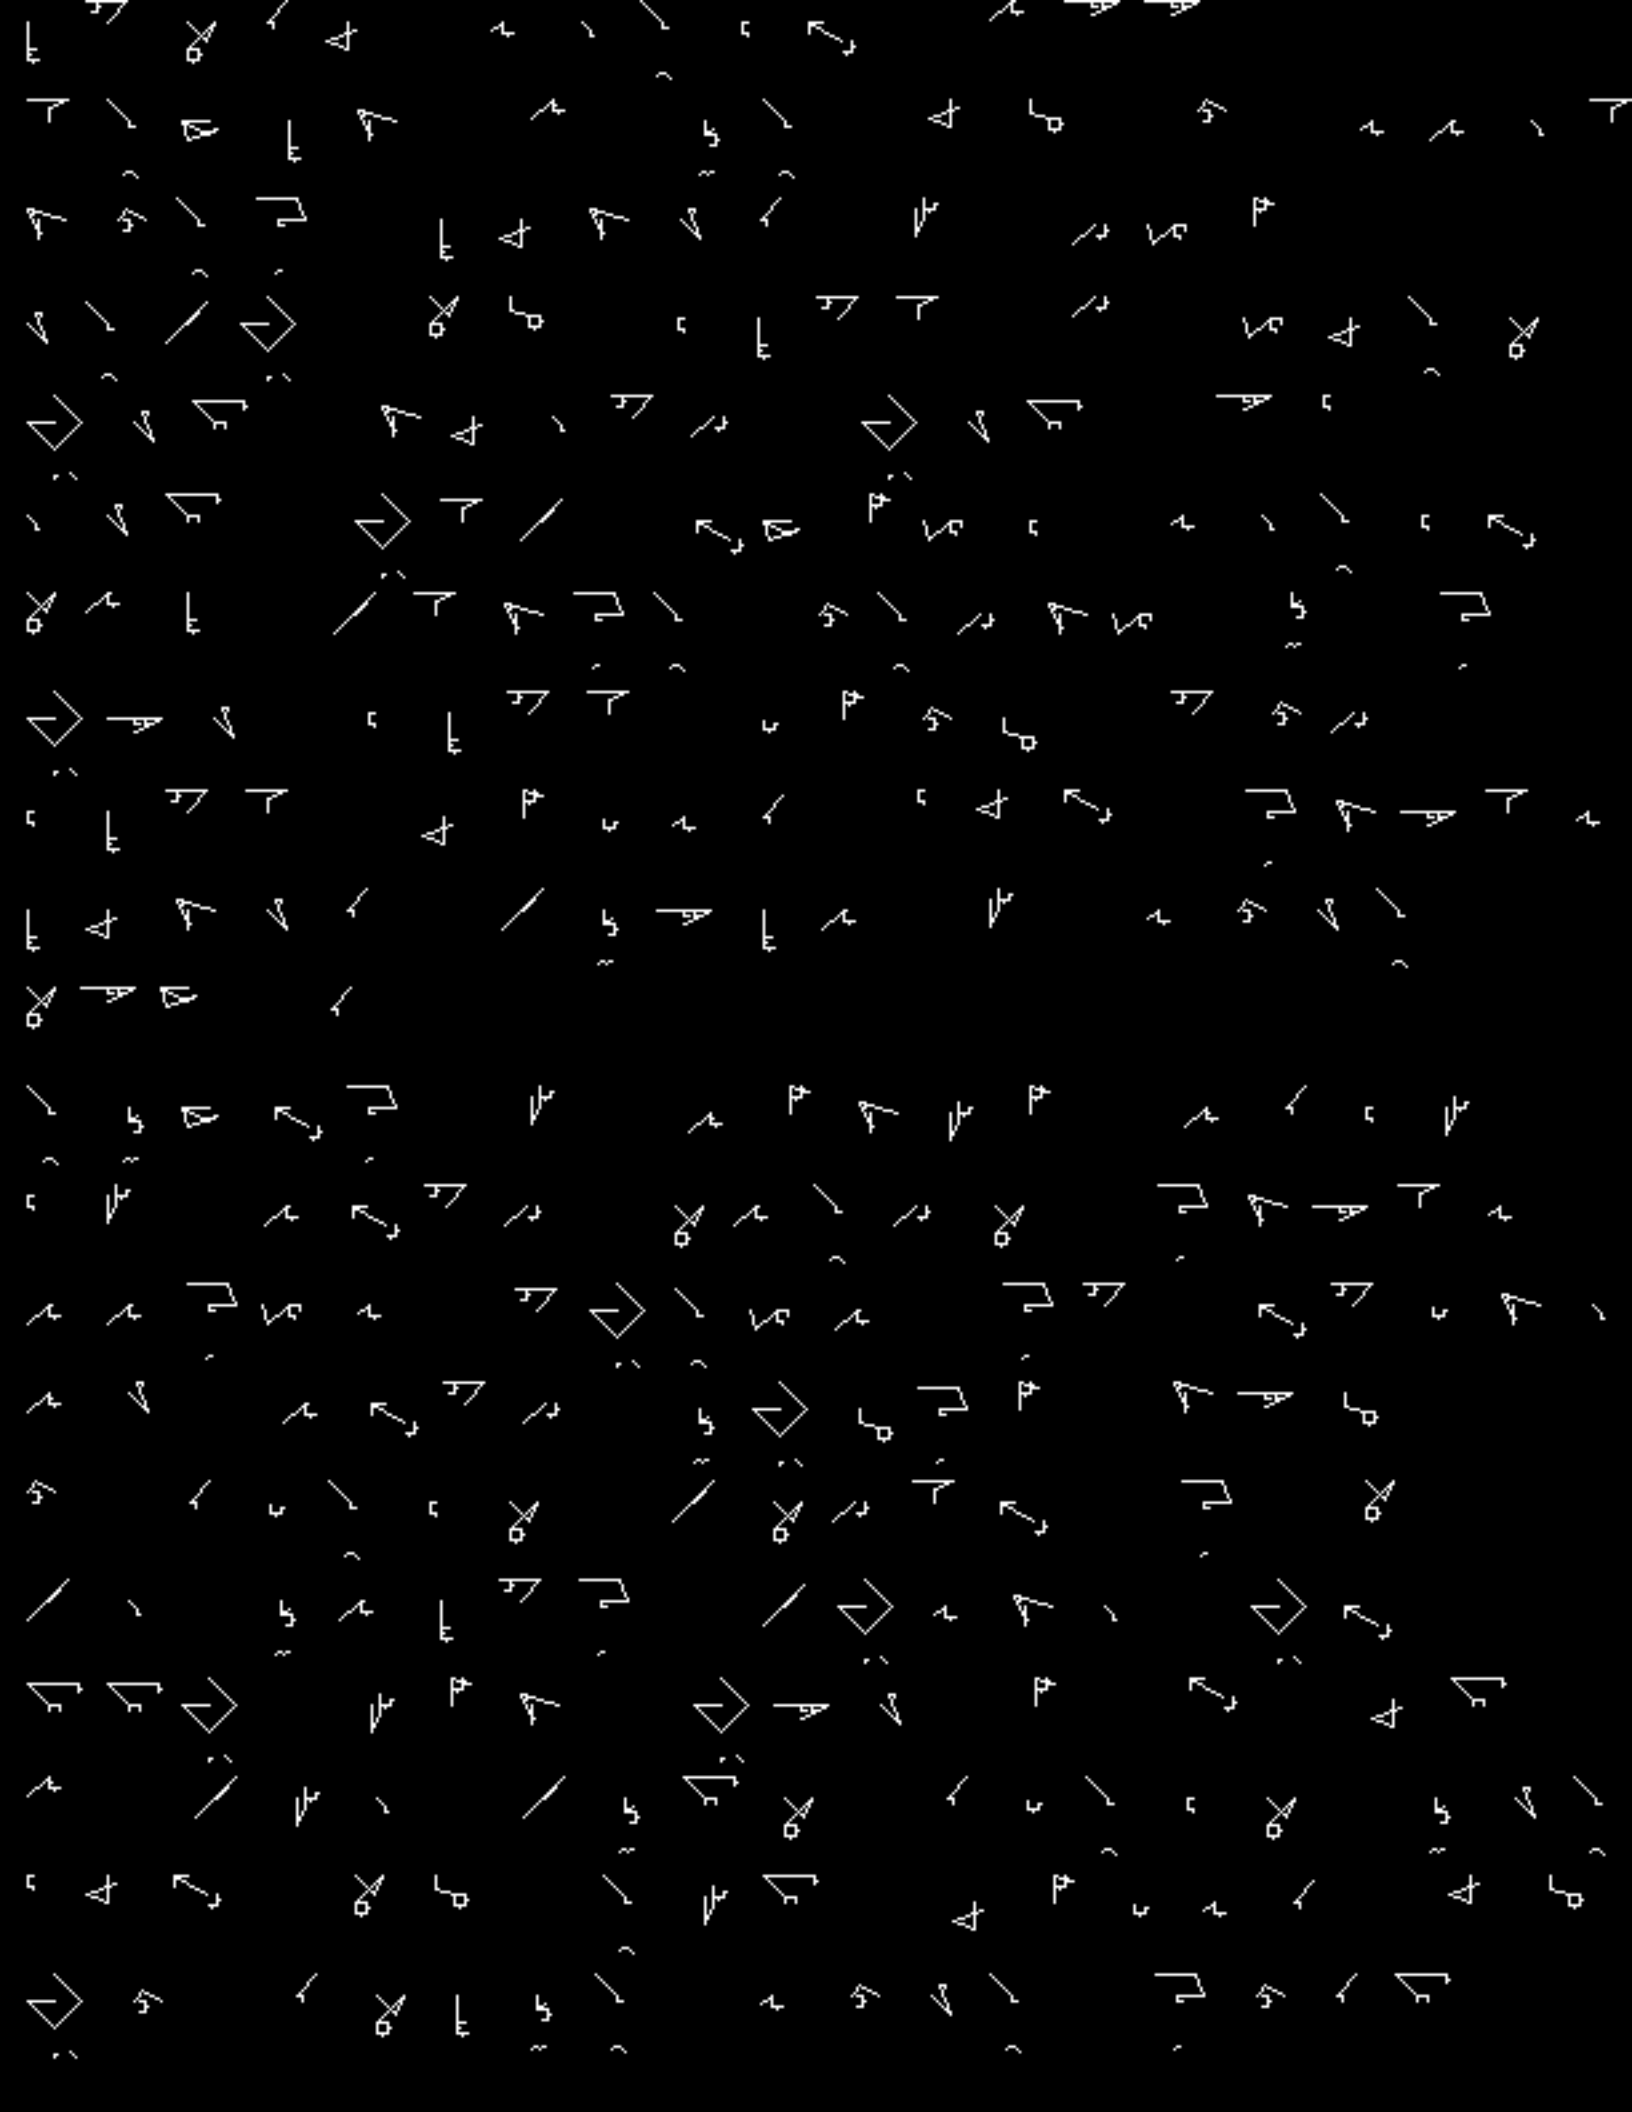

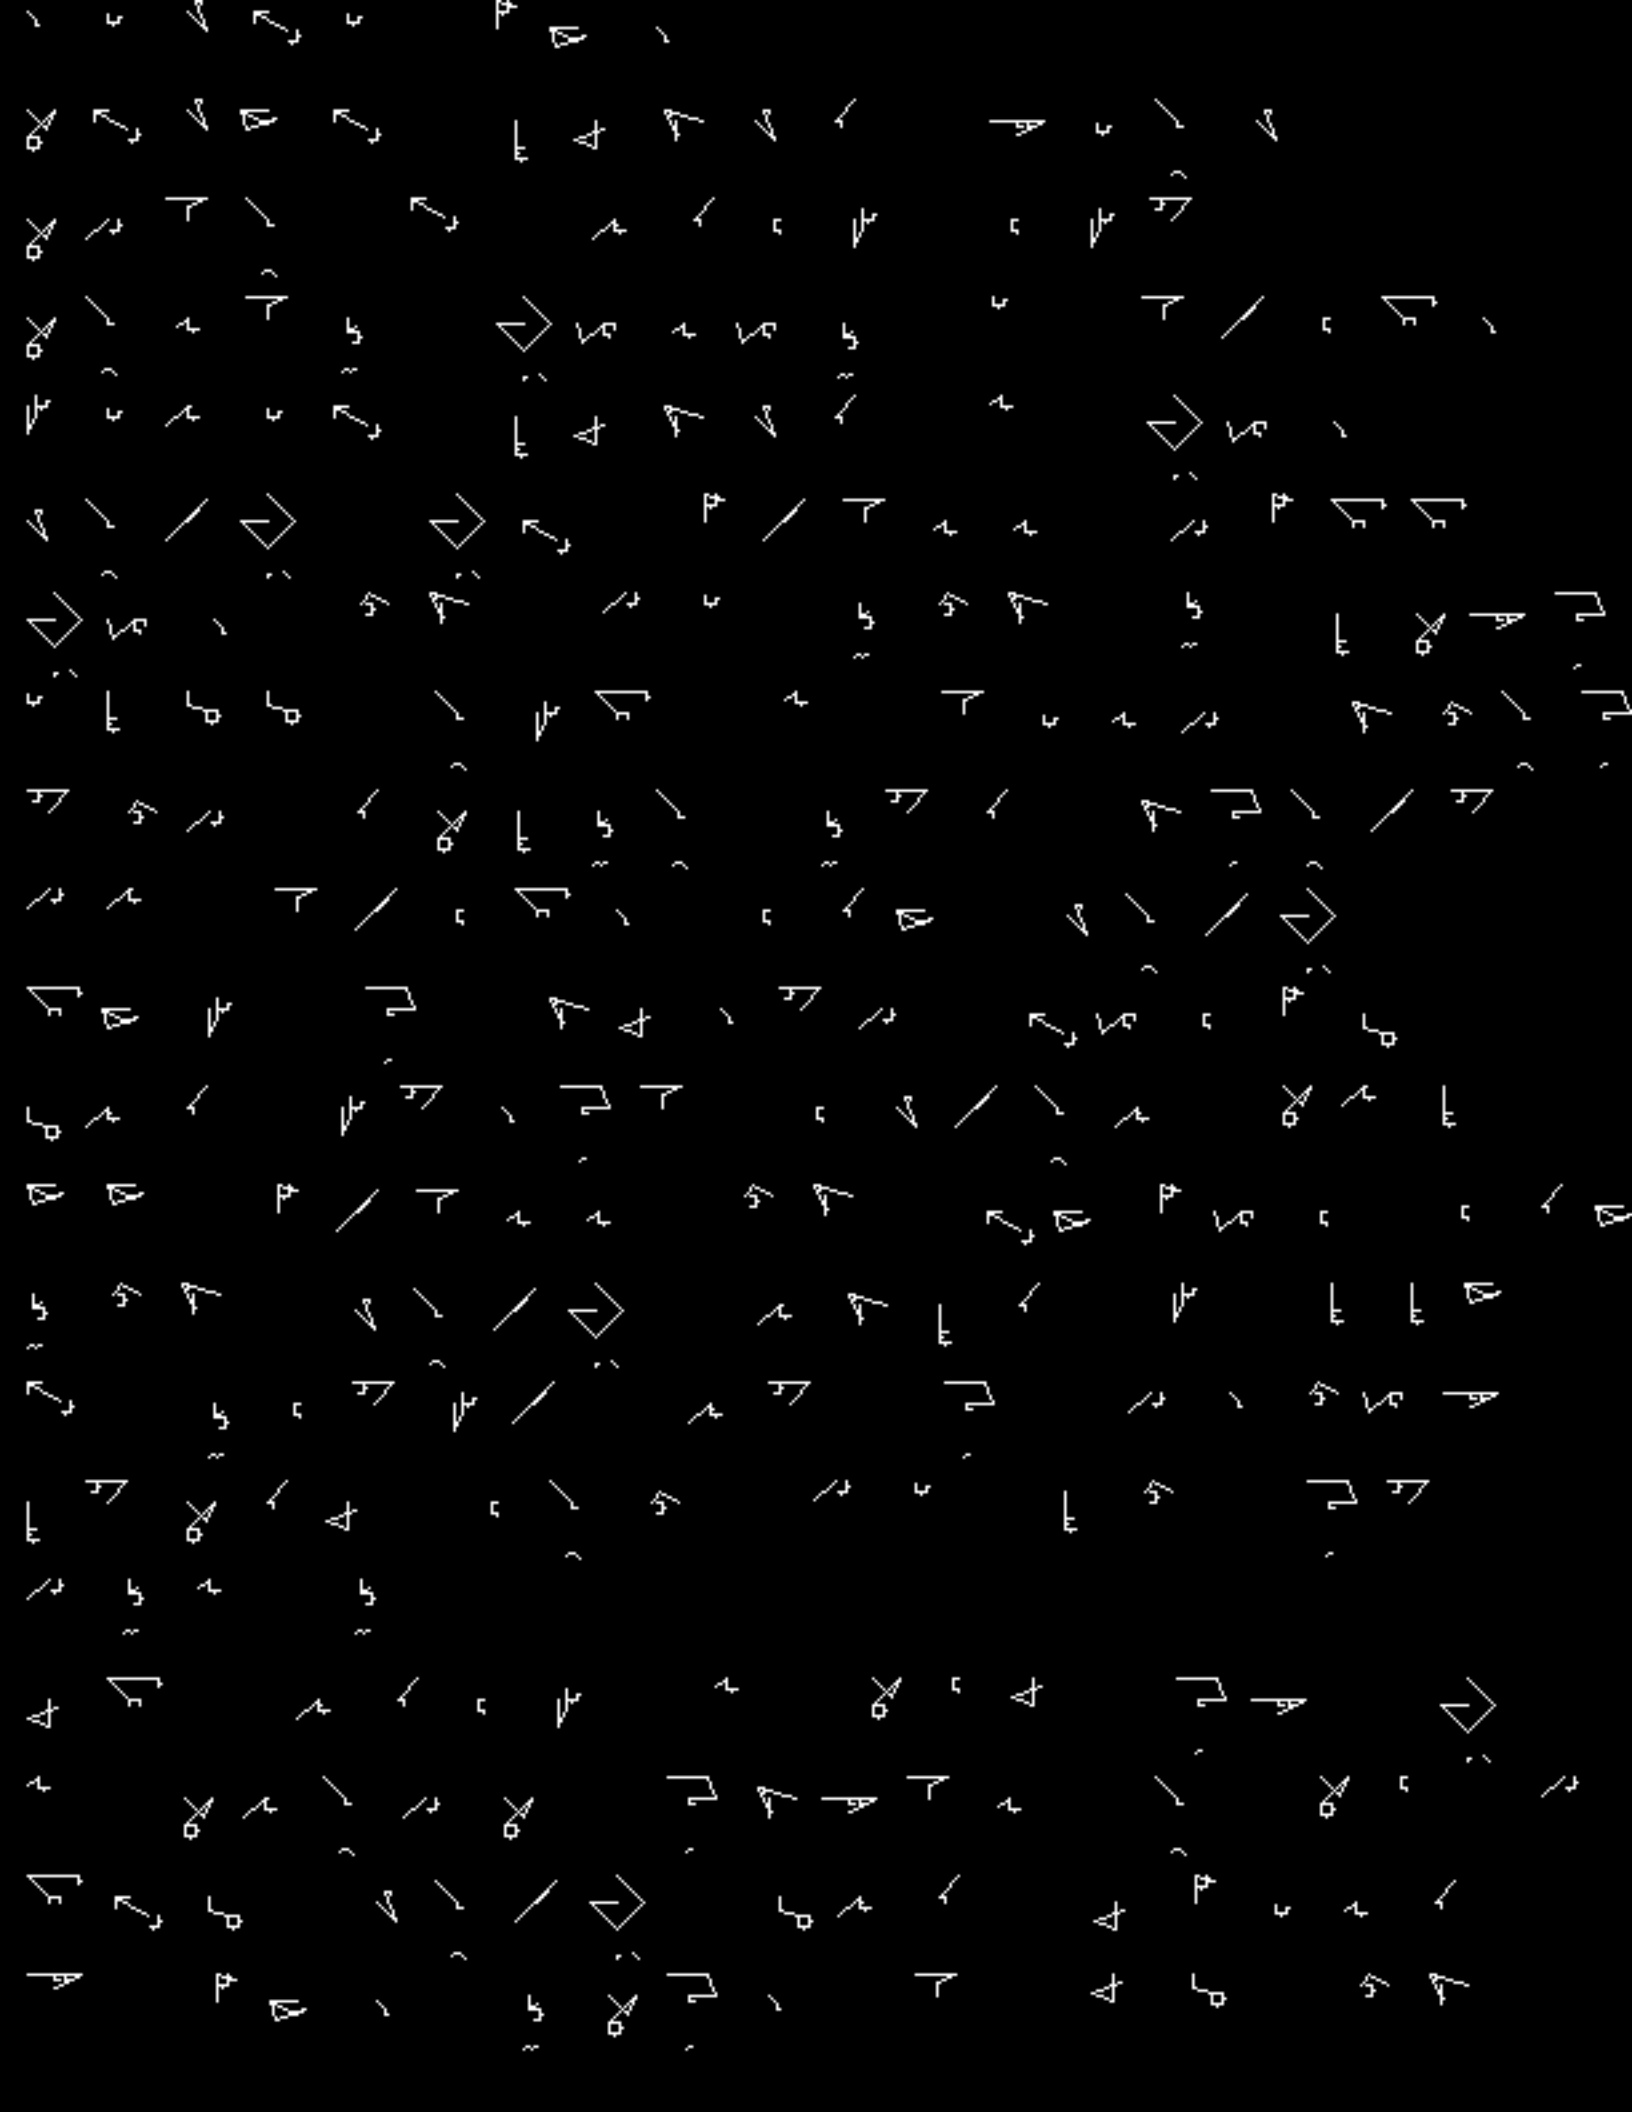

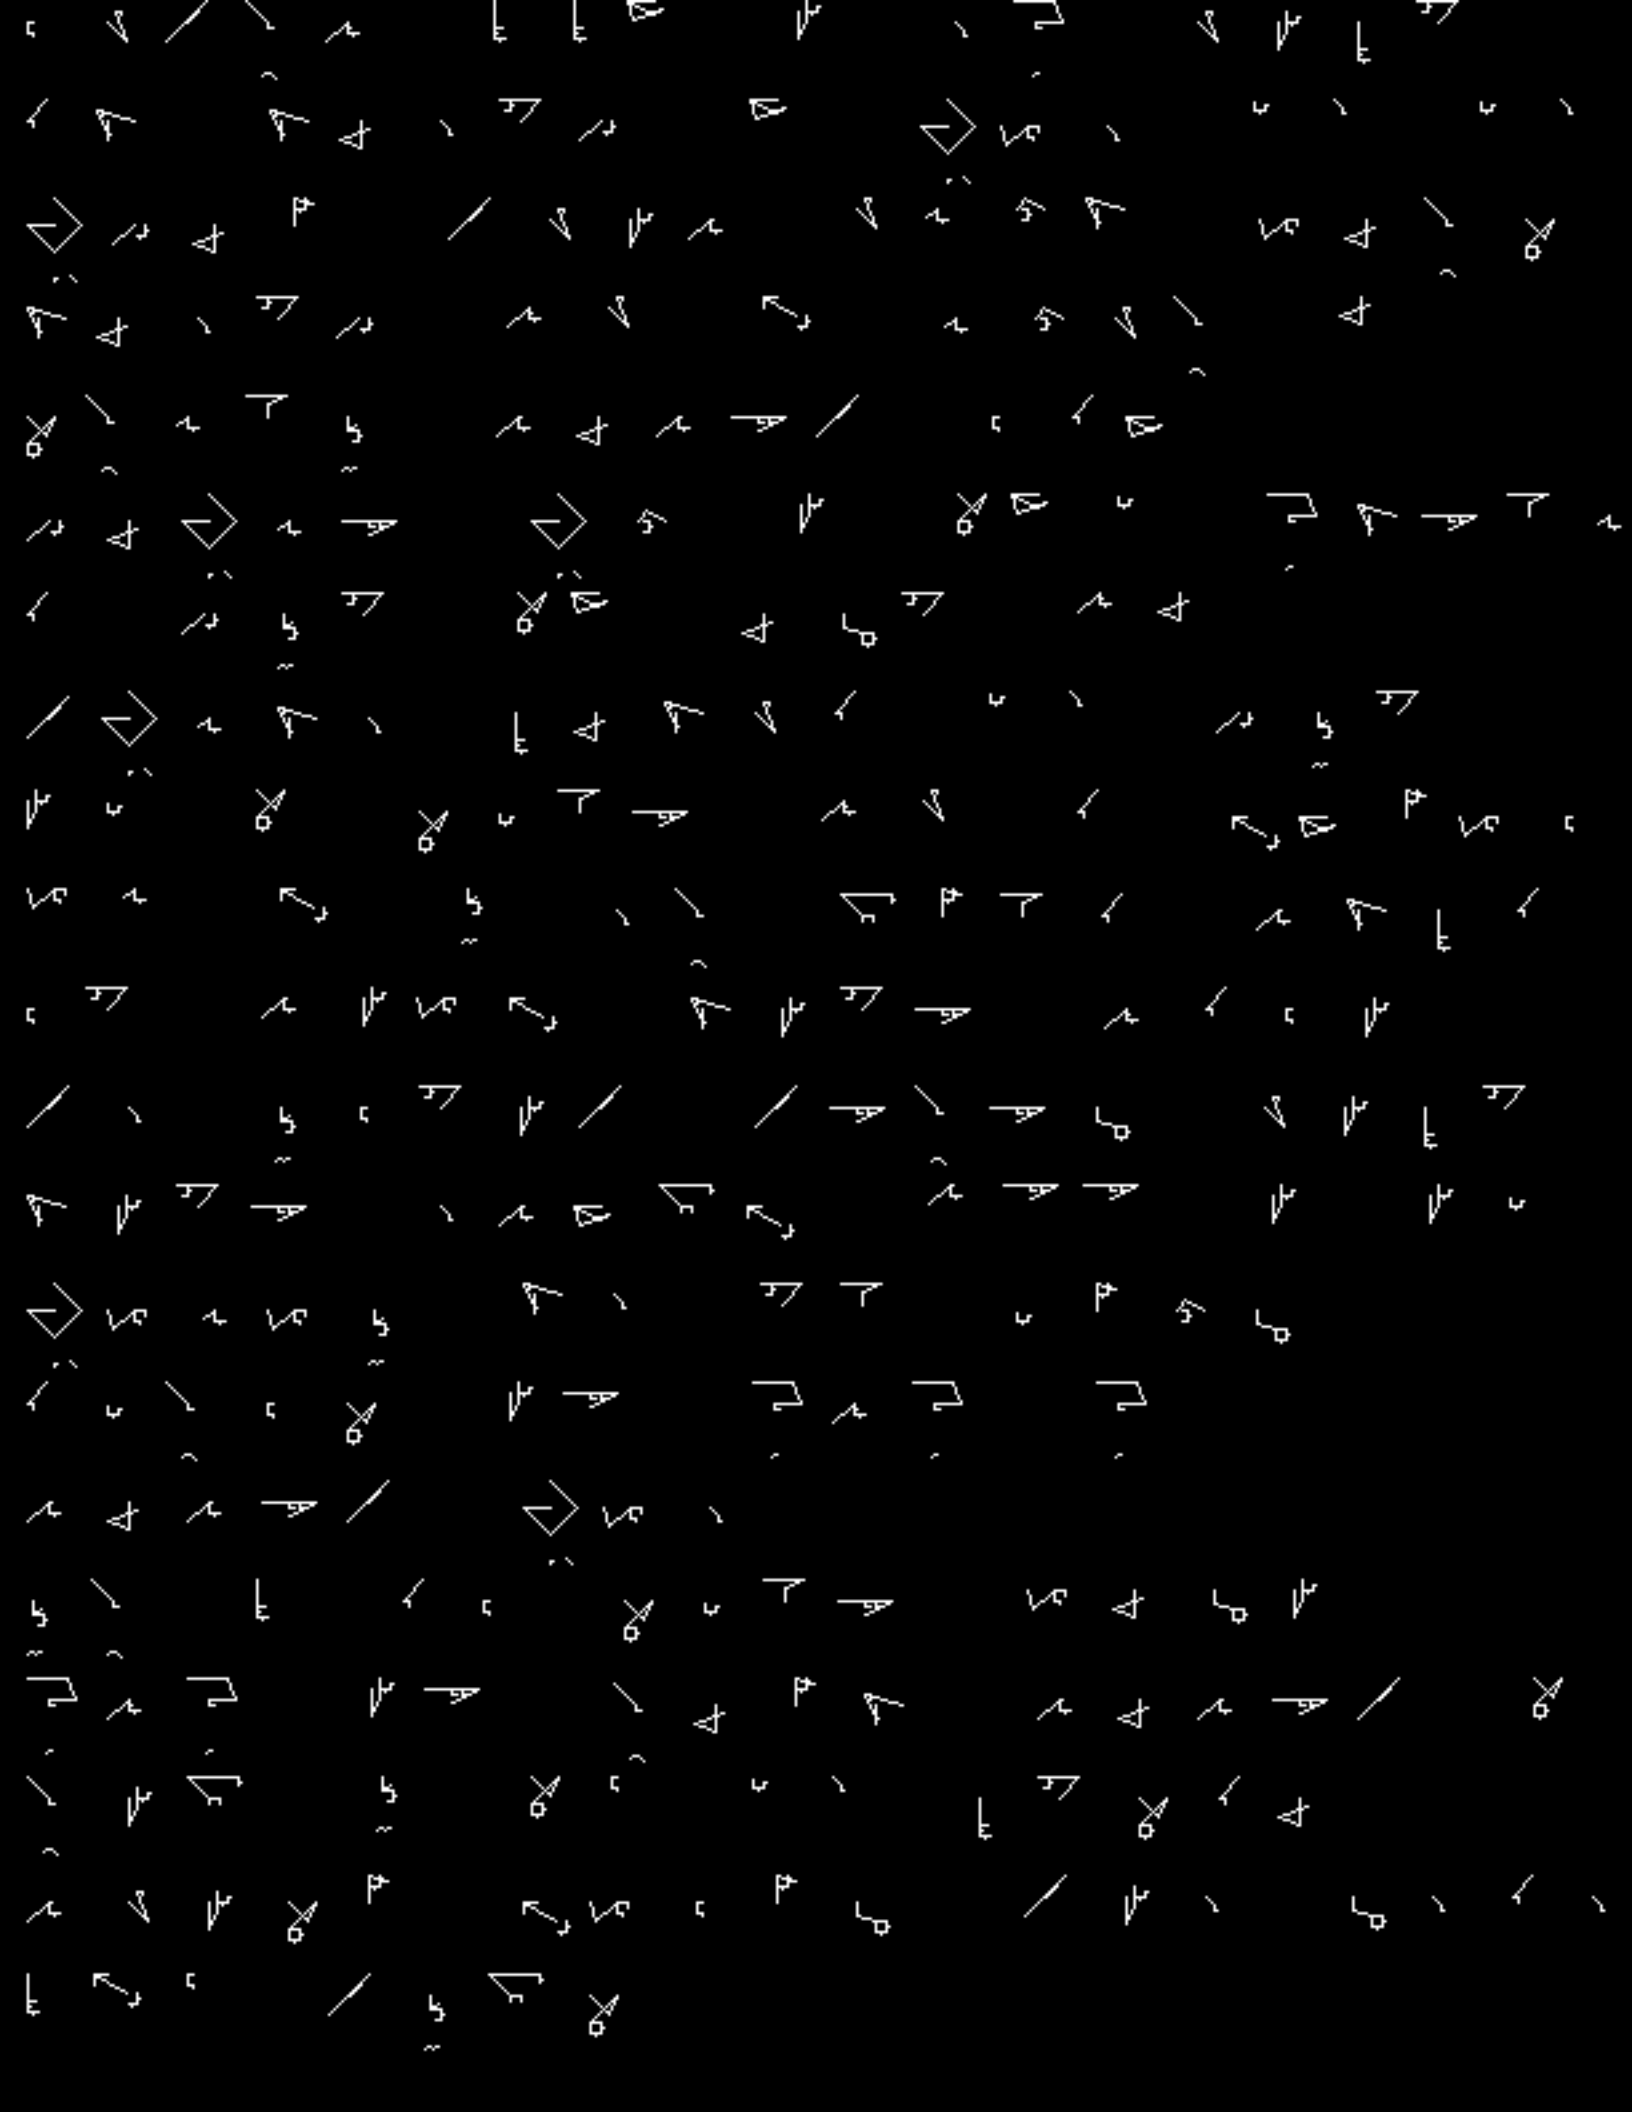

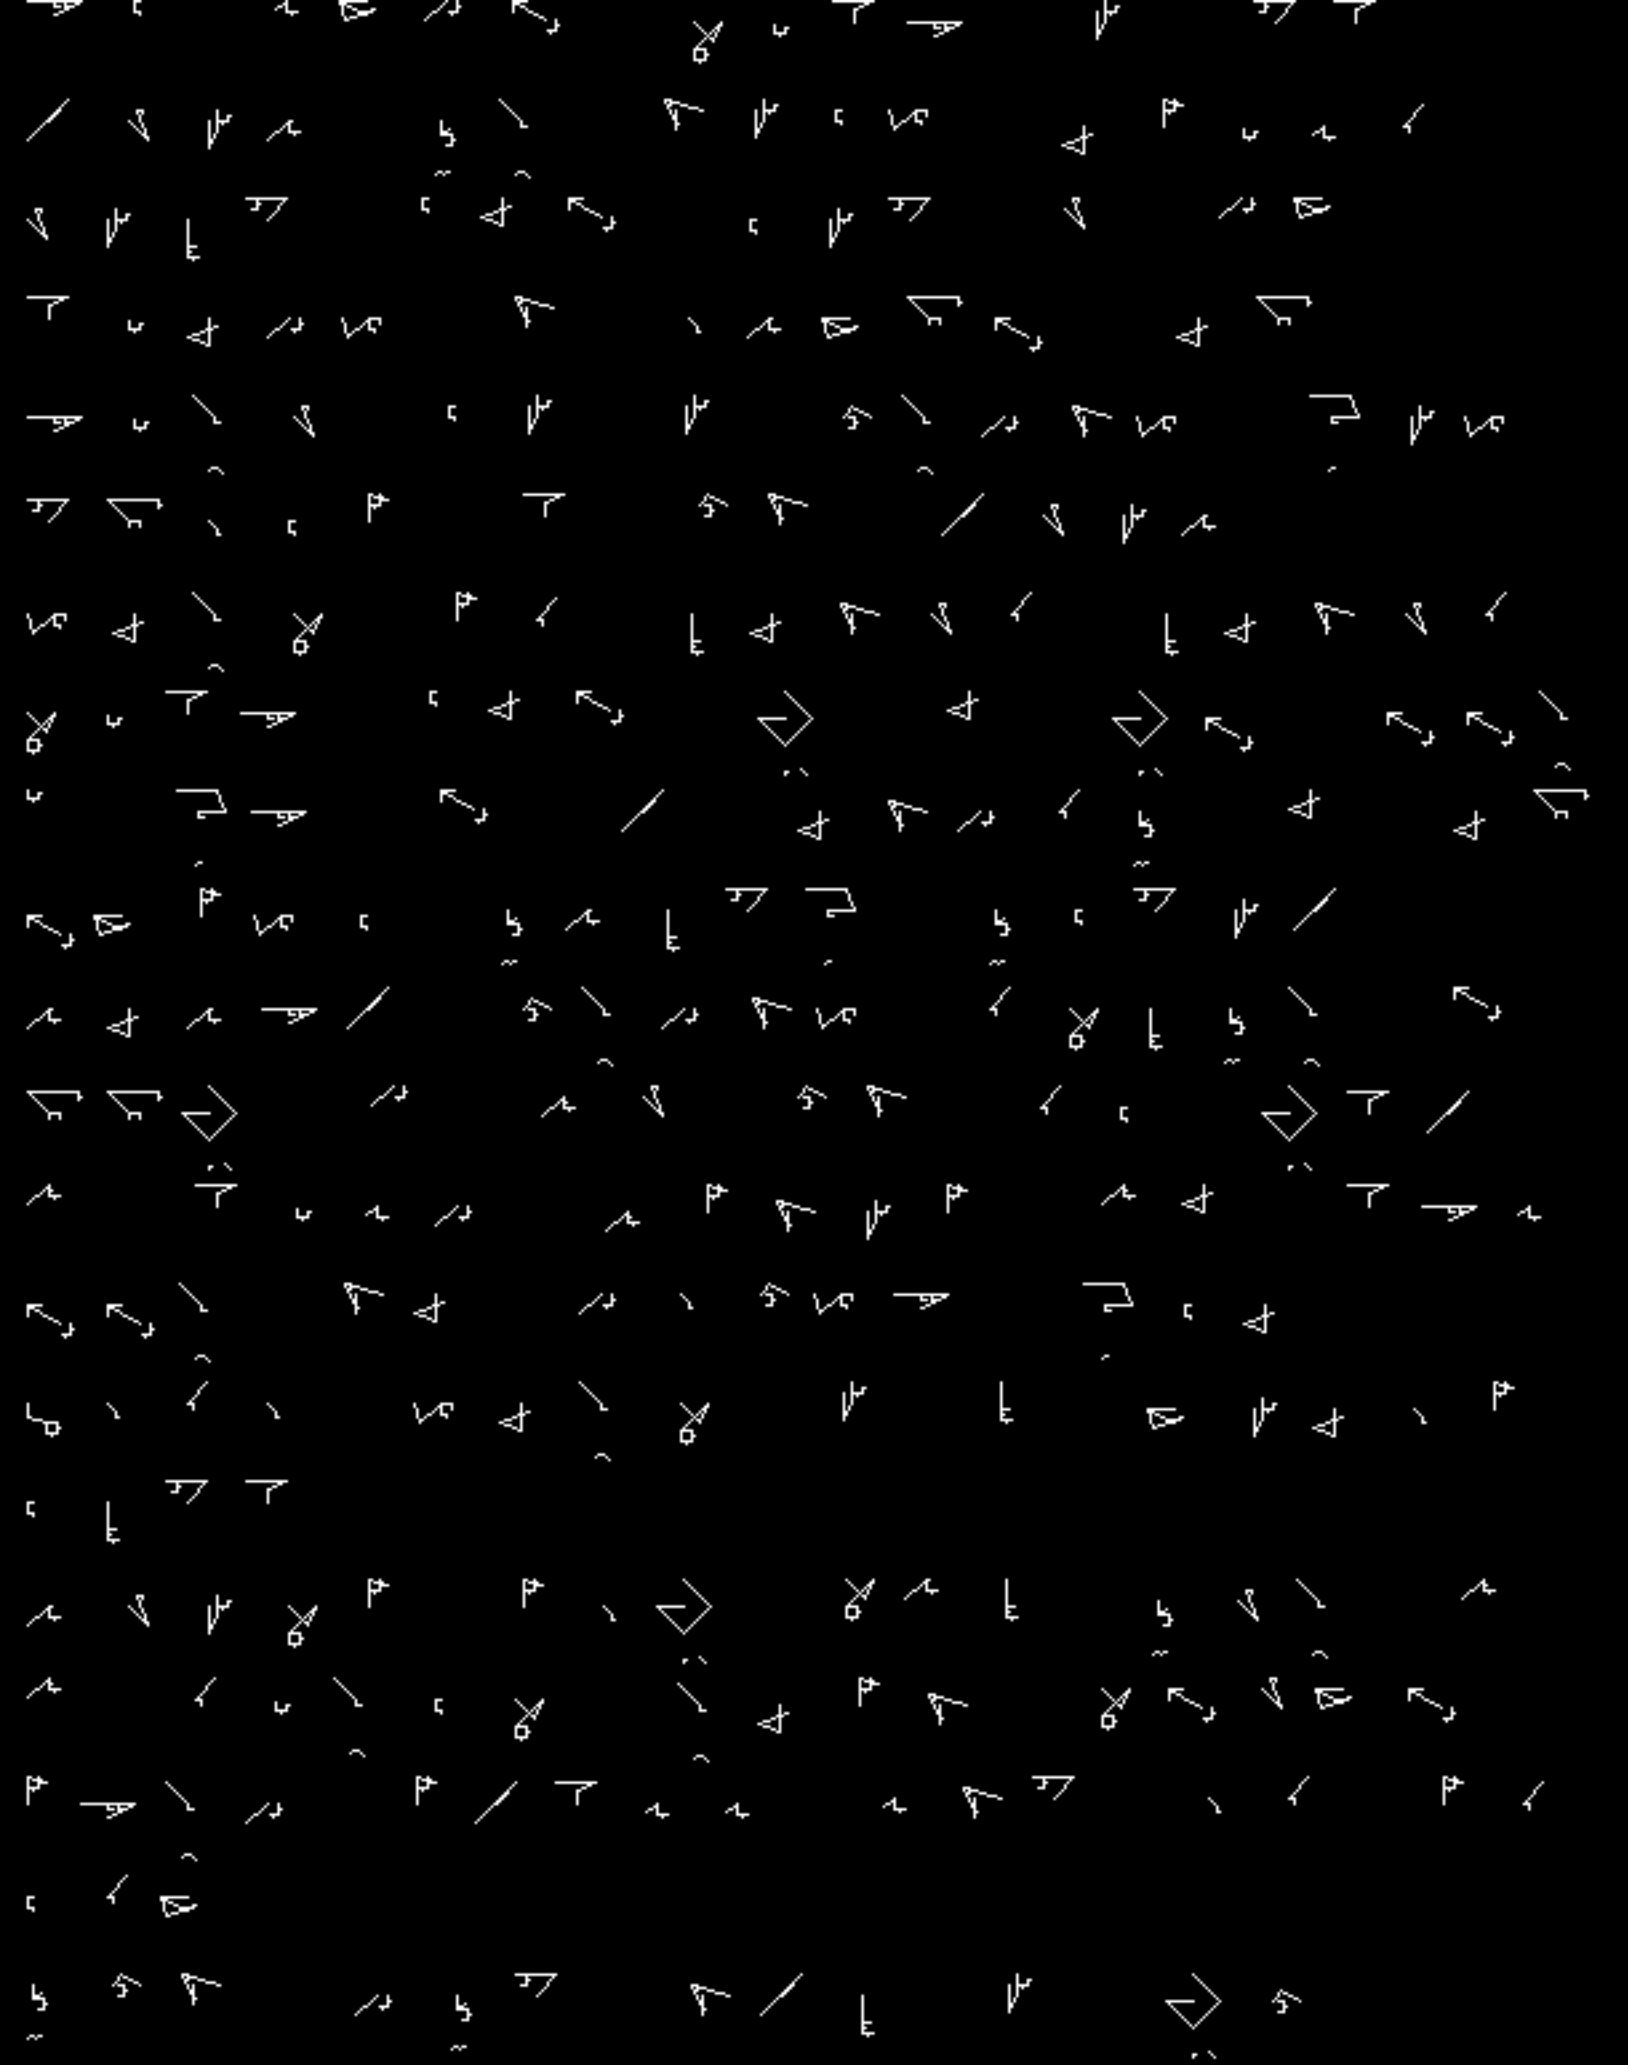

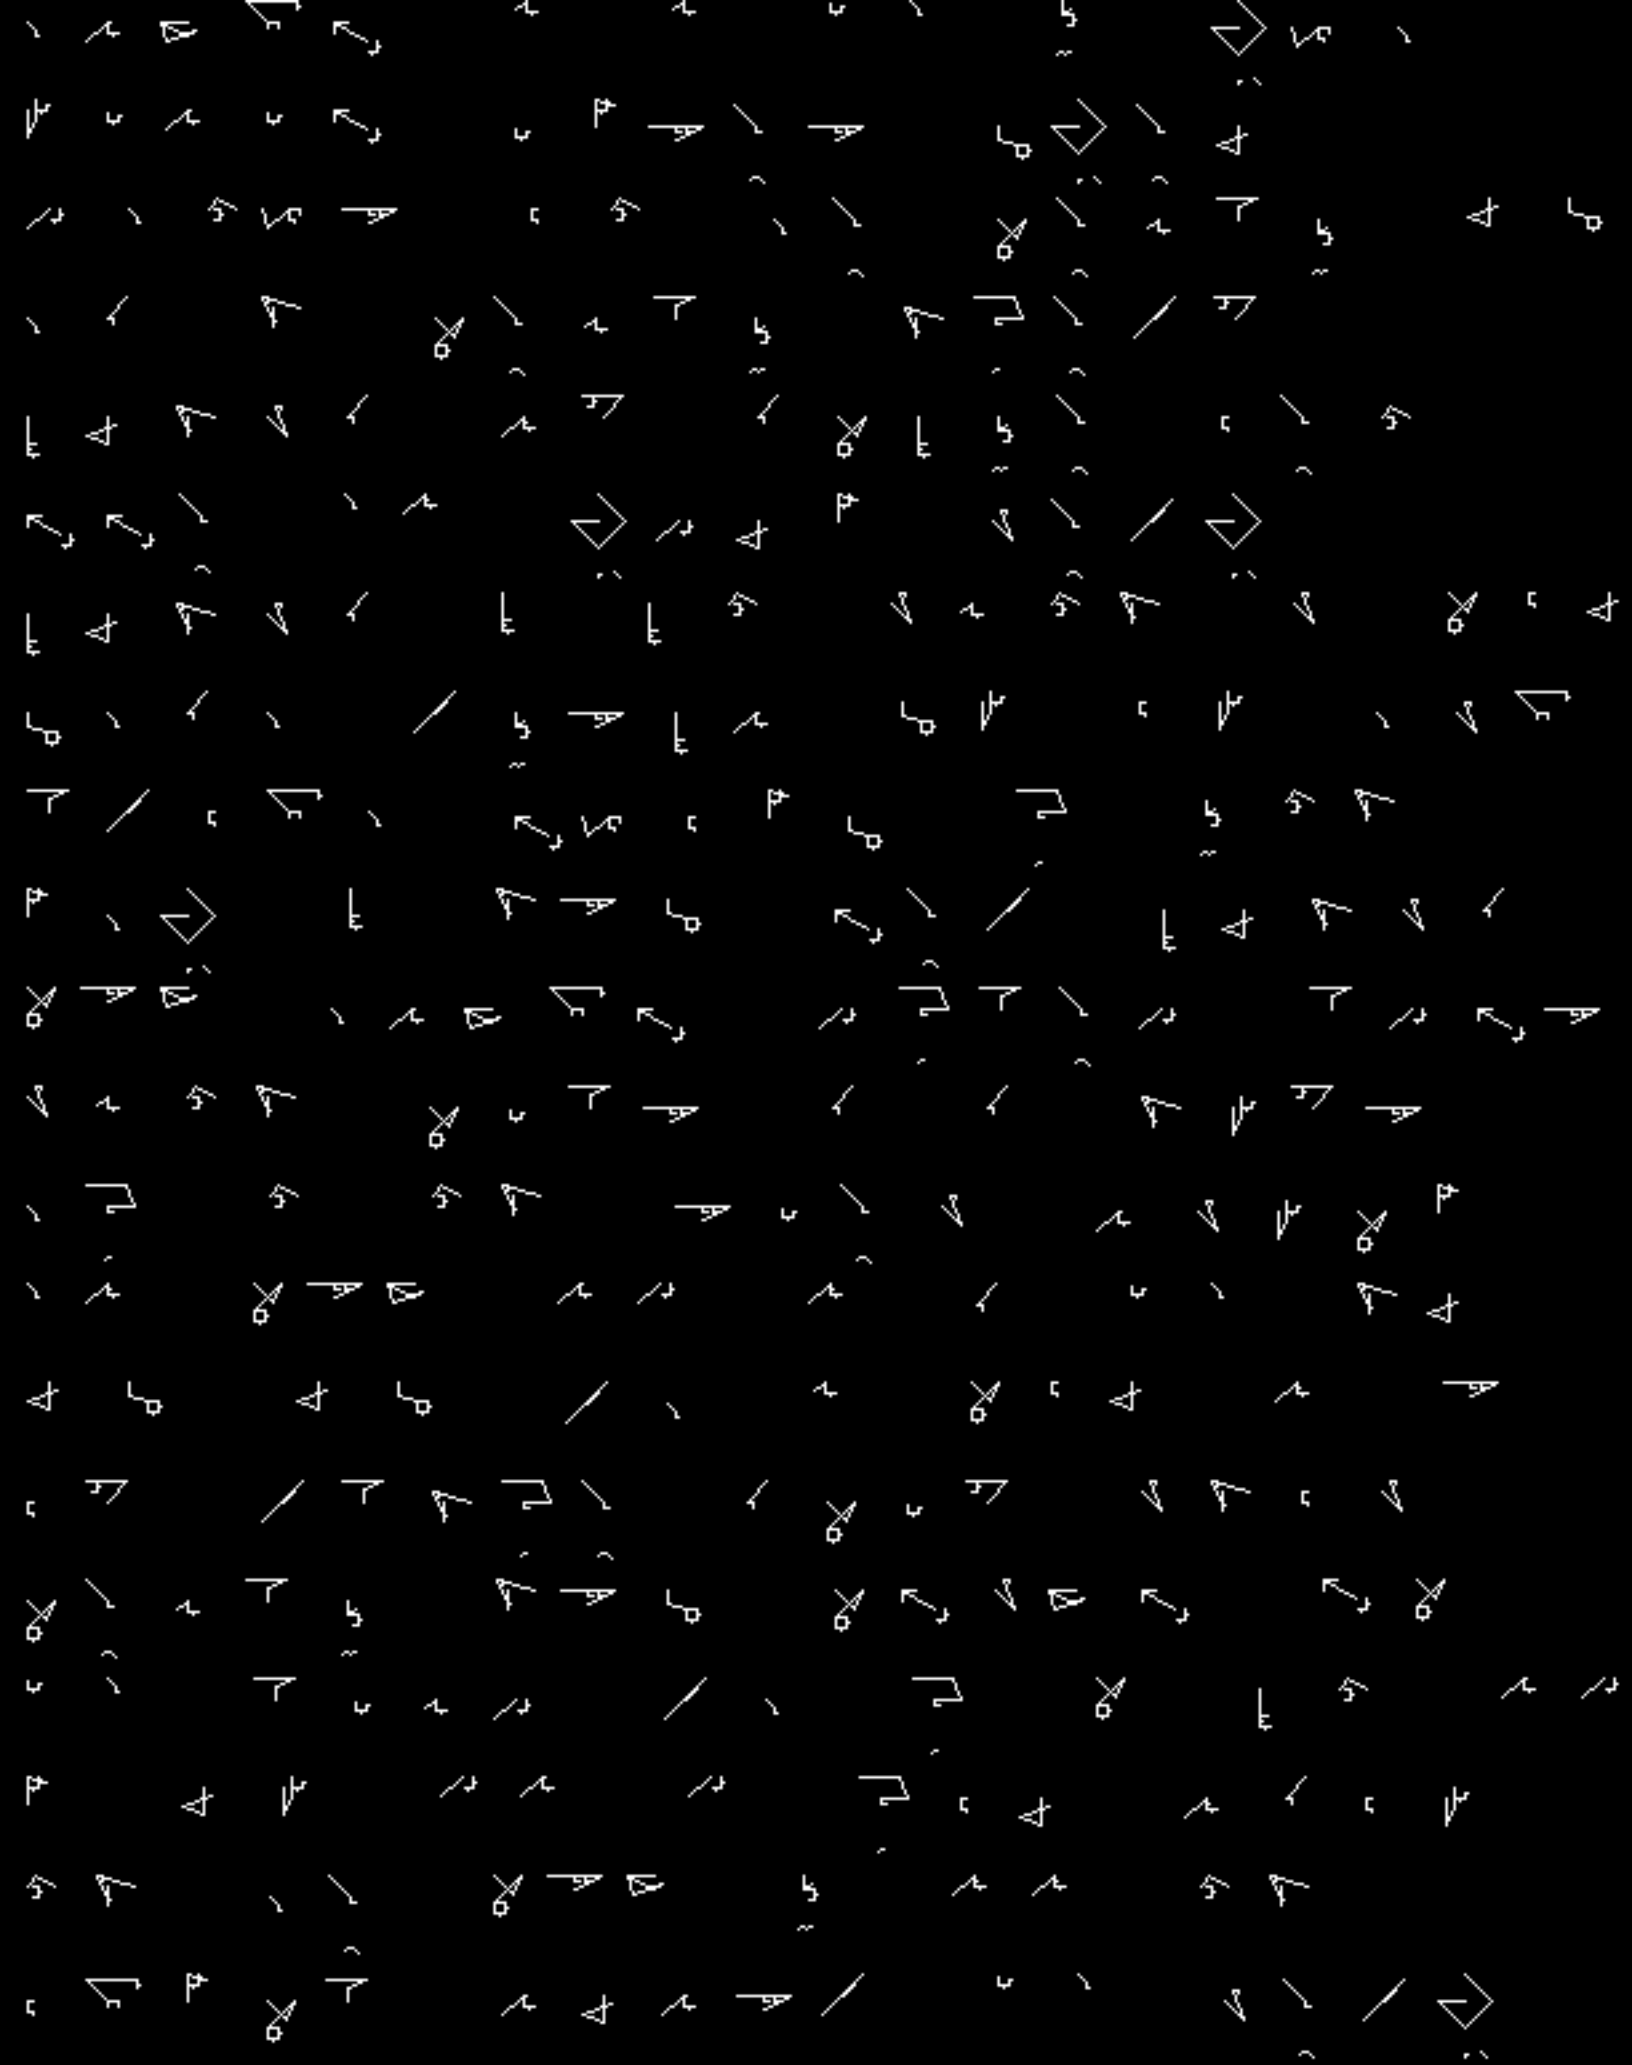

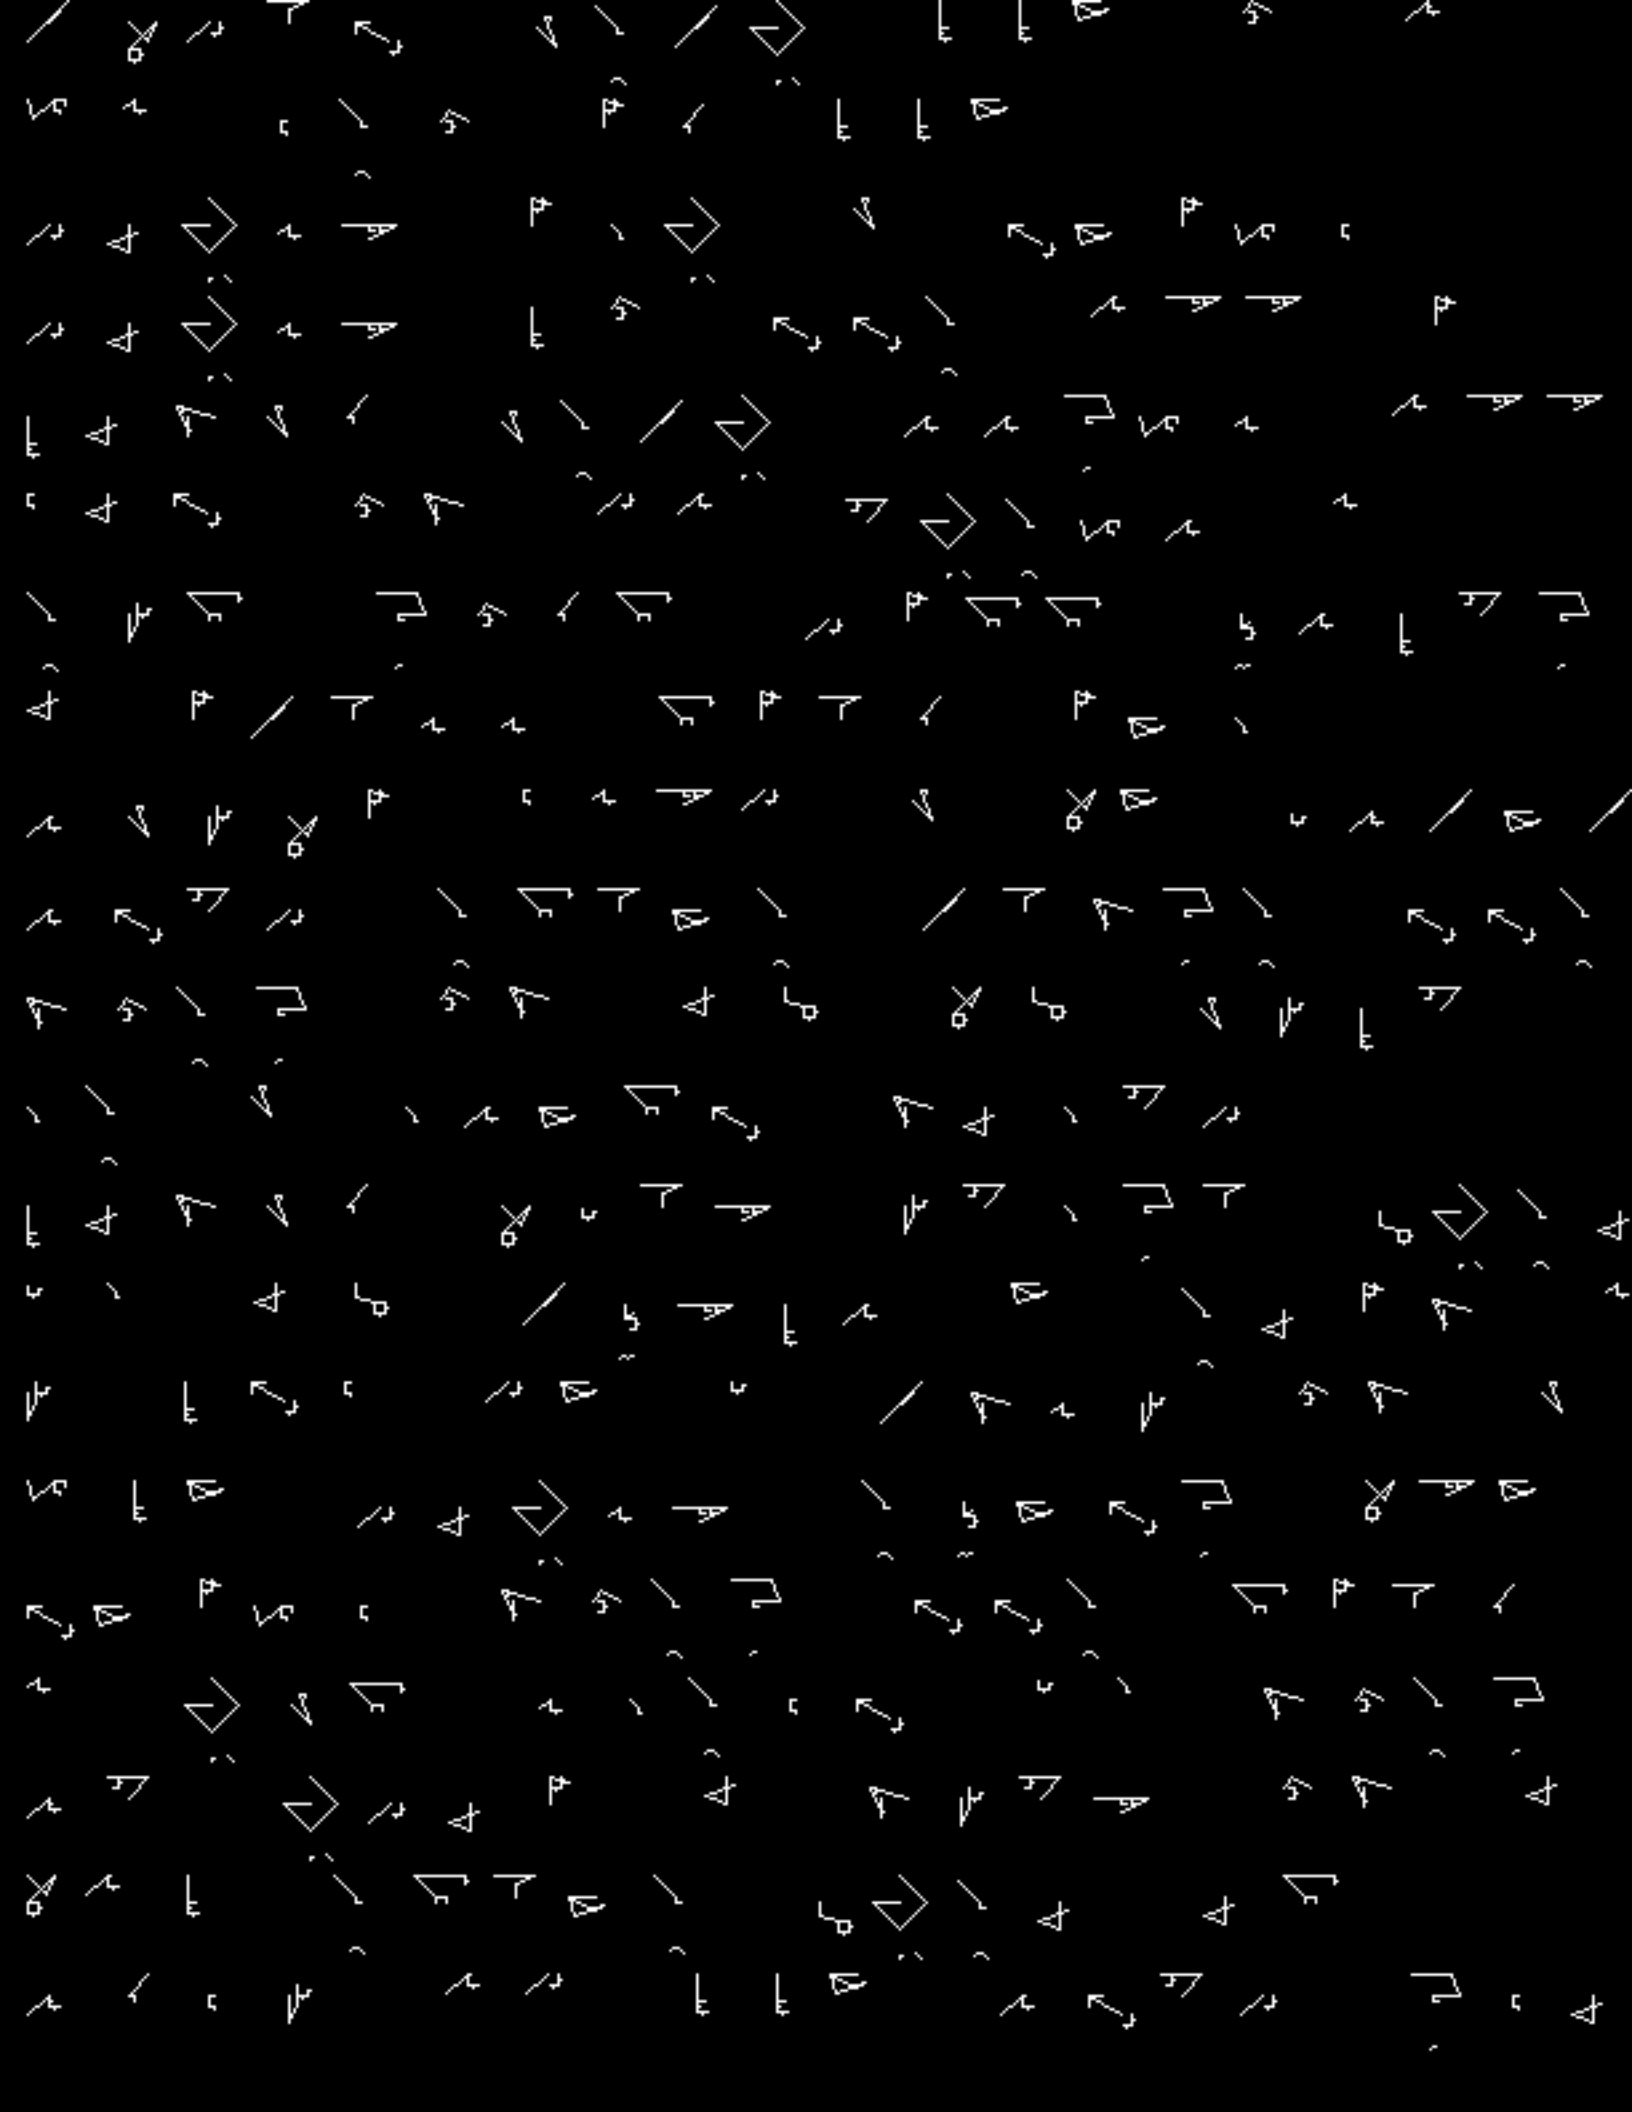

Handwritten mathematical symbols and expressions, including various forms of $\sqrt{\quad}$, $\frac{\quad}{\quad}$, and other mathematical notations, arranged in a grid-like pattern across the page.

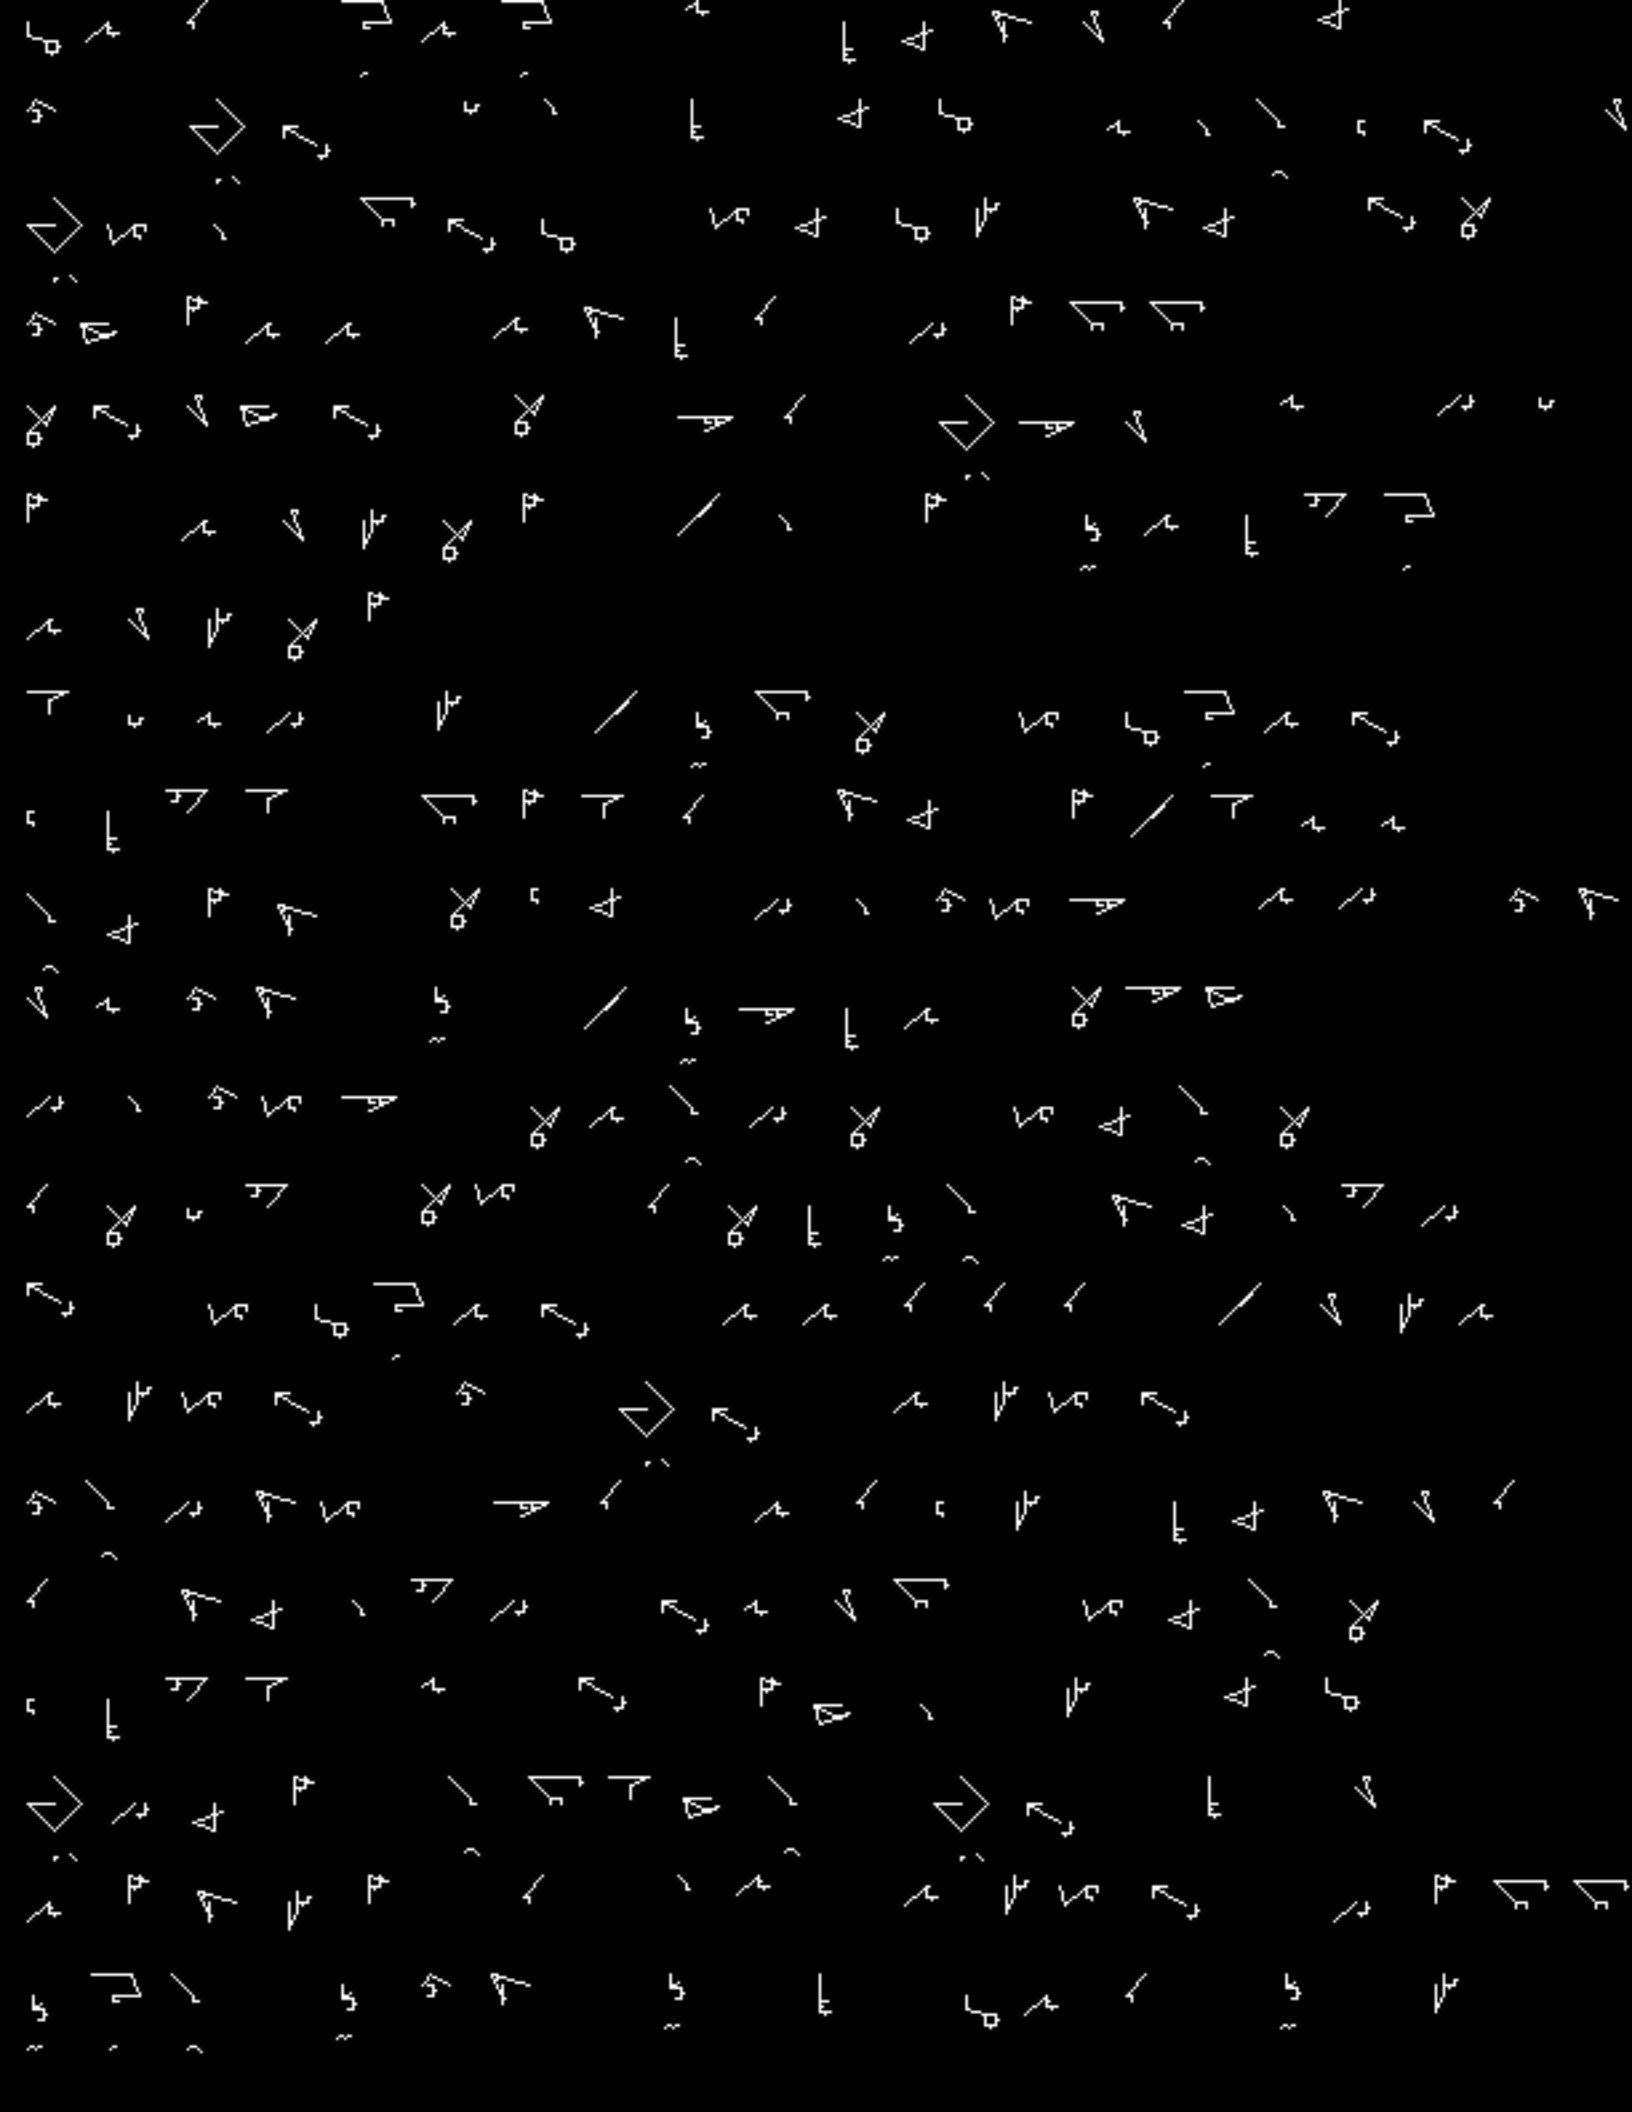

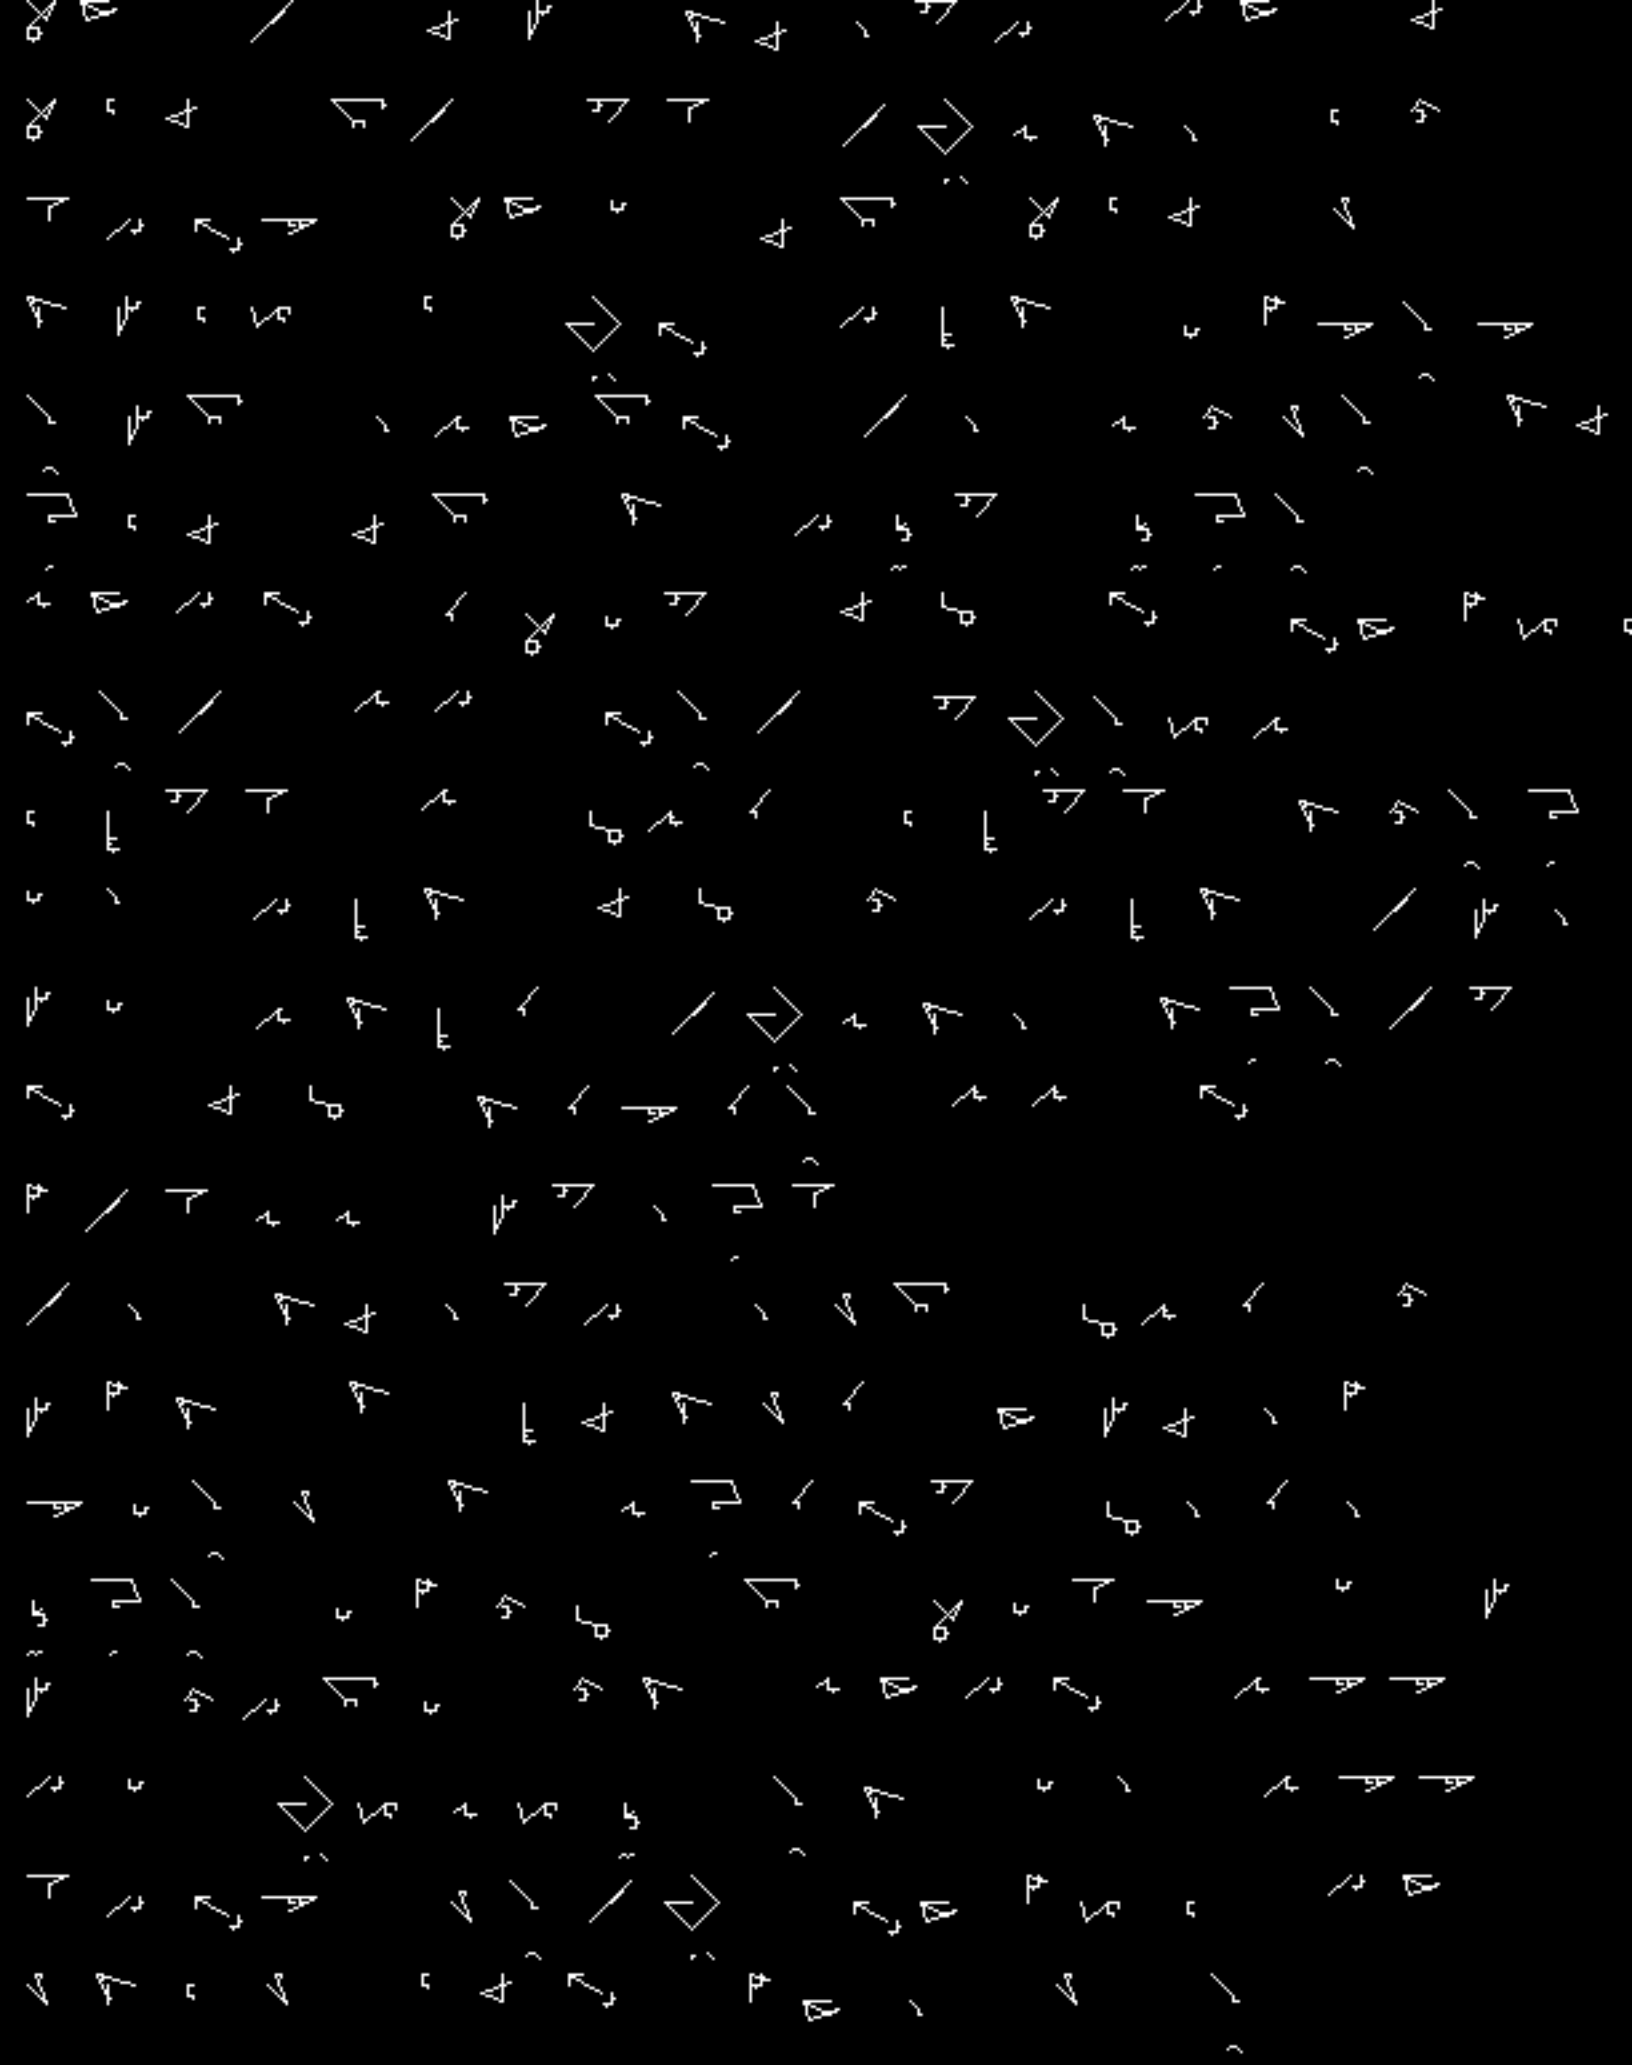

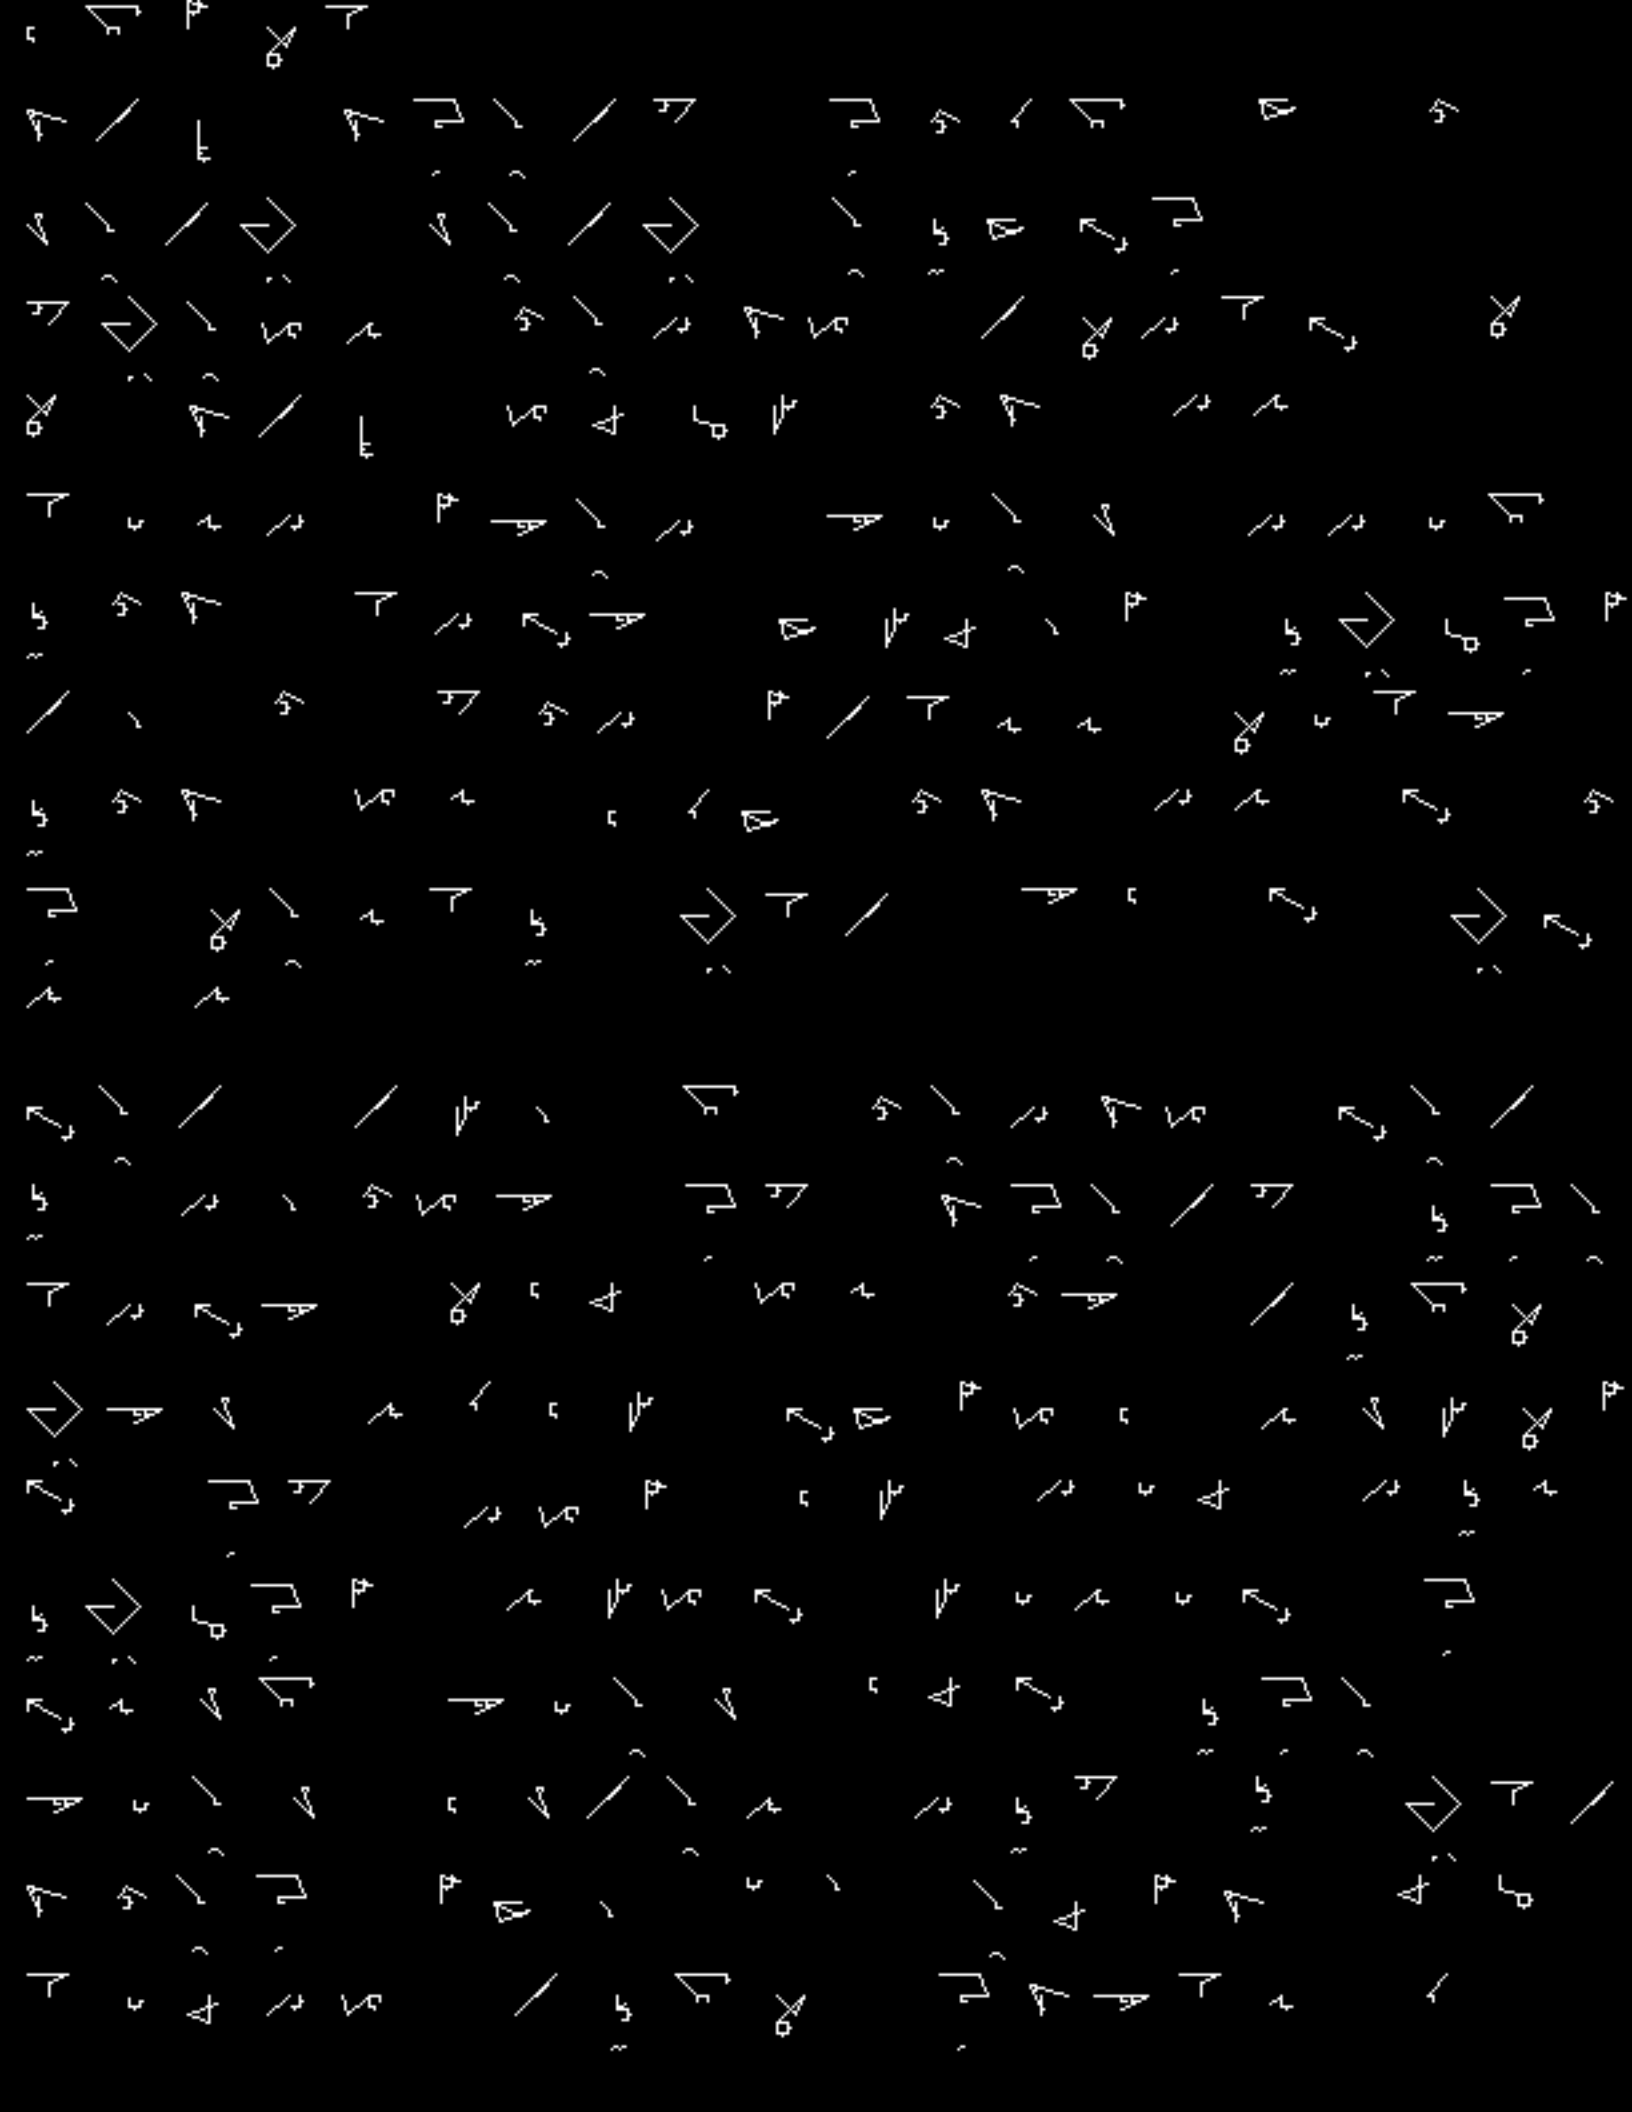

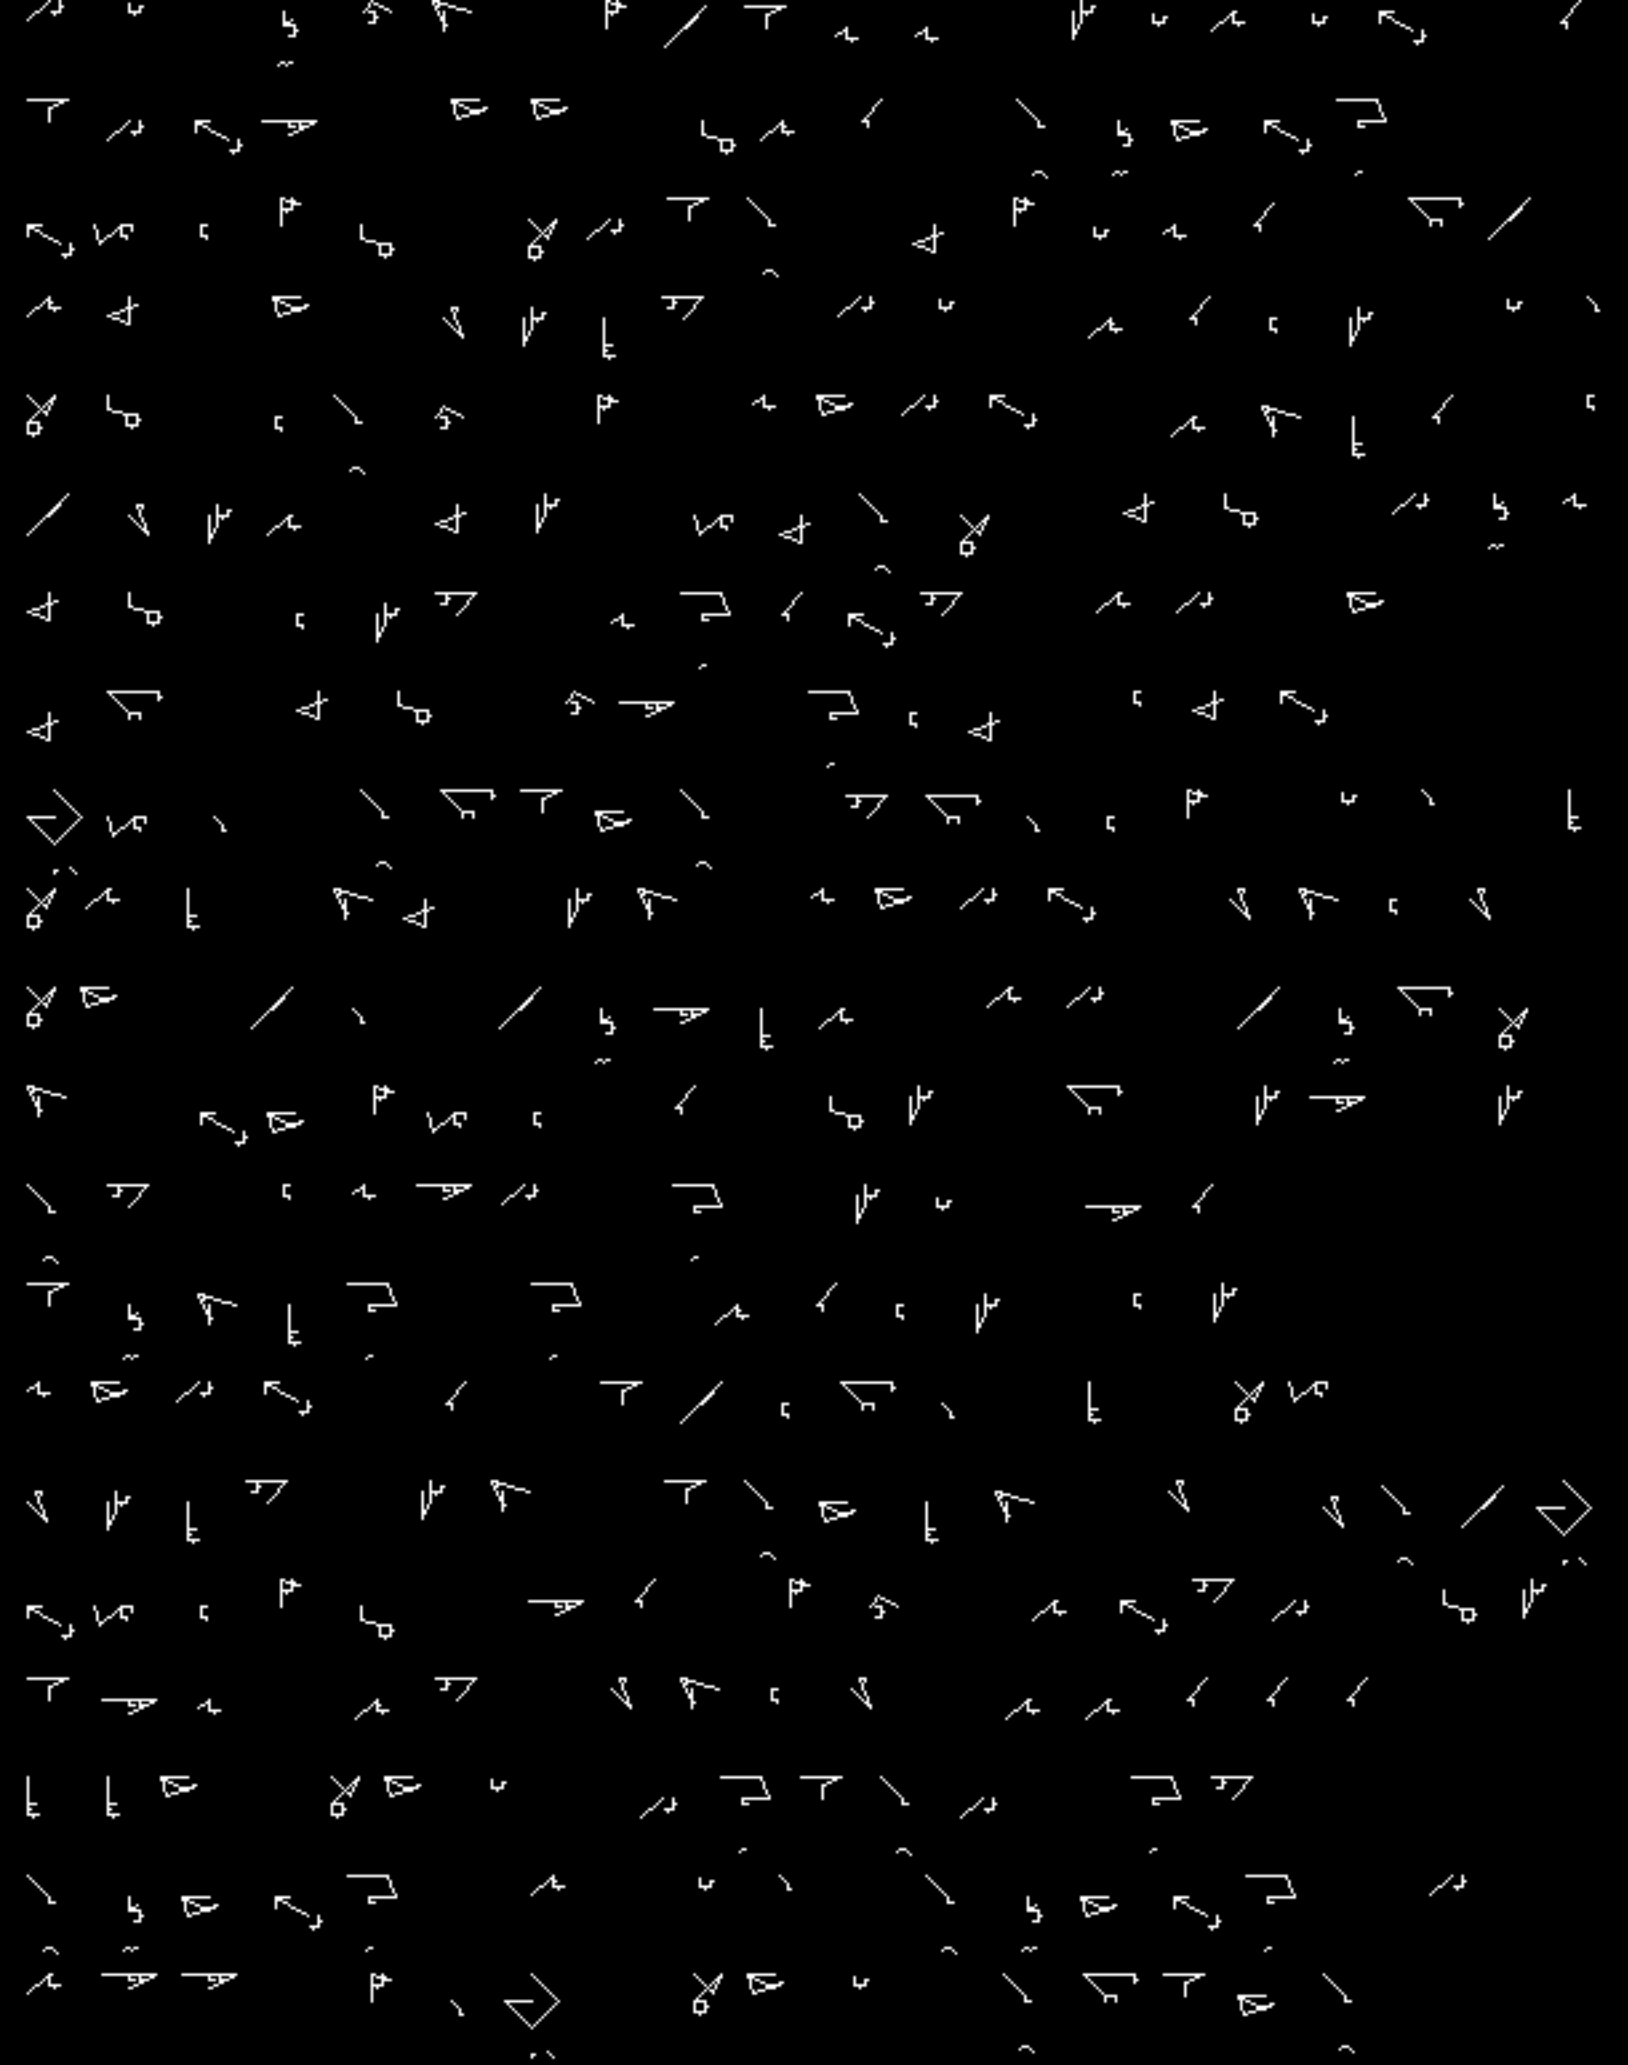

Handwritten mathematical notes, likely a derivation or proof, featuring various symbols and expressions. The text is written in a cursive, handwritten style, possibly using a stylized alphabet or shorthand. The content includes numerous symbols, some of which appear to be mathematical constants or variables, and is organized into several lines of text. The handwriting is dense and somewhat difficult to decipher, but it seems to follow a logical progression of ideas. The notes are written on a white background with a faint grid pattern.

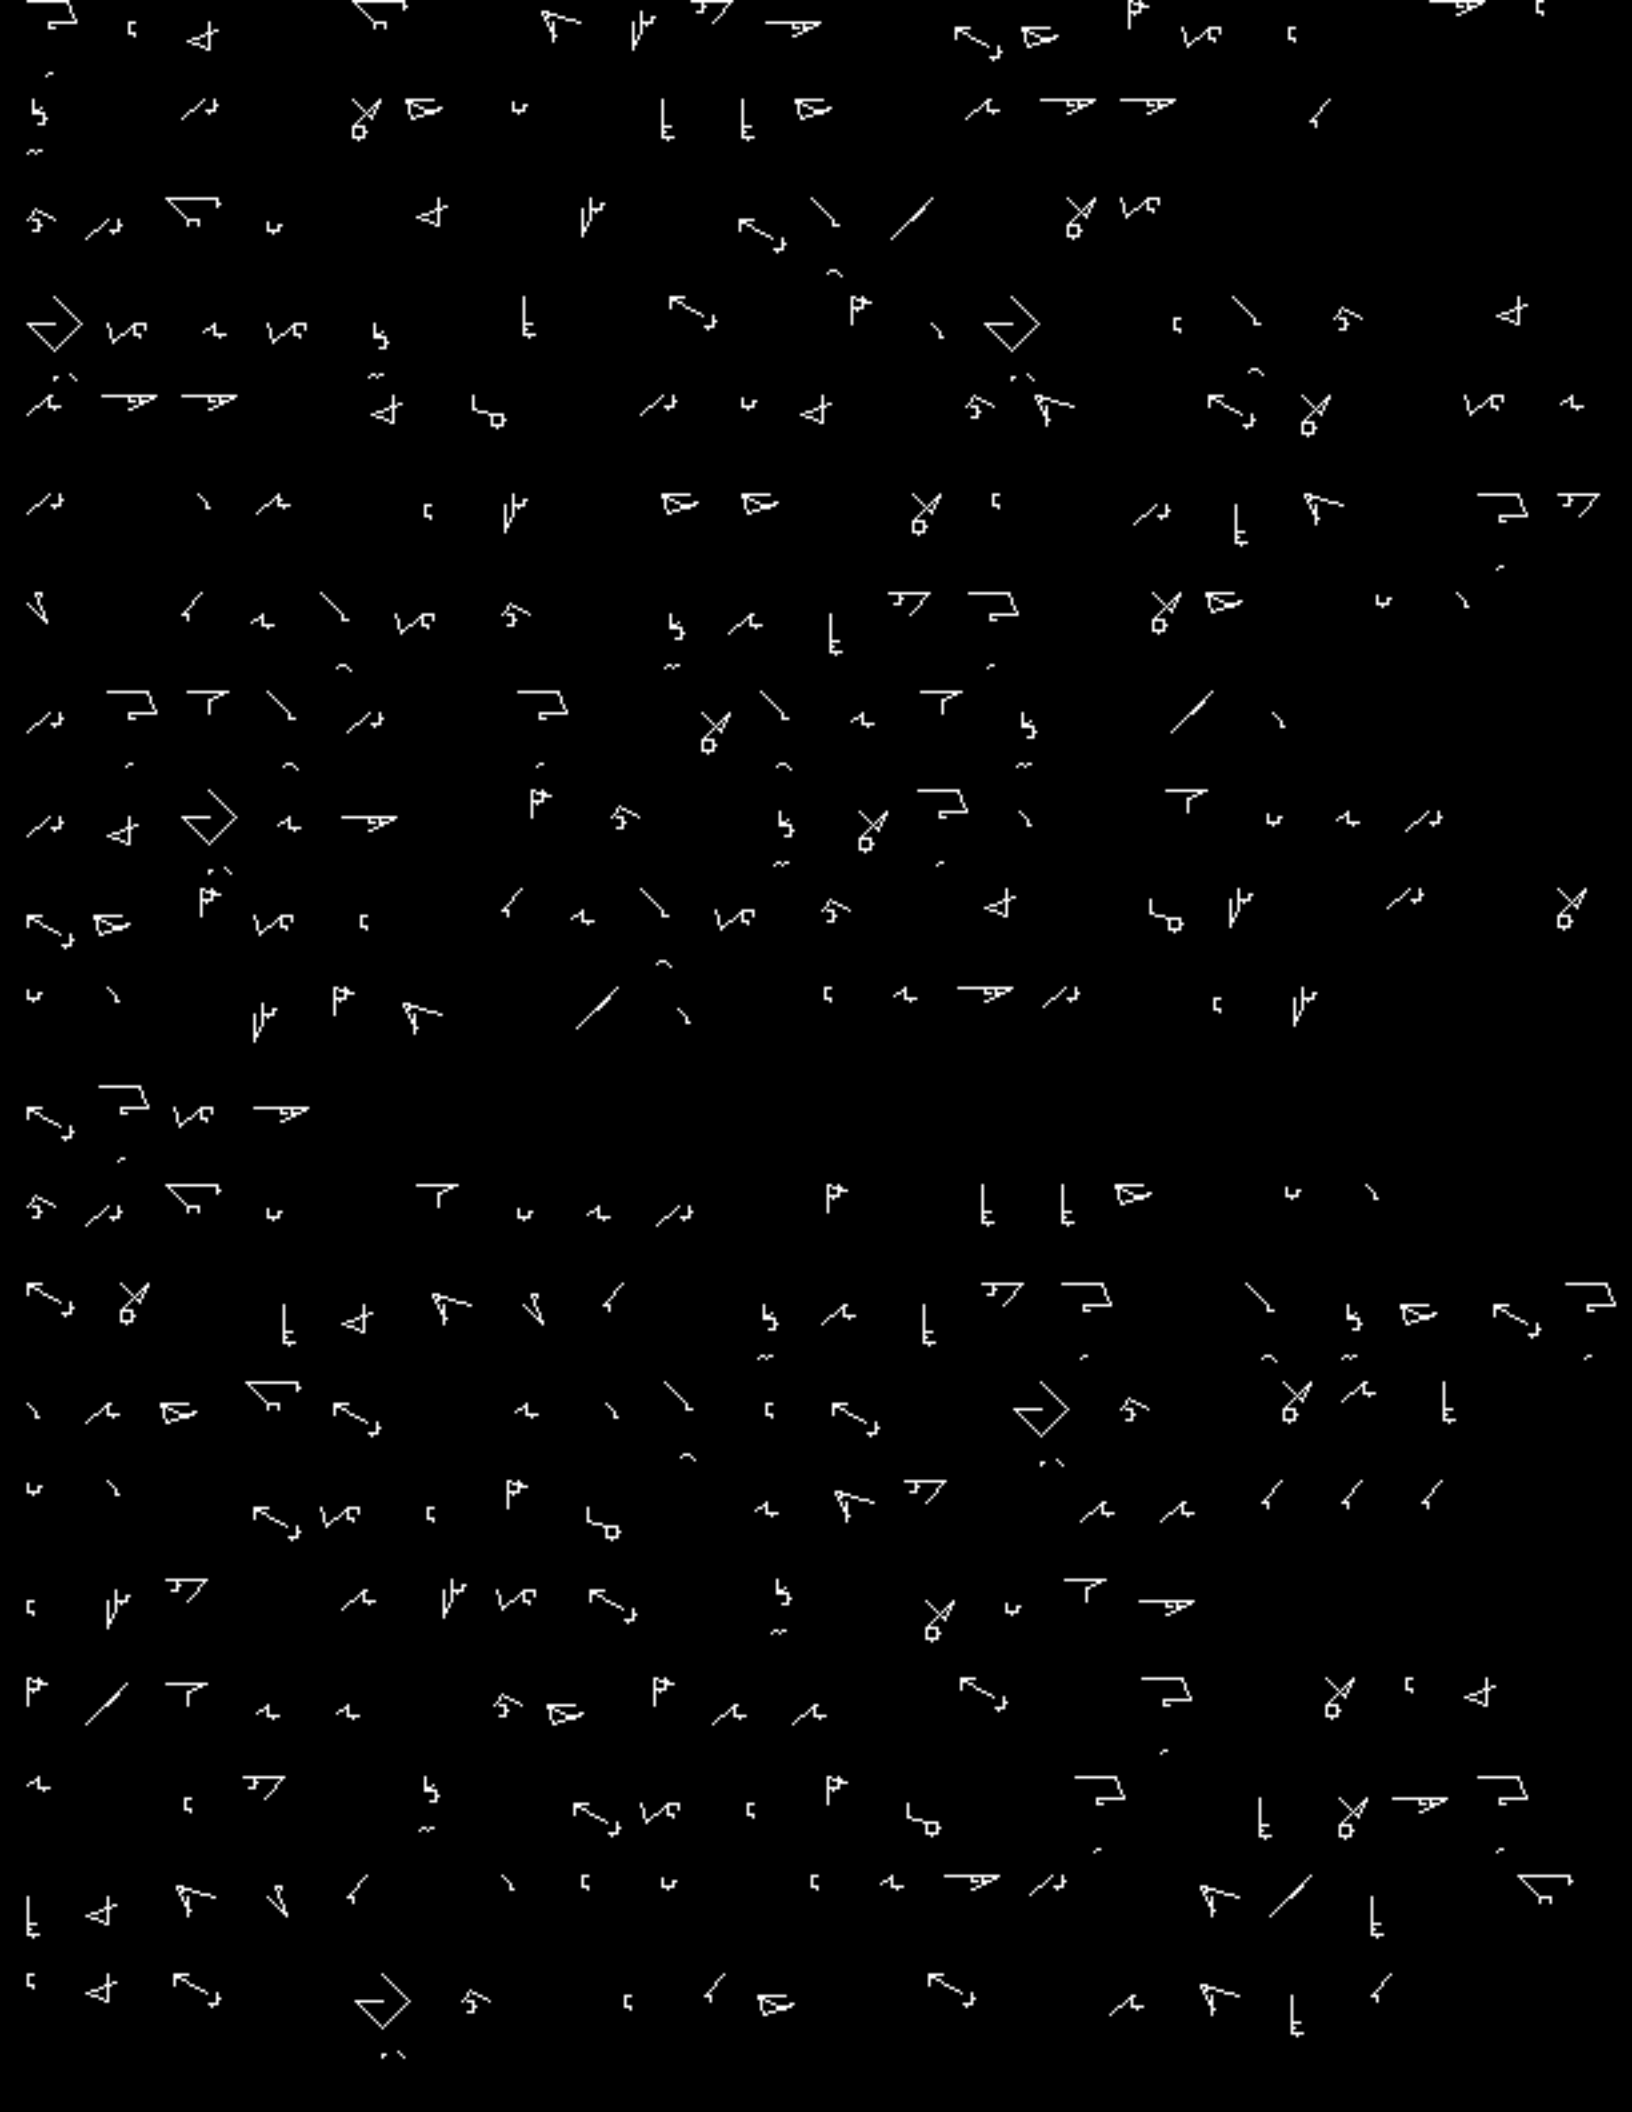

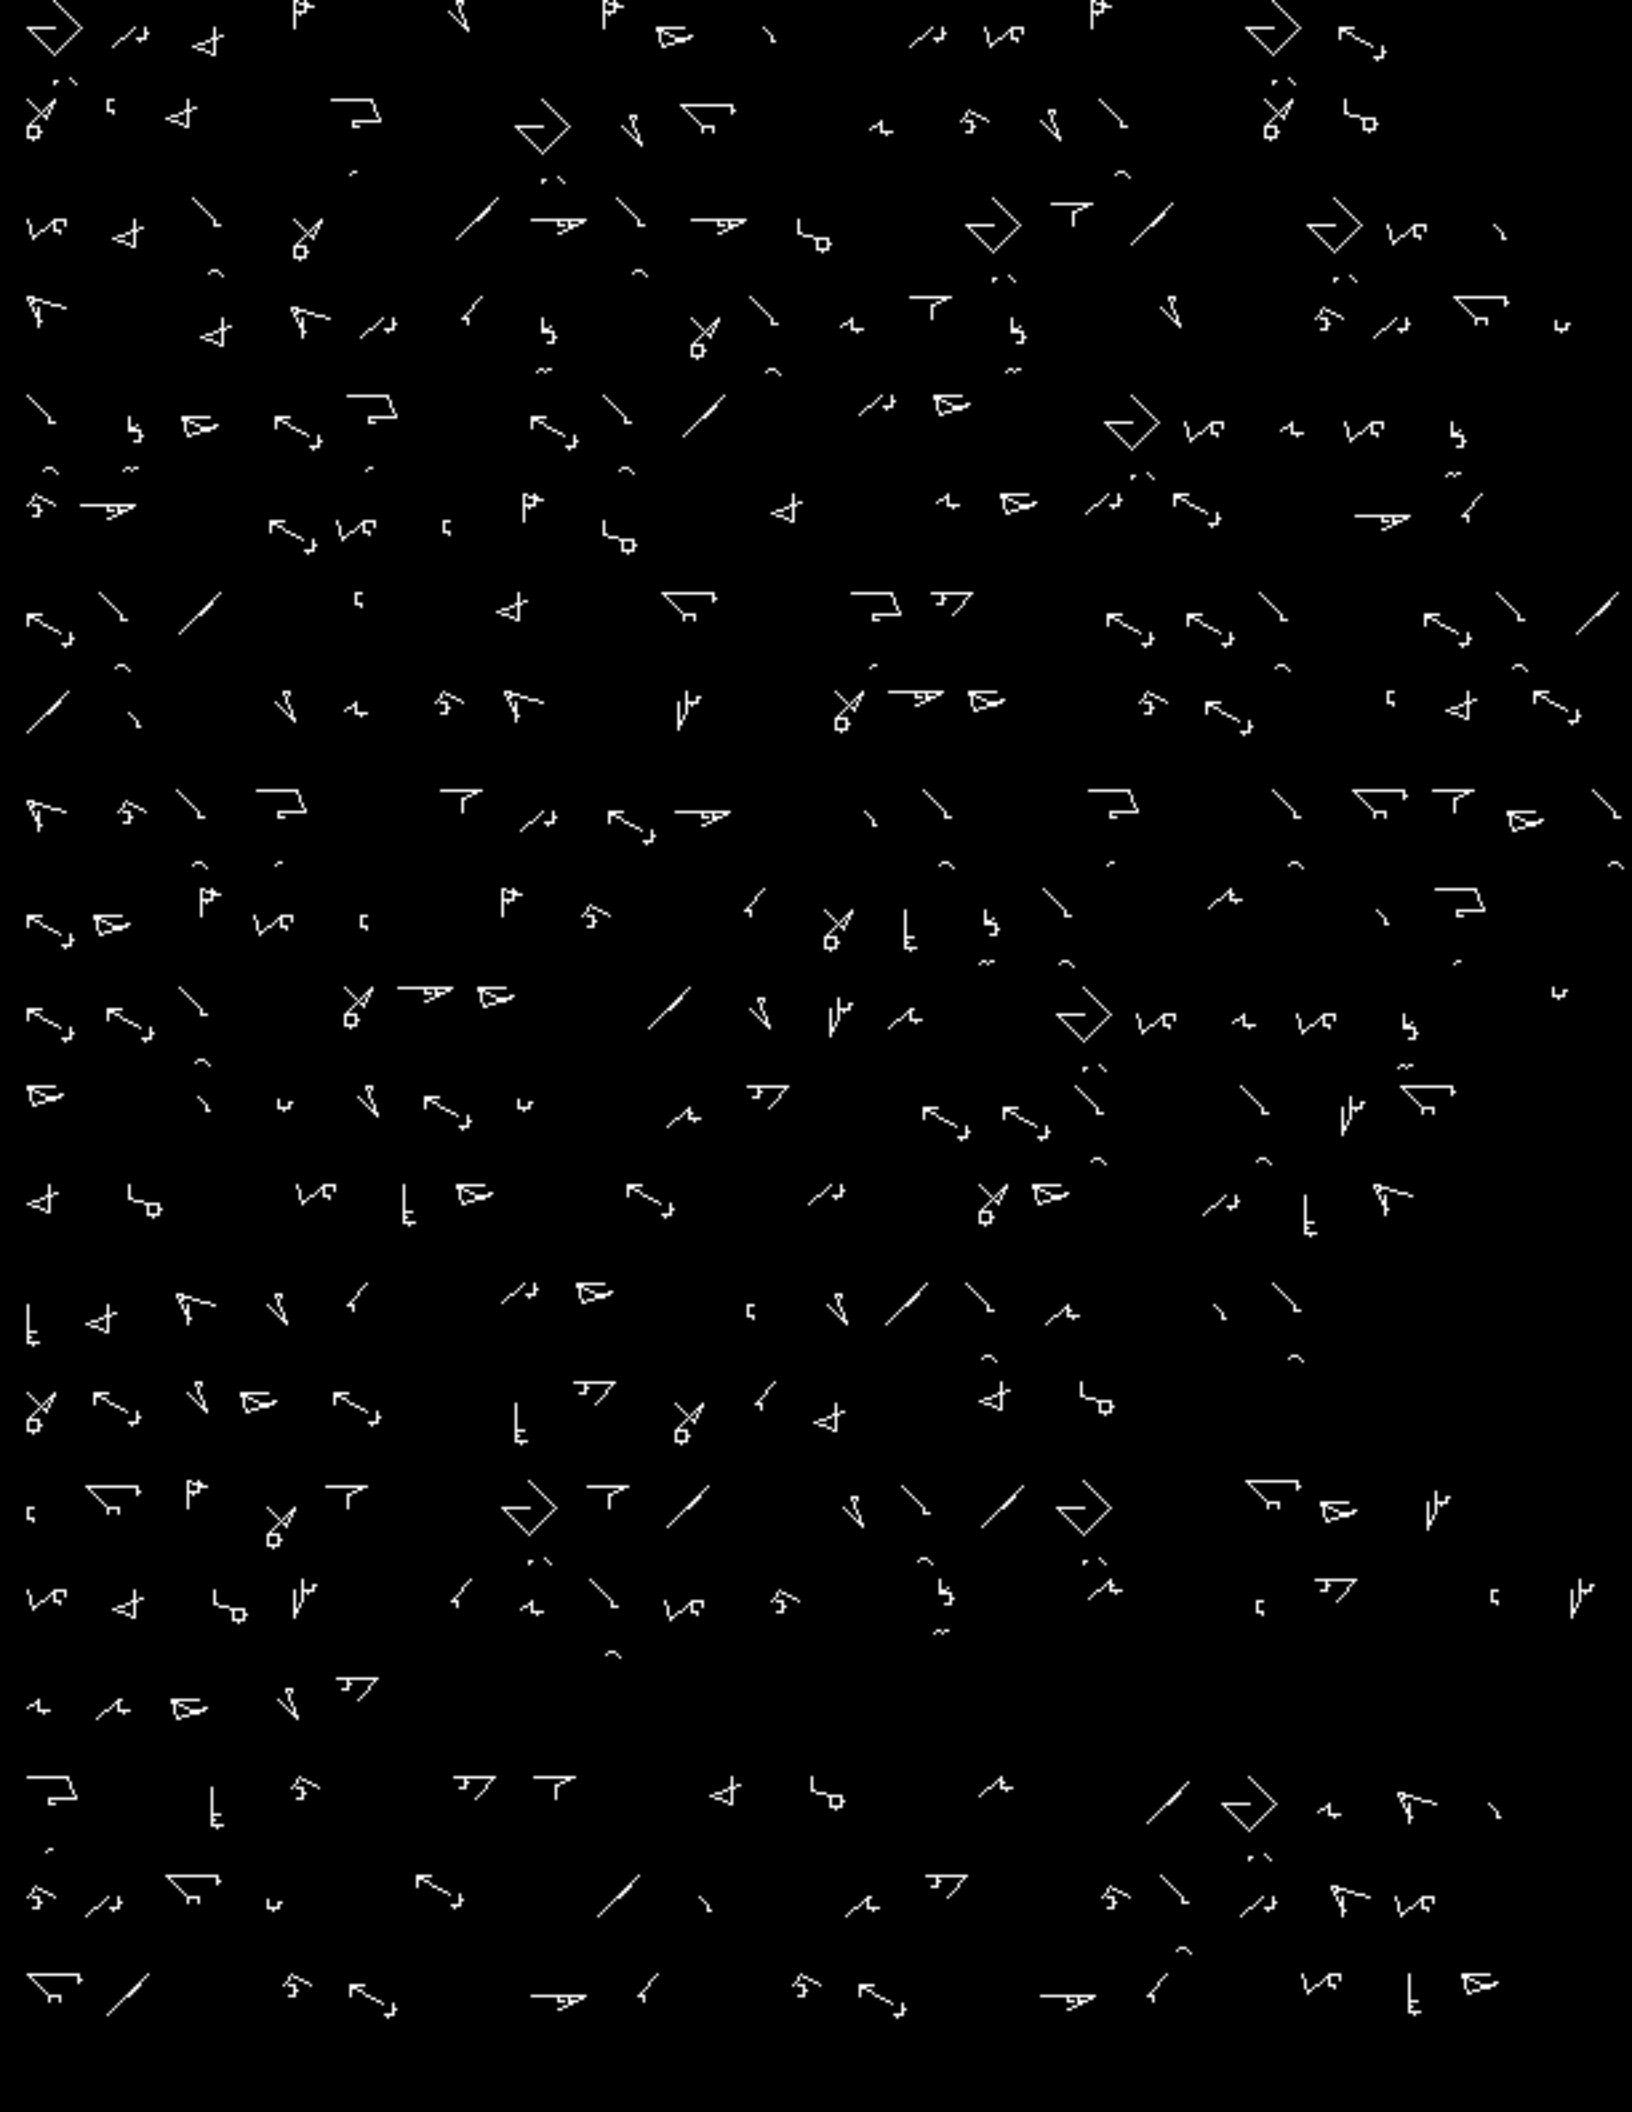

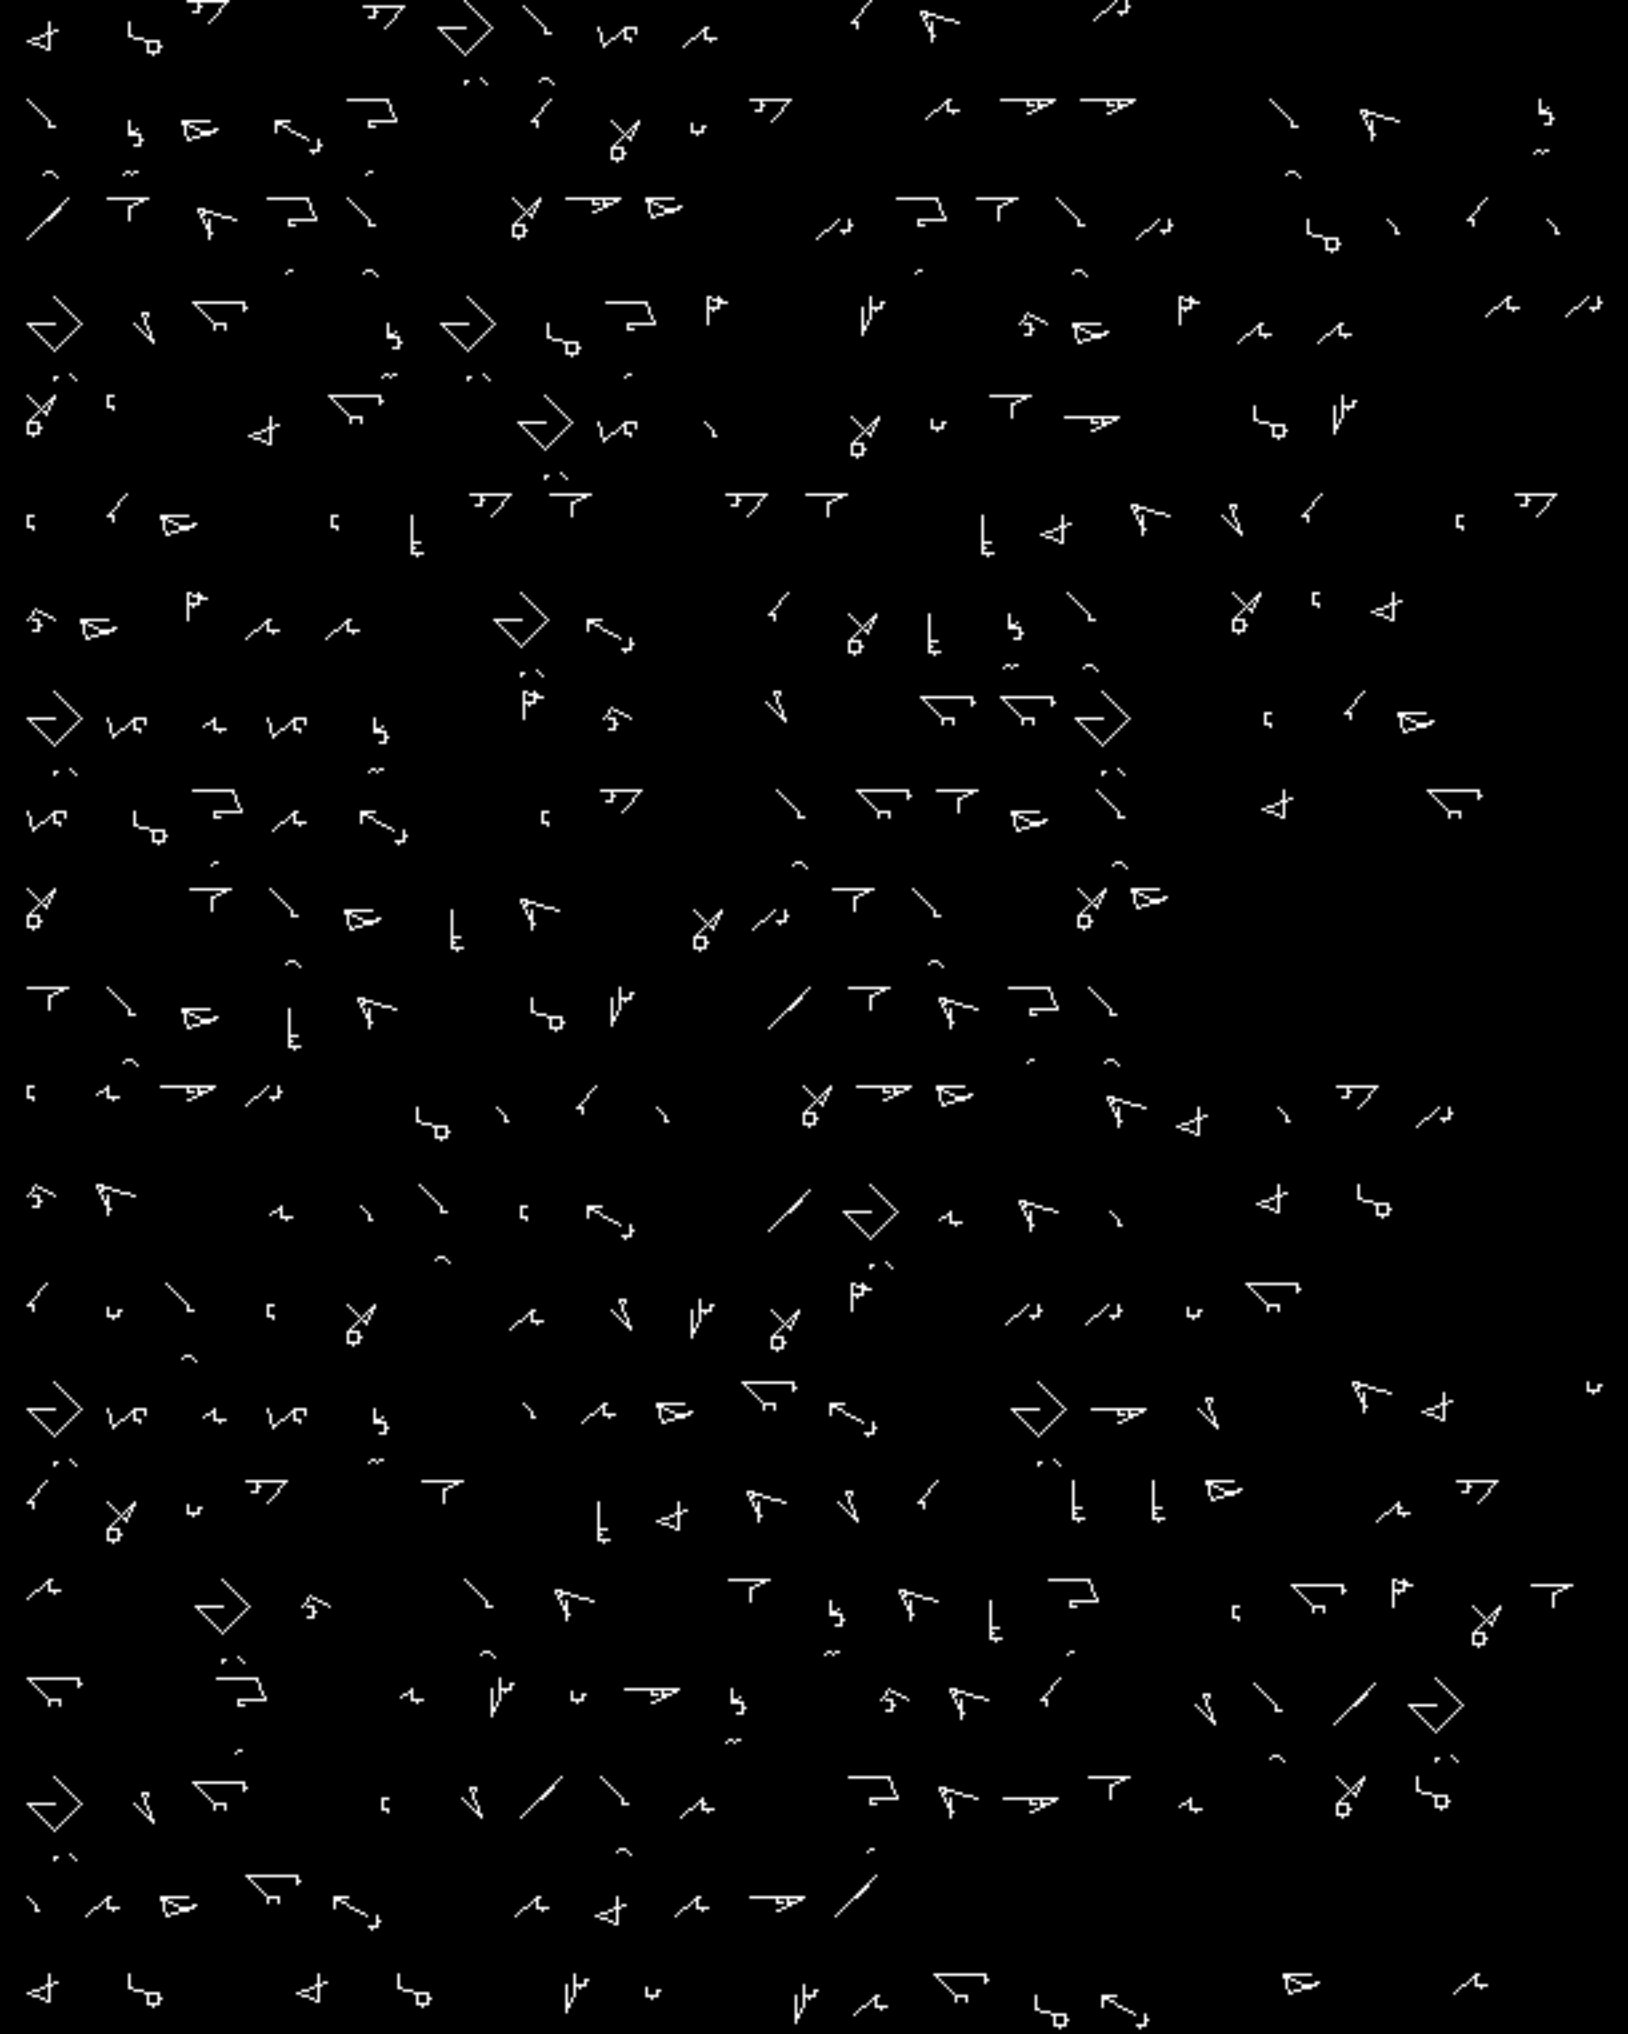

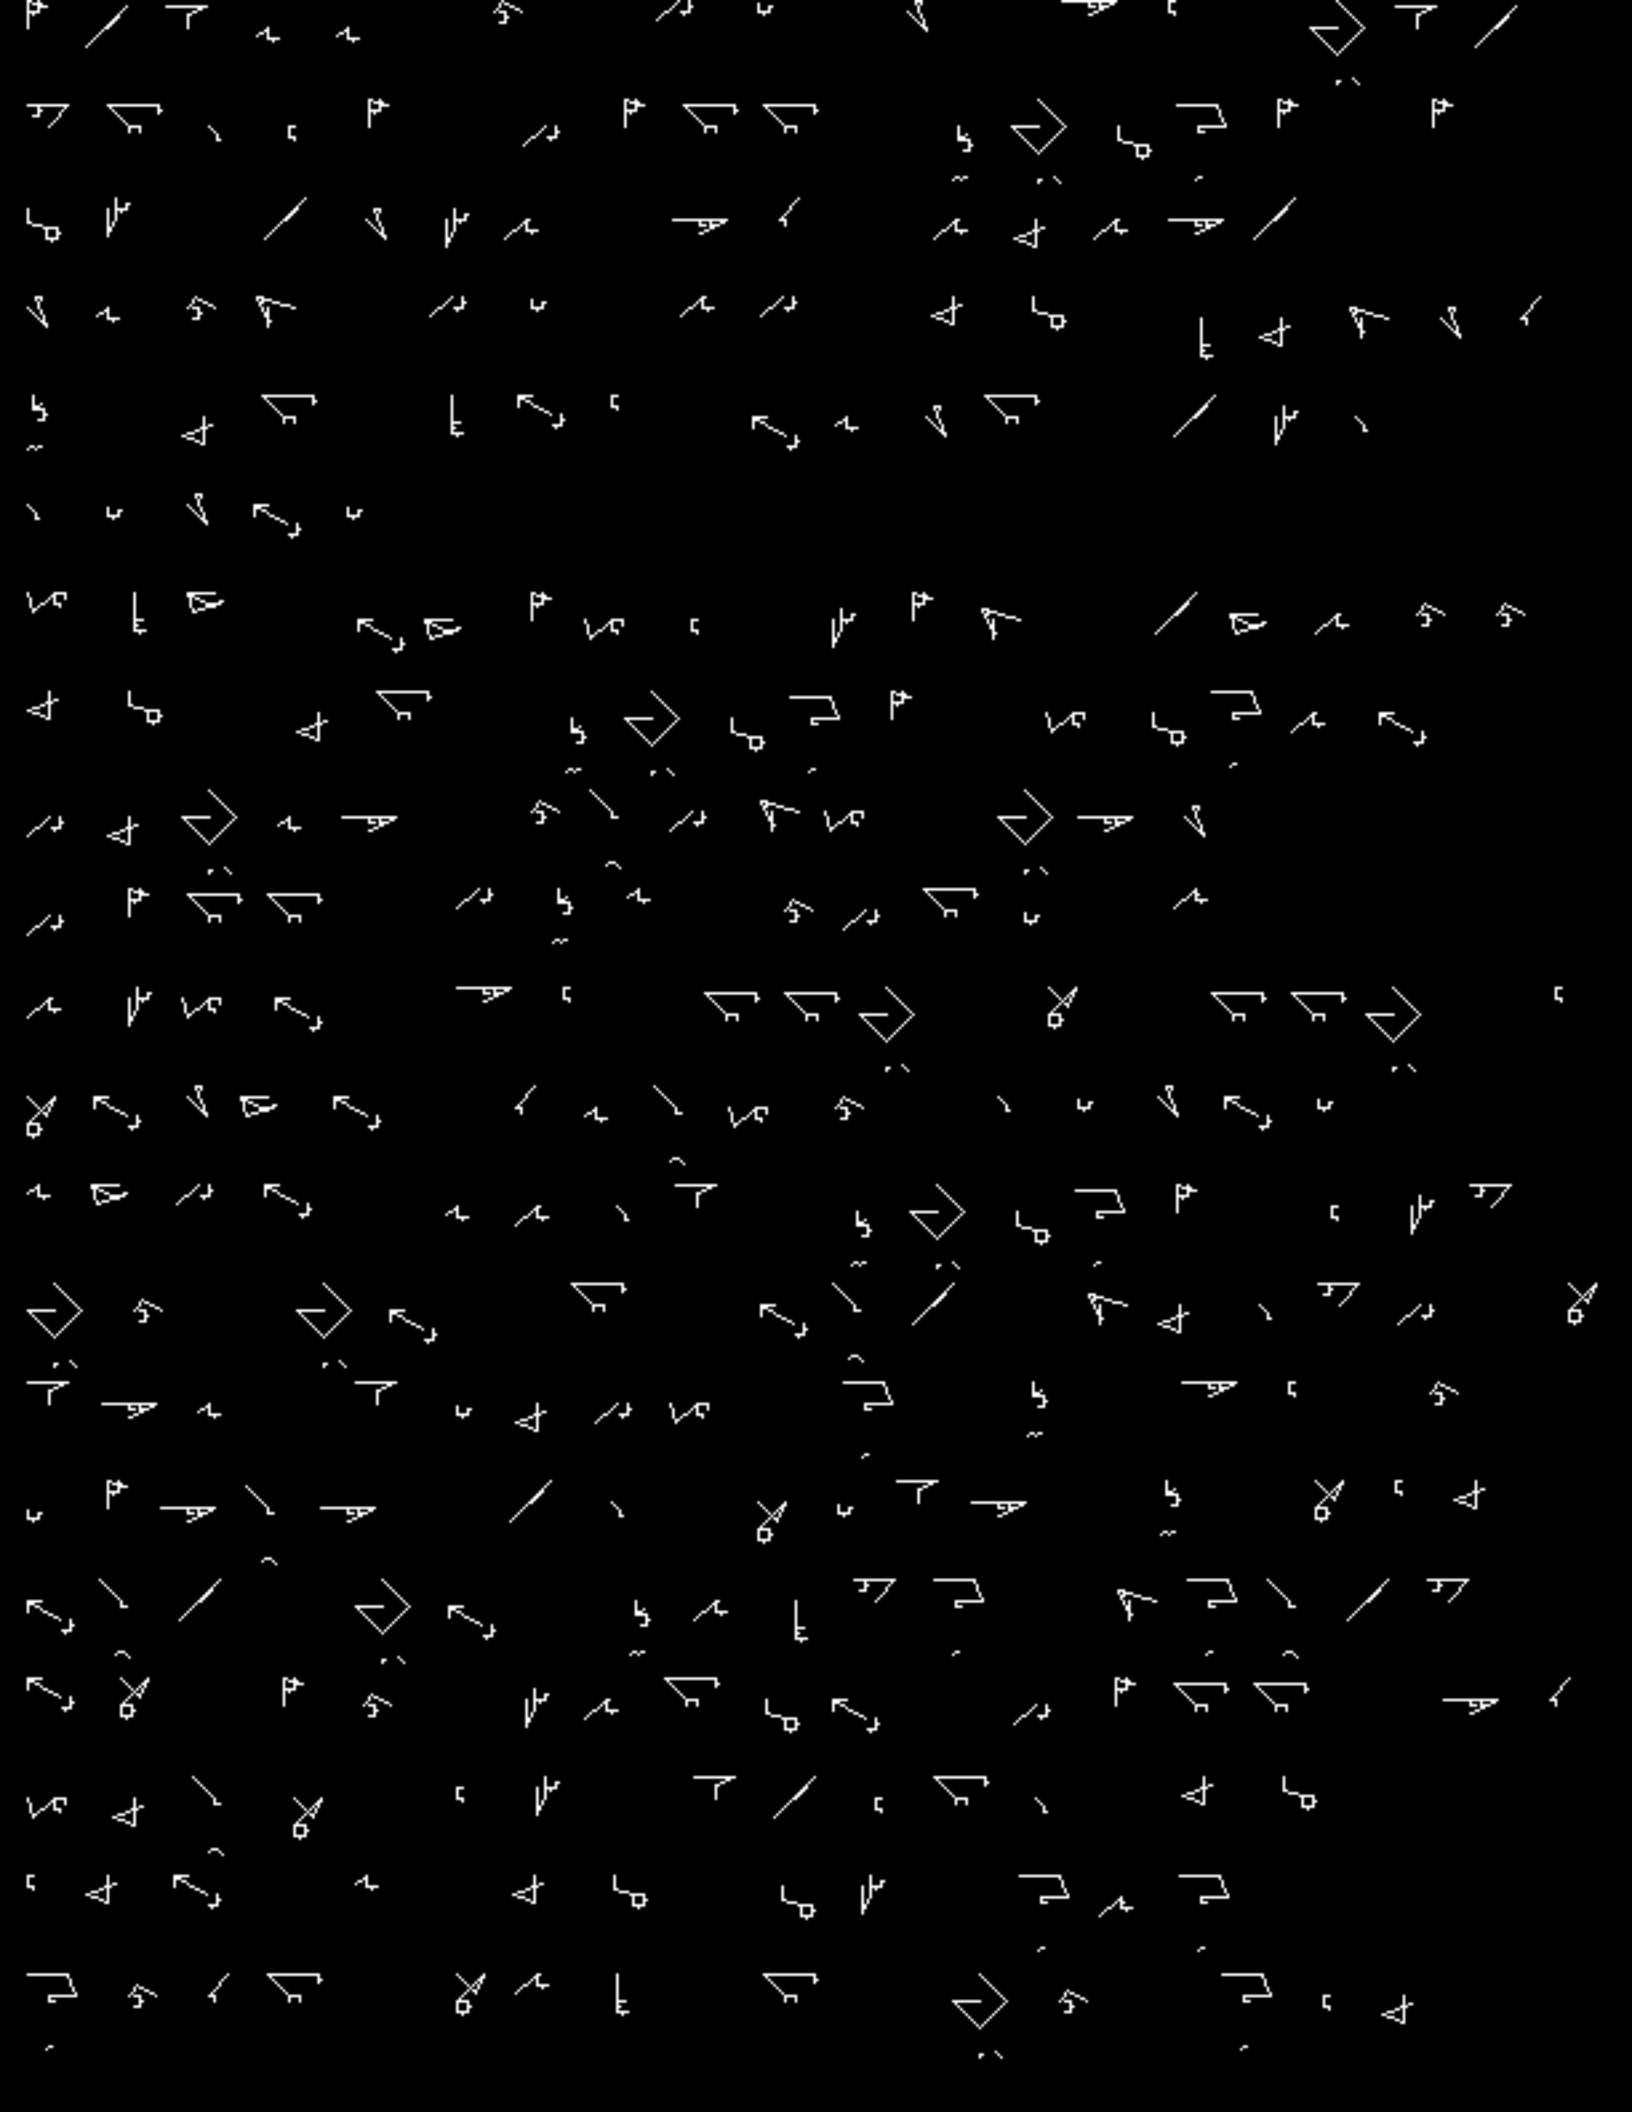

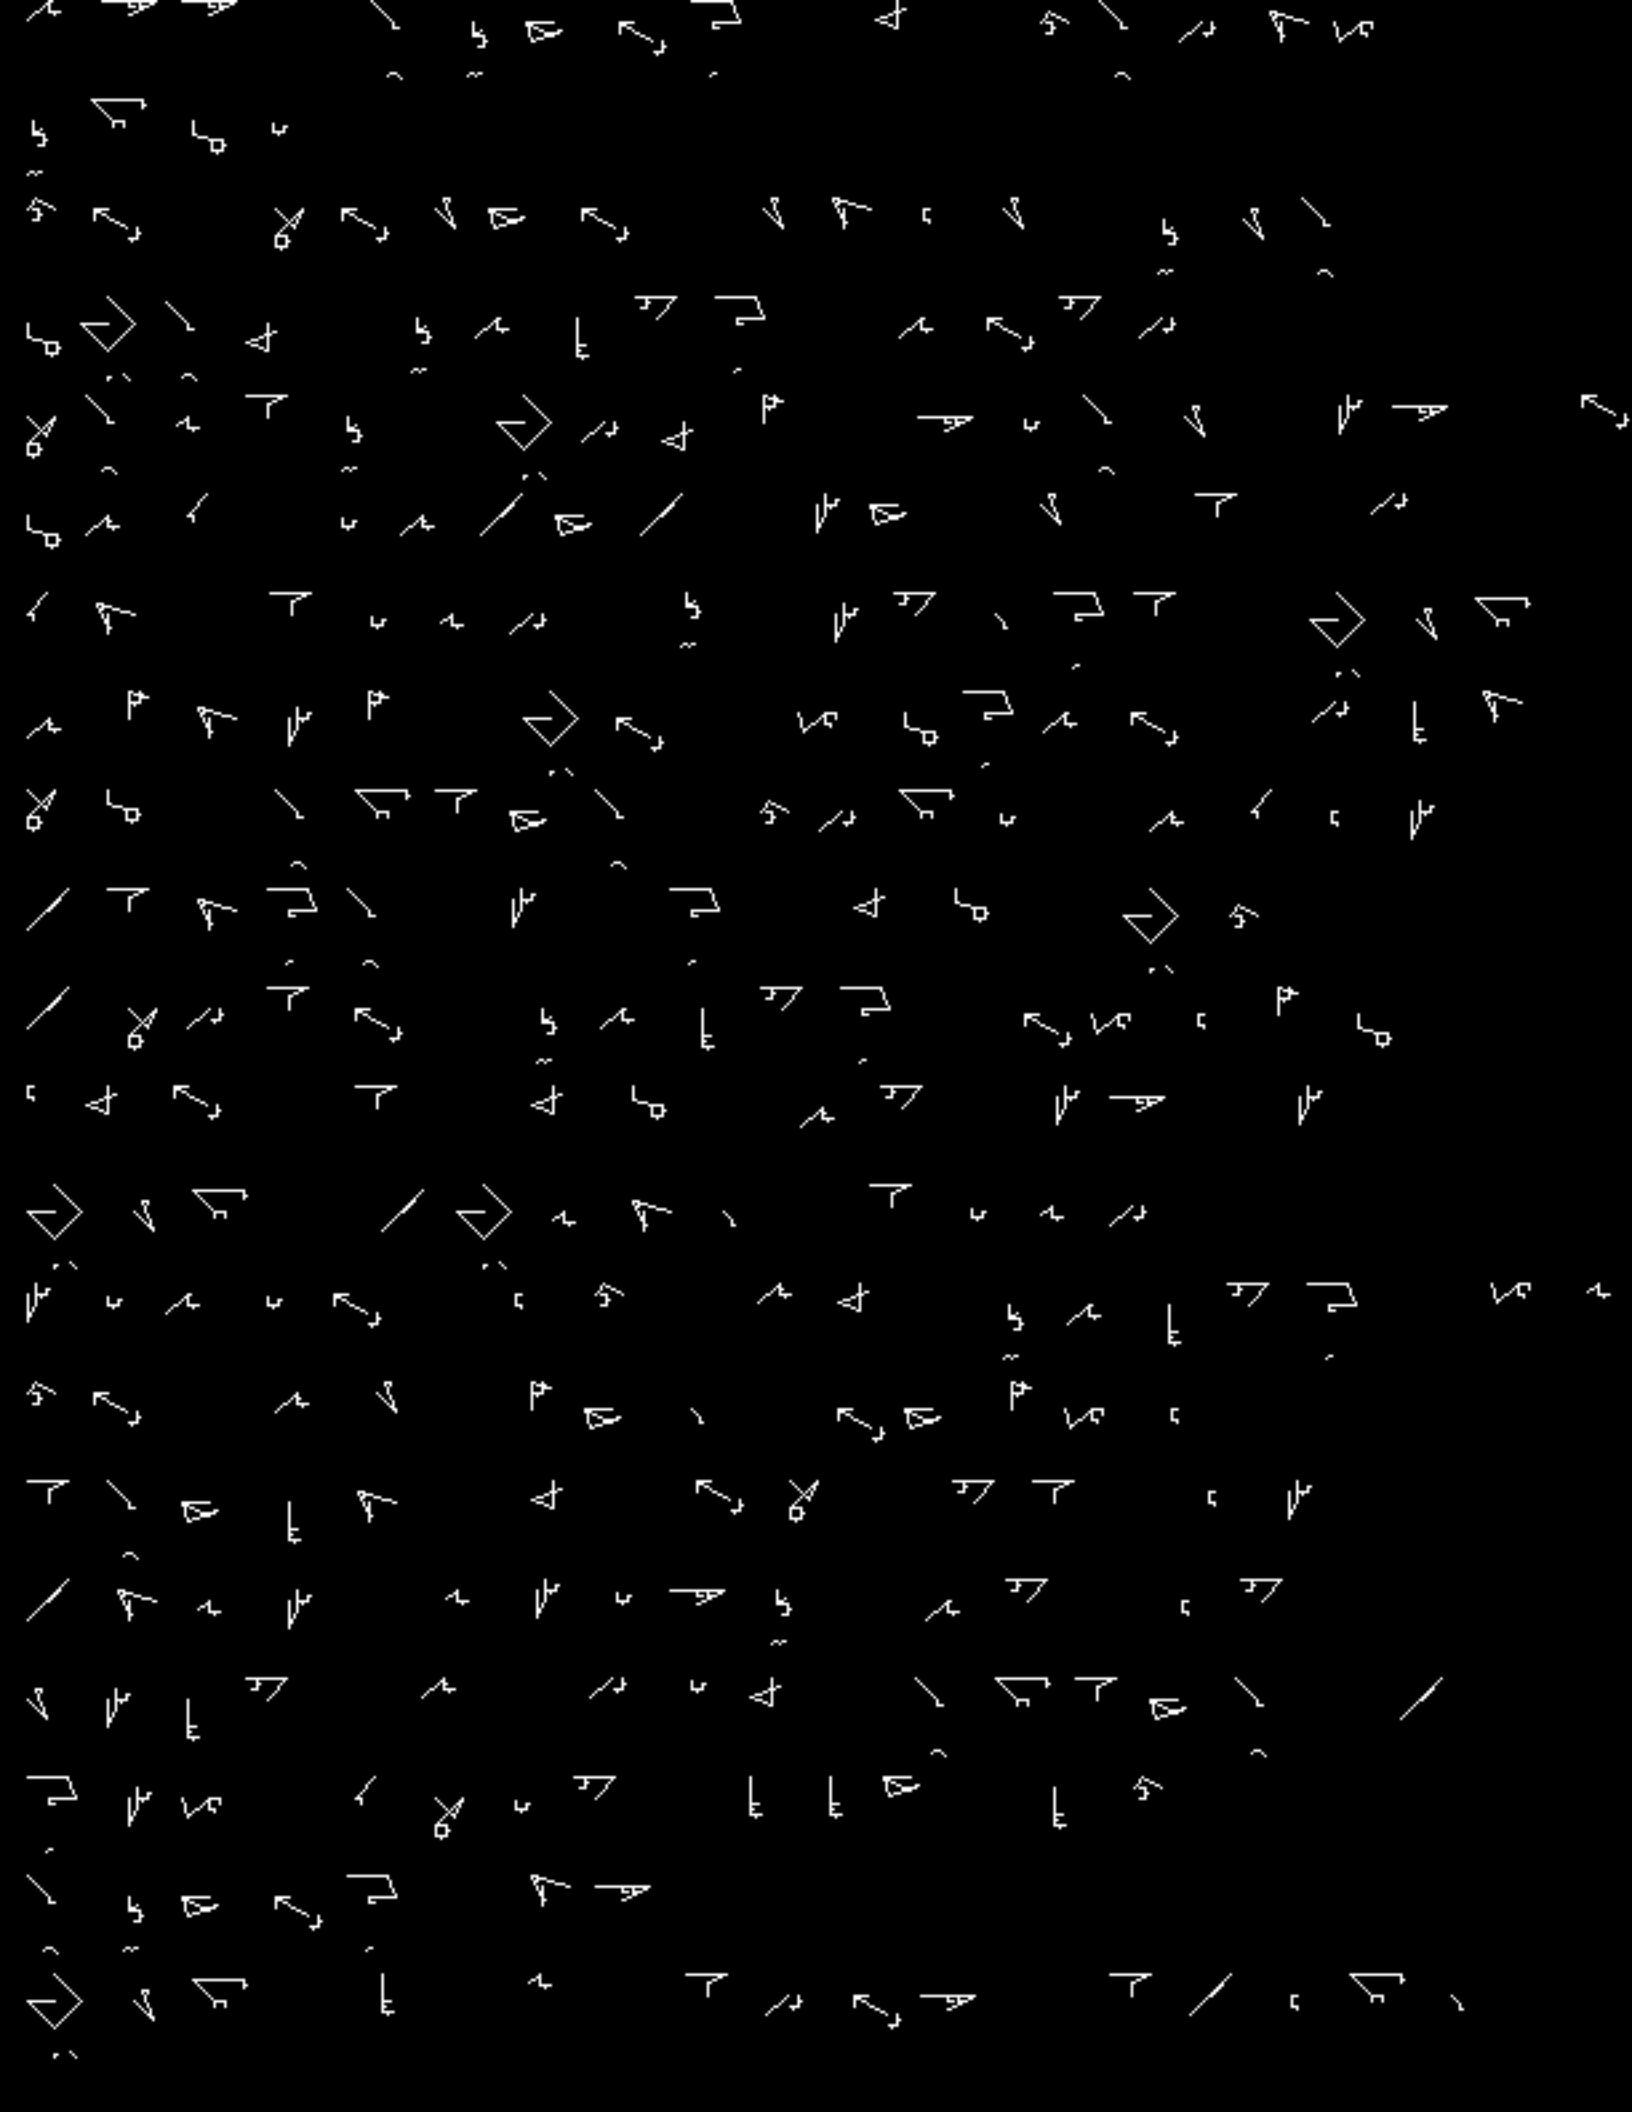

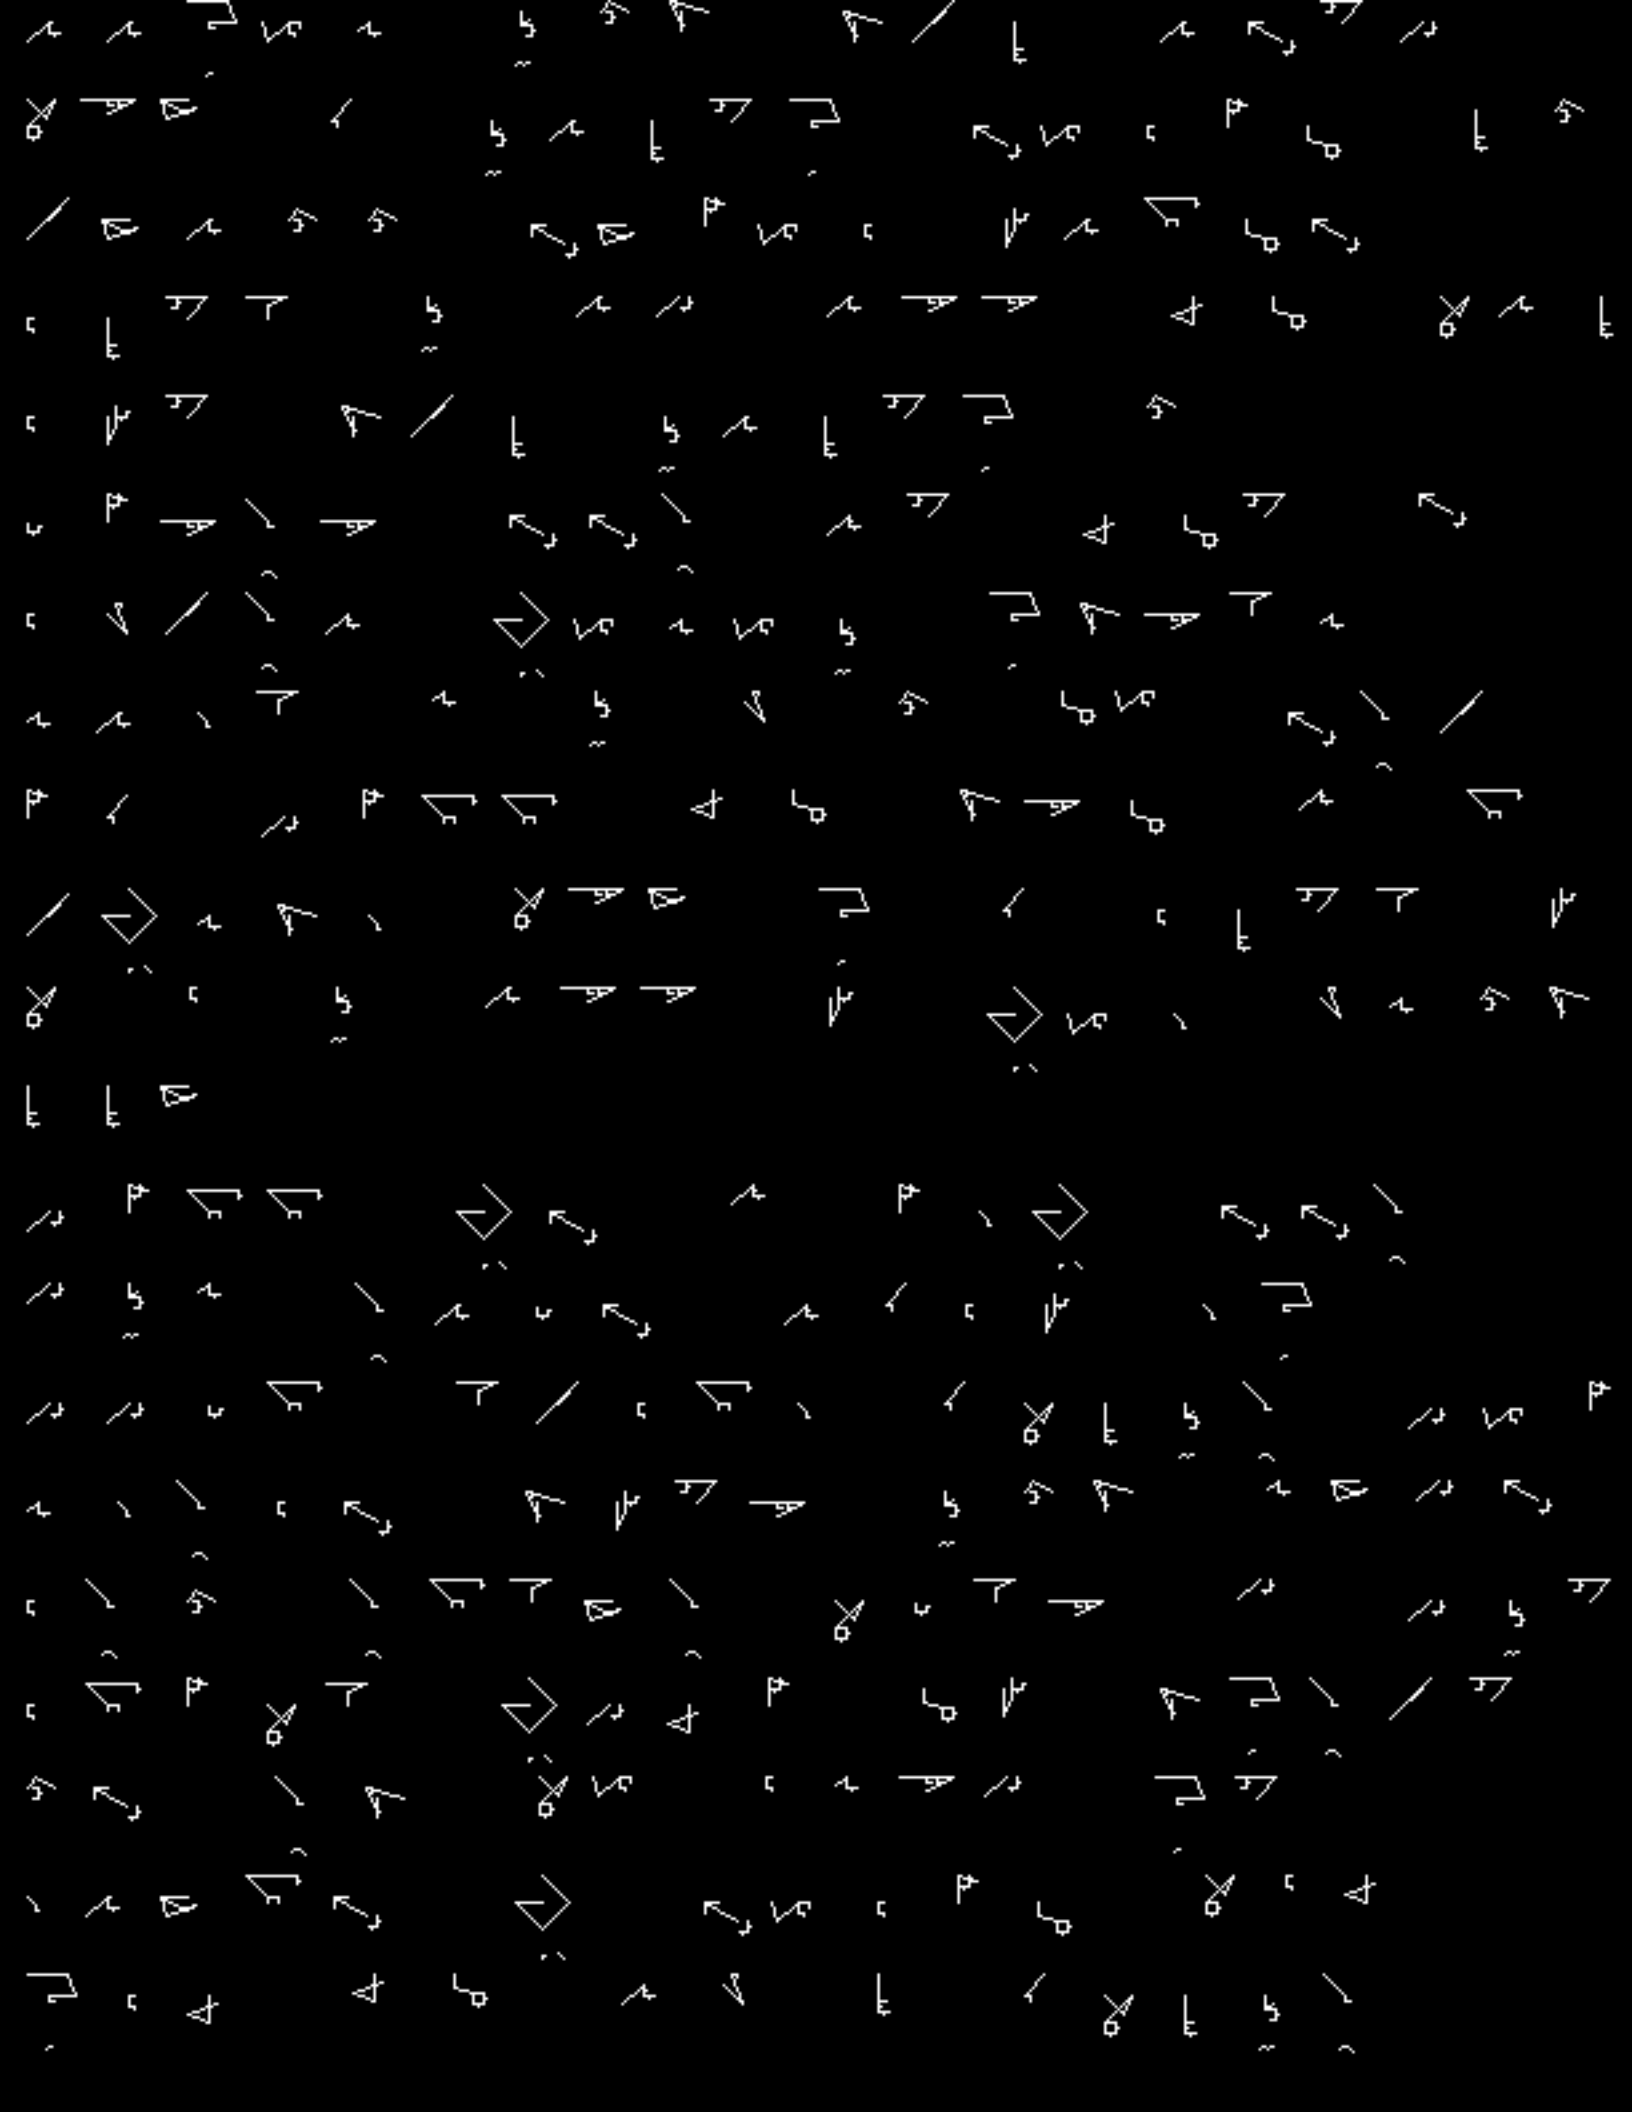

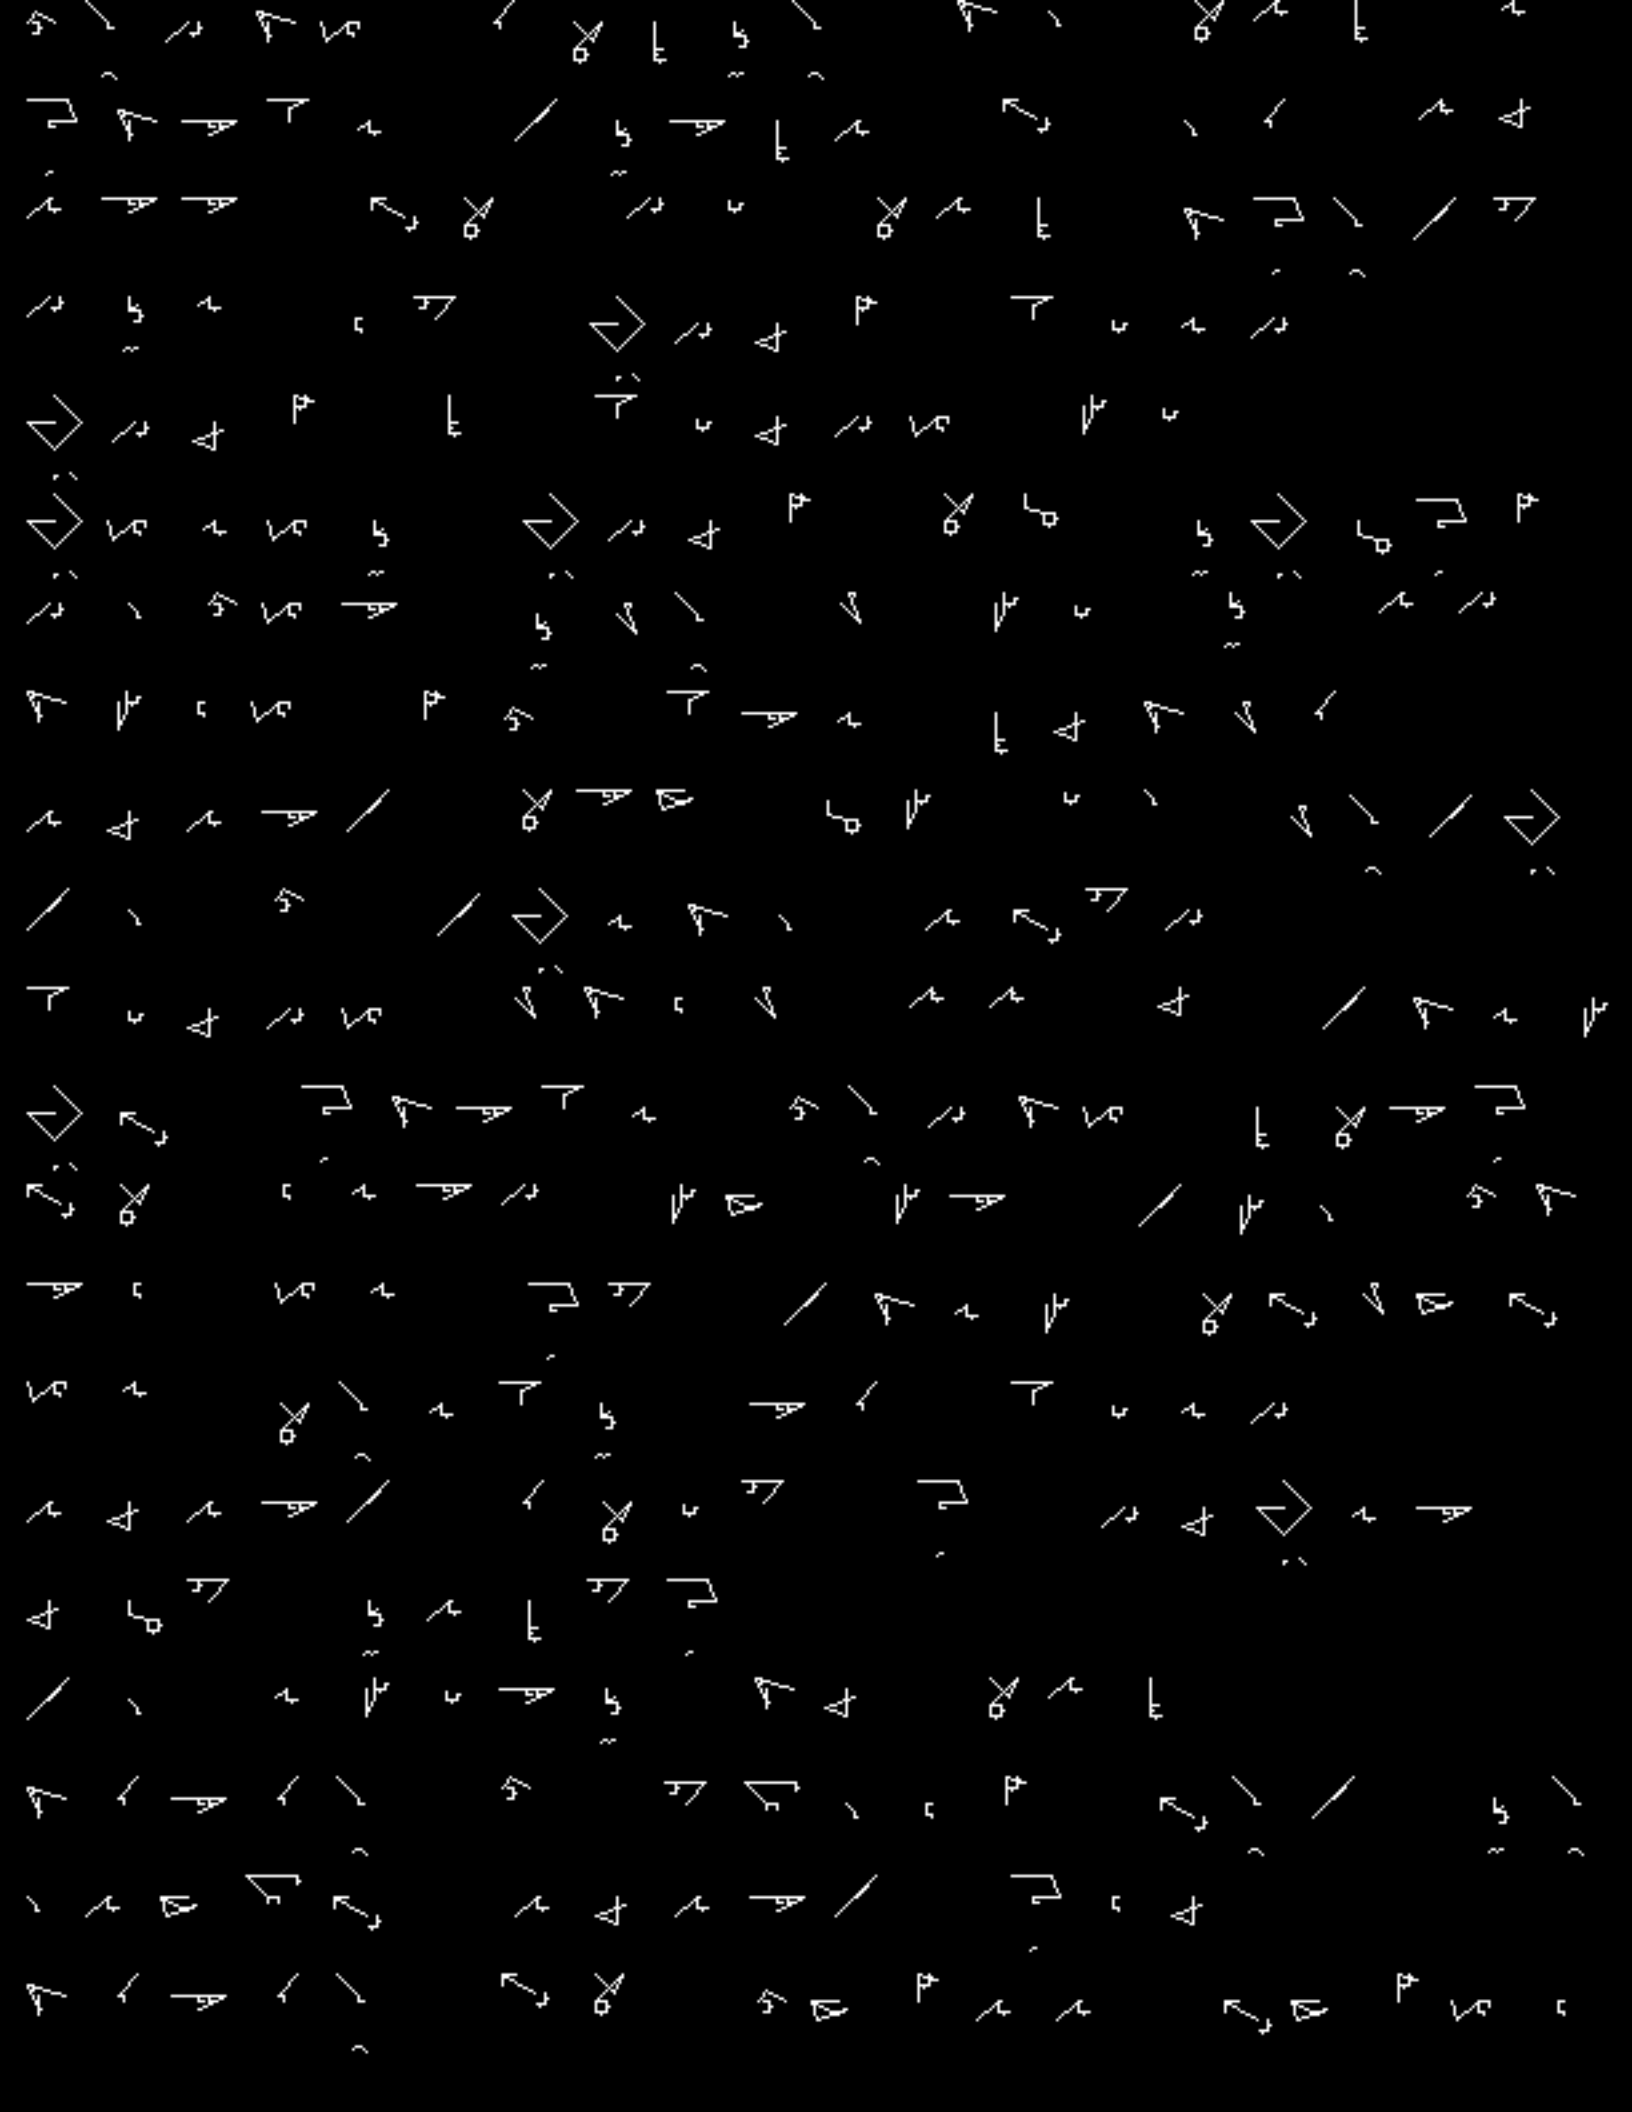

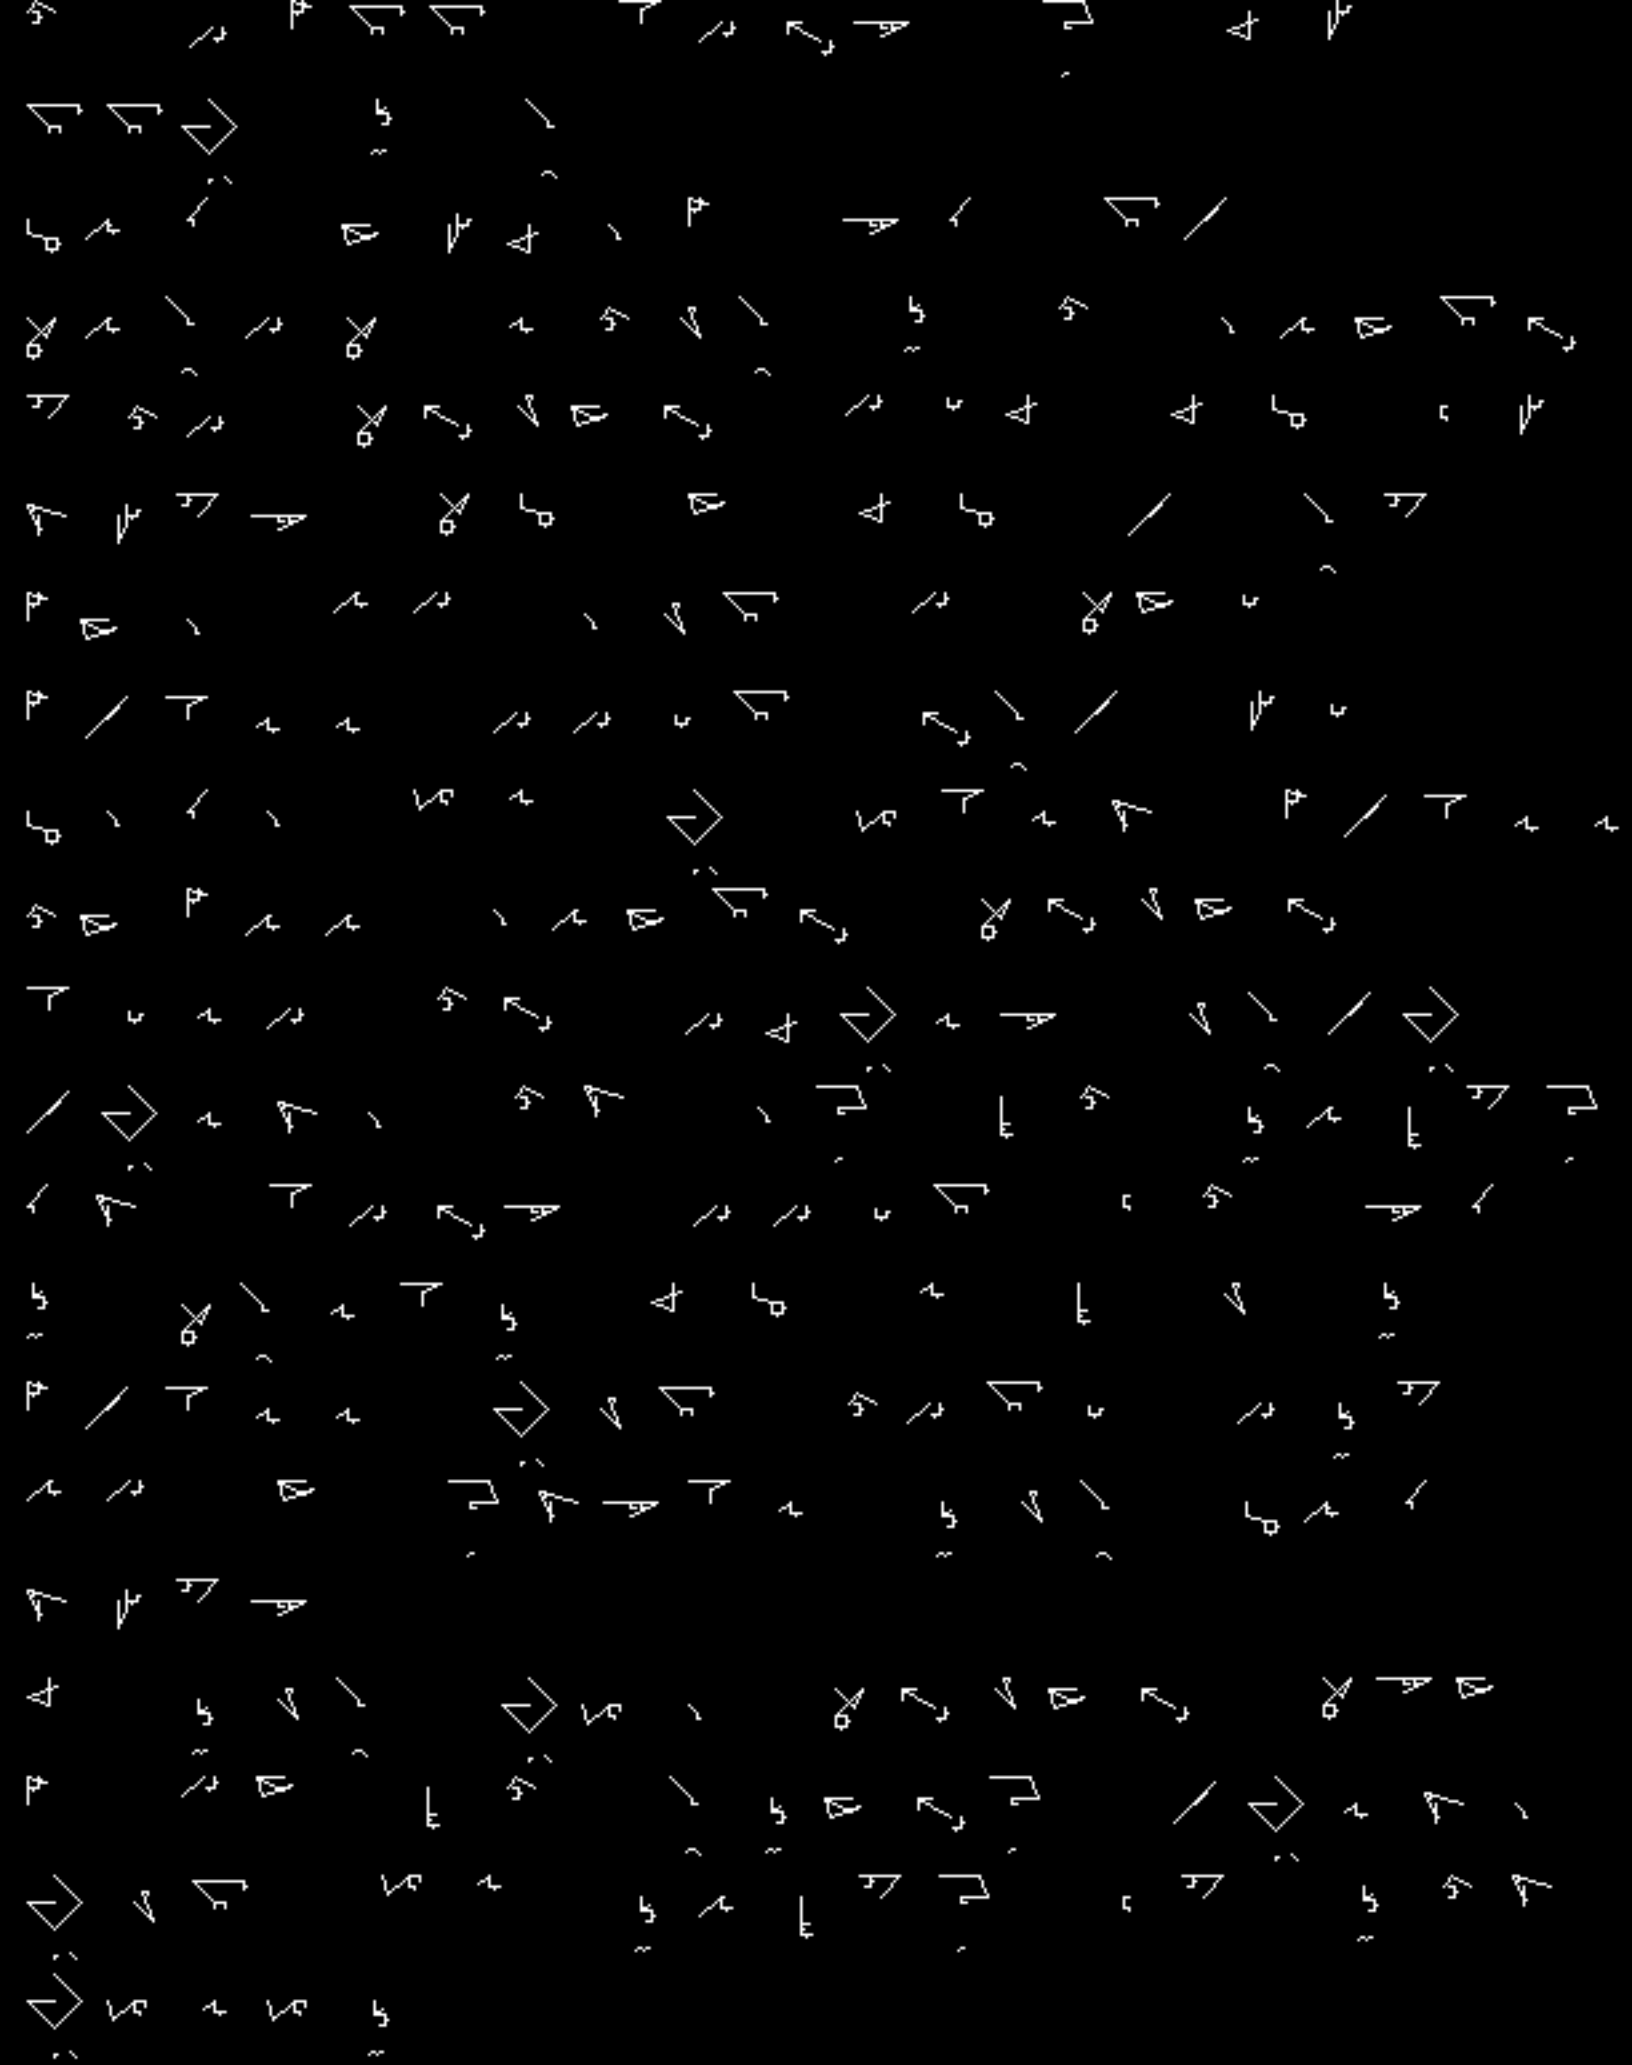

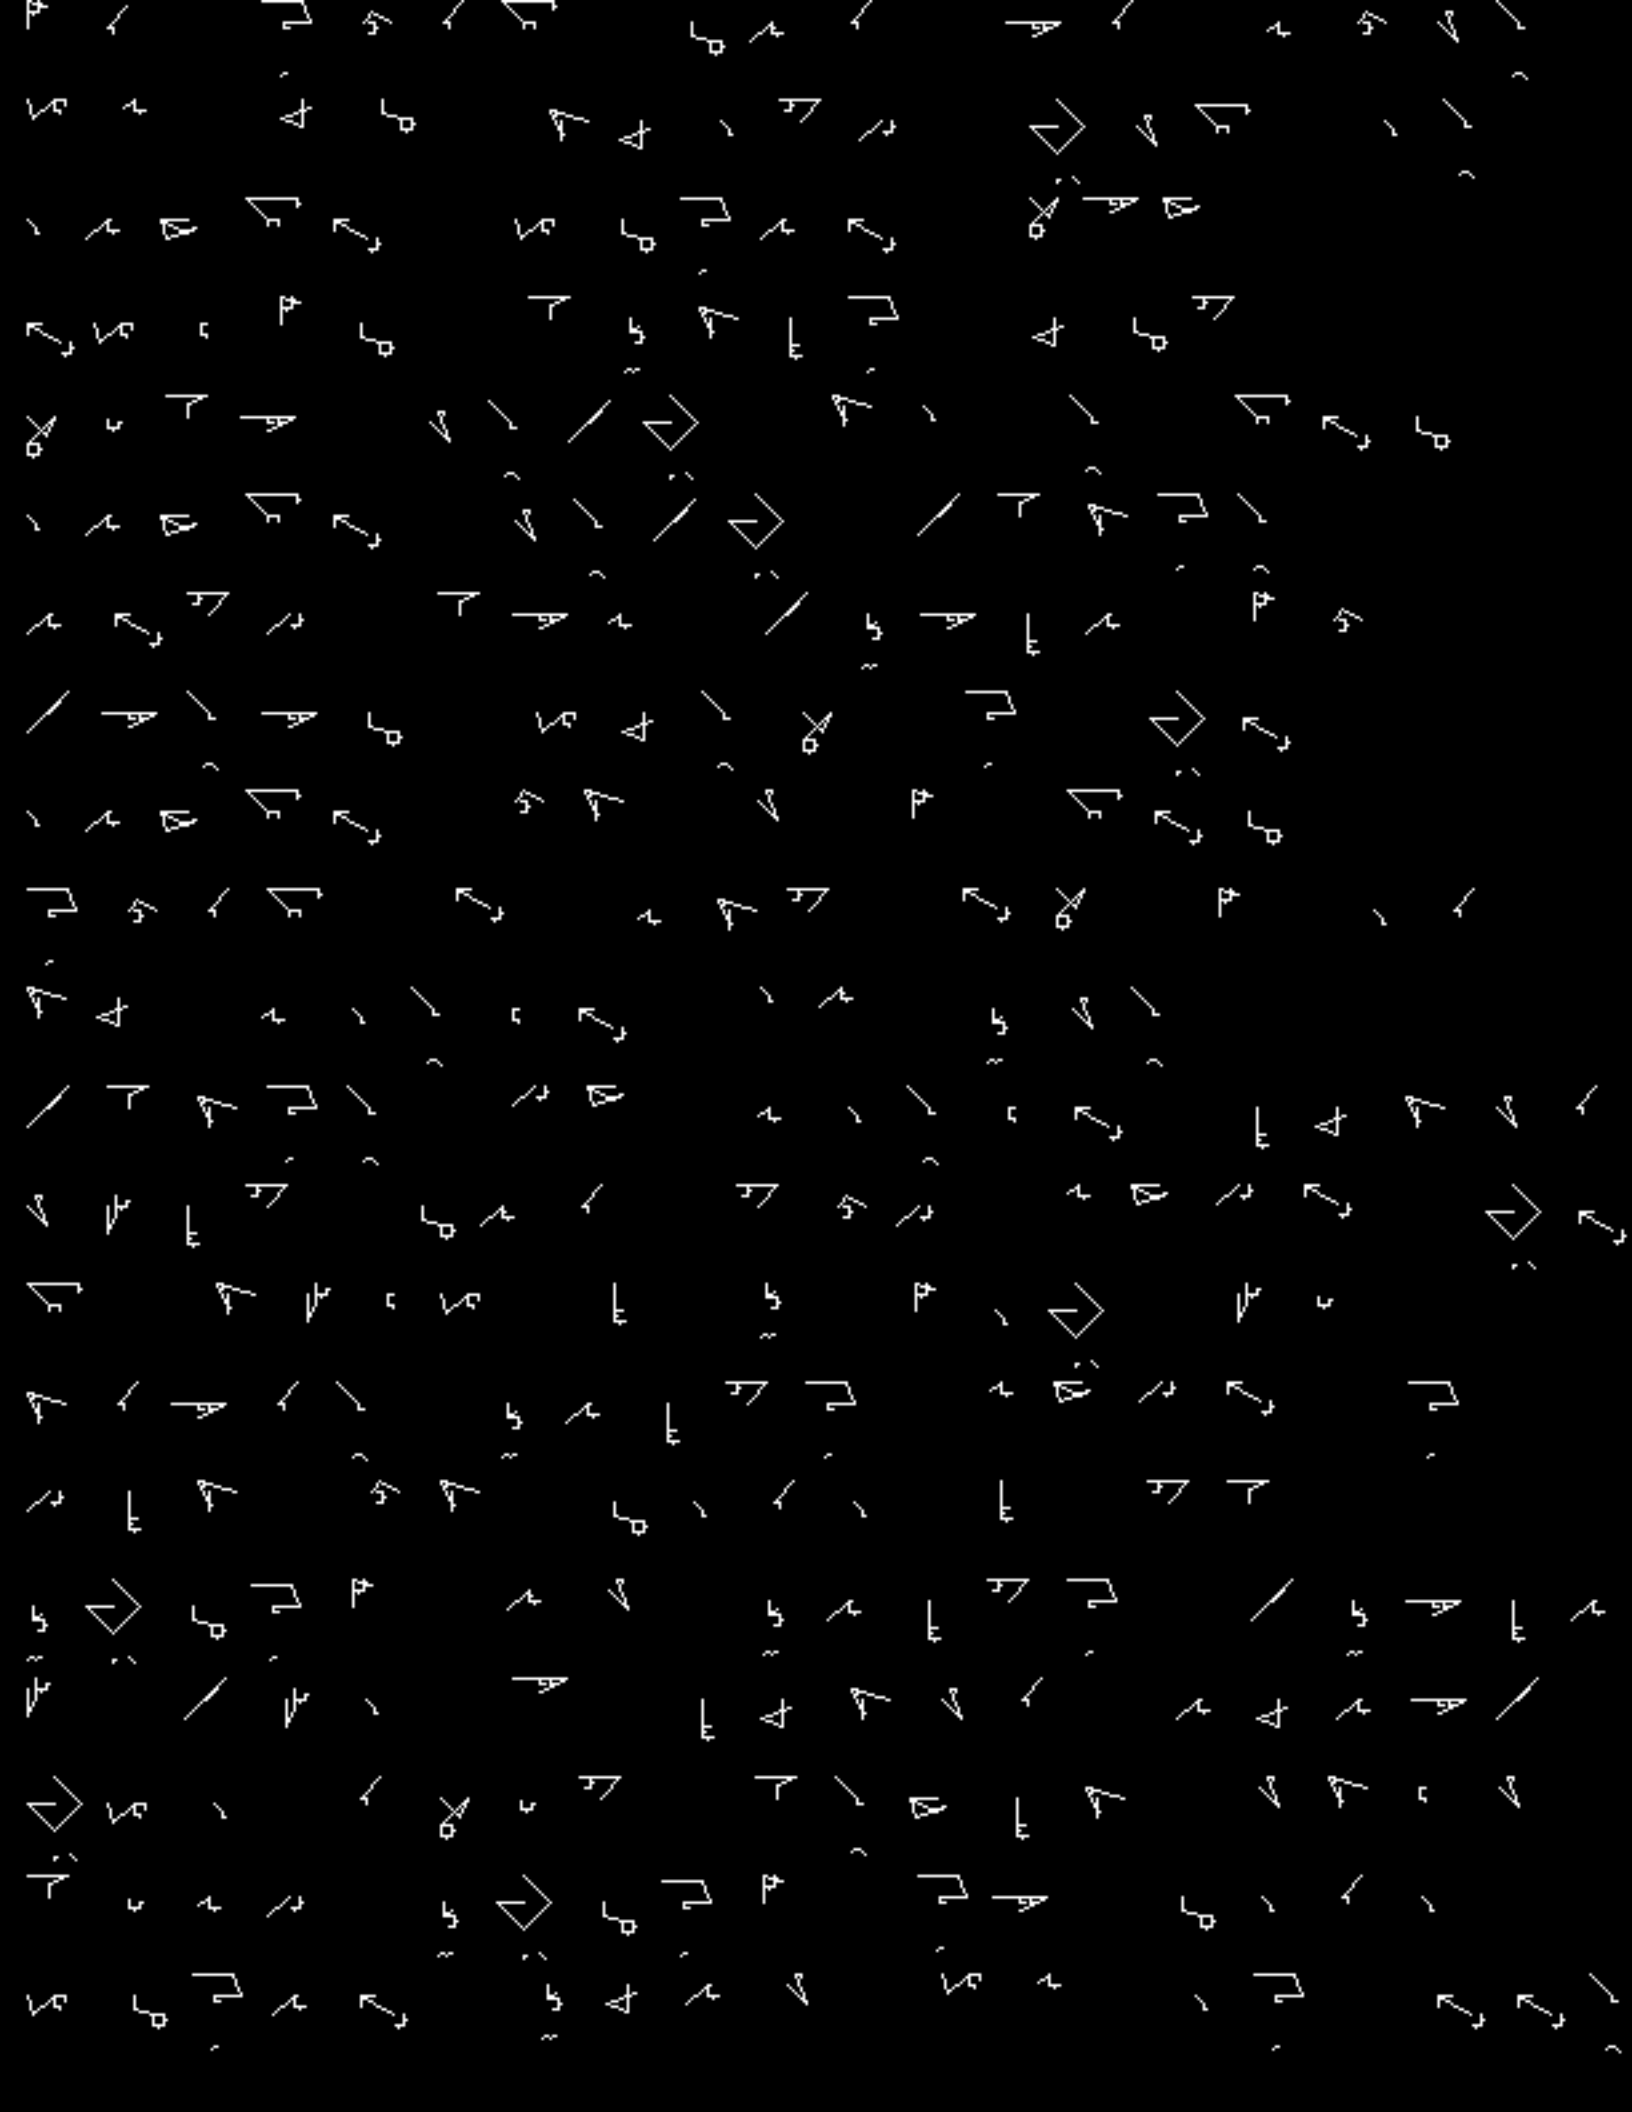

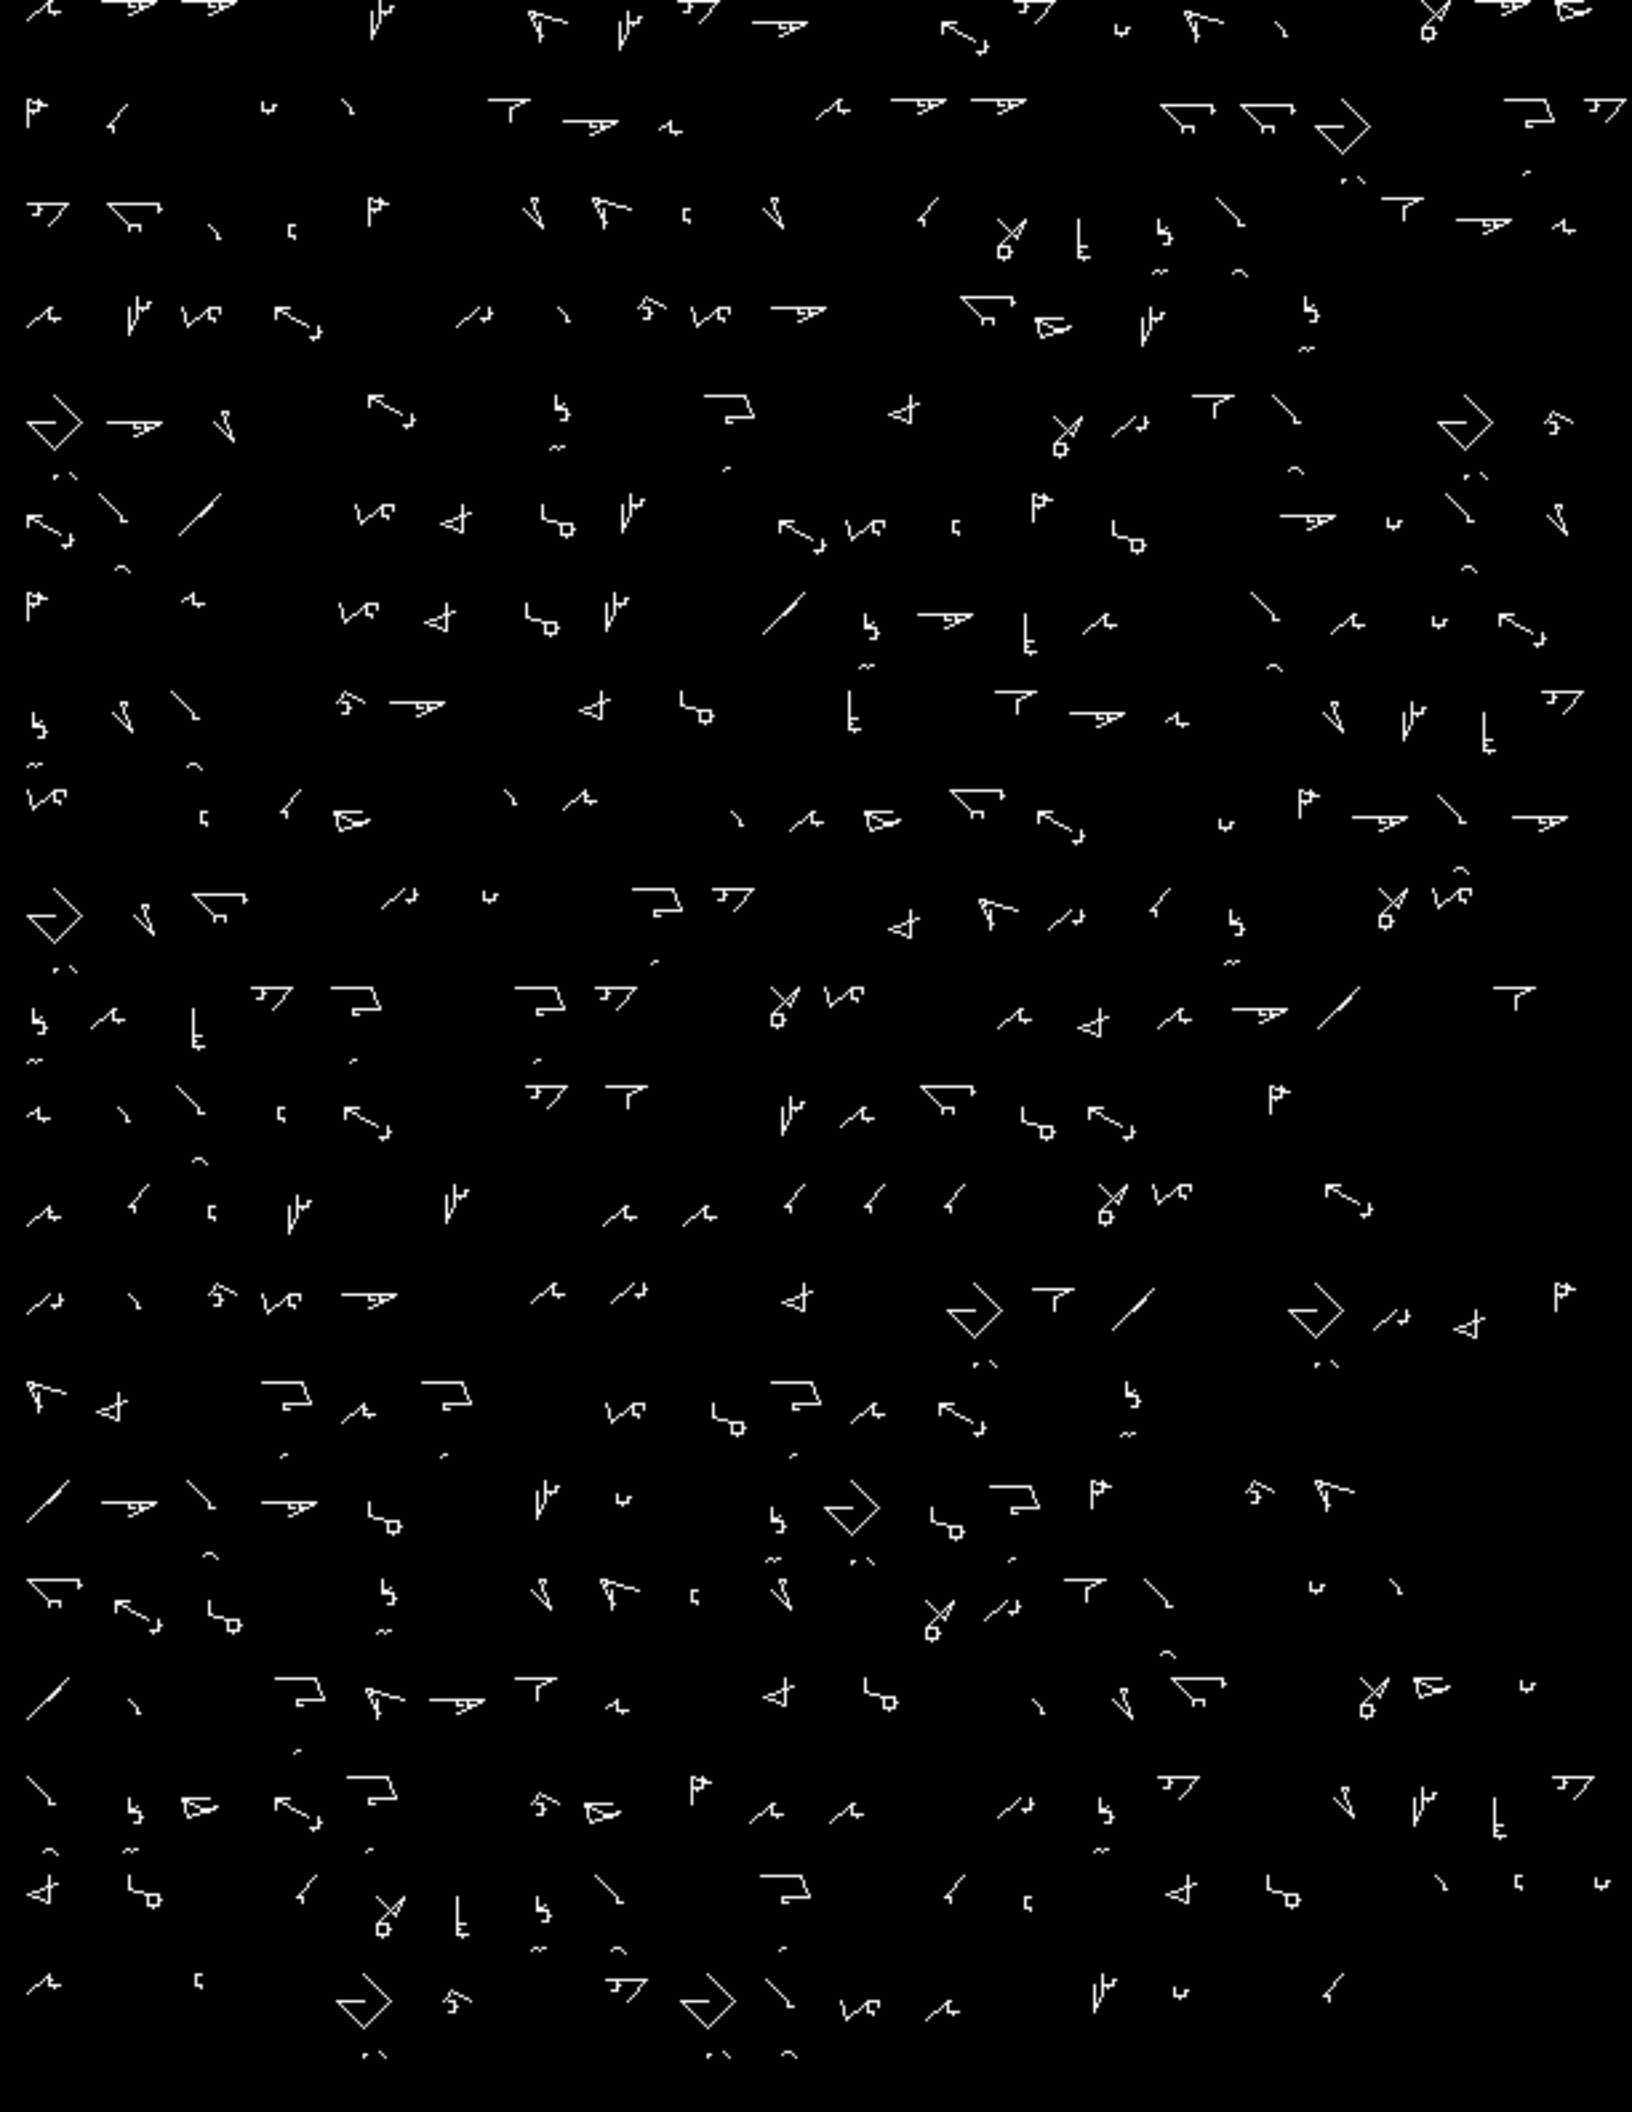

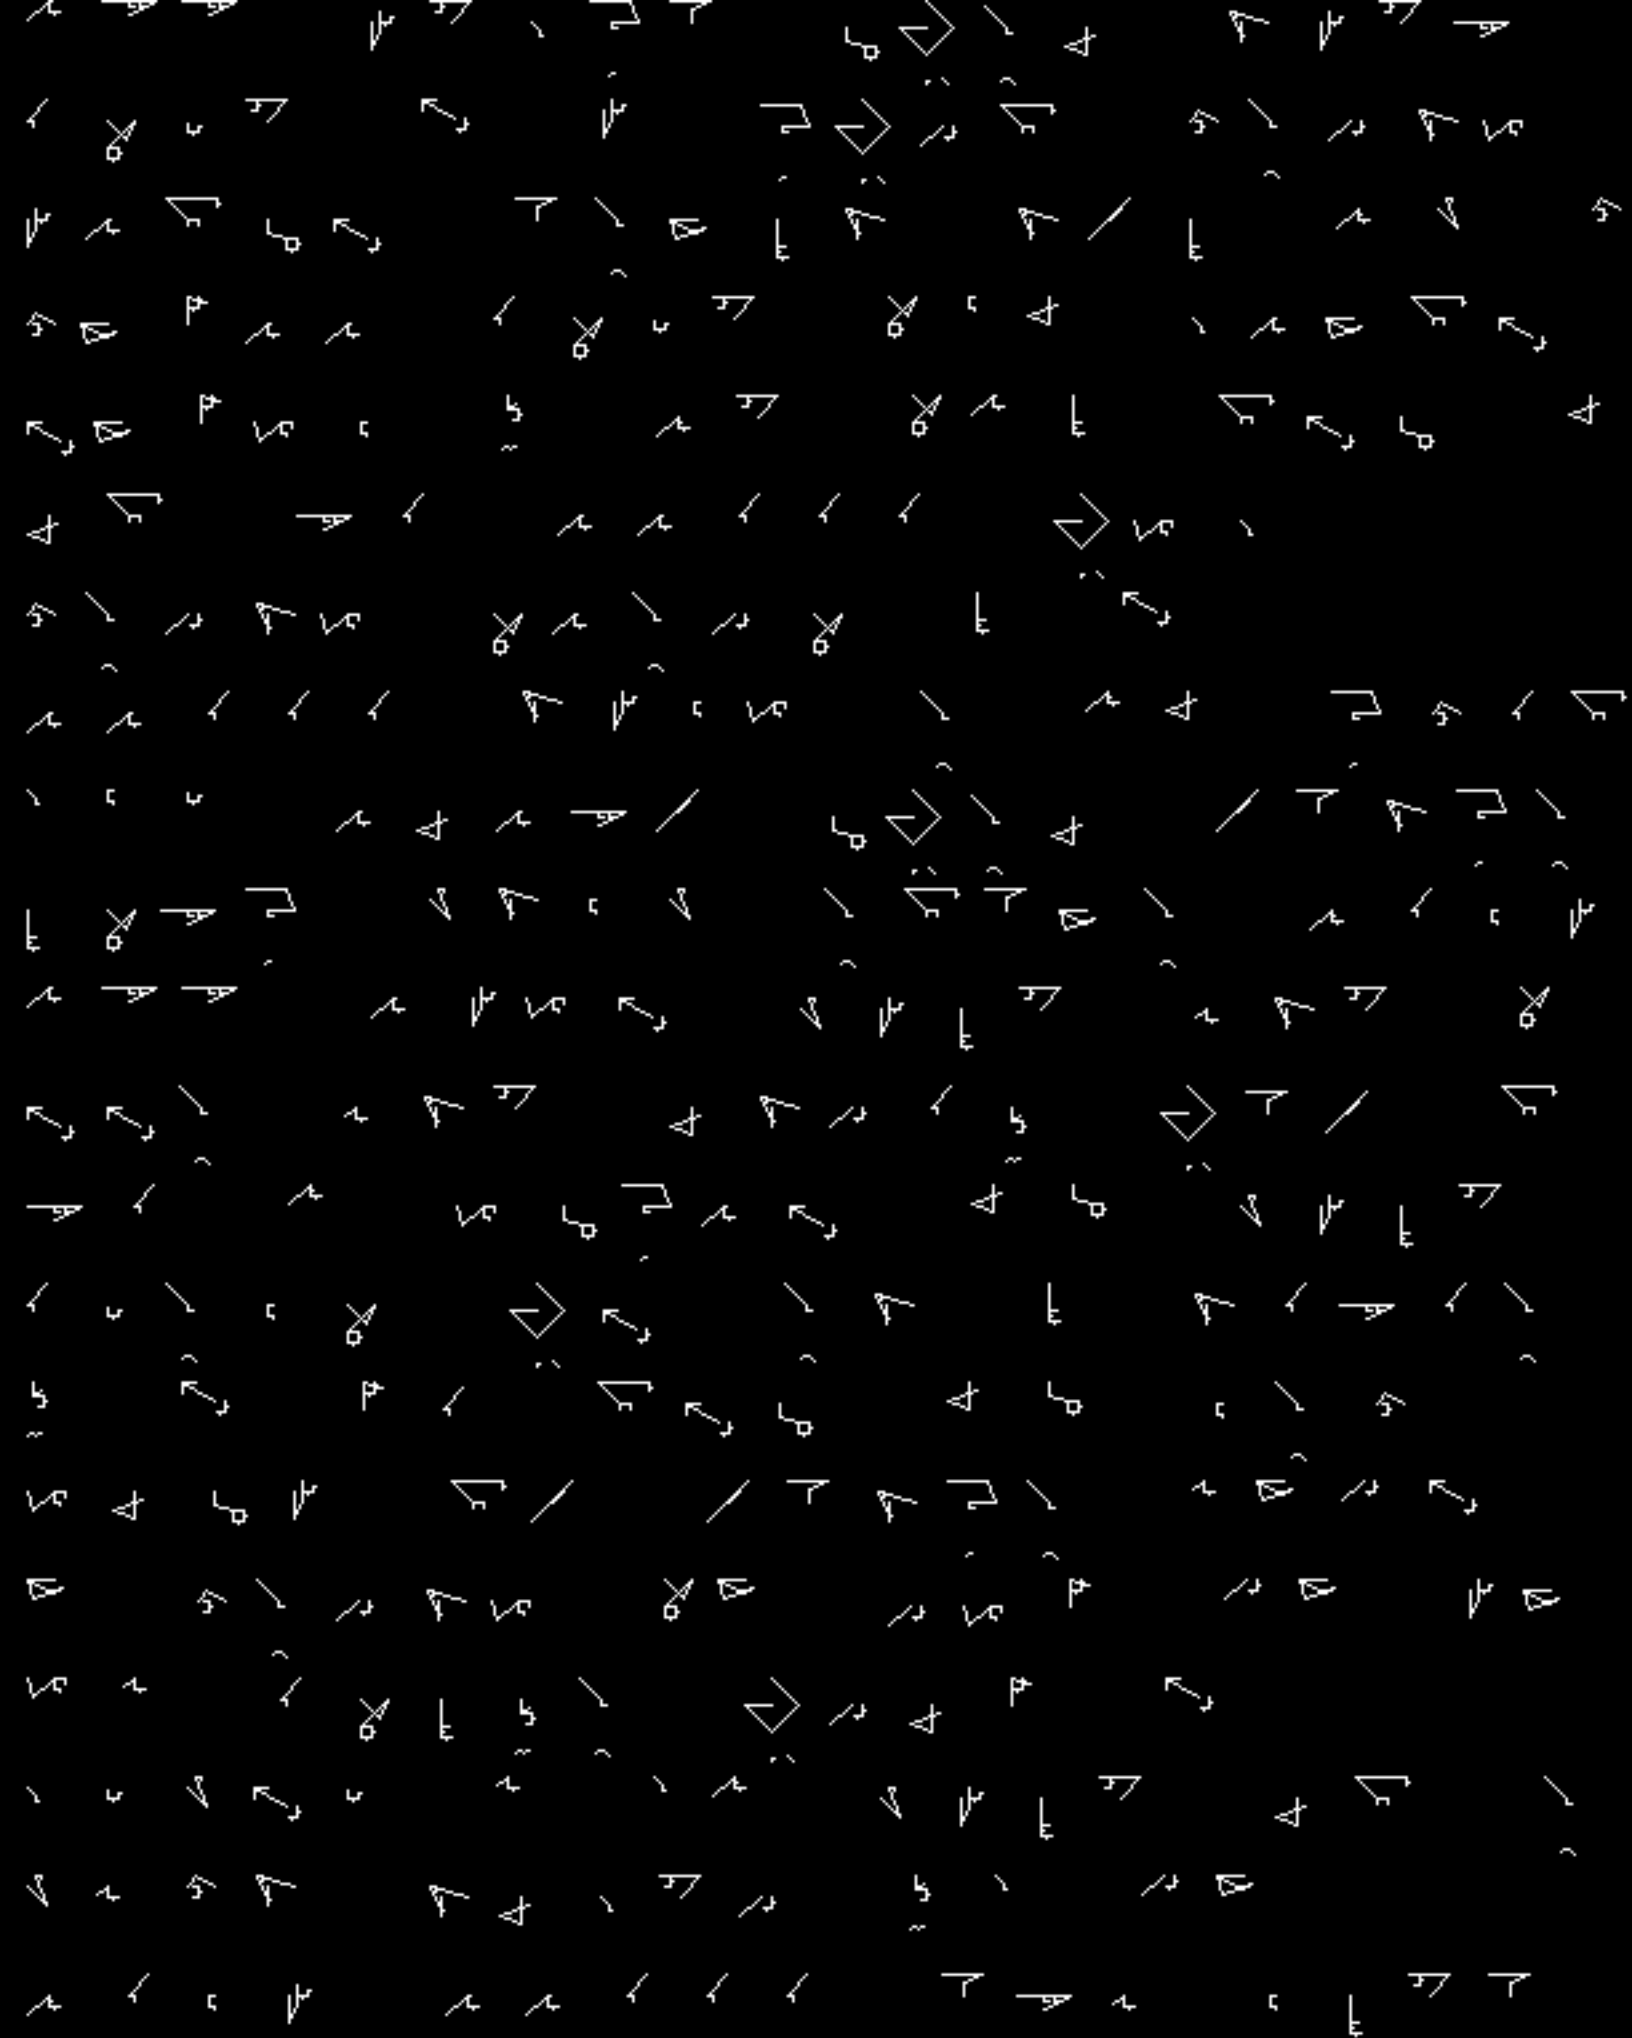

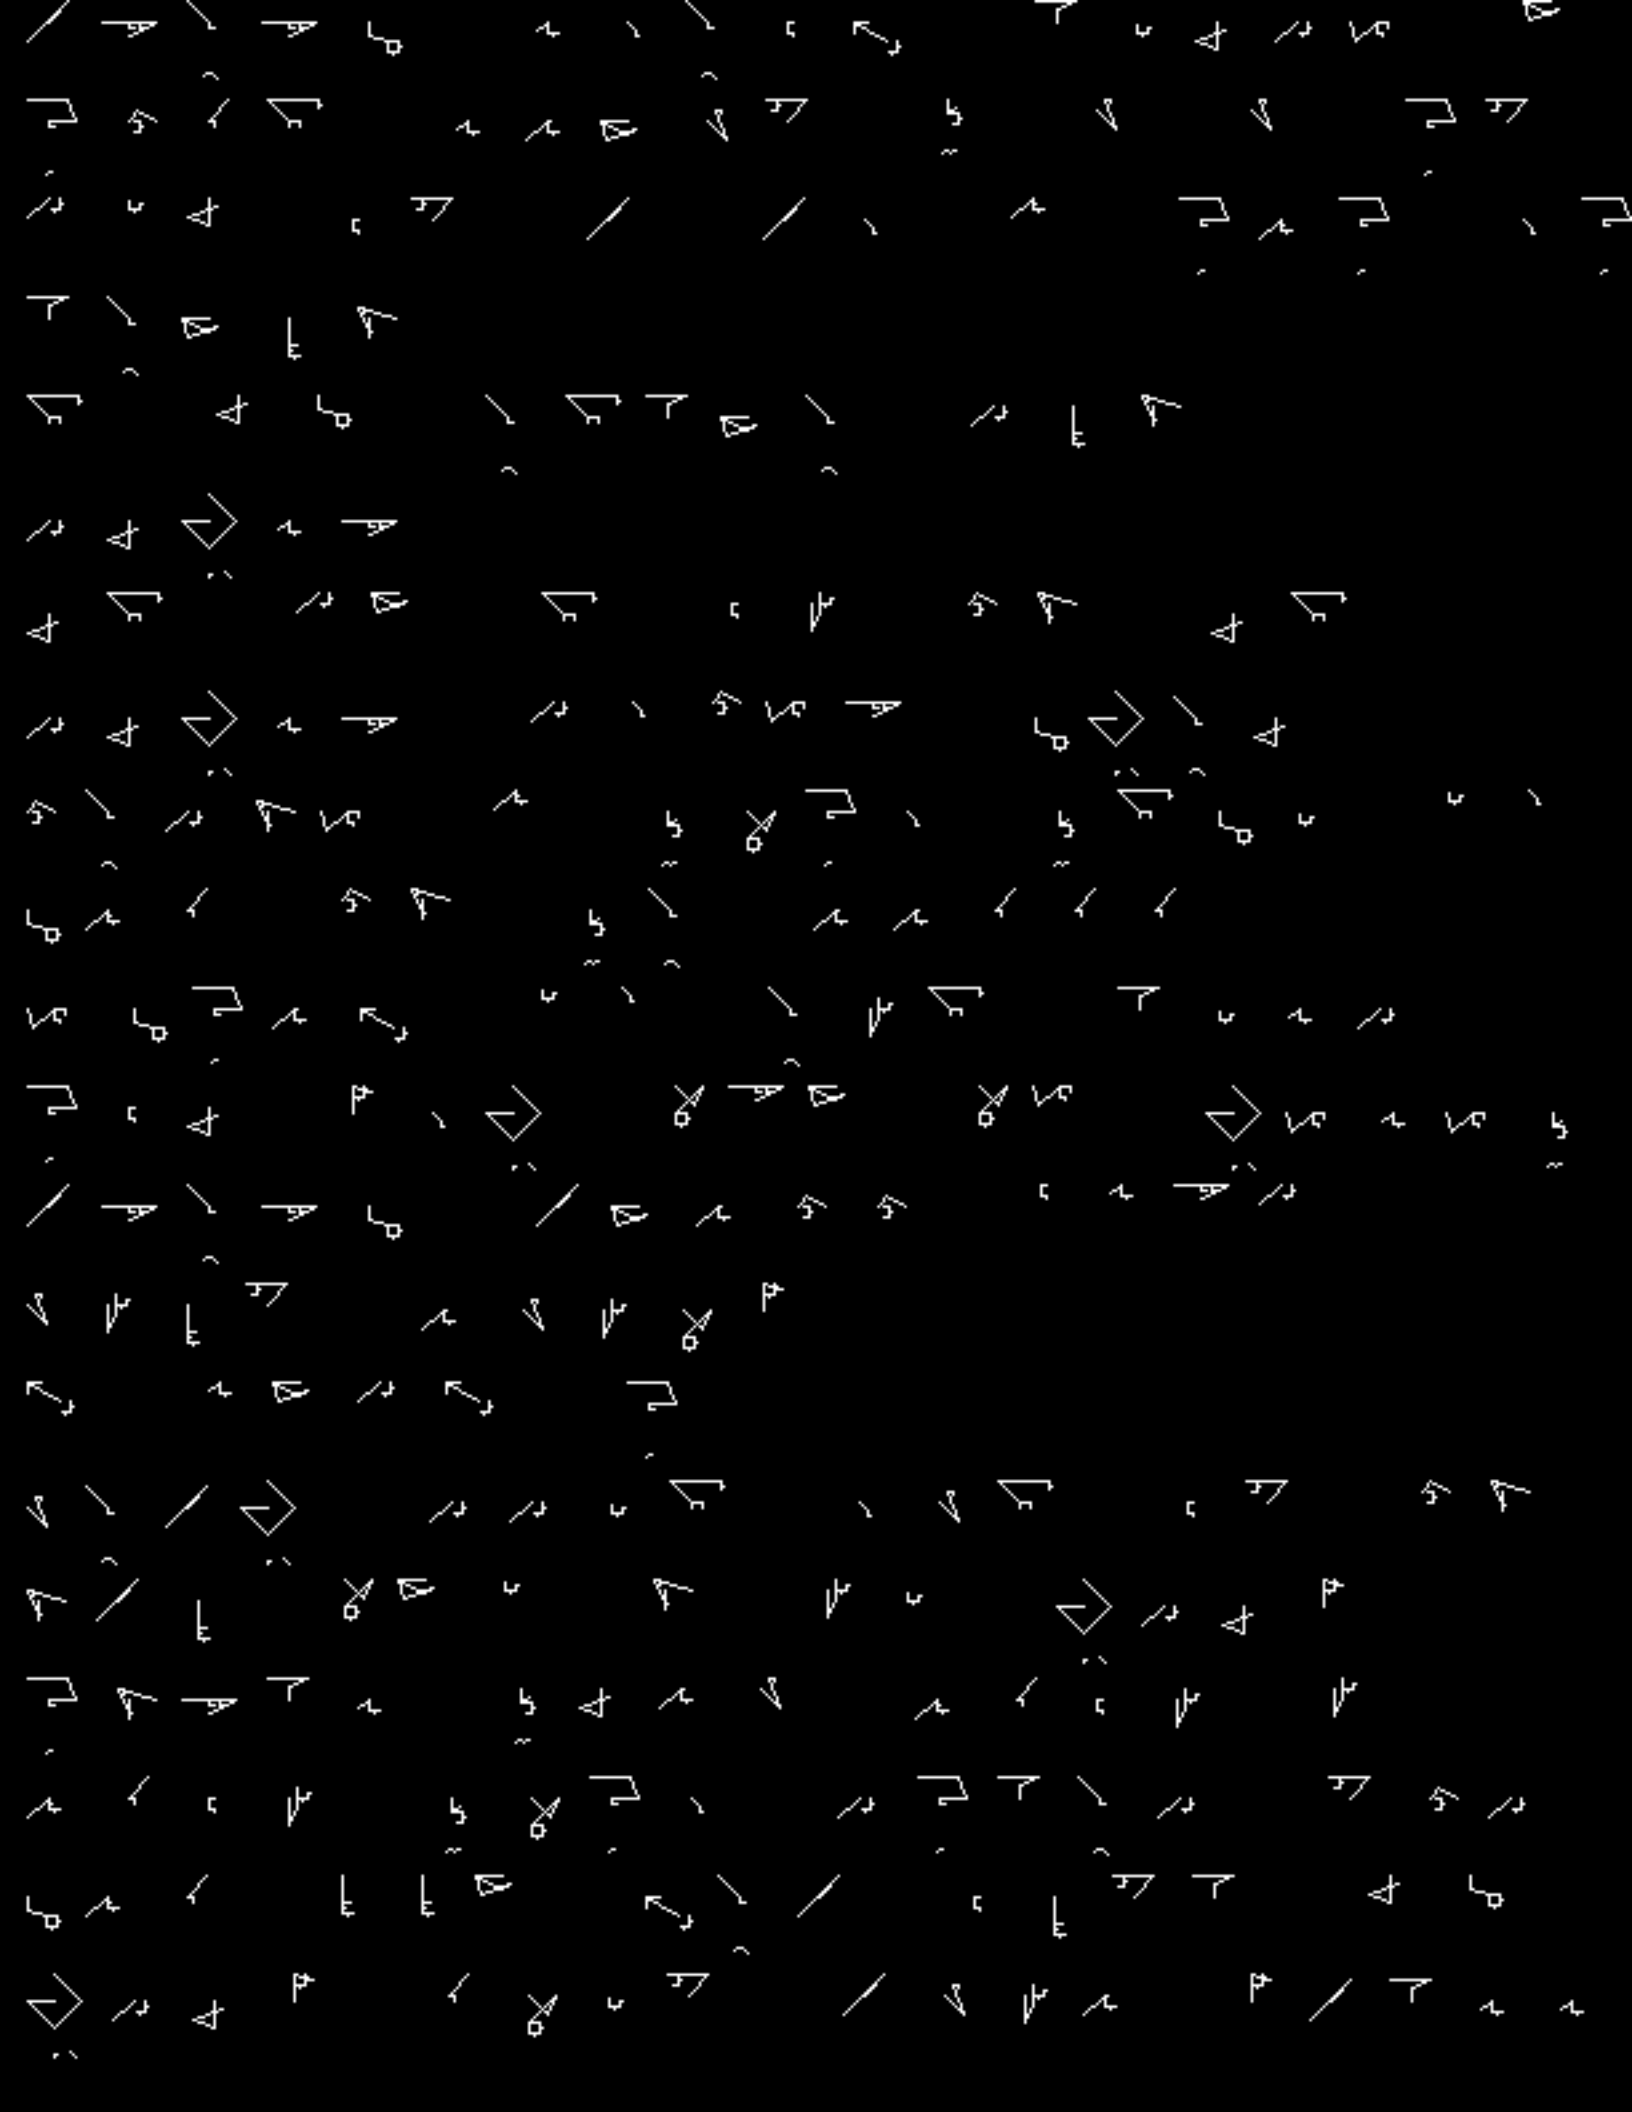

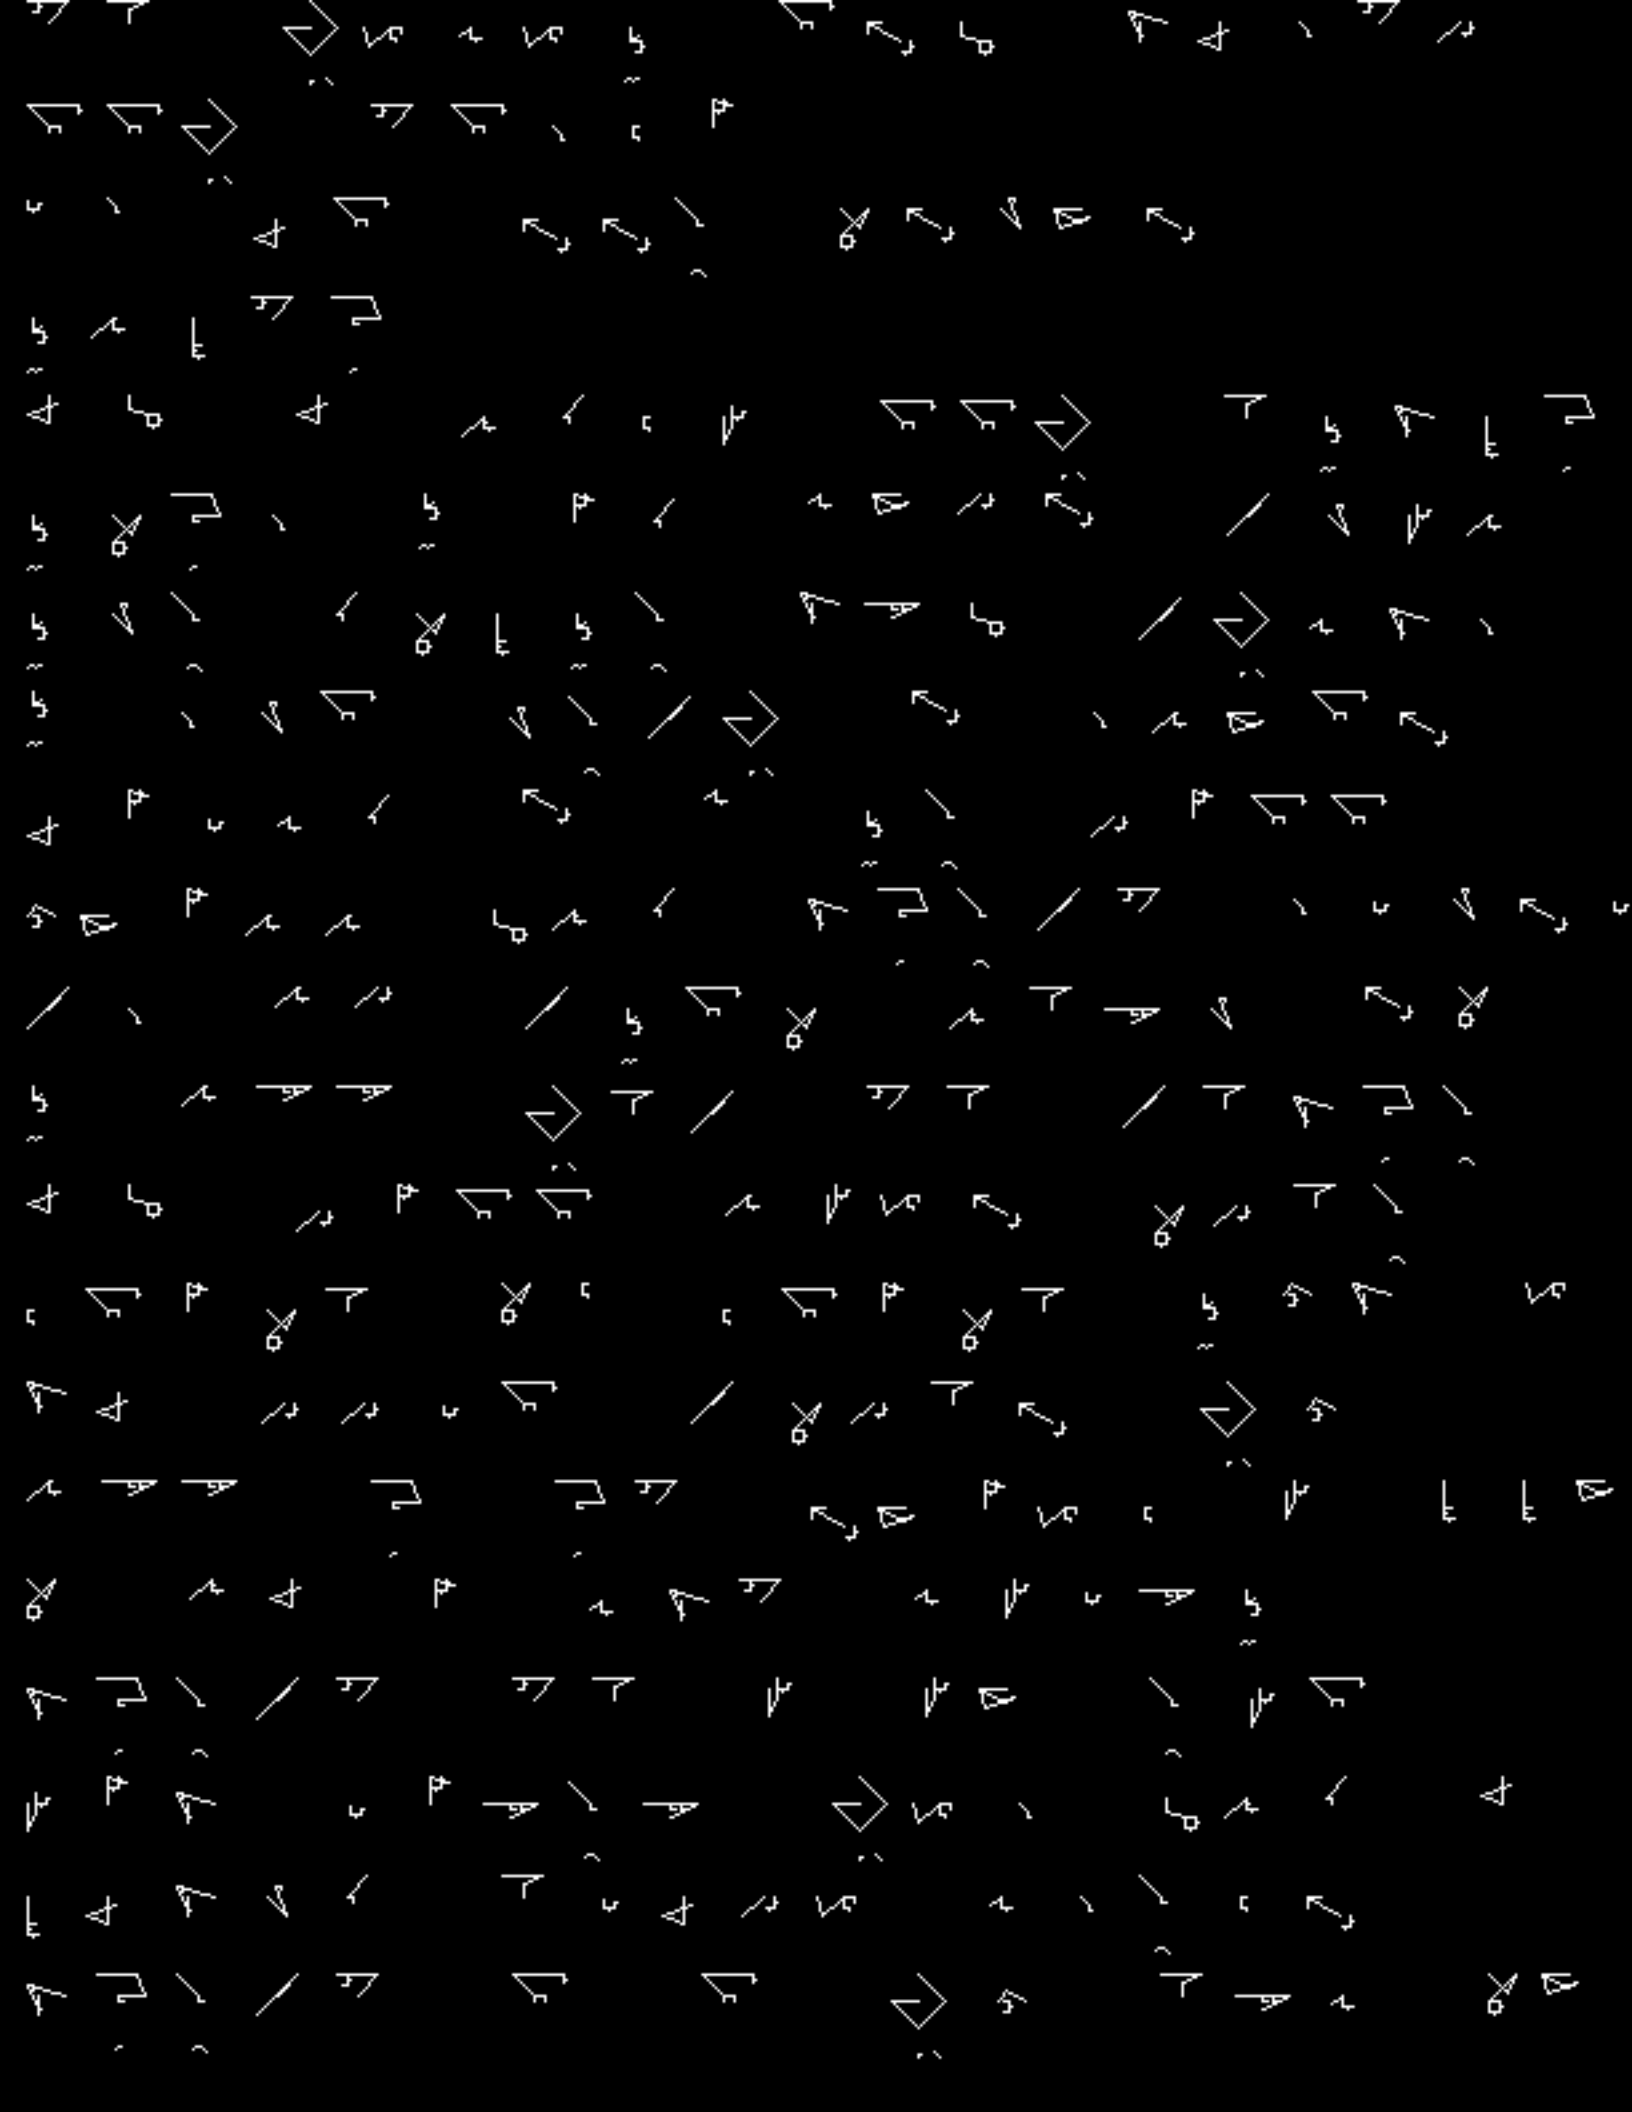

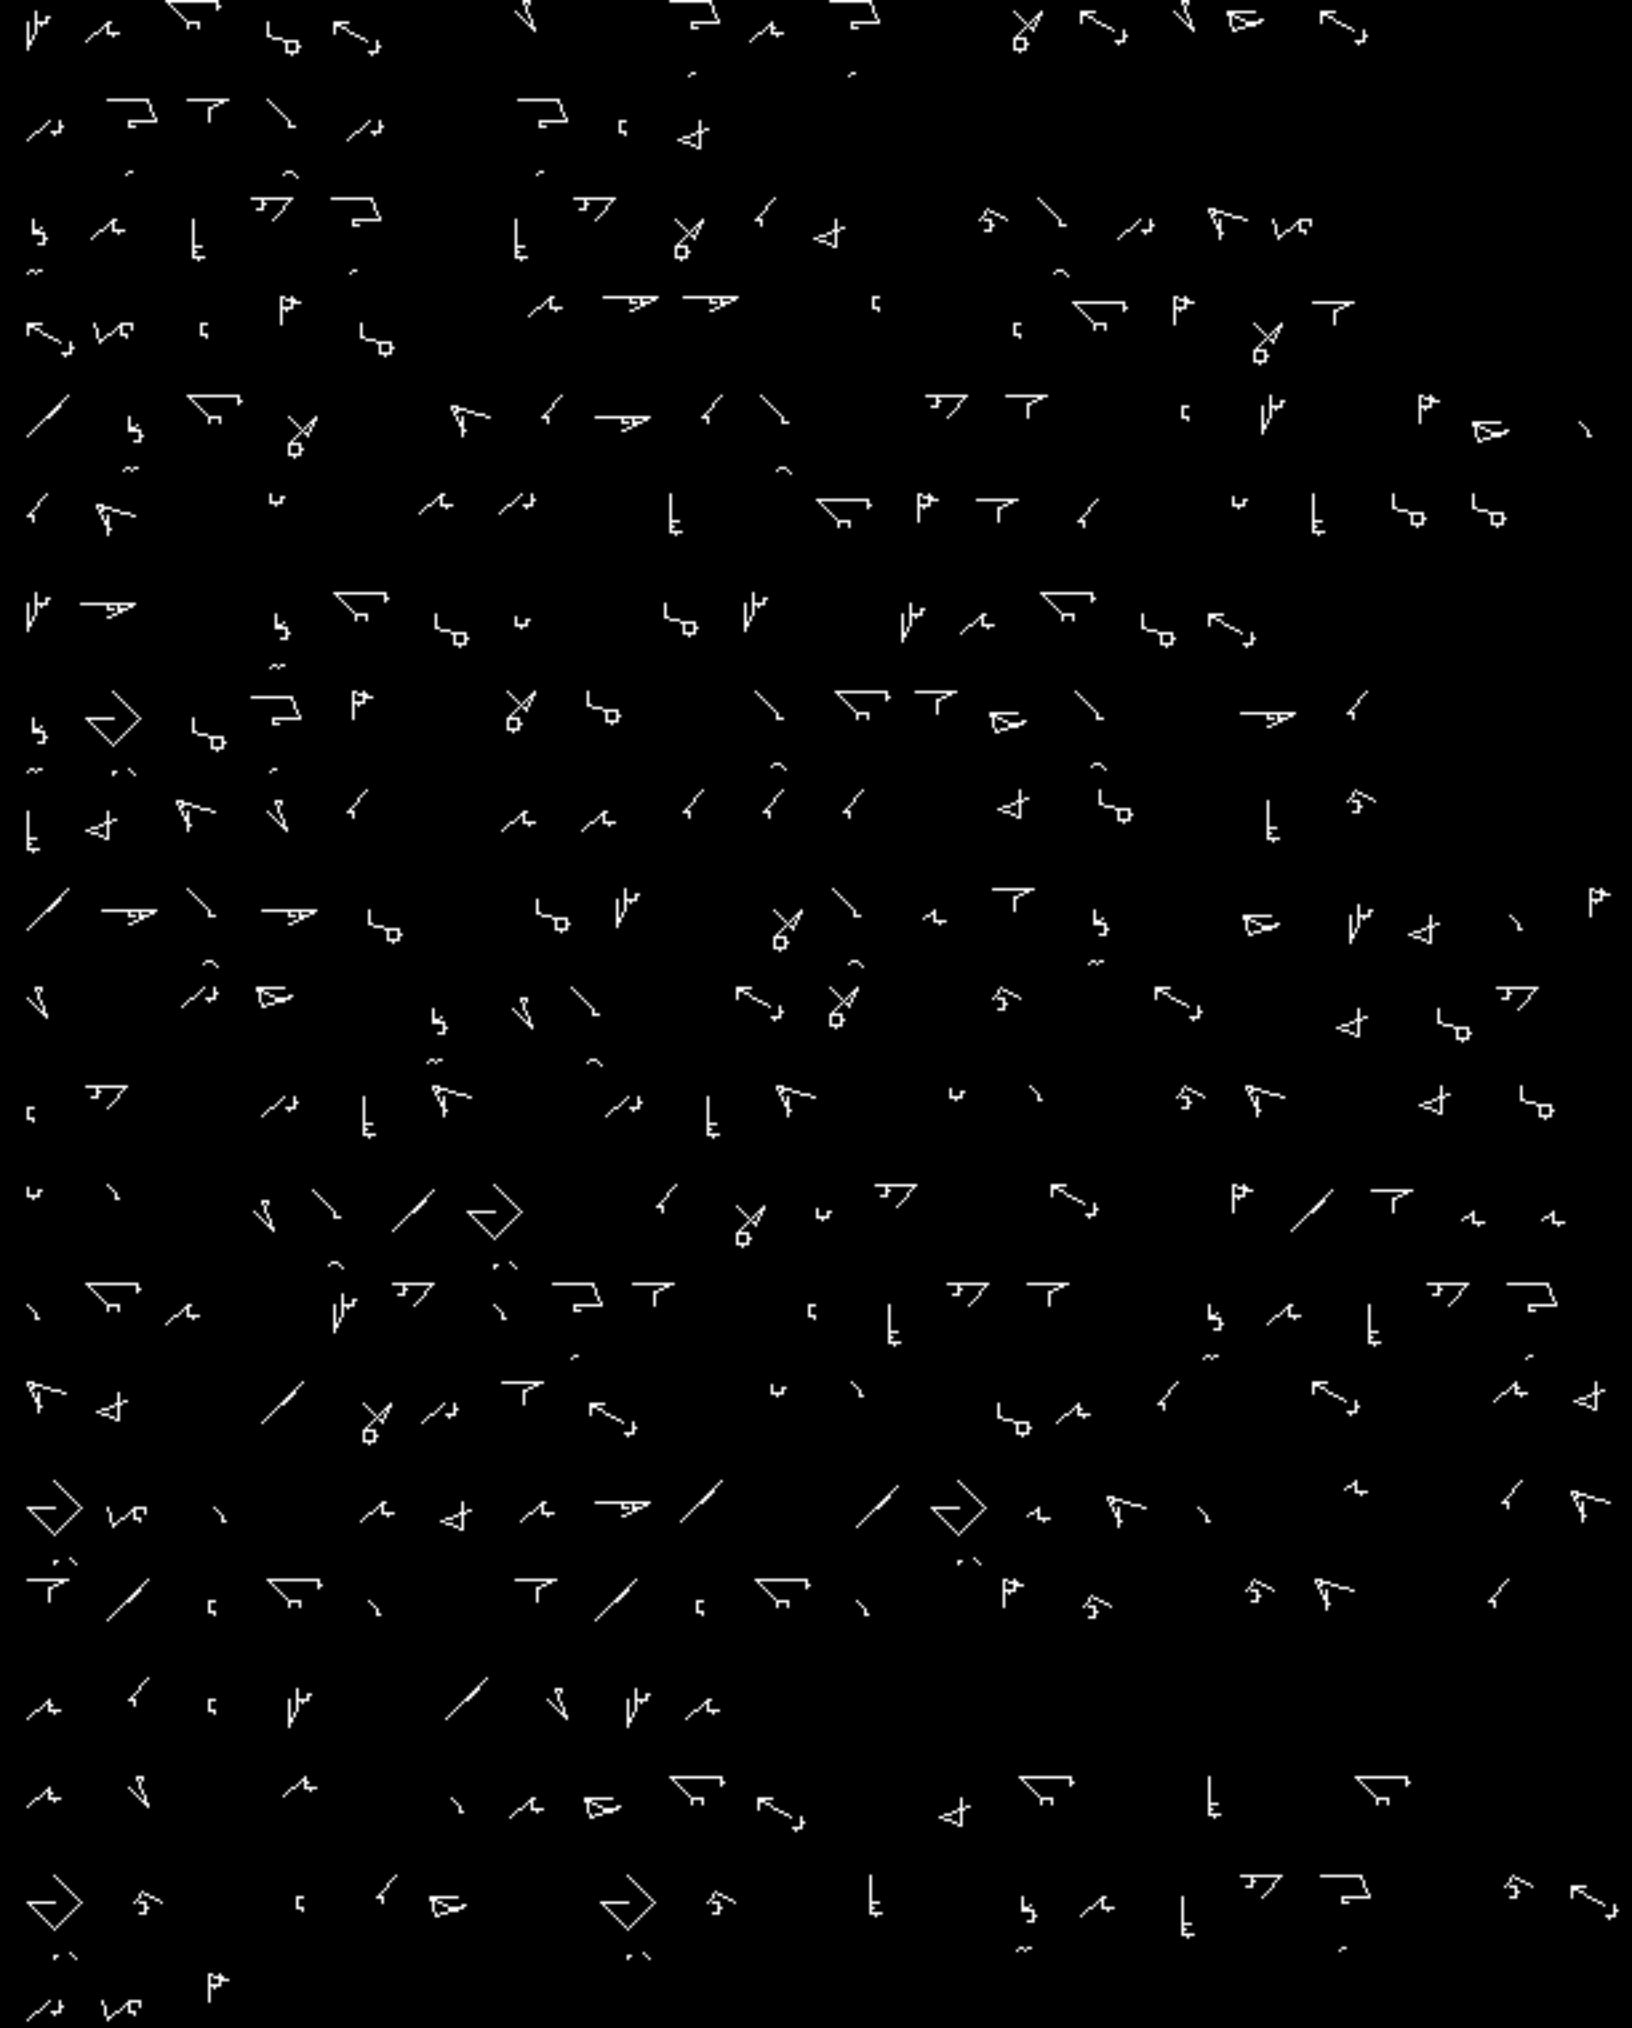

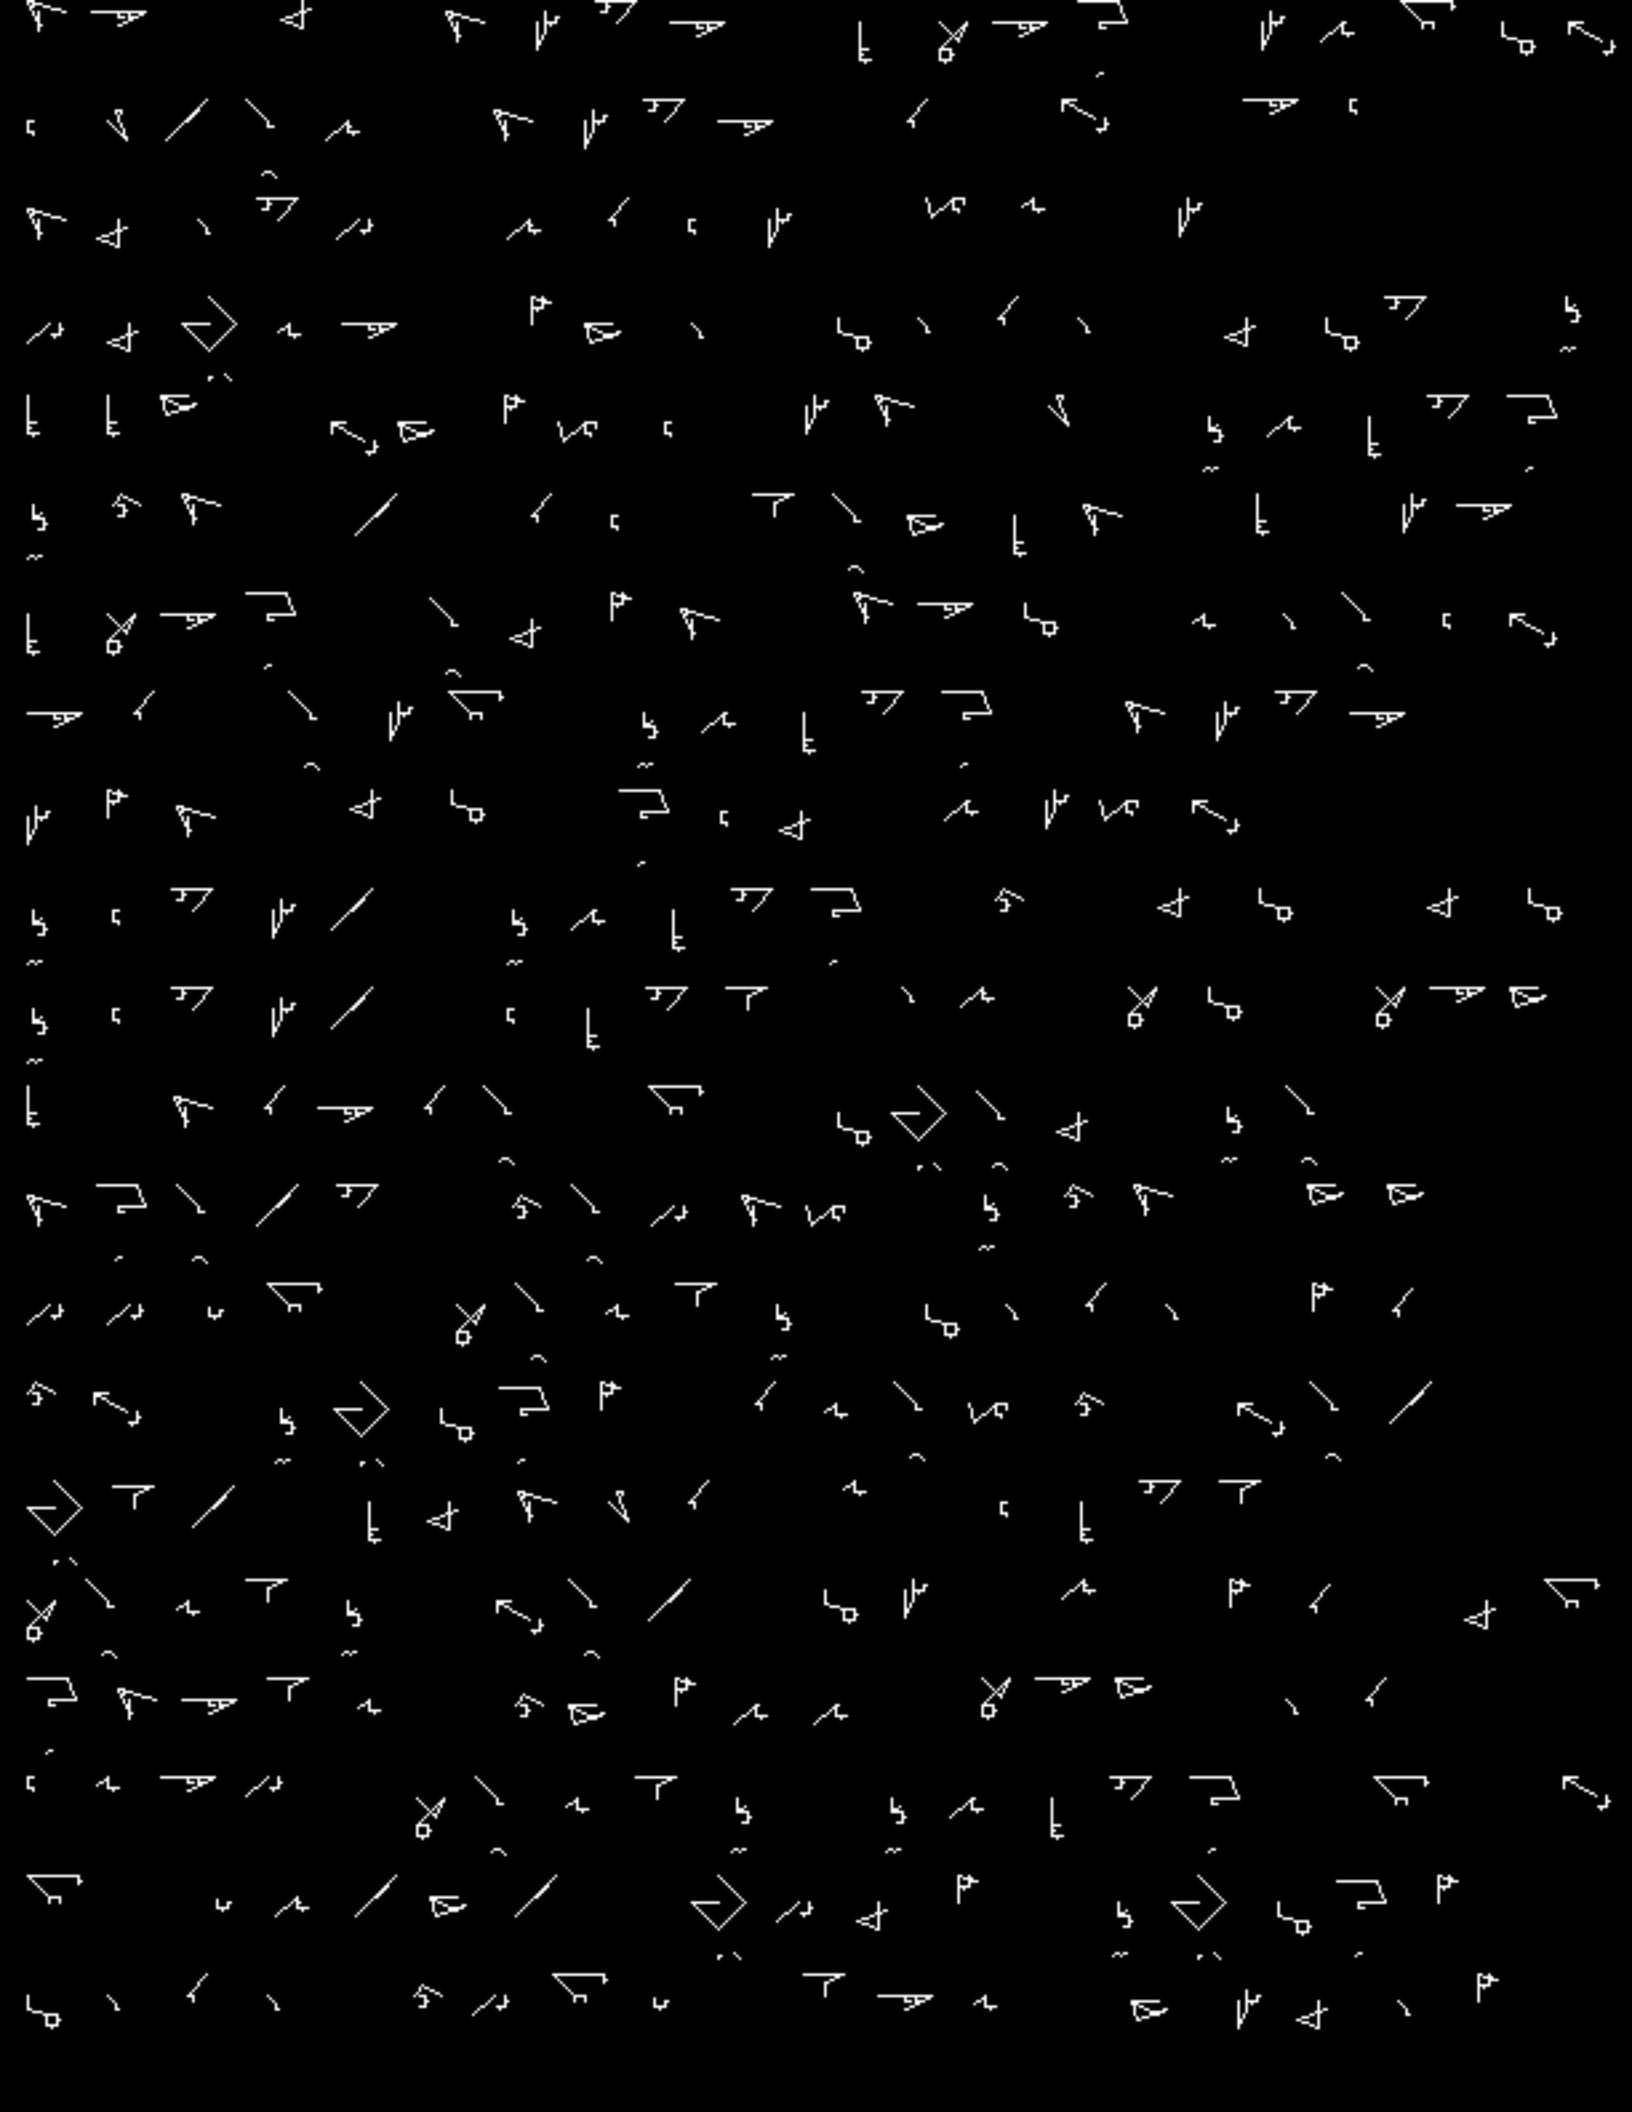

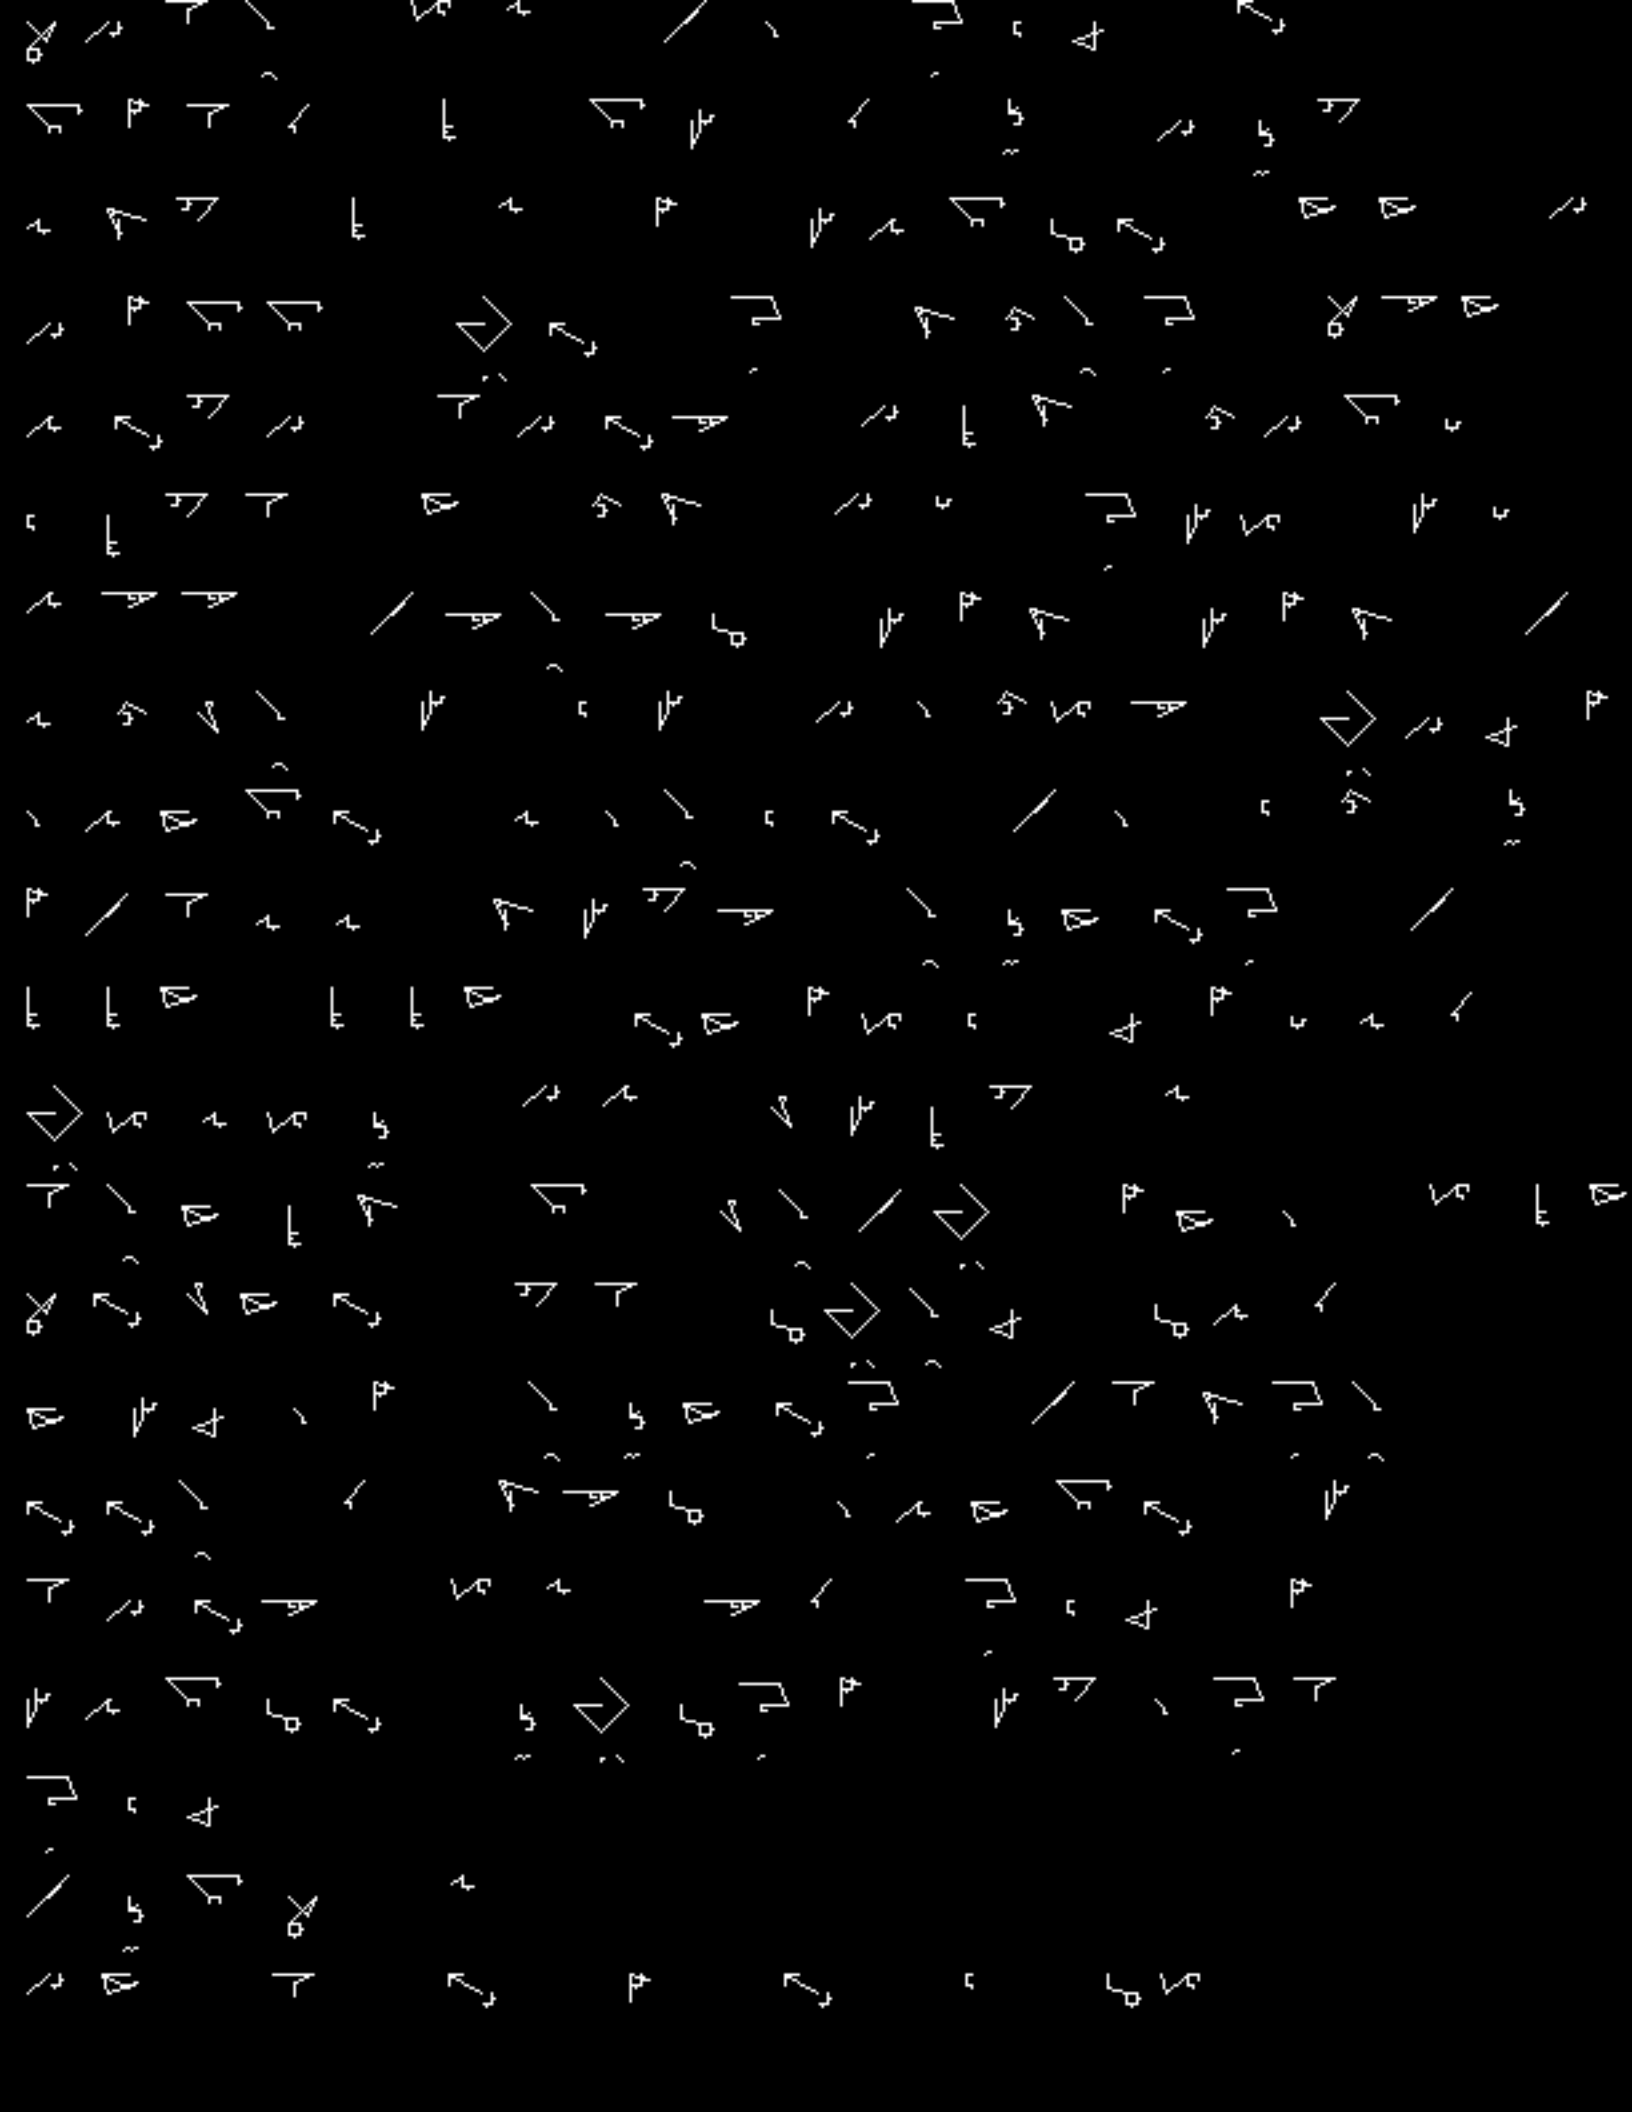

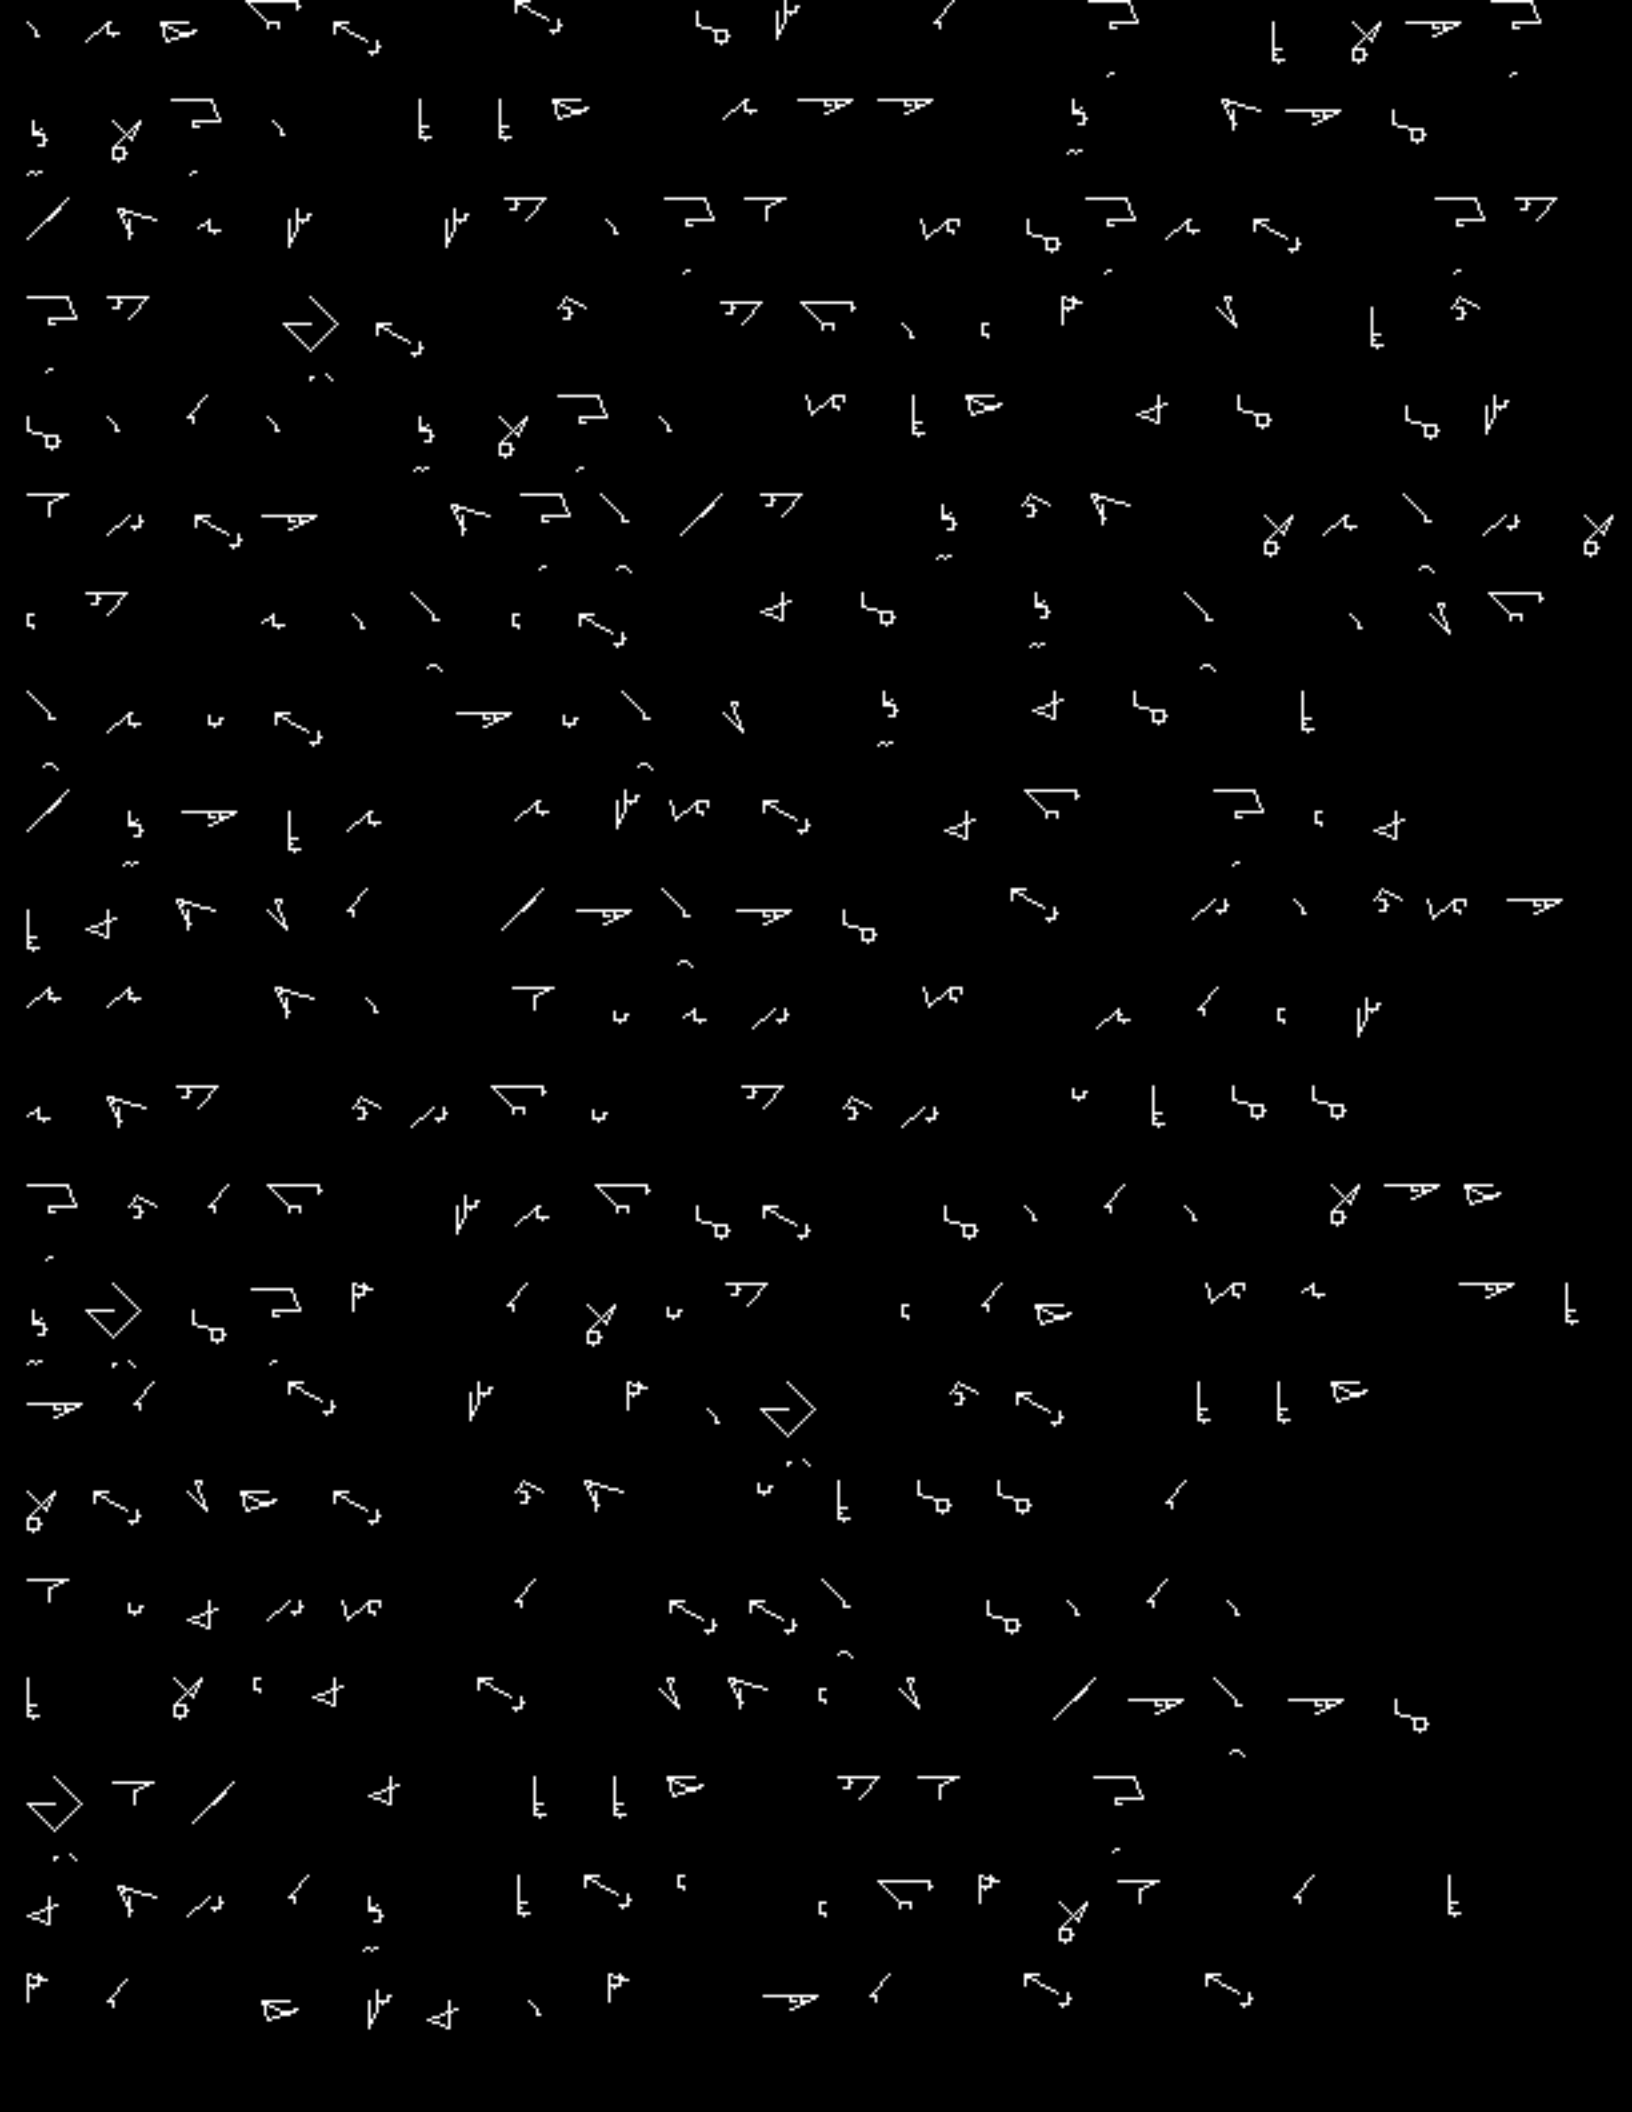

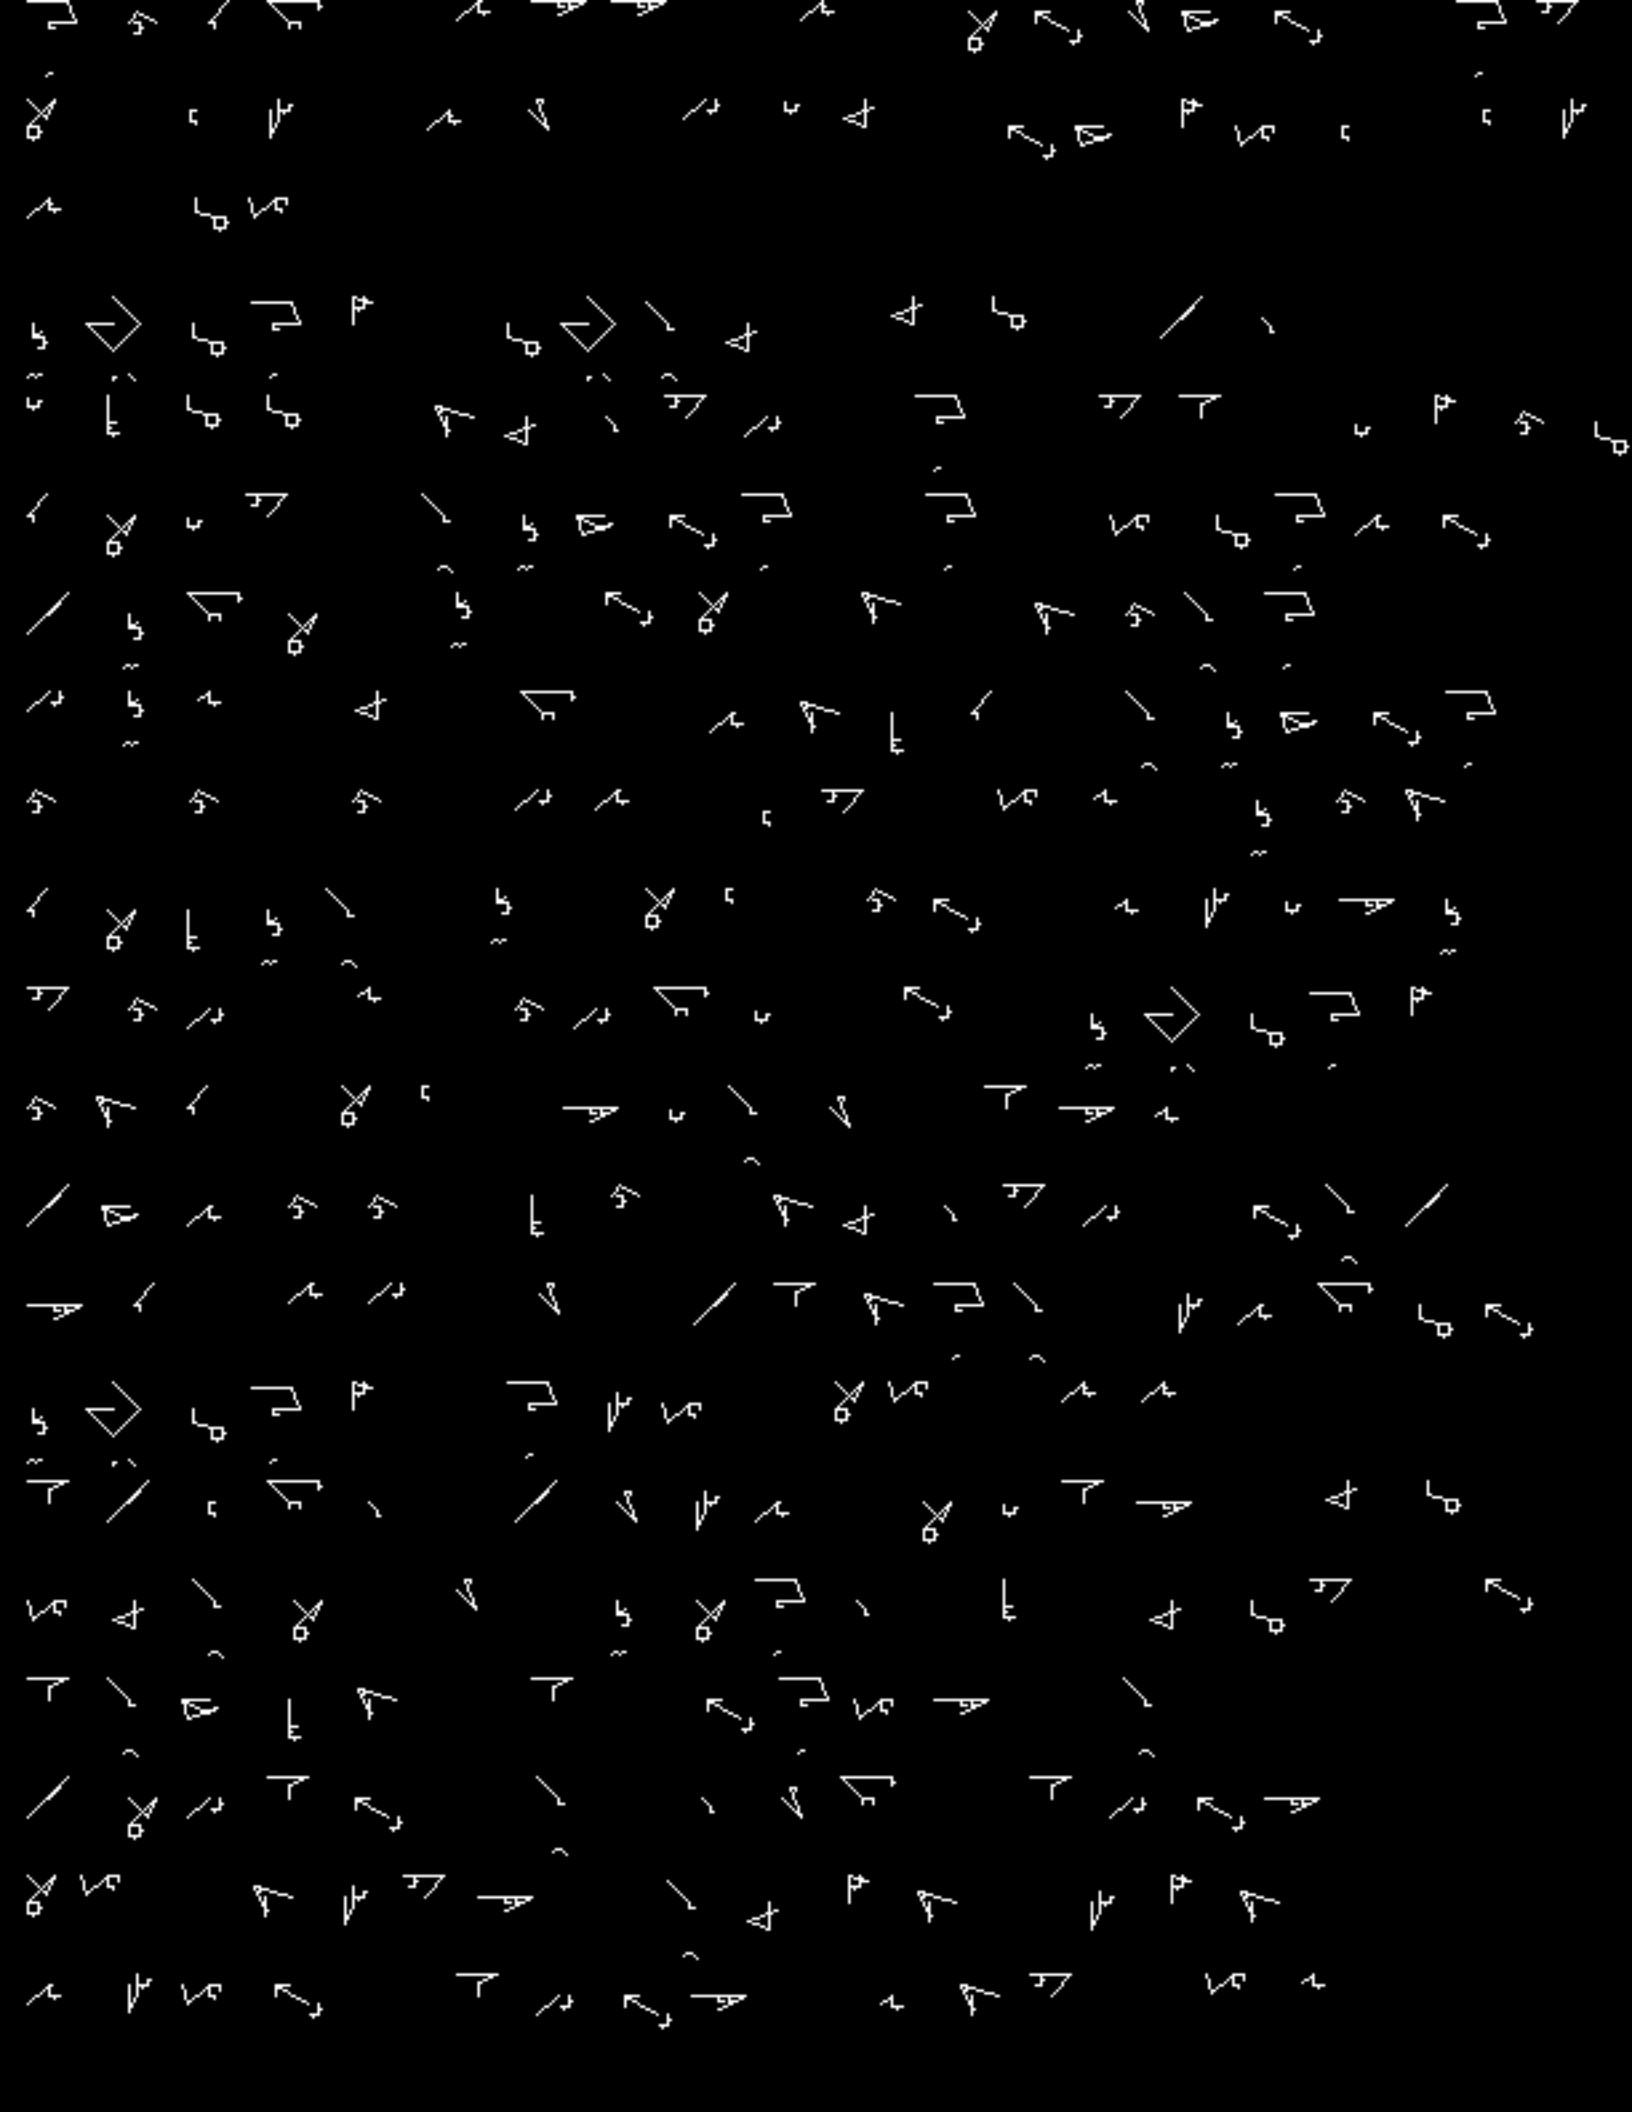

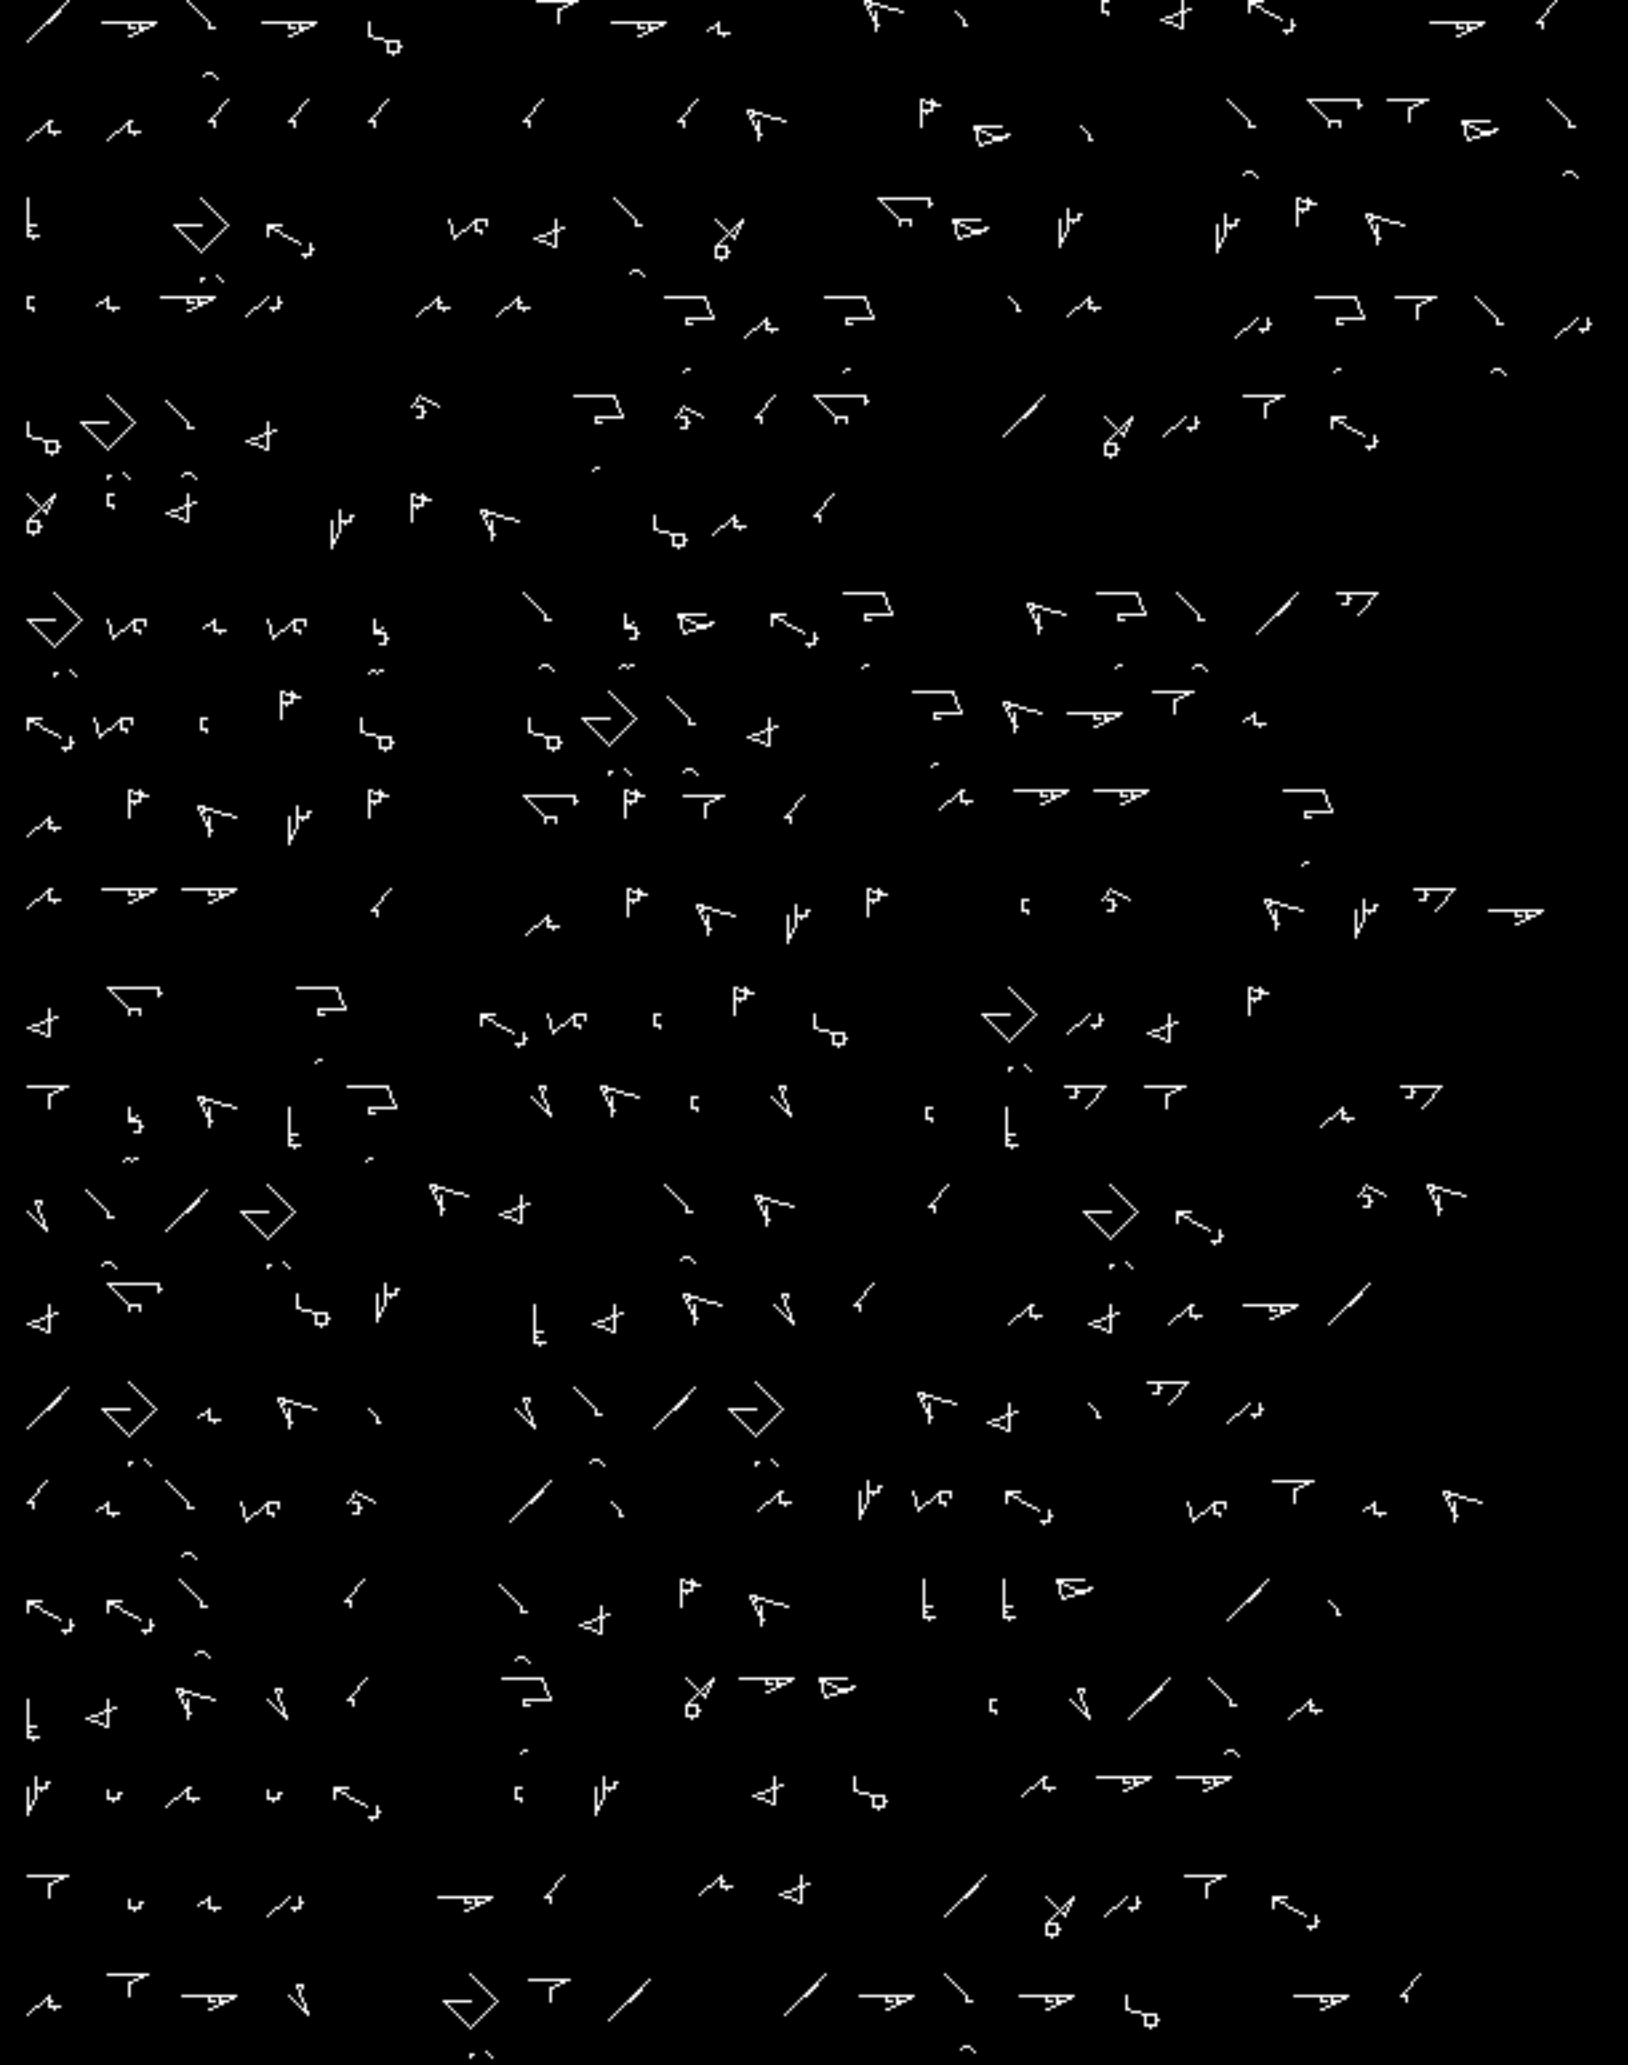

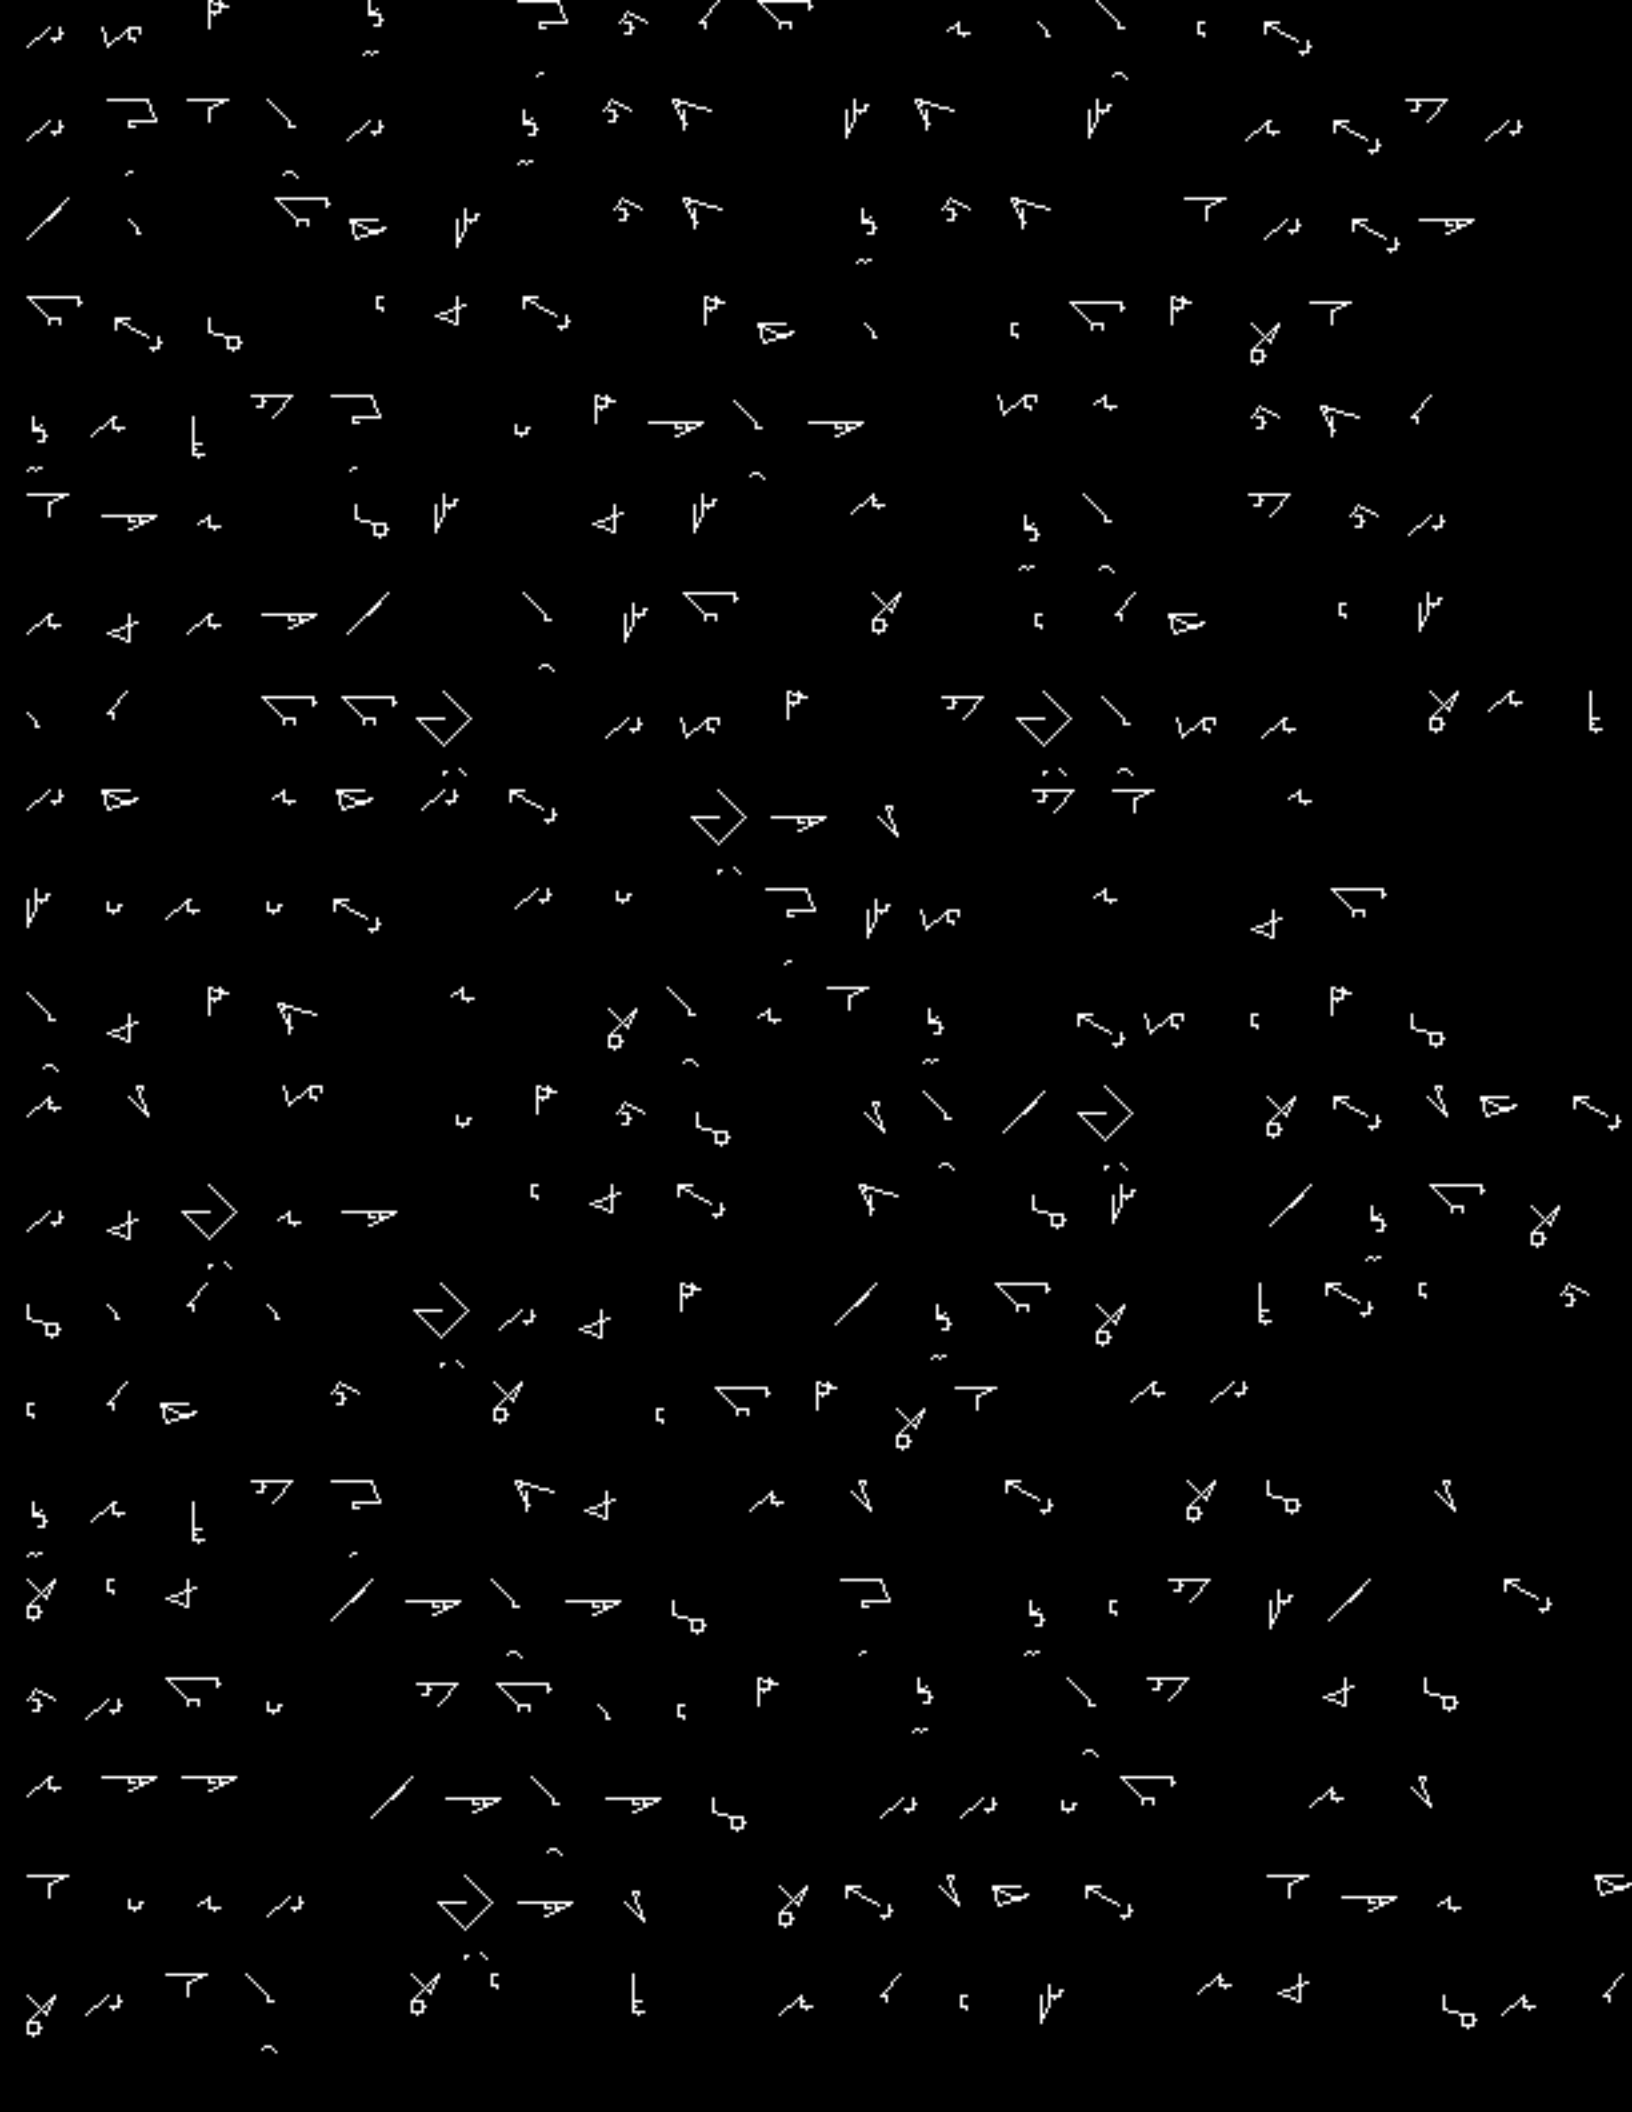

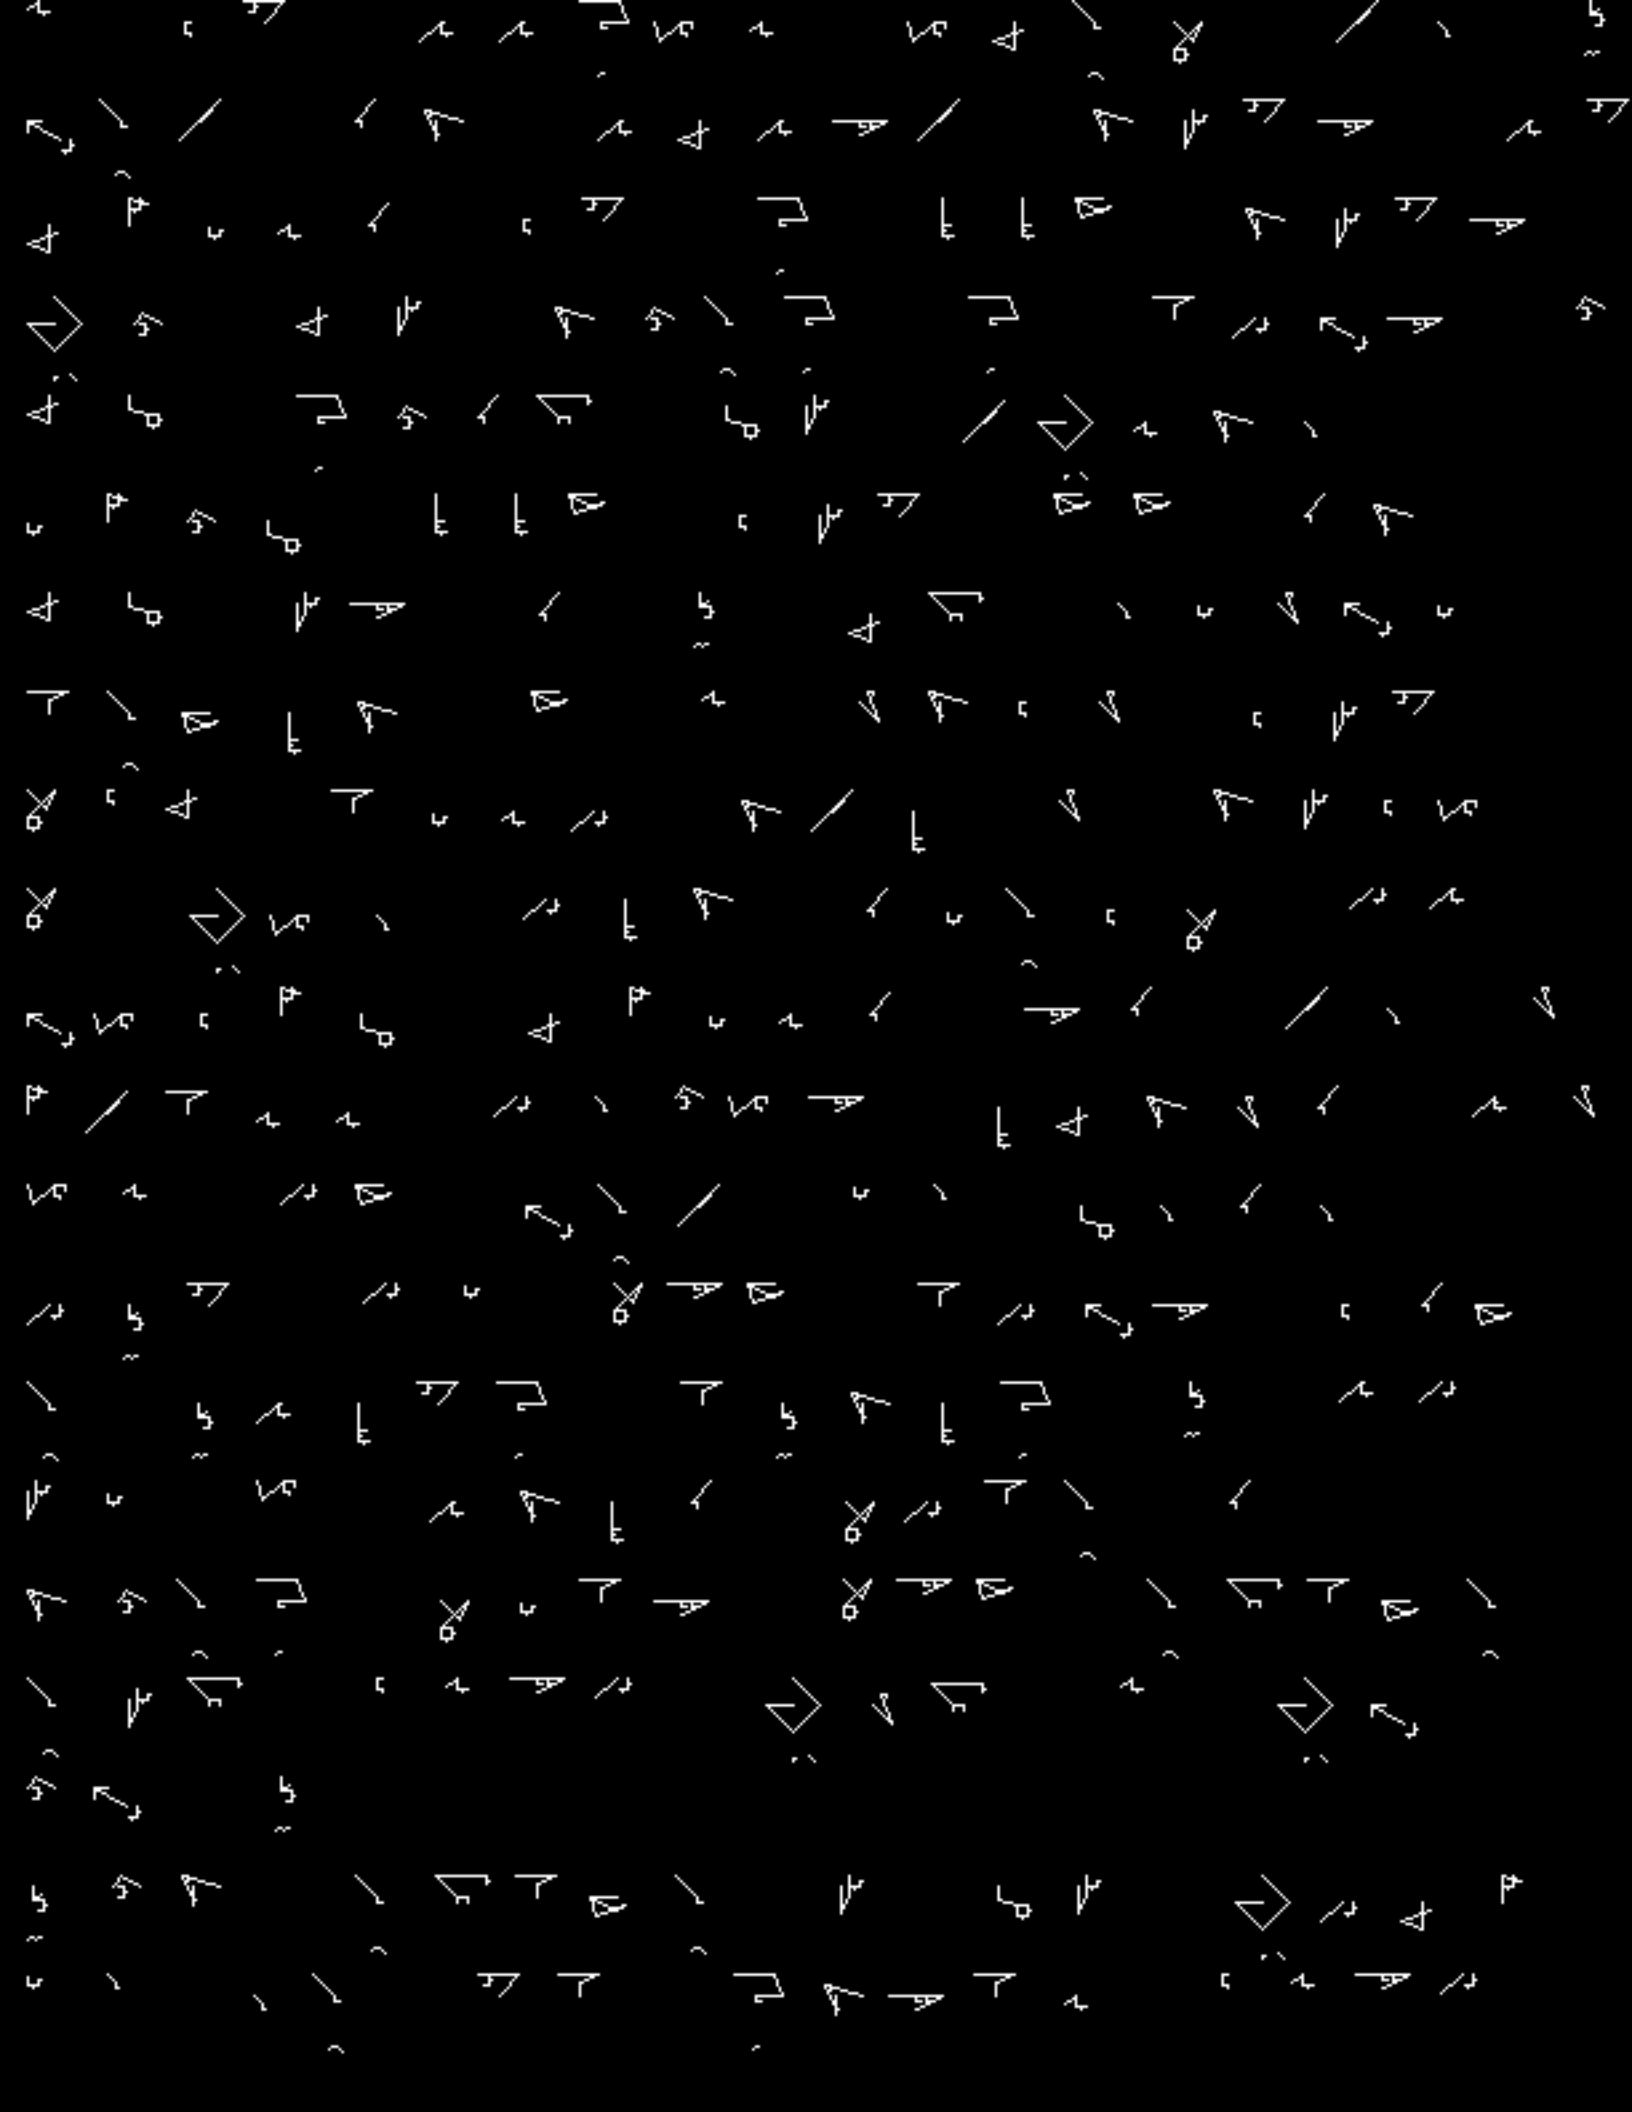

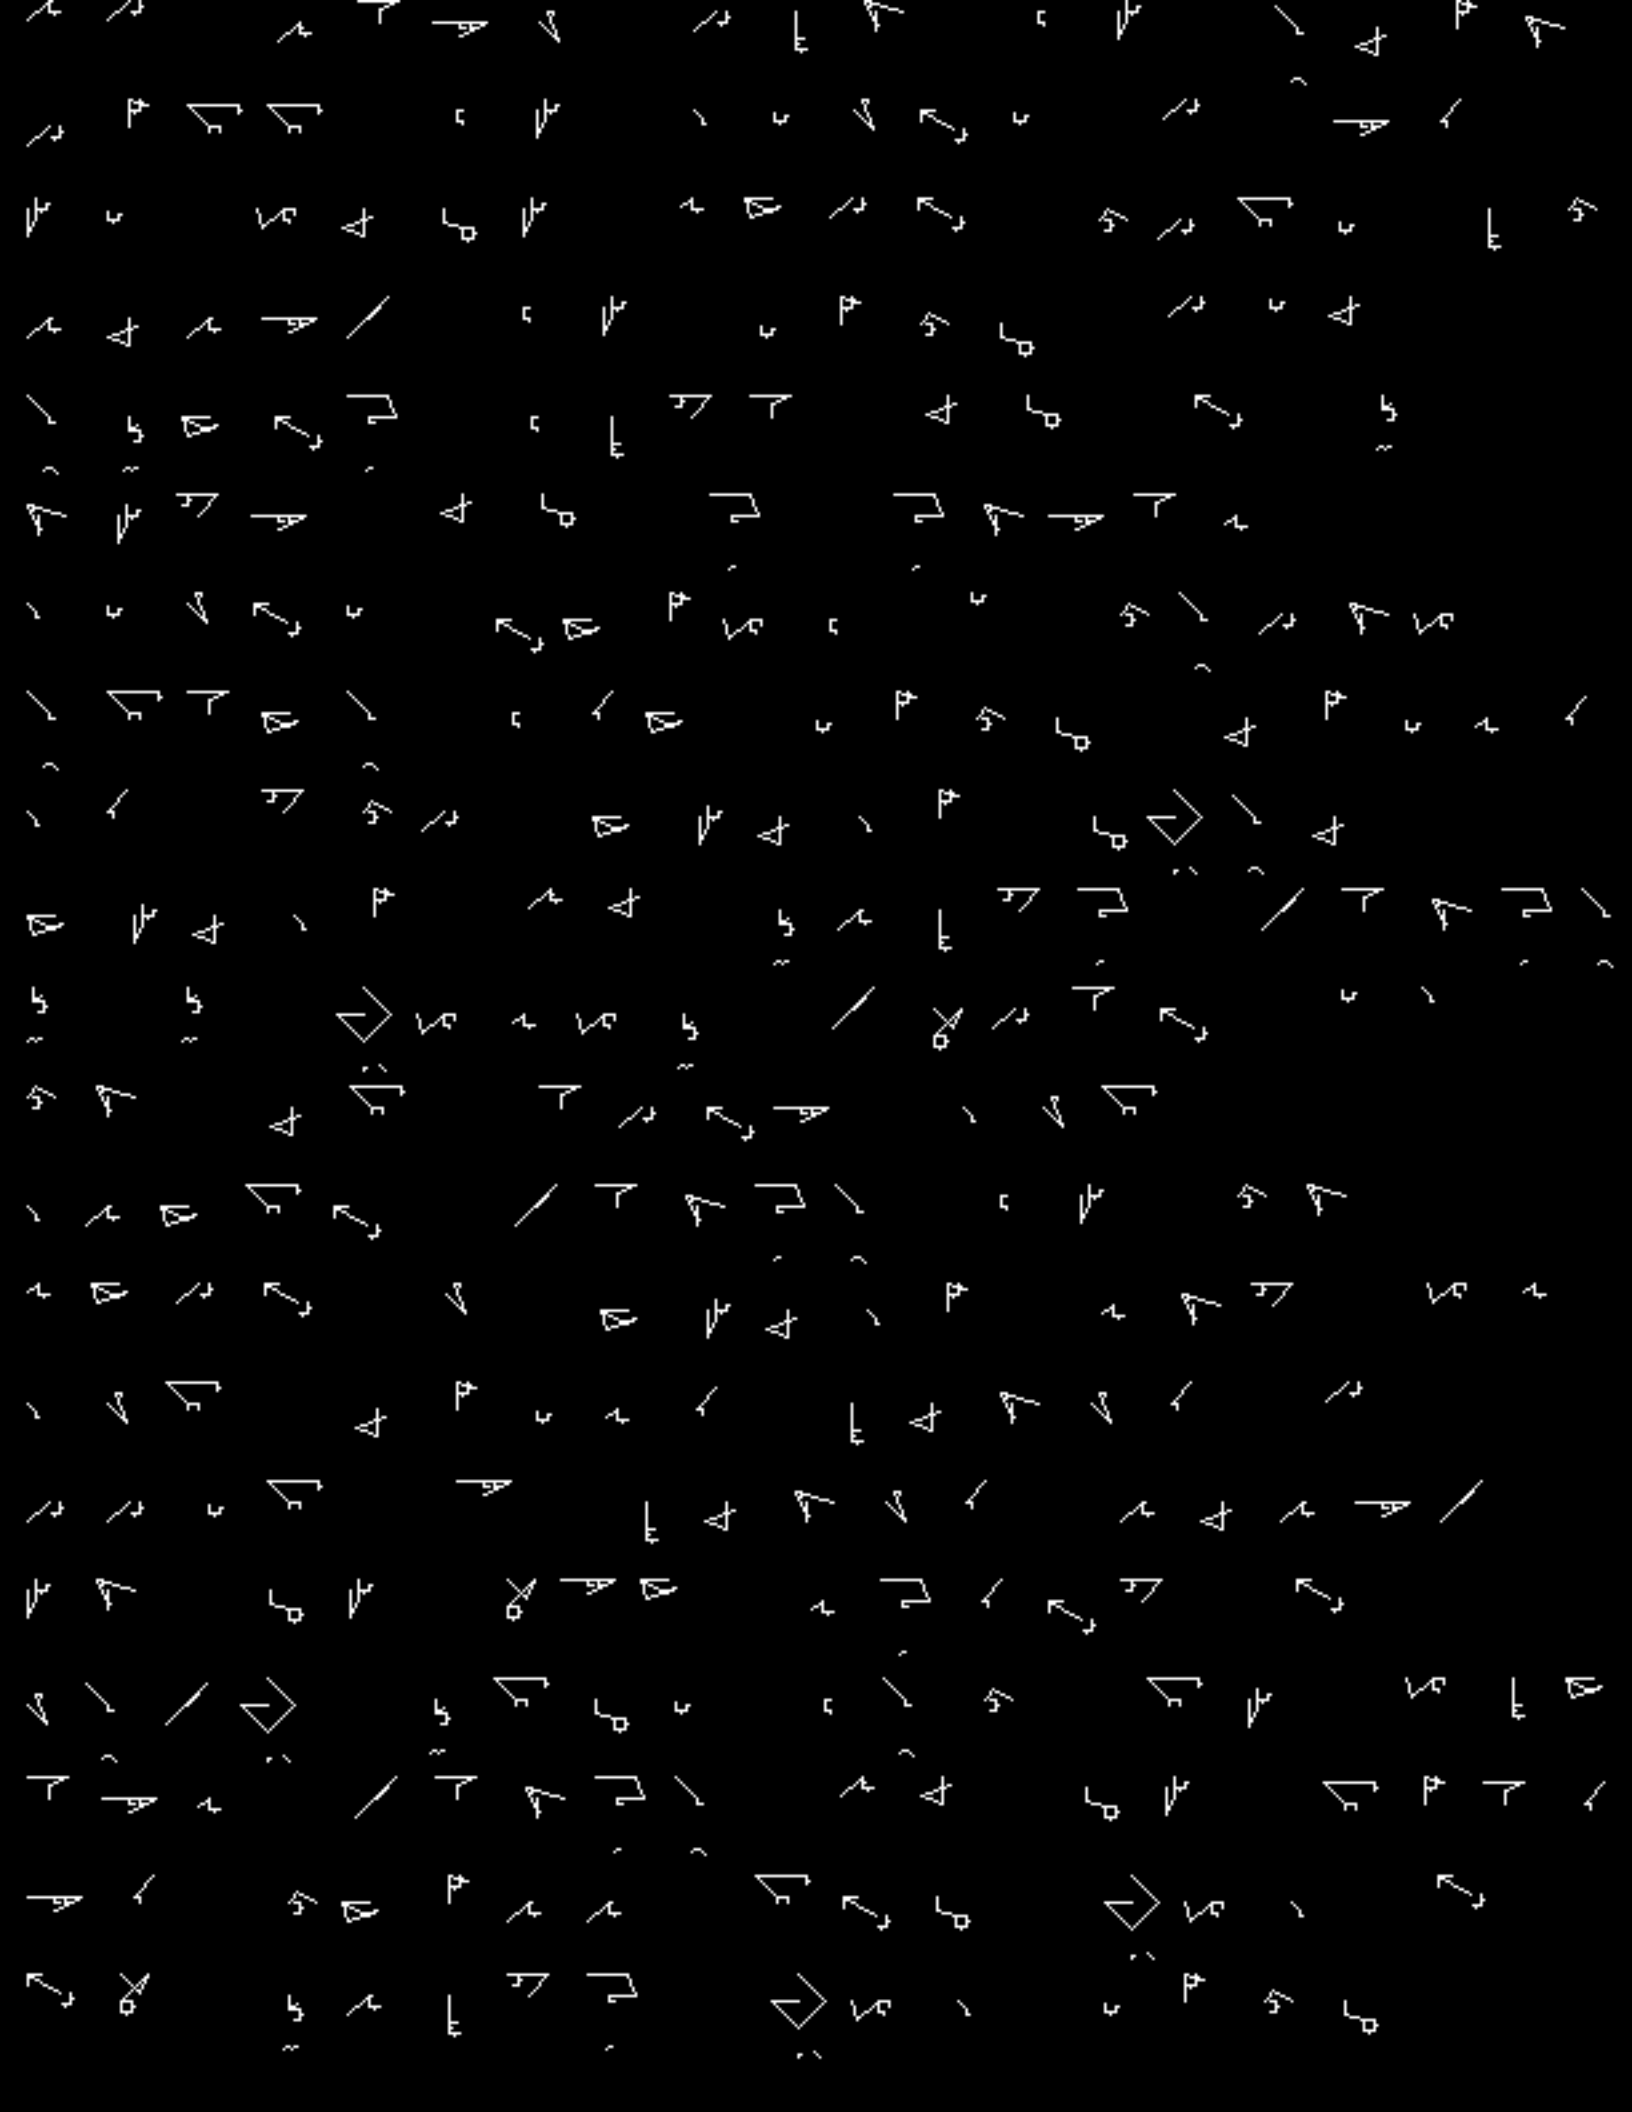

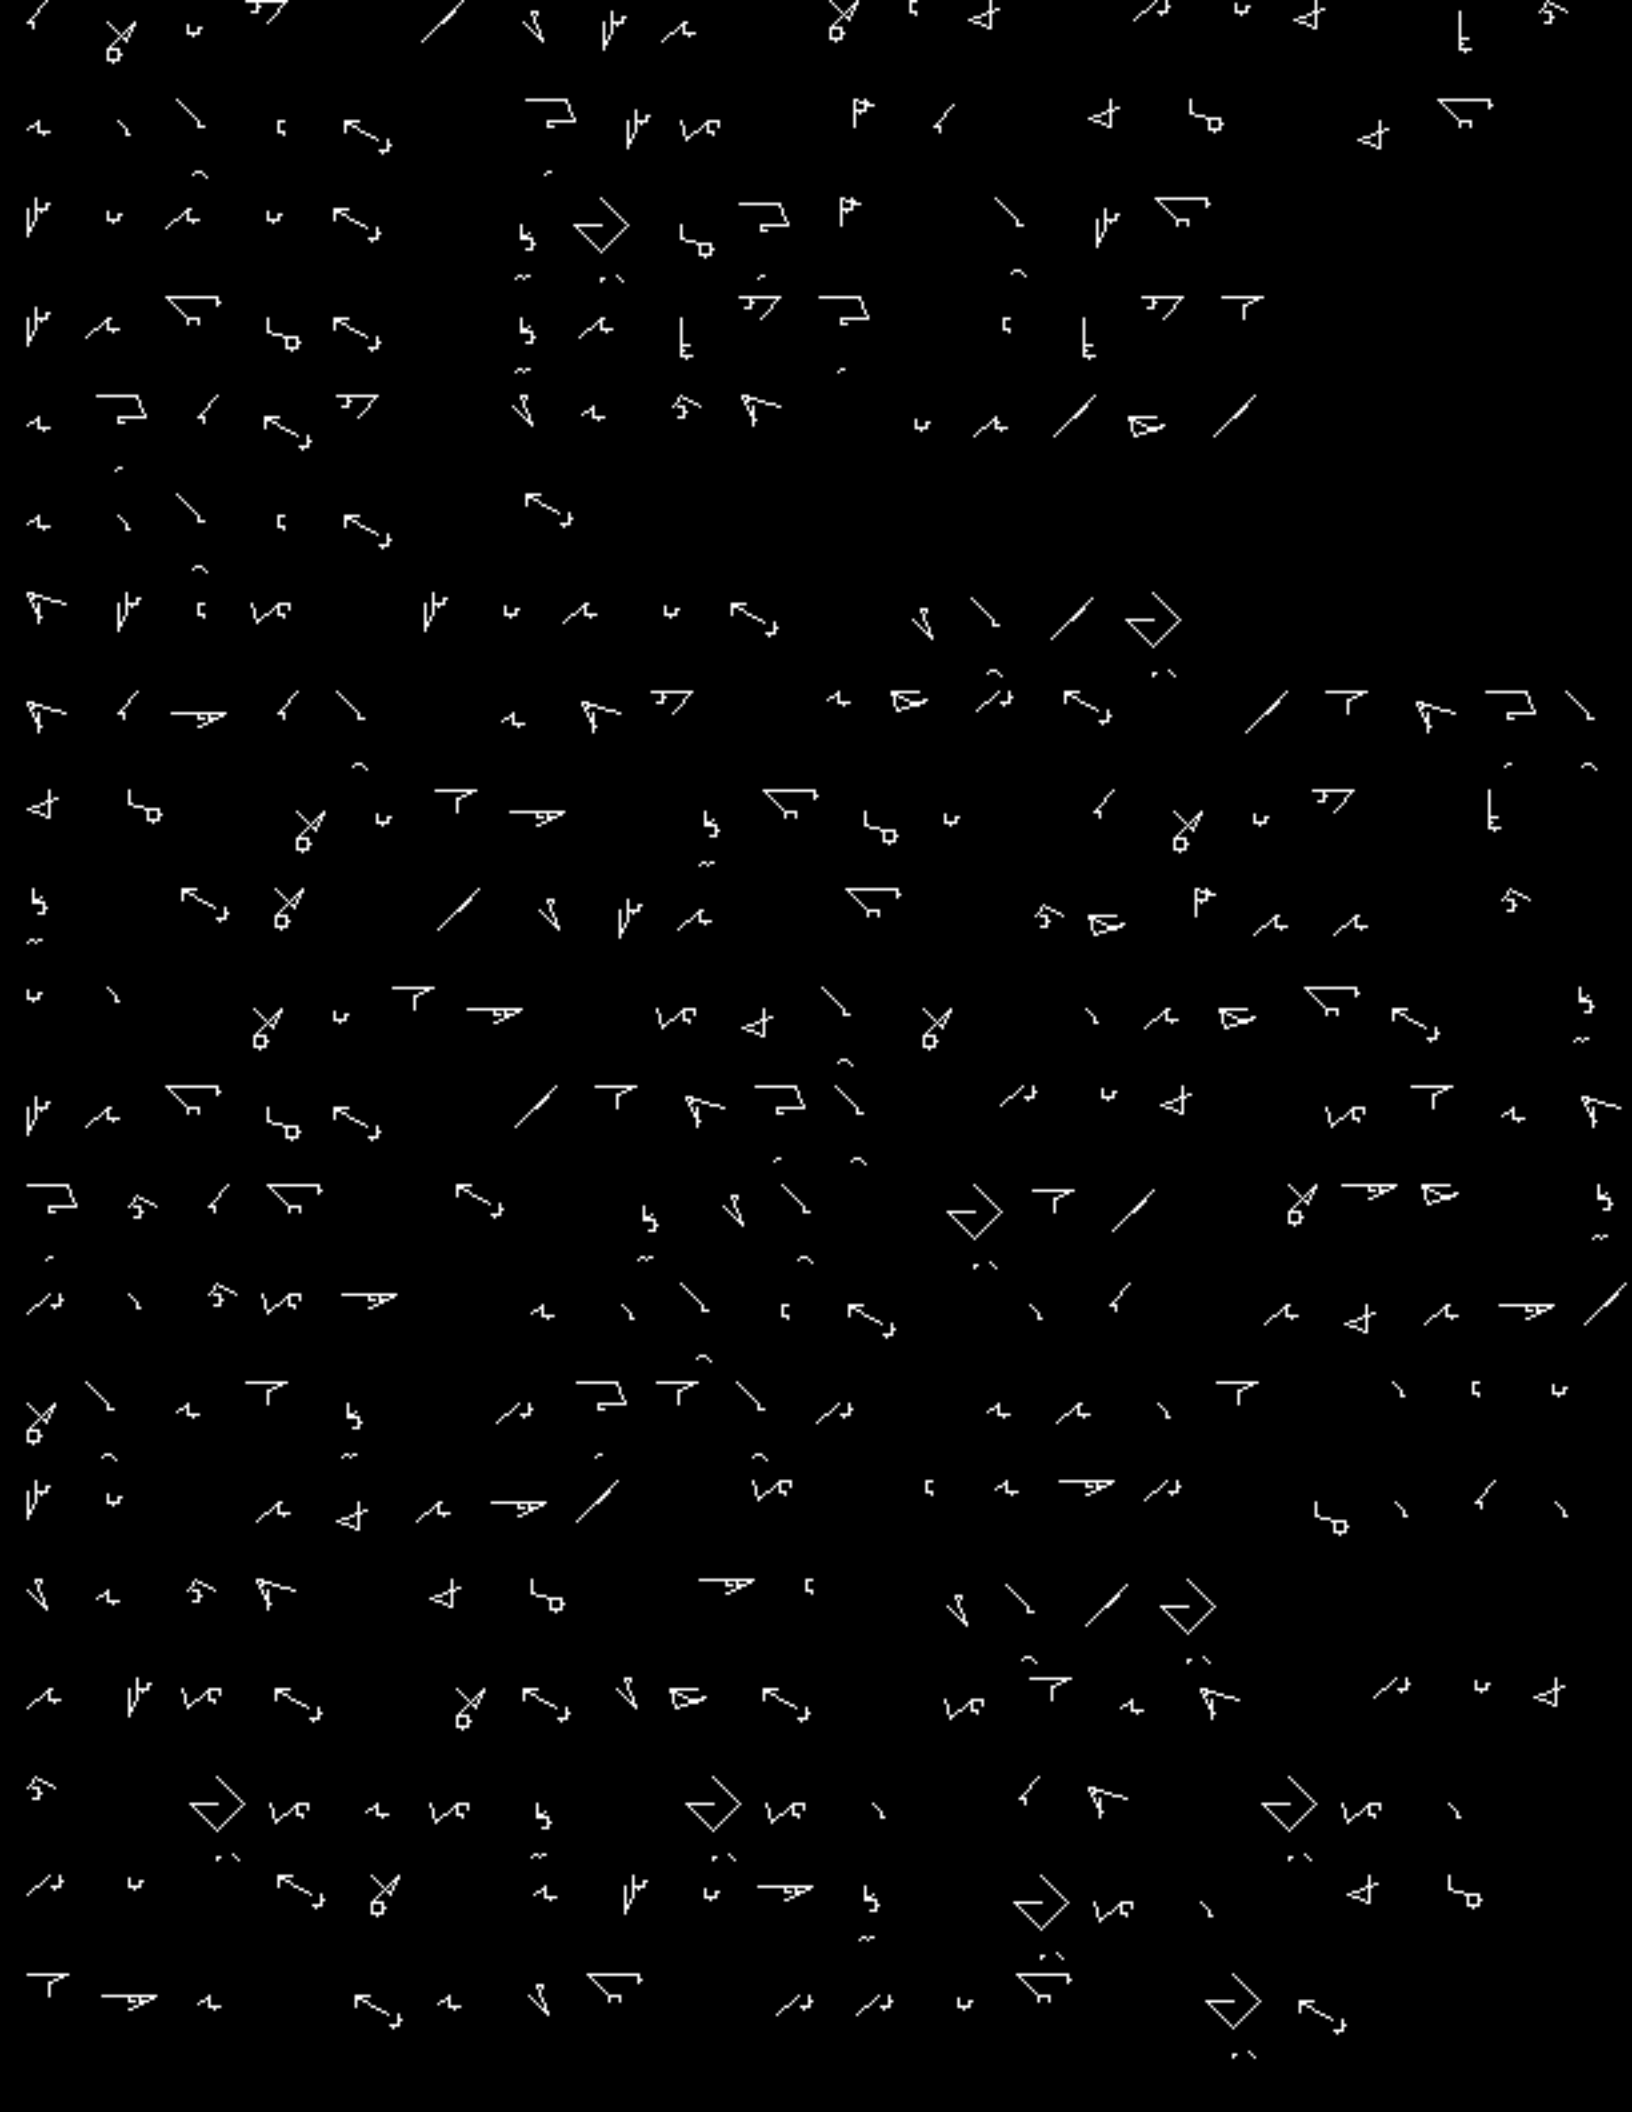

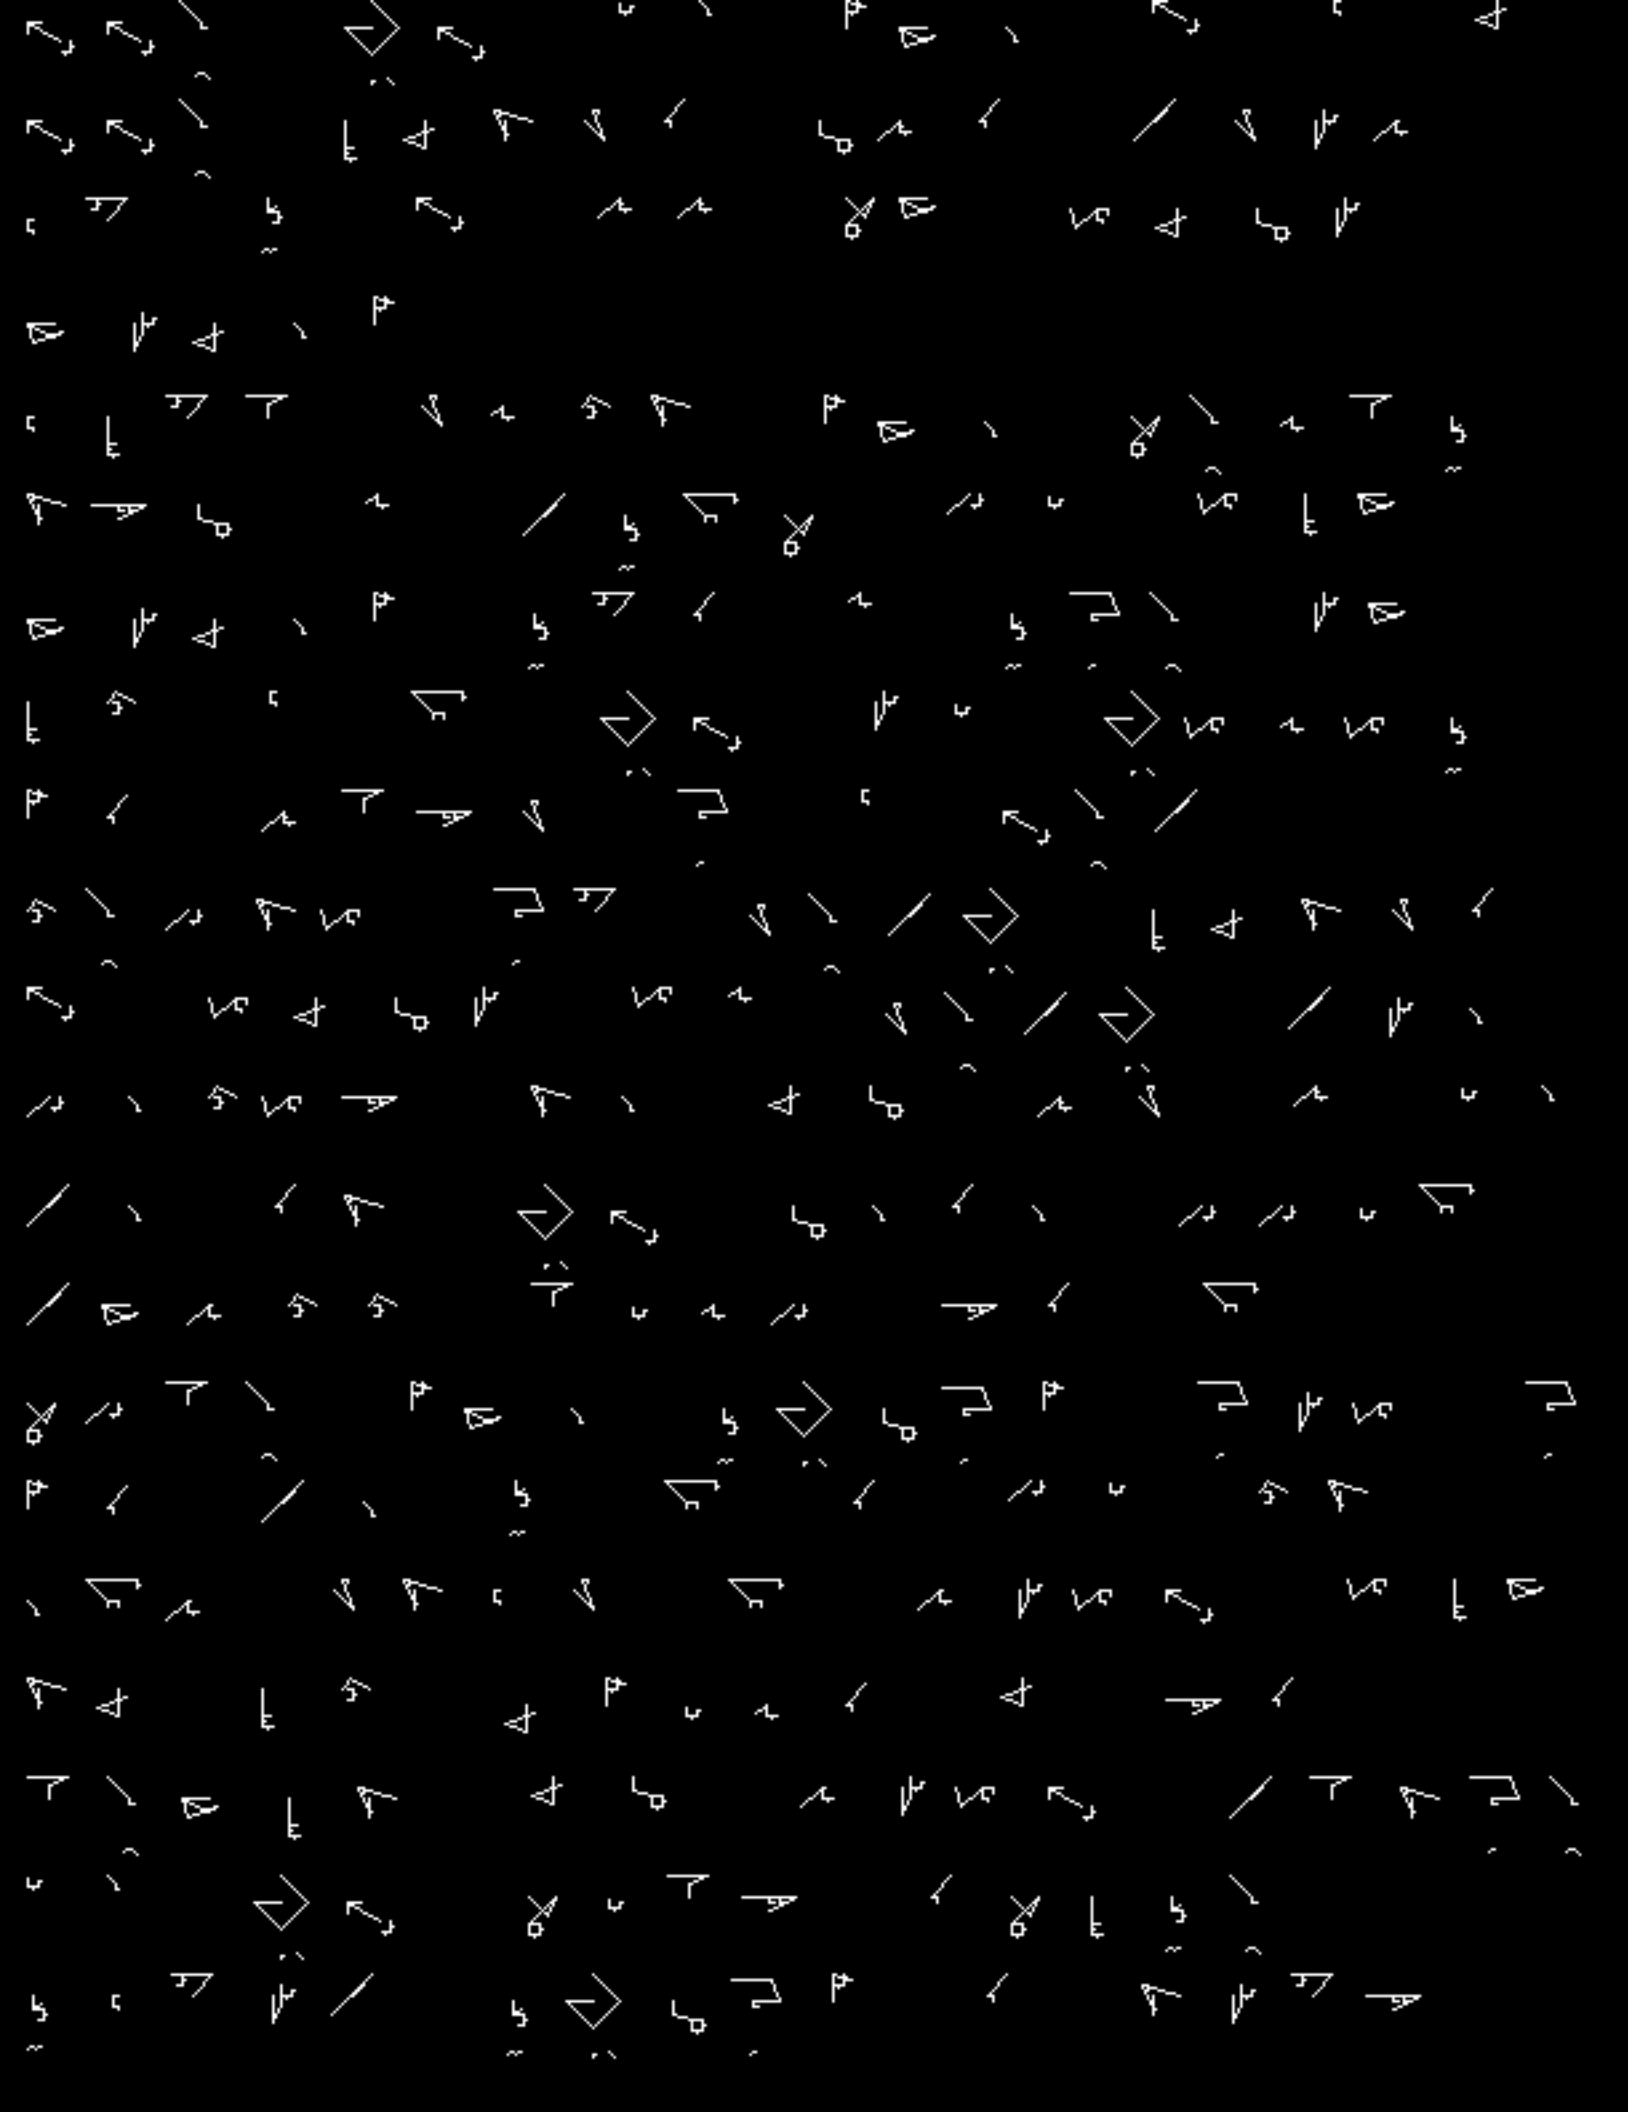

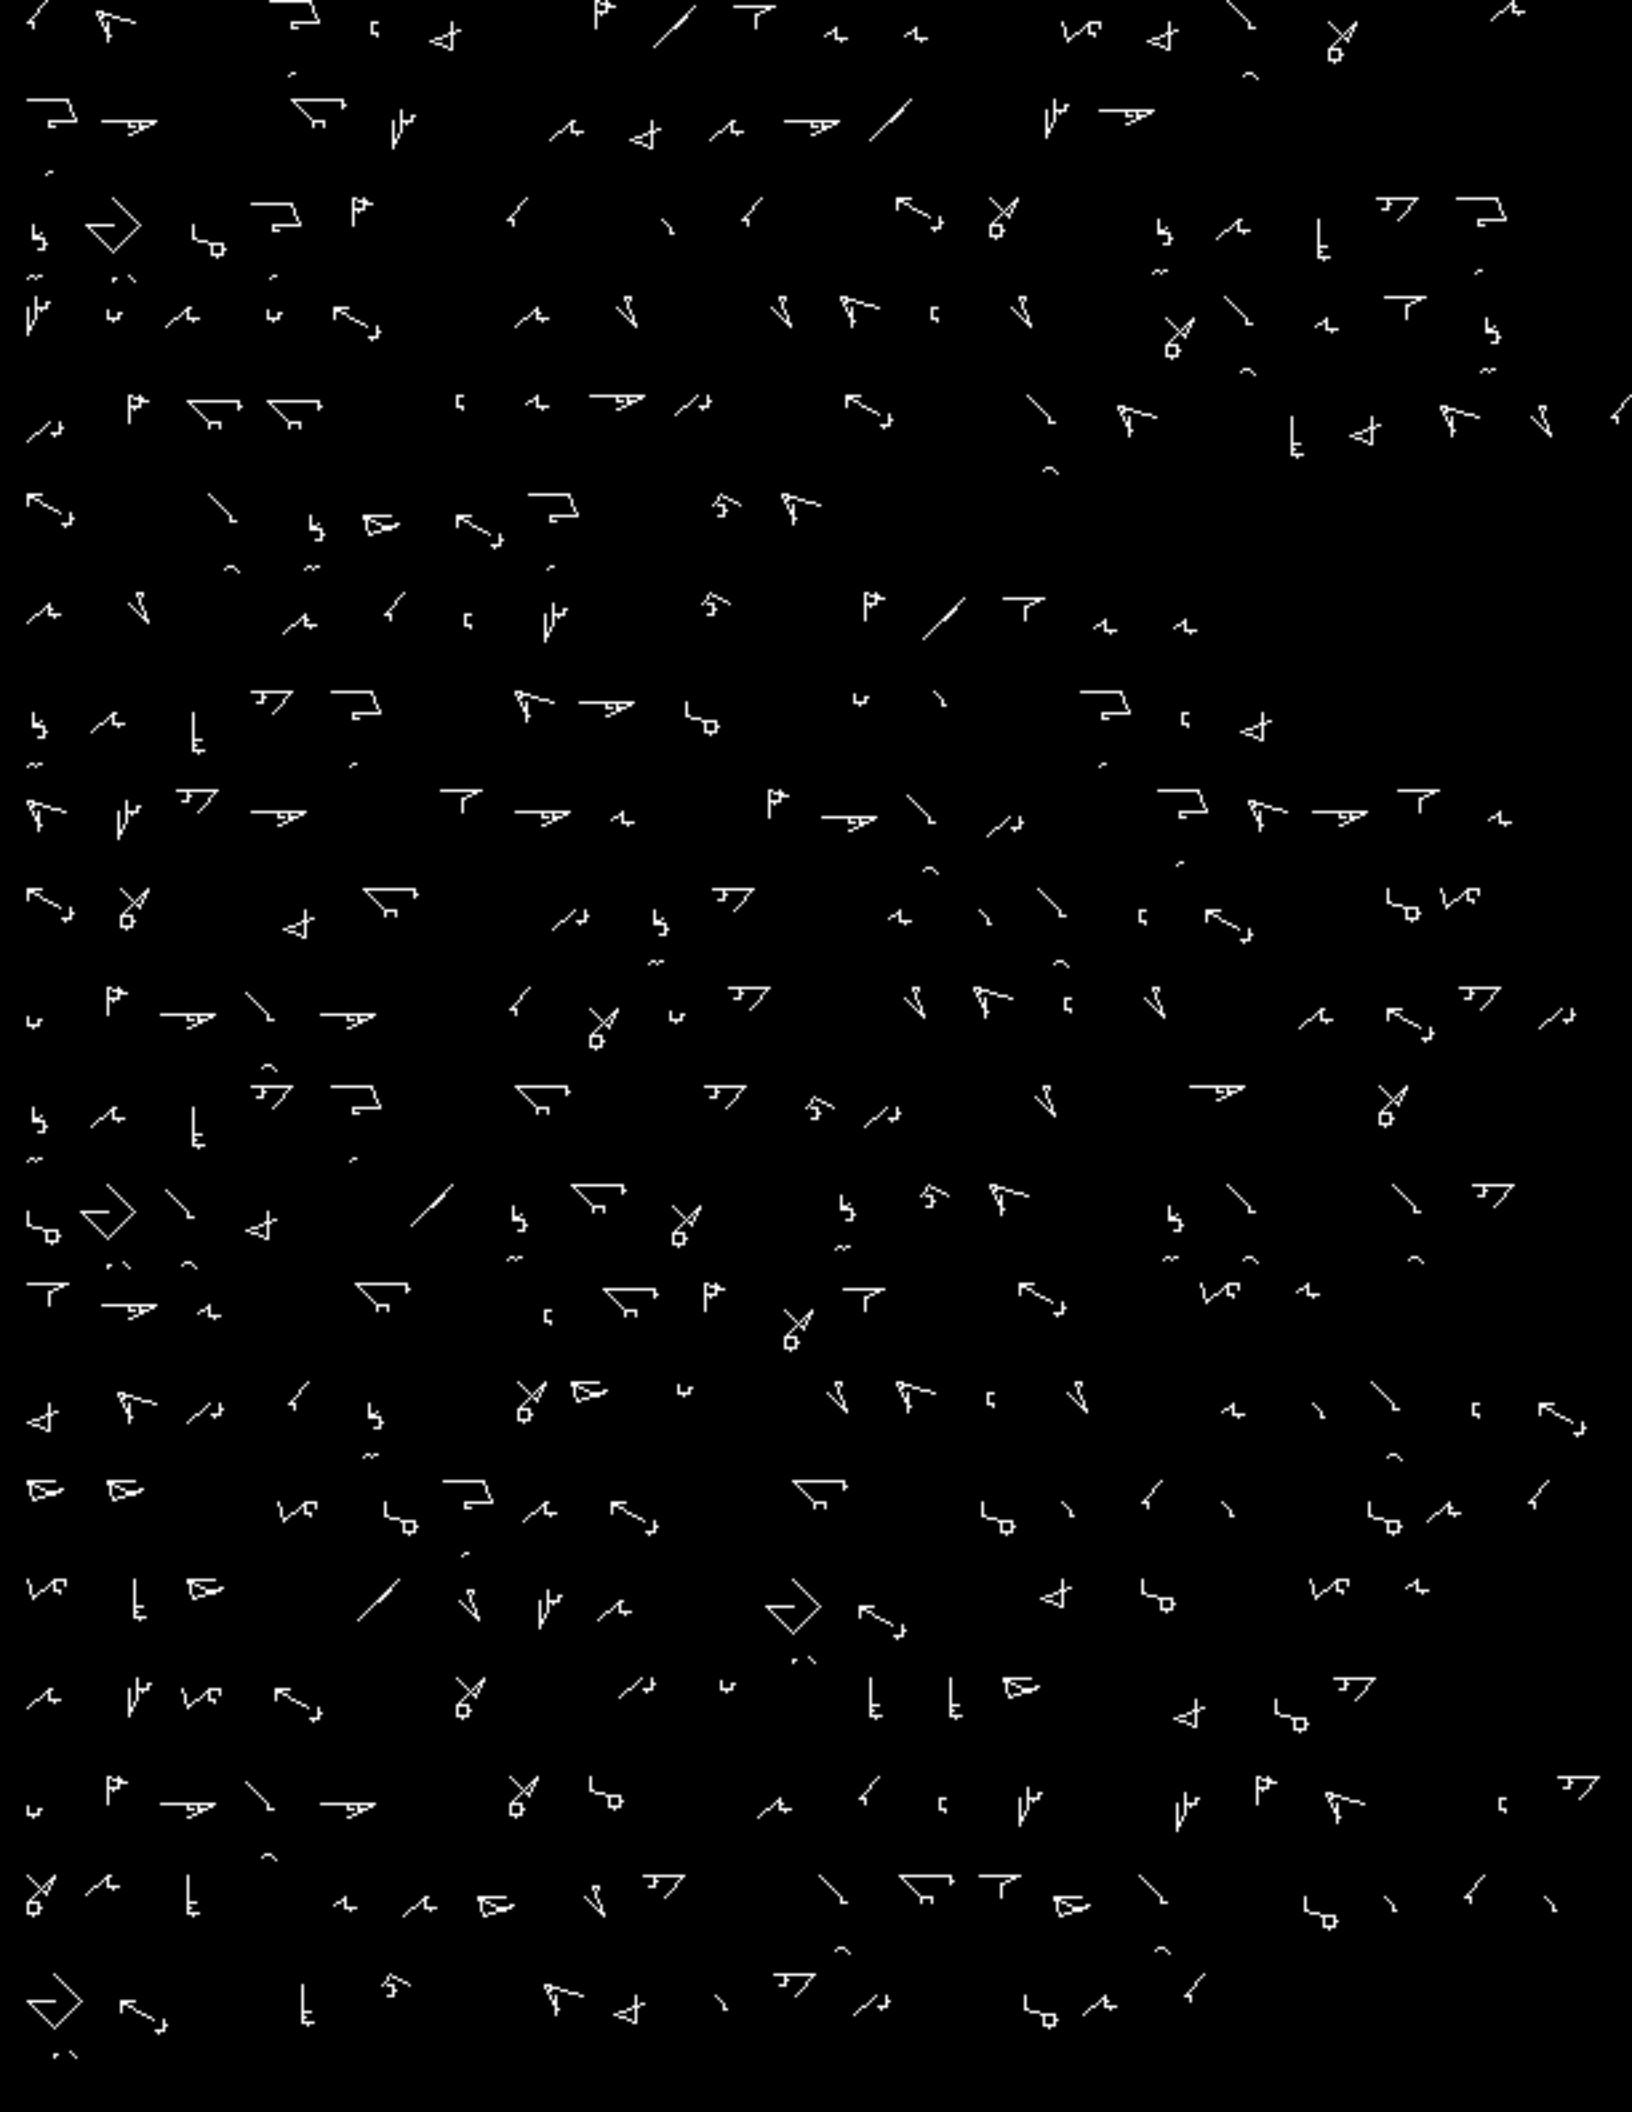

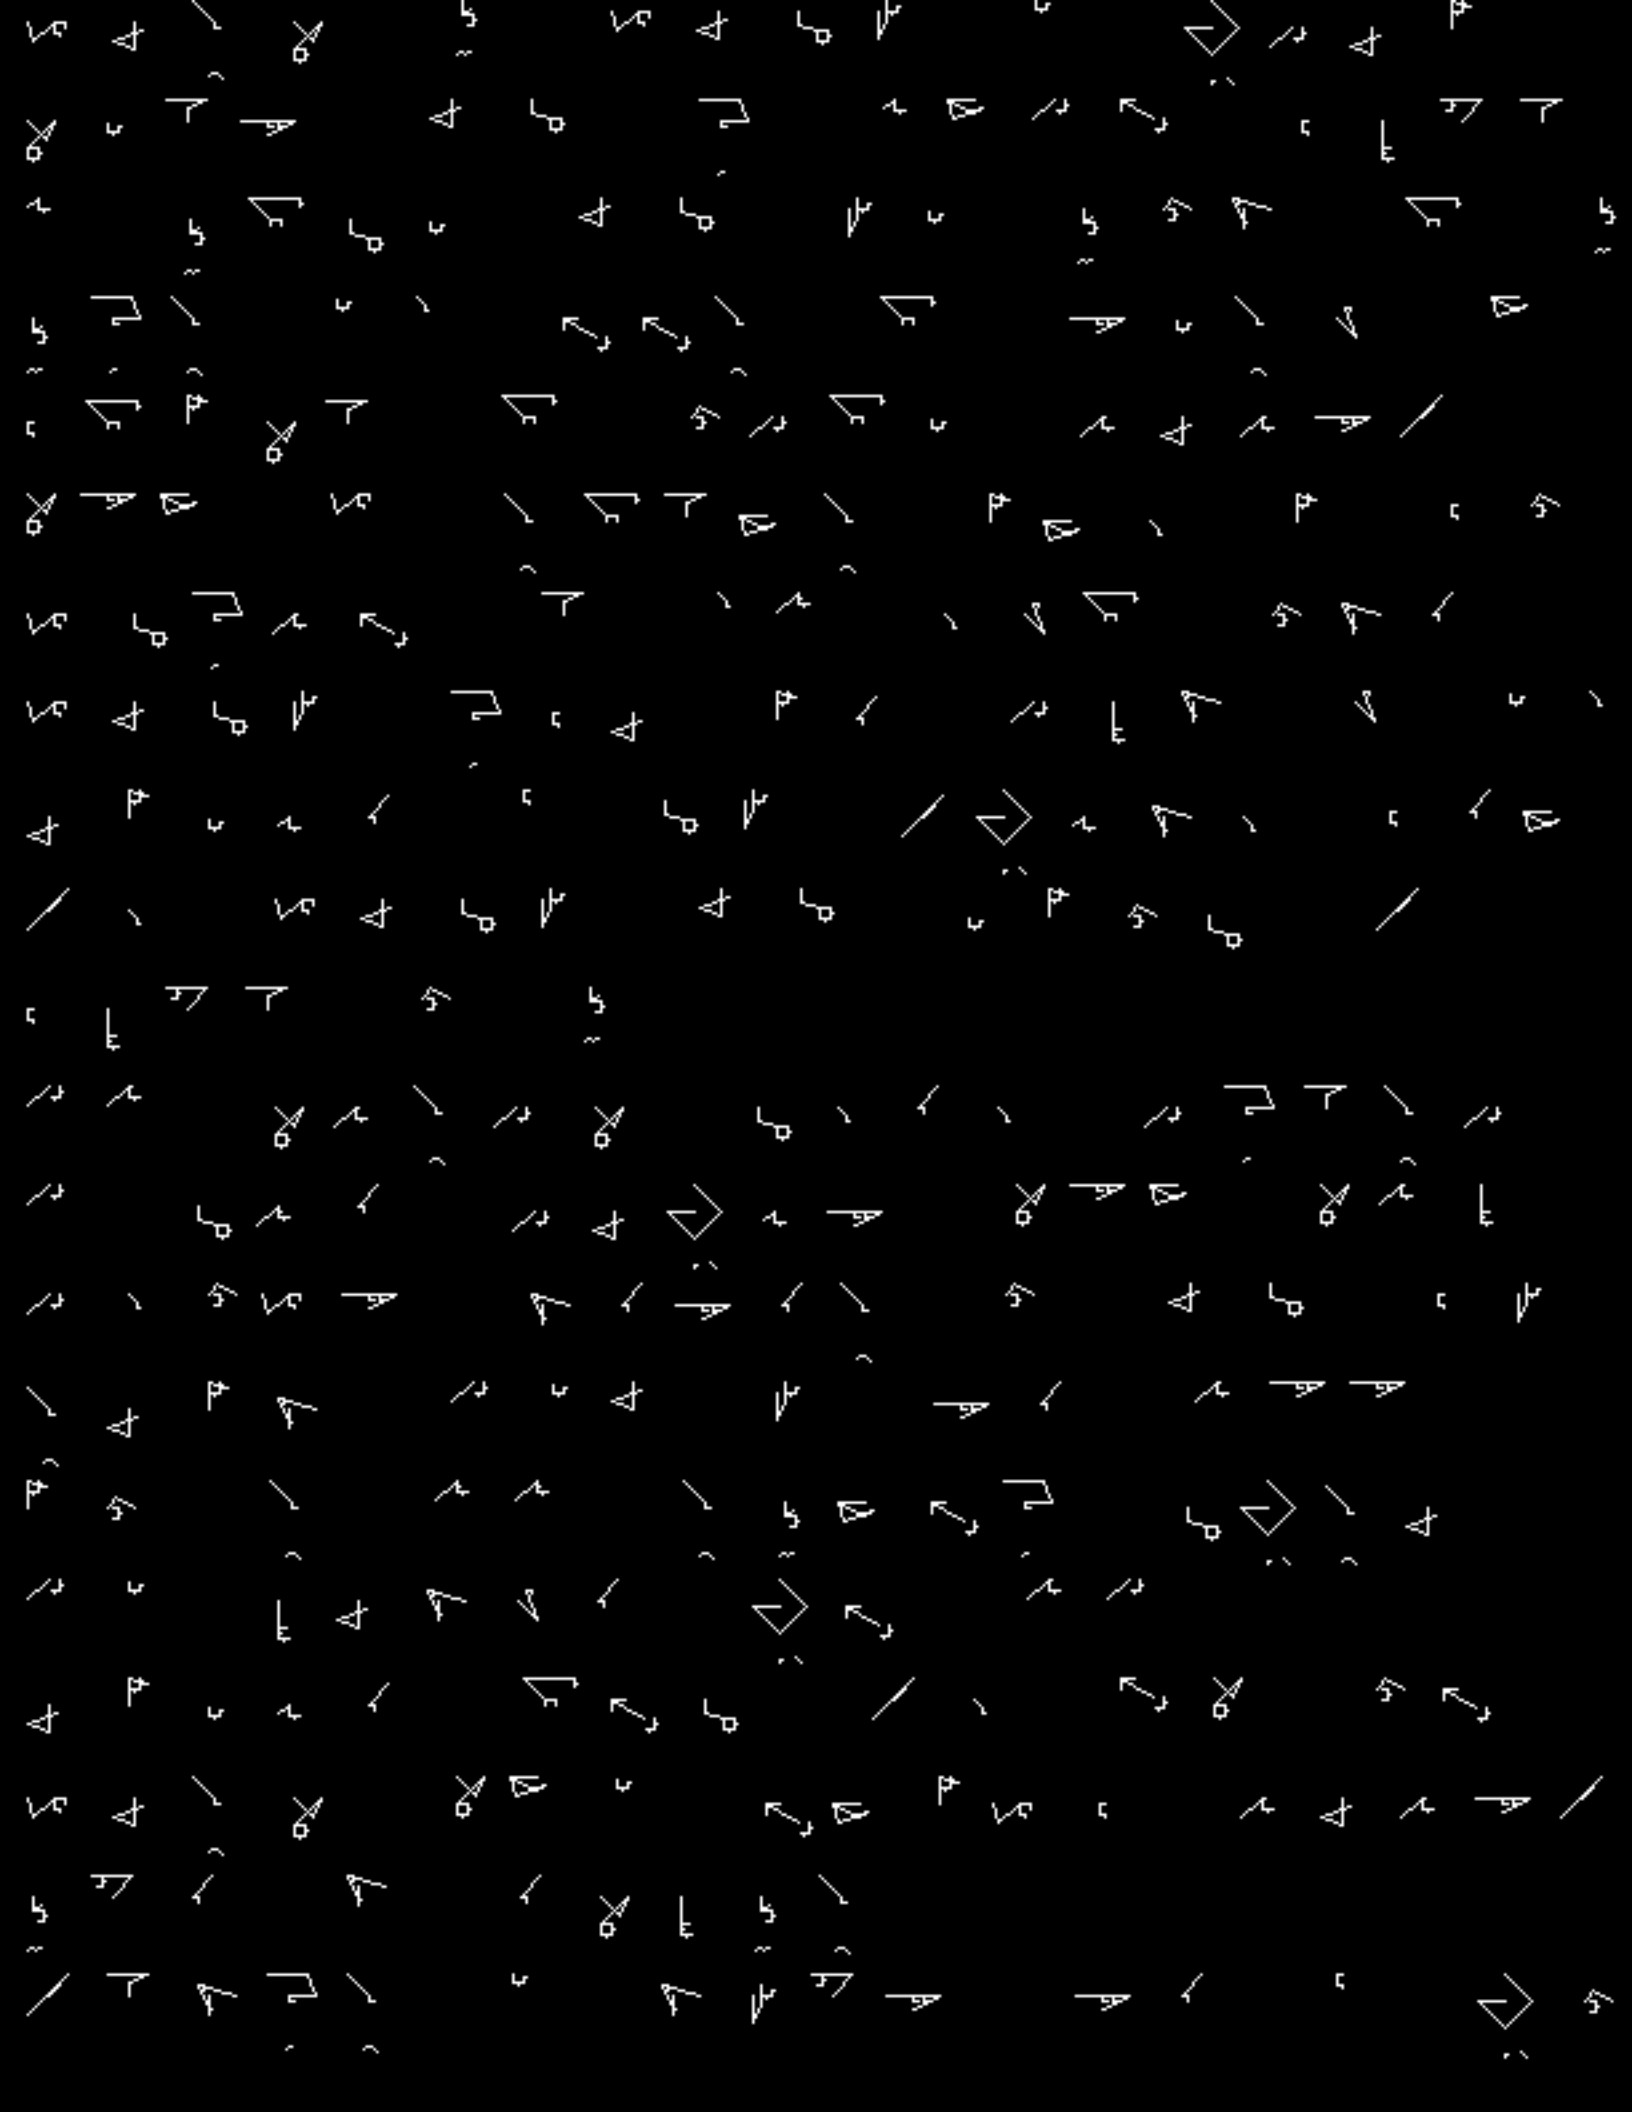

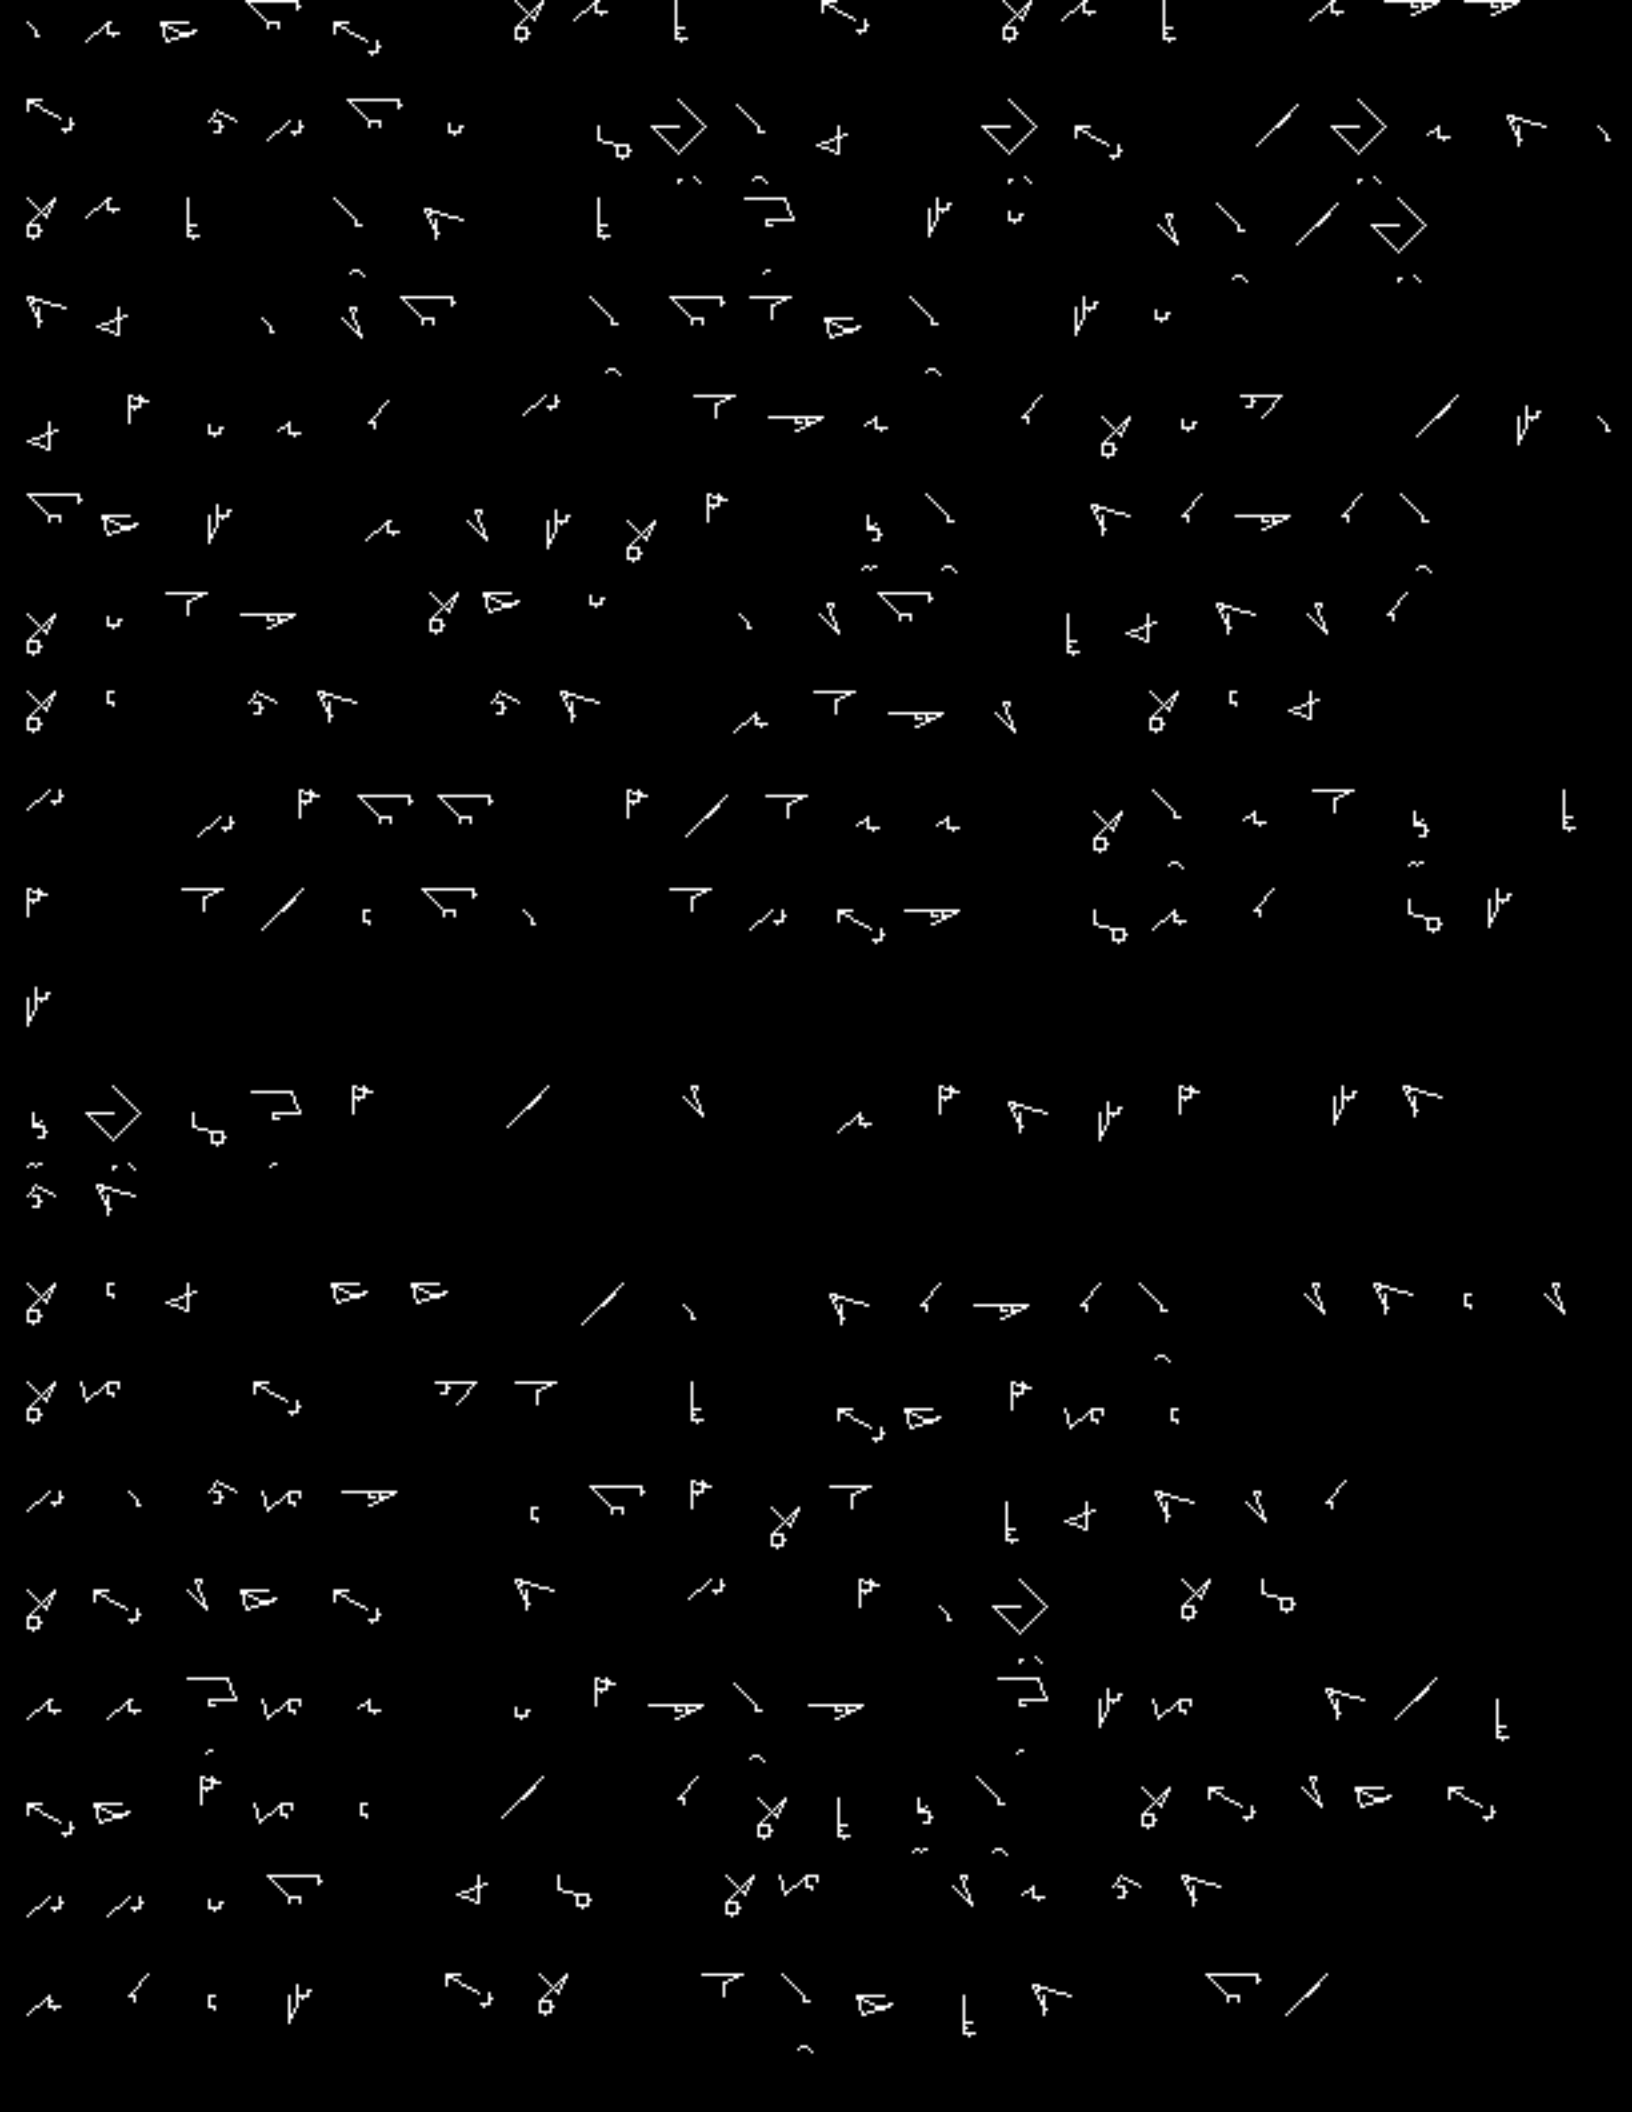

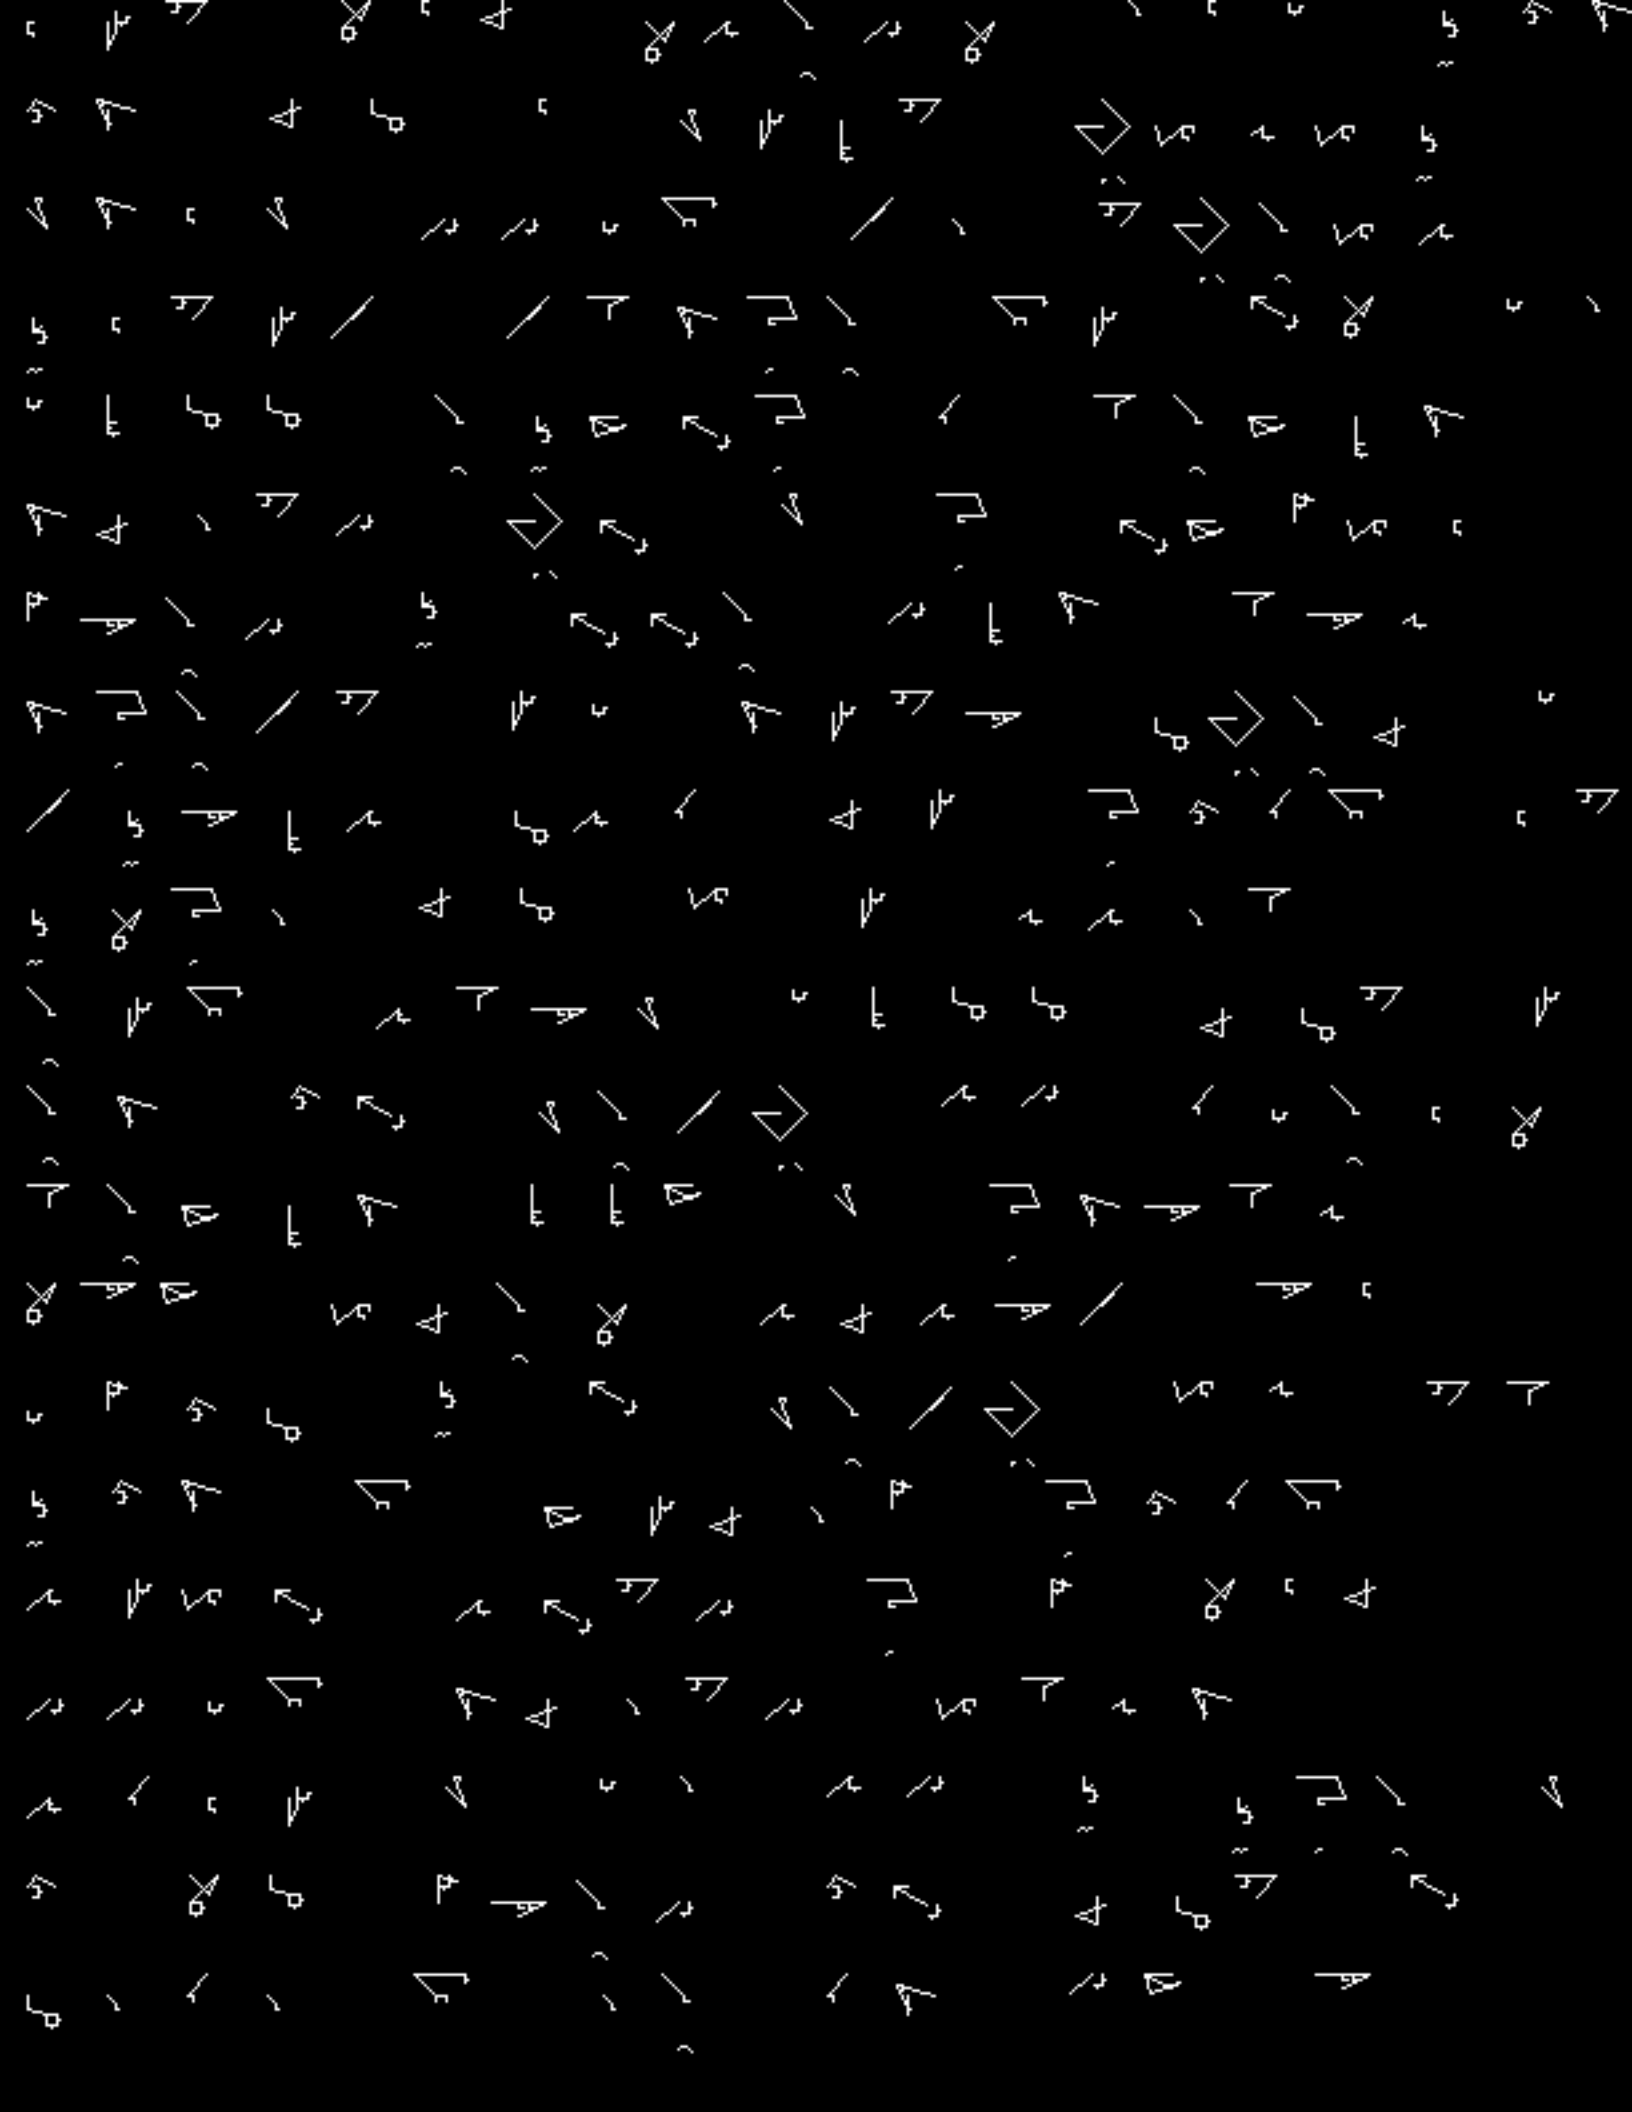

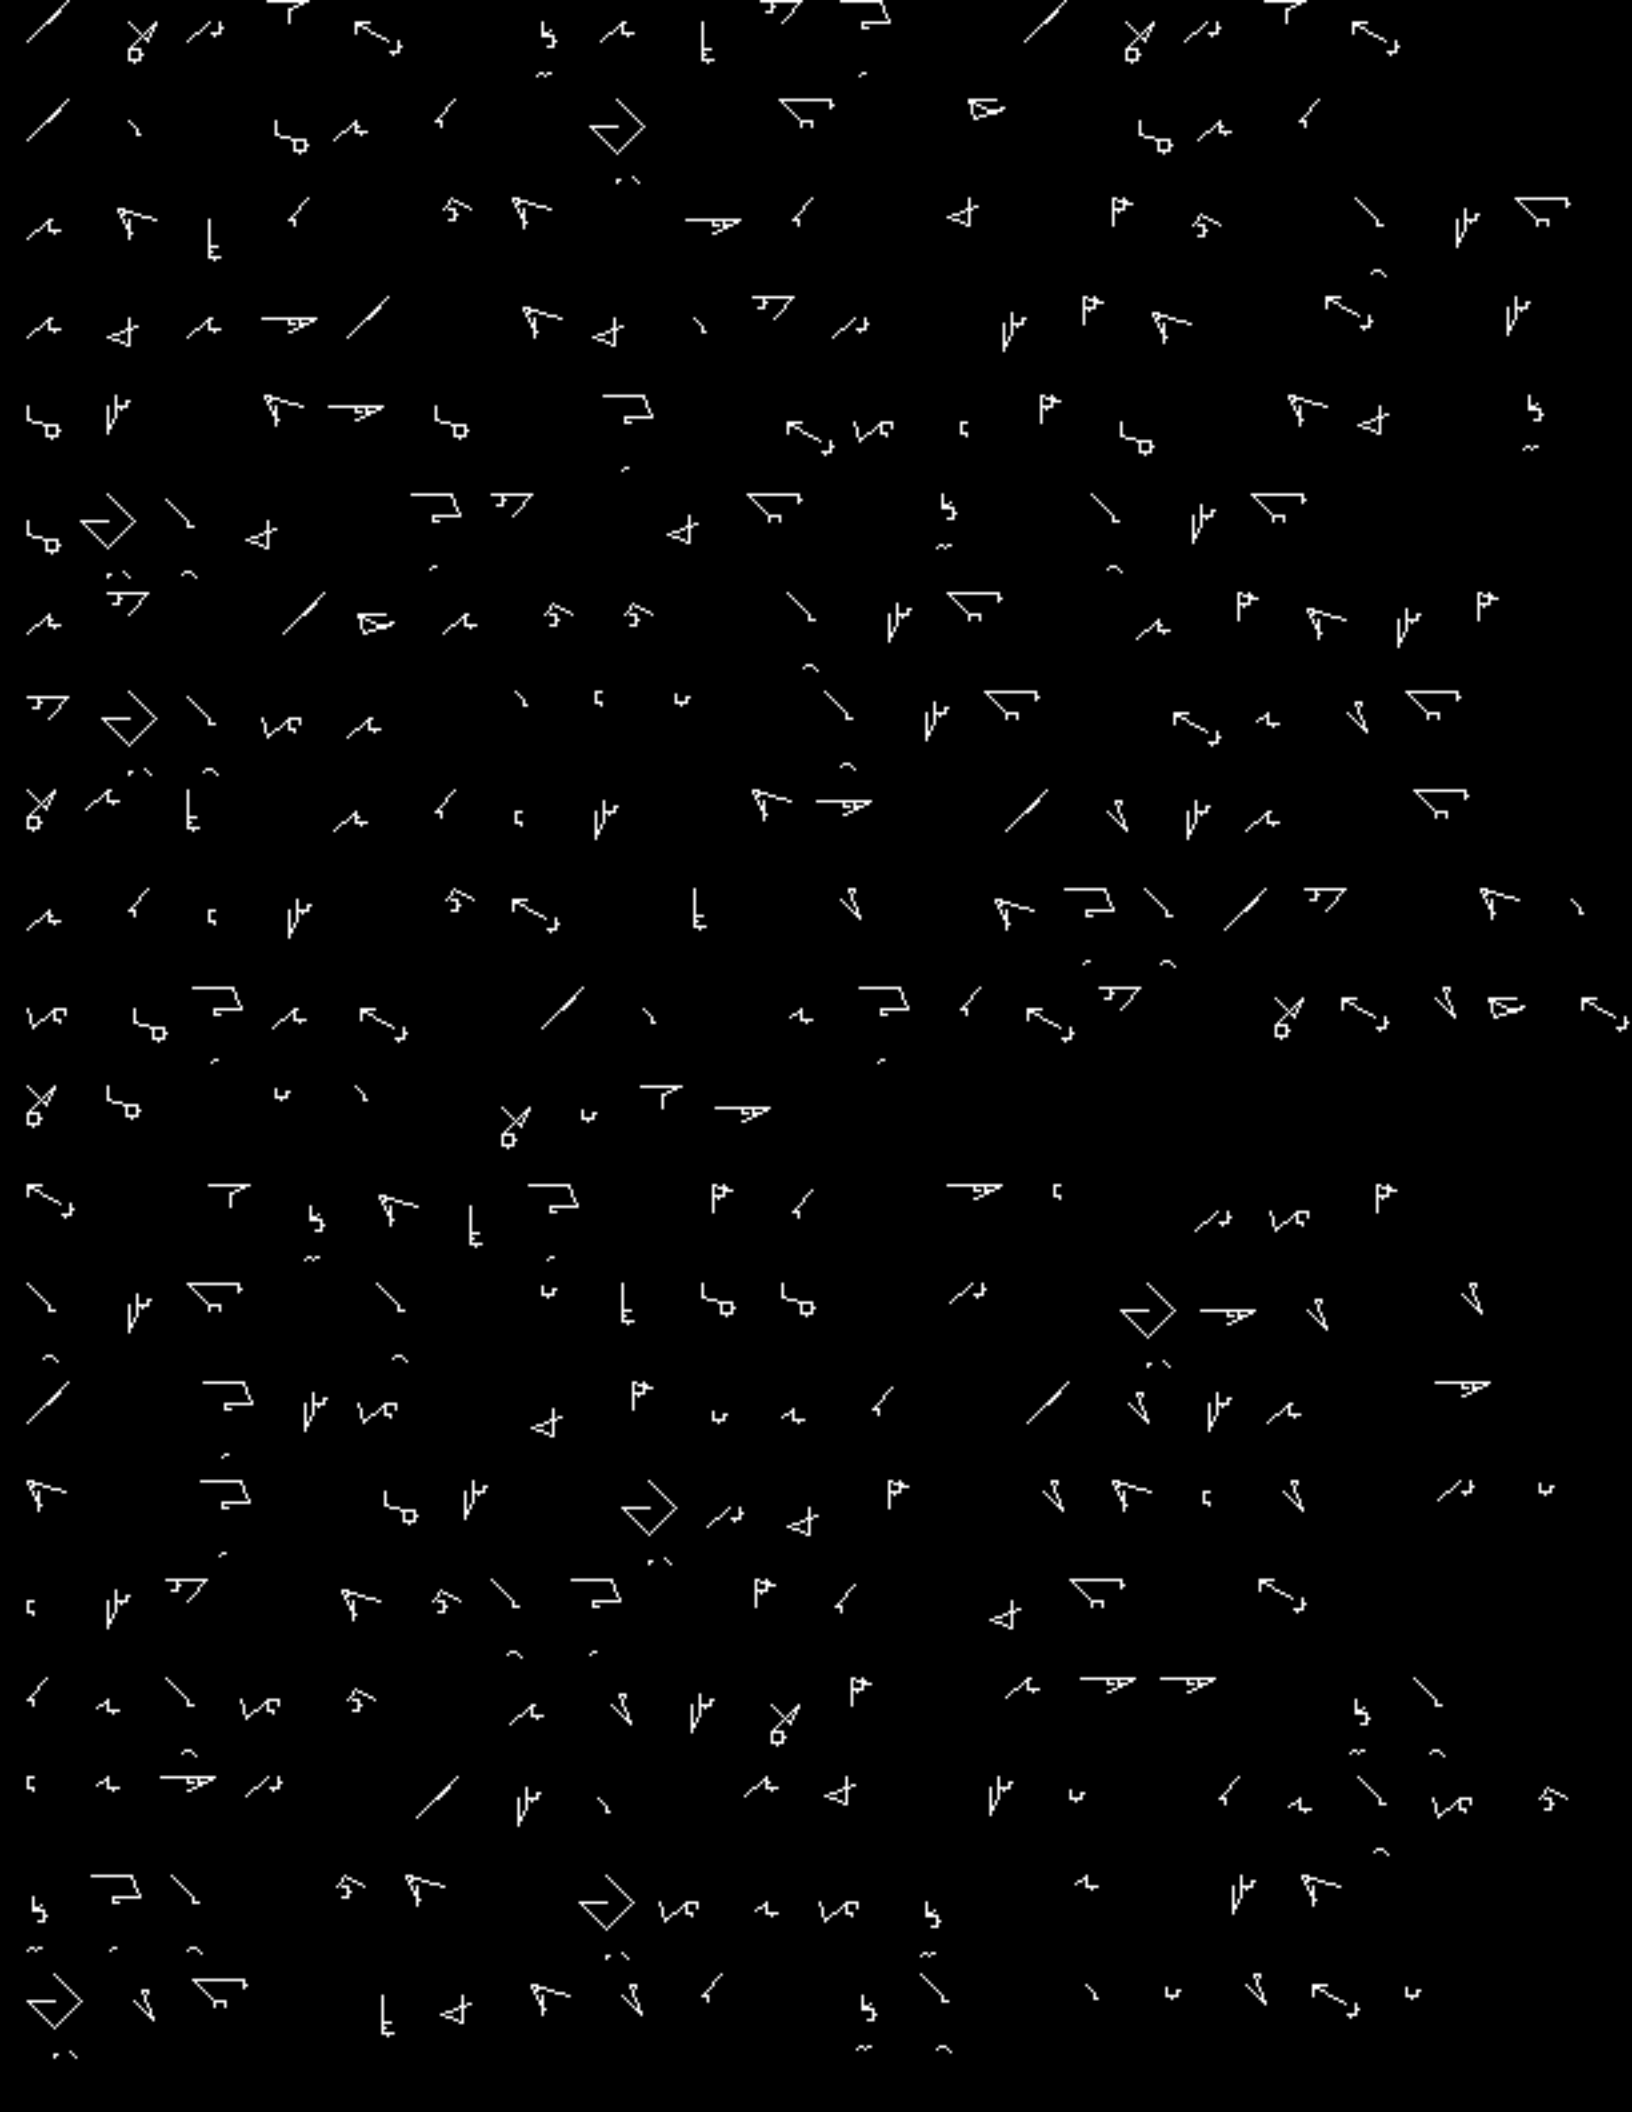

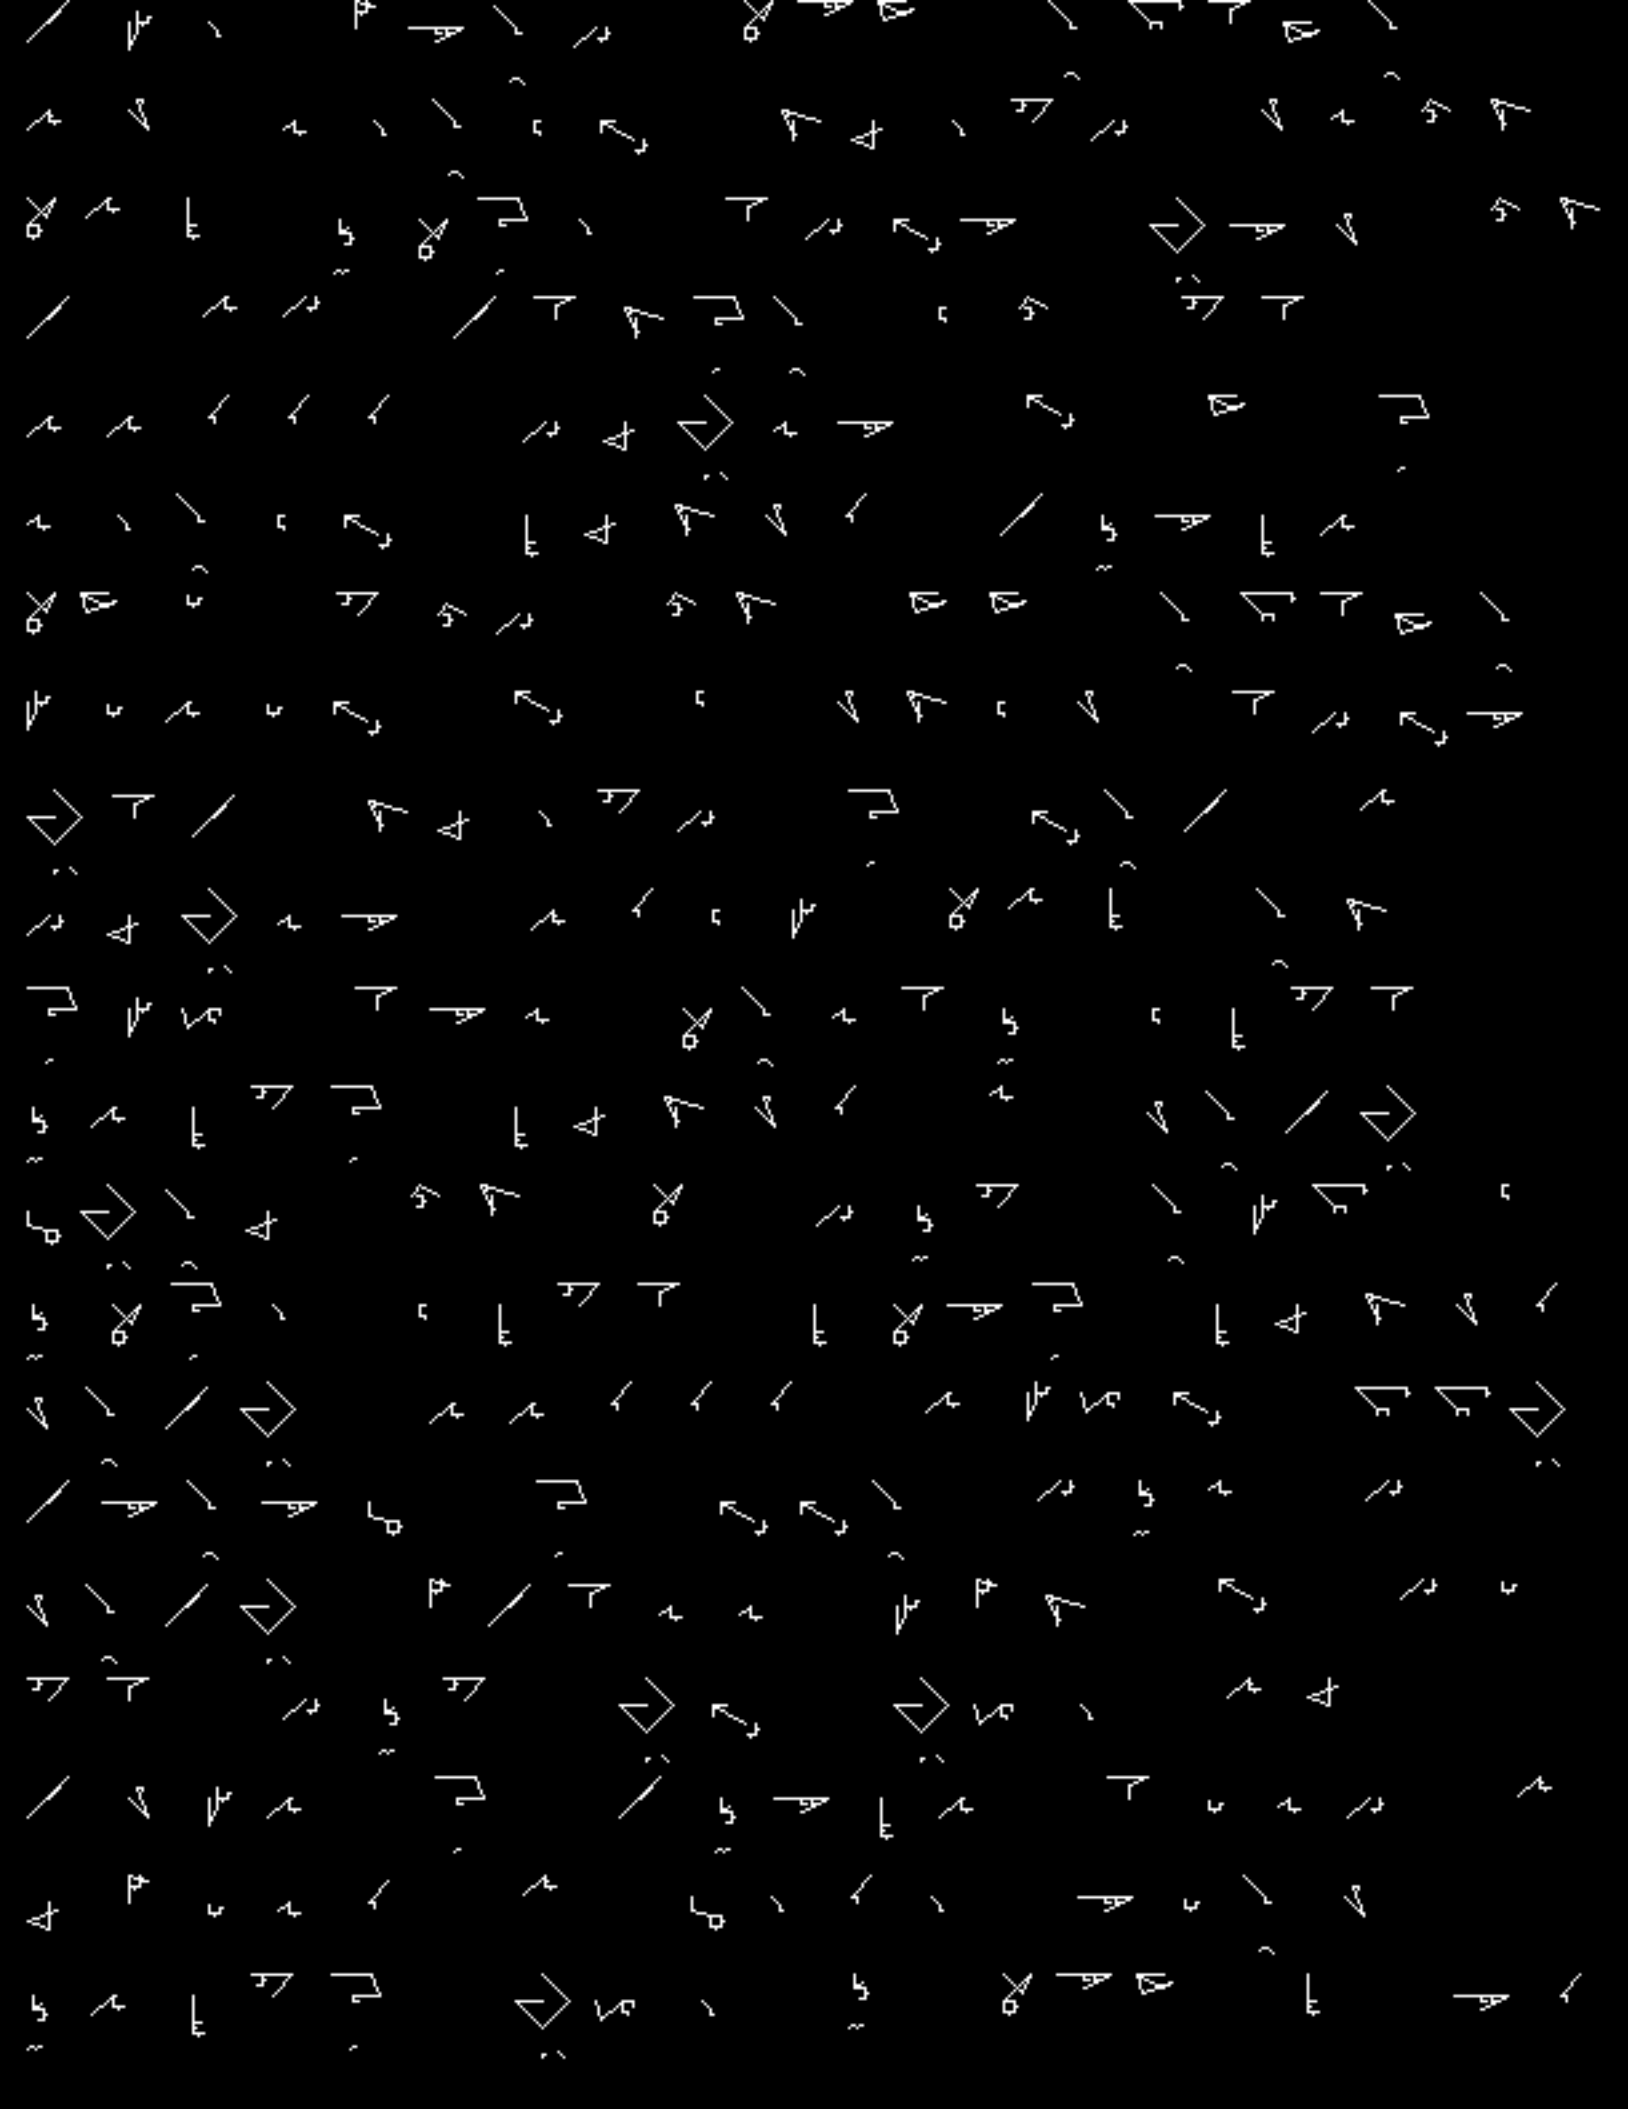

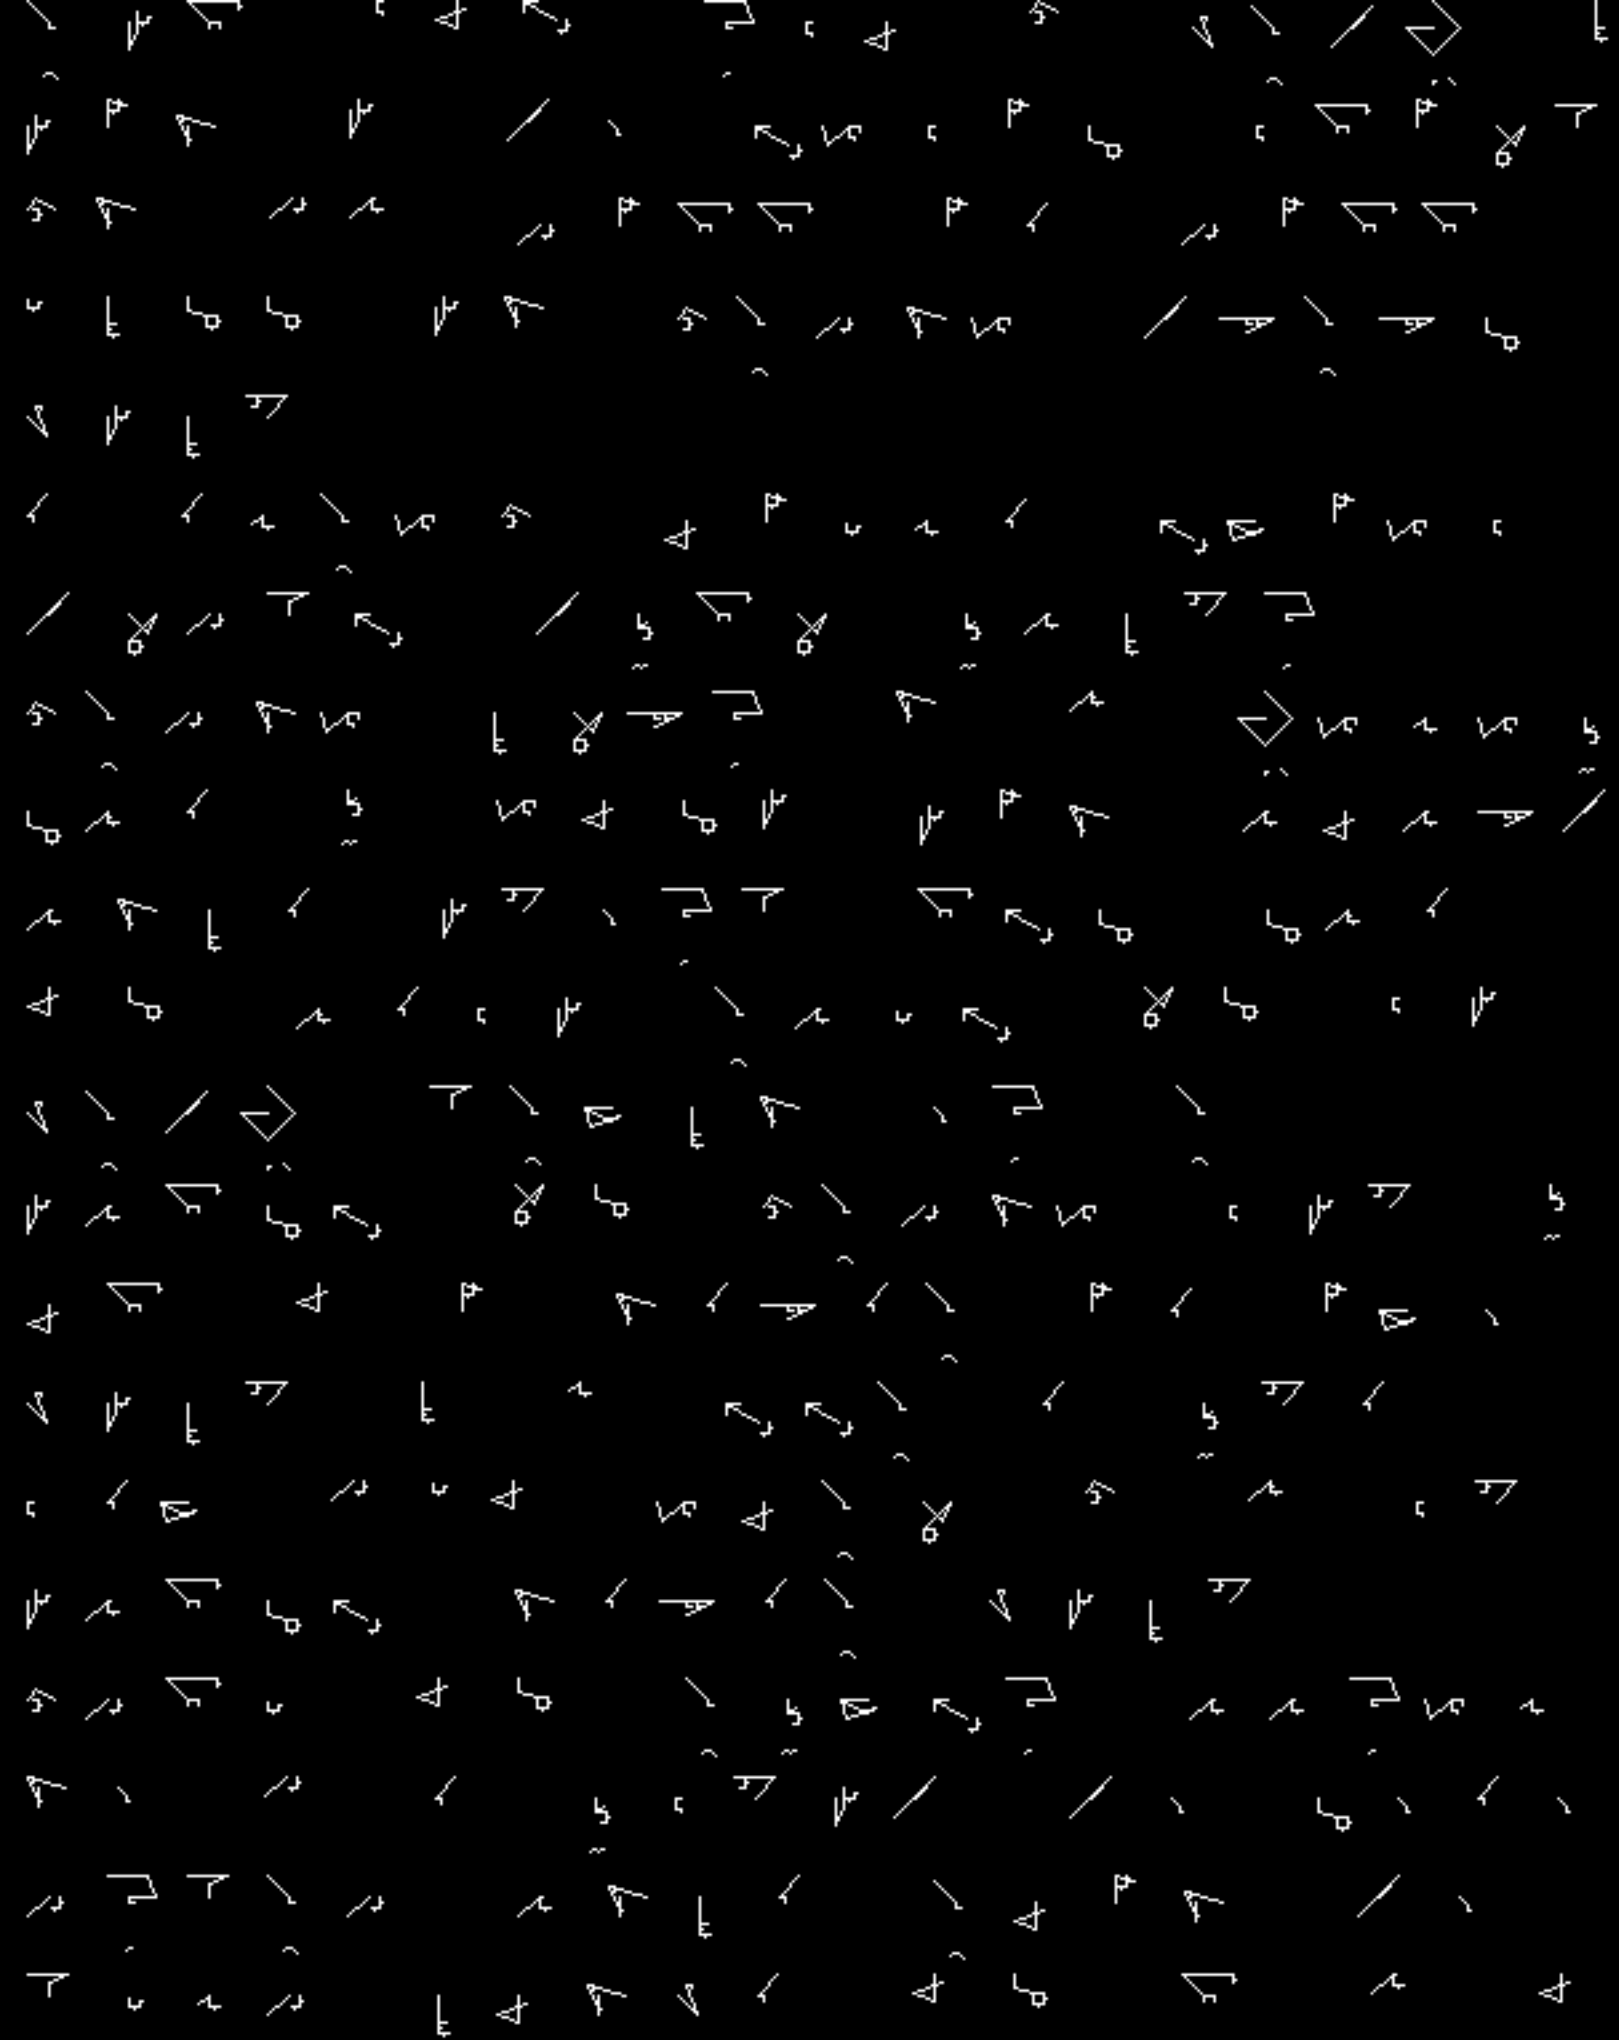

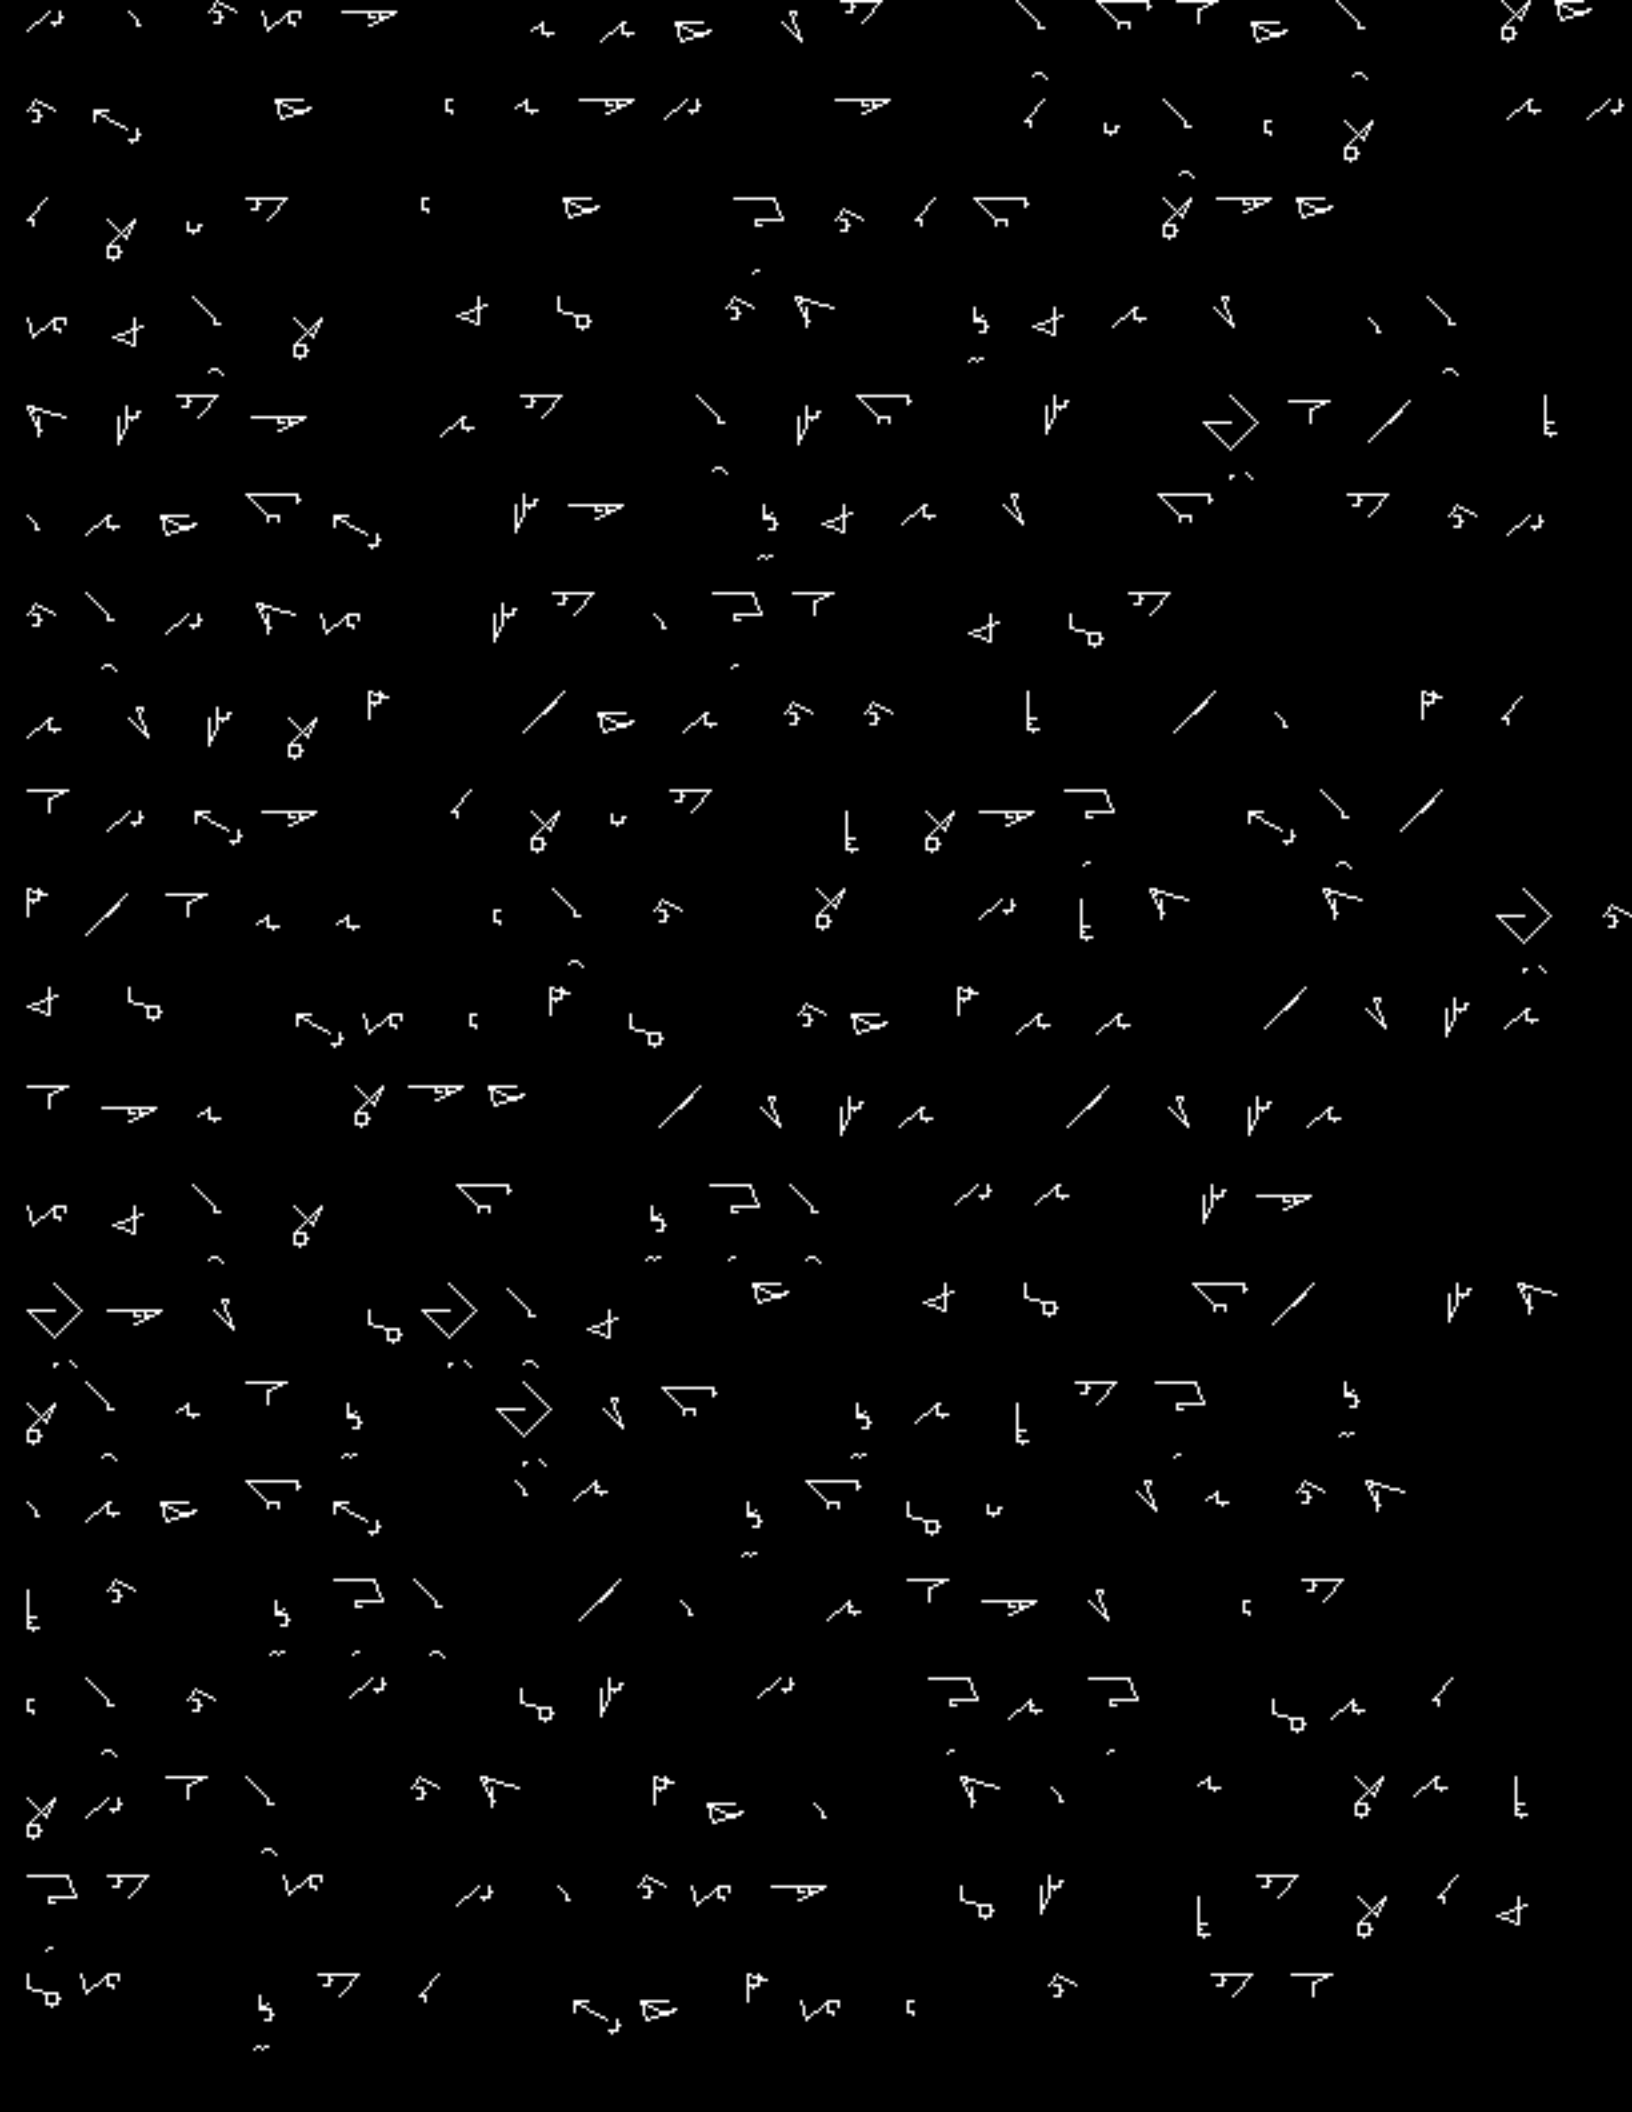

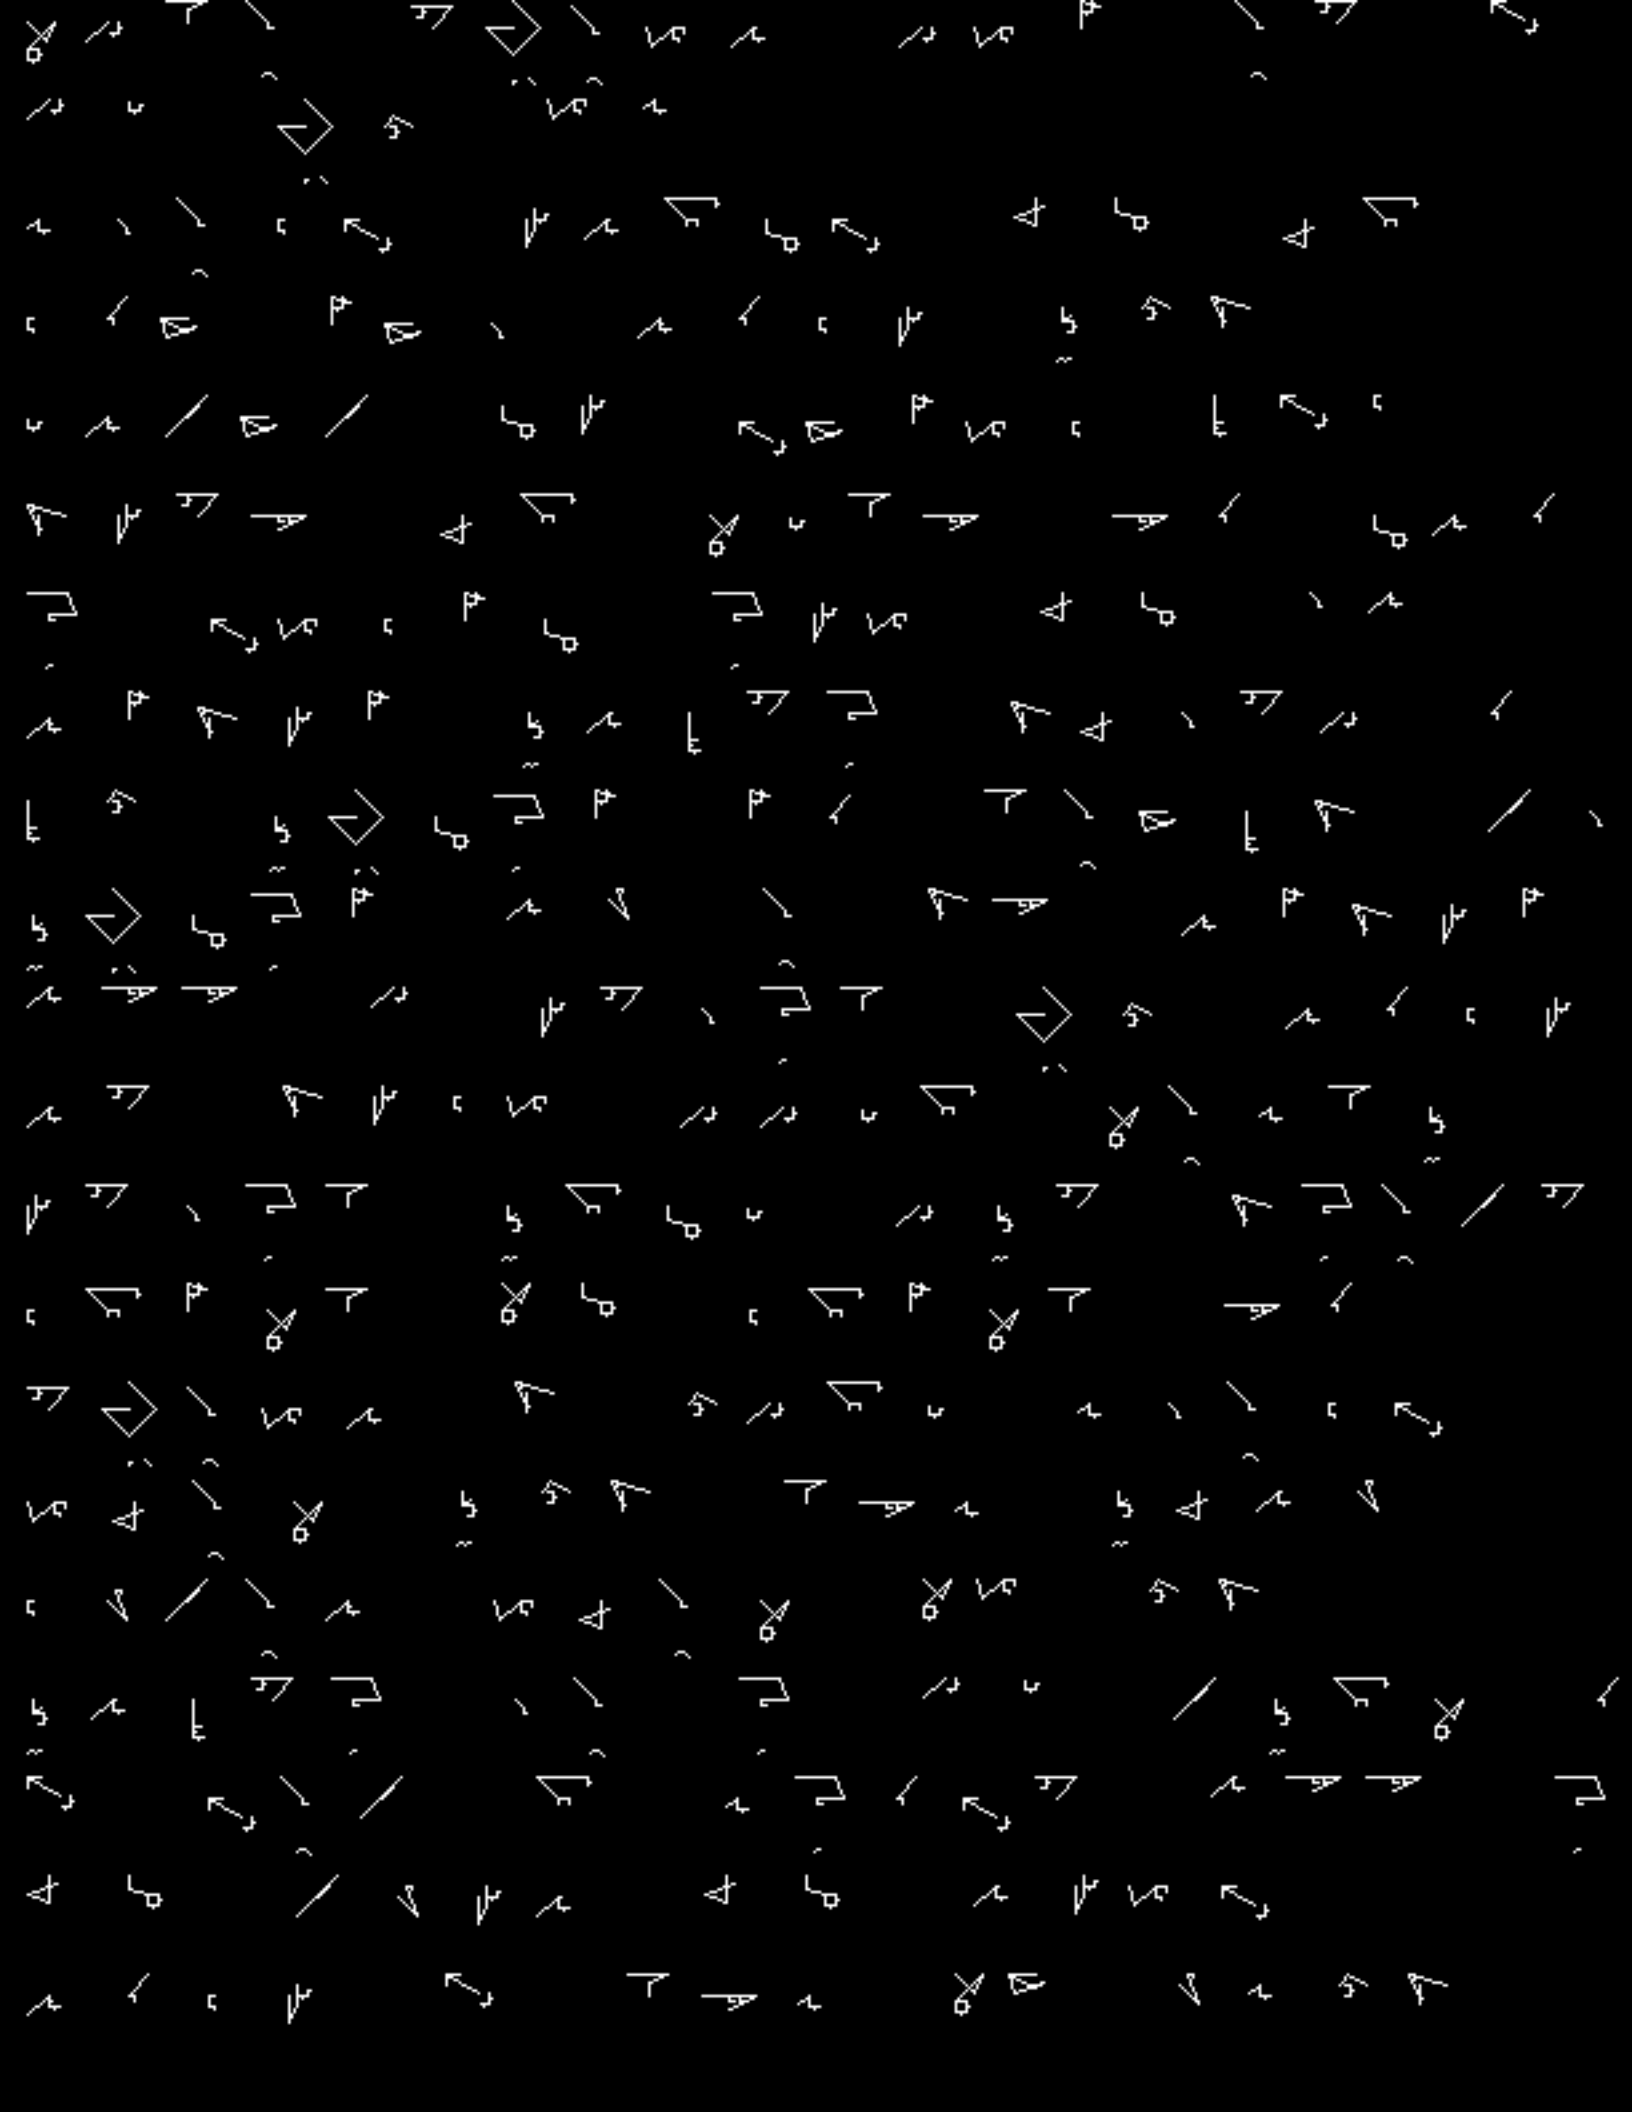

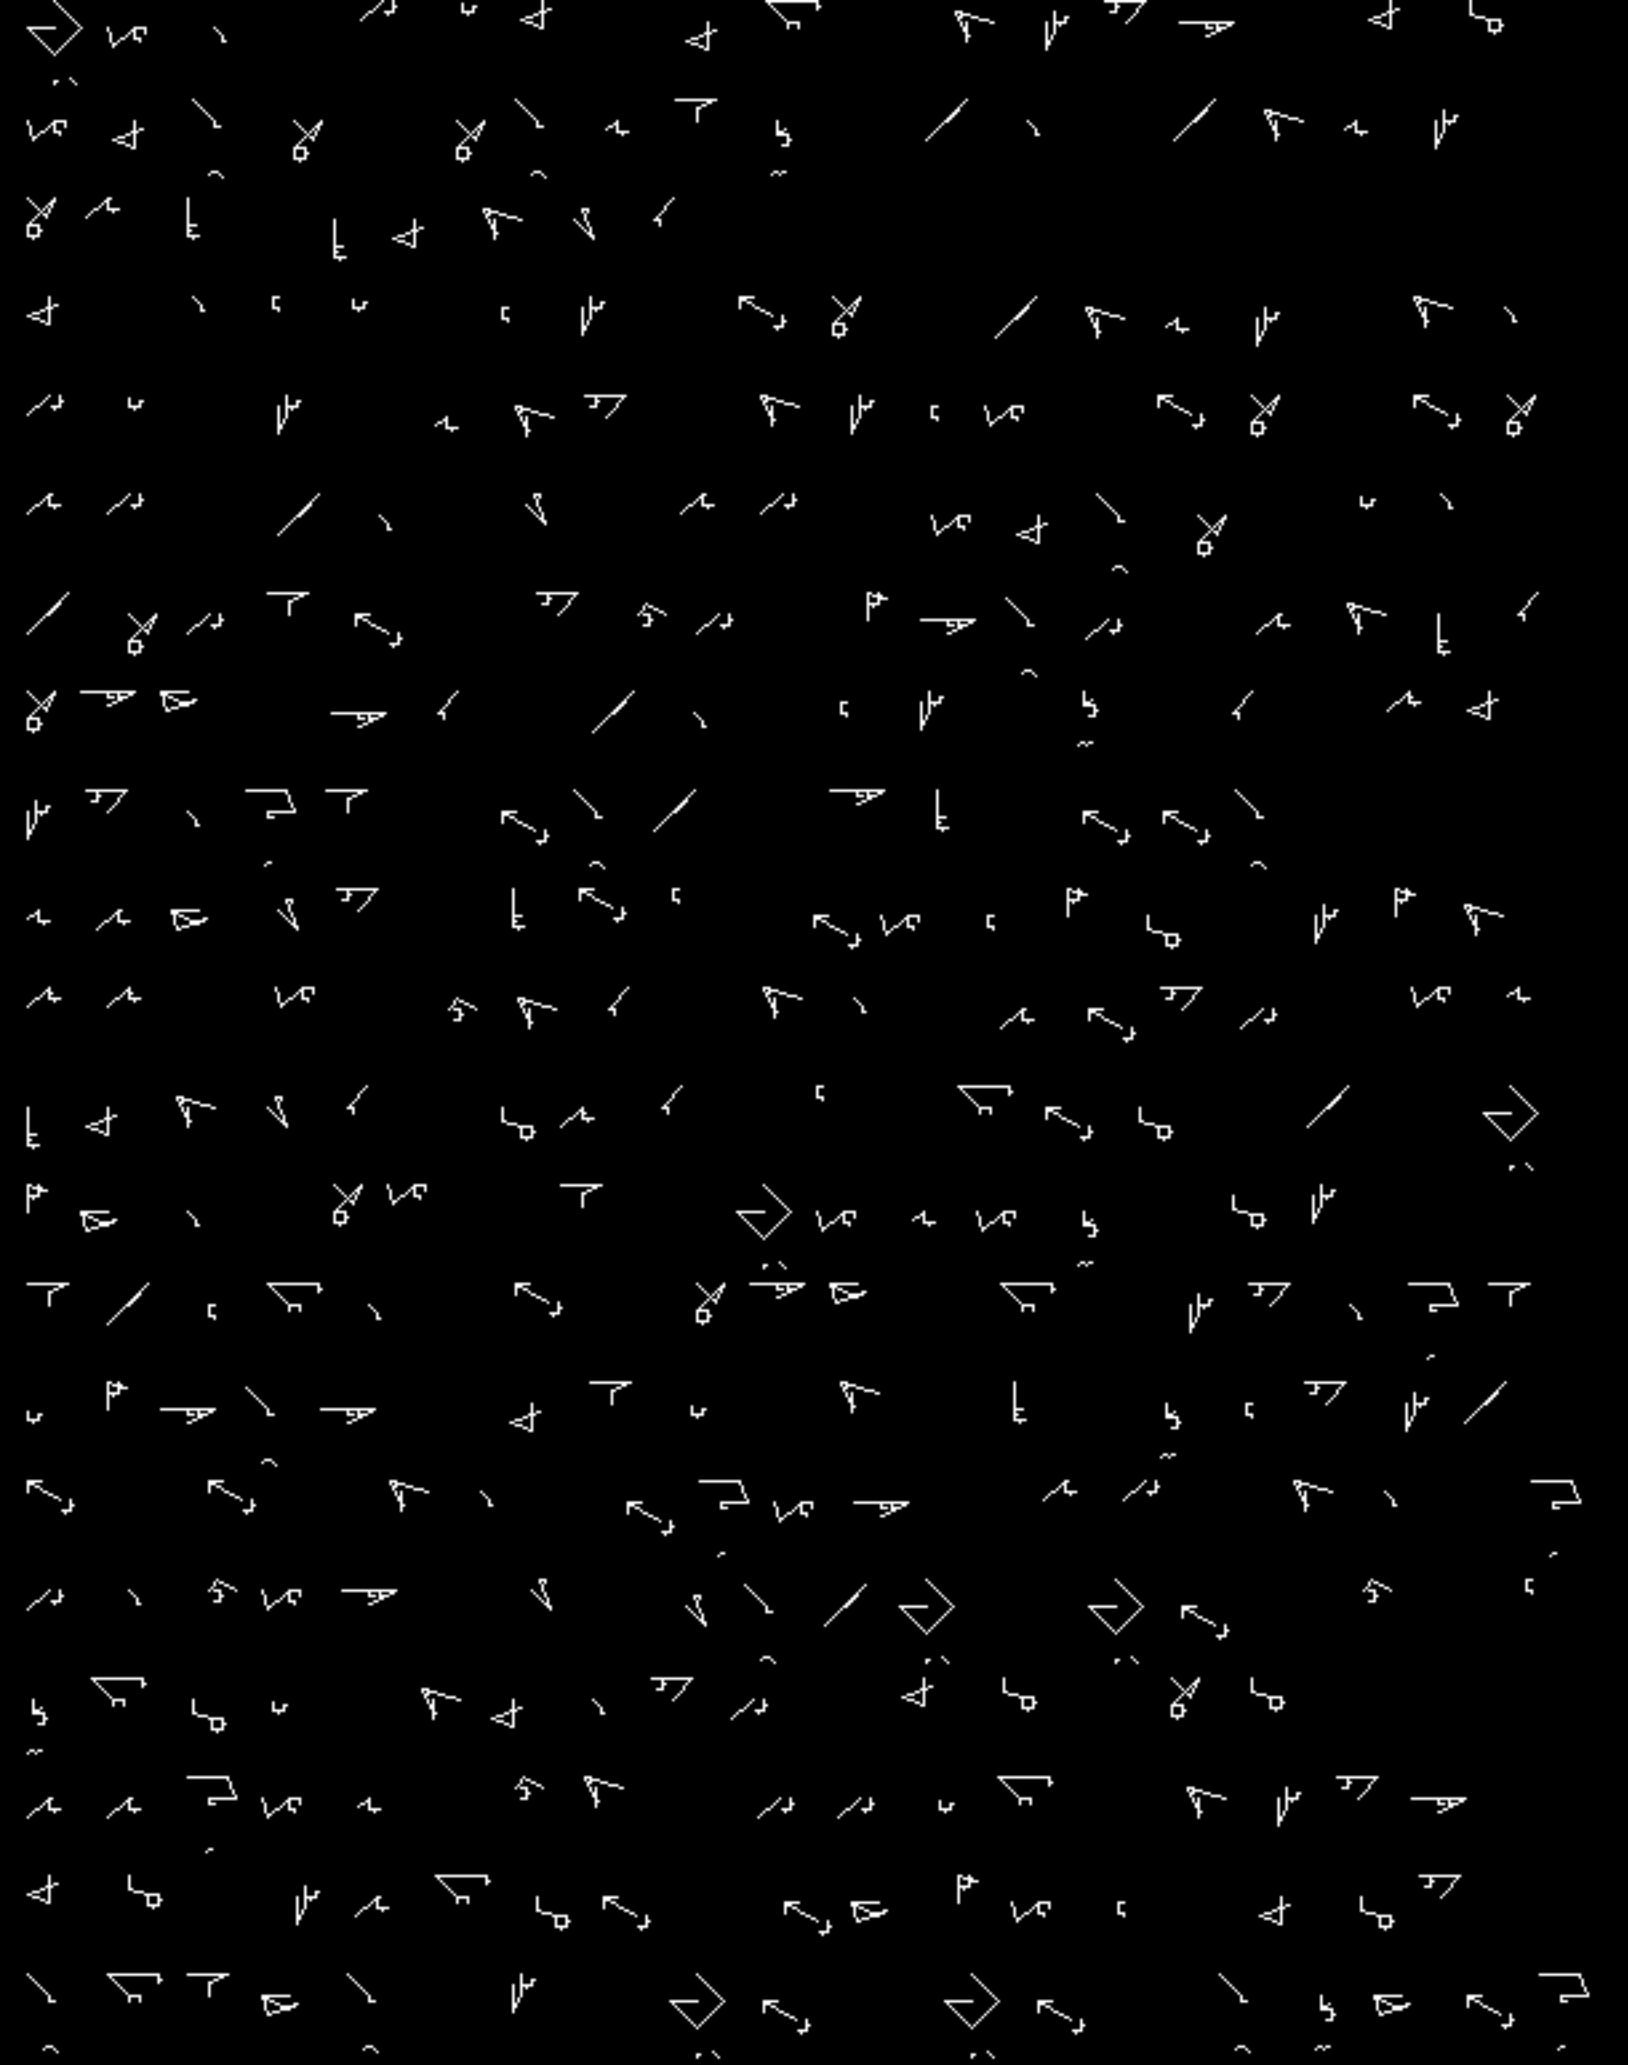

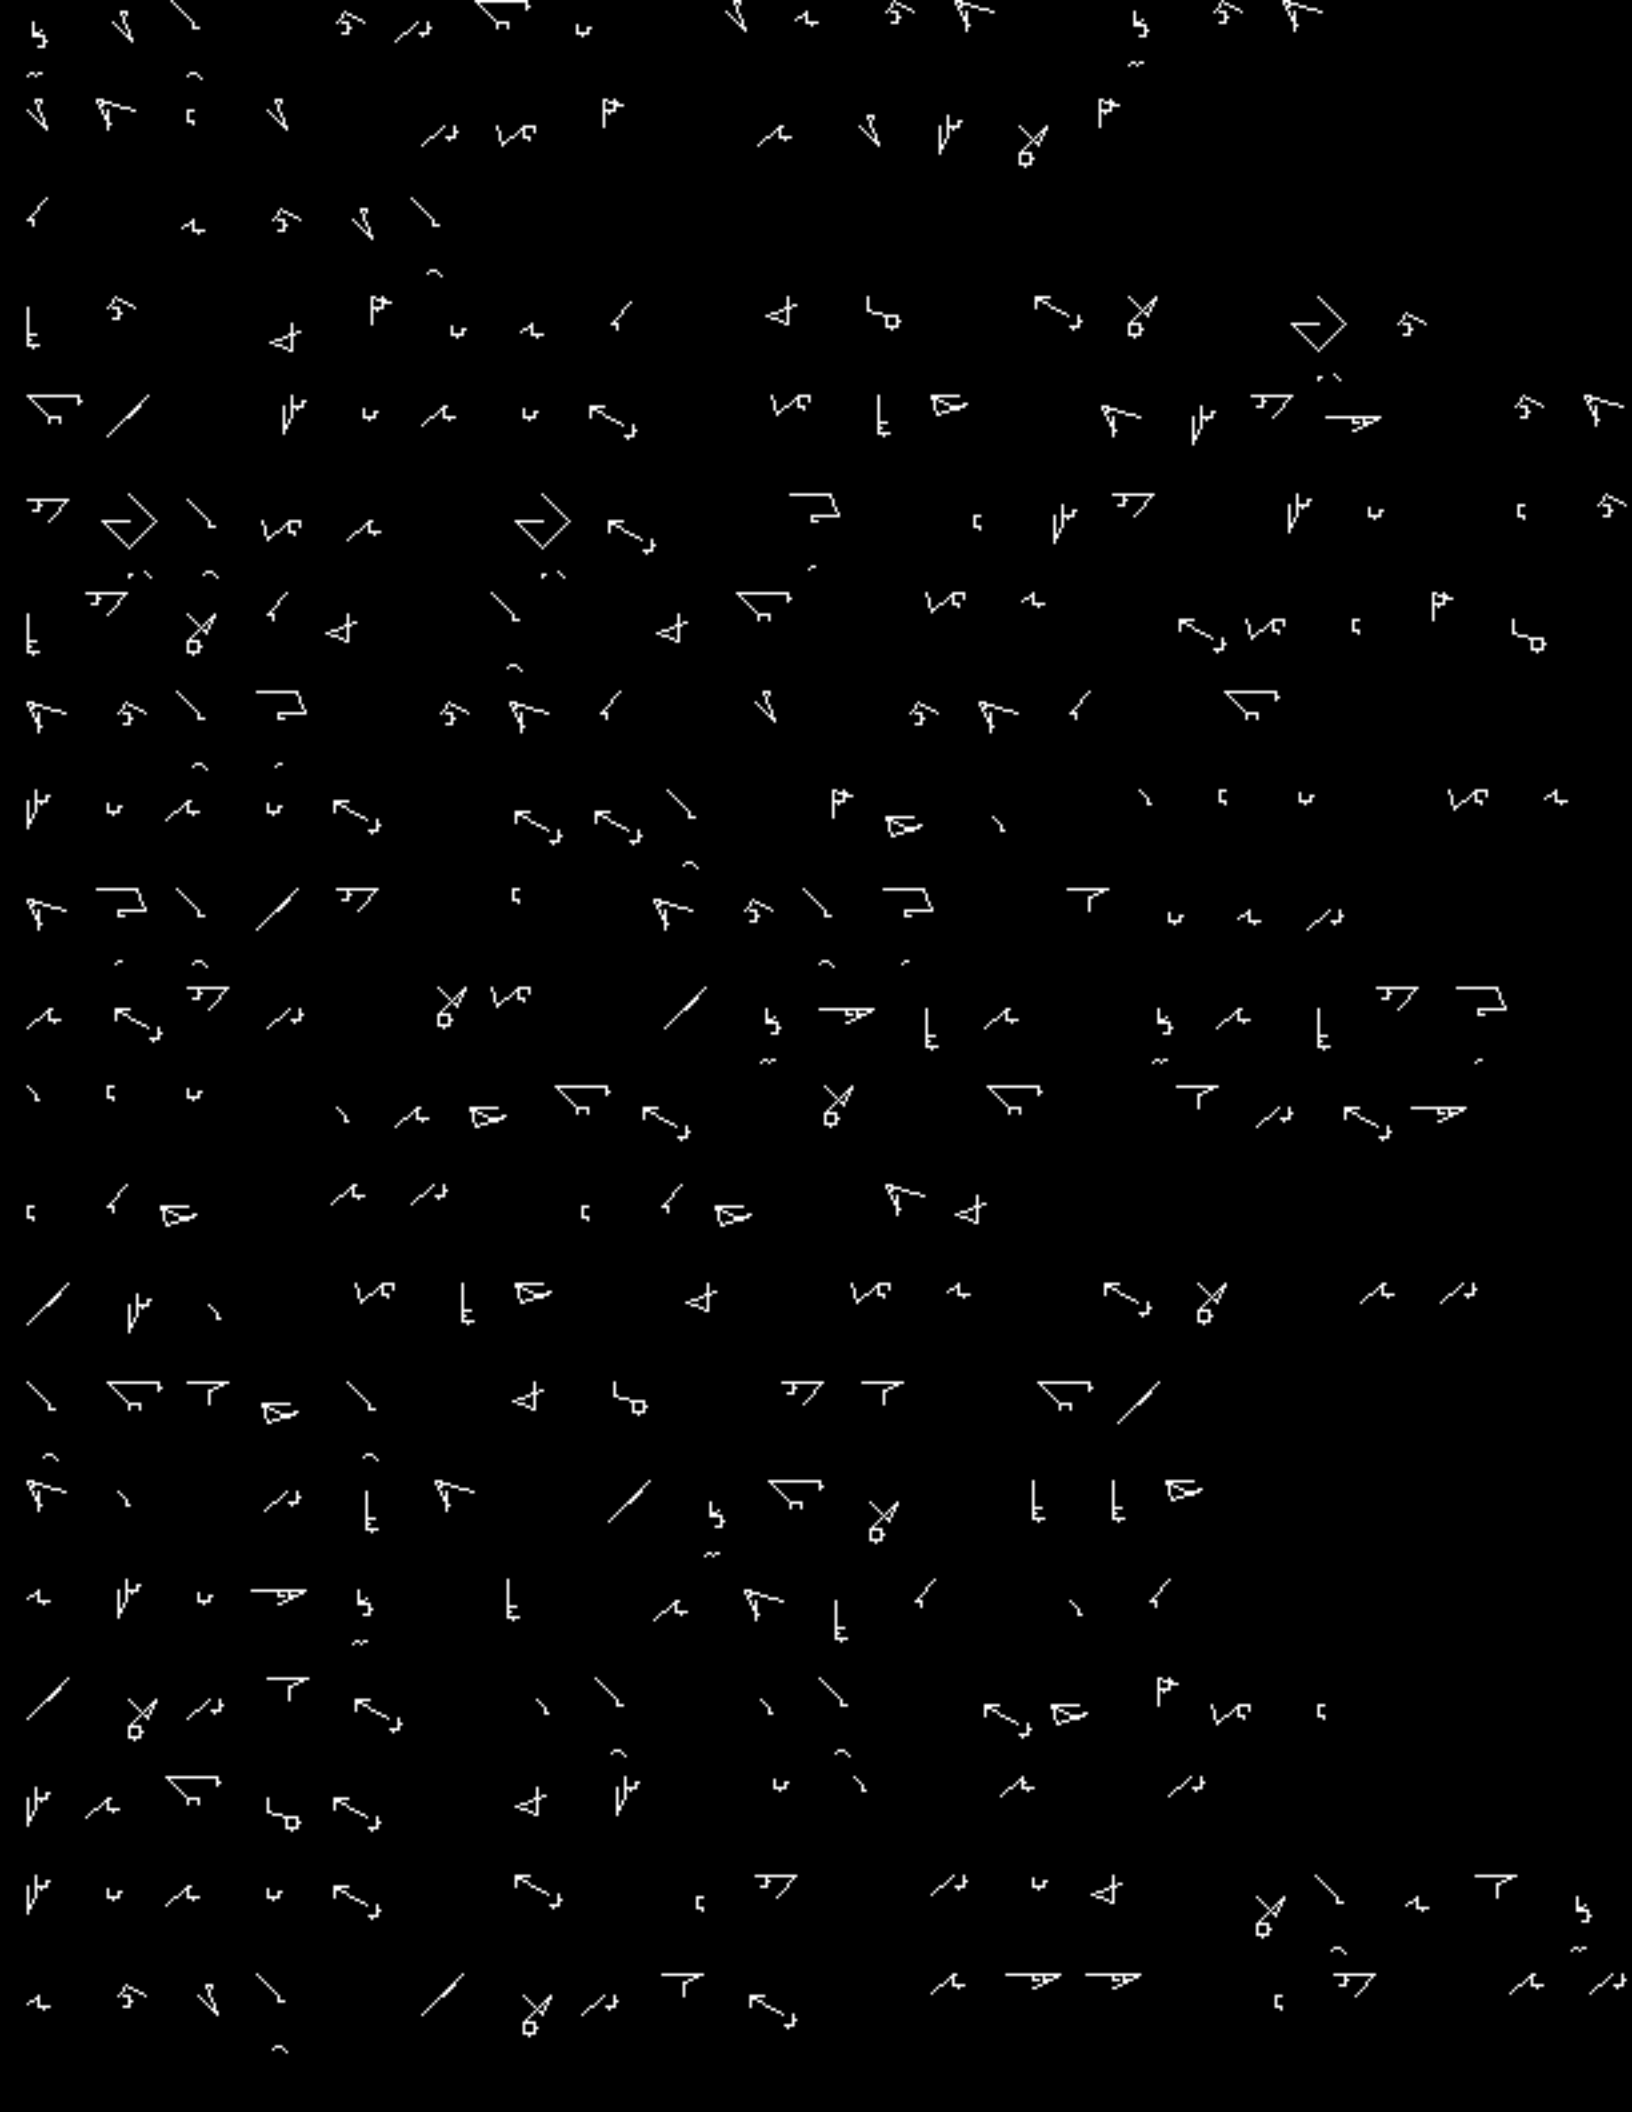

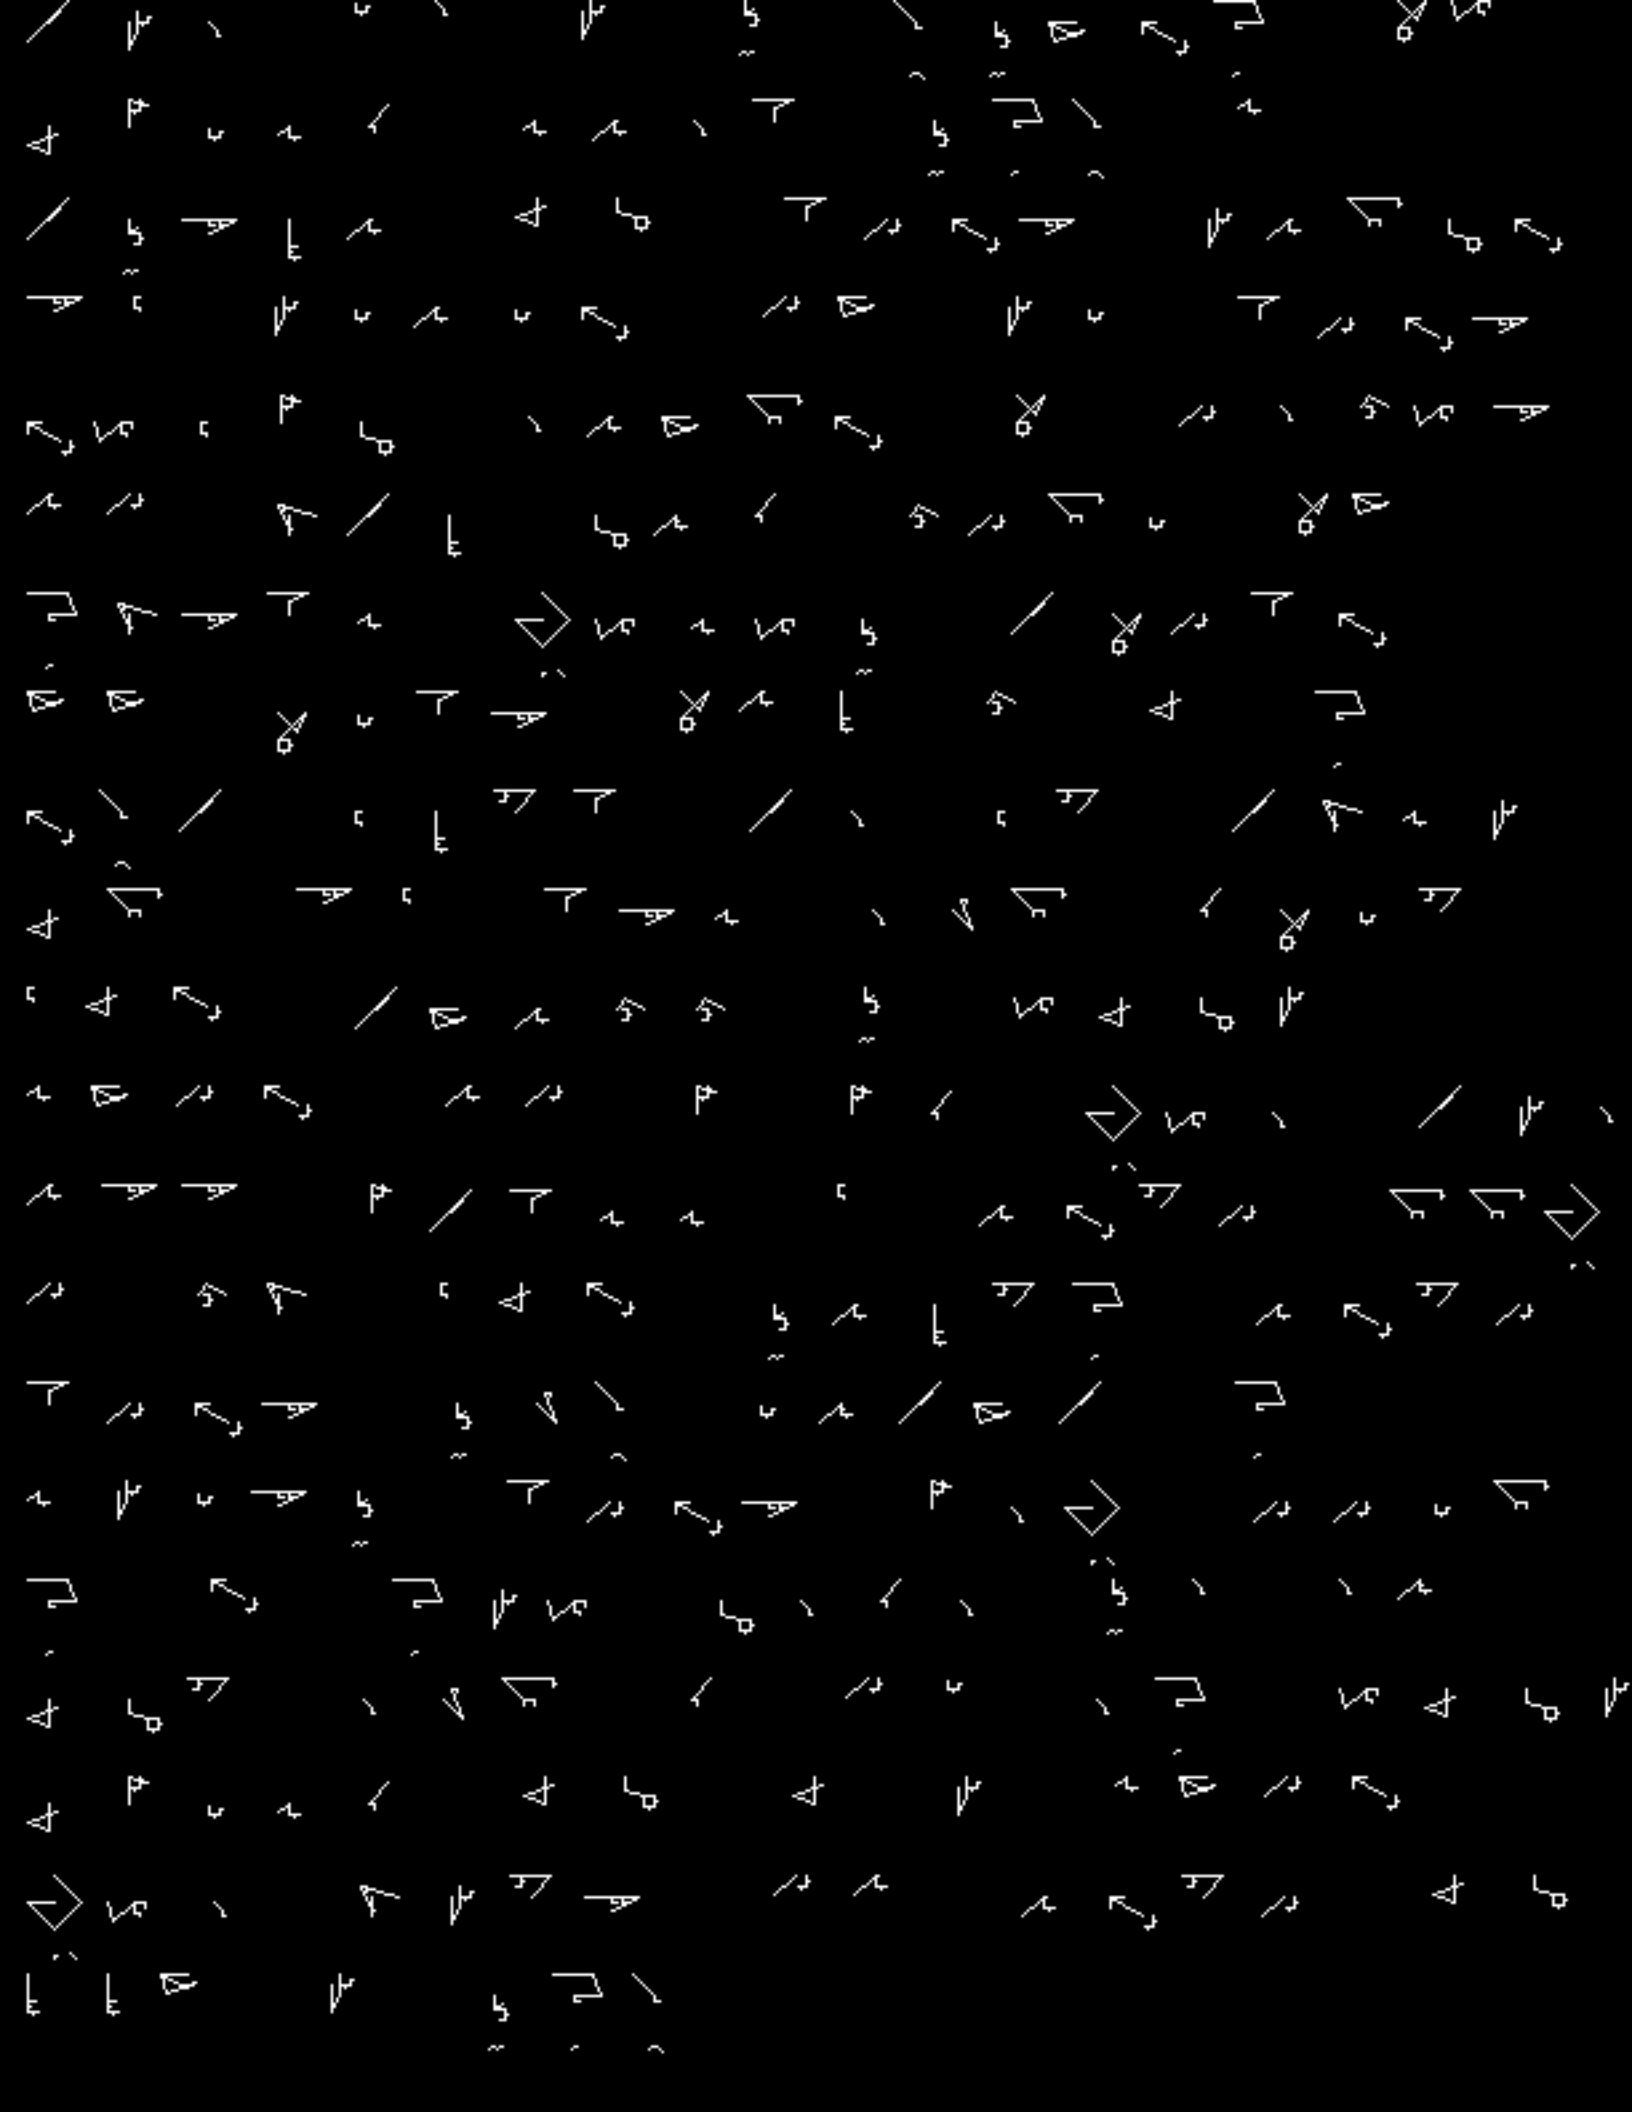

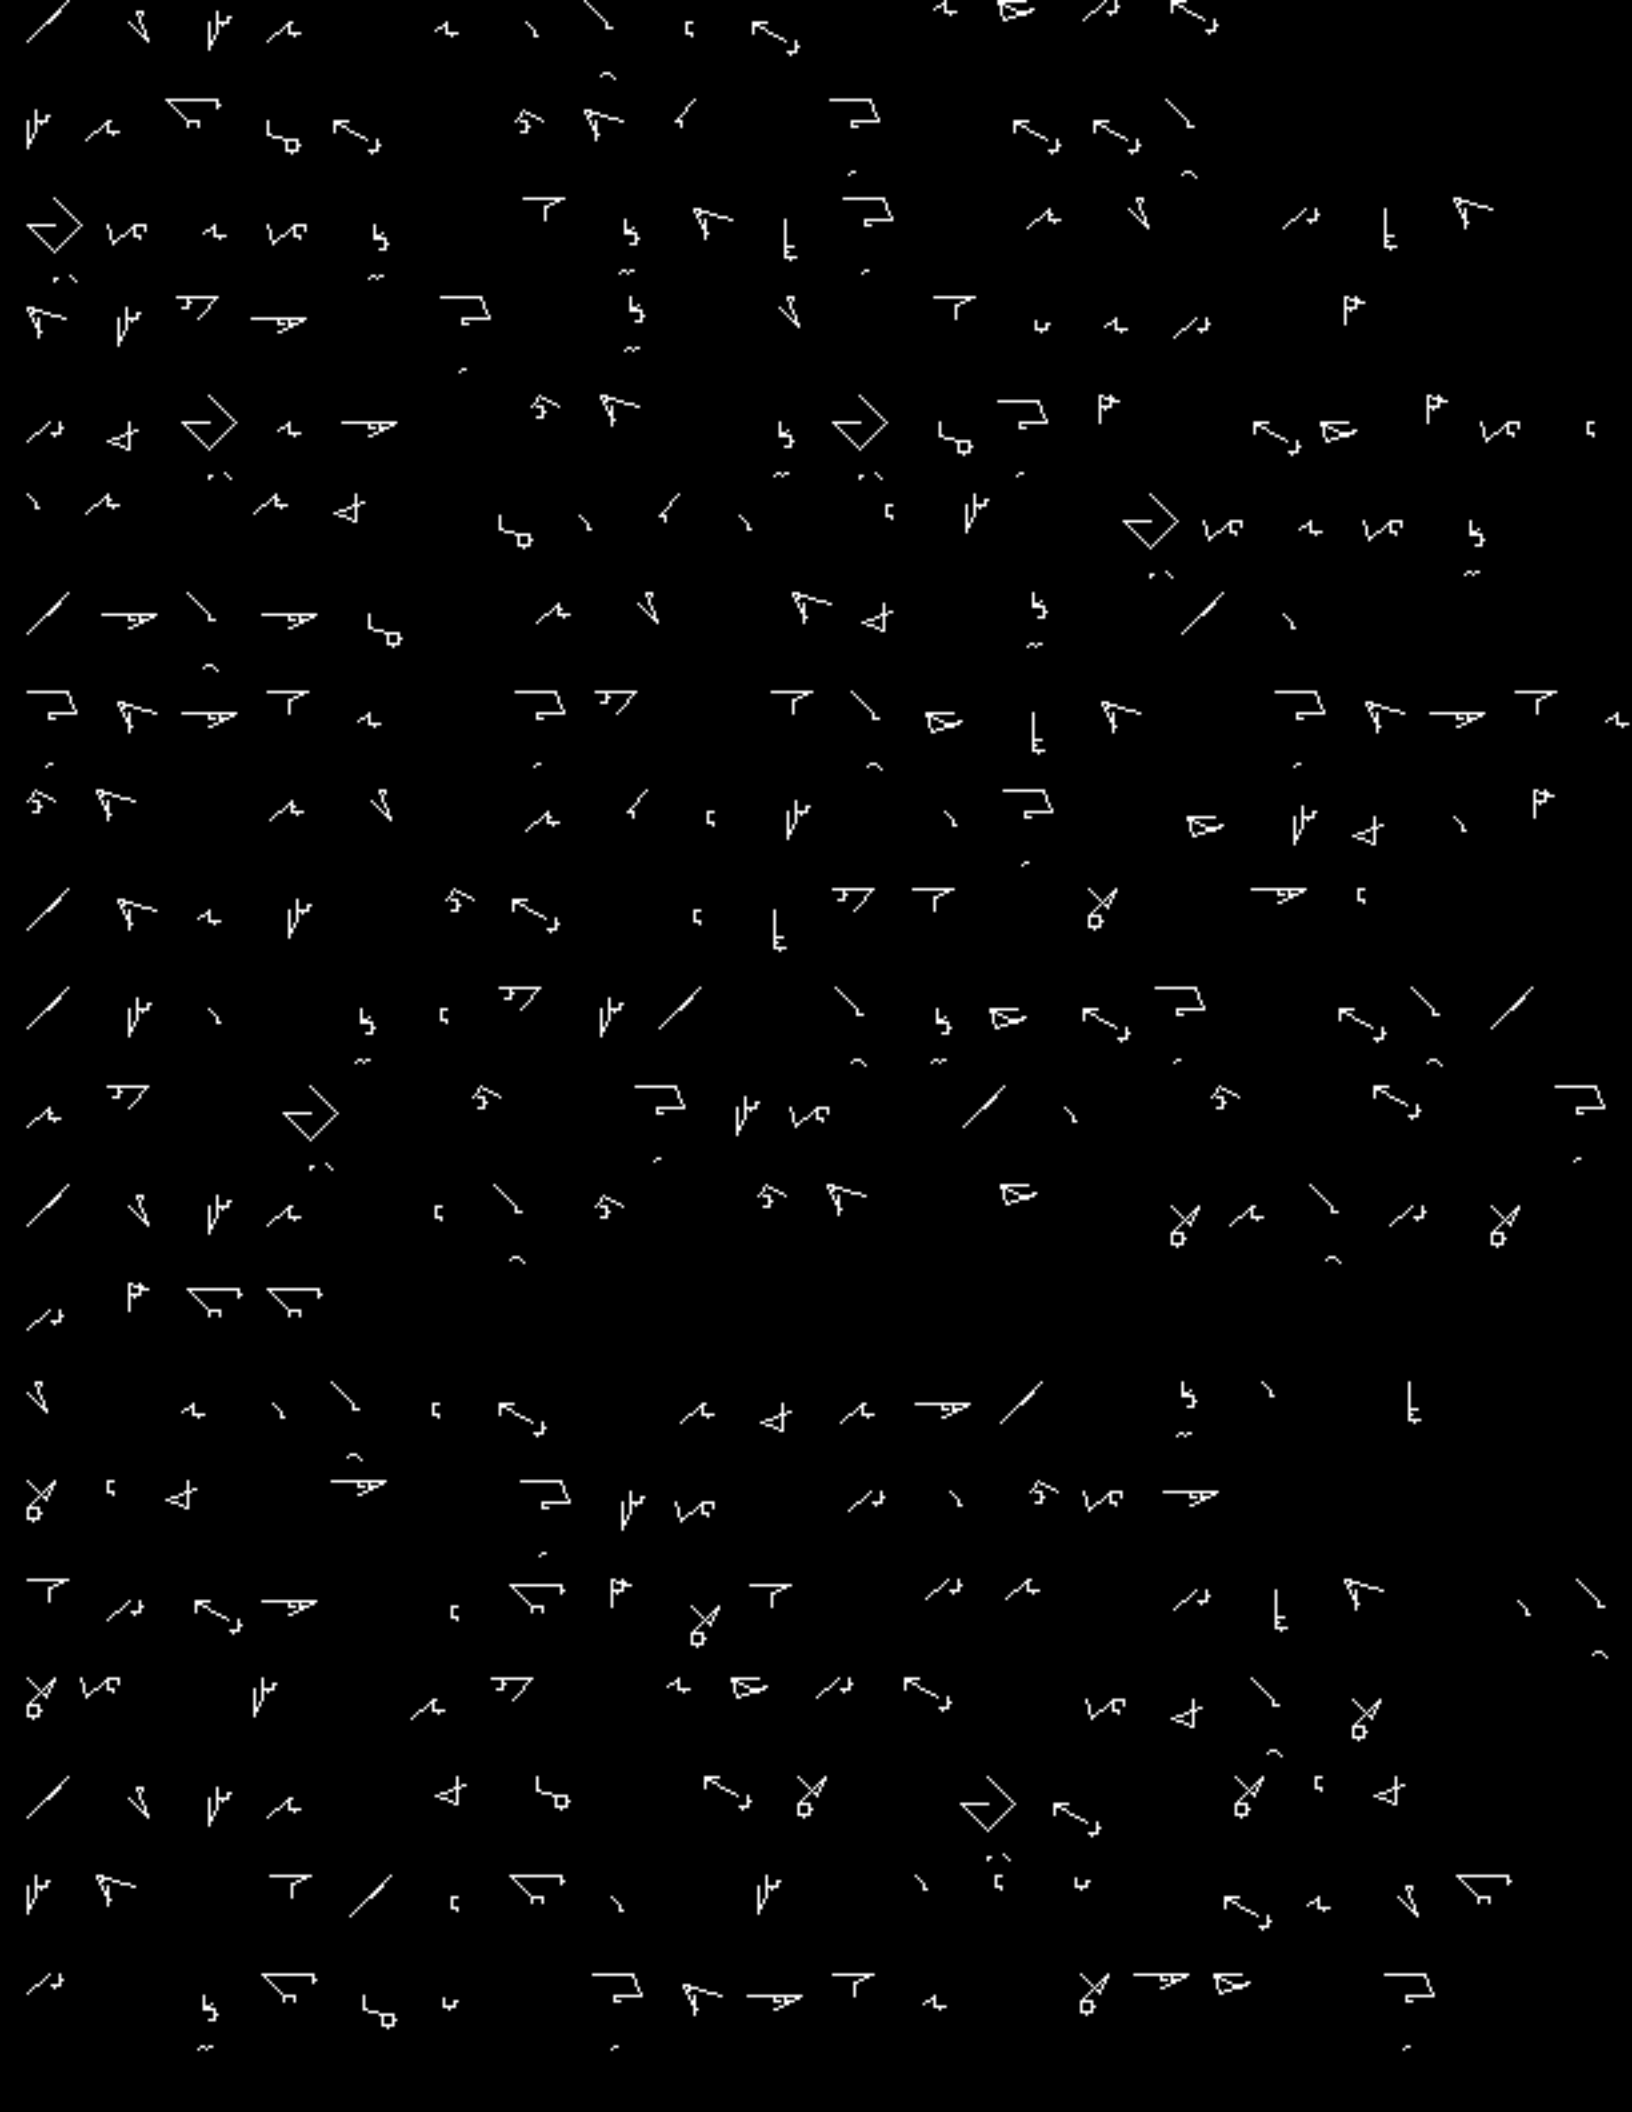

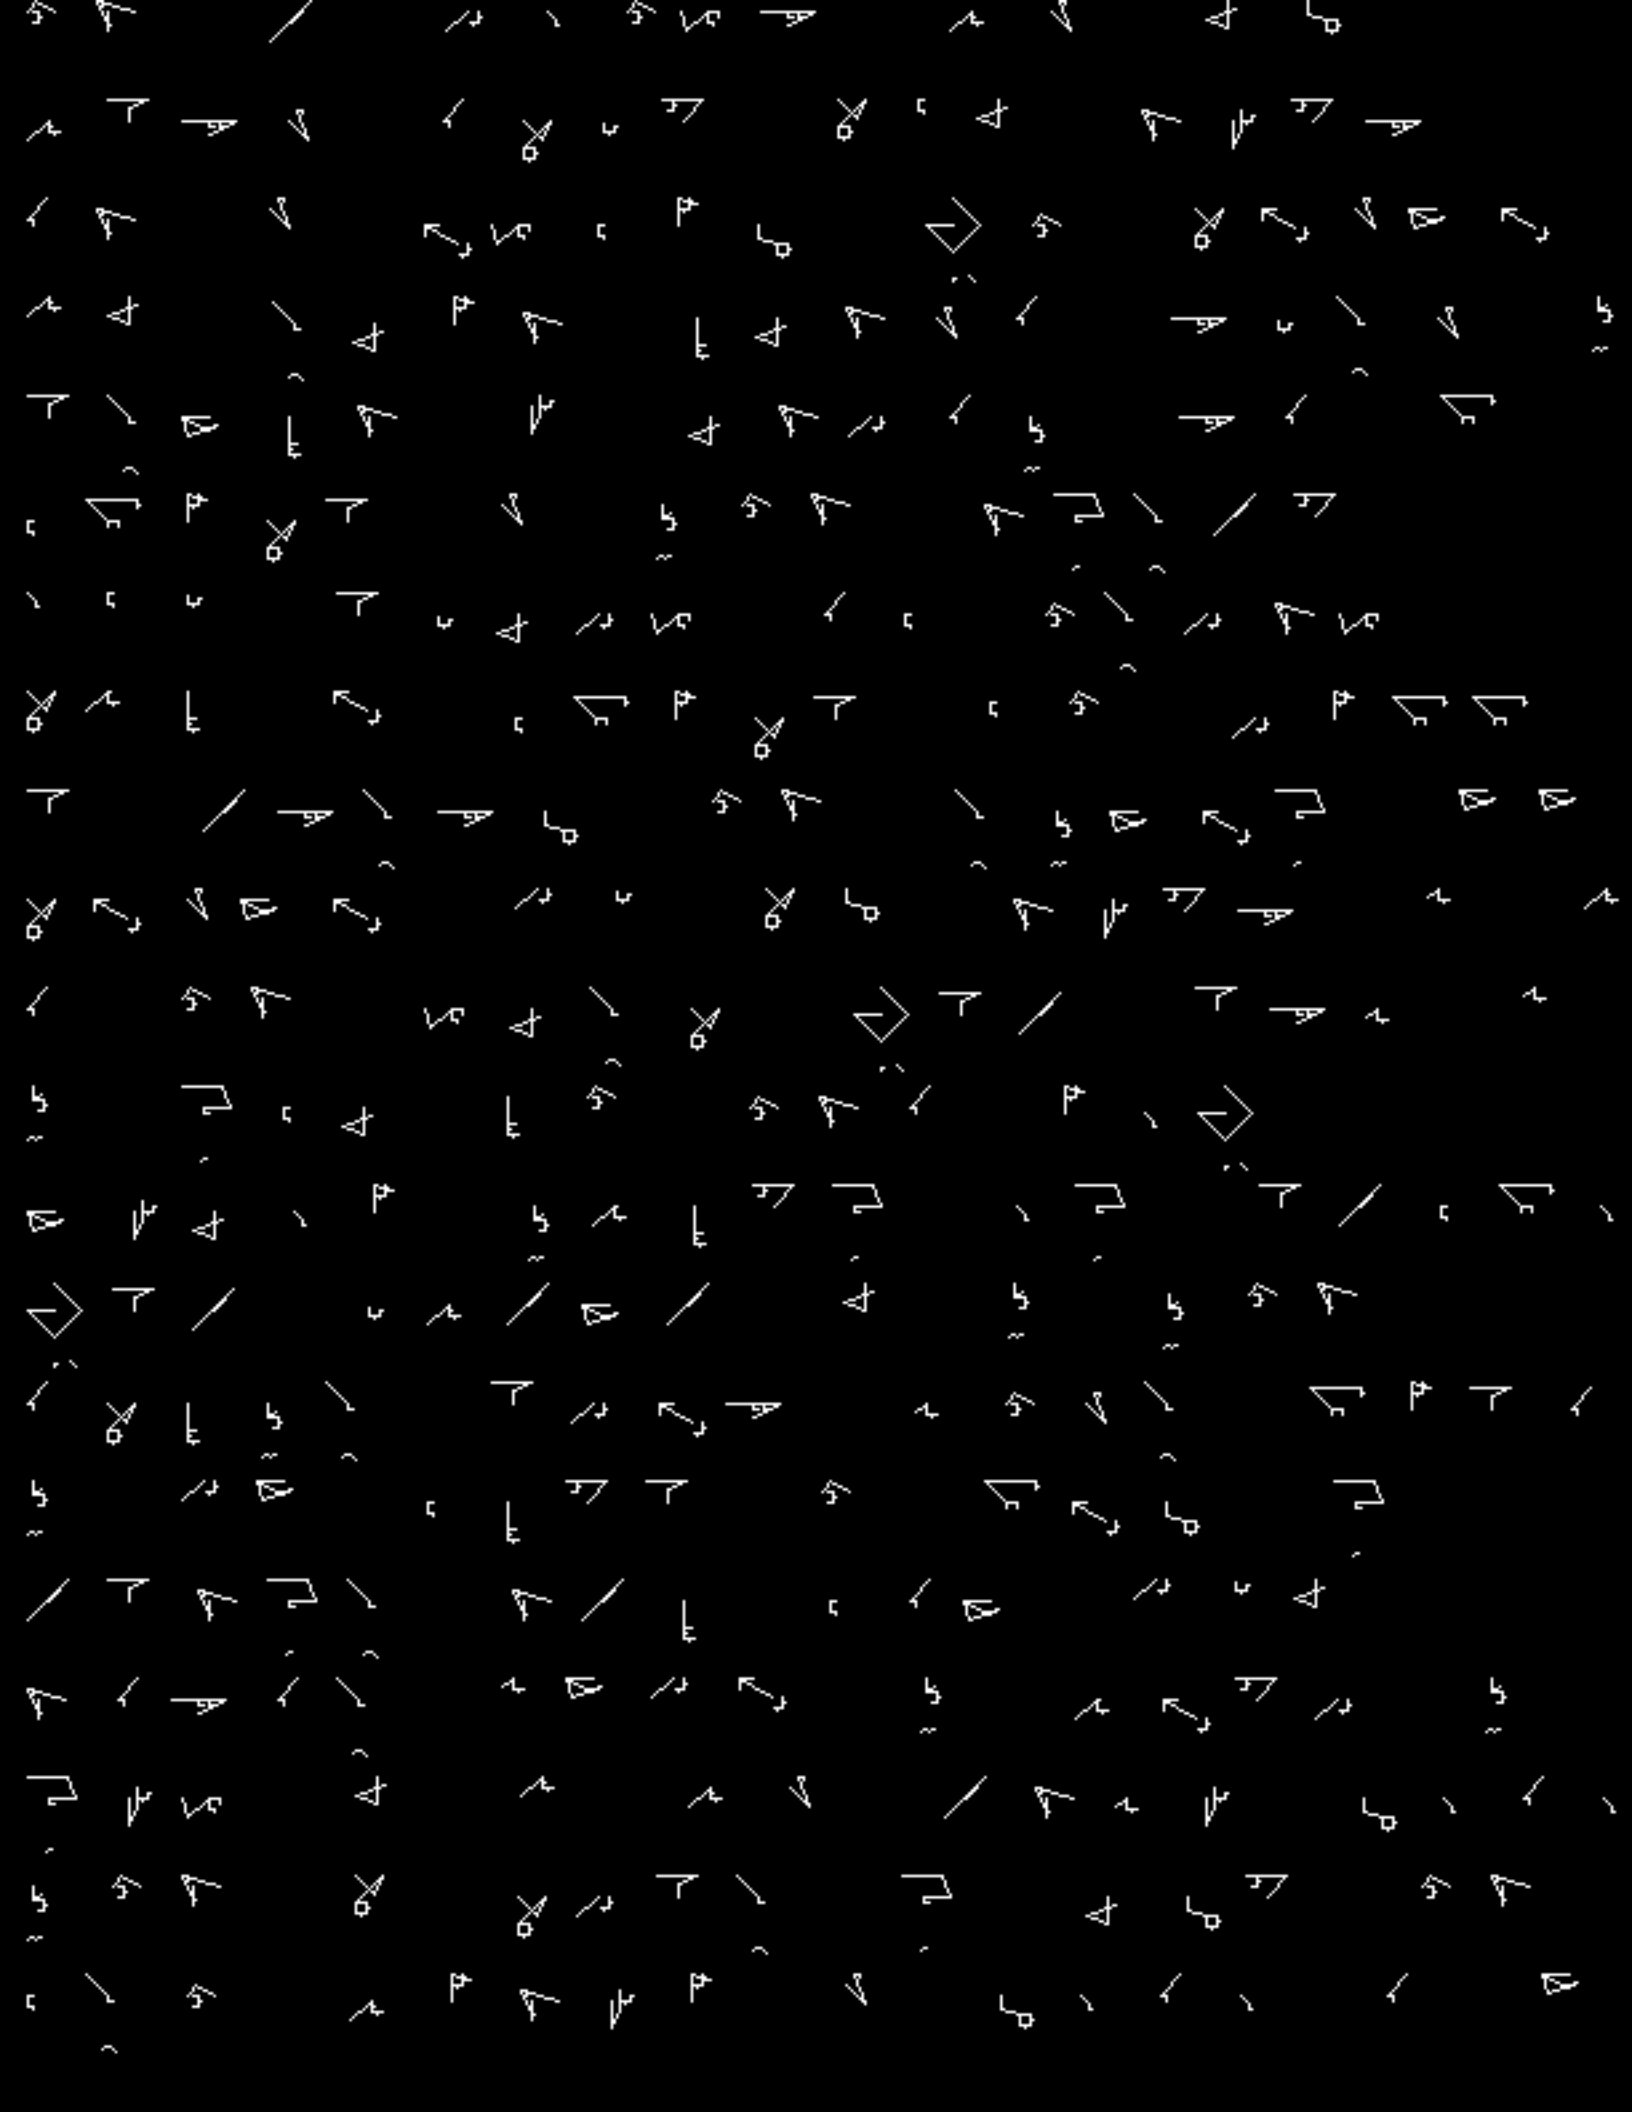

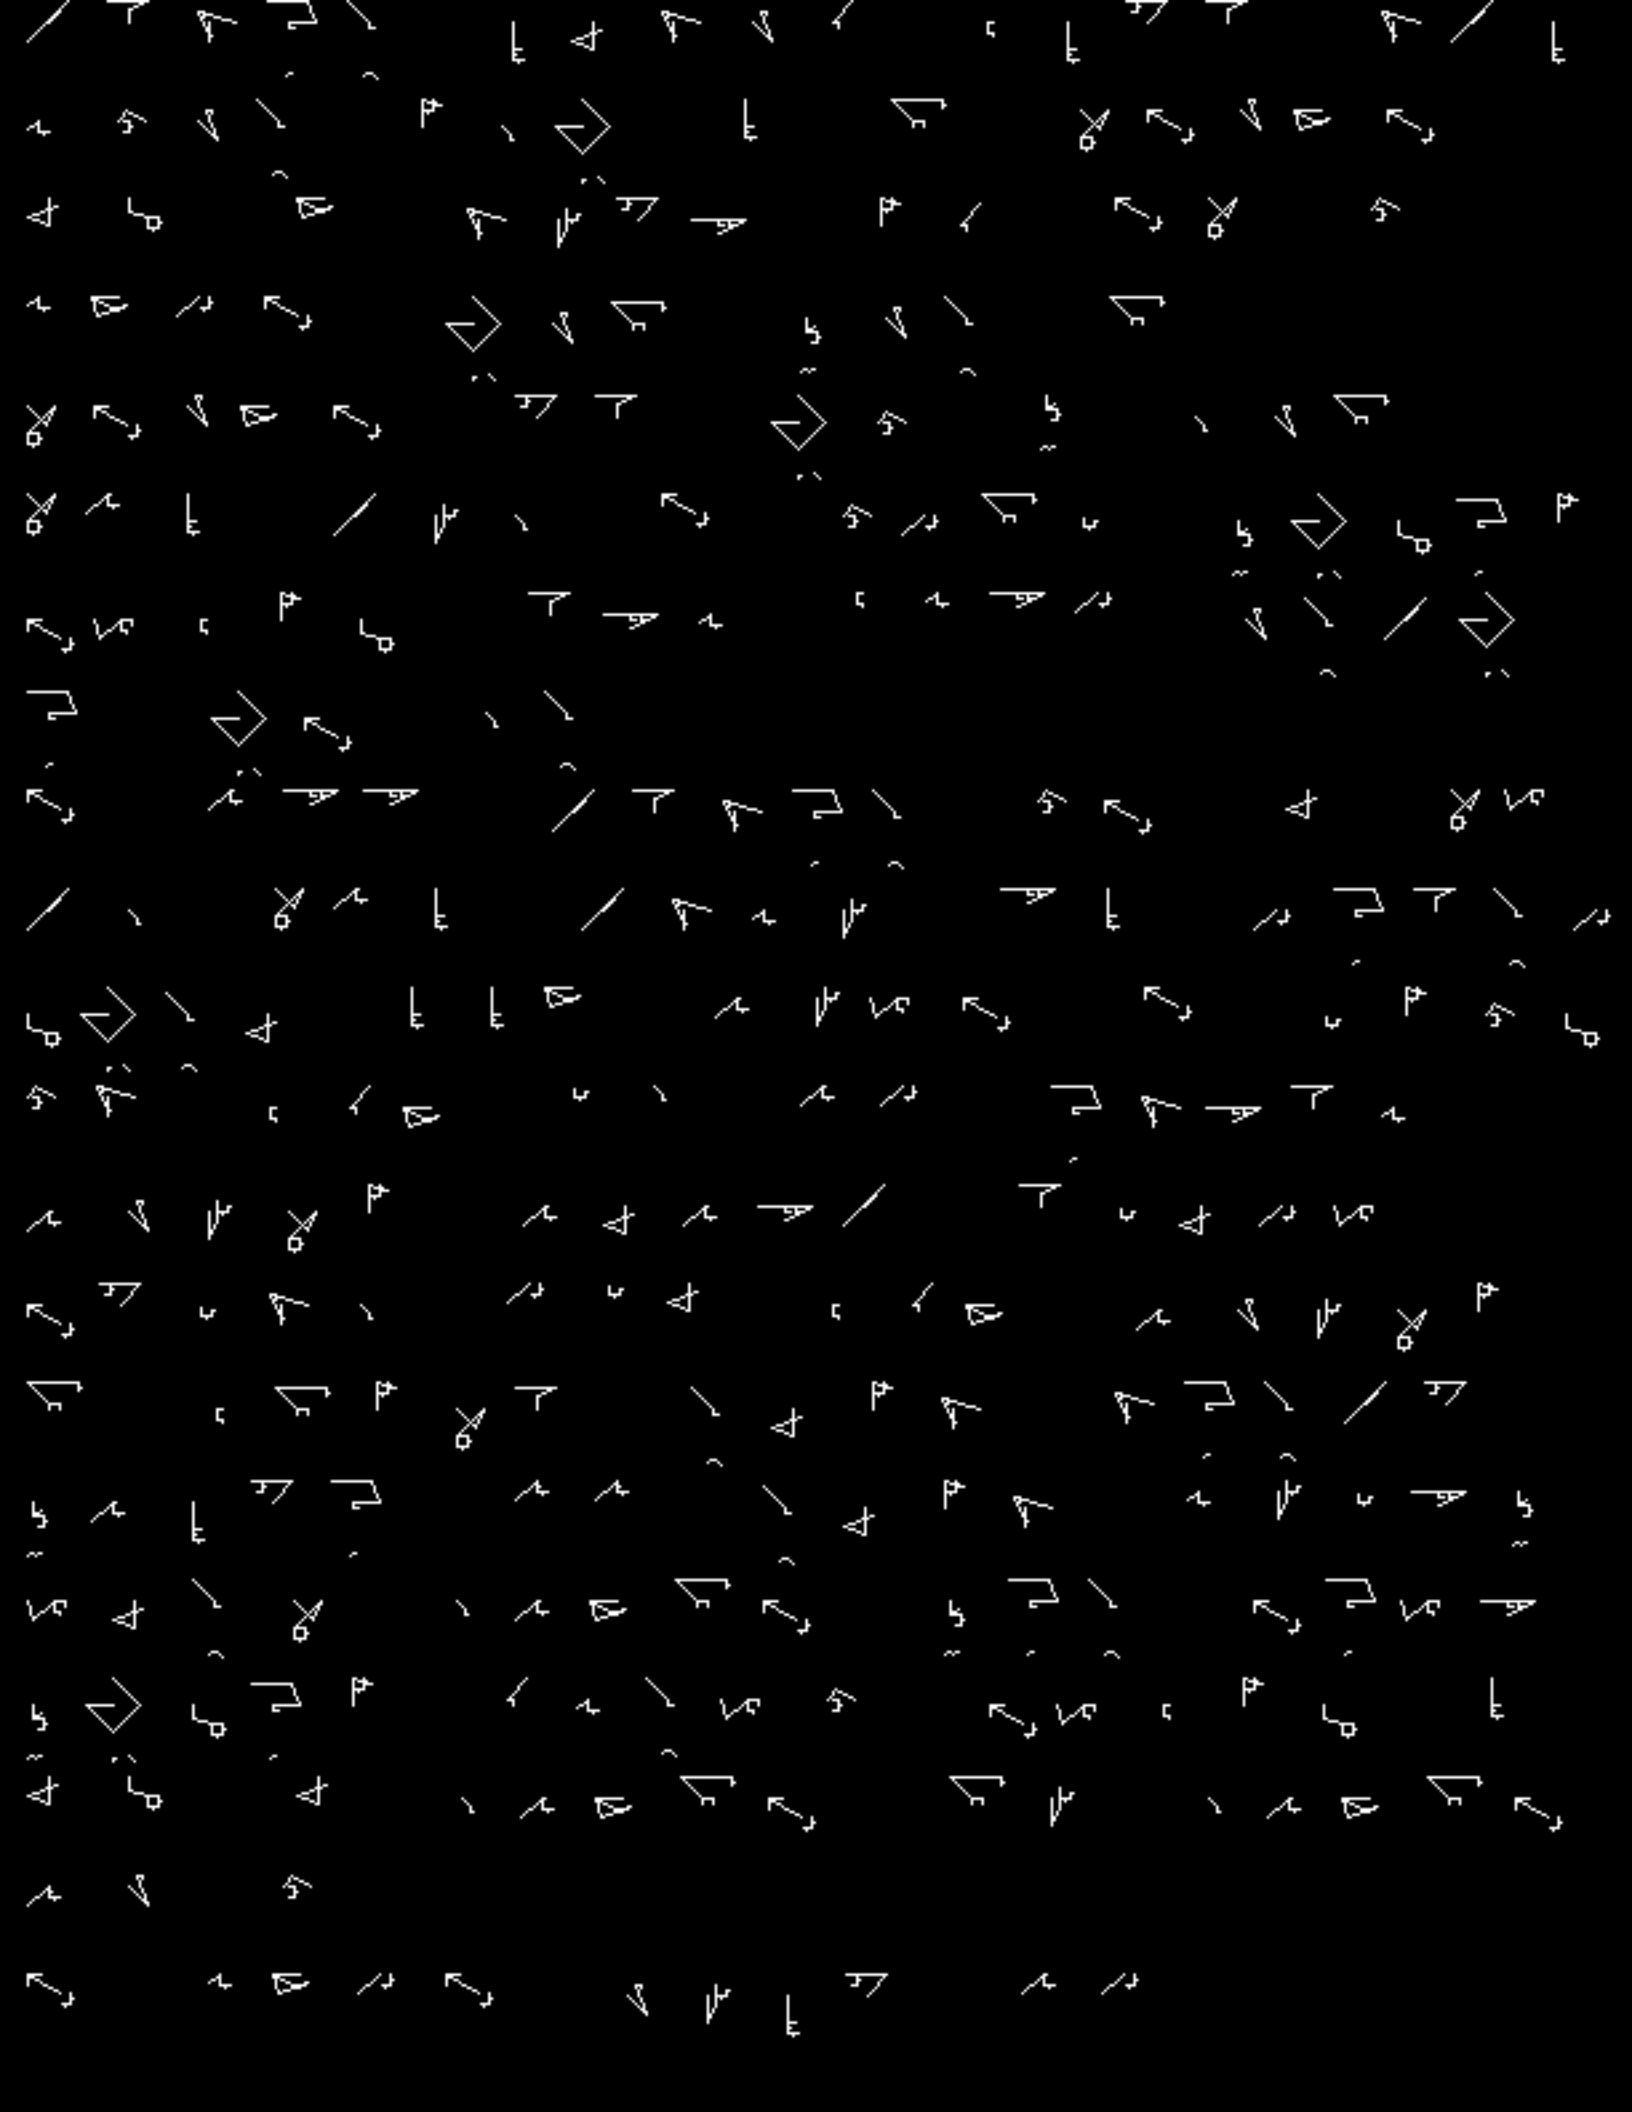

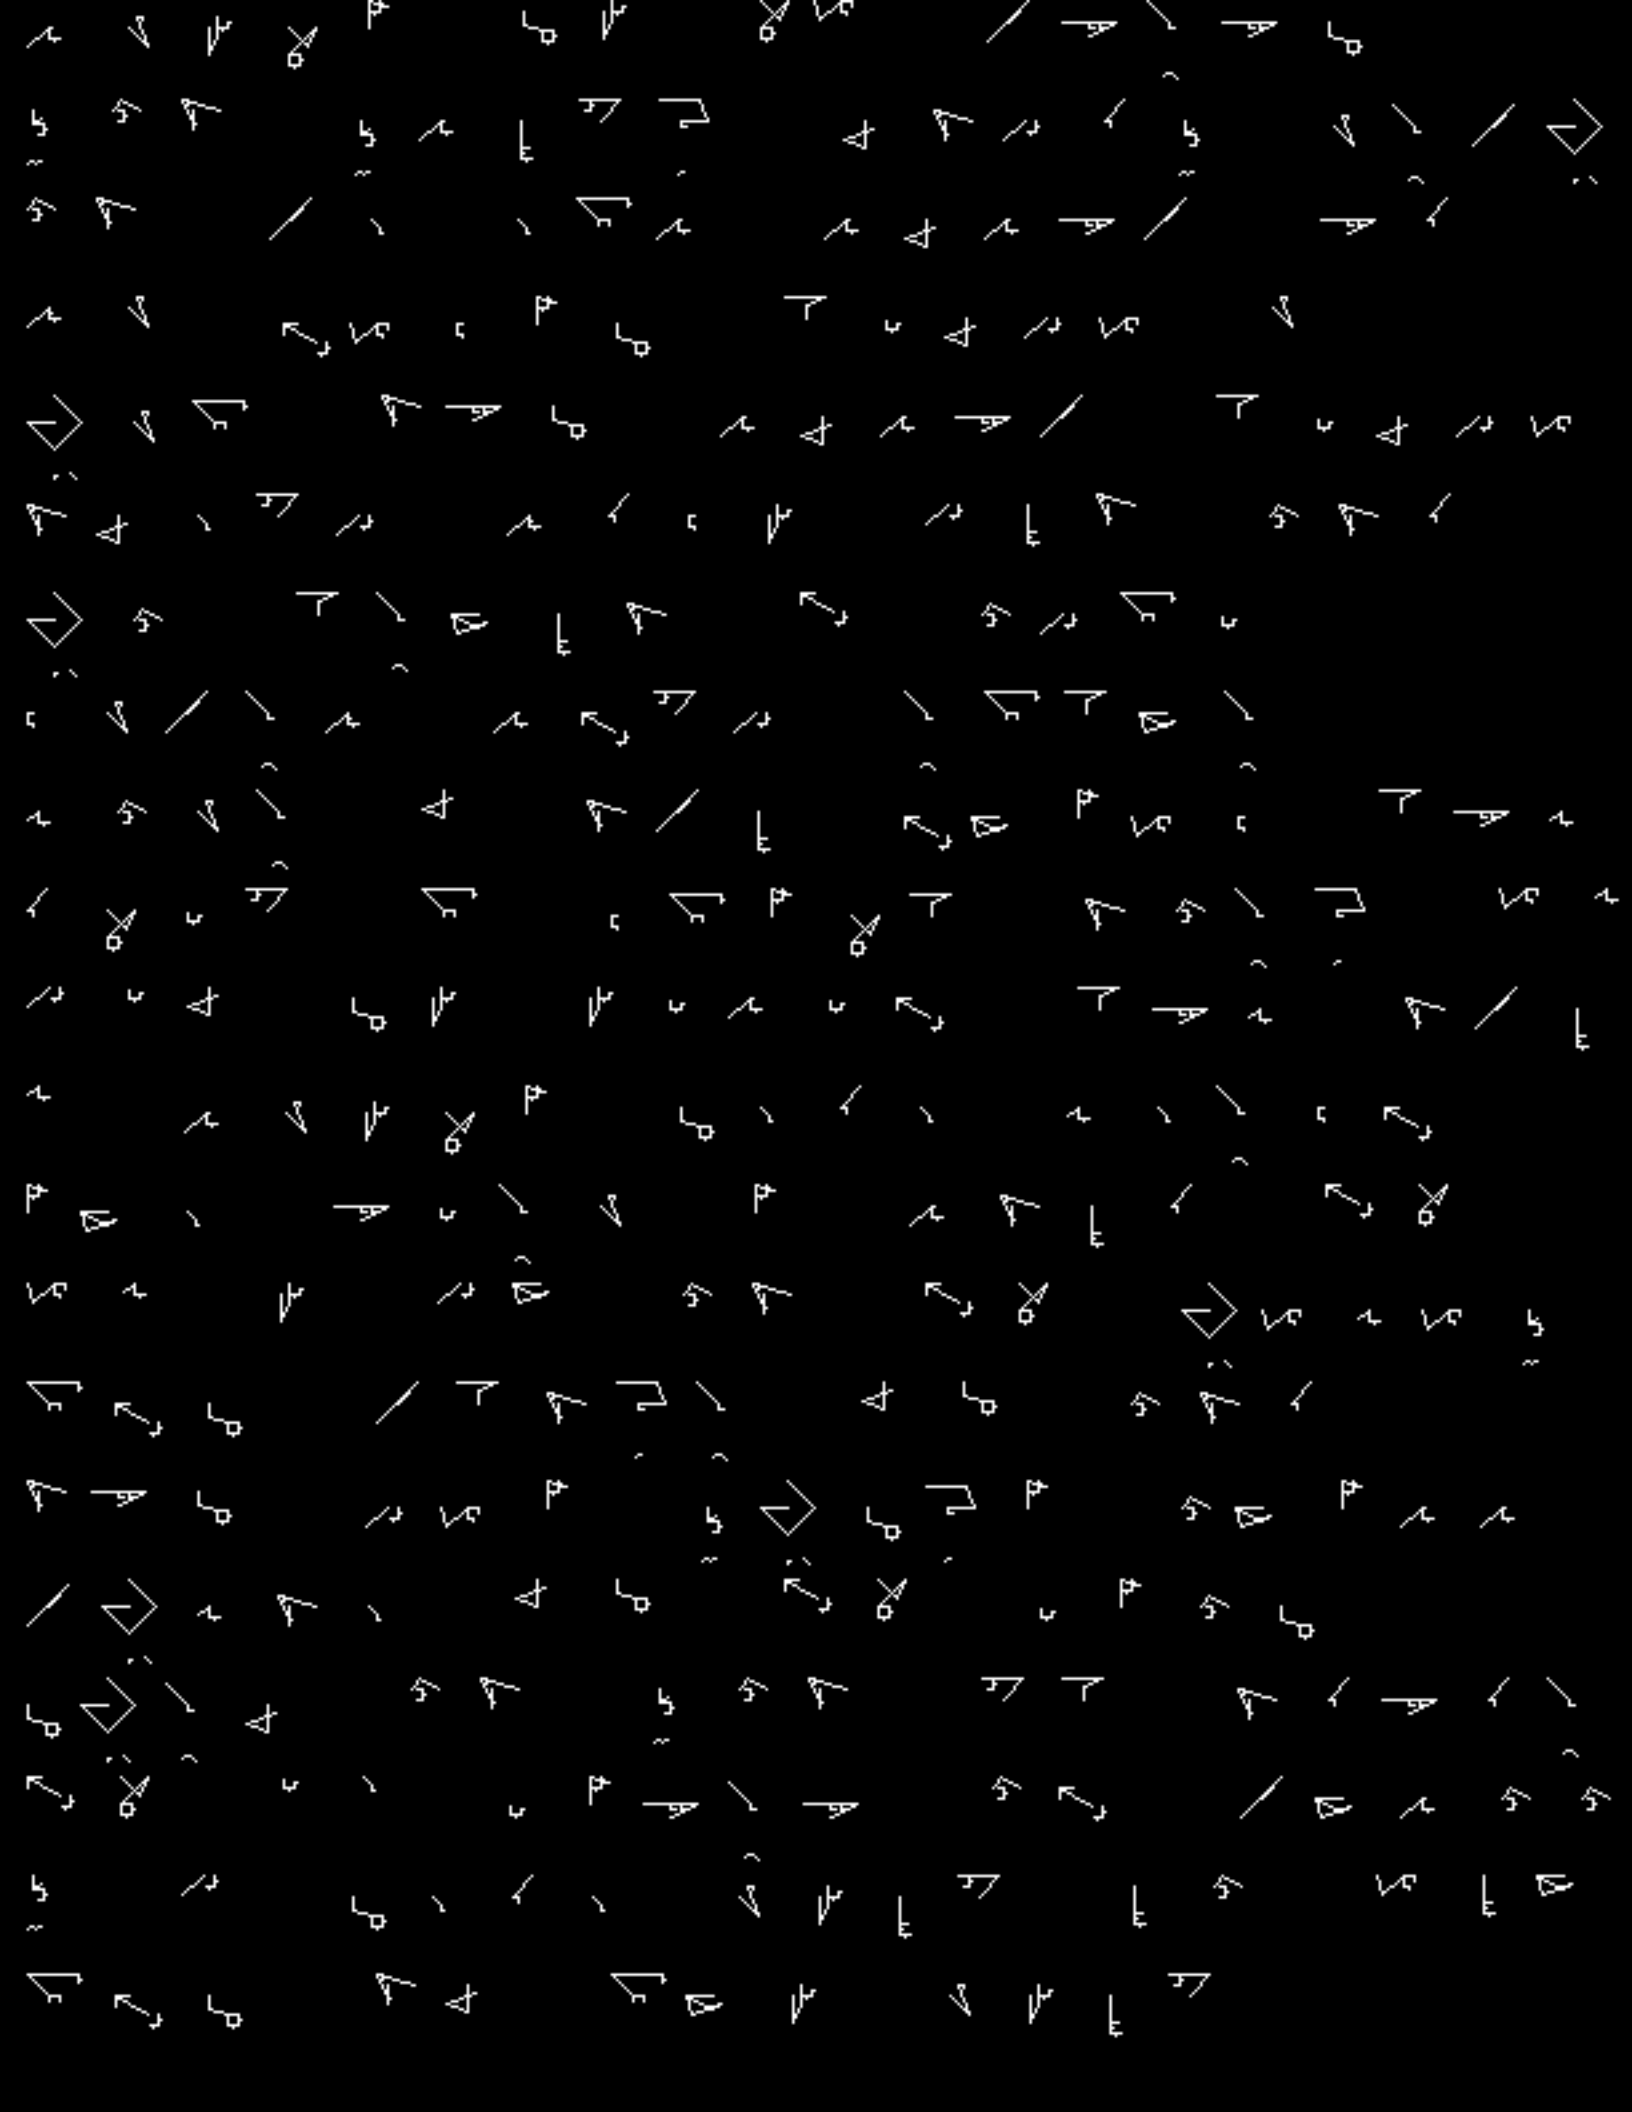

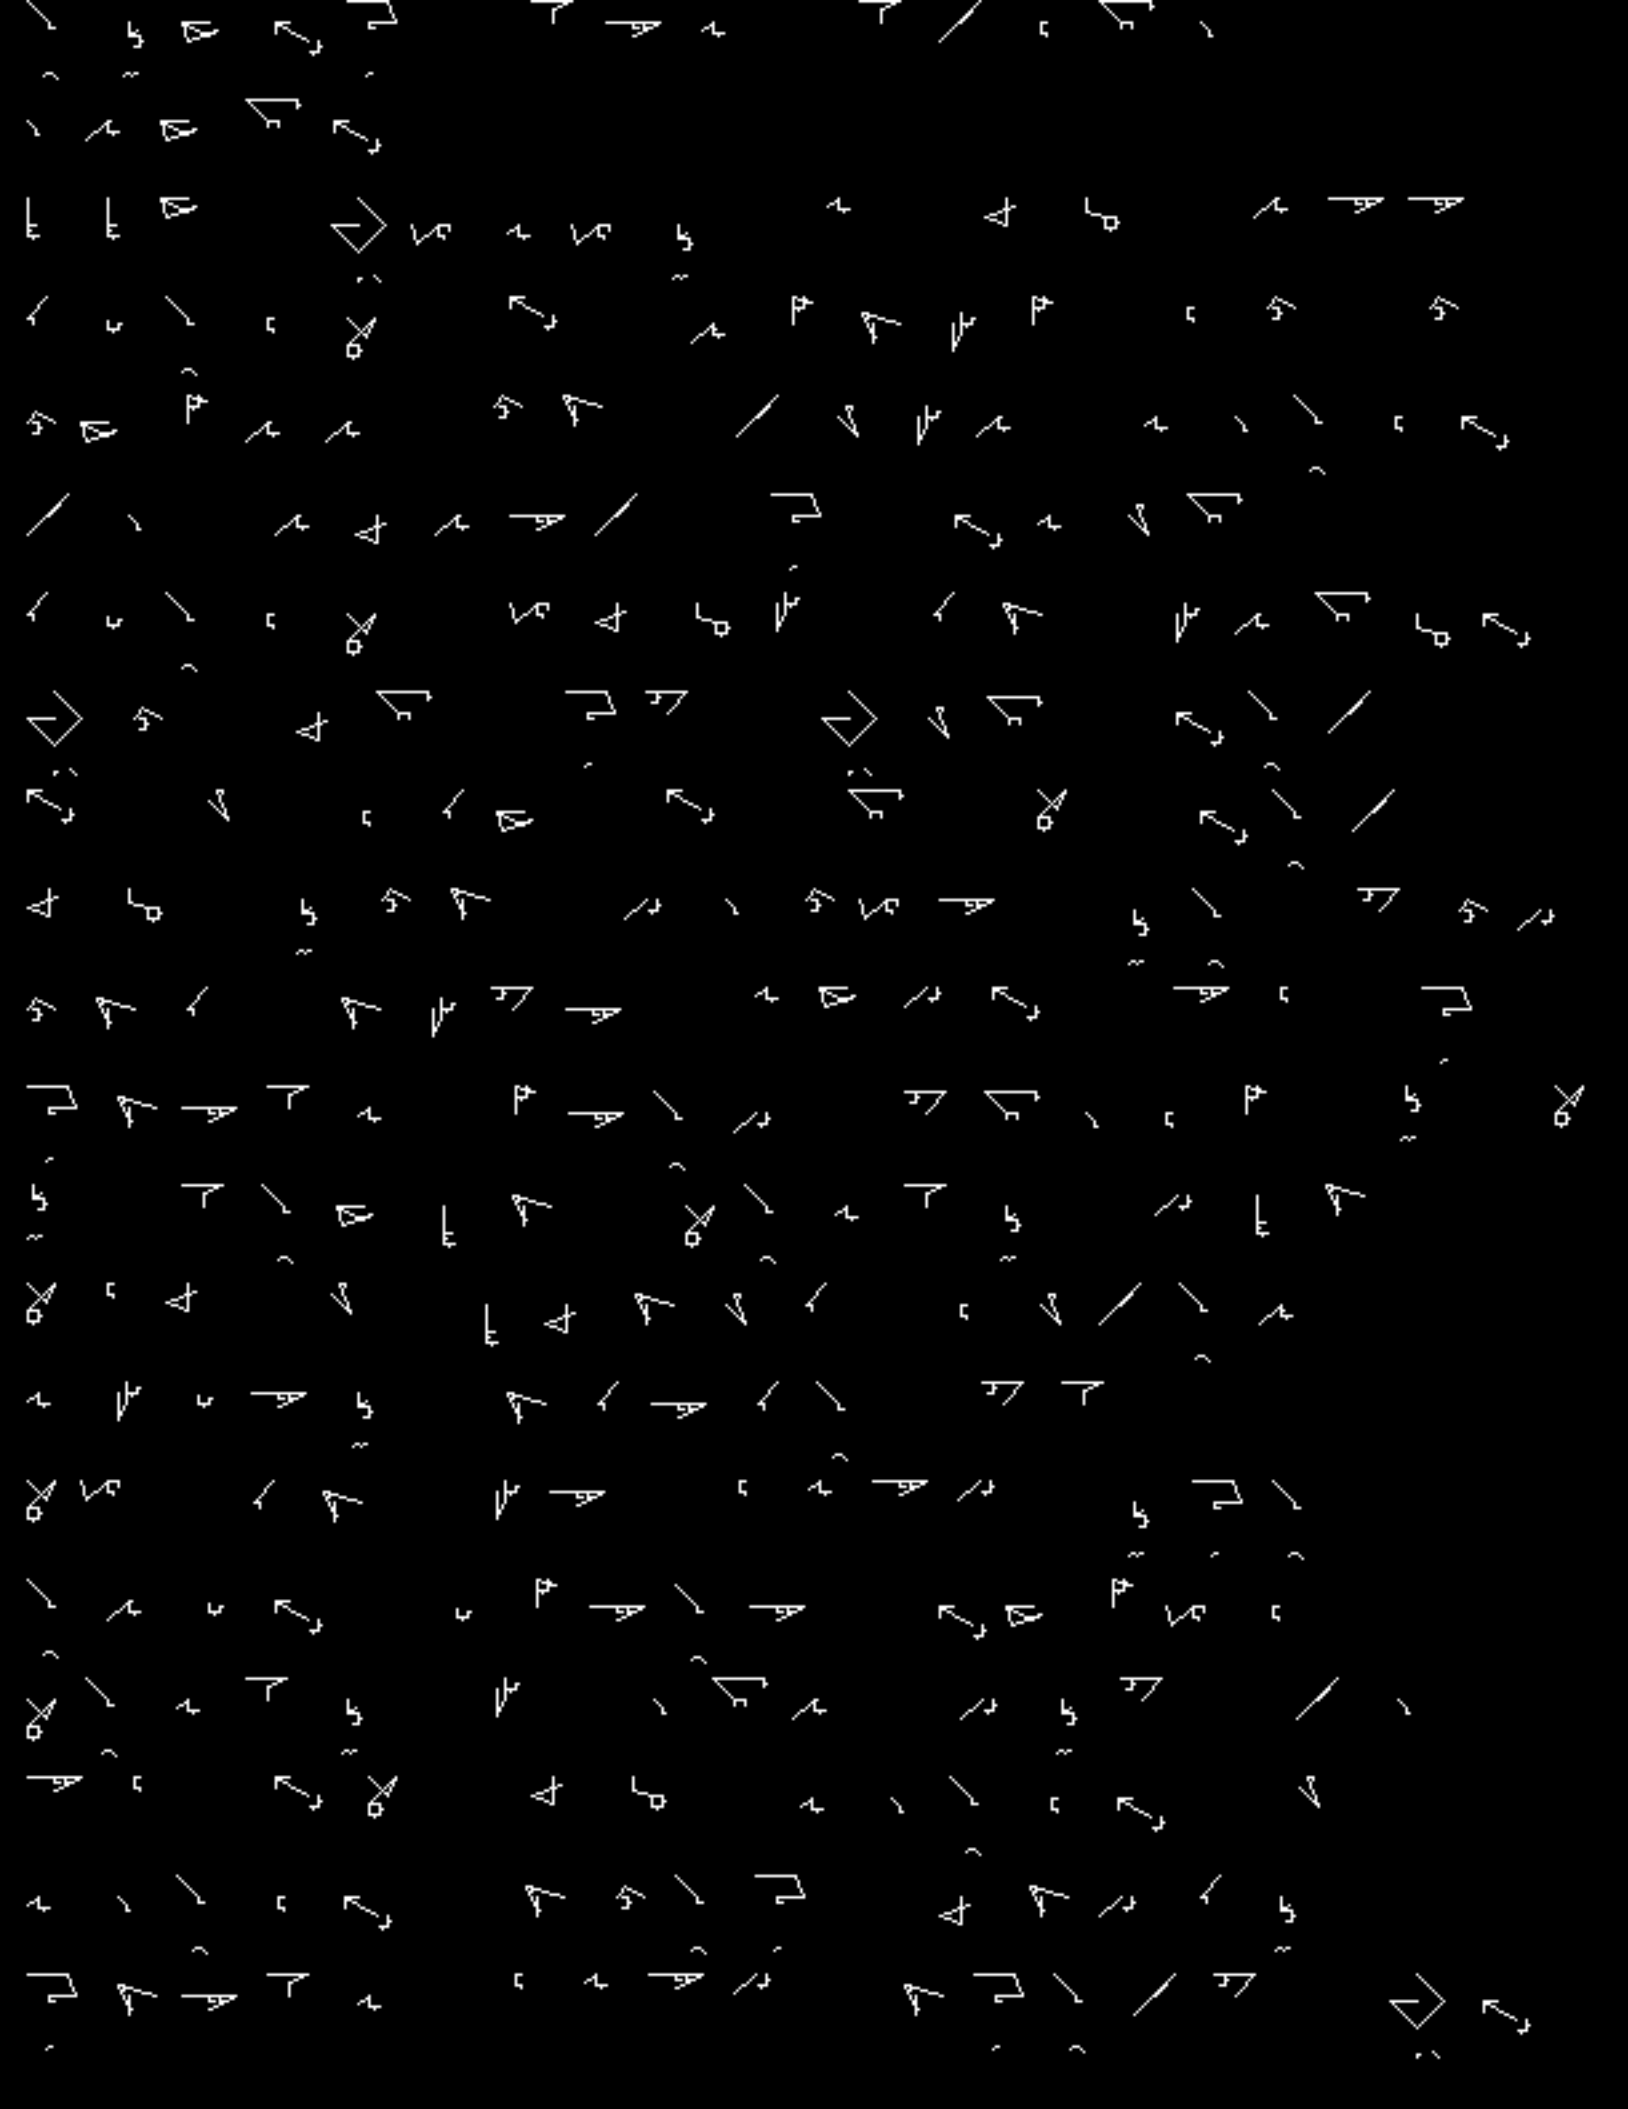

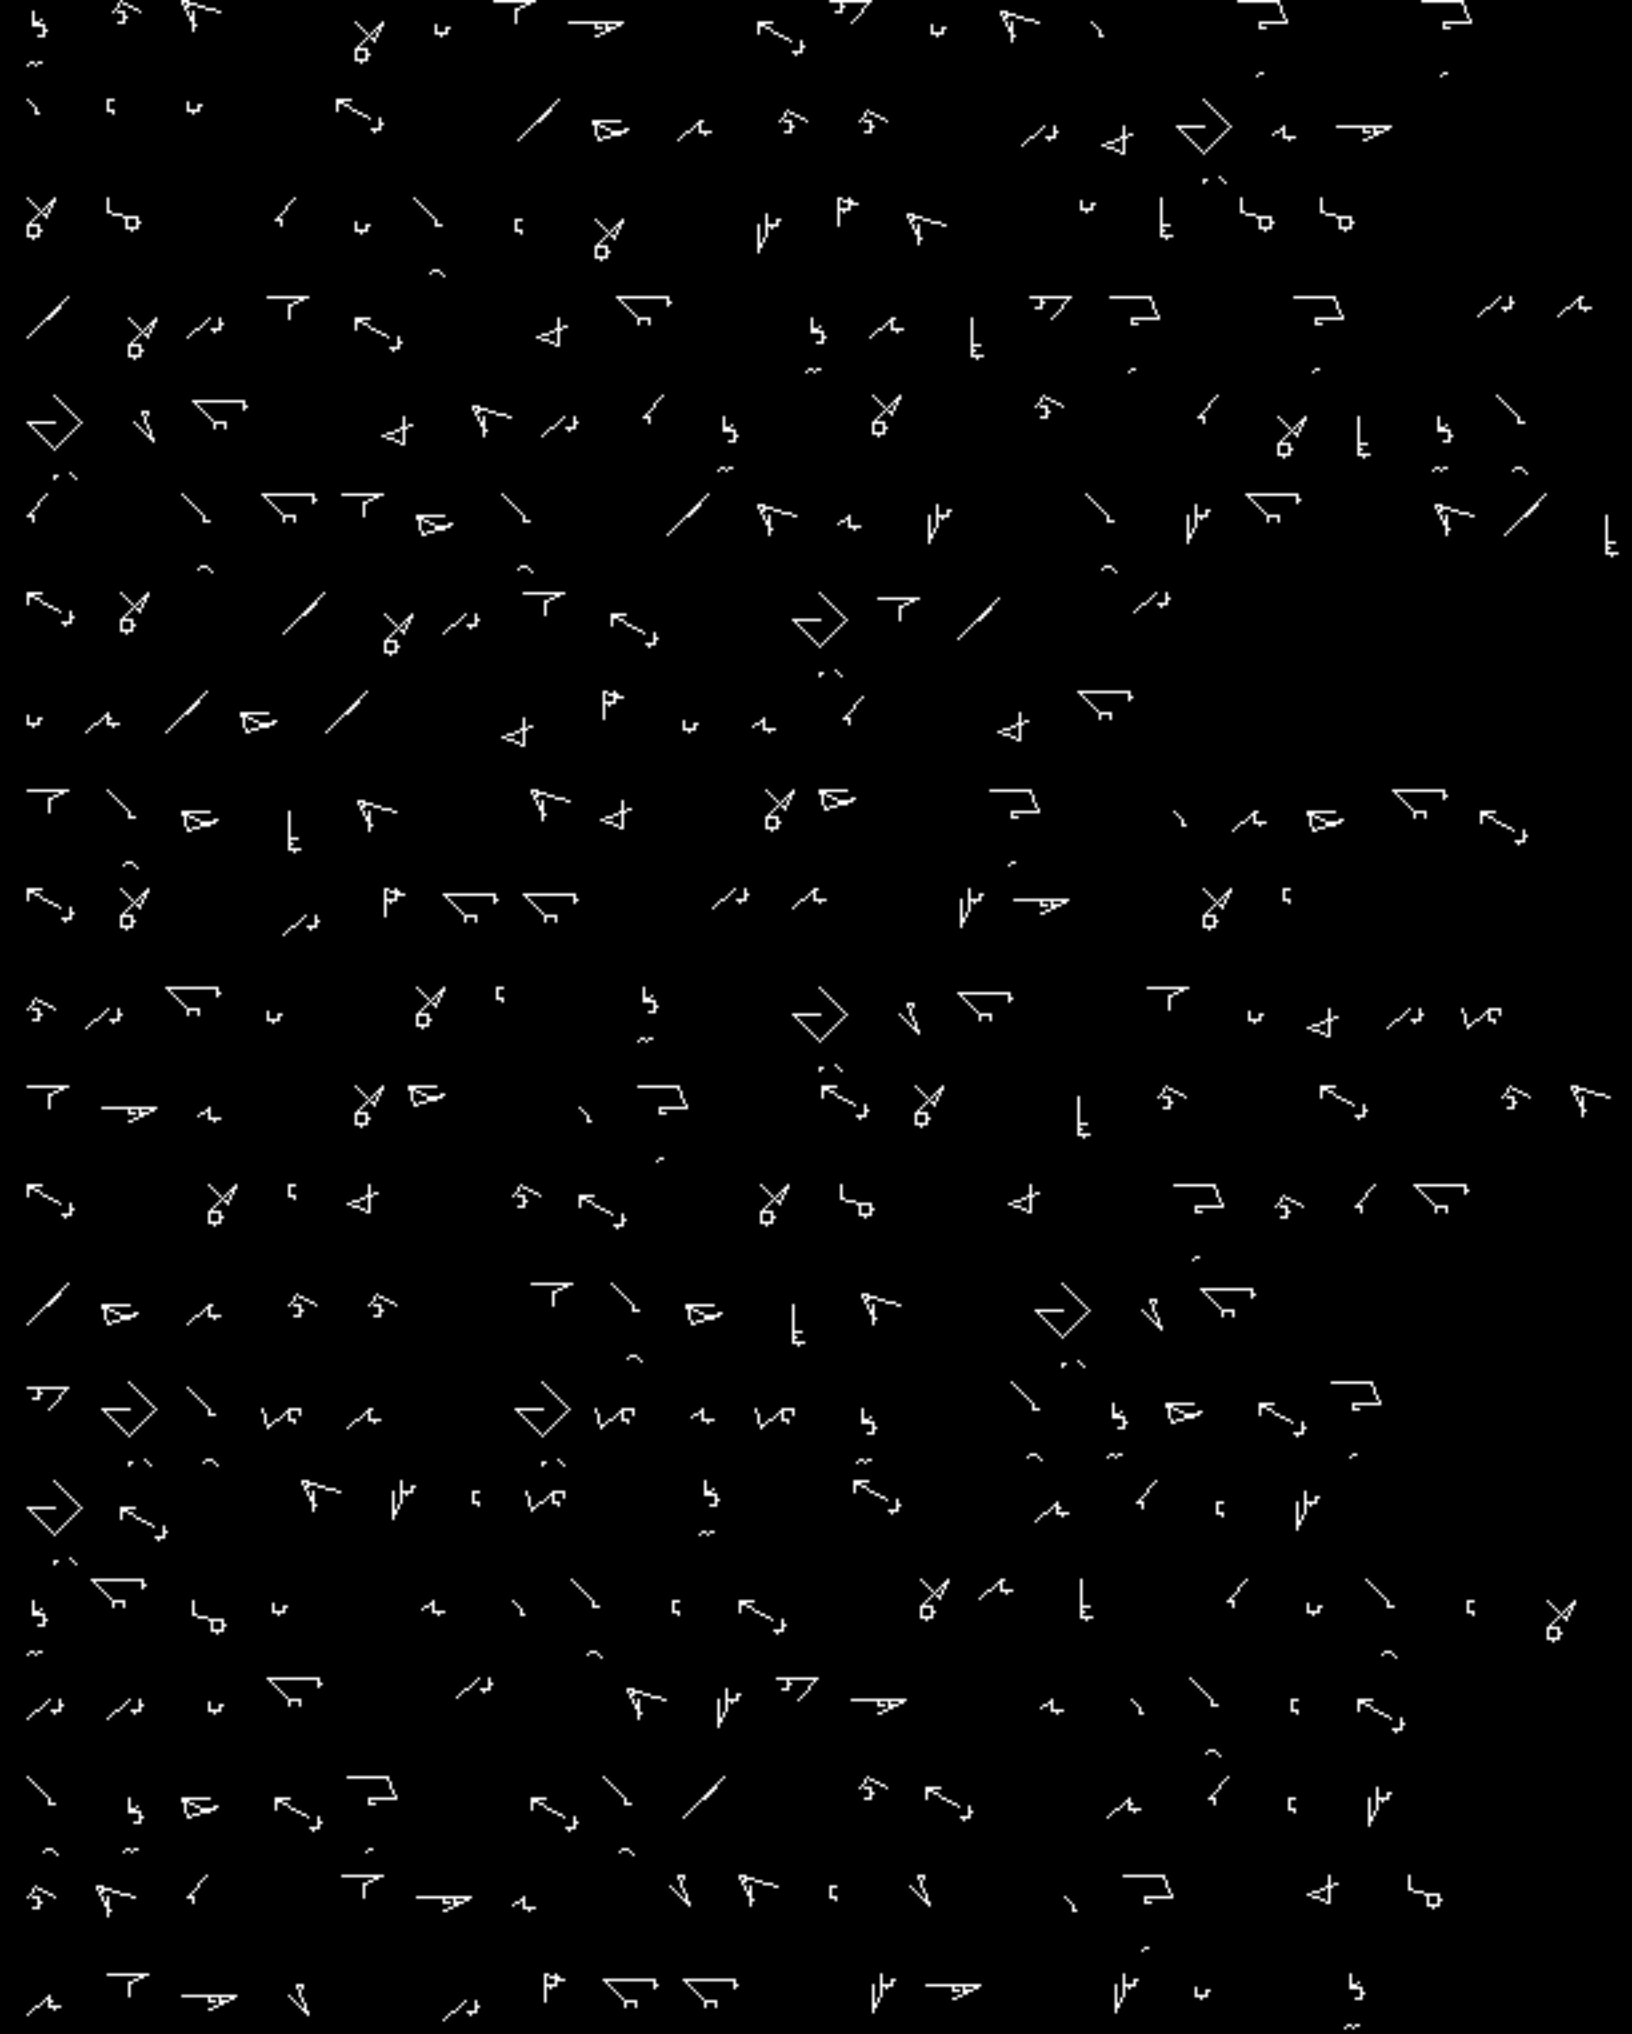

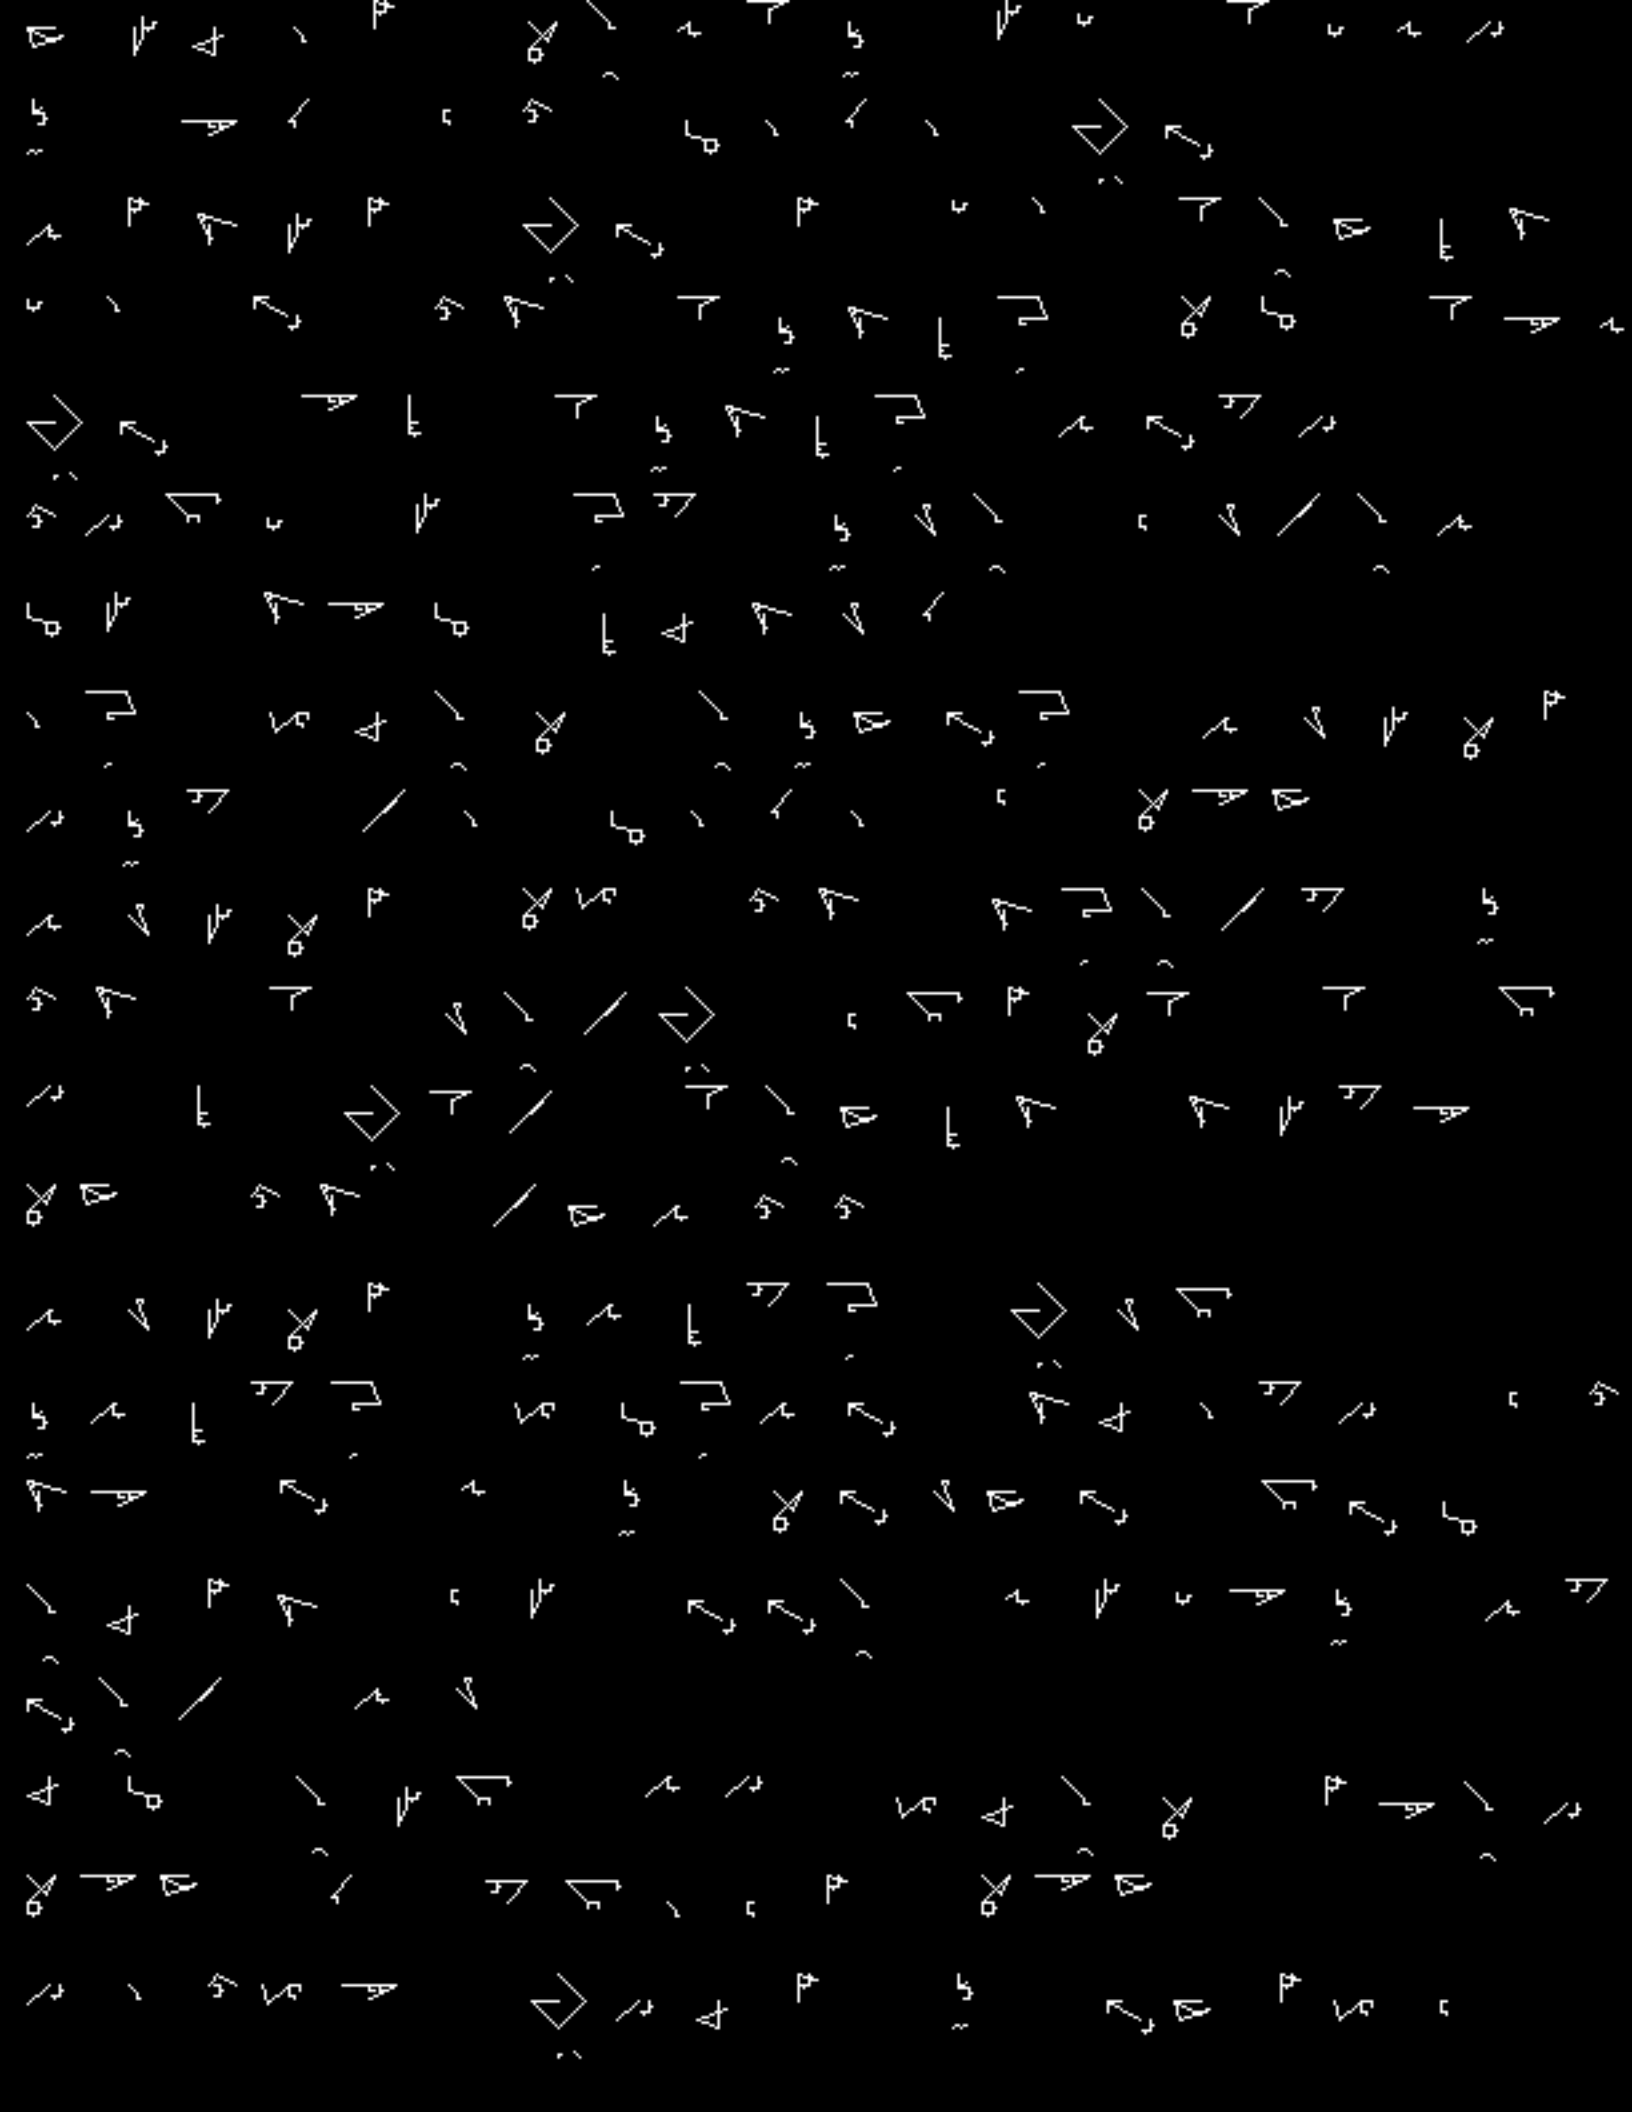

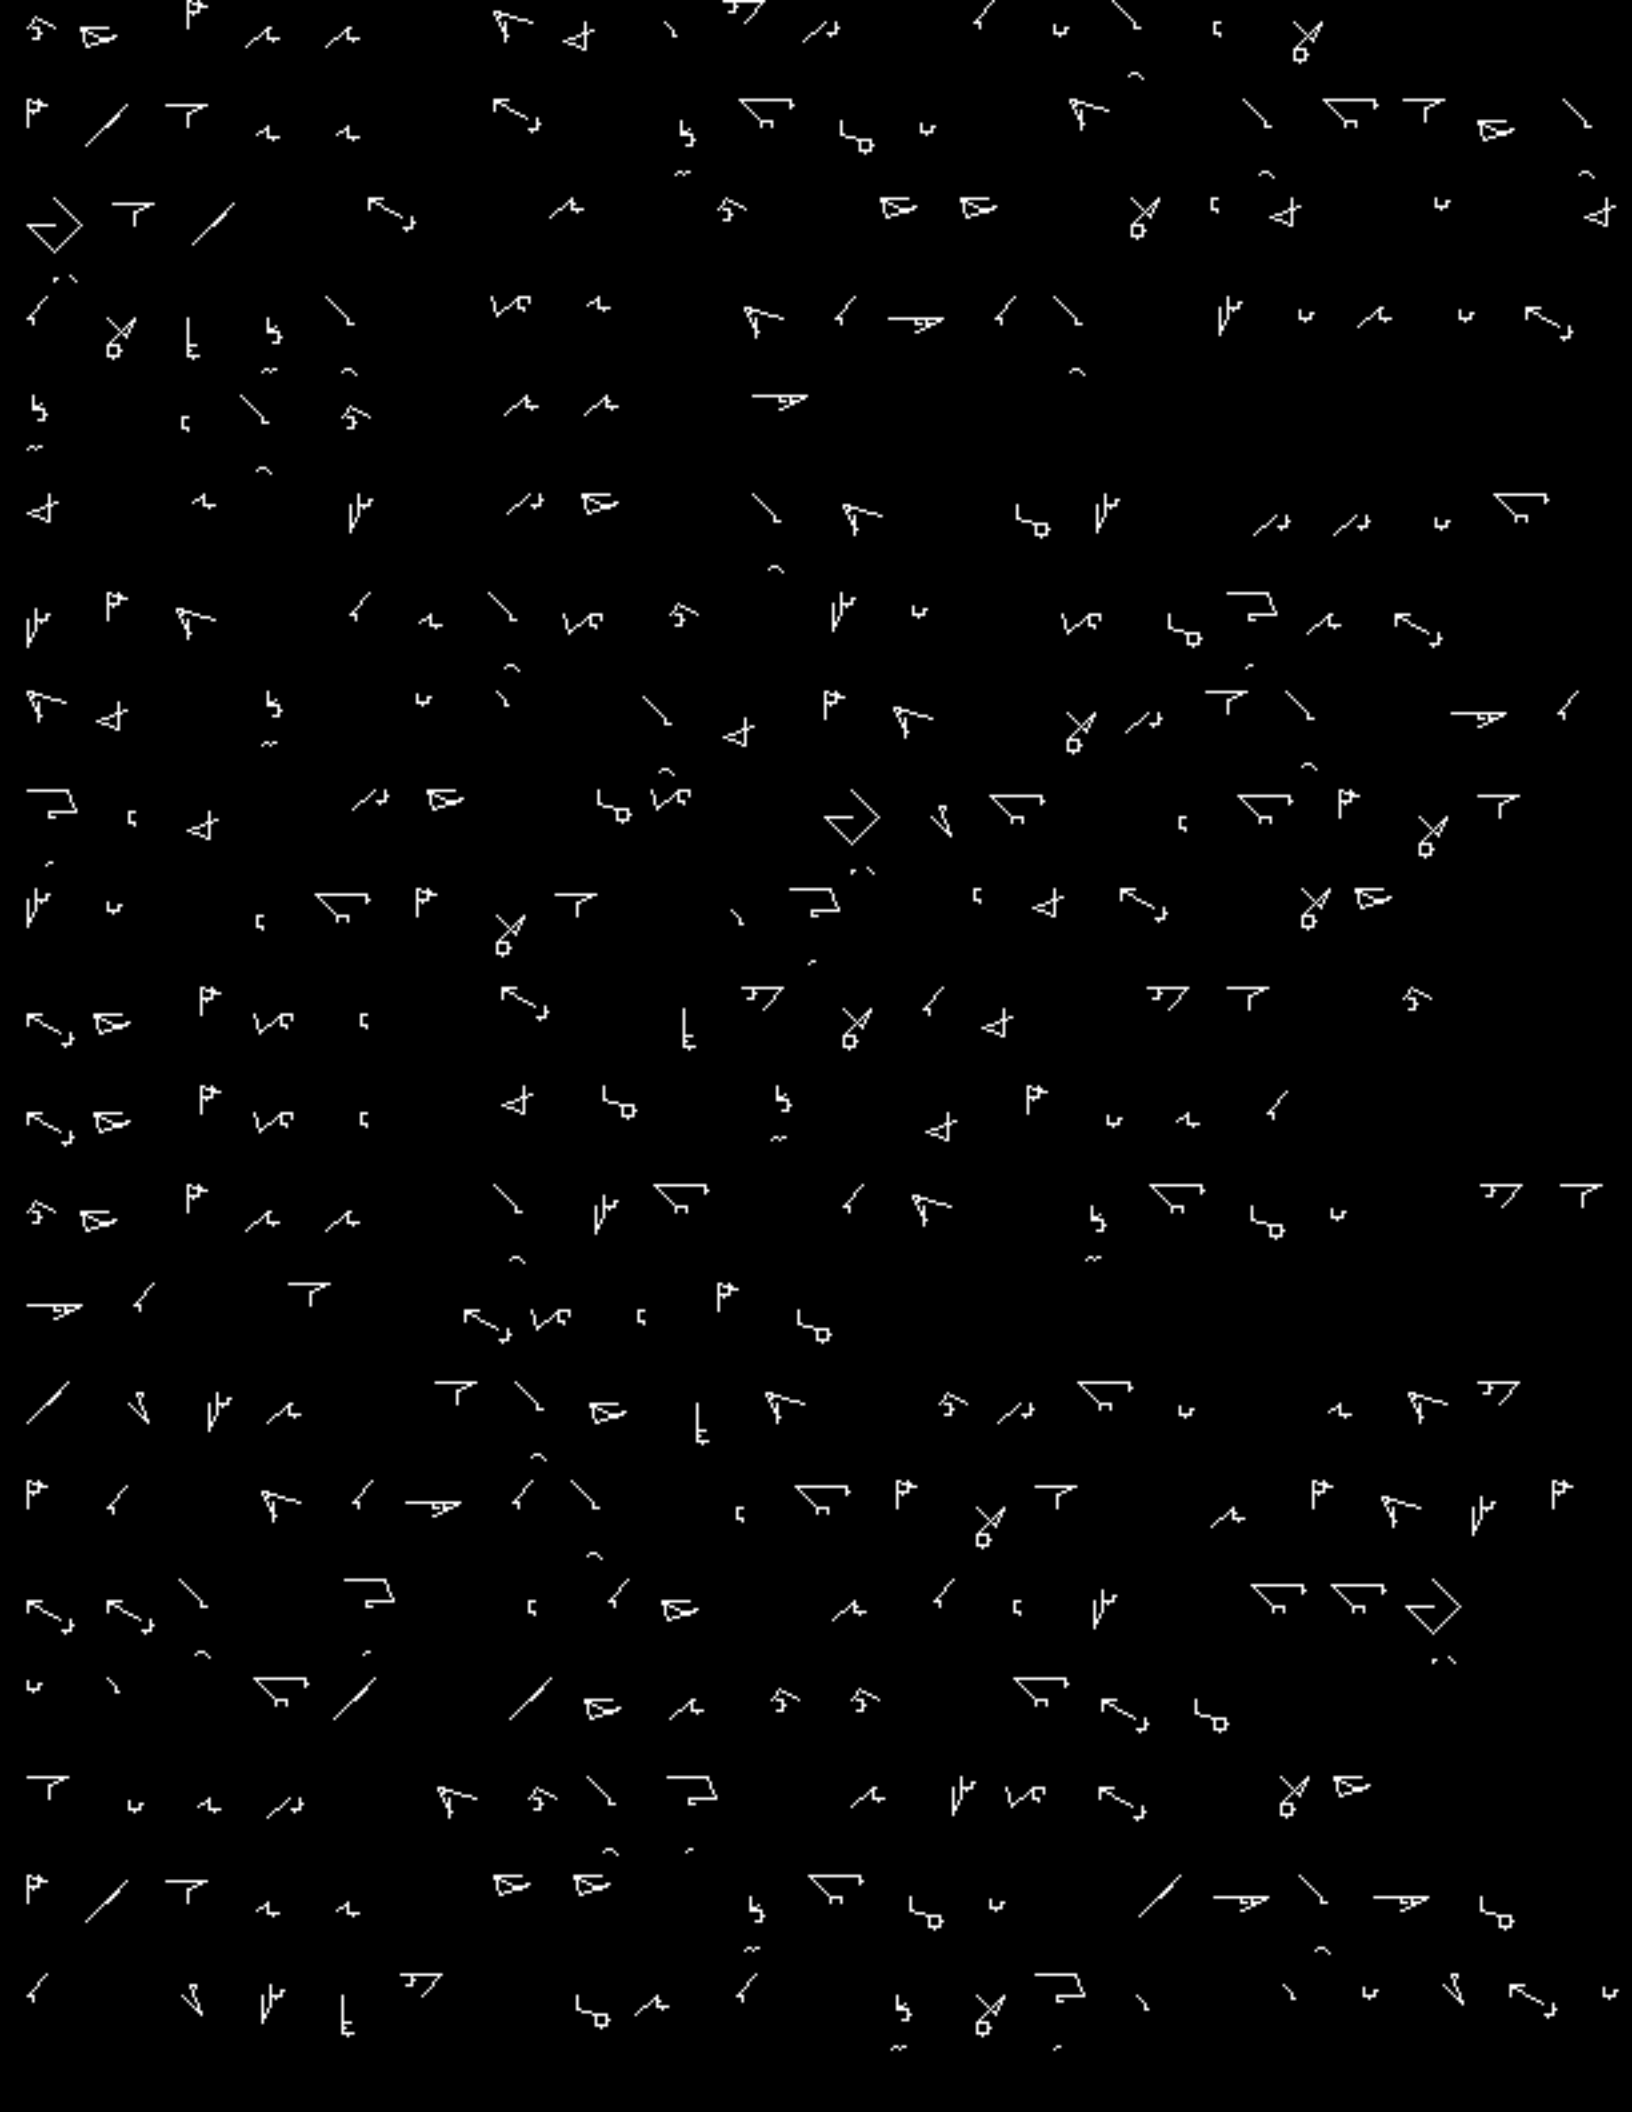

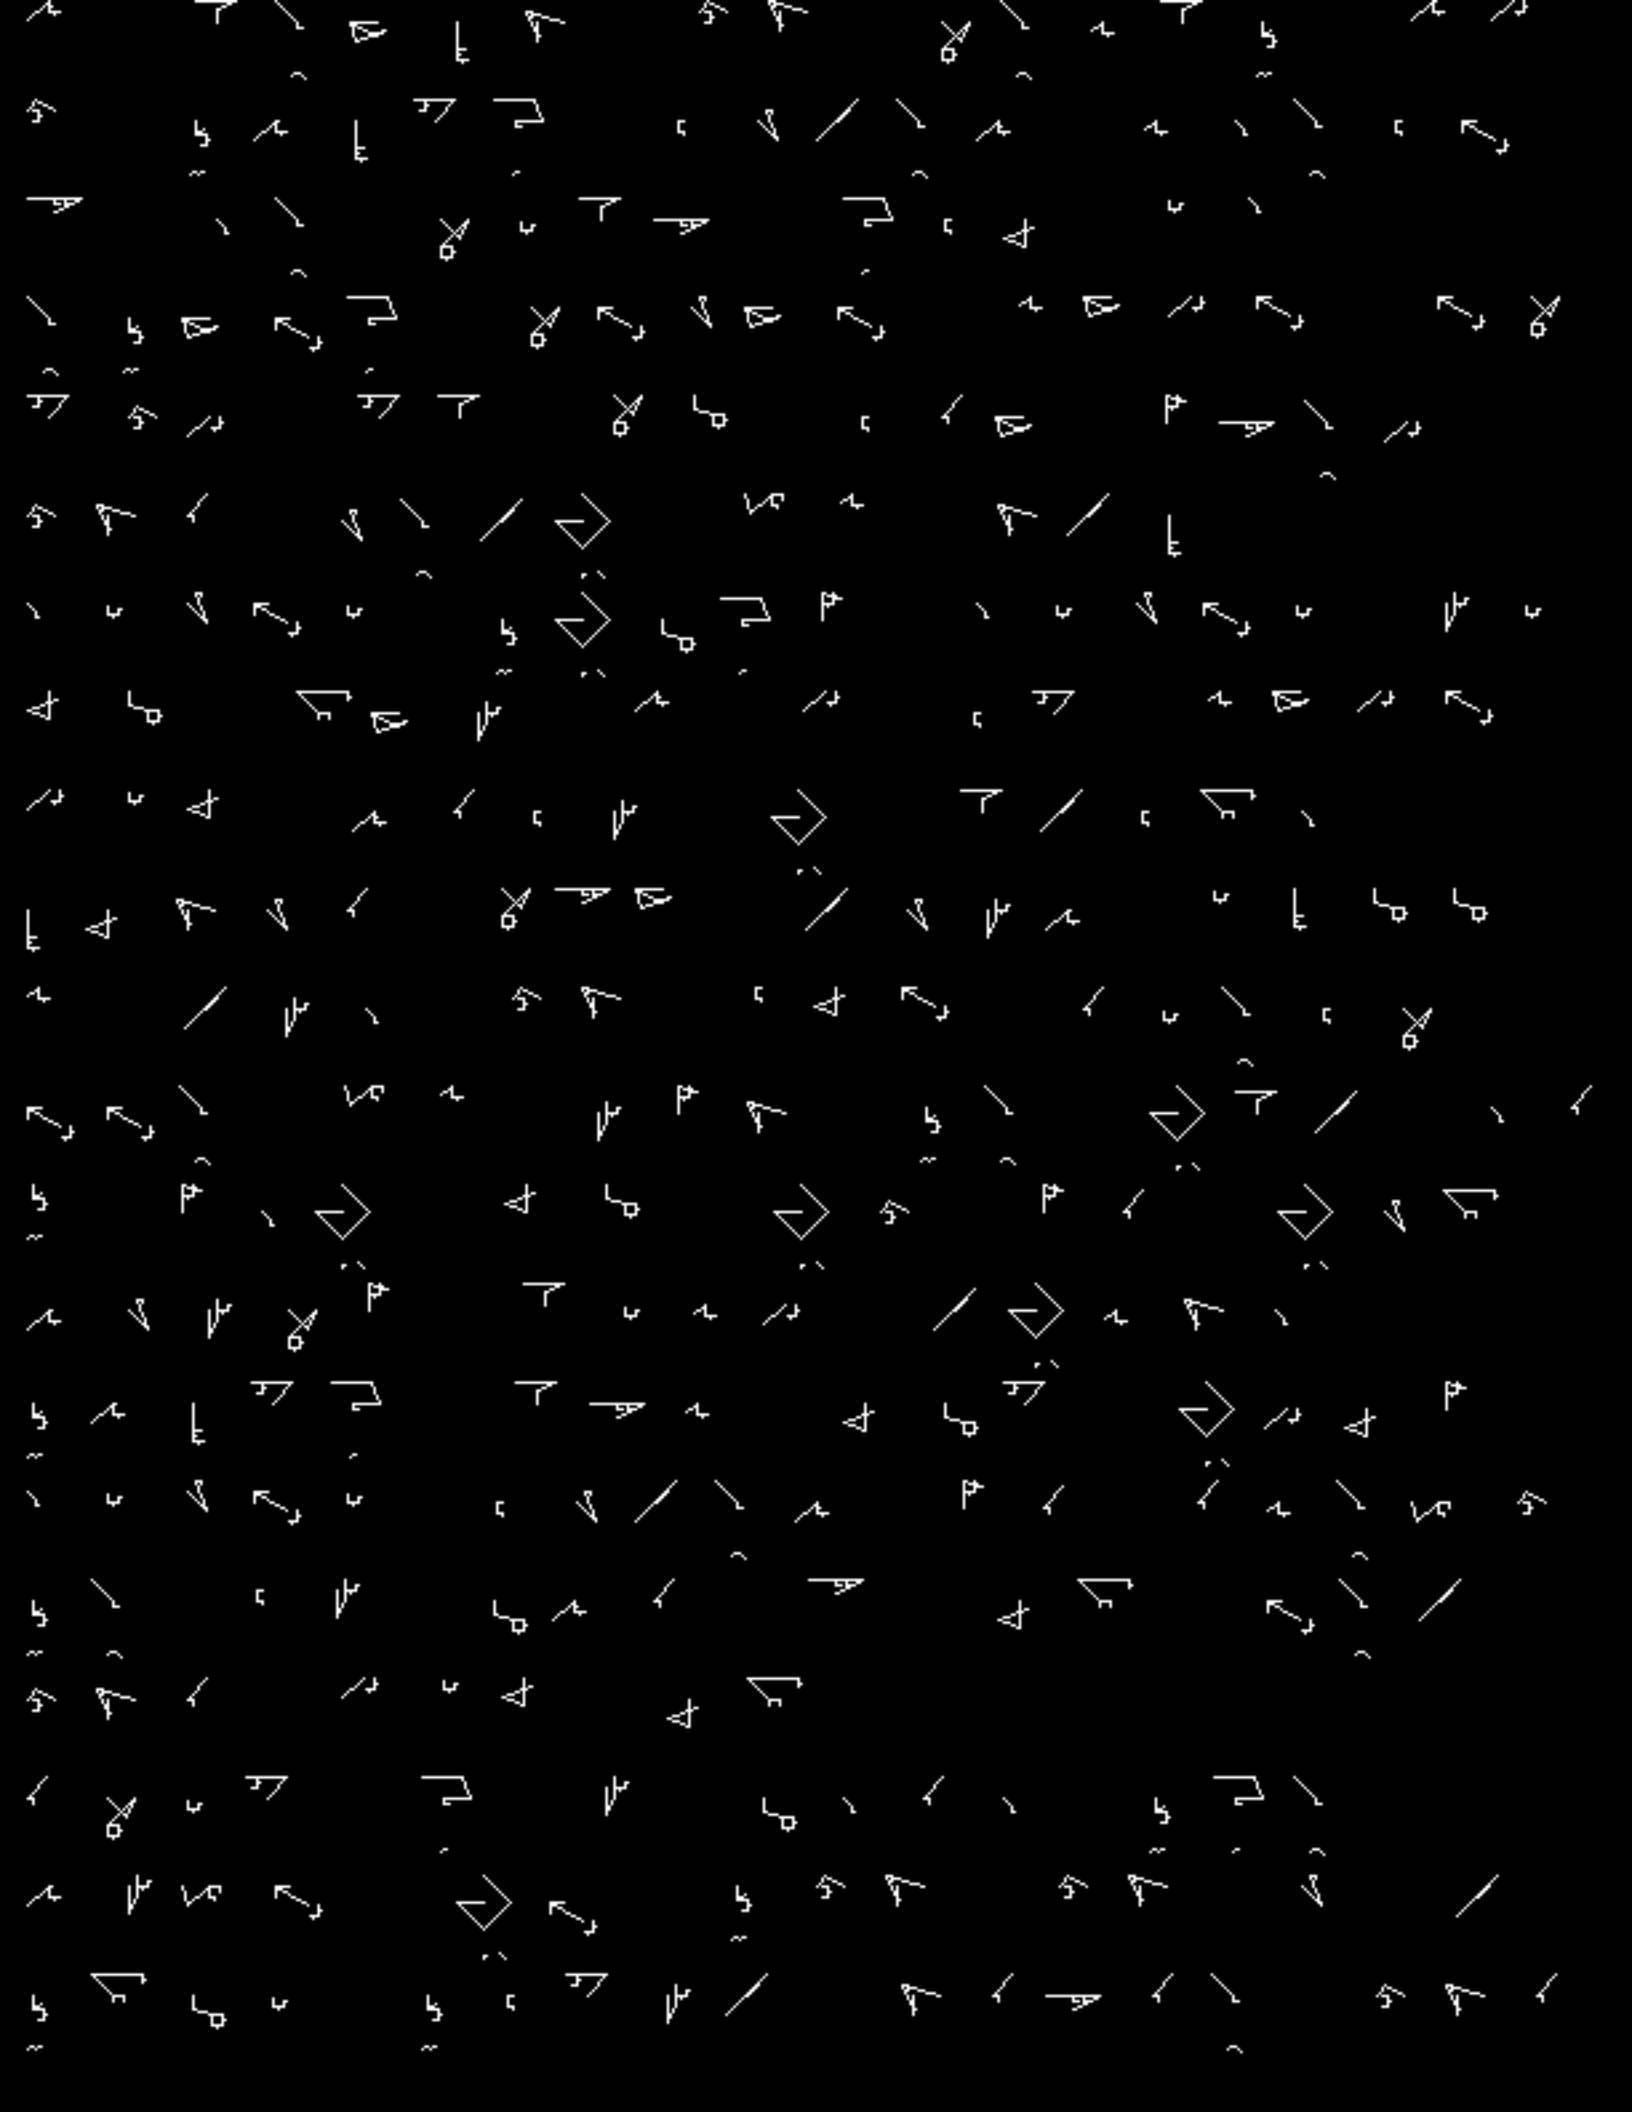

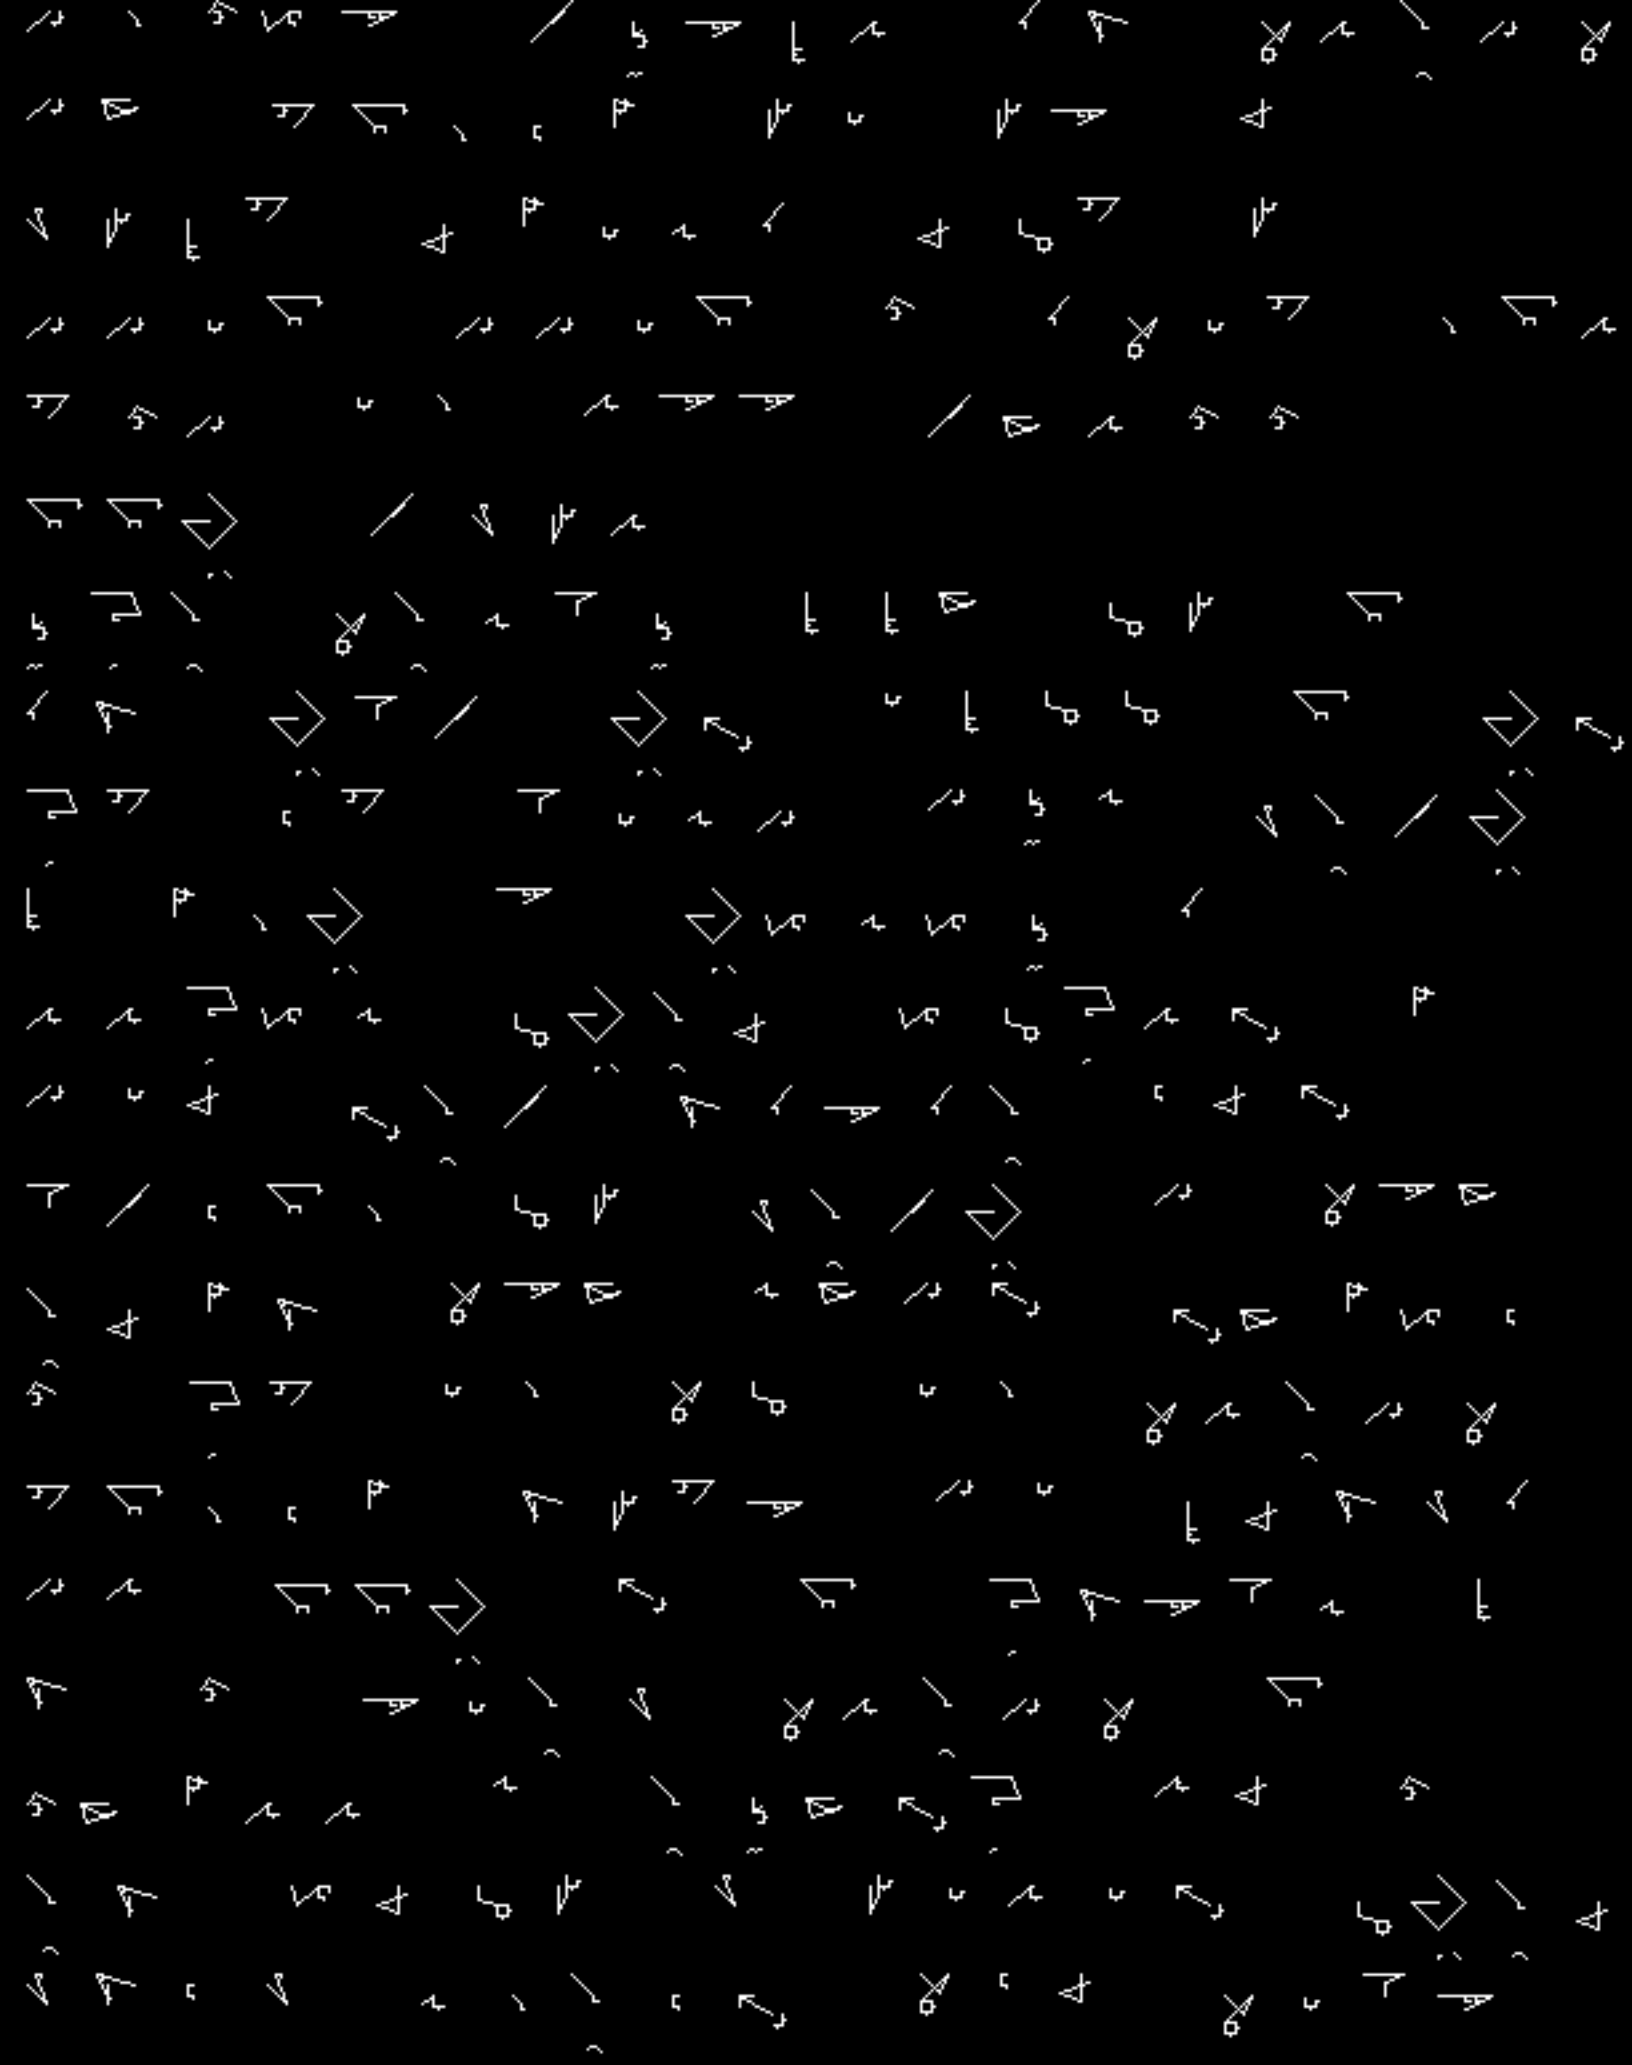

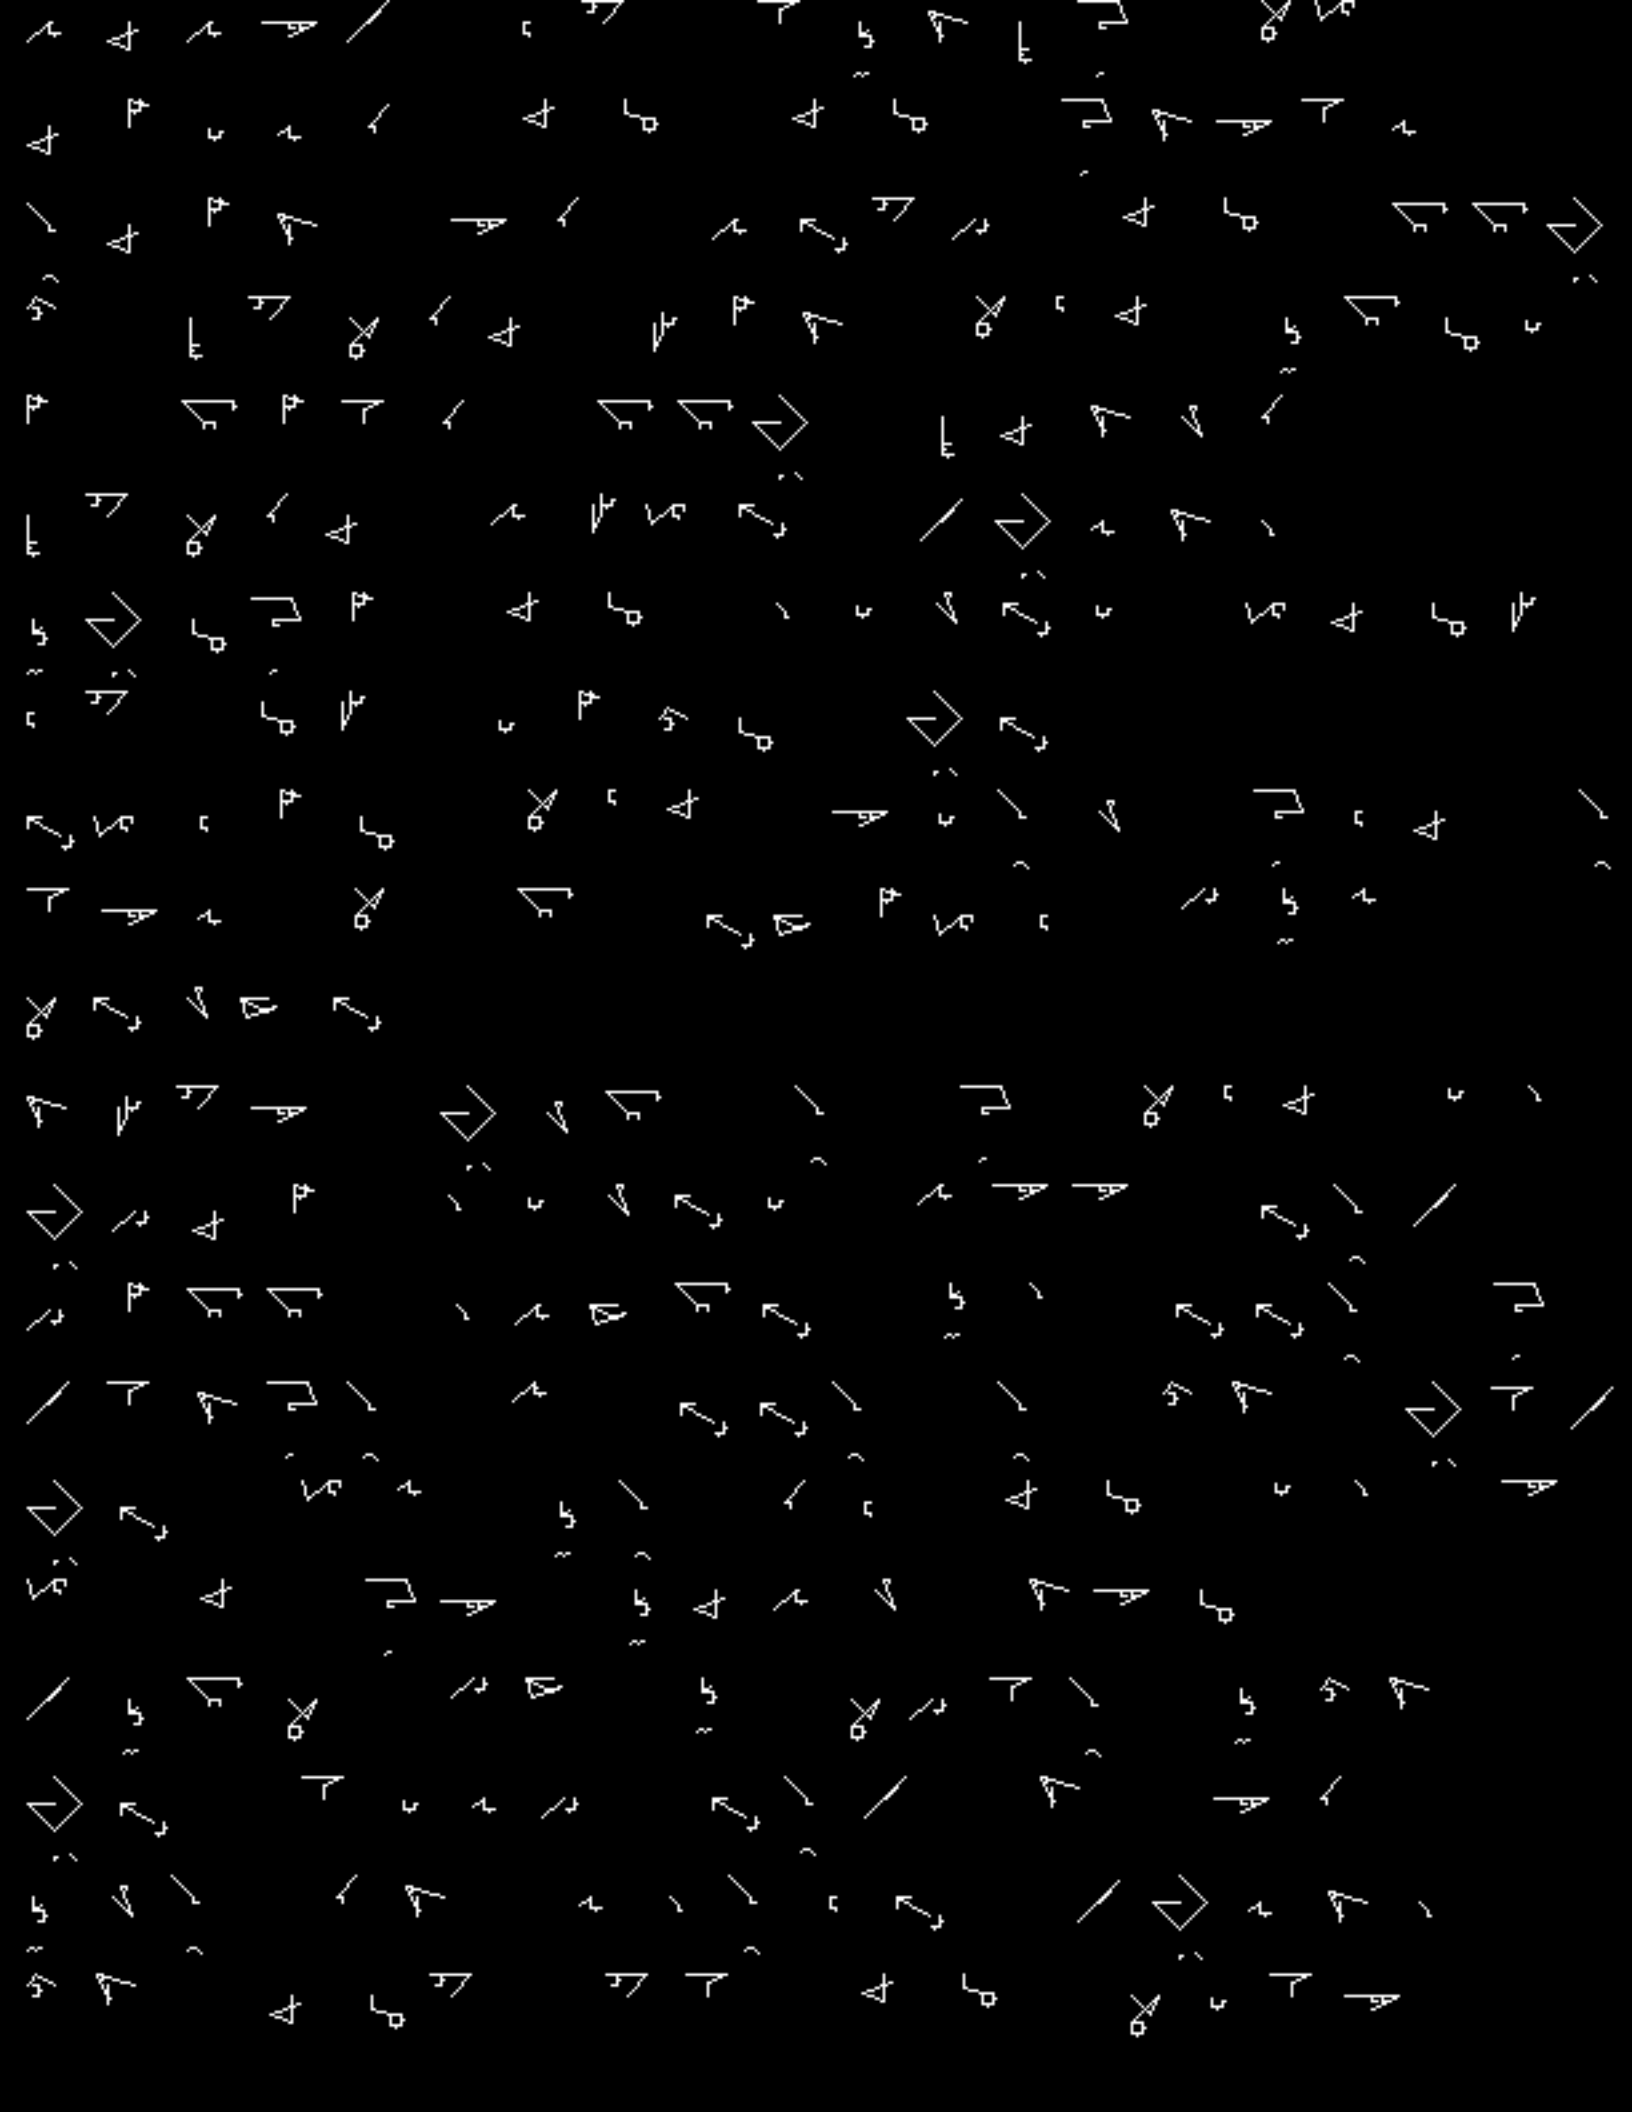

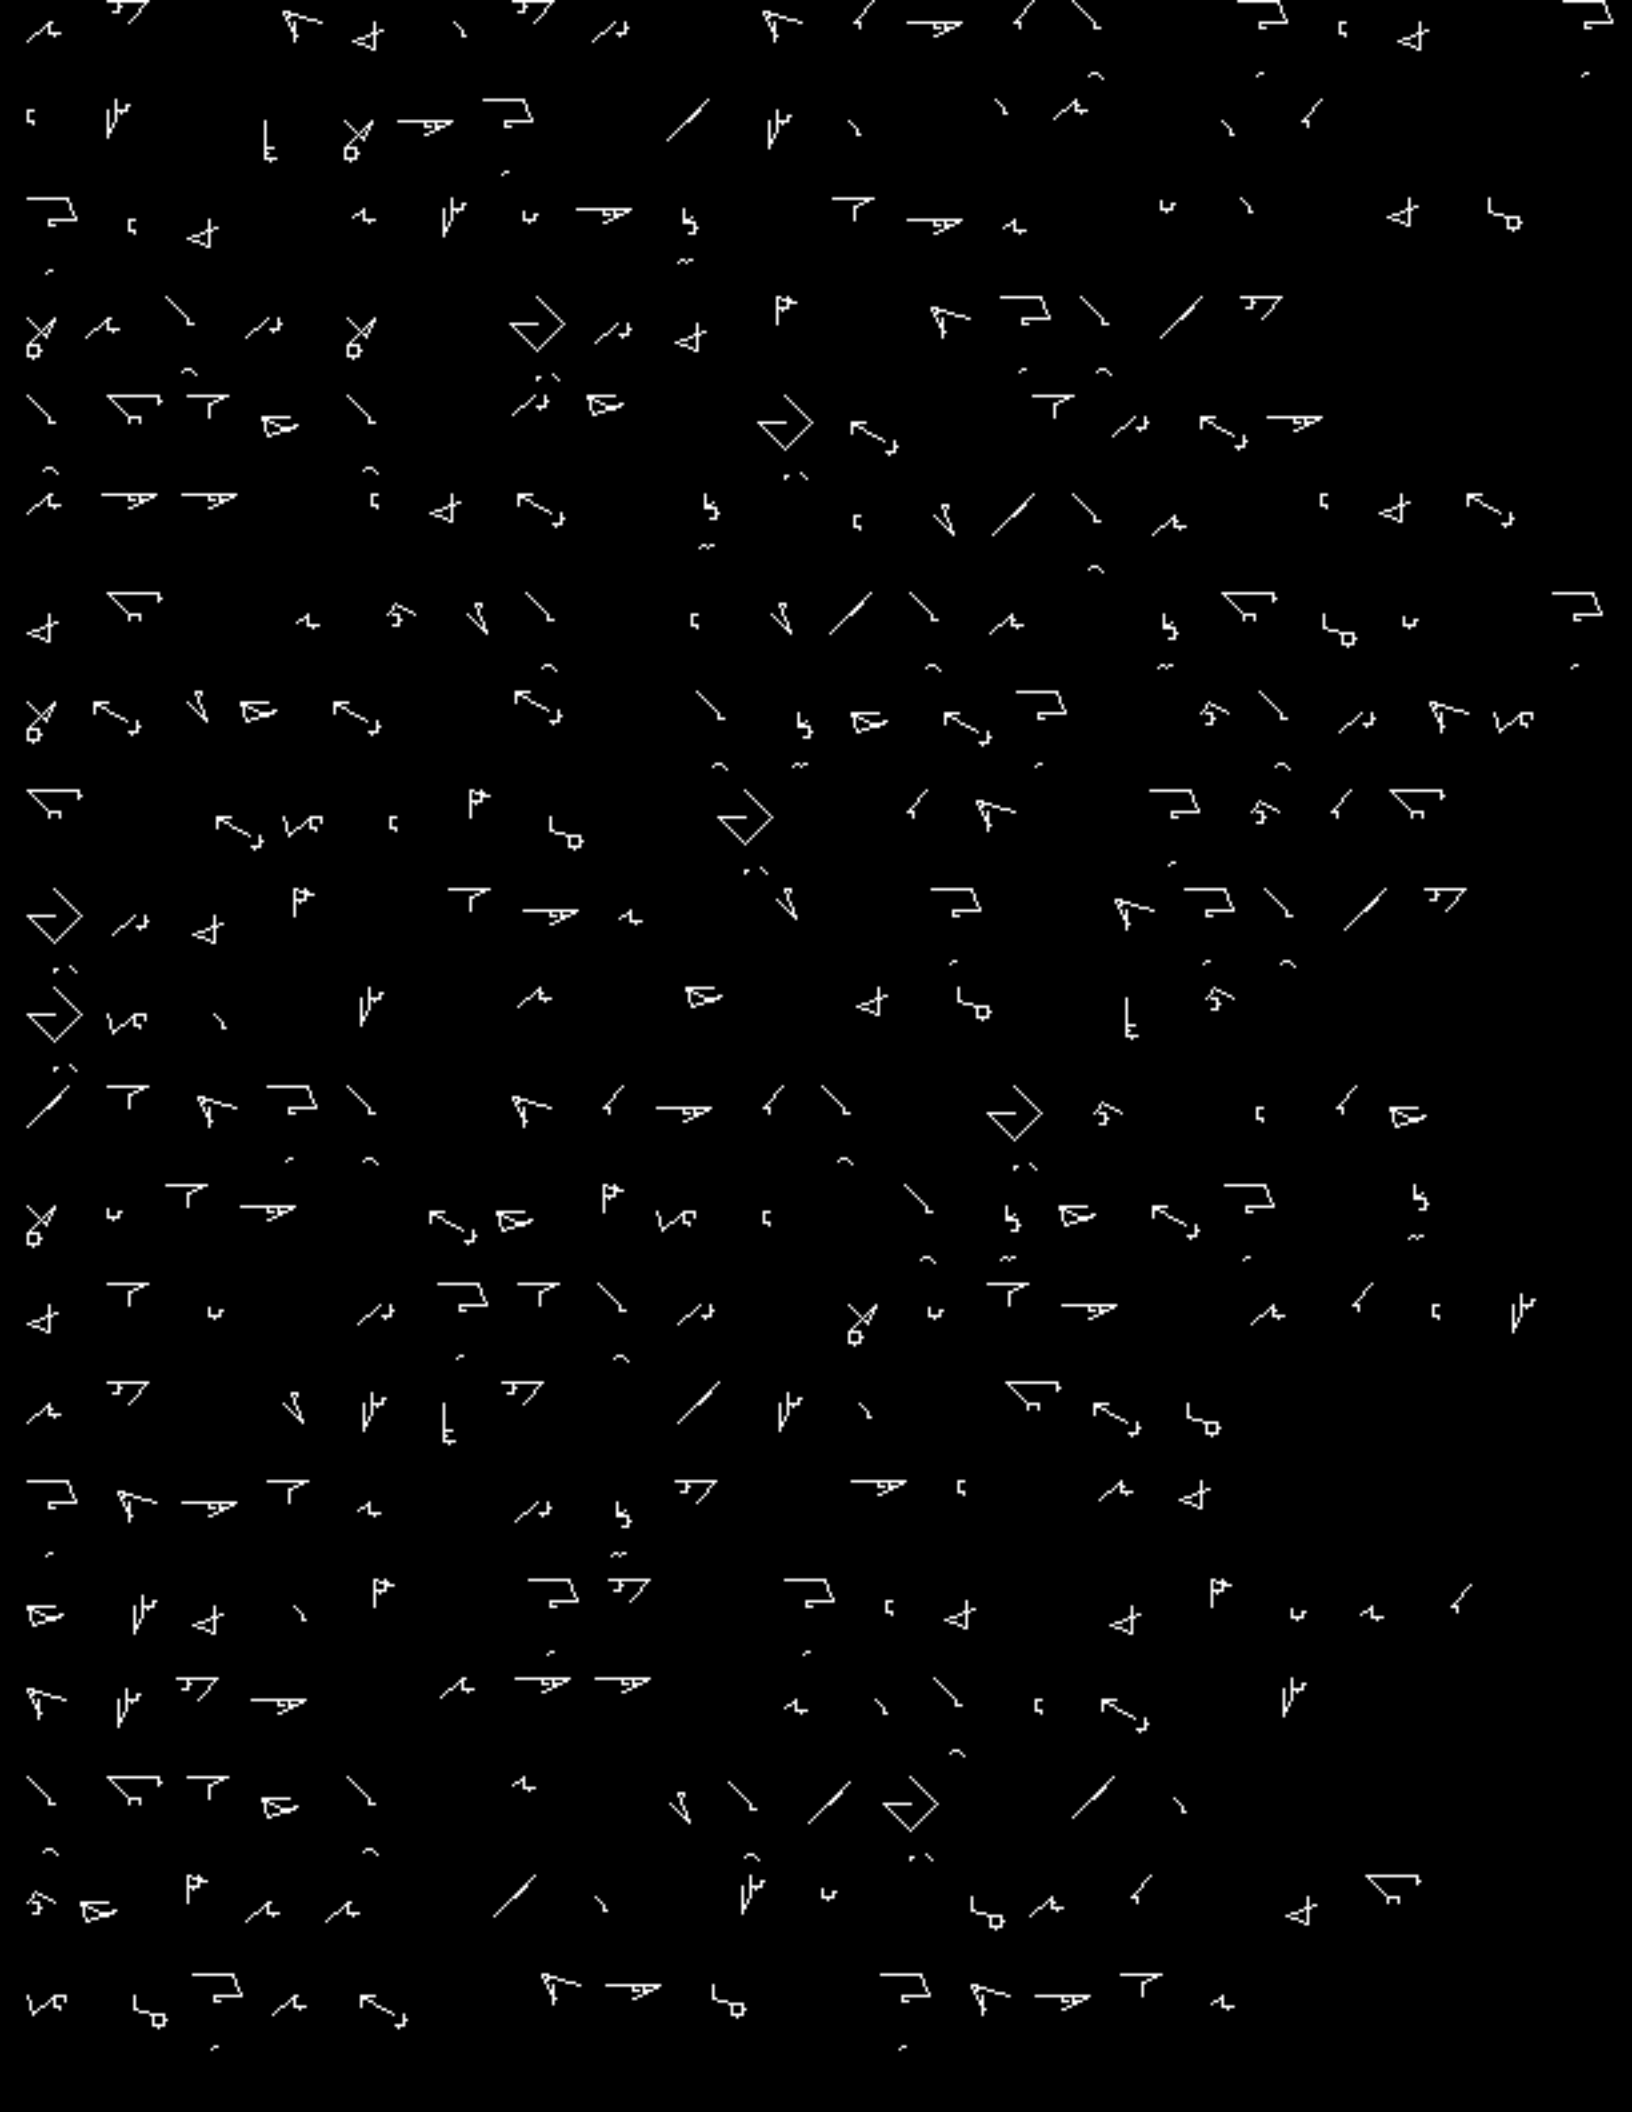

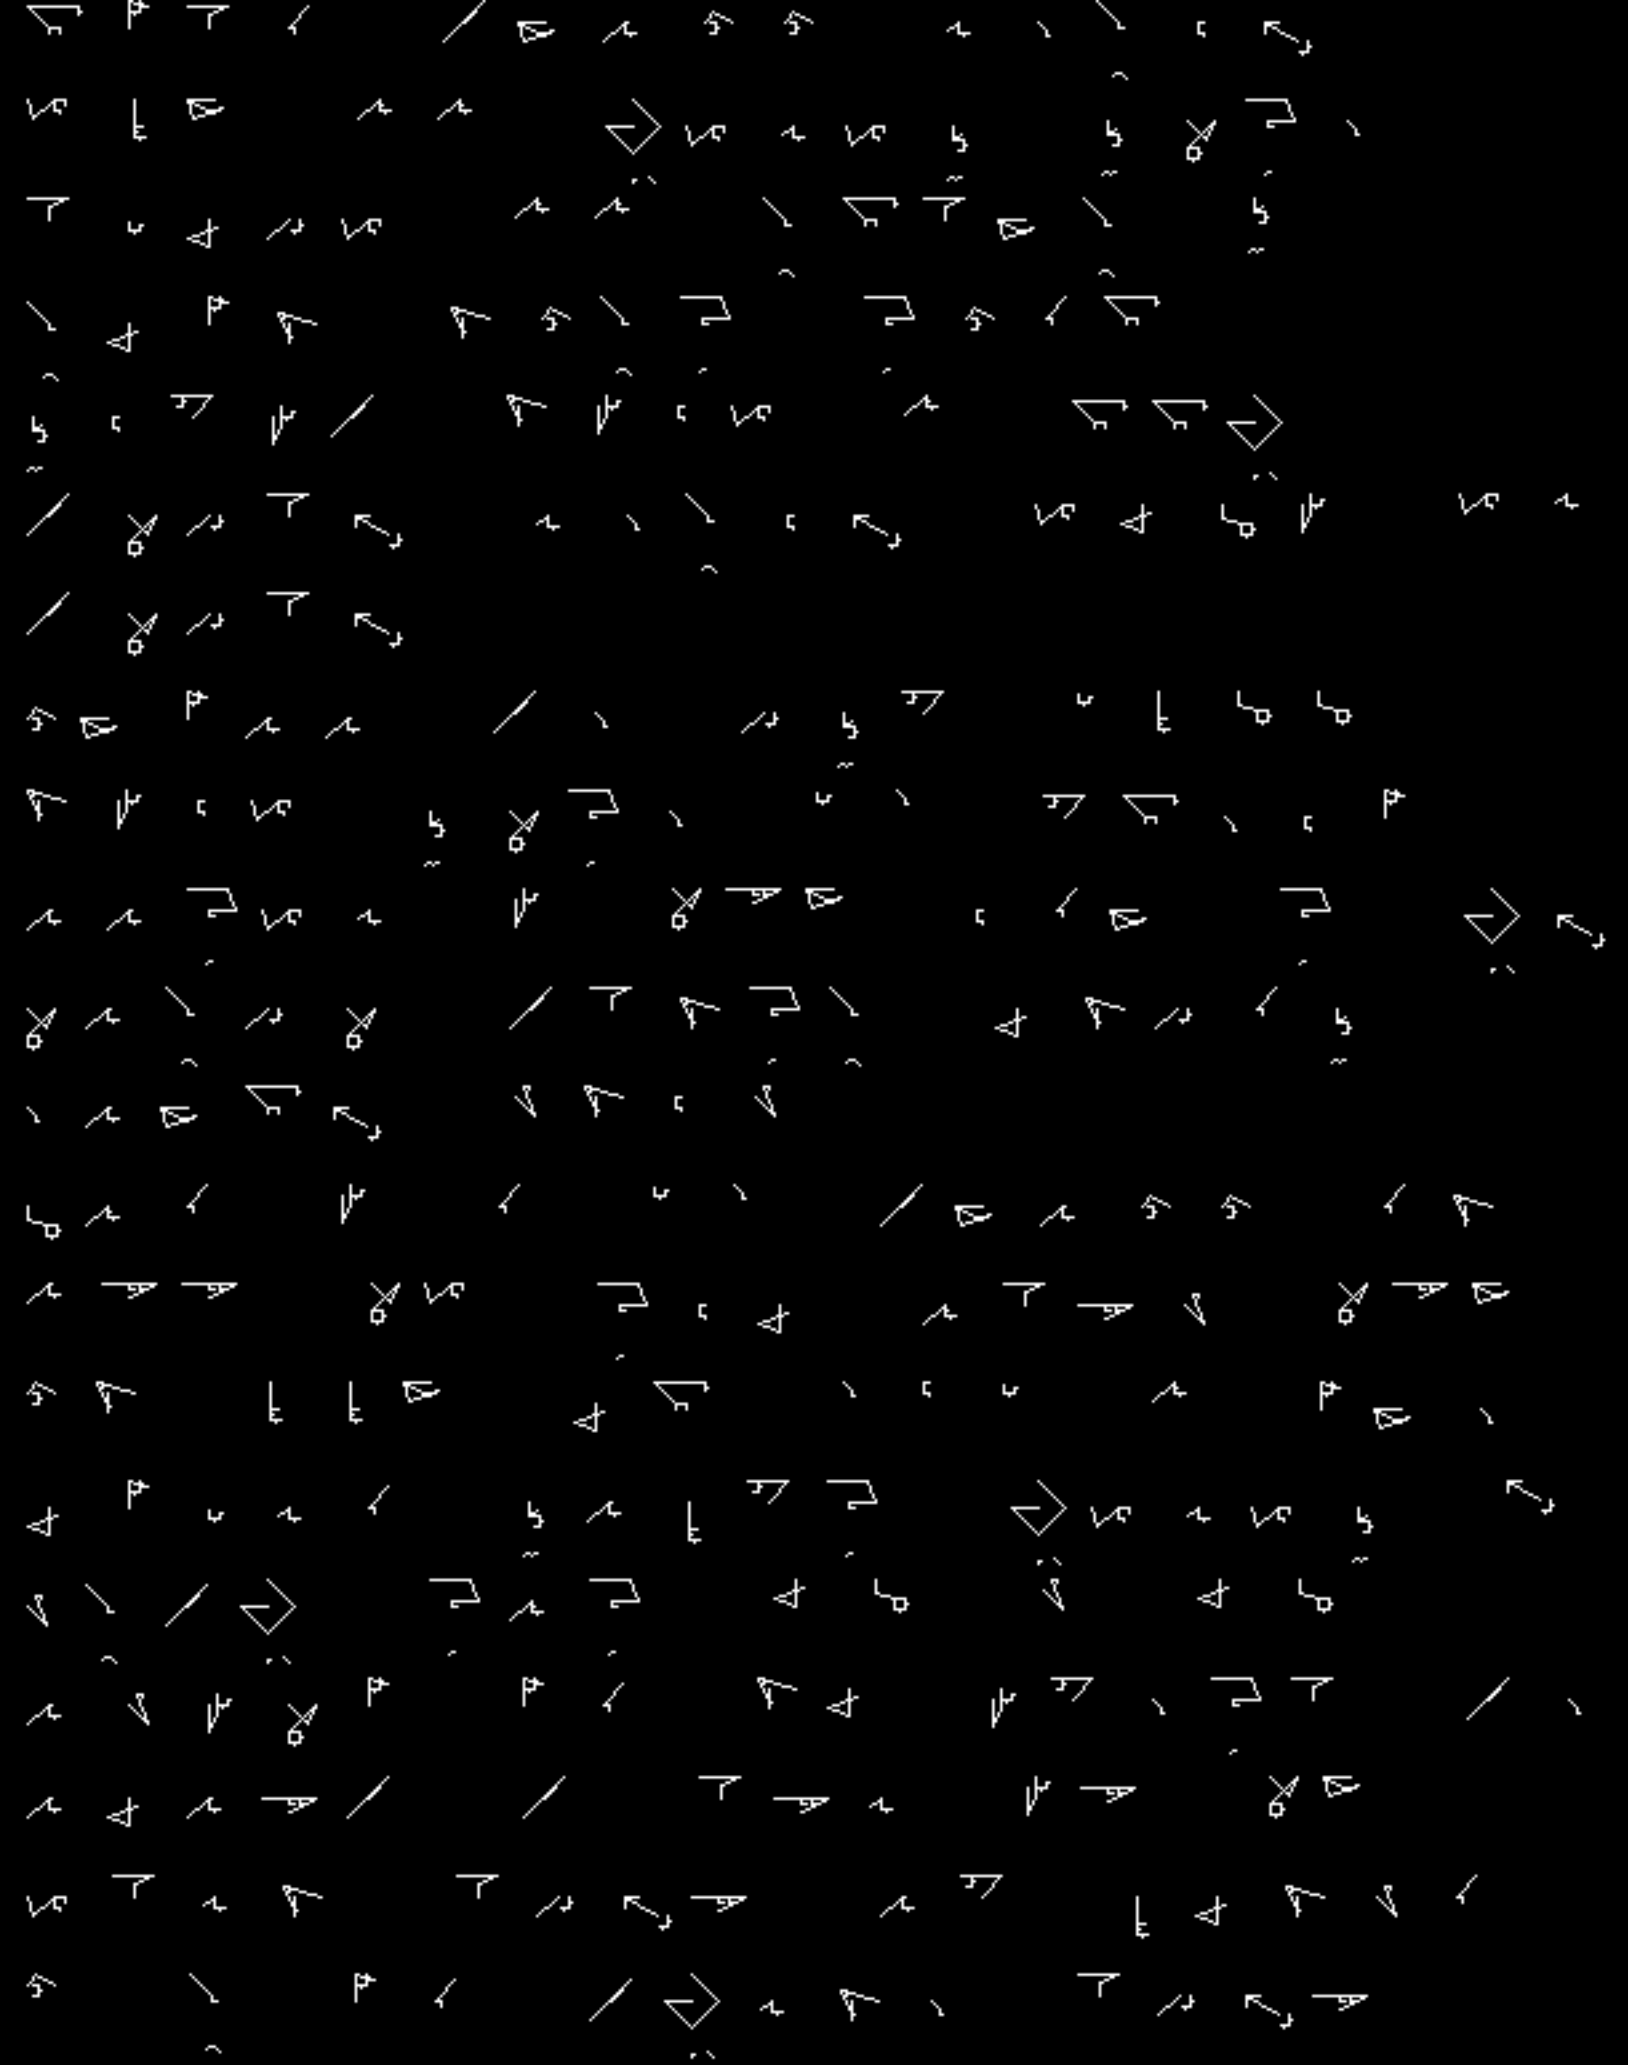

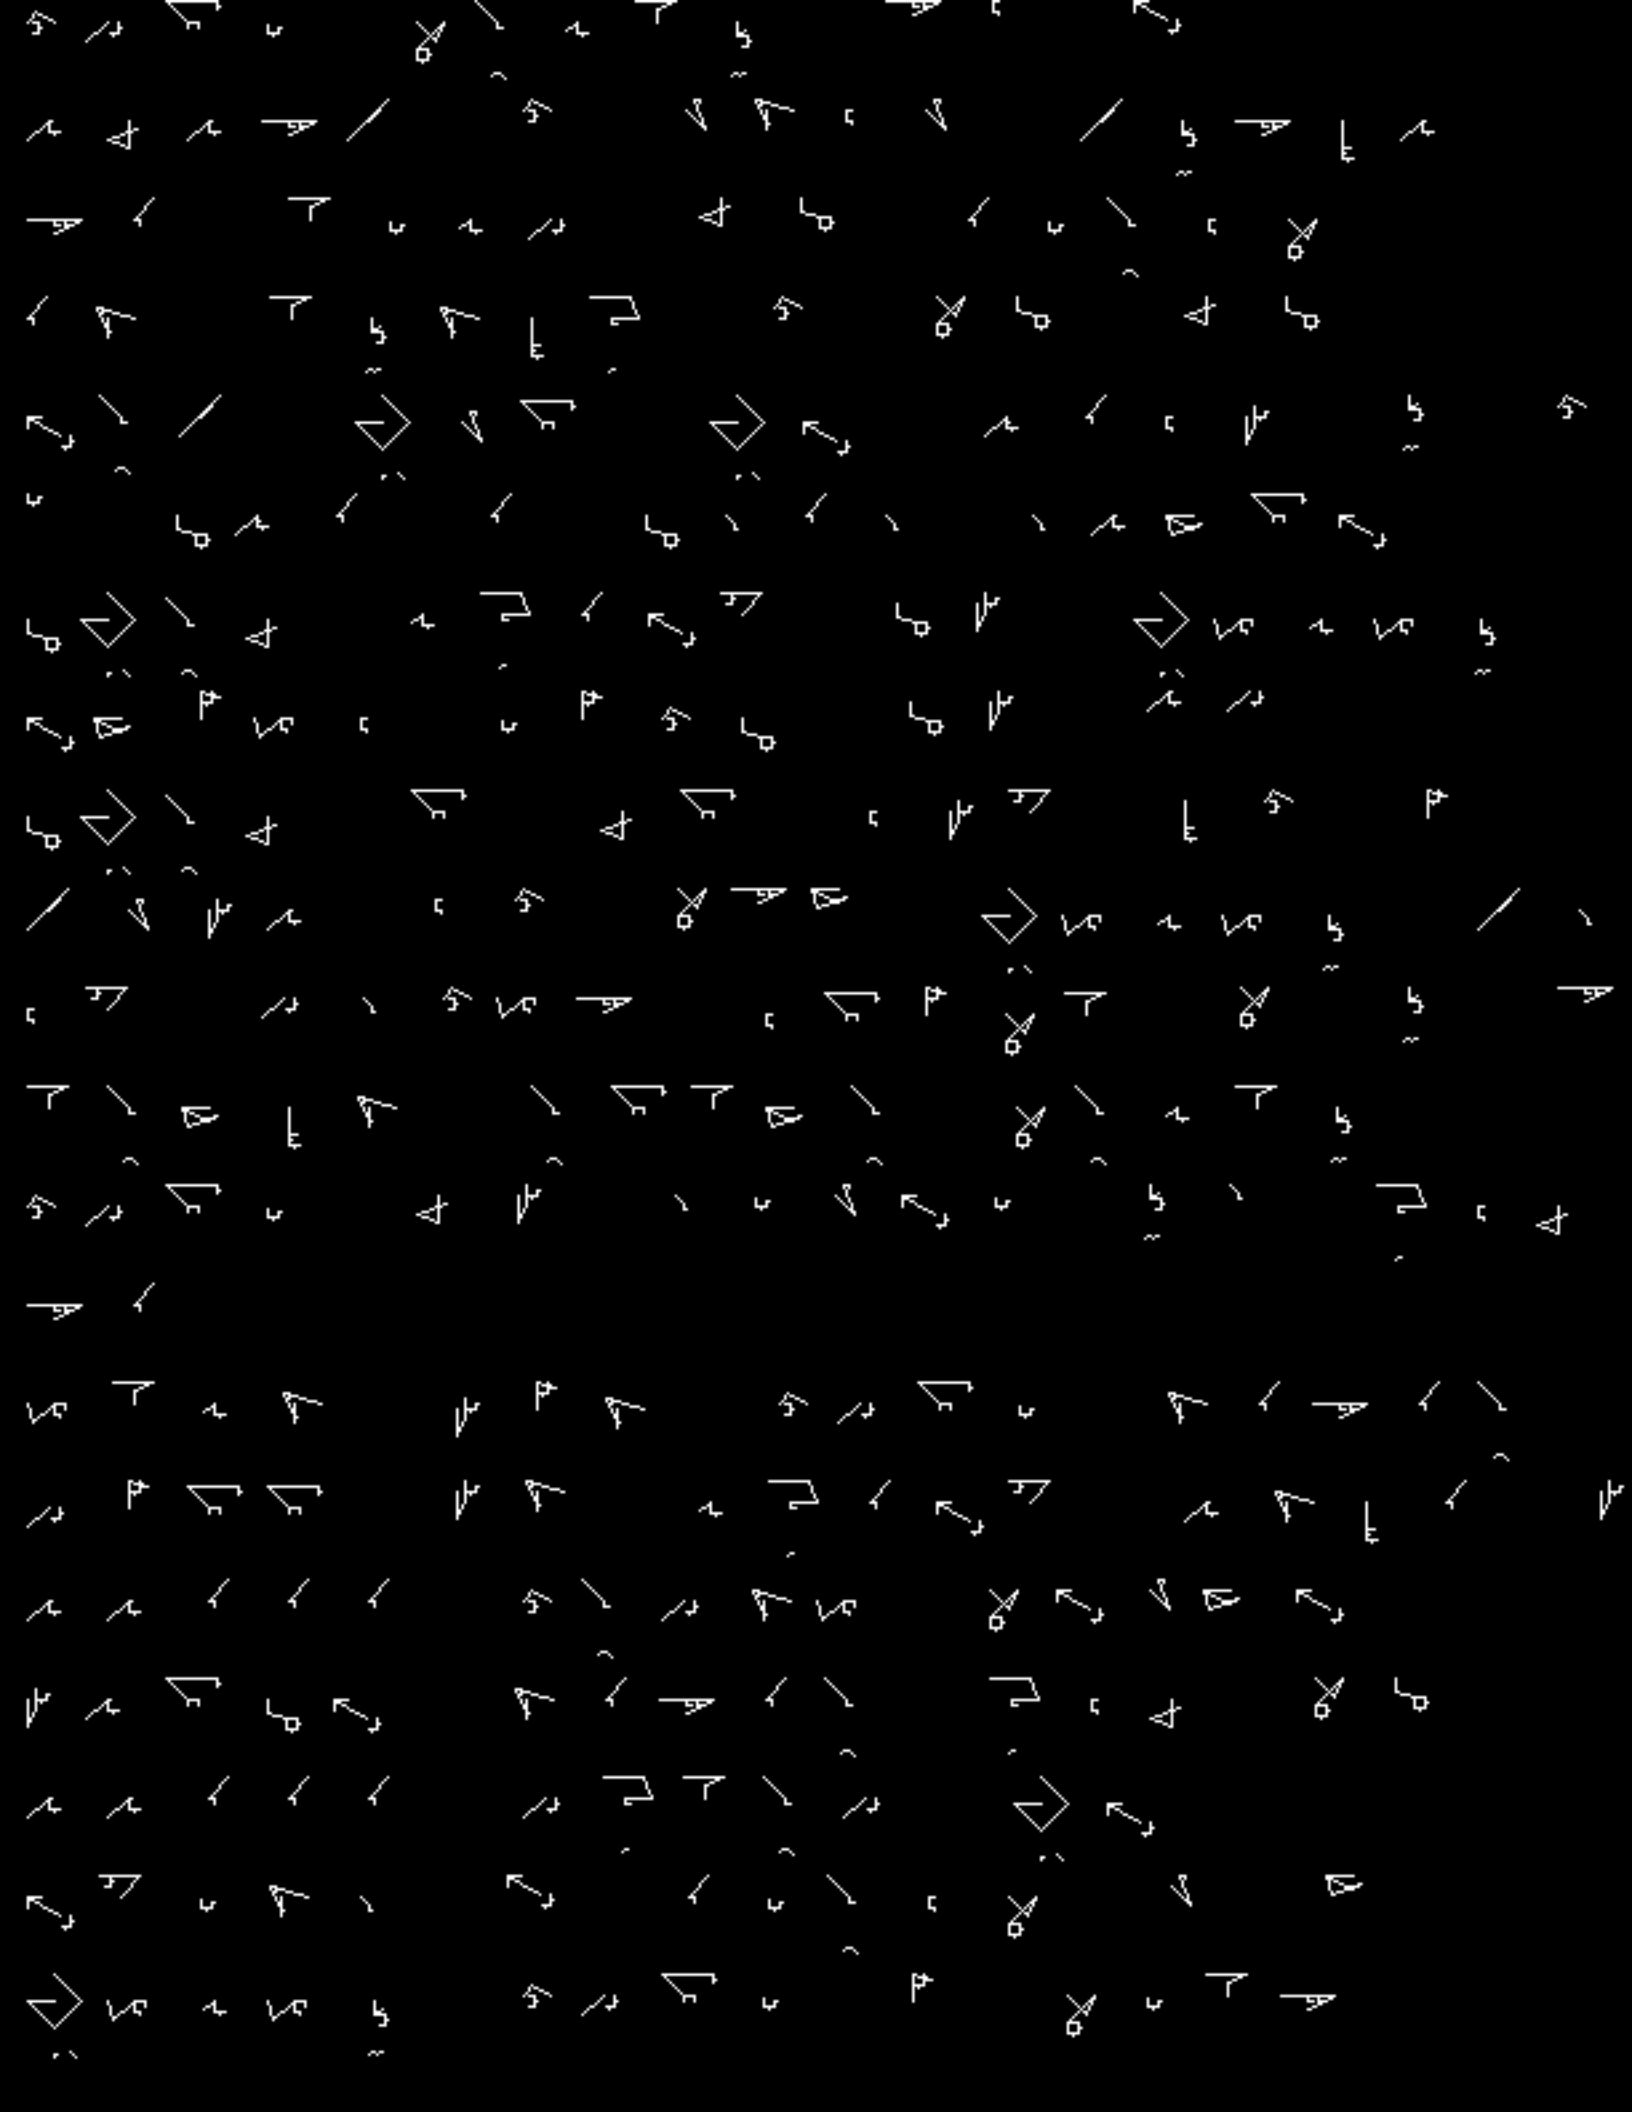

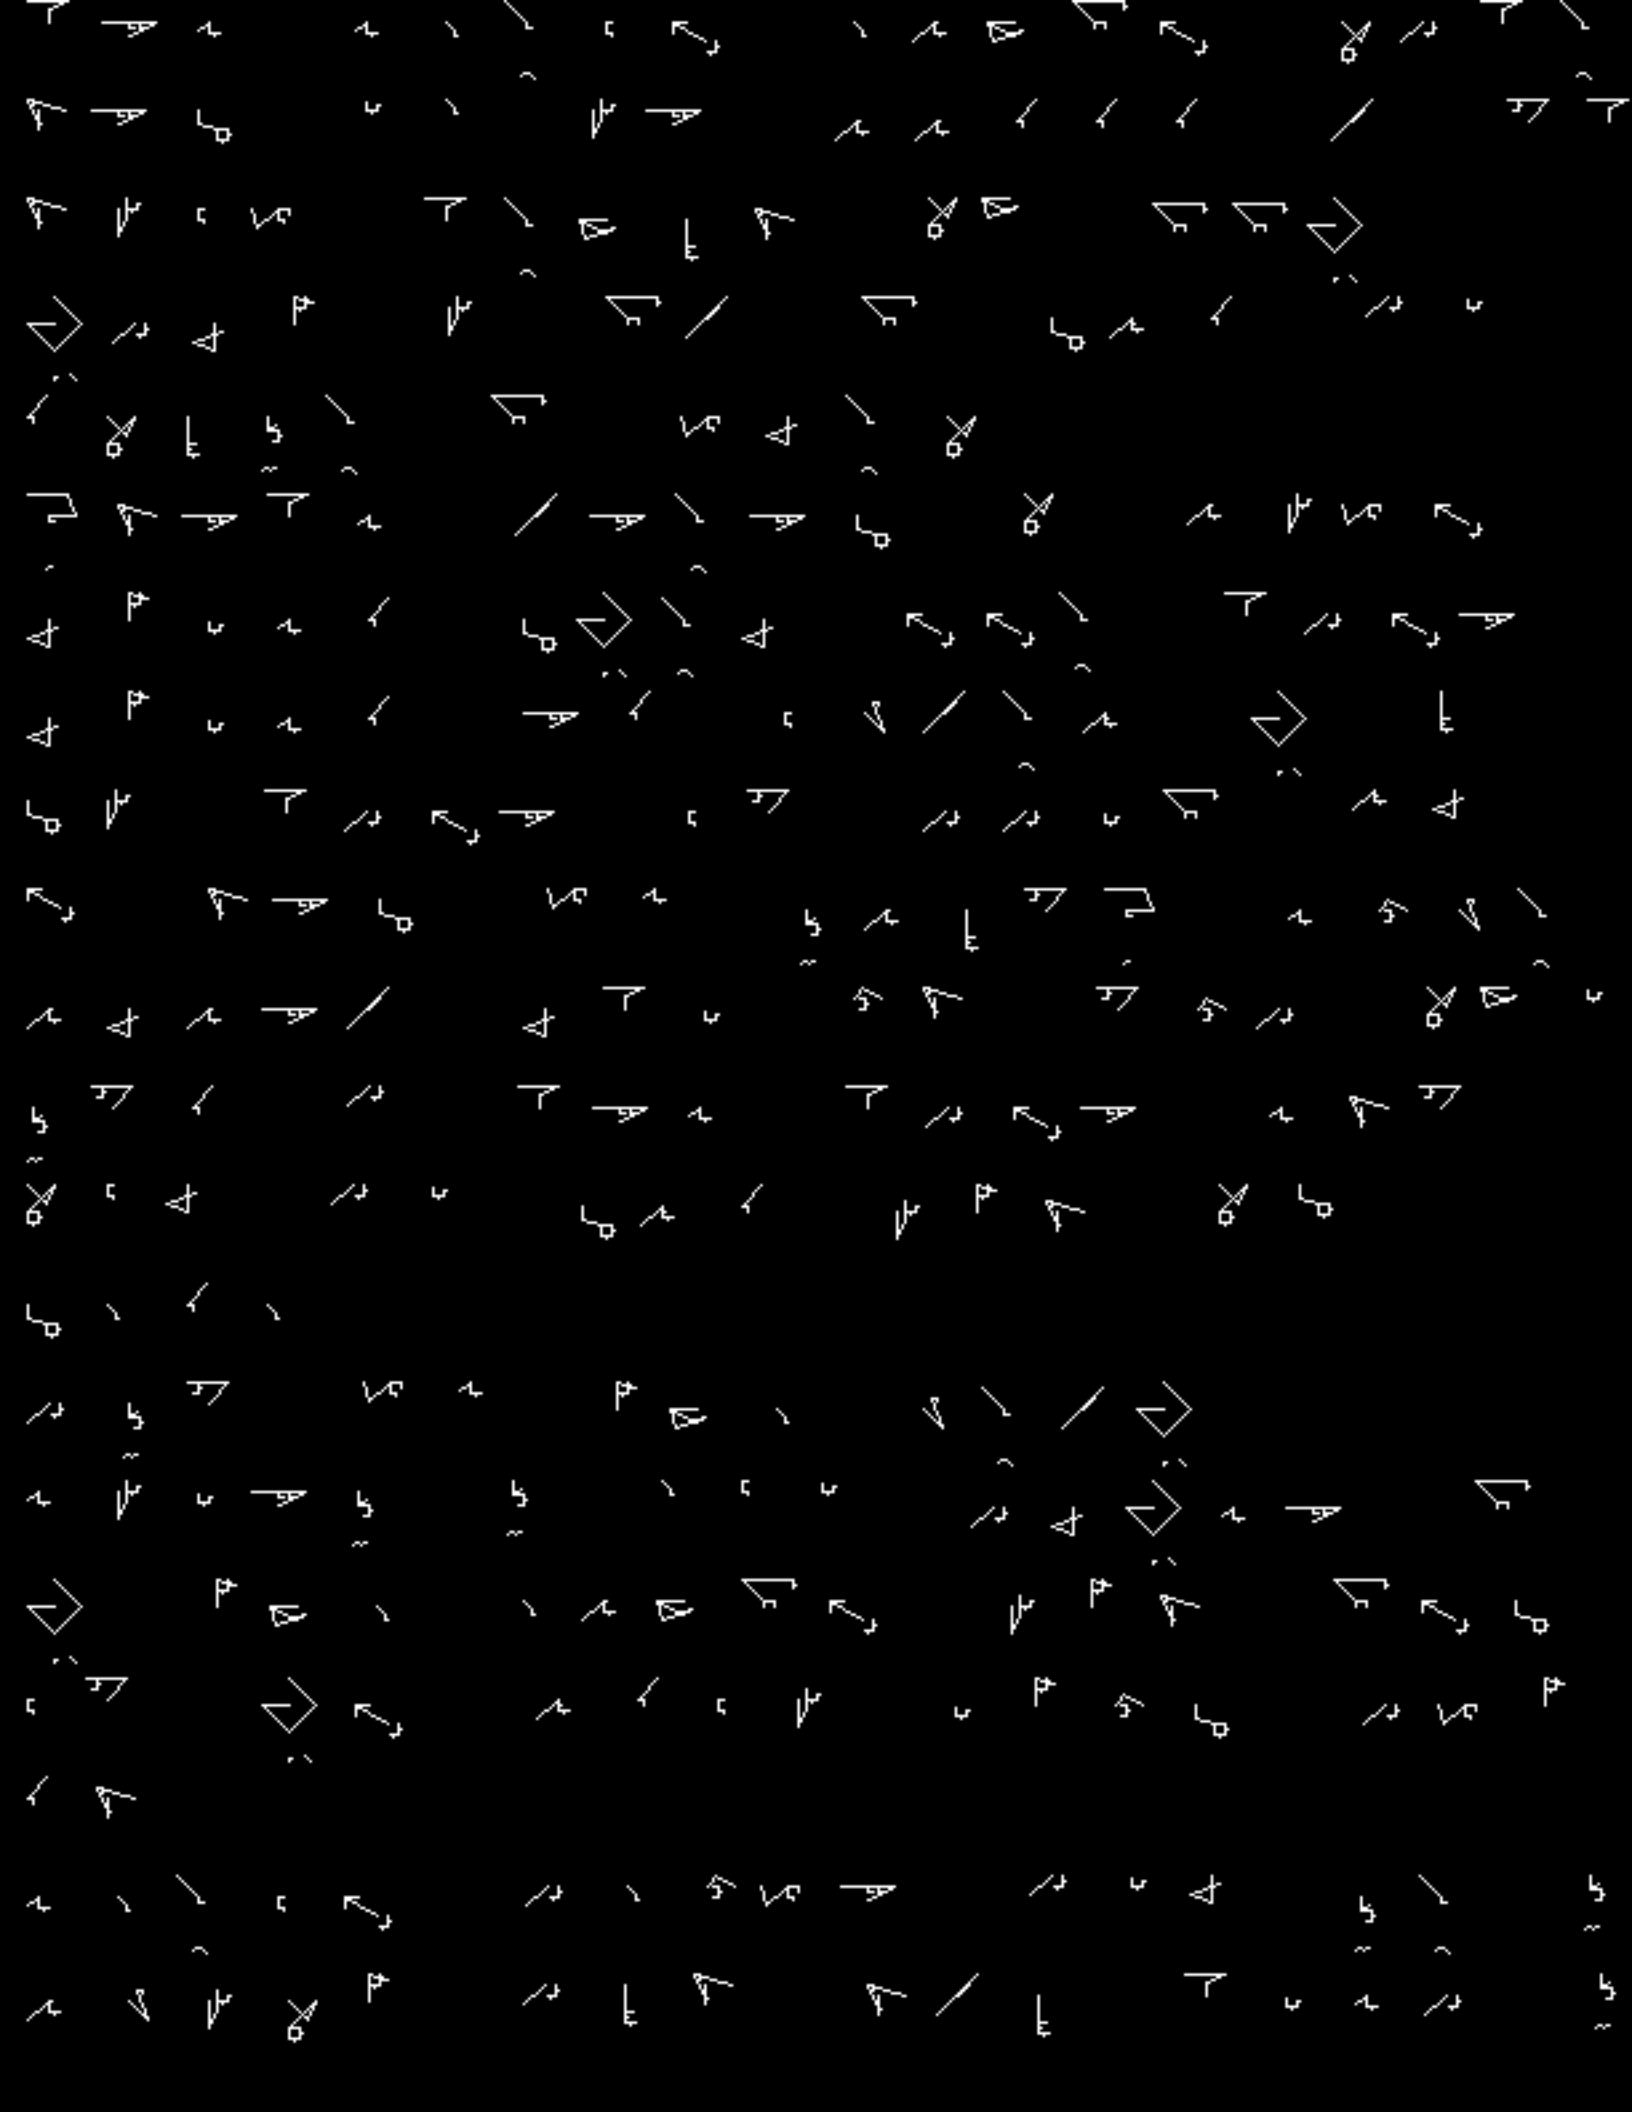

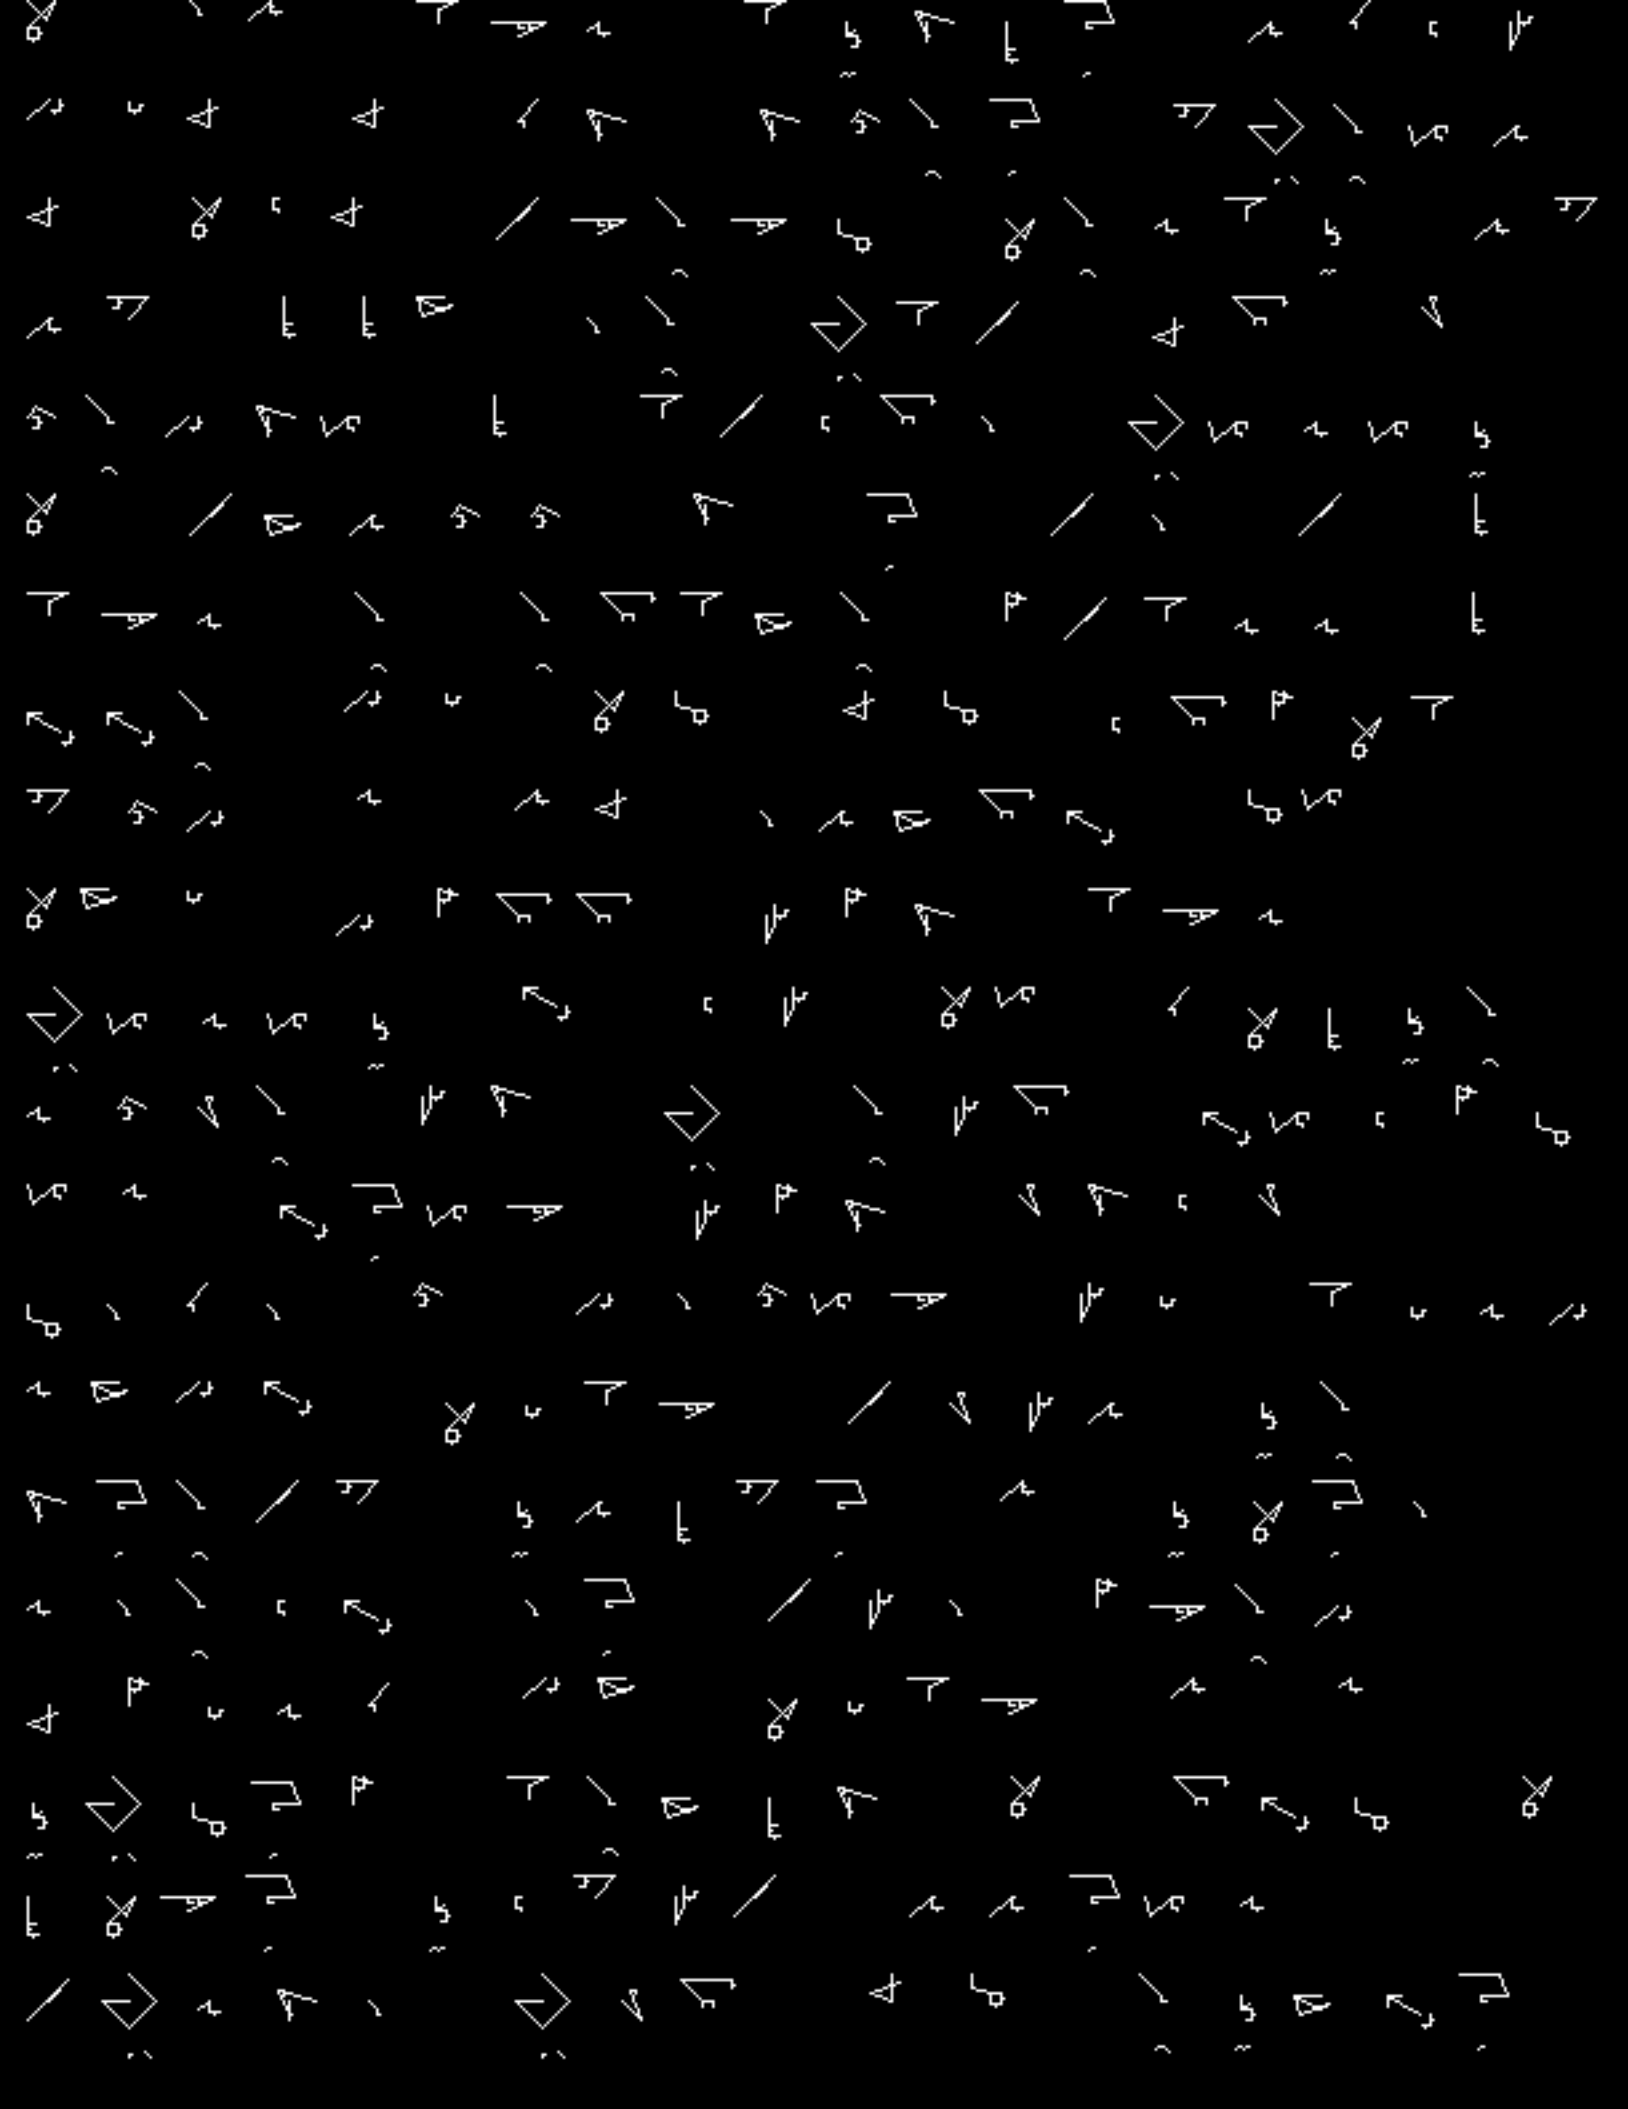

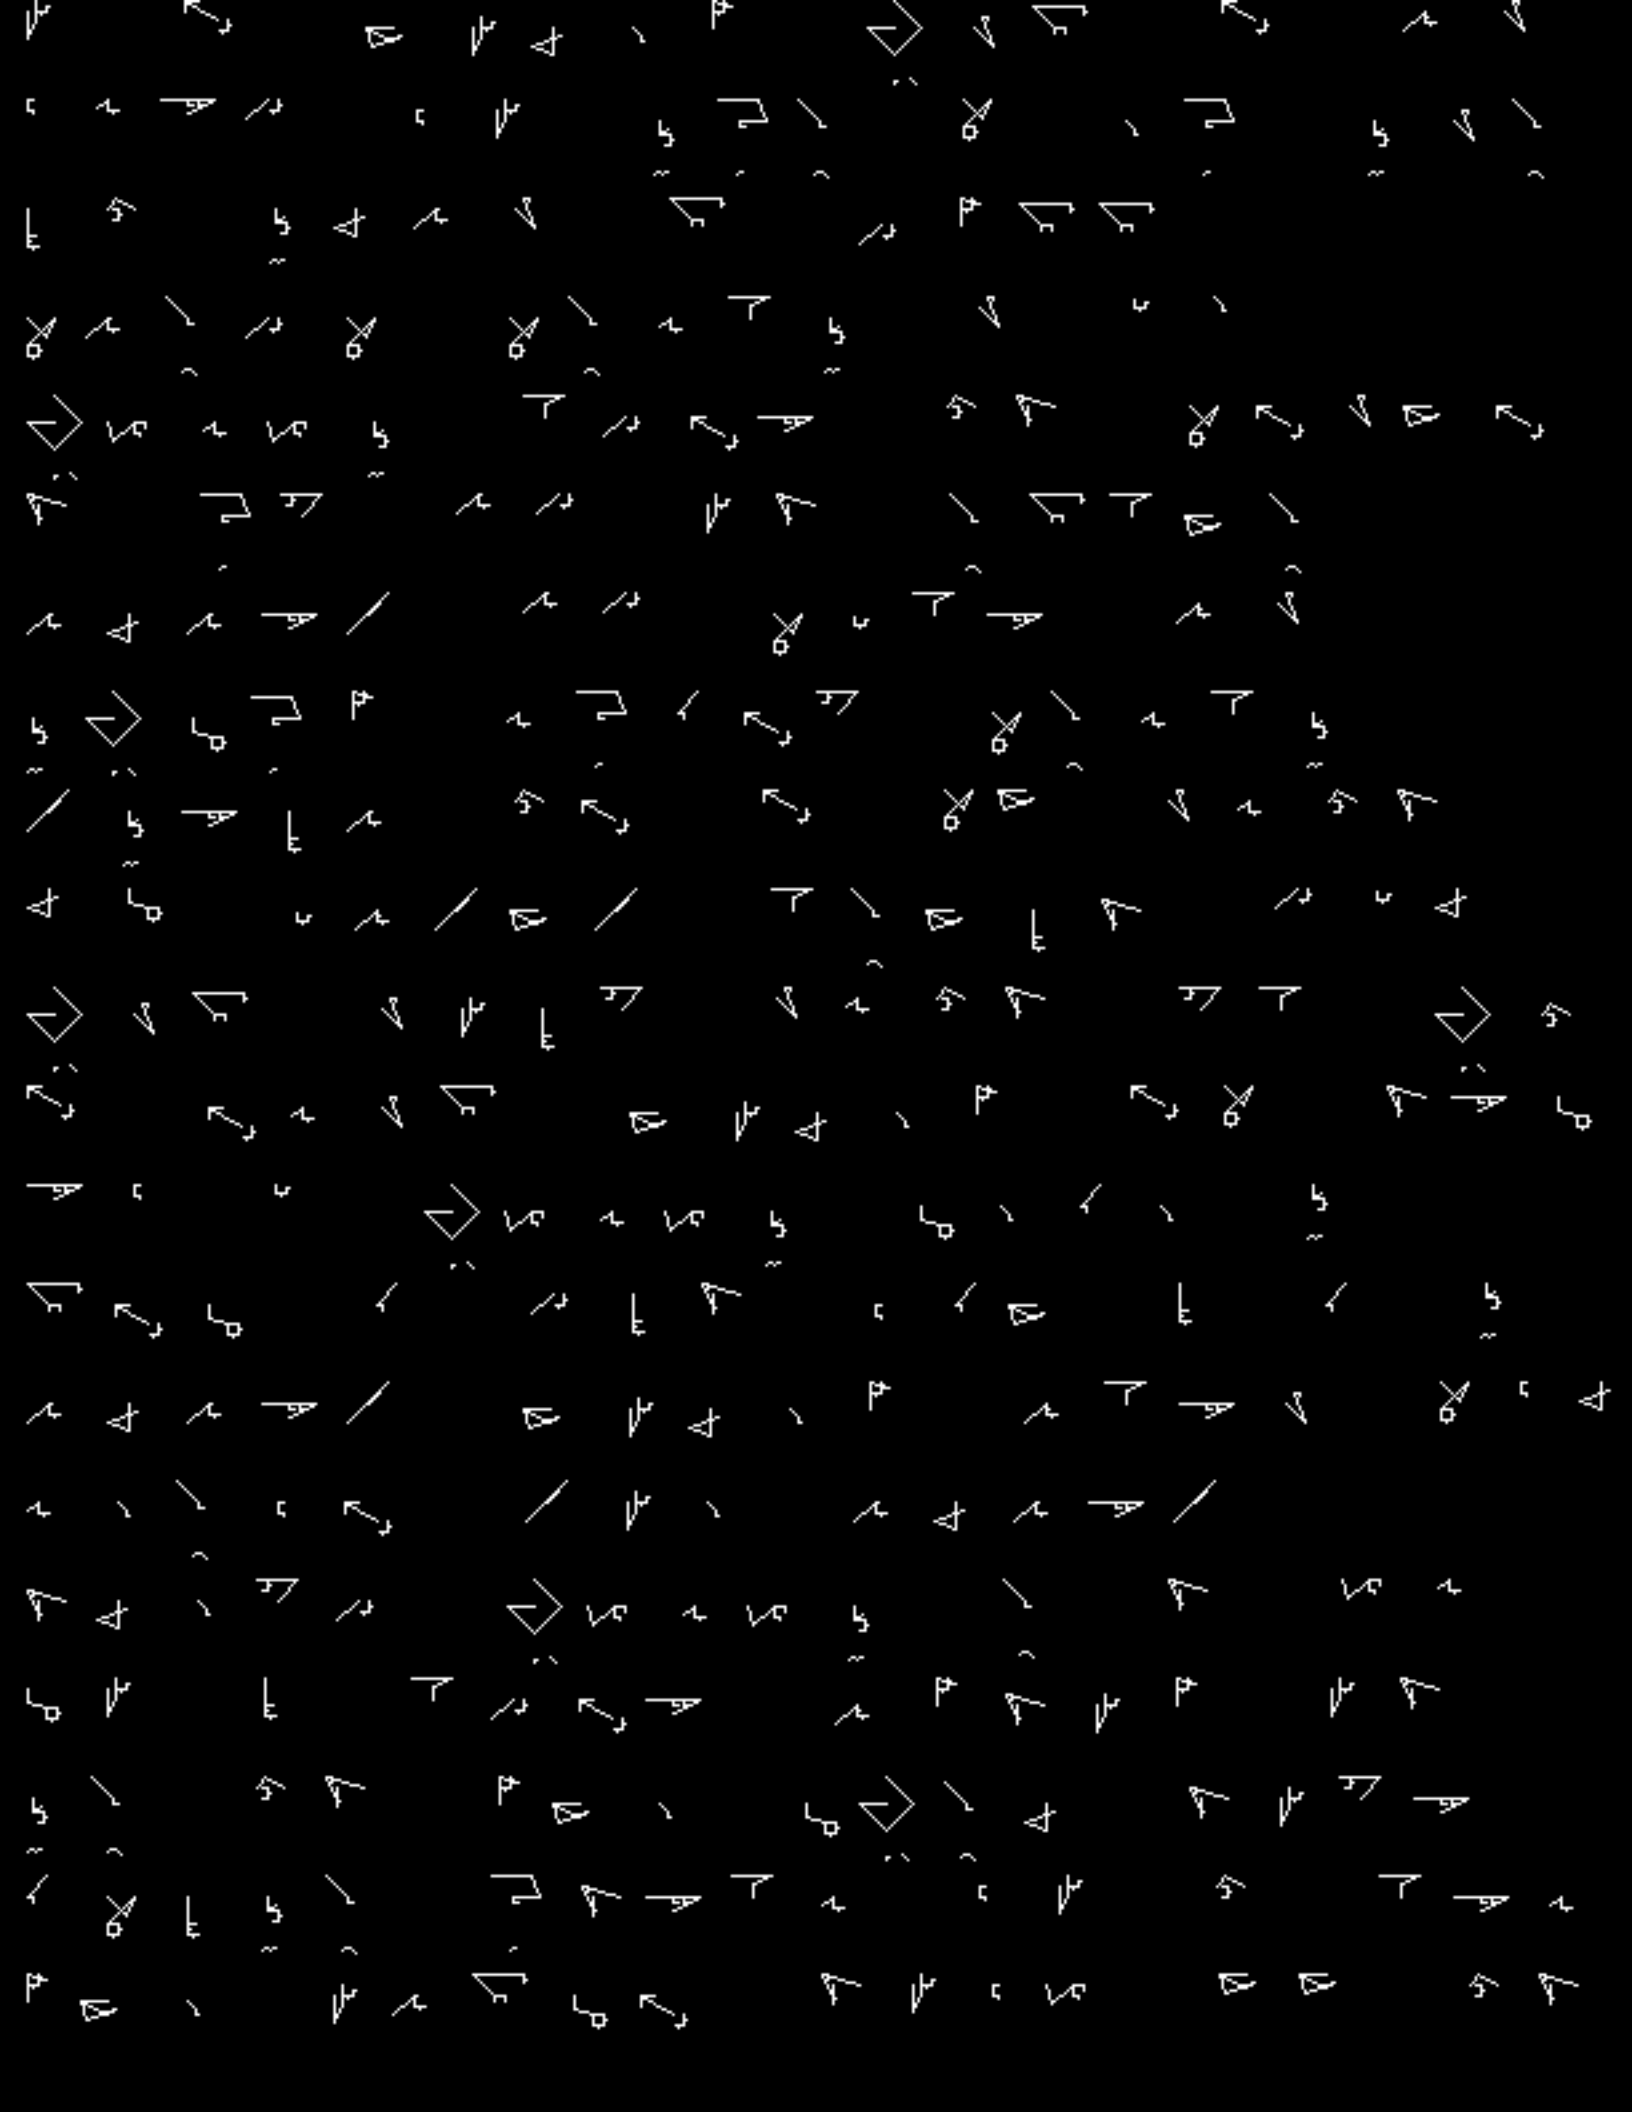

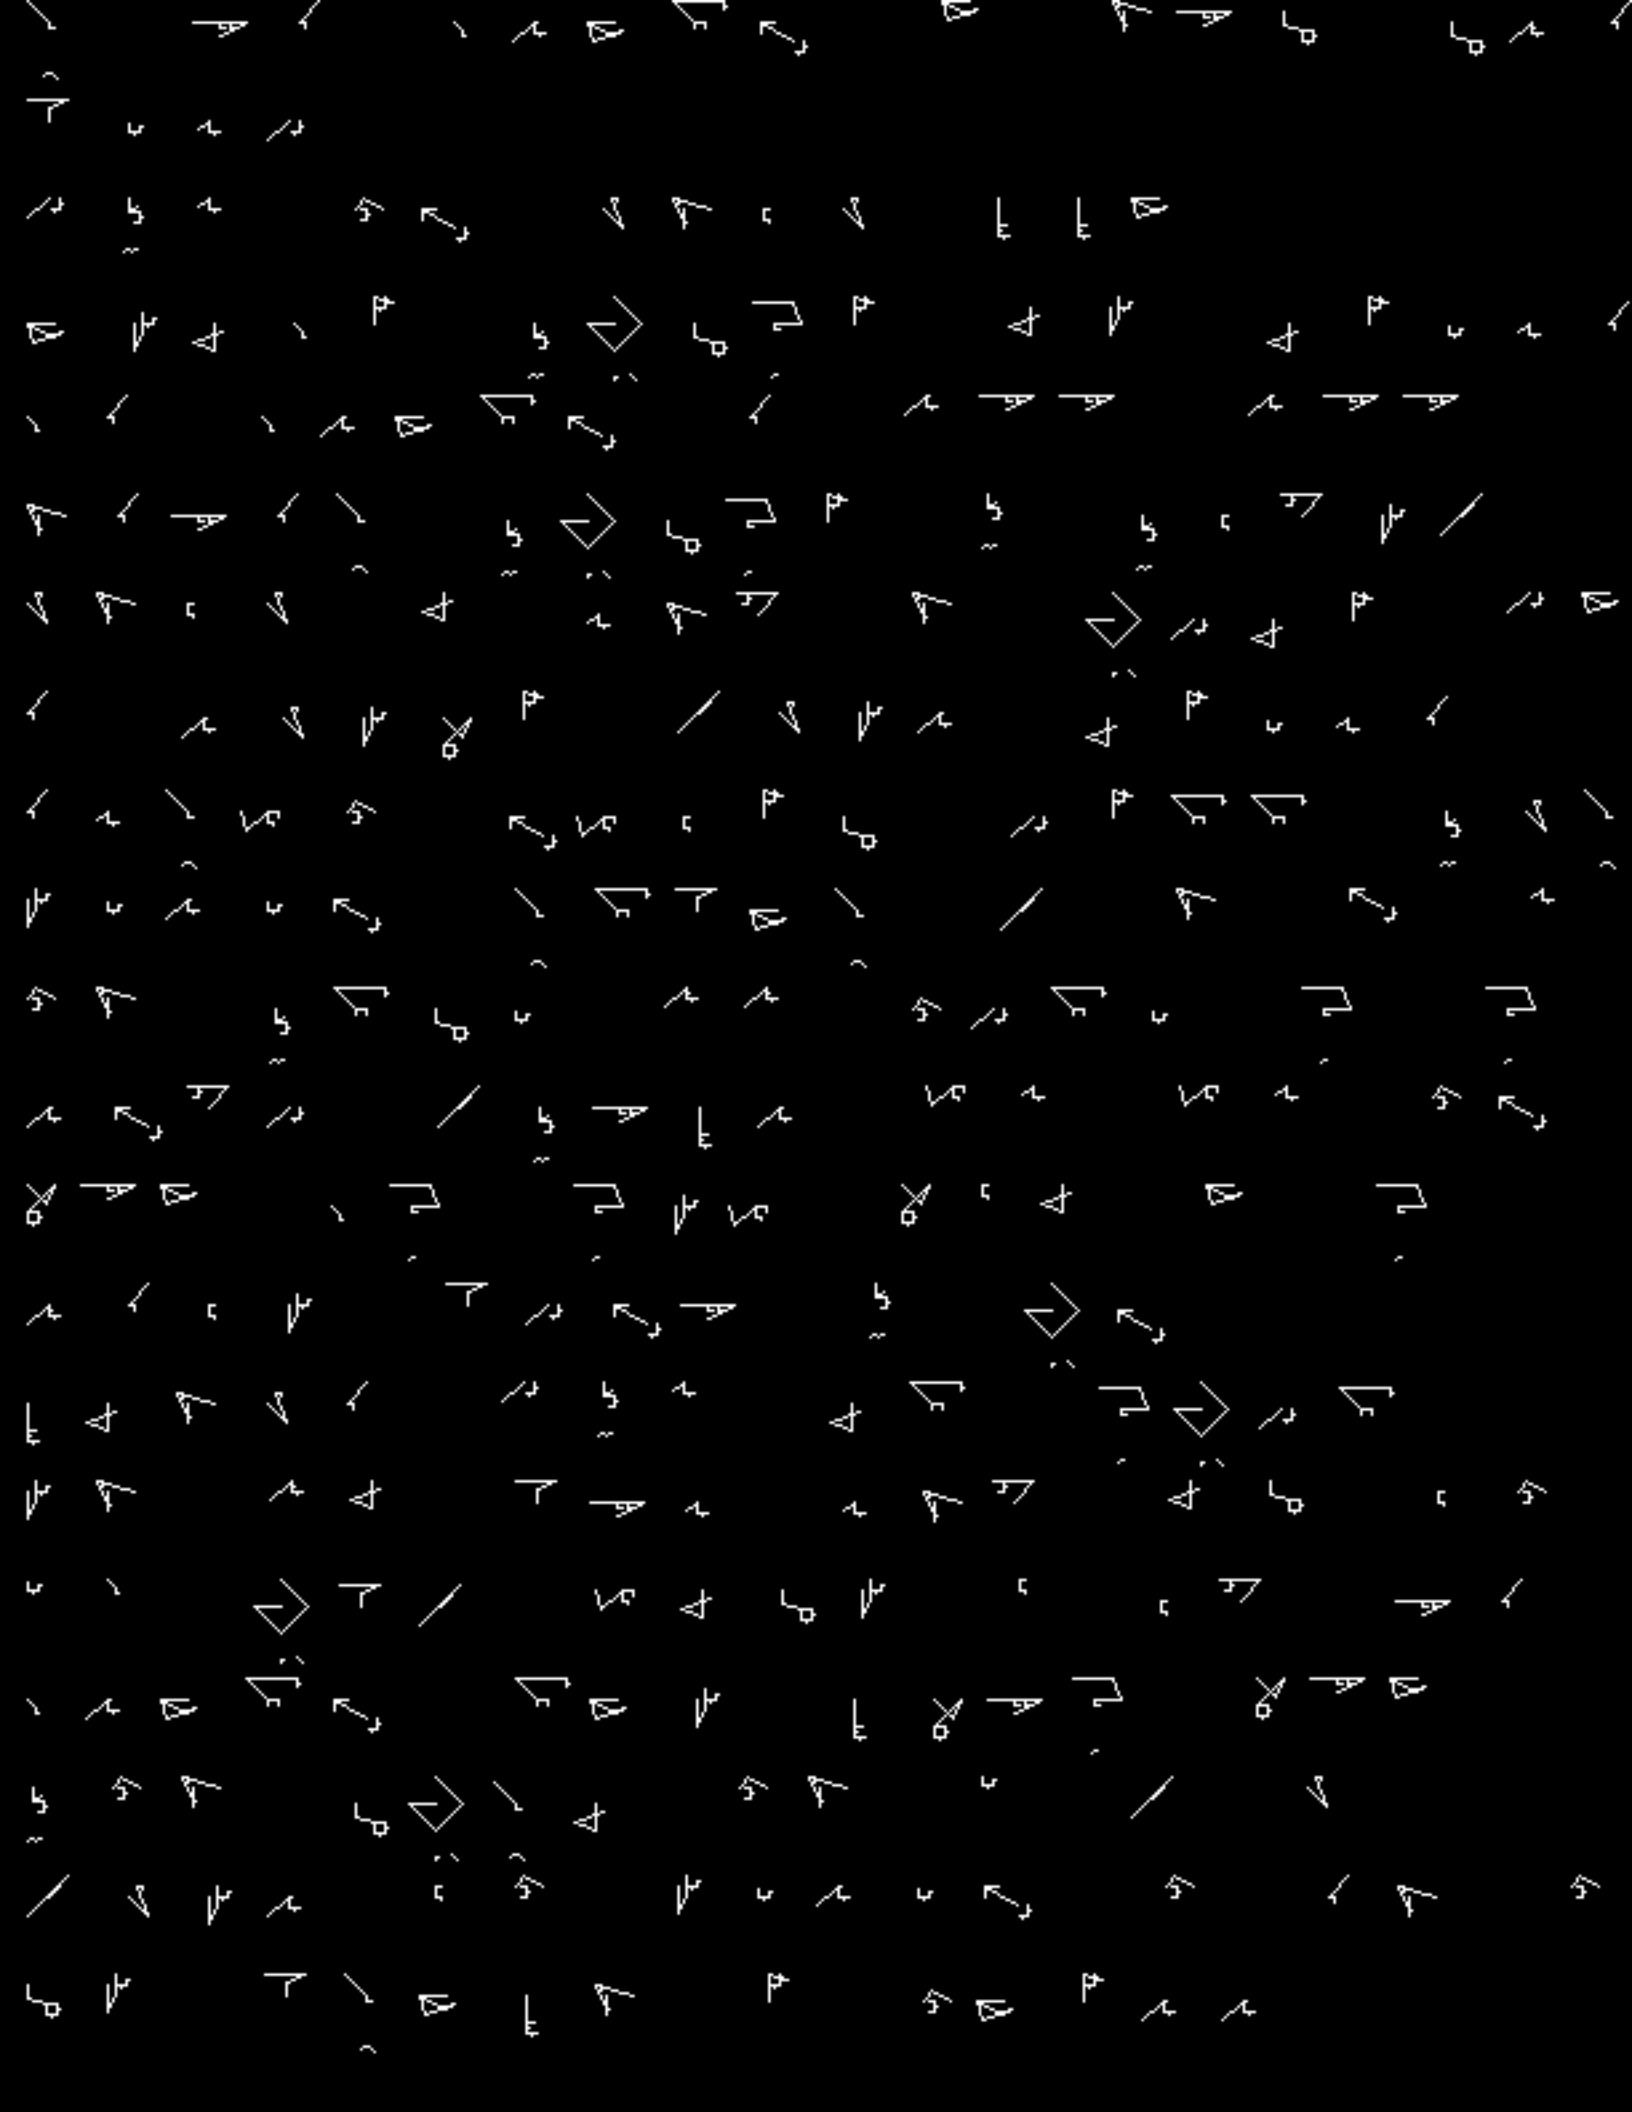

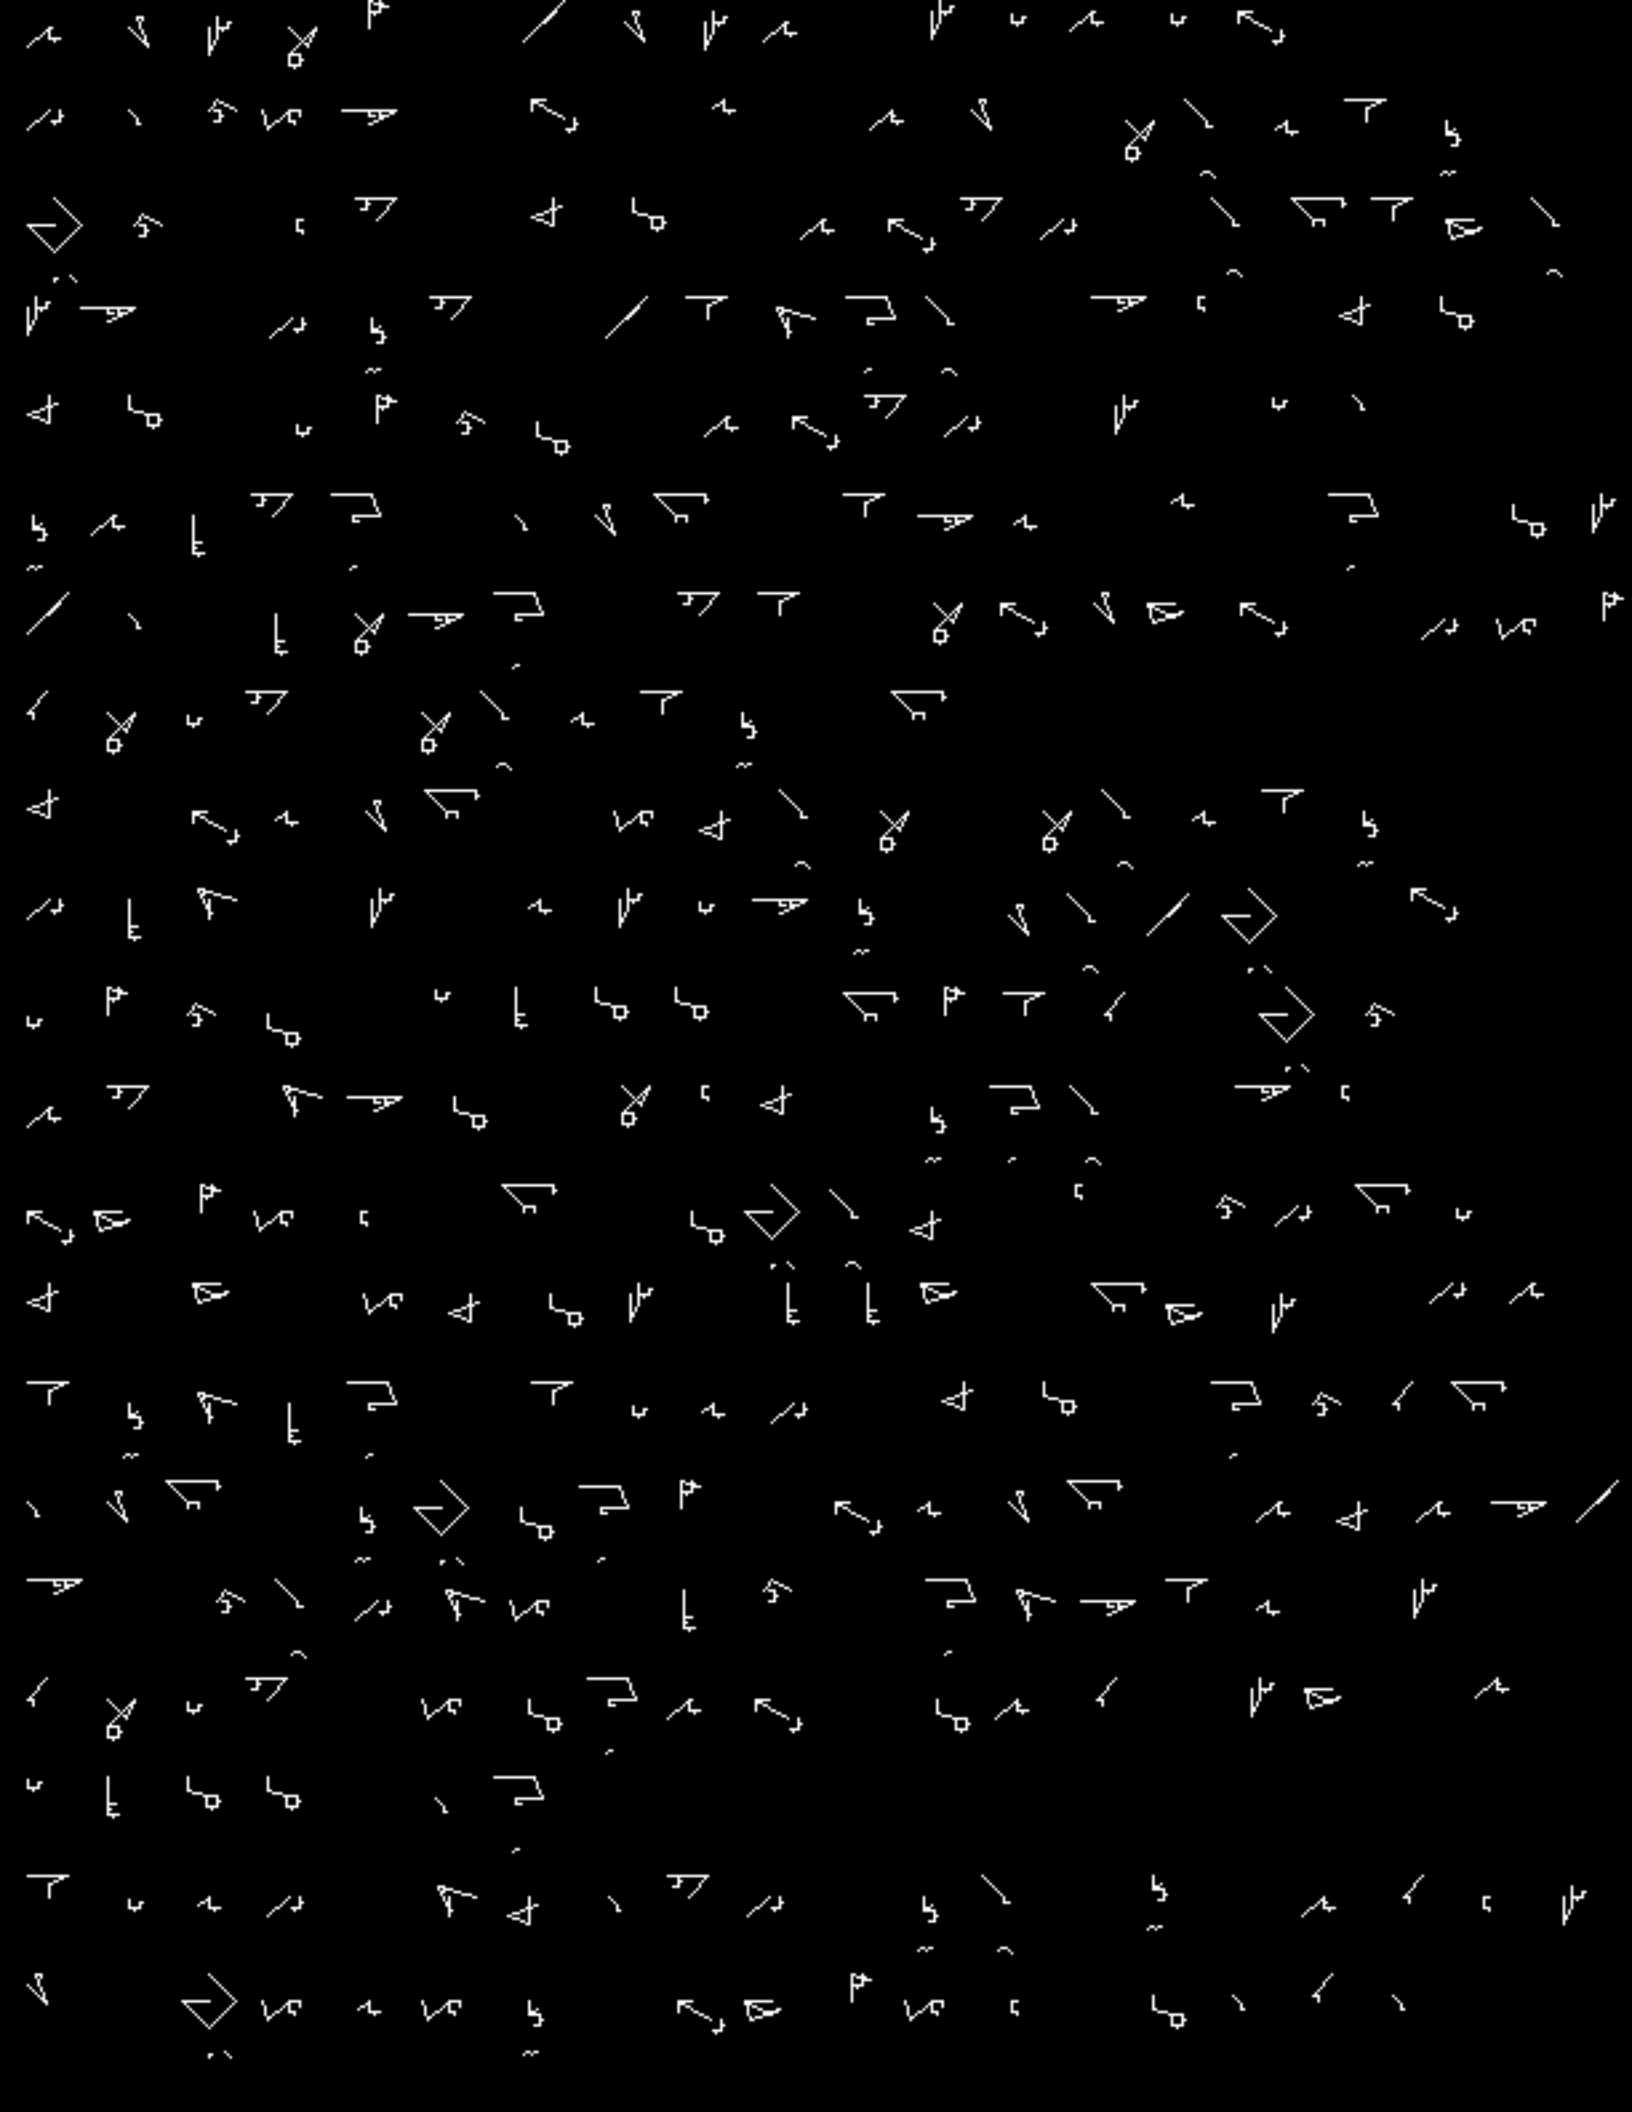

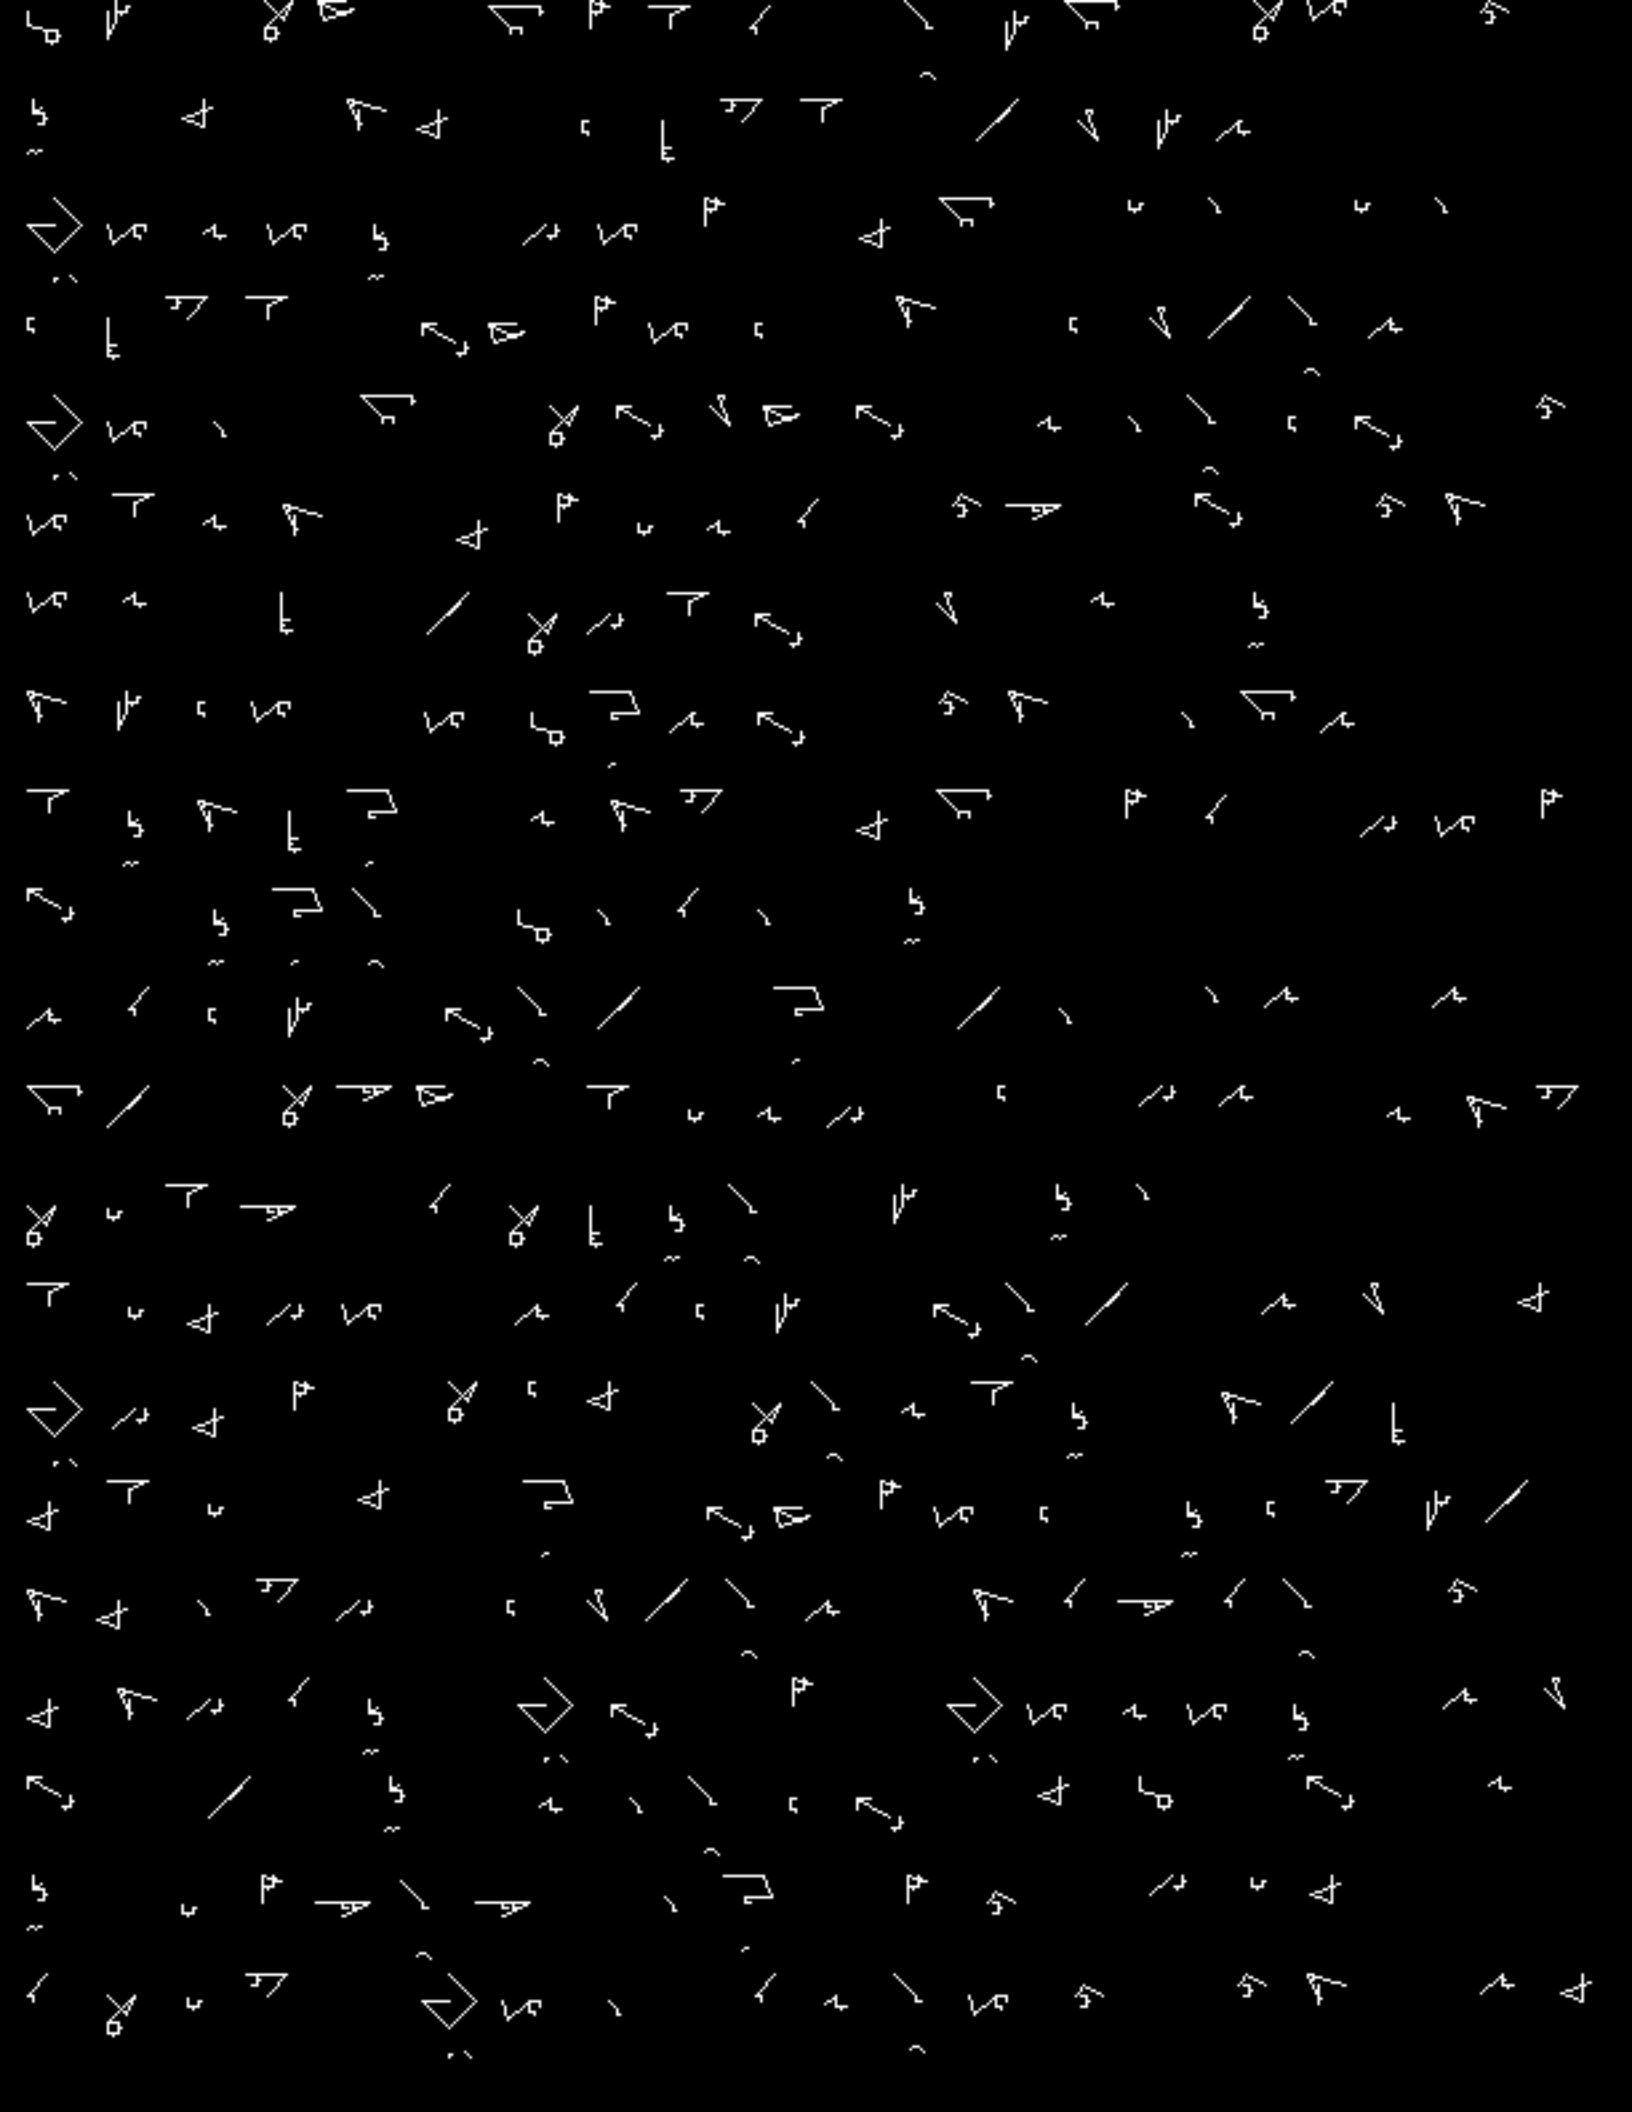

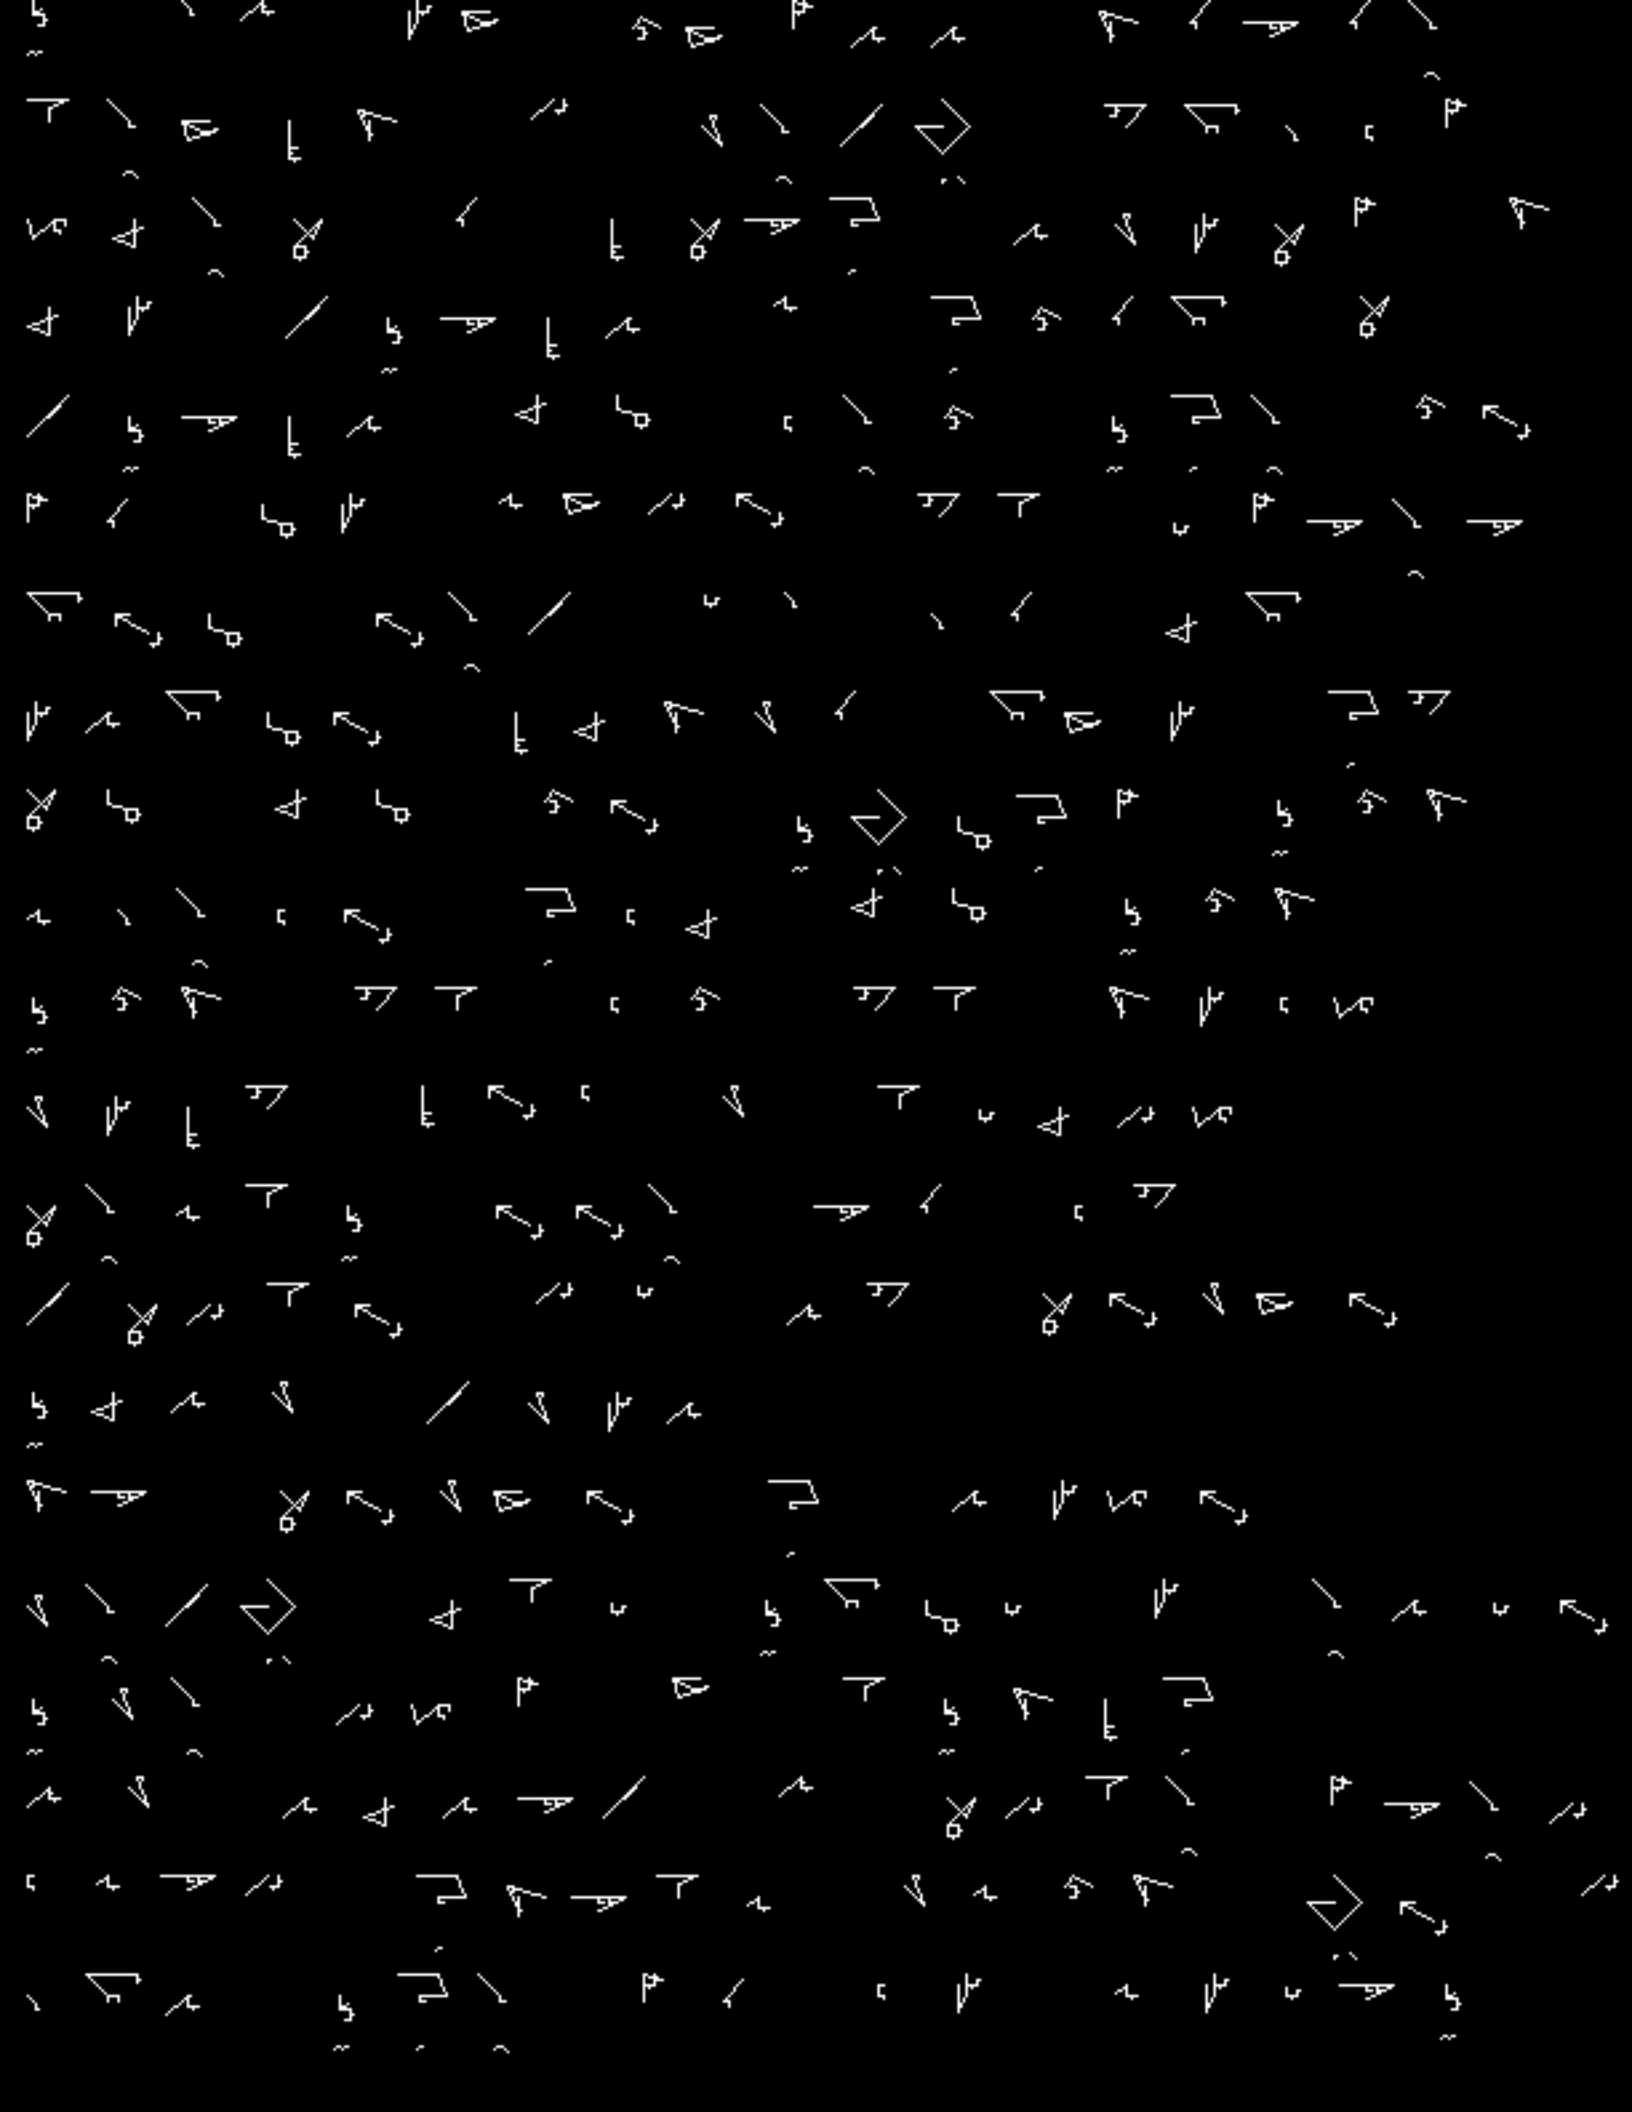

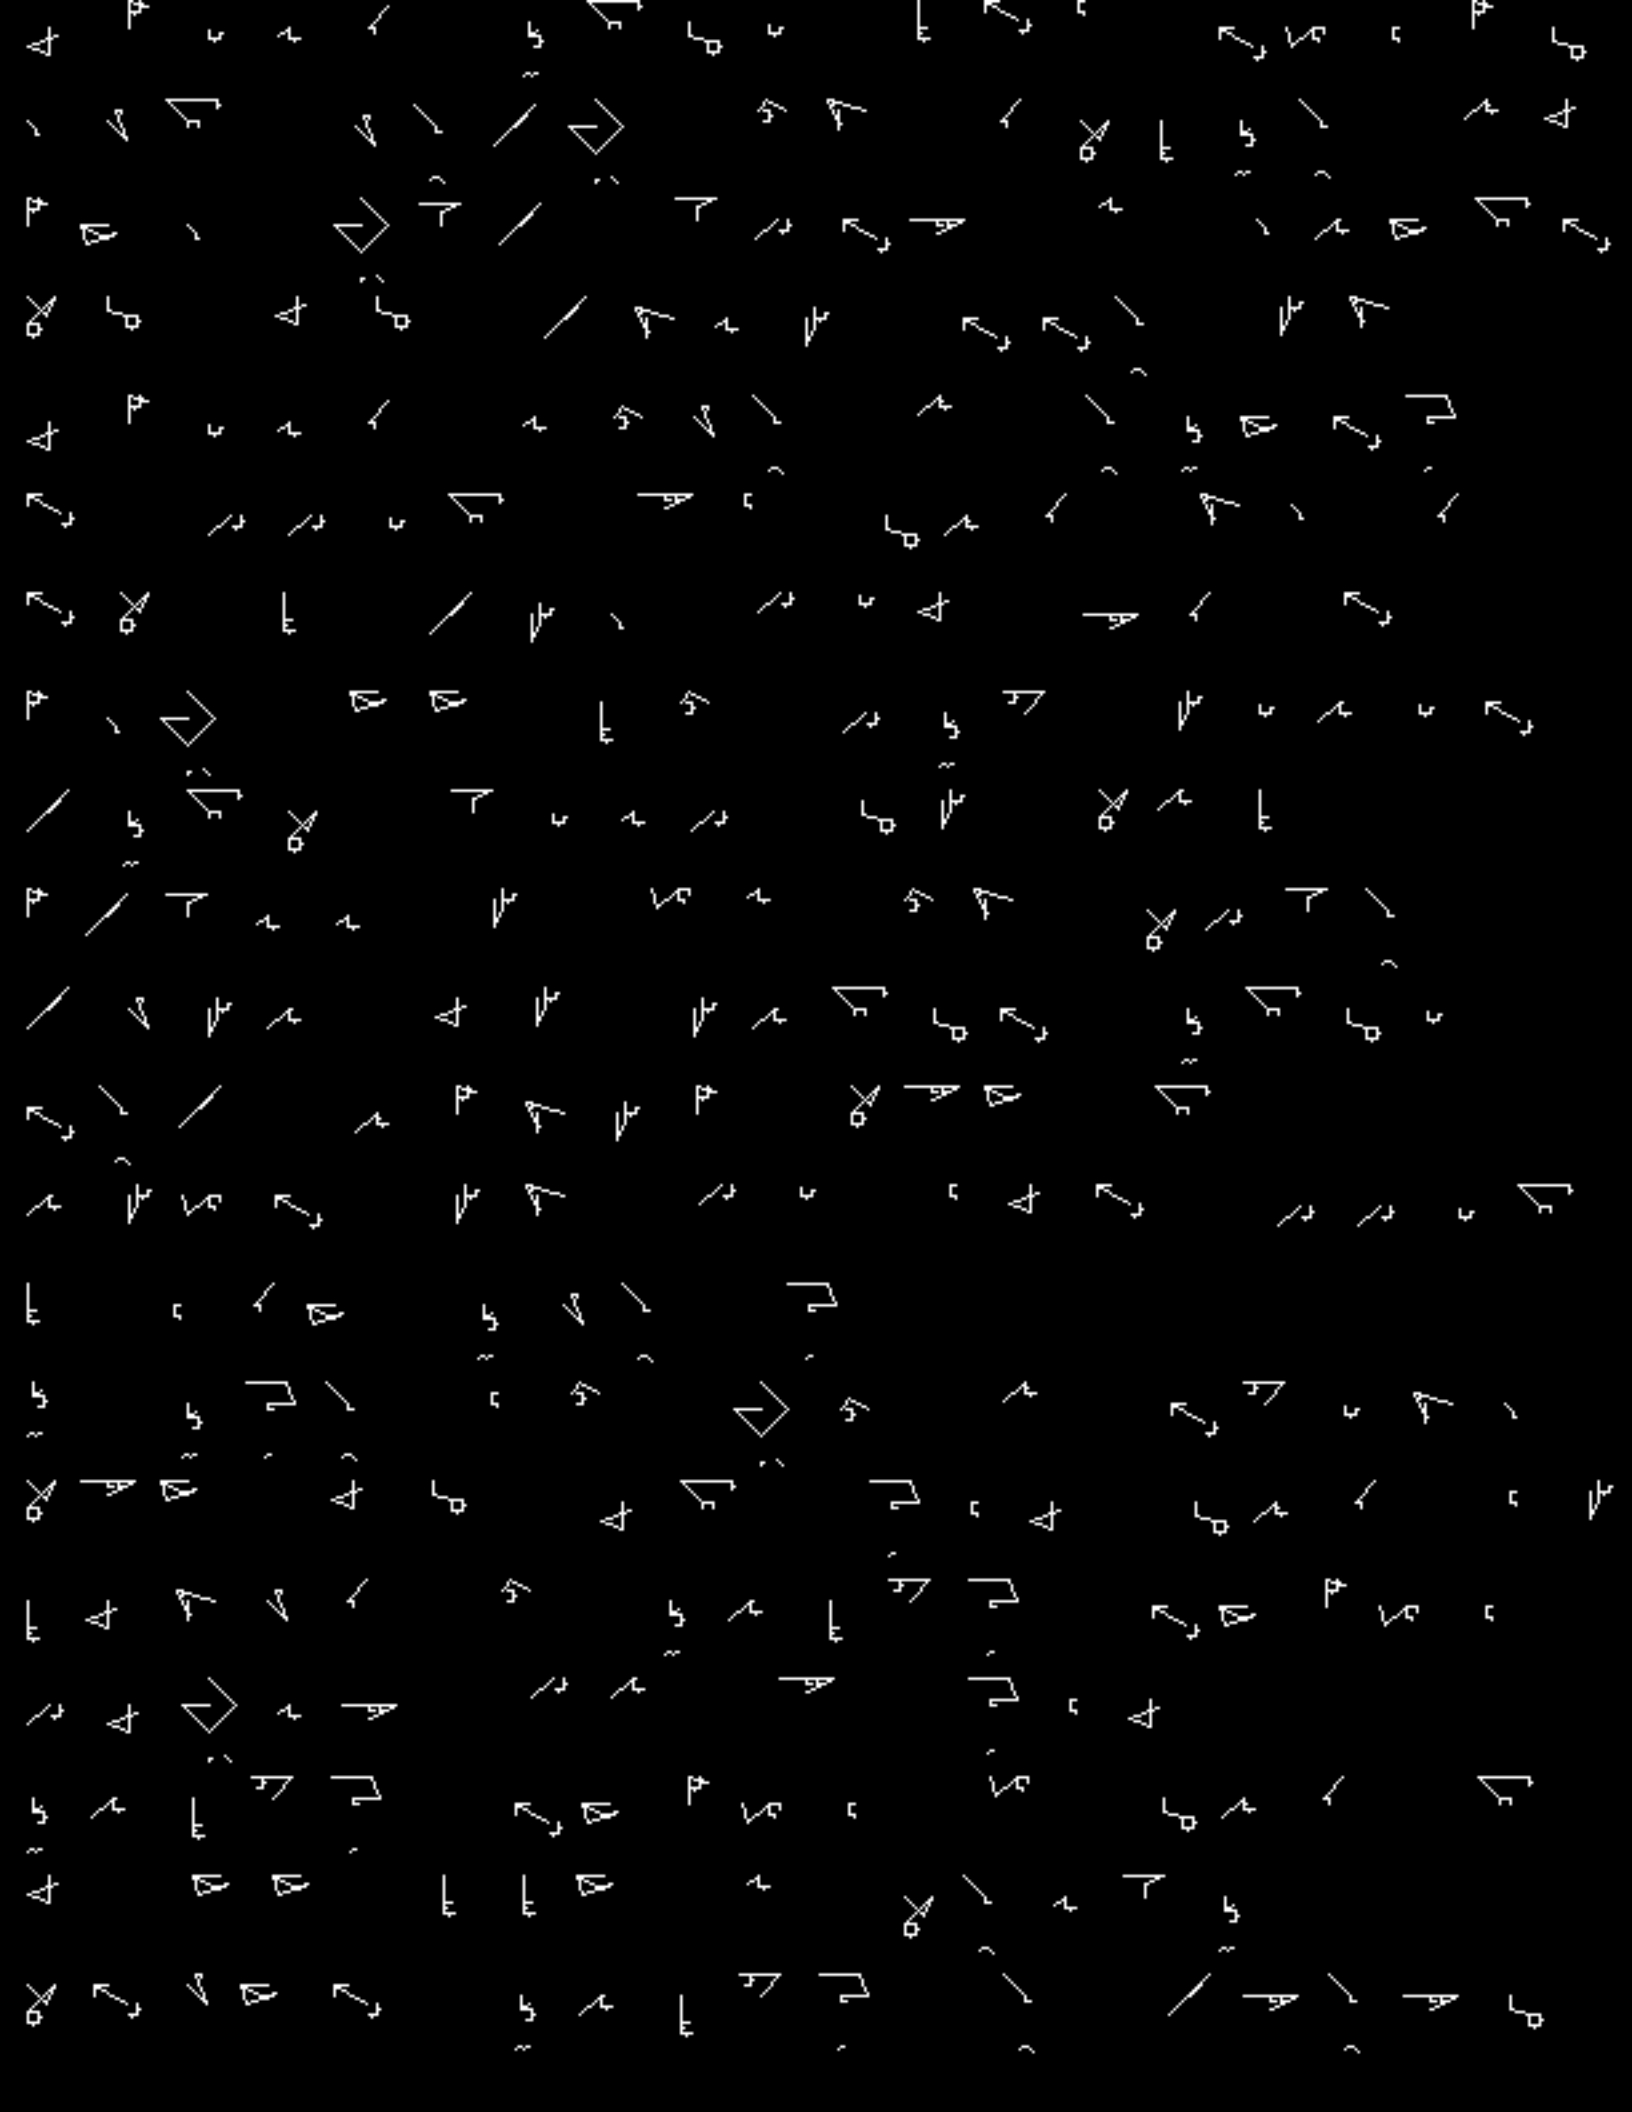

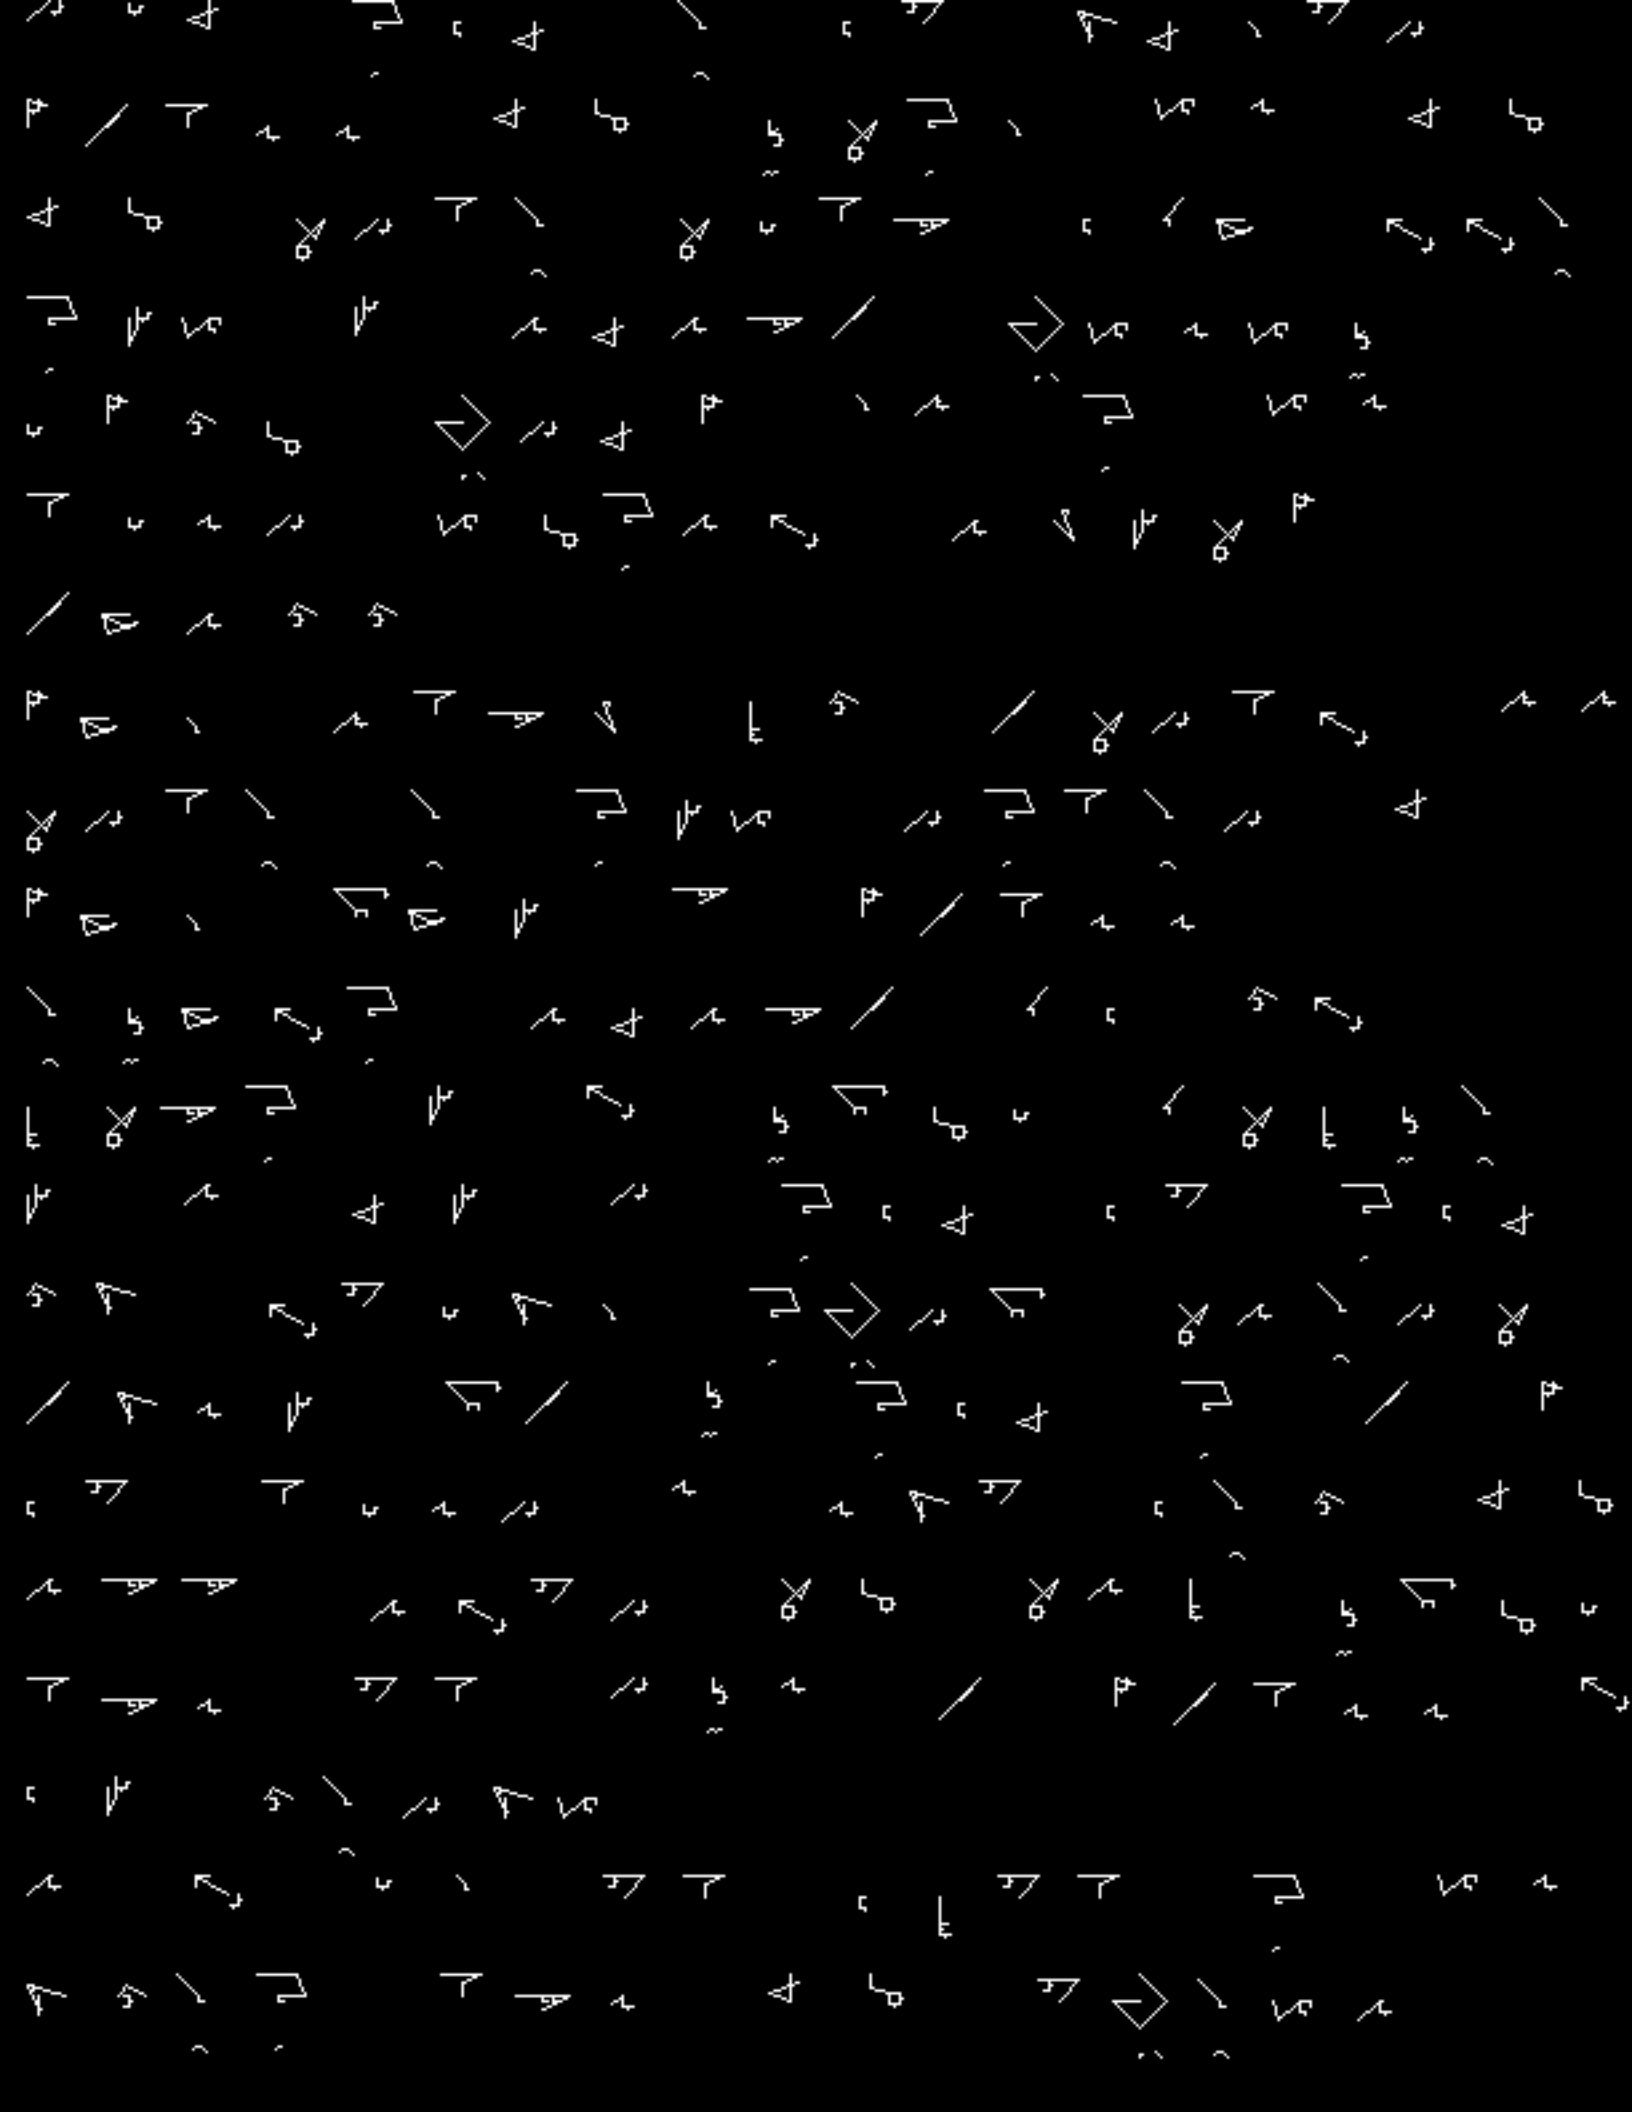

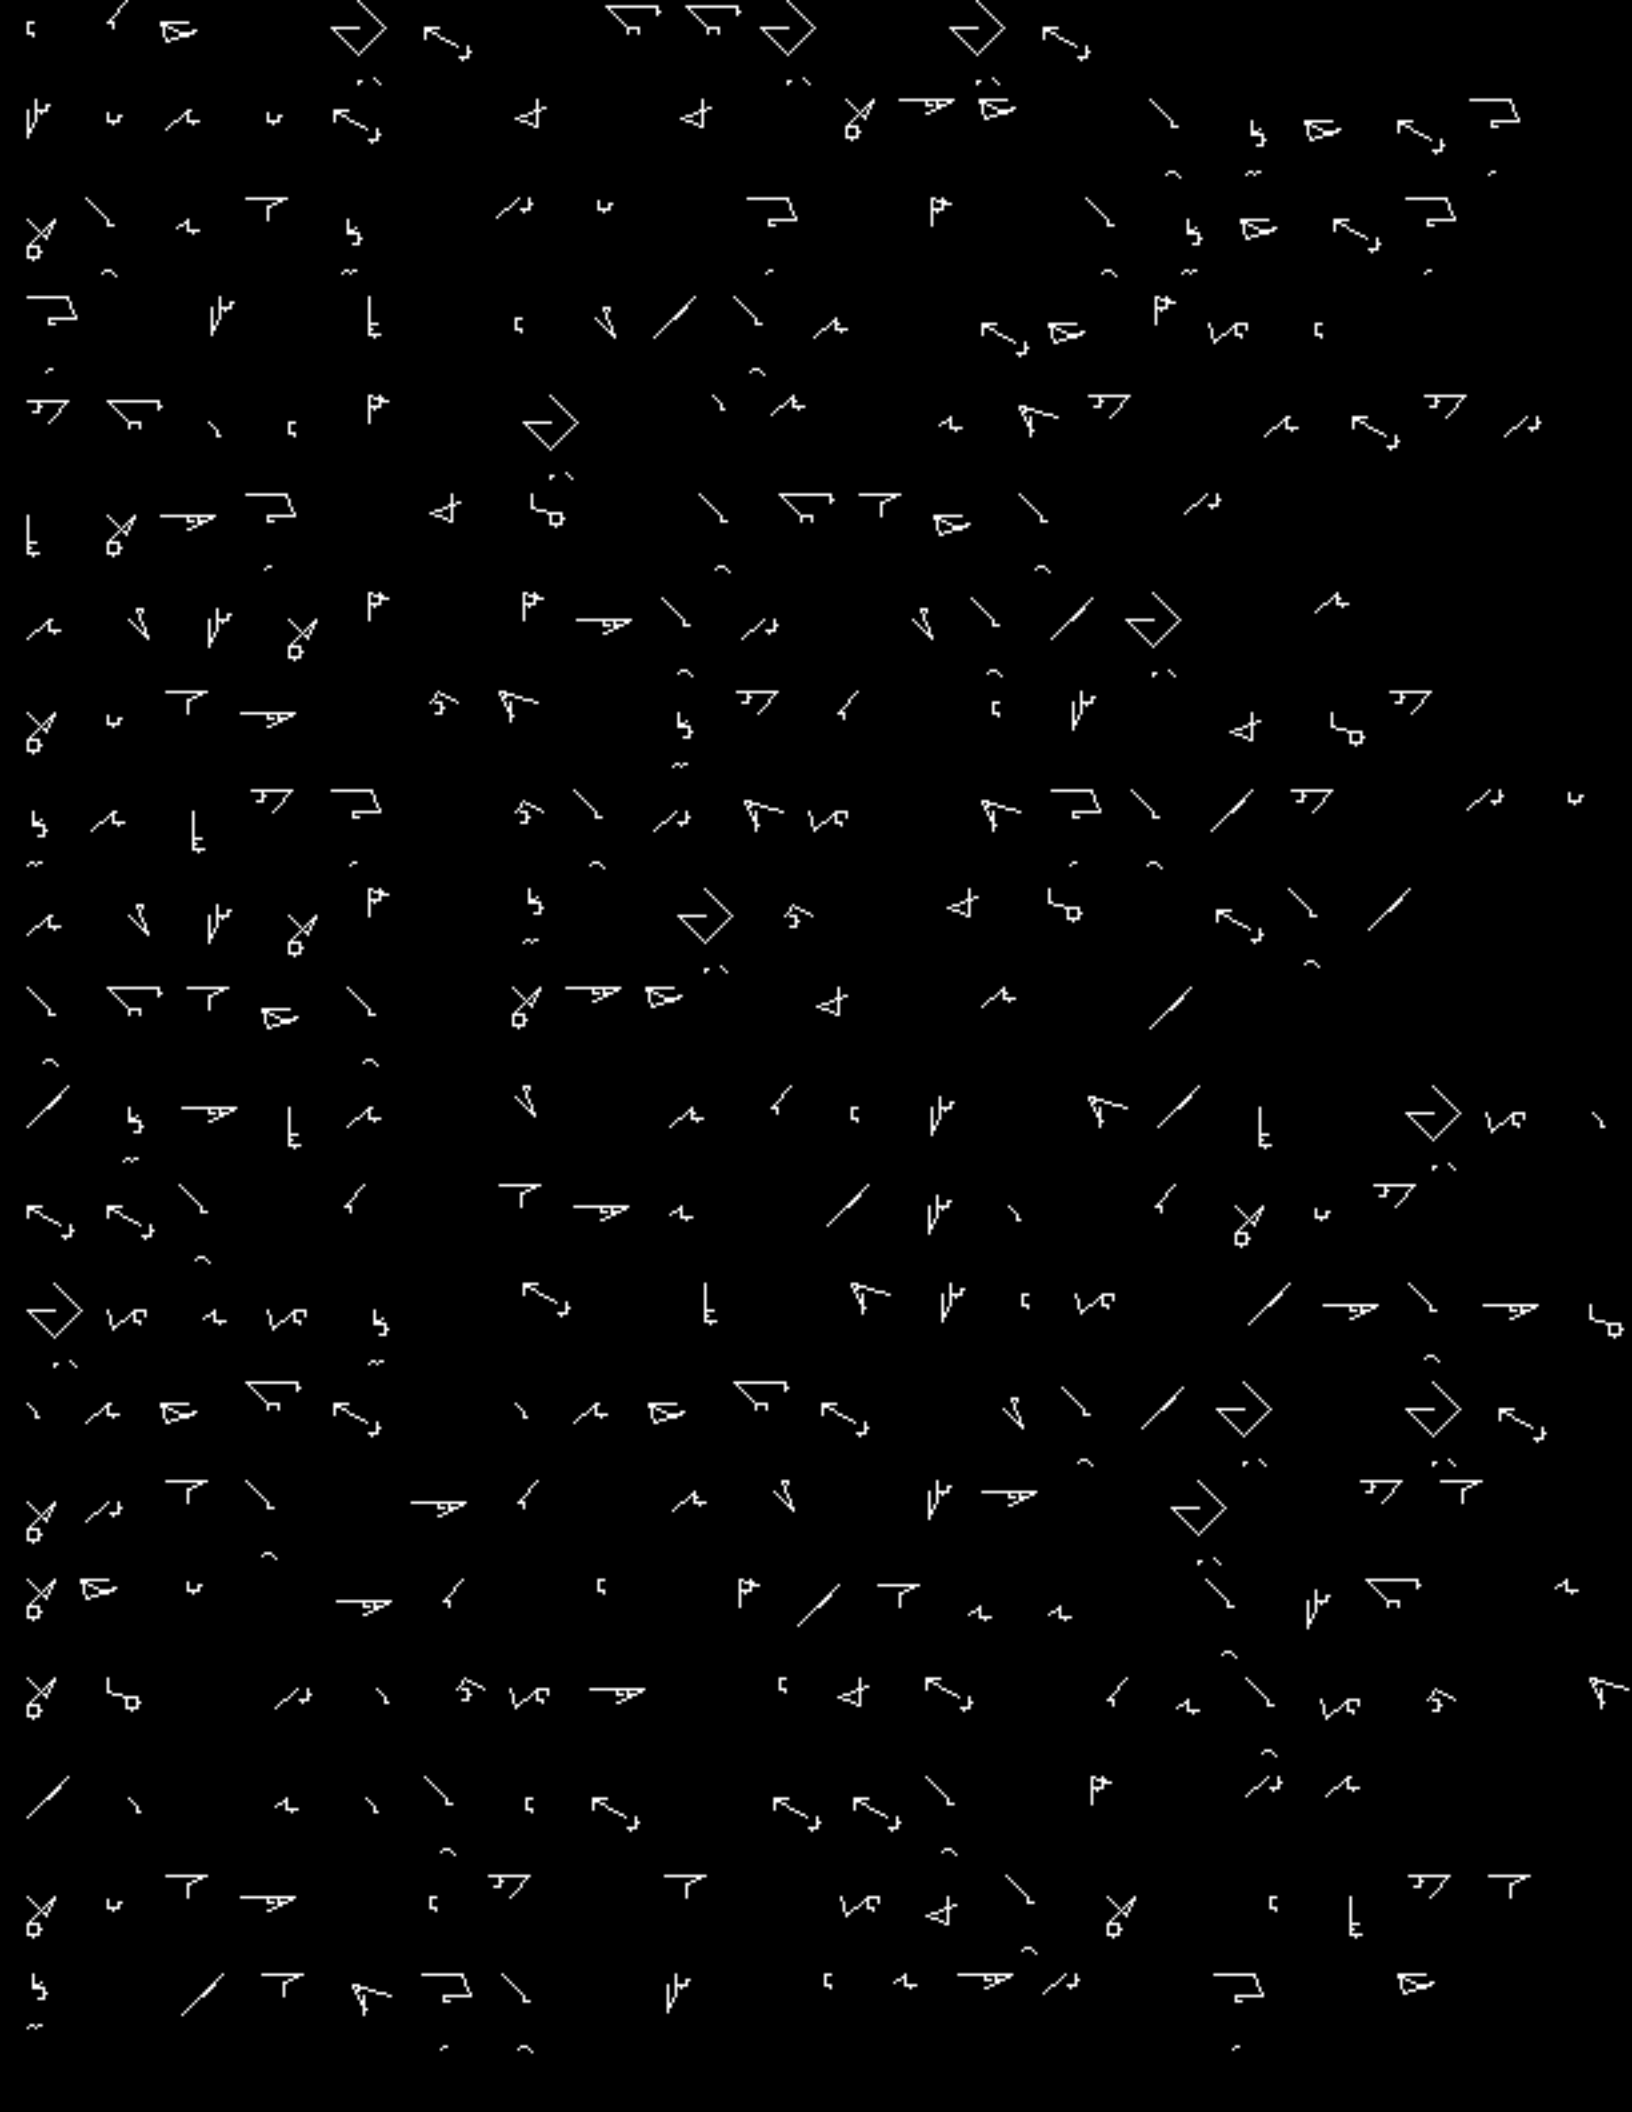

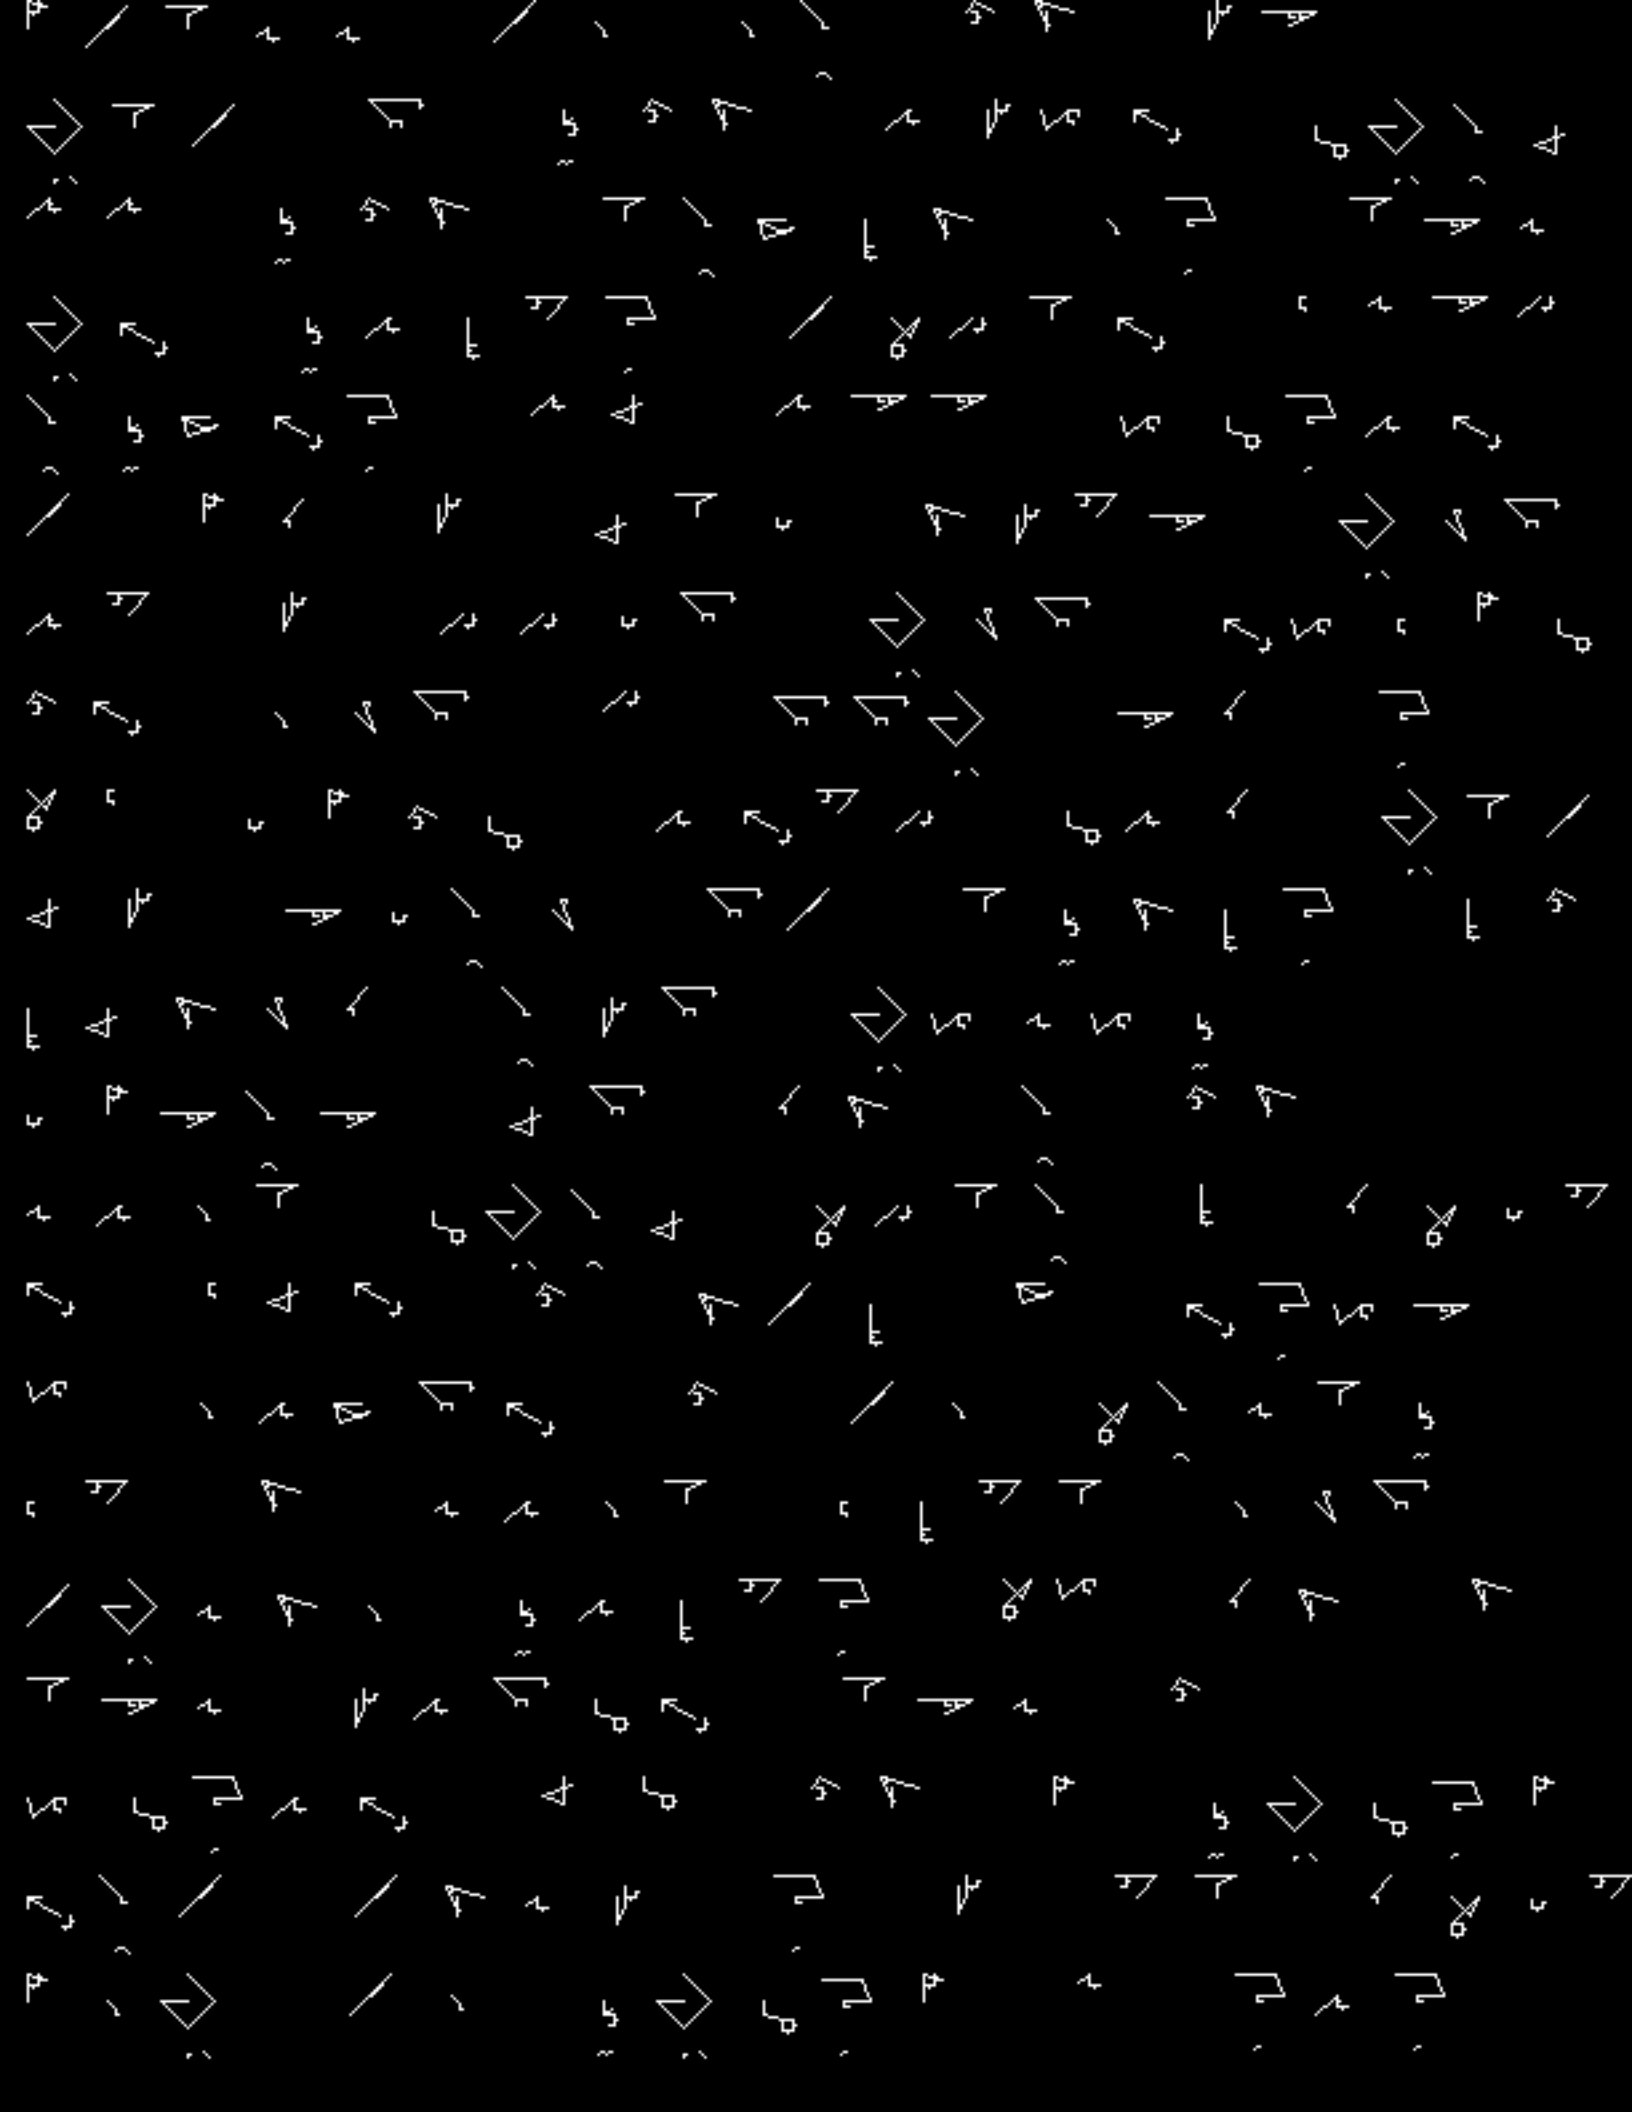

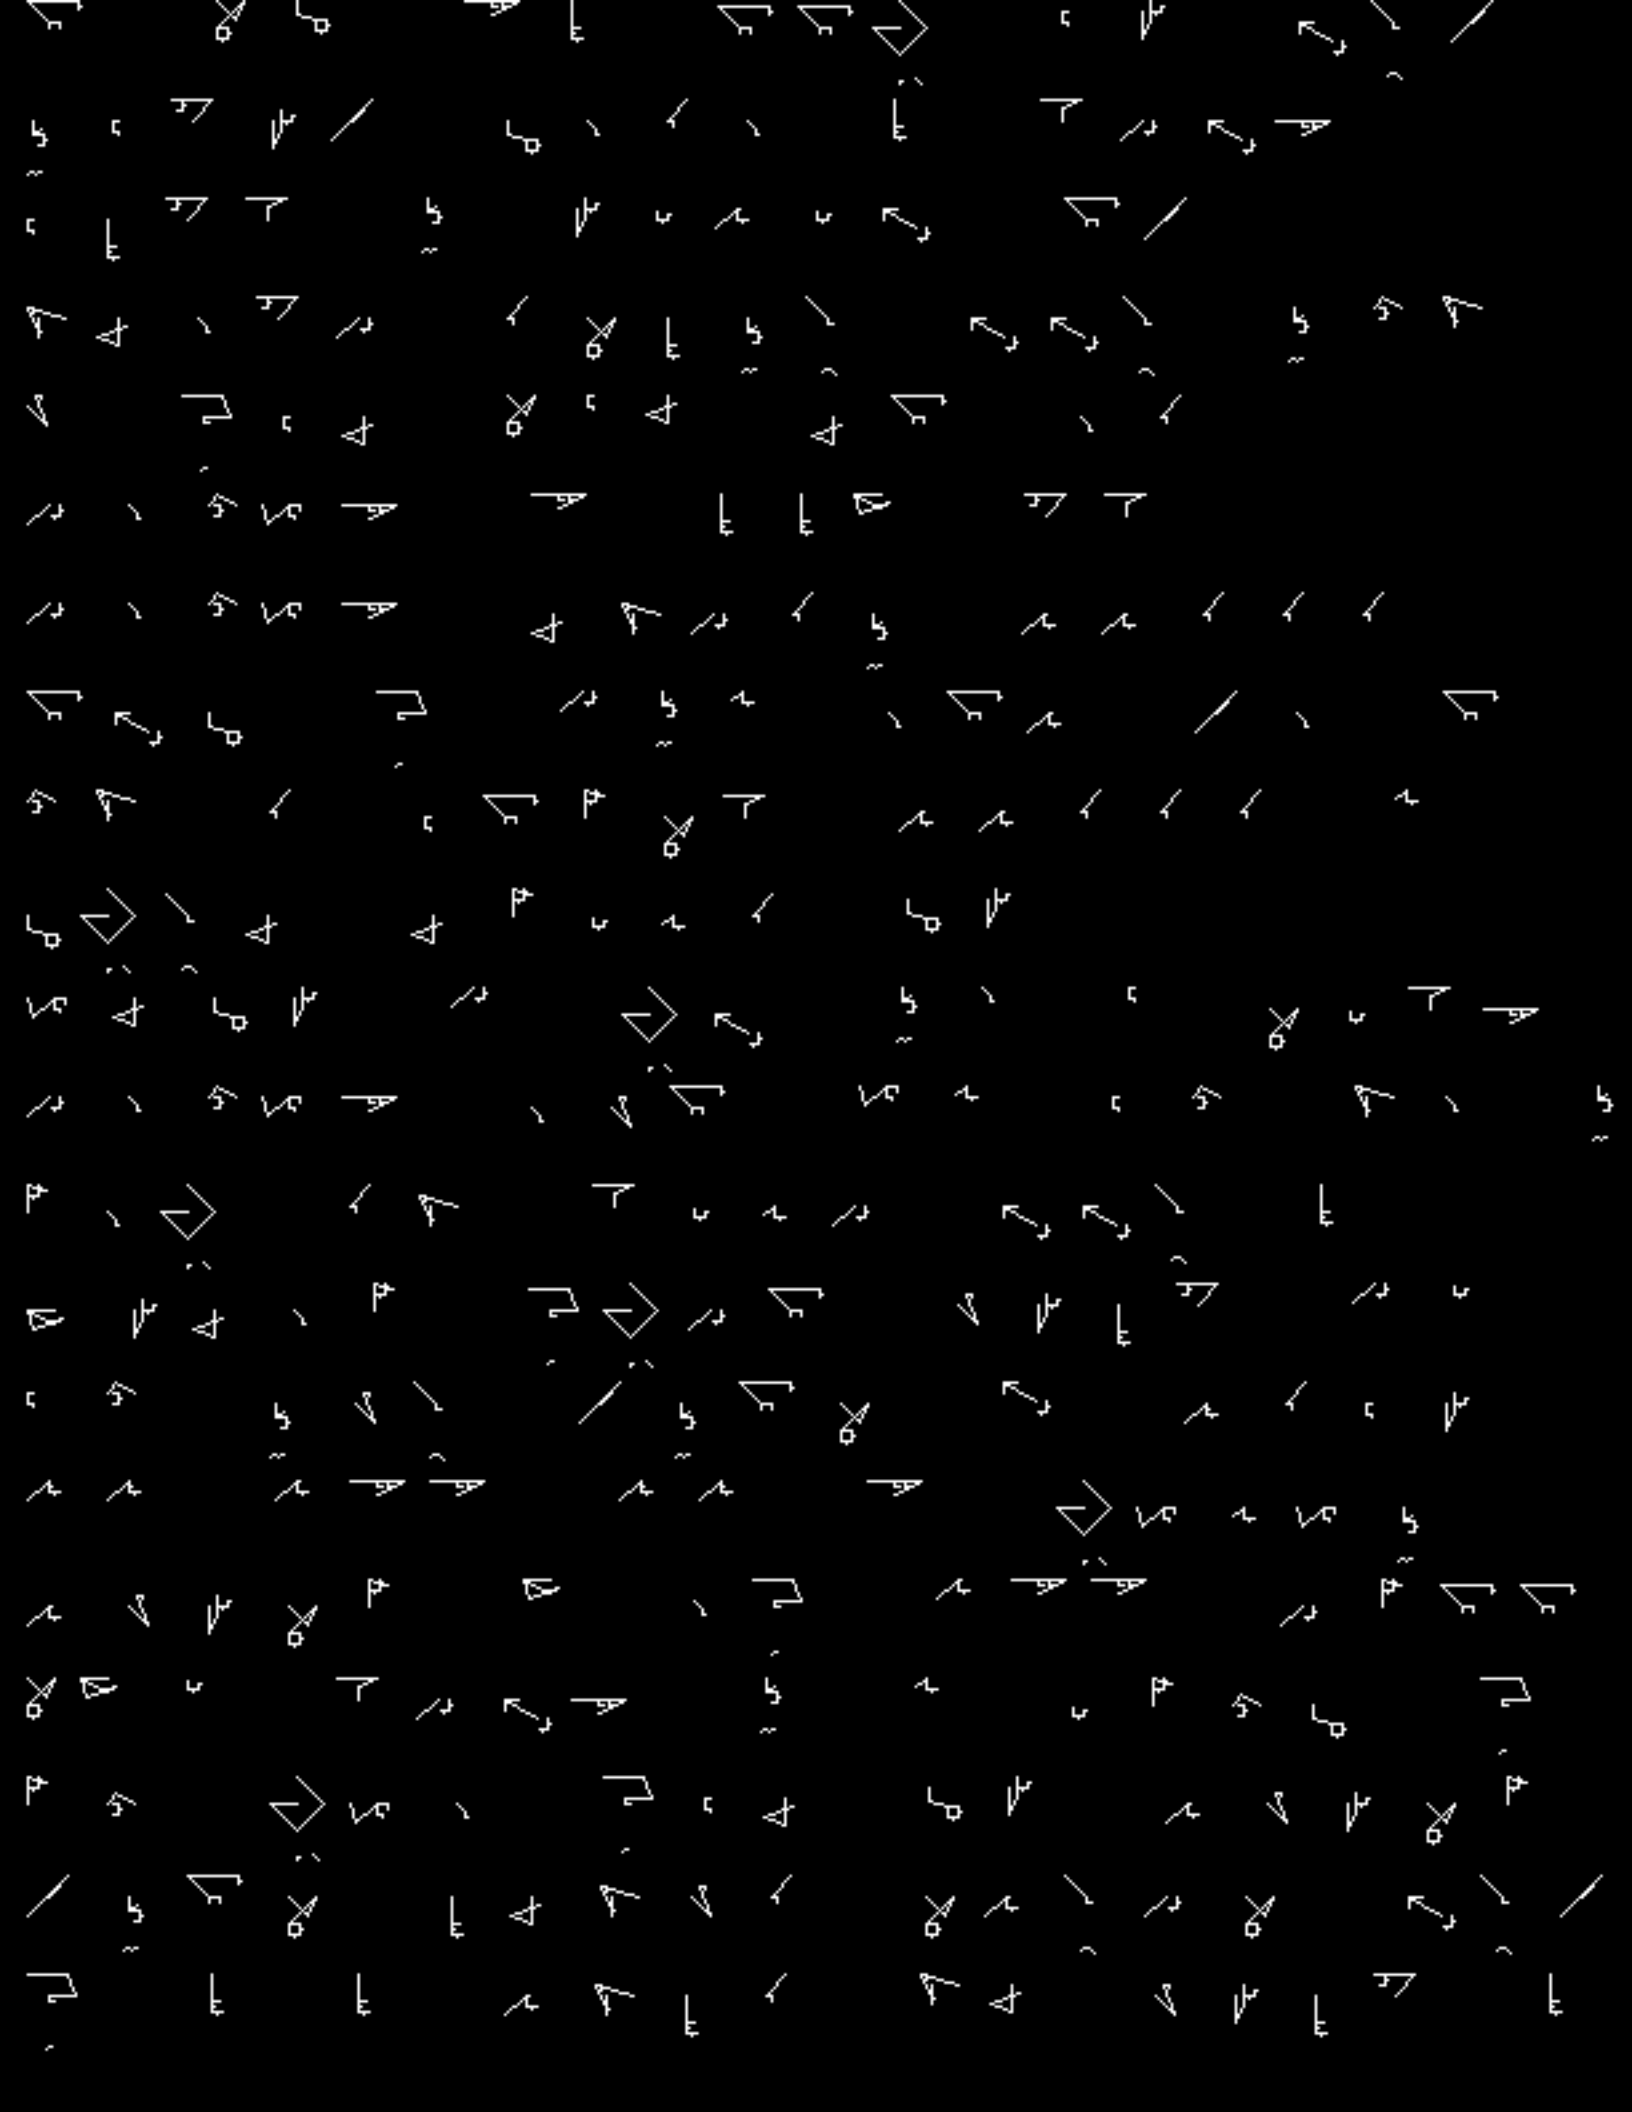

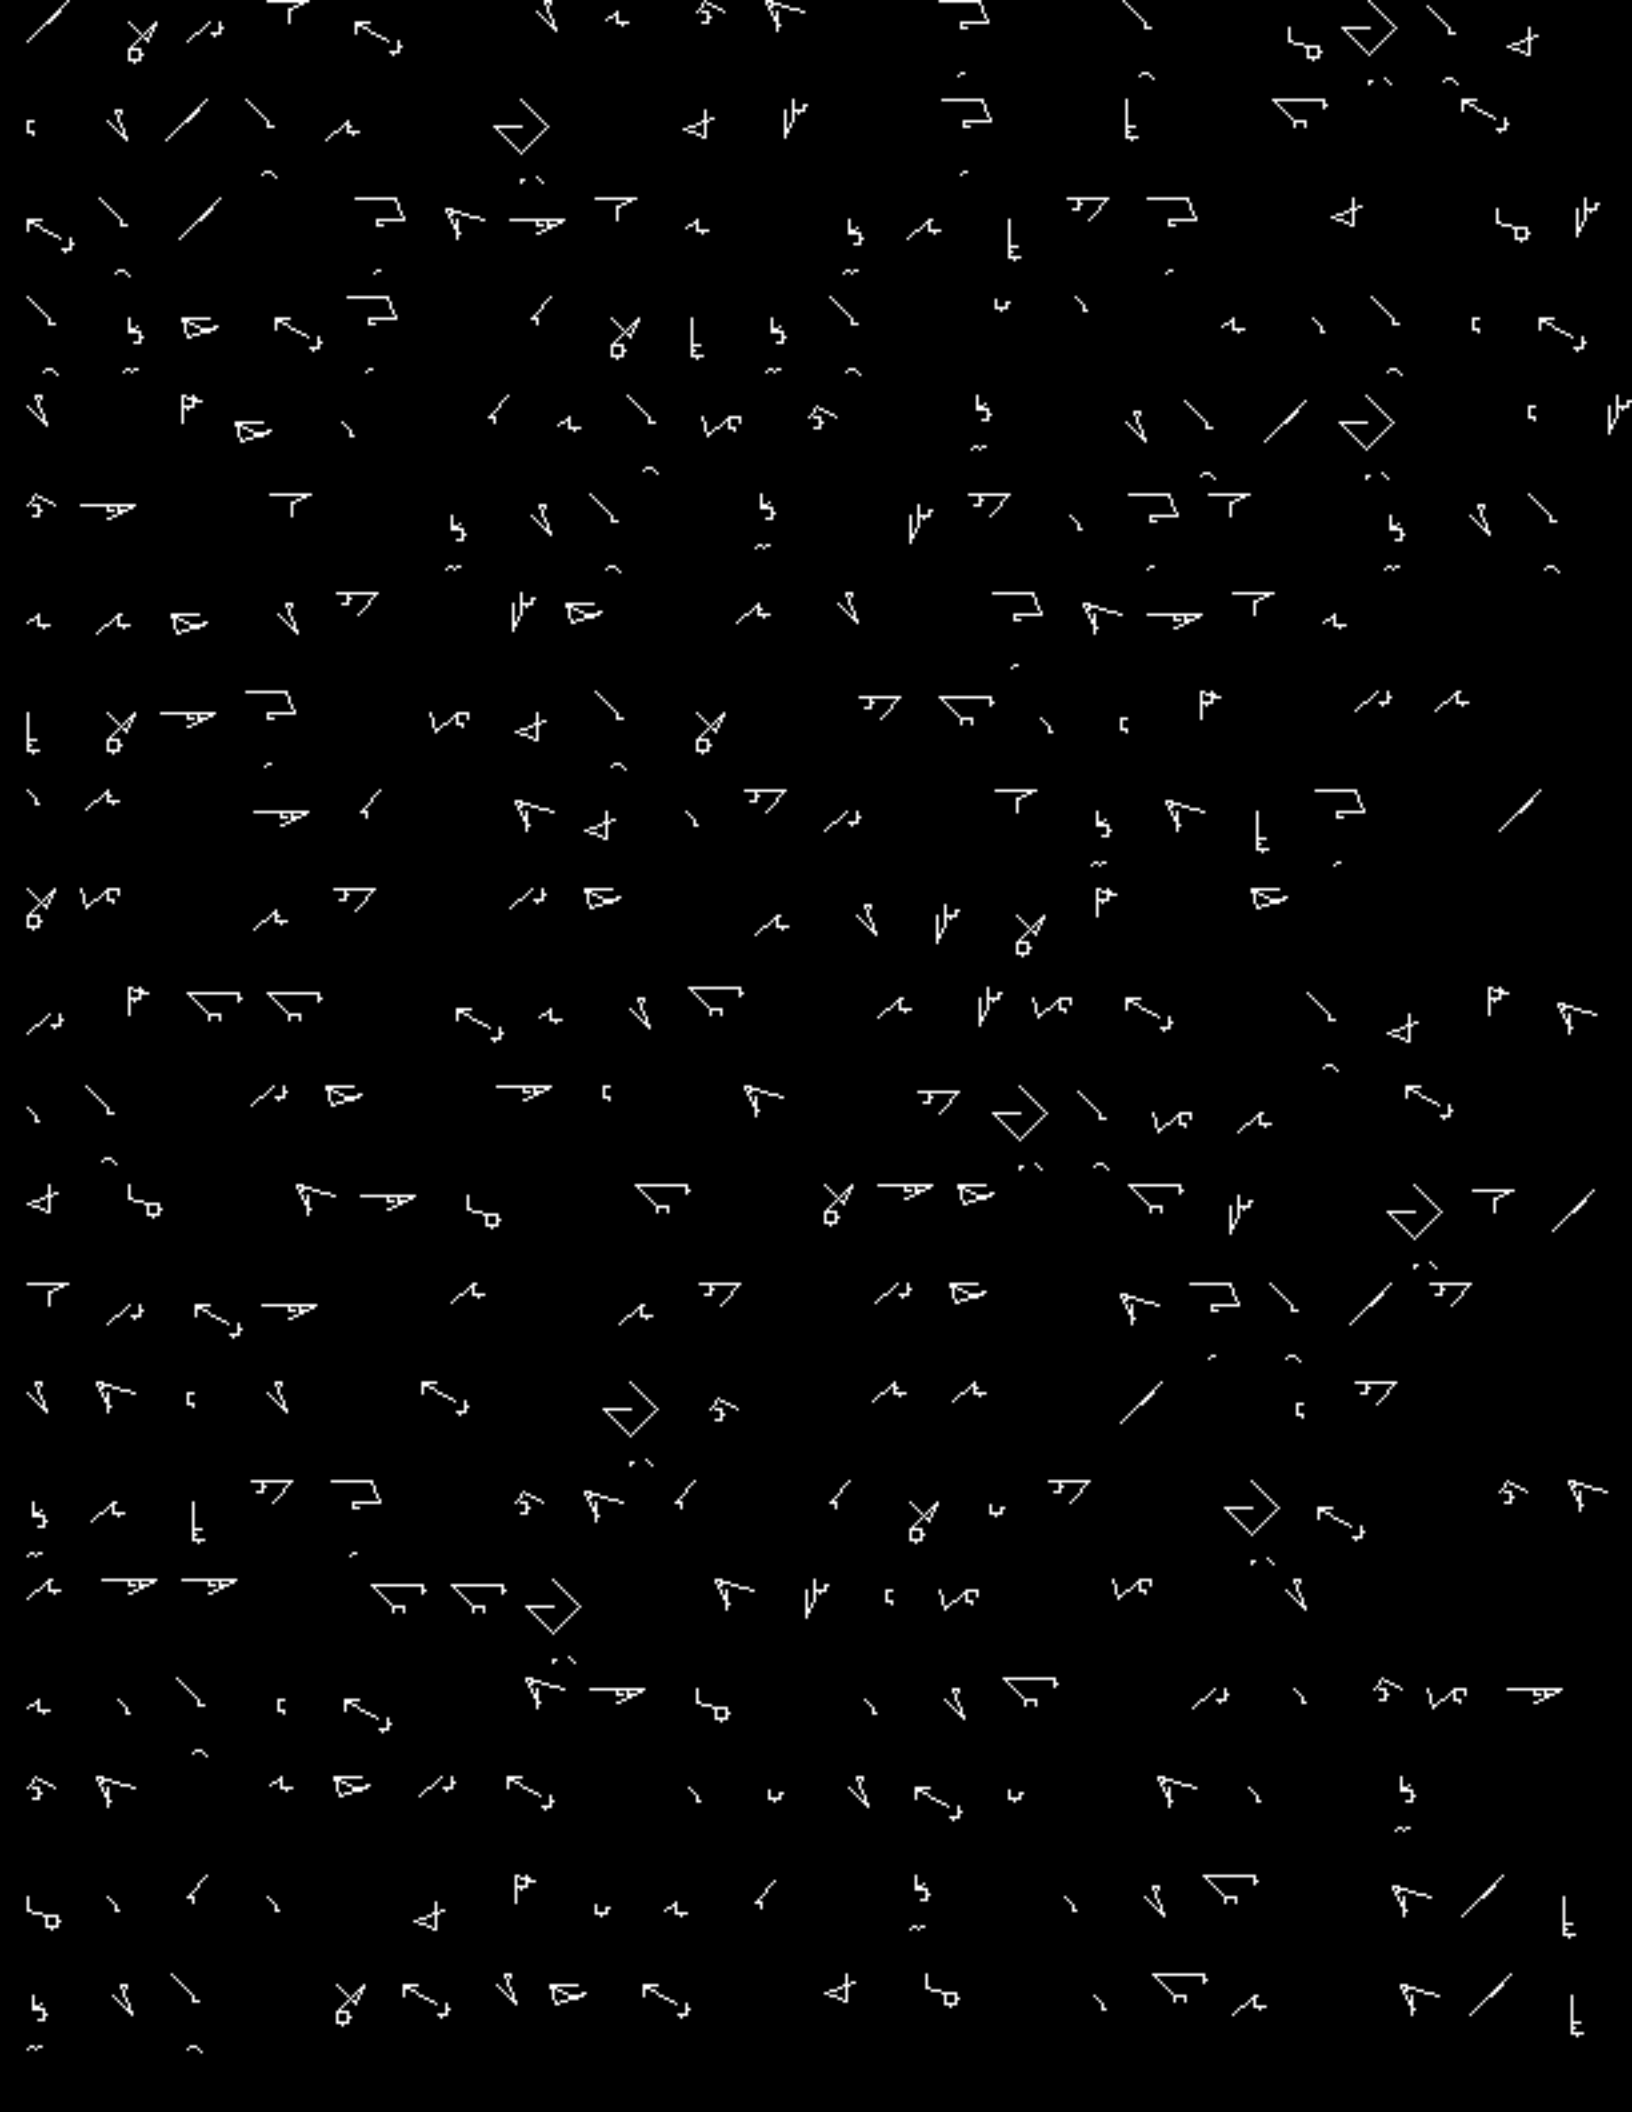

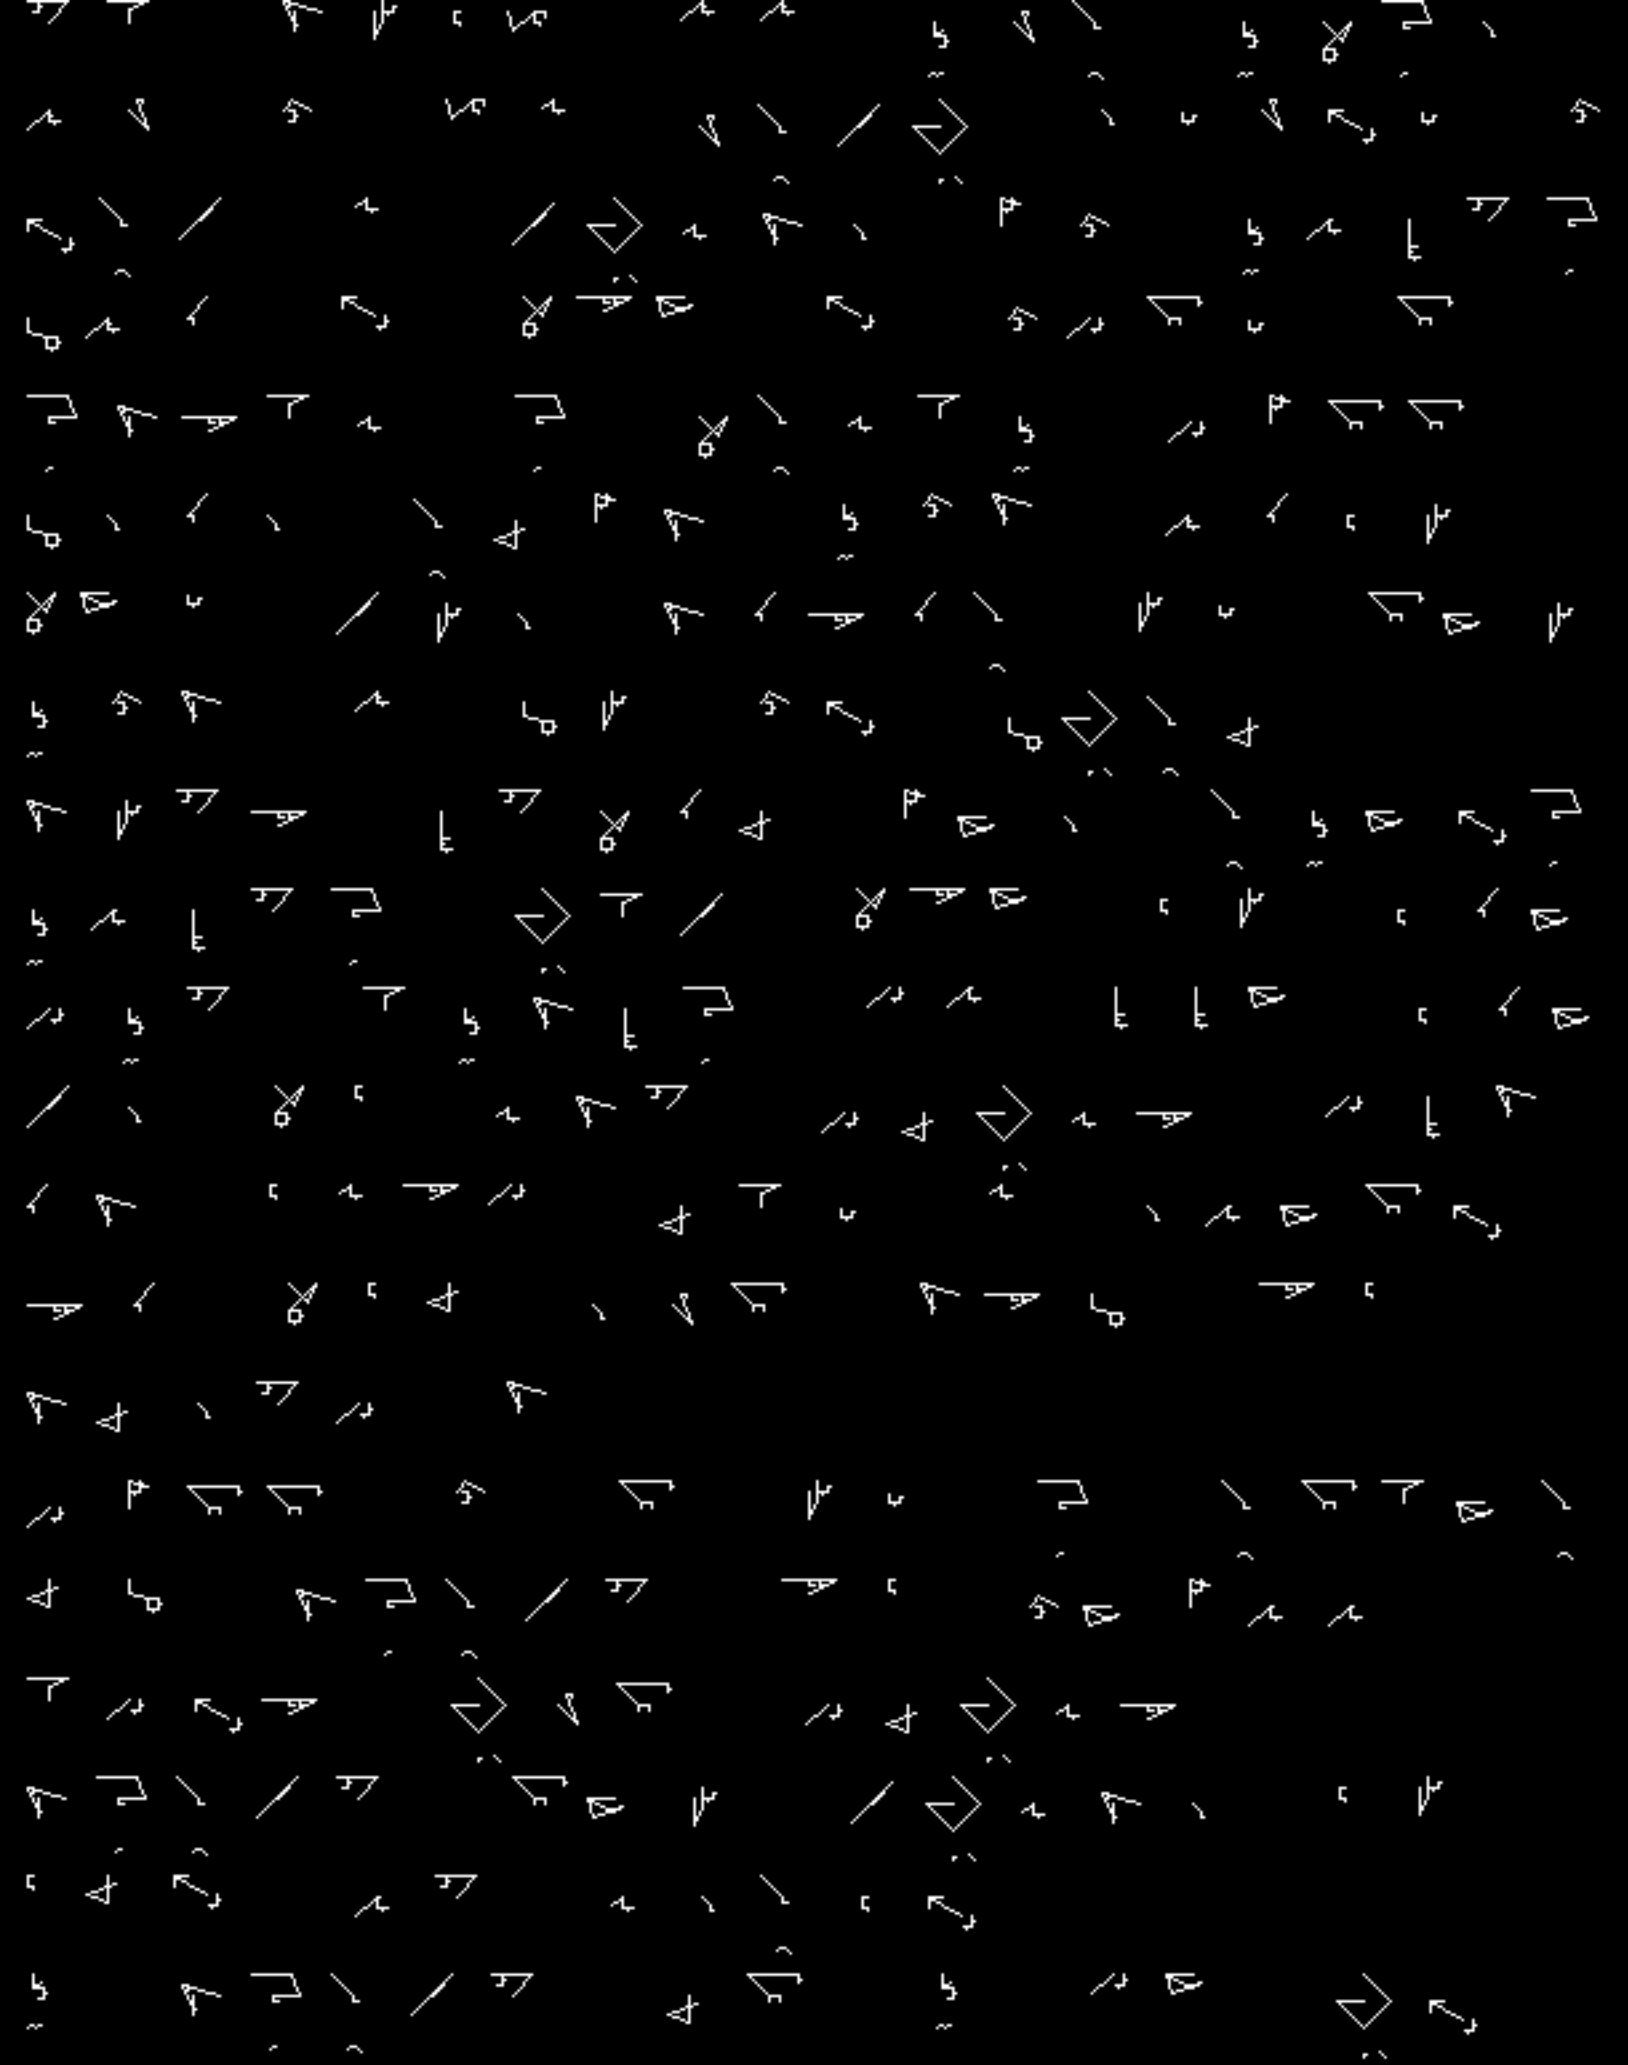

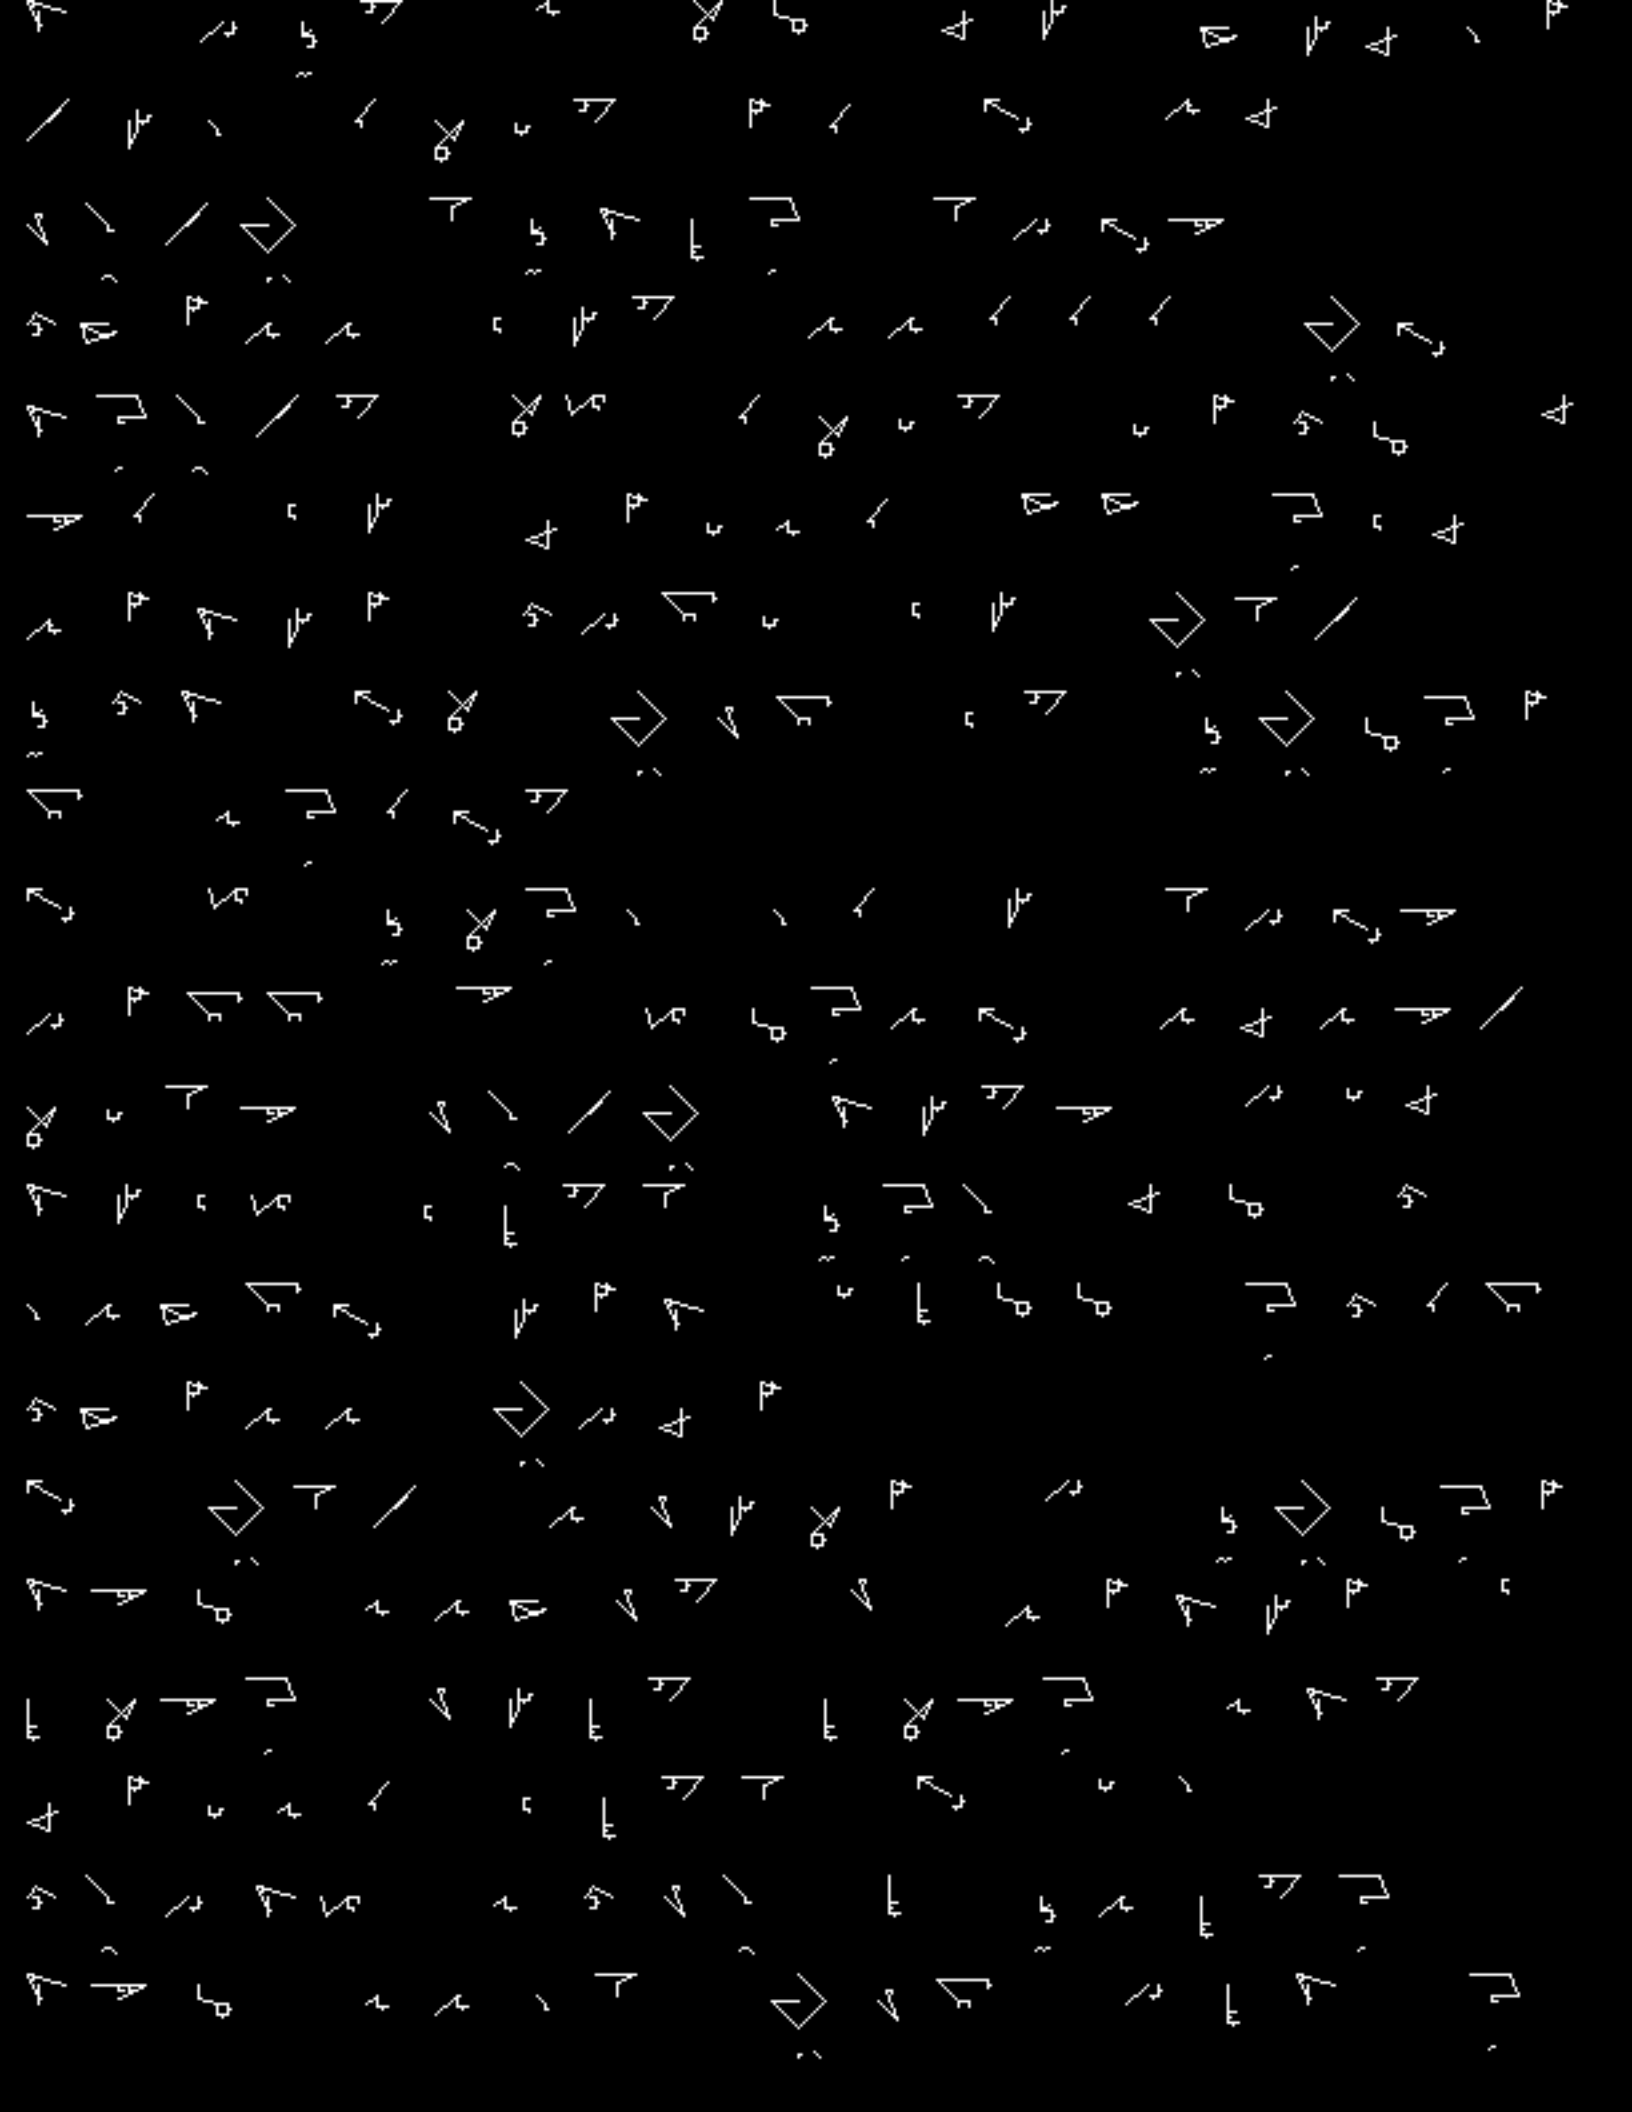

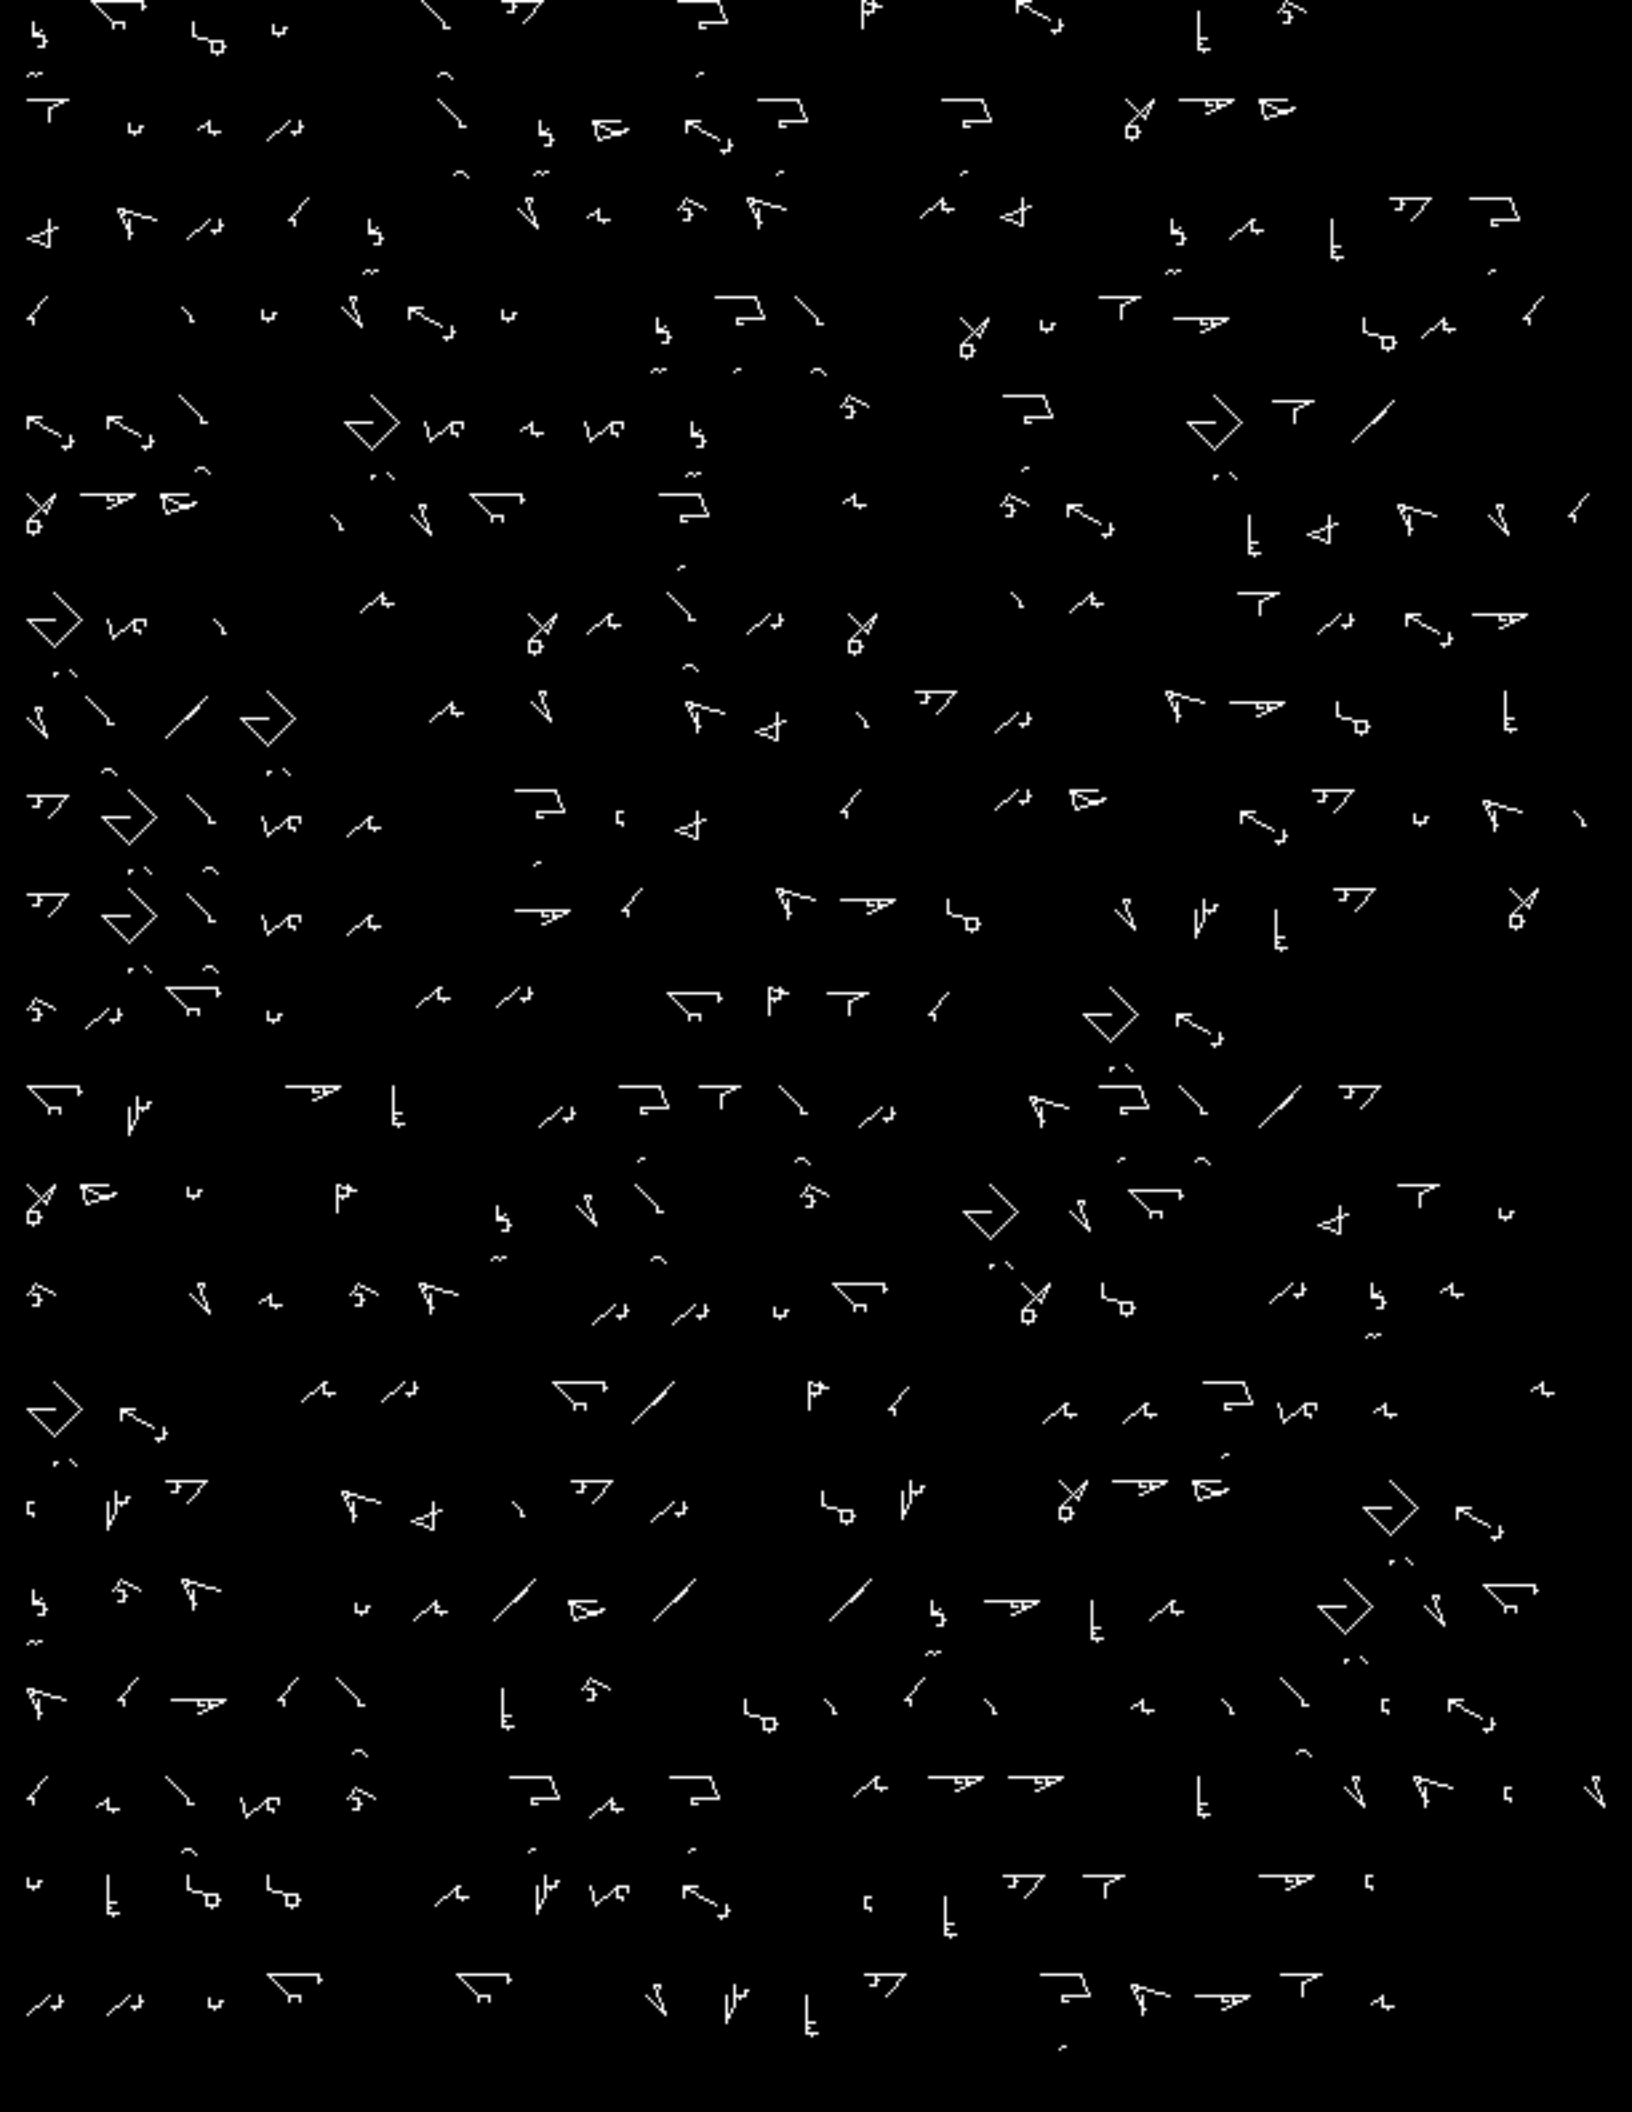

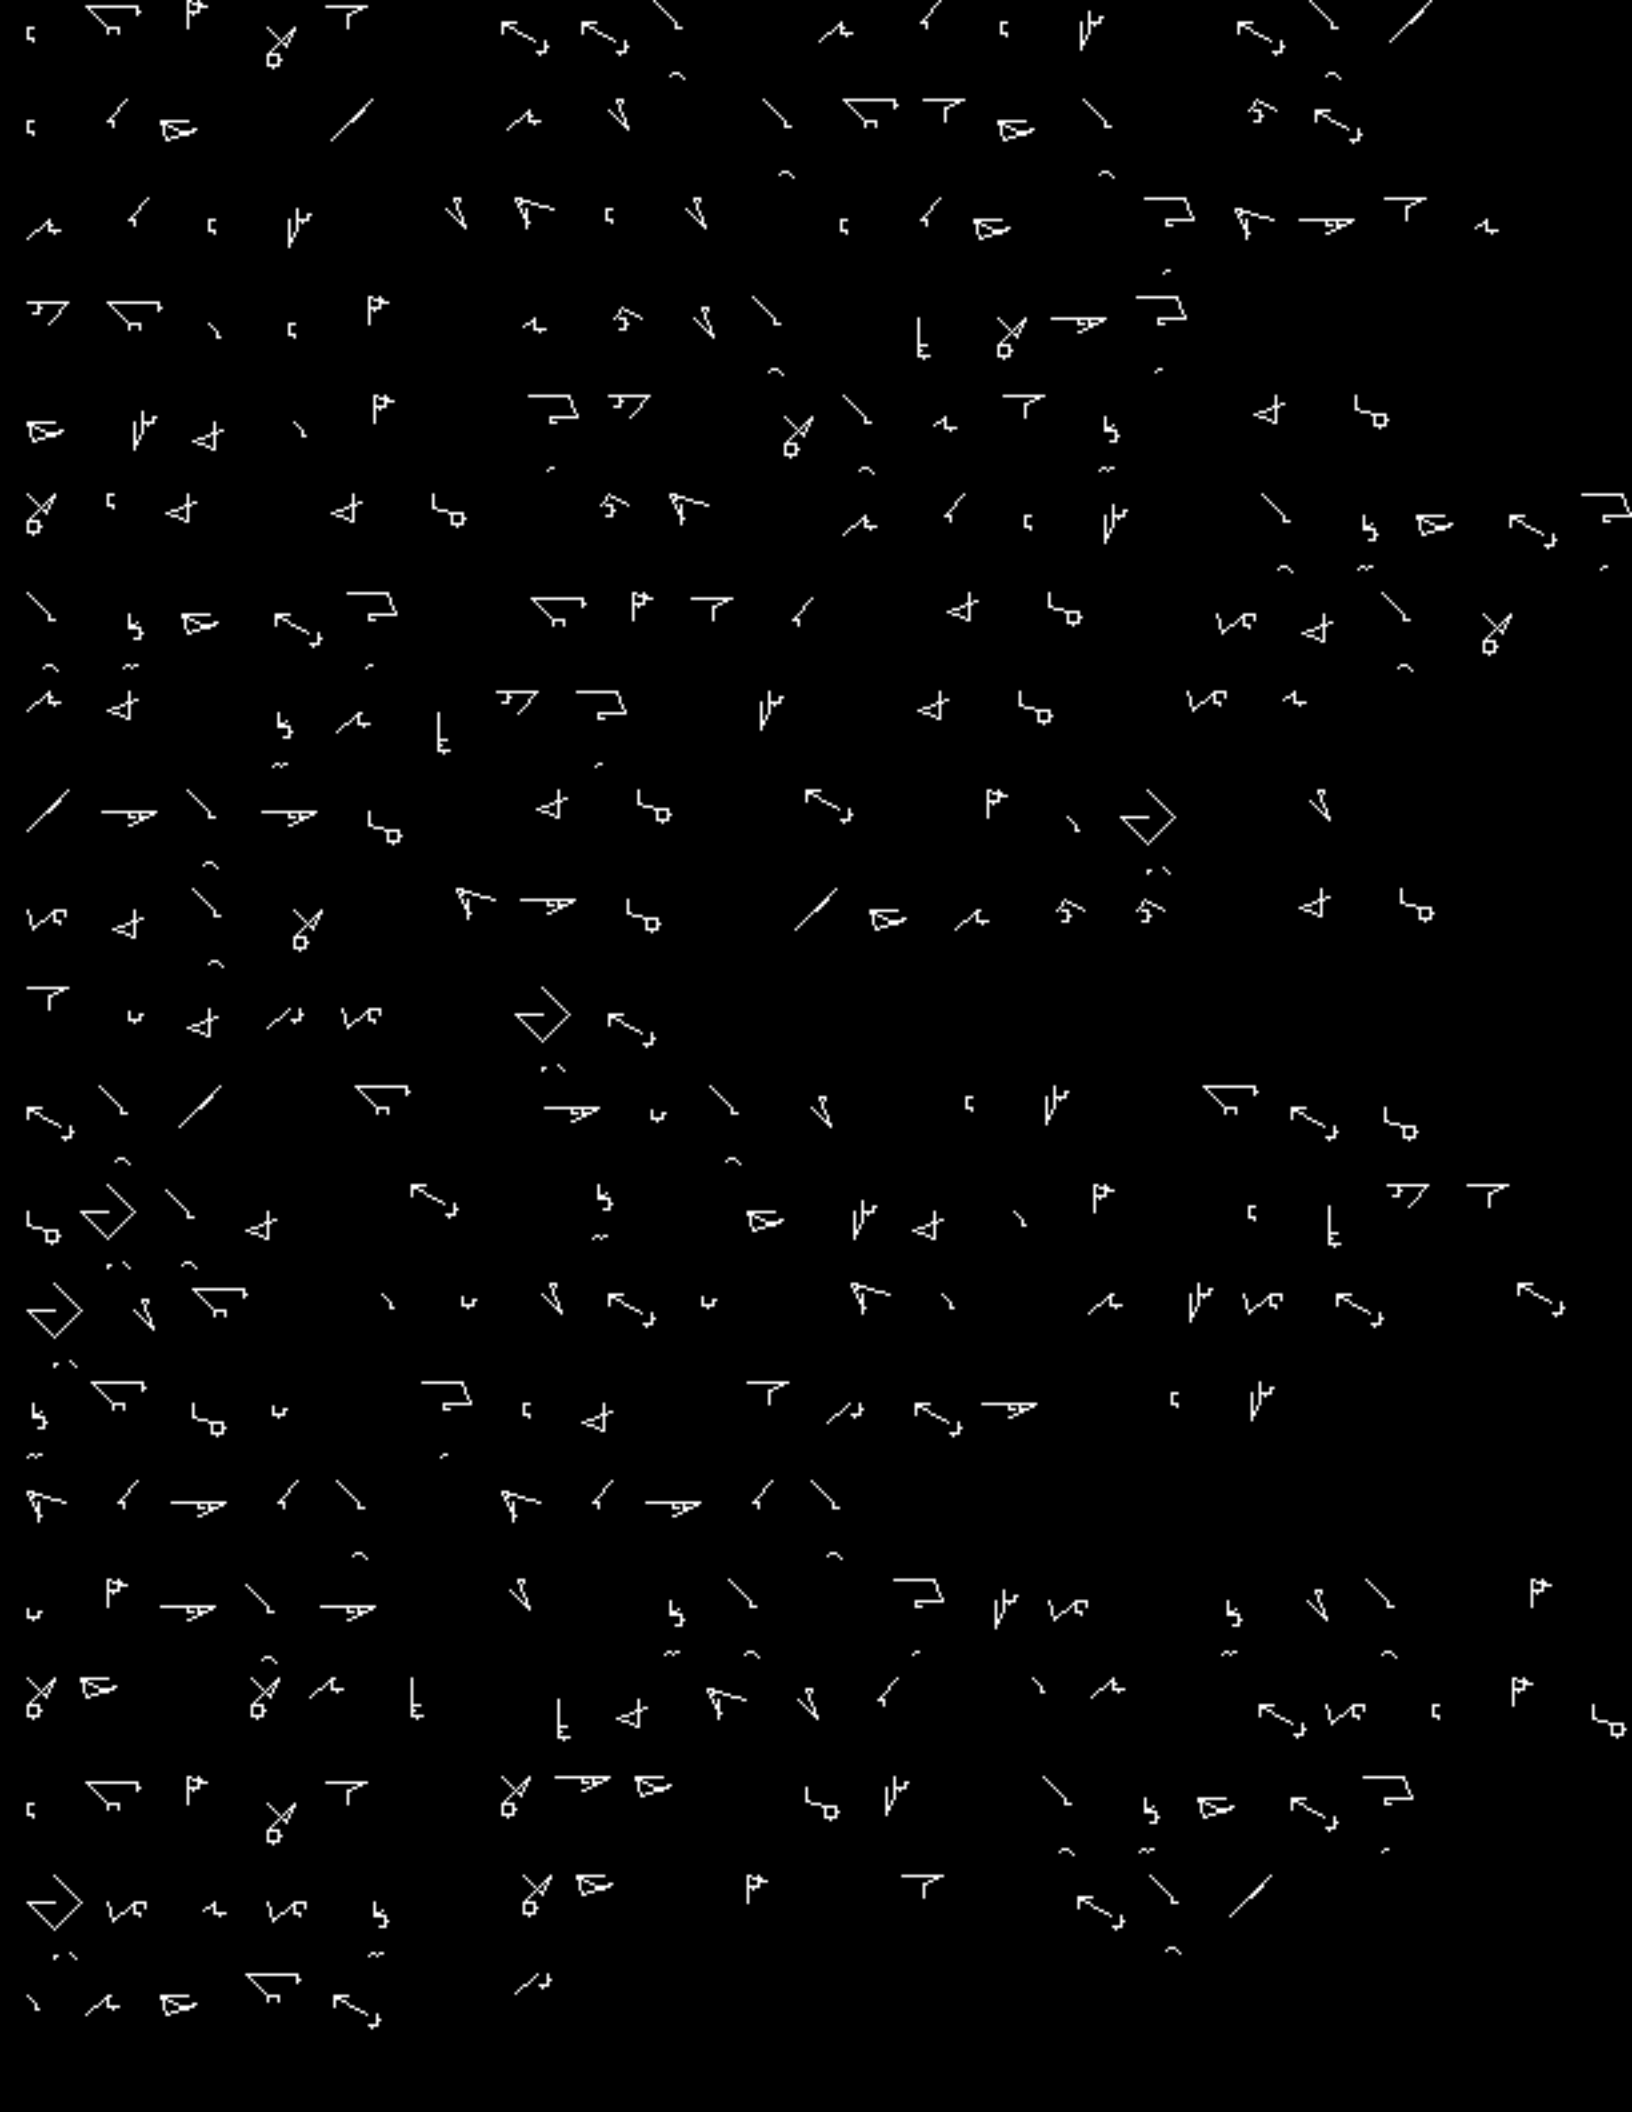

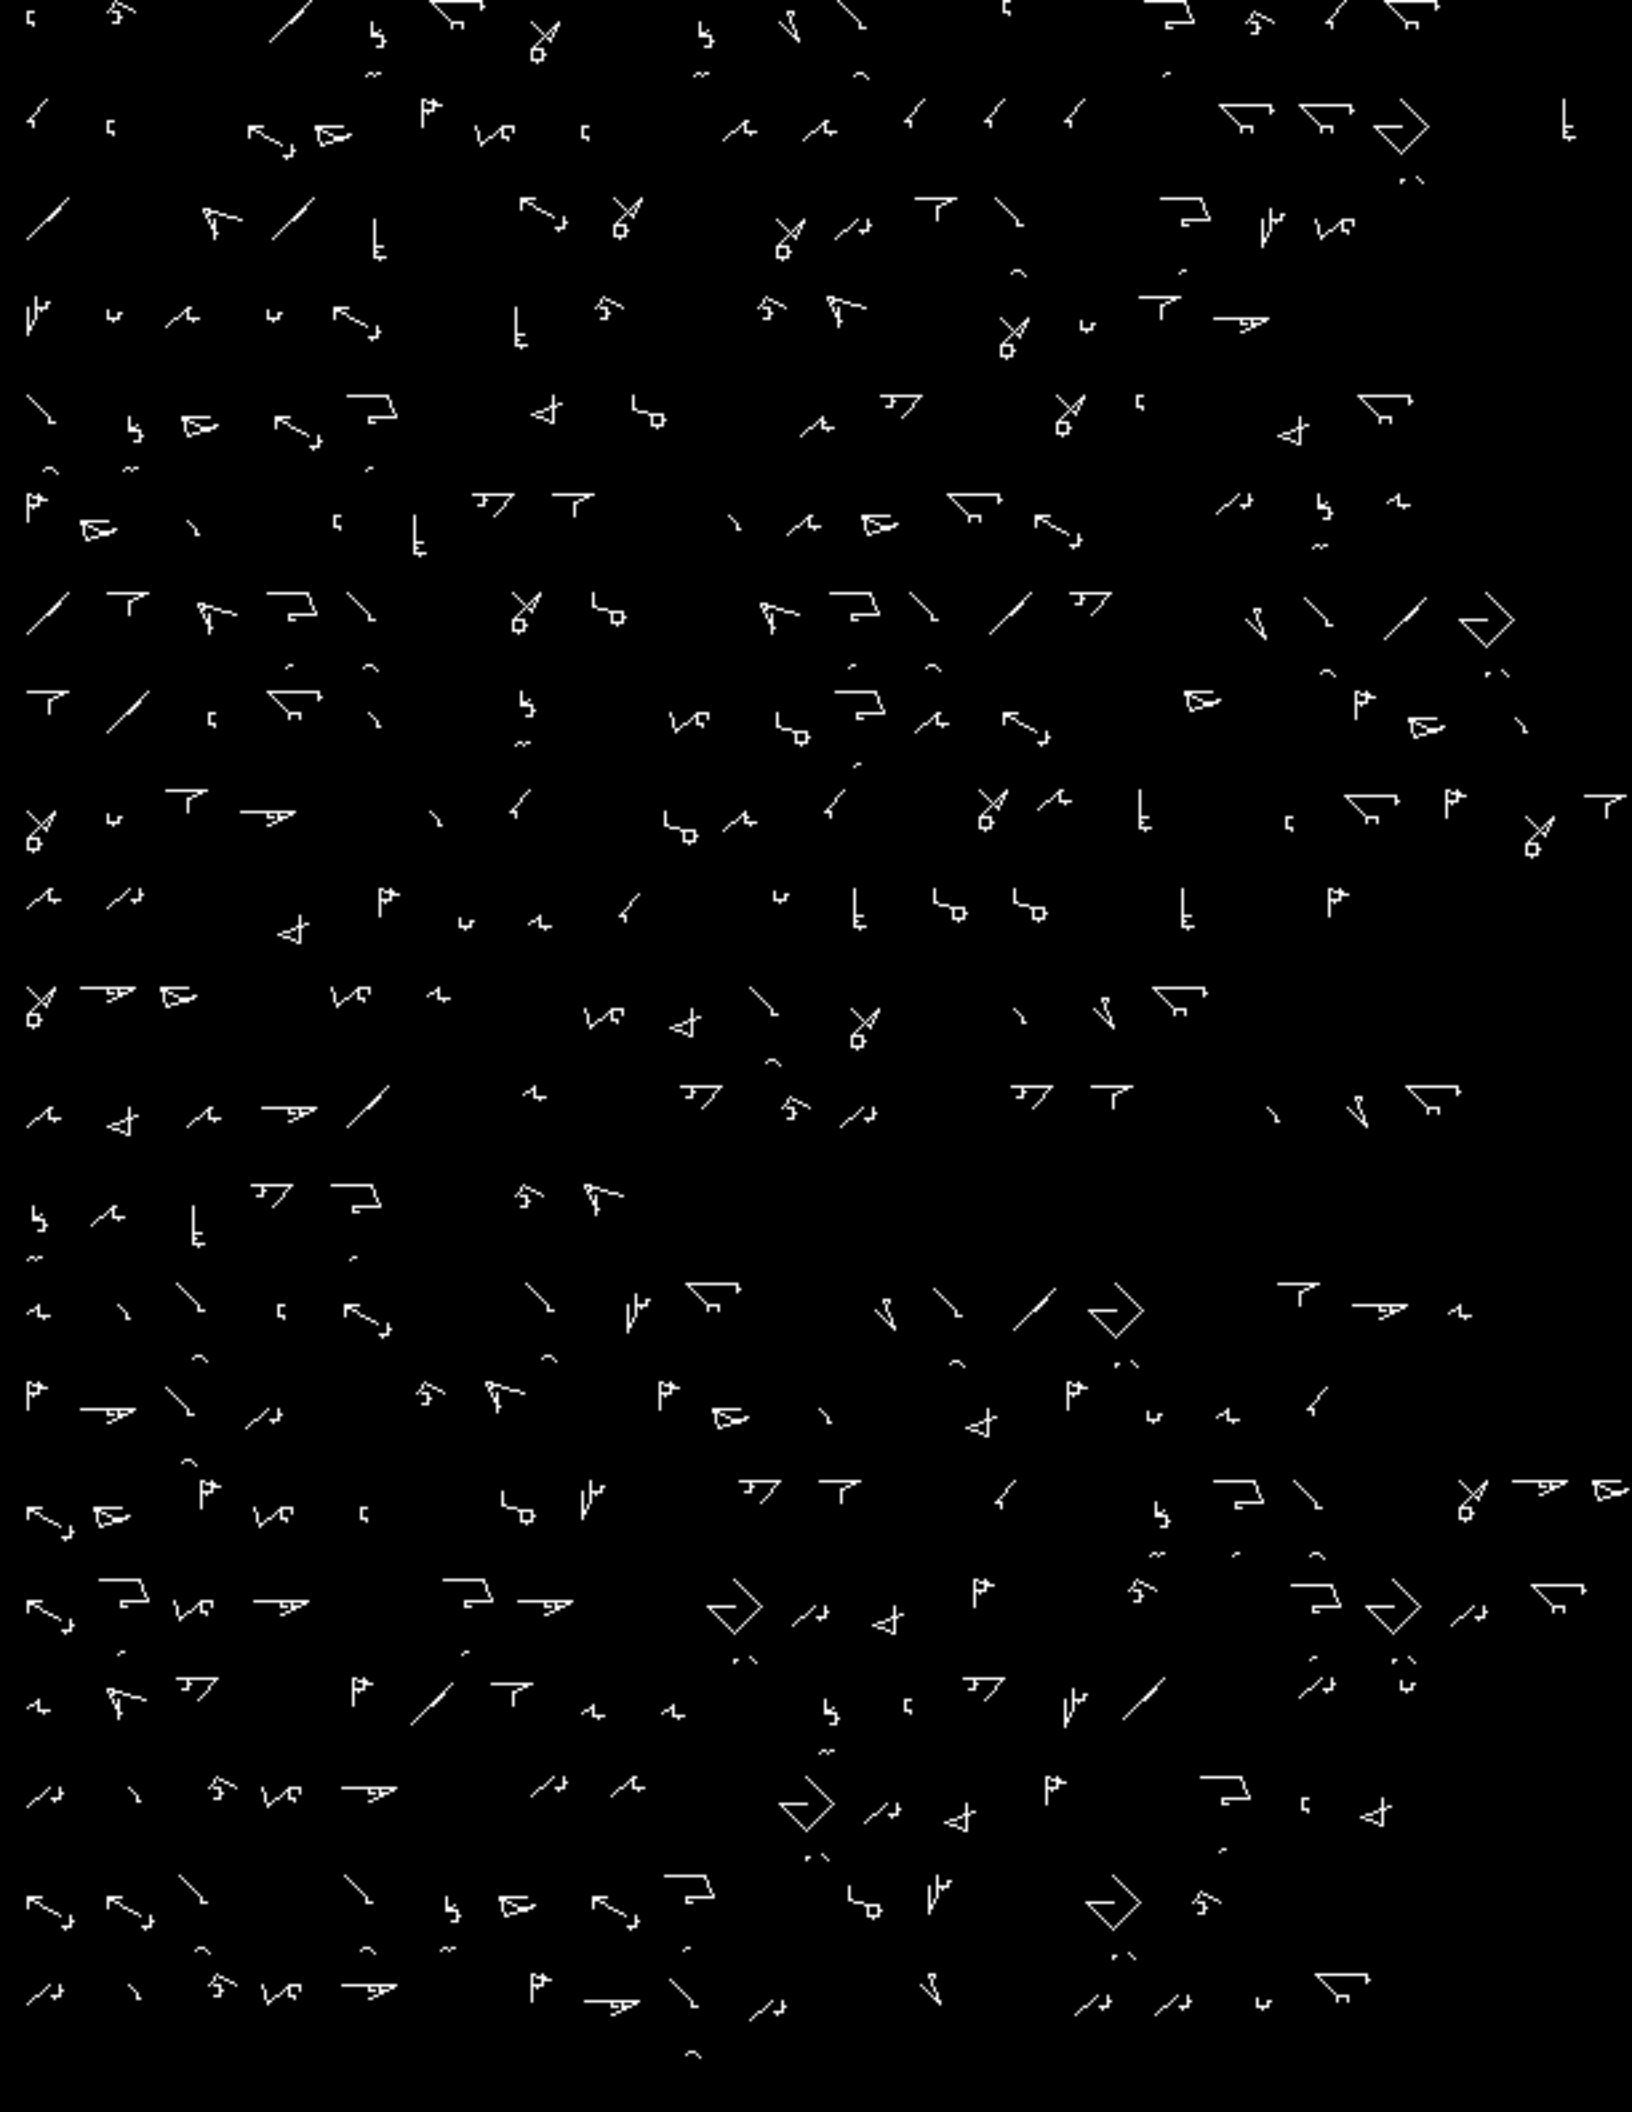

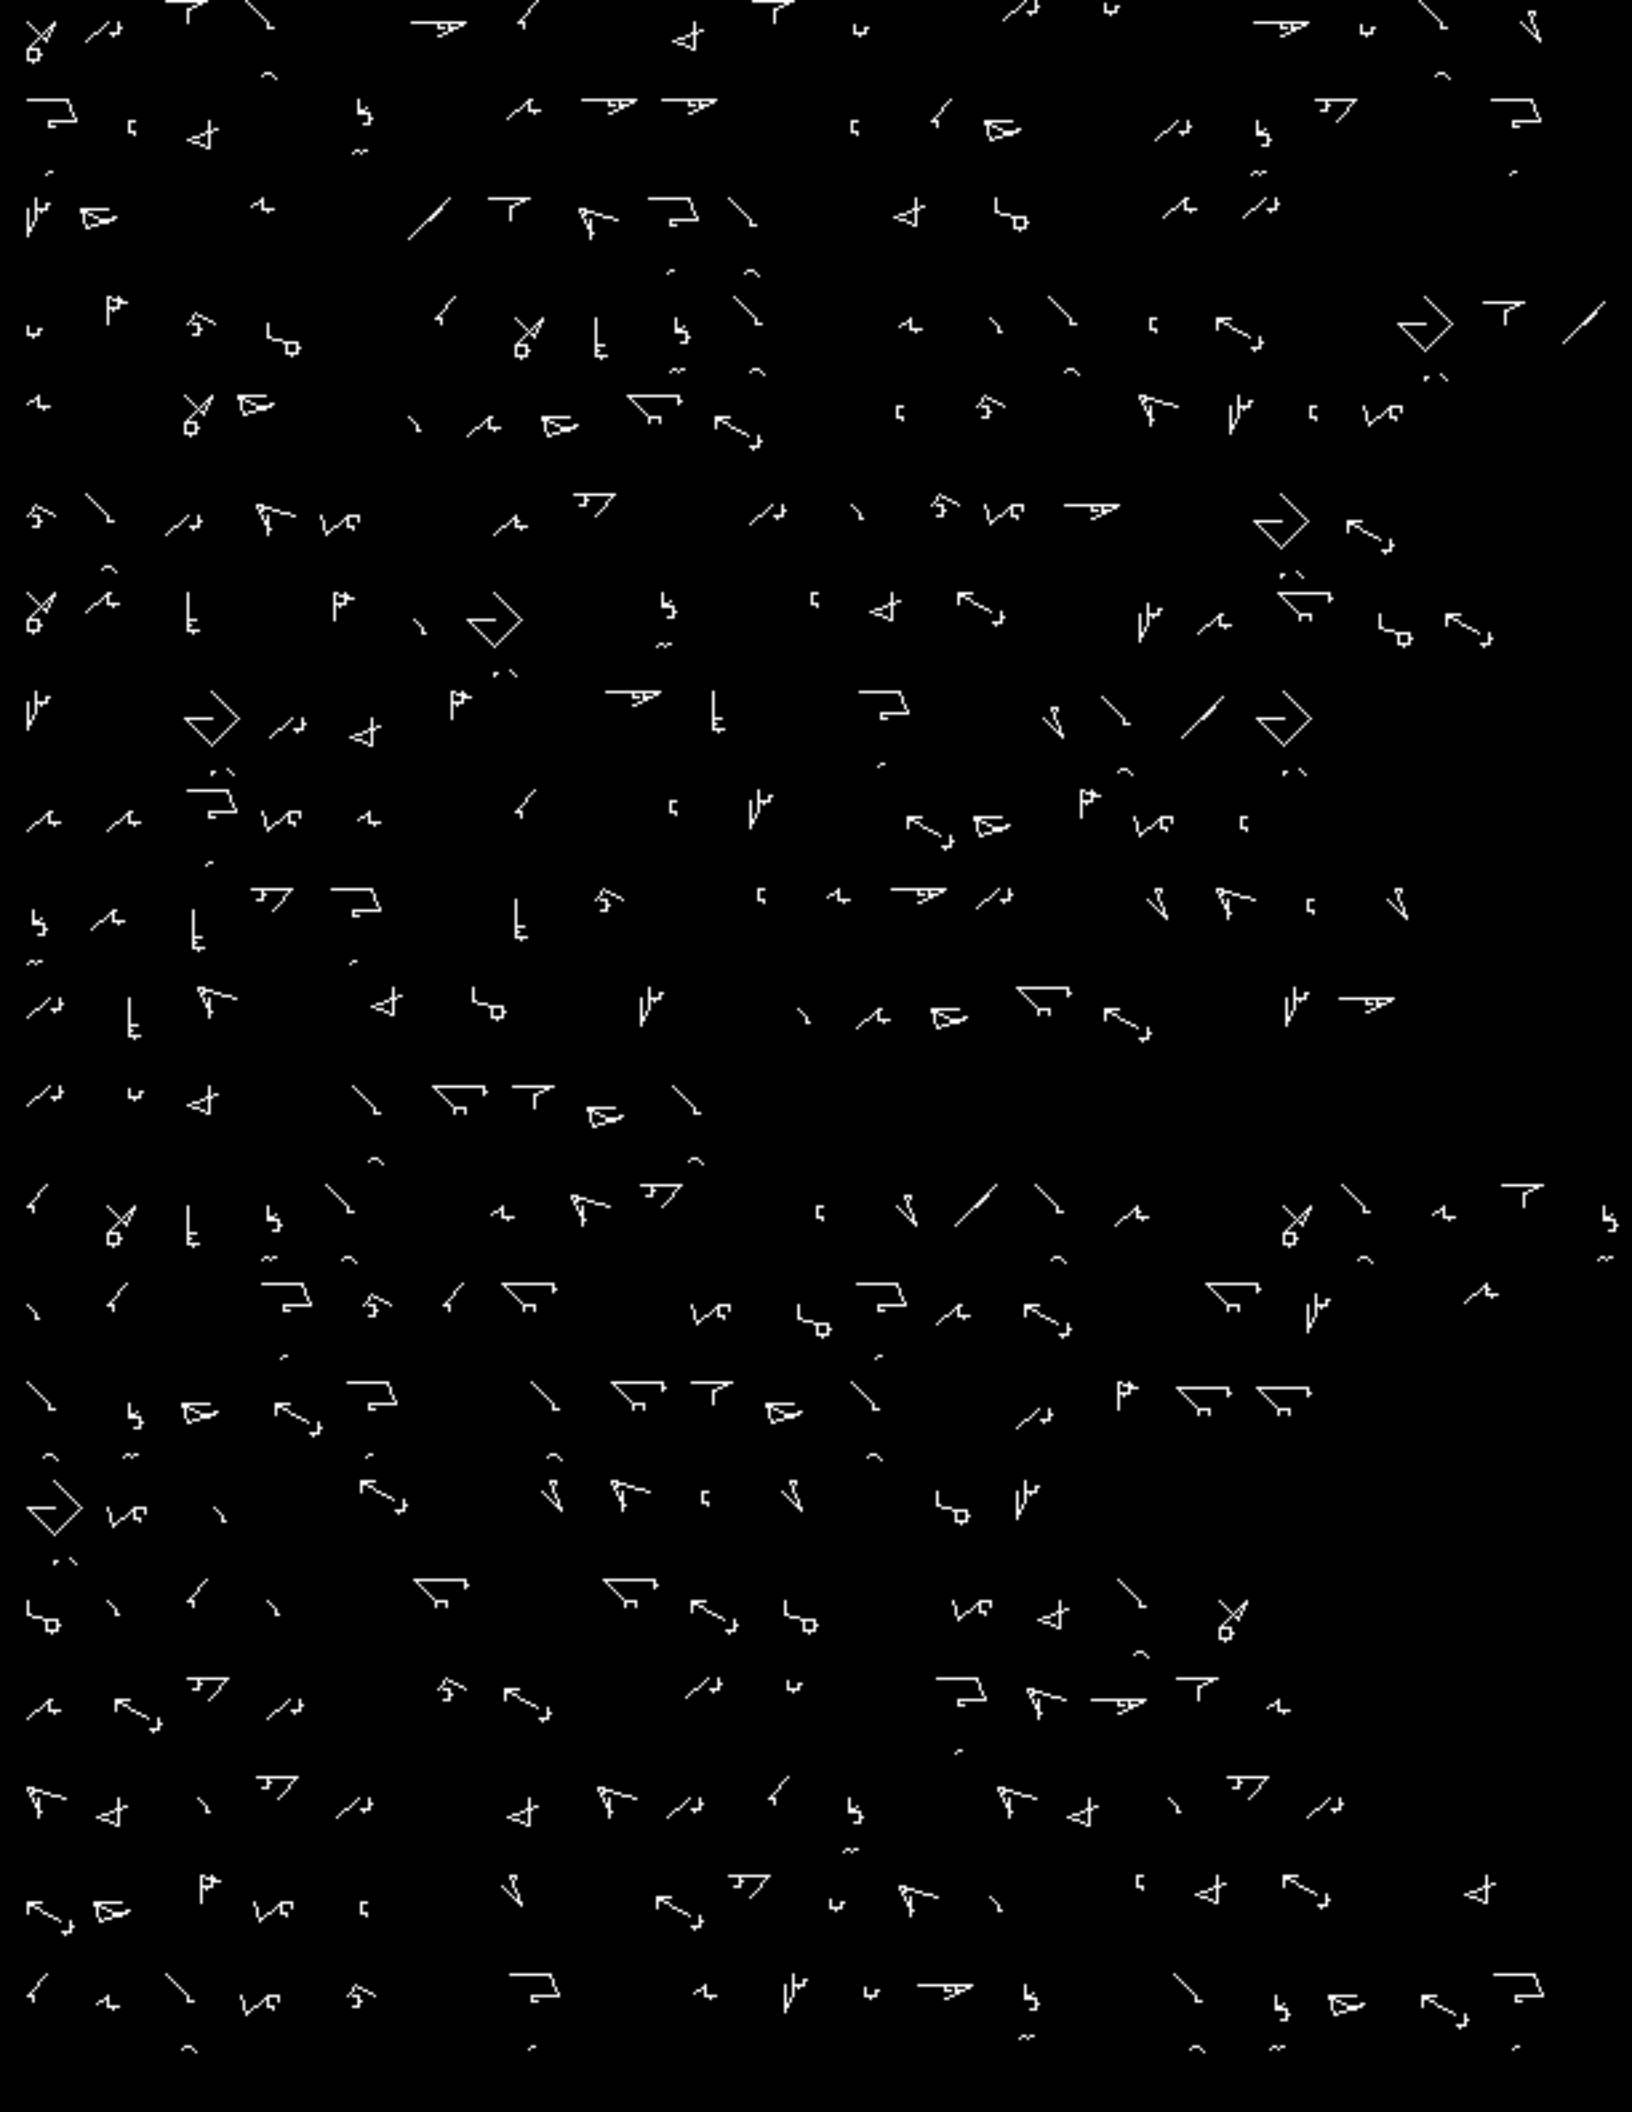

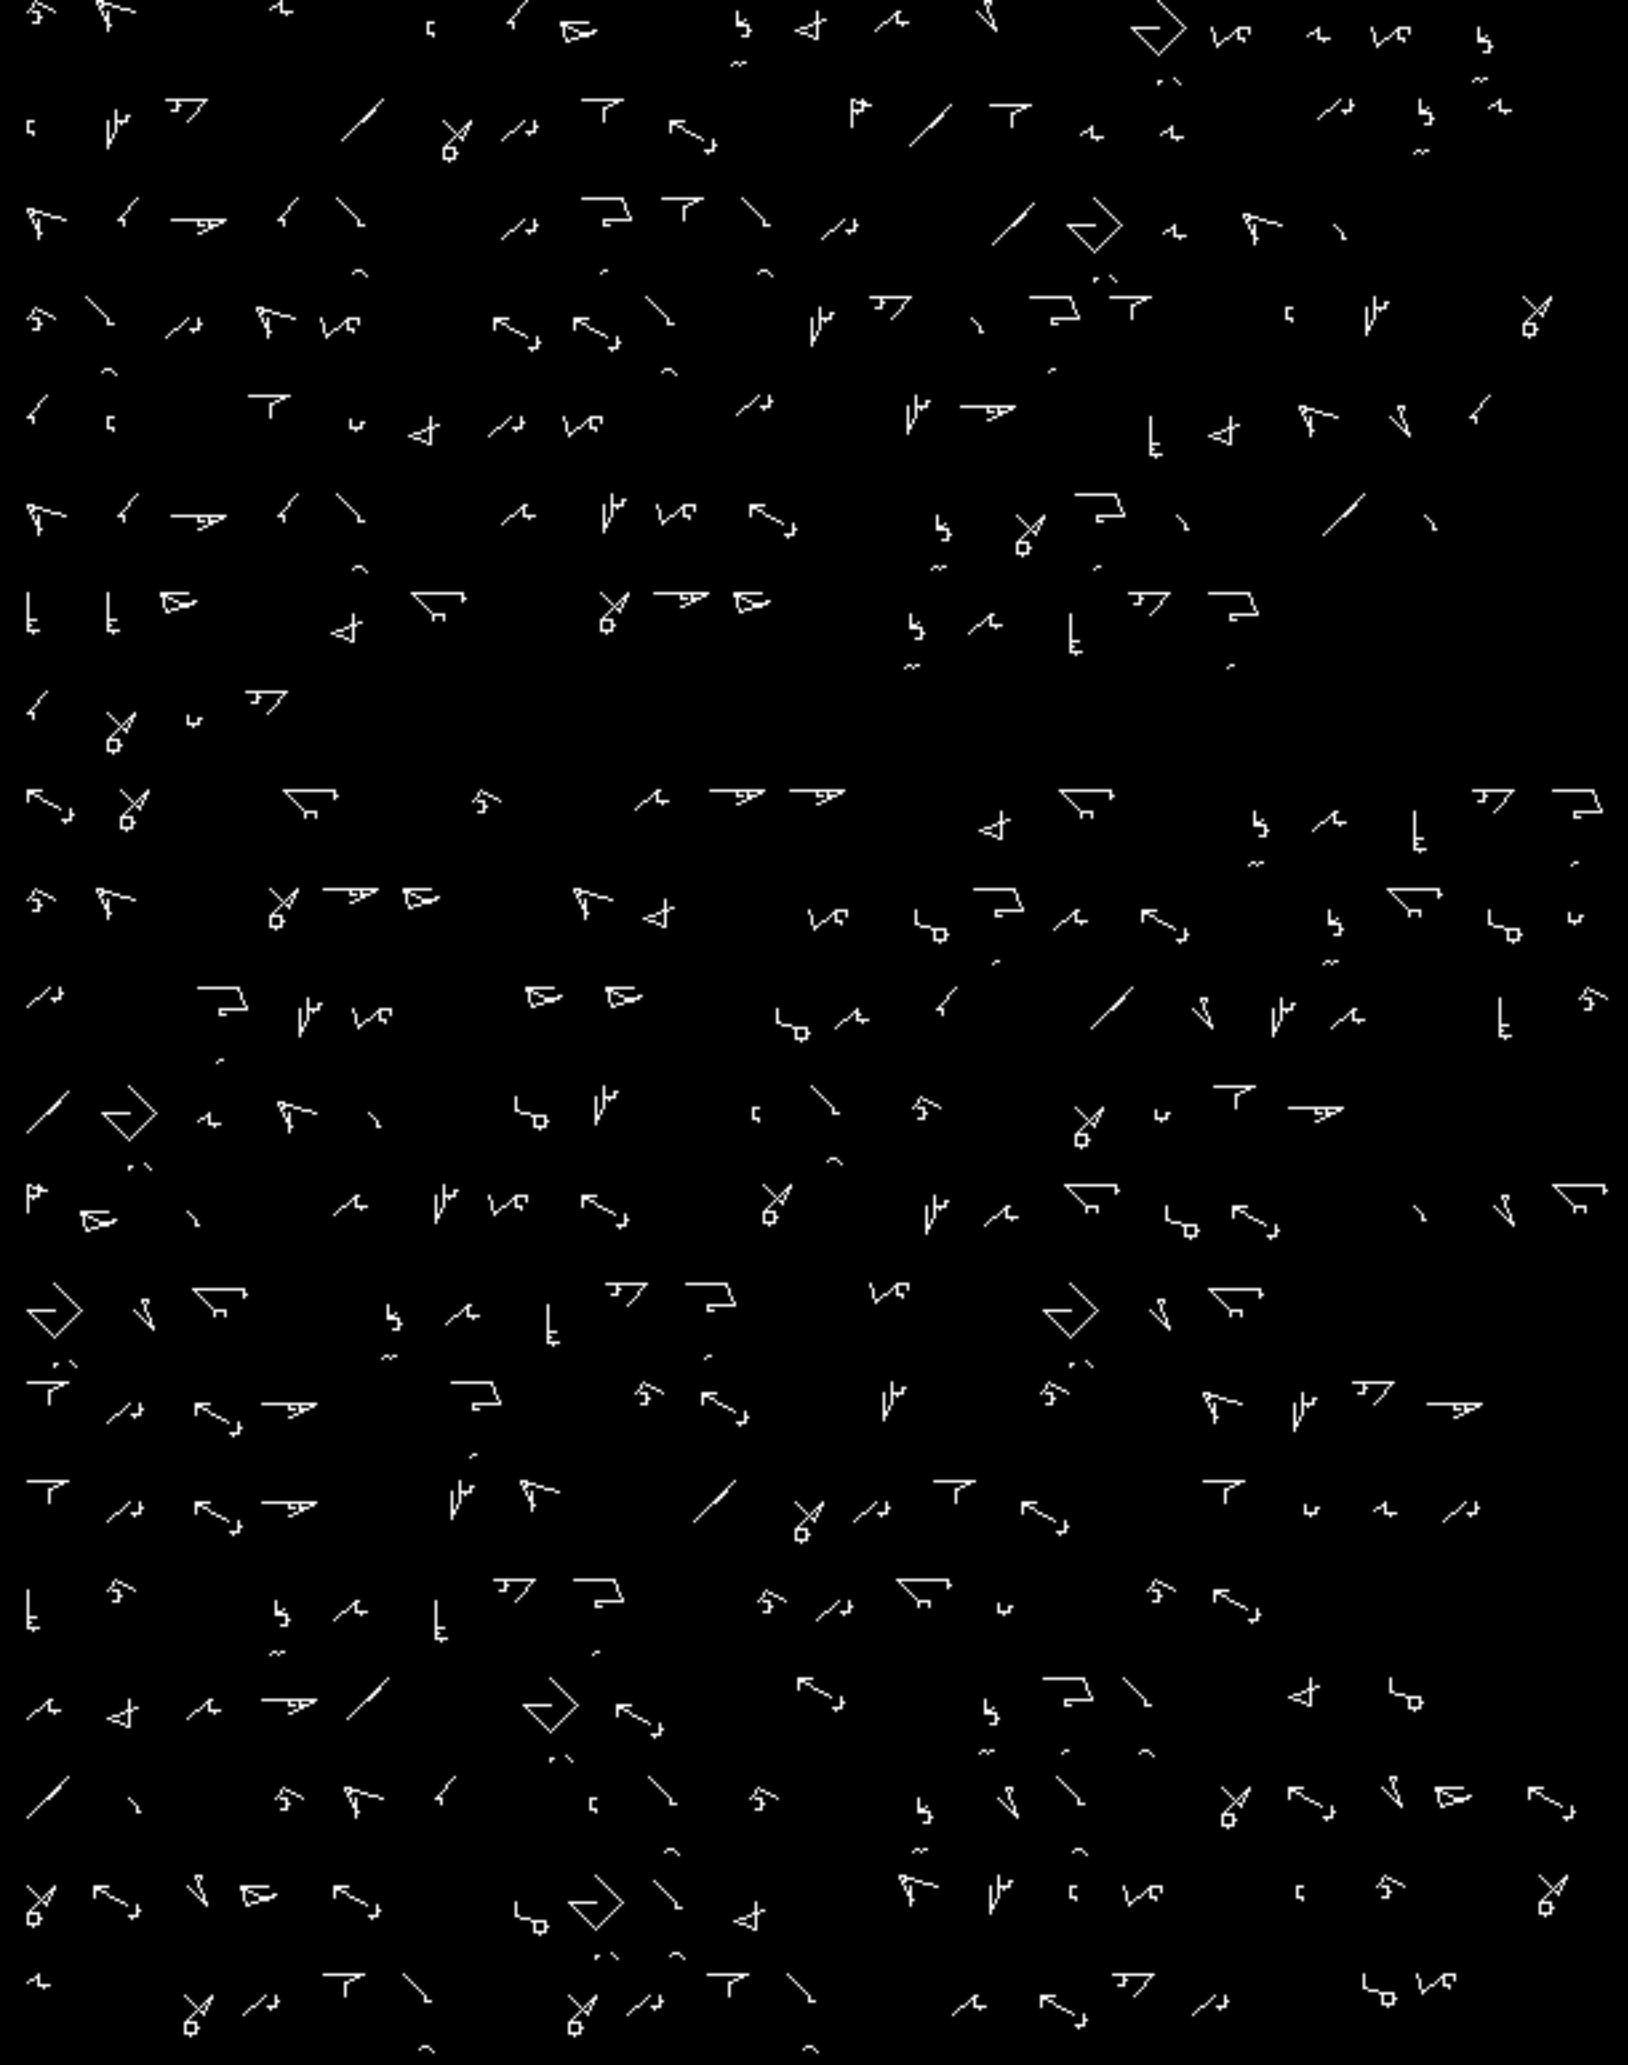

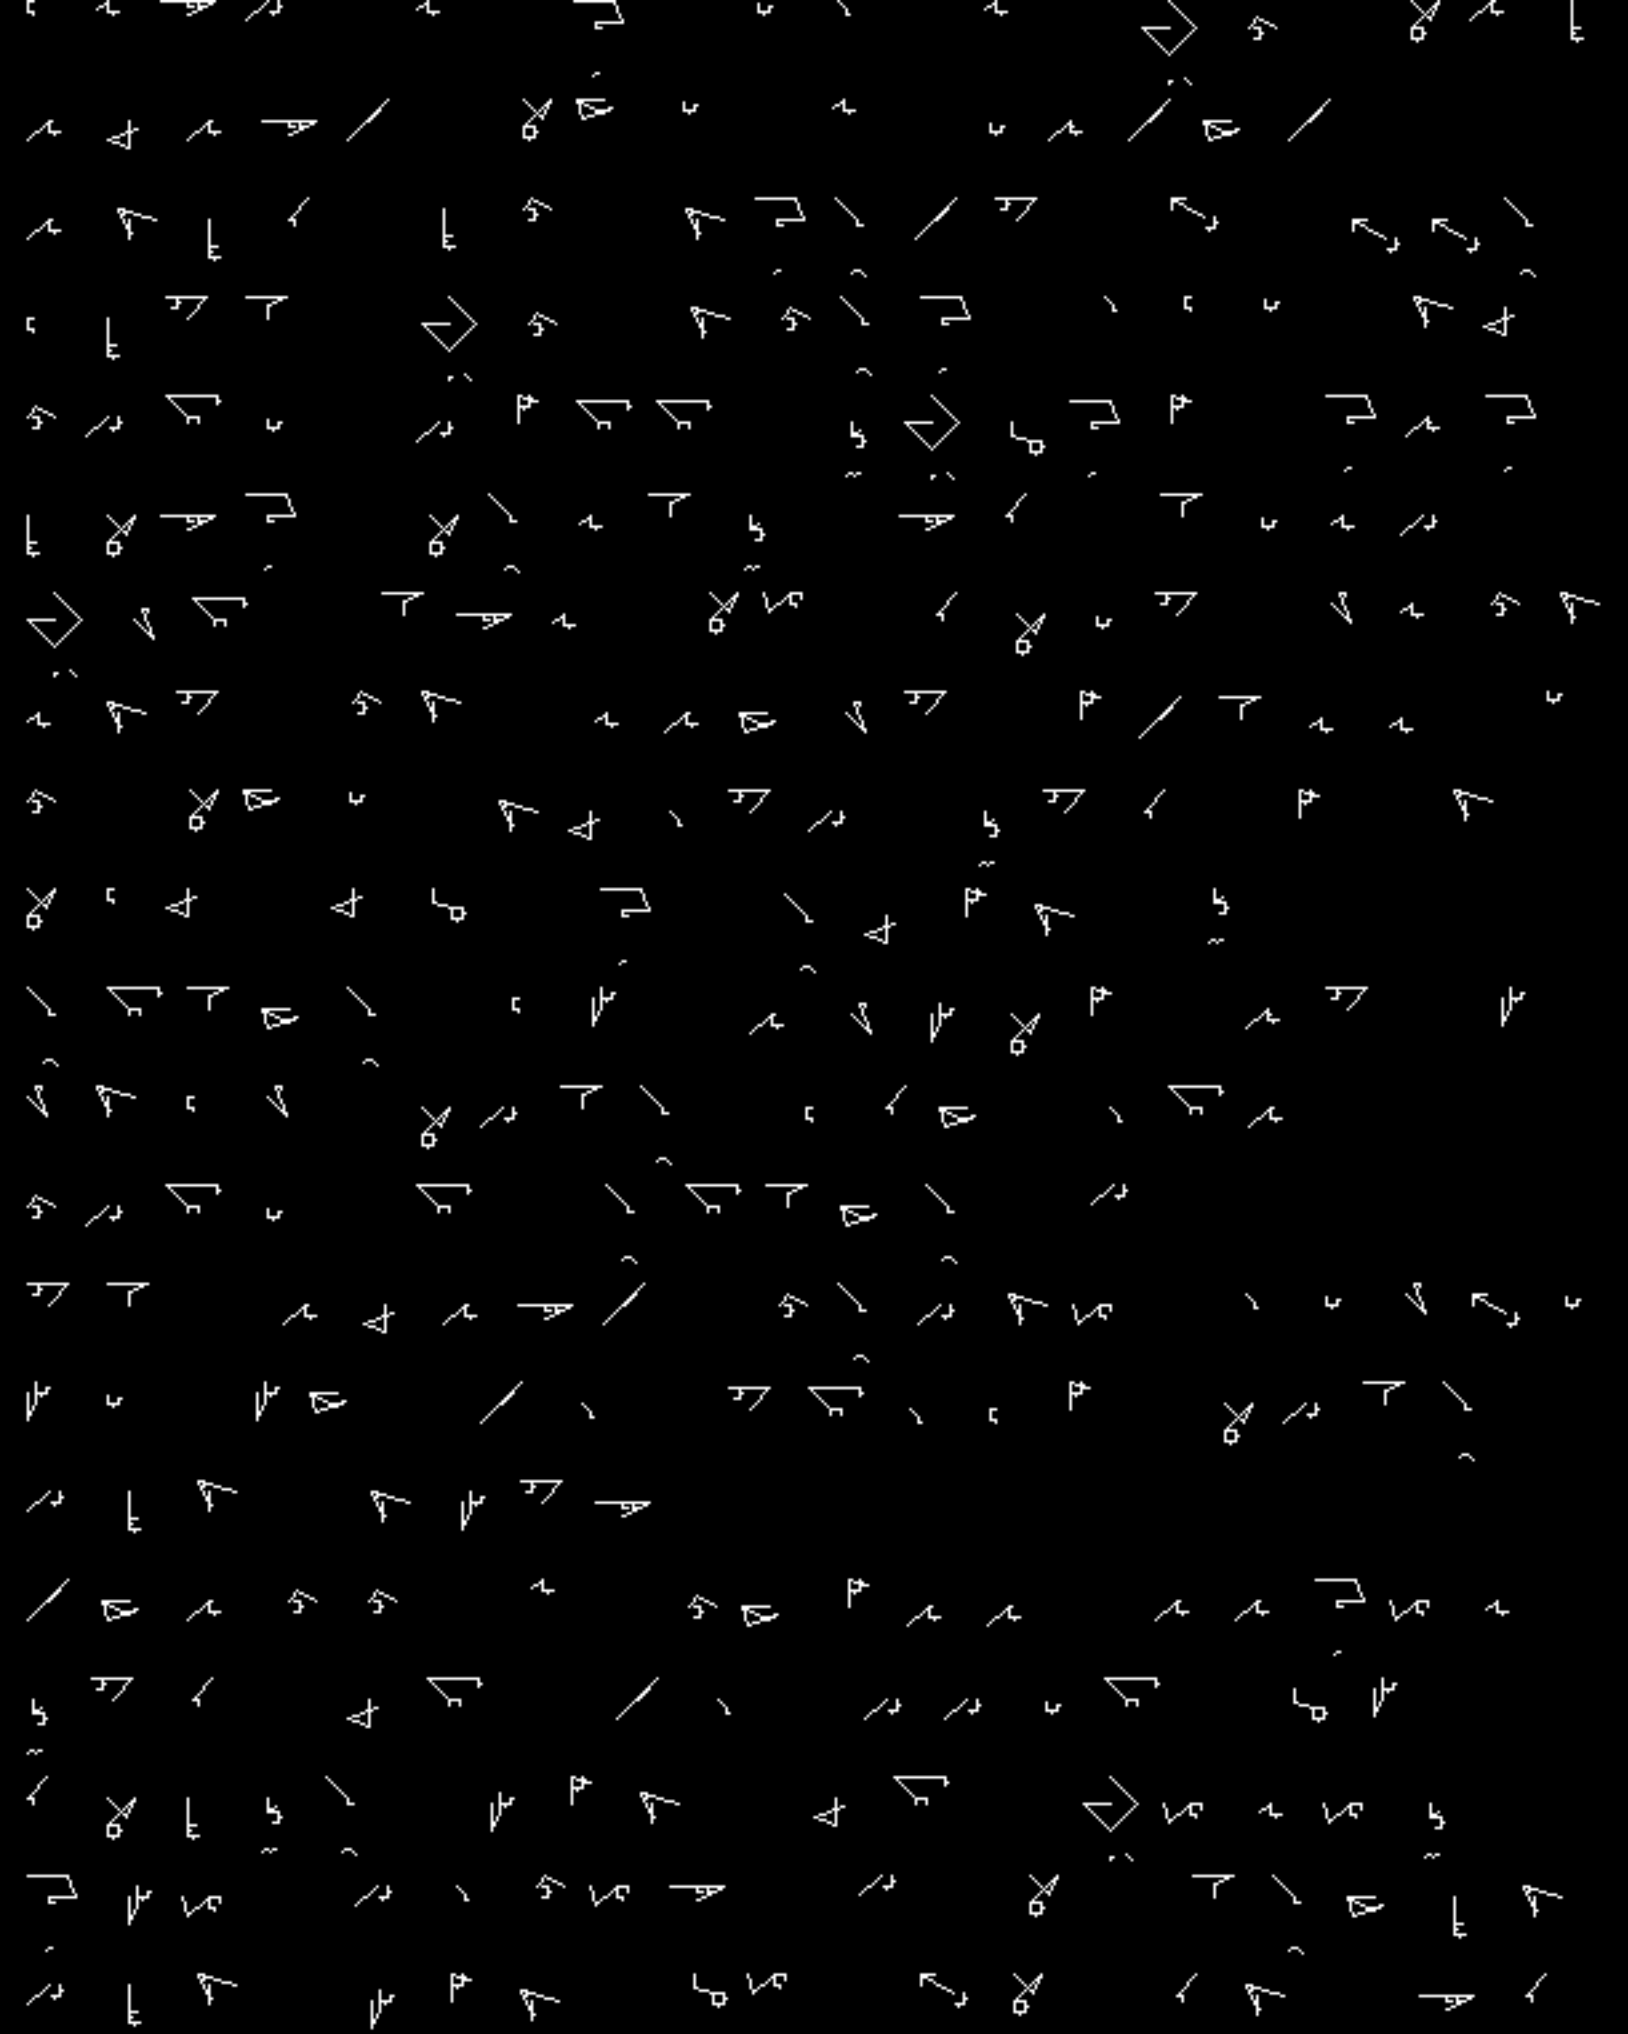

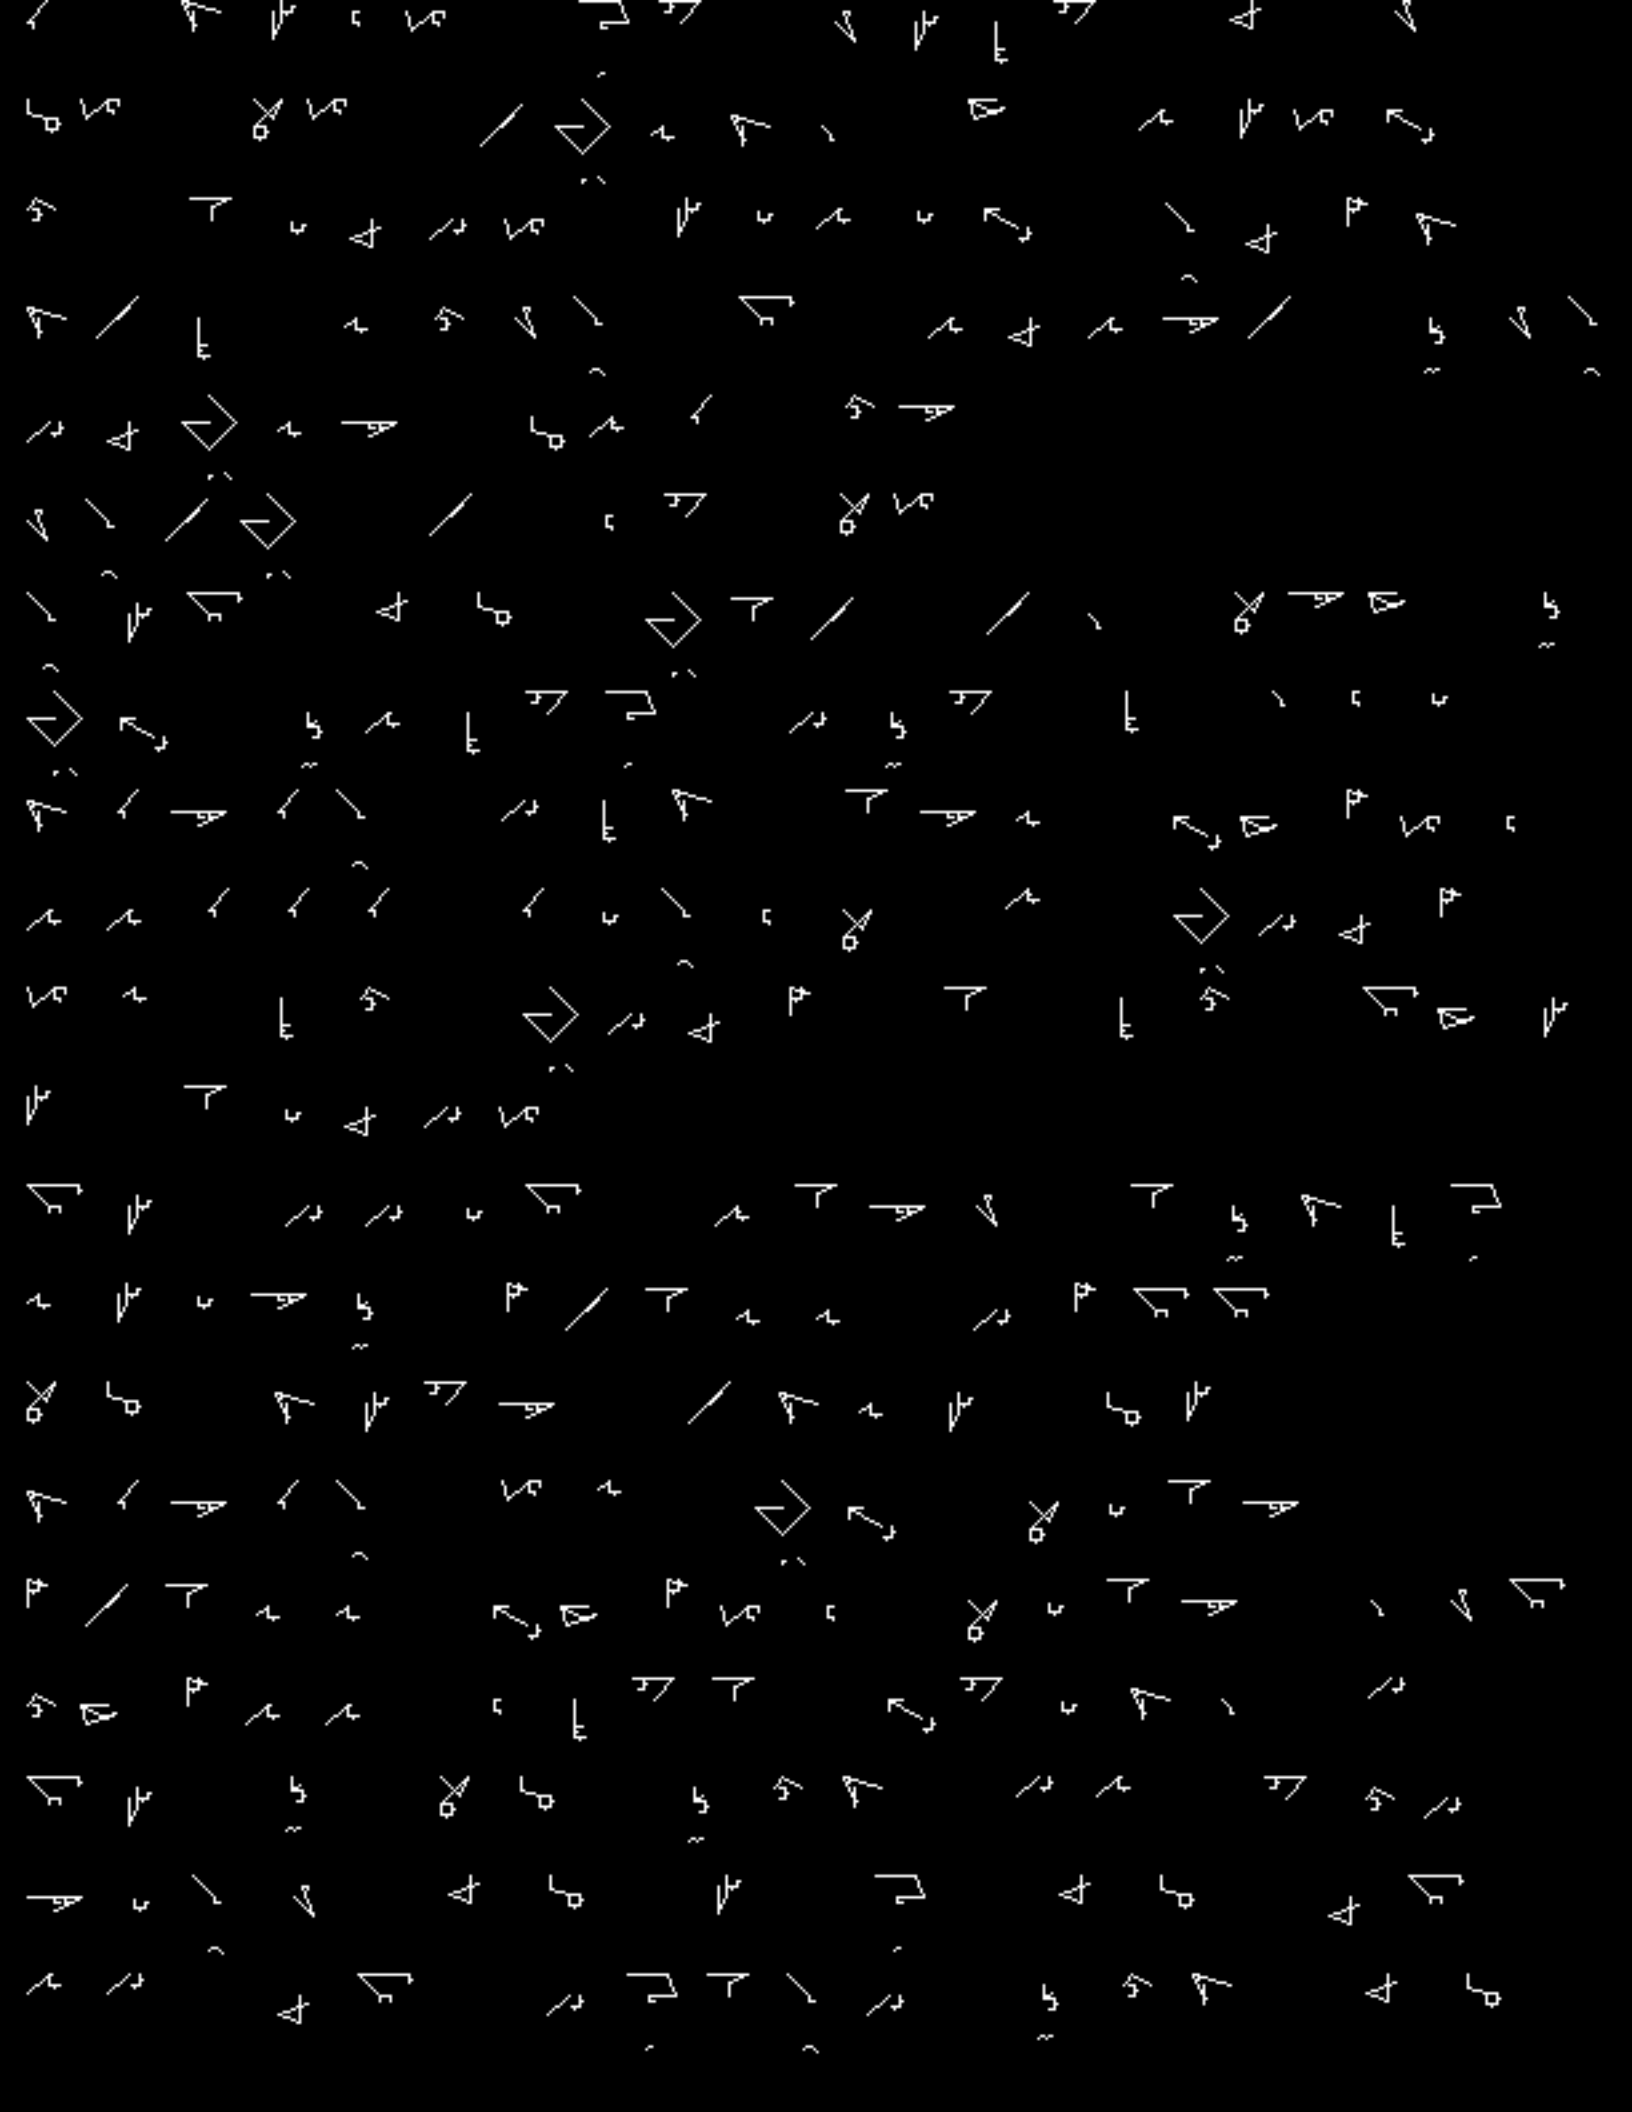

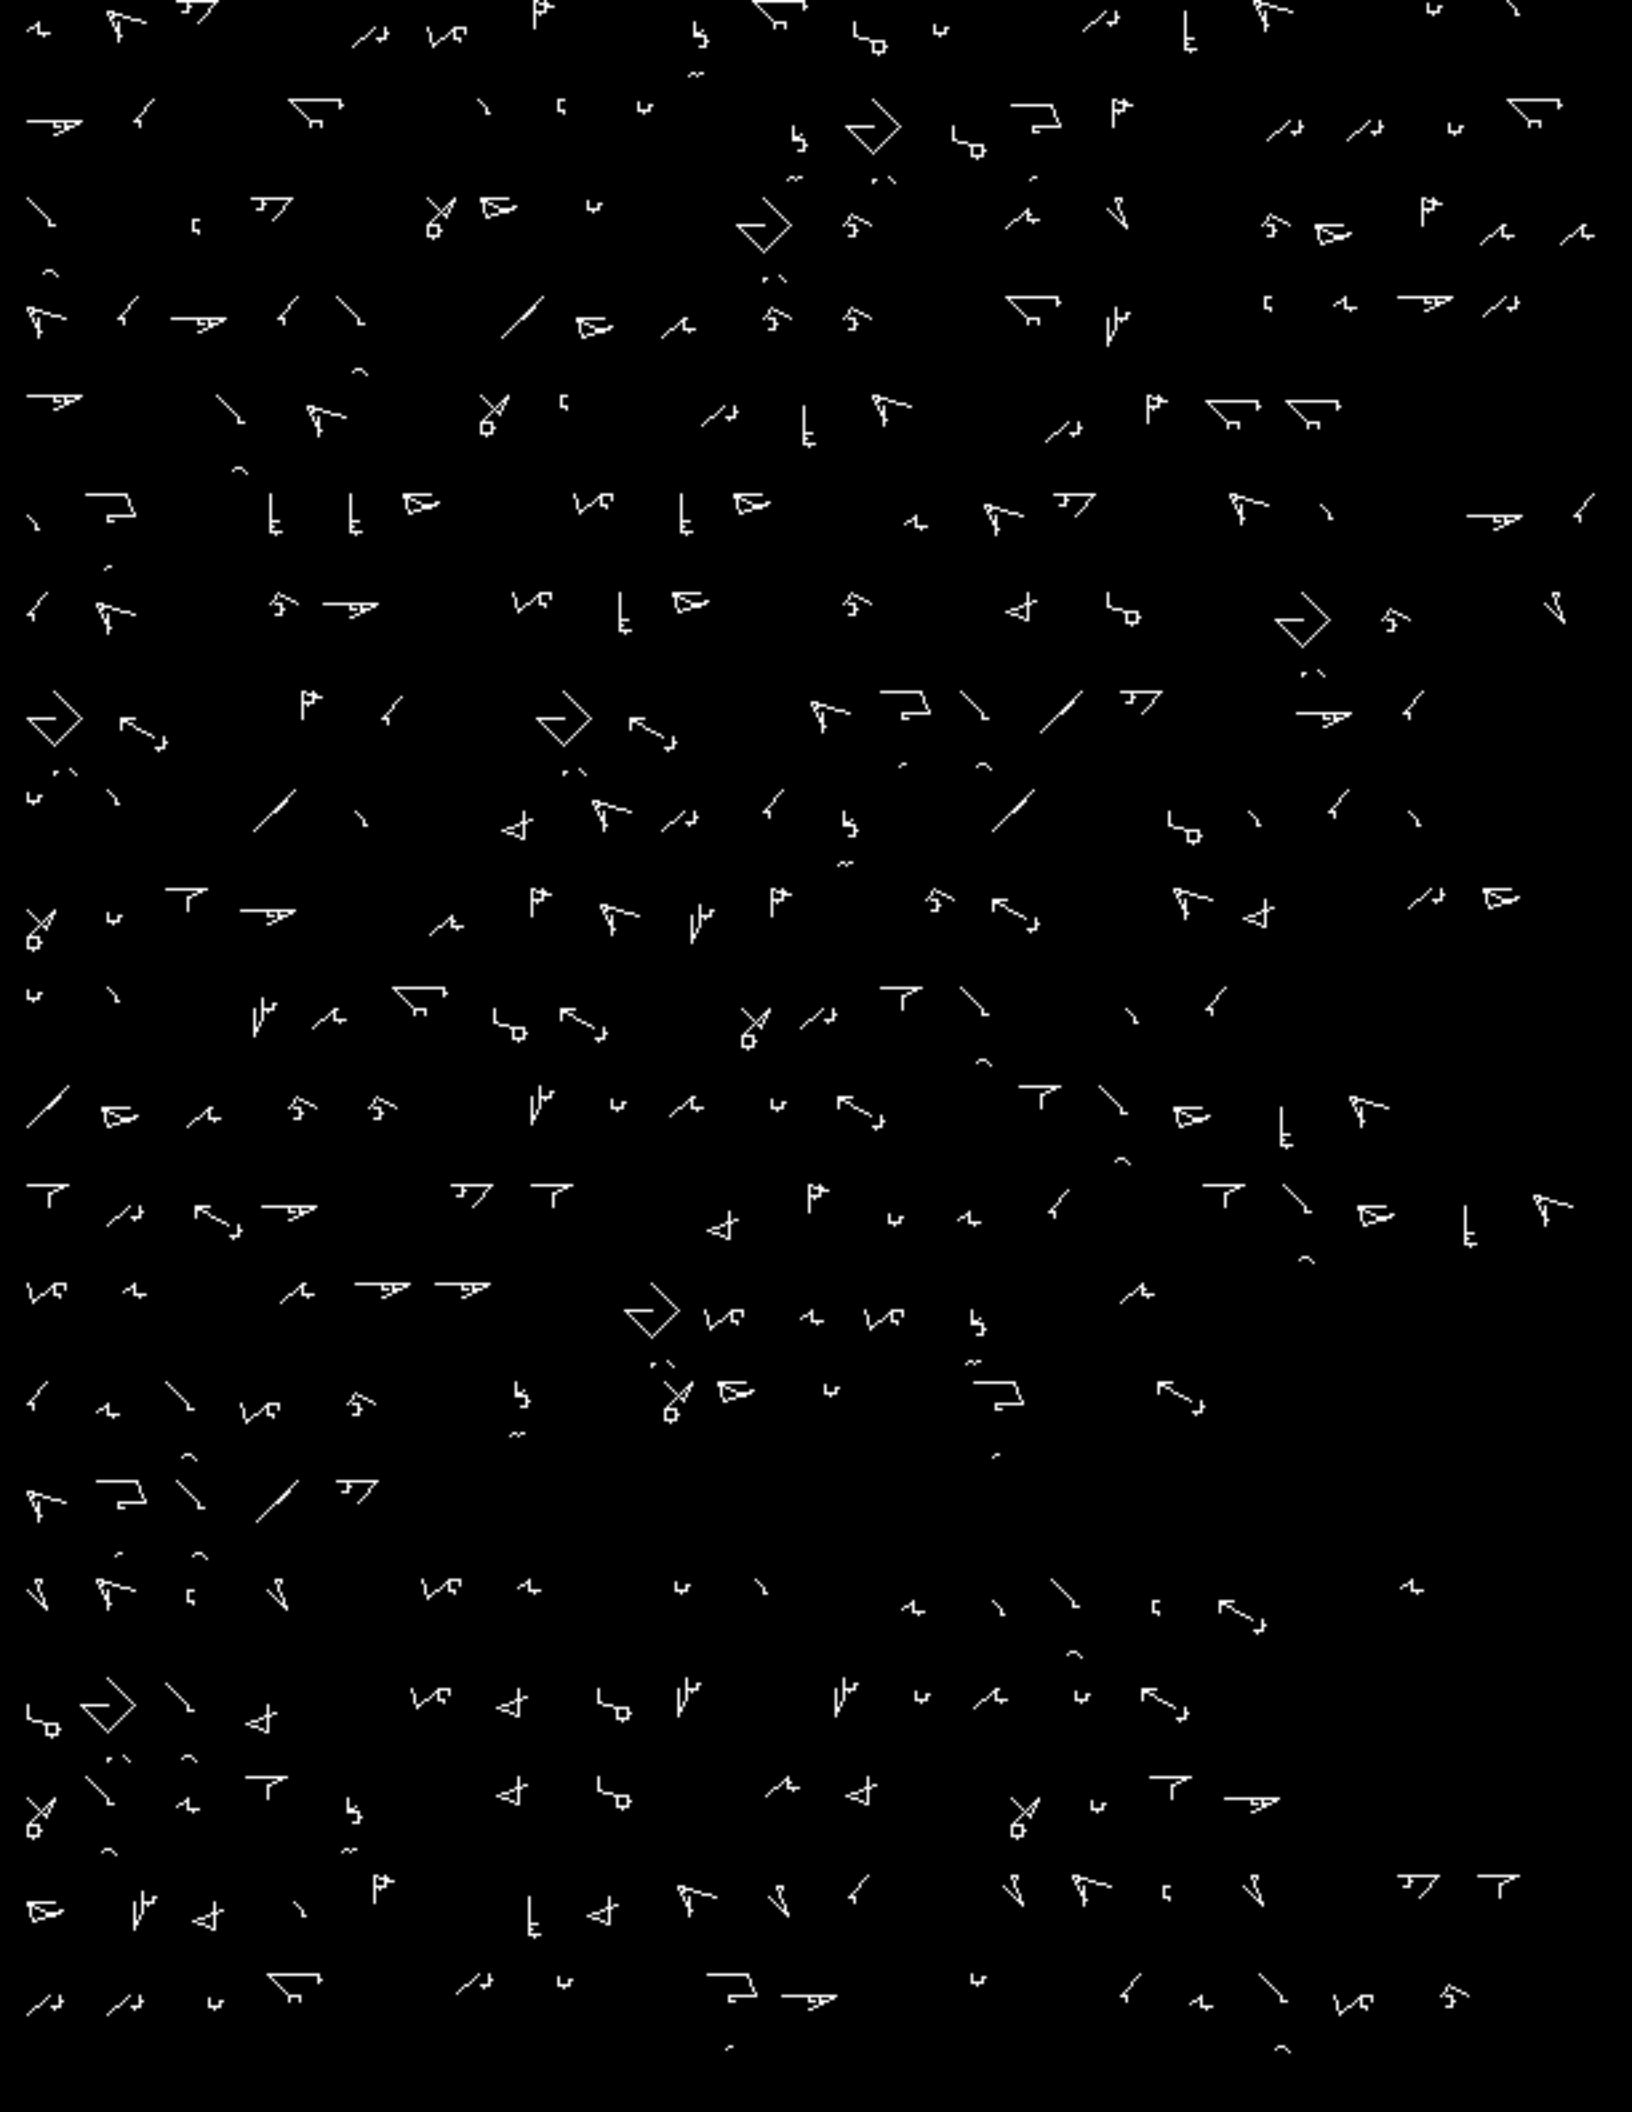

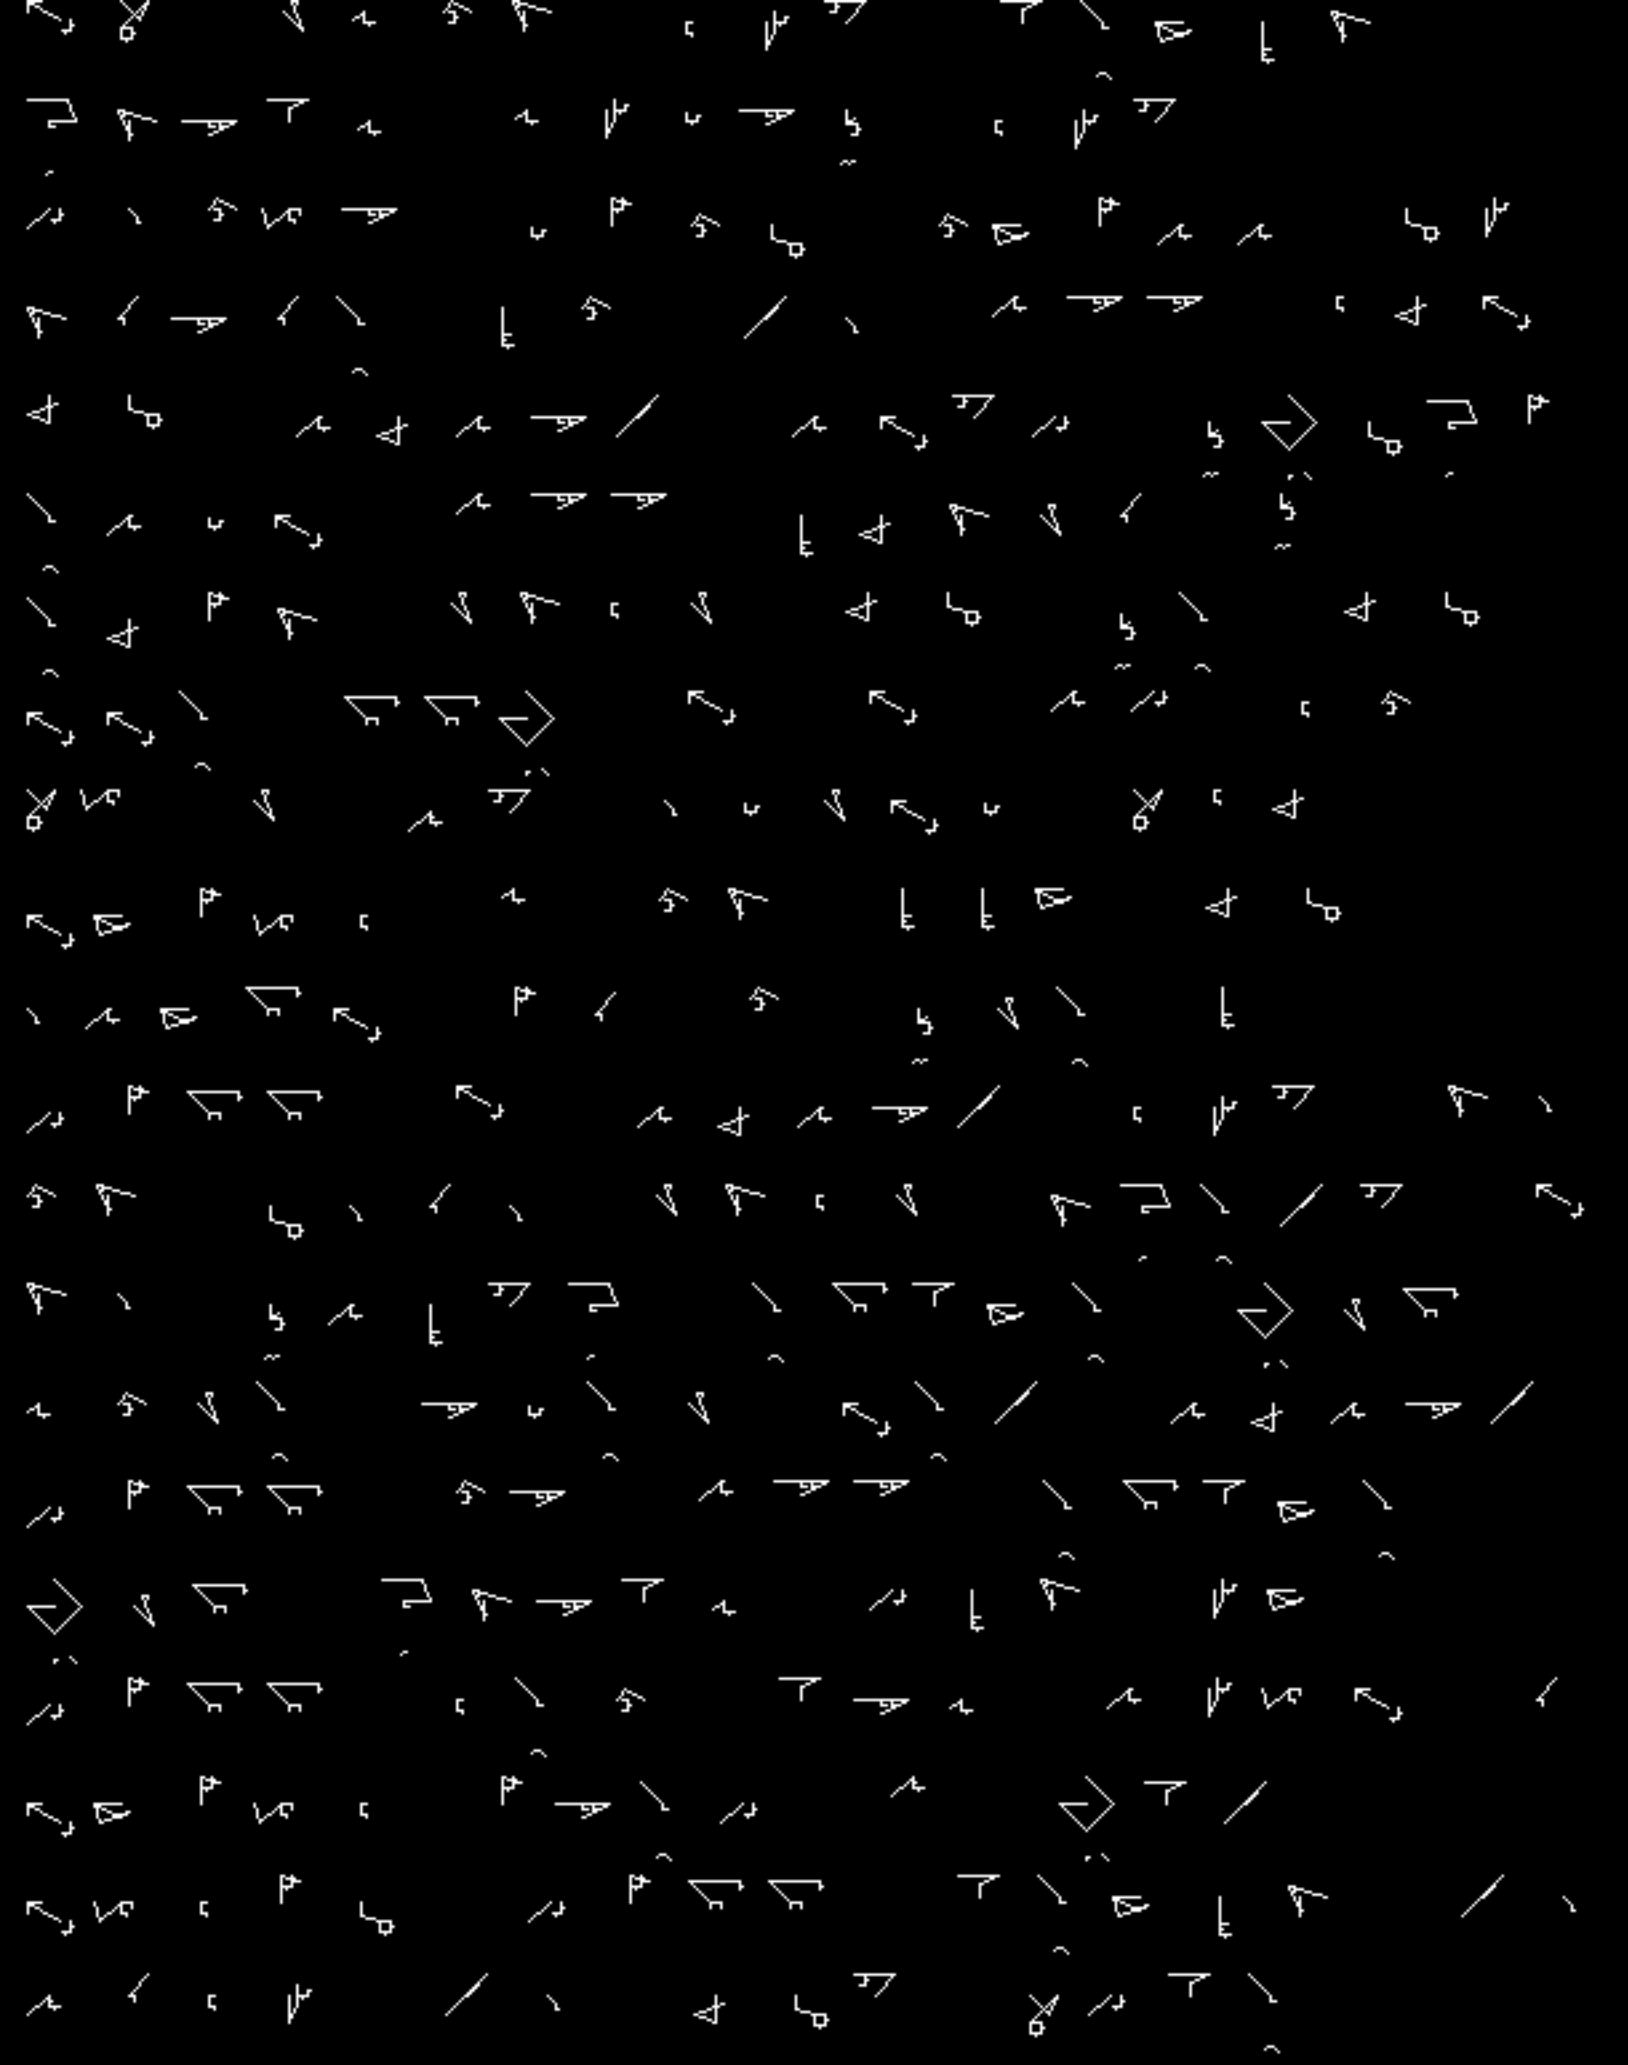

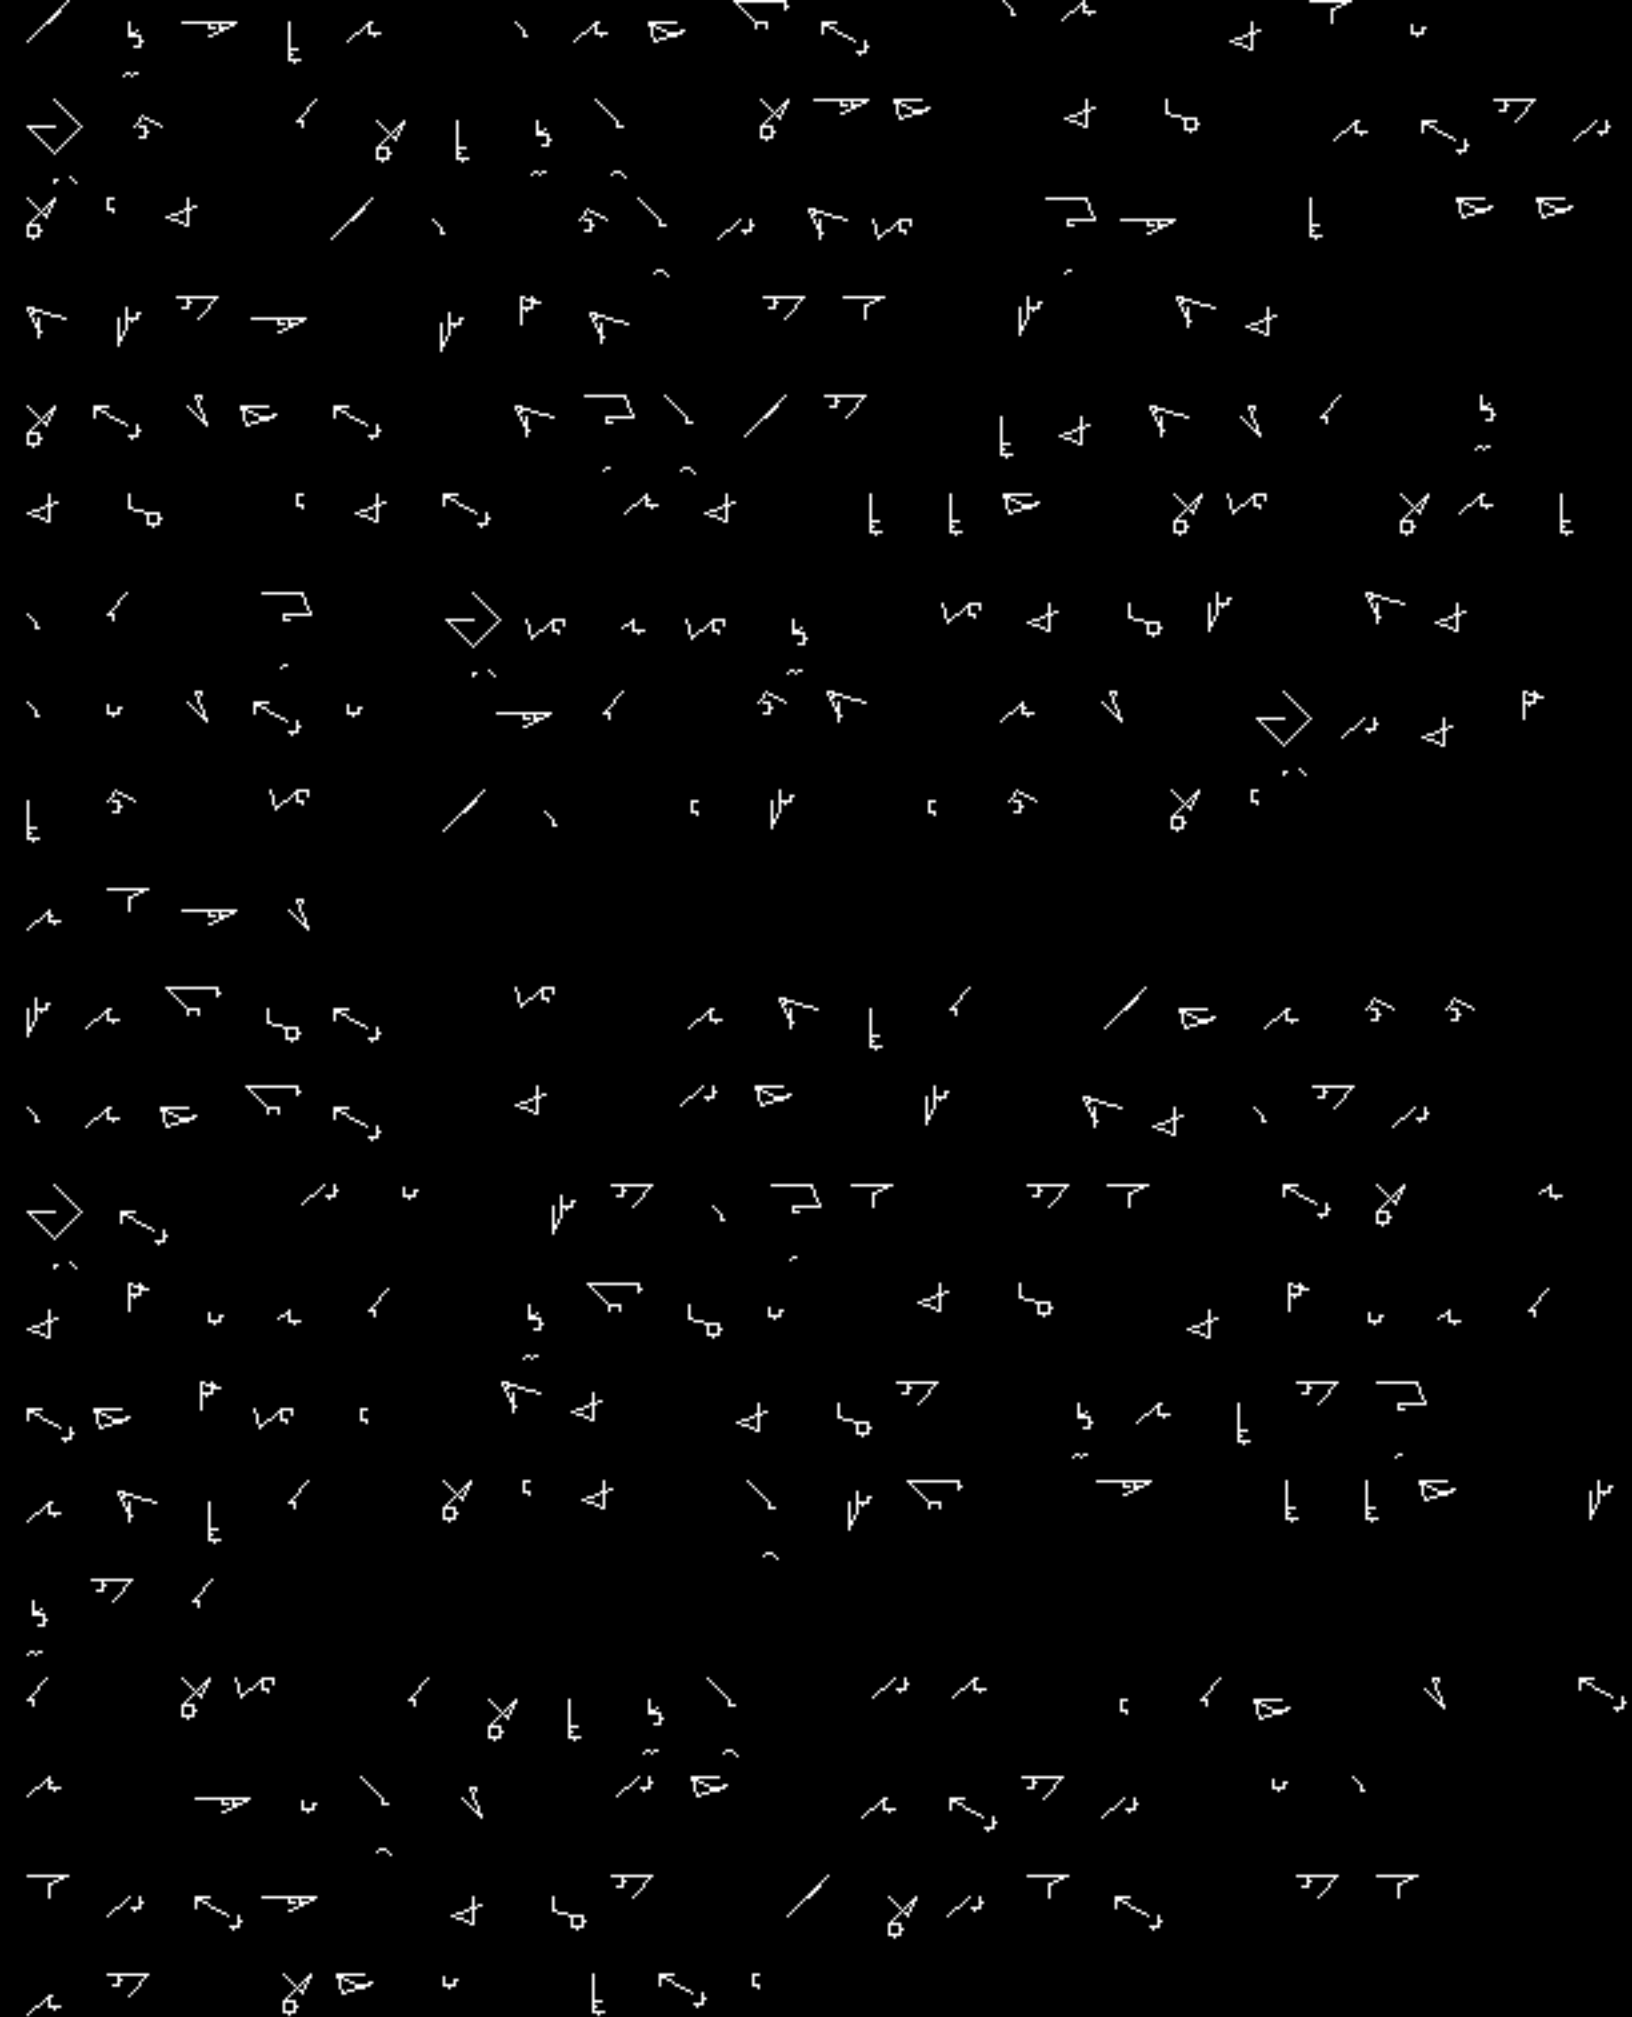

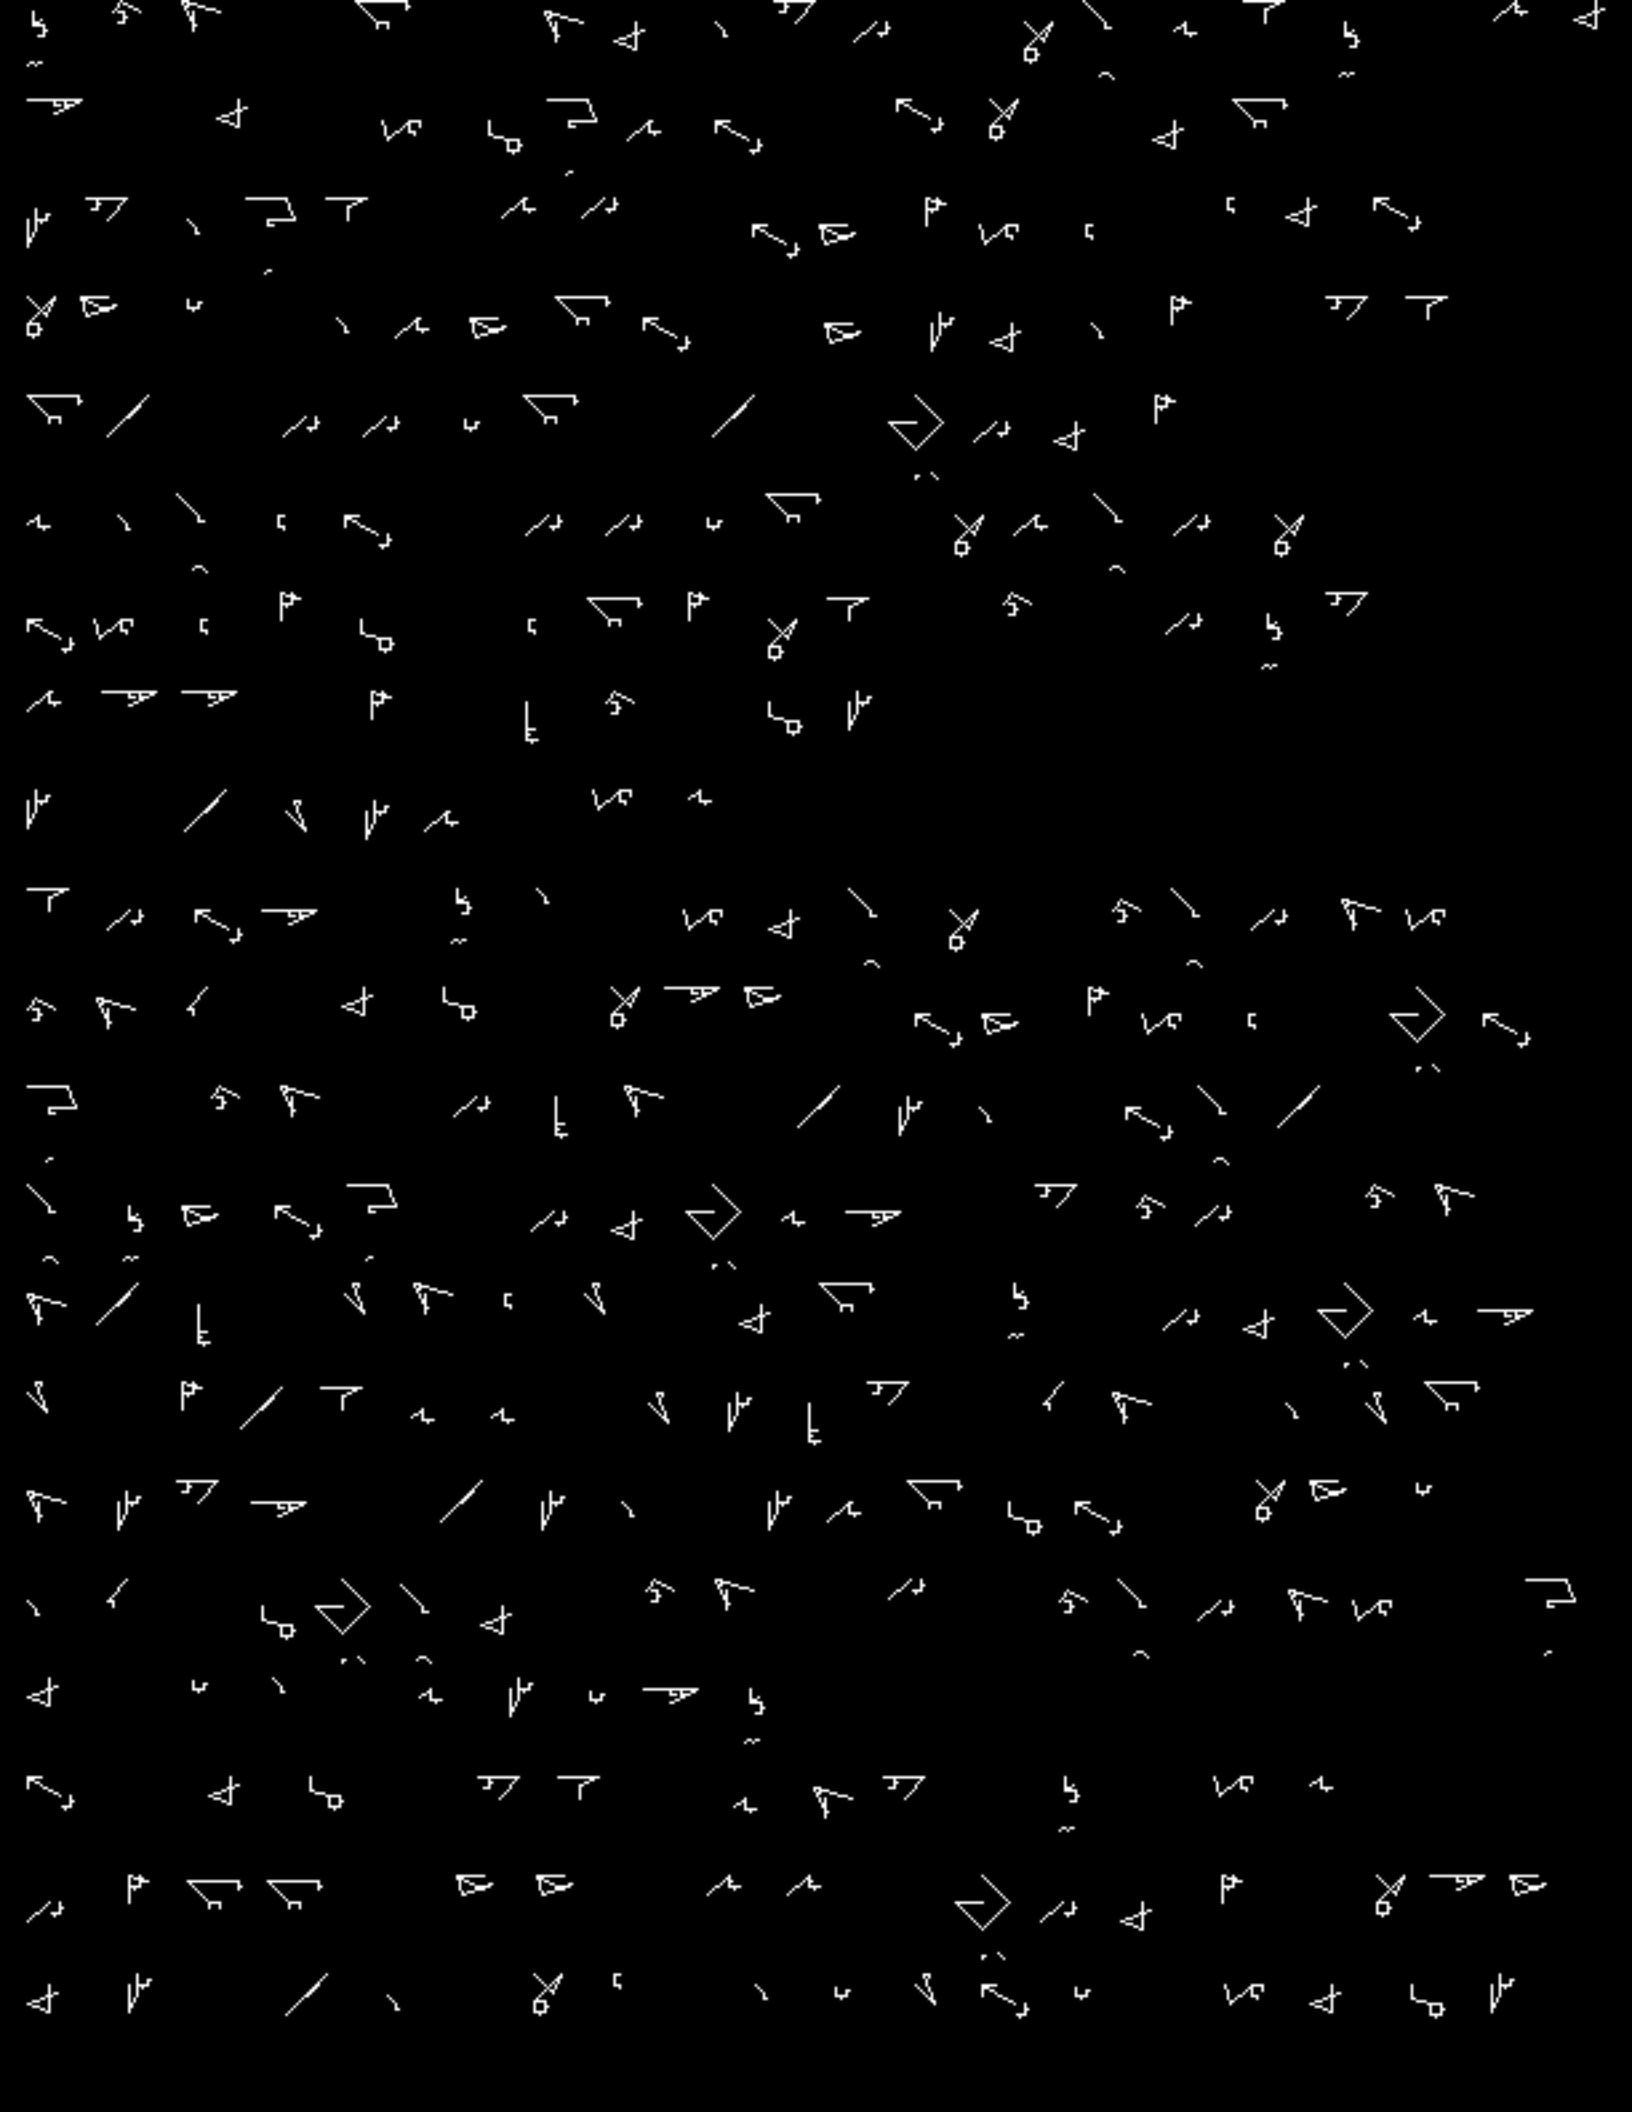

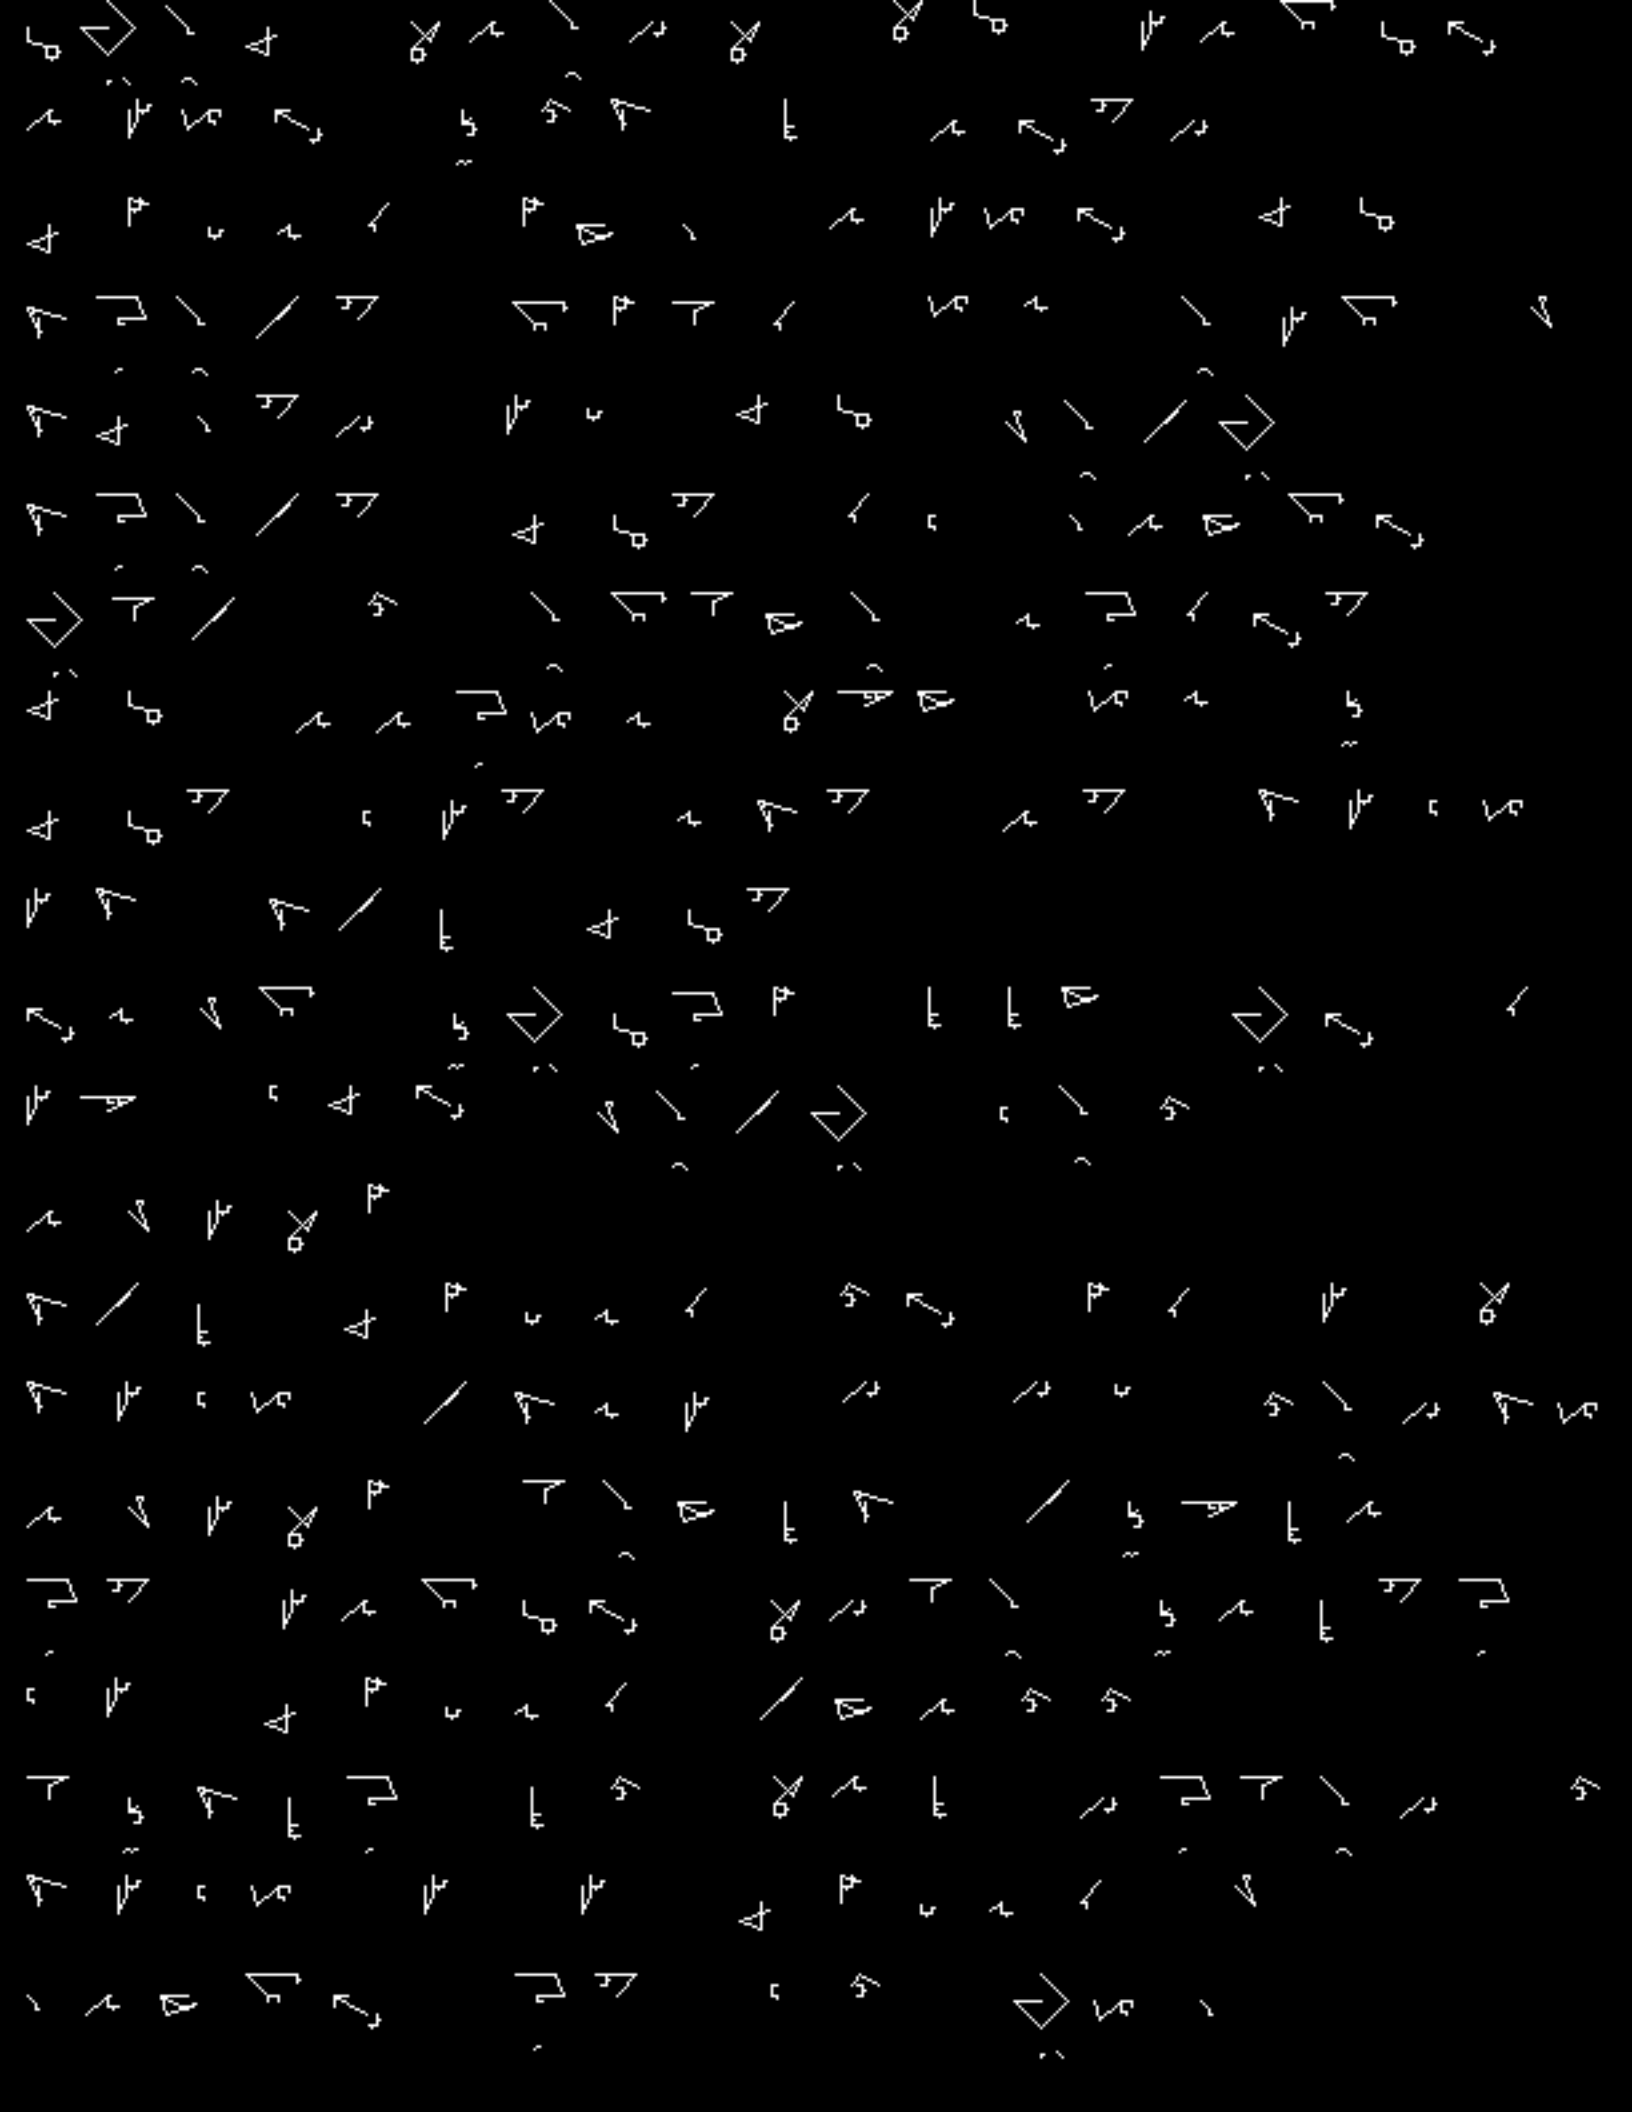

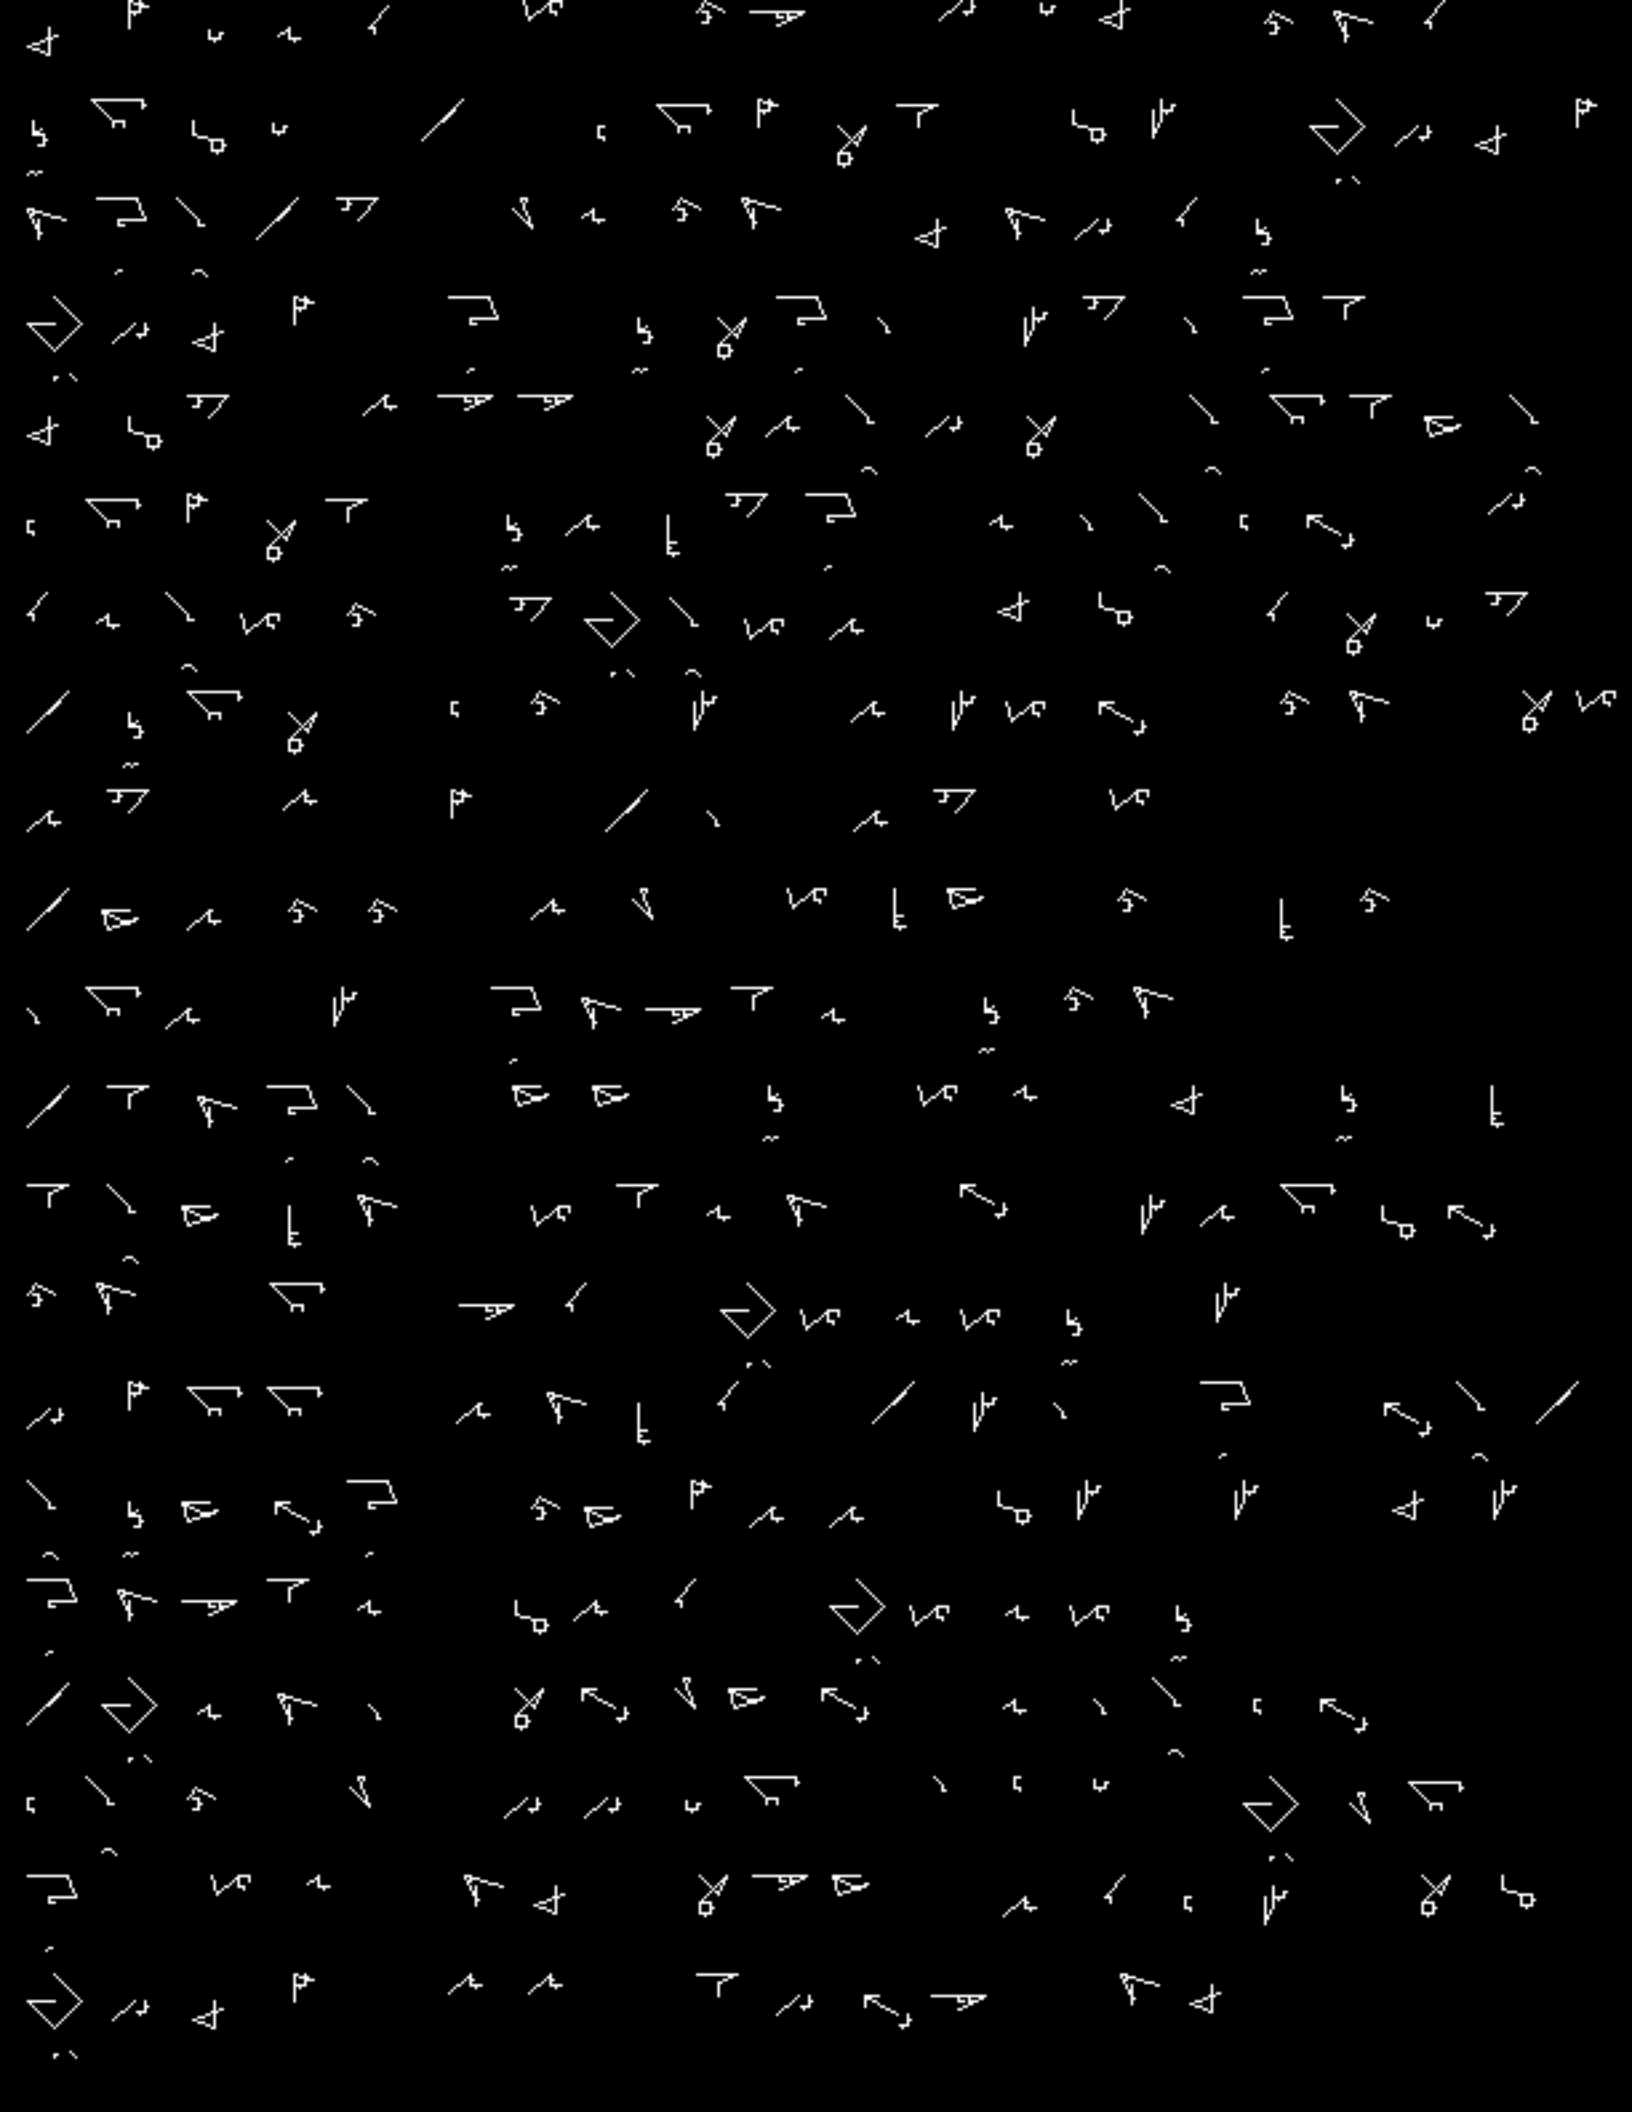

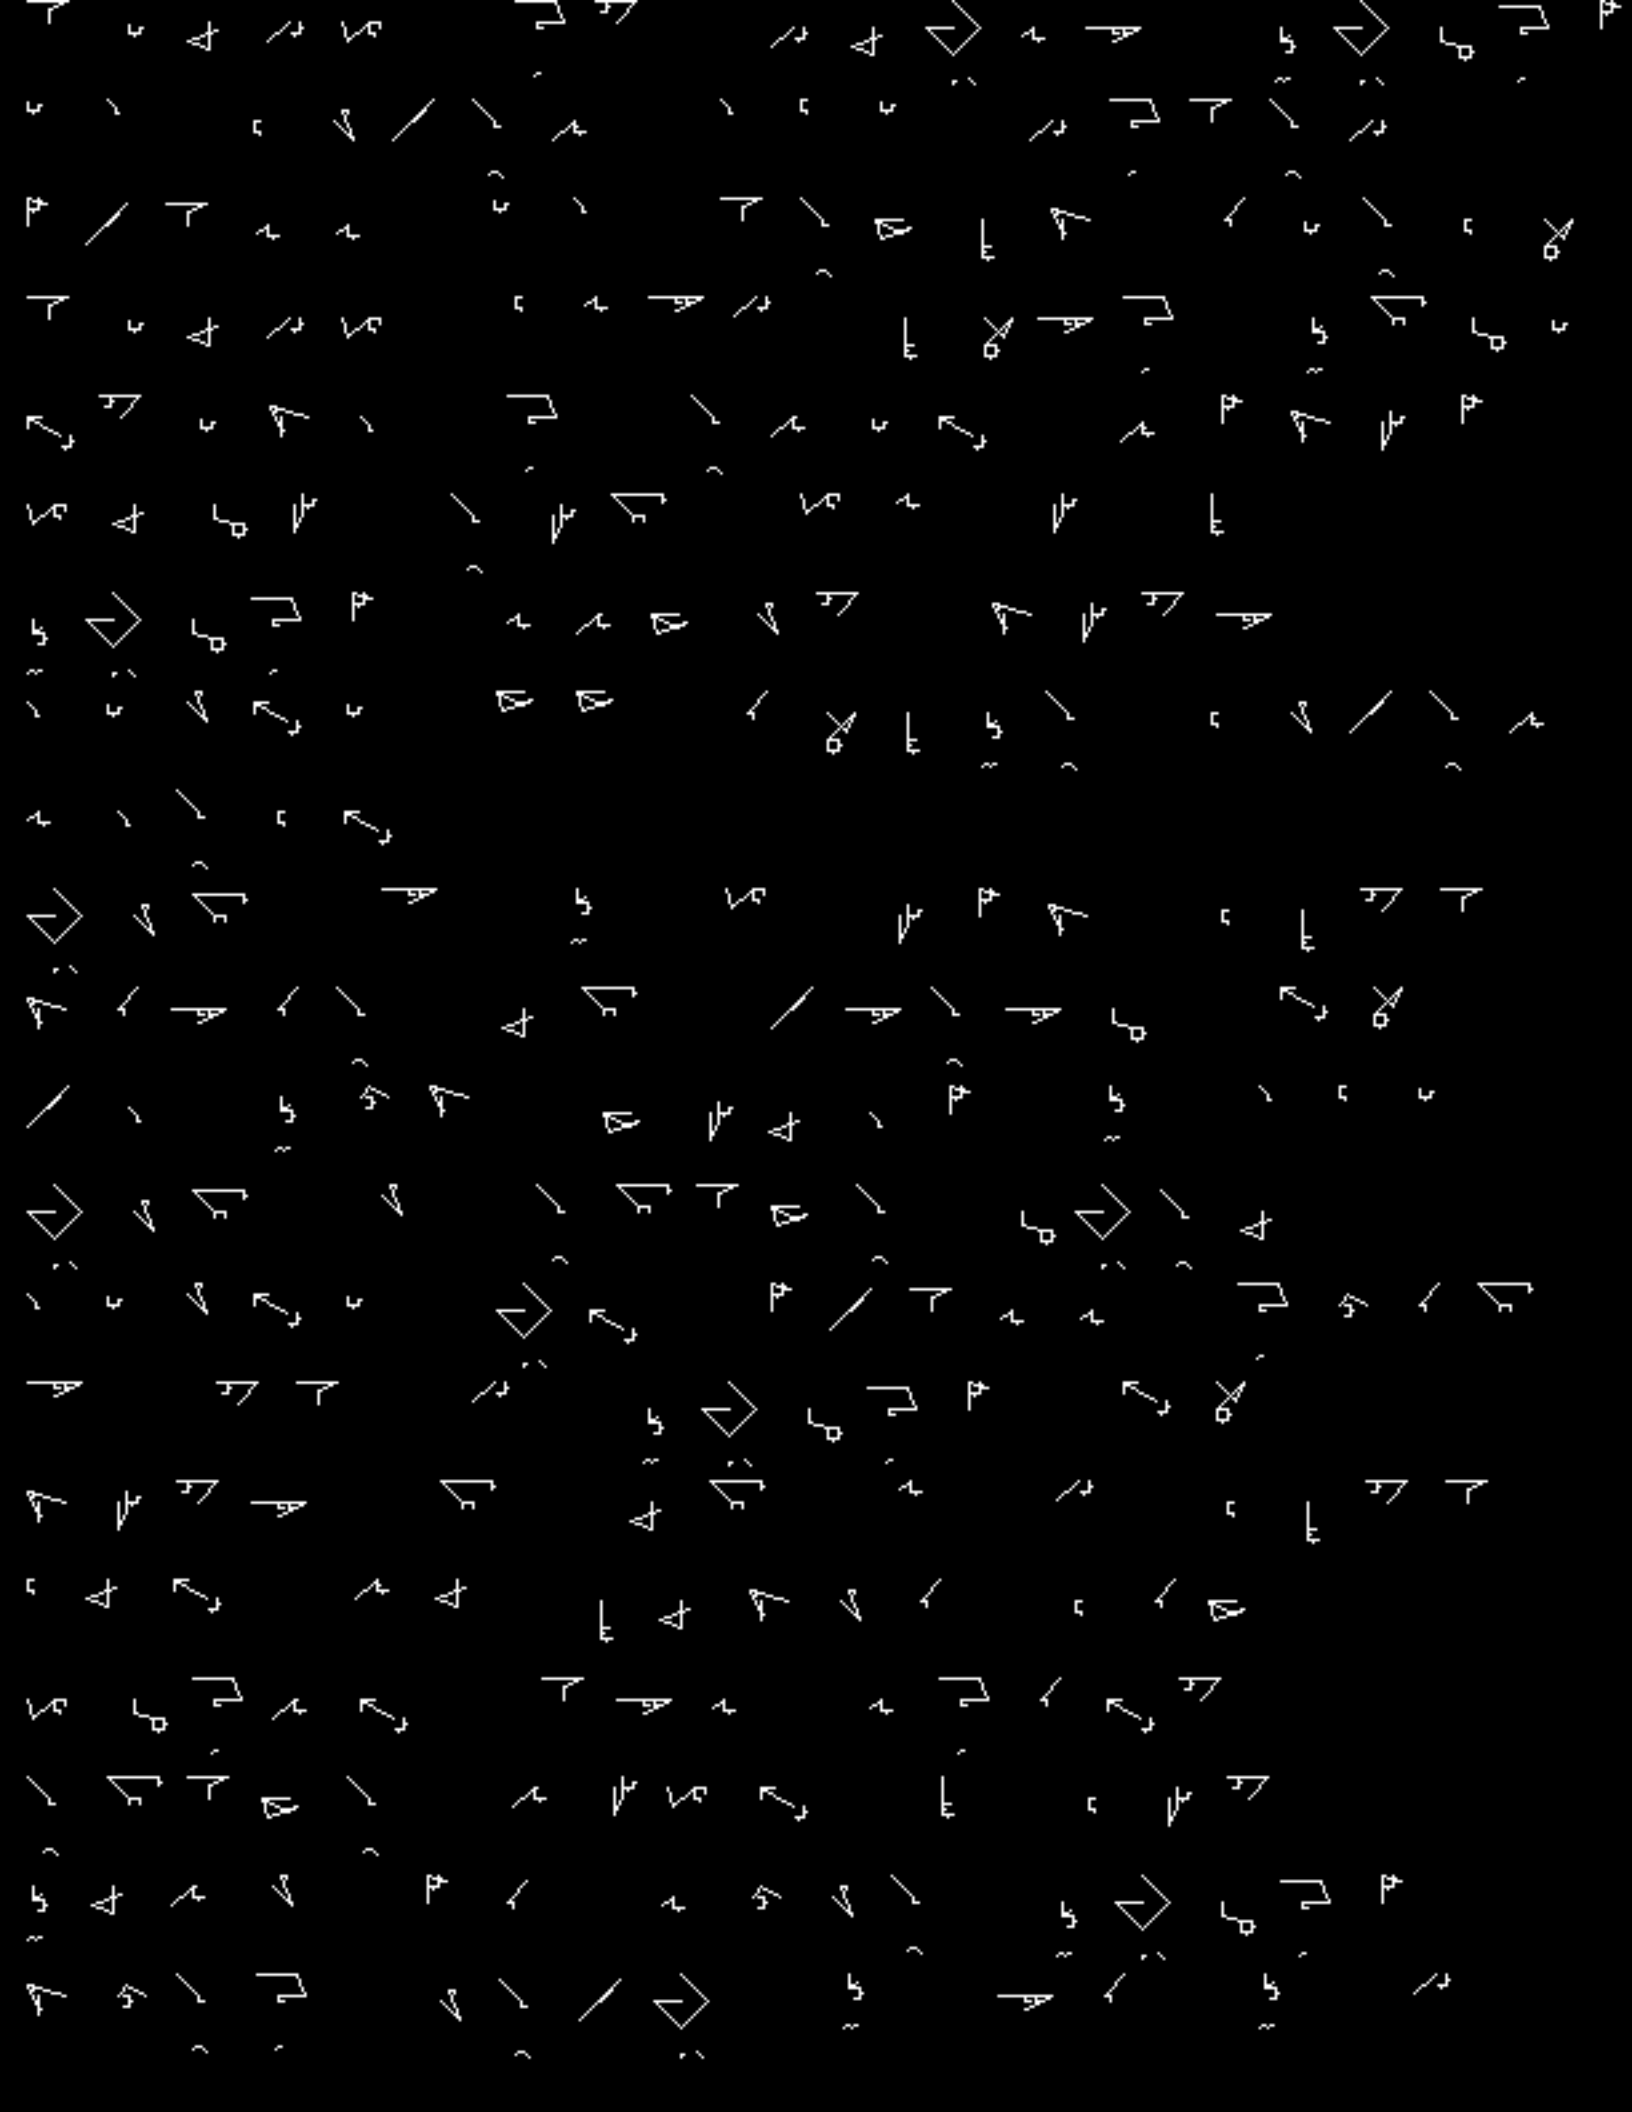

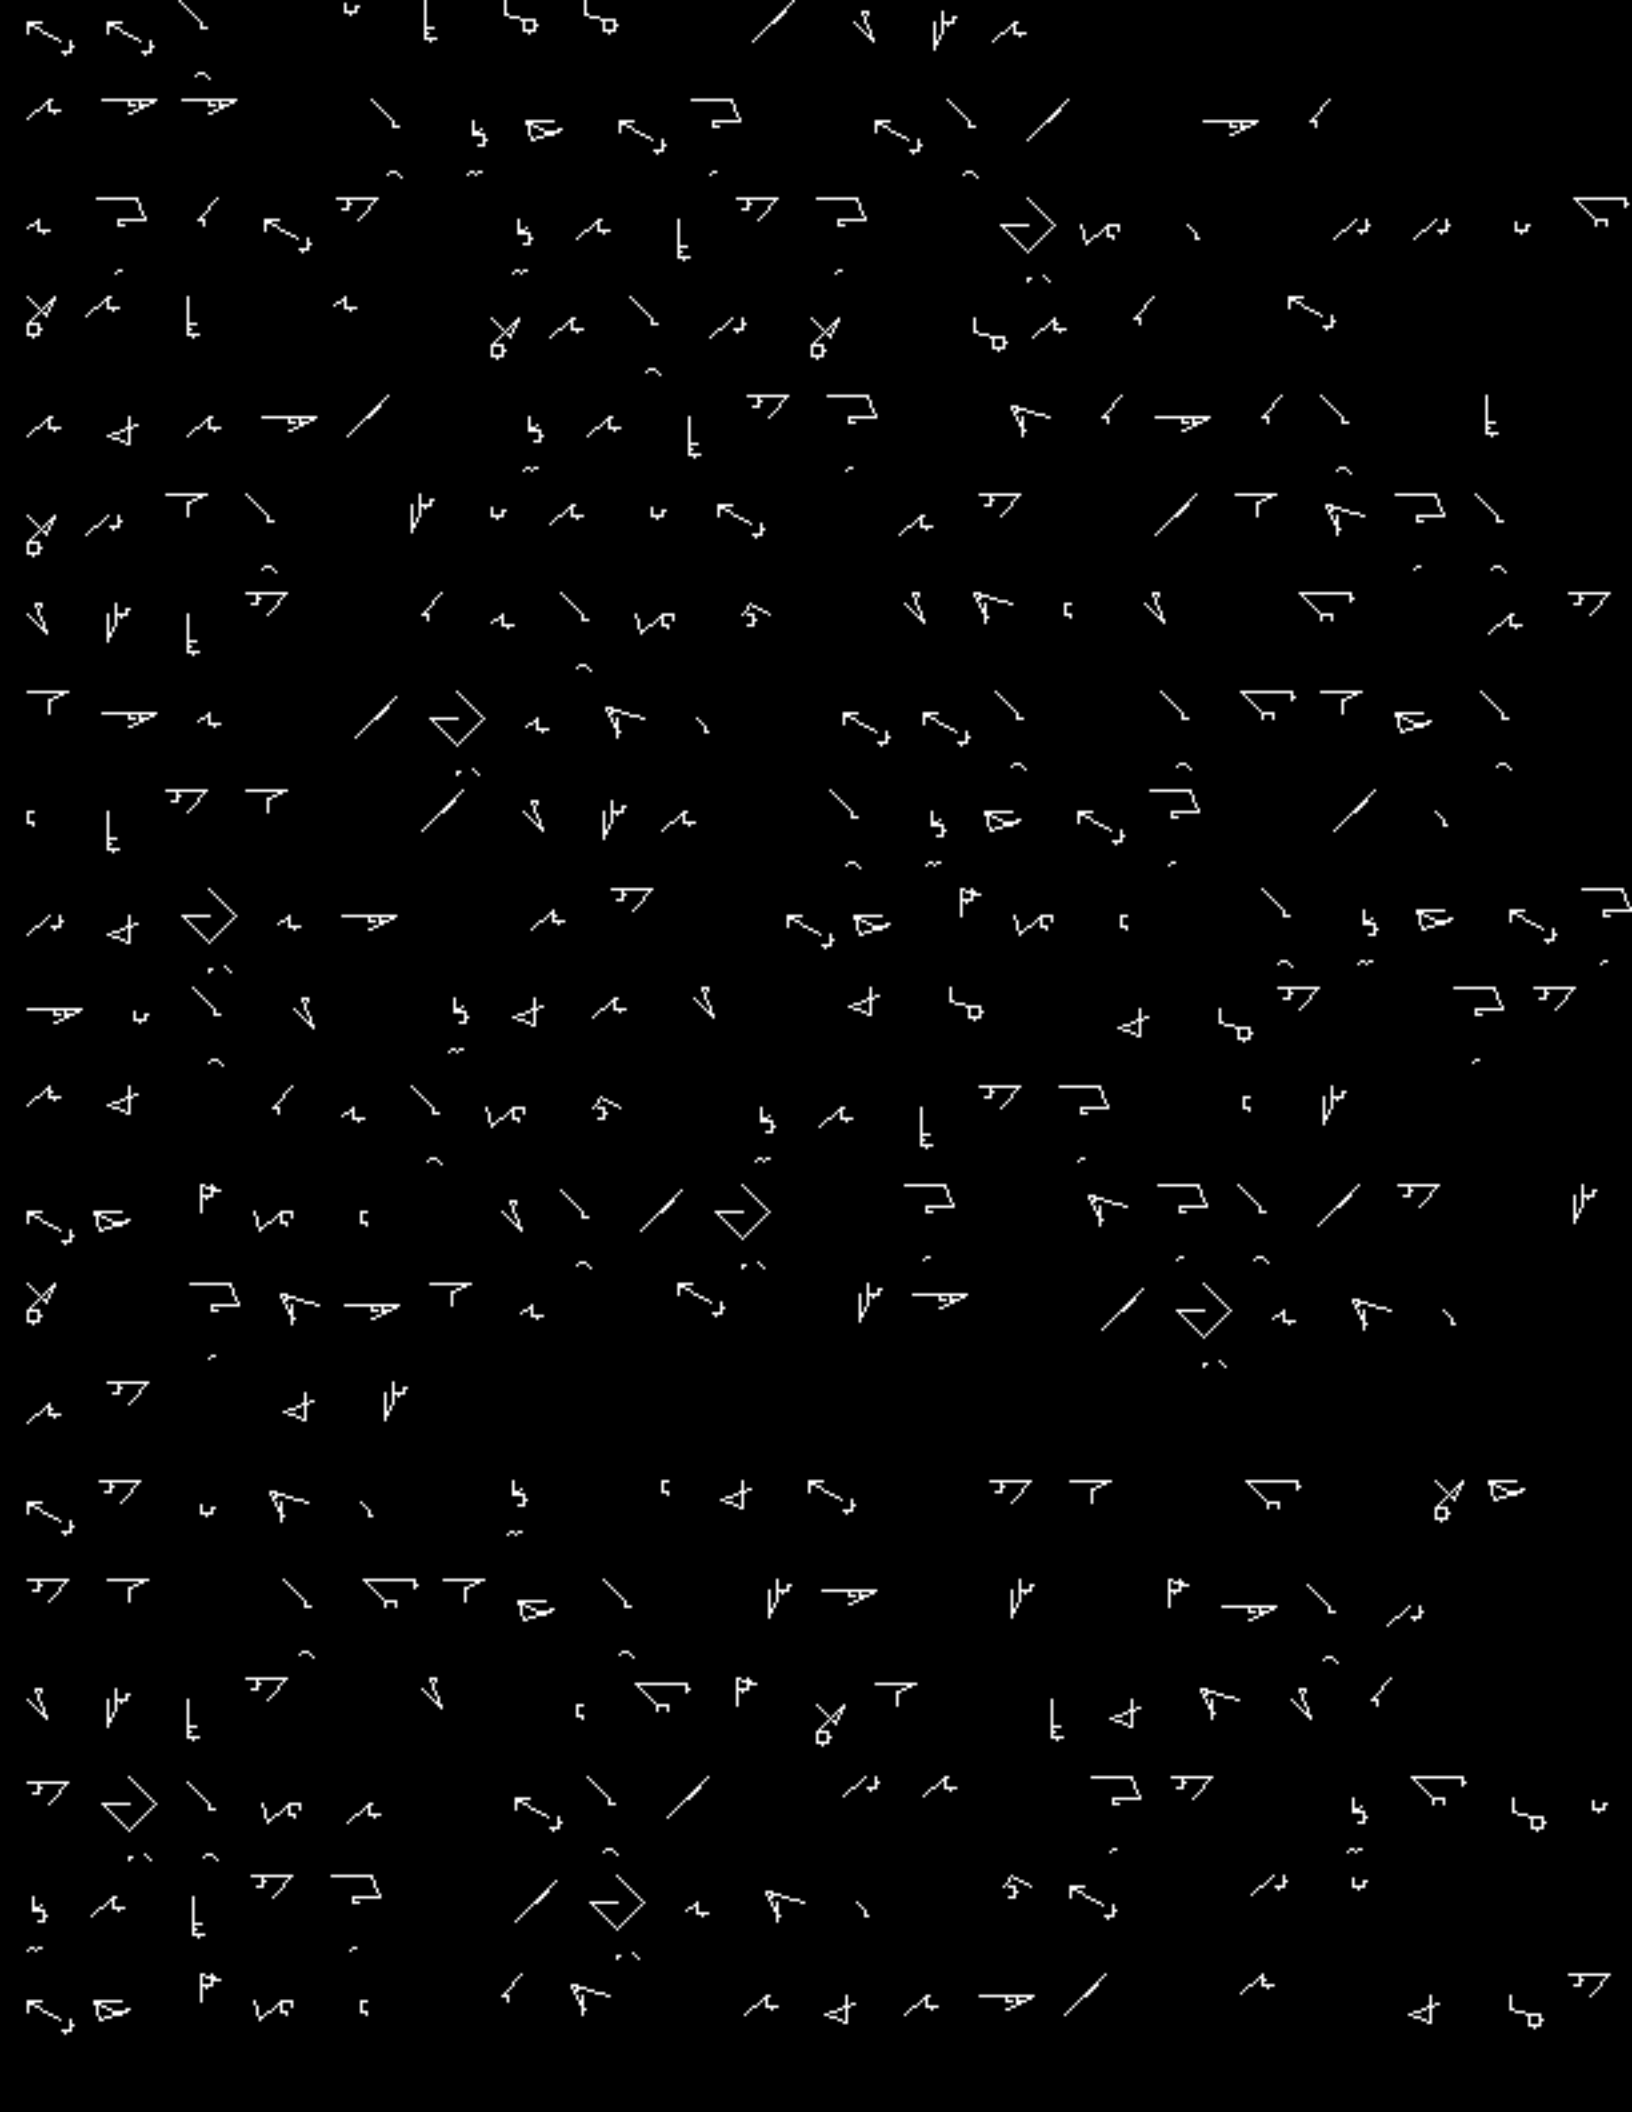

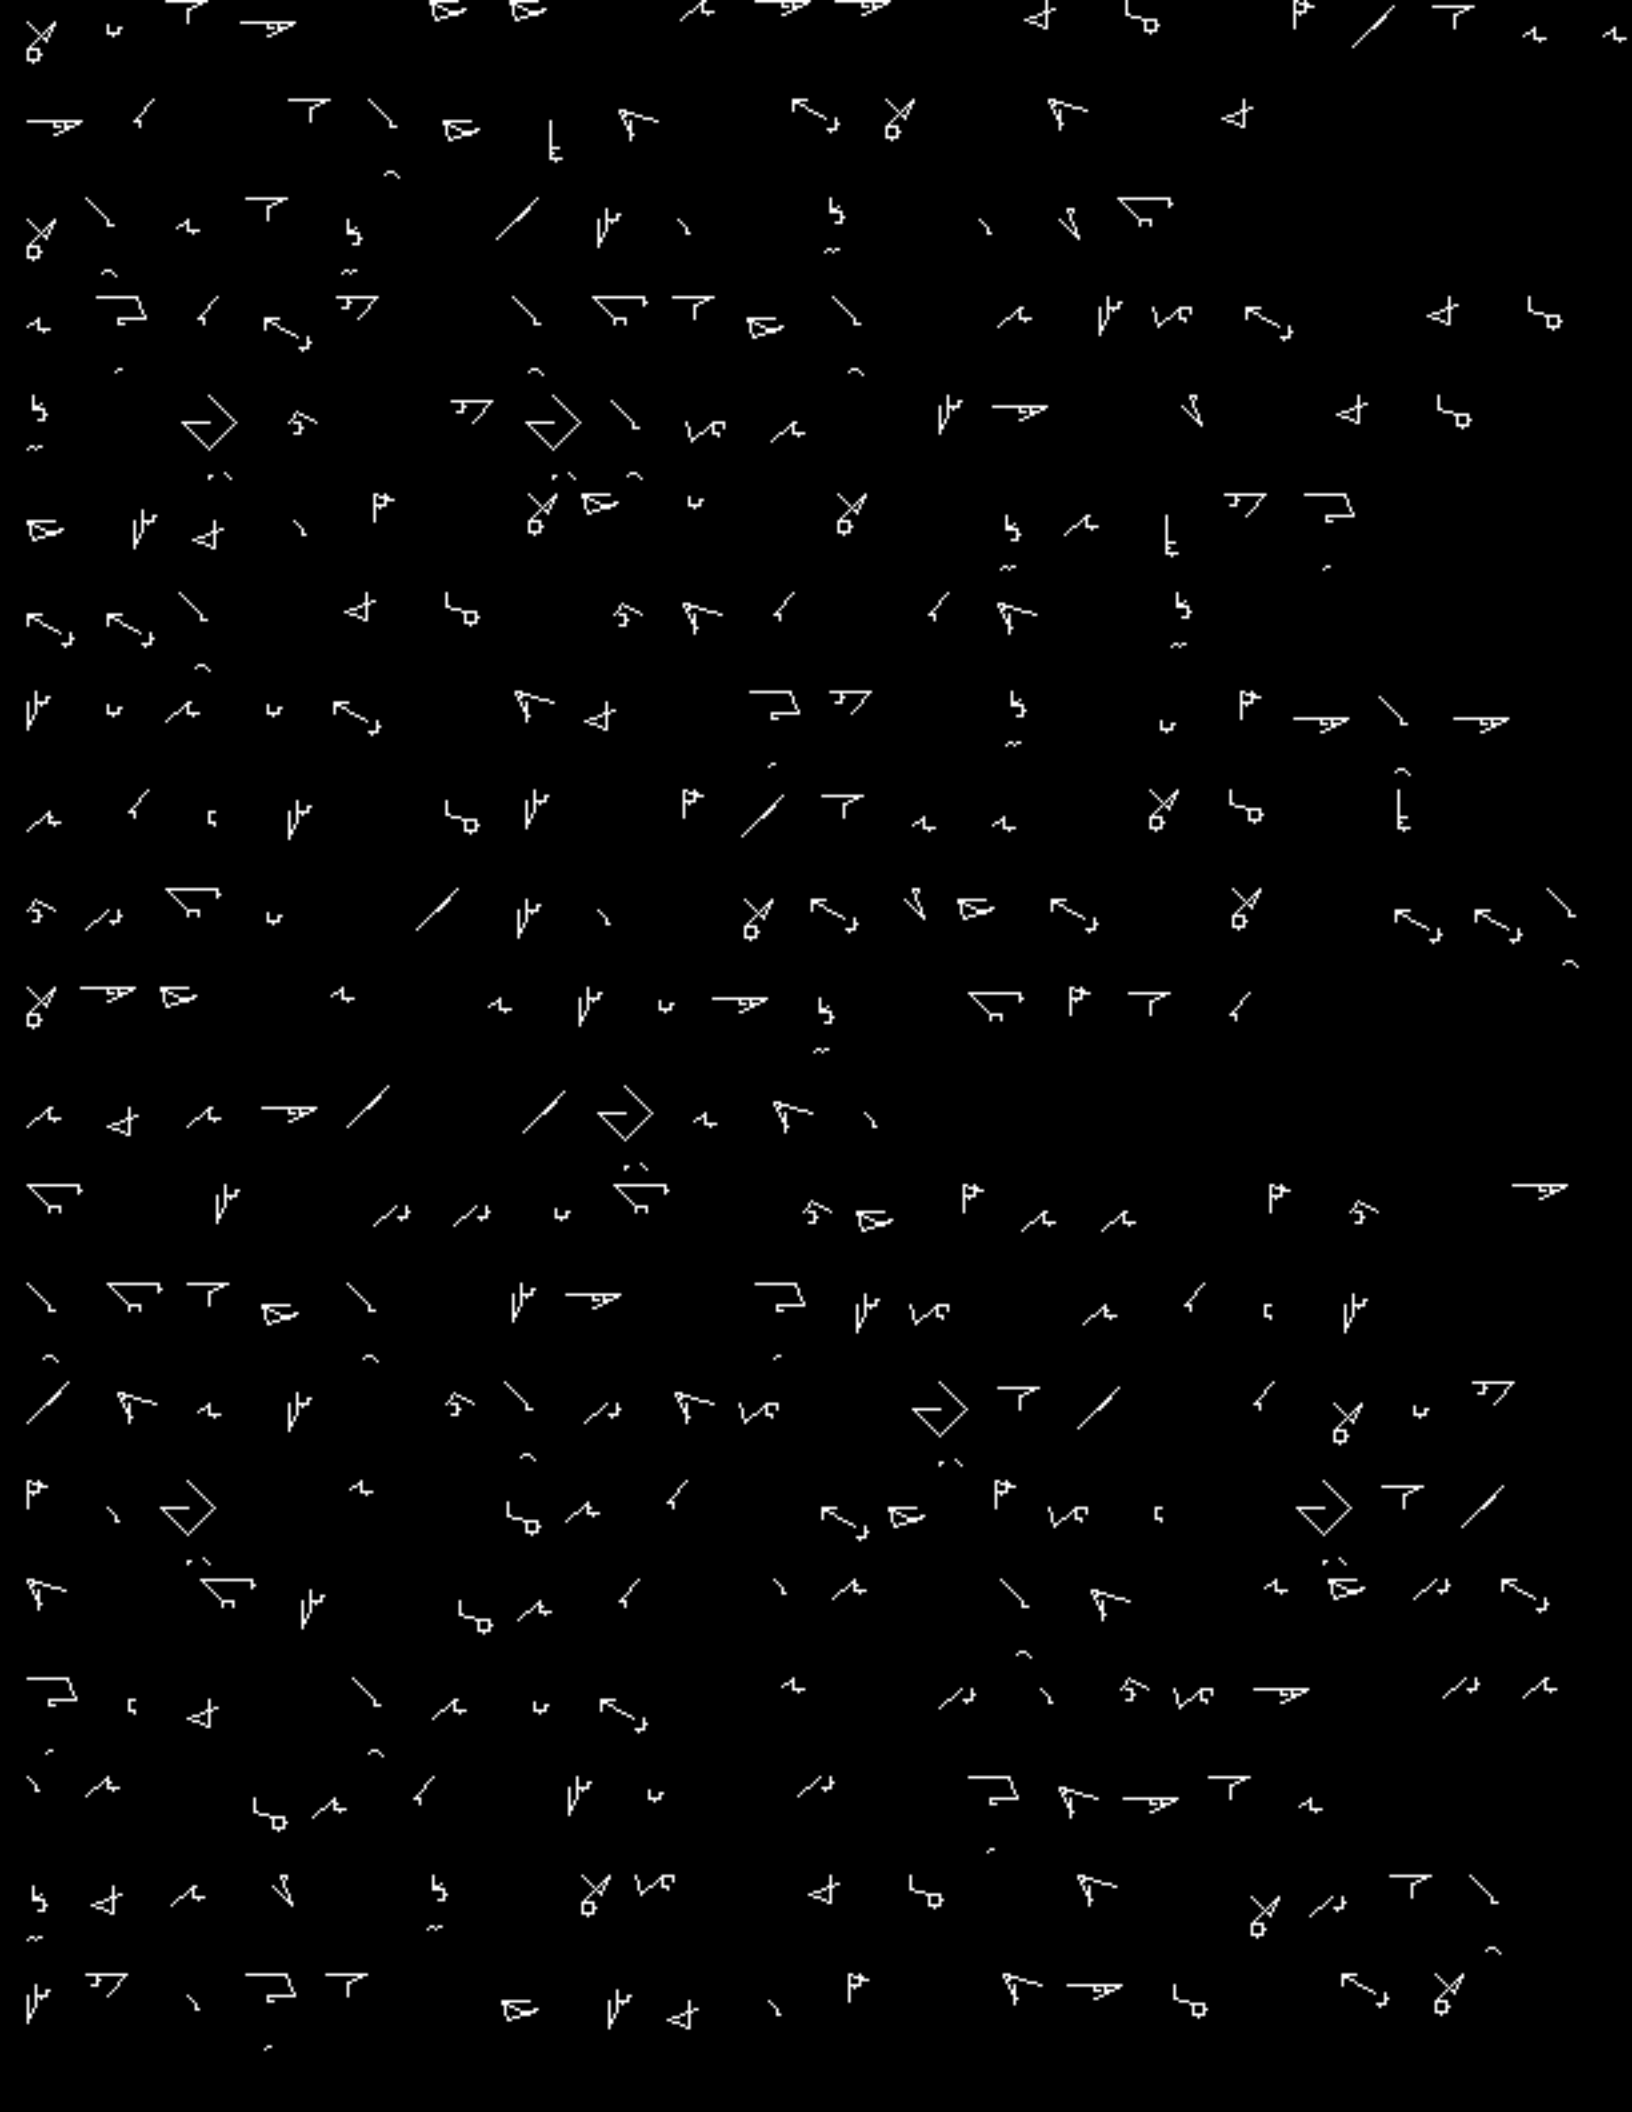

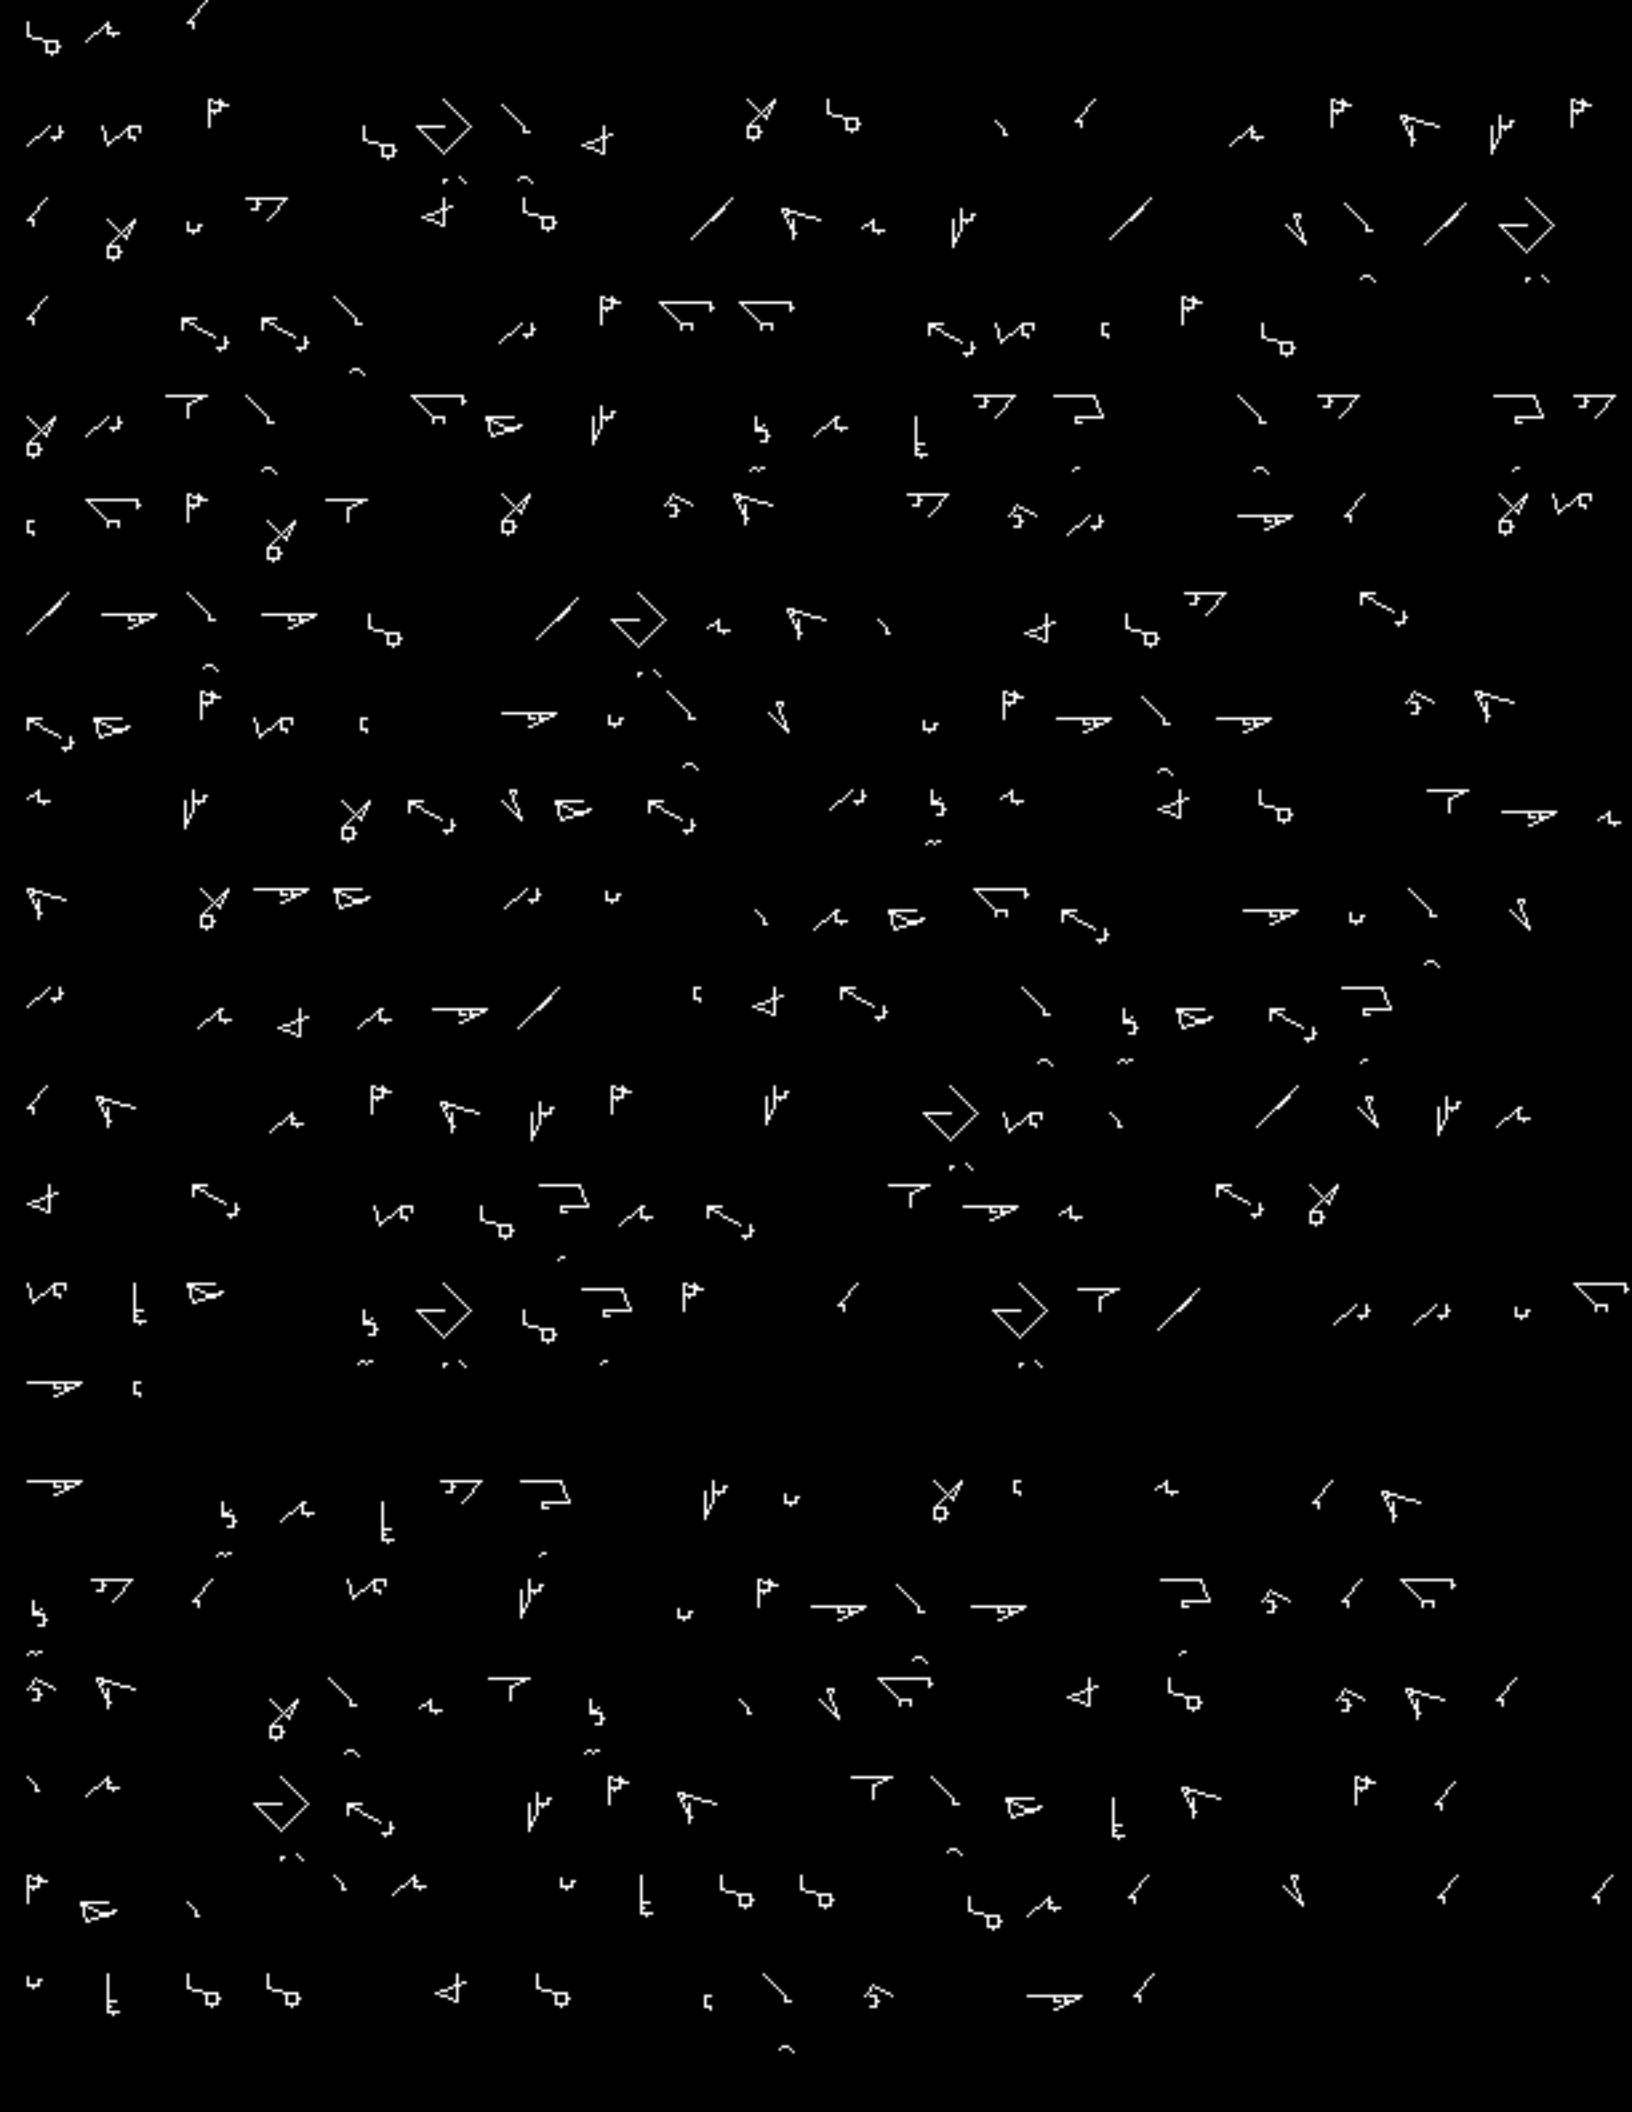

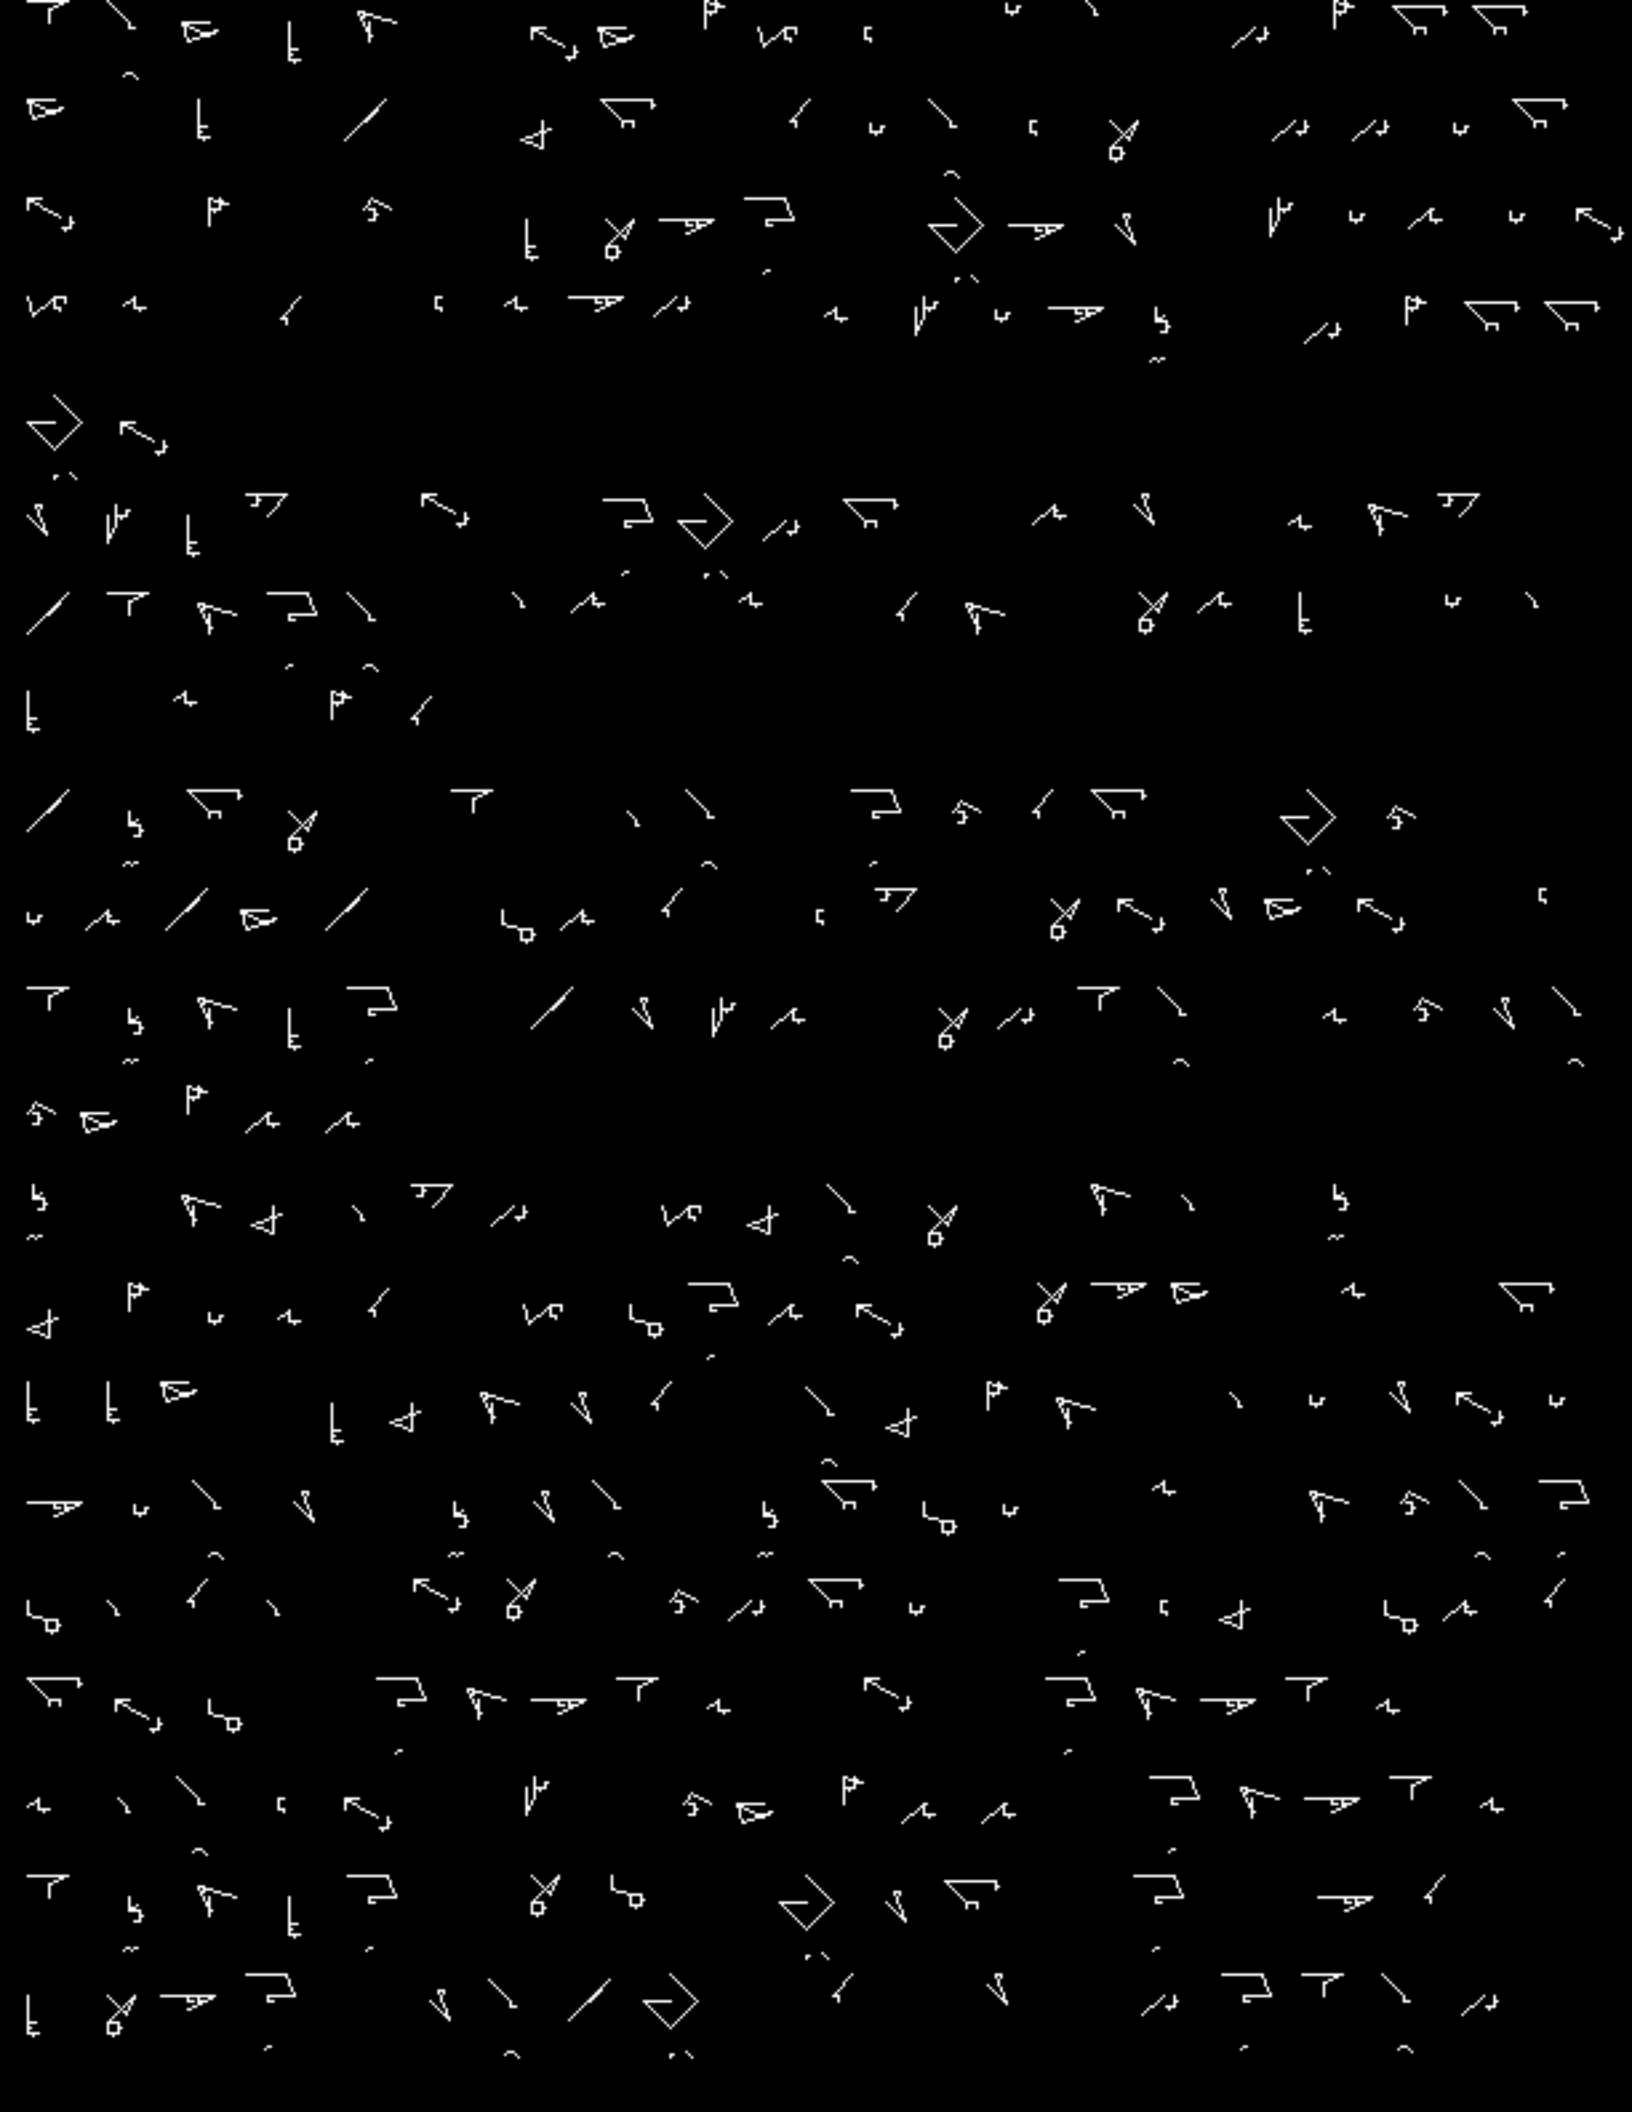

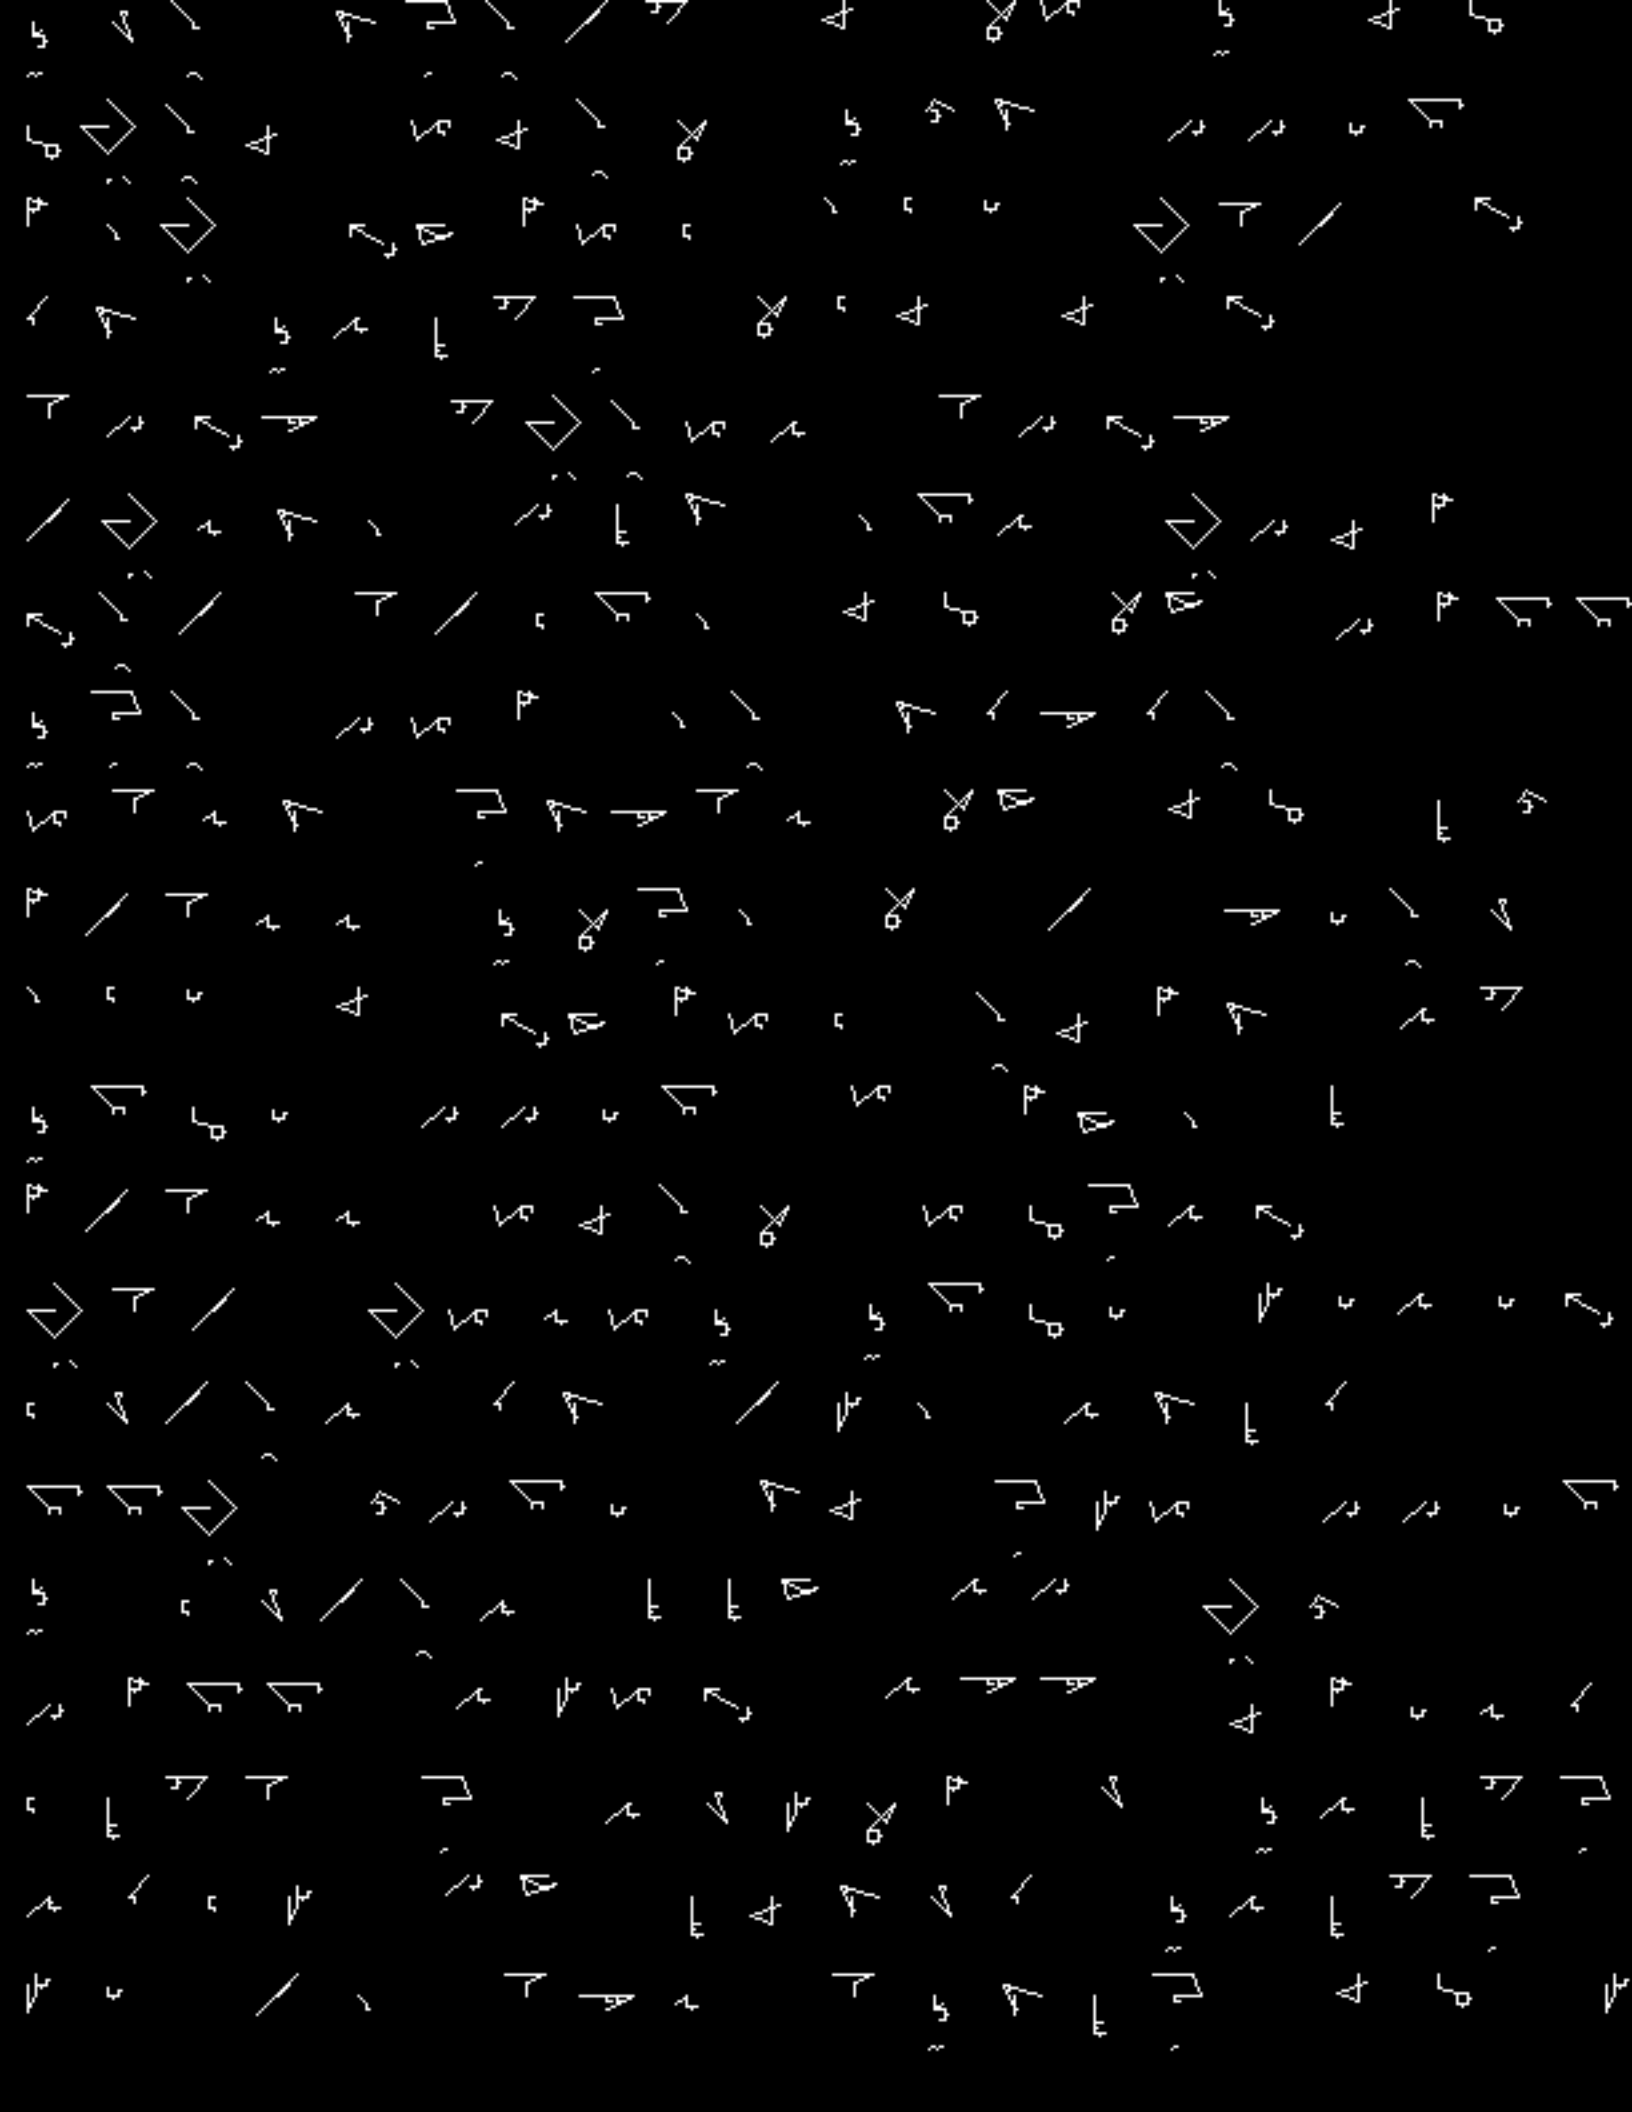

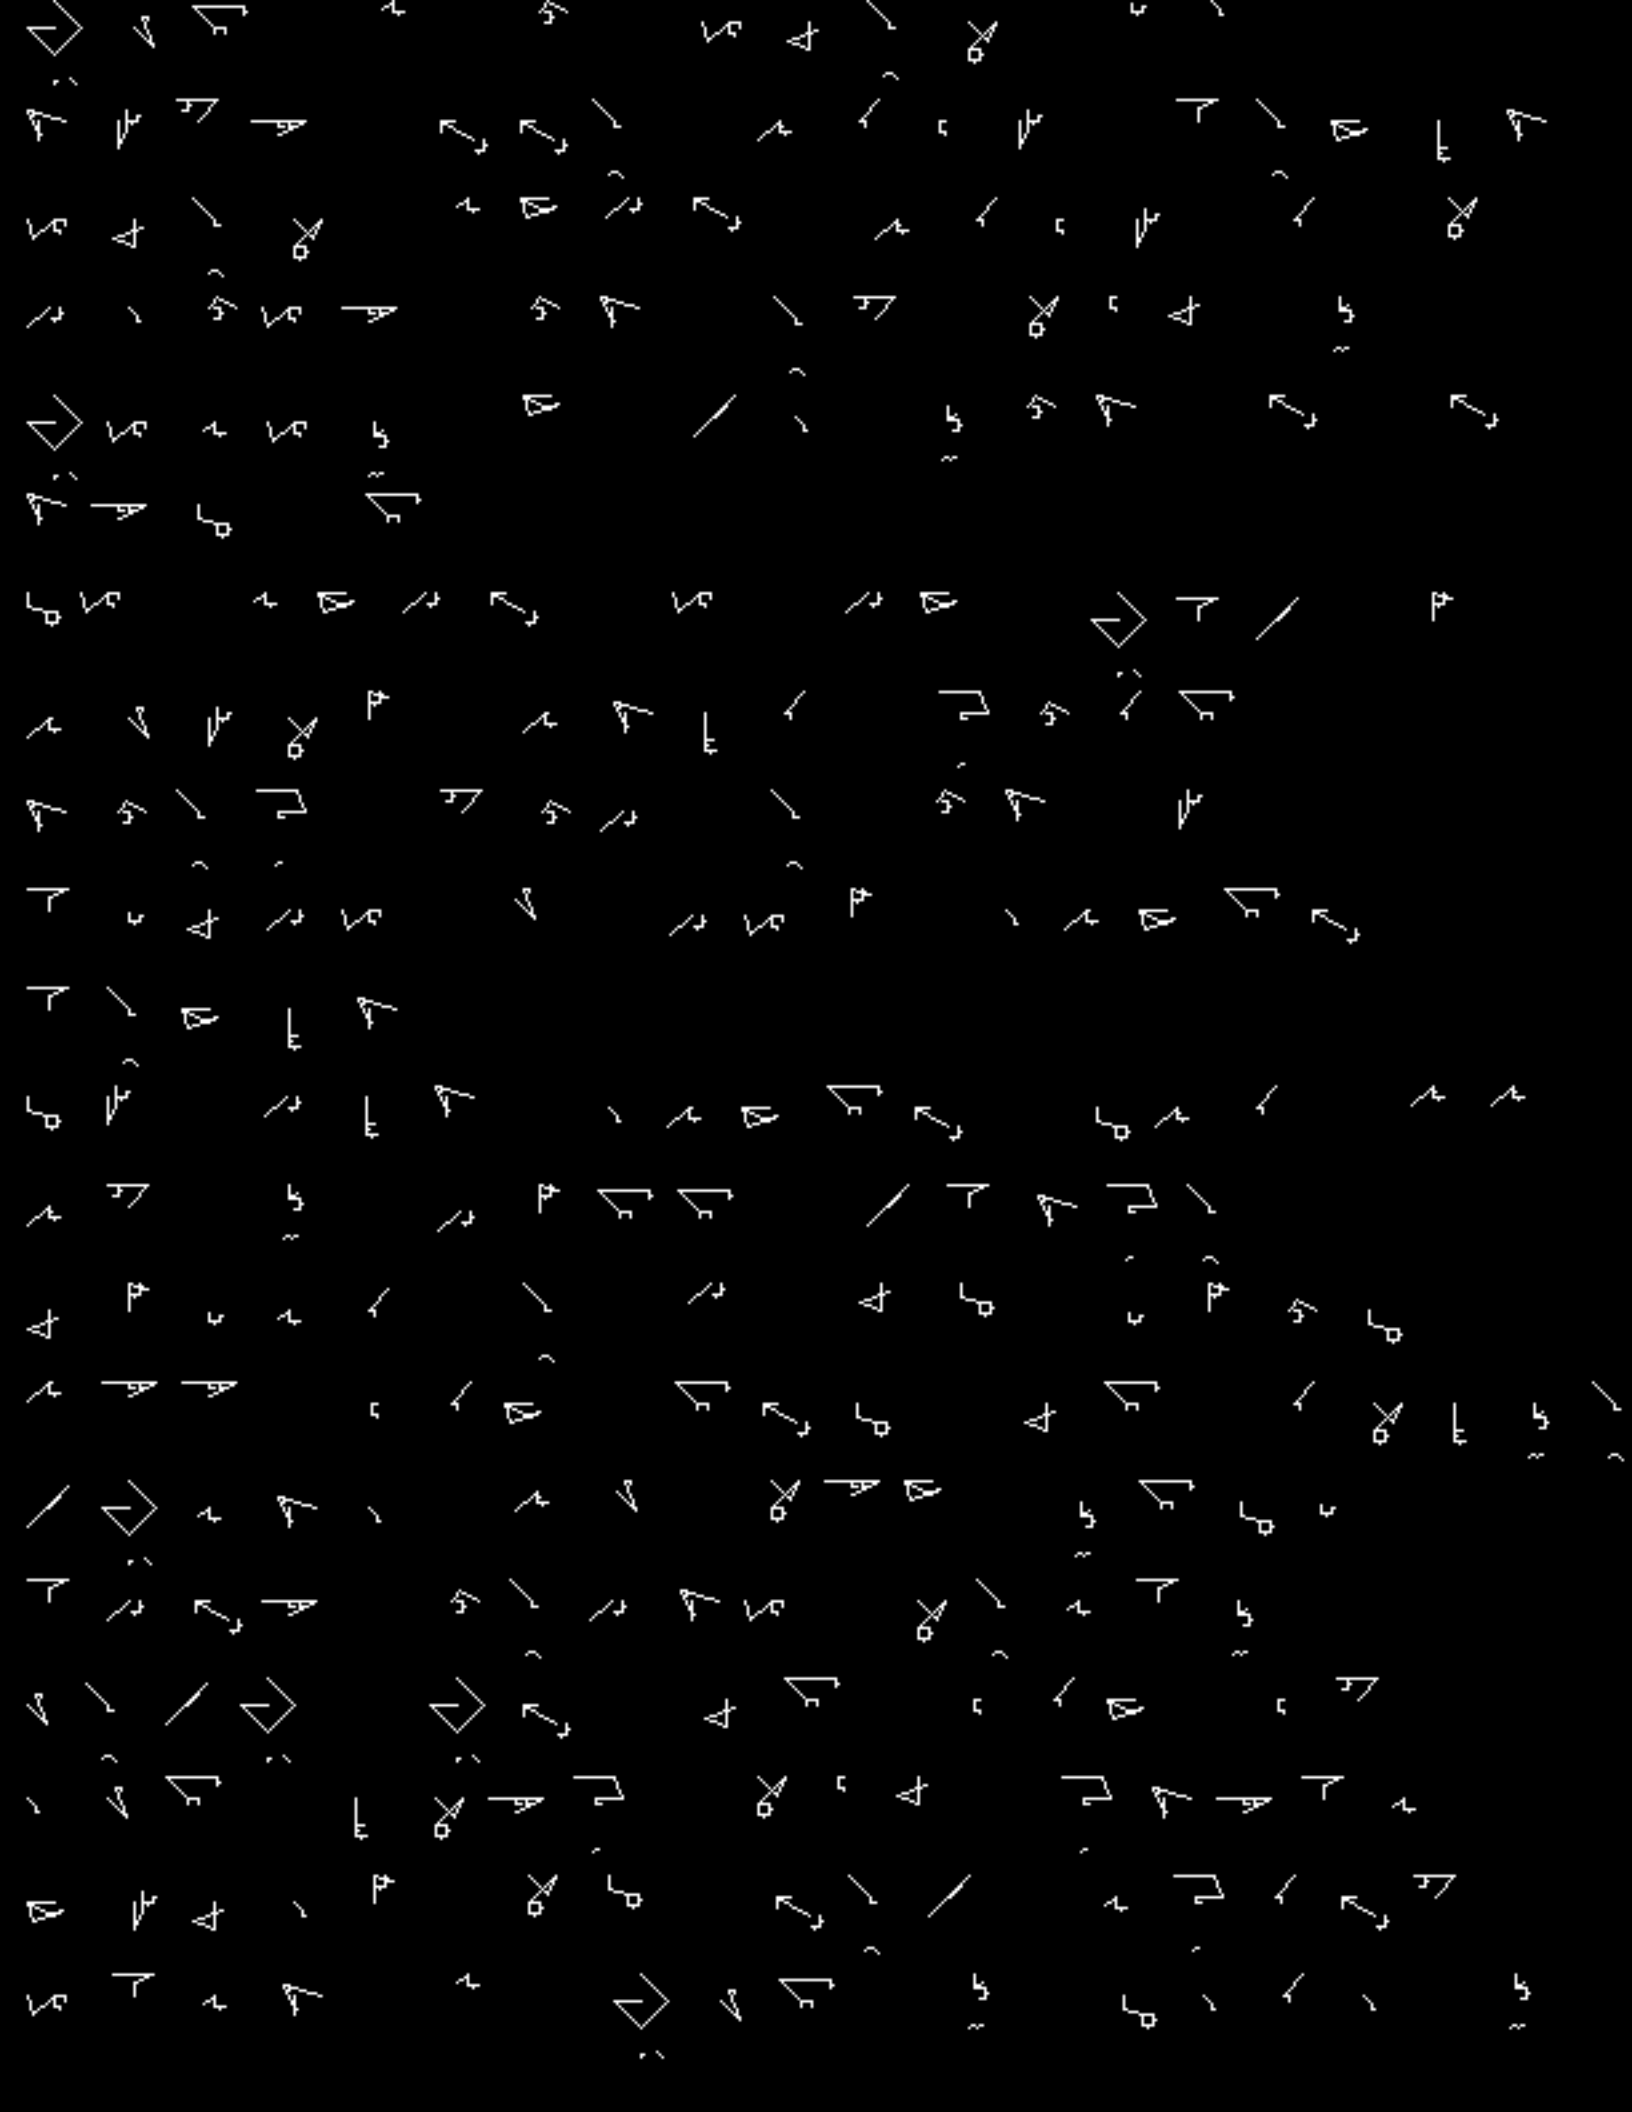

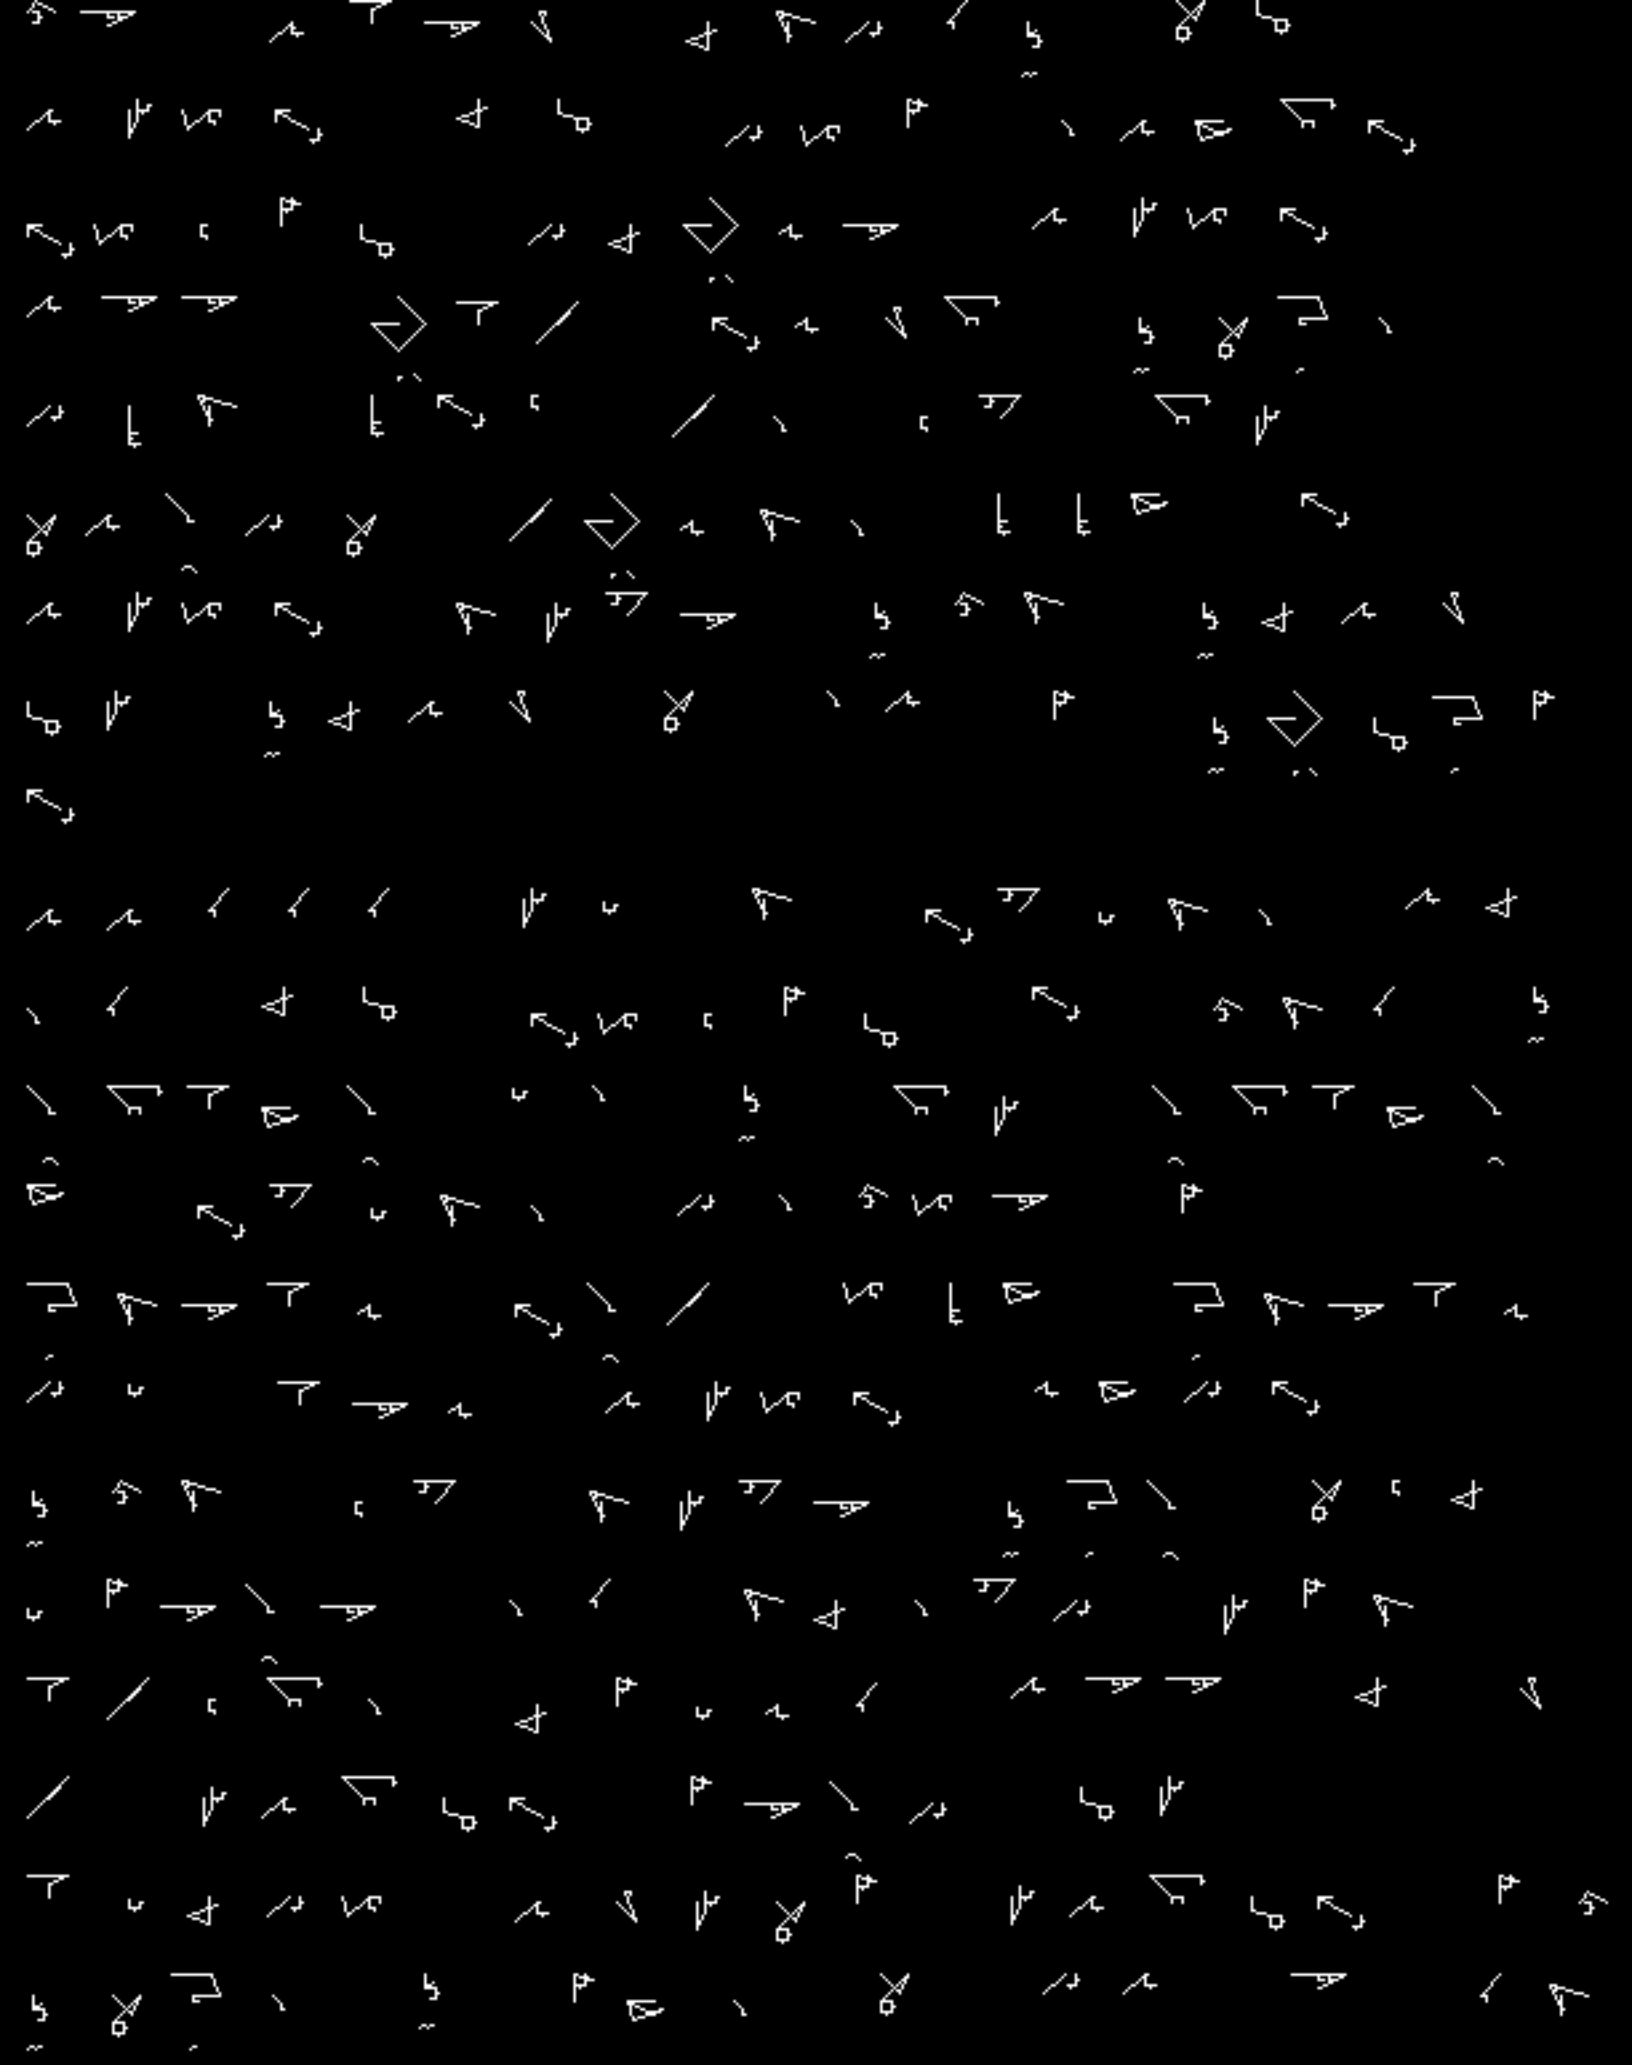

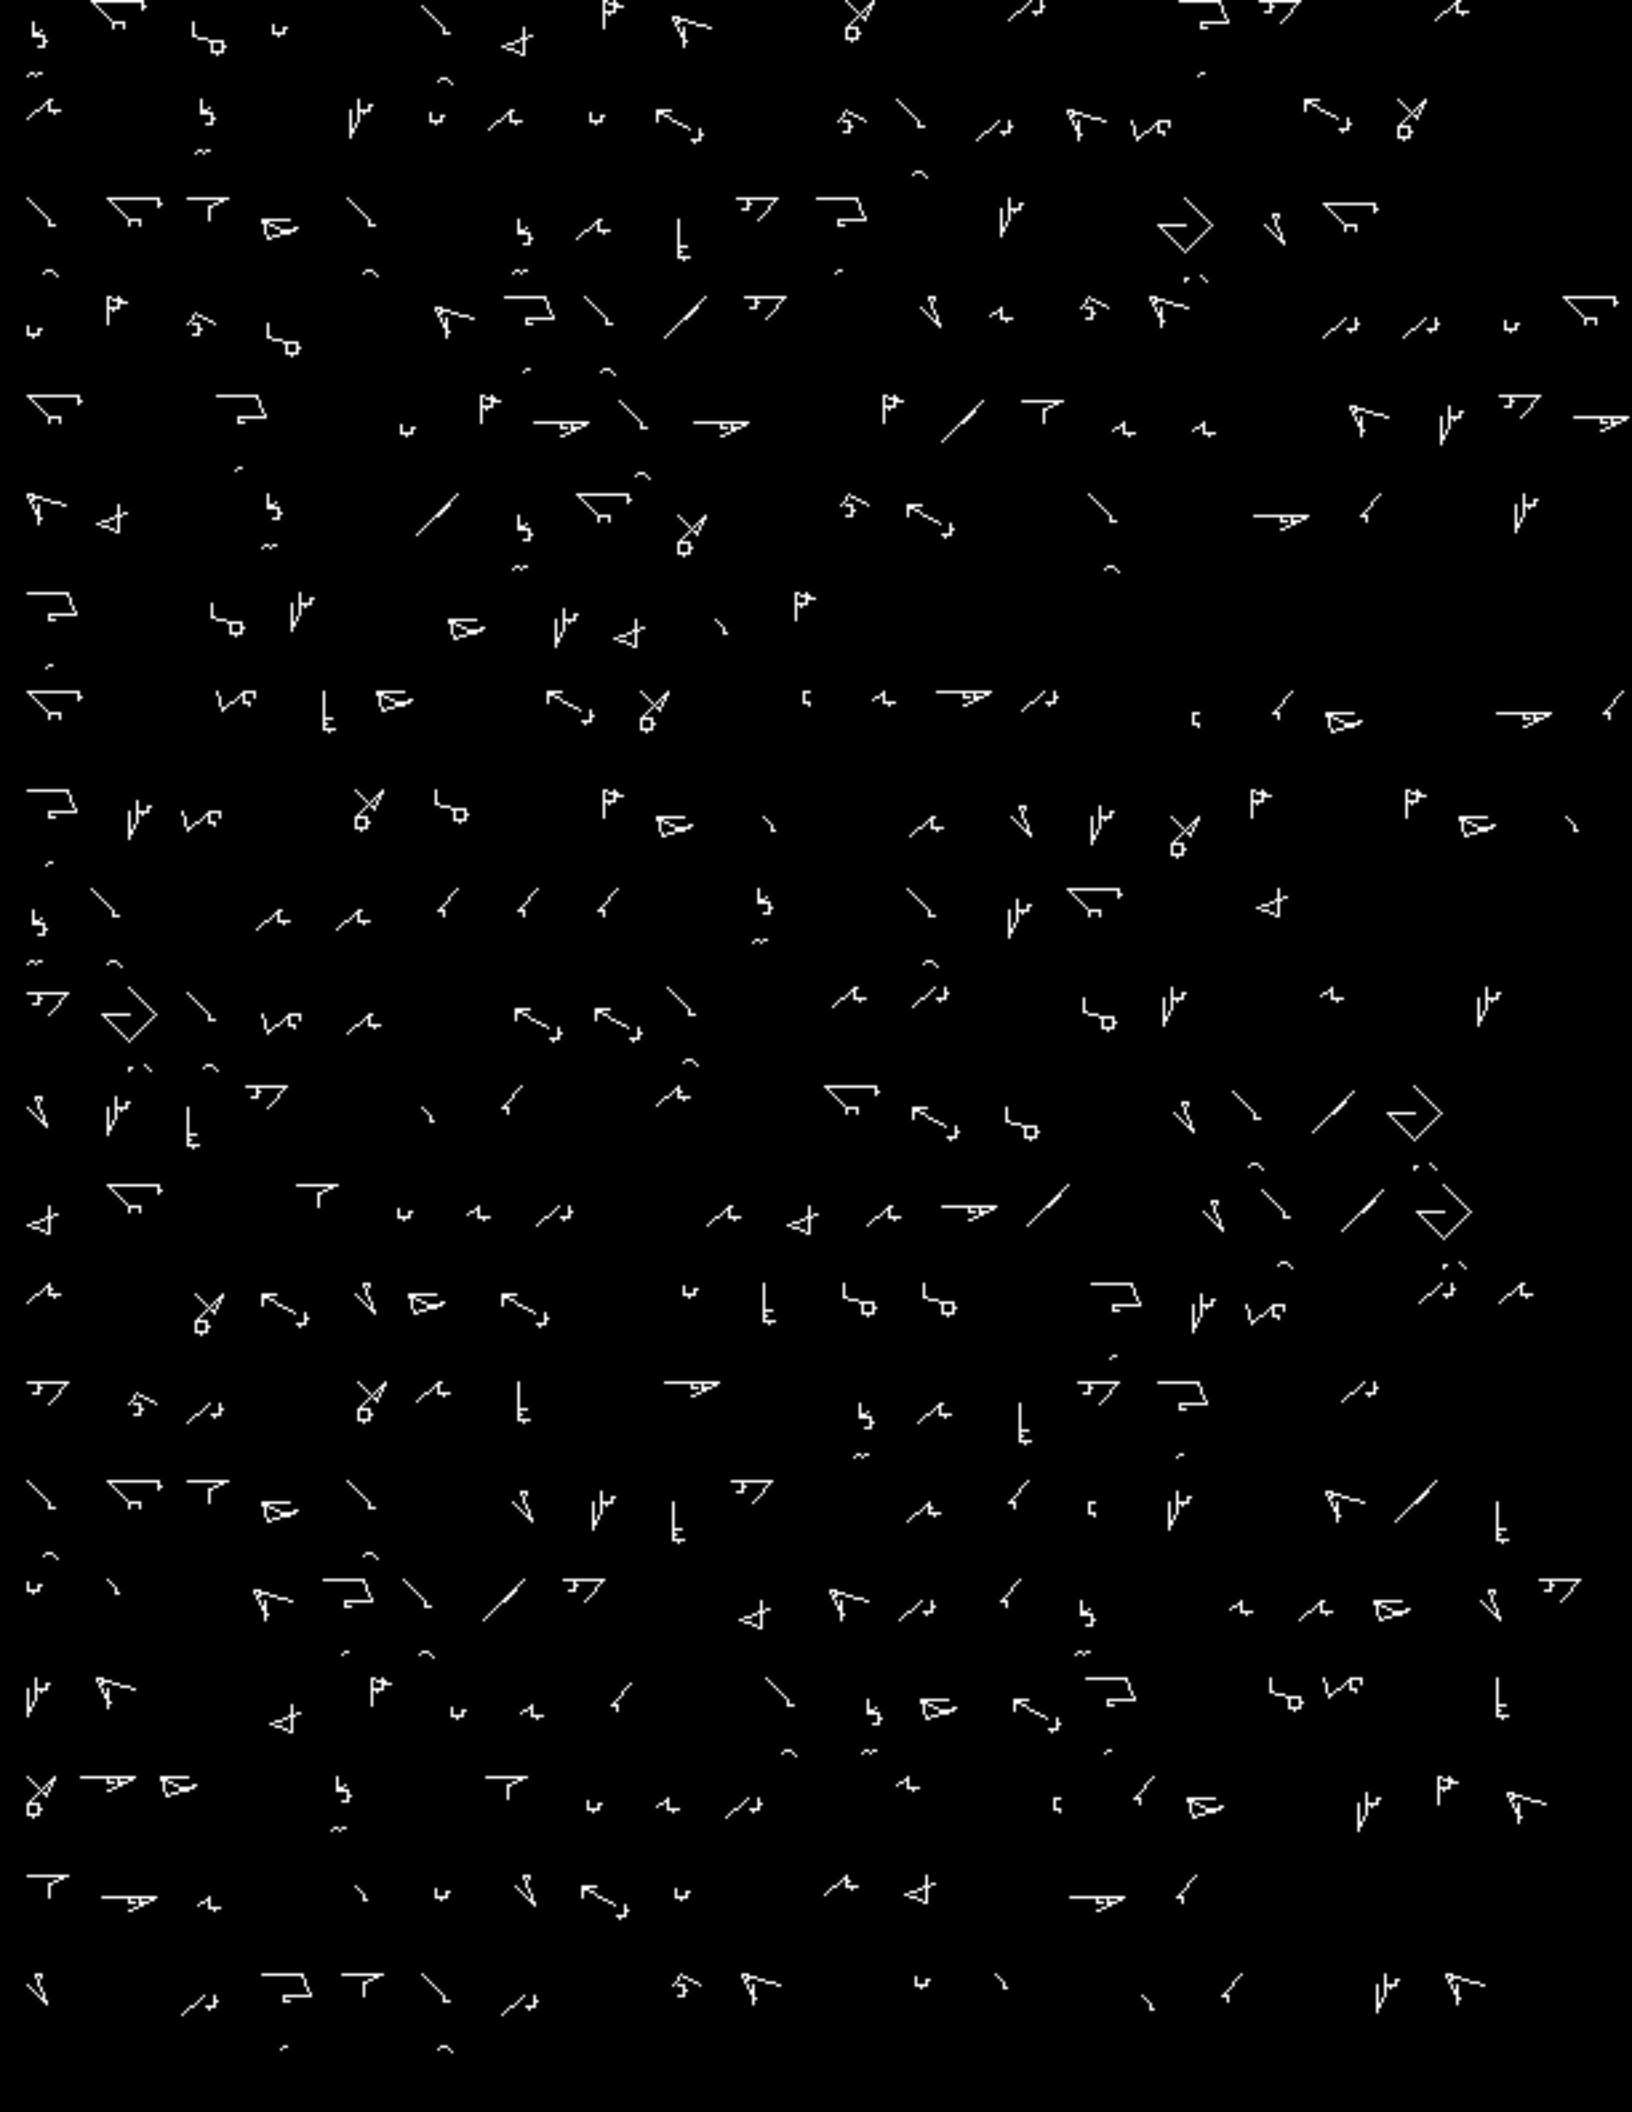

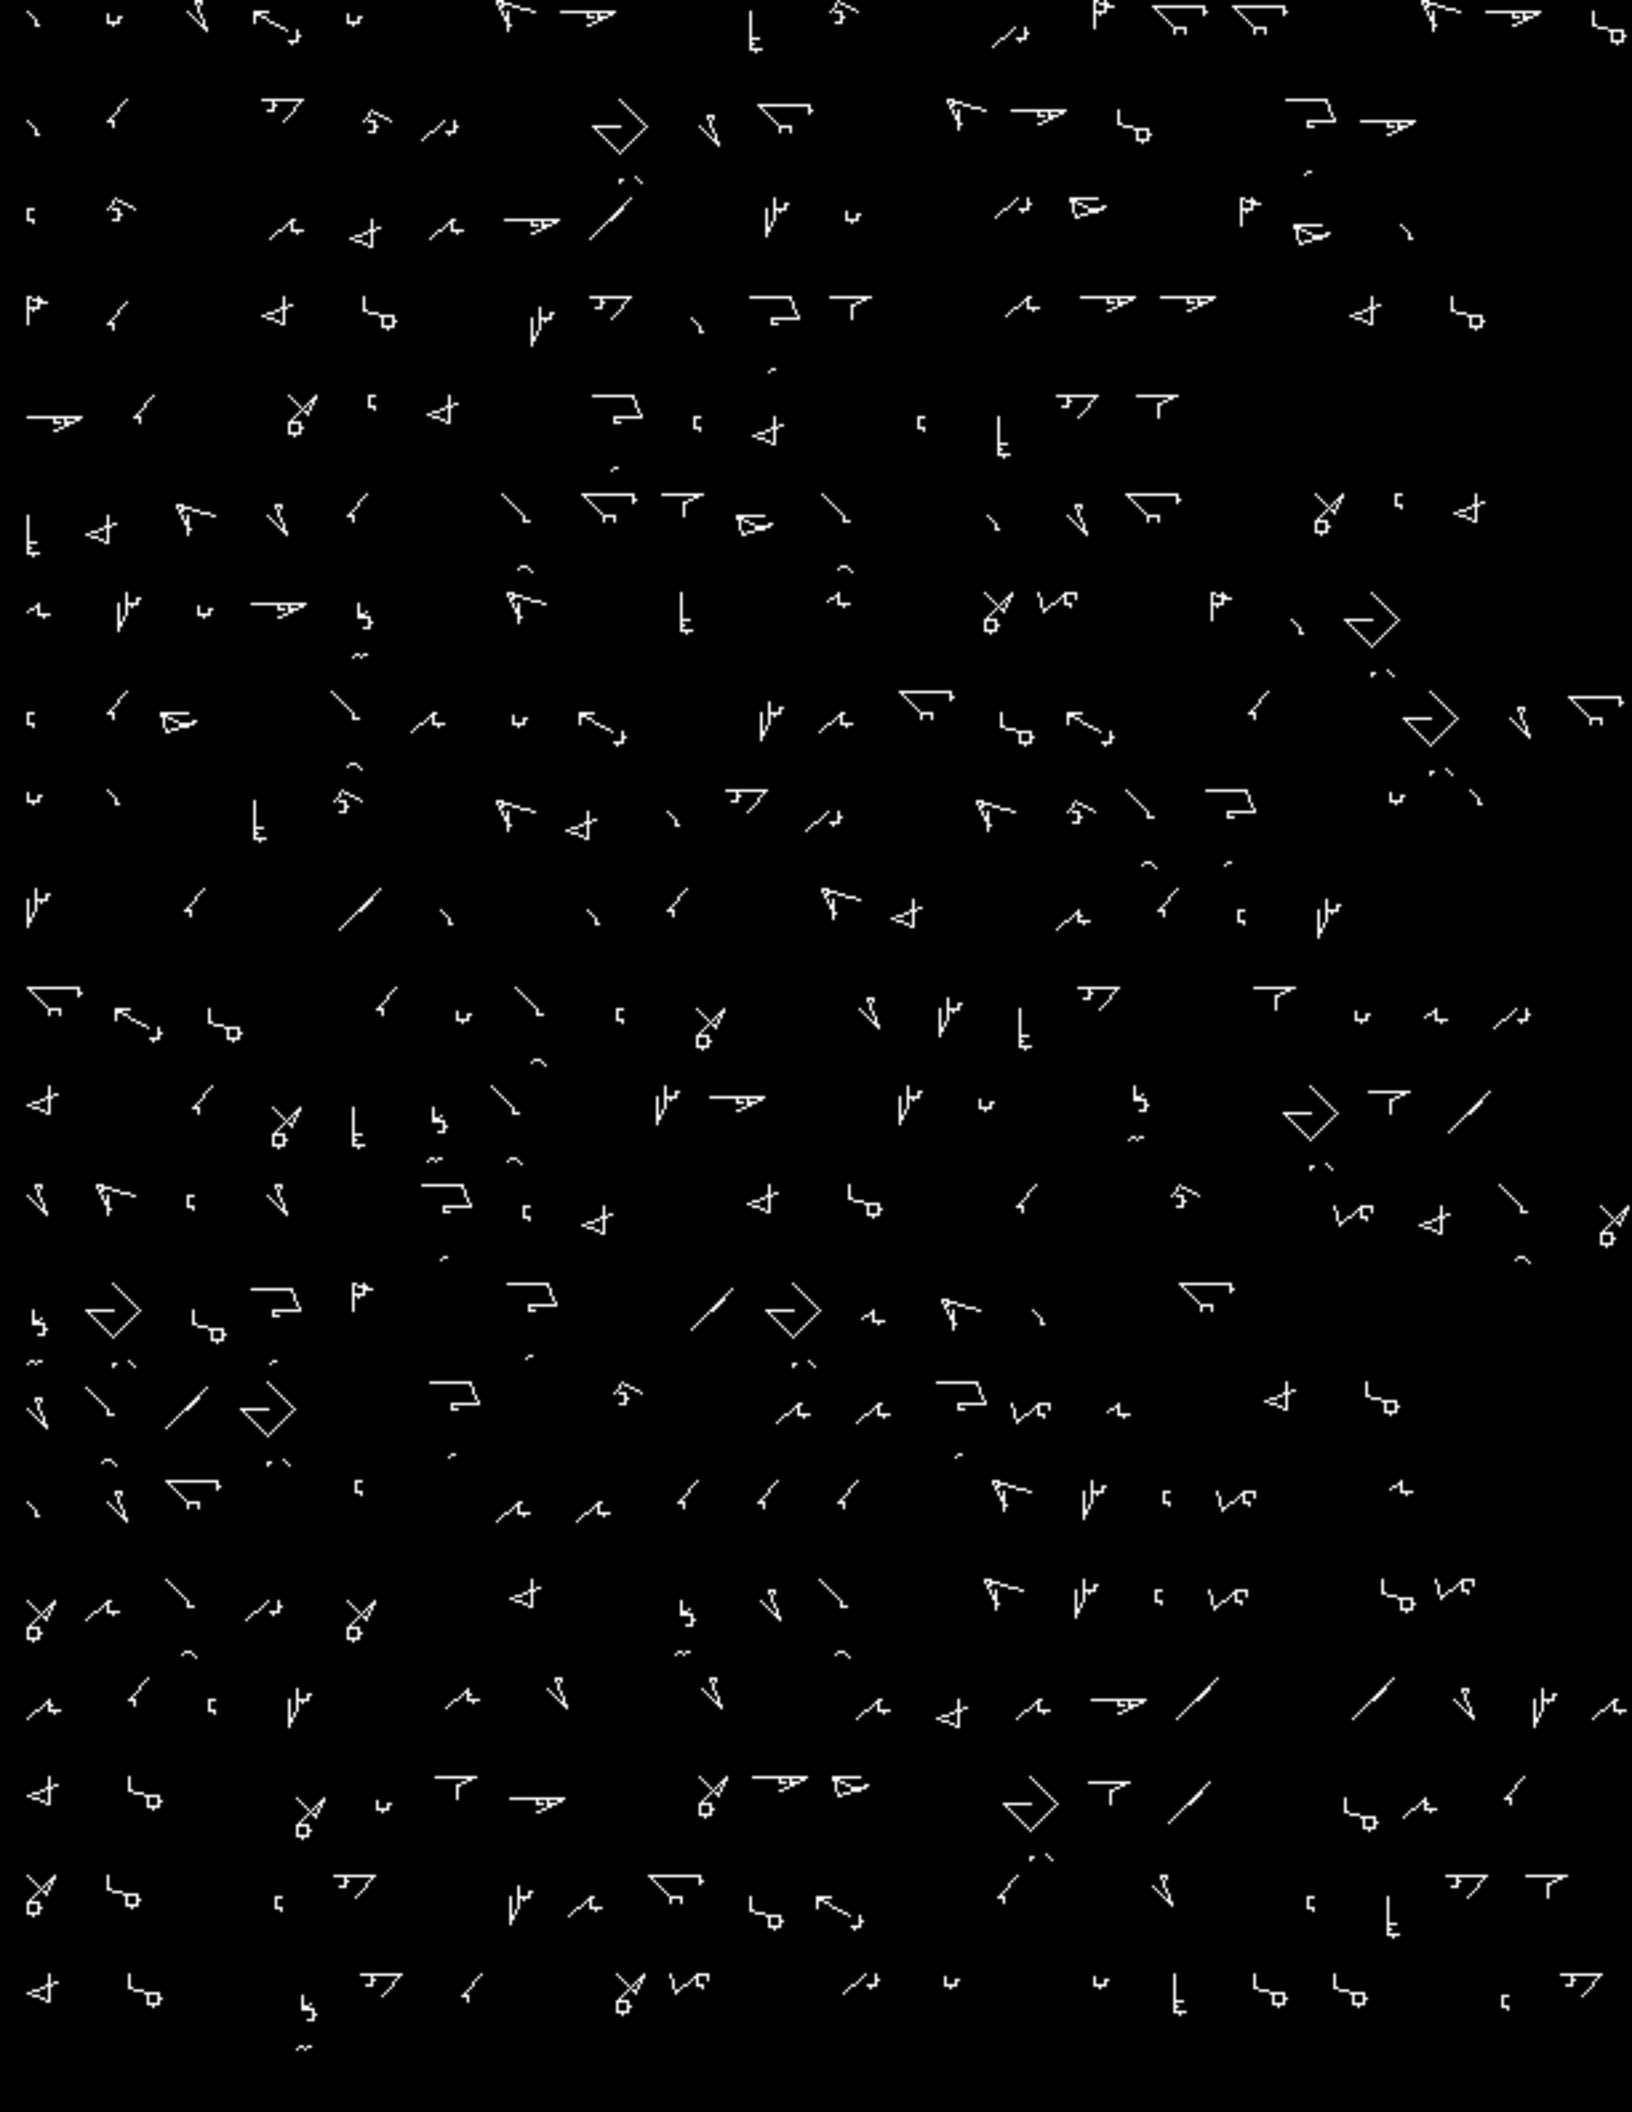

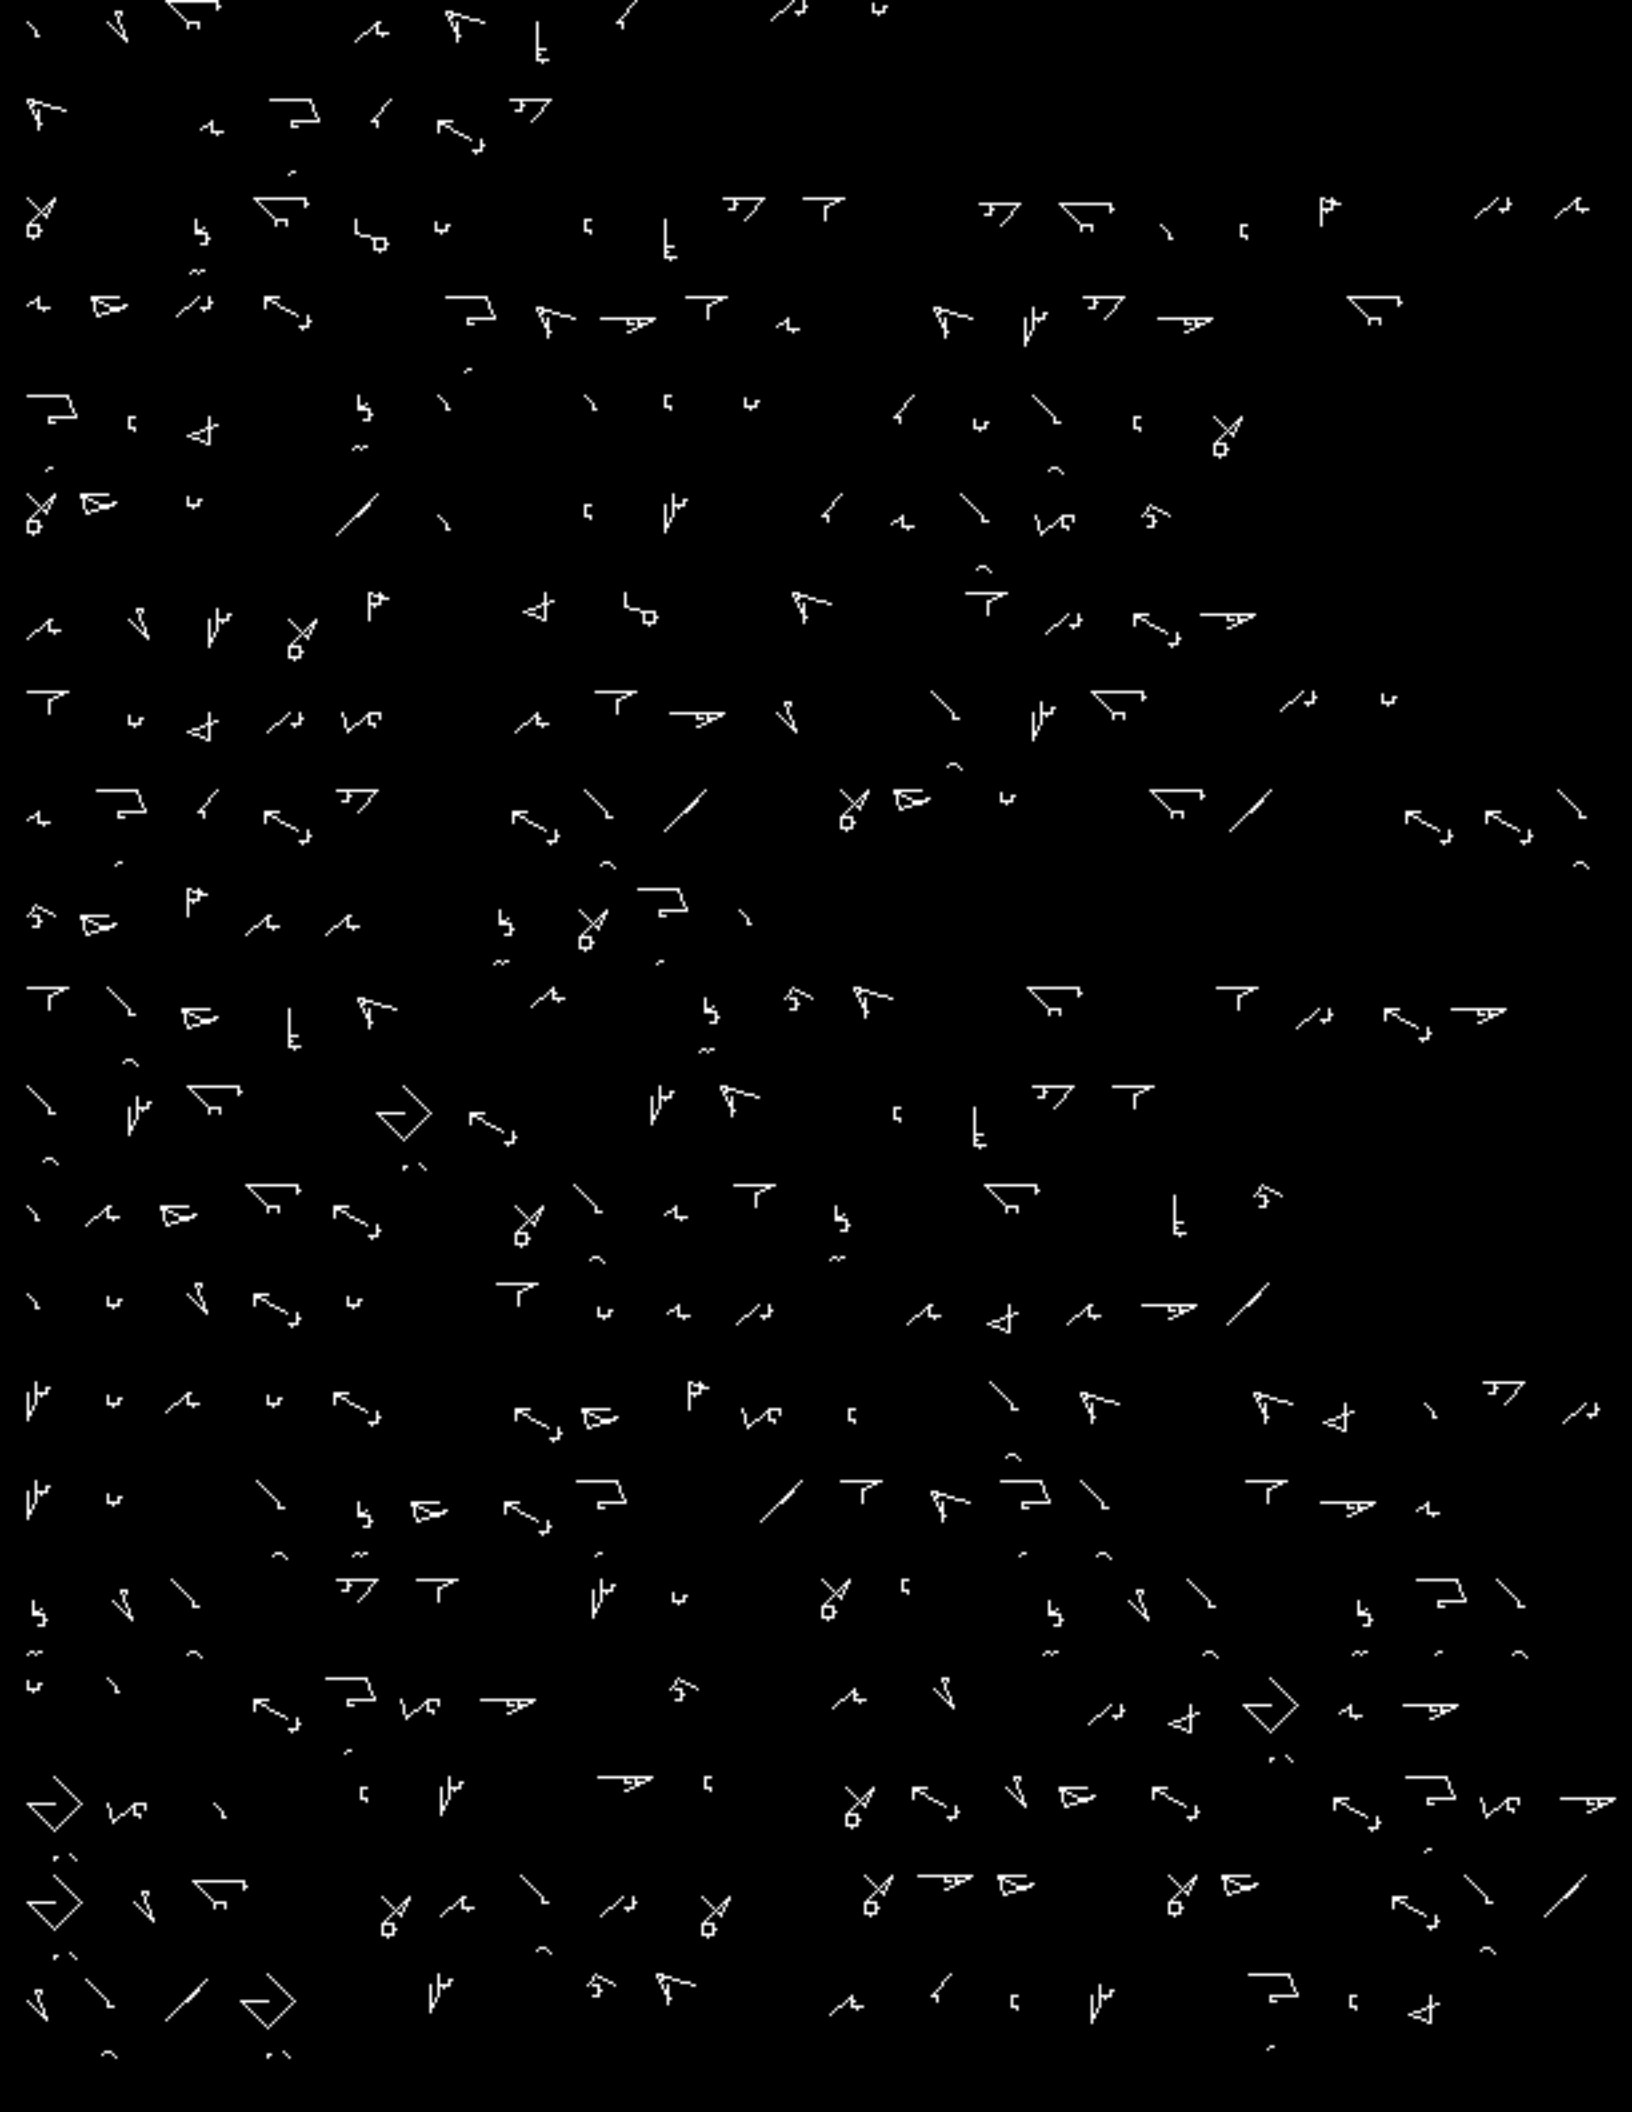

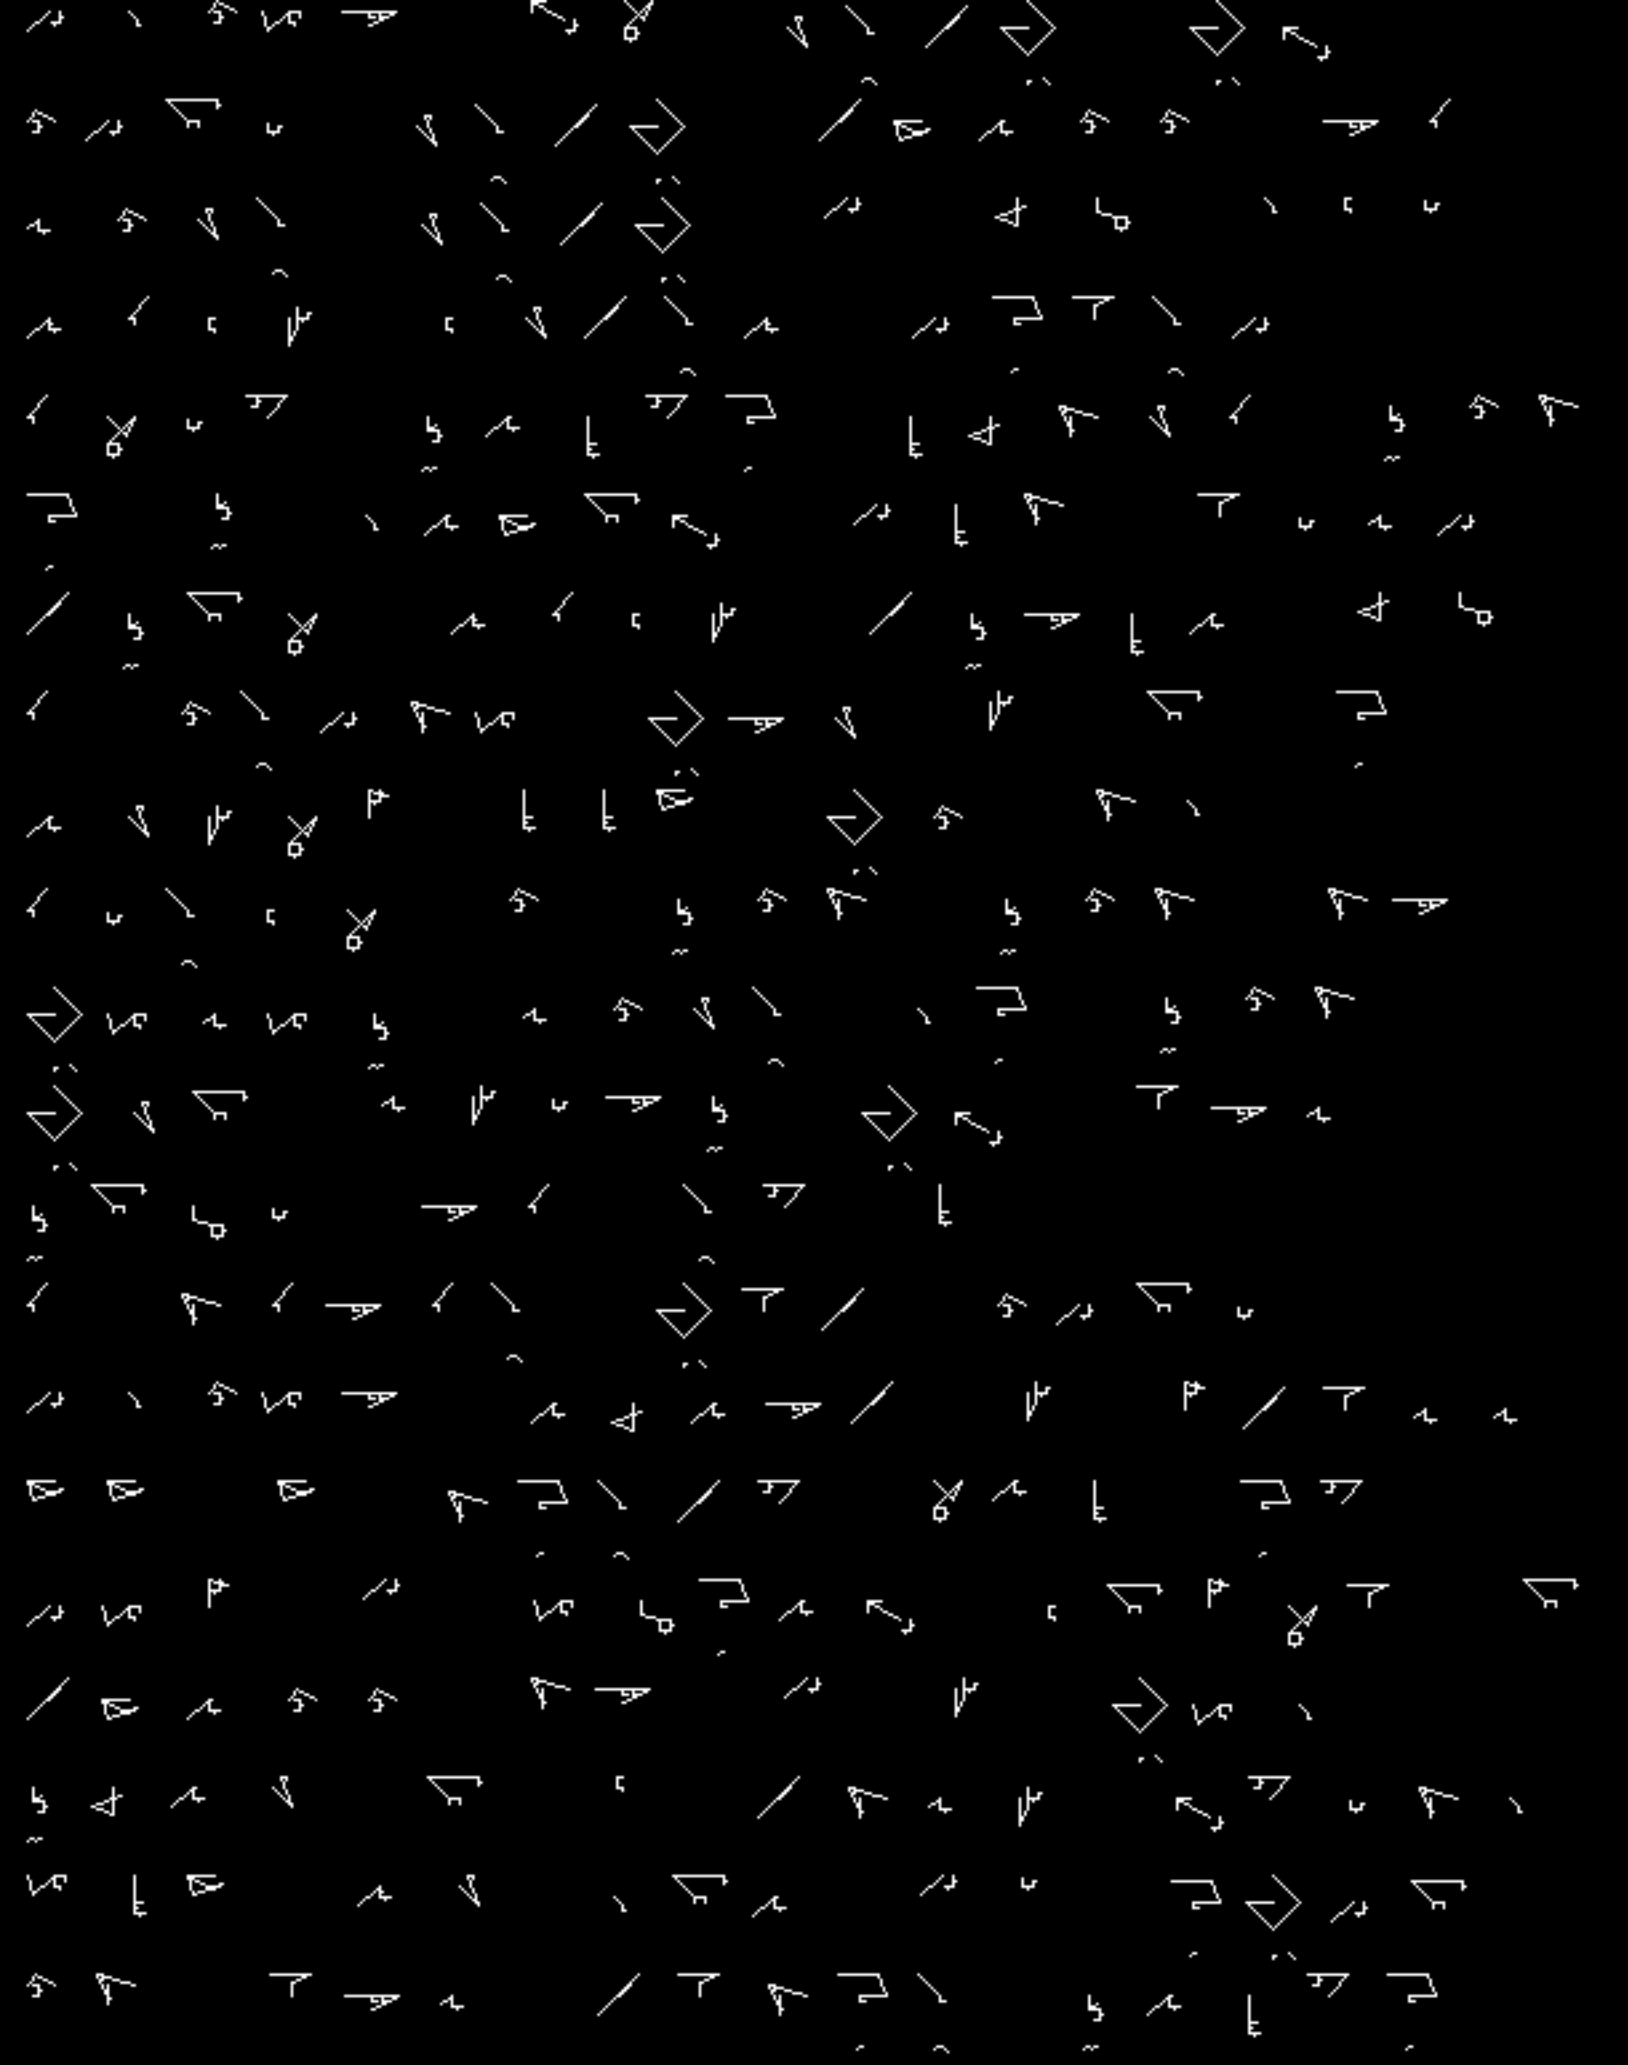

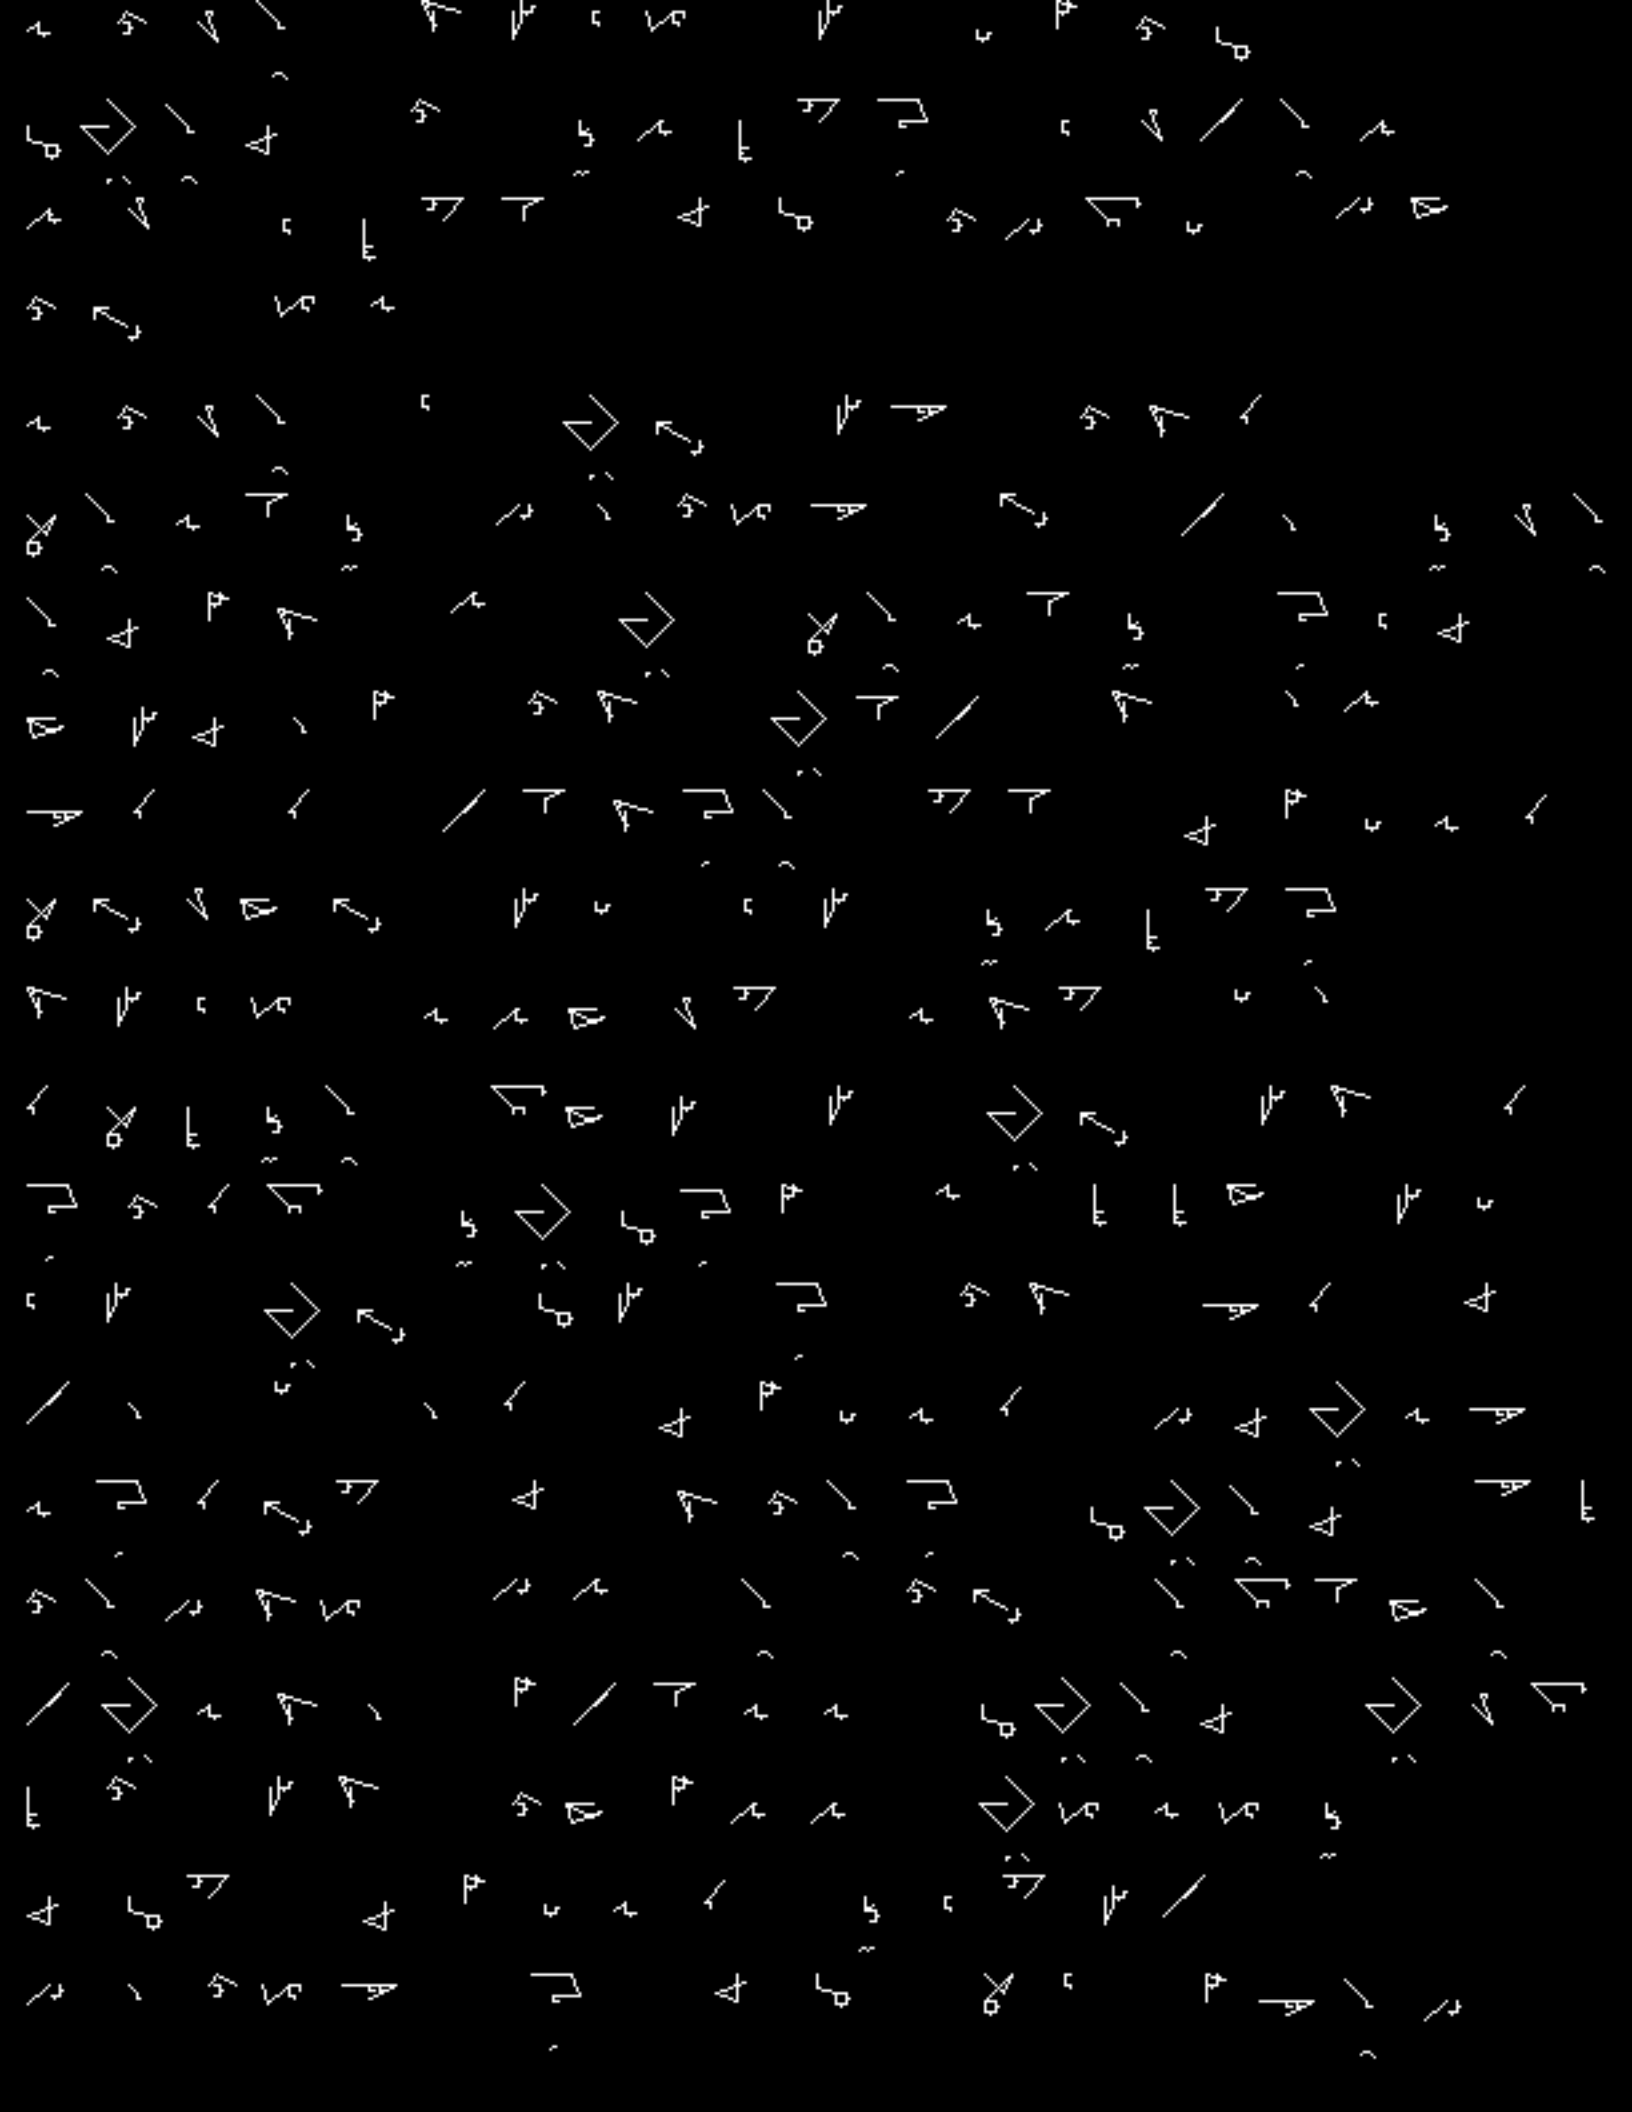

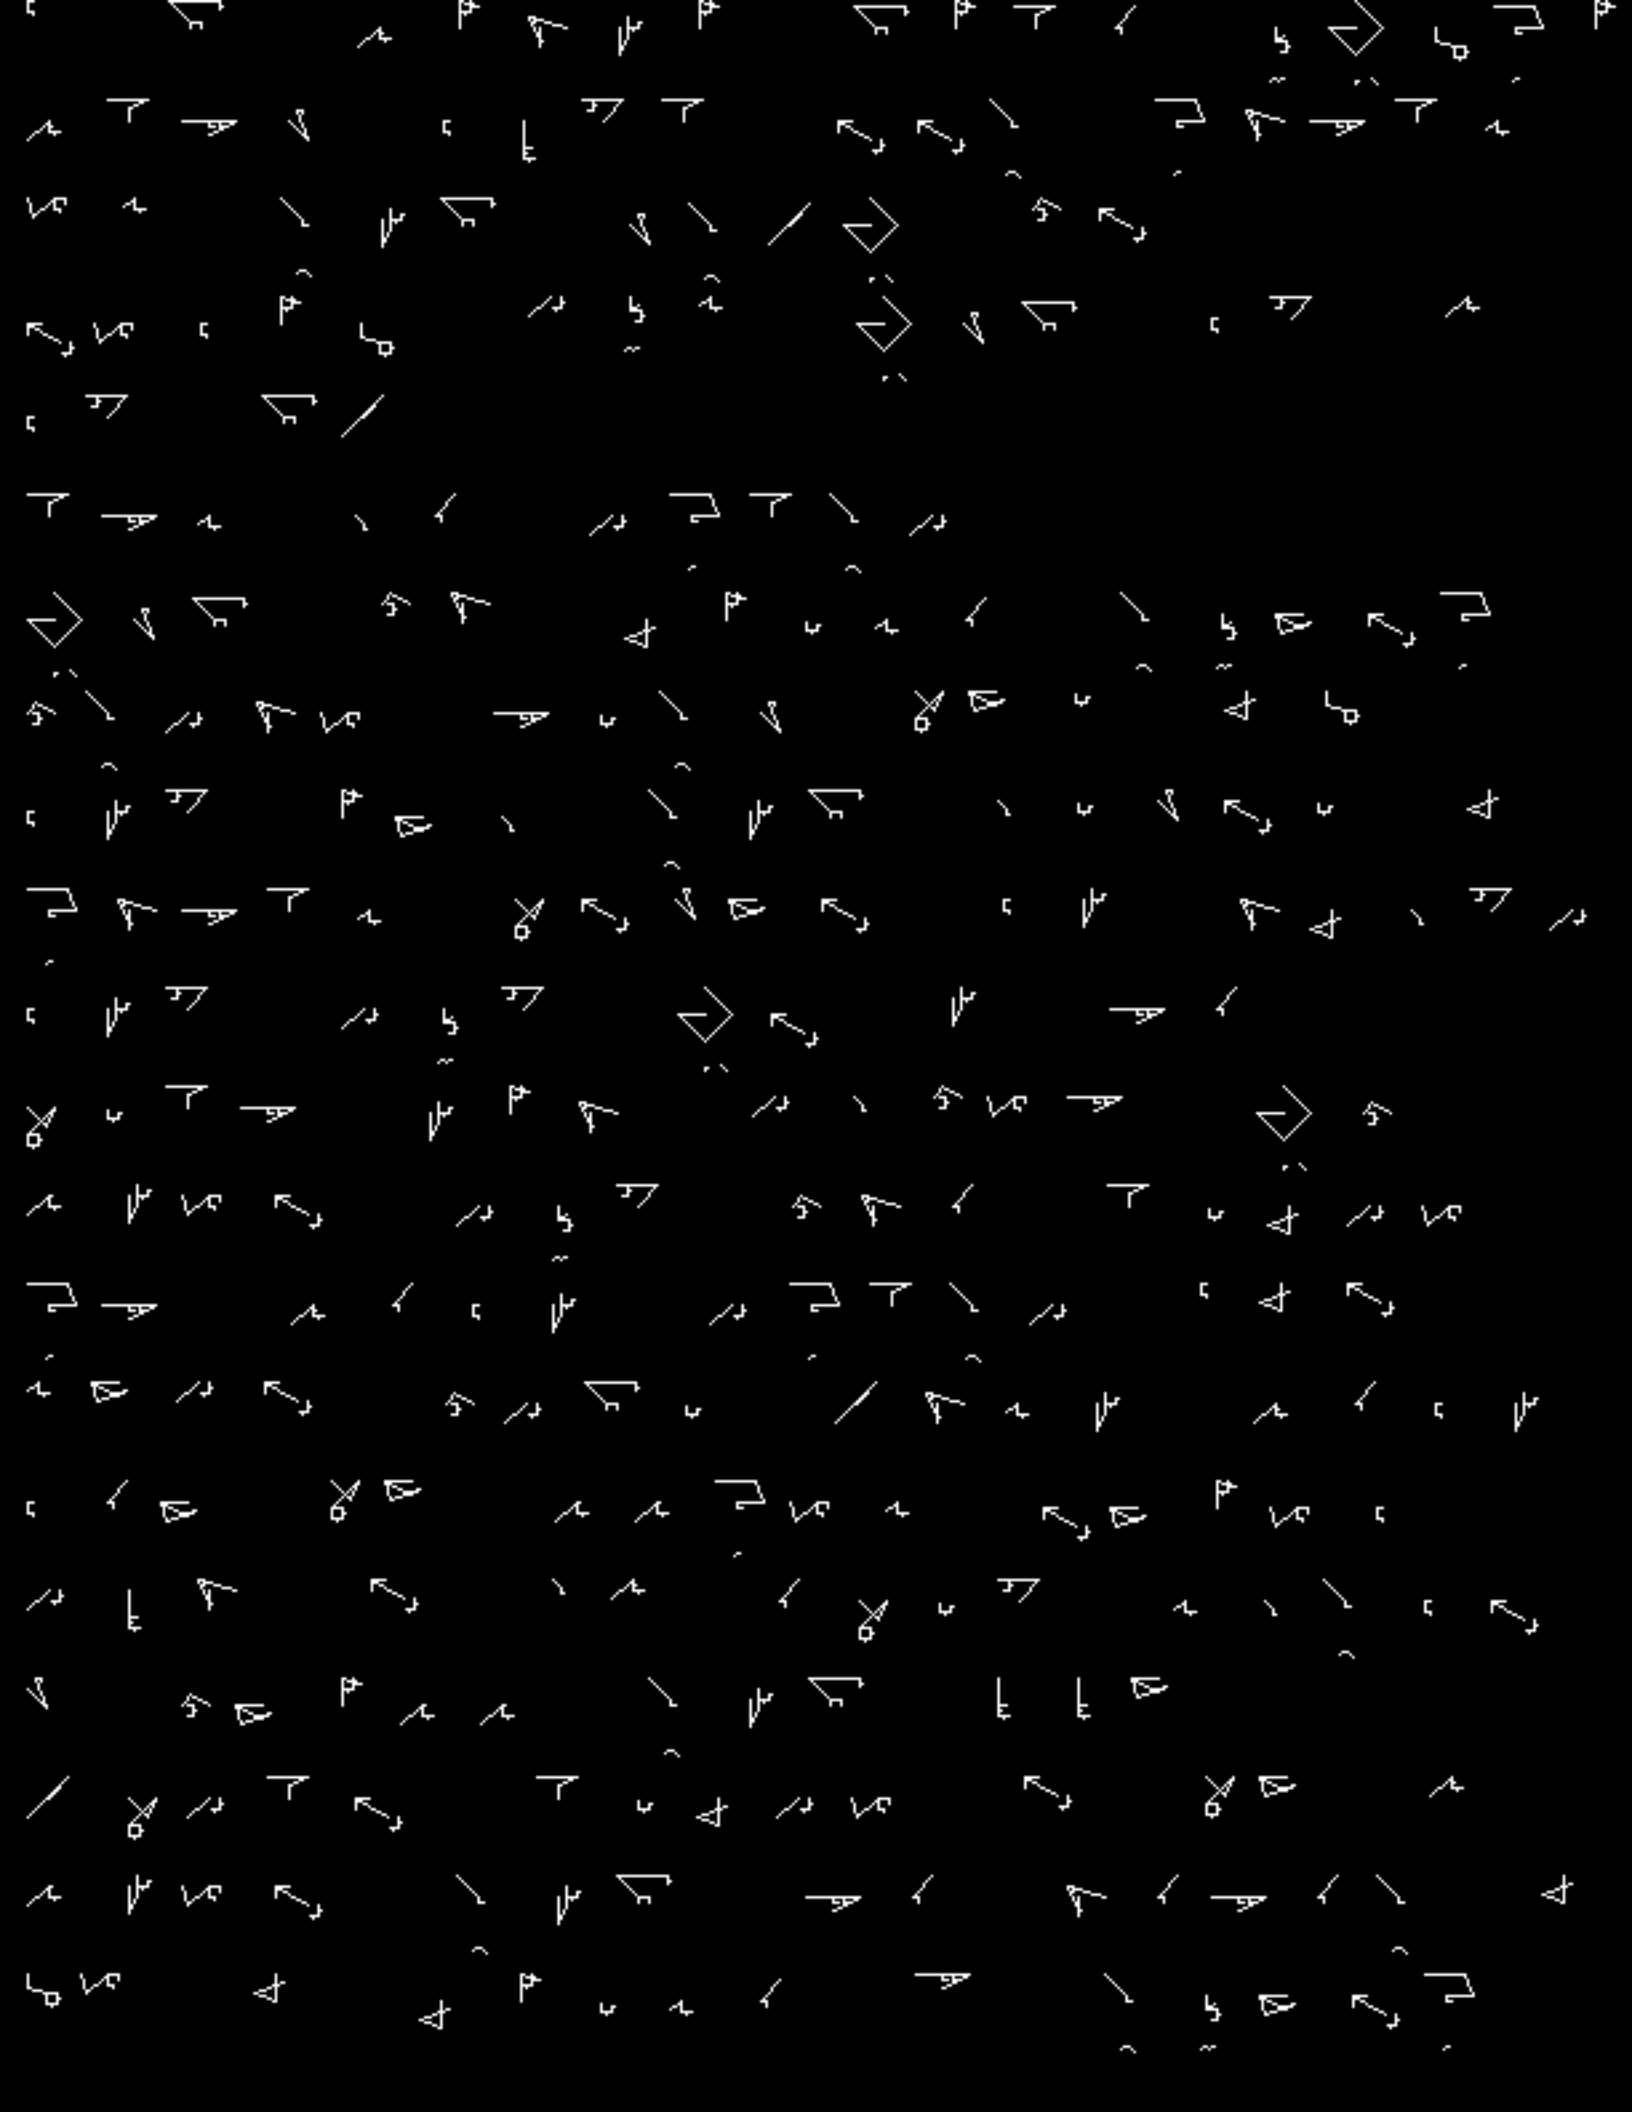

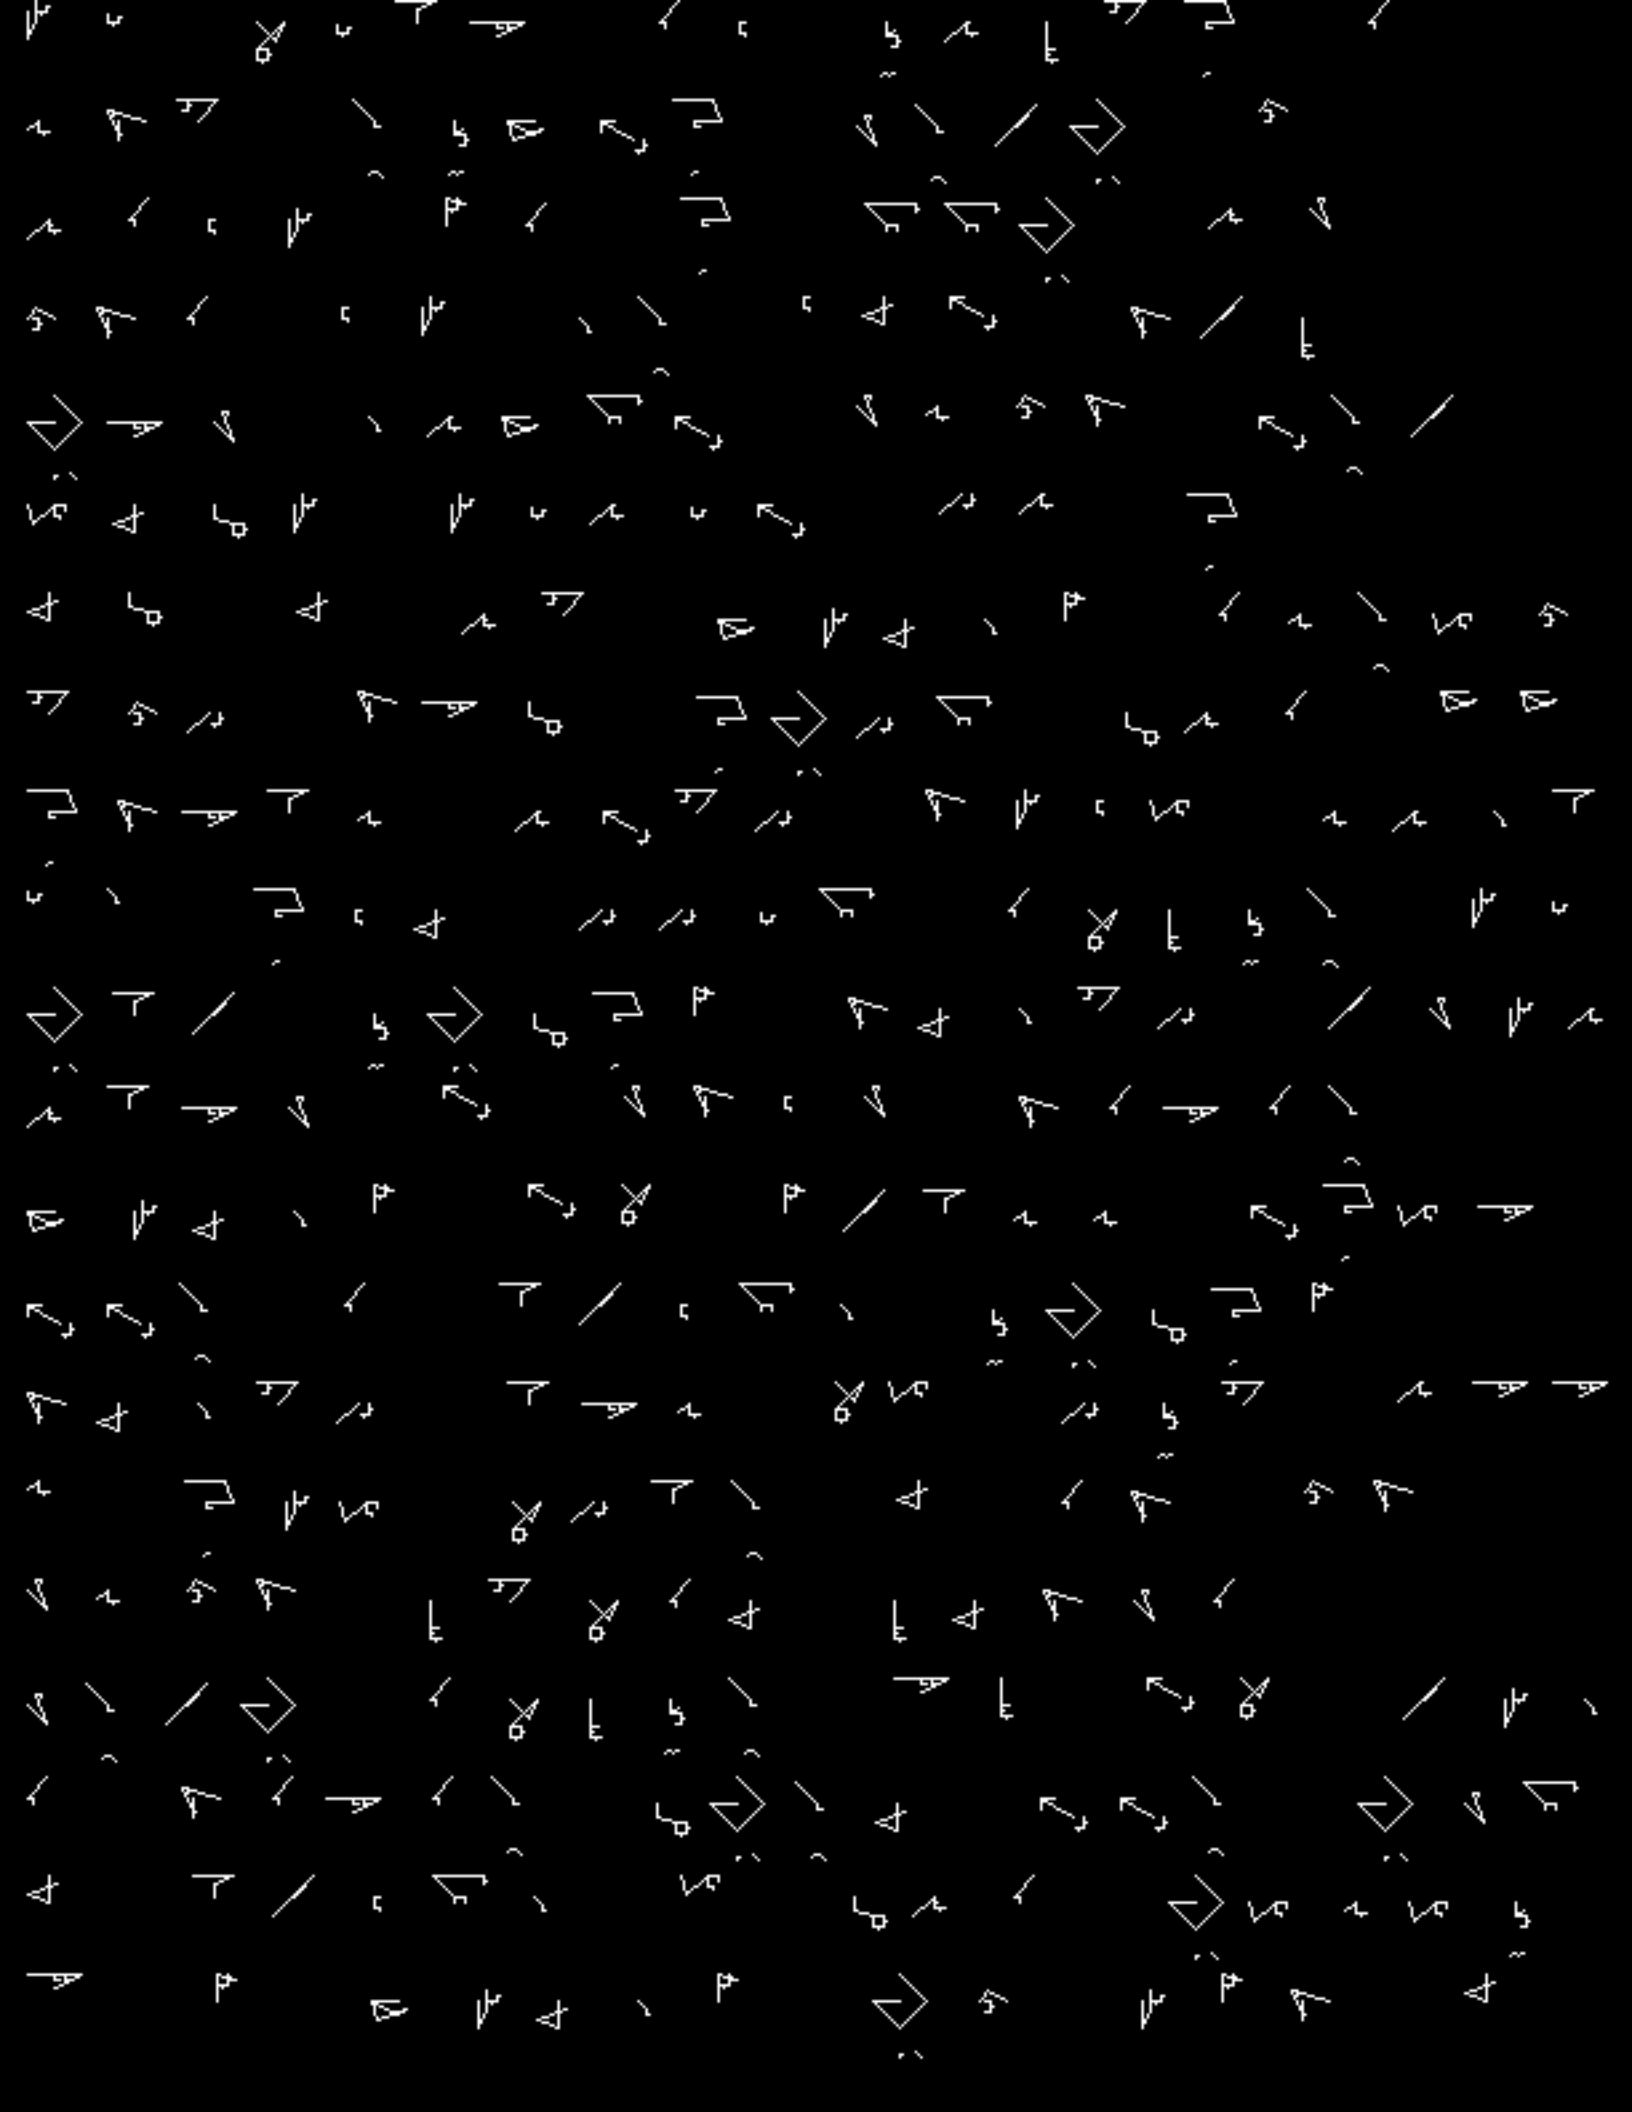

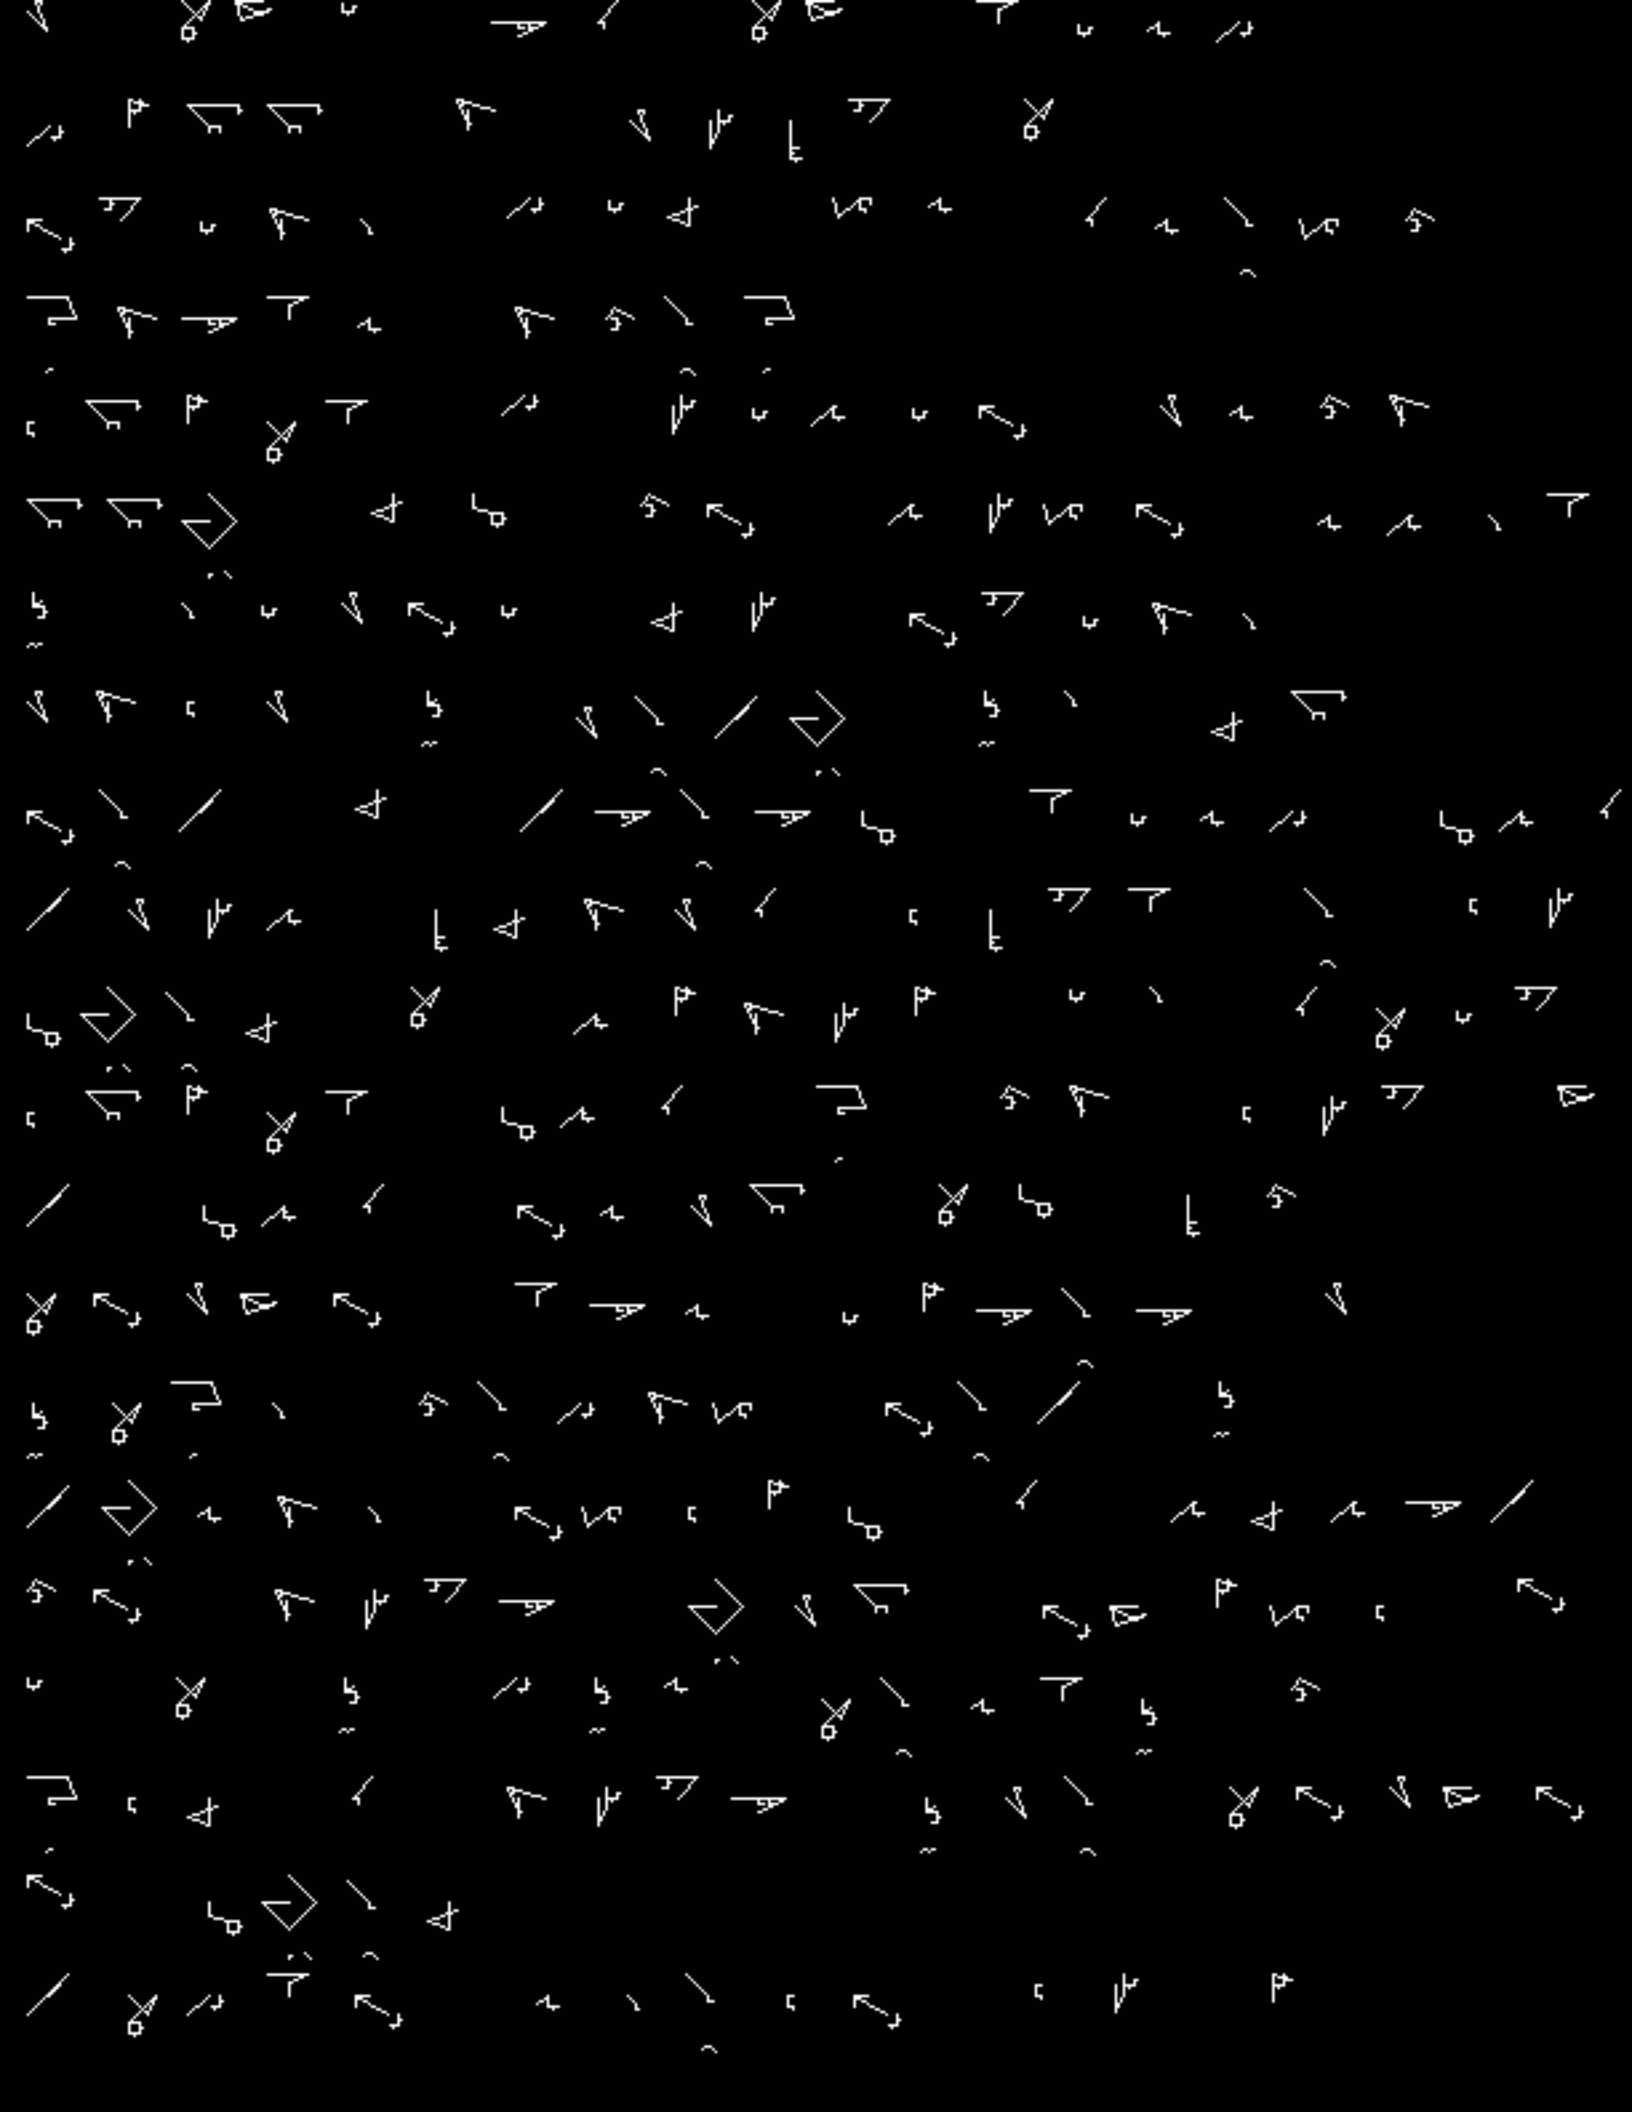

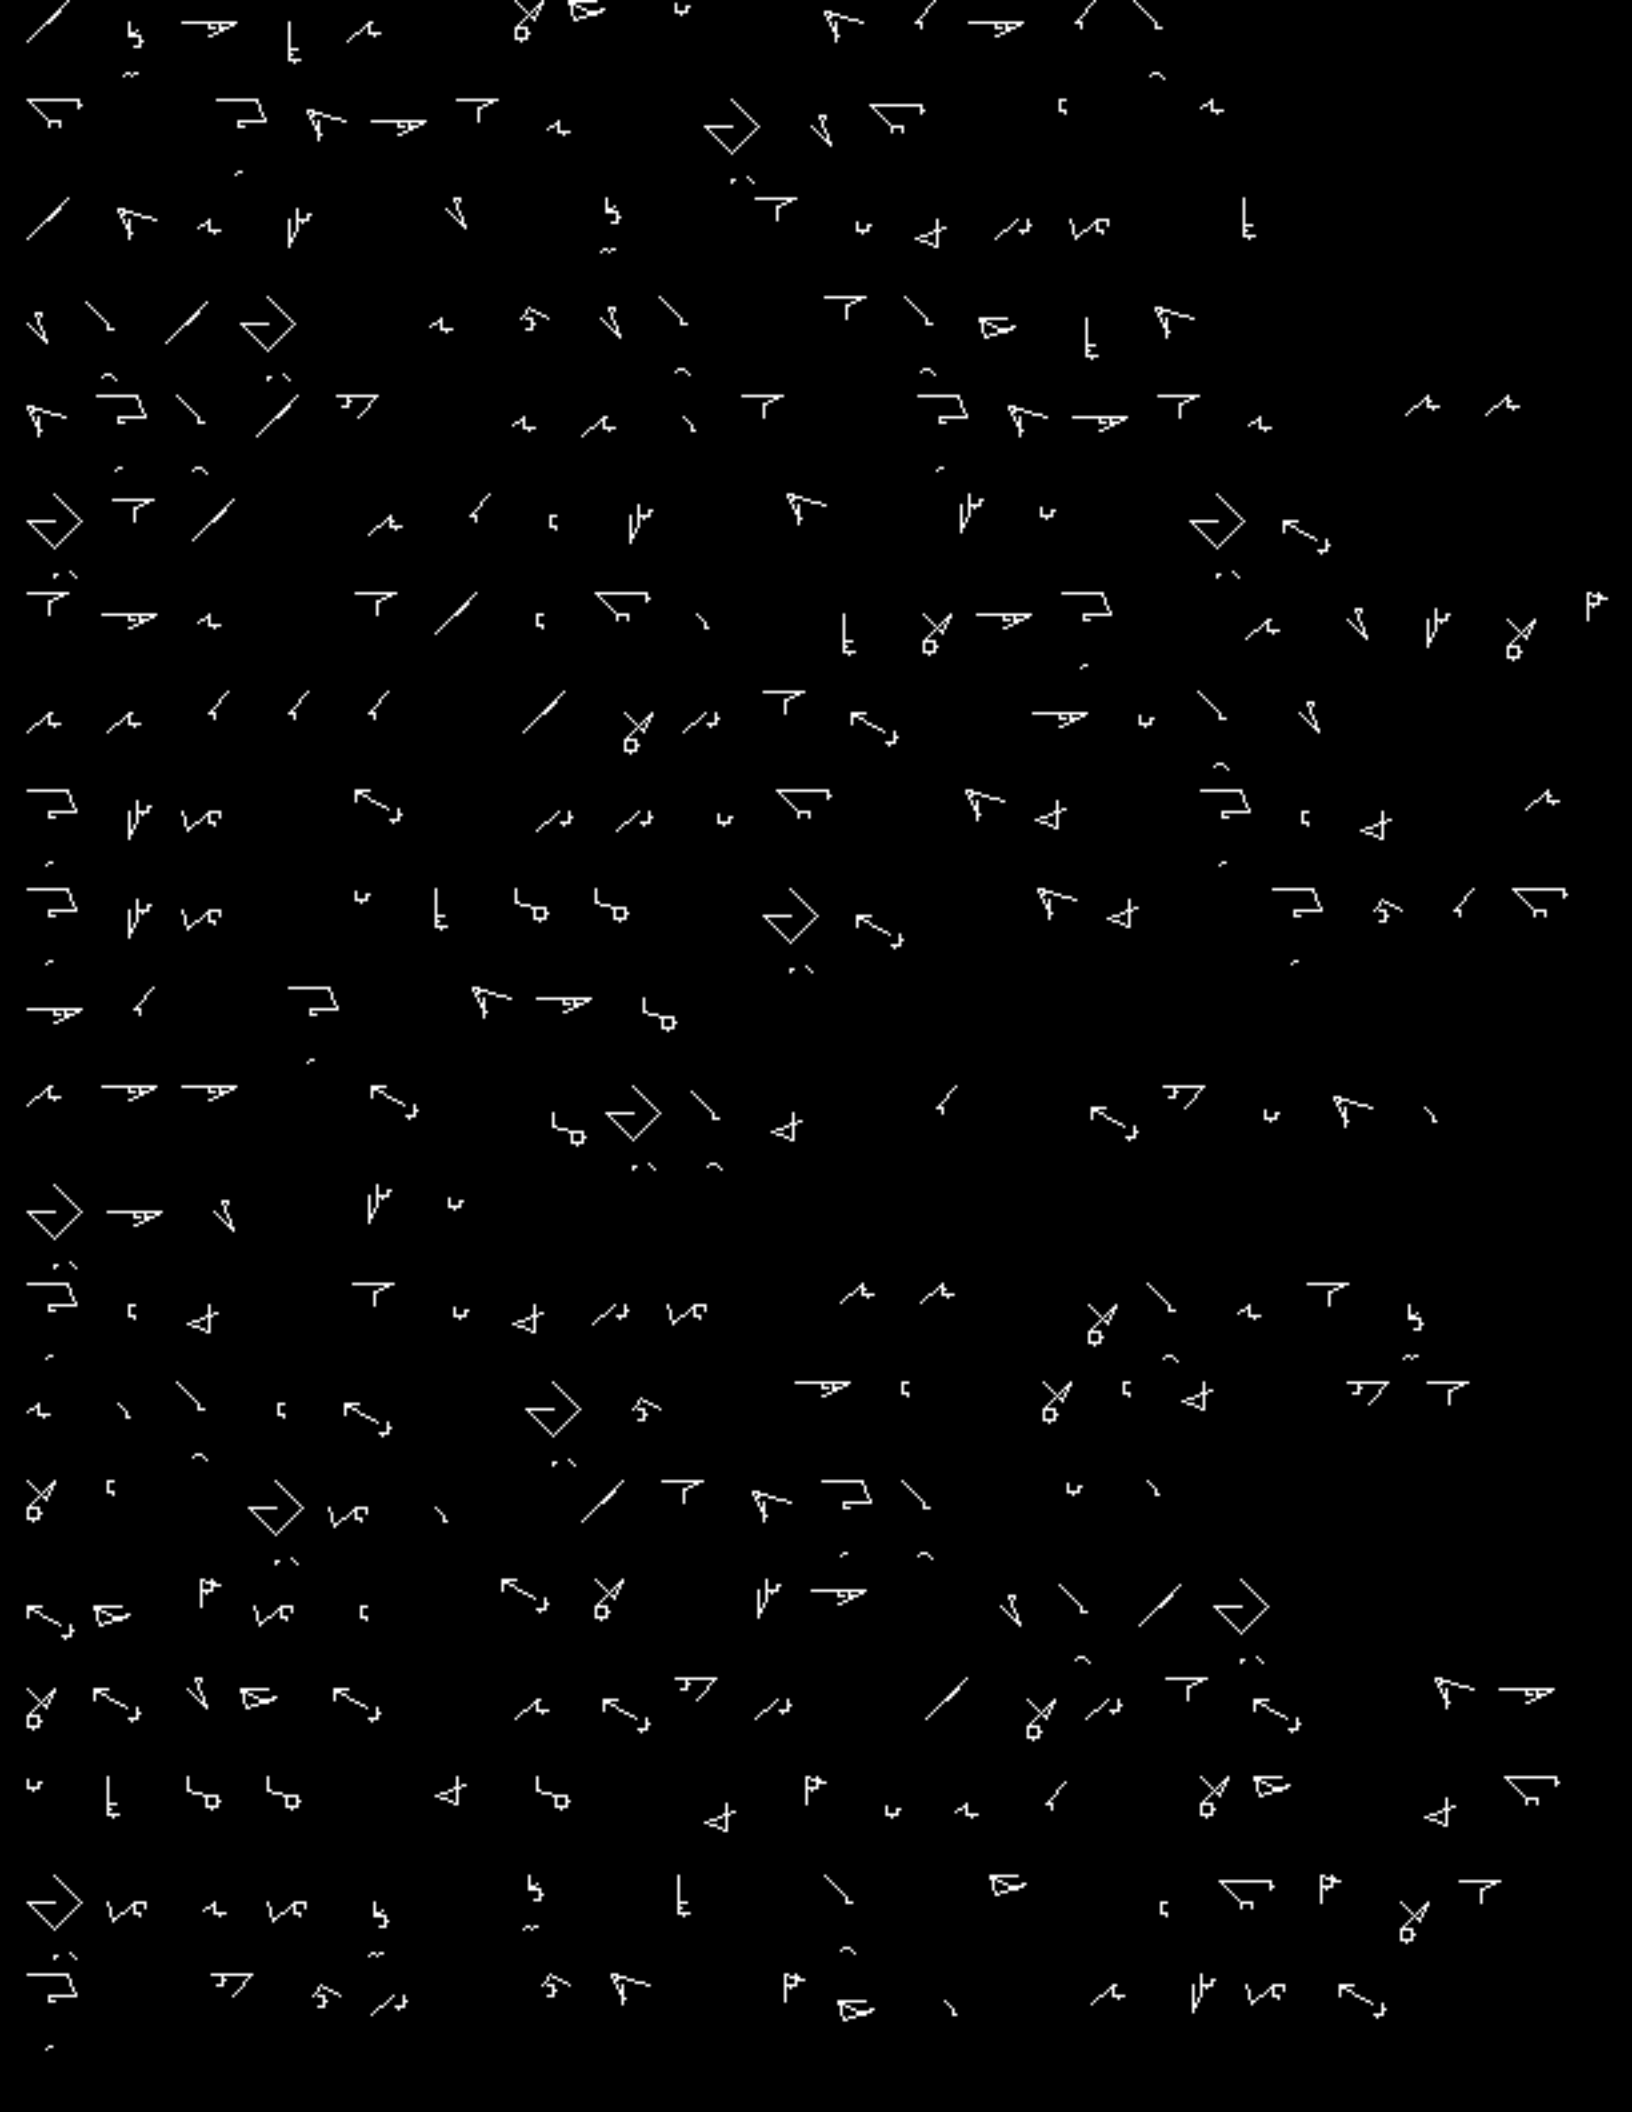

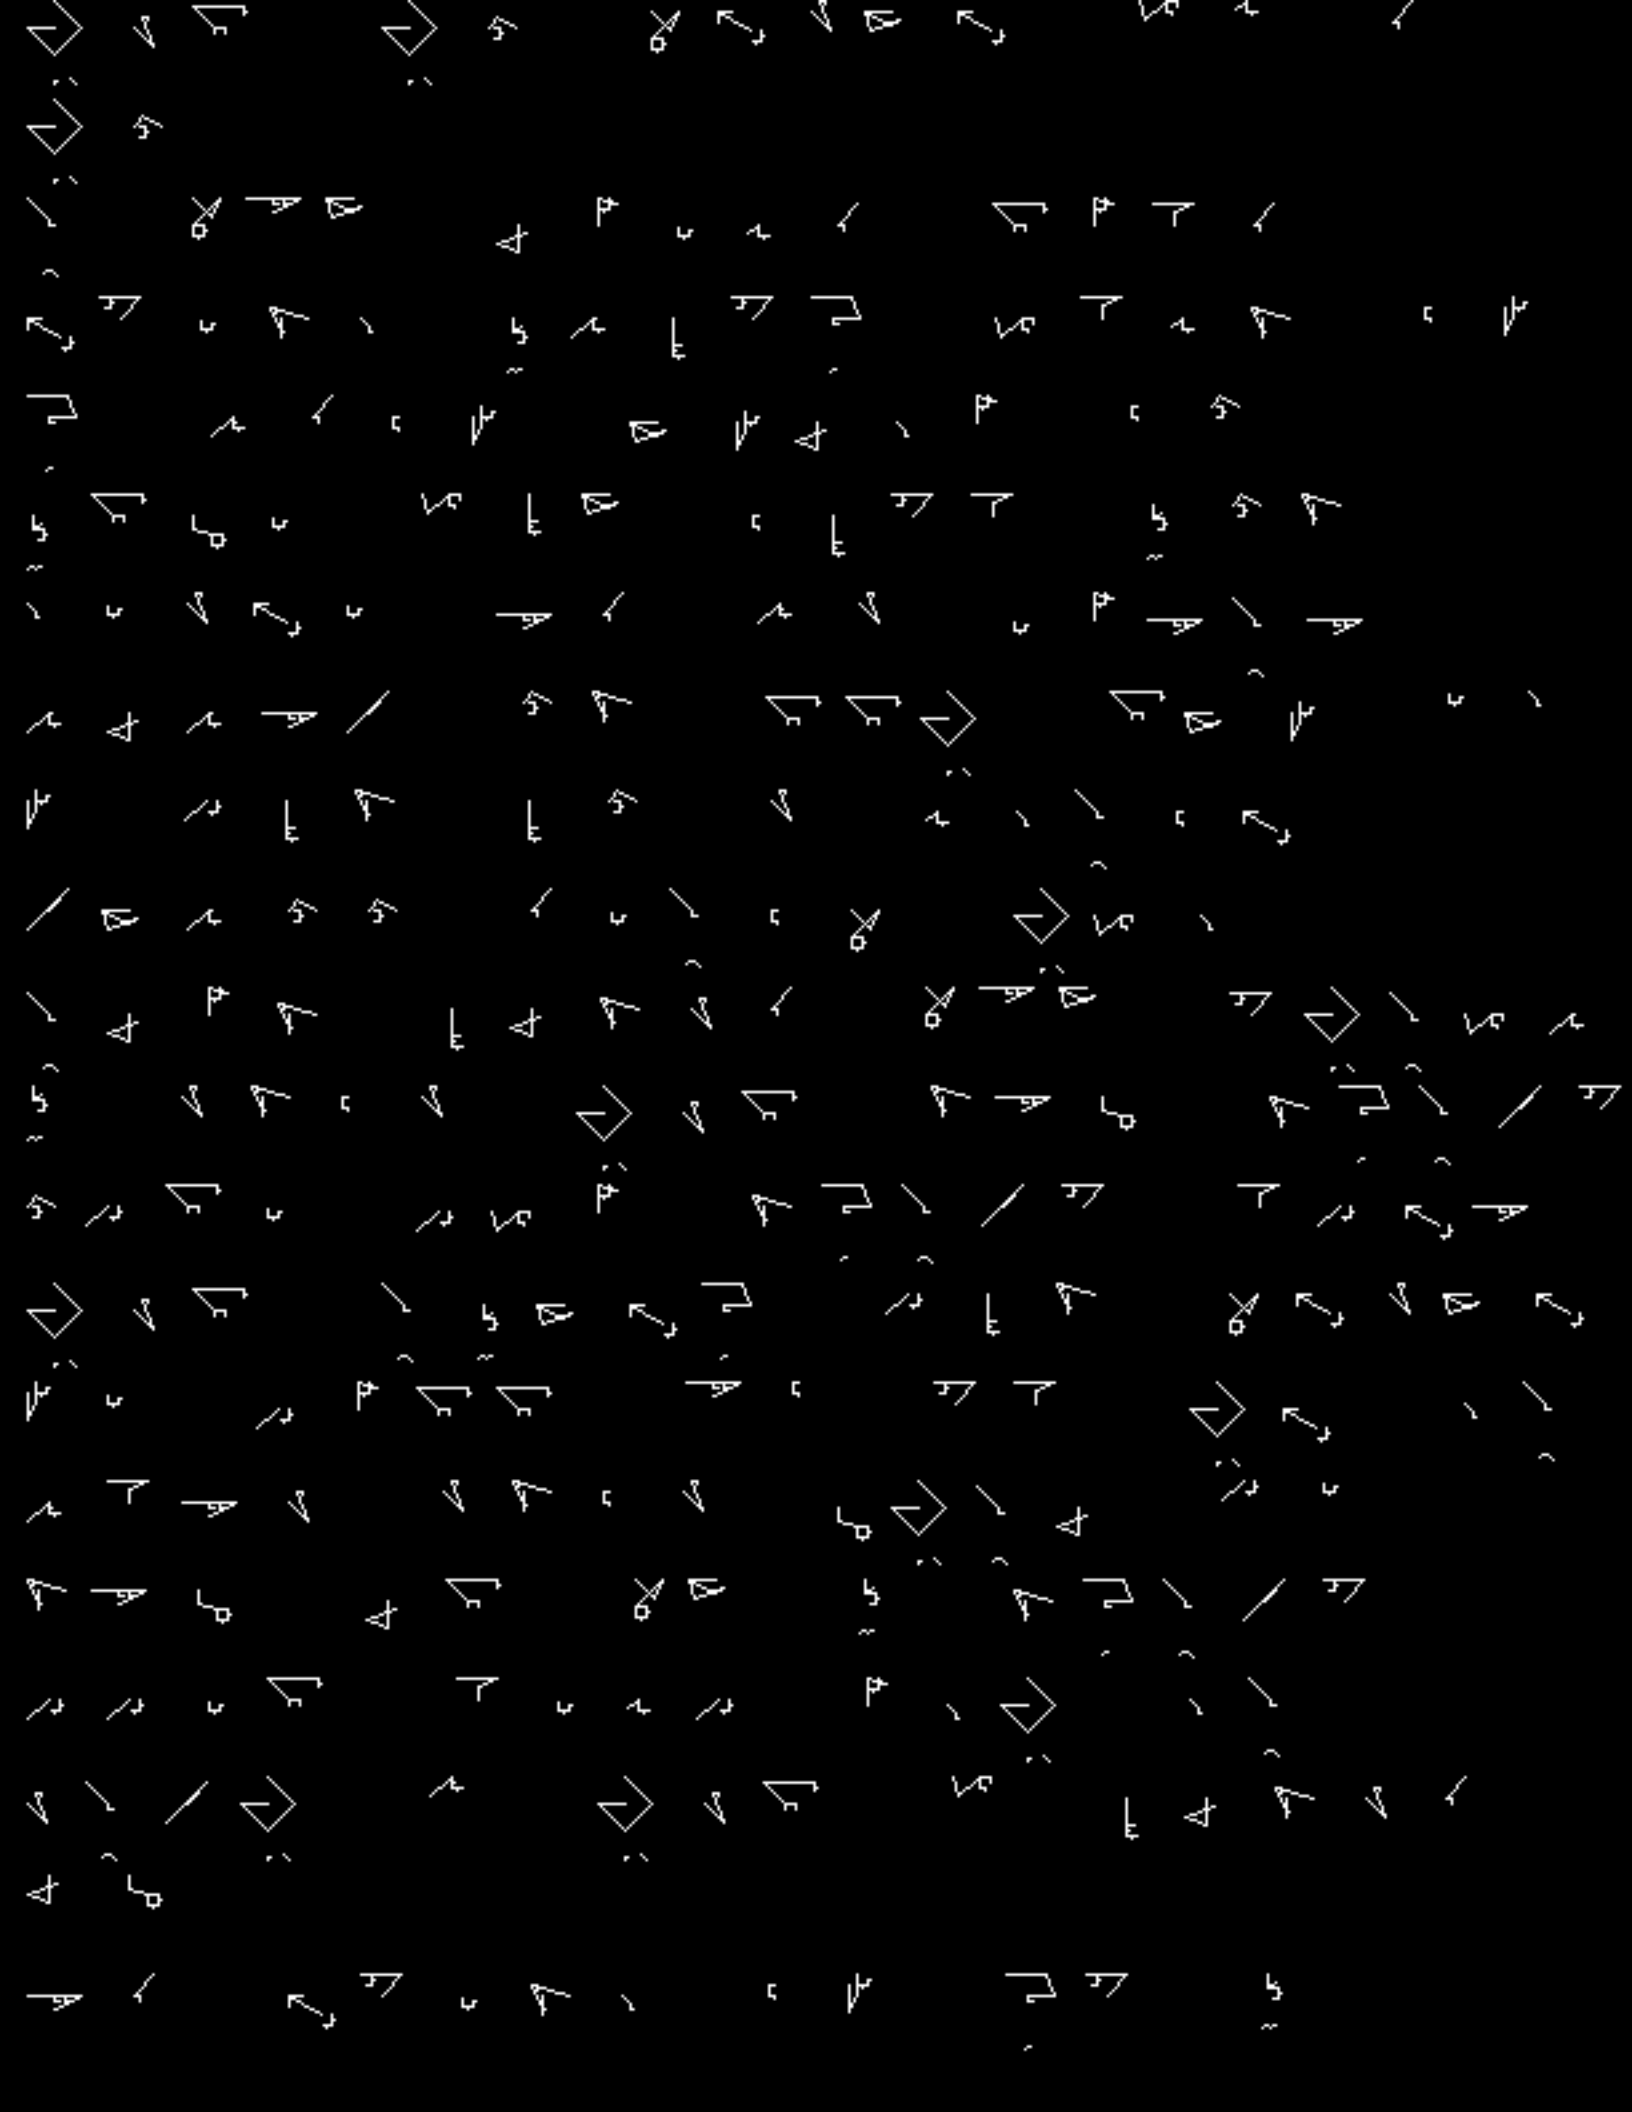

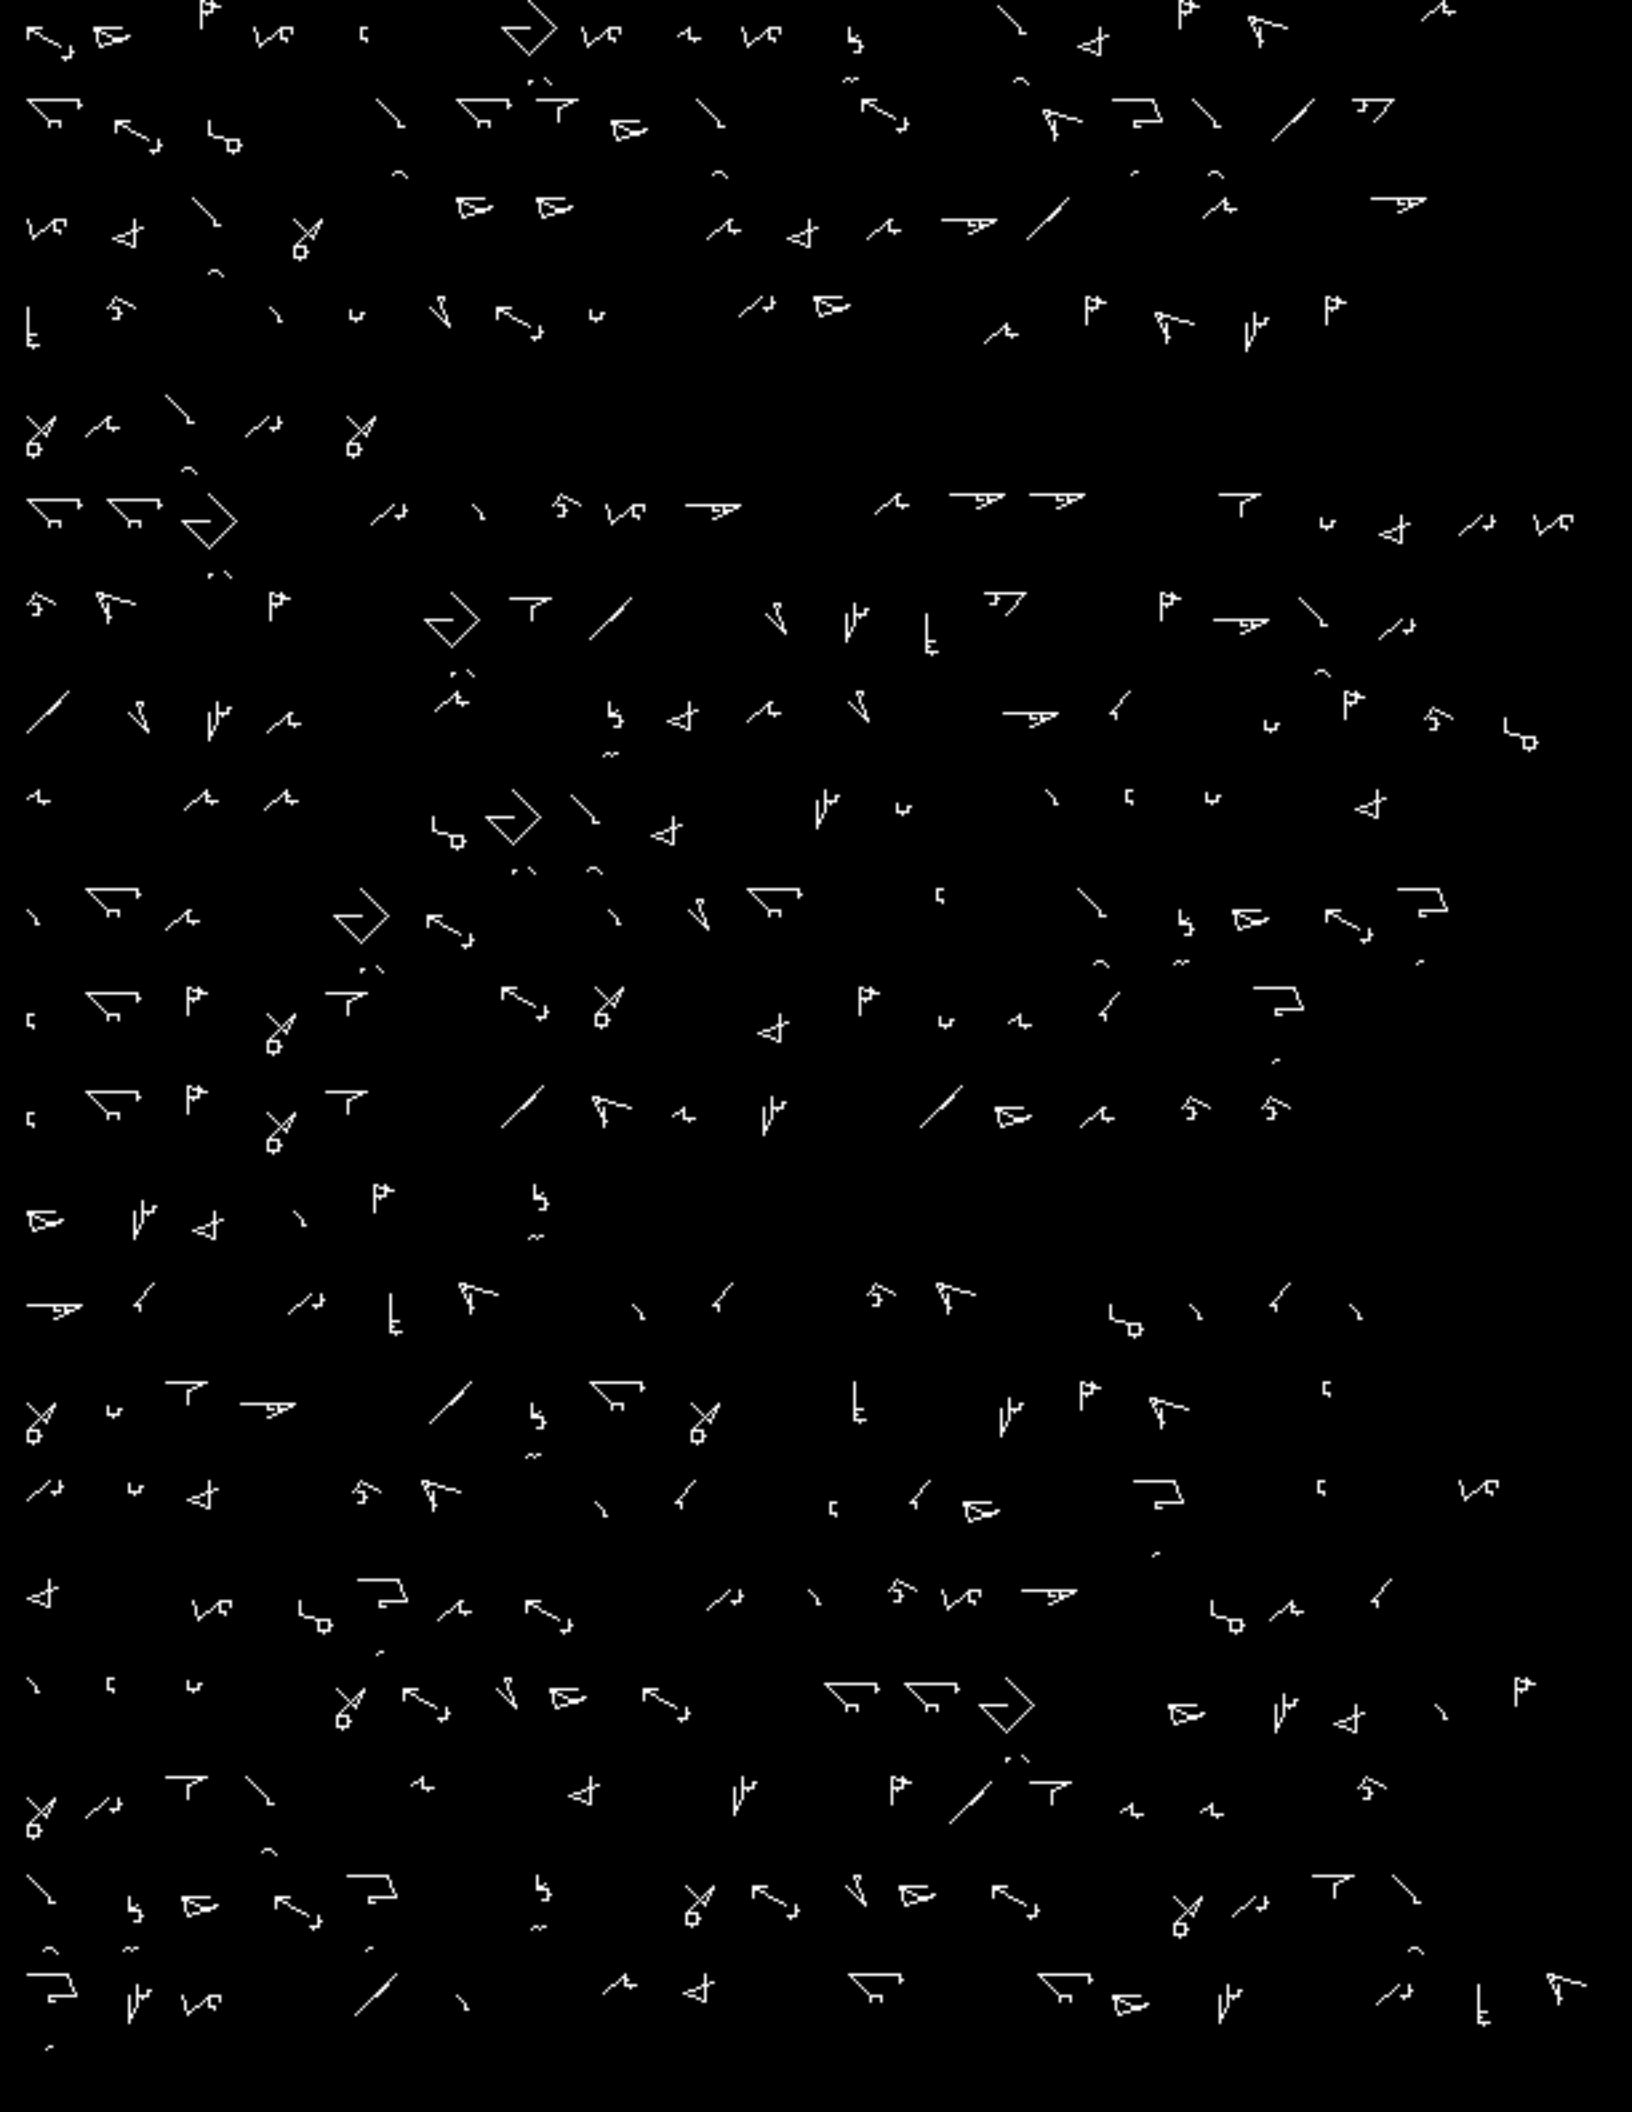

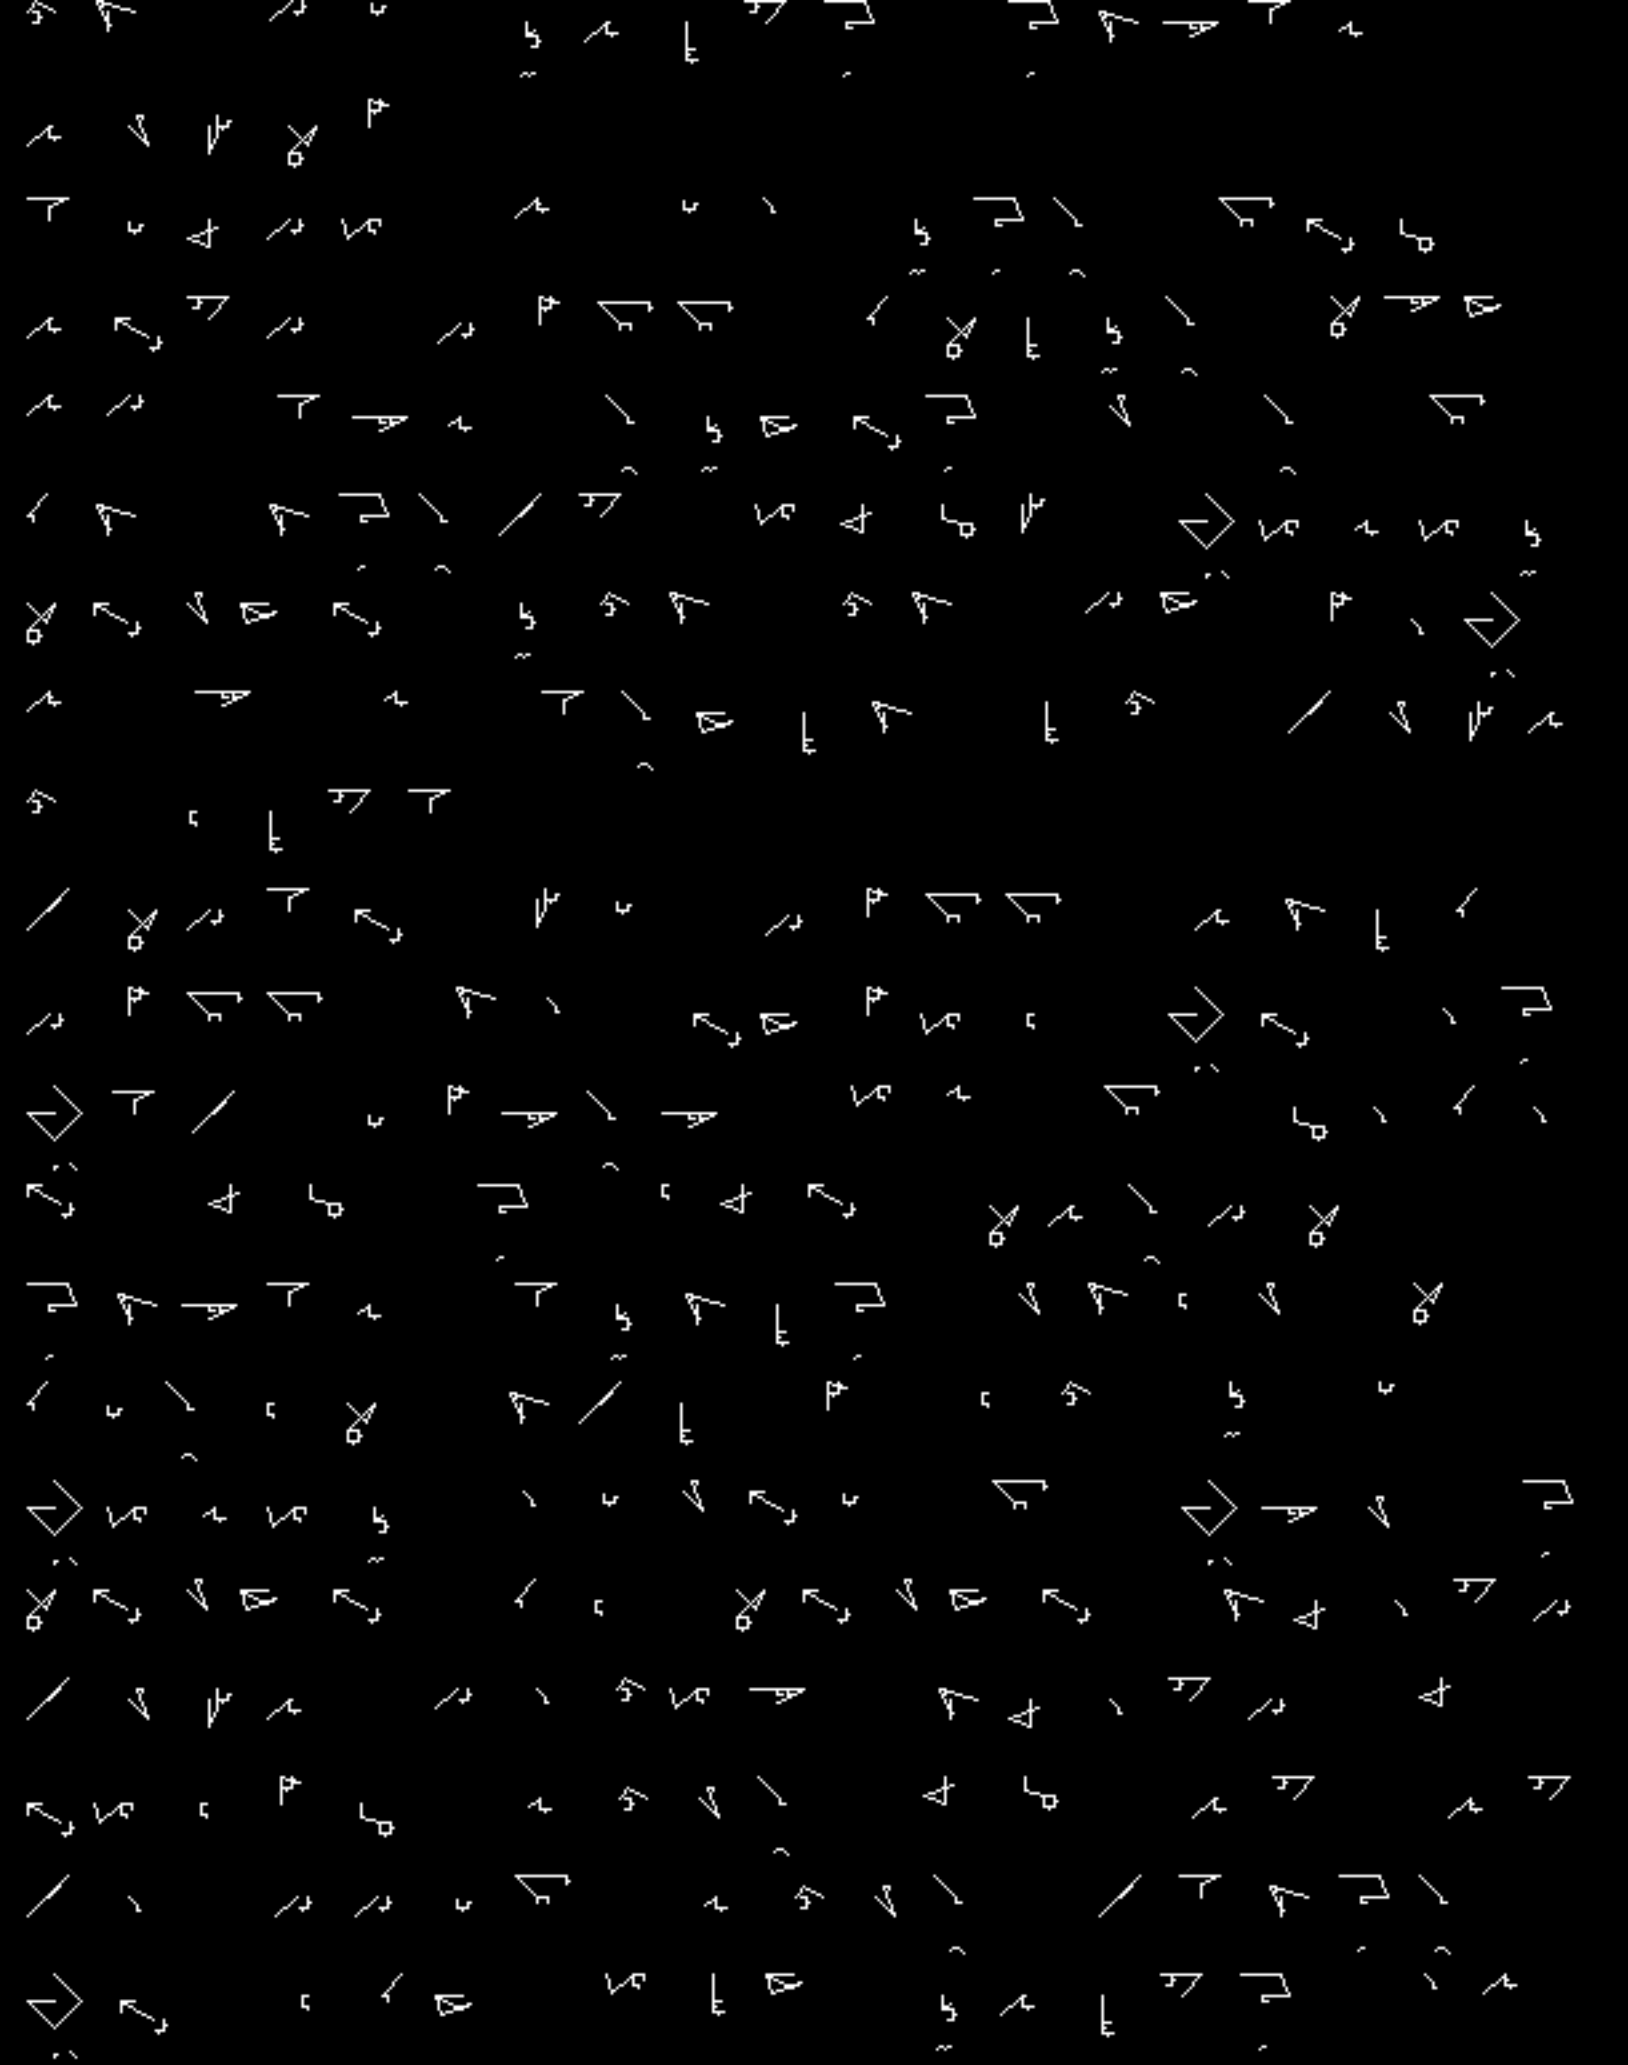

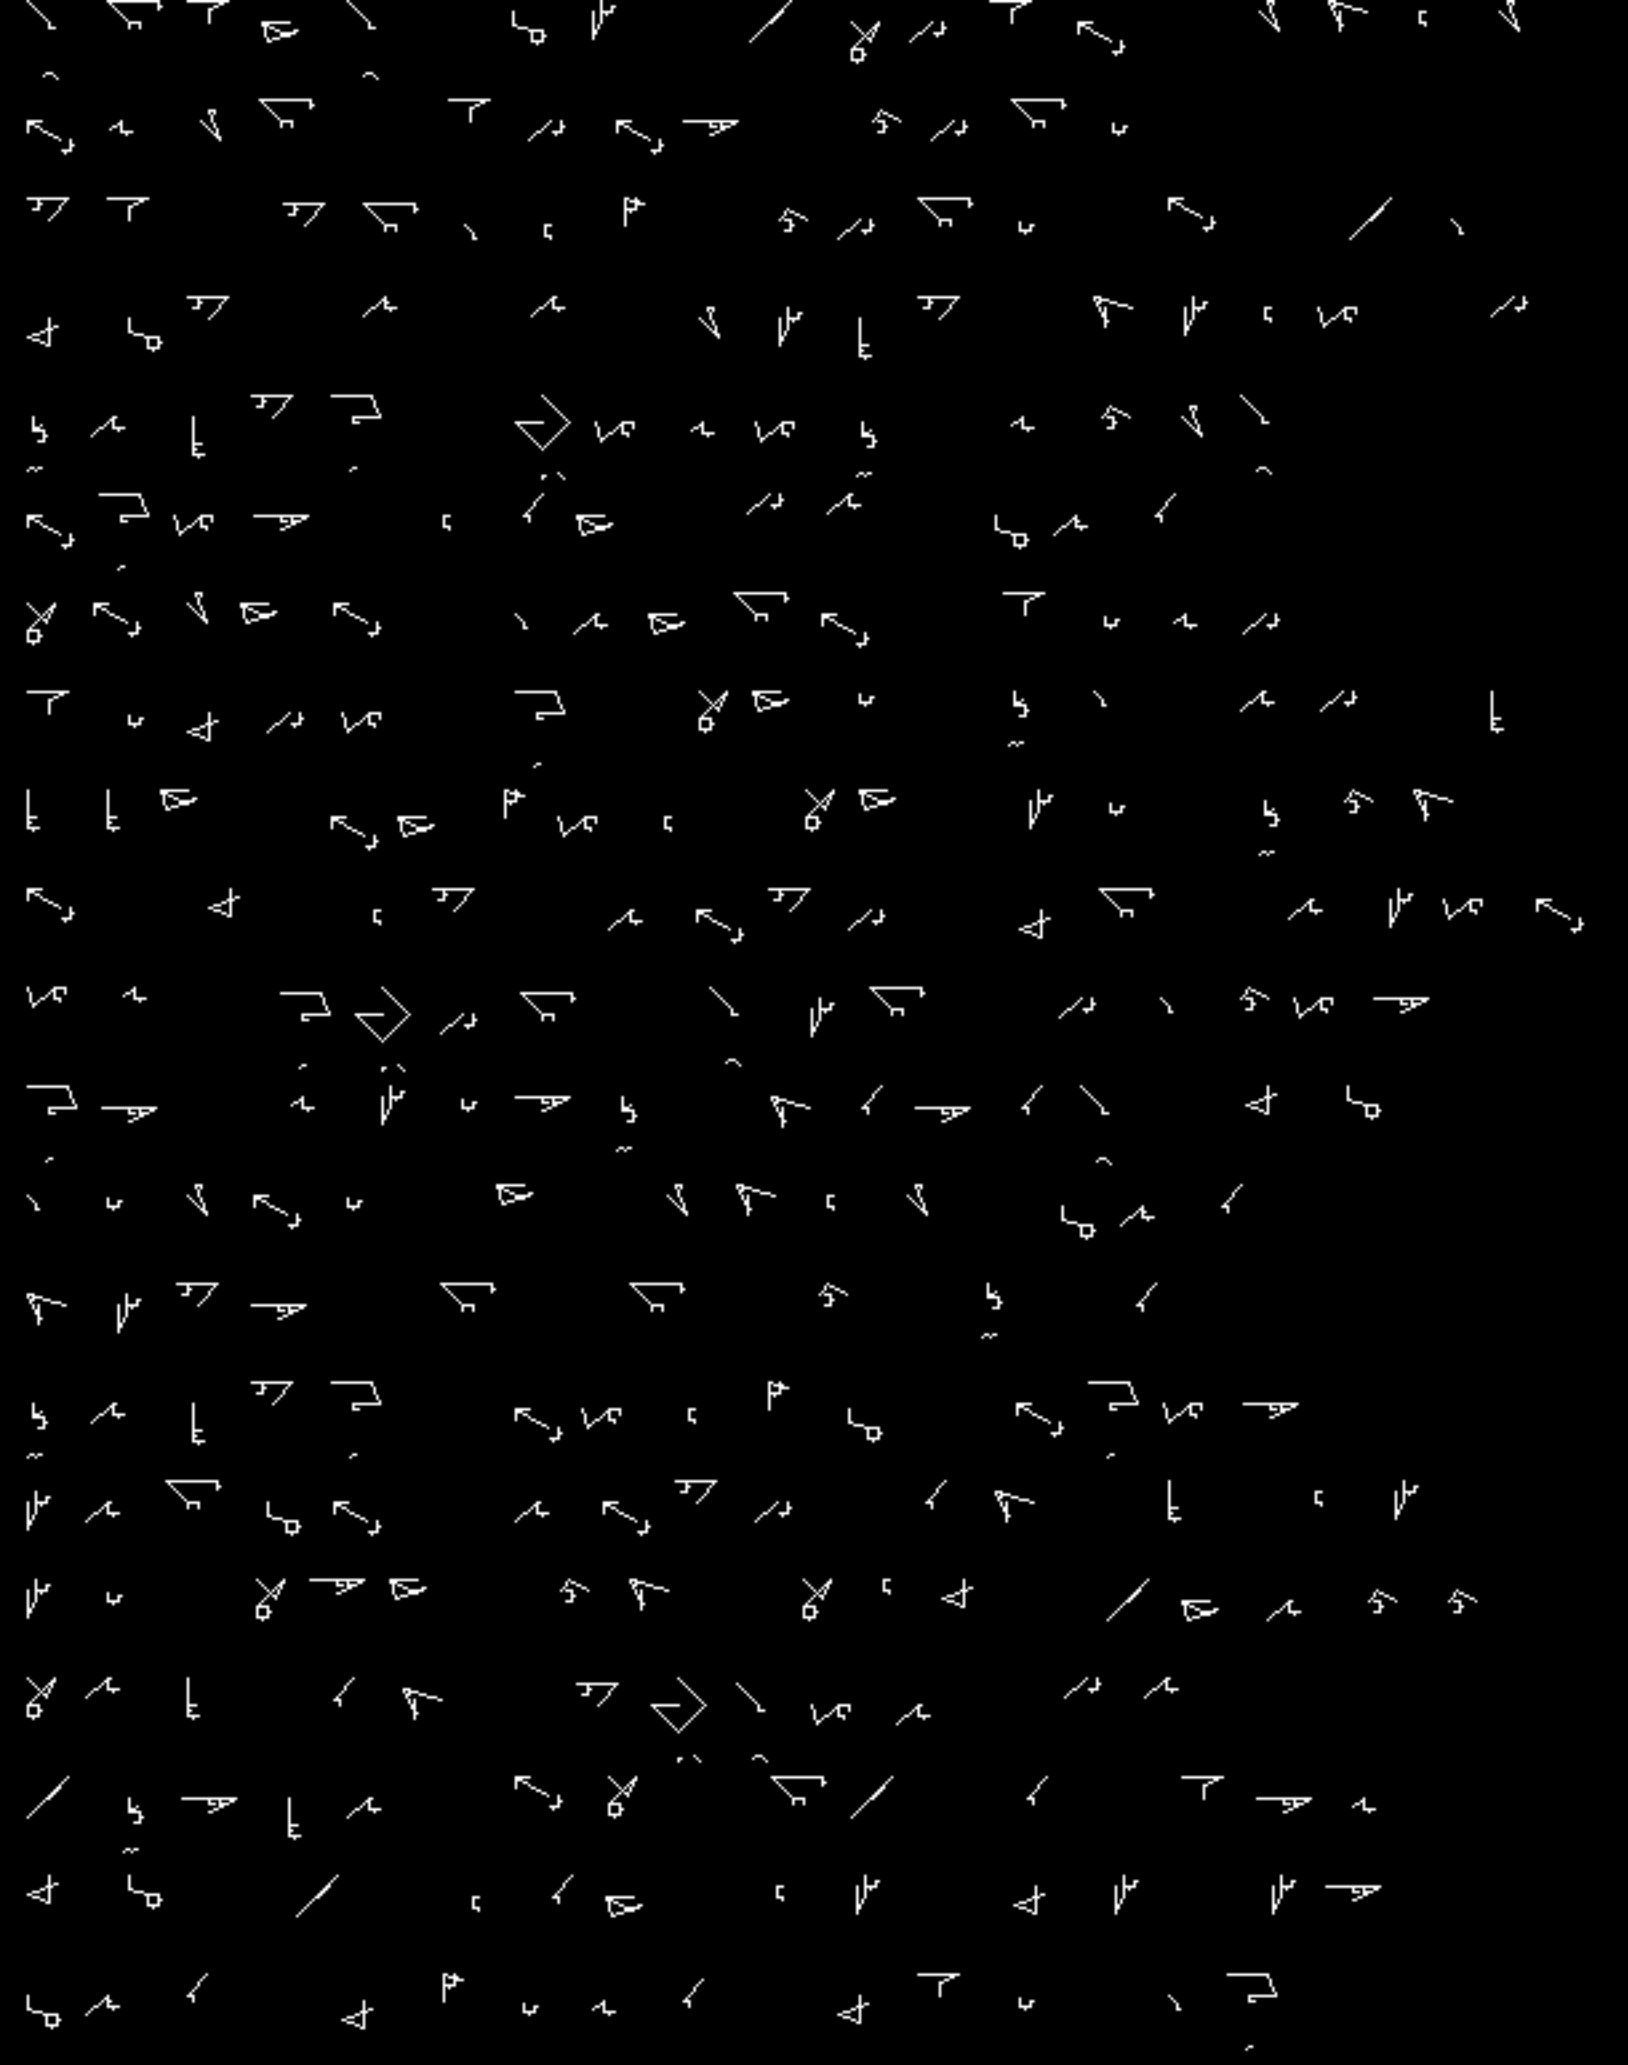

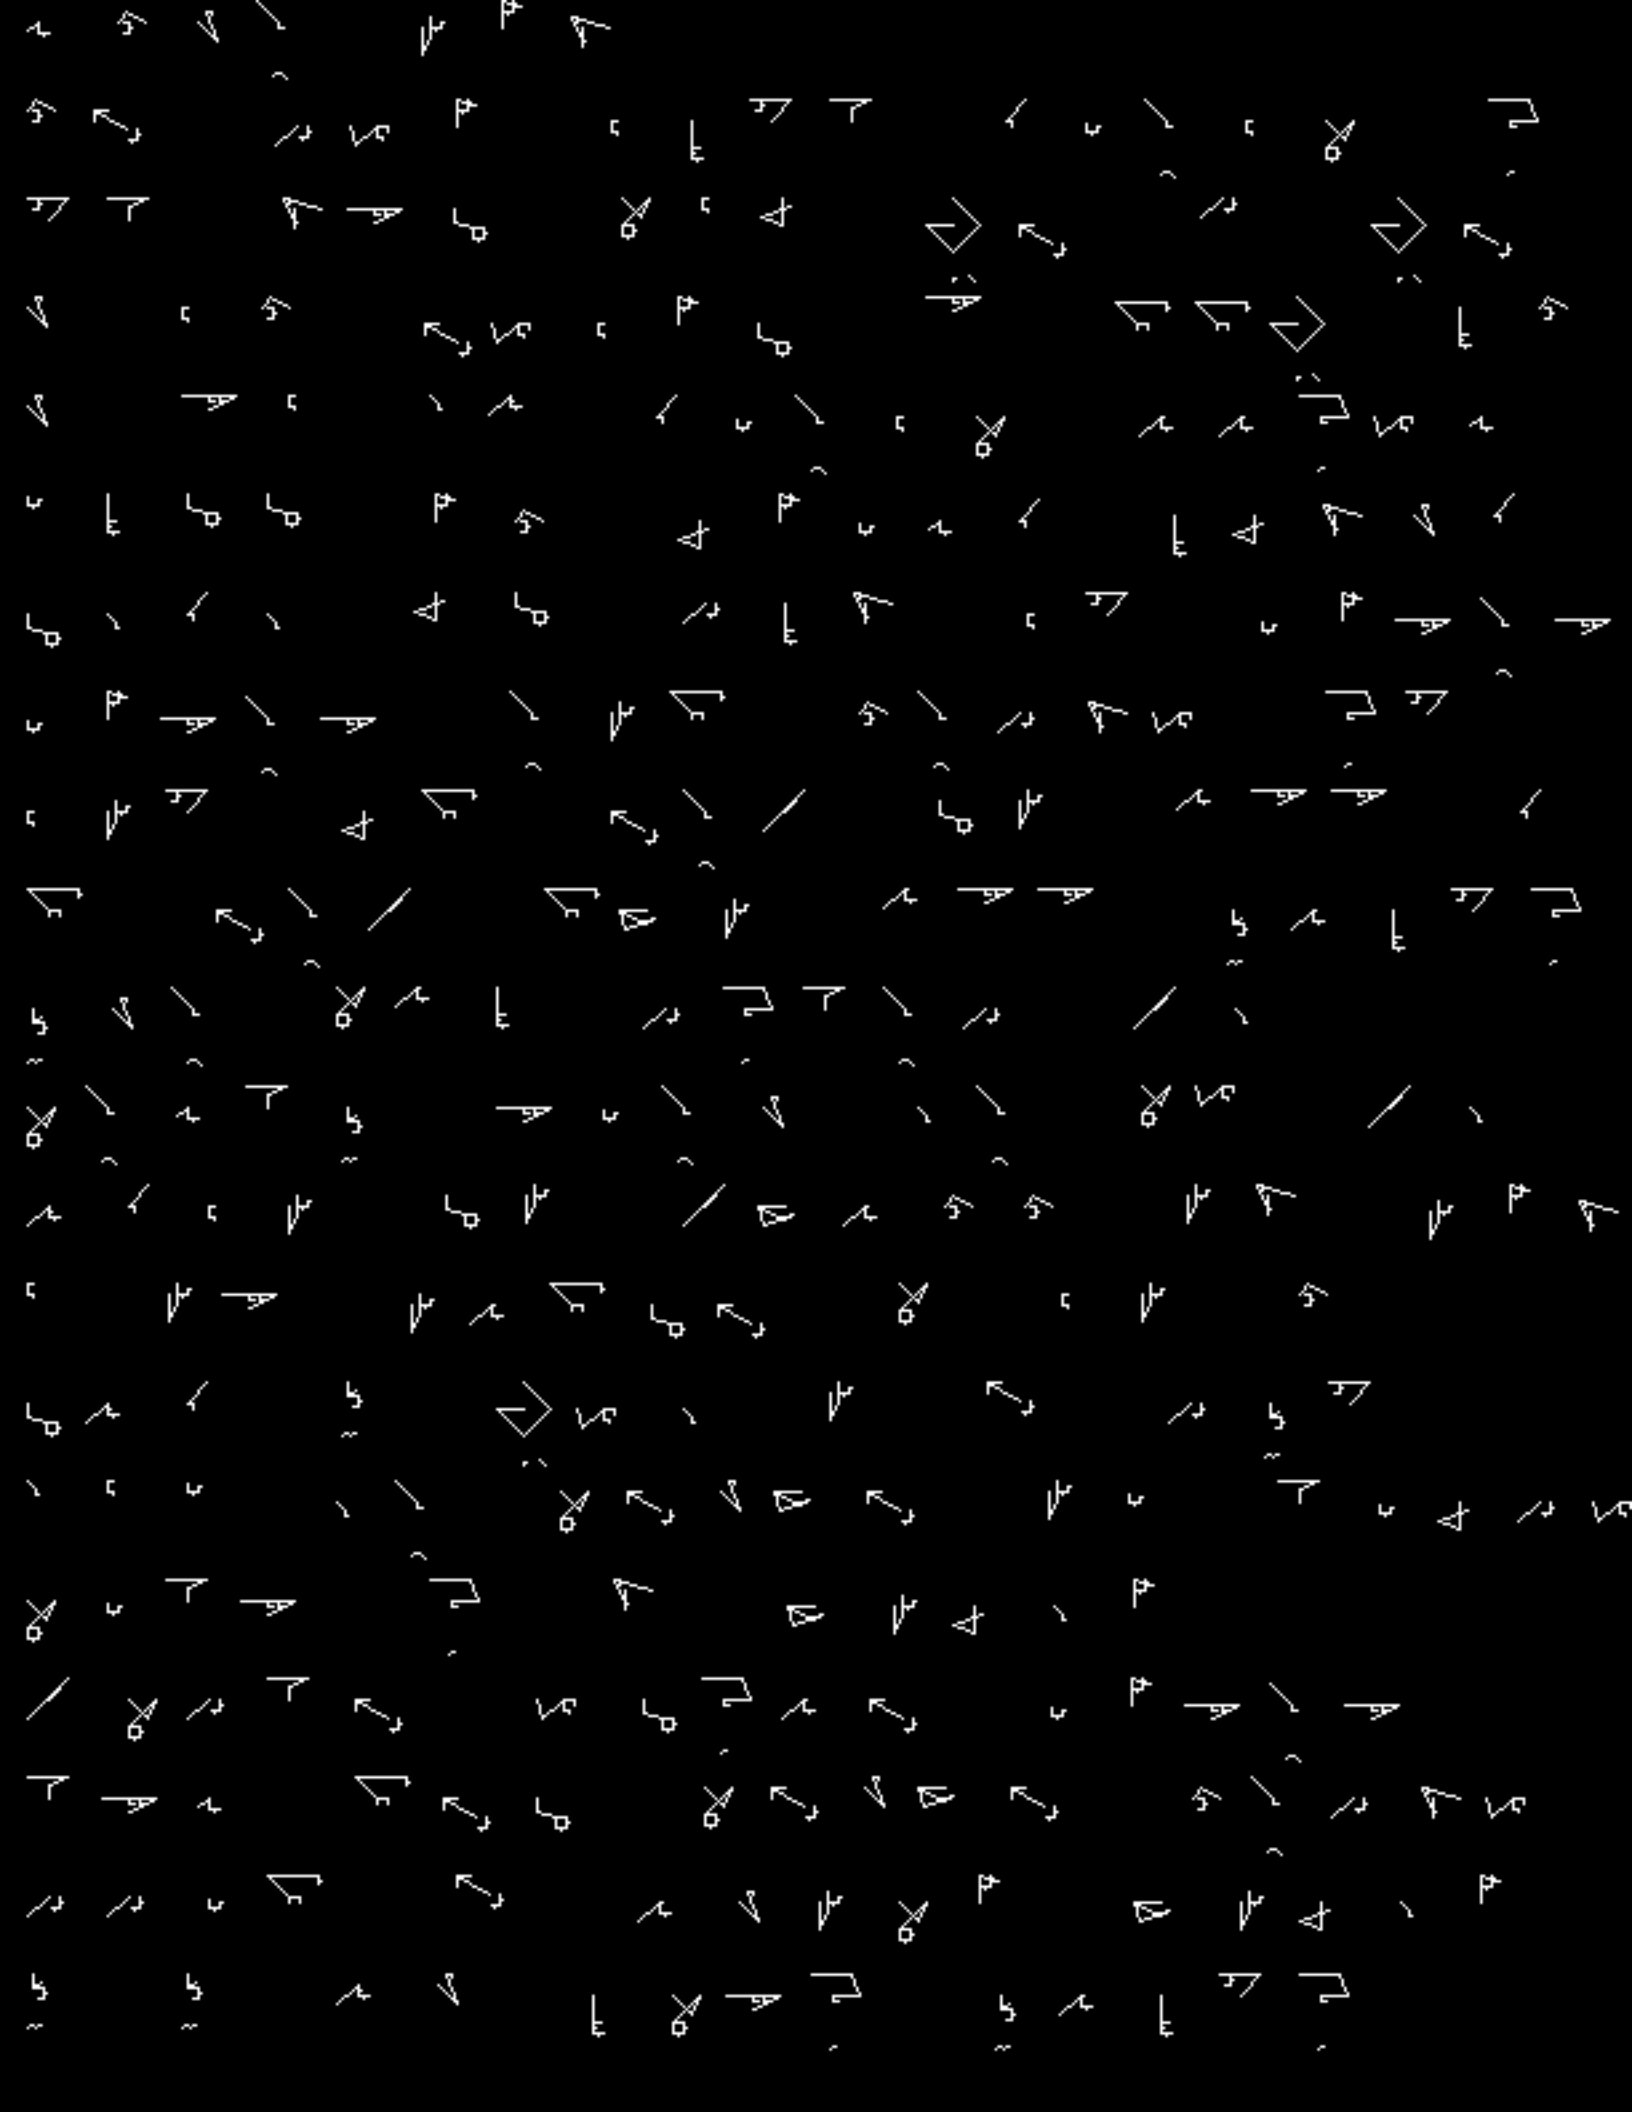

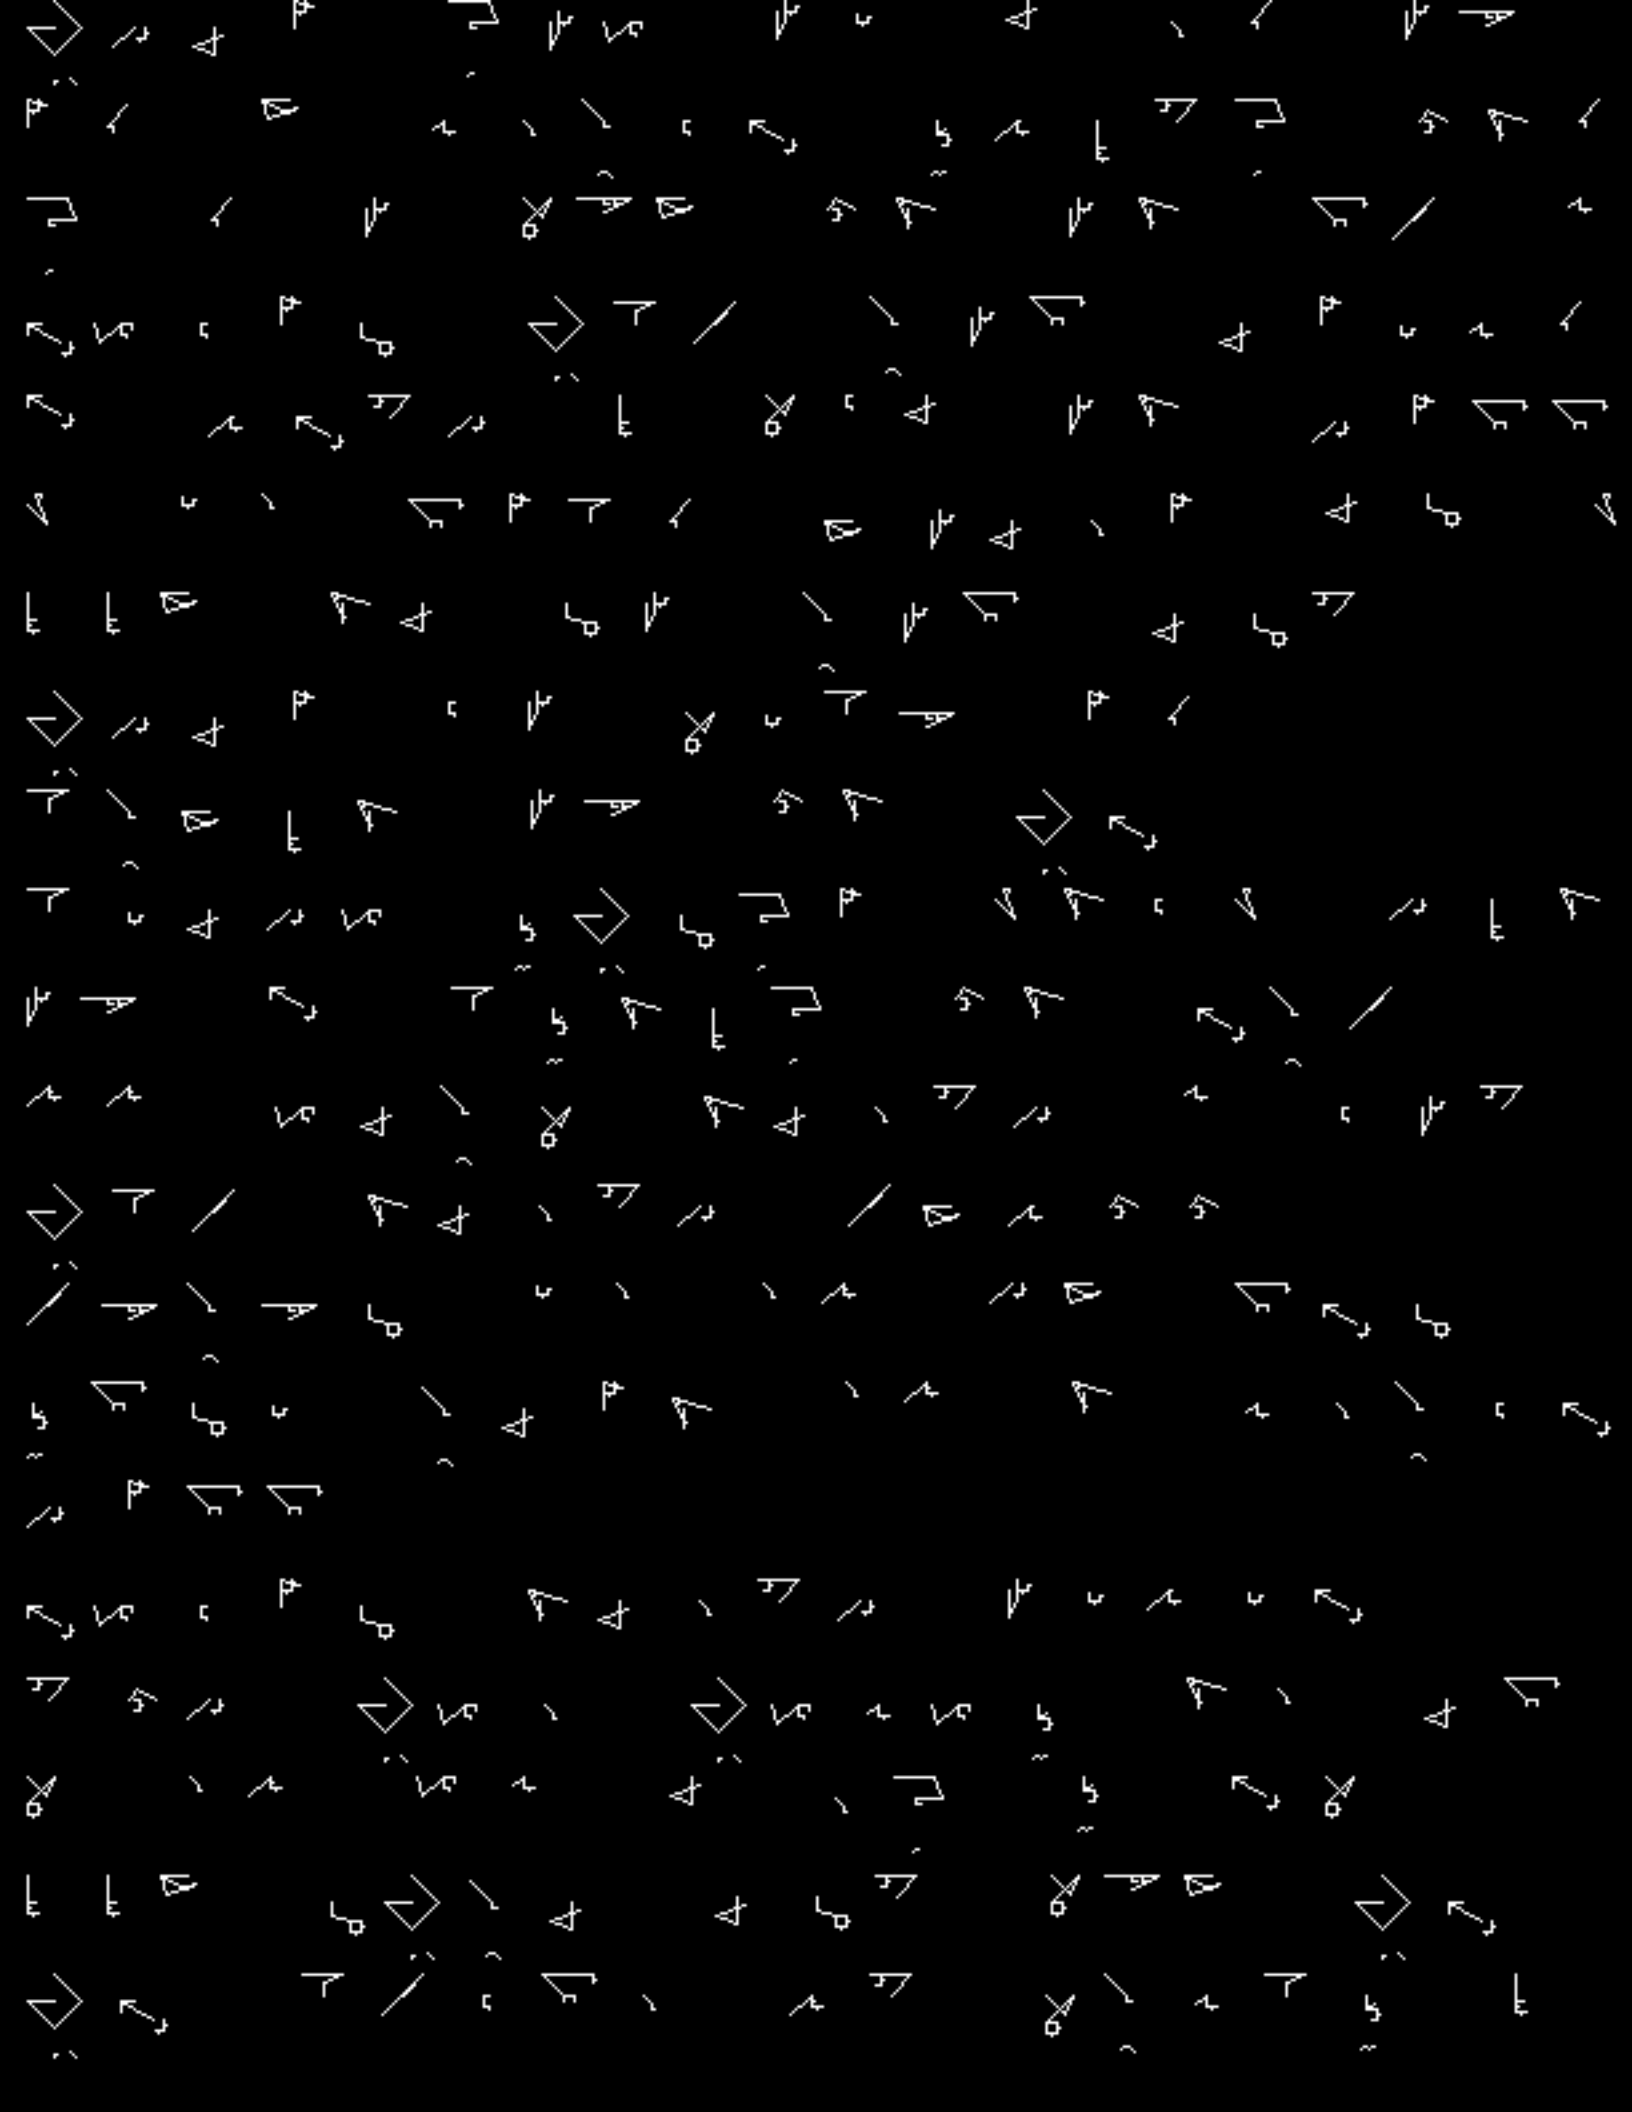

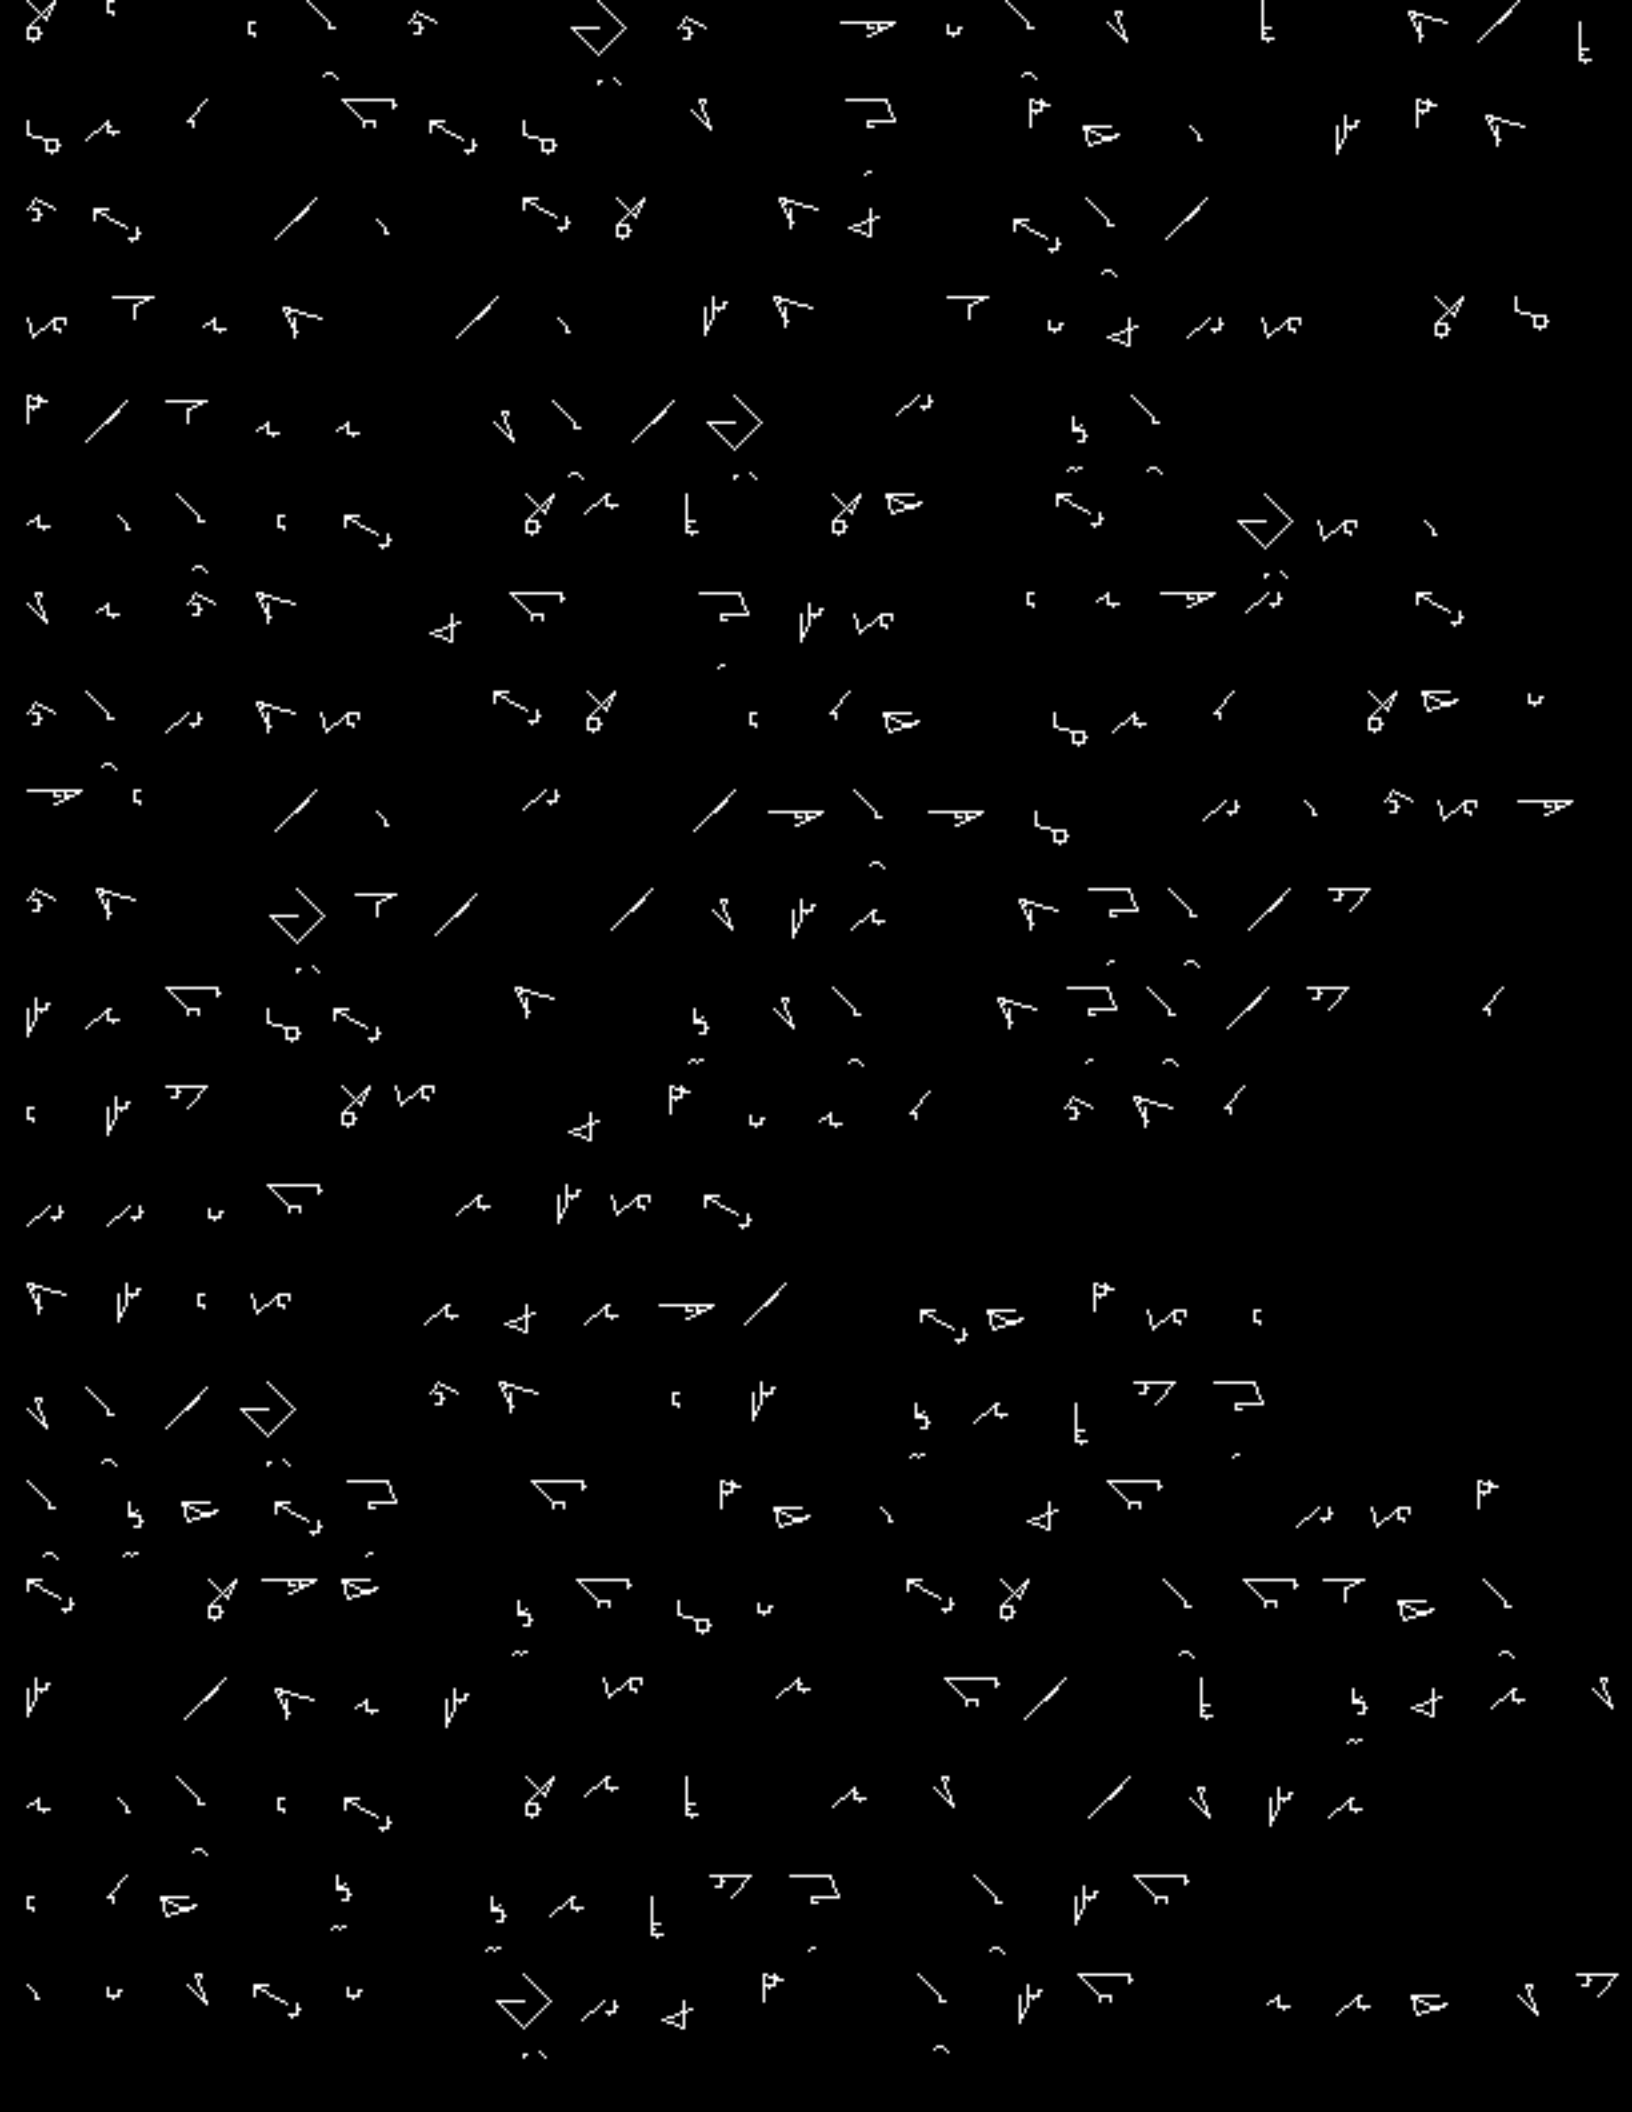

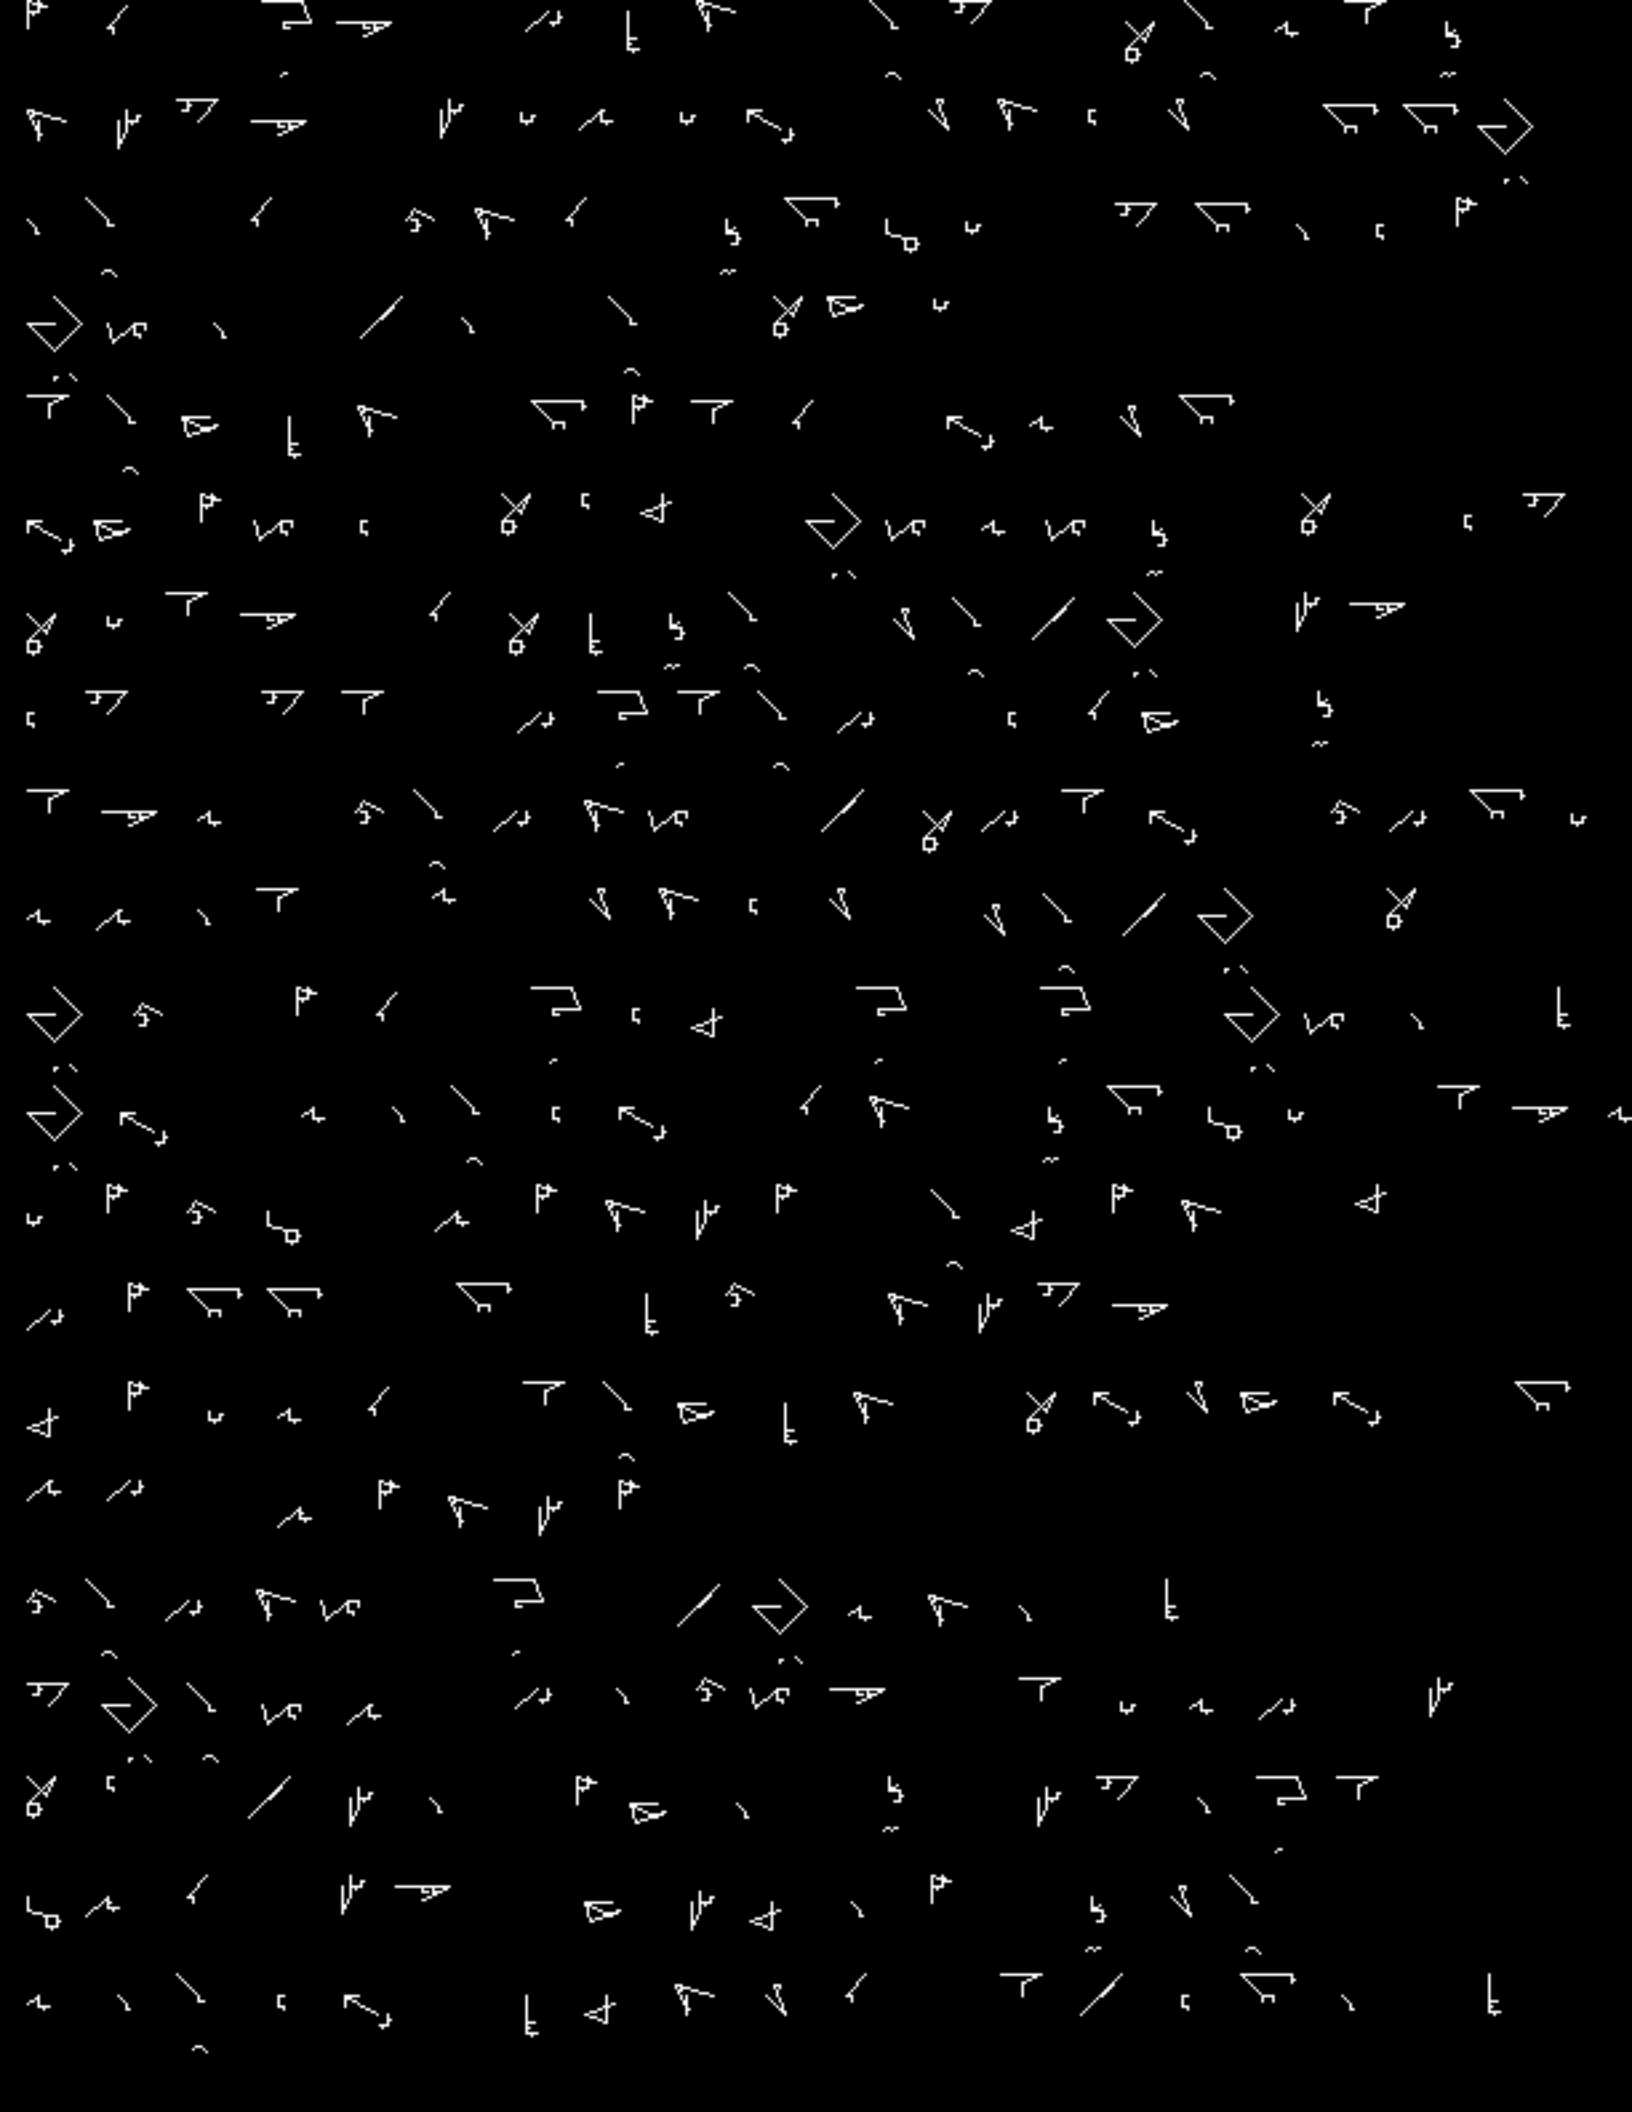

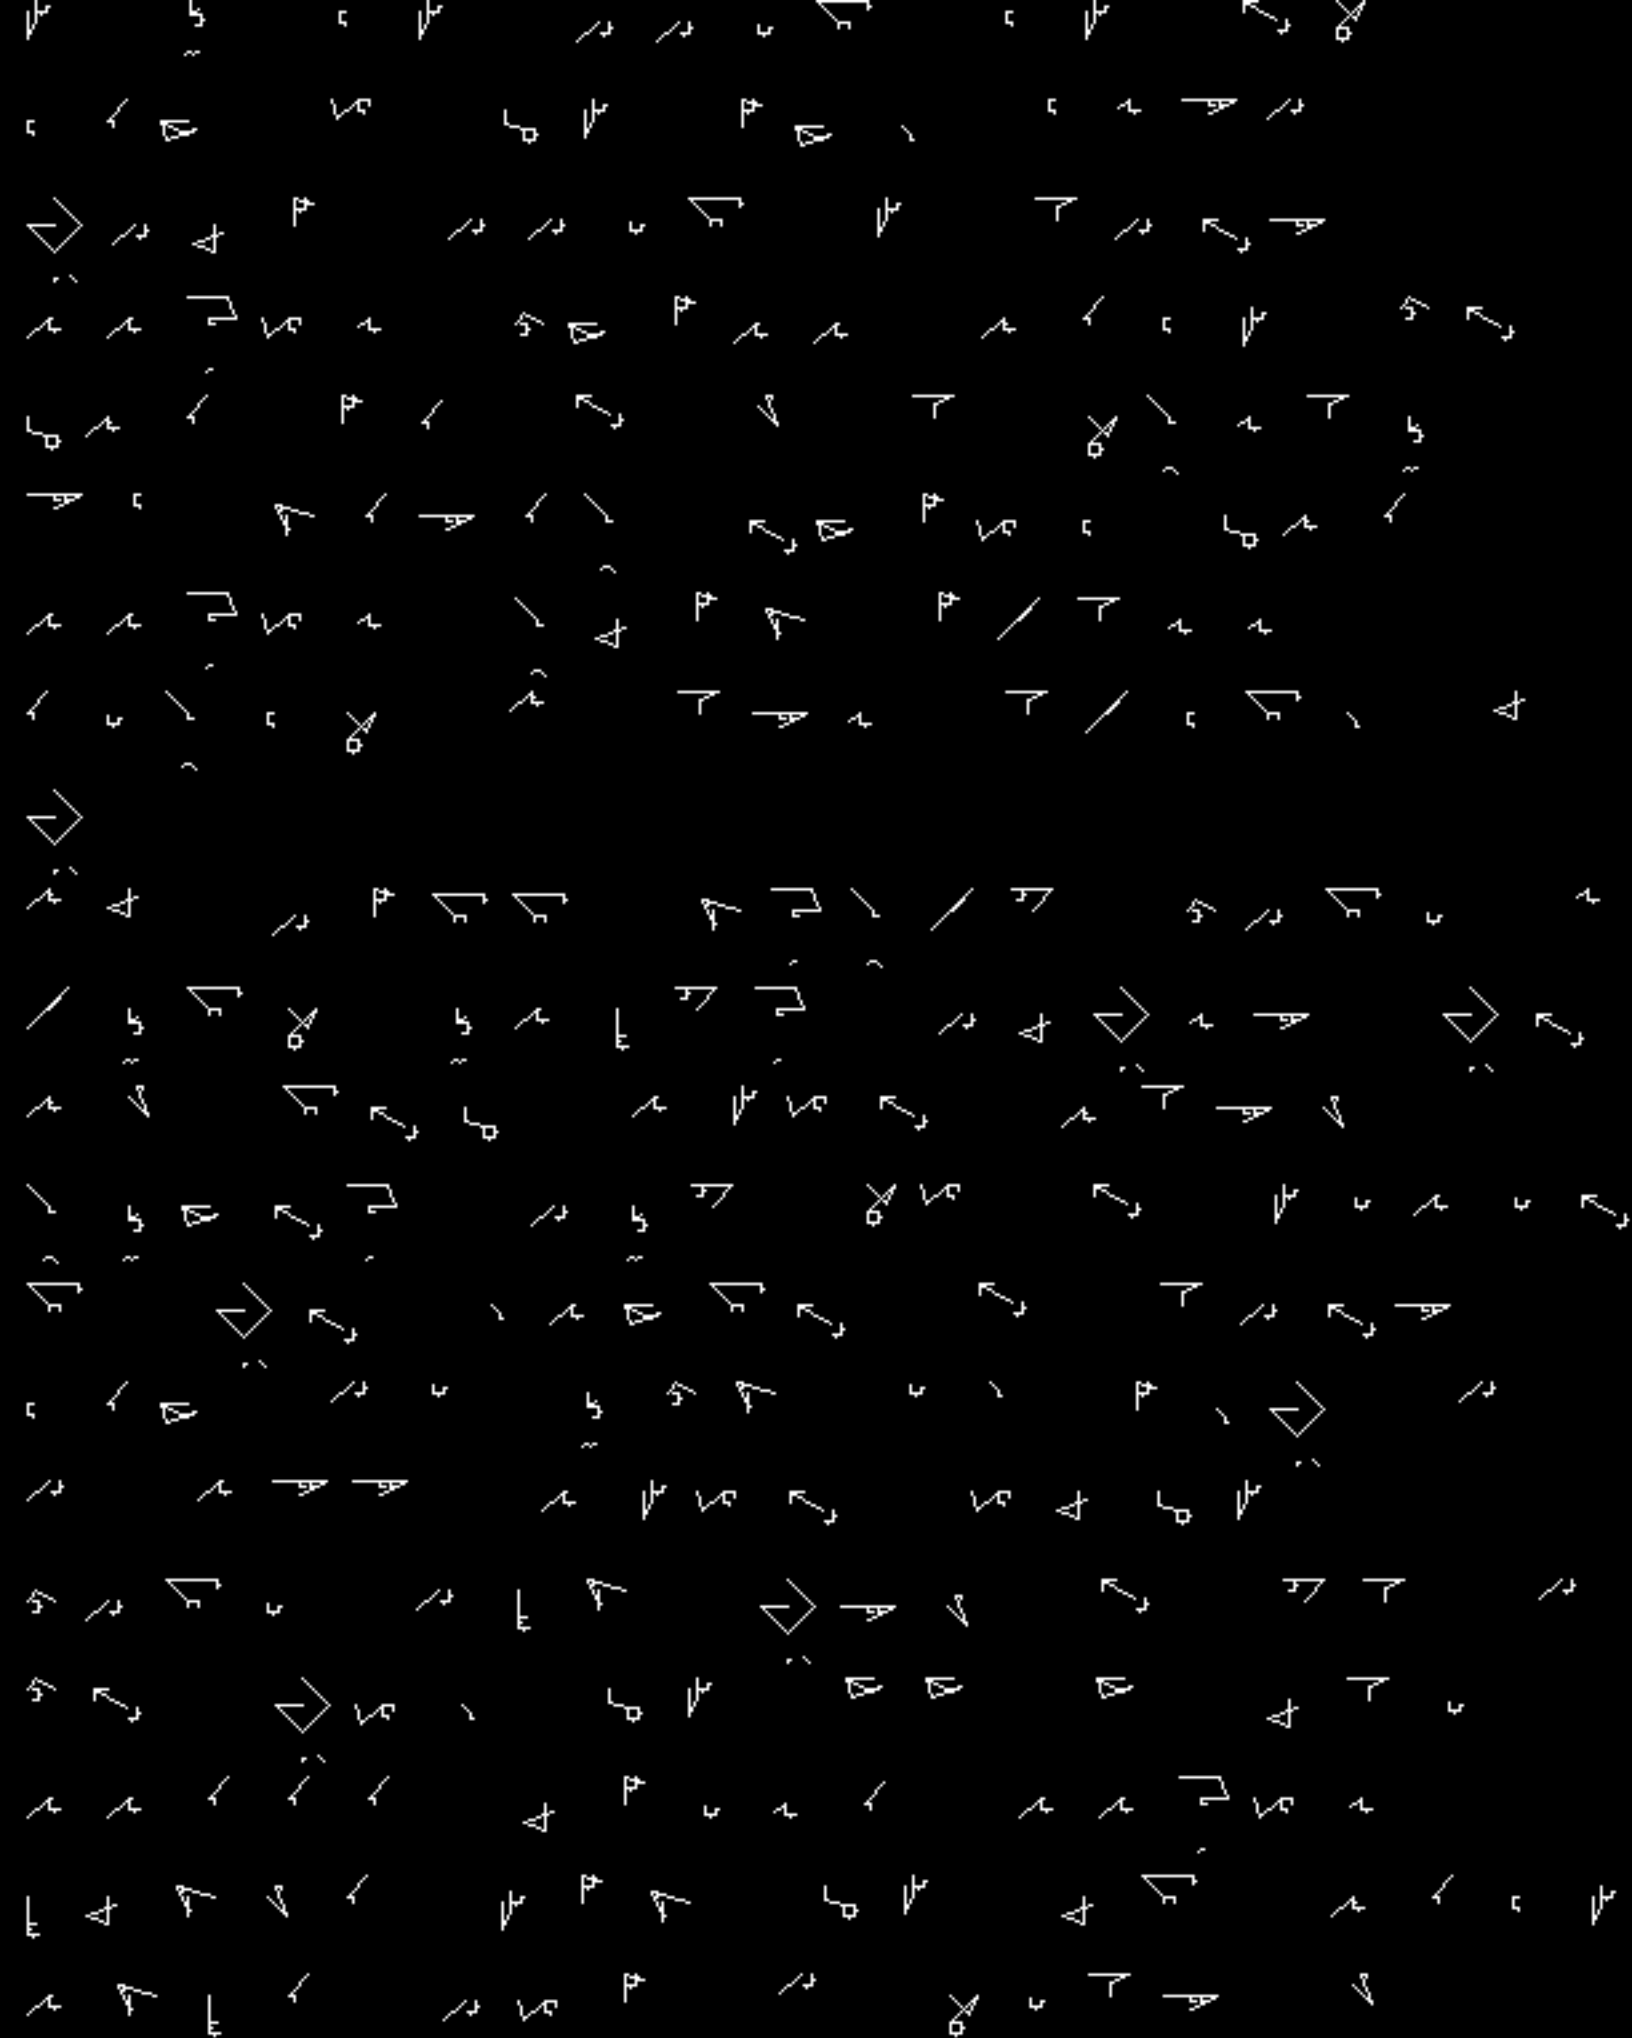

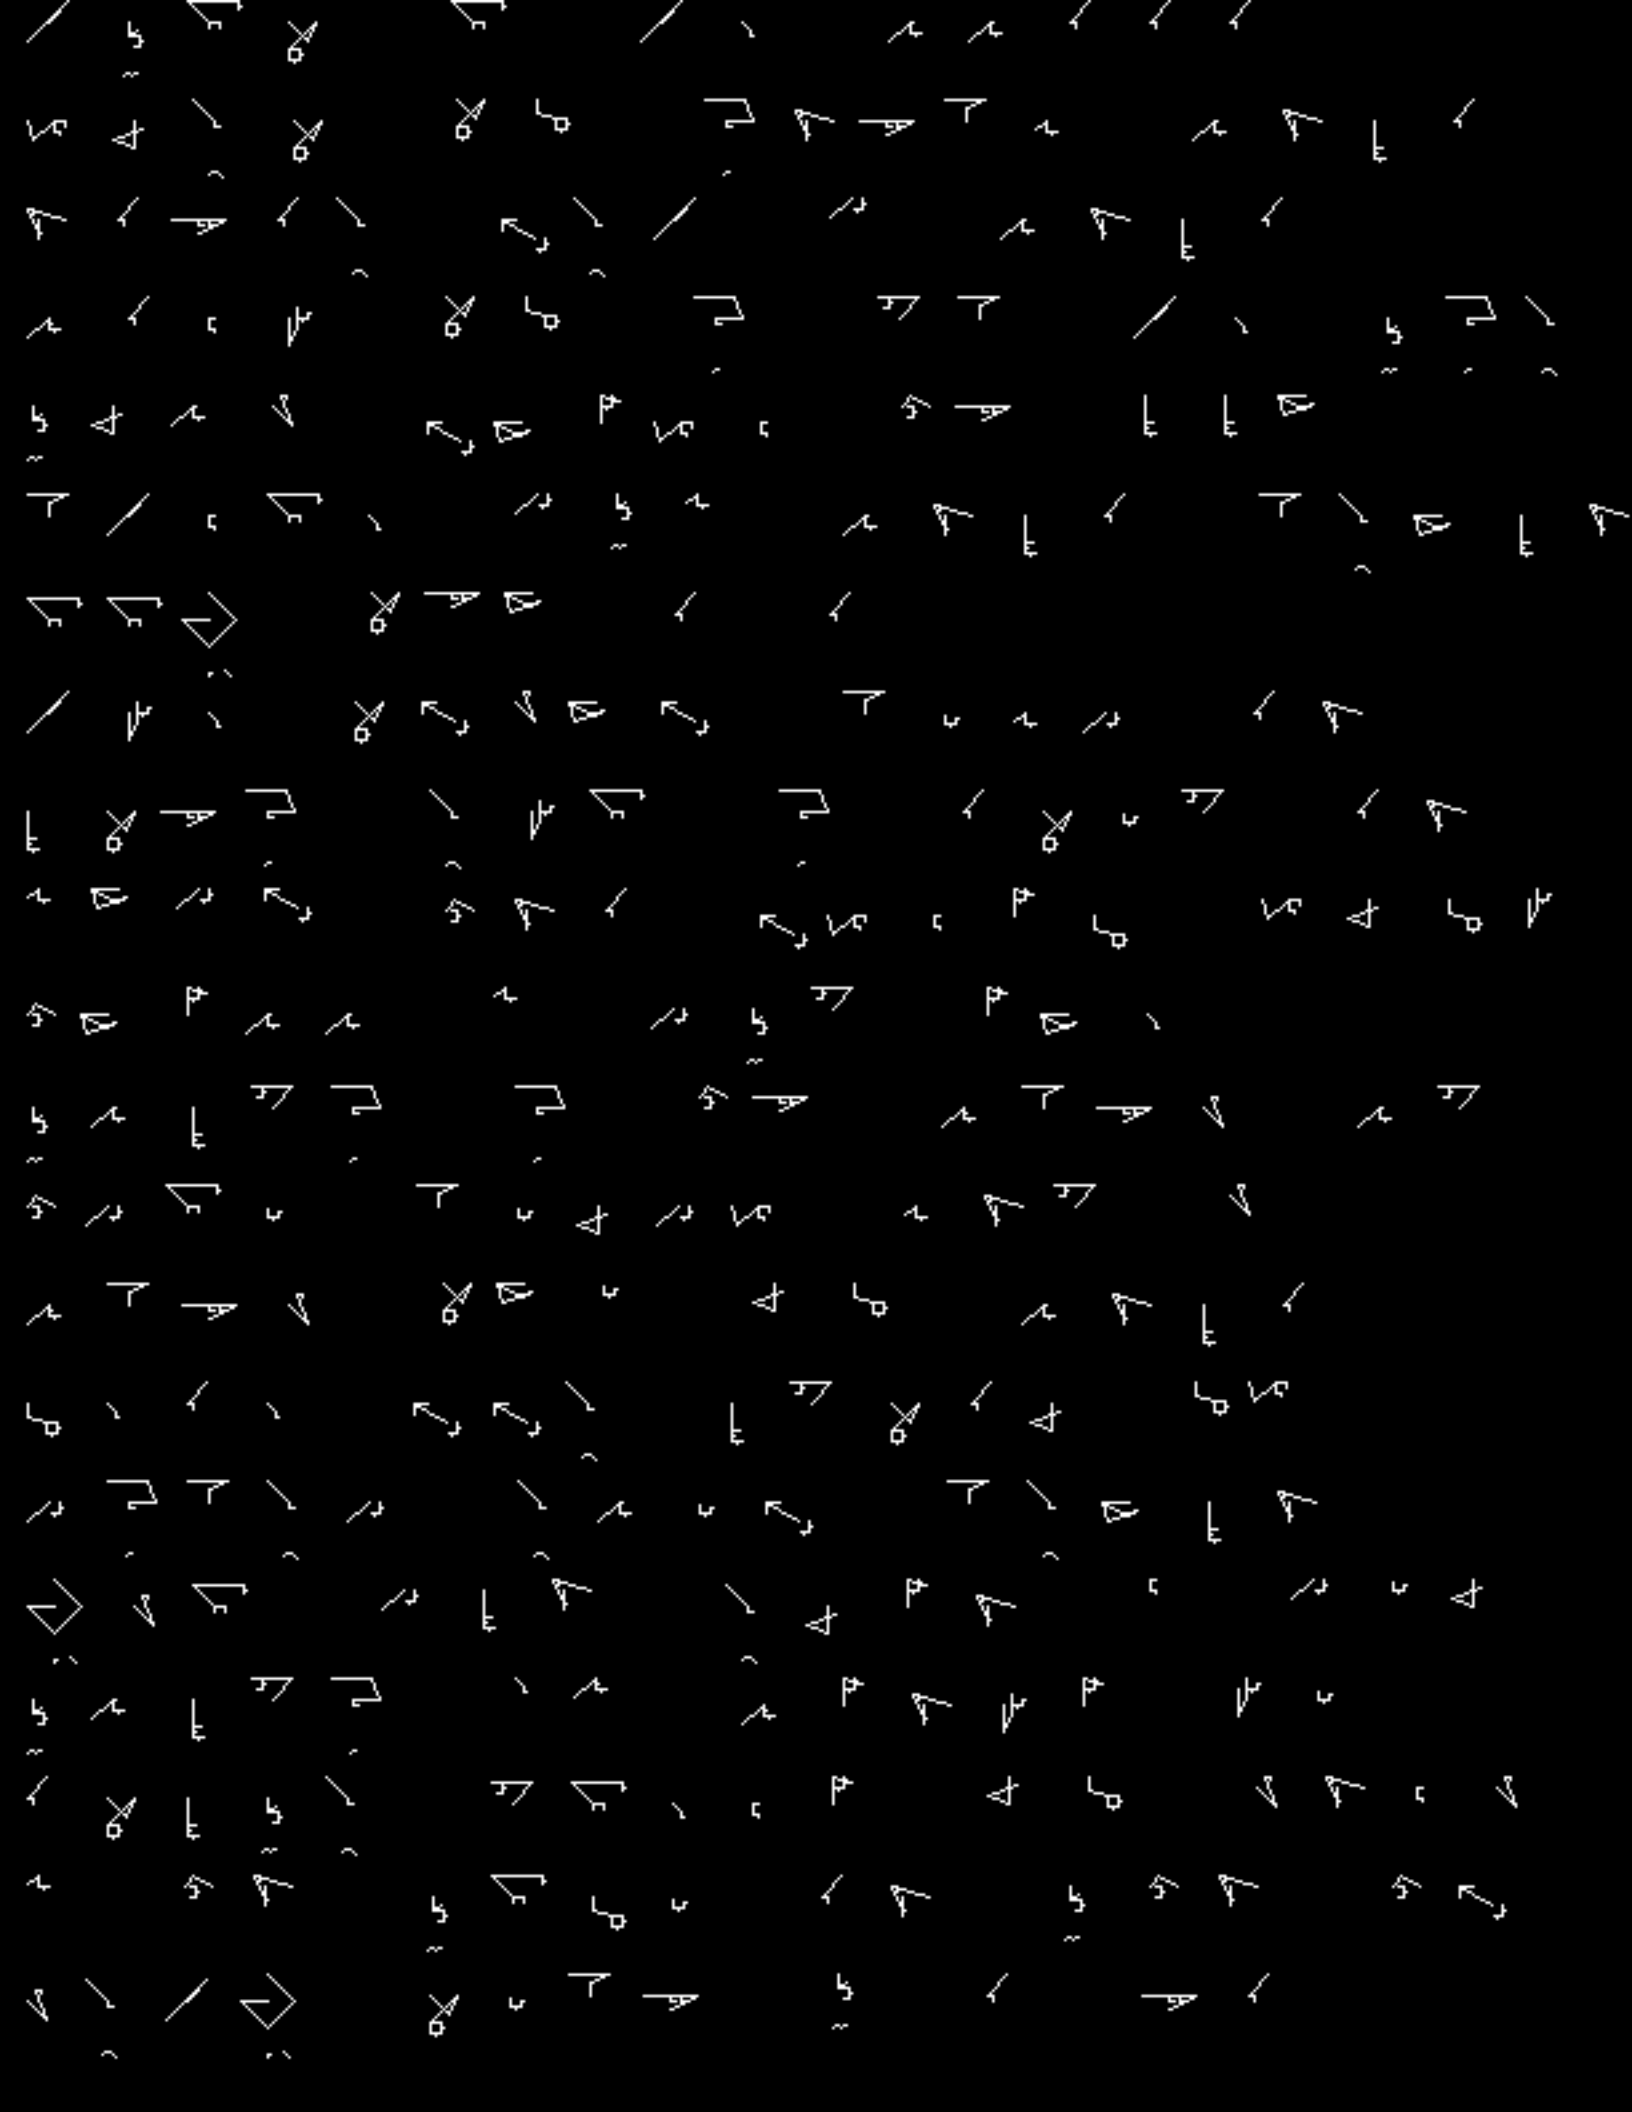

Handwritten mathematical notes, likely a derivation or proof, featuring various symbols, equations, and diagrams. The text is written in a cursive, handwritten style, possibly using a specific notation system. The content includes:

- Equations involving variables like α , β , γ , δ , ϵ , ζ , η , θ , ι , κ , λ , μ , ν , ξ , \omicron , π , ρ , σ , τ , υ , ϕ , χ , ψ , ω .
- Diagrams showing geometric relationships, possibly involving lines, angles, and points.
- References to specific theorems or lemmas, such as "Theorem 1.1" or "Lemma 2.2".
- Concluding remarks or a Q.E.D. statement.
